WILL ATTEMPT FORCE LEHMAN BACK NEW DEAL

Mayor La Guardia Threatens Withhold His Support

HOPE FOR PEACE IN LABOR RANKS

Wage-Hour Administrator Reports Good Cooperation on Part Most Employers

Hyde Park, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Mayor La Guardia of New York City indicated after a conference with President Roosevelt today he would withhold his support of New York's Governor Herbert Lehman for re-election unless the Governor stated in the campaign he was firmly behind the New Deal.

Talking with reporters after the conference, the mayor criticized Lehman for avoiding a direct reply to reporters' questions whether he would stress and support the national administration during the state campaign.

"Lehman should have answered the question you boys put to him here the other day after he visited the President," he said.

Lehman, Democratic candidate for a fourth term at Albany has received the endorsement of the American Labor party, in which La Guardia is a prominent figure and active member.

At Washington, meanwhile, Secretary Perkins said she had "great hope" for peace between the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O.

Explaining that she did not want to say flatly that the factions would reunite within a given period, the labor secretary told newspapermen: "I have had very definite signs that the desire for peace among the rank and file is reflected in the growing desire for peace among the leaders."

She said, in answer to a question, that she had "something concrete on which to base my great hopes of peace."

Also, President Roosevelt was informed at Hyde Park by Elmer Andrews, federal wage-hour administrator, that there had been such a disposition on the part of employers to comply with the wage-hour law that it was hoped intra-state industries would voluntarily accept the standards set up for inter-state firms.

The President termed the report very gratifying.

At Washington, Andrews, the wage-hour administrator, hit out at industries which he said intended to shut down Monday to avoid compliance with the new fair labor standards act.

"These suspensions of operation seem to have been timed in an effort to bring the law into disrepute, evidently with the hope of intimidating the wage and hour division in its administration of the law's provision," Andrews said in a statement.

"It must be plainly understood, however, the fair labor standards act is the law of the land with severe penalties for its violation and that the wage-hour division has no choice but to carry out the will of Congress."

Residents Warned Against Prowlers

Chief of Police George Clark today advised citizens never to leave home with a door unlocked as such a practice invites prowlers and robbers.

Chief Clark's warning came on the heels of the robbery of B. B. Sugg's home yesterday. Two suits of clothing, two overcoats, two dresses, a tuxedo and a suitcase, evidently used to carry off the clothes, were taken.

Chief Clark said he believed a grown person was responsible for the theft. He added that the robber usually would go to the back door and knock. If anyone answered he would ask for a job or something to eat. If no one answered he would attempt to get in through any unlocked door.

Plunges To Death From 16th Floor

New York, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Dressed in evening clothes and wearing a corsage of pea roses, attractive Dorothy Hale, film actress and dabbler in the theatre, plunged to her death early today from her 16th floor apartment in the Hampshire House, exclusive hotel overlooking Central Park.

She was the widow of Gardner Hale, Chicago artist, who was killed in 1931 when his automobile went over a 500-foot cliff in California.

Greenville Is Selected by Concern Following Efforts of Chamber of Commerce and Local Business Interests

Announcement was made today by J. Nat Harrison, president of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, that negotiations had been completed for the Davis Full Fashion Hosiery Mills, Inc., to begin operations here about the first of the year.

The Chamber of Commerce has been working on the project for some time.

The new firm, with an authorized capitalization of $200,000, is expected to employ approximately 100 local men and women at the outset. It was explained that only the best class of workers would be employed. The mills will operate three eight-hour shifts.

The concern will have its main offices here, the company being a newly established one.

Greenville was selected by the corporation after receiving cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce and a number of prominent local business men.

The Greenville Industries, Inc., was organized by local business men and subscribed stock to erect a $25,000 building, which will be leased on long terms to the hosiery company.

The building will be located on the south side of Fourteenth street between Colaniche and Reade. Plans and specifications have been completed and contractors are being asked to submit bids. It is expected that ground for the structure will be broken within 10 days or two weeks, with the mill to start operating by January 1.

The mill will be of the most modern type and the latest machinery employed to manufacture hosiery. The building will be air-conditioned as the manufacture of full fashion hosiery require that the temperature be kept at a certain degree at all times.

Greenville was able to secure the new mills over the bids of several other towns and only after the Greenville Industries, Inc., subscribed stock to erect the building.

ONE OF PAIR TO BE CERTIFIED

Either Deane or Burgin to be Declared Nominee

Raleigh, Oct. 21.—Practical certainty that either W. O. Burgin or Davidson or C. B. Deane of Richmond, will be the Democratic congressional candidate emerged from conference of the two contenders with Governor Clyde R. Hoey and other party leaders this morning.

Another conference convened at two o'clock this afternoon and announcement of some peaceful plan for settlement of the long-standing dispute is expected late this afternoon. No announcement of the candidate is expected, only an agreement on the machinery which will determine the nominee.

No political picture has changed with greater rapidity in the memory of the capital's most experienced observers. Until Deane and Burgin got together this morning it seemed almost sure that both would withdraw and leave the field open to a third person, probably Walter Lambeth, incumbent Congressman.

