

Czechoslovakia Accepts Polish Demands In Full For Frontier Territory

ACT PREVENTS FEARED CLASH

Threatened Invasion of Czech Territory By Poles Diverted as Demand for Cession of Predominantly Polish Area Met By Republic

Warsaw, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Czechoslovakia accepted Poland's territorial demands in full today, thereby diverting a threatened invasion. Under terms of the demand the part of the city of Teschen, on the Czech side of the border, will be transferred to Poland before 2 p. m. Sunday (8 a. m. EST). Within 10 days Czechoslovakia will transfer to Poland the rest of the Teschen district and the entire district of Freistadt. Matters of other territories are to be settled in direct negotiations between Poland and Czechoslovakia. Czechoslovakia also agreed to release immediately all persons of Polish nationality from the Czech army and to free all Poles imprisoned for political purposes. A government communique announcing the settlement states "the Polish government meets with great joy the news of the conclusion of a painful quarrel between the two nations and a settlement corresponding to the peaceful intentions of Poland."

Commission On Schools Conducts Session Here

NEW BUILDING DECLINES HERE

Only Seven Permits Issued During September

Only seven building permits were issued in Greenville during the month of September. The estimated cost of the new construction was set by the owners at $9,525. The figures, both the number of permits and the estimated cost, are below those of the previous month when 11 permits were issued for new building to cost $9,540. Not a single permit was issued for erection or alteration of business property during the month, all of the projects being dwelling houses. Permits issued during the month follow: J. R. Laughinghouse, erect a two-story, six-room dwelling on Rotary avenue between First and Third streets, estimated cost $4,000. Mrs. Travis Hooker, alter one-story, six-room dwelling on West Fifth street, between Nash and Carolina, $500. L. R. Meadows, erect a one-story, six-room dwelling on Clark street, between Bonner's Lane and Dickinson avenue, $700. L. R. Meadows, erect another one-story, six-room dwelling on Clark street, between Bonner's Lane and Dickinson avenue, $700. J. Hiram Ward, erect a one-story, six-room dwelling on Eastern street, between Second and Third streets, $2,800. J. C. and J. H. Waldrop, erect a one-story, four-room dwelling on Reade street, between Third and Fourth streets, $750. C. C. McGlone, alter a one-story, five-room dwelling on Cotanche street, between First and Second streets, $75.

County Court Session Set For Next Tuesday

County court will be resumed Tuesday morning after having been in recess this week while a civil term of Superior court was being held. The trial also will be able to hold hearings the two succeeding weeks, October 10 and 17, but a civil session of Superior court is scheduled for the week of October 24, to be followed by a week of criminal court starting October 31.

's High

Highest price of the season was paid on the Greenville tobacco market yesterday, when offerings of 829,586 pounds brought an official average of $8.86 per hundredweight. The average paid Friday was more than a dollar and a half higher on the hundred than that paid any other day this season. A total of $222,804.29 was paid for the offerings. The floors were cleared in anticipation of another big day Monday. Season sales of 27,185,900 pounds have brought farmers 6,020,562.14 for a general average of $22.15 per hundred.

Bids Called For On Winterville Project

Sealed proposals for construction of a water works and sewerage system for the town of Winterville will be received by the Mayor and board of aldermen at the town hall until 10 o'clock Friday, October 14. Plans and specifications are on file with town clerk and may be examined by prospective bidders. The amount of funds available for the project is $55,000, of which 45 per cent is being provided by a PWA grant. Henry L. Rivers of Greenville is engineer in charge of the project.

REDUCTION OF WAGES CALLED UNTIMELY ACT

Counsel for Brotherhood Says No Need For Cut

CHAIRMAN STACY SPEEDS HEARING

Meanwhile, Senator Smith Advocates Inflationary Action to Raise Farm Prices

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—A Railroad Brotherhood spokesman said today the 15 per cent wage reduction asked by carriers was "the most untimely demand in history."

Tom Davis, counsel for the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, opened the second day's hearing of President Roosevelt's emergency board, with that statement.

"Railroad labor is not responsible for this emergency," Davis boomed in discussing the proposed strike of rail workers, approved by nearly 1,000,000 of the number.

The strike was voted after the railroads ordered the 15 per cent wage cut, effective today. The board is trying to avert the strike.

It has until October 27 to report back to the President and in an effort to comply, Chairman Walter Stacy, justice of the North Carolina Supreme court, asked the witnesses to complete their testimony 10 days earlier.

Other developments: Chairman Smith (D-S. C.) of the Senate Agriculture committee advocated inflationary action by the government to raise farm prices.

Before going to the Agriculture department with an appeal for increased cotton and wheat loans, Smith said he believed no permanent solution of the farm problem could be attained until more money was put into circulation.

Patrolman Probes Wreck Last Night

Patrolman C. R. Williams today was investigating a wreck which occurred about five miles from Greenville on the Farmville highway, about eight o'clock last night, in which no one was seriously injured. According to the patrolman, Ralph Harris of Greenville, route five, drove his car into the rear of one operated by Dave Washington, Negro, of Greenville, route one. The patrolman quoted Harris as saying that the car in front of him did not have a tail light, and since it was raining at the time, he did not see the car in time to avoid hitting it. James Bryant, a hitch-hiker riding with Harris, suffered lacerations of the face. Simon Nobles, Negro, riding with Washington, suffered slight bruises, and Washington himself, also was slightly injured. No arrests had been made, pending a further investigation.

