TOBACCO TOWN BEGINS TO HUM WITH ACTIVITY

Carnival Spirit Prevails on Eve of Tobacco Auctions

ALL WAREHOUSES IN GOOD SHAPE

Twelve Houses in Operation This Year Have Floor Space of About 20 Acres

With a carnival spirit prevailing throughout Greenville, and especially in "Tobacco Town," accompanied by the cry of barkers at hot dog stands, lemonade stations, barbecue places, etc., the 1938 tobacco auction season prepared to open here tomorrow.

Farmers poured into the city today, after visiting designated places in their respective townships to secure their marketing cards.

Greenville will have 12 warehouses in operation this year, as compared with 10 last year. The old structures have been put in first class condition and two new buildings and an addition to another have been constructed.

The Greenville market will have a floor space of 20 acres.

The warehouses were rapidly filling today, farmers having started bringing in scattering loads more than a week ago.

The cry of auctioneers will start promptly at five houses at 9 o'clock. Warehouses with first sales tomorrow are Johnston, Gorman, Farmers, Star No. One and Forbes and Morton.

On the opening sales day last year 1,317,484 pounds were sold for $311,550.73, or an official average of $23.62 per hundredweight.

No one officially connected with the market would hazard a guess as to what the opening day average would be this year, but prices paid on the first day on Georgia-Florida and Border belt markets have led farmers to expect prices to be as good tomorrow as they were on the first day of sales last year.

The opening this year is one day earlier than in 1937, when auctions started on August 26. Efforts were made to have the date moved up for the Eastern Carolina markets, but were unsuccessful.

Seriously Injured In Auto Accident

Five Negroes were painfully injured in a motor car accident at the Stokes-Robersonville highway intersection last night around 11 o'clock, and a Pitt county man escaped possible serious injury when the truck he was driving struck another automobile today about 4 a. m. which was allegedly parked without lights on the Falkland highway.

Highway Patrolman G. R. Williams, investigating the accidents, said automobiles driven by J. N. Green to Williamson and Eddie Gilbert, Negro of near Greenville, collided at the Robersonville-Stokes intersection. Riding with Gilbert were four other Negroes, each of whom was injured.

Noah Spell, more seriously injured than the others, is confined to Pitt General hospital. Dr. W. I. Wooten of the hospital staff expressed the opinion that Spell sustained a broken neck, in that his body is paralyzed from the neck down. His condition is described as serious.

Patrolman Williams said that Gordon Boyd of Pinetown, driving a truck, struck an automobile on the Falkland which allegedly had no lights. Occupants of neither vehicle were injured.

As an outgrowth of this accident, Johnnie Pierce of near Greenville has been arrested on a charge of parking on the highway at night without lights. Patrolman Williams said that no arrest had been made in the other accident.

Plane Passengers In Narrow Escape

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug. 24.—(AP)—Eleven persons escaped serious injury today in a forced landing which badly damaged a Transcontinental Western Air transport plane four miles north of Albuquerque airport.

Officials of the line said they were not immediately able to assign the cause of the accident.

Judge Paul Frizzelle Crushes Action Against Board of Commissioners

Denies Scolding

Warden William B. Mills said he couldn't see how that could have taken place, when Coroner Charles H. Hersch said examination of the bodies of four hunger-striking prisoners found in cells at the Philadelphia, Pa., county prison showed definitely that the men were scolded to death. Warden Mills, shown above, said no steam or hot water was used on the men.

ATTORNEYS IN VERBAL CLASH

Counsel in Hines Case Delay Consummation of Trial

New York, Aug. 24.—(AP)—District Attorney Thomas Dewey and Defense Counsel Lloyd Stryker crossed verbal swords today in an "off-stage" hearing before Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora, delaying the resumption of the conspiracy trial of Tammany District Leader James J. Hines.

The youthful racket-busting prosecutor, taking up the thread of yesterday's sensational testimony by George Weinberg, an ex-convict and once top aid of the late gang overlord, Dutch Schultz, sought the admission of testimony portraying Hines as a political Boniface, distributing free turkeys and food baskets to the poor families of his west side district.

Stryker entered vigorous objection, asserting he was all too clearly aware of the "joker" in Dewey's offer to characterize his client as one of kindly giver.

It was not immediately apparent why Dewey placed such heavy emphasis on the free turkey angle, since he had scored far heavier hits through the testimony of Weinberg that Hines was paid $500 a week to "fix" New York Magistrates on policy raid arrests and to "break" too persistent police officers.

Native Of Greenville Is Wanted in Virginia

Highway Patrolman C. R. Williams arrested and jailed William A. Windham, Greenville native and resident of Virginia, on a charge of larceny of clothing and a radio from Virginia Beach.

Windham was nabbed in Greenville late yesterday afternoon and placed in the city jail. He is being held for Virginia authorities.

Tobacco Farmers Certain Of Crop Control In '39

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Aug. 24.—Despite the vehement post-election campaign carried on by the opposition to such regulation, tobacco farmers who have cut and cured their crop tell the newspaper men that there will be even less difficulty attending the election next year.

By the terms of the federal act there can be an election called by the growers, who in this instance happen to be cotton and tobacco farmers. There may and there may not be such election next year, as the basis of it will be the November 15 report which will show whether there is more than five per cent of the normal supply on hand. If so, the secretary of agriculture makes his call and there is another vote.

The summer and fall developments have been quite contrary to the earlier predictions. It was said that the big fellow gets all the breaks and the little fellow gets all the losses. Fall surveys show that the farmers now most vocative against the control act are found among the time merchants and the absentee growers. This was not expected. There were manifest hardships upon the small grower. But after the first year under control he seems to be less dissatisfied than he was at the beginning.

The season's worked well with the controllers who found evidences all over the world of a stimulated tobacco growth. The weather mowed down many a stalk and reduced the poundage on many an acre. Notwithstanding which, the growers count their crop pretty good and the prospect for good money far better than it was three months ago.

Agricultural leaders in Eastern North Carolina declare that there isn't the slightest chance of repealing the control feature for this half of the state. They are convinced that it is a necessity.

