LEAF FARMERS TO GET QUOTAS BEFORE VOTING

AAA to Follow Recommendation Farmer-Committees

VOTE SCHEDULED FOR DECEMBER 10

To Reduce Allotment to New Farmers and Prohibit Sale Marketing Cards

Washington, Nov. 15. (AP)—The Agriculture Adjustment Administration announced today it would follow recommendations of farmer-committees in fixing 1939 individual acreage allotments and marketing quotas for flue-cured tobacco growers.

J. B. Hutson, assistant administrator, said both the acreage allotments and the poundage quotas probably would be announced before December 10, when producers vote on whether they want the quotas.

The quotas restricting a farmer's sale will be mandatory if two-thirds of the farmers taking part in the referendum vote favorably. Acreage allotments are voluntary, but benefit payments depend upon compliance.

Officials said the national sale-quota for the producing states of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Florida and Alabama probably would vary little from the 1938 quota of 748,000,000 pounds.

Acreage allotments also will be practically the same, they said, ranging somewhere between 860,000 and 990,000 acres.

Hutson said the new program would follow closely recommendations of farmer-committees, who met here last month. He outlined two proposed changes they suggested:

One would limit the amount of the national sales quota which could be apportioned to new farmers to three per cent. There was a one per cent allowance this year.

The other would prohibit a farmer who produced in excess of his quota and wanted to buy the unused portion of the quota of a farmer who did not grow his allowance from obtaining the unused portion of other quotas in excess of 10 per cent of his original quota. There were no quota transfer restrictions this year.

$225,000 Of Bonds Sold For Washington

Raleigh, Nov. 15.—(AP)—The Local Government Commission sold $225,000 worth of bonds for the city of Washington today.

Equitable Securities Corporation of Greensboro, F. W. Craigie and company of Richmond, Va., and Wheelock and Cummings, Inc., of Des Moines joined to take the issues.

The terms were: $133,000 water and light system bonds to bear two and three-fourths per cent interest at a premium of $45; $42,000 public improvements, $25,000 public refunding and $25,000 street improvement bonds to bear three per cent interest, sold at par.

Only Slight Damage From Morning Blaze

Damage estimated at $10 by Fire Chief George Gardner was caused by a blaze this morning at the home of Sarah Rogers, Negro, who lives on Fourteenth street and the Atlantic Coast Line Railway tracks. Chief Gardner said the blaze evidently caught from a stove. The alarm came in at 6:45 o'clock.

Maine was part of Massachusetts until 1820.

Roll Call Appeal

An appeal to all persons who had not been approached by a worker in the annual Pitt County Red Cross Call to call by the offices of the Chamber of Commerce and renew their membership was issued today by officials of the campaign.

Roll Call spokesmen declared that the women who volunteered their services for the drive had "done a fine job," but added that it had been impossible to see every person in the city and county and urged all such persons to "drop in" and renew their membership in the organization.

Fraco-German Agreement Renouncing War Expected To Come Into Force Soon

'Dead Man' Jailed

Declared a legal suicide early in 1935, a Californian identified by his fingerprints as Davis Rowland McDonald (above) former Pittsburgh broker, is held in the county jail at Los Angeles. Under the name of John Edgar Davis, McDonald pleaded guilty to issuing a bad check for $141 at Pasadena, Calif. Authorities said his first wife collected on three insurance policies after he was declared dead.

SALE PLANNED BY MERCHANTS

Approximately Fifty Participating in 3-Day Event

Approximately 50 Greenville merchants are joining in the "Community-Wide Sale" here Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, considered one of the greatest trade events ever promoted in this section.

Outstanding values, providing savings for the entire family, will be offered during the three-day event, with specials to be on sale each of the three days. Every merchant participating will offer outstanding values in quality merchandise. Stores taking part in the event may be identified by the official Community Day banners. The trade event is being sponsored by the Greenville Merchants' Association.

The sale was decided on due to the unseasonable weather, heavy stocks and local conditions. Merchants participating in the event are listed in a full page advertisement elsewhere in this issue of the Reflector. In addition, the individual merchants are advertising a few of the special bargains they will offer. Prospective buyers will save money by reading them.

The event, the first three-day affair held here in years, is considered the biggest trading opportunity ever provided for people of this section.

Mrs. Della P. Hunter Dies In Williamston

Mrs. Della Peebles Hunter, 78, widow of W. T. Hunter and former resident of Greenville, died at her home in Williamston last night. Funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the residence by Rev. Dr. Maxwell of the Methodist church. Burial followed in the Williamston cemetery.

Mrs. Hunter was the daughter of the late Major John and Caroline W. Peebles. She had been living in Williamston for the past 25 years however. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Coddard of Williamston, and a son, Jack W. Hunter of Greensboro.

WOULD WALK 10 MILES TO SAVE WRITING

Stowmarket, England. (AP)—Rather than write letters, Suffolk farm workers walk 10 miles to deliver a message. This was reported by D. S. Eastman, a member of the West Suffolk Education Committee, which was considering plans to improve the spelling of children.

Spokesman Declares Basis Reached For Accord

DECIDE TO RELY ON ARBITRATION

To Pledge France and Germany Use Peaceful Means for Settlement of Disputes

Paris, Nov. 15.—(AP)—A French government spokesman announced today that a basis had been reached for an accord between France and Germany renouncing war against each other and hinted that it would not be long before it came into force.

This was the first official confirmation that conversations which have been going on since shortly after the Munich accord of September 29 have brought their objective, the renunciation of war, agreement within sight.

A foreign office spokesman said the contemplated pact would constitute an important step in the development of the Munich accord, which saved European peace at the price of Czechoslovakia's dismemberment. He explained it would extend the principal of peaceful solution of international problems to cover other potential sources of trouble.

The spokesman said the pact would pledge France and Germany to use peaceful means for settlement of any dispute that may arise between them. It would declare that there is no frontier problem between the two countries, based on statements made by Adolf Hitler during the September crisis that Germany would not lay claim again to Alsace-Lorraine.

