"THE ZULUS ARE COMING" — Trucks carrying Zulus armed with knives and clubs proceed through Johannesburg's suburb-ghetto of Soweto Thursday. For the fourth straight day Zulus chanting a tribal war cry, ranged through the area attacking other blacks who had attempted a labor boycott. At one point some 700 residents sought refuge around a police station when frightened women started yelling "The Zulus are coming!" (AP Wirephoto)

N.C. Education Bd. Ups Budget Request

KALEIGH (AP) — The State Board of Education has agreed to seek a $620 million budget increase for the next biennium that would include a 20 per cent pay raise for teachers and expansion of the reading program for the first three grades.

The legislature probably will not grant all of the request, several board members said. "What they are, in effect, doing is laying out the needs," said Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt, a member of the panel.

The North Carolina Association of Educators and A. Craig Phillips, superintendent of public instruction, have supported a 20 per cent pay increase for teachers.

If the request is granted by the legislature, teachers would get a 10 per cent pay increase next July 1 followed by another 10 per cent the July 1, 1978. State officials have estimated that the raise package for public school and community college teachers would cost about $316 million in the two-year budget period.

Two years ago, the board made a similar proposal but economic problems of that period resulted in the legislature not giving any teachers and state workers any pay increase in 1975 then giving them 4 per cent plus $300 a year this year.

The board also supported a request for $45 million to expand the reading program in grades one, two and three. Hunt has pushed that program and has been one of his key issues in his campaign for governor.

The reading program received $2.7 million in the current biennium and will be ordered this fall in 300 classrooms. The board proposed expanding the program to 2,723 classrooms in 1977-78 and 5,446 classes the next year.

Under the program, teachers get additional training, assistance and materials to emphasize teaching youngsters how to read.

The board also gave high priority to spending $27 million for programs for exceptional children and $8.4 million for occupational education.

Smaller class sizes at the junior high and kindergarten levels were also called for in the budget request. Last May, the legislature ordered the kindergarten program fully implemented this fall — two years ahead of schedule — and allowed the number of pupils to be raised from a maximum of 26 to 28.

In the community college request, the budget proposal calls for additional instructors so the student-teacher ratio can be reduced from the current one-to-27 to one-to-22.

The board also agreed with a recommendation of the policy committee and decided to accept a $44,000 federal grant to plan a statewide career education program for grades seven through 12.

Index Trend Is Still 'Up'

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government index designed to show future trends in the economy increased five-tenths of a per cent in July, the 17th straight month it has pointed upward, the Commerce Department reported today.

The 17-month gain is the longest since it rose for 20 consecutive months from December of 1953 through July of 1955.

Known as the composite index of leading indicators, the index has shown continuing strength even though other government indexes — on prices, economic growth and employment — have turned sluggish.

It likely will lend support to Ford administration arguments that the economy still is growing, although it may be growing slower. Some economists out of government have wondered whether the economy may be braking to a halt again.

The Commerce Department said the indicators index, which is based on 12 statistical measures of the economy, rose to 109.5 in July. The five-tenths of a per cent gain was over a revised June index that showed a nine-tenths of 1 per cent increase over May, instead of the three-tenths of 1 per cent gain reported earlier.

The major strength in the July index, the agency said, was in the increase in building permits, which grew sharply during the month.

Other positive statistics were a reduction in the job layoff rate, increases in contracts and orders for plant and equipment, the rising stock prices, the money supply and net business formation.

On the negative side were statistics for the average work week, delivery time for ordered goods, changes in liquid assets, changes in sensitive prices and new orders for manufactured and consumer goods.

Grifton Town Clerk, Nan Smith listed the following uses for the grant: housing, $74,000; relocation payment and assistance, $4,000; code enforcement, $2,000; paving, $16,000; administration, $6,000 and planning, $1,000.

'The War Is Over' Says Zulu Leader Report Shocks Dutch

By BRIAN JEFFRIES
Association Press Writer
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A stone-throwing mob of blacks confronted police briefly in Soweto today, but the big ghetto south of Johannesburg was reported "reasonably quiet" after three days of battle in which at least 31 blacks were killed.

Police said the mob was quickly dispersed.

"The war is over," said a leader of the Zulu tribesmen who had been on a rampage since Tuesday. Chief Gatsha Buthelezi, the national leader of the tribe, arrived in Johannesburg, apparently to meet with Soweto Zulus.

He appealed earlier to his people to calm down "so we can have a review of what has caused events to come to this sad end."

Deputy Police Commissioner D.J. Kriel said police gunfire had killed 10 blacks in Soweto since the start of a three-day mass work boycott last Monday, and 21 more were killed in fighting between Zulu migratory workers living in barrack-like hostels and permanent black residents of the sprawling, segregated township.

The boycott was ordered by the outlawed African National Congress, and today its headquarters-in-exile in Tanzania called on students and workers in South Africa to broaden the scope of the protest against the white-minority government.

The war in Soweto began Monday evening when militant supporters of the work boycott set upon a group of Zulus who had been to work in Johannesburg in defiance of the strike called to protest the white government's racial policies.

The Zulus reportedly killed seven of the other blacks, and the next day a crowd burned a Zulu hostel. A mob of about 1,500 Zulus ran wild through the big black township south of Johannesburg, burning, raping and killing. Retaliatory attacks followed quickly, and the warfare spread across much of Soweto's 26 square miles.

The war cry of "Usuthu!" — "A united Zulu nation!" — rang through the streets as terrified women ran to police stations screaming, "The Zulus are coming! The Zulus are coming!"

Students fled from their schools as mobs attacked with knives and clubs. A police officer said trucks carried "troops of Zulus" to districts of the township where their fellow tribesmen were hardest pressed, raising the suspicion that the government was using them against its militant foes.

Police spokesmen repeatedly denied press reports indicating that the police were siding with the Zulus. The Johannesburg Star said its reporters, residents of Soweto, and members of a Zulu cultural movement called Inkatha "are all adamant that the police did not take vigorous action against the Zulu workers in the early stages of the trouble."

A police spokesman said the paper's report was "an infamous lie."

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands (AP) — Government leaders and Queen Juliana stood together today to protect the Dutch monarchy from the disgrace of her husband's involvement in the Lockheed scandal.

Highly placed sources said the queen endorsed the government's decision to force Prince Bernhard, her 65-year-old consort, into retirement. Official spokesmen said none of the five parties in Premier Joop den Uyl's left-center coalition government wanted the queen to abdicate.

The premier announced to parliament and the shocked Dutch people Thursday that Bernhard was resigning from all his public and private offices because of the report of an investigation into allegations that Lockheed Aircraft Corp. paid him $1.1 million to influence the Dutch armed forces to buy its aircraft.

The three-man commission concluded that the prince, whose chief government office was inspector general of the armed forces, had been "extremely imprudent and unwise" in his dealings with the U.S. firm.

The commission said it could find no hard evidence that Bernhard received the money. He has denied it. But the commission said it could not rule out the possibility the money reached him without being recorded in the royal household's books.

Belfast Family Killed

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A young couple and their 10-month-old daughter burned to death early today in a firebomb attack that destroyed three houses in the Roman Catholic New Lodge area of West Belfast.

Police said three youths were seen running from the scene.

A neighbor of the dead family, Joseph and Jeanette Dempster and their baby daughter, Sharon, said she saw Mrs. Dempster at an upstairs bedroom window shouting for help.

"The ground floor of the house was an inferno with flames shooting from the window," said the neighbor. "Several men broke in the door of the Dempsters' home to try to get to the bedroom, but they were beaten back by the fierce flames."

"Then there was a loud crash as the bedroom floor gave way, and Mrs. Dempster disappeared screaming from the window into the flames below." Neighbors said the Dempsters moved into the house only recently.

Joint Meeting On Saturday

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — North Korea and the United Nations Command agreed today to convene the joint armistice commission on Saturday for another exchange over the killing of two U.S. Army officers by North Korean guards, the U.N. Command said.

The meeting was set for 5 p.m. — 4 a.m. EDT — Saturday at Panmunjom, the truce village where the slaying took place. The U.N. Command had requested it for today but agreed to the one-day delay asked by North Korea.

Allied officials said the two sides would discuss the Aug. 18 incident and measures to prevent similar disputes in the future.

Two-Way Traffic

Effective today, the one-block section of Evans Street from Second to Third Streets became a two-way traffic facility, according to City Engineer Charlie Holliday.

