

SENATE VOTES 42 TO NOTHING ON PWA BILLS

Two Measures Passed by Upper House on 2nd Reading

PREPARE TO END SESSION TONIGHT

Companion Bill Passed Enabling Local Units to Participate in World's Fair

Raleigh, Aug. 12.—(AP)—By unanimous votes and without discussion the Senate passed on second readings today the two bills requested by Governor Hoey to provide state and local unit participation in PWA-aided permanent improvements programs.

The vote on each bill was 42 to 0. They had previously been passed by the House and after a final third reading in the Senate tonight, shortly after midnight, will become law.

The special legislative session, convened by Governor Hoey to pass the bond bills and appropriate $75,000 for state participation in the 1939 New York World's Fair, is set to adjourn at 1 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Senators passed three new bills under suspension of the rules, sending them to the House for action. Representatives were in recess today, scheduled to meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

One of the bills authorizes a state bond issue of $4,620,000 to secure funds to match expected PWA grants for a $8,240,510 improvements program here and at state institutions.

The other permits counties, municipalities and sanitary districts to issue revenue bonds for self-liquidating projects. Certificates of convenience and necessity must be secured for electric distribution and gas systems not previously authorized.

A companion bill to the one for state participation in the New York Fair which would allot counties, cities and towns to appropriate funds for the same purpose was introduced by Senator Eagles of Wilson. It was passed.

Approval in the Senate was also voted a bill by Britt of Robeson to permit issuance of revenue bonds by Red Springs to erect a hotel, which the town could operate or lease. Britt said it was needed to accommodate parents of students at Flora McDonald College.

Visitors to the Senate who were accorded courtesies of the floor included Congressman Lindsay Warren of Washington.

Tax Refund Forms Are now Available

Greensboro, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Announcement was made today from the office of Collector of Internal Revenue Commissioner Charles Robertson that blanks and procedure forms for making application for refunds of taxes paid by cotton and tobacco farmers under the Kerr-Smith and Bankhead laws, part of the old AAA legislation, are now available in his office.

The forms, necessary to filing applications for refunds, can be had by application to the office of the collector here. It is understood these forms will not be available from field deputies. Tax collections from tobacco and cotton ran into a considerable figure.

Firemen Find Smoke But No Blaze Today

Members of the Greenville fire department were called to the home of Mrs. James L. Dixon on 1116 Evans street this morning around 8:30 o'clock, only to learn there was plenty of smoke, but no fire.

Wind had forced smoke down the chimney, which filled rooms of the home, the fire department reported. A passer-by, fearing the home was ablaze, sounded an alarm.

Check On Nazi

Paris, Aug. 12.—(AP)—France today instructed her diplomats abroad to transmit immediately to Paris all information available concerning military preparation now taking place in Germany.

Foreign office officials declared reports of Nazi military measures of unusual size were being followed by diplomatic circles with the greatest attention.

GERMAN PLANE COMPLETES HOP TO AMERICA

The huge German Focke-Wulf land plane of the type shown here, reached New York yesterday afternoon after having completed the trans-Atlantic crossing from Berlin in 25 hours. The craft, named the Brandenburg, is 73 feet long and has a wing-spread of 168 feet. It made the first westward flight between Berlin and New York, a distance of 3,942 miles with a crew of four German fliers.

ASKS CITIZENS TO COOPERATE

Street and Sidewalk Clean-up Campaign Under Way

The Greenville street department has started a "clean-up" campaign preparatory to the opening of the tobacco market and asks that the citizens co-operate in the movement.

Superintendent E. G. Lynch revealed this morning that the department had started painting all walkways and remarking the streets and urged the citizens to cut the hedges and clean the strips between the side curb in front of their homes.

Pointing out that it would be impracticable to mark the streets after the market opens, due to the much heavier traffic, Mr. Lynch said it was greatly desired that the "clean-up" campaign be conducted successfully at the present time.

The tobacco market opens this coming Thursday week, August 25.

In connection with the marking of walkways and streets, police officials pointed out the fact that some people evidently are disregarding stop signs.

Chief of Police George Clark declared that it was strictly against the law to enter an arterial highway or otherwise cross a stop sign in the street without coming to a complete halt and added he had instructed members of his force to bring charges against any motorists found violating the regulation.

Several weeks recently have been observed on failure of drivers to blame the stop signs.

It also was pointed out that with the tobacco market opening, traffic would be much heavier than usual and the necessity of observing the stop signs would be even greater.

Crosbyton, Tex.—(AP)—Charles Metcalf fought flying ants at his home until he was exhausted then called the fire department. The fire ladders washed the invading army of insects away finally but the ants came back the next day.

Metcalf said they besieged the house just before a thunderstorm occurred, after coming down the chimney in hordes.

Hoey And Maxwell Agree On Road Improvements

Raleigh, Aug. 12.—It's quite impossible to say which made the motion and which seconded it, but Governor Clyde R. Hoey and Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell are obviously working in close co-operation in the matter of Highway Improvement.

First the Commissioner comes out with a program calling for widening narrow roads and bridges eliminating unbanked curves, hard-surfacing shoulders.

Not far behind comes the Governor with an allocation of $3,000,000 from the highway fund surplus "for widening narrow roads and bridges, removing flat curves and otherwise improving primary highways."

Durham Lead With $1,051,528; Pitt's Sales $457,654

Raleigh, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Chairman Cutlar Moore of the State Board of Alcoholic Control, reported today that gross liquor sales in 27 counties having stores amounted to $7,062,497.49 during the fiscal year ending June 30.

No county west of Durham has a store and 73 counties are dry. The state got $493,628.17 in taxes from liquor stores.

Moore said the cost of the liquor sold was $4,645,587.15, operating expenses $576,993.04, counties set aside $128,289.82 for law enforcement and net revenues were $1,249,907.03.

Durham topped the counties in sales with $1,051,528.46 and Wake was next with $812,279.50. Figures on the others included: Beaufort, $207,694.55; Bertie, $81,555.86; Carteret, $106,846.45; Craven, $136,347.60; Dare, $46,668.26; Edgecombe, $357,433.80; Franklin, $125,905.65; Greene, $60,660.65; Halifax, $382,196.85; Johnston, $387,368; Lenoir, $290,504; Martin, $146,732.41; Moore, $288,682.35; Nash, $267,810.20; Pitt, $457,654.90; Vance, $211,925.45; Warren, $110,635.55; Washington, $60,183.75; Wilson, $333,252.55.

