PACT DRAFTED FOR ACTION AT LIMA MEETING

Represents Compromise Between U. S. and Argentina

MAY BE ENACTED BY WEEK'S END

Expresses Determination of Pan-American States to Defend Each Other

Lima, Peru, Dec. 20. (AP)—A resolution expressing the determination of Pan-American states to defend one another against aggression was sent to the Pan-American conference delegations today, with a likelihood it would be acted upon before the week-end.

The draft was prepared by A. M. Franco, the Brazilian chairman and represented a compromise between the United States wish for a declaration against incursion by non-American powers and Argentina's insistence upon condemnation of any aggression.

The compromise was said to be merely a stronger working of the 1936 Buenos Aires conference agreement, which provided for consultation if "Peace of the American republic is menaced."

Dr. C. Concha, Peruvian foreign minister, and M. Franco, in frequent contact with U. S. Secretary Hull, sought the wishes of the other delegations before the final draft is presented formally to the conference.

Indications were adjournment would be Monday or Tuesday and the 1943 conference would be at Bogota, Columbia.

Six Tried Today In County Court

Six defendants faced Judge Dink James in County court today on charges of larceny, driving drunk, rambling, escaping prison, or illegal traffic in liquor.

Clayton Williams and Izell Phillips, both Negroes, were charged with larceny. Phillips was acquitted and Williams was given a 90-day road sentence after pleading guilty to the charges.

Wilbur Dixon, Negro, was convicted of escaping from the Pitt County home, where he was serving a sentence, and was given eight months, to begin at the expiration of the present sentence.

James Lewis was convicted of being drunk on the highway and was given a 30-day sentence suspended upon payment of the costs and on further condition that he make satisfactory settlement for damages to the automobile of the prosecuting witness. The judgment also included a recommendation that the defendant's driving license be revoked eight months, or until anytime after 90 days, the defendant has made satisfactory settlement for the damaged car.

John Woodie was convicted of driving drunk and fined $50, taxed with the costs of court and had his license revoked for 12 months. The defendant appealed to Superior court.

Malichi House, Negro, was convicted of gambling and also on a liquor charge, and was given six months, suspended payment of $50, costs to be deducted. The judgment also stipulated that the defendant show good behavior for two years.

Home Bldg. & Loan Mailing Out Checks

J. J. White, secretary and treasurer of the Home Building and Loan Association announced today that the semi-annual dividends payable January 1st, 1939 and totaling approximately $8,500 were being paid today.

This association adopted the policy several years ago of paying the January 1st dividends on December 20th, so that its shareholders could enjoy their checks before Christmas.

U. S. Relief Director Invited Visit Germany

SUSPECT HELD IN N. C. DEATHS

Link Hospital Patient With Slayings In Burlington

Huntington, W. Va., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Federal agents announced today the detention of a patient at the Welch State hospital on suspicion he was one of a band of men which shot and killed two North Carolina police officers at Burlington, N. C., December 9.

Walter McLaughlin, agent in charge of the FBI here, said the patient was Wade Hanford, who was found unconscious on a slag pile on the outskirts of Welch, a southern West Virginia coal town, several days ago. He was taken to the hospital suffering from carbon monoxide poisoning.

Greenville Buys Own Bonds As Investment

The City of Greenville has just purchased $13,000 worth of its own bonds, it was revealed today by City Clerk J. O. Duval.

Munich Pact Considered Biggest Story Of 1938

By CHARLES HONCE Associated Press News Editor New York, Dec. 20.—Ever so often strong men gather around a table and remake the map of Europe; 1938 was one of the years of revision; the pact of Munich was the result.

The pact, negotiated by a new "big four," undoubtedly was the outstanding news event of the year as it eased tension in a world prepared for war, but it posed many questions for future solution.

The Congress of Vienna in 1915 remade Europe as an aftermath of the Napoleonic wars; the treaty of Versailles recarved a continent after the cataclysm of the World War. Now Munich has reoriented the affairs of Europe.