Holliday said that the one-block segment of Evans, which has been designated for one-way usage for years, is being opened for two-way traffic in order to give a more maneuverable traffic pattern to serve the needs of motorists seeking access to the mall area.

He pointed out that the two-way usage of Evans in that area should also give more flexibility and maneuverability around the courthouse area.

The one-block segment will be properly signalized, according to Holliday, and parking along Evans will continue until such time as traffic demands necessitate a reevaluation of the situation.

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Coy C. Privette, saying he was the only Republican who can beat Jim Hunt, today called for a runoff against David Flaherty for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Privette had the right to a runoff by virtue of just 264 votes, the difference between Flaherty's total and a majority of votes cast in last week's primary.

Privette had 32.5 per cent of the vote to Flaherty's 49.8 per cent. Nonetheless he said he could overtake Flaherty in the two campaign weeks remaining before the Sept. 14 runoff. Privette cited two factors to bolster his contention.

The first primary turnout of 19 per cent "was so low that we almost had a non-election. This was partly due to the fact that for the first time we had a primary in August when children were out of school and many people were on vacation."

Privette predicted that a higher turnout would take place in September when the attention of the press will be focused on the Republican race and more voters will be at home.

He also said that the Republican presidential race had diverted the energies and attention of many con-

Betty McCain Is Named N.C. Democrat Leader

RALEIGH (AP) — Democratic gubernatorial nominee Jim Hunt, exercising his new prerogatives as leader of the state party, today named Betty McCain of Wilson the first female chairman of the North Carolina Democratic party.

She will replace New Bern attorney James Sugg, who offered Hunt his resignation this week.

Hunt called on the state party executive committee to meet on Sept. 18 and confirm his choice. The committee traditionally allows the gubernatorial nominee to pick the party chairman.

Hunt said Mrs. McCain, 45, "has shown that she has the enthusiastic, energetic leadership ability that I believe our party needs if it is to win in the fall."

In addition, Mrs. McCain is a neighbor of Hunt's in Wilson County and was co-chairman of his primary campaign. She is a member of the University of North Carolina Board of Governors and a former vice chairman of the party.

BETTY MCCAIN

Sugg was appointed head of the party in 1972 by Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles, the gubernatorial nominee.

Reliable sources told the Associated Press that Sugg's resignation was not demanded by Hunt. "Jim just felt he ought to get out after four years and allow Hunt to put his own man in," one source said.

Sugg said he expected the party executive committee to meet by mid-September to consider Hunt's choice.

The sources said that Sugg's resignation was not demanded by Hunt. "Jim just felt he ought to get out after four years and allow Hunt to put his own man in," one source said.

Traditionally, the party's gubernatorial nominee may choose the state party chairman. Sugg, an attorney and former state legislator, took over at Bowles' direction.

HONOR GUARD?
A friend of mine, a World War II veteran, died and his wife, acting on his wishes, requested a military funeral. She was refused. I think the servicemen have been forgotten. T. P.

HOTLINE talked with Lt. Gaynor in the Mortuary Officer's office at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base. He said the Seymour Johnson unit seeks to send honor guard to all funerals of active duty and retired Air Force personnel, in certain zip codes areas which extend as far away as 250 miles into Virginia. Whenever possible, it also tries to serve at funerals of active and retired personnel from other branches of the Armed Services within a 50-mile radius of the base. It will also attempt to participate in funerals of honorably discharged veterans, he said, within a 50-mile radius if its schedule permits. However, those of active duty personnel must take priority, with retired personnel second, and veterans next.

An honor guard includes pall bearers, a firing squad, a color guard, a bugler, and sometime a chaplain. "We have two guards, which alternate, but even so we often have conflicts and cannot fill all the requests we get," Lt. Gaynor said. "If we cannot assist, we try to refer requests to local American Legion and VFW groups, which can sometime provide virtually the same service."

Most funeral homes are familiar with who to call, he said. Logically a funeral home would start with the nearest installation of the branch of service in which the deceased person served.

Privette Calls For Runoff Against Flaherty

"expose Hunt for the big spending liberal he really is."

Flaherty scheduled a news conference later this morning to give his reaction to Privette's announcement.

On Thursday, he had little doubt that Privette would challenge him and he said he would not change the campaign plan he adopted in the hours following last week's primary, when he thought he had a clear majority. "We're going to campaign against Hunt," Flaherty said. He and his staff plan to have prominent supporters answer whatever charges Privette might make.

But Flaherty acknowledged that he was worried that the runoff would add more bitterness to a party already sharply split by the presidential campaign and make it harder to beat Hunt.

'Mystery Disease' Not Solved

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — City and federal health officials have termed "inconclusive" and "a long-shot possibility" a report that poisonous nickel carbonyl gas might have caused the mysterious legionnaires' disease.

Dr. F. William Sunderman Jr., who headed a research team at the University of Connecticut, suggested the highly toxic gas as a possible cause when he reported finding potentially fatal levels of nickel in tissue samples taken from five victims of the disease.

Dr. Lewis Polk, acting city health commissioner, Thursday called it an "interesting theory," but only a "long-shot possibility at best."

"If it was nickel carbonyl gas in the air as the Connecticut study postulates, then why didn't all the thousands of other persons in the city at that time get sick?" asked Dr. Polk. "They all breathed the same air."

In Atlanta, a spokesman for the federal Center for Disease Control called the Connecticut findings "inconclusive."

Tests similar to those done by Sunderman were conducted by researchers at the center, said Don Berreth. Some tissue samples showed higher than normal levels of nickel, he said, but others did not.

Meanwhile, two persons who died after attending the International Eucharistic Congress at Philadelphia have been added to the list of disease victims.

The sickness has stricken 177 persons, including 28 who died. All but seven were connected in some way with a state American Legion convention headquartered here at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel July 21-24.

The latest deaths were the first attributed to the illness among persons who had attended the Eucharistic Congress, a worldwide gathering of Roman Catholics held here Aug. 1-8.

Stanley Kuczek, 62, of Munster, Ind., became ill Aug. 11 after returning home from the congress, and Sister Mildred Trzil, 71, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, became sick at her home Aug. 12. Their deaths were reported Thursday.

Morton Rose, deputy state health secretary, said the latest deaths could have been caused by common pneumonia. But he said they were added to the list of disease victims because they met the criteria established to assist health officials in their investigation.

'No-Jump Julie' Finally Jumped; Missed Target

By STEVE WEINER
Associated Press Writer
SEATTLE (AP) — "No Jump Julie" finally jumped, not from the Tacoma Narrows Bridge but from a 45-foot platform at a county fair. She is in the intensive care unit of a hospital today.

Julie Kellum, 24, three times has gone to the Tacoma Narrows Bridge, saying she would leap into the swirling channel below. In the 24 years since the 202-foot-high bridge was built, 32 persons have jumped from it. All died.

Miss Kellum's first attempt, which attracted headline attention last spring, was stymied by a morbidly curious crowd. The second was thwarted by poor weather, and the third was prevented by police.

On Wednesday night, Miss Kellum, a part-time cocktail waitress from Port Angeles, Wash., climbed to the top of a 45-foot pole at the Kitsap County Fair. Taunted by the crowd's cries of "No-Jump," she leapt toward a 10-foot-deep water tank.

"She told me, 'I'm tired of being called No-Jump Julie.' She ran off the spar instead of dropping. She overshot the tank," said Stan Johnson, manager of the fair at Bremerton.

Miss Kellum struck one side of the 10-by-12-foot tank and bounced off into the water, suffering a broken leg and other undetermined injuries. Johnson said the crowd continued to shout and jeer after Miss Kellum hit the water.

She was reported in fair condition today at Harrison Memorial Hospital's intensive care ward.

"Some people have to learn the hard way," Johnson said. "She's a very sincere young lady trying to make her mark. But she made a mistake in judgment."

Johnson said he won't use the diving pole again and will probably chop it down. He said he will pay Miss Kellum for five nights work — he would not say how much — and a collection is being taken on the fairgrounds to pay her hospital expenses.

Detroit Helped By State Police

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan State Police are moving onto Detroit's freeways so city police can concentrate on the city's fight against youth gang violence.

The state police patrols were scheduled to begin at noon today.

Gov. William Milliken ordered the state police to patrol the freeways. Detroit Mayor Coleman Young had requested the assistance.

In recent months, there have been repeated attacks by youths on motorists stranded on the city's 62 miles of freeways.

The state police patrols were made in a television speech earlier this week in which he outlined plans for dealing with gang violence in Detroit.