FAR REACHING ACTION HINTED IN NEW MEXICO

High Officials Indicted for Misuse of WPA Funds

CHARGES MADE BY GRAND JURY

Indictments Charge 73 With Making Political Capital Out of New Mexico WPA

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 21.—(AP)—New and further reaching actions were hinted today to be impending in the wake of wholesale federal grand jury indictments returned here late yesterday against 73 persons charged with making political capital of the New Mexico WPA.

Dozens prominent in state politics and government were indicted on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government for political purposes, among them Assistant U. S. District Attorney Stanley Miller son in law of Senator Dennis Chavez; two Democratic county chairmen; Mrs. Anita Tafolla, Senator Chavez's sister; Mrs. J. A. Werner, wife of the Albuquerque postmaster and former State WPA administrator Fred Healy.

Some in responsible quarters intimated the end was not yet. It was known that agents of the WPA division of investigation under Special Agent C. E. Goranson, who have worked a month with the grand jury, were still at work on the investigation.

The grand jury action, which concluded a month of carefully veiled inquiry, fell like a bombshell in New Mexico's heated political campaign.

Washington, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Works Progress Administration officials declined today to discuss the Federal grand jury indictment of 73 persons accused of political abuse of the WPA in New Mexico to say "our investigators co-operated in every day."

"We do not prosecute, we merely give our aid and co-operation when it is needed in cases of this kind" a WPA official said, "our investigators turned over all their data to the grand jury x x x, the prosecution is up to New Mexico officials."

Group Hears Talk By Judge Meekins

Federal Judge I. M. Meekins last night addressed the citizenship department of the Woman's club, and a number of guests, on the Constitution.

Judge Meekins traced the background of the document, explaining it was the result of efforts by the 3,500,000 people in the 13 colonies to throw off the burden of oppression and intolerable government. He likened the Constitution to a bill of indictment in our present courts, saying that many articles in the famous document can be traced to complaints in the declaration.

He declared the constitution was adopted behind closed doors because of fears that revelation of rivalry among the colonies would invite foreign invasion.

TYPHOON HITS TOKYO, JAPAN

At Least 266 Persons Dead, With Many More Missing

Tokyo, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A typhoon roared in from the sea today, taking at least 226 lives and injuring more than 500 persons. About 230 persons were missing.

The unseasonable storm, which lashed waters overlaid along the coastal reaches of Japan in the Tokyo-Yokohama district and elsewhere rendered an estimated 35,000 persons homeless.

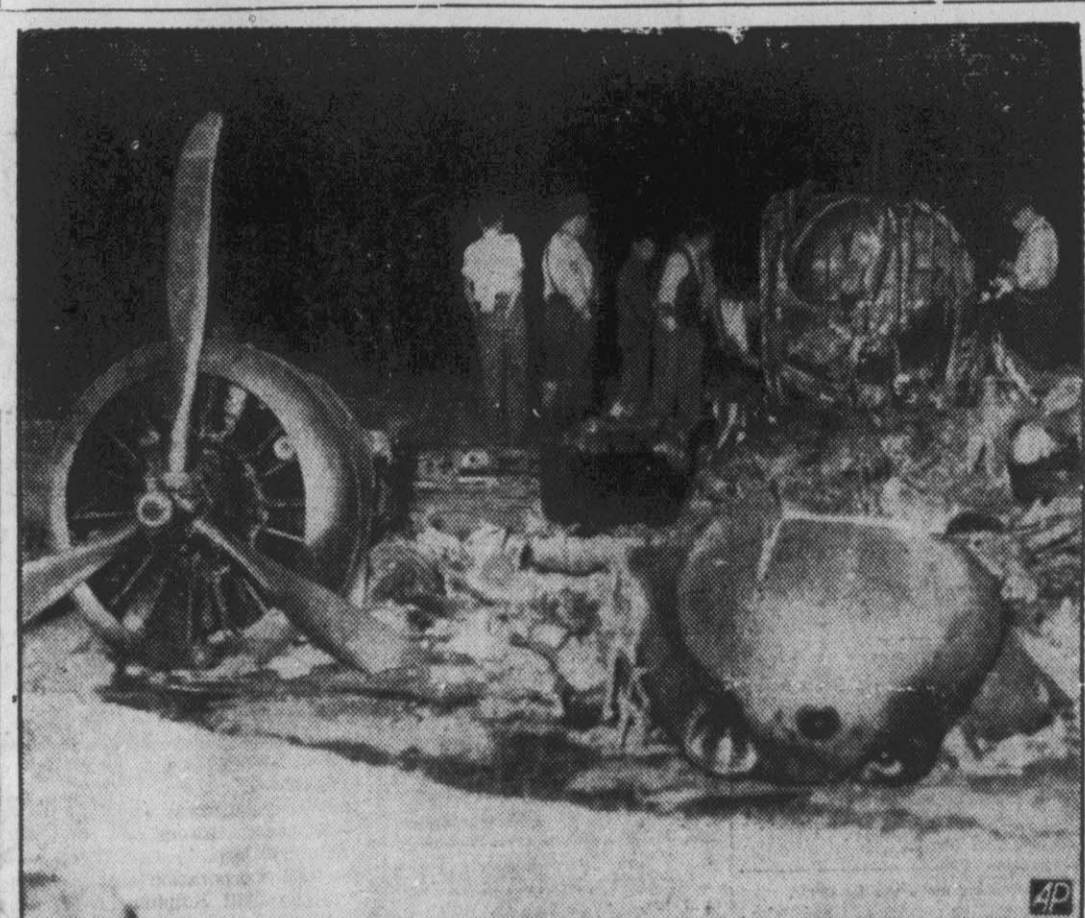

More than 24,460 houses in Tokyo were flooded and some collapsed. Thousands of these were uprooted and Tokyo's communications and transportation systems were partly paralyzed.