Asked to Help Financial Plan to Remove Jews

London, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Field Marshal Hermann Goering today invited George Rubie, American director of the International Refugee office, to visit Berlin to complete the German financial plan for getting Jews out of Germany.

Rubie is the permanent executive in charge of the International committee assisting refugees, a group whose principal efforts in the past months have been spent toward aiding German Jews.

Employment Unit Observing Holiday

North Carolina State Employment Service offices will be closed for the Christmas holidays from Friday at 12 o'clock noon, until Tuesday, December 27, it was announced today by W. G. Cherry, Jr., manager of the Greenville office.

Flaming U. S. Coast Guard Craft Crashes in Texas

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 20.—(AP)—A flaming U. S. Coast Guard plane crashed 30 miles northwest of here, killing four men late last night.

FOUR DEAD IN PLANE CRASH

The dead were identified as Lieut. P. S. Lyons, Unit Commander of the Coast Guard at El Paso; Rupert Germaine, U. S. Coast Guard, El Paso; George Latham, enlisted man, Fort Bliss, El Paso; C. H. Peague, U. S. Naval ensign, El Paso.

Germany Steps Up

For one thing, the balance of power in continental politics passed from France and her friends to Germany, which bit through the restraining wall of Czechoslovakia for a clear view to the southeast.

Indicted for Violation Of Sherman Anti-Trust Act

INVOLVE AFFAIRS HEALTH GROUPS

Spokesman American Medical Assn. Says Case to be Fought to the Limit

Washington, Dec. 20.—(AP)—The American Medical Association, three local medical societies and 21 individual physicians were indicted today by a federal grand jury for violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust act.

The societies named were the Medical Society of the District of Columbia, the Harris County (Texas) Medical Society and the Washington (D. C.) Academy of Surgery.

Among the 21 physicians indicted were Dr. Olin West, secretary of the American Medical Association; Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the American Medical Association's journal; Dr. Arthur Christie, prominent Washington radiologist; and Dr. Prentiss Willson, who recently co-operated in filing a suit against the Washington Group Health association, charging that group of health physicians had injured his practice in furnishing medical service through the association.

Others indicted are officials of the American Medical Association or its affiliated societies.

The Department of Justice instituted proceedings against the American Medical Association last October, charging that it was acting in restraint of trade, in violation of the Anti-Trust act.

Specifically it charged that the association, some local societies and individual physicians were preventing other physicians and co-operative medical organizations from supplying medical service by refusing membership in medical societies to individual physicians who joined such groups.

Particularly involved were the affairs of group health association, Inc.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Dr. Morris Fishbein, spokesman for the American Medical Association, when informed of the federal indictments returned in Washington today for violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust act, said:

"The house of delegates has authorized the board of directors of the American Medical Association to defend the FBI to the limit."

Local Workers Share In Increased Profits

The approximately 45 employees of the Ornage Crush bottling plant here, owned and operated by M. O. Minges, last night were given a portion of the increased profits of this year over last year, the employees' fund amounting to over $6,500.

Mr. Minges said the fund represented a bonus, but in accordance with a custom he has practiced heretofore, the employees share in all profit in excess of that realized the previous year.

FOUR DEAD IN PLANE CRASH

Flaming U. S. Coast Guard Craft Crashes in Texas

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 20.—(AP)—A flaming U. S. Coast Guard plane crashed 30 miles northwest of here, killing four men late last night.

The dead were identified as Lieut. P. S. Lyons, Unit Commander of the Coast Guard at El Paso; Rupert Germaine, U. S. Coast Guard, El Paso; George Latham, enlisted man, Fort Bliss, El Paso; C. H. Peague, U. S. Naval ensign, El Paso.

The body of Peague was located until early today, although it was only a few feet from the wreckage.

Salme, Mass., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Lieut. Perry S. Lyons, 34, killed in a plane crash northwest of San Antonio, Texas, last night, won wide fame as a "mercy pilot" during two and a half years as commander of the Coast Guard air base here.

