JAPS DECLINE PROTEST MADE BY U. S. ENVOY

Reject Note Protesting Bombing of Airliner

VERSIONS DIFFER AS TO INCIDENT

Chinese-American Plane Machine-Gunned, with 14 Persons Killed

Tokyo, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The Japanese government tonight rejected on all counts the protest of the United States against the destruction of a Chinese-American airliner near Canton, South China, by Japanese war planes on August 24.

The Japanese replied to the protest delivered August 29 by Ambassador Joseph Grew admitted, however, that the attack of Japanese planes continued after a small river between Canton and Macao.

Fourteen persons aboard the plane, all Chinese, were killed, either by Japanese bullets or by drowning. The only American aboard.

Washington, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The State department today had not yet received Japan's rejection of the American protest against the attack by Japanese war planes on a Chinese-American commercial air liner August 24.

Pilot H. L. Woods, of Winfield, Kan., escaped injury and two Chinese survived on wounded.

The American note registered "emphatic protest" against the jeopardizing in this way of the lives of Americans as well as other non-combatant occupants of unarmed civilian planes and also pointed out that the destroyed airliner was the property of the China-National Aviation Corporation, in which Pan-American Airways has a very substantial interest.

The foreign office spokesman said Japan was compelled to reject the protest because Tokyo's information differed from that apparently reaching the American authorities.

The American version was drawn chiefly from Pilot Woods, who reported five Japanese planes attacked his plane while it was en route from Hongkong to Chungking, machine-gunned it in the air compelling him to set it down on the river and continued the machine-gunning after the plane had alighted.

"I can say positively that the machine-gunning ended as soon as the plane's identity was established," the foreign office spokesman asserted. He did not say, however, when the identification was made.

Liver Of Pitt Pullet Weighs Seven Ounces

Amos J. Evans, of Greenville Route 1, might not have the distinction of raising the biggest chickens in the county, but he can say that he raised a chicken with an unusually large liver.

Mr. Evans said today that when he killed one of his pullets, only 14 weeks old, the liver of the fowl weighed seven ounces.

Gas Plant Fire

Fire did damage at the city gas plant this afternoon about 2:45 o'clock, estimated by Fire Chief George Gardner to range from $800 to $1,000.

Fire Chief Gardner said an oil pipe burst and that the blaze was caused by a pilot light on some of the gas plant equipment. Two switchboard panels were burned out and machinery in the plant was damaged.

It was explained that since the building was of iron and brick, the blaze was confined to one compartment, and the flames were kept from spreading to other parts of the plant. About twenty minutes were required to subdue the blaze.

Pitt White Men Get Light Sentences In Attack Cases

Smith tendered a plea of guilty to trespassing, which was accepted by the state, and judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs of court.

Joyner was convicted by a jury which recommended mercy and Judge J. Paul Frizzelle, presiding, gave the defendant a 12-month sentence, suspended upon payment of the costs and upon condition the defendant remain of good behavior.

Hearing Provides Little Hope For Tax Opponents

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, Aug. 31.—Monday's hearing before Revenue Commissioner Allen J. Maxwell in which was the preliminary move to blast the sales tax from the books turned out to be a legal sparring match which falls to give anti-sales taxers much hope.

J. Paul Leonard, executive secretary of the North Carolina Merchants Association, and likewise of the Fair Tax Association, despairing of ever getting action that would take of the tax, opened a store in Winston-Salem in making his sales declined to pay the sales tax or to exact it of his buyers. This was widely advertised, the storekeeper's refusal to take the tax was known everywhere, but the state would not indict him under the 1935 and 1937 acts. Finally the putative merchant paid $3 under protest and brought his appeal to the Commissioner who ruled against him. Mr. Leonard found several situations in his one.

For one thing it developed that a merchant may absorb the sales tax if he gets philanthropically inclined, but he may not advertise the fact that he pays it. Thus far the commonwealth has produced an amazingly small number of merchants who care to pay that tax.