In another move to aid the city's effort, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners voted Thursday to spend nearly $243,000 on juvenile court facilities.

The funds will go to hire new judges, referees, prosecutors and other staff for juvenile court. The decision was in response to a request by Juvenile Court Judge James Lincoln for more personnel to handle the large increase in cases resulting from the Detroit police crackdown on juvenile crime.

Two days ago, Mark Hosea, 18, of suburban Grosse Pointe Woods, was shot in the chest when his car was stranded on one of Detroit's freeways.

Hosea and five friends were driving home on the Lodge Freeway from a Detroit Tigers baseball game when one tire on their car went flat. Hosea said they were approached by a group of youths and one of them pulled a gun and shot him.

Hosea is hospitalized in stable condition.

More than 50 agents seized 22 tons of Colombian marijuana during a raid Jan. 11 on the Mayo Seafood Co. on the Pamlico County coast. At the time of the raid, officials said they believed some persons who participated in the smuggling were still at large.

Steele, 52, the alleged ringleader of the operation, was sentenced to 10 years and fined $10,000.

McNamara said more of those convicted in the smuggling may be called before the grand jury at its next session.

"The grand jury was interested in further inquiries to see if there may have been other smuggling operations," he said.

The air is stagnant in eastern North Carolina. Burning permits have been canceled in that area. The mass of stagnated air prevents smoke from being carried away.

Raleigh has joined Chapel Hill and Carrboro in urging university students and other residents to conserve water.

The eastern half of the state was sunny but hazy Thursday. Some showers and scattered thundershowers entered the mountains, a few persisting into the night. Lake Toxaway in the southwest mountains near the North Carolina and South Carolina border reported one and eight-tenths inches of rain Thursday afternoon.

At Asheville, rainfall total for the 24 hours ended at 5 o'clock this morning was just over one-third inch.

Otherwise, it has continued warm and muggy.

Highs Thursday were in the mid and upper 80s, except for the lower 80s in the mountains. Raleigh and Durham were the warmest at 91.

Cloudiness continued to advance over the western half of the state during the night. It was hazy with some early-morning fog in the east.

It was mostly warm and humid today. Highs were in the mid to upper 80s, except the upper 70s and low 80s in the mountains. Scattered showers fell, mainly in western portion. Similar weather is expected Saturday.

Beirut Fighting Now 'Sporadic'

By ALY MAHMOUD
Associated Press Writer
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Sporadic fighting devastated today in Beirut's continued commercial sector and at other points along the dividing line between the city's Christian and Moslem sectors, Christian spokesmen reported.

"Palestinian guerrillas tried to penetrate our lines in southern Beirut under artillery cover but were driven back with heavy losses," a spokesman said.

Leftist military commanders reported a night-long artillery exchange in the mountains 18 miles east of Beirut.

The Moslems also reported that units of President Suleiman Franjeh's Christian Zaharta Liberation Army attacked villages on the outskirts of Tripoli, the Moslem stronghold in northern Lebanon.

Moslem and Palestinian forces drove the Christians off with missiles and mortars, the Moslems said.

Hospital officials estimated that more than 80 persons were killed and 120 wounded during the night. This was slightly fewer than the night before, when more than 90 killed and 120 wounded were reported.

Arab League mediator Hassan Sabri Kholi scheduled a meeting today with Christian leaders to discuss a peace plan he is pushing. It calls for a cease-fire, limited pullbacks behind front lines and withdrawal of Palestinian forces from positions in Beirut and mountain areas.

The Palestinians were said to have endorsed the plan.

Pitt County Four-Year-Olds Sought For Screening Program

By CAROL TYER
Reflector Staff Writer

The earlier a child's problem is recognized and dealt with the more likely it is to be solved seems to be the basis tenet of the Statewide Pre-kindergarten Screening Program now underway in Pitt and other counties of North Carolina.

"Nearly a quarter of the North Carolina children who enter kindergarten each year have needs that must be met if they are to develop to their full potential," says Mrs. Sandra Houston, one of the four persons screening four-year-olds in this area. "Many of these problems are of a physical nature, but others have more to do with limited stimulation by the child's parents and other acquaintances. We hope to point out and refer for correction any physical problems and to guide parents in exposing their children to as many interesting and worthwhile experiences as possible during the year left before they enter kindergarten."

Some of the screening for Pitt County four-year-olds is done in a trailer set up behind the Pitt County Health Department near the present Pitt Memorial Hospital. One or both of the child's parents are invited to make an appointment and be present while the child is given hearing and vision tests and while he is played with by the tester to determine his abilities in such areas as gross and fine motor coordination, memory for what he has seen or heard, language development, sound discrimination, and concept understanding.

While the child is being screened another screening

LUCY'S MOTHER . . . Mrs. Brenda Teel, SPSP worker. Ernest is interviewed by Mrs. Brenda team member interviews the parent or parents about their child's growth and about their concerns about his development.

Once the questioning and testing is over, the parent is told the results. If he or she agrees, a copy will be forwarded to the child's schools, pediatricians, and concerned agencies, though this is done only with the parents' express permission.

Most four-year-olds do not need further evaluation. Those who appear to have special needs, though, are seen again. This second look serves to verify and determine exactly what these needs are and how they can be met. With the parents' approval and cooperation, plans are made for resources that can meet these needs to be brought to the child.

Each child is followed up. The parents are contacted six months afterwards and 18 months afterward to be sure that the needs are continuing to be met so the child will be ready to do his best as a member of the public school first grade classroom.

The screeners for children in this area are Mrs. Brenda Teel, and Mrs. Houston, Ms. Betty Walston, and Ms. Sherry Ford.

Anyone knowing of a four-year-old who has not yet been screened should visit the screening center or call the ECU Developmental Evaluation Clinic, 757-6921, and ask for the Pre-kindergarten Screening Program.

Check Out Details Of Mate's Desertion

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: After 36 years of marriage (four children and six grandchildren) my husband, who just turned 60, went on a six-day business trip and was gone for three weeks. We didn't know if he was living or dead. My son finally located him in California, and he couldn't make heads or tails out of anything my husband said on the phone, but the jist of it was that he was happily married to a younger woman and didn't intend to come home—ever! My son flew to California and found my husband living with a woman young enough to be his daughter. It seems he married her without getting a divorce from me.

The only message he had for me was to send him his white shoes, summer clothes, golf clubs and gun collection. I think he's sick.

I spoke to a lawyer and he said, "Sue him for divorce!" I told him I didn't want a divorce—I wanted my husband back—and he said I was crazy.

What should I do now?

NOT SLEEPING BACK EAST

DEAR NOT SLEEPING: Consult another lawyer. Your husband sounds sick, indeed. The entire story of his desertion calls for a thorough medical and physical examination.

DEAR ABBY: My mother is a widow who is very active with the local senior citizens. The problem is that I never get to see her. She's either going places, doing things with her friends or attending a class in some new hobby she's discovered.

She's so busy I need an "appointment" to see her, and then she keeps looking at her watch because she has to be somewhere in an hour!

I am glad that after raising eight children alone she is now enjoying herself, but it's gotten to the point where none of us goes to her house anymore because she's rarely home.

I have read many letters in your column about children who don't have time for their older parents, but how about parents who don't have time for their children?

MILLIE FROM MELROSE

DEAR MILLIE: If you're not putting me on, you should get down on your hands and knees, and thank God you're not sleeping chicken soup to your mother every day in some rest home.

DEAR ABBY: Everyone I have asked about this looks at me like I am out of my mind, and then they say, "It's just not done," so I'm asking you:

I am getting married in a long white gown and veil. I have always wanted to leave the reception wearing my gown and veil, and arrive at the hotel in it. Can I do this?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: You can if you want to. Of course you'll attract plenty of attention, which is probably what you have in mind.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 21-year-old male who needs your help with an embarrassing problem. It's my behind. It is enormous! I'm 5 foot 8 and weigh 180.

I work out three times a week at a health club and am in pretty good shape except for the abovementioned. I've tried every conceivable exercise and diet I've come across, but I can't seem to lose any of the flab back there.

It's just plain fat, Abby, and no amount of exercise can firm it up.

Someone told me that it can be removed by surgery. Is that so? I don't care if the operation is painful and leaves a scar. Anything would be better than hauling around this outsized caboose all my life. I'm not exaggerating; I look practically deformed. It's so bad I hate to go to the beach.

If this kind of operation can be done, who would do it?

A YARD OF LARD

DEAR YARD: A plastic surgeon. (But try to find one who doesn't mind getting a little behind in his business.)