In dead of winter or in the middle of night, the service's ambulance plane frequently flew seaward to the aid of some stricken seaman.

PROBE THEORY ABOUT COSTER

Think Munitions Intended for China's General Chiang

New York, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Federal authorities, delving into the fantastic story that Philip Musica, as F. Donald Coster, respect president of McKesson and Robbins, Inc., tried to sell 2,000,000 rifles and 100,000,000 rounds of ammunition to some unidentified nation, turned today to a report they might have been destined to the Chinese General Chiang Kai-Shek.

Under questioning by Gregory Noonan, acting U. S. attorney, and other federal officials, was Thomas B. Bruni, a promoter, and Frederick Wingersky, a vice-president in charge of law and labor relations for the $87,000,000 drug firm which Coster-Musica dominated.

The New York Post said Bruni told the federal authorities that he was approached last spring by the agents of the Chinese general and then got in touch with Ben Simon of the Bronx, a promoter who worked at different times for McKesson and Robbins.

Simon's name was injected into the investigation yesterday, when he disclosed that Coster-Musica had asked him last May to draft the contract for the purchase of 2,000,000 new Lee-Enfield rifles and the cartridges.

The contract, Wingersky told Assistant Attorney General A. McCall of the Securities Bureau, was never consummated so far he knew.

Wingersky was also questioned today. Coster-Musica, facing re-arrest last Friday on the charge of violating the securities act of 1934, committed suicide a few hours after he was unmasked as the "brains" of a quarter century old swindle.

His three brothers, George Dietrich-Musica, assistant treasurer and assistant vice-president; George Bernard-Arthur Musica—Canadian agent for the drug firm; and Robert Dietrich-Musica, of the firm's shipping department in Fairfield, Conn., each held in $100,000 bond, were questioned anew today by federal officials.

EUROPE HIT BY COLD WEATHER

Heavy Toll in Loss of Lives in Various Countries

London, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Winter rolled up a heavy toll of lives in many European countries today.

A ferry boat creeping through the icy Tagus river at Lisbon struck a dredge and sank, with 25 of the 70 ferry passengers believed drowned.

More than 20 deaths were attributed to the cold, 23 degrees above zero, in England. A violent north-east wind foiled relief for the three keepers at a lighthouse off the coast of County Cork, Ireland.

Paris and suburbs counted nine dead. Hundreds of barges were caught in frozen northern French canals. Railroad signals froze in Scandinavia, delaying continental expresses. Norway had the lowest temperature yesterday, 25 below zero. Sweden was second with 20 below.

Plenty of J's

The initial "J" is the most popular among county officials the first name in each of the four elective offices located in the court house beginning with that letter.

They are Clerk of Court J. Frank Harrington, Register of Deeds J. C. Gaskins, Treasurer J. Vance Perkins and Sheriff J. Knott Proctor.

In addition J. N. Williams is chairman of the County board of commissioners and J. H. Coward is county auditor.

LARGE THROG GREET'S SANTA

Winners of Best Decorated Store Front Revealed

A crowd estimated at 5,000 greeted Santa Claus on his pre-Christmas arrival in Greenville last night and the be-whiskered old gentleman will remain on the streets and in the various stores each day and night through Saturday.

Greenville stores will remain open each evening this week for the convenience of shoppers who do not find the time to get up town during the regular day-light hours.

Hill Home drug store was awarded the first prize in the best decorated front contest; Van Dyke furniture store was second; Blount-Harvey third and Nisbet's fourth. The prizes were $10, $7.50, $5.00 and $2.50, respectively.

A large part of the crowd here to greet Santa last night came from various points in the county and elsewhere in the Greenville trading territory.

Santa paraded from the Atlantic Coast Line railroad tracks on Dickson avenue to Evans, thence to the court house grounds. The parade was led by the Greenville high school band, with Boy Scouts also participating. Members of the state highway patrol and local police force also took part in the parade, especially in helping to keep things going off in the best order possible.