Endorsement Heard 12-Year School Plan

J. H. Rose, along with other members of the commission studying North Carolina's education system, heard reports endorsing the 12-year system from superintendents of schools in Charlotte, Roanoke Rapids, Rocky Mount and Washington, during a session in Raleigh yesterday.

Greenville's school system has also put the 12-year plan into effect, and this year's tenth grade will be the first group to be graduated under the new arrangement. It is believed that the 12th year would make available more vocational education facilities.

Demurrer Filed By Defense Counsel Sustained

APPEAL NOTICE BY PLAINTIFFS

Effort Had Been Attempted Force Commissioners Pay For Batson's Services

Judge J. Paul Frizzelle, in Superior court here this afternoon, signed a judgment sustaining a demurrer filed by defendants in an action brought to force the county commissioners to reimburse the county coffers for the services of A. S. Batson as head of the National Bureau of Investigation.

The action also sought to recover certain per diem and mileage fees allegedly overpaid members of the board.

Counsel for the plaintiffs objected and excepted to the judgment, and gave motion of appeal to the Supreme court.

The suit was brought by L. R. Whichard, C. L. Forbes, Elijah Mills, L. T. Pierce, Jesse Mills, Blount Edwards, R. E. Belcher, C. D. Langston, in behalf of themselves and any other citizen and elector of Pitt county who may desire to join in the proceedings.

Named defendants were B. M. D. T. House, Jr., and F. M. Kil-Lewis, L. W. Cherry, Roy T. Cox, Patrick, individually and as county commissioners for Pitt county; and C. O. H. Home, A. R. Harvey and C. A. Tyson, comprising the ABC board for Pitt county.

S. O. Worthington represented the group bringing the action, while Jesse Jones of Kinston, J. H. Harrell of Greenville and John B. Lewis of Farmville appeared in behalf of the county commissioners.

The case grew out of the famous Sheriff Whitehurst case, which resulted in the ousting of the officer, who also relinquished the office of nominee.

Correspondence between opposing counsel in the case heard today indicated that criminal charges might be pushed against the former sheriff, but no steps in this direction have been taken.

PREDICT HEAVY OPENING SALES

Prices of Better Than 25 Cents Forecast By Experts

Raleigh, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Prices of better than 25 cents a pound were expected tomorrow when the singing chant of the tobacco auctioneer sounds the opening of 14 new bright belt markets in Eastern North Carolina.

By truck, trailer and wagon, thousands of pounds of the golden weed, North Carolina's principal money crop, were brought to the market centers today.

Experts said the tobacco was of excellent cigarette quality and predicted the price would be somewhat higher than the 25 cents average market up by the border belt markets, which opened several weeks ago. Last year the bright belt average was 25 cents.

BEFORE AND AFTER

Famed Flier Dies As He Predicted

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 24.—(AP)—Death came last night to Lieut. Commander Frank Hawks, world famous speed flier, as he had predicted—in an airplane.

The 41-year-old aviator, who had turned a year ago from speed flying to the aviation business, struck some wires and crashed in flames on a polo field near Buffalo.

Hawks, who told a friend some years ago "I expect to die in an airplane," and J. H. Campbell, upstate socialite and sportsman who had accepted an invitation for a trial spin in a small plane Hawks' company sells, were fatally injured.

Horrified friends who had watched the take-off from the small field heard the plane crash behind a clump of trees. They saw a flash as flames shot high in the air.

They pulled Hawks from the controls of the blazing ship and dragged Campbell from beneath a crumpled wing. The injured men were taken to a Buffalo hospital in ambulances. Neither regained consciousness.

Hawks was flying a plane designed for private flying. He carried a four-leaf clover a friend had given him for "good luck" a few minutes before the take-off.

PREPARE OPEN CLAIMS BOARD SOUND BRIDGE WITHIN RIGHT

Thousands Expected at Edenton Thursday for Event

Edenton, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Thousands of persons are expected here tomorrow for the formal dedication of the new Albemarle Sound bridge, the largest and most expensive span in North Carolina.

Speeches, a parade of floats and a beauty contest are on the program.

Former Governor Ehringhaus of Elizabeth City and Raleigh will make the principal address. As Governor, Ehringhaus backed legislation to remove tolls from bridges in the northeast section of the state.

Chowan, Perquimans, Pasquotank, Washington, Tyrrell, Hyde and Dare counties will be represented in a parade of floats which will leave here late tomorrow morning.

Frank Dunlap, Chairman of the Highway and Public Works Commission, will present the bridge to the people of the Albemarle section. Governor Hoy will make the address of welcome and Colonel E. E. Holland of Suffolk, Va., and members of the staff of Governor James Price will respond.

The bridge was opened to vehicle traffic August 14. It runs from Leonard's point in Washington county, to Sandy Point in Chowan, a distance of about three and a half miles, and cuts 30 to 60 miles from the highway distance between the counties.

Kemp B. Jolly, 49, Claimed By Death

Kemp B. Jolly 49, prominent farmer of Ayden, died this afternoon at 2:28 o'clock following a serious operation in the Kinston hospital. Funeral services have not yet been completed but Mr. Jolly will be buried Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the Ayden cemetery.

He is survived by his widow, the former Elizabeth McLawhorn, one step-daughter, Mrs. Hal Edwards of Ayden, and several brothers and sisters.

Bewhiskered baseball clubs of the 1870s—the first big-league teams—wore thickly padded pants, neckties and stiff-bosom blouses.

Chinese Plane Piloted By American Is Forced Down By Japanese Ship

Fourteen of Seventeen Aboard Killed Or Wounded

PILOT, HOWEVER, ESCAPES UNHURT

United States Gunboat Sent from Hong Kong to Scene Tragedy Aid Survivors

Hongkong, Aug. 24.—(AP)—The American pilot of a Chinese airliner reported today that Japanese war planes had forced him to set his plane down near Canton and then machine-gunned it, killing or wounding at least 14 of the 17 persons aboard.

H. L. Woods, of Hays, Kansas, the pilot, reached Macao unhurt. All others on the plane were Chinese. The forced landing was made on a small river between Canton and Macao, Portuguese colony 50 miles to the south.