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Pilot Club Members Hear E.M. Walker

Edward M. Walker, executive vice president of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, presented his views on leadership when he spoke Monday at the dinner meeting of the Pilot Club of Greenville, Inc., which was held at Ramada Inn.

To be an effective leader, according to the speaker, one should spend a period of quiet time in meditation each day.

"A leader cannot afford the luxury of withdrawal, but must unite to accomplish things for the community. Concern for others is the factor that holds us together," stated Walker.

He also pointed out that a leader cannot afford the luxury of pessimism and despair. In conclusion Walker emphasized that a leader "should never seek to have his own way." Mrs. Mavis Butts, coordinator of Internal Affairs Division, introduced the speaker.

Guests for the dinner meeting were: Mrs. Jeanne Krumm of Hollywood, Fla., and member of the Fort Lauderdale Pilot Club;

Mrs. Evelyn Hughes, member of the Pilot Club of New Bern, Mrs. Josephine Harris of Enfield; and Mrs. Evelyn Hinnant of Greenville.

During the business meeting reports of divisions were given. A letter from Miss Kim Mills, president of the Anchor Club, in appreciation for support in their candy sale was read. It was announced that Past President Lenore Morton will take Anchor representivity to a Freedom Foundation Seminar, Valley Forge, Pa.

The Pilot Club will sponsor an Attic and bake sale Saturday, Sept. 25, at Elm Street Recreation Center.

Mrs. Addie Jenkins, president, presided at both meetings.

If you are making fresh peach cobbler and the recipe calls for about three cups of the sliced fruit, you'll need to buy about 1½ pounds.

Elderly Urged To Enjoy Freedom

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Losses occur with normal aging, but positive gains also come. Knowing realities about elderly persons can help you prepare to live during retirement, says Lorene Keeler, who teaches a course on aging at Oklahoma State University.

"Though old age is usually seen as a negative time in life, increased personal freedom is one result of retirement," says the home economics professor.

"A person no longer has to do what someone else commands or to meet urgent demands of the clock. When children leave home, parents no longer have to worry about their son dropping out or their daughter turning on.

"Since a houseful of consumers no longer depends on the aging parents, a smaller income doesn't have to cover so many responsibilities. Though older people have lost clear-cut expectations with retirement, they have the potential gain of freedom," she said.

Mrs. Keeler terms today's elderly people pioneers for a new period of life because they are the first generation where most people live past 65.

"Besides setting examples for those of us coming on, these people are finding new roles and new, satisfying ways to live," she says.

Admitting that losing a spouse can be painful, she says, "Once they have recovered from their grief, people sometimes discover an incredible new life.

"Some long marriages are less than happy, with personalities submerged to meet mate expectations. And a life alone may lead to a new freedom."

Commenting on the harm middle-aged persons can do, Mrs. Keeler says, "Middle-aged persons often decide what is good and not good for older people. And this sometimes causes the older person to become dependent."

She feels older people should have many alternatives to choose from and be free to define what is right for them.

"Experts talk about the 'role' of older persons and imply they are lost when they have no explicit directions for their lives," says Mrs. Keeler.

She encourages the elderly to be active and to speak out in their behalf. "Don't settle for being a second-class citizen." Seeing an elderly person as sick, feeble or as a nursing home patient is an inaccurate image, even though most people, even the older persons, may have such a mental picture, she points out.

While most people eventually spend some brief time in nursing homes, Mrs. Keeler says, "Only about 5 per cent of all people over 65 live in institutions. And most of these are over 75 years old."

"Most elderly persons not in institutions live in their own homes, usually within weekly visiting distance of relatives. And more than 75 per cent of the elderly living in communities have no chronic health conditions. They are active and mobile."

Since husbands tend to die before their wives, elderly widows total almost four times as many as widowers. Usually these older women live alone, but about 17 per cent live with relatives. And only about 8 per cent of the elderly men live with relatives, according to Mrs. Keeler.

Most of the elderly who live with relatives are over 75 years old and have partial or major limitations of activity and mobility.

About one in five of all persons over 65 years of age do not have families to rely on. For these and others choosing to live alone, housing adequate to their needs is a crucial issue, Mrs. Keeler maintains.

"When you retire, you will probably be active, mobile and living in your own home for several years. Getting ready for retirement and later years should be a lifelong pursuit," advises the professor.

"To make your retirement as rewarding as possible develop hobbies, creative activities or second careers early in life. Retirement can be a rich, rewarding time. It doesn't need to be years of unhappiness."

Eyes On Oct. 2 Adjournment

We have read with habitual dismay that a lot of important legislation before Congress cannot be acted upon because of the shortness of time.

The measures include a compromise to deregulate the price of natural gas; national health insurance; the postcard voter registration bill.

A measure to control use of hand guns; the omnibus revision of the federal criminal code; the Humphrey-Hawkins "full employment" bill; and possibly even the overhaul of the food stamp program.

The importance of some of the above measures lies mostly in their being defeated; better that, than being left poised like a Damoclean Sword over the suffering public.

At any rate, Congress is dreaming of an October 2 adjournment so the membership can go home and campaign for re-election. Thus, a lot of major legislation is simply not going to make it this year.

Meanwhile, Congress is busy.

On Wednesday the House voted 275-107 to promote George Washington to the highest ranking Army officer in U.S. history. (It may involve six stars!) The measure now goes to the Senate.

Yes, it is time for Congress to go home.

Success Requires Good Cooperation

Now that the way has been cleared for release of swine flu vaccine state officials are prepared for a massive inoculation program.

It is expected that up to 4 million North Carolinians will be vaccinated against the swine flu. The schedule for administering the shots will depend upon its arrival.

The program to be successful will require the cooperation of every citizens.

THIS AFTERNOON

Real Issues In Background

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH — It's easy enough to tick off the "issues" in this year's election of members of the General Assembly, many local governing boards, and top statewide offices.

There are the problems of crime, education, taxation, and industrial development. Broad categories, surely. Most candidates agree something ought to be done about them, and vary little in their approaches.

But significantly missing from the voter-politician dialogue has been discussion of real issues which will be on the agenda for action in the 1977 General Assembly.

Those items are ones which have been rather thoroughly studied by legislative commissions, and the proposed legislation is either already prepared or in the drafting stages at this time.

Homework

Once assigned to legislative committees, the proposals will be backed up by massive data already gathered by the study groups, and further enhanced by the tendency of busy legislators to depend on their colleagues who happen to be more knowledgeable than they in specific areas. They will listen to the recommendations of fellow lawmakers who served on the study groups.

Opposition, then, will be late aborning; ill-prepared with research data to back up the complaints; and will be going up against work in which numerous lawmakers already have a considerable investment of time, energy, and sentiment.

Here, in capsule form, are some of those agenda items which will breed debate and headlines in 1977:

LAND MANAGEMENT — A statewide counterpart to the Coastal Area Management Act would require every county to draw a land use plan setting land classifications such as developed, transitional, rural, and protected. Areas of Environmental Concern would be protected, and development controlled to avoid damage and make best use of community services, utilities.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS — A complete rewrite of school law is being done which would change method of selecting state superintendent of schools and State Board of Education; equalize funding and set up minimum course standards and offerings statewide; establish testing and certification requirements for teachers; require merging school districts to areas no smaller than one county; allow special disciplinary schools or classes for trouble-makers and future dropouts, etc.

Taxes

PROPERTY TAXES — A system is under study to assess property on statewide scales, revalue property annually, computerize files, require county tax maps, eliminate personal property taxes, and shift auto licensing to tax officers so local taxes can be collected before plates are issued.

A push will come from lobbyists for city and county governing boards to permit local income taxes and hotel-motel room taxes to supplement present revenue sources.

BUILDING INSPECTION — Some method to require safety and health inspection in every county is under preparation. Likeliest approach will be state requirement that every county provide inspection program by state-licensed inspectors.

PRISONS — A turn away from emphasis on rehabilitation toward hard work will be recommended, along with proposals to fund new prisons but without building large, high-rise units.

CRIME — A statement of criminal punishment philosophy is being written to set the stage for rewriting criminal law along lines of Illinois and Maine plans: speedy trials, guaranteed terms for specific crimes, lessened discretion for judges, other officials; elimination of the parole system. Other measures possible — compensation of criminal victims either by the individual who did the act, or from state funds; further state action on law enforcement standards and salaries.

SEX — A commission has gone through state law seeking to eliminate all possible instances of bias on basis of sex. Some amendments to the State Constitution will likely result.