Tens of thousands of workers were unable to reach places of employment in the capital and most schools were closed. The typhoon also caused much damage at Yokohama. All sailings from that port city were suspended.

Seven passenger ships scheduled to arrive at Yokohama this morning failed to dock.

JAIL WRECKED BY EXPLOSION

Ten Prisoners Injured; Eight Others Missing

Columbus, Ga., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Ten prisoners were injured and eight were unaccounted for early today after an explosion ripped out a corner of the Muskegoe county jail.

City Police Chief H. W. Cornett said the explosion apparently was caused by rifling of a steam boiler in the basement.

The blast tore a hole about 12 feet wide and 15 feet back from the corner of either wall. It left a portion of a cell block hanging. The jail is three stories. The explosion tore out the wall of a one-story kitchen. The three-story portion extended partly over the kitchen.

Police said there were 75 prisoners. Forty-one were transferred to the city jail; the 10 injured were in City hospital and 16 were kept in the jail enclosure.

Columbia University received a total of over $403,000 in gifts during the past year.

Negro Boy Killed Trying Steal Ride

Luther Lock, Negro, driver for a Blue Bird filling station truck which ran over Willie J. Dixon, seven-year-old Negro boy, yesterday afternoon was released upon his own recognizance today.

Chief of Police George Clark said his investigation showed that the boy, a first grade student at Fleming school, was on his way home and attempted to catch a ride on the back of the truck, without the knowledge of the driver. The boy failed to jump in the truck and fell, a rear wheel running over him.

The driver, it was said, did not even know he had run over the boy until he was hailed by someone who saw the tragedy. The victim was taken to the hospital in a critical condition and died a few hours later.

DRIVE STARTED OCTOBER 12TH

City Reported in "Utter Confusion" Following Occupation by Invading Troops; Major Utilities Destroyed by Chinese Before Fleeing from Metropolis

Hongkong, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Japanese troops this afternoon entered Canton, South China metropolis and objective of a fast overland offensive that started more than 150 miles away on October 12.

An official source reported that "utter confusion" reigned in Canton, vital supply center for Chinese troops in Central China, as the invaders pierced the city's first defense.

Government officials fled to Yun-gyum, 92 miles north of Canton. The Chinese dynamited a cement plant, a power plant and other major utilities before the Japanese entrance, carrying out the defender's "scorched earth" policy of leaving nothing behind for the invaders' use.

As the invaders approached, the Cantonese had tried furiously to dig trenches and make machine gun emplacements at strategic centers, while hundreds of thousands of inhabitants fled in all directions, leaving a small fraction of the population behind.

Conflicting reports had obscured the real progress of the well-equipped Japanese columns, but apparently Chinese resistance was weak during the invaders' advance from Bias bay.

The Japanese spokesmen aid aerial observations showed the Chinese were retreating a long line North of Canton.

(Reuters' a British news agency, reported from Shanghai that General Chiang Kai-Shek, according to reliable reports, was preparing to leave Hankow, the other main Japanese objective and Chiang's provisional capital, about 550 miles north of Canton.)

Well Known Tenor Views Weed Sales

When Giovanni Martinelli appears in his concert tonight at 8:30 in the Wright auditorium at the College, he will already have seen one of Greenville's most interesting sights—a tobacco warehouse with a sale in full swing; for as he came into town this morning he visited one of the warehouses and watched the conduct of the sale with great interest.

Mr. Martinelli was met in Rocky Mount by Dean C. Tabor, head of the Music Education department of E. C. T. C., and it was Mr. Tabor who accompanied the great singer and his accompanist on their tour of the warehouse.

The accompanist tonight is Giuseppe Bamboschek, who was for 17 years first conductor of Metropolitan Opera, and is now accompanist to the Wagnerian Festival Singers.

The program tonight will begin exactly at 8:30.

A New York judge fined a youth $15 for staging a one-man football game in a subway.

Steadfast refusal of Deane to withdraw from the position that either he or Burgin is entitled to the nomination is regarded as responsible for the new trend.

"The matter is in course of amicable settlement, and there ought to be some definite announcement late this afternoon," the Richmond man told our correspondent. "The Eighth is Democratic and nobody need worry about its going Republican."

Prestige
according to Webster, is "weight or influence derived from past success, or from character or reputation."

We dwell upon the expression "past success" with justifiable pride, because Forbes has built an enviable name and a lasting reputation that has endured for the past twenty-one years on what Webster pleases to term "past success."

The pattern of Forbes' prestige is cut from whole cloth, a fabric of strength and stamina, woven of such fine fibres as HIGH QUALITY, PERFECT FASHION and TRUE VALUE.