The pilot sent this message to the China National Aviation corporation, owners of the plane: "Landed on river O. K. Japanese machine gunned us, killing or wounding 12 passengers, also co-pilot and steward. Radio operator Loh, one passenger and myself survived. Other 14 unaccounted for. Ship sunk in river."

A United States gunboat left Hongkong for Macao to aid survivors after hurriedly recalling to duty officers and men ashore here.

Forty-five per cent of the National Aviation corporation's capital held by American interest, the rest by the Chinese government.

Reports from Macao later than Wood's message said C. N. Lou, the passenger who reached that port with the pilot, had a bullet wound and was taken to a hospital for an operation. Still later two other passengers were reported admitted to a hospital near the scene of the shooting in grave condition.

The airliner encountered the Japanese plane southwest of Canton while it was flying from Hongkong to Wuchow.

CITY LEADS IN FINDING JOBS

Greenville Tops All Other Offices in July Placements

The Rocky Mount district led the entire state in the number of placements made during July and Greenville topped all other offices in the state in the number of private placements, according to the North Carolina State Employment Service.

While job placements made by the Employment Service throughout the state as a whole showed a decrease during July, the number of placements in the Rocky Mount district represented an increase of 82 per cent over the preceding month. Out of the 1,434 job placements reported by the six offices in the district, 502 were made by the Greenville office.

In addition to Rocky Mount and Greenville, other offices comprising the Rocky Mount district are Goldsboro, Kinston, Wilson and Roanoke Rapids.

Litigation Over Primary Something New In Courts

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Aug. 24.—Judge W. C. Harris listens half the day and meditates the other half as the Burgin-Deane contest unfolds before his honor who finds the situation so new to him that he must take it in small installments.

Argument and presentation of affidavits make up the morning session and afternoon with the books is the judicial program. So far as is known there has been nothing even akin to the present case and Judge Harris has to feel his way along.

Both sides are getting hot. In his present mood the jurist inclines against the challenge to the State Board of Election's authority. Habituated to review of his own courts the judge leans strongly toward acceptance of the State Board as the final arbiter. But he leaves a wide open door to the plaintiff who is alleging that arbitrary action by the board in throwing out certain ballots in the congressional primary of July 2, was improper in that it ignored the plaintiff's rights. If it should turn out that the State Board acted upon insufficient law or evidence it seems now that Judge Harris has the contest where it was before there was a judgment.

For instance, in one county certain ballots were counted by the county board. They were disallowed by the State Board. The authority of the State Board to throw out those ballots is based on something besides its standing as a state agency. If the State Board threw them out improperly they may be counted again. And there the case in its incomplete developments was standing this morning.

There is, however, a political aspect.

'Not a Communist'

Heywood Brown, New York columnist, appeared voluntarily before the House committee investigating un-American activities to say that he was not and had not been a Communist. Brown, shown at the hearing in Washington, D. C., had been mentioned by Dr. J. B. Matthews, a witness, as a follower of the Community "party" line.

ROBBERY HERE TUESDAY NIGHT

Watch is Taken From Lautares Brothers' Show Window

Greenville police were making an effort today to apprehend the person who broke a plate glass display window at Lautares Brothers Jewelry Store on Evans street last night and removed a 17-jewel wrist watch valued by one of the jewelers at $59.50.

Officer S. Bowen Dorsey, was called in on the case and made photographs and took fingerprints at the scene of the robbery. The robber broke only a small piece of the glass window, large enough to put his hand through, and lifted the valuable timepiece.

It is believed that this is the first time within a year that a theft of this particular nature has been executed. Although officers are working on the case, no arrest has been made.

The theft was not detected until this morning, and it is believed by officers to have been perfected some time during the night. Pete Lautares made a checkup of merchandise displayed in the window, but said that so far as he knew, the watch was the only missing article.

Charges Are Brought In Minor Wreck Here

Charges of operating motor vehicles in a careless and reckless manner were the outgrowth of a minor accident at the intersection of Second and Evans streets yesterday afternoon around 6 o'clock.

Officer H. E. Wooten, who investigated the accident, said that drivers involved in the collision were Miss Frances Anderson and G. D. O'Neil, both of Greenville. Only slight damage was done to the automobiles and neither of the drivers was injured.

Bethel Men Hosts At Barbecue Feast

J. A. Staton and Bob Keel of the Bethel community staged an old-time barbecue dinner for warehousemen and farmer friends on the Staton farm near Bethel today.

The barbecue dinner is staged annually. At least 250 men and women of Bethel and neighboring communities attended the dinner.

MAGILL QUILTS AS TAX EXPERT FOR TREASURY

Roosevelt Accepts Resignation With 'Genuine Regret'

REPUBLICANS HIT FOR 'MEDDLING'

President Clears Way for Support of Pope As Independent In Idaho Election

Hyde Park, Aug. 24.—(AP)—President Roosevelt accepted today the resignation of Roswell Magill, his undersecretary of the Treasury, with an expression of "genuine regret."

Magill, who has been the treasury's top expert for a year and a half, recalled in a letter to the President that he had accepted the appointment in January, 1937, with the understanding he would return to the professorship in the Columbia University Law School this September.

He tendered his resignation as of September 15.

Meantime the President, condemning reported Republican intervention in Democratic primaries, cleared the way for administration support of an independent Senatorial campaign in Idaho.

The President said yesterday that decent political morality demanded that members of one party stay out of the primary elections of another party.

His statement was precipitated by a question about the political situation in Idaho, where Senator, Pope, a down-the-line administrator, recently was defeated for re-nomination by Worth Clark, who pledged he would not be "yes man for the White House."

Other Washington developments included:

The Senate Campaign Expenditures committee ordered the investigation asked by Rep. Lewis (D-Md.) into the conduct of the campaign of its opponent for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Maryland, Senator Tydings.

Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) said committee investigators would be sent into Maryland within the next day or two to inquire into the sponsorship of advertisements appearing in Maryland newspapers, asserting that Lewis' campaign was being financed in part by the CIO.