Two Cited To Court As Result Of Wreck

Drivers of automobiles involved in a minor traffic accident yesterday afternoon, in which no one was injured, were recognized to appear in municipal recorder's court Monday morning to face charges of reckless driving. The two men are R. S. Neal and Harvey Seymore, operators of vehicles involved in an accident in front of the new Carolina warehouse. The only other persons booked at police headquarters on the last day of the month were Daniel Mills and Bruce Stocks, charged with drunkenness, and one Negro was allowed to sleep in the jail.

Aviation Securities For Long Term Growth

Babson Visualizes London to New York by Air for Fifty Dollars

By ROGER W. BABSON Shipboard, SS Seythia, Sept. 30.—I am always glad to be aboard a ship on the ocean! Probably this is because most of my ancestors were ship captains. They sailed from Boston to China, Africa, and the East Indies. Those skippers of a hundred years ago must have been great men. They had to be not only good navigators but also shrewd merchants and keen bankers. Remember, they had no radios nor cables, and but few lighthouses to guide them.

Shipping Progress Slow

One of my great-uncles, Captain Gorham P. Low, ran a swift sailing packet between Boston and Liverpool. It carried passengers and freight and made the trip in 23 days. When we consider that the average trans-Atlantic liner today crosses in eight or nine days—at thousands of times the expense—we have not made too much progress. Of course, the Queen Mary makes it in four days, but this is a stunt. The Queen Mary is not a self-supporting business proposition and yet the fare is so high that only the rich can use her. Most all modern ships are now subsidized by their governments. They must have help because their expenses are gigantic and the tariff barriers on the cargoes they carry are so high. The old sailing ships got their power free from the winds. (Continued on Page Two)

Hitler's War Machinery Moves Into Sudetenland Amid Shouts Of Welcome

NO RESISTANCE ENCOUNTERED

Sudeten Germans Hail German Troops As 'Liberators' And Shower Marchers With Flowers; Nazi Flags Fly From Houses

Aigen, Germany, Near the Czech Frontier, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler's artillery and anti-tanks and anti-aircraft detachments rolled into Czechoslovakia at dawn today, following infantry which had begun the march for "liberation" of the Sudetenland shortly after midnight.

The army of occupation had progressed about 10 miles into Czechoslovakia at the time this dispatch was written (8:40 a. m. EST) without meeting any resistance.

The Czech army apparently had withdrawn from the territory—the first of four sudetenland zones Germany was ceding by Czechoslovakia after the "big four" settlement at Munich Thursday.

The Sudeten German population everywhere welcomed the German soldiers as "liberators" and showered them with flowers.

Nazi flags flew from many windows and houses along the whole line of march.

Nazi flags also gaily decorated houses in all German frontier cities and towns in this region of upper Austria, part of greater Germany only since the annexation of Austria last March 13.

The German air force was expected to arrive this afternoon. An engineering corps with mules followed the German infantry into Czechoslovakia during the morning before the signal was given to start the motorized column across the border.

Higher Prices For Cotton Demanded

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Southern senators demanded today that Secretary Wallace use one or two methods to increase prices for cotton farmers on this year's crop. The group, headed by Chairman Smith (D-SC), asked that growers either be granted an additional subsidy of three cents apound, or the previous announced government loan rate of 83 cents be increased to above 11 cents. In a letter to the Secretary of Agriculture, Senator Smith said the demand came from "senators and congressmen and cotton growers from 14 cotton growing states. Unless the farmers are given more money, Smith added, "the entire farm program will be seriously jeopardized."

Weather For The Week

South Atlantic states, generally fair except for scattered showers in Eastern and Southern portion show period over northern section the latter part of week; temperatures near normal, but changeable. Lubricate the meat chopper and electric mixer with salad oil. This will prevent any disagreeable taste which might occur if regular lubricating oil is used.

AS HITLER TALKED BUSINESS

This radiophoto shows Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany as he delivered at Berlin the momentous speech in which he served notice on the world that he would act if Czechoslovakia did not give the Sudetenland to Germany by October 1. Today his troops began peaceful occupation of some of the areas.

Partial Demobilization Authorized For France

First of Reservists are Called to Return to Homes Sunday

Paris, Oct. 1.—(AP)—General M. G. Gamelin, chief of the general staff of the National Defense forces, today ordered the demobilization of more than one million reservists called to the colors in the various stages in the Czech crisis.

The first reservists to be demobilized following the four-power Munich accord are expected to return to their homes over the weekend. At the same time measures have been taken to free vehicles and animals requisitioned for national defense purposes.

The partial demobilization marked France's jubilant return to peace time life on a day it had feared it would be at war.

Statesmen, however, kept a wary eye to the future as they examined the shifts in European relations already apparent from the Munich conference that brought that peace.