A NEW INDUSTRY

The announcement that Greenville is to have a hosiery mill to begin operations around January 1 will be welcome news to our people.
Greenville is already a good town but more year 'round industries paying out regular payrolls would certainly be a big help in a business way.
This new hosiery mill is coming to Greenville as a result of efforts of the Chamber of Commerce and the cooperation of local citizens who have organized a corporation to erect the building to house the new industry.

The Chamber of Commerce has only been in actual operation here but a short while and it is gratifying to witness such quick results of efforts of the organization.
It is to be hoped that this is just the beginning of bringing more industries to Greenville.

Hospitality Group Is Promoting Deals To Outsiders

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Oct. 21—Two more sales of property in North Carolina to persons from other states as the result of the state advertising program have just been reported to the Governor's Hospitality Committee by Manager Fred L. Weede of the Asheville Chamber of Commerce. It was announced today by T. E. Pickard, Jr., executive secretary of the committee.
A large tract of land was recently purchased in Hyde county by a group of persons from a northern state which they intend to develop into a hunting and fishing club.
Additional reports are being received from various cities and counties of property sales made to people from other states who have come to North Carolina to live as a result of the state advertising program. Pickard pointed out.

Two Men Slain In Train-Truck Crash

Raleigh, Oct. 21—(AP)—State headquarters of the highway patrol received a report this afternoon that two unidentified white men were killed in a train-truck crash near Bunn.

The truck was registered in the name of J. W. Lewis of Pine Hall it was learned by checking the license plate number. The Lewis home is a mile from a telephone, the patrol was told, and a messenger was sent to check up on who was in the truck.

The patrol office was told that steam escaping from the locomotive made it impossible to extricate the bodies of the dead men for some time.

Patrolman A. E. Leavitt was sent to investigate the accident.

Sentenced To Die In Woman's Death

Kinston, Oct. 21—(AP)—Superior Court Judge Henry Grady today set January 6 as the date for the execution of Grover Wilkins, 29, for the murder of Mrs. Janie Moody Davis, 24, of near Deep Run.

Wilkins showed no emotion when the jurist set the date, but his wife and mother wept loudly.
Mrs. Davis was the step-mother of Wilkins' wife. Neighbors said a quarrel led to the slaying.

N. C. LEADS IN TOBACCO LEVY

announced for a vote on 1939 burley quotas, agriculture department officials have suggested Dec.
17 as a probable date.

Sales of 309 wholesale tobacco distributors representing all parts of the country increased from $202,569,000 in 1935 to $244,750,000 in 1937, a gain of 20.8 per cent, a department of commerce survey shows.

United States exports of unman-ufactured tobacco to British India

during the first half of this year were 1,522,467 pounds, consisting of 1,517,937 pounds of bright fluecured leaf and 4,530 pounds of dark fired Kentucky-Tennessee burley.

Preliminary estimates of the 1938 Ontario (Canada) flue-cured tobacco crop placed the yield in excess of 60,000,000 pounds of an exceptionally high grade. Production of flue cured in Ontario represented a volume triple that of the 10-year average (1927-1936) of 19,800-000 pounds.

Budget Estimate Boost For Anti-Diversionists

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, Oct. 20—Anti-diversionists, particularly State Senator S. Ginner Sparger, are chucking openly over many of the statements and figures in the State Highway and Public Works Commission's report to the Budget Bureau on its needs for the coming fiscal biennium.

They see the report as almost a "brief" against diversion of highway funds—a brief without argument, it is true, but one of fact.

They point to several features as props for their strongest arguments against using highway revenues for anything except highway needs.

Sticking out like a wart on a pretty girl's nose, they say, is the trying need of the State's highway system for every penny that can be spent on it.

They cite, for example: "There has been spent on construction of the state highway system more than $22,000,000 and the amount we are requesting to maintain this system for each year of the biennium is less than 2 per cent of this investment."

How, they ask, can any highway revenues be diverted to other purposes in the face of this?

Again, the Commission said: "It is realized that the State school system is very largely dependent upon these roads, and while we would like to get them in passable condition the year round, this will necessarily have to be a slow process with the available funds based even on the increased appropriation requested."

"To close a school because of bad roads is just as much a calamity as to close it for any other cause," said Senator Sparger, "yet it is obvious that some may have to be closed for just that reason if every available dollar isn't spent on the roads."