Gardner Branding Rumors As False

Fire Chief George Gardner said today that rumors had been circulated that local talent is not desired in the Greenville municipal band. He branded these rumors as exceedingly false and added that "local talent is what we want in the band, because it is a musical organization for local people."

He explained that Norman Hanley, director of the band, is directing federal music projects in Greenville, and is anxious for Greenville persons to take advantage of the opportunities provided under the music program. However those affiliated with the high school band are not eligible to play in the municipal band, since it is sponsored namely for the benefit of those desiring to continue their musical endeavors after leaving school.

WHEN Jean-François had gone, I sought out Hugo and gave him the gist of Jean-François's report.

"I suppose," he commented when I had done, "that you're thinking that this bears out Melanie Wills's letter?"

"More than that," I told him. "It's made up my mind for me. Hugo, there's a definite connection proved between that hotel and Geiss, and I propose to pack up my traps and shift there this afternoon."

He opened his mouth to protest, but I checked him. "I know it's wild and crazy," I said, "but the situation I'm in is even wilder and crazier. I'm suspected of a murder I didn't do, and if I don't make a move quickly, I'll find myself presumed guilty till I can prove myself innocent."

"Well," said he, and shrugged wearily, "there's something in what you say."

Five minutes later I was pulling up before the big iron gates of the Château la Vague.

I walked up to the front door and rang the bell. It was a good minute and a half before footsteps approaching told me that my summons had been heard, and a burly man in blue cotton overalls appeared, feather duster in hand.

"Pardon," said he when I told him my business. "I will ask the Miss" and disappeared on that leaving me to kick my heels for another five minutes.

It was a woman who appeared this time, and as I caught sight of her I had hard work to keep my surprise hidden. She was a tall, angular female, dressed in a faded cotton dress, her large feet encased in white sandshoes. Her brown hair, streaked with gray, was gathered in a microscopic knot at the nape of her neck, and her short-sighted eyes peered at me through rimless eyeglasses. It was the woman Jean-François had described.

"You wish a room?" she asked. "Yes, my name is Archibald Lumsden, and I'm staying with my friend, Mr. Hugo Stern, at the Chalet d'Amour, but I'm obliged to remain in Cannes longer than I expected, and I don't want to inconvenience him. The chalet is small, you see, and this hotel is conveniently close."

As I spoke my name I saw her draw in her breath slightly, but her face was completely expressionless.

"Mr. Lumsden?" she said. "A fellow-countryman! That will be nice, if we have a room, but I am not sure. One minute, if you please."

She vanished, leaving me still standing on the doorstep. A big black dog had approached and I stooped and scratched experimentally under one big, soft ear.

"Down," Lulu said, the woman's voice suddenly, and I looked up, startled to find her standing above me. "Lulu belongs to a gentleman who lives here," she explained in a puzzled voice. "Usually he will have nothing to do with strangers I have asked about your room. Mr. —" she paused with what I felt was an artificial hesitation before she spoke my name—"Mr. Lumsden. It will be all right. Everything will be ready for you tonight. Our terms are eighty francs a day." She paused again and this time I felt that the hesitation was genuine. "We are very quiet people here," she said. "The gates and the front door are locked at ten o'clock. If you want to go out after that, you will have to ask the porter to sit up for you."

I felt inclined to suggest that in case of emergency she could lend me her key, but thanked her instead and took my leave, and as I drove slowly back up the track to the Chalet d'Amour, I puzzled over a number of things.

A Kindness

JEAN-FRANÇOIS'S description had been too graphic for me to doubt that here was the woman who had that morning acted as housemaid in Geiss's secret room. Why should she, manageress of housekeeper in a prosperous hotel, do this menial work and do it such an ungodly hour in the morning? She had known my name there could be no doubt of that, but who was the mysterious person whom she had been obliged to consult before giving me a room? Presumably someone who might possibly be inconvenienced by my presence there.

I came to with a start, realizing that the gates of the chalet were before me, but there was more than that. Just beyond them, covily parked at the base of the garden wall, was an aged, dusty Fiat, and standing on the driving-seat, peering over the wall, was a large form that was familiar to me. I pulled up with an intentional jarring of ers that are good to have in the flower garden. Weaver advised that different strains of bulbs be planted so that some will bloom earlier and some later and thus prolong the flowering season. Many growers work the soil to a depth of 18 inches before planting their bulbs. The bulbs should be set four to six inches deep, and it is best for the roots to grow down from the base of the bulbs. Since the soil should be loose and friable, it is a good idea to add decayed organic matter or sand to stiff clay soils. Manure may be used, but be sure it is well rotted, or that it will be in the soil long enough to rot before the bulbs are set in.

Manure makes a good fertilizer, but commercial fertilizers may be used also. Weaver recommends a 4-8-10 mixture applied at the rate of three to four pounds for each 100 square feet. This may be supplemented in the spring by the application of half a pound of nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia when the tops are about two inches above the surface of the ground.

Many gardeners plant their bulbs from mid-September to the first of November.

I started at him, completely silenced for the moment by his colossal nerve. "No, no, Mr. Dunning," I said at last. "I don't know if that's a promise or a threat, but either way it won't work."

He clambered down from his perch. "Listen here, friend," he drawled "you've got me all wrong. I'm not in this business for my health, or your health either. If I had my choice I'd be lying in bed right now, drinking my coffee and reading my newspaper. But as it is, I've been up and around since six—a cold and cheerless hour for a man of my age—and all to do you a kindness."

He came a step nearer, thrusting his big white face close to mine. "If I put a question to you," he said quietly, "and you can answer yes to it, will you let me in?" I laughed at that and nodded.

"Mr. Lumsden, have you received the letter Eve Monet left for you at the Carlton Hotel?" I had hard work to keep from starting. Ada, I knew, had heard nothing of the letter, and the only possible explanation was that the hotel clerk had been gossiping. But even so, this argued a dangerous astuteness on the part of the man I was talking to.

"I think," I said slowly, "that you win out on this. The place to continue this discussion is inside the house."