Export Firm Adds To Local Factory

The Export Tobacco Company of Greenville this summer made an addition to its plant at an estimated cost of $30,000, which enables the factory to cover an entire city block.

Continued growth has been realized by this factory since it was established here. When built in 1914, the Export Tobacco Company had only one machine. In 1925, additional space facilities were provided, and another redrying machine was added. Four years later, another redrying machine and more space was added.

The new addition is being used as a cooper room and redrying plant, and replaces a smaller building was also used as a cooper room and redrying plant.

A. E. Hogoboom is head buyer and general manager of the Export Tobacco Company, which has a large storage warehouse containing four compartments. Combined capacity of the storage house is approximately 5,000 hogsheads.

out strongly and unequivocally against diversion. Governor Hoey hints at the same in his allocation statement, but still doesn't announce himself as a fully-baptized convert. He says within as "as possible" of doing it, however, when he said, "The money has been paid by those who operate motor vehicles and they are entitled to have this money applied as fully and completely as possible to the betterment of the highways."

That "As possible" makes the Hoey position slightly ambiguous but there seems to be no question that he is approaching the status of an antidiversionist.

Another angle is the possible effect of the Governors view on the 1940 gubernatorial candidacy of Mr. Maxwell. So far, it would seem a safe assumption that the Maxwell chances have been materially boosted by the Governor's expressions and actions in aid of the Maxwell highway plans.

CHARGES AIRD IN CITY COURT

Dispose of Docket Before the Noon Recess

Drawn out cases caused the regular Friday morning session of recorder's court to progress slowly, but the docket was disposed of before the noon recess with Vice-Recorder L. C. Skinner presiding.

Louis Gaylor, confronted with a drunkenness charge, made motion for a jury trial and this case was transferred to Superior court. A new bond of $25 was required.

Frank Diggins, Negro, indicted jointly with C. H. Boothe, white, on a charge of careless and reckless driving, was ordered to pay the costs of the court and $7 for damages done to Boothe's car. Notice of appeal was filed and a required bond was set at $50.

NAZI GERMANY ON WAR BASIS

Nation-Wide Preparations Proceedings For Maneuvers

Berlin, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Nazi Germany is on virtually a war-time footing as the time for the annual autumn war maneuvers nears.

Nation-wide preparations are proceeding at top speed for a type of maneuvers to be used by Germany for the first time since the World War—creating entirely new units for training reserves in six to 10 weeks.

Military observers were unable to estimate the number of troops involved in the fall war games because the maneuvers are to occur sectionally instead of in one mass display and there is no precedent for figuring the extent.

(Alarmed by foreign reports of extensive German military preparations, France today ordered her diplomats abroad to send to Paris all available information concerning the maneuvers.)

NOW WHEN HE BUYS COWS HE LEAVES CASH AT HOME

Robert Lee, Texas, Aug. 12.—(AP)—J. H. Smith, veteran cattle user, never takes $1,000 bills with him any more when he sets out to buy cattle.

"I tried it once and offered it in payment for animals I had contracted to buy but cattleman after cattleman turned it down," says Smith.

He had to dig a hole, bury the bill and then make his bed over it when he camped at night. Even then he rested uneasily for fear someone would attempt to rob him.

TWO CONTESTS START COURSE IN N. C. COURTS

Lucas Accepts Service of Order Granted Burgin

SIMILAR ACTION IN YOUNG CASE

Election Board Chairman "Pleased" That Courts to Hear Primary Wrangles

Raleigh, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Two contested Democratic primary contests started a course in the courts today, with the first hearing set for August 17 in Superior court here before Judge W. C. Harris.

Chairman W. A. Lucas of the State Board of Elections accepted service this morning on an order granted W. O. Burgin, Lexington attorney, whom the board declared the loser to C. B. Deane of Rockingham, in the eighth congressional district, temporarily restraining the board from formally certifying its findings.

A few minutes later Lucas also accepted service of a summons in a similar action filed by J. R. Young of Dunn, declared the loser in the fourth district, solicitorial race to Solicitor Claude Canaday of Benson.

Lucas said he would file his answer to the Burgin case "as quickly as possible," but could not work on it today because of previous engagements in the western part of the state. The order restrains the board pending determination of a mandamus action filed to require the board to declare Burgin the nominee.

The complaint in the Young action was not filed immediately. The cases differ in that Burgin was apparently the winner on the face of returns of the second primary originally reported by county boards, while Young trailed Canaday in the returns in his race.

In a statement Lucas said he was "pleased" that Burgin had instituted suit, as "the question of law involved is a most important one, vital to the election machinery of the state, and one that should be set at rest by an adjudication by the Supreme court."

The board, Lucas said, took the position that the direction in the statute that it "compel the observance of the election laws" meant that the board "should see to it that any official who endeavored to falsify a return or permit the commission of some other fraud should not be permitted to consume his purpose, and if such had happened, that the same official, or his successor, should be compelled to undo the wrong and that the wrong should not be permitted to endure."

The incident came while Russian and Japanese troops kept an armistice on the border of Siberia and Manchoukuo, where serious hostilities were waged from July 29 to August 11.

Electricity Used Yesterday Record

The rapid growth of Greenville was reflected in the amount of electricity used yesterday, Martin Swartz, superintendent of the Water and Light Commission, having revealed that more kilowatts were generated Thursday than in any single day in the history of the local plant.

A total of 42,000 kilowatts was generated yesterday, compared with a high of 40,000 for last year. It was pointed out that the tobacco factories were not operating at full capacity, nor were cotton gins and other industries which later on will be using current, in operation.

Mr. Swartz said new homes and the increase in the use of electrical appliances were chiefly responsible for the heavy load demanded yesterday.

Washington, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper disclosed today a conviction of high-placed English friends that Europe will pass through the crisis of war threats in the next 30 days.

Roper, who returned this week from a month's visit in Great Britain, said in an interview:

"The people with whom I talked said that if they could get through the next month without war, there would be no general European war for at least a year and probably for years to come."

He explained when he was in England two years ago Britain appeared jittery about the prospects for peace because of their lack of military preparedness.

"Now, he continued, 'the English believe their rearmament program is far enough along to command respect and peace.'"

Other developments: The first three years of the Social Security act cost the federal treasury $1,233,558,598 and brought in $887,946,271 of revenue.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury Roswell Magill made public the statistics involved in operation of the law, the third anniversary of which will be Sunday.