Two Convicted In Pitt County Court

Of the eight cases coming up in County court this morning, a nolle proes was taken in three, one was transferred to Superior court, two were acquitted and each of the latter pair appealed to Superior court.

H. W. Stoneliam, white man convicted of false pretense, was given a 30-day sentence. He appealed, and bond was set at $100.

Marvin Jones, Negro, appealed from a conviction of having liquor for sale. He was given a six-months sentence, suspended upon payment of a fine of $50, costs to be deducted.

W. H. Corey and Jasper House each were acquitted of charges of having liquor for sale. The case charging C. L. Whitfield with abandonment, assault, etc., was transferred to Superior court.

A nolle proes was taken in each of the following cases: Ray Hill, insufficient support; Charlie Moye, driving without a license; and Clinton Dall, driving drunk.

A Lot Of Food

Modesto, Ill.—(AP)—Food assembled to feed 75,000 spectators at the state cornhusking contest included 5,000 pounds of hamburger, 500 pounds of wieners, 1,000 pounds of ham, 1,000 pounds of fish, 75,000 buns, 10,000 pies, 1,200 pounds of coffee requiring 3,500 gallons of water and, finally, 80,000 bottles of soft drinks.

THOSE STINGLESS BEES HAVE ALL DIED

London.—(AP)—The stingless bees presented to the Zoological Gardens by the Southern Rhodesian Government are all dead. It is believed the cold weather killed them. The first stingless bees ever brought to Europe alive travelled 8,000 miles by air in part of a tree trunk that was their natural home.

PEACE EFFORT LOST TO LABOR

CIO Refuses to Compromise Terms Already Stated

Pittsburgh, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Delegates to the CIO's first convention adopted unanimously today a 'peace' committee report declaring there could be no compromise in the CIO's terms for peace with the American Federation of Labor. The report, drafted swiftly after President Roosevelt's plea for peace between the rival craft and industrial unions, approved the principle of labor unity, but declared that any settlement must recognize the CIO's theme of organizing workers in industrial unions.

Picture of Despair

This portrait of despair shows jobless Edwin Peterson as he appeared in a Niagara Falls, N. Y., jail cell after police had thwarted what he said was his plan to leap over the famed falls with his 4-year-old daughter. Said discouraged Peterson: "The water looked inviting."

LET CONTRACT FOR PITT UNIT

Approved for Arthur School; Rejected for Grimesland

The Herman-Sipe Construction company of Conover submitted the low bid and was awarded the general construction work for a project at the Arthur school, as bids were opened in the offices of the County Board of Education here this morning.

The Conover firm, which also is doing general construction work at the Chicod and Farmville schools, submitted the low bid of $16,794.

The Harris Hardware company of Washington submitted the lowest bid of $3,939 for the heating project and was awarded the contract. The W. M. Wiggins Plumbing company of Wilson was awarded the plumbing contract on a low bid of $192.

The general construction work includes four classrooms, boiler room, fuel room and two fire towers. All bids were repeated on similar projects for the Grimesland school, the board having decided to revise the plans and specifications. As soon as these are revised and approved by the PWA bids will be called for again and the contract let.

It is estimated that the plans will go to Atlanta within the next ten days and bids opened within the next month.

Fine Prospects Viewed For Industrial Division

Raleigh, Nov. 15.—The Division of Commerce and Industry, Department of Conservation and Development, has negotiations well under way with three industrial concerns which, if they definitely decide to locate in North Carolina, will give employment to more than 2,000 workers, J. T. Anderson, division engineer, said today.

Mr. Anderson said he could not identify the companies at present for fear of spoiling the contacts and perhaps causing other states to redouble efforts to "capture" the prospects.

"It will undoubtedly be of interest to know, however, that a number of worthwhile and well-rated industrial prospects are now conferring with us and are definitely interested in locating in North Carolina," he said. "We seem close to agreement with three which alone will employ more than 2,000 persons if they build plants in the state."

The industrial division, he continued, answers all inquiries received as the result of industrial advertising and it gives information and data to all industries seeking new locations. Its primary activities are directed toward securing these industries for the state, but it also co-operates with chambers of commerce, civic organizations and municipal officials in following up and in getting the industries for specific localities.

WILSON PLANS TO LEAVE FOR UNITED STATES

Ambassador to Germany Summoned to Return at Once

VISIT CANCELLED TO BRITISH ISLES

Instructions Declared in No Sense to be Interruption of Diplomatic Relations

Berlin, Nov. 15.—(AP)—United States Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson said today he had cancelled a visit to England and would leave tomorrow for the United States as a result of an urgent summons from Washington.

He did not disclose the purpose of the summons, but informed circles took it for granted he was called to go over the entire German situation with special emphasis on the Anti-Jewish wave of the past week.

Political circles here believed Wilson would point out to Washington officials that the time has come for the international refugee committee to get down to concrete methods for allaying the daily aggravating situation for German Jews.

Recently Wilson has been studying the colonial question and the possibility of a trade treaty between the United States and Germany.

His summer home came in the midst of a German fresh attack on Great Britain for her "inhuman man-hunt against Arabs in Palestine."

British newspapers have been confiscated here since the synagogue burning and wrecking of Jewish business places last week and the subsequent anti-Jewish decrees.

The fresh attacks followed upon the disclosure of Prime Minister Chamberlain yesterday that his government made a strong protest against similar Nazi press attacks.

In Washington the sudden order calling Wilson home gave the world a clear hint that the United States government did not approve of Germany's treatment of Jews.

Officials said the instructions to Wilson were in no sense an interruption of diplomatic relations. They added, however, that the step was one taken only in important cases.

New Problems For N.C. PWA Projects

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, Nov. 15.—Higher wages and costlier materials are becoming real problems in the State's PWA-aided building program for which $4,620,000 in North Carolina bonds were recently sold at the record low-interest rate of 2.07 per cent.