Earlier in the campaign to make the tax as odious as possible it was decreed that in selling a commodity the buyer was not to be told of the tax until he laid down his money for the tax-less article then was informed that he must add two or three or some other cents in tax. That didn't work for some reason and then it came about that when the merchant sold an article he put tax and all in the total. The sheep were separated from the goats then and the purchaser went off reasonably pleased. All devices to restore the sales tax to its original state of nuisance have rather failed. Social Security has come in, government spending has been increased, the lump sums for dependents have far outrun in benefits the (Continued on page three)

Welfare Officer Issues Warning on Eve of Opening

K. T. Futrell, superintendent of Public Welfare for Pitt County, today issued a statement in which he called attention to the law requiring all children between the ages of seven and 14 to attend school during the session and declared that it was urgent that the children be enrolled at the beginning of the term.

Believed To Be Empowered To Warn That France Could Not Easily Evade Her Obligation To Aid Czechoslovakia And That Britain Could Not Afford to Let France Suffer Defeat

London, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Britain's ambassador to Germany left by plane for Berlin today, armed with what informed persons said was authority to warn Germany anew in vigorous terms that Britain might not be able to remain neutral if war came in central Europe.

The envoy, Sir Neville Henderson, looked grave as he boarded his plane at 1:15 p. m.

Henderson was expected to arrive in Berlin shortly after 6 p. m., and to see Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop soon thereafter.

Diplomatic quarters there believed he was bringing a personal message for Reichsfuehrer Hitler from Prime Minister Chamberlain. Persons close to the British government said Henderson was authorized to reiterate privately to Hitler, if necessary, the warning voiced at Lanark Saturday by Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer—in substance, that Britain might not be able to remain aloof if the German-Czechoslovakia crisis over the Sudeten German led to open conflict.

Henderson, who attended a meeting of the British cabinet yesterday, was said to be empowered to say to Germany's leaders that the British government was convinced:

First, that France can not easily evade her obligations to aid Czechoslovakia against aggression; Second, that if France is involved in war with Germany Britain can not afford to let her be beaten.

Great Britain placed a ring of secret service in Bohemia to help keep the lid on that seething home of Nazi-dominated and autonomy-seeking Sudeten Germans.

Demurrer Filed By State Upheld By Judge Harris

Raleigh, Aug. 31.—(AP)—J. R. Young of Dunn, failed today in an attempt to force the State Board of Elections to declare him the Democratic nominee for solicitor of the fourth judicial district.

Superior Judge W. C. Harris upheld a demurrer led by the State Board of Elections asking that Young's suit be dismissed.

Young had sought an order to void results of the Democratic first primary in Johnston county. He charged that Republicans, non-residents and unregistered voters participated in the election.

On the basis of returns certified by county boards of election Solicitor Claude Canaday led Young by more than 1,000 votes in the district, as a whole. Young claimed, however, that if the Johnston votes were voided he would have a majority.

In its demurrer the State Board said even if irregularities as alleged by Young existed, it had no power to strike out the Johnston vote.

After Harris' decision was announced, Young gave notice of appeal to the State Supreme court.

PLACES BLAME FOR DEATHS ON PRISON GUARD

Superintendent Holds Sergeant Hart Responsible

FOUR CONVICTS KILLED BY HEAT

Coroner Declares Inquest Will Culminate Drastic Action For Guilty Parties

Philadelphia, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Superintendent William Mills today named Guard Sergeant James Hart as the man "responsible" for turning on the heat that blasted the lives of four convicts in punishment cells at the Philadelphia county prison.

Mills, testifying at a coroner's inquest into the deaths, said Hart gave an "unauthorized" order to an assistant engineer to turn steam into a battery of radiators in the prison's "kiondike"—a box-like isolation building where 25 hunger-striking convicts were confined.

"There should have been no heat turned in the building in August weather," the superintendent said. He said Hart did not have authority or his permission to have the heat turned on.

A "blue ribbon" jury of six business men and club women was asked to fix blame for what Coroner Hersh termed the "torture murders."

Hersh said the inquest would culminate in "most drastic action" against those guilty.

Coroner Hersh interrupted Mills' testimony and said the superintendent's statement showed a "ridiculous" lack of knowledge about conditions at the prison.