New public works construction advanced to an authorized $1,201,000 with Presidential approval of $2 additional non-federal projects for which the government authorized $11,233,668 of grants.

Japanese Official Shot In New Border Incident

Identity of Man Shot And Reason Being Withheld

Tokyo, Aug. 12.—(AP)—A new border incident involving Japan and Soviet Russia was reported today from Sakhalin Island, where Japan and the Soviet Union defied control.

Domei (Japanese agency), dis-Japanese tempers had flared again in Sakhalin's main cities, declared Russo-patches from Shikita, one of Sakhalin's Japanese police agents.

Japanese police rushed to the scene of the incident near the frontier which separates Japanese and Soviet halves of the long northern island off the Siberian coast.

Neither the name of the wounded man nor reason for the reported shooting was made known. The inspection group, led by a member of Parliament, included numerous prominent Japanese.

The incident came while Russian and Japanese troops kept an armistice on the border of Siberia and Manchoukuo, where serious hostilities were waged from July 29 to August 11.

Explains Background Of Wrangle Over Utilities

Reflecter Bureau

Raleigh, Aug. 12.—Everybody who reads the papers has read this week that there has been much wrangling and crowing over the Revenue Bond bill under which municipalities of the state will be able to operate any number of revenue-producing undertakings by issuing so-called revenue bonds, which are not "debt" of the units within the meaning of the Constitution.

Everybody has read that the bond of convenience and necessity" from quiring municipalities which construct operating gas or electric power projects to get a "certificates of convenience and necessity" from the Utility Commissioner. They have read, too, about a great "power lobby" which has been fighting for this cause.

But even then there are, it seems literally thousands of folks who still don't know what all the shooting is about, so an effort to put the issues in simple language is probably not amiss.

Fundamentally, it's the old, old battle between those who believe in public operation of utilities and those who feel that private industry can do the better, and besides has already acquired something of a vested right in the matter of being the present operator.

Those who don't want the clause in are convinced that any municipal pality that wants to do has a perfect right to go ahead and set up its own power system, no matter whether a private industry is already in the field or not. It the private utility suffers, they feel, that's just too bad. They don't think any state body should be permitted to say whether or not there is a need for additional service.

Those who do want the clause believe that private companies which have invested their money in power systems and are giving adequate service should be protected against indiscriminate, haphazard entry to the field on the part of municipalities. (Continued on page five)

BACKS CLARK IN EMPHATIC TERMS

Address At Barnesville so Vigorous as To Cause Surprise Among Listeners

Washington, Aug. 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt arrived in Washington at 10:28 a. m. (EST) today after a five weeks' political-pleasure tour.

This ended the trip after he had told Georgia citizens in emphatic terms how he would like for them to vote in the Democratic senatorial primary.

Mr. Roosevelt, in an address so vigorous that it surprised many of his listeners, said if he could vote in Georgia he certainly would support Lawrence Camp, U. S. district attorney in Atlanta.

Speaking at Barnesville, Ga., yesterday, he named Senator Walter George and former Governor Eugene Talmadge as two candidates he clearly indicated were unacceptable to his administration. He did not mention a fourth candidate in the Democratic senatorial primary, W. G. McRae, Atlanta attorney.

Speeding northward into South Carolina, he spoke informally from the rear platform of his train in Greenville.

He was introduced by Governor Olin Johnston, who has pledged loyalty for the administration in his race for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

"SEEING EYE" DOG KNOWS HER CUSTOMERS

Waynesville, N. C.—(AP)—Roy Moseman, blind, 35-year-old newspaper route carrier, believes his "Seeing Eye" dog Sallie, a Black Labrador, is the only dog in the country that knows every subscriber on a newspaper route.

Sally knows Moseman's subscribers even better that he does. If he happens to get one on his daily rounds, the dog tugs at his harness and refuses to move on until the subscriber is served.

If Moseman missed his aim in tossing a paper into the subscriber's porch, Sally quickly corrects the error by picking up the paper and putting it where it should be.

"Sub Rosa" Forges Ahead.
Last Tuesday night should be underscored on the "Sub Rosa" calendar as the one in which it surpassed all former endeavors to entertain its members and their friends, and to prove its object the promotion of the social welfare of Greenville.

Miss Sallie Lipscomb acted as hostess and well deserves the thanks of her guests for the charming manner in which they were entertained. The house was tastefully decorated with burnt orange and blue, while the grounds were made brilliant by numerous Chinese lanterns.

Directly under these were rustic benches, tete-a-tete chairs, hammocks, and cozy nooks in abundance. The candles in some of the lanterns, however, were too short, since several went out in a most sudden and mysterious manner.

Assisting Miss Lipscomb to receive were Misses Lillian Cherry, Rosalind Rountree and Betty Tyson. Miss Margaret Skinner and Will Lipscomb, Jr., stood at the door, the latter holding a large waiter of dainty bouquets, and the former pinning one on the lapel of each gentleman's coat.

At twelve o'clock refreshments were served. Mrs. Lipscomb proved an admirable chaperone and did the honors of her home in a most hospitable manner.

All wish long life and health and prosperity to "Sub Rosa." The members and their guests were as follows:

Miss Sallie Lipscomb with Henry Strause.
Miss Rosalind Rountree with Geo. J. Woodward.
Miss Blanche Flanagan with Alex. Gray.

Miss Abram with Will Harding.
Miss Ruby Satterfield of Georgia, with Louis Skinner.
Miss Annie Kitchen of Scotland Neck, with J. C. Jordan.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York—You can now get herio at restaurants in the Syrian quarter. This is a goats milk-broth with herb dumplings, and it is highly spiced. Costs 80 cents.

Another dish that intrigues me is sweet-and-sour, which is candied sparberis. It's 75c a quart in Chinese restaurants.

Only 10 plays are now on Broadway. . . . If you taste in cocktails rous toward the unusual, try the Oriduou. On second thought maybe you shouldn't try it. Let somebody you don't like very well try it. It's that sort of business, and so innocent looking, too, with a ripe red cherry on top.

There's a florist's shop downtown with a miniature indoor lake, but instead of having water lilies and the like, he keeps big fat bass and pickers in there. Transports them from a real lake and keeps them for five or six weeks. Then takes them home and eats them.