The bigger pay envelope is welcomed by workers. Supply and material men are whistling right merrily at the boost in prices of the wares they handle, but Governor Clyde R. Hoey and his budgeteers are being forced to do a bit of head scratching and other kinds of figuring to take care of the new situation.

Most immediate and pressing problems are presented by the Stone wall Jackson Training School and State School for the Blind programs on which bids have already been submitted and on which construction work must start not later than November 26.

LONE MARINER CROSSES ATLANTIC

Frank Edward Clark, 54-year-old English-American seaman, here is shown aboard his 30-foot sailing boat Girl Kathleen at Savannah, Ga., following a stormy 90-day crossing of the Atlantic ocean. The bearded sailor, who was reduced to a diet of beans and water the last week of the trip, said he made the lone crossing "just for the devil of it."

Consider Bold Scheme To Find Homes For Jews

Britain and United States May Undertake Movement

London, Nov. 15.—(AP)—The British government today gave urgent consideration to a bold scheme under which the United States and the British empire would find homes for thousands of German Jews seeking refuge from violence and restrictive laws in Germany.

United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, who has been working day and night on the problem since the latest wave of anti-Jewish violence began, was believed to be author of the plan.

It was understood on the highest authority that Prime Minister Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax, after a long session with the ambassador, had arranged to cooperate in the plan to move thousands of Jews.

Chamberlain weighed the plan as increasing signs developed of assent within his own conservative party for his plans for an understanding with Germany already hampered by British resentment at the Nazi anti-Jewish campaign.

Kennedy spent last week end with Malcolm McDonald, secretary for colonies and dominions, who is immediately concerned with British problems in Palestine and the general refugee situation.

In government circles it was said the American ambassador was influencing the British government.

NEGRO HELD IN STATE PRISON

Taken to Raleigh Following Conviction in Washington

Washington, N. C., Nov. 15.—(AP)—James (Grease) Page, 31, Baltimore Negro, was removed from this city today in the custody of three officers to be placed on death row at State's prison in Raleigh, where he will await execution by lethal gas following imposition of a mandatory sentence by Superior Court Judge G. Vernon Cowper, of Kinston, who set the date of execution for January 20.

The rail-liable defendant had been convicted by a jury verdict, returned late yesterday afternoon, of an alleged criminal assault on Mary McGann, 21-year-old Illinois "girl show" performer, widow and mother of a 20-months-old child, in an attack said to have taken place in the woman's tent just off the midway of a carnival, playing the Beaufort county fair, early the morning of October 11. The defense entered notice of appeal.

Standing before the bar, his expression unchanged, preceding pronouncement of the death sentence, Page answered the usual query from the bench: "No, sir, I ain't got nothing to say, 'cept I ain't guilty."

Actual Work Started On Projects In City

Work actually had started on two new projects in Greenville today. The ground was broken for erection of a new building to house the Davis Full-Fashion Hosiery mill and workers started raising the old building on the James property purchased by the city to locate the new city hall and fire station.

Work meanwhile progresses on several other projects in the city, including the street improvement program, the municipal stadium and the contract for the new city hall will be let in the near future. Contract for the new fire station was to be let today.

Safety pins were first devised by Walter Hunt in 1849.

BIG DECREASE FOR ALL CROPS

Secretary Wallace Reveals Reduction of About 7,500,000 Acres in Total Allotment, With Biggest Cut Applying To Wheat Farmers

Washington, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace approved today a 1939 soil conservation program providing for a reduction of about 7,500,000 acres in the total allotment for major crops.

The new maximum for soil depleting crops of participating farmers will be from 270,000,000 to 285,000,000 acres. It will be lower than this year chiefly because of a reduced wheat allotment.

Congress has allotted $712,000,000 for benefits to farmers who comply. The program, which is voluntary, is separate from the marketing quota provision of the crop control act, which may become mandatory under certain conditions.

The voluntary program will follow the general outline announced August 16. At that time next year's wheat allotment was fixed at 58,000,000 acres, compared with a seeded acreage of 60,000,000 this year and an allotment of 62,500,000 acres.

Goals for cotton, corn, rice flue cured tobacco and general soil depleting crops will be virtually the same next year.

The AAA will conduct referenda next month on whether cotton, rice and tobacco growers want marketing quotas imposed in 1939.

Cotton, rice and flue cured tobacco growers in the south will vote December 10. Burley and dark type tobacco farmers will vote December 17.

The corn acreage allotment in the commercial area will remain at 97,000,000; cotton at 29,000,000; potatoes at 3,100,000; cigar filler and binder tobacco at 90,000; and soil depleting crops to 160,000,000.

The peanut acreage of from 1,550,000 to 1,650,000 acres compares with 1,600,000 acres this year's program. Flue cured tobacco acreage was set at 900,000 acres next year, compared with 875,000 allotted this year.

The subsidy rate for co-operating cotton farmers was announced as two cents a pound with an estimated price adjustment payment ranging from 1.6 to 1.8 cents, making a total of 3.6 to 3.8 cents, compared with a 1938 payment of 2.4 cents a pound.

Conservation payments were announced as follows: Flue cured tobacco 8 cents a pound, compared with one cent this year. Peanuts, $3 a ton, compared with $4 in 1938.

Mrs. Swain's Sister Is Claimed By Death

Word was received here today of the death in Parkview hospital, Rocky Mount, last night of Mrs. C. W. Cole of Wise, sister of Mrs. T. J. Swain of Greenville.

Mrs. Cole was injured in an automobile accident about four weeks ago and has been confined to the hospital since. Mr. and Mrs. Swain, who have visited Mrs. Cole on numerous occasions since she was injured, have gone to Wise, where funeral services will be conducted early tomorrow afternoon.

Violinist Pleases Audience.
Osny Renardy, 17-year-old Viennese violinist, completely captivated his audience at the college last night with his brilliant performance, and was called back again and again to receive the applause of the house.

Musicians in the audience marveled at his flawless technique, and musicians and non-musicians alike enjoyed the great range and purity of his tone and the infinite variety in his style.

