My dear Colleague,

I am very much interested in the progress you make in exploring the vast ancient fields of Czecho-Slovakia, and congratulate you on your success.

I shall be glad to examine casts of your new skulls found at Wisternitz and report on them for your English publication in the "Illustrated London News."

There are many in England who are interested in your discoveries and I shall speak to colleagues about making lectures for you. Unfortunately we have no lecture-fund in England wherewith to pay expenses of distinguished lecturers from abroad. Also the audience which understands German or French is very small in London. Yet with help/^{of} your diapositives you should manage to speak in English.

I wish I could help you to obtain a complete series of "Man" but I fear that is not possible by any form of exchange. Please give my kindest regards to Madame Absolon. I hope she will accompany you to England. I regret it has not been possible for me to visit Brno and see your great Exhibition.

Yours sincerely,

Arthur Keith