This brought an outburst of noise from spectators. Hersh announced he would clear the crowded courtroom if there was any disorder.

Sen. Smith Renominated Over Governor Johnston Despite FDR Opposition

REBUFFS ROOSEVELT

Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith, shown above relaxing at his Columbia, S. C., home as the democratic senatorial campaign drew to a close, defeated Gov. Olin D. Johnston yesterday. Gov. Johnston had the backing of President Roosevelt, who had referred to Smith as one who "thinks in terms of the past."

Declare That President Had Seen Smith Victory

Chief Executive Has Little to Say On Results

Washington, Aug. 31.—(AP)—White House aides said today President Roosevelt predicted yesterday Senator E. D. Smith of South Carolina would win the Democratic senatorial nomination by 40,000 votes.

Mr. Roosevelt had this comment to make on Smith's success: "It is often true that it takes a long, long time to bring the past up to the present."

The brief quotation was relayed to reporters through Stephen Early, presidential secretary.

Early said that when he and Marvin McIntyre, another secretary, had consulted the President this morning, the executive, with a smile, had reached into a drawer of a side table and pulled out an envelope with his prediction of the outcome of the South Carolina race.

Secretary of Commerce Roper, himself a South Carolinian, asserted that the renomination of Senator Smith was not a rebuke to the New Deal.

Senator Logan (D-Ky.) said he believed that (Senator) McAdoo (D-Calif.), administration supporter, is defeated for the Democratic nomination in California by Sheridan Downey, pension plan advocate, that there will be a drive in Congress for liberalization of old age pensions within two years.

Opines Tar Heels Would Vote For Smith, George

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, Aug. 31.—If North Carolinians could vote in the statewide primaries in which President Roosevelt has been taking a preferential hand, most Tar Heels would be glad to trade off Tydings and O'Connor, but there would be a big support for George and Smith of Georgia and South Carolina.

The North Carolina Democrats would be moved in part by young Teddy Roosevelt's selection of O'Connor, and of course Bailey of North Carolina helped to put Tydings' foot into his mouth. The Marylander did the victory dinner speaking in Raleigh in 1937 and succeeded in making everybody who heard him or heard of him, very sore Tydings got the Tar Heel date on the Bailey selection. He is a very rare North Carolina Roosevelt Democrat who would regret a beating for Tydings.

In O'Connor's instance the Tar Heels don't like him and his style, but seniority keeps him in position to stand above Lindsay Warren of North Carolina. Warren has been one of the steadiest and stoutest supports to the Roosevelt regime. He is headed for the top in the house. A sidetracking of the New Yorker would give Warren his day.

In the Tydings and O'Connor record, the Roosevelt feel that there was none of the regretfulness which attended the votes of George and Smith when they lined up against President Roosevelt. Both men in mental make-up may be far from Roosevelt's constitution, but the impression in the state is that for men of the old and deep South Smith and George have followed the new Roosevelt fairly well. And in general the rooting in North Carolina has been for the South Carolinian and the Georgian.

And the news from these four states has made the gamblers lay good wagers on George and Smith and good ones against Tydings and O'Connor.

McAdoo Behind In California

Administration Suffers Outright Defeat In South Carolina In First Attempt to Unseat Democratic Member of Congress; Downey In Lead in California Contest

(By The Associated Press)

South Carolina voters renominated Senator E. D. Smith for a sixth term by a 30,000 majority and rebuffed President Roosevelt today in his first attempt to unseat a Democratic member of Congress.

California's Democratic primary held the possibility of a second administration defeat. Sen. William McAdoo, thrice praised by the chief executive, was trailing Sheridan Downey, $30-a-week pension champion, in returns from nearly half the state.

Senator Smith, who long ago won the nickname "Cotton Ed," won over Gov. Olin Johnston, self-styled "100 per cent New Dealer."

Although Mr. Roosevelt did not mention names during his serious primary campaign, he referred to Smith as one who "thinks in terms of the past."