He beamed at me. "That's better!" said he in a gratified tone. Hugo strolled up, pipe in mouth, hands deep in the pockets of his blue cotton trousers, and raised an eyebrow at sight of the American.

"I thought," he said, "that we'd agreed—"

"So we did," I assented, "but I've got a little discussion pending with Mr. Dunning that would be healthier carried out behind locked doors."

"Black And Sinister" HUGO made no further comment, but came forward and himself opened the padlock.

"Now, see here, friend, where's your bedroom?" Dunning inquired.

I couldn't see what connection all this had with Eve Monet's letter, but I showed him the door nevertheless, and in two strides he had it open, halting on the threshold to fling another question over his shoulder: "Do you carry a gun?"

"Not on your life," I answered, startled.

"Right," said he, standing in the doorway while his quick, light eyes roved round the room. "And yet if there's not a bit of ironmongery tucked away somewhere in this room, I'm a Chink."

He strode to the dresser, flinging open one drawer after another and running his hands through the contents with practiced skill, but what he sought was apparently not there.

"Well, well!" said he. "I'm certainly disappointed in our unknown visitor. I thought he'd have done better than that—but there it is. Nothing remains but the classic spot. Of course," he added magnanimously, "taking a sudden stride towards the unmade bed and switching off the coversings, 'when a man's in a hurry he hasn't much time for finesse.'"

I gasped, and Hugo swore sharply under his breath, for there, black and sinister on the snowy mattress-cover, lay a small, wicked-looking Browning pistol. The American pulled out a vast linen handkerchief, wrapped it round the gun, and held it up gingerly.

He unlocked the magazine and examined the pistol. "As nice a little slinger as I've ever seen," he commented approvingly. "And just the one shot first! Gentle men—he swung round on us, and his big face was suddenly immensely serious—"I take it I don't have to tell you where that bullet found its mark!"

"You mean," I said hoarsely, "that that's the gun that killed Eve Monet?"

He inclined his head.

"But who the deuce put it there?" I demanded, and then stopped short, for a sudden, uncomfortable thought had struck me. Jean-François had been alone in this room a few short hours back. Jean-François had sat on that very bed.

"Mr. Lumsden," said he gravely, "I'll answer your question by another way. Mr. René Geiss so determined to put the blame for the killing on you? Just a minute—" He held up a hand as if I would have spoken. "I'll be frank with you. That's one place where you know more than I do. I'm in the dark about it, but unless we get together pretty soon and pool our knowledge—"

He broke off suddenly in his turn and held up his hand for silence. "We're too late," he said. "That was a car in the lane, and the forces of law and disorder will shortly be demanding admittance. Take my advice and don't obstruct them. Let them do their worst."

Flowering Bulbs Beautify Gardens

Raleigh, Aug. 24—Spring flowering bulbs add much to the beauty of a garden, said J. G. Weaver, floriculturist at State College.

And now is the time to order bulbs and start preparing the soil, he said, for planting time is not so far away. Tulips and narcissi or daffodils are the two most important kinds of bulbs, but hyacinths, crocuses, bulbous, irises, snowdrops, and bluebells are among oth-used, but be sure it is well rotted, or that it will be in the soil long enough to rot before the bulbs are set in.

Manure makes a good fertilizer, but commercial fertilizers may be used also. Weaver recommends a 4-8-10 mixture applied at the rate of three to four pounds for each 100 square feet. This may be supplemented in the spring by the application of half a pound of nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia when the tops are about two inches above the surface of the ground.

Many gardeners plant their bulbs from mid-September to the first of November.

Refuses To Visit New Deal Carolina

Most Replies to State's Advertising Campaign Show Interest; But Not So In This Case

Raleigh, Aug. 22—Advertisements by the North Carolina agencies, particularly the Governor's hospitality committee get all sorts of reaction; but a New York anti-New Dealer sends back the huffiest yet recalled. The northerner took one of the hospitality committee's cards, surrendered it and severed his name from it, but he wrote across the blanks: "So long as North Carolina supports the New Deal it will not get any of my money." There was no means of identification.

The committee is trying to find out who he is and is wondering what he is doing in New York, a state which has had the habit of going New Deal from one to two millions a pop appears to be poor refuge for embittered foes of Roosevelt. The President gave the state much advertising by his visit to it a year ago and added glory to it by proclaiming it the best balanced state in the union. And that presidential pean came long before the south was listed as the nation's primary economic concern.

Most of the replies to the state's advertising campaign have been kindly and indicative of interest. All the statistics thus far analyzed indicate that the state has made tremendous gains in tourist business and that the $250,000 appropriated by the 1937 legislature can be very easily duplicated by the 1939 body.

NAZIS ELIMINATE MOST OF COUNTRY'S HOBOES

Berlin—(AP)—The day of the hobo seems over in Nazi Germany. When Hitler took power, approximately 200,000 "knights of the road" roamed the country. Nazi officialdom has devised a means of keeping closer check on these wanderers, with the result that there are only 22,787 of them left, according to latest statistics. The decrease is attributed to various job creation schemes.

DODSON FOLKS 'LIVE AT HOME'
Brunswick Farmers Grow No 'So-Called' Cash Crops

Supply, Aug. 23—Members of the Dodson family in Brunswick county are building up their farm, and making a living without growing a stalk of the so-called cash crops, cotton and tobacco.
 "We do it by raising livestock and living at home," said J. E. Dodson, county farm agent of the State College extension service. "We want our farm to be an example of what others can do by following good farming practices."
 The farm is operated by his two sons, Jack E. and Phil M. Dodson, but he gives his advice when it comes to matters of farm management policy.
 The farm provides the family with all the meat, milk, butter, lard, eggs, vegetables, and fruits they need for home consumption. The only cash spent for food goes for coffee, sugar, flour, spices and the like.
 The farm also returns a cash income from the sale of beef, pork, and honey. And most of the cash income can be counted as net, because very little is paid out in operating expenses.
 This year the farm is growing 50 acres of corn on which the yield will be around 40 bushels per acre, 60 acres of soybeans, 25 acres of peanuts, 10 acres of oats followed by lespedeza, and there are about five acres in garden patches.
 The Dodsons have good pastures, and grow feed for their stock. The manure is put back on the soil, and legume crops are also plowed under. All these practices are good for the soil as well as for the Dodson pocketbook.
 Dodson added that his livestock have enabled him to keep his fertilizer down to $250. Without livestock, he says he would have to spend $750 or more a year for commercial fertilizers.