In even the difficult Schubert number, Sonata in D Major, the young violinist gave the impression of real mastery of his instrument and his own body, and he played the brilliant Paganini Concerto in D Major with such seeming ease that the audience felt no sense of strain in the most exacting passages.

Called back repeatedly at the beginning of the program, the artist gave two additional numbers as encores, "Wiennese Serenade" by Burmeister, and "Serenade by Paganini, both beautifully played.

Renardy and his pianist, Walter Robert, who deserves a paragraph in his own right for his sensitive accompanying, are in the process of recording a number of selections for Columbia records. The Correll Sonata in E Minor, with which the program opened last night, has already appeared; others have been made and will appear soon; and still others are to be made on the return to New York.

The next program scheduled for the youthful genius is one before the Beethoven Association of New York, for which he has been studying all the Beethoven sonatas. His next big public appearance will be made in Cincinnati, where he was so well received last season.

The pianist, a product of Vienna masters, accompanied him first on a twenty-concert tour of Italy in 1936, and two months ago came to America to join him in the 1938-39 tour of this country.

In charge of the appearance last night was Renardy's teacher, Theodore Pashkus, who has had charge of his training since the boy of four or five first drew a bow across his small violin.

Christian Science Church.

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, November 13.

The golden text was from II Cor. 5:17. "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold all things are become new."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you, who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time." (I Peter 1:3-5).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Human birth, growth, maturity and decay are as the grass springing from the soil with beautiful green blades, afterwards to wither and return to its native nothingness. This mortal seeming is temporal; it never merges into immortal being, but finally disappears, and immortal man, spiritual and eternal, is found to be the real man."

Citizenship Department Meets.

The Citizenship department of the Woman's Club met Friday afternoon at the club house. Rev. Clarence Patrick spoke on "International Relations." He gave as some national difficulties, state of mind, economic and political reasons. He emphasized the fact that the nation made the man and gave as examples Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin. Nations were compared to individuals and he asserted they can be agreeable in the same way, that is, if they are willing to make concessions, be straightforward, honest, have a high degree of respect for one another, and above all, employ the principles of Christian religion in their daily living. Rev. Patrick closed his talk by saying that if a nation expected to find peace it would come through individuals and not any political organization.

A highlight of the program was a solo, "America's Answer to Flanders Field," by Miss Bessie Brown. She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Eva Hodges.

This is National Book Week, and Mrs. Aycock and Mrs. Tadlock volunteered to arrange the books in Curtis Perkins' window for the club. Mrs. James reported that the paint on the walls at the club building cost $79.94. The bridge tournament netted the club $15.45.

The club decided to set aside sufficient funds to provide one pair of glasses for a needy child in each of the schools. This fund is to be made available to the P. T. A. of each school.

Miss Dorothy Snyder made a short talk about the art plans for the club. There will be a class opened to club members.

Mrs. C. P. Hardee, Mrs. Bert Greene and Mrs. Guy Evans were hostesses for the afternoon. Delicious sandwiches, cookies and tea were served.

The department was delighted to have present several new members.

MODES of the MOMENT,

By Adelaide Kuro

National Fur Week—November 14-19—focuses the fashion spotlight on furs. Since one of the 1938 style decrees is "Hoods," an American designer puts a sleek pussy cat hood on a brief jacket of brown and white Manchurian skunk. It appears in the football stadium or goes on country strolls with a tailored dress of brown wool.

In Hospital.
Roscoe Barnhill is in Pitt General Hospital, where he is recovering from an appendix operation.

Mrs. Ficklen Hostess At Luncheon.
Mrs. E. B. Ficklen entertained at a beautifully appointed luncheon on Monday, at her home, honoring Miss Lucy James, bride-elect.

On arrival at one o'clock, the guests were welcomed by the hostess and honor guest and were directed to smart tables placed throughout the home in a beautiful setting of fall flowers.

The tables were centered with yellow chrysanthemums tied with tulle, which were later cut for table pieces.

Defiant white baskets of nuts with wedding bells assisted the guests in finding their places.

A tempting course luncheon was served. With the coffee, cheese in the shape of roses, carried out the color scheme of yellow and white which had been used throughout the luncheon.

Mrs. Ficklen presented Miss James with a lovely yellow linen card table cover with napkins.

Miss James Honored.
An outstanding social affair of the past week was on Friday, when Mrs. W. T. Lipscomb and Miss Ada James were gracious hostesses at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Lipscomb, complimenting Miss Lucy James, whose marriage to Mr. Francis Fries Williamson takes place on November 26th.

The entire lower floor of the home had been tastefully decorated in yellow, white and red chrysanthemums with soft lights from burning tapers.

The guests were welcomed by Mrs. William Iverson Skinner and presented to the receiving line. In the receiving line with the hostesses were Miss Lucy James, the honoree, Mrs. J. E. James, mother of the bride-elect, Miss Etta Burt Warren of Trenton, N.C., Miss Corone Caffery of Raleigh, Mrs. J. M. Barnes of Lexington, Ky., and Mrs. Chas. Guy, sister of the bride.

Mrs. H. W. Whedbee and Mrs. T. H. Boykin directed the guests to the dining room where Mesdames Will and Charles Whedbee served cocktails and hors-d'oeuvres.

Following this, a three-course luncheon was served at individual card tables.

The honoree was presented a pair of brass prism lamps from Mrs. Lipscomb and a silver water pitcher from Miss James.

Library News

1938 Book Week Nov. 13-19

The children whose names appear below read and reported on ten books borrowed from Sheppard Memorial Library during the summer. The reports made by the children were very simple records on filing cards. The staff members worked up a more elaborate poster report for the bulletin board. The travel idea was emphasized in the books selected. Each child was encouraged to read and learn about children of other lands. One book of poetry was required. The children were left to select their books from the open shelves, but each one was urged to find some suitable for his or her reading ability. This freedom pleased the readers and the larger number used very good judgment in their book selection. The number who finished the suggested work is smaller than usual. Certain difficulties which held the number down will be removed before another summer. These 45 children will receive reading certificates at a reading club meeting in the library auditorium at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon, November 16.