The vote, with only 70 precincts missing: Smith, 172,098 Johnston 138,467

Senator Smith, chairman of the important agriculture committee, donned a red shirt in honor of his victory last night and told well-wishers in his home town of Columbia, S. C.:

"No man dares to come into South Carolina and try to dictate to the sons of those men who held high the hands of Lee and Hampton."

Returns from 1,433 of South Carolina's 1,567 precincts indicated a second race September 15 between Burnet Maybank, who received 106,873 votes, and Wyndham Manning, Sumpter county farmer and representative, who had 68,742

The mayor paced a field of eight gubernatorial candidates. Meanwhile in San Francisco, Calif., the vote was reported:

Returns from 4,998 of the state's 12,438 precincts, gave Downey 184,043 votes to 150,061 for McAdoo, who was commended and supported by President Roosevelt.

John W. Preston, former State Supreme Court Justice, James W. Mellon, anti-Roosevelt, Los Angeles salesman, and Ray Riley, Republican state railroad commissioner, trailed far behind Downey and McAdoo.

Orphan Concert

For a while here Monday night it looked like the weather might interfere with the concert to be given by the class of orphans from the Oxford Orphan Asylum. But the showers held up long enough for the people to go out and a large audience assembled in the court house to hear them. Our people were amply repaid for braving the stormy weather. The programme was an excellent one in every particular and the children all showed remarkable talent and splendid training. The receipts from the entertainment were $33. Greenville was glad to have this visit from the orphans and invites them to come again.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds

By Robin Coons

Hollywood—Gary Cooper talking: "Benji" a star's no different. Same old stuff. Just makin' pictures." Speakin' for himself, as he was, he was right.

"I've watched him go into a love scene with Merle Oberon for 'The Lady and the Cowboy.' He wasn't any different from the Gary Cooper I've watched going into scenes countless other times.

"The acting for this one was romantic. A vine-hung stone summer house overlooking a Florida bay. So was the subject: Mere looking as lovely as Miss Oberon can look, rich and tresses gleaming, eyes shining, filmy white gown flowing. Merle playing a vine (for the scene) more clinging than the art department's trilled tendrils.

Was Gary feared? Waiting for the scene to start, he ambled around like a gracefully animated telephone pole. He joshed a little with the folks. Once in a while he laughed, out loud from deep down.

When Director "Hank" Potter mentioned, Gary indicated but didn't say: "Wait a minute, I forgot something." And hastily he added the Cooper touch to the Giddyup touch on the summer house. High upon a stone among the vines he parked his chewing gum, then followed Oberon into camera range.

There isn't any actor who doesn't like to work with Cooper—probably because Gary doesn't act like an actor. I'll bet he's never been the life of any party.

He doesn't talk much. I sometimes think he's a direct descendant of the Sphinx. He is amiable and friendly, but he has a button on his upper lip, a buttonhole on his lower. He was like this as a $5 a day extra; he's the same as a $10,000 a-week star. Sometimes I think he thinks three times before speaking once.

Jack Moss, his smooth and round manager, is his buffer. Jack does the necessary arguing about scripts and money. To outward appearances, at least, Gary doesn't seem to care.

Gary's pretty smooth on his own, though, and never doubt it. There was a time at Paramount when a new contract deal came up. Gary was newer then, not so famous. "There was some talk of dropping him from weekly salary, paying him by the picture. They offered him $35,000 a picture—and committed themselves to exhibitors for several Cooper pictures.

"But I'm not worth $35,000 a picture," Gary told them.

"They couldn't convince him that he was. He wanted to think it over. He left town for a while. He came back.

"I've been thinkin'," he told them. "that if I'm worth $35,000 to you I ought to be worth $50,000—and of course I'm not worth that."

No they said. And Gary left town again. He stayed longer.

When he came back he got—$70,000!

"Money?" he told me today, being positively garrulous for Cooper. "Money? Well, taxes are levelin' thin off pretty much. . . . A man's got to watch expenses and cut corners. 'All I'm hopin' to do is put aside something for a rainy day. That's all any man can hope to do now. . . . I liketo do simple things that don't cost dough. . . . Oh, a lotta things. . . . Night clubs? Once in a while. . . . But I feel sorry for people who've got to have a lotta noise to think they're having fun."