State Highway Truck Involved in Collision

A State Highway truck driven by Willie Gray Pollard of Farmville and a passenger automobile operated by Robert Henry Rawls of Tarboro, route one, were involved in a collision at the intersection of two dirt roads at Penny Hill about 6 o'clock this morning.

Patrolman C. H. Williams, investigation officer, said the two vehicles were damaged, but no one was injured. The truck was hauling equipment. No charges were preferred against either driver.

Thirty-Seven Still On List Of Opportunities

A number of local citizens have taken Christmas opportunities since the publication of yesterday's list and several more needy cases have been added to the list today, leaving the total number of untaken "Opportunities" thirty-seven. Mrs. Will Whedbee, who is in charge of placing the needy cases stated at noon today that it was hoped that most of the cases could be placed by tomorrow. She again urged everyone who could or would take one of these needy cases for Christmas to do so at once. She pointed out that if one felt that he or she could not care for an entire family that the donation of any articles of food or clothing or cash sent direct to the Thrift Shop would be used to the best advantage in caring for untaken cases.

In addition to the list of contributors published yesterday the following have taken one or more cases or have made contributions to the cause: Judson Blount, J. B. Kittrell, John Webb, N. O. VanNortwick, Jr., Carl Adams, Ollie VanNortwick, Sr., M. L. Brinkley, J. Roy Martin, Tommie Thomas, B. W. Moseley, David Mossier, Wyatt Brown, Dr. A. M. Schultz, John Proctor, Rufus Keel, L. A. Stroud, Hugh Winslow, S. G. Wilkerson, W. G. Cherry, T. Y. Walker, W. L. Allen, Jack Spain, Phil Goodson, W. K. Young, Miss Deanie Boone Haskett, Towne Club, T. J. and Lillie Allen.

HELP CHILDREN WITH BAD EYES

Bethel-Farmville Rotarians Sponsor Eye-Glass Clinic

The Bethel Rotary Club recently decided to sponsor an eye glass clinic for poor children of Pitt County and upon invitation of the Bethel civic organization, the Farmville Rotary Club joined them in the sponsorship of the eye glass fund, Dr. N. Thomas Emmet, county health officer, announced today.

In order to be eligible for the clinic, the child must be certified by K. T. Putrell, welfare officer. All children have their eyes tested by the health officer in the school building.

Accept Contributions After Seal Sale Ends

Although the sale of Christmas Seals closes officially December 25, the committee will welcome contributions this week.

"At this season of the year, more than any other, thoughts turn to home" Dr. N. T. Emmet, chairman of the Pitt County Tuberculosis Seal sale said. "At this holiday time, too, we think of those people who are not as fortunate as we. Some homes have been struck by tragedies such as tuberculosis. No home is safe from tuberculosis until all homes are safe, contribution to the anti-tuberculosis campaign shows the true Christmas spirit."

Slight Blaze Occurs In Greenville Today

Members of the Greenville fire department were called to extinguish a minor blaze caused by a short circuit at Aske's Market this morning around 5:30 o'clock.

The electrical irregularity was said to have taken place in an electric motor used for operating a cold storage unit in the market. Except for slight smoke damage, little or no loss was experienced.

J. J. Boyd Gets Early Start For 1939 Crop

J. J. Boyd of Richlands, while visiting in the city today, reported that he set out a bed of tobacco December 13.

This is one of the earliest reports for tobacco planting reaching the city thus far this year. Mr. Boyd has had the distinction of being one of the first farmers to report having set out a bed of tobacco in previous seasons.

Mr. Boyd, well-known in local tobacco circles, sells most of his tobacco on the Greenville market.

AFL MEMBERS SURVEY PLANS FOR CONGRESS

Legislative Program Being Studied By 102 Unions

ASKING REVISION OF WAGNER ACT

Meanwhile, Germany Offers Full Benefits to Americans for Inheritance Credits

Washington, Dec. 20.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor called together today the representatives of its 102 unions to survey its legislative program for the next Congress, including revision of the Wagner labor act.

Housing, relief and the President's government reorganization bill also were expected to be discussed.

