Tax Plan Calls For 8.5 Percent Reduction

By SALLY JACOBSEN
AP Economics Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department's dramatic overhaul of the American tax system would slice federal income tax rates, do away with a variety of deductions and double the personal exemption to $2,000, administration officials said.

Treasury Secretary Donald Regan was unveiling the plan, which needs the approval of President Reagan and the Congress, later today.

It would retain the deduction for mortgage interest on taxpayers' principal residences but limit to $5,000 the deduction for all other interest, including that for mortgages on second or vacation homes, said the officials, who spoke only on the condition they not be identified.

Moreover, they said, the plan would scrap the special adjustment enacted in 1981 to largely compensate for the so-called "marriage penalty." That change lets two-earner couples exclude a maximum of $3,000 from their taxable income.

In all, the officials said 78 percent of individual taxpayers would see their income tax payments fall or hold steady under Regan's nearly year-long effort to come up with a better way to tax the nation. On average, American taxpayers would find their federal tax bills fall 8.5 percent, the officials said.

Twenty-two percent of taxpayers, mostly those in high tax brackets, would turn over more to the government by being stripped of ways to shelter their income from the tax collector, they said.

President Reagan ordered the Treasury Department in January to undertake the study in an effort to make fairer and simpler the complicated tax code. Adoption of wide-ranging changes would mark the biggest overhaul of the system since the income tax came into being 71 years ago.

The president got his first look at the plan on Monday. His spokesman, Larry Speakes, said today Regan has yet to approve the plan.

"His view is that he is listening and wants to hear more" before deciding on a final proposal, he said. The president, Speakes added, wants the tax-writing effort to be "open and out for the American people to see."

"It will take time to build a consensus," he said. The tax changes would have to be accepted by Congress.

But the likelihood Congress will go along with any wholesale revamping is questionable. Some influential members have vowed that steps to reduce the budget deficit, projected to run in excess of $200 billion this year, will take priority over tax simplification.

Indeed, some have argued the tax plan would present a handy vehicle for raising taxes to trim the budget red ink.

Meanwhile, Speakes said today that budget advisers will give Regan on Wednesday a list of options for sharply trimming the federal red-ink. The recommendations were expected to include cuts in federal programs affecting farmers, students, veterans, civil service retirees and others.

As previously reported, the budget advisers have set a goal for reducing the deficit to just over $100 billion in 1988 and to have it in balance sometime in the 1990s.

Lobbying groups will no doubt go through Regan's tax plan with a fine-tooth comb to find recommended changes that would hurt their interests. Word of some of the proposals has already aroused the ire of business groups worried that favorite breaks might be on the chopping block.

The Regan plan, according to the officials, centers on a "modified flat" tax proposal for individuals that slashes the number of tax rates and ends many deductions, exclusions and credits. A pure flat-tax plan would tax everyone at the same rate, regardless of income, and wipe out nearly all deductions.

The Treasury's modified plan clips the current 16 tax rates to three, with the top bracket sliced from 50 percent to 35 percent for the wealthiest taxpayers. The two other rates are set at 25 percent and 15 percent, according to these sources.

The lowest rate currently is 11 percent. But the officials said taxes for those in lower brackets wouldn't climb because higher personal exemptions would be put in place to protect them.

Pitt Has Reported Few Alkaline Burns

By CAROL TYER
Reflector Staff Writer

Alkaline burns like those experienced by the Catawba County residents who drank lye thinking it was wine Sunday morning are rare in Pitt County. Dr. Jack Allison, director of emergency medicine at Pitt County Memorial Hospital, said today.

He said hospital records show only four lye-burn cases here in the last four and a half years. All of these, he said, have been children who accidentally ingested lye. Two had burns to the mouth only; two others had mouth and esophagus damage.

"There is little an individual at the scene or a doctor in the emergency room can do to counteract the stuff," he said. "It's so alkaline that damage to tissue is instantaneous. Usually a person is rushed into surgery once he's at the hospital and then there can be years of reconstructive surgery to follow."

Several of the Catawba County young people had to have all or parts of their stomachs removed and also had extensive damage to mouths, esophaguses and voice boxes.

The lye (potassium hydroxide) ingested by the party-goers had been stored in the refrigerator in a wine bottle. Dr. Allison said absolutely never should any poisonous, caustic or otherwise potentially damaging substance be stored in a container normally used for food or beverages. He said the emergency room had a case last year of a very sick youngster who had ingested garden fertilizer stored in a drink bottle.

The incidence of accidental chemical ingestion has greatly decreased in recent years, he said. Richardson said he believes the decrease is due both to the use of child-proof containers and increased awareness by the public of the value of storing potentially dangerous substances out of reach of children. He said this can never be emphasized too much. Even homes which don't normally have children should store dangerous substances up high and out of reach, preferably even under lock and key — and never in a food container or food cabinet or refrigerator, he said.

For Locating Hazardous Waste Sites

Public Seeks Specific Rules

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

Few comments were voiced on proposed rules establishing standards for locating hazardous waste facilities sites presented at a public meeting here Monday night by representatives of the Solid and Hazardous Waste Management Branch of the state's Division of Health Services.

The majority of the comments made at the session recommended that rules on locating hazardous waste facilities be more specific than general proposals contained in the draft rules.

Under the proposed rules, such things as hydrological and geological factors, natural resources, local land use, transportation factors, aesthetic factors and steps to improve community acceptance would be taken into consideration in locating and permitting hazardous waste sites.

The rules will be considered for adoption by the N.C. Commission for Health Services at a Jan. 25 meeting in Raleigh, following a Jan. 18 public hearing on the final draft of the proposed standards.

Among other things, the draft regulations provide: that hazardous waste shall be treated prior to disposal; that no liquid hazardous waste may be disposed of in a landfill cell; that hazardous waste landfills meet minimum liner requirements; that buffer zones be provided; and that community concerns be addressed in locating sites.

The Greenville meeting was the first of five public meetings scheduled through Dec. 4, to receive comments on the proposed rules.

Other meetings are set for Nov. 28 in Hickory, Nov. 29 in Kernersville, Dec. 3, in Charlotte and Dec. 4 in Fayetteville.

The draft rules resulted from action by the General Assembly during the summer which created the Hazardous Waste Treatment Commission. Under the legislation, the commission will site, finance, build, lease or operate, or oversee a comprehensive hazardous waste treatment facility if private enterprise fails to do so within a specified time-frame.

Transplant Patient Breathing On Own

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Forty-eight hours after receiving a permanent artificial heart, William J. Schroeder was breathing on his own for the first time today and was able to ask his doctor whether the heart was working and when he could have a can of beer.

In his first meeting with the press, Dr. William C. DeVries, the surgeon who implanted the plastic heart, also said this morning that Schroeder could be able to leave the hospital as soon as before Christmas.

At 6 a.m. today, Schroeder was removed from a respirator for the first time since Sunday's operation and was finally able to talk when the breathing tube was removed from his throat, DeVries said.

Schroeder's first words were, "Is the heart working all right? Is it going to do anything for you?" in terms of advancing research, DeVries said.

"I'd like a can of beer," the surgeon said Schroeder added.

DeVries said Schroeder had a very stable night, had been given ice chips to suck on and would begin to drink clear liquids later today.

Schroeder, who remained in critical condition, told DeVries that he feels the artificial heart. "He said he can feel a thumping in his chest."

Peagram Loses Right To Practice

Garry T. Peagram, 40, received a suspended three-year prison sentence Monday and was ordered to surrender his right to practice law after pleading no contest to mishandling $57,000 in his firm's trust account.

Peagram entered a plea of no contest to one count of corporate malfeasance in September. As part of a plea bargaining agreement, eight other charges, including embezzlement, attempted embezzlement and false pretenses against Peagram were dismissed.

At the time Peagram entered the plea, Donald Stephens, an assistant state attorney general, told Judge Thomas Watts evidence would show that Peagram had been dealing in stock options and faced a debt of about $62,000. He said Peagram tried to raise part of the money by illegally writing checks for money in the trust account of his firm, Peagram and Hahn.

Peagram later put the money back into the trust account, Stevens said.

Peagram, of 202 Jamestown Road, had practiced law in Greenville for about 10 years before he was arrested by the State Bureau of Investigation in connection with the case on Feb. 18.

Man Arrested

A Route 2, Grimesland, man has been arrested by Pitt County deputies and charged with breaking, entering and larceny in connection with an incident Thursday at Country Store No. 4 on N.C. 33 west of Grimesland.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said Darwin Gatlin, 31, was placed under $200 bond following his arrest Thursday morning.

Tyson said entrance to the store, operated by Burges Stevens, was gained after a lock was broken on a rear door. He said deputies have recovered $130 in quarters and $19 worth of cigarettes.

Thefts Reported

Pitt County deputies are investigating the theft of over $800 worth of property from a motor home parked at the residence of Percy Cox on Route 9, Greenville.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said Cox, a former mayor of Greenville, reported the theft of a four-inch television valued at $200, a 12-inch television with carrying case valued at $350, a 23-channel CB radio valued at about $100, a battery charger worth about $35, and an AM-FM radio-TV set valued at $250.

Tyson said Cox told deputies the thefts apparently occurred between last Thursday and Saturday. The incident was reported Saturday morning.

RIF Distribution

The Iota Kappa Omega chapter of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority sponsored a Reading is Fundamental (RIF) distribution at Stokes Elementary School during the recent national Children's Book Week.

The sorority distributed about 375 books for the 180 students enrolled in the school. This was the final of three planned distributions for the school year.

The chapter began sponsoring RIF projects annually in the Pitt-Greenville area in 1973. This year's project was co-chaired by chapter president Jean Carter and Barbara Johnson.

State's Jobless Level Goes Up

RALEIGH — North Carolina's jobless rate in October moved up to 6.8 percent from 6.3 percent in September, according to Glenn Jernigan, chairman of the N.C. Employment Security Commission.

"The number of unemployed workers rose to 208,900 from 193,700 in September," Jernigan said. "Nationally, there were 7,980,000 unemployed for an unadjusted national rate of 7 percent."