You'd like Judge Cooper's boy Gary.

One of the most attractive social events of the late summer occurred last night when Miss Harriet Lloyd entertained at a buffet supper in honor of her house guest, Miss Eleanor Hoey of Shelby. Quantities of late summer flowers were charmingly arranged in the home. In the dining room the table was quite lovely with its lace cover and centerpiece of flowers surrounded with lighted tapers in crystal candlesticks and harlequin shades. Small tables were placed on the terrace for the supper. Following the supper the tables were removed and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Approximately fifty guests attended this delightful entertainment.

THOMAS DIXON CHANGES IDEAS

Prayers Of Preacher Were Answered 52 Years Ago

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, Aug. 31—Thomas Dixon, novelist and dramatist, preacher and lecturer extraordinary, in his 73 years has had to change his ideas of prayer and many other religious impulses, believing of course in answers to those supplications or even imprecations, but not always in the manner sought.

A few members of his congregation in Raleigh when he was preaching here in 1886 still live. They tell the story that after his Sunday night service preceding the Charleston earthquake on the night of August 31, he asked the Lord to stir up a steadfast, immovable congregation, to shake it up, maybe shake it down, anyway, to shake it, if need be, with an earthquake.

The Charleston shaker came in a hurry and it was more of an earthquake than even Dr. Dixon desired. It shook people from their beds, window sills from their settings, shock food from the cupboards, pictures from the walls, shook all of North Carolina and most of the United States. Mr.

Dixon seems to have overplayed himself.

The novelist has written more plays and books than he could remember without looking up his list. He has preached thousands of sermons and made many political speeches, most of them for the Democratic party by which he was elected in 1884 to sit in the 1885 house of representatives. He has seen political parties shake the country, has watched tidal waves sweep in or sweep out political parties; has heard sermons that profoundly shook towns and communities even bigger. He has done a good deal of this; but he recalls no episode in his life when in prayerful mood he got such plensury at d overwhelming response to his requests.

Dr. Dixon is clerk of the Federal court in the Eastern North Carolina district and he has turned in his latest book about which announcements will be forthcoming shortly.

Right there is the story. The Fair Tax Association has been against this spending. It has been trying to keep down taxes. It has been asking everybody to economize. It has asked for less government to make costs correspond, but nearly everybody who has championed politically the fair tax association's and the Merchants' Association's fight on the sales tax has embarrassed those organizations by advocating a spending program greater than that for which the tax is retained as an excuse.

Getting nowhere for two hours Monday the Leonard lawyers struck upon a fascinating technicality: men would not put Leonard in jail for refusing to pay the tax, then Maxwell would not pay Leonard back his $3. The Revenue Commissioner was dead against the jails or the prisons. He just insisted upon obedience of the law.

The lawyer for the tax association contended that the 1933 legislature was an illegally constituted body in that it was not apportioned under the Federal constitution requirements of the 1930 census. Nor, for that matter, has the General Assembly yet carried out that mandate. Amongst friends the constitution doesn't count. The unhappy result of such court declaration as the invalidity of the 1933 sales tax, enacted by an illegal legislature, that would wipe out the whole parliament.

But the fair taxers and the merchants are against something now. They have brought out the sales tax just when the legislature is going to have to entertain a proposal that the state take all the public assistance burdens off the county and assume still further obligations of the counties. The hope of the insurgents is in bulking up a scare in the state that the gov-school principals if the citizenship of the county will report either to the principal of the school or to the Welfare Department any children remaining out of school that should be in school and the reasons why such children are not in school.

a whiskey charge. Judge Frizzle upheld the contention of the defense that the prosecution overstepped its bounds in the argument to the jury.

Charlie Moye, 16-year-old Negro boy, was given a term of two years for assault with a deadly weapon and one year for larceny of an automobile. The sentences were ordered to run consecutively.

Hub Ross was given four months on the roads after pleading guilty to larceny. Wilbur Dixon was given six months on charges of illegal possession of whiskey and operating a disorderly house.

Henry Avery, or W. H. Everett, tendered a plea of guilty to trespass and judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs.