When the Clare Tree Major Children's Theater takes Peter Pan on the road this fall the title role will be played by a boy. This will be the first time a boy ever has played Peter Pan.

With George Bernard Shaw much discussed because of his new play coming up, it is natural that many of the old Shaw gags be revived. I still think the funniest Shaw story concerns his visit to Russia. One afternoon he fell to talking with a little girl, and they talked so late that it was dark before he realized it.

"You had better run along now," Shaw told her. "And if your mother asks you where you have been, say to her that you have been strolling along the Volga, talking with George Bernard Shaw."

Very solemnly the little girl answered: "And when your friends ask you where you have been, say to them that you have been walking beside the Volga, talking with Sonya Anna Majestvoskinov."

Another anecdote concerns a stack of letters Show wrote to a famous actress. Eventually this actress wanted to publish the letters. A magazine offered her a stupendous sum for them, and she was anxious to get the money.

But Shaw withheld his permission.

America Sees New French Hues As They Have Premiere Abroad

By ADELAIDE KERR
(AP Fashion Editor)

Colors and fabrics are headline news in 1938 fall fashions.

Black remains a prominent costume hue, but a number of new intriguing shades have come to town for the winter mode. Those launched by French designers made their debut in New York this year on the day when they were revealed to buyers in Paris.

This was made possible by an arrangement whereby nine Paris designers (Schiaparelli, Molyneux, Patou, Chanel, Jeonung, Lanvin, Maggy Rouff, Creed and Marcel Dornoy) furnished a New York dye company (United Piece Dye Works) with samples of their colors in advance.

Among hues were the rich rusts, terracottas and auburns to which Paris gave unexpected prominence, the greenish blue Mallard duck tones and the lichen, almond, vivid and dark greens used by some of "Paris' best." One of the most striking notes in the newly imported collection, from which many of America's fall fashion colors will be chosen, was the violent influence on reds and blues. Many red-violets, blue-violets and purple-violets, as well as mauve roses and orchid pinks were among them. Browns included both dark "Rembrandt" tones and reddish shades.

To that colored tale New York designers have added a lively liking for grayed "mist" or "stone" blues.

Many of the new fabrics show some kind of surface interest. Coats were woven with a compact "smooth-rough" boucle finish raised in plateau patterns or an effect faintly suggestive of petit-point. New-day frocks appear in matelasse crepes or cloque crepes woven in small discreet patterns or in suave mossy crepes. Fine wool crepes and Jersey weaves are seen too.

The vogue for surface interest is reflected even in the frocks made of plain fabrics which are sometimes quilted, braided or embroidered.

Governor Earle Is War Center In Pennsylvania

By The AP Feature Service
Harrisburg, Pa.—Pennsylvania is a happy hunting ground for politicians in search of a hot fight. The latest dispute centers around Governor George H. Earle. Here's the situation:

Governor Earle, Democratic nominee for U. S. senator, is one of 14 political powers accused of conspiracy to defraud the state. He denies the charges, calls them "politically inspired."

Many of the charges originated with Charles J. Margiotti during his unsuccessful campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Margiotti, then attorney general, insisted on a grand jury probe. Earle fired him.

Carl B. Shelley, district attorney, collected evidence for the grand jury inquiry. Earle's objections were based in part on the fact that Shelley and judges who allowed the inquiry were Republicans.

A special session of the legislature called by Earle, authorized a house of representatives committee to take over the inquiry. Representative Herbert Cohen, strong administration backer, was named chairman. Earle said he wasn't opposed to a grand jury inquiry but wanted the legislative investigation to air the whole dispute publicly.

Then Judge Paul N. Schaeffer, in charge of the grand jury probe, declared the special session's laws unconstitutional and a "legislative invasion of judicial powers." Further fighting in the courts seems probable.

How's Your Health?

Based for the New York Academy of Medicine
By Igo Goldstein, M.D.

SUMMER HEALTH HINTS

Never drink water from a spring or brook until it is first boiled. The water may appear clear and sparkling, but also it may harbor disease-producing bacteria. Campers or hikers cannot know if a stream has been polluted.

The above is one of many timely warnings contained in a bulletin issued by the New York City Department of Health. Others follow:

During the hot summer days, the baby should be taken out early in the morning and late in the afternoon. He should not be exposed to the heat of the midday sun. When the sun is high in the heavens, the child should be indoors in the coolest room in the house. The child may be taken to the parks and beaches, but the mother should be sure to return home early before the baby becomes fatigued.

Most of the drownings that occur each summer could have been prevented had a few simple and obvious rules been borne in mind. Do not swim alone. Do not swim when tired or immediately after eating. No matter how good a swimmer you think you are, do not go far from shore unless accompanied by a boat.

Summer campers and vacationists should be warned against drinking unpasteurized milk when away from home. Pasteurized milk is the only safe milk, aside from certified milk, which is usually not served in small hotels or boarding houses. However, if pasteurized milk cannot be obtained, the safe procedure is to boil the milk before drinking it or, if you prefer, to use evaporated or dried milk.

Some people try to crowd into a two-weeks' vacation all the activity and exercise that should be distributed over a year. The body recoils. It just can't be done, and the vacationer returns home exhausted and in a much poorer physical condition than when he went away. Exercise should be graduated and there should be plenty of rest.

PRESIDENT GETS DEGREE FROM GEORGIA

Standing under a blistering summer sun on the University of Georgia campus at Athens, President Franklin D. Roosevelt received from the venerable school an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. Here the degree hood is bestowed on the Chief Executive by Dr. W. D. Hooper, secretary of the University faculty. At the left is Chancellor S. V. Sanford of the University system, at the extreme right is Col. E. M. Watson, military aide to Mr. Roosevelt.

"I refuse to play horse to your Lady Godiva," he said.

Fred Allen speaking: "Trying to be funny is very trying. But it does keep you off the street."

Arrogance is apt to get you in trouble if you are an entertainer in New York. A well-known band leader was "fired by the waters," because he was insolent and overbearing. "It's this way," the headliner told me. "This fellow was very rude to us, so every time the boss came around he let ourselves be overheard saying 'He didn't get any applause at all tonight,' and 'His performance has been flat for a week.' After the boss hears enough things like that he calls for replacements. Maybe it's a little under-handed, but we are human."

Gregory Taylor bought a goat and a lamb for his island home the other day—not to butcher but to help the caretaker keep the lawn mowed.