Jernigan pointed out that "a loss of 4,100 textile mill products jobs contributed most to increased unemployment." In October 1984, there were 213,700 textile mill workers. This is the lowest textile employment since our reporting series started in 1947 at which time there were 227,400 textile workers.

Manufacturing jobs overall were down 4,200.

Durable good manufacturing losses in jobs occurred in electrical machinery, transportation equipment and other durable goods. There were no employment changes in furniture and fixtures, primary metals, or in the stone, clay and glass sectors.

Losses were offset by gains in lumber and wood, machinery (except electrical), and fabricated metals.

Nondurable goods employment fell in apparel and related products, chemicals, printing, and food products. In contrast, tobacco manufacturing added 500 season workers and rubber and plastic manufacturers added 200.

Nonmanufacturing employment rose overall by 13,200 workers. Main contributors to the rise were construction, 1,800; trade, 3,200; and government, 7,600. The increase in government workers resulted from hiring local government election workers, students in college work study programs, and seasonal state government agriculture workers. The only nonmanufacturing sectors to show a decrease were finance, insurance, and real estate.

Manufacturing production workers averaged 39.7 hours weekly in October, up from 39.3 in September, and down from 41 hours in October 1983.

Reagan Son Says 'Sorry' About Flap Over Family

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan's son, Michael, said today he is sorry for anything he might have done to cause a rift in the first family, but hopes the matter can be "taken care of in an above-board kind of way outside the press."

Michael Reagan said he talked by telephone to his father on Monday and was quoted in today's editions of The Washington Post as saying the president was angry.

"He's trying to figure out where I'm coming from. We were both angry," Michael was quoted as saying.

But this morning, in an interview on NBC-TV's "Today" show, Michael Reagan said, "I don't think he was angry as much as hurt by the whole thing. I think everybody was hurt. I was hurt. Nancy was hurt."

"If I'm guilty of anything, I'm probably guilty of having a sense of humor that some people probably don't understand. "I don't know what I have said that has caused any problems....

"I don't think Nancy has to apologize.... I just want to see this whole thing taken care of in an above-board kind of way outside the press. I don't think our family squabbles belong in the press."

"I am sorry for anything she feels I might have done and hopefully we can get these things solved and dad can get on with negotiating with the Russians."

In the Post report, the younger Reagan, a California businessman, said he was "shocked and hurt" by Mrs. Reagan's remarks to a Washington columnist that an estrangement had existed for three years.

The Post quoted him as saying the phone call from his father Monday was "not a chewing out, exactly" but an effort to mend the rift in the family.

The younger Reagan told the newspaper that the 20-minute conversation did not result in any plans for a meeting to bury the hatchet.

This morning, however, he told NBC that he hoped to be talking to his father again today.

"Hopefully we'll get in touch today and we'll figure out a time when we can sit down and figure it all out. I think the problems are minor. I think they've become major only because of lack of communication."

"It's sad that first family grievances have to be aired in the press," he told the Post. He said he thought the president was "sorry that it happened."

Speaking from his Los Angeles office, he said his father did not apologize for Mrs. Reagan's remark about estrangement. "He's upset because Nancy's in the middle of it," the younger Reagan said. "But he's beholden to his wife and I'm beholden to mine."

Michael Reagan, adopted by the president and his first wife, actress Jane Wyman, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with his wife and in-laws in Nebraska while the rest of the Reagan clan gathered at the president's ranch near Santa Barbara, Calif.

"I stay away from the family out of choice," Michael Reagan said on the "CBS Morning News."

"I have a fund-raising company... where I have to go to Democrats, Republicans, independents and raise money for charity so I don't stay in the political limelight. And it's not that I don't like my family; it's a case that I'm trying to run a business and raise a family," he told CBS.

Michael Reagan said he learned about Mrs. Reagan's remarks the day before Thanksgiving.

Michael Reagan said he is upset that his father and Mrs. Reagan still have not seen their 19-month-old granddaughter, Ashley. He added, "She sees him on TV and calls him Boppa."

Film Project May Bring In Millions

WILMINGTON (AP) — Projects by filmmaker Dino De Laurentiis and his North Carolina Film Corp. will generate $50 million to $100 million a year in spending in the Wilmington area and that money will be spent again 2.25 times, estimates show.

William W. Hall Jr., an associate economics professor at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, has prepared a model to calculate how the filmmakers will spend their money. He estimates that 64.4 percent would be spent in New Hanover County, 20.3 percent in Columbus County, 10.3 percent in Brunswick County and 5 percent in Pender County.

The beneficiaries of that business are individuals such as extras, carpenters, electricians and production assistants, as well as businesses that sell food, lease cars and trucks, rent motel rooms and condominiums and sell building materials and other items that might be used in or on the movie sets.

"They've bought a lot of land, and they've built a lot of buildings on it," Wilmington Mayor William Schwartz said in an interview recently. "They have employed carpenters, electricians and trades people... But the big thing is that you have all the people who come in and stay in the community three to four months."

The movie-making colony established by De Laurentiis at his new studios is a 32-acre site that includes five sound stages, a commissary and gourmet food store, production offices and other buildings for a total of about 140,000 square feet. Planned are six additional sound stages, including two with the capacity to house as many as six to eight sets at once.

The N.C. Film Corp. is home to about 700 workers involved in the production of three movies — "Marie," "Silver Bullet" and "Year of the Dragon." Production recently was completed on a fourth, "Cat's Eye."

De Laurentiis selected Wilmington for his movie-making complex while on location in 1983 for the movie "Firestarter."

"And then I came in love with Wilmington, with the sun, with the beach, with the sea, one hour from New York (by airplane)," De Laurentiis said in a telephone interview from his New York office.

Martha Schumacher, president of N.C. Film Corp., said the key factor that influenced De Laurentiis was the pleasant surroundings. She said Wilmington also offered less expensive labor than other regions.

She added that the future of the company could depend in a large part on whether labor unions try to organize its employees.

"If we do it our way, we'll do it our way. But if we have to conform to someone organizing the labor, we'll close the door and go back to New York, and Dino will go back to Rome," Ms. Schumacher said.

Mac St. Johns, a spokesman for the 24,000-member International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, said in a telephone interview from Hollywood that the group would attempt to organize workers at the N.C. Film Corp. in the next four to five months.

Marriage Encounter Isn't Counseling

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for three years to a man who divorced his wife because she was having an affair with another man. I was already divorced when I met him. Now the problem. My husband feels guilty about his divorce. He talks to me about his concern for her mental health, and he worries about who is comforting her sexually. I've heard this for three years now, and it isn't doing much for my mental health.

His ex-wife has the house in her name and their two children live with her. She's currently seeing a very wealthy man who has remodeled her home and takes her out, and I presume he "comforts" her. Meanwhile, I'm living in a modest apartment with a 6-year-old child from my previous marriage and a husband who is worrying about his ex-wife's mental health and sexual needs.

I feel like saying, "My first marriage failed, too, but I've picked up the pieces and gone on. I married you because I loved you. I still do, but I don't spend my time worrying about my ex-husband's mental state or sexual needs."

What is wrong, Abby? Why am I beginning to feel like I have half a husband?

SECOND THOUGHTS
IN LOUISVILLE

DEAR SECOND THOUGHTS: Your husband is too preoccupied with his ex-wife, and you are beginning to feel that you have half a husband because you have. He needs counseling in order to let go of what he no longer has: her. Tell him what you feel like telling him and insist that he get professional help.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for all the good things you had to say about Marriage Encounter. But Abby, we must ask for a correction immediately.

Marriage Encounter is all the things you said it was. It is for couples who have good marriages. And it is a crash course for couples who want to put the honeymoon sparkle back into their marriages and keep it there. But it is not a counseling session in any form whatsoever!

If a couple needs counseling, they should seek it first, and when they are back on the right track, they should treat themselves to a Marriage Encounter weekend to reaffirm their commitment of love and marriage.

Hoping to see this correction soon.

DEAR H. AND C.: I submit this correction with my apologies. The trouble with "corrections" is that those who have read the erroneous information rarely see the corrections.

DEAR ABBY: To get right to the point, I'm a 26-year-old man with a serious problem. I have very bad acne scars on my face. They hinder my professional life as well as my social life. I've had them for years, and now I want to do something about them.

Can you recommend any medication, treatment or even plastic surgery? I would greatly appreciate it. Please help me. Thanks.

DEAR SCARFACE: If you don't know a dermatologist or board-certified plastic surgeon who uses a technique called dermabrasion, call your county medical association and ask it to recommend a few. ## Bridal Policy

A black and white glossy five by seven photograph is requested for engagement announcements in The Daily Reflector. For publication in a Sunday edition, the information must be submitted by 12 noon on the preceding Wednesday. Engagement pictures must be released at least three weeks prior to the wedding date. After three weeks, only an announcement will be printed.

Wedding write-ups will be printed through the first week with a one column picture. During the second week, a one column picture will be used with a write-up giving less description and after the second week, just as an announcement.

Wedding forms and pictures should be returned to The Daily Reflector one week prior to the date of the wedding. All information should be typed or written neatly.

Mother-Daughter Weekend Held

Three Greenville residents were among 150 mothers who took part in mother-daughter weekend at Peace College earlier this month.

They were Mary Dillard Mills, mother of Katherine Mills, Annette Jones, mother of Karen Morris, and Ann Vernelson, mother of Kathy Vernelson.

Friday evening activities included a reception and a special showing of "The Diary of Anne Frank." On Saturday, the mothers and daughters attended a fashion show, a performance by the Peace Pacers Dance Troupe and a brunch. They also heard a presentation on the image of the professional woman today.

The event was sponsored by the Peace Student Government Association.

At Wits End

By Erna Bombeck

I have always considered myself an "average" consumer. For the past 35 years, I've trudged through supermarkets several times a week looking for bargains, reading labels and thumping fruit.

In all that time, you'd think that once I'd be approached to be a part of one of the discussion groups that I see so often on television commercials.

I saw one the other night of a group of denture wearers seated around a table while the leader put a heading on the chalkboard. "DENTAL PROBLEMS." One by one they ticked off some heavy concerns like "slipping" and "teeth that look dull."