The list follows:

Calls Meeting Of Eastern Directors

Much importance is attached to the November meeting of the directors of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce, which will be held in Kinston November 29 at 11 o'clock in the Kinston hotel.

In addition to having the regular directors present, which number approximately 70, two members from each of the towns numbering 92, where memberships are held by the organization, are being invited to attend this regular monthly meeting of the directors. At this meeting, according to information given out by headquarters in Kinston, a complete program for 1939 activities, which will include the attitude of the regional organization toward crop control and legislative matters will come up at the 1939 General Assembly, will be discussed.

President R. A. McLean, Jr., of New Bern, will preside over the meeting, which will be held in the ballroom of the Kinston hotel. In addition to the regular routine and the matters referred to above, the selection of the city for the 1939 annual meeting will be made and possibly a speaker will be selected at this meeting. Several invitations are in hand from towns all over the territory asking that the 1939 annual meeting be held in these respective towns. A full meeting of

There were large sales out at the tobacco warehouses today. Hope Fire Company had a smaller attendance than usual at the monthly meeting Monday night.

The regular members of the board of directors and additional attendance from the various towns, will very likely swell the attendance on this occasion to unusual proportions.

Secretary N. G. Bartlett stated that this local group having positions to present to the organization may either present them in person, or send them in to be presented by the secretary.

Club Hears Views On World Affairs

Dr. J. E. Guy, who has made his home in Florence, Paris, Berlin and London, presented his views on world problems at the regular weekly meeting last night of the Greenville Rotary club.

The meeting was in charge of Marshal Brinkley, chairman of the Membership committee, who introduced the speaker.

Dr. Guy declared that Mussolini had made a wonderful work of art in Italy. He stated that people of Italy did not want to take Ethiopia but were forced to do so by their Premier. He added that Great Britain was weak and unable to prevent the Italian conquest.

The speaker expressed the belief that the world was going to "gang up" on the Anglo Saxon peoples and that Great Britain and United States must cast their lot together if they wished to survive. He declared that the French were not "our friends."

The speaker pleaded for a larger army and navy and said that our only salvation was in following our present administration in its defense efforts.

The breakdown of the Versailles treaty was blamed on France by the speaker, which country, he said cut off Germany entirely.

He also predicted that America inevitably would go to war with Japan and added that "our true friends are Great Britain and Holland."

Announcement was made at the meeting that an inter-city Rotary meeting would be held in Washington Friday night at 7 o'clock and all Rotarians were urged to attend the meetings.

Roy Martin was introduced as a new member of the club. Guests included Mr. Joyce of Winston-Salem, Mr. Leavitt of Richmond, Va., and Earl R. Daniels of Greenville.

Chapter 10

In Official Charge

FOR a moment I thought Mrs. Flower had something to show me. But instead she began to chatter again.

"You know what keeps running through my head? It must be an old song, or something, about the shooting of Anne Carewe. Isn't that funny? But you know I'm kind of psychic that way. I seem to know things. But the oddest thing—it keeps running through my mind. About how the lady who shot her and pinched her poke was the lady whose name was Lou. Where do you suppose I could get a thing like that, unless it was a sort of spiritual revelation? After what we were saying awhile ago, too..."

I felt dazed. "What do you mean?"

"Oh, don't you know? Well, I forgot, you're not very well acquainted here, are you? I mean, her name is Louella, of course, but nobody calls her that. It wouldn't fit somehow. Everybody just calls her Lou."

"Who are you talking about?" I demanded.

"Why, Lou Orpington, of course. Who else?"

I caught sight of Adam entering the club and I felt like a giddy passenger when the merry-go-round begins to slow up. Things began to look more sane. My equilibrium was restored.

He came straight across to where we were standing, acknowledged Mrs. Flower's presence, said quickly to me, "I'm questioning everyone before they go home—I'll take you first," and stood aside to let me precede him.

In the reading room, behind closed doors, he lowered his voice confidentially.

"What I really wanted was to ask if you would take notes. Do you know shorthand?"

"Enough to get by. But look, Adam..." and I launched into an account of Charlie's disappearance.

He stopped me midway.

"I took him back to quarters and put him to bed. He'll keep for a while. But before you say anything more I should warn you that I am in official charge of the investigation. One of the things I've been doing was to put a call through to Corps Area Headquarters for instructions. You see, in the absence of Colonel Wright, Anne's father, Major Carewe, is in command. I am next in rank."

"I broke the news to Major Carewe." He looked slightly sick at the memory, but continued evenly. "Naturally he's too broken up to take charge. So the honors are mine. . . . Now was there anything you wanted to tell me?"

I related faithfully all that had occurred since we separated, except for my disposal of Charlie's gun and my unwarranted intrusion into Elizabeth's affairs.

He listened intently, his small bright eyes the intense blue of a Bunsen-burner flame between their short white lashes, while I repeated Mrs. Flower's maudlinings about Lou Orpington.

"It seemed quite clear that she wanted it in the record that Mrs. Orpington was alone on the veranda at the time the shot was fired. And this afternoon at the polo game she more than hinted that Barney had been seen around the Orpington quarters entirely too much, with Captain Orpington away in camp. At least that was the way it sounded to me. She may not have meant a thing by it—she says the most awful things so innocently that you wonder if she knows what it's all about."

"I know. Amazing woman. Sometimes I think her wits are dim. Other times I'm not so sure. Her husband plays a remarkably fine game of bridge, but half the time she doesn't bother to follow suit. Insists on playing too. Don't see how he puts up with it."

"Mistaken?"

"Oh, and when you came in she was reciting some nonsense about a psychic hunch—a song she said kept running through her head about the lady whose name was Lou. . . . I repeated it as much as I could remember of it."