If she can remember her life at three, Shirley must know that once in a while people turned in passing for a second look. She must remember that many strangers sighed and gurgled, "Cute child!" or "ISN'T she DARLING?"

Then pictures, and the problem of Shirley's hat size. The Temples, papa and mama, tackled it hard. They made it a rule that Shirley shouldn't be ogled and petted. They shielded her from the barrage of Oh's and Ah's. It was a good rule even if it didn't work. Shirley has had more well-meant compliments from well-meaning people than the average child could take. But Shirley isn't average.

Adding inches, pounds, years, Shirley learned to read. Even before that, she could pick out her name on billboards. When she could read what went with the name—adjectives—the novelty had worn thin.

When Shirley was attending her first previews, I thought some unlikely thoughts about these Temples who talked about "protecting" Shirley and yet exposed her to mob applause. I remember one occasion when Shirley had to be hoisted on a press agent's shoulders to get her through the mob, preceded by shouts of "Make way for the queen!" Ever been seasick? That's how I felt. But the Temples had the right idea. If Shirley could get accustomed to crowds early enough, she could take 'em or leave 'em.

So the elephant grew bigger, but so did Shirley. Most of us howled at this "quiet" little Temple trek across country now ending in Bermuda. Just as we thought, the crowds didn't know it was "quiet." But I'll bet it hasn't hurt Shirley. Even if she doesn't elieve her mother's current "line"—that it's Shirley's star who the crowds are cheering—it hasn't hurt her.

What might hurt her some day, of course, is for the elephant to say bye-bye. But he isn't going to. Every picture she makes points up more clearly that Shirley Temple is going to be an actress—child and woman—for a good long time.

HINT TO KNITTERS

Does your ball of knitting yarn insist on running away? Put a ball of yarn in a small box with a tightly-fitting lid that has a small hole cut in it. Pull the end of the yarn through the hole at the cover is in place. Your yarn will pull out easily and will be clean and free of tangles.

COOKING WITH MILK

Milk scorchs easily, so heat it in a double boiler or warm it over low heat in a pan set on an asbestos mat. To help keep the milk from sticking to the sides rinse the pan in cold water before heating.

STATE INSANE PROVIDED FOR

Hospital Capacity To Approach Recommendations

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, Aug. 12.—Upon completion of the construction projects to be authorized under the State WPA building program, capacity of the three state hospitals for the insane will be slightly above that recommended late in 1937 by the North Carolina Commission for the Study of the Care of the Insane and Mental Defectives.

This Commission reported that by 1940 the combined capacity of the Raleigh and Morganton hospitals should be $5,400 and of the Goldsboro hospital (for Negroes) 2,835. Under the proposed program the Raleigh and Morganton combined capacity will be $5,685 and the Goldsboro capacity will be $2,838, approximately.

This will represent an increase of $1,300 as a direct result of the present program, distributed $250 each at Raleigh and Goldsboro and $800 at Morganton. The last named had been figured here for a much smaller increase.

A telegram from Dr. F. B. Watkins, superintendent of the state hospital at Morganton, however, estimated that "full new program" anticipates adding about $900 per year. The present capacity is listed at $2,385.

Thus the situation with regard to facilities for the insane will be as follows:

Raleigh: Present capacity $2,385; to be added $250; for a total of $2,635 after completion of program.

Morganton: Present capacity $2,385; to be added $800; for a total of $3,185 at end of program.

Goldsboro: Present capacity 2,385; to be added 250; for a total of $2,635.

The Commission whose recommendations apparently have been fully considered in making up the present building program was composed of Dr. Frederic Hanes, Victor Bryant, Louis Graves, Dr. Raymond Crispell and Dr. E. McNeill Post.

SOUTHERN CANARIES BECOME GUINEA PIGS

Atlanta, Ga. — (AP) — Golden-feathered canary birds are doing their part to help medical research conquer malaria, scourge of the southern lowlands.

The feathered songsters apparently are affected by the disease in much the same way humans are, and the Emory University Medical school is using them to test out new drugs and treatment.

That's at the bottom of the whole thing, but as usual the main issue is mixed up with several secondary ones.

For example, the power companies unquestionably hoped to shut off the High Point power project, already delayed by them for many months by court fights. The Supreme court has already held that, fundamentally, the project is a perfectly legal one, but the power companies fight right on.

They are also undoubtedly opposed to a great deal of municipal competition which is perfectly legitimate but which they hope to be able to stifle by whatever means come to hand. They have lobbied hard, are lobbying hard and will continue to lobby hard.

On the other side of the picture the municipalities aren't altogether innocent of selfishness.

Much of the opposition to the "convenience and necessity" clause comes because the municipalities are now having a regular "pig in clover" feast in the power business. Some of them not only serve their own citizens, but operate in three, four or even more different counties, with revenue derived from these outside counties—to which they pay absolutely no taxes—the municipal officers are able to keep their local tax rates down—something which is the ideal of every politician who wants to stay in power.

What these municipalities fear isn't that they wouldn't be able to get the certificates but the effect it would have if they should ever be forced to reveal details of their operations—not that they are dishonest or irregular, but that they would have to pay taxes.

In short the municipalities don't want anybody to know anything about their power business. They won't give the State REA details now. They don't want to be forced to give the Utility Commissioner any data. They are scared stiff that somebody will wake up to the fact that here's a good source of tax revenue which is now escaping taxation. And there are many honest people, not power lobbyists by any means, who feel that municipalities which spread out into business in territory other than their own should pay the tax collector just like any private business.

Plays Possum. Sydney, N. S. W. — (AP) — Perhaps it was tired, or just lazy, but a sheep on a ranch near here lay so long on its back on a feeding trough, everyone thought it was dead. When a farmer grabbed its stiffly upturned legs and swung it to the ground after several hours, the sheep bleated loudly and began feeding at the trough.

 Daybook

Washington—Country visitors get to see more of what there is to see in this town in their usual three days' stay than the average native sees in a whole lifetime.
 That may sound foolish but I have run into more than one sample of native Washingtonian who never has set foot on the White House grounds although they are open every day. Even part of the White House may be visited by casual folk during forenoons from 10 to 12.

A neighbor of mine has lived 50 years in Washington—he was born here—and in that time has repeatedly toured the country east and west, inspecting "spots" in San Francisco, New York and New Orleans. But he has never seen the Senate in session, has never seen President Roosevelt (and says he doesn't want to), and was in the Smithsonian Institution only once, when a visiting relative insisted on being taken there.