Memorable Experience

By ART BUCHWALD

KANSAS CITY — Everyone has his own poignant memory of the 1976 Republican National Convention. My favorite took place in the large Kemper Arena. It was Wednesday night and the band was playing "God Bless America" for the tenth time to shut up the raucous Reagan demonstrators who were blowing horns in support of their fearless leader whom they knew in their hearts would lose.

A correspondent with a notebook sat down next to me. He said he was a Soviet newspaperman and asked me if I had any comments on the convention.

I knew what I said could affect Soviet public opinion of the American electoral system for years to come, so I chose my words carefully.

"The voice of the turtle can be heard through the land," He wrote it down. Then he read what he wrote: "The voice of the turtle?"

"Or something like that," I told him. "What you are seeing is Democracy in action. You are a very lucky Russian. I have never seen so many Americans blowing horns for so long in all my years of attending political conventions. As a matter of fact, I haven't heard 'God Bless America' played so much to shut them up either."

Other Editors Say Murder In Korea

(Richmond Times-Dispatch)

American liberals who persistently excoriate our ally, South Korea, for authoritarian trends within its government might in all fairness redirect some of their venom at North Korea after the barbaric incident in the demilitarized zone near Panmunjom.

The United Nations Command reported that North Korean soldiers "brutally murdered" two American officers and wounded four American enlisted men and five South Koreans "in an unprovoked assault."

The Communist soldiers carried out their maniacal assault with axes and a tool resembling a pick.

The Americans died of massive head injuries and stab wounds.

And what were the Americans and the South Koreans doing to stir the wrath of the benevolent agrarians from north of the border?

Routinely trimming branches from trees in the joint security area.

This viciousness ought to provide a sobering warning that the regime of Communist dictator Kim Il Sung will stoop to any dirty tactic of intimidation or force to try to subdue South Korea and humiliate America.

In recent years it has sent assassination squads to Seoul, the capital of South Korea, and murdered the wife of President Park Chung Hee with a bullet intended for the president.

It has built tunnels under the border between the two nations that can only be intended to convey Communist troops executing some future surprise invasion.

It has shot down an American plane over the Sea of Japan and it captured the American intelligence ship, the Pueblo, and held the crew for a year.

It has made many harassing raids across the border.

History books date the Korean War as 1950-53, but the war actually has never ended.

An armistice was signed, but no peace treaty.

And the North Koreans violate the truce regularly, with little or no retaliation from the American-South Korean side.

The murders at Panmunjom ought to tell Americans something about why South Korea perceives itself to be menaced in such a way that it has seen fit to postpone its experiment in democracy.

And the incident ought to be a stark warning to the White House and Pentagon that steps must be taken to protect U.S. servicemen in Korea from any repetition of the callous, cowardly attack.

"Do you think this is the way to select a leader for a country?" he asked me, in what I detected was a critical tone.

"You mean you don't select your leaders like this in the Soviet Union?" I asked in surprise.

"We do not," he said. "We have a Soviet Congress every four or five years, but since we have only one party we do not have to put on a circus like this."

"Don't you hang up any signs at your conventions, such as 'Brezhnev Is a Bonzo' or 'Dump Gromyko' or 'Commissars Can't Grow Wheat'?"

"No," he replied sternly.

"Do the delegates to your Soviet Communist Conventions wear funny hats?" I asked.

"We do not believe that a Communist Party Convention should be a circus."

"But they do blow horns?" I said.

"No, we do NOT have horns. Security would not permit horns to be brought into the hall."

"A band?" I asked. "You must have a band at a Soviet Communist Convention."

"NO BANDS"

"But how do you keep the people quiet if you have no band to play 'God Bless America'?"

"We don't play 'God Bless America' at a Soviet Congress and the people stay quiet when they are told. We are very serious at our conventions."

"If you don't nominate someone at a convention of

THE INSIDE REPORT

Last Hope For Rhodesia?

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT ROVAK
WASHINGTON—The State Department is considering quiet U.S. support for a desperate last-hope plan, backed by a few influential Rhodesian blacks and whites, to attempt quick black-majority rule in Rhodesia without mass killings in an escalating guerrilla war and without flight of white economic resources and skills.

The heart of the plan: a system of rich economic rewards to persuade the country's 270,000 white to stay in Rhodesia after black-majority rule.

The hour is late and the odds are long. Any compromise is opposed by increasingly powerful black guerrilla leaders who refuse to guarantee anything for the whites and by militant whites dominating Prime Minister Ian Smith's government who respond by promising never to give an inch.

Nevertheless, the plan is backed by one key faction in the African National Congress (ANC), which represents most of the country's 7 million blacks, and by a small influential group of whites who hope ultimately to convince Smith. Unlikely though the plan's chances are, high U.S. officials take it seriously enough to consider backing it with money and prestige as the only alternative to bloody tragedy.

Behind the plan is the conviction that black rule is inevitable, and will come in one of two ways: from Communist — supported guerrilla war destroying the white-controlled economic structure; or from black-white cooperation preserving the benefits of an extraordinarily rich economy—for the new black government and for whites who are persuaded to remain by economic. The former avenue is the overwhelming probability today.

If this trend continues, with black Africa committed to a military solution in Rhodesia, the entire Western position in southern Africa will be threatened. The defeat of the U.S. and Western Europe when power was seized by Soviet-backed black nationalists in Angola last spring did not approach the political potency of a Communist-backed victory in Rhodesia.

To avoid that calamity, the plan now under scrutiny here sets up a Western consortium, headed by the U.S., to guarantee Rhodesian whites on two major points: first, no expropriation without fair compensation; second, the right of whites to remove proportionally more assets from the country the longer they stayed.

One new political factor giving the plan an almost desperate urgency is the rising power of black nationalist guerrilla leaders trained, equipped and supplied by Peking or Moscow-bloc Communists. The military men are submerging the political leadership of the two main nationalist factions: ZANU (the Zimbabwe African National Union) and ZAPU (Zimbabwe African People's Union).

The guerrilla leaders want total power and military rule. The black politicians claim a much-different objective: the right of blacks to vote and hence to take majority power, with the whites remaining as a vital force in the economy.

As black nationalist pressures shift more and more toward military solutions, political progress obviously gets much more difficult. Nevertheless, the alternative to political progress in Rhodesia is a long, mutually destructive war.

Unlike Africa's ex-colonies now under black rule, Rhodesia has not been administered by an outside country since 1923. No outside power can call the political turn there as Portugal called it for Angola, unilaterally ending its rule and granting independence.

To the contrary, Rhodesia's military probably can withstand guerrilla attacks for at least five years. No expert doubts that, barring a political compromise, Rhodesia will fight until the last bullet has been fired or the last white killed to preserve a society and

THE FEAR OF GOD

What does the Bible teach about the fear of God?

We often consider fear to be a weakness which we should constantly try to conquer. Certainly there are neurotic anxieties which fit this description. But there is also a wholesome type of fear that warns us against dangers. For example, a man who would plunge into a snake-infested swamp without fear would be a fool. Fear protects us against real dangers. It becomes evil only when it leads us to worry about little things or about eventualities over which we have no control.

The Bible commands us to fear God not as we would fear a despot but as we would fear a perfect and loving heavenly Father whose will cannot be transgressed with impunity.

We may well fear God if our hearts are unrepentant and if we persist in our evil ways. This what the Bible means when it says that fear of God is the beginning of wisdom.

Will Public Accept Price Hikes?

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — All those price increases in basic materials that have been unnoticed by consumers are now being presented to them all packaged in the 1977-model automobiles, soon to be in dealer's showrooms.

It is only when increases reach the retail level, as they almost always do, that consumers become very concerned. Up to that point the many increases in the components of retail items are thought to hurt business only.

But business always passes on its own costs, aside from that which might be absorbed by efficiencies and improved technology, or hidden by cutbacks in quality.

The question now is whether the buying public is willing to let the sizable increases in retail car costs go relatively unnoticed, as they did with the earlier increases in the component materials. Or will they rebel?

The automotive industry seems to think the increases, which in General Motors' case amount to nearly 6 percent, will be accepted by a public eager to continue buying cars at least at the same pace as in 1976.

Customer demand for new cars has been growing, said GM Chairman Thomas Murphy. His remark is at least partially correct; but it also leaves a bit unsaid.

GM, for example, has more than a 100-day supply of small cars in its lots, manufactured but left unsold because of buyer resistance. There has to be a message there. Weren't these cars expected to be the big sellers?