They were well-dressed and I wondered how often they met and where. Did they all go out afterwards and bob for apples? Did they pay dues? How lonely would you have to be before you joined a denture wearers discussion group?

The "Laundry Stain" group always intrigued me. This commercial shows a group of housewives who stand around and tell a moderator about their toughest stains.

"It's blood!" says one of them that I personally wouldn't turn MY back on.

"No way," says another surly stain fighter, "it's grease!"

Just when the moderator seems to be losing control of the group, he comes forward and flashes a bottle of bleach that is going to turn their lives around.

I think that group would be impossible to penetrate as it is racially and ethnically balanced. Unless a white, 50-60-year-old Catholic, married, with 13 appliances, who drives a sedan, votes only at presidential elections, has 16 years of education, 3 1/2 children and uses waxed dental floss ... dies ... I don't stand a chance.

I know I'd fit in well at one of those aspirin seminars. No one describes a headache any better than I do. I'm very graphic. I had one last week that started in my tailbone and nerve by nerve worked its way up to the base of my skull and then ripped through the bones and settled like round twirling razor blades behind my eyes. Maybe you have to know someone to sponsor you for the group.

I know they don't have any problems getting teenagers to go to the seminars for control over bad skin, but where do they get the people who fight the traffic from work, rush through dinner, change clothes and drive heaven knows how far to sit around and hear a lecture on feminine products? Some of them even take notes and make sketches.

Last night I saw a commercial where a group of women were sitting around comparing their rice. I had the feeling they were going to turn rice into a four-year program with a teaching degree. I turned to my husband and said, "Can you imagine anyone meeting regularly to talk about their rice?"

He was asleep. His mouth was open. He was snoring.

On the other hand ...

New British Diplomat In India Killed By Two Gunmen

BOMBAY, India (AP) — A British diplomat riding to work in his car was shot and killed today by two gunmen, including at least one foreigner, police said. One investigator suggested the Irish Republican Army might be responsible.

Percy Norris, 56, appointed deputy high commissioner in Bombay a month ago, was shot as he was being driven to his office shortly before 8 a.m., according to Bombay police and the British High Commission in New Delhi.

Bombay's police commissioner, Julio Ribeiro, told reporters there were two assailants and said Norris was apparently shot with a 9mm automatic or semi-automatic gun.

Police said three shots were fired at Norris as his car slowed down to take a turn about a quarter-mile from the office. He was hit by two bullets, one in the temple and one in the heart.

He was pronounced dead shortly after arrival at Breach Candy Hospital.

"The identity of the attacker or attackers is not known," said Ronald Nash, spokesman for the high commission in New Delhi. "There is no evidence yet available to suggest a motive."

In Bombay, the Maharashtra state home secretary, B.K. Choughule, said Norris was shot by a man who escaped on foot.

According to a description released by police, the gunman was a foreigner about six feet tall with "wheatish complexion," wearing a brown or gray suit and white shirt.

Graham Otway, a cricket specialist for the Press Association agency, quoted a police inspector as saying two men were involved, one dark-skinned and one white.

"I can't do anything other than guess at the moment that it was the work of the IRA," the inspector, identified as Chewan, was quoted as saying. The predominantly Catholic IRA is fighting for independence for the Britain's predominately Protestant province of Northern Ireland.

The IRA last month claimed responsibility for a bomb blast at the annual conference of the Conservative Party of Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher.

Big Catch

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Egyptian authorities, working with U.S. narcotics agents, seized about 20 tons of hashish aboard a ship in what a U.S. official today described as "the largest single haul of hashish ever in Egypt and possibly in the world."

Thomas Dolan, a U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration official, estimated the street value of the hashish at about $50 million, based on the Egyptian street value of about $2,500 for 2.2 pounds of hashish.

He said one Lebanese citizen, who owns an export-import firm in Cairo, and five Egyptians have been arrested in connection with the alleged smuggling attempt.

Dolan identified the ship as the Lilienthal, a West German-registered vessel which arrived Oct. 9 in Alexandria from Lebanon by way of Limassol, Cyprus. Dolan said investigations so far showed the crew was not involved in the alleged smuggling attempt.

The U.S. official said Egyptian authorities found the hashish packed in 636 cartons in two containers supposedly containing mosquito repellent material.

Dolan said Egyptian authorities acted on advance information which included American-supplied tips about the Lebanese side of the smuggling attempt.

Santiago Socked By Bomb Blasts

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Army soldiers and riot police backed by helicopters patrolled Santiago today after nine bombings, one near the presidential palace, marked the start of a national protest against a three-week-old state of siege.

Hundreds of troops were seen patrolling major roads in trucks or standing with machine guns at key intersections in a deployment to safeguard buses and taxis from possible sabotage during the two-day protest. The volume of rush hour traffic was well below normal.

Meanwhile, Chile's best-known author, Enrique Lafourcade, took refuge in the Argentine Embassy after receiving death threats for writing a novel about political unrest.

The only handicap that should affect a bridge player is being mentally deaf. And that is a condition that can be cured with training.

There are two points of interest in the auction. First, South's jump response to his partner's takeout double, which is not forcing and does not even promise a suit of more than four cards. It simply shows a hand in the 9-12 point range. Then, North jumped to four spades because a raise to three spades might have been construed as merely competitive.

West cashed two high diamonds and then shifted to a trump. Declarer drew a second trump, ending in hand, and ruffed his remaining diamond. He continued with a heart to the king and ace, and West exited with a heart. Try as he might, declarer had to concede a club trick for down one.

South was guilty of a major bridge crime — not paying attention to the auction. For his bidding at this vulnerability, it was dollars to doughnuts that West held the ace of hearts. He also had to hold at least 10 cards in the minor suits and he had led a spade at trick three. Therefore, he could not have more than two hearts, and if that were the case, the contract could be guaranteed.

Declarer should win the first trump in hand and ruff a diamond high. Now he returns to his hand with a trump and leads a low heart toward dummy's jack. If West rises with the ace, declarer plays low from the table; eventually he will get to discard his club loser on the jack of hearts. If West plays low, the jack wins and declarer continues with a heart to his queen. West must win perforce and he is end played. No matter which minor suit he elects to return, declarer avoids losing a club trick, thus making his contract.

Panel Says Keep 55 MPH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal 55 mph speed limit, widely ignored and increasingly criticized, should be retained because it saves thousands of lives and $2 billion worth of fuel a year, the National Academy of Sciences said today.

But the report by the academy's National Research Council also urged Congress to examine the possibility of exempting some carefully selected rural Interstate routes from the national law, although it stopped short of recommending such exemptions.

The study, conducted by a 19-member panel, concludes that the lower speed limit has "substantial benefits to safety" — saving up to 4,000 lives a year and a like number of serious injuries.

But some members of the panel were said to be adamantly in favor of raising the speed limit, probably to 65 mph, on stretches of rural highway that are sparsely traveled and constructed to safely accommodate the higher speeds.

Others on the panel, according to the report, were just as adamant in retaining the current speed limit on all roads and highways.

In the end, no consensus could be reached on what should be done about speed restrictions on divided rural highways, which account for about 6 percent of the total miles of highways where posted 55 mph restrictions apply.

"This is a choice that the Congress can best make" after weighing the benefits of the lower speed limit against "concern about growing noncompliance" in some parts of the country, the panel concluded. The study estimated that if the speed limit were raised on some of the rural roads it is likely to mean an additional 500 traffic fatalities a year.

The study was requested by the Transportation Department after Congress two years ago ordered an in-depth review of the costs and benefits of the nationwide speed limit.

Navy Will Honor Tainted Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has handed out almost $2 billion in shipbuilding contracts, while making clear it sees no reason to cancel contracts held by firms that allegedly gave gifts to retired Adm. Hyman G. Rickover.

Navy Secretary John Lehman, in a press conference Monday, said he had seen no evidence that would justify taking the extreme step of canceling contracts now held by four firms suspected of giving Rickover gifts worth "tens of thousands of dollars" in the 1970s.

In fact, Lehman said, two of the four — the General Dynamics Corp. and the Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock Co. — are receiving new contracts to build nuclear attack submarines.

The other two contractors suspected of giving gifts to the man known as the father of the nuclear Navy are Westinghouse Electric and General Electric. With the exception of General Dynamics, which has acknowledged privately giving some jewelry to Rickover's wife, the other three firms have refused to comment on the matter.

Unnamed officials quoted in today's editions of The Washington Post said the Pentagon had documented Rickover received jewelry, tie-pins, ship models and other items worth between $50,000 and $60,000.

Other officials quoted by the newspaper said the total value of the unreported gifts may exceed $150,000 once investigations by the Navy, congressional committees and the Justice Department are completed.

Rickover has denied any wrongdoing. The Post quoted officials as saying that while Rickover allegedly kept many of the items, he also gave away many.

Lehman said Monday the Navy had no intention of sweeping the charges "under the rug."

But he added the Navy also had to apply some "common sense" because of the value of the alleged gifts and because the contractors are now performing well on projects worth billions of dollars.

"To cancel $5 billion or any part of that of currently under-running contracts would be cutting off one's nose to spite one's face," he concluded.

Subsidies Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — American wheat growers, worried about their shrinking share of the world market because of the strong U.S. dollar, are pushing for a system of increased export subsidies they say will actually save the government money in the long run.

A report prepared for U.S. growers and marketers forecasts that wheat farmers will be able to produce 500 million bushels of wheat more than total demand by 1990, meaning the government will have spend more to pay farmers to curb their output.

But much of that expense could be eliminated, the report says, if federal officials would instead invest more to subsidize exports and narrow the supply-demand gap.

"We're going to have to be more aggressive" in pushing for exports, Carl Schwensen, executive vice president of the National Association of Wheat Growers, said Monday.

But he said his group would be unwilling to give up any of its current subsidy provisions in return for such export help as Congress works on a new four-year farm bill beginning in January.

GM Recalls Mid-Size Cars To Check Axles

WASHINGTON (AP) — General Motors Corp. is advising owners of 3.1 million of its mid-sized cars made in 1978 through 1980 to have them checked for a possible axle defect that could cause the rear wheels to come off while on the road.