COUNTIES TRY TO GET RELIEF IN NEW BRIDGE

Would Put All Assistance Taxes On State's Shoulders
Albemarle Crossing Formally Opens Thursday

Reflector Bureau
 Raleigh, Aug. 23—Though no announced movement has been made, the late special session of the General Assembly brought forth a story that the counties which now pay 25 per cent of the social security benefits in old age assistance, and of course the allotments for dependent children, are going to ask the 1939 regular session to put that burden on the state.
 As the money is now divided the state and the counties pay 25 per cent each to match the federal government's 50 per cent. The generally better condition of rural North Carolina has kept the average well below the national. The beneficiaries receive slightly more than $9 each a month. It is pretty well agreed over the state that this is small. A raise has been discussed ever since the first payments went out. But the state was anxious to keep within its first calculations.
 No new figures have been suggested, but $15 was much in the mind of the 1937 legislature. Such opposition as was raised as the time of the legislative enactment was based on the inability of the counties to pay their fourth. News from these counties is that they are no better able to pay it now than they were when they began a year ago. In fact, taxes took a slight tumble owing to business conditions.
 Placing the burden upon the state would be easy since the counties have the voting power themselves. An increase of more than 35 per cent in the allotments would make a big difference in the tax levies and revenue hunters do not know now any new sources. They are going to have to look for them, if present signs mean anything. The counties are preparing to get from under.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

Washington—One of J. Edgar Hoover's highly prized possessions, in addition to the bullet proof vest of John Dillinger, is a letter from an earnest admirer who concluded a long dissertation on crime by saying:
 "After long study, I have concluded that the best way to end crime is to outlaw it."
 Just as the Department of Justice presses its campaign to outlaw price-fixing and monopoly, the Postoffice Department disposes, and boasts, that it does the nearest bit of profiteering in the land.
 For 7 cents it can manufacture a sheet of 100 three cent stamps, sell them to a stamp collector and reap a clear profit of $2.93. It could profit even more if stamp collectors bought whole sheets of $5 stamps, which don't cost much more to print than the three-centers. But stamp collectors don't buy the costly ones wholesale.
Funny Philately
 So profitable is the business of selling to stamp collectors that the Department is thinking of taking a truck load on a transcontinental tour to drum up business. As one postman calculated, if a million people could be persuaded to start collecting stamps and in the course of time bought $100 worth each, that would be $100,000,000.

NATIONALIST SPAIN WARS ON CUSS WORDS

Burgos, Spain—(AP)—Minister of Interior Serrano Suner has directed provincial governors in Nationalist Spain to wage campaigns against blasphemy and slander.
 The Nationalist press acclaimed the order, which authorized civil governors to invoke the full measure of the law against offenders.
 One newspaper commented: "No country displays this ugly vice as much as Spain. Our language, the most beautiful and rich in the world, is spoken by many who bespatter it with filthy interjections, taking in vain the name of God and the Saints."
 Names of persons fined for blasphemy and slander are published in the newspapers.
 Every state, Alaska, Hawaii and the District of Columbia now have divisions of maternal and child health in their public health services.
 The Istanbul, Turkey, city council is going into the transit business to the extent of a $400,000 loan voted to buy buses and build municipal garages.

Diphtheria Gain Foreseen In Pitt

The Pitt County Health Department today expressed deep concern over the diphtheria situation, if that the dreaded health malady is on an increase.
 It was explained that one case of diphtheria was reported in Pitt during the month of July and five cases have already been reported for the present month, two of which have caused two deaths. Diphtheria proved fatal to a two year old child and another five years of age.
 "This tragic situation," the health officer declared, "should be enough to awaken all parents to the responsibility of having their child vaccinated against this terrible childhood disease."
 The health officer called attention to the fact that Pitt County had a near epidemic of diphtheria last year, with present indications forecasting a more serious one this year.
 The health officer said that he had urged repeatedly vaccination against diphtheria and again urges all parents to go to their own physician and have their child protected against the disease. Those who are unable financially to have a private physician may be vaccinated at the Pitt County Health Department any Wednesday afternoon or Saturday morning.

Lenoir County Negro Woman Jailed Here

Officer S. Bowen Dorsey of the Greenville police department last night arrested Claude Fleming, Lenoir County Negro woman, wanted in Kinston for embezzlement of $145 in Kinston last October.
 A warrant was issued for the woman last fall, and a search had been under way since that time in order to apprehend the suspect. Officer Dorsey jailed the Negro for Kinston police, who were expected to transfer her to Kinston some time today.

THIS FARMER'S WIFE THROWS A MEAN BRICK

Gaffney, S. C.—(AP)—The hawks and weasels had better let Mrs. Hetty White's hen's alone. Her "pitching arm" is too much for them.
 A hawk measuring three feet from tip to tip attempted to make off with a prized fowl from her yard. She surprised the raider in the act, picked up a brick and brought him down.

almost clear profit—as of voters registered and qualified to long as they keep them in their vote, the number of votes cast in elections. If they use them to send letters the profit is gone. It number so cast against the question costs the Department all of the tion, and the number of spoiled ballots sounds sort of dreamy-eyed to us, but then, we don't collect stamps.
 Anyhow, the truck isn't going for a while. There's a hitch. Taking a million dollars worth of stamps across the country without an escort seems risky. If an armed escort went along, it would eat up part of the profit. Mr. Farley hasn't solved that one yet.
 Incidentally, the people who buy those $5 stamps are bankers and movie companies. They plaster them on insured securities and on films being hurried about the country.