Could it be that people can't afford them. But if that is so, why are larger, more expensive cars selling better than expected, so well in fact that some dealers cannot meet the demand?

One explanation that may be growing in acceptance is that while the upper one-third of the population has indeed emerged from the recession, many lower-income families still are mired in troubles.

A quick illustration of the problem is proved by comparing the median family income of between $13,000 and $14,000 with the $4,000

Hymn Stirs Uproar

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon admits that including a controversial modern hymn in an armed services hymnal was a mistake, but it does not intend to tear the verse out of the half-million books in print.

The Pentagon also said Thursday that it would not immediately order a new edition of the hymnal, which has cost more than $1 million to print since it was first published in late 1974.

Some congressmen and church groups have charged the hymn, a Good Friday verse called "It Was On A Friday Morning," is blasphemous. Protests began to trickle in last November and reached a crescendo recently.

The words in the hymn, written by Sydney Carter, are uttered by one of the thieves crucified alongside Jesus Christ. The objections center on a line that reads: "It's God they ought to crucify instead of you and me."

The latest objection came Thursday from the Women's Christian Temperance Union, which sent President Ford a telegram demanding that the offending hymn be stricken from the armed forces Book of Worship.

Several weeks ago the Veterans Administration Chief of Chaplains James Rogers ordered the hymn torn out of the VA's 15,000 copies of the 815-page hymnal.

A Pentagon spokesman said that, "it is clear that including the hymn ... was a mistake," but he said no order would be given to excise the hymn.

However, he added that, "we are conducting a search for a replacement hymn to appear in subsequent versions of the hymnal."

That could be a long way off. Prior to 1974, the hymnal had not been revised in more than a decade.

The hymn also has its defend-

40 Years Ago Today

August 27, 1936

George Henry Dern, secretary of war in the Roosevelt cabinet, died in Walter Reed Hospital today from heart disease and complications resulting from past influenza attacks. He was 64 years old.

Word immediately was telegraphed to President Roosevelt, who at the time was near Bismarck, N.D., aboard his special train on a drought inspection trip.

Simultaneously orders were drafted for army posts everywhere to lower their flags to half-staff and to fire a mourning gun every half hour after reveille tomorrow.

Plans for the funeral for the Secretary of War were not immediately announced. It was indicated his body would be taken to Utah, where only four years ago he occupied the governor's chair.

Rain caused postponement of both games in the post-season semi-finals of the Coastal Plain League yesterday.

Greenville and Ayden were scheduled to meet here and Kinston was due to play the Martins at Williamston. Both contests will be run off today at the places scheduled for yesterday's contests.

Council Is Sponsoring 'Weekend In Missions'

The Greenville District Council on Ministries is sponsoring a "Weekend In Missions" Sept. 17-19.

Participating churches are Saint James, Holy Trinity, and Jarvis Memorial Greenville, The First Methodist Church, Washington, Snow Hill, Hookerton, Robersonville, Stantonsburg, Bethel, Ayden, Simpson, Pink Hill, and Woodington-Webb Churches.

The mission interpreters who will be present are: the Rev. and Mrs. Harry Newman (Bolivia); the Rev. and Mrs. Charles A.

McFarren (Bolivia); Dr. David Flude (UMCOR); Miss Miriam Gruber (Singapore); the Rev. H. T. Maclin (Kenya); John A. Graham (Director of Department of Town and Country Work); William A. Tyson (Urban Ministries); the Rev. Robert L. Mangum (National Missions); and Samuel R. Capistrano (Philippines).

The purposes of these sessions are to inform, inspire, and involve the congregations in understanding and support of the missions program of the United Methodist Church. The faith promise card which offers people an opportunity to participate financially will be distributed at the conclusion of the Sunday morning worship services.

There will be special sessions for children, youth, and adults throughout the weekend in each of the sponsoring churches.

About 14 churches of the Greenville District are participating in the "Weekend in Missions." Persons living in the locales where the sessions are being held are invited to attend.

Henley Has Clear Field

RALEIGH (AP) — State Sen. John Henley, D-Cumberland, apparently will win easy reelection as president pro tempore of the Senate because of Sen. Kenneth Royall's decision to not seek the post.

Royall, of Durham, announced Thursday he was dropping out of the race and supporting reelection of Henley. The only other serious contender for the position was Sen. William Mills, D-Onslow, who was defeated in the Aug. 17 primary.

Henley has worked well with Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, he said, adding, "I believe that a leadership team with the experience of working together would be best for North Carolina at this particular time."

Royall claimed enough backing to win, but he urged his supporters to back Henley.

Henley also issued a statement Thursday saying a number of senators had urged him to seek reelection.

Royall issued a statement Thursday saying the 1977 legislative session would be crucial because Democratic control of the governor's office will be restored after four years of Republican government.

Book On Missions Role Edited By Local Pastor

The Committee on Interpretation of the Division of Missions of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church recently published a book entitled "Love Is To Be Alive In Missions."

The Rev. F. Roderick Randolph, chairperson for the committee, edited the book which has been placed in the hands of every pastor and each chairperson of the Work Area on Missions in the North Carolina Conference. The focus is on information that will make possible the personalization of missions. Emphasis is placed on facilitation of the selection process: choice of a person, project, or program for support by the local church with the intent of getting more individuals groups, and churches to actively participate in the Missions Program of the United Methodist Church which involves approximately 780 volves approximately 780 missionaries who serve in more than 90 countries in the world.

The Rev. Randolph, minister of Saint James United Methodist Church, Greenville, is a native of Marion, and a graduate of Greenville High School, Greenville, Tenn. He received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and his Master Divinity Degree from Duke University. He is presently chaplain, major, USAR.

Prior to coming to Greenville, he served churches in Oxford, Durham, Kenly, Stantonsburg, and Wallace. He has been active in community affairs, including expanding program for the aging and poor; implementing county-side drug abuse forums; assisting in the establishment of an Alcohol Information Center, Wilson, and providing leadership for various workshops and seminars on alcoholism, retardation, drug abuse and marriage counseling.

The Rev. Randolph is presently serving as chairman of The Advance Committee of The North Carolina Annual Conference. President of the Greenville District Missions Society, Secretary of the Greenville District Council on Ministries, and Chairman of Community Mental Health Services.

He has written publications for both The Upper Room and the North Carolina Christian Advocate. He has been a recipient of the "Distinguished Service Award" in the Kiwanis Club and is listed in Who's Who in American Methodism.

The Rev. Randolph is married to the former Esther Pool and they have three sons, Rodney, Mark, and Rex.

Motivation Theme Of ABE Workshop

"Motivation" was the theme of a state-wide workshop held recently in Greenville for Adult Basic Education instructors (ABE). The workshop, jointly sponsored by ECU and the State Department of Community Colleges, was led by Dr. Len Lilley, Coordinator of Adult Education at ECU and Pam Swinson, Graduate Assistant at ECU.

According to Dr. Lilley "Motivation had been designated the primary statewide concern by ABE instructors who responded to a survey issued by the Department of Community Colleges."

East Carolina University, being delegated this topic of concern, developed this workshop so that it would be of practical use to the attendees when they returned to their varied areas of instruction.

The focal point of the workshop was "things that instructors can do to enhance the initial motivation that students bring to the classroom."

"Motivation is regarded as an aspect of the learning environment which can definitely be influenced by certain instructor attitudes and skills. By considering motivation as a notion which can and ought to be practically dealt with, hopefully, the idea will be treated at the student's level," Dr. Lilley said.

Consultants to the workshop were Tommy Williams, Department of Community Colleges; Dr. Harriet Rosenthal, ECU; and Dr. Lin Compton, NCSU.

ers. Officials of the United Church of Christ and the American Baptist Churches have protested Chaplain Rogers' decision to tear the hymn from the VA's books.

The Pentagon spokesman said the hymn "was not included to be blasphemous or to destroy faith, but to provide the vehicle for dealing deeply and thoughtfully with the death of Christ in order to encourage and strengthen faith in God."

The Pentagon said the hymn was the product of "four years of labor by many chaplains and respected civilian churchmen."

The chaplains who recommended inclusion of the hymn anticipated some criticism. A guide prepared by Air Force Chaplain James W. Chapman for other military clergymen acknowledged that, "It Was On A Friday Morning" is the most controversial hymn in the book."

However, the guidebook said the thief's questions "are ones many of our people still ask when confronted with the crucifixion. This gives us a vehicle to deal with these mysteries."

the Communist Party, what do you do?"