General Motors announced the voluntary recall Monday after reaching an agreement with the federal government, ending a three-year investigation into the problem that involves 10 different so-called "A-body" model cars.

The cars covered by the GM advisory are the Chevrolet Malibu, Chevrolet Monte Carlo, Pontiac Le Mans, Pontiac Grand Prix, Oldsmobile Cutlass and Cutlass

Supreme, Buick Century, Buick Regal, and two lines of trucks made from car chassis, the Chevrolet El Camino and the GMC Caballero.

The cars are to be taken to GM dealers where the inspection and repair or replacement of parts would be at no cost to the owner. General Motors said in a statement.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration in April 1983 concluded that the cars had an axle defect that in some instances resulted in the axle and wheel assembly separating.

General Motors disagreed with the agency's findings and at the time balked at a recall.

Pro-Labor Pastor Upset Over Jailhouse Hearing

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Lutheran pastor arrested after he refused to surrender his pulpit blasted church officials for holding a jailhouse hearing to consider whether he should be permanently defrocked for his involvement in a pro-labor group.

"How dare you put me under this kind of pressure," the Rev. D. Douglas Roth said in a printed statement distributed by supporters. "I have not been able to properly prepare; I haven't talked to witnesses; I haven't been able to discuss this with ... legal counsel, organizational counsel, theological counsel."

One of Roth's supporters who attended the closed-door hearing Monday, the Rev. Philip Long of Pittsburgh, said the statement echoed Roth's comments before a five-minister panel appointed by the Western Pennsylvania-West Virginia Synod of the Lutheran Church in America.

Roth, 33, is serving a 90-day sentence at the Allegheny County Jail for civil contempt of court after defying the order of a Common Pleas Court judge to cease preaching at the Trinity Lutheran Church in nearby Clairton.

Roth's troubles began when more than 70 members of his congregation petitioned the bishop to investigate the pastor's involvement in the Demoninational Ministry Strategy.

an outspoken pro-labor group.

The group contends that the synod tried to break a strike by a Teamsters local at a Lutheran-run nursing home. The group also has charged that local companies such as U.S. Steel Corp. and Mellon National Corp. have deliberately channeled investments away from the depressed Monongahela River Valley.

Synod officials fired Roth as pastor of Trinity Lutheran and temporarily suspended him from the ministry last month after his involvement in the Demoninational Ministry Strategy caused rifts in his 145-member congregation.

Synod Bishop Kenneth May, who took part in Monday's hearing, previously described it as a preliminary session to determine whether the national church should hold further hearings on permanently defrocking Roth.

May and the panel members refused to talk with reporters outside the jail before or after the hearing. May and other synod officials did not return phone calls to their offices.

Killer Hunt Ends, Victim To Be Buried

RICHMOND, Texas (AP) — A group of men who have searched for a killer since his victim's dismembered body was found more than 20 years ago have given up their hunt and will serve as pallbearers when the unidentified torso is buried.

The man's body — its legs, hands and head cut off — has been kept in the Harris County morgue since it was discovered by a cotton farmer on June 11, 1964, said county Medical Examiner Joseph Jachimczyk.

Officials are prepared to bury the corpse on Wednesday because they've given up hope of finding the man's killer, and because the morgue soon will move to a new building, said Jachimczyk.

"We felt this would be an appropriate time," Jachimczyk said. "We felt we had exerted every effort humanly possible to try to get him identified. There comes a time you have to put him in the ground."

Jachimczyk, a Catholic deacon, will conduct the ceremony in this community 35 miles southwest of Houston.

Pallbearers will be Fort Bend County Sheriff's Lt. R.L. Gaston, who was sheriff when the body was found; Milton Wright of the Texas Rangers; Cecil Wingo and David Gary, medical examiner's investigators; Will Sinclair, a television newsman, and Sam Robertson, an associate justice of the 14th Circuit Court of Appeals who was an assistant district attorney in 1964.

Those who sought the killer came to call the victim Stubby.

They had little to help them solve the crime: The man was Caucasian, about 50 years old and weighed about 160 pounds. One rib was broken, but the body had few other identifying marks. The severed parts never were found.

Investigators guessed, but could not prove, that the man might have been the victim of a gangland killing.

Vatican Deficit

ROME (AP) — The Vatican will have a deficit in 1984 of $30.6 million on an income of $64.2 million, an Italian banking magazine reports.

Savings Bulletin, a monthly published by the federation of Italian savings and loan associations, said its information on the highly secret Vatican finances was based on "unofficial but well founded" sources. It said the Holy See would spend 158 billion lire ($94.8 million) for the year on its worldwide activities while its income from gifts, stamps, entrance fees to museums and investments would be 107 billion lire ($64.2 million).

Conference Tackles Trend To Violence

ATLANTA (AP) — More than 50,000 Americans are murdered or commit suicide annually, and the carnage poses a major public health problem, according to current and former officials with the national Centers for Disease Control.

"There are few problems in public health as disturbing as violence," Dr. William Foege, former director of CDC, said Monday at a conference at the Center for Public Policy, established by former President Jimmy Carter.

Dr. Mark Rosenberg, chief of the CDC's Violence Epidemiology Branch, recited a litany of statistics to those gathered for the center's Health Policy Project:

— Homicide, suicide and aggravated assault accounted for more than 50,000 American deaths in 1980, depriving their victims of 1.3 million years of life they would have had if they had lived to 65.

— The average American's chance of having his life end in homicide is about 1 out of 150.

— For a black man who dies between 20 and 24, the chance that his life ended in homicide is greater than 1 out of 3.

— Suicides claim about 27,000 lives in the United States each year.

— Attacks by husbands on wives result in more injuries requiring medical treatment than rapes, muggings and auto accidents combined.

"Violence is not traditionally thought of as a public health problem," said Rosenberg. But he said violence could be reduced, just as heart or lung disease can be reduced.

More than 60 percent of all homicides are committed with guns, he said.

Stock And Market Reports

By The Associated Press
HOGS: Trend is steady to 50 cents lower at N.C. buying stations. Kinston, Spivey's Corner, Murfreesboro, Siler City and Robersonville 50.00; Clinton, Fayetteville, Dunn, Pink Hill, Pine Level, Chadbourne, Ayden, Laurinburg and Benson 50.25; Wilson 50.00; Rowland 50.00. Sows: (500 pounds up) Whiteville 44.00; Fayetteville 45.00; Whiteville 41.00; Wallace 44.00; Spivey's Corner 46.00; Rowland 45.00.

BROILERS: The North Carolina f.o.b. dock quoted price on broilers for this week's trading was 46.00 cents, based on full truck load lots of ice pack USDA Grade A sized 2 1/2 to 3 pound birds. The final weighted average is 46.33 cents f.o.b. dock or equivalent. The market tone for next week's trading is generally steady and the live supply is barely adequate for a moderate demand. Average weights mostly desirable. Estimated slaughter of broilers and fryers in North Carolina Tuesday was 1,849,000, compared to 1,685,000 last Tuesday.

HENS: Market steady. Supply barely adequate. Demand moderate. Prices paid per pound for hens over seven pounds at farm for Monday and Tuesday slaughter was 28 cents.

GRAIN: No. 2 yellow shelled corn mostly 2.70-2.77 in East and mostly 2.85-3.00 in the Piedmont; No. 1 yellow soybeans mostly 5.88-6.02 in the east and mostly 5.65-5.83 in the Piedmont; wheat mostly 3.44-3.50.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks opened mostly lower today despite Chase Manhattan Bank's half-point cut in its prime lending rate, to 11 1/2 percent.

Chase's action, which was quickly matched by several regional banks, undercut a quarter-point reduction in the prime, to 11 1/2 percent, by three other major banks on Monday.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which suffered its first loss in four sessions Monday, lost another 2.32 to 2,103.03 in today's opening 30 minutes.

Losers jumped out to a 4-3 lead over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

The stock market appeared little encouraged by the quarter-point cut in the prime rate on Monday, which reflects earlier declines.

Hijackers Free 103 Passengers

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Three Somali dissidents this morning safely released 103 passengers they had been holding hostage since hijacking a Somali jetliner four days ago. The hijackers, who had threatened to blow up the plane, surrendered and were granted asylum.

The leader of the hijackers said the Somali government had met one of their demands — for a reprieve for seven youths sentenced to death — but the Somali government denied that any demands had been met or that any executions were scheduled.

Ethiopian Foreign Minister Goshu Wolde earlier said the three hijackers had been joined by two passengers, but only the three men identified as the hijackers appeared at an airport news conference. There was no mention of whether any passengers had joined them or had subsequently asked for asylum.

Goshu said the three would be permitted to stay in Ethiopia or travel to any other country of their choice.

Somalia and Ethiopia are longtime enemies in the Horn of Africa, and the two countries have no diplomatic relations.

Goshu said all the passengers appeared in good condition. "We are not terrorists," said Awil Adan Bourhan, the Somali army captain who said he led the hijacking. Instead, he said, the hijackers were political activists opposing the government of Somali President Mohamed Siad Barre.

Bourhan, who appeared at the news conference wearing a fresh uniform and a green beret, had demanded that the executions be canceled and that 14 prominent political prisoners in Somalia be released. The two other hijackers wore civilian clothes and did not appear to be soldiers.

The hijackers several times set and then postponed deadlines for blowing up the Boeing 707 with the hostages aboard.

Prime Rate Cut Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Chase Manhattan, the nation's third largest bank, and several regional banks today slashed their prime lending rates half a point to 11.25 percent, undercutting reductions by competitors a day earlier.

The reduction doubled the cut from the 11.75 percent level announced by several other major banks Monday. Most big banks kept their prime rate at 11.75 percent.

The cut to 11.25 percent put the prime rate, the benchmark interest charge for business loans, at its lowest level since it stood at 11 percent last winter.

the surgeon said, and "it's a little prominent."

"The heart pump is working beautifully," DeVries said.