Yesterday's account of court proceedings stated that W. H. Byrd a larceny charge. The sentence was correct, but it was suspended upon certain conditions.

ANTI-CROP CONTROL

DEAR FARMER FRIENDS:

The executive committee of the North Carolina Anti-Compulsory Crop Control Association solicits your moral and financial support in a movement to restrain the various warehousemen in this State from collecting and paying over to the Federal Treasurer, a 50 per cent penalty from those tobacco growers who do not or will not have sufficient quota poundage to sell their tobacco crops without being subjected to the penalty, but before we are in position to start the suit, necessary funds must be in hand or at least pledged to take care of attorney's fees and court costs.

I, therefore, urge and request that you constitute yourself a committee of one, and devote the necessary time in the interest of this cause to contact as many farmers as possible, who are interested in the movement, and get them to contribute as liberally as their means will permit. Also, invite all of those who desire to become plaintiffs in the suit, to be present at a meeting to be held at the BLAND HOTEL IN RALEIGH, at 2:30 P. M., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 2.

Sincerely yours,

H. I. OGBURN, Chairman
State Executive Committee, Sanford, N. C.

"It is highly important that the children enroll at the first of the school so that any problem that would cause children to be absent from school could be cleared and investigated through the principal and teacher of the school. Many children have had corrective health work done to make it possible for them to begin school when school opens. DELANEY GETS 10TH VICTORY

Rally in 8th Brings in Four Runs and the Ball Game

Leads don't frighten those Greens. They went scoreless, trailing by a 2-0 count, until the seventh frame here yesterday, scored a run in that inning and staged a four-run party in the eighth to emerge victors over the Kinston Eagles, 5-3.

Two walks and a fielder's choice loaded the bases for the locals in the seventh. A wild pitch by Kinston's Wentz sent in a Greenville run. A Texas leaguer back of second loaded the bases again and Christopher's sharp single to left scored two more runs. With runners on first and third with one down, the squeeze play was executed when Allen laid down a bunt. In this frame the locals secured credit for six hits.

Kinston scored two runs in the first. Kratzer tripled and scored on McMullan's double. Crouch scored McMullan with a single. In the eighth Wyrostek doubled, scored McMullan.

The visitors threatened in the ninth when they advanced men to second and third with two out. Douglass tried for a hard bouncer toward second but missed. However Christopher made the stop and shot the ball to Delaney, who covered first.

Ralph Simpson was robbed of a homer when McMullan leaned far over the pickets in left field to grab his fly ball, labeled to fall into the bleachers.

Bistroff Keeps Billies In Their Fourth Run

Snow Hill, Aug. 31—Joe Bistroff set the pace as Snow Hill turned back Williamston, 10-6, here Tuesday.

Bistroff, resting for the past four days, celebrated his return to action by batting 1.000—he hit a homer, a double and two singles.

The locals won the game in the third on singles by Harry Soufas and Bistroff, and an outfield fly by Walter Robb.

Red Swain, with two homers and a single in four tries, paced the Martins. Horace (Horse) Newborn of the Billies and Larry Wade's first pitched ball in the first inning for a homer.

Bugs Beat Serpents In First of Last Series

Tarboro, Aug. 31—Buster Maynard's 400-foot homer in the ninth, and his two, one-handed fielding catches were the features in Goldsboro's 10-6 defeat of Tarboro yesterday.

Extra-base hits figured in both teams' hitting. Balla hit two three-baggers. Briscene and Lehman took one apiece, and Myles hit a two-run homer.

Tarboro went out in front in the second inning, with Lehman's single and Briscene's triple sending in the run, and Sieminski's center-field fly scoring Briscene.

The Bugs made five hits which, coupled with three local errors, sent in five runs in the fifth. They added another in the sixth on Balla's triple and Rehkamp's single.

Neither starting pitcher went the route. Robinson relieved Sieminski, and Kepler stepped in for Rehkamp.

Bruins Lick Aces In Battle Of Pitchers

New Bern, Aug. 31—Bullpen Berry and Bill Herring fought it out at New Bern Tuesday in a pitchers' argument, with the locals gaining a 3-1 victory over Ayden.