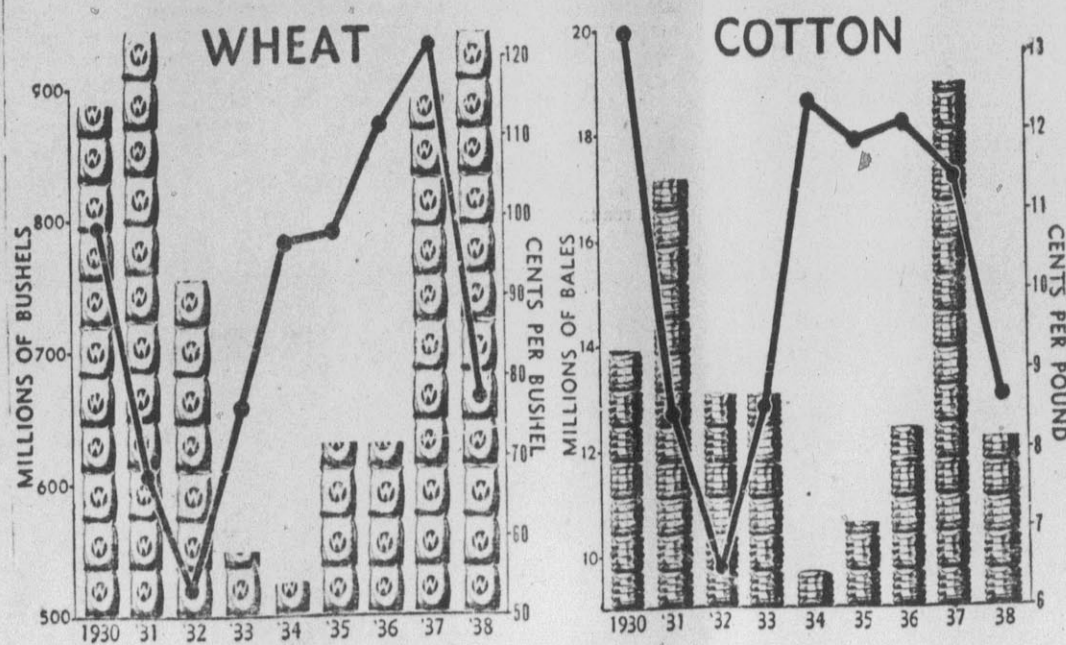

"Then for the sake of safety there should be no diversion of highway funds," he continued. "The budget report points out that there is needed nearly forty million dollars to modernize our primary highway system. How can this be done if any appreciable part of highway revenues are diverted to other purposes?"

He quoted this from the budget estimates of the Commission: "The expenditure of about $5,000,000 annually for construction of state county highways is imperative if our highways are to be maintained on a standard commensurate with the systems of other states. It is impossible for the General Assembly to issue sufficient bonds at any one session under the provisions of our Constitution to provide all the money necessary to meet this need and a program should be inaugurated as quickly as possible in order that the hazards existing in our system may be removed as quickly as practicable. Next to maintenance and the securing of Federal funds, we consider this item the major one of importance."

Senator Sparger said that this clearly emphasizes the absolute necessity of putting every available dollar of highway revenue into construction or maintenance of the highway system. It shows, he said, the impossibility of maintaining the state system's standard of excellence in any other way, as there isn't any legal way in which the needed funds can be obtained without amending the Constitution so as to make larger bond issues possible. This sort of amendment, he said, is not desirable.

DON'T MARRY THE MAN

By Jeanne Bowman

The Characters
 Kathleen Gregory: youngest member of the Gregory family goes West incognito to dump a right-of-way from MacDonald for the shaft of The Golden Girl mine.
 Donald MacDonald: young owner of The Stubborn Boy mine hates the Gregorys as much as they hate him.
 Bridget: Kathleen's companion.

Yesterday: Kathleen writes her father she intends to finish the job without his interference. Donald's mother arrives.

Chapter 19 Angus And Beatrice

DONALD'S cousin, Norman MacDonald, had accompanied his aunt. He was a year or so older than Donald; with his looks and without his arbitrary manner, he fascinated both girls. But he concentrated on Bridget.

In fact both young men did, leaving Kathleen with Mrs. MacDonald, a slightly bewildered Kathleen, unaccustomed to being ignored in so pointed a fashion.

"I can't blame them," she thought. "She is lovely and as dear as she is lovely, only—" The wistful look in her dark eyes won the woman who was watching her. This wasn't the hot-headed young spit-fire her son had forewarned her to expect. That is what she thought then, she changed her mind soon after dinner was over.

Donald, going to the rear of the house for more logs, came in frowning. "Kit-Smyth's coming up the drive. Can you please now what he is up to?"

Kathleen and Bridget exchanged glances of alarm which were promptly misinterpreted by the MacDonalds.

"You don't have to worry this time," Young Donald advised. "I'm going to handle that baby as he should be—"

"Son," interposed his mother as he strode towards the door, "this is Thanksgiving and this is my home I'll meet him."

At her bidding Kit-Smyth entered a perturbed Kit-Smyth who twisted his hat in his hands. He wanted to see the young ladies. He wanted to talk to them alone. Will all right then, he'd talk right here.

"Listen," he began, "you and your patients have got to get out of that house right now. I'll fix you up at the hotel free of charge but get out quick. The Gregorys are in town and they intend moving in pronto."

"What Gregorys?" interposed Donald unbelievably.

"Young Angus and his... well I guess it's his sister, name's Gregory."

Kathleen swallowed. Her throat had become very dry. "Why can't they stay at the hotel?" she asked.

The sound emitted by Kit-Smyth resembled an explosion. "You should hear him!" he cried. "You should hear what he says about the place!"

Bridget's laugh rang out. "He owns it, doesn't he? Cheer up, Mr. Kit-Smyth, we'll move. And we'll have to send our patients to Carolina. Lucky they're all recuperating. You're in rather a tight spot aren't you?"

Kit-Smyth ran a finger around his collar. "Sure nice of you I'll make up for the inconvenience, somehow. If you'll come over now and toss your things out the rear way, I'll have Joey-wide-eyes pick them up and carry them to the hotel."