Doctors had been saying Schroeder had less than a week to live before receiving the polyurethane and metal heart Sunday, but DeVries said today that it had become clear by Friday that Schroeder was not going to survive the weekend.

Asked when Schroeder might be able to leave the hospital, DeVries said, "I hope before Christmas, but I think that's very optimistic on my part."

Meanwhile, doctors at Humana Heart Institute International, which has permission to perform five more implants, were already screening two other candidates for the operation.

Doctors inserted a second tube into the left side of Schroeder's chest Monday after X-rays revealed that fluid was continuing to accumulate following a massive loss of blood Sunday night, six hours after the implant.

Later X-rays were "infinitely clearer," suggesting that the decomposing blood and fluid leaking from surrounding tissues had been removed, said Dr. Allan M. Lansing, the chairman of the heart institute who assisted DeVries during the

State, Duke, Wake Capture Wins

By The Associated Press
Both North Carolina State and Duke continued winning and continued moving up in the Associated Press college basketball poll while unranked Wake Forest opened its season with a victory and Clemson lost its first game of the year.

Previously unranked North Carolina, which was idle Monday night, slipped in the poll at 19.

Duke, which jumped from sixth to fourth in today's poll, outmanned St. Louis University Monday night in its opening basketball game of the season, but even then it found new ways to use its strength.

Duke shot 56 percent, and while its domination of the backboards was not complete (44-39), its scoring inside was as the Blue Devils breezed to a 97-64 victory over the Billikens in St. Louis.

"In this game, we could use our bulk," said Mark Alarie, who hit for 19 points. "When the Atlantic Coast Conference rolls around, we can use our quickness. We try to take advantage of the other team's weakness. We found out early their inside defense wasn't one of their strengths. We tried to exploit it."

Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski said he thought his team played hard for 40 minutes. "We played positive," Krzyzewski said. "We were ready for this game. They were ready, too, but we had a little more talent."

In Raleigh, Coach Jim Valvano said North Carolina State's second consecutive victory is just another indication of the depth his Wolfpack has this season. The Wolfpack moved from 13th to 11th in today's poll.

"I think we showed again tonight what our depth means to us," Valvano said after the Wolfpack whipped California-Santa Barbara 93-70 Monday in a non-conference college basketball game.

"When (forward) Russell Pierre went in, he fouled, then fouled again," Valvano said. "He never really got going and he had been playing real well. Again, that shows our depth."

Coach Jerry Pimm said he was pleased the Gauchos were able to stay with the taller Wolfpack on the boards. Both teams ended up with 38 rebounds.

ECU Teams At Home

East Carolina University's men's and women's basketball teams have three games scheduled for Minges Coliseum this week — starting tonight.

The men will play host to Central Connecticut at 7:30 p.m. tonight in their opening game of the season. Central brings in an 0-1 record, having lost last night to Seton Hall, 99-78. A special halftime show featuring the Bud Light Daredevils will also be held.

Wednesday night, the Lady Pirates open their home season against Fayetteville State, also at 7:30 p.m. East Carolina is 0-2, having lost to N.C. State and North Carolina in the Dogwood Classic in Fayetteville this past weekend.

Thursday night, the men entertain strong Virginia Commonwealth University in a 7:30 p.m. game. VCU brings in a team seen as a possible Top 20 breakthrough and one of the co-favorites in the Sun Belt this year.

"I think that is a very positive note on our game because of their size and strength," he said. "We didn't stop banging with them, and we played as far as our effort goes, a consistent game."

Senior forward Lorenzo Charles scored 20 points to lead all scorers. Wake Forest opened its season on a winning note when the Demon Deacons defeated Fairleigh-Dickinson 81-67 in Winston-Salem. Junior forward Kenny Green scored 16 points and 12 rebounds to lead Wake Forest.

Green, held to just six points in the first half, scored four baskets in a three-minute span midway through the second half as the Demon Deacons turned aside Fairleigh Dickinson's biggest threat.

Wake Forest coach Carl Tacy said his club "waited a long time to get started."

"We had some breakdowns out there tonight that led to some easy scores and we showed our experience on occasions," Tacy said.

"We certainly did some things that we ought not to have done, but we were trying some combinations with some different players, which is what these early games are for," he said.

Fairleigh Dickinson coach Tom Green said the game was typical of a season opener.

"It was a sloppy first half, but as time went on the teams were more in tune," he said.

"As for us," he added, "we can't win with 22 turnovers."

Clemson took a 68-67 overtime loss to Tennessee Tech in a season-opener at home Monday night.

The win was the second of the season for the Golden Eagles of the Ohio Valley Conference.

The game marked the first season opener Clemson has lost since the 1971-72 season and was the first contest for freshman coach Cliff Ellis.

Golden Eagle forward Lonnie Boone sank a free throw with 56 seconds left in regulation to tie the game at 58 and a last second attempt by Clemson never left the hands of Tiger guard Chris Michael.

Guard Jimmy Elliott led all scorers with 21 for Tennessee Tech and Boone tallied 13. Guard Vincent Hamilton scored 17 for Clemson and forward Glenn McCants added 10 for the Tigers.

Clemson jumped out to an early 8-0 lead but Tennessee Tech came back to take the lead three times before knotting the score at 34 by the end of the half.

Georgetown Remains #1 On Collegiate Cage Polls

By JIM O'CONNELL
AP Sports Writer

Georgetown, the defending national champion which opened the season with a two-game swing through Hawaii, remained atop the Associated Press' college basketball poll today.

The Hoyas garnered 55 of the 57 first-place votes cast by a nationwide panel of sportswriters and broadcasters and had 1,127 points in all.

Georgetown defeated Hawaii-Hilo 81-47 and Hawaii Loa 74-45 in a quick trip through the Islands before the Hoyas open at home Saturday against Southern Connecticut.

DePaul, which won its first game under new head Coach Joey Meyer by just one point over Northern Illinois, moved to second from third and received one of the first-place votes not given to Georgetown and 941 points.

St. John's, which has not yet played, was third with 859 points and Duke, which received the other first-place vote, was fourth with 838 points.

Memphis State rounded out the top five with 775 points, followed by Louisville, which improved from 17th in the preseason voting by upsetting then-No. 4 Indiana 75-64, Illinois, Washington, Southern Methodist and Oklahoma.

Illinois, which was second last week, fell five places after being upset by Alabama-Birmingham in the Great Alaska Shootout. The Fighting Illini, who handled Oklahoma easily in the Tip-off Classic, was also forced to triple overtime by Oregon in the third-place game in the Shootout.

Alabama-Birmingham went on to win the Shootout and entered the Top Twenty, finishing 13th. North Carolina, which defeated Fordham 81-65 in its only game, was the other newcomer to the poll, finishing 19th. The only team to fall from the Top Twenty — there was a tie for 20th place this week — was Kentucky, which has not played yet this season and was 18th in the preseason poll.

The Second Ten this week is: North Carolina State, Indiana, Alabama-Birmingham, Syracuse, Virginia Tech, Louisiana State, Arkansas, Georgia Tech, North Carolina and Nevada-Las Vegas, 0-1, and Kansas, which finished in a tie for the 20th spot. Kansas was second in the Shootout, dropping the title game 50-46 to Alabama-

Birmingham. The preseason Second Ten was: Nevada-Las Vegas, Syracuse, North Carolina State, Louisiana State, Virginia Tech, Arkansas, Louisville, Kentucky, Kansas and Georgia Tech.

Harrison Inks Third Signee

East Carolina head basketball coach Charlie Harrison announced his third signing of the NCAA early signing period Tuesday as the Pirates received a commitment from forward Al Clark of Alexandria, Va.

Clark, a 6-5, 220-pound forward who will play his senior season at Flint Hill High School in Oakton, Va., averaged 12.8 points and 8.2 rebounds a game during his junior season. This will be Clark's first year at Flint Hill.

Clark's signing fills three of East Carolina's four available scholarships as Clark becomes only the fourth early signing for the Pirates since the NCAA initiated the practice three seasons ago. Last week, Harrison received commitments from guard Jeff Kelly of South Orange, N.J., and forward Manuel Jones of Washington, D.C.

"Al is a diamond in the rough," said Harrison of Clark, who is only 16 years old. "He's moved schools so often because his mother is in the military, but at Flint Hill he will be playing against better competition. He's an excellent athlete with great work habits."

"His work habits are going to pay off on the basketball floor," Harrison said. "And after a season of playing for Coach (Stewart) Vetter there is no question he will be a better ball player."

Clark was highly recruited as Washington State, Virginia, North Carolina-Charlotte and Maryland competed with ECU for his services. Clark will play his senior season at a school that has turned out two-time ECAC-South All-Conference forward Carlos Yates of George Mason and Kevin Sutton, who will be playing his first season at James Madison in 1984-85.

Flint Hill finished the 1983-84 high school season ranked 11th in the nation by USA Today and Basketball Weekly, ending with a final record of 23-3. Flint Hill has been ranked 26th in the nation among high schools in Street & Smith's pre-season basketball magazine for the 1984-85 season.

Harrison characterized Clark as an outstanding leaper and a solid rebounder. "He's an outstanding overall athlete," he said. "He will help because we are looking to improve our rebounding and forward positions."

Two Rampants All-Conference

Two members of the Rose High School football team have been named to the Big East All-Conference team, announced this week.

Chosen for the Rampants are Tyrone Smith and Brian Bridges. Smith, a wide receiver, was the leading pass receiver for the Rampants this year, while Bridges was chosen as the league's top place kicker.

Tony Dorsett of the University of Pittsburgh and Glenn Davis of West Point share the NCAA major college record for most touchdowns. Each scored 59 over four seasons of play.

Marino On Verge Of New Record

MIAMI (AP) — Dan Marino was only a baby when George Blanda and Y.A. Tittle etched their names into the National Football League record book, and now, in the infancy of his NFL career, he is on the verge of erasing their single-season mark for touchdown passes.

The Miami quarterback — just a few months old when Blanda threw for 36 TDs in 1961 and a mere toddler when Tittle did the same in 1963 — pulled even with the Hall of Famers on Monday night, throwing for 192 yards and four scores to lead the Dolphins to a 28-17 victory over the New York Jets.