None could doubt that a vast majority of Frenchmen were genuinely relieved that war had been averted. There were spontaneous outbursts all over France, among arms reservists who had been called for preparedness and now were being discharged, as well as civilians.

It was equally evident, however, that a growing number felt uncertain that the peace brought by the sacrifice of Czechoslovakia would bring an era of security to Europe.

Consider Location Of Third Project

The Greenville Board of Aldermen, with sites already decided on for the new city hall and central fire station, has turned its attention to selection of a location to erect the street department storage, yard and garage.

A committee composed of Aldermen Jack Spain, J. D. Simpson and L. B. Fleming, has been named to consider various prospective sites.

The lot adjacent to the water and light plant has been considered from the time the project was first considered, but it was explained this location has not been definitely decided upon and other sites would be considered.

The city hall and central fire station will be located on West Fifth street, between Greene and Washington.

BETTER PRICES ARE REPORTED

Tobacco Sells Stronger in Eastern North Carolina

Raleigh, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Prices for common to fair quality leaf and low to fair quality lugs and primings on the Old Belt this week were "substantially higher" than last season, the Federal-State departments of Agriculture reported today.

Prices continued about the same as last week on the Middle Belt, while averages were higher on the Eastern North Carolina New Bright belt.

On the Old Belt choice and fine quality lugs and primings were lower than last year and good quality lugs and primings showed little change, sales were described as "extremely heavy" in volume.

Offerings consisted principally of common to fair leaf and low to fine primings, with primings predominating. A good volume of fair lugs was included.

New Bright belt markets, selling the bulk of tobacco, reported the average for the week at $24.48 a hundred pounds and for the season $21.73. Principal increases occurred in smoking leaf grades and lower quality grades of all other groups. A stronger demand was listed for a majority of better quality grades.

On the middle belt demand was steady throughout the week. Sales were somewhat lighter than last week, with common to fair quality leaf, fair to fine quality lugs, and low to good quality primings composing the majority of offerings. The volume of cutters continued small and leaf was offered in larger quantities.

Guest Speaks Sunday at Memorial Baptist

Rev. Lloyd Pool Smith, pastor of the East Fourth Street Baptist Church, Winston-Salem, will deliver the message at the morning service at Memorial Baptist Church tomorrow.

Rev. Lowell Sodeman, who has been with the church, has returned to Wake Forest College to resume his studies.

OCCUPATION OF AREA STARTED

Main Body of Army Crosses Frontier At 8 a. m. EST; Separated from Czech Forces by Neutral Zone About 3,270 Yards Wide

Headquarters of the German Army of Occupation, Passau, Germany, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The main body of the German army crossed the Czech frontier at 2 p. m. (8 a. m. EST) today to start its formal occupation of Sudetenland.

Reconnoitering units had preceded the main body of the occupation force across the border in the early morning.

The force, estimated at about 30,000 men, was commanded by Colonel-General Ritter Von Leeb.

It planned to occupy about one-quarter of the first zone of the ceded territory today.

As the German troops advanced they were separated from Czech forces by a neutral zone 3,270 yards wide, running roughly parallel to the new frontier.

Military law rule the first Czech zone occupied by the German army. Foreigners, not attached to headquarters or not accompanied by officers, were subject to immediate arrest.

Strict military observations was also in force along the German side of the frontier.

'38 Enrollment Is Ahead of last Year

An enrollment which has climbed since yesterday's figures if 1,121 puts the E. C. T. C. student body already at least 25 ahead of last year's record. The figure is expected to reach 1,175 before registration is closed.

Figures for the past several years show a steady increase in numbers from 893 in the fall of 1931 to the figures for this year.

In 1934 the enrollment passed the thousand mark, and last year it was around 1,100.

Courses available at the college are continually being added to, and new teachers are being put on the staff as rapidly as possible to care for the increased attendance, the majors offered now in music education, in physical education, in commerce, the greatly expanded work in home economics and other departments, and the new work in industrial arts being some of the advances made in this way in recent years.

It is expected that the enrollment will be 1,175 or more by the end of the registration period.

Woman Injured When Car Skids Into Ditch

Mrs. J. H. Norman of Raleigh is confined to Pitt General hospital here as the result of an automobile accident near Farmville last night.

According to the meagre information available here, the car in which Mrs. Norman was riding skidded off the road into a ditch.

SHORT SHOTS

Raleigh, Oct. 1.—Put on your old gray bonnet, with the blue ribbon on it, while I hitch old D-bbin to the dynamometer.

Then we'll take him out to the North Carolina State Fair either October 14 or 15 and see how he stacks up alongside other Dobbins in the matter of pulling.

Dr. J. S. Dorton, Fair manager, says the pulling contest on those two days is going to be the greatest ever held in the Southeast.

Mules will also be allowed to test their strength. Dr. Dorton announced. Entries in the competition will be the survivors and winners of some score of local contests all over the state.

So far the Fair management hasn't announced any "pull" contest for politicians.

"Con You Drink and Still Be a

at the Governor's office was a handsomely bound pamphlet entitled as above. It contained a speech made on the topic by an official of one of the larger distilling companies.

The State Rural Electrification Authority has been getting answers to county questionnaires in which one of the queries is "What is your county's principal source of income?"