"But that is foolish," interposed Mrs. MacDonald. "Norman, you and Donald can stay at our hotel and the girls can come in here with me. They'll be much more comfortable."

'Infernal Hole'

It was thus arranged and Kathleen, Bridget and Mrs. MacDonald went over to pack and move. They would carry things to the rear veranda and the boys would move them over to the MacDonald side.

For the next hour the Gregory house hummed with activity. Kit-Smyth would call for the visiting Gregorys the moment the house was clear. He had told them he was having it cleaned, aired and warmed.

The girls were making their last trip downstairs when footsteps sounded on the front veranda. The door was swung wide and in stalked Angus Gregory, Beatrice in his wake.

"Of all the infernal holes," he was orating. "To think it bears the name of Gregory. I'll fire that man I could run a better hostelry with one finger."

Behind him came Beatrice Gregory, stopping to stomp out a cigarette.

Kathleen looked down at Bridget. Angus Gregory's former secretary was trapped on the lower stairway. Beyond her was Mrs. MacDonald, her face alight with interest.

Her ruse succeeded for only a moment. Angus looked at his daughter, then Bridget moved and he looked at her. The massive Gregory hands met behind the Gregory back. The Gregory feet rocked in their shoes; then, properly warmed up, the Gregory voice belted. "What in... what are you doing here?"

Kit-Smyth, who had heard the Gregorys arrive, rushed in just in time to hear the question.

"Yes, yes, Mr. Gregory," he hastened to explain, "these young ladies are the two I had brought up from the village to prepare the house for you."

"Just a couple of working girls trying to get along," affirmed Kathleen, striving to check the tirade she felt Angus was about to turn on Bridget.

Angus Gregory looked at his daughter, sputtered, then turned his wrath to a safer subject. "That infernal hotel," he began. "Only one bathroom in the whole place. No heat in the rooms. Not a thing fit for a man to eat in that hole they call a grill room—"

"So you can't take it?" queried Kathleen, and blinked Angus as Bridget slipped past her and out of the door.

Beatrice Gregory, who had been lighting one of her chain of cigarettes, found her voice. "Take it!" she snapped. "Young lady, someone should have taken you when you were small and used a hair brush."

Kathleen smiled at her aunt. "You should know," she observed lightly. "If good little girls stay small from pats on the head I know what made you so tall." She escaped from the room.

Mrs. MacDonald, who had remained in the shadows hurried after Kathleen, convulsed with laughter. Reaching her own living room she said to her son, "Donald, this child doesn't need anyone to defend her. She's completely capable of handling her own battles."

Donald looked at Kathleen with a teasing, admiring glance. "I was afraid of that," he admitted.

Kathleen's mood of the afternoon changed in the twinkling of his eyes. She was gay audacious seeking some outlet for the sudden joyous excitement which possessed her.

A Fairy Circle

SHE found a baby grand piano in a far corner of the room and made it ring with popular selections. She sang her own accompaniments in a low, throaty, chuckling voice and flirted with Norman so outrageously that Donald deserted Bridget to join her.

And then they sang together, sang to each other while the others beat in rhythm to their melodies; a rhythm Kathleen didn't hear because she felt for the moment that the two, she and Donald, were alone in a fairy circle.

The midnight chimes of the clock stopped them. The two young men left for the hotel and Kathleen, in the room assigned her, contrarily threw herself onto the bed and burst into tears, muffled the sobs with her pillow.

She had been ashamed of her people. And she loved them so Mrs. MacDonald wouldn't know that Angus wasn't really gruff and unjust, that he was only worried terribly worried and thoughtless.

And Mrs. MacDonald couldn't know that Aunt Beatrice would not have been rude to a stranger; particularly a maid; that when Aunt Beatrice rubbed against her niece there were always sparks flying.

"But why," she moaned, "does Bee always have to look like a coal burner on the upgrade?"

Kathleen quieted in fear. She noped her father would keep an eye on those cigarettes. At home the servants were trained to follow their trail, retrieving lighted stubs and putting out fires in smouldering upholstery.

She sat up, dried her eyes and felt better. Some good might come out of this trip. At least Angus could see she hadn't exaggerated in her letters. He would unquestionably build a new hotel. And just let Beatrice get one good look at the inside of the cot and there would be new ones. After all they were Gregorys.

She wondered if the conquests she had made before coming to Neutrality had been won by the glamour of The Golden Girl background, rather than by her own individuality.

"I've had to work to make Donald notice me. Bridget just sits and acts her age and he hangs around her like a love-sick pup. What has she got that I haven't?"

Donald had bid Bridget a lingering good night. He had merely given Kathleen a smart salute.

"And I can't fight Bridget," she mourned. On next thought she felt it might not be necessary. Angus might win the information he wanted from Old Balmy and her work would be over; at least her need of winning Young Donald.