"We sum up. We only meet every four or five years so our ministers report to us on what has happened."

"The speeches must be long," I said.

"Only six hours each. That is not very long when you are summing up the last five years."

"Can someone get up and protest what the minister has said?"

"No. That's all done in advance. You say what you want before the Congress meets. Once it meets, you listen."

"How do you vote?"

"Each delegate has a little card. It's bigger than a credit card, but not much. You raise the card for yes. That's how we vote. May I ask you one more question?"

"Sure," I said.

"What do you think of detente?"

"Well, I don't know how to break this to you, but you see all those crazy people out there in the silly hats blowing those horns?"

have a debt rather than a down payment toward the next car.

Moreover, insurance costs have become almost prohibitive for some families, and the high prices of gasoline, parking, tolls, tires and general maintenance have made the car for some families a financial noose.

The carmakers might be correct in assuming the public will absorb the increases complacently, but they are probably assuming too much. The public knows the manufacturers have their own high costs; but do they really care?

Eventually the public rebels against high prices. They did so against rising prices of food, clothing and shelter. They reduced their consumption of red meat. They switched to foreign-made shoes. They refused to buy costly new houses.

Much the same argument was offered last year also, but the auto makers enjoyed surprisingly good business, just as Murphy had predicted. To the surprise of many critics, he was right about the 1976 models.

Will he be right again?

BUDDING ENGINEER

Can't tell yet whether my son will follow in his Dad's footsteps. Toys don't make an engineer. But he's learning some of the basic principles of physics with which many professions deal.

On the way home from Church, when he talks about his lesson, I recognize familiar signs... character is still in the mold. Deep conviction, bold dedication come later. But he's grasping those basic truths on which great living rises.

For a busy engineer who used to be hit-or-miss in his church attendance, fostering the growth of a soul is a fascinating experience... especially as I find my own faith deepening with every reverent day!

Can't tell about his following my footsteps. But I've discovered new dimensions in life following his.

$119.81 Day No Energy-Conserving Tax Breaks In New Bill

FARMVILLE — Offerings yesterday on the Farmville Tobacco Market consisted of more cutters and leaf than any previous day this season according to Louis Williams, sales supervisor of the Farmville Tobacco Board of Trade.

"Nondescript grades accounted for only a small volume of sales. The demand by companies for better grades was stronger," Williams said.

"The top price paid by a company for $1.28 per pound. Top practical price was $1.20 per pound with almost as many selling for $1.22 per pound," he added.

Stabilization receipts accounted for only .32 per cent of the gross sales. The Farmville Tobacco Market sold $645,125 pounds for $772,925 with an average of $119.81 per 100 pounds. To date the market has sold $12,197,017 pounds for $13,073,909 for an average of $107.19 per 100 pounds.

New Test Of Mars' Soil

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The mechanical arm on the Viking 1 lander has scooped out another small trench on the surface of Mars, taking in a fresh sample of soil for new life-detecting tests.

Viking 2, meanwhile, continued in its orbit of the red planet Thursday, photographing the surface where its lander is scheduled to descend Sept. 3, a point 4,000 miles from Viking 1.

The robot laboratory already on the planet began to analyze the new Martian soil immediately in the third run of the pyrolytic release experiment.

Twice already that test has yielded results that seem to indicate life in the Martian topsoil. But scientists haven't ruled out the possibility that reactions in the experiments were not biological.

The new tests will be completed in about one week.

Some of the dirt collected Thursday will be used in another biology experiment beginning Saturday. That experiment also has yielded data that are indicative of life, but may be due to a nonliving chemical process.

She was a member of Robertson Baptist Church.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Doris Simmons Gilmore of Washington, D.C.; one son, Charlie Jenkins of Thomasville; and five grandchildren.

Family visitation will be Saturday from 8 to 9 p.m. at Flanagan and Hardee Funeral Chapel. The body will be taken to the church Sunday at noon.

No Energy-Conserving Tax Breaks In New Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The massive tax-revision bill now being considered by a Senate-House conference committee will not include a $500 million package of energy conservation tax breaks.

The Senate Finance Committee agreed Thursday to drop the package from the bill and to reintroduce its energy-saving provisions in a separate energy bill.

The committee also voted to boost the 4-cent-a-gallon federal tax on gasoline by one-half cent for three years, saying it would offset the money the Treasury would lose if the energy conservation package is revived.

But the chances for passage of the energy bill — particularly one raising the gasoline tax — before Congress adjourns for the fall elections appear slim. Earlier this month the Senate voted three-to-one against an attempt to raise the gas levy by a penny.

Both the House and Senate have approved the essence of the energy conservation measures, but the House is reluctant to consider the energy proposals as part of the big tax bill.

Several senators and committee aides said they expected the energy bill to die, and that it was just an elaborate way for the Senate to back down on the provision.

The conservation program would allow a taxpayer to take up to $225 off his tax bill as partial reimbursement for the cost of buying and installing insulation, caulking, and storm doors and windows in his home.

Other tax benefits would go to homeowners and businessmen who install geothermal or solar heating equipment or heat pumps. Firms that buy deep-coal-mining and shale-oil-conversion equipment also would get tax breaks. There also would be tax incentives for windmills.

In other action Thursday at the tax bill conference, the Senate conferees accepted a House proposal to increase taxes on the profits corporations earn through exports.

The compromise would cut about $600 million a year from a $1.5-billion program of tax benefits for corporations.

The conference has not yet taken up the tax bill's main provisions affecting individuals, although it is considered certain to extend through 1977 the individual tax cuts enacted last year.

Legion Post Disapproves

American Legion Post #39 of Pitt County has passed a resolution expressing disapproval of Gov. Jimmy Carter's proposed pardon for selective service law violators during the Vietnam war.

The resolution was adopted Aug. 24 by a vote of three abstentions and 36 in favor.

Carter made the statement recently while speaking before the American Legion National Convention in Seattle, Wash.

The post resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas Democratic Presidential Candidate Carter did today address the American Legion National Convention in Seattle, Washington, and stated: '... for those who violated selective service laws, I intend to grant a blanket pardon...'

"Now be it resolved: (1) That this Post 39 of the American Legion of Pitt County, North Carolina, opposes any scheme of either amnesty or pardon of those who violated selective service laws; (2) That telegrams to this effect be sent to Candidate Carter and to American Legion Headquarters; (3) That copies of this resolution be sent to The Daily Reflector and to The News and Observer."

Phillies Nip Reds In Twelfth

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

Three Reds led off base as 50,000 people cheered in the 12th inning. Tony Perez strode to the plate and Philadelphia's Tug McGraw stared in from the mound, pondering which of his numerous theories would get him out of trouble. McGraw first called on his "problem and solution theory," considering the situation and that only a perfect pitch would produce the proper solution. "Some would say my problem was Perez," said McGraw, who said the opposite. "But any time you think of the hitter as a problem, uh, oh — the ball comes down in the parking lot. "You've just got to think of the hitter as the answer to your solution."

While all this thinking was going on, Perez was waiting for a pitch. He would wait longer, for McGraw hadn't quite finished his discussion with himself. The "frozen snowball theory" was next up.

"Scientists have predicted that 50 billion years from now, the sun will burn out and the earth will orbit like a frozen snowball," explained McGraw. "When that day comes, who will care if Perez hit a grand slam off me?"

It doesn't matter for Perez managed only a frozen snowball to center fielder Garry Maddox. The threat was no longer, and McGraw had proven there is no need to talk to baseball to win when you have so much company out there on the pitcher's mound.

The next inning, Maddox hit a double to score Jay Johnstone from first base and give the Phillies a 5-4 triumph over the Reds — Philadelphia's seventh conquest of Cincinnati in the last nine encounters. It was the Phillies' ninth triumph in their last 12 and the Reds' eighth loss in the last 12.

In the other NL game Thursday, the Houston Astros topped the Chicago Cubs, 5-3. In the only American League game, the Kansas City Royals topped the Boston Red Sox 7-6 in 15 innings.

"Nothing's going right," said Perez.

"At least we're making them take longer," added Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson.

But none of the Phils seemed much impressed by the fact that Philadelphia has beaten the defending World Champs more times than any other National League team this year.

"It doesn't mean anything until the playoffs," said Johnstone.

Johnny Bench's two-run homer in the eighth inning and Dan Driessen's game-tyer in the ninth wiped out a 4-1 Phillies lead built on a two-run shot by Greg Luzinski during a three-run sixth.