From a Western unit—Republican, by the way—came a blank with the question answered, "Relief."

J. M. Grainger, REA engineer, refuses to give the county's name.

Harking back to the State Fair,
 Commissioner of Agriculture W.
 Kerr Scott will have exhibits entered for the 37th consecutive year —probably a record.

Among the Scott entries of this year will be swine of a new breed, Melville-Jersey, with which he has been experimenting for some time.

The Commissioner wants it emphasized that he is not eligible for any part of the $15,000 which will be distributed in prize awards.

State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson hasn't a very high opinion of bond experts.

"There isn't anybody in the world who can tell anything about what the bond market is going to do," he says. "Go to any of the so-called leading experts and all you'll get is a long dissertation on the law of supply and demand. Then watch the market for a few days and you'll soon become convinced nobody knows anything about it."

Incidentally, Mr. Johnson is probably the only state official who is still enjoying anticipation of his annual vacation.

"I always wait until Fall to take my vacation," he said. "This year
 I plan to take a week off beginning October 17. I hope to do some hunting."

Major Arthur Fuik, recently resigned head of the State Highway Patrol, has announced organization of a contracting firm of which he is to be an active partner, in his native Surry—up Pilot Mountain way.

"If students get the goal posts after a football victory, why not give the players the gate," asked the innocent young thing.

If half the talk about subsidization is true, they do.

AVIATION SECURITIES FOR LONG TERM GROWTH

Sometime when oil begins to give out and governments have exhausted their credit, you will see more sailing ships on the seas—at least more sailing ships carrying cargoes.

They will require more crew than steamships; but larger crews will help to cut down unemployment.

Great Future For Aviation

As for oceanic passenger travel, I believe that within a few years it will be mostly by air. The present super de luxe steamships will become as antiquated as the horse and buggy. By air it will be only an overnight trip from New York to London or Paris. It will also be a safe trip because three airships will go hitched together, one above the other "pick-a-back" style. Then if one gives out, the other two will carry the lame duck along.

These airships will travel 20,000 feet above the earth to be free from storms and fogs. Owing to the short time required, the fare can be made very low, say fifty dollars. In fact, as soon as the transcontinental airplane companies emerge from the experimental stage so they will not have the present fabulous depreciation costs, you should be able to travel between New York and Los Angeles for thirty-five dollars, or between Chicago and Florida for twenty dollars.

Selling Point For Steamships

While airships are becoming safer every day, steamships are also eliminating dangers. They are being fitted with automatic sprinkler systems and other protection against fire. They have submarine signals and radio communication between ships and shore as well as between ships. Now, radio engineers are perfecting a fee-piercing ray and an iceberg detector. I am sure that I am safer today on this ship than you are on the streets of your community.

The biggest hope that steamships have against air competition is their vacation appeal. Millions of people feel that a ten day or two weeks' cruise is the best relaxation possible.
 Hence, those who have the leisure will continue to prefer to cross the ocean by boat, but the steamships will lose much lucrative business.
 The maritime labor problem is still bad, too, although it is better than a year ago. At that time the situation was impossible, but Joseph Kennedy's Maritime Commission smoothed it out to a considerable extent.

Own Some Aviation Stocks

For many years I have not cared for securities of shipping companies. I prefer to hold the securities of industries that have a great future. That is why I believe that everyone should own some aviation securities. The industry has tremendous possibilities. It is in the stage of the industrial life cycle where the maximum risk is gone, but the maximum growth still lies ahead. Stocks of many other industries are also attractive now because of the bright business outlook.

When I sailed for England a year ago, business was just starting its lull. It hit the ground with a bump and a lot of people were hurt.
 The situation today is exactly the reverse. The low in business was reached June 8. Since then there has been an increase of 11 per cent as far as the United States is concerned. Moreover, war scares, hurricanes, and the like have not yet halted the sharp upswing. On the day I sailed business was at a new peak for 1938 and still rising. Now, what about conditions in Europe?

European Business Poorer?

I fear that while business has been improving in the United States, it has been falling off in Europe, particularly in Great Britain. My boat reaches England on Tuesday. From London, I go to Holland, Belgium, Germany and France. In the next three weeks, I will tell you what I find in these countries for I know that everyone is vitally interested in the outlook for war or peace.

October Oddities

The Kind You Want to Keep Up With. October. Tenth month. Grapes almost gone. Frost will soon be a-coming.

October made a warm beginning. The rain started this afternoon. County Commissioners meet Monday.

Persimmons and possums will soon be ripe. Five Saturdays and five Sundays in this month.

Make up your mind that this weather is going to change. Only three months left to do your fall advertising. Better be ready to head off the holiday trade.

PITT AND STATE GET NEW FILMS

Hollywood to Release Many Outstanding Hits This Fall

Stories distinguished by heart interest, drama, and thrilling action will dominate the movie scene in Motion Picture's Greatest Year. By and large, the productions for the season just now starting will at least equal, probably excel, that released in any other season. The producers have taken great pains to make the new productions prove that "motion pictures are your best entertainment."