Adam's strong white teeth showed for an instant in a grin.

"The Shooting of Dan McGrew," he said. "That's like her." Then the grin faded. "The Shooting of Anne Carewe," he said softly and stared at me with puzzled eyes.

"You know, Kay, that's damn funny. . . . And the lady that's known as Lou. She is keen to put it on Lou Orpington."

Adam's strong white teeth showed for an instant in a grin.

Can He Score?

Bill Shelton

The big question in the E. C. T. C. Coaches mind at present is, "Can Bill Shelton score against the strong Appalachian State Teachers College Mountaineers next Saturday?" The versatile triple-threat back has averaged 43 yards on his 103 punts this season and has played sixty minutes in every game. He has punted 4,436 yards or approximately two and one-half miles in six games. In addition to his kicking ability he is an excellent broken field runner and clever passer. He has recently been shifted from halfback to quarterback and is developing into an excellent field general. Shelton hails from Danville, Va., and is playing his third year of college football. He has the best scholastic record of any athlete in school and is an honor student. He is majoring in Commercial Education. He is president of the Varsity Club and a member of numerous other student organizations.

NO-DIVERSION MOVE STARTED

Big Push for Constitutional Amendment is Launched

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, Nov. 15—Big push of the Anti-Diversion forces for adoption of a Constitutional amendment forever banning the practice in North Carolina is on.

The great offensive was launched this afternoon at Charlotte at the first of five district meetings sponsored by the North Carolina Petroleum Industries Committee and allied organizations which have been for many months conducting an educational campaign designed to outlaw diversion of highway revenue funds to any purpose other than construction and maintenance of roads.

It will continue through the week with undiminished fury as three other similar meetings are held and, after a period of comparative quiet, will reach a climax at the fifth meeting on November 22.

An imposing array of speakers has been arrayed by retiring State Senator S. Gilmer Sparger, state secretary of the P. I. C.

At Charlotte this afternoon Professor Harry Tucker, State College Engineering director and chairman of the North Carolina Highway Users Conference, will make the principal address in favor of the amendment.

Tuesday at Fayetteville, chairman of the Road committees of the 1935 General Assembly, will lay a verbal barrage against diversion and for barring it in the organic law of the state. They are U. L. Spence who headed the Senate Road group and Wallace Tatem of Tyrrell, head of the House committee in 1935.

The scene will shift to Rocky Mount Thursday with Raleigh's I. M. Bailey, a past president of the North Carolina Bar Association, as the featured orator.

At Greensboro Friday, former Highway Chairman E. B. Jeffress will lead the verbal drive for the amendment. Willis Smith, former speaker of the house, will also speak.

The November 22 meeting is set for Asheville, with State Auditor George Ross, Pou as the speaker.

'BROTHER RAT' PREVIEW PITT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

"Brother Rat," the gay comedy of life in a military school, which ran on a Broadway stage for 18 consecutive months and had three road companies successfully touring the country at the same time, is now a picture and will be shown at a preview matinee Wednesday night at 11:15 at the Pitt Theatre.

It stars Wayne Morris and Priscilla Lane, two young stars who already have had several sensational successes. A considerable portion of the picture was made on the grounds of the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Va., and the entire cadet corps of that famous and historic school, 700 strong, took part.

V. M. I. has long been known as the "West Point of the South." It was the training place of that great Confederate general "Stonewall" Jackson. The Institute authorities gave complete cooperation to the producers and to Director William Keighley.

Chicago Teachers Shag Chicago.—(AP)—More than 1,800 boys and 800 girls in the Chicago public schools strolled up to learn the lambeth walk and shag when the schools opened modern dance courses.

SEE IMPROVED VIRGINIA TEAM

Carolina Prepares for Annual Turkey Day Football Game

Chapel Hill, Nov. 15—Virginia's 1938 football team is far superior to its 1937 eleven, according to Carolina Coaches Johnny Morris and Wally Dunham, who have scouted the Cavaliers in a majority of their games this fall.

Scout Dunham, who has just returned from Cambridge, where he witnessed the Harvard-Virginia game Saturday, said the Cavaliers played well despite the 40-13 beating at the hands of the Crimson.

"The score doesn't by any means tell the real story of that game," Coach Dunham said. Virginia actually outplayed Harvard during the first quarter and stopped the Crimson attack cold. Harvard failed to make a first down. Harvard scored twice in the second period, benefitting on one score by a 15-yard penalty that set Virginia back to its 1-yard line.

"The second half story was the same as the Columbia and Navy games. Virginia had few good reserves and the opposition had plenty of them."

"Gillette is very fast and elusive," said Coach Morris. He passes sharply and accurately and is above the average in punting. Gillette leads Virginia in scoring with 96 points. Harry Dinwiddie is another fine passer and runner. The best men in the line are Captain John Acree, guard; Lee McLaughlin, tackle. Woody George and Jimmy Sargeant, ends. George and Sargeant are both excellent pass receivers.

Virginia has two noted place-kickers. Sargeant and Fullback Harry McClaugherty, who will match skill and ability with Co-Captain Steve Maronic, brilliant Tar Heel tackle and extra point specialist. Maronic has 12 consecutive conversions in as many attempts this season. Sargeant and McClaugherty have made good 11 times in 15 tries.

The banjo is of African derivation.

DIMUNITIVE GIANTS

Adrian Brown

The center of the East Carolina Teachers College football line may look soft judging by weight, but Adrian Brown and Bill Merner were not long in convincing Guilford College Quakers and the William & Mary Braves that they would have to seek gains elsewhere. Adrian Brown hails from Moyock, N. C. and is small as linesmen go, tipping the beam at a scant 155 pounds, but possesses an unflinching courage and physical fitness that has enabled him to play sixty minutes in each of the last three gruelling games on the Pirates' schedule.

Bill Merner

Irish parentage and fighting is purely pastime for his energetic makeup. Pirates coaches no longer fear the outcome of center smashes by the opposition when Brown and Merner are playing the defense. Brown is a Junior, playing his first year of football for the Pirates, having transferred from Lousburg College where he plays halfback. Merner is a sophomore and was a reserve center on last year's edition of the Pirates.