Practice Makes Puncture
 This piece began with G-men and can end by telling how they practice shooting kidnapers. A target resembling a kidnaper is set up 60 yards away, a fair distance for pistol shooting. The G-man, pretending he is battling a kidnaper, blazes away five times with the gun in his right hand and another five with it in his left, leading in between.
 Then begins the charge. The G-man rushes 10 yards at a time, firing sometimes lying flat on his stomach, sometimes sitting or kneeling. In all he shoots 50 times half with his left hand and half with his right. The last 10 shots are fired from the hip at 30 feet.

LOCALS GET 14 HITS, TEN RUNS

Caligiuri Chased By Bugs, But 'Lightnin' Lefty' Spence Was on Hand to Help Out

Goldsboro, Aug. 24.—Rube Wilson's Greenville Greenies collected 15 hits off Pete Rehkamp and topped the Gold Bugs 10-5, here last night. It was Goldsboro's second loss in eight games.

Freddie Caligiuri started for the Greenies, but was replaced by Lefty Spence in the sixth when the Bugs collected six of their 14 hits. Greenville included five doubles and three home runs among their fifteen hits. The homer-hitters were Jenkins, Heavener and Allen.

Buck Overton, as the leading hitter for the night, with four for five, was followed by Burt Watson of his mates who collected three for four.

A good crowd turned out for Goldsboro's second try at night ball. Zinn Beck, scout for the Detroit Tigers of the American league, was among the spectators.

Billies Eke Out Win Over Ayden's Aces

Ayden, Aug. 24.—Cecil Longest turned in a six-hit pitching job and fanned six as Snow Hill edged a 3-2 victory over Ayden's Aces yesterday.

The Billies scored one run in the second. The marker proved to be the winning margin as both clubs scored twice in the eighth.

Harry Soufas opened the second with a single and went to third on Bistoff's double. Rabb's single brought him home. Singles by Lonest and Mewborn and a walk to Taylor filled the bases for the Billies in the eighth. Tony Maysano then doubled, scoring Longest and Mewborn.

The Aces matched these runs in the home half of the eighth. Carnahan walked, advanced to third on Jagg's Gasaway's single, and scored on Riley's infield hit. Rodgers' infield out scored Gasaway.

Walter Rabb was the fielding star for the Billies; Bill Herring, looked good for the Aces.

Robber Is Killed By Night Officer

Pembroke, Aug. 24.—(AP)—A man identified by Coroner D. W. Biggs as "Red" Jacobs of Hamlet, was killed instantly in a pressing club here today in a burst of gunfire that sprawled his body face downward on an open Bible in a display window.

The Robeson county coroner said Jacobs was killed by Night Policeman Martin, who reported that he was fired upon by two men outside the building while on his tour of duty. Martin, he said, ducked into

Hamons Wins Over Martins, Score 9 to 0

New Bern, Aug. 24.—Bull Hamons just won't refrain from beating those Williamston Martins.

Bull decided yesterday that he needed another Martin feather in his cap, so he proceeded to pitch three-hit shut-out ball against his "favorite" rivals. New Bern won, 9-0, aided by a homer which Bull poled over the left-field fence in the eighth frame—just another example of hom he feels about the Martins.

Hamons' homer was one of three hit by the Bears. In the first inning—which produced enough runs for the Bruins to win handily—Harper homered over the left-field barrier, with Burge on first. And in the fourth, Burge got his third homer in as many games with Roth on the paths.

Anderson's two doubles in the same brought his season total to thirty-five.

Williamston's three hits were gathered by Lakotas, who got two singles, and Wilcox, also with a single.

WATER & LIGHT TURNS IN WIN

Softball Finals Get Started; Next Tilt Thursday

Water & Light turned in an 8-1 triumph over Transportation-Nehi as the first game of final play in Greenville's softball league faded into the background.

The winner of the finals will be determined by four out of seven wins, which gives both aggregations an even half-dozen games to play.

However, no game is being played this afternoon, due to the Greenville-Goldsboro after-dark contest to be played tonight at eight o'clock. Another softball contest is set for college field tomorrow afternoon at 6:15.

Jim Seigler has made a commendable hurling record in softball this season. Yesterday his mates chalked up a four-hit victory over Transportation-Nehi. In fact, Seigler's effective pitching held the losers scoreless until the fifth inning, when they registered their only tally of the game.

Tom Bryson featured the winners' hitting attack by getting a pair of safeties for four trips to the plate. He was the only Water & Light player to get more than one singleton. Jesse Brewer was credited with five putouts and two assists.

Ed Waldrop, Jones, Hale and Clarke collected the hits for Transportation-Nehi. The hardest blows of the game came about when Evans got two doubles and Seigler one.

Sunday morning fifteen members of the Ladies Auxiliary Club of Sycamore Hill Baptist Church went to Durham as guests of Club No. 15 of White Rock Baptist Church.

The party arrived in Durham in time for the morning service. Rev. Mark Miles Fisher, the pastor, preached a wonderful inspiring sermon and introduced the party to the congregation.

After the morning service, the group went to the home of Misses I. M. and B. C. Donnell, opposite the North Carolina College campus. They are members of both churches and both clubs.

Miss B. C., our home economics teacher here, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Cathryn Shaw, served one of her dinners to be long remembered. After dinner, Miss I. M. promptly hustled the party into cars for a sight-seeing tour which included N. C. College, Duke University, N. C. Mutual and other points of interest.

At 4:30 p. m., the White Rock Club met at the Donnell home with the Greenville club as guests. A program was rendered by both clubs. Each member of both clubs was introduced. Rev. M. M. Fisher, the pastor, was guest speaker. At the close of the program, "I Can Tell the World," a spiritual was sung by the group in honor of Mrs. Martha Donnell, who is blind, but still an active church worker. Mrs. Donnell was introduced and after a few remarks sang with the group, "Just As I Am." After being served refreshments by Miss B. C. Donnell, and pictures taken, the group made the trip back to Greenville, led by Miss I. M. Donnell who is working here this summer.

Those taking the trip were Mesdames Cathryn Gorman, Gertrude Latham, Lydia Thompson, Ida L. V. M. Hopkins, Louise Hopkins, Ajene Chapman, Arsenia Vines, Evelyn Harris, Charity King, Carrie Glover, Rosa Langley, I. M. Donnell and Edward Latham.