The management of the Pitt and State Theatres have completed arrangements whereby new hits will be shown in Greenville at early dates. These two theatres are participating in the National $250,000 Movie Quiz Contest recently started.

This year, producers have not forgotten that a good story is essential. This is particularly noticeable in musicals. Formerly just music might be expected in a musical. In the new product, there is music, but with it a romantic story with real heart appeal.

An impressive feature of the new season will be the thrilling action pictures such as "The Crowd Pleasers." This classification will include "Men With Wings" an air story featuring Fred MacMurray, Ray Milland, "Too Hot to Handle," a story that brings you the thrill of a news reel cameraman, and starring Clark Gable, Myrna Loy, and an old thriller done in the new fashion, "Jessie James," in technicolor.

dramas are due for release this fall: The current sensational hit, "Alexander's Ragtime Band" with Alice Faye, Don Ameche and Tyrone Power, and the long-heralded "Marie Antoinette," with Norma Shearer and a host of capable players, being it is said, one of the greatest pictures ever. "If I Were King" with Ronald Coleman; Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney in "Boys Town"; Alice Faye in "By Dawn's Early Light"; Danielle Darrieux in the French drama, "Mayerling"; Fanny Hurst's "Cosmopolitan Magazine" story "Four Daughters"; Kay Francis in "Secrets of an Actress"; Bing Crosby in "Sing You Sinners."

Then the musicals: Gone is tin-pan alley and instead are romantic stories with music: Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy in "Sweethearts"; Luse Rainer in "The Great Waltz," with the immortal music and love of Johann Strauss. For 29 years she has been doing "Star"; Bobby Bren in "Breaking The Ice"; Astaire and Rogers glide again in "Carefree."

College and football pictures have a bright part: Betty Grable and a cast of youngsters in "Campus Confessions"; Mary Carlisle in "Touch-down Army."

Then there are many specials: The Dionne Quintuplets in "Five of a Kind"; Shirley Temple in "Just Around the Corner" and Deanna Durbin in "That Certain Age." Mystery pictures continue to hold interest. The Moto series continues; Bulldog Drummond Against Scotland Yard is the latest in that popular series, and Edward G. Robinson in one of his best, "The Amazing Doctor Clitterhouse."

Do You Know That

Enough film is handled in one week by the film exchanges in this country to encircle the world seven times?

There are approximately 36,000 motion picture theatres in operation throughout the world with an average of 250,000,000 people? The weekly attendance in this country is 15,000,000?

Hollywood rates next to Washington as a center of news in this country? It is estimated that some 100,000 words a day are sent out of Hollywood by telegraph and mail by more than 304 correspondents of syndicates, newspapers and magazines.

A major studio consumes in one year enough electric current to light 33,000 homes nightly for the same period?

The Hollywood studios spend upwards of $350,000 a year on stockings for their wardrobe needs?

Annually some 8,000 pieces of literature are examined for story material suitable for motion picture use?

Motion pictures were first developed in 1899 by the world-famous inventor, Thomas A. Edison.

The first motion picture theatre opened on April 2, 1902? It was the Electric Theatre in Los Angeles, where an hour's entertainment was provided for the sum of ten cents.

The Strand Theatre, first of the deluxe houses, opened in New York City on April 14, 1914?

March 3, 1915, D. W. Griffith's "Birth of a Nation" opened at the Liberty Theatre in New York City with $2.00 top price and the screen caught up with the stage?

October 6, 1827, the first talking picture appeared, "The Jazz Singer," starring Al Jolson?

The largest and finest motion picture theatre in the world is The Radio City Music Hall in New York City? It has a seating capacity of 6,200. The smallest motion picture theatre is a five-cent house in Michigan?

These Actors Are Experts On Roses

Both Donald Meek and Halliwell Hobbes, prominent members of the East of Frank Capra's "You Can't Take It With You" to be released this Fall, are technical experts at rose culture. Both were born in the British Isles and both make a hobby of developing new petal tones from cross-pollination and grafting of standard breeds. During production of the new Columbia comedy, the two players developed a "Jean Arthur" rose by breeding a "Mrs. Coolidge" rose with a wild primrose.

DON'T MARRY THE MAN

By Jeanne Bowman

The Characters

Kathleen Gregory: red-haired daughter of Angus Gregory who owns The Golden Girl mine.
Bridget: Gregory's secretary.

Yesterday: After reading a stinging letter from young Donald MacDonald, owner of The Stubbhorn Boy, Kathleen agrees to go West and get the right-of-way for the Gregory mine.

Chapter Three Gold Incarnated

HAVING exhausted his patience and the battery on the bell connecting his desk with that of his secretary, Angus Gregory strode into the room.

"Miss Riley . . . Miss Bridget Riley, do you realize that I have been ringing you steadily for the last five minutes? For the final and the last time, are you my private secretary or are you not?"

Bridget snapped a rubber band on the last sheaf of papers. "I have not been your private secretary for two hours and twenty minutes. You allowed me three hours to pack up and get out. I'm cutting the time to two hours and a half!"

Swiftly she went to the closet to get her hat and coat.

Kathleen watched her father. Behind perfectly tailored coattails, his hands were clasped in the Gregory pose of intense feeling. They gripped each other for control. The war between diplomacy and stubbornness was visible in the agitated working of his heavy brows.