Green Phantoms Prepare For Game with New Bern

Contest to be Played at Third St. Park Friday, 3:15

By "SMUT" BURKS

Scrimmages and work on passing defenses are on the program in the Green Phantom camp today and tomorrow. On Thursday only a light workout will be held by the G-men prior to Friday's game with the Bears of New Bern high school.

The game will be played at the Third Street park at 3:15 sharp. This will be the last home game of the Phantoms and the last chance for many fans to see them in action.

The Greensies will be out for blood Friday in seeking their fourth win of the season. They have been beaten only by Goldsboro and Roanoke Rapids this year, although Ayden and Rich Square, underdogs in both games, held the Phantoms to 6-6 and 0-0 deadlocks, respectively.

If the Greensies defeat the Bears Friday and then win from the Washington Pam-Pack the following week they will be assured of a creditable position in the conference standings.

YOUR BUSY LIFE LETS DOWN THE BARS TO NERVE STRAIN

HE'S GIVING HIS NERVES A REST... AND SO IS HE

ARE these busy, trying days for you? Do you find yourself, at day's end, irritable, nerve-weary? Take a moment—study the dog above. He's resting his nerves. Even in the midst of strenuous action he will stop, relax. The dog does that instinctively, though his nerves are complex, high-keyed like our own.

We, trained for the intense stress of modern life, are likely to ignore the distress signals of our nerves—the instinctive urge to rest. So often, we let our will-power drive us on at a task, heedless of nerve tension.

You don't want your nervous system to be a drag. See what a difference it makes when you rest your nerves frequently—when you LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL. JOIN THE RED CROSS

Although yesterday was the day for canvassing in the Red Cross annual roll call, it is not too late for you to enroll under the banner of this organization of mercy. The Red Cross needs the aid and support of every citizen and if you have not already joined, do so at once. If you are not canvassed by one of the workers you still have the opportunity of enrolling by calling at the Chamber of Commerce office.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY

Around fifty Greenville business concerns have joined together in staging a special "Community Sales" event here Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. This three days event will give buyers of this section the opportunity to purchase seasonable merchandise right at the beginning of the season at prices below those regularly charged for the same merchandise.
In the past Greenville's cooperative Dollar Days have drawn large crowds of shoppers to the city but this week's Community Sales should prove even bigger than the Dollar Days in view of the fact that more merchants are participating and the event will last for three days instead of one. We repeat this special sales event offers wonderful opportunities to the shoppers of Greenville and this entire trading territory. Be sure and visit the Greenville stores Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

EFFICIENCY FIRST

With the newly elected Board of County Commissioners due to take office December 1, there are already candidates in the field for appointment to the offices of county auditor and tax collector. These two posts are appointive offices and it is the job of the commissioners to fill them, but in so doing it is to be hoped that efficiency and competency will be the guiding force behind the consideration of candidates rather than politics.

The upsurge in our county's affairs during the past year has resulted in the creation of political factions, some of which openly boast that it is their main desire to get rid of certain appointed officers.
If there is incompetency or inefficiency in any of the county appointive offices the commissioners should unhesitatingly appoint more efficient men to fill these offices but, as we see it, greater efficiency should be the only motive for any changes.

Pitt County owes no man or woman a job just because he or she belongs to a certain political faction and votes

"right," nor should present office holders who are rendering valuable and efficient service to the county be removed from office just because they do not belong to the "right faction" and do not see and vote eye to eye with this faction.

When the new commissioners take office in December, if they find that the appointive officers are not rendering efficient service to the county then such officers should be removed but the commissioners should guard against the influence of strong political factions who would sacrifice efficiency in the county's affairs just to "get even."

Efficiency rather than politics should be the motto in the administration of our county's affairs.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Nov. 15.—Final figures for the first full year of Prohibition Commission show that there were actively under supervision at the end of the period a total of 1,119 persons.
A total of 1,238 had been placed on probation, but of these 86 had been revoked, one had died, seven had terminated, four had been cancelled, four expired and 17 were inactive.

The probationers during the year earned a grand total of $153,121.81, of which $107,134.85 went directly to pay living expenses of the probationers and their more than 1,600 dependents.

Figures for the first 11 months were released in detail on the commission's first birthday, Nov. 1.

Illustrative of the good accomplished by probation officers, Director Harry Sample of the state commission tells this one:
One of the district probation officers became gravely disappointed and almost utterly disgusted with the behavior of one of his wards.
Finally the D.P.O. went to the judge who had imposed sentence and a conversation about like this followed:

"Judge, I guess you" have to revoke the probation part of John's (that isn't his real first name) sentence. I can't do a thing with him.
He goes out and gets drunk every Saturday night," said the discouraged D.P.O.

"You say he just gets drunk on Saturday nights?" asked the judge.

"Yes, that's all—he does very well in between times."

"Man, instead of being discouraged, you ought to be very proud of yourself and John," snapped the judge. "You've improved him tremendously—he used to get drunk every night."

S. Gilmer Sparger, state secretary of the Petroleum Industries Committee, is telling everybody he meets about the remarkable success of anti-diversion amendments at the polls last Tuesday.

Four states—Alabama, California, Michigan and New Hampshire—voted on anti-diversion amendments.
All four approved them.

We see from the Washington Sunday society pages that the North Carolina Society will include a "reception, social assembly and musical program" in its first dance of the season to be held in the national capital Thursday.

It has been designed "Official Night." Leading officials (all Carolinians) and their wives will be guests of honor, including Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Dan C. Roper, the Undersecretary of the Treasury and Mrs. John W. Hanes, the chairman of the Federal Communications Commission and Mrs. Frank R. Mc-Ninch, the acting chairman of the Federal Power Commission and Mrs.
Clyde R. Seavey, Assistant Attorney
General and Mrs. James W. Morris, Justice and Mrs. Justin Miller and others.