NEW MANAGER ASSUMES DUTY

A. B. Bracy to Sponsor Wrestling in Greenville

A. B. Bracy of Greenville, has taken over the management reins of the wrestling shows staged in the city-county armory on Monday night of each week, succeeding "Big Jim" Johnson, who will confine his activities to school teaching.

Manager Bracy said today that several novelty wrestling events are being contemplated for approaching grunt-and-growl performances.

The new manager, a local boy and experienced in fight promotion, will dub next Monday night's show as "Farmer's Night." By this route, farmers will be admitted for twenty five cents.

For the following Monday night, an exceedingly interesting spectacle is in store for fight fans. The event will be a "wrestling royal" in which several hundred pounds of beef will be placed in the ring at one time. This should be a whopper. At least, the wrestlers will be "whoppers."

Here's an event that should be of particular interest to the ladies. Some time in the near future, a "woman's wrestling" match will be staged.

Kinston Whips Serps 2-1 in Fast Contest

Tarboro, Aug. 24.—Kinston edged out Tarboro, 2-1, here yesterday afternoon in a game that goes on the records as the fastest played tilt in the Coastal Plain League this year—it took only one hour and 25 minutes to settle the argument between Ace Elliott and Ed Nowak.

Four hundred farmers gained admittance, free, to the game by bringing in bundles of tobacco which was piled up at the gate—the local ball club won't lose on the deal however, for the "golden weed" will be sold come market opening day here Thursday.

Both pitchers nured brilliant ball. But Kinston put the game on ice in the seventh, when Wyrostek tripped and scored on Crouch's single.

EXPECT LARGE GROUP ATTEND

First Such Contest Ever Played In This City

Greenville and Goldsboro's entry in the Coastal Plain League will participate in the first after-dark baseball game ever played in Greenville tonight at 8 o'clock at the Third Street stadium.

Greenville doubled up on Goldsboro in scoring way in a night game at Goldsboro last night when she racked up a 10-5. With the seasonal race nearing the home stretch and Greenville seeking to gain a fourth-place berth, plenty of excitement should prevail tonight.

Tonight's contest is on the regular Coastal Plain playing roster and is only being shifted from afternoon until night. Thus far the locals have been involved in only one night contest. The game tonight will bring about the second.

Lighting facilities are being furnished by a portable lighting equipment company of New York. Some persons have doubted the candlepower of the lights, but the Greenies could see the ball well enough under the same lights at Goldsboro last night to garner ten runs.

One of the largest crowds of the season is anticipated, in that a large number of farmers selling their tobacco on the Greenville market will likely witness the contest.

Zaragoza, Spain—(AP)—When a bullfighting puts on an especially daring act, Spaniards show their appreciation by tossing hats, coats, fans, wine pouches and cigarettes into the arena.

The treader and his assistants don't mind the trouble of tossing the articles back into the stands. It wouldn't have been a genuine ovation otherwise.

Falkland Defeats Team Of Belvoir

The Falkland "Hot-Shots" defeated the Belvoir "Sand-Doodlers" yesterday afternoon by a score of 12-5.

Wooten of Falkland hurled almost perfect ball, the only tallies scored by Belvoir having been made on two costly errors on the part of the "Hot-Shots."

Dupree of Belvoir was in the red from the start when Wooten and Corbett of Falkland blasted homers which practically cleared the township in the first inning.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Aug. 24.—(AP)—A forward push in the stock market came to a halt today just short of the peak attained a month ago in the mid-year bull drive.

Before the advance played out, further gains of fractions to around two points had been recorded throughout the list. These were shaved a little before the close, but the selling was not urgent.

Transactions approximated 1,300,000 shares.

New York Cotton

New York, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened two to three lower. Disappointing Liverpool cables were offset by trade buying and absence of selling pressure.

December sold up from 8.30 to 8.35 and shortly after the first half hour was 8.33, when the list was net unchanged to three points lower.

December recovered from 8.30 to 8.36 and at midday was 8.34, when the list was net unchanged to one point higher.

Futures closed six to eight lower. Spot steady, middling 8.32.

Governor Hoey will be on hand for the bell's opening, making an address at Wendell early tomorrow morning.

Sales Supervisor George Small said heavy offerings were expected at Wendell. Smithfield warehousemen said they also were looking for heavy offerings.

Sales Supervisor George Arrington said about 750,000 pounds were on the floors of the warehouses at Rocky Mount by noon and predicted opening day offerings would aggregate at least 1,000,000 pounds.

Opening day sales on the Greenville market were expected to exceed a million pounds. Twelve warehouses already were well filled today, at by Jacobs from inside the buildings as well pleased with federal quotas and warehouses predicted a record opening day offerings.

Two warehouses already were filled at Williamston today and warehousemen predicted 500,000 pounds would be sold there during the day. Ten thousand visitors were expected. Farmers appeared pleased with poundage allotments.

The large number of placements in this district during the past month was due primarily to the upturn in business incident to preparations for the opening of tobacco markets, and to activity in tobacco factories, much of the South Carolina and Georgia crop having been shipped into this area for processing.

The Greenville office has been even busier this month than it was in July, according to W. G. Cherry, Jr., manager. Cherry reported that his office is now receiving orders for workers in many different lines of employment as local business houses prepare for the opening of the tobacco market.

"We are receiving more orders for workers at present than we have at any other time of the year," Cherry stated. "I would advise all persons desiring employment to register at once," he declared. "Those who have registered but have not kept their registrations active should call back to renew their applications, as registrations automatically go into the inactive file if not renewed within 60 days."

BEDTIME FOR BRITISH Baffles Broadcasters

London.—(AP)—The British Broadcasting Corporation, semi-government radio monopoly, would like to have people make up their minds about going to bed.

The BBC broadcast late news at 9 p. m., during the winter, but when summer came, with sunset around 10:30 o'clock, the news was changed to 10 p. m.

The protest was instant, and George Bernard Shaw led the attack on the new "late hour." So the BBC changed to 9:40 p. m., with a promise to get back to 9 o'clock this winter.