"I'll hold up your check," he threatened.

Bridget fitted a mitre hat over her braids and smiled at the mirror. "I thought of that," she retorted. "I had the office boy cash it immediately upon your sending it to me."

"But Miss Riley, Bridget, damn it all, girl, you can't leave me. Why I don't know how I'll . . . well you can stay until you break someone in, can't you?"

"Dad, why didn't you think of that when you ordered her out?" Angus cast a despairing glance at his daughter. "My dear child, I could not allow anyone to speak to a Gregory as Bridget Riley spoke to your Aunt Beatrice. I know Bee is exasperating but she is a Gregory—"

Mutiny

"A GREGORY!" Bridget had wheeled from the mirror. "You think your clan is the sun about which everyone else has to revolve or fall into space. You Gregorys haven't vision enough to look beyond your own orbit. You don't know there's anyone else in the heavens or on the earth. You think you and your gold are the heavens and earth. You think that you are the gold incarnated. Well you're not. You're nothing but a big, gilt painted balloon and some day somebody is going to stick a pin in you."

She smiled at him then, and her voice lowered to a demure tone, concluded, "It's been so nice, knowing you."

She was gone. Kathleen looked at the door through which she seemed to have evaporated, then she looked at her father.

"Dad," she warned, "remember the Gregory blood pressure." She darted in pursuit.

An express elevator had rushed Bridget to the street and when Kathleen reached there, she was departing in a cab. A low swinging golden-red car slid to the curb in its wake. Kathleen jumped to the running board.

"Dan," she pleaded, "can you catch that cab?"

"If ye'll write to me neither and tell her I died in service," he sighed.

The cab had been swallowed by the traffic. "I didn't know you'd ever had a mother," murmured Kathleen.

Dan swung the hood of the car around, mumbling.

"What did you say?" Kathleen demanded.

"I said," blurted the chauffeur, belligerently, "and now in the devil did ye expect me to be here. All right, I'm fired."

The hurrying throng paused as Kathleen's laugh rang out. "No such luck Danny. Get in, I'm riding with you."

"You can't do that—"

"Oh, can't I," countered Kathleen and swung into the landau front seat. "Now take me to a telephone and en route, explain this mutiny. What's the matter with the Gregorys, don't they treat you right, pay you well?"

Dan, intent upon putting the golden car through the massed traffic, shrugged in resignation. "You're asking for it," he forewarned. "You pay us right, but there's never a thought you give to us as humans."

Like The Sun

"SERIOUSLY Dan, what do you think of me?" Kathleen asked abruptly.

"I don't. I work for you." "Suppose you met me at a dance and didn't know I was a Gregory; that I was just some new girl, what would you as a man, think of me? Please tell me, I need your help."

Dan sighed deeply. "Sure you can get this car back through traffic? If it's the truth I'm to be telling you, one of the other of us will walk."

"Is it that bad?"

Dan groaned and for the first time a car he was driving rubbed fenders with a plebeian. "Faith, Miss Gregory, it's like the sun you are, fair blinding a man with your beauty. That is 'til he caught a whiff of your temper."

"And then?" asked Kathleen, eagerly.

"Catch that cab!"

"Then he'd feel the red blood of him boiling" to tame you. His fingers would twitch with wantin' to get hold of you and shake the sense into you. You'd be a challenge to a man, Miss Gregory. I know, I met one like you."

Kathleen chuckled. "Have you named her?"

"To be married we are, my first vacation."

They stopped at a hotel and Kathleen telephoned her mother's secretary. "Break my engagements for this evening and begin to think up a cruise that will last a couple of months. I'll explain when I come in."

From her father's office she obtained Bridget's home address and back in the car sat silent. She must have her plans perfected when she caught up with Miss Riley, and when she again met her father the entire campaign must be ready for his consideration.

This was much more exciting than planning a benefit; directing amateur theatricals, or trying to curb an executive tongue at a board meeting where fussy old women talked endlessly, then left the actual work to a lone paid secretary. This was the adventure with a purpose and inspired by a motive.

"A vapid flapper" was she? Russet gloves strained at the seams as her hands clenched. The man was an impossible boor with a rotten temper. He was probably throwing up a defense mechanism to protect his ego from the knowledge that all girls disliked him as sight.

It was going to be a lark to bring him to his knees. She'd never yet met a man she couldn't win if she wanted to. Conquests were a matter of propinquity. She'd take care of the propinquity.

But she would need Bridget. No one else could possibly take her place. Once she had given her word, Bridget could be trusted implicitly.

The supporting cast includes John Barrymore as Louis XV, Robert Morey as Louis XVI, Anita Louise as the Princess de Lamballe, Joseph Schildkraut as Duke d'Orleans, Gladys George as Madame du Barry and Henry Stephenson as Count de Merveux. Other performers too numerous to mention are equally effective in their portrayals. W. S. Van Dyke II has given the production outstanding direction.

"Marie Antoinette" should go on everyone's "must see" list.