"It's a great honor, but what makes it so much fun for me is that so many other guys contributed and helped me accomplish this," the second-year pro said. "Everybody was excited about it and I was just as excited as they were."

Marino tossed touchdown passes of 5 yards to Mark Clayton and 1 yard to Bruce Hardy as the 12-1 Dolphins built a 14-10 halftime lead and then equaled the record with two more in the third quarter to put the game away.

Dan Johnson's 7-yard scoring reception gave Miami a 21-10 advantage 1:13 into the second half and Hardy's second TD reception, a 12-yarder, gave the Dolphins' quarterback No. 36 with three games left in the regular season.

"I'm so happy and proud of Dan," Coach Don Shula said. "He deserves all the recognition he's getting. It's hard to believe that a guy in his second year is accomplishing these things."

Blanda, who played between 1949 and 1975, set the record in his 12th season of professional football as a member of the Houston Oilers of the old American Football League. Tittle did it for the New York Giants in his 15th NFL season. Both accomplished the feat in 14 games.

"The record is something you realize is there, but I didn't think about it much," said Marino, who'll get his first opportunity to shatter the mark when the Dolphins host the Los Angeles Raiders next Sunday.

Shula was a defensive back in the the NFL in the 1950s when Blanda and Tittle were also playing and suggested it was senseless to try to compare Marino with them.

"I think you have to judge him on what he's doing in games in this day and age with sophisticated defenses, situation substitutions, three-man lines and eight-men secondaries," Shula said. "A guy like that with everything he's done deserves that record."

A fifth Marino touchdown pass — a 47-yard bomb to Clayton in the second period — was nullified by an illegal procedure call against Dolphins tackle Cleveland Green, a penalty that denied the quarterback outright possession of the record.

"That happens," Marino said, shrugging off a question about the play. "I'll have my chances the next couple of weeks."

The loss was the fifth straight for the 6-7 Jets, who got a 267-yard passing performance from Ken O'Brien and a 116-yard rushing effort from Freeman McNeil who went over the 1,000-yard mark for the first time in his career.

"I thought we played very hard. We just missed a bunch of big plays that would have helped us a lot," New York Coach Joe Walton said.

"Like I've been saying all along, you're not going to stop them (Dolphins) completely," Walton added. "You've got to try to outscore them and get a few turnovers, and we didn't get any turnovers and we didn't score enough."

O'Brien, in his second start as a pro, completed 21 of 39 passes and gave the Jets an early lead with a 28-yard touchdown pass to McNeil.

"I was impressed with their young quarterback," Shula said of O'Brien, whom the Jets selected ahead of Marino in the 1983 NFL draft. "I thought he did a heckuva job."

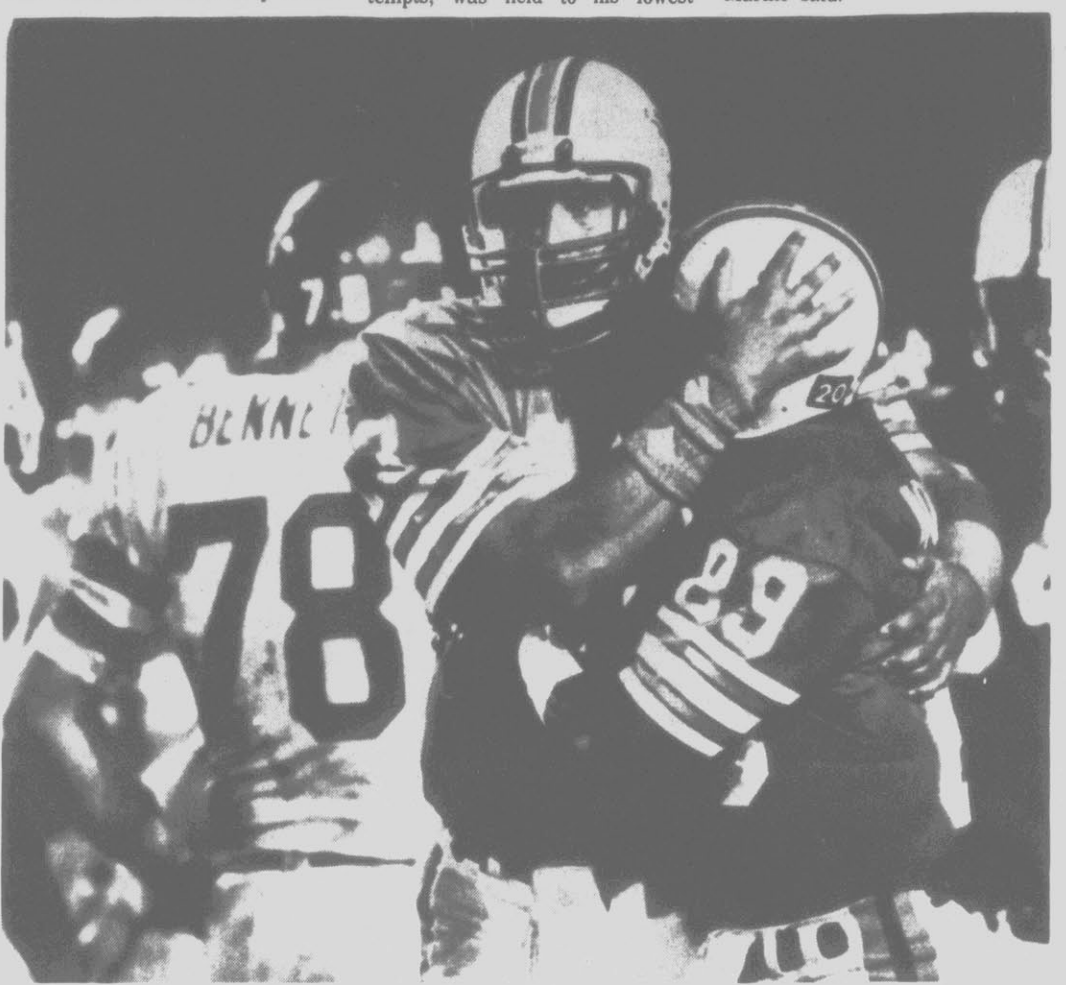

Pat Leahy's 30-yard field gave New York a 10-7 lead early in the second quarter, and Tony Paige ran 1 yard for a third-quarter TD to account for the rest of the Jets' scoring.

Marino, completing 19 of 31 attempts, was held to his lowest production since Nov. 13, 1983 when he passed for only 141 yards in a 17-6 loss to the New England Patriots.

"When you move the ball and score points you've gotta be happy," Marino said.

Equals Season TD Pass Mark

night. Marino equaled the record held by the Giants' Y.A. Tittle with three games still to play. (AP Laserphoto)

Harris Leads GCA Past Ruth's Chapel

KINSTON — Maury Harris fired in 14 points and Darrell Harris added 12 to lead Greenville Christian to a 57-45 victory over Ruth's Chapel in the Bethel Invitational Basketball Tournament Monday.

Greenville Christian rolled up a 16-4 lead in the first quarter and maintained a 31-18 bulge at halftime.

"We executed well early and after that we substituted freely," GCA Coach Dale Thatcher said. "We've still got some things to work on — foul shooting in particular."

"We've got to maintain intensity; we have a tendency to let up after taking a lead."

Dan Andrews added 10 points for Greenville Christian. Bill Jewell and John Tighman had 14 points for Ruth's Chapel, and Dwayne Grubbs added 13.

Greenville Christian, now 1-0, plays the winner of the Goldsboro Christian-Bethel game tonight at 9 p.m. for the championship.

Jo Williams pumped in 10 points to lead the Greenville Christian girls to a 38-35 rally over Trinity Christian in the opening game of the Bethel Invitational.

Renee Deans paced Trinity with 16 points, while Mary Harris added 10.

Trinity took a 17-8 lead in the first quarter and held that advantage until halftime. GCA trimmed the margin to 29-23 after three periods.

then outscored Trinity 15-4 in the fourth quarter.

"We got in the hole early," Thatcher said. "Renee Deans was really tough inside, and we just weren't helping each other on defense."

"They got tired in the fourth quarter; we had a little more stamina and finally caught up with them."

Greenville Christian faces Bethel tonight at 8 p.m. to decide the championship.

Sooners Closing Ground

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Is history about to repeat itself and give once-beaten Oklahoma a national championship over an undefeated Western Athletic Conference team?

The Sooners closed appreciable ground on No. 1-ranked Brigham Young in Monday's Associated Press college football poll, evoking memories of 1975 when they finished 11-1 and captured their second straight national title over 12-0 Arizona State, then a member of the WAC like BYU.

BYU, which became No. 1 last week for the first time ever, completed a 12-0 regular season Saturday by defeating Utah State 38-13. The Cougars, who will face Michigan in the Holiday Bowl, received 34 1/2 first-place votes and 1,133 1/2 of a possible 1,180 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters in the next-to-last regular season poll.

Meanwhile, Oklahoma downed third-ranked Oklahoma State 24-14 to earn a share of the Big and a trip to the Orange Bowl. The Sooners, 9-1-1, received 18 1/2 first-place votes and 1,128 1/2 points.

Last week, BYU led Oklahoma 40-7 in first-place ballots and 1,124-1,053 in points.

"I'm pleased we moved up some," said Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer. "We played pretty good."

Asked if he felt that strength of schedule should be a factor in deciding the national championship — Oklahoma tied Texas and defeated Nebraska when those teams were No. 1 and polished off No. 3 Oklahoma State; BYU's only Top Twenty opponent was Pitt, a team the Cougars beat 20-14 and Oklahoma demolished 42-10 two weeks later — Switzer replied, "It has before."

While Oklahoma State slipped to ninth place, Florida moved up from fourth to third with five first-place votes and 1,048 points. The Gators, who were ruled ineligible for a bowl game last week by the Southeastern Conference after winning the SEC championship, are 8-1-1 and wind up their season Saturday against Florida State.

Washington, Oklahoma's Orange Bowl opponent, climbed from fifth place to fourth with one first-place ballot and 991 points. The Huskies completed a 10-1 regular season a week ago.