Federation attorneys were working on drafts of amendments to the Wagner act, approved at the annual convention. Their exact nature has not been indicated. The conventional also voted to oppose confirmation of Donald W. Smith for another term on the Labor Relations Board.

The Federation opposed the government reorganization bill in the last session.

The Federation is expected to support continuation of the relief program.

Other developments: Germany notified the United States that all inheritance credits due Americans on the estates of persons deceased in Germany hereafter will be transferred to the beneficiaries in full.

The announcement, brought to the State Department this morning by Dr. Hans Thomsen, German Charge d'Affaires, thames one of the lesser points of friction between the two governments.

Americans heretofore have not been able to collect their full inheritances on German estates because of exchange restrictions forbidding money to leave Germany. The matter was discussed by Sumner Welles, acting Secretary of State, with Ambassador Hans Dieckhoff shortly before the latter's recent departure for Germany.

Resignation of the Commerce Department's business advisory council in order to give the next Secretary of Commerce a free hand in choosing industrial leaders was proposed within this group of 54 business leaders.

Ambassador Josephus Daniels arrived from Mexico to confer with State Department officials.

The ambassador, accompanied by Mrs. Daniels, said he would leave for his home in Raleigh tomorrow for the holidays.

Commission Sells $226,000 In Bonds

Raleigh, Dec. 20.—(AP)—The Local Government commission sold $226,000 worth of bonds for local units today.

The full commission met for its regular quarterly session and reviewed work done since the last meeting. The biennial report for the 1939 legislature was approved, Secretary W. E. Easterling said.

The Federal Public Works Administration bought at par, with interest at four per cent, a $33,000 Princeton water and sewer securities issue.

A Henderson $55,000 sanitary sewer bond issue was sold to Scott, Forner and Mason of Lynchburg, Va., at a premium of $119, with the first $29,000 of securities bearing 3 and 3-4 per cent interest and the remainder 3 1-2 per cent.

The commission authorized the Washington public school district of Beaufort county to issue $10,000 refunding bonds.

Hostesses At Bridge.
On Friday evening Miss Christine Johnston and Miss Eva Keeter entertained at a delightful party at the home of Miss Johnston.

A beautiful Christmas tree, pine, holly, and candles decorated the room where three tables were placed for bridge.

At the conclusion of the game, Miss Estelle Greene was given a hand painted vase for making high score, and Miss Jane Hadley a hand painted bon bon dish for low score.

The holiday motif was carried out in the tallies and in the delicious salad course served by the hostesses.

On Saturday afternoon Miss Christine Johnston was again hostess to six tables of bridge.

Mrs. E. E. Rawl was presented the prize for making high score, and Miss Eva Hodges won the prize for low score.

The refreshments and prizes were similar to those of the previous evening.

Christian Science Church.
"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, Dec. 18.

The golden text was from Isaiah 48:12-13. "Heaven unto me, O Jacob and Israel, my called; I am he; I am the first, I also am the last. Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made." (John 1:1-3).

The lesson-sermon also included

These Ten Stories in 1937

1. Supreme Court fight

2. Labor's split.

3. Sino-Japanese and Spanish wars.

4. Hindenburg Zeppelin disaster.

5. Recession and efforts to check it.

6. Windsor-Warfield marriage.

7. Texas school explosion.

8. Amelia Earhart's last flight

9. Coronation of George VI.

10. Ohio and Mississippi flood.

In November the system of two-party government in the United States received a boost as Republican candidates made sweeping gains in national, state and local governments following an almost total failure of an administration attempt to purge dissent Democrats. New figures—mostly younger men—appeared on the Republican horizon as politicians began to assess the election results in terms of 1940.

The year was met without its disasters—floods in California, a tragic train wreck in Montana and deadly airplane crashes in California and Ohio—but overshadowing all was the devastating hurricane that slashed the northeast—the country's richest and most populous territory.

Hurricane Hits East

Complacently, easterners had read of a tropical storm moving in from the Caribbean, apparently headed for Florida. Florida knew how to handle storms. Presently the disturbance was coming up the Atlantic seaboard. Still no cause for alarm; it would spend itself soon.