The Puzzle King Inspires Pictures

Sam Lloyd, the puzzle king, was the indirect inspiration for "Everybody's Doing It," new Hollywood production which stars Preston Foster and Sally Eilers. Lloyd inspired commercial puzzle contests, and commercial puzzle contests inspired the picture which as a romantic comedy about a commercial artist who is kidnaped by gangsters intent on getting the solutions to puzzles he draws.

Fannie Hurst's "Four Daughters" Film Hit

"Four Daughters" Warner Bros. picture of a famous Cosmopolitan magazine story by Fannie Hurst, which is scheduled soon at the Pitt Theatre, poses a unique problem in human relationships as its theme.
What happens when four devoted sisters all fall in love with the same man? The man in the case is Jeffrey Lynn, one of the screen's newest and most handsome leading men, who makes it quite believable that four girls would fall headlong under the spell of his charm. An unusual bit of casting places the three Lane sisters—Priscilla, Rosemary and Lola—in the roles of screen sisters, with Gale Page, a dark-haired beauty recently come to the screen, making a fourth. Of interest to theatre-goers is the casting of John Garfield, the leading young character actor of the Broadway stage, in another featured role in "Four Daughters," which marks his screen debut.

Astaire and Rogers Introduce 'The Yam'

Challenging the vogue of all other ballroom dances, "The Yam" as introduced by Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers in RKO Radio's "Carefree," is an innovation in Terpsichorean circles in more ways than one.
The new step is the first in the long list of Astaire-Rogers dance creations that can be performed without strain by the average dancer. Such notable routines as the Carolina, the Continental, the Piccolino and others which Astaire fathered were too difficult for any but professionals or extremely talented amateurs, except when revised.

Gable-Loy Co-Starred In Thrilling Picture

Dorothy Lamour as jungle goddess in thrilling technicolor adventure "Her Jungle Love," coming soon at the State.

Gable-Loy Co-Starred In Thrilling Picture

Out of actual historical happenings recorded by the newsreels a thrilling motion picture story has been captured as the latest co-starring feature for Clark Gable and Myrna Loy.
The picture "Too Hot to Handle" is about newsreelmen and was written by newsreelmen on their dangerous assignments.
While awaiting Mussolini's invasion of Ethiopia, Laurence Stallings, newsreel editor, and Leonard Hammond, ace newsreel cameraman, first conceived the idea of writing a film story about the men of their profession. The original story is the work of Hammond, with the screen play written by Stallings and John Lee Mahin.

Laurel and Hardy Get Gags off Cuff

The comedy antics of Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy refuse to be confined to a story or a screen play, no matter how near perfection either may be. "Block-Heads," the new Hal Roach-M-G-M picture starring the famous comedy pair is based on an original story written in collaboration by Charles Rogers, Felix Adler, James Parrott, Harry Leland, and Arnold Beland, all veterans in the field of comedy writing.
But Stan's and Oliver's habits of a lifetime would not be downed. Following the practice laid out by the pioneers of funmaking, they persist in doing a lot of their work "off the cuff."
Almost any incident happening on the set suggests comical developments. An accidental bump against a door, a stumble over a rug or the collision of a couple of the principals, brings to their inventive minds a series of hilarious events that might be incorporated in the picture.
In addition to the observations of Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, there are nearly always on the set the shrewd and comedy-appraising eyes of members of the writing staff, alert to better even the best situation with new dialogue or new bits of business. No member of the Laurel and Hardy unit is ever through with his contribution to the picture until it is flashed on the screen on the night of its premiere.

Edward G. Robinson Has Various Hobbies

Without any serious competitor, Edward G. Robinson undoubtedly would walk away with an award if one were given as Hollywood's champion hobby rider. It's a dull day when the star of the Warner Bros. melodrama, "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse," doesn't acquire a new leisure pastime.
A complete list of his hobbies is impossible, as they vary from day to day, but any partial compilation must include oil paintings, pipes, first editions of famous English novels, music, photography, antique glass, Chinese jade, antique English furniture, golf, and caricatures.
At the present moment he is riding hardest on photography and a newly acquired hobby of psychoanalysis, the latter as a result of the role he enacted in "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse." The zed doctor in this story is engaged in research on the reactions of criminals.

MacMurray and Bing In Romantic Comedy

At two brothers, one, happy-go-lucky, irresponsible, and amiably ne'er-do-well, the other hard working, serious and conscientious, Bing Crosby and Fred MacMurray turn in what are probably the outstanding performances of their careers in "Sing You Sinners," the uproarious comedy which is their newest picture.
The appeal of this picture lies in its good-natured and unsophisticated humor and its natural presentation of everyday characters who might live next door to any of us. Cleverly written by Claude Binyon, it tells the story of the ups and downs of a small town California family, whose principal assets are three sons who can sing, plus an infallible luck at the race tracks.

Truck-Car Collision In Front Of Hospital

A wreck between a candy truck and a taxi occurred almost directly in front of the hospital this morning, but no one was injured to the extent to require treatment at the institution.

Police officials reported that a taxi, which had just taken a passenger to the hospital and was coming down Student street, was involved in a collision with a candy truck which was traveling East on Fourth street. Nathan Ward was driving the taxi and John Murray was operating the candy truck.