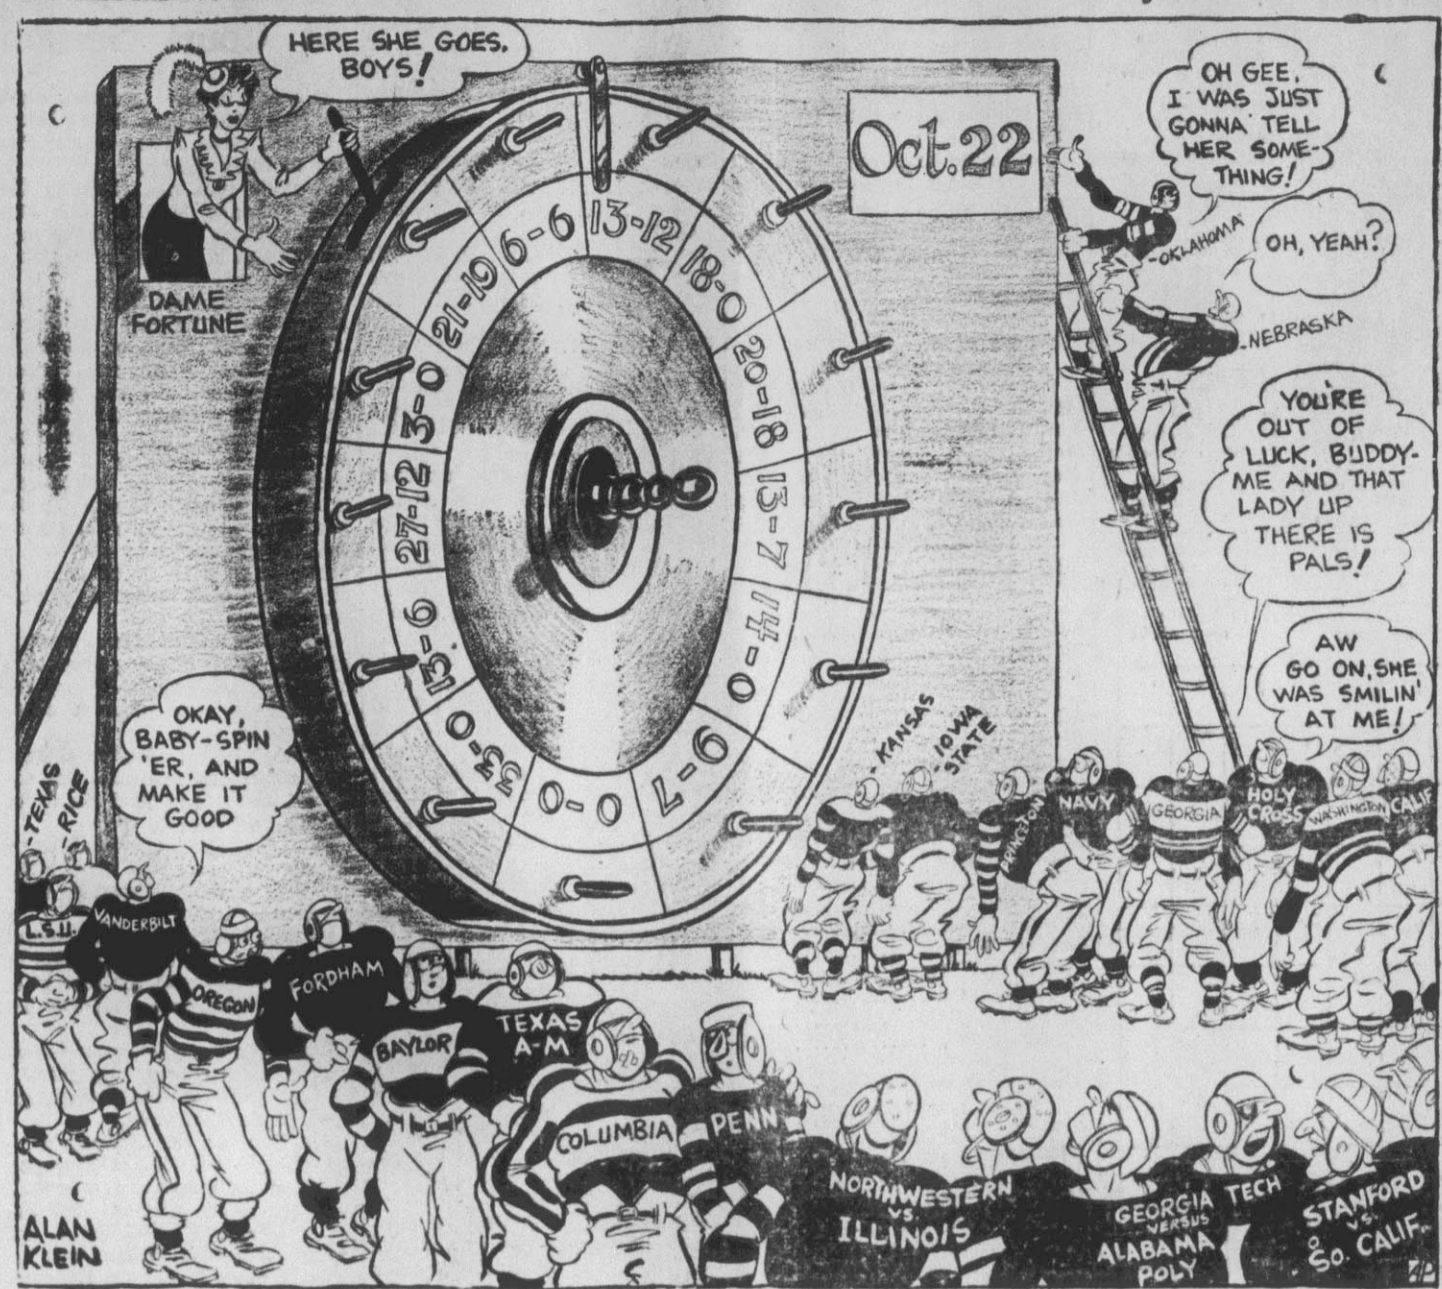

She went to sleep with an ache in her heart and a heretofore unknown sense of personal defeat. A waking, she knew she must find some way to see her best alone and without the MacDonalds or even the Gregorys knowing.