Then, unexpectedly, it struck in full fury in New York City, on Long Island and through New England. Five hundred died and damage amounted into the millions.

As the war in China moved through its second year, Hankow finally fell, and the Japanese entered the great South China city of Canton, adjacent to the vital British port of Hong Kong, without a struggle. And yet the war goes on as the Japanese move ever deeper into a country that won't give up.

Unsettled, likewise, is the exchange between Japan and the United States over the "open door," and the situation on the Siberian-Korean border, where the Japanese and the Russian fought an inconclusive battle, still is ominous.

In assessing the best stories of a year there always is conflict between those that will find a place in history books and those that are one day wonders only.

689 And $500,000

In the latter category must be placed the incredible "wrong way" flight of 31-year-old Douglas Corrigan from New York to Dublin in an antiquated, single motored, nine-year old "crate." The unsanctioned and unpiloted jump of 3,150 miles was made in a little over 28 hours at a cost of $69.60. Corrigan had exactly $15 in his jeans when he landed, but he has picked up a nice piece of change since—money due an intrepid young man who dared the impossible.

Against the $69 flight of Corrigan, consider the perfectly ordered $500,000 dash around the world of Howard Hughes, millionaire Californian. Without any particular fanfare, Hughes and four companions circled 15,000 miles of globe in 91 hours and 17 minutes, halving the previous Wiley Post record.

Other Outstanding Events: Louis Knocks out Schmeling; Queen Marie dies; CIO becomes permanent organization; Richard Whitney goes to prison; Yanks win third straight world pennant; wage hour bill goes into effect; New Deal reorganization plan defeated; Mexico and U. S. clash over land and oil seizures; business revives as pump priming proceeds; British-Italian pact becomes effective; Hines ministerial spotlights Prosecutor Dewey; British-Canadian-American trade treaties are signed; Cash-Levine-Fried kidnapings make headlines; 23 school children die in Utah bus accident; forty-six die in Montana train wreck.

NEW YEAR'S LOVE

by Angela Lorden

The Characters

Noel Marchand, a beautiful young actress.
Allan Collings, a young man Noel likes.
David Norris, Noel's wealthy suitor.

Yesterday Noel and Mrs. Marchand select people for the Christmas house party. Noel learns that Elaine, Allan's old love, has returned, divorced.

Chapter Five

Christmas Shopping

I WISH we could go into rehearsals tomorrow!
Eagerly, Noel leaned across the table toward Douglas Swanstrom, her eyes lighted with enthusiasm. She and David were having luncheon in the Chinese Room with the stage producer.

David had sat by quietly while Swanstrom told Noel casually that the play he was considering might be started before the holidays. "The lead's just suited to you," was the way he told her she would be in it.

In the sudden wave of hope that filled her as she heard his calmly uttered remark, Noel forgot everything else—loneliness, the coming Christmas, everything but the possibility that she might be working again.

"Douglas, you don't know what it means to me. The last two engagements were such disaster." Swanstrom sipped his coffee and relaxed in his chair. He smiled at David, who was being quiet on his side of Noel.

"Now don't get too excited, Noel," he suggested. "It all depends on Dixon. He has to rewrite the third act and you know how unreliable that self-estimated genius is. He'll promise anything. But he's sworn he'll have the revised script by Monday."

"I'll feel like poisoning him if he doesn't," Noel vehemently exclaimed. She looked closely at Swanstrom as she asked slowly, "But I thought you said there was no possibility of getting the backing until after the holidays?"

Swanstrom chuckled and looked over at David. "Well, maybe a Christmas angel came early this year, dear," was the only information he offered.

Noel gazed searchingly at David. Could David be planning an angel role—and why? "It couldn't be by any chance be you in the role of play angel, could it, David?"

Norris' face flushed. He sent a furtive glance to Swanstrom. "Whatever would make you think of such a thing?" was all that he answered.

They talked about casting and sets and the possibility of the right theater.