J. L. Whichard, assistant chief of police, is conducting an investigation of the accident.

Deny Application For Town Charter

Raleigh, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The State Municipal Board of Control today dismissed an application for a charter to create the town of North Elkin, near Elkin.

Board members explained this action was taken because the petition provided that no taxes ever should be levied in the proposed town.

Witnesses for the petition, J. B. Roberts and R. C. Collins, testified that the purpose of the proposal was to forestall the inclusion of the area in the limits of Elkin.

Attorneys for opponents to the application said it would be years before an attempt was made to include the "North Elkin" area in the town of Elkin.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Further optimism over the fading of European war combined with hopes for a pickup in business now that world peace prospects have brightened, brought fresh buyers into the stock market.

While profit-taking intervals were frequent, gains ran to two or more points at the best.

Dealings were fairly active after a rather quiet start, but near the finish the list put on a brief spurt of climbing speed that put the ticker tape two minutes behind.

Transfers approximated 1,000,000 shares.

Introduce Faculty At Assembly held Friday

President L. R. Meadows spoke to a chapel assembly Friday that overflowed all the seats and filled the hall outside. After the talk, he introduced the faculty, who sat on the platform, over fifty of them in spite of a number of unavoidable absences.

To the students Dr. Meadows extended a cordial welcome and then gave certain "injunctions" which if followed would contribute to a successful college career.

The faculty, grouped on the platform, were introduced by department, with the president naming the chairman and he in turn presenting the members of his group.

The following departments were recognized: Administration and Supervision, Education and Psychology, English, Foreign Language, Geography, History, Home Economics, Public School Art, Industrial Art, Mathematics, Music Education, Physical Education, Science, Sociology, Commerce. The library staff also was introduced.

UCC Offices Undergo Administrative Changes

W. G. Cherry, Jr., manager, declared today that several changes have been made recently in the administrative procedure of the N. C. Unemployment Compensation Commission in order to insure the best possible service and the most economic operation of its two divisions.

Under the new system, he explained, the N. C. State Employment service division and the N. C. Unemployment Compensation division are under one office management.

Heretofore, representatives of the Unemployment Compensation division have been more or less "free agents" in the local offices, responsible only to the division's central office.

Under the new procedure, however, the manager of each local Employment service office takes over the increased responsibility of complete supervision of both employment service and unemployment compensation affairs in his locality and is responsible to the state directors of both divisions.

In setting up the new plan, neither division has lost its identity. The director of the employment service division and the director of the unemployment compensation division will continue to head up their respective groups.

The local office manager is hereafter in charge of all employees of both divisions in his office and it is his responsibility to be sure that the duties of both the employment service division and the unemployment compensation division are properly executed.

Under the authority of the manager, one person is directly responsible for the work of the unemployment compensation division exclusively; his title being Junior Claims Deputy. Working under him will be such claims interviewers, investigators and typists as are necessary to handle normal claims activity.

Except in times of unusual activity, the personnel of the employment service division will take no part in unemployment compensation work, but will be able to devote full time to employment service activities.

The Greenville office, as in the past, will be headed by W. G. Cherry Jr., manager, and will have a regular staff of seven persons. The employment service division includes: Arnold F. Barwick, senior interviewer; Mrs. Gertrude L. Cox, junior interviewer; Mrs. Penelope C. Hannah, reporting clerk and stenographer. In the unemployment compensation division are: S. T. Cherry, junior deputy; Claude J. Madry, claims interviewer and investigator; and Miss Corie S. Bunch, typist. Also working in the local office, under the auspices of NYA, is Miss Verdesa Dillard, receptionist.

Due to the large number of seasonal workers here, Greenville is one of the busiest offices in the state during the winter months and this staff will probably be supplemented by the addition of temporary workers and the transfer of personnel from other points during the rush season.

Broadcast To Be Of Much Interest

A talk of special interest to World War veterans will be heard from 6:15 to 6:30 p. m., Monday evening, October 10th, at which time National Commander Owen A. Galvin of the Disabled American Veterans will make a coast-to-coast address from Washington over the Blue Network of the N. B. C.

This talk was originally scheduled from 7:45 to 8 o'clock on this same date, but threats of impending war have so interfered with radio programs from Washington that it was necessary to switch the time.

Announcement of Commander Galvin's address was made here today through the local office of the N. C. State Employment Service. W. G. Cherry, Jr., manager of the employment office, called attention to the fact that all state employment services maintain special divisions for assisting veterans with their employment problems and are cooperating fully with the D. A. V. in its efforts throughout the United States to help disabled veterans.

Colored News

High School Wins Opener. The local Negro high school tried to avenge themselves in Wilson yesterday for a 35-0 beating they took two years ago.

The game was played yesterday through a heavy mist of fog and the gridiron was very wet and slippery. After the first five minutes of play the ball was as slick as a fish, which gave rise to several fumbles on both sides.

Belmont Wins

The Belmont Abbey eleven defeated Easter Carolina Teachers College Pirates, 19-0, here this afternoon as the local college opened its grid season.

While holding the locals scoreless, Belmont Abbey scored one and made the extra point in the first and added two more touchdowns in the second period.