Home Town Pride
 After lunch the other day a young engineer walked with me past the White House and remarked that in 11 years in Washington he never had set foot in the building, although he had wanted to ever since coming. By the time he gets off work, the major federal activities also have shut down.
 "Why don't you take a couple of days of your vacation and see the town?"
 The idea seemed to appeal to him for a moment, but suddenly he blurted:
 "People would think I was crazy."

So instead he will go to New York again for half his vacation and spend the rest on the seashore.
 Arriving in New York he will meet New Yorkers boarding trains for Washington to see the White House and ride up to the top of Washington Monument.
 When I made that observation to a New York friend one time he well nigh cut me down.
 "You don't see any New Yorkers leaving this town to visit Washington?"
Cool Subject Emerges Once before it was written in this column that the air cooling system in the big federal buildings are not all that could be asked as promoters of health. A physician said that since they were installed his summer practice has increased remarkably—sore throats and colds. The federalist stay cool as cream until mid-afternoon when they plunge out into blistering temperatures to go home. The shock gets them.
 The worst interior building is worst. Honest, they chill the help in that place until the stenographers have frost on 'em. Secretary Ickes didn't go to Alaska to see the scenery. He went up there to get warm.

This travelog can't be ended without your hearing of Louis Bean. He came from Odessa, Russia, a number of years ago, unable to speak English. Now he has a string of degrees and is statistical adviser to Secretary Wallace of Agriculture. He was chatting with Secretary Wallace and an undersecretary recently before leaving for New Orleans on departmental business.
 "Louis," said the under-secretary, "if you'll come to my office before you go I'll give you a hot list of telephone numbers."
 Secretary Wallace smiled and asked Bean:
 "Louie, what would you do with a list of telephone numbers?"
 "Oh," grinned Louis the Statistician. "I'd add 'em all together and divide by 10."

Tea Versus Beer.
 Melbourne, Victoria—(AP)—An enterprising caterer is trying to substitute tea for beer as the favorite beverage among football spectators here. He offers eight ounce cartons at five cents apiece. The tea keeps hot for 15 minutes.

Keep cut flowers as cool as possible. Do not expose them to direct sunlight.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Aug. 12.—Legislators will be able to get home in time for breakfast Saturday morning, if they do a bit of night traveling.

It had already been confidently expected, but Senator Pat Taylor's resolution, unanimously adopted in the Senate Wednesday, made a night session and wee small hour sine die adjournment a virtual certainty.

It was duly resolved, and the House will no doubt concur (in fact, probably has concurred by the time you read this), in setting the "without day" quitting time as 1 a. m., Saturday, August 13.

Incidentally, this Pat Taylor has been the Administration leader throughout the extra session. Practically everything has been done through him—the "gag" resolution introduced, the "Praise Hoey" laudation passed up to the reading clerk, and the "let's quit Saturday morning" decision proposed.

Your correspondent chose the Senate chamber as his personal observation post Wednesday, figuring there'd be more going on that side than in the House.

A few minutes after the opening prayer had been intoned there was a sudden blast like a dynamite explosion—an ear-splitting, drum-cracking roar of "No" from the House side of the Capitol.

There went Claude Gray's five little local bills again, your correspondent remarked to a Senator standing beside him in the lobby.

That was right—the House that Greg rules had again refused to let the Gates representative seek
 (1) to increase per diem of his county education board from $3 to $4;
 (2) to require an annual audit of Gates county under supervision of the Local Government Commission;
 (3) to put the Gates clerk, sheriff and register of deeds on a salary basis; (4) to make the Gates sollicitor elective; and (5) to make the Gates recorder elective.

Libby Ward, Victor Bryant and Bill Fenner are pitting in plenty of hard licks in their Speakership campaign, but if any one of the three is making more progress than the others it has not been observable to the naked eye.

Over on the Senate side, Camden's W. L. Halstead is lining up as much support as he can gather for the presidency pro tem of the 1939 Senate session. His most talked of rival, Erskine Smith of Stanley county, isn't a member of the present legislature, though a veteran law maker.

Some Senators are of the opinion that the House quit too soon on the "certificate of convenience and necessity" question in the Revenue Bond Act. Their view is that enough Senators could have been struck go along with the House in finding the certificate provision entirely from the bill.

There's no question, however, that the House section made the path to adjournment a broad and smooth one.

Your correspondent has found the finest living example of the "Unreconstructed Rebel" in the person of Senator J. H. McDaniell of Cabarrus.
 For almost an hour after adjournment Wednesday the scribe listened while "Mac" expounded the doctrine of State's Rights which with him is quite obviously something quite sacred—a religion, really.

He voted for Unemployment Compensation under Federal duress. He will vote for bonds with PWA assistance. But he doesn't like it.
 He'd much rather the United States government would keep its nose out of North Carolina's business.

IT WORKS IF IT'S ALL WET

Max Gene Nohl and Gun
 This mean-looking weapon gets in its best work when it's all wet. It's an under-water air-pressure gun which shoots a brass dart with 2,000 pounds pressure. It's capable of killing a fish at 50 feet. Max Gene Nohl, deep sea diver, is demonstrating it at San Juan, Puerto Rico, where an expedition of which he is a member is testing various types of new undersea apparatus this summer.

LASSES WHITE AND HGNEY WILDS

The most famous blackface comedian act in America comes to Greenville Monday, August 15, when these two minstrel stars appear here in Lassie White All-Star Comedians and Hollywood Follies. A complete new show, studded with big name attractions, will be presented in two performances at night, beginning at 8 and 9:45 o'clock.

THE CLOUDED MOON

By MAX SALTMARSH

The Characters
 Hugo Stern, handsome author, living on the French Riviera.
 Archie Lumsden, myself, Hugo's friend.
 René Geiss, a singularly unpleasant cartoonist.

Yesterday: Summoned to Palm Beach by O'Donnell, an American detective, Hugo and I see Eugé Monet murdered while she is taking part in a mannequin show.

Chapter Five
 Death Of A Red-Haired Man

THE Chief of Police pulled out a notebook and scribbled while Hugo was speaking. Hugo told him that the blonde girl had approached us at the Carlton Bar. He also that Geiss had spoken to us about her and mentioned the names of her friends.