Sugar Bowl-bound Nebraska, 9-2, vaulted from seventh place to fifth with 939 points.

Texas, No. 6 last week, was upset by Baylor 24-10 and skidded to 13th place with a 7-2-1 record. Meanwhile, Rose Bowl-bound Ohio State, 9-2, rose from eighth to sixth with 837 points.

South Carolina's 22-21 triumph over Clemson enabled the 10-1 Gamecocks to jump from ninth to seventh with 830 points. Boston College's dramatic 47-45 last-second victory over Miami jumped the 8-2 Eagles from 10th to eighth with 764 points, barely in front of 9-2 Oklahoma State, which received 762 points. OSU will play South Carolina in the Gator Bowl.

Florida Remains Atop Computer Rankings

The University of Florida continues to hold the top position on the Daily Reflector's Computer Rankings this week.

The Gators, with one game left to play in the regular season, won't be playing in a bowl game, however, and whether they can hold on through the holidays to claim the championship questionable.

Florida goes into the final week of the regular season with a total of 686 points awarded by the computer. Six points are awarded for each victory a team claims. Then, each time a team it beats gets a win, an additional four points are awarded. An additional two points is also awarded for each third-level victory by a team beaten by the first level team's victims.

Florida, recently placed on probation by the NCAA, is 8-1-1 on the year, with one game remaining.

Brigham Young, ranked first on both of the wire service polls, ranks second. The Cougars have piled up 632 points — showing that their schedule is not quite as weak as some might believe. BYU is the lone unbeaten team in the Division I-A ranks at 12-0.

Texas, 7-2-1, is ranked third with 623 points, while Washington is the number four team with 618 points and a 10-1 record. LSU rounds out the top five with 603 points and an after the Jan. 1 bowl games.

Southern Methodist, 11th last week, defeated Arkansas 31-28 and received 612 points to round out the Top Ten.

The Second Ten consists of Auburn, Florida State, Texas, LSU, Maryland, Miami, UCLA, Georgia, Notre Dame and Southern California.

Last week, it was SMU, Miami, Auburn, Southern Cal, Florida State, LSU, Texas Christian, Maryland, UCLA and Georgia.

TCU lost to Texas A&M 35-21 and fell out of the Top Twenty after a four-week stay while Notre Dame defeated Southern Cal 19-7 and cracked the rankings for the first time in eight weeks.

The final poll, that will determine the national champion, will be taken

Tisdale Passing On Knight's Gospel

By The Associated Press

As a member of the United States Olympic basketball team, Oklahoma's high-scoring Wayman Tisdale learned there was more to the game than offense. Olympic Coach Bobby Knight preached the virtues of defense and now Tisdale is passing the gospel to his teammates.

"This team is really starting to take pride in the defense," Tisdale said Monday night after the 10th-ranked Sooners ripped Arkansas-Little Rock 90-63. "We're tired of hearing people say we don't play enough defense."

The victory, a school-record 18th straight at home, improved Oklahoma's record to 2-1.

In other games involving Top Twenty teams, top-ranked Georgetown completed a two-game stroll through the Hawaiian Islands with a 74-45 drubbing of Hawaii Loa.

No. 6 Duke opened its season with a 97-64 thumping of St. Louis, and 13th-ranked North Carolina State stopped California-Santa Barbara 93-70.

Tisdale provided his usual offensive help with 29 points, but also gave the Sooner defensive effort a considerable boost with 22 rebounds as Oklahoma outrebounded the visitors 62-43.

The game was slowed by 55 personal fouls, and Oklahoma Coach Billy Tubbs took the officials to task for that.

"I think they took the game away a lot from both teams," Tubbs said. "They're experimental officials (new to the Big Eight Conference) but I don't want them experimenting with me. I want experienced officials."

Tim McAlister had 16 points,

David Johnson 13 and Anthony Bowie 12 for Oklahoma. Mike Clark led Arkansas-Little Rock, 0-2, with 18.

Bill Martin scored 14 points for Georgetown, which toyed with tiny Hawaii Loa. The Hoyas led 38-12 at the half after limiting Loa to just two shots — both misses — in a seven-minute stretch.

Mark Alarie and Jay Bilas each scored 19 points to lead Duke's easy season-opening victory.

"I thought we played hard for 40 minutes," said Duke Coach Mike Krzyzewski. "We played positive. We were ready for this game. They were ready, too, but we had a little more talent."

That Duke talent provided a 35-18 lead in the first half and the Blue Devils were on top 46-28 at the half. A 9-2 spurt at the start of the second half cleared the way for the reserves.

Luther Burden had 17 points for St. Louis.

"I think we showed again tonight what our depth means to us," Coach Jim Valvano said after North Carolina State used its superior numbers to rip UC-Santa Barbara.

Lorenzo Charles had 20 points to lead 11 players who scored for State, 2-0, which led by as much as 30 points. Nate McMillan added 13 points, 14 assists and grabbed eight rebounds. Scott Fisher had 16 points for the Gauchos, 0-1.

In other games Monday night, Greg Stokes had 18 points and nine rebounds in Iowa's 62-40 victory over Gonzaga, Roy Tarpley scored all of his 21 points in the second half to lift Michigan in an 80-66 decision over Detroit, Missouri ripped North Dakota State 99-61 behind the 26-point scoring of Malcolm Thomas, and Chris Sandle's 13 points led balanced Arizona State to a 70-57 verdict over Angelo State.

California squeezed by California-Davis 69-63 with the help of sophomore guard Chris Washington, who scored 23 points and had four steals. Alex Stivins scored on a layup, then added a three-point play a minute later to push Colorado to an 80-73 win over California-Irvine, and guard Kelvin Scarborough's two free throws with 12 seconds left enabled New Mexico to hold off Texas Southern 64-63.

Kelvin Upshaw scored seven of his 32 points in overtime as Utah held off Loyola-Marymount 89-85. Greg Grant, held to one basket in the first half, finished with 20 points in Utah State's 100-77 blitz of Cal State-Northridge.

Pittsburgh beat St. Francis, Pa., 104-88 behind Curtis Aiken's 21 points, Granger Hall erupted for 30 points as Temple got past scrappy Drexel 75-62, Alabama drilled Bucknell 81-56 as Bobby Lee Hurt tossed in 19 points and grabbed 11 rebounds, Gerald White's 15 points paced a balanced Auburn attack that crushed Columbus College 91-56, center Alton

'Newton's Apple' Tells You Why, How Events Occur

By JERRY BUCK
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — You've always heard that once you learn to ride a bicycle you never forget, but have you ever wondered what allows you to stay upright in the first place as you pedal along?

Ira Flatow will not only tell you why, he'll show you why and demonstrate some bicycle designs that will never get off the ground.

He'll also tell you everything you ever wanted to know about mummies, whales, owls and hot air balloons.

Flatow is the host of "Newton's Apple," a weekly science show now in its second year on public television. He's also National Public Radio's science correspondent and regularly contributes free-lance articles on scientific subjects to magazines.

"It's like being a kid in a candy store," said Flatow on a brief visit to

Los Angeles. "What I love about the show is I get to do all the things I've always wanted to do. Like the special we did on how do you become an astronaut? And the segments we do on animals. We've run out of animals that we can bring into the studio, and now we have to go on location with the animals."

Flatow lives in Connecticut and during the 13-week production schedule he flies every Sunday night to Minneapolis to tape the show for the KTCA public television station. He returns home each Thursday.

The show came about because KTCA was looking for a program that would "take science out of its ivory tower," Flatow said.

"We wanted a show that would make science understandable, enjoyable and fun to learn," he said.

"The technique we use is answering questions. Like, why does a bicycle stay up? What is sound?"

'Supergirl' Tops Sales List

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Supergirl" came out flying on her first weekend in theaters, bringing in $5.7 million at the box office to top the first Christmas season releases.

The film features newcomer Helen Slater as Superman's mini-skirted super cousin and part-time prep school student, alongside such stars as Faye Dunaway, Peter O'Toole and Mia Farrow.

The Tri-Star release, which has grossed $7.7 million since its mid-week opening, strongly hints of sequels in its advertising, noting it is Supergirl's "first great adventure."

"Missing in Action," the Cannon film featuring Chuck Norris, dropped to No. 2 on a weekend gross of $4.9 million. Its 10-day total was a strong $14.1 million.

"The Terminator" rose a notch to third place with $3.9 million, while "Oh God, You Devil" slid two places to fourth on a $3.4 million gross.

"Night of the Comet" was fifth with $3.2 million.

"Falling in Love," with Robert De Niro and Meryl Streep in the lead roles, had a sixth-place weekend gross of $2.3 million for a first-week total of $3.1 million.

The Kristy McNichol picture "Just The Way You Are," fell two spots to seventh on a gross of $2.2 million.

Here are the top seven grossing motion pictures last weekend, with distributor, weekend gross, total gross and number of weeks in release.

"Supergirl," Tri-Star, $5.7 million, $7.7 million, one week.

"Missing in Action," Cannon, $4.9 million, $14.1 million, two weeks.

"The Terminator," Orion, $3.9 million, $25.2 million, five weeks.

"Oh God, You Devil," Warner Brothers, $3.4 million, $16.1 million, three weeks.

"Night of the Comet," Atlantic, $3.2 million, $8.6 million, two weeks.

"Falling in Love," Paramount, $2.3 million, $3.1 million, one week.

"Just The Way You Are," MGMUA, $2.2 million, $5.5 million, two weeks.

Guitarist Resumes Concerts

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Guitarist Dick Dale, best known for his surfing hits from the 1960s, says he's doing concerts again despite serious burns he suffered in a kitchen accident last month.

"I'm tough as a snake," said Dale, 47, whose best known hits were "Let's Go Trippin'" and "The Scavenger."

Dale, who spilled sizzling oil on one leg and his guitar-picking hand Oct. 12, said Monday he's received get-well calls from friends like Annette Funicello, whom he met while filming surfing films in the 1960s.

He said he played at a meeting of body surfers Nov. 17, and while the concert was painful, the applause eased the pain.

