

December 5, 1967

Dr. Clarence Dennis
Professor of Surgery
450 Clarkson
Brooklyn, New York 11203, 270.1973 Telephone

Dear Dr. Dennis

Dr. A. Kantrowitz invited me to visit his place, on Monday, December 11. I am somewhat in doubt about accepting this offer for various reasons. I would consider only a first class situation. In the past I had only limited contacts with Adrian, and I of course would consider only a place where serious clinical, laboratory investigation is conducted. I would like to direct myself by your advice.

Certain things I know, are better said than written. Would it be possible to visit with you for a few minutes sometime between Sunday, December 10 p.m. and Wednesday, December 13? I will be staying at the Stattler-Hilton. Could you have your secretary drop me a note? I would appreciate it as I surmise that you have an intimate knowledge of the medical affairs in your affiliated hospitals and in New York.

Sincerely

Karel B. Absolon, M.D.

KBA:bc