Dear Doctor Absolon:

I was delighted to read your comments about my observations. The experience in this area, of your cousin, Doctor Bakes, makes mine pale by comparison.

I am quite certain of the validity of the remarks of Doctor Bakes' successor, Doctor Novotny. The possibility exists, that the selection of cases that I examined, with reference to indication for choledolchotomy, may be somewhat at variance with the standard selections in Europe.

I would consider it an honor, if I could have the opportunity of seeing some of Doctor Bakes' original material. I do hope that we could get together someday at a convention or if you're ever in New York.

Sincerely yours,

Benedict M. Reynolds, M. D.