"Venner, the banker?" Thiers pondered. "Now, where have I heard that name before? No matter. It will come to me. Baron Stahl I know, of course—the great financier. I fancy that he is staying now at Cap d'Antibes. Vladimir Rakovsky—no, that one is unknown to me. But one or other of them can doubtless tell us something about the girl."

He paused again, surveying us. "There is nothing else?" Hugo shook his head, but I sat up in my chair. "There's one point," I said. "You say the girl was murdered, which I presume means shot, and in that case the pistol must have been fitted with a silencer, otherwise everyone would have heard the explosion. I know the noise a silencer makes, and just before the thing happened I heard such a sound, that might very well have been the shot, behind my back."

"And that is all, Monsieur?" "No," I said bluntly. "It isn't. As my friend has told you, I called for a doctor, and while I was doing so I saw two men leave the room hurriedly, one after the other. In fact," I added thoughtfully, "it looked to me as if one was pursuing the other."

"That is most interesting," said the fat man, but with a certain lack of enthusiasm. "These men—how were they dressed?"

I shrugged. "In black trousers and white mess-jackets. They might have been waiters or guests, for all I could tell." "But their faces?" he insisted. "You could identify them again?" "No," I said. "I couldn't. They had their backs to me, and beyond the fact that one was medium-sized and black-haired, and the other shorter and ginger-colored, I saw nothing to spot them by." I paused, racking my brains for some detail that might have escaped me, and a sudden memory came. "Hold on a minute," said I. "I did notice a ginger-haired fellow, before the thing happened, standing behind the tables across the dance-floor, signaling to someone on our side of the room."

He pursed his lips, frowning thoughtfully. "And you think it might have been the same man? Well, we can discover if anyone left the building before orders were given to shut the doors. But meantime we will have Madame in."

He opened the outer door and gave a sharp order, and next moment a tall, handsome, middle-aged woman, a trifle mannish-looking in her tailored black satin suit, entered the room. She was pale and her mouth was grimly set, but otherwise she showed no sign of emotion.

Thiers bowed. "You are Madame Lillie Stefan?" he inquired. The woman inclined her head silently. "And this poor girl who has met so tragic an end—she was one of your assistants?"

"A Holocaust?" "She was one of my assistants, for this affair only," she said in a deep, rich contralto. "It will be best, I think, if I explain exactly how it happened. The girl Eve was not one of my regular mannequins. She was suggested to me last night by Baron Stahl. I had, unfortunately, no opening at the time, but I took her address with the promise to employ her when the occasion offered. Two days ago, when I was on the point of leaving for Cannes, one of my girls fell ill and I telephoned to this girl's apartment, 3 bis, rue President Doumergue, near the Parc Monceau, and finding that she was free, engaged her. Beyond that—I know nothing!"

"The Parc Monceau!" said the chief of police, pointing finger on lip. "An expensive address, that! And her real name, madame?" Mme. Stefan shrugged. "I know no more than you," she retorted. "Eve Monet was what she called herself."

The fat man got ponderously to his feet. "Madame," he said, with dignity, "I thank you."
 A uniformed gendarme stood in the doorway, the same that had departed on his errand a short time before. His sallow face was pearly with sweat; his beady eyes sparkled with the pleasurable anticipation of one who bears startling news, the points of his moustache quivered. "Monsieur le Commissaire!" he said excitedly, and stopped at sight of us. "One speaks?" he demanded dubiously. "Yes, yes!" said his superior testily, and he went on with a rush. "I have demanded at the doors if any person was seen to leave the building just after the tragedy, and one has said to me that yes, two men had been seen, one black-

 SECOND TRACT: Bounded on the North by the lands of Tom Dail; on the East by the lands of R. L. Davis and Brother, being the Ben Willoughby land; on the South by the lands of David Sutton's heirs; on the West by William McArthur, J. E. Willoughby and Mark Smith, and containing 130 acres, more or less, it being the same lands conveyed to J. W. Sutton as follows: By deed from David Sutton and wife in Book J-13, page 435; by deed from W. A. Nichols and wife, in Book J-12, page 544; by deed from J. C. Greenies Take Aces To Ride To Win Seventh in a Row

LOCALS DEFEAT AYDEN, 7 TO 2

Don't Look Now, Folks, But Greenies Are on a Winning Spree.

The Greenies won their seventh straight ball game yesterday. Ayden being the latest victim, but the locals still remained five games behind Snow Hill, bottom club in the first division. The regular season closes September 2.

Freddie Caliguri had little trouble with the Aces yesterday afternoon, striking out nine men in the seven innings he pitched and retired because of the heat in the eighth with two on with the score 7-1 in favor of the Greenies.

Delaney went in with two on, fanned the first man and the second batter to face him hit into a double play to retire the side.

Painter went the route for Ayden, allowing 12 hits. Greenies scored three runs in the second inning, but continued to add to the lead, pushing one across in the third, one in the fifth, and two in the sixth. Manager Rube Wilson led his team at bat, getting three for five, Simpson, Heavener and Daniels secured while Allen, Smith and Caliguri got one each.

The first Ayden run was scored on a break of the game. Rodgers who had walked, raced home when Heavener's knee struck a batted ball and it rolled way out in the field.

Wanted: An Actor Who Likes To Drink Beer

To Play Part Of Kilrain In Stribling's Show

By PAUL SIMMONS (AP Feature Service Writer) Hattiesburg, Miss.—There are going to be jobs here Labor day for a dozen actors, but most of the parts are plenty tough. The show will be a reenactment of the gory 72- or 75-round, bare-knuckle battle of 1889, in which John L. Sullivan whipped Jake Kilrain for the heavyweight championship of the world under the blazing sun in a Mississippi cow pasture.

W. L. (Pa) Stribling and B. E. (Tanks) Grantham, who are in charge, lined out the main character parts as follows: "JOHN L. SULLIVAN: This person must weigh about 202 lb, be about 5 feet 10 or 11 inches tall, have a rather large waistline, be able to grow a mustache, and have a 'roaring' bull-like voice."

"Both principles must be plenty tough, able to take a bare-knuckle beating in the hot sun, and in addition to a knowledge of boxing they must be fair wrestlers. In the days of the Cullivan - Kilrain battle, wrestling went along with boxing in prize fighting." Other characters to be portrayed include John Fitzpatrick, the referee; William Muldoon and Mike Cleary, Sullivan's seconds; Charlie Mitchell, Mike Donovan, Pony Moore and Johnny Murphy, Kilrain's seconds.