No North Carolina Congressmen are listed by the General Welfare Federation of America as favoring its plan for increased old age pensions on a "pay-as-you-go" basis.
The Federation is flooding the country with propaganda. It is opposed to both the "Penny Money" and the Townsend plans, which it calls visionary and impossible.

APPROVING PARKING ORDINANCE

We notice that the enforcement of the one hour parking ordinance is meeting with objection by some citizens, particularly those who have been "tagged." We trust that this objection will be of short duration.
To those who do not feel that the Board of Aldermen acted wisely when they recently decided to enforce the one hour parking ordinance in the congested business section, we would like for them to ponder the quotation below, taken from a letter received from one of our bacco farmer in Onslow county whom we had influenced to sell his tobacco in Greenville.

He writes: "My tobacco sold well.
I wanted to do some shopping before leaving Greenville but could find no place to park in the business section so drove on to New Bern and did my shopping there."

This thing is happening in Greenville every day in the year. Visitors to Greenville are not spending their money with the merchants because they can find no place to park. In our opinion nothing has stifled the growth of Greenville like all day parking in the business section. Not even a progressive up to date Chamber of Commerce can overcome such an obstacle.

Instead of complaining at the police for enforcing the parking ordinance it would seem to us that in the first place if the police did not enforce it every merchant or other business man would demand its enforcement and second, that all other citizens interested in the progress of the city would have words of condemnation for the police.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Trading forces in the stock market had another slight attack of European "nerves" today and privaco. Trials were sold down fractions to around two points at the worst, and there were a few wider set-backs. Offerings were sufficiently plentiful at the opening to put the ticker tape behind for a while, but activity soon dwindled and mild buying support succeeded in steadying the list. Extreme losses were about halved in most cases near the four hours.

The recall of Wilson from Berlin to Washington for "consultation" helped stress brokerage worries over foreign affairs. Commodities were mixed and bonds trailed with stocks.

New York Cotton

New York, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened three to six lower on disappointing Liverpool cables and lower sterling.

March sold off from 8.54 to 8.50, leaving prices at net losses of five to nine points shortly after the first half hour.

At midday the list was six to eight points net lower with March at 8.50.

CONSIDER BOLD SCHEME TO FIND HOMES FOR JEWS

(Continued from page one) toward taking the lead in dealing with the plight of the Jews. The "Kennedy plan" it was understood, aims at moving Jews by tens of thousands into the British empire and into North and South America.

WOULD EXTEND DECREE POWER FOR DALADIER

(Continued from Page One) Deputies who favored the plan held it contained the only possibility for the premier to push through his reforms in domestic and foreign policies. This move was launched as the foreign office issued two decrees which deputies interpreted as an indication that Daladier was going steadily ahead with his campaign to make friends with Germany, despite the Nazi drive against Jews.

NEW PROBLEMS FACE STATE PWA PROJECTS

(Continued from Page One) Later and even more difficult puzzles will be presented by the even bigger projects such as the Department of Justice Building and the renovation and improvement plans for the State Hospitals at Raleigh, Morganton and Goldsboro. On both the Jackson and Blind school projects all bids were in excess of the sums allocated to them, something which caught the Governor and his advisers somewhat short—particularly in view of the fact that it is too late to reject bids and have architects revamp the plans so that they would not cost more than is available for the projects. In these two cases there is nothing to do but dig up the money elsewhere and go ahead. On later projects, the architects will be instructed to revise plans already made, doing away with all dispensable parts which might add beauty or symmetry, but which can be eliminated without irreparable harm to the projects. Governor Hoey said that for all projects the State proposed the prevailing wage levels as minima and in every single case, he added, the PWA authorities set the rate even higher. He added that there is no really serious threat to the program, just a bit of added worry and difficulty.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

New York—For a long time now I have been buying my peanuts from Ray Kinney. Mr. Kinney sells Hawaiian peanuts and a very fine peanut they are. Of course I realize you may not like Hawaiian peanuts, and in that case you do not have to take them. For on this island there are many fine peanut stands, and all of them offer a wide and extraordinary selection to choose from. There is, for example, Mr. Jimmy Dorsey's peanut stand. He sells a sort of sweetish peanut with a swing to it. Then there is Mr. Benny Goodman's stand. His goobers are altogether swing. I have various Cuban and South American friends who retail a peanut with a rhythmic and fascinating rumba hump. And if you must go further I can point out the Viennese and Russian as well.

But I intend to string along with Kinney for awhile. I sail for the palm trees and the steel guitar. To me the gentle swish of a little grass skirt is infinitely more desirable than the calm detachment of an Alice blue gown. Let the shrill Harlem trumpets go past. I will tune my ear to a vagrant trade wind. And while you are off looking for Flat Foot Floogie I will rest in the shade by the long blue legoom and let the cocoanuts bounce off my head. And so with a friendly nod to the Lombardos and all others I would like to suggest that the most pleasing influence on popular music in New York during the last couple of years has been Hawaiian. It wasn't sudden, like a war or a flood, and for that reason it hasn't gone out like a Johnny One Note. It was gradual and imperceptible, and it insinuated itself so subtly into the popular fancy that you never suspected or saw it coming, until you yawned one morning and started to hum something about Aloha, and you knew it was here.

The man largely responsible for this pleasant state of affairs is Ray Kinney. A year and a half ago he arrived in this town practically unknown. He opened the now famous Hawaiian room, and he caught on. He was here for along time. Then he went away, and while he was gone it was Lani McIntyre who took his place and did it so capably that he probably will come back to replace Ray again when he leaves sometime in January for a visit to the Islands.

Of course if there hadn't been a Hawaiian room there wouldn't be a definite Hawaiian trend in New York today. But Charley Rochester believed in the idea so strongly that he sent for Jac Lessman and told him to go ahead and build a room that would suit every need. Charley Rochester is managing director of the Lexington hotel, and Lessman is a famous interior decorator.