"I was crazy about the part of Glida when I read the first draft," Noel said it like a prayer. "And I'm sure with the revisions you mention it's bound to go over."

"Only time and the public can tell about that," was the way Swanstrom put it.

It was only after Swanstrom had left them, and Noel told David she was meeting Mrs. Marchand and her son to shop for the gifts they would have for the Christmas party, David remarked:

"But, Noel, if the plans for the play go through you won't be able to visit them."

"That's true, Noel's voice came slowly, reluctantly. "But the play's more important than anything else in the world—you know that, David. Though I really would hate to miss that beautiful party."

"A Lot Of Waiting"
DAVID didn't answer her. They left the Chinese Room and as they walked through the lobby, David said in what he tried to make a casual voice:

"Before you joined us, Swanstrom asked me when we were getting married." He looked down on the flushed face of the girl beside him. "I'd like to be able to tell him tomorrow, darling." He bent his head down to her as he said it.

"David, please, not now—there's so much else to worry about. Wait until after things are more settled for me."

"I've been doing quite a lot of waiting, you know," David's voice was tinged with bitterness.

Noel slight from the cab, he crossed the sidewalk.
"I thought you'd never come," but he smiled as he said it.
"You're awfully impatient about waiting for people, aren't you, Allan?" Noel offered her hand and they went into the shop together.

"Mother had a slight headache and we thought she'd better stay in her room for a few hours," Allan explained. "Too much excitement, I suppose."

Sincere concern filled Noel's words. "I'm so sorry about your mother—and I wish you could stir up a little enthusiasm about the plan."

As she stopped at the handkerchiefs counter, Noel remarked, "I'll miss you both when you go home tomorrow."

Allan pulled her arm playfully. "But you'll be coming up soon, don't forget that."

They dashed through the shops, examining and rejecting dozens of things for the guests they had never seen.

"A muffler's the thing for Archie, the Miceuse," Allan decided. "I remember he was always so cold."

They chose a warm woolen scarf with blue figures in it and then decided that men always needed scarves, so they got a gray and white one for the jobless young architect, Tommy.

"I wonder what Mrs. Barton's like," Noel conjectured. "I've an idea she's so tiny."

Allan threw back his head and laughed. "You obviously haven't met too many navy widows," he said. "My guess is she's buxom."

They discussed the hundred possibilities of their prospective guests' preferences and Allan bought more than Noel thought he should. Handkerchiefs, a bag for Mrs. Barton—and even perfume for the two younger girls.

"We'll have a Christmas tree?" Noel asked hopefully.

"Of course. What would Christmas be without candy canes and red balls hanging from a tree?" Allan retorted.

"And a Santa Claus, and the Star of Bethlehem."

Broken Baubles
THEY went swinging along, dashing in doorways, hurrying over blocks, and they stopped together in front of a five-and-ten.

"We'll need some more ornaments," Allan explained.

So they fought their way through the crowds round every counter. "We'll have to carry these," Noel reminded him as Allan rounded up dozens of gaily colored balls and miles of tinsel.

And just when they thought they had enough for ten trees, Allan spied some gleaming silver stars and they had to go back for them and they had to go back for them and they had to go back for them.

Both pairs of arms were laden with the light, bulky boxes. By the time Allan had signaled a taxi and got them both in it, one of his rolls of tinsel had become unwrapped and he was dragging a strand of the glistening stuff after him.

They sank back into the comfortable seat of the cab. "We need some reviving after this exploit," Allan announced, and he directed the driver to the Star Club.

People turned after them and smiled as they made their way to a table in the well-filled cocktail room. Allan wouldn't check the packages. "They'd get smashed," he insisted.

HOLLY GARDEN IS ADVOCATED

Suggested As Means Preserving Christmas Greens

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Dec. 20.—Planting of Christmas green gardens as a means of relieving the shortage of Christmas greens, especially of holly, was today warmly urged by State Forester J. S. Holmes, of the Department of Conservation and Development. The plan has been advocated by the Garden Club of America's conservation committee.