"It was the most incredible response. It made me feel great," said Dale, whose extensive second-degree burns required surgery.

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, NOV., 28, 1984

YOUR DAILY Horoscope from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You want to get busy with the various interesting vocational and personal outlets which now fascinate you, but it is necessary that you be prepared for some delays and obstacles in your path.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Some business affair may deter you from carrying through with a personal plan you had in mind during the day.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have fine ideas about credit affairs but a demanding partner keeps you from handling them until the early evening.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have to get work completed before you can get into new interests, so do just that. Try to make new contacts.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) You may have to postpone doing something you had planned because a charmer comes into the scene.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Even though you have to attend to home affairs, try to come to an agreement with one in the outside world.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You may find that an emergency may arise that will keep you from handling your work conscientiously, so handle it quickly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Handle those affairs that give you good ideas for getting ahead faster in the future. Be happy at home in the evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A good day to have that postponed discussion with kin and plan the future much better. Don't neglect to get your utility bills paid.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get at the motives behind the actions of associates and then you know exactly how to handle them.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) An inspired idea comes to you by which you can gain more success, but later you meet with a delay.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You could be stopped temporarily in some new course of activity because of the jealousy on the part of another.

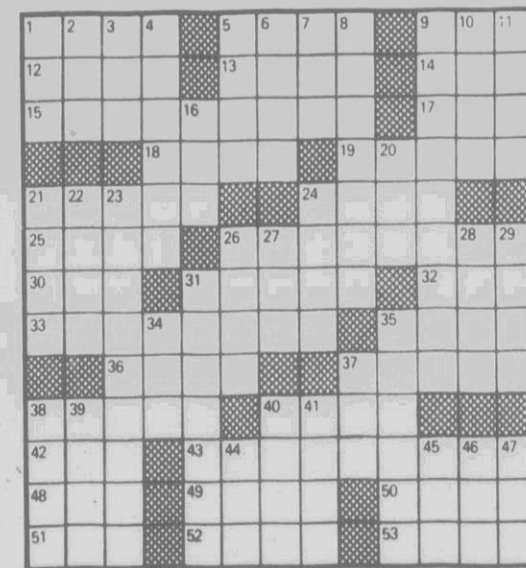

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Don't give in to that temptation to go after something you know nothing about, and spend time getting rid of irritations.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have much ability at getting an early start on the career and do very well, but upon reaching maturity could meet with some limitations which will have to be overcome before the big success denoted in this chart can take place. One who will learn lessons very well.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Today's Cryptoquip clue: N equals Q

The Cryptoquip is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words, and words using an apostrophe can give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Naming New York

The city of New York recently gave the go-ahead to a $1.6 billion renovation of Manhattan's Times Square. Times Square was called Longacre Square before the "New York Times" moved there in 1904. The name Brooklyn comes from a Dutch word meaning "broken land." Because a Danish farmer named Jonas Bronck had a large farm north of Manhattan, the entire area came to be known as the Bronck's Farm, and this eventually was changed to the "Bronx."

DO YOU KNOW — How much did the Dutch pay the Indians for Manhattan Island?

MONDAY'S ANSWER — In most of the states, the legal drinking age is 21 years.

Education Policy Panel Tentatively Balks At New Teacher Career Plan

By MARY ANNE RHYNE
Associated Press Writer

RALEIGH (AP) — The fate of a teacher career development plan is now in the hands of the Education Policy Council after a council subcommittee refused to recommend approval of the plan.

Instead, the subcommittee recommended in a 6-5 vote Monday that the plan be sent back to the State Board of Education for revision.

The full council will consider that recommendation today, as well as a plan proposed by a separate subcommittee for funding public schools in which the state would pay for instructional programs and possibly transportation while local governments pay for building and operating schools.

The plan also would remove many restrictions on the way local school units spend the money.

The recommendations of the full council go to the 1985 General Assembly.

The personnel subcommittee outlined a number of concerns with the teacher career growth plan, which sets five steps that teachers may reach by assuming additional responsibilities and getting more experience and education.

Each step would bring a 10 percent pay raise.

Subcommittee members asked whether the starting salary of $15,680 was adequate, if it was fair to eliminate financial rewards for acquiring a master's degree and whether the length of the one-year pilot program was adequate.

The panel voted 5-5 to ask the state Board of Education to consider those questions and resubmit the career plan to the Legislature by Feb. 1, 1985. Chairman Rep. Joe Mavretic, D-Edgecombe, broke the tie over the loud objections of state Superintendent Craig Phillips.

"They (committee members) wanted to make sure the board understood what our concerns were and they wanted the concerns addressed before the plan was put in the hands of the General Assembly," Mavretic said.

Phillips asked the subcommittee to approve the career development plan while urging that the test period be extended to two years and that local school units have the option of putting out-of-district teachers on peer evaluation committees.

"I think the State Board of Education would respond more favorably if we adopted the plan," Phillips said. "It is time in my opinion for us to move on out of this legislative body ... with acceptance of the program itself."

One of those who agreed with Phillips was N.C. Association of Educators president Cecil Banks.

"We are far enough in the process that we need to move ahead with the pilot (program)," said Banks, adding that his group does not like the plan as now drafted. "We have to put it out in the field to test it to see what we've got."

The subcommittee then unanimously agreed to return a similar career plan for administrators to the Board of Education.

Meanwhile, the subcommittee on finance agreed it was time to clarify the state and local government responsibilities for funding public schools.

Traditionally the state has covered operating costs and the counties paid for capital costs. But the budget process has become blurred and the General Assembly has begun allocating money item by item, using as many as 50 different formulas for handing out the money.

The plan approved by the subcommittee would require the state give out money for teachers, aides, equipment, supplies, principals, superintendents and special programs on a per-pupil basis. The formula is part of an attempt to equalize educational opportunities in all schools.

The state board could withhold up to 10 percent of the local unit's funds if it failed to comply with quality standards.

Committee chairman Sen. Harold Hardison, D-Lenoir, said the funding concept would fit with a basic education program proposed by the Board of Education and endorsed Monday by the personnel subcommittee.

Hardison said local school units would be granted more flexibility in spending the state funds as long as they offered the standard education outlined in the program.

He said there would be more flexibility in determining the size of classes but there would remain minimum standards.

State Treasurer Harlan Boyles, who helped design the funding concept, said the definition of local financial responsibility was necessary to implement the basic education program.

"There is no way to meet the projected financial needs of the public schools without burdening people beyond reason."

Panel Suggests Air Ambulances

RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina should create an air-ambulance system of helicopters to fly critically ill and injured patients to major hospitals, a legislative study committee has recommended.

The panel, the Air Ambulance Service study committee, proposed Monday that the 1985 Legislature provide money to lease three helicopters and station them across the state to rush emergency patients to major urban medical centers where more sophisticated equipment and treatment are available.

"We believe a lot of lives can be saved," said state Rep. Joe Hackney, D-Orange, who is co-chairman of the committee along with Sen. Aaron Plyler, D-Union.

In October, a task force created by Dr. Sarah T. Morrow, state human resources secretary, proposed creating an air-ambulance system that would be twice as large as the one recommended Monday. Under her proposal, helicopters would be in Asheville, Charlotte, Greenville, the Research Triangle, Wilmington and Winston-Salem.

"We pared down their recommendation," Hackney said. "We think it is much more do-able to start with three sites than trying to start up with six."

The legislative committee made no recommendation on where the three sites should be located, leaving that issue to state officials.

Cost estimates for an air-ambulance system vary. The human resources task estimated that the cost of operating each of its six sites would be about $1.88 million the first year and $500,000 the second year.

Estimates presented to the legislative committee ranged from $800,000 to $1.5 million per site the first year, Hackney said. Duke Medical Center in Durham has received a certificate to begin operating on March 1 a leased jet helicopter to transport patients. Duke has agreed to coordinate its program with the state.

The only helicopter now ferrying patients is a volunteer program provided by U.S. Army's 57th Medical Detachment stationed at Fort Bragg. The army flies about 150 such missions a year, most involving infants. But the service routinely operates only within a 100-mile radius of Fort Bragg.

Six Facing Indictments

GREENSBORO (AP) — Six people were indicted on Monday by a federal grand jury for allegedly running a "significant" gambling operation in central North Carolina, an FBI agent says.

The grand jury returned a one-count indictment charging the six people, all of whom are from North Carolina, "conducted, financed, managed and supervised an illegal gambling business involved primarily with a numbers lottery," said Robert Pence, special agent in charge of the FBI operations in North Carolina.

The alleged gambling operation was run between January 1980 to November 1983, Pence said in a telephone interview. If convicted, the six could be sentenced to up to five years in prison and fined up to $20,000.

The operation involved "cities and wide areas in" Durham, Chatham and Guilford counties and the city of Graham, Pence said. He declined to say how much money was involved, saying only it was a "significant operation."

DOUBLE COUPONS

Double Your Savings At Kroger

This Wednesday, Nov. 28, 1984

Clip the Manufacturer's cents off Coupons from Your Mail, Newspapers and Magazines... Then Bring Them to Kroger Sav-on

FOR EVERY $10.00 PURCHASE WE WILL DOUBLE 5 MFG'S COUPONS - EXAMPLE
 $10 Purchase - 5 Coupons
 $20 Purchase - 10 Coupons
 $100 Purchase - 50 Coupons

This Wednesday, Nov. 28, we will redeem all national manufacturer's cents off coupons up to 50¢ for double their value. Offer good on national manufacturer's coupons only. (Food retailer coupons not accepted.) Customer must purchase coupon product in specified size. Expired coupons will not be honored. Coupons for free merchandise excluded from this offer. Offer does not apply to Kroger or other store coupons whether manufacturer is mentioned or not. When the value of the coupon exceeds 50¢ this offer is limited to $1.00. If double the value of a coupon exceeds the retail of the item, this offer is limited to the retail price. Limit one cigarette and coffee coupon per customer. Limit one coupon for any particular item. If you, for example, have two coupons for 15¢ off on Miracle Whip and intend to purchase two jars of Miracle Whip - only one of these coupons will be doubled. You may use the second coupon but its face value remains at face value.