Local Swimmers In Contest at Kinston

Coach Judson White's fish, members of the Greenville swimming team, journeyed to Kinston this afternoon, where they were scheduled to compete in a swimming carnival in the municipal swimming pool there at 3 o'clock.

George Lautares, one of the team's mainstays, was unable to make the trip due to illness. Swimming has virtually taken Greenville. At least that was the opinion Coach White formed this morning when two girls, members of the tank unit, thumbed a ride from Morehead City, where they were vacationing, so they could compete in the swimming carnival. The Greenville swimming team has garnered honors in three meets of an East Carolina swimming circuit, and seek additional laurels in future scheduled contests.

EMBARRASSED LORDS FIND HORSEHAIR IN WOOLSAK

London—(AP)—Britain's famed woosack, historic seat of the lord chancellor, who presides at meetings of the house of lords, has been restuffed with wool from England, Scotland, Wales, and the British dominions. The Woosack is a big square bag, without arms or back and covered with red cloth to form a cushioned ottoman. Members of the house of lords got a nasty shock recently when they learned the Woosack had long been stuffed with horsehair.

In Queen Elizabeth's reign parliament banned exportation of wool, then Britain's staple commodity. Woosacks were placed on certain seats in the house of lords as a reminder. Domestics in Sydney, Australia, have their "day out" and by general agreement, among all concerned it is a full day, not a half one.

SECOND CHOICE WINS THE HAMBLETONIAN

Trotting without a bobble, McLin, owned by Lawrence B. Sheppard of Hanover, Pa., won the rich Hambletonian race at Goshen, N. Y., in two straight heats. Here was the scene as McLin, a 3 to 1 choice (leading horse at the rail), came to the front at the first turn of the first heat. Long Key, the favorite, ruined his chances by breaking.

Big Henry Finally Loses His Rabbitsfoot

Snow Hill Aug. 12.—Snow Hill Billies were very busy in a scoring way during the middle innings of yesterday's game with Goldsboro and racked up enough runs for victory. The final score was 10-8.

The Bugs had a 3-1 lead when the Billies came up in the fourth. A double by Big Jim Tatum drove in two tallies, to tie the score, and then Harry Soufas hit a homer to send the locals in front, there to stay. Snow Hill made three in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Coburn rallied in the stretch but couldn't catch up. Score by innings: R. H. E. Goldsboro 120 000 410-8 12 3 Snow Hill 010 432 00x-10 12 1 Winston and Mulvihill. Overton, Zschau, Druce and Bistoff.

Averette Tames Old Team Mates, 8 to 4

Williamston, Aug. 12.—Bill Averette was the hero for Williamston in an 8-4 win over New Bern yesterday.

Averette pitched the route although handicapped by an injured arm which was heavily taped. He yielded 18 hits and walked only one batter and pitched no-hit ball after the sixth. The local won by scoring three runs in the sixth for a 7-4 lead. A single by Eddie Ignasiak sent in the first run in the big inning, and hits by Hardison and Wilcox sent in the others.

Score by innings: R. H. E. New Bern 000 121 000-4 10 0 Williamston 020 203 01x-8 16 1 Archer and Thornton, Beaman, Averette and Wilcox.

Nowak Gets Verdict Over Elliott of Serps

Kinston, Aug. 12.—Eddie Nowak had the better of Ace Elliott in a pitchers' battle yesterday and Kinston took a 4-1 victory over Tarboro. Each hurler yielded 8 hits.

Two errors treated Kinston to a run in the first. The Serpents tied it in the second—on successive singles by Dick, Elliott and Maynard.

Kinston won with a couple of runs in the second. Successive singles by West, Nowak and Kratzer brought one score. Nowak tallied when Myers errored on Wright's infield tap.

An error led to the final Kinston tally in the eighth. Score by innings: R. H. E. Tarboro 010 000 000-1 8 4 Kinston 120 000 01x-4 8 0 Elliott and Dick; Nowak and West.

1938 Writes Big News In The Air

Howard Hughes' Welcome

AVIATION this year has made big news. The July flights of Hughes (round the world) and Corrigan (to Ireland) got the biggest headlines. But the seven months brought other big events, too.

The Samoan Clipper exploded in January, killing Pilot Musick, ace of ocean air pilots, and his crew of six.

In February, six army "flying fortresses" (this is one) flew to Buenos Aires in 28 hours. "Goodwill flight" showed air corps' strength.

Earl Ortman in May established a new "world's closed course speed record in competition" of 265.5 miles an hour at Oakland, Calif. races.

Douglas Corrigan's Smile

England's pick-a-back plane flew ocean in July after being launched from mother plane. Other planes made transatlantic surveys about same time.

Nordmeer, launched by catapult, was one of German ships resuming ocean flights.

January July period ended tragically when Hawaii Clipper, 15 aboard, disappeared.

TO LOOSEN ICE TRAYS

Never use a sharp instrument to loosen the ice trays in your refrigerator; you might puncture the cans. Take a dull instrument and use it as a wedge under the rim. When you replace the trays, wipe them with a cloth. It's the freezing of the excess water that makes trays stick.

WHIPPED CREAM NOTE

It is best to whip no more than two cups of cream at a time. Chill bowl and beater. If the cream is beaten in a warm bowl in a warm place it is apt to turn to butter.

APPLE SAUCE HELP

In making apple sauce, slice your apples, cook them in a little water until they are soft, then add the sugar. If you add the sugar at first you may need to put in more later and the apples are likely to become hard.

COPS DECIDE PIKES PEAK IS NOT A RACE TRACK

Pikes Peak, Colo. (AP)—Professional race drivers may race once a year up Pikes peak, on Labor day, but in between times amateurs will have to watch their speed on the famous mountain highway, state police have announced.

Imitating the professional speed kings became such a popular sport the police announced a rigid patrol will be established and all offenders will be taken to traffic court.

To combat the decreasing birth rate in France the government provides additional income for wage earners in the form of specified amounts according to the number of children supported.

Huge Throng Welcomes The President At Athens

A mighty throng of Georgians turned out at Athens, site of the University of Georgia, to welcome President Franklin D. Roosevelt upon the occasion of his visit there to receive an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from the school. Part of the crowd is shown in this picture made while Mr. Roosevelt (foreground, back to camera) spoke. Before going to Athens the President endorsed the Senatorial candidacy of Lawrence Camp of Atlanta at Warm Springs, Ga.