NCS TO MEET FURMAN TEAM

South Carolina Crew Victim Bad Breaks All Season

Raleigh, Oct. 19.—That Furman university's House of Magic, Saturday and Homecoming opponent of the N. C. State Wolfpack, has been the victim of bad breaks all season, three members of the Pack coaching staff are ready to testify.

Dr. Bob Warren, backfield coach; Herman Hickman, line coach, and Nig Waller, freshman coach who are the main works of State's scouting forces have seen the Magicians perform in their last three games.

Coach Waller saw Coach Dizzy McLeod's tea hold the vaunted and undefeated George Washington U. to a 0-7 score and last week witnessed the heartbreaking triumph of The Citadel over the Furmans. "I don't see how Furman gets beat," was his comment.

Coaches Warren and Hickman, after seeing Furman tripped by Georgia had ideas that correspond. Said Hickman: "Furman is definitely the hard luck team of the year and it is overdue, which means that they may arrive against us Saturday."

Said Dr. Warren: "That razzle-dazzle type of football Furman uses has been working against it. In other words, Furman hasn't been getting the breaks and its opponents have. This attack is bound to check sooner or later, what worries me is that Furman has the best passing attack I've seen this year. And some of the top in Lipscomb. Coach McLeod has one of the best kickers around."

Statistics of The Citadel game carried out these opinions. The Magician attack clicked for 22 yards from rushing against The Citadel's 89, which meant 13 Purman feet downs against seven for the winner.

Furman's attack is drawing the cash customers. Ten thousand attended The Citadel game, to set a new record for this classic South Carolina contest.

of the Circuit Court of Appeals, the Senator said.

In his letter to the voters, the Jones man is making four points:

1. The office of sheriff is an important one because it is the guardian of the public peace and public morals.

2. The sheriff holding office for

2 years is at a distinct disadvantage insofar as carrying out his office because his efficiency is minimized by recurrent political campaigns to which he must devote his time.

3. His efficiency is further lessened by the fact that a man just taking office hardly has time to get himself in good working condition before he is up for reelection and may give way to a new and greener candidate.

4. The fact that any man holding political office has to devote himself to the political campaign is an accepted feature of our government, and therefore it is imperative that the interests of local government that the term of office be extended from the inadequate period of two years to four.

LARKIN PUSHES SHERIFF'S ACT

Extends Campaign For 4-Year Term Amendment

Reflector Bureau.

By MENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Oct. 20.—State Senator John D. Larkin, field general of the campaign for adoption by the voters of a Constitutional amendment extending sheriff's terms to four years, is pushing things so hard that there is likely to be a jump in postal receipts in North Carolina. Just now his office force is getting out mimeographed letters to individual voters all over North Carolina, and if there is anyone not informed of the campaign by the time November 8 rolls around it isn't going to be the Jones county senator's fault.

"In 1932 there didn't seem to be any organized opposition to the proposal, yet it lost at the polls by more than 85,000," said Senator Larkin. "It lost because it was coupled with some other amendments to which there was real opposition and also because voters were not really informed about it. That's not going to happen this time."

Larkin is apparently sincerely confident the amendment will be passed. Latest of prominent Republicans to endorse the four-year term plan is Federal Judge John J. Parker

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 21—(AP)—Profit taking was more insistent in today's stock market and with the exceptions of rails, aircrafts and specialties, leading issues failed to extend Thursday's rally.

Low priced stocks again were all over the ticker tape, which at the start was behind for a brief interval. Dealings slowed later. Despite the show of selected strength, prices were slightly irregular near the fourth hour.

Luncheon Meet Held By Purina Officials

A luncheon meeting was held at 12:30 on Thursday at the Woman's Club by Purina Mills. A number of invited guests were present. Following the luncheon, C. F. Holle, salesman of Charlotte, assisted by Nat'l Dairy Division, Greenville, district salesman, discussed briefly this company's practical program of furthering diversification in Pitt County through the raising of more poultry and livestock.

The main points in this practical program are: Better Breeding; Better Management; Better Sanitation and Better Feeding. Also, it was brought out that this program, when put to use on our farms, helps materially to get out of our poultry and livestock what has been bred into them.

W. C. Clark Jr., and B. B. Drum of Drum's Electric Hatchery were then presented with a Purina Approved Feeding Advisory Charter for having completed the service course conducted by this company. These two men are competent to service local farmers needs for poultry and livestock. Following the charter presentation each was given a leather zipper case for use in his field work by J. W. Kirkpatrick.