The locals scored twice in the third on Burgess' walk and a couple of singles; and a double steal by Anderson and Harper. In the fifth Mack doubled, advanced on Burgess' sacrifice, and scored on Anderson's infield hit.

Ayden got its run in the first inning when Jirak doubled, took third on an infield out, and tallied on Riley's short single.

Today's game between the two clubs, originally scheduled for Ayden, will be played here. Friday's game also will be played here.

WATER & LIGHT WINS ITS THIRD

Victory Today Would Give Them Soft-ball Pennant

Those Water and Light softballers have Tubby Evans to thank for yesterday's 5-4 triumph over Transportation-Nehi, which puts them within one game of pennant honors in Greenville softball championship play.

Water and Light will make an effort to defeat Trans-Nehi at the Third street stadium this afternoon. If their anticipations become a reality, play in the softball finals will end.

Here's what caused the excitement in yesterday's game. In the fifth verse Transportation-Nehi had piled up three runs and had the bases loaded. "Coast Line" Jones poked a scorching drive to deep center but Tubby Evans, short-fielder for Water and Light, leaped a yard off the ground to grab the ball and thwart his opponents' scoring efforts.

Water and Light retired Trans-Nehi in order in the sixth. When the winners came to bat Evans singled and stole second. Small walked. Evans went to third on a wild pitch. Hill hit a fielder's choice to second and Evans scored.

Man About Manhattan

New York—"A tis-ket ... a tasket ... a green and yellow basket. ... If I don't quit singing this I'm going crazy. It's been running through my mind for days. They've been singing hymns for months, and now they're after Mother Goose rhymes. Is nothing sacred?"

New York seems different today. It must be the weather. It smells like October but it's only September. New York paces itself to a faster tempo in cooler weather. The empty theatres shake off that fey look. People are working inside. Scenic designers are building new sets. Directors are trying not to lose patience with backward actors ("Dear boy, do it my way") and the costume makers are busy fashioning new costumes and gowns.

The sidewalk cafes prepare for a last stretch of Indian summer. Then the awnings and the brightly covered canopies come down. Ice skates and ski togety crowd into Fifth avenue shop windows. Buyers list in enormous quantities of Thanksgiving, Halloween, and Christmas confections. People on the street look that jaded look. The bay gets choppy with the freshened breeze.

Only the pigeons and the gulls are unchanged. All New York responds to this imperceptible difference—but they give no indication of a changing season. Funny birds, gulls and pigeons. They thrive here. There are millions of them. No one pays them any heed.

You see less white linens now. You see more dinner jackets in the evening. The ticket brokers are beginning to open shop. The hack drivers are happier. They will freeze when winter comes but they'll have more, and longer, fares. The hack drives argue baseball violently. They are a raucous guild at times. They make the most terrifying faces you can imagine—at one another. But they seldom come to blows.

The Faithful who trudge around the reservoir in Central Park every day have a more brisk step. Chefs spend less time on salads, more time on meats. Bar drinks take on that red hue, and the glasses are less frosted.

Pretty soon the world series will be here, and football. Then, some fine nippy morning the first chestnut vendor, with his charcoal burner, will take up his stand by the subway station, and the long, cold haul will have come to New York.

That's the infallible sign here. In your town it may be the cry of a wild goose, or the brittle snap of celery. But in New York it's the chestnut vendor who officially brings in the season.

Let'er rip. Let'er snow. It's been a fine summer. Hot, you bet. It's been a pretty good summer. On occasion the fish bit with greedy enthusiasm. I had a fine trip up to the Sacandaga. I had a fine trip to Connecticut. I had a dream of a trip to New Orleans.

Ready for winter now and New York. From now until February is the best time to be in New York. More excitement. More new plays. More people come home with intriguing tales of wandering. Less malaria. More genuinely ruddy complexions. Everybody feeling fine, everybody feeling tip-top. Everybody apple-cheeked.

Pardon my enthusiasm, ladies and gentlemen, but the patient's on the mend. For the first time in months New York really looks alive.