Astros 5, Cubs 3
J.R. Richard hit his first home run of the season and survived homers by Rick Monday and Bill Madlock to pitch a six-inning and lift the Astros past the Cubs. Jose Cruz also homered for Houston.

Royals 7, Red Sox 6
Kansas City's Hal McRae tied the game with a two-out, three-run homer in the ninth, then Jim Wohlford's single scored Bob Stinson to win it in the 15th.

COLLISION COURSE—Cincinnati Reds third baseman Pete Rose and Philadelphia Phillies runner Garry Maddox duck away as the ball bounces off Maddox's shoulder during an attempted pickoff play in the second inning of a game in Cincinnati Thursday night. Maddox was hit by the throw from Reds catcher Johnny Bench and scored as the ball bounced into the outfield. Umpire Satch Davidson moves in to call the play. (AP Wirephoto)

Revamped Putting Stroke Glides Dan Sikes To 66, Classic Lead

By MIKE HARRIS
AP Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Amiable Dan Sikes has turned his putter into a lethal weapon.

The 45-year-old veteran of the golfing wars gave further indication Thursday his "revamped" putting stroke has given him new life by pumping out a six-under-par 66 for a one-stroke lead after the first round of the $200,000 American Golf Classic.

Sikes toured the 7,105-yard

North course at Firestone Country Club in a scintillating 33-33, stroking in six birdies along the way.

That placed him one stroke ahead of Don Iverson, Mike McCullough, Fuzzy Zoeller, Ed Sneed and Bobby Wadkins. Six others were right behind at 68, including Jim Colbert, who won the last American Golf Classic in 1974.

In all, 43 golfers finished under par on the lesser known of the two Firestone courses. The South course has gained fame in many major tournaments as "The Monster," but this is the first regular tour event for the slightly shorter and wetter North course.

Sikes avoided the 53 acres of water awaiting off-line shots and, by the luck of the draw, began play after sometimes heavy rain and ground fog disappeared. He also mastered the wet, undulating greens.

"My tour really started about the time of the Kemper Open at Charlotte (in mid-June)," Sikes noted after explaining that a severe case of flu and then a pulled muscle forced him out of much early competition.

"I used the time at home to revamp my putting style," the stocky non-practicing attorney explained. "I had what is called a long putting stroke, which gets tougher to work with as you get older."

"I changed that to a short compact stroke where you hit the ball quickly and keep it on line," he added. "Before that, I was consistently hitting the ball to the left of the hole."

"The change has made a world of difference in my putting and it's made me feel like playing golf again," Sikes said with a wide smile.

Sikes currently stands 90th on the PGA money list for the year with $18,797. First prize in this tournament is $40,000.

Zoeller, Sneed and Iverson, although longshots, are familiar names to followers of pro golf. Wadkins, younger brother of tour veteran Lanny Wadkins, and McCullough are the longest of the longshots among the first day leaders.

McCullough, in fact, was not added to the tournament's invitational field until Tuesday night, coming in as an alternate when Larry Ziegler opted out.

McCullough and Sneed both exploded into the pack of front-runners with incoming 32s, four under par. Those were the best scores of the day on the back nine.

Also among those under par were Masters champion Ray Floyd at 69, U.S. and Canadian Open titlist Jerry Pate and PGA winner Dave Stockton at 70 and Arnold Palmer at 71.

DOUBLE HONORS

BOSTON (UPI) — Fred Lynn became the first player in major league history to be voted both "Rookie of the Year" and "Most Valuable Player" the same year by the Baseball Writers Association of America. Lynn, an outfielder with the Boston Red Sox, batted .331 with 21 homers and 105 RBIs in 1975.

Redskins Seek To Be In Race

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor

ROBERSONVILLE — Coach Nolan Respes found the most players ever waiting for him at the first day of football practice, but he may find that fewer of them will be doing most of the work.

"We have about 65 people out all together," he said. "We'll carry about 30 of them on the varsity and the rest on the JV team."

"Still, last year, we were able to play about 20 people in every game. This year, we'll be using about 14 or 15 most of the time," Respes said.

The Redskins, the defending State 2-A champion, may still be in good shape, however, and Respes wouldn't be surprised if they are still playing come November 12 when the playoffs begin.

"Our goal is to be competition in our non-conference games and to play for the conference championship. It'll be a hell of a year if we do it, but it's possible if we play well."

The Redskins lost 18 seniors, however, and another starter was lost due to an injury. Only 11 lettermen return and just five starters.

"The skins will continue to use the wishbone offense, and Respes feels he has an excellent general in junior quarterback Charlie Smith, one of the returning starters. "He's one of our brightest spots," the coach said. "He's a pretty good passer, and I think he's one of the best quarterbacks around."

Joining him in the backfield will be Larry Williams at one of the halfbacks spots, having been moved from fullback. Ameche Burnes, a solid 190-pounder, moves into the vacant spot left by Williams, while David Spruill takes over the other halfback slot.

"We don't have as much speed in the backfield as we had last year, but we're quicker," Respes said.

Smith, showing his versatility, will also kickoff and punt, and may also handle the placements before the season is over.

Respes rates the offensive line as a question mark. Lee Smith, who saw some action last year will be at the split end, while big Sammy Boyd (6-4, 205) will handle the tight end position. Last year, Boyd played only on the defensive side of the line, but will probably see double duty this fall.

A transfer, Elliott Parker (205) will be at one tackle, while Larry Daniels will probably handle the other one. "They are both going to be good in the future. They just need experience." Billy Rogerson and Keith Cherry are slated for guard duty. Both are seniors without experience.

A battle has developed for the center spot between Gary Landry and Randy Andrews.

"Overall, we've been inconsistent so far. We look good for a couple of plays, then break down. But I think our offense will be okay before the year is up," the coach said.

Defensively, Respes is trying some new ideas. "We're going to a style where we don't have to do so much reading. We will stunt, and probably work from a four-four lineup."

Boyd and Smith will handle the end positions, but Respes isn't sure about the interior line. Daniels, Cherry, Rogerson are almost certain to play a lot, while Royal Peterson and Alison Lynch will also play a great deal.

Williams, Will Harris, Barnes and Robert Coffield are all candidates for a linebacker position.

Spruill and Charlie Smith and Doug Land likely will be in the secondary.

"We also look for Ricky Duggins to help us both ways," Respes added.

In the Eastern Plains race, Respes feels it will be a three-way battle. "It should be between us, North Johnston and West Edgcombe. West Edgcombe might be the slight favorite."

Respes feels that having six home games favors the Redskins. "Most of our tougher games are at home, although we will have to go to West Edgcombe."

The Redskins get an early test. They open up tonight traveling to meet 4-A Bertie.

Floyd To Stay With Deacons

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Charlie Floyd has decided to remain at Wake Forest University instead of transferring to St. Joseph's in Philadelphia, where he would have had to miss a year of basketball eligibility under NCAA rules.

He said last spring that he would transfer to the college nearer his home in Philadelphia. But he will reenter Wake Forest as a junior this year.

"I didn't want to think about having to go a whole year without playing, particularly when I felt I was playing well," he now says.

"I played a lot of basketball this summer around home and I was playing really well," said the 6-foot-7 forward. "I felt I had my shot back for the first time in two years."

He was a part-time starter his freshman year and a regular starter last year, when he averaged 8.7 points and 5.4 rebounds a game.

Floyd said that when he left Wake Forest, Coach Carl Tacey told him he could come back if he changed his mind. Floyd met with Tacey in Winston-Salem this month and arranged the return.

YAUN WINS AT HOME
GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — Radford Yaun, 20, a junior at Jacksonville, Fla., University, was right at home when he won the New York State Amateur gold title with a 72-hole score of 295. The Liberty, N.Y., resident was playing his home course at Grossingers here when he shot rounds of 74-75-74-72. Yaun scored by six strokes.

Joseph Sindelar of Horseheads and George Zahringer 3rd of Rye tied for second at 301. Sindelar parred the second hole to win a sudden-death playoff for the runnerup spot.

Good Day For Bucs

It was a typical first day for hitting as East Carolina University's Pirates donned pad for the first time yesterday.

"Everyone was eager to hit," Coach Pat Dye said. Work was confined mainly to individual and small group work, and the coach rated it as an overall good practice.

"We've got to find some young people to help out, but I didn't see any yesterday who are ready to do this," Dye said. "The play of the first offensive line was quite pleasing for the first day."

"Barry Johnson did some good things at tight end, and you couldn't help but notice the quickness of Leander Green (quarterback) on the second offensive unit."

Dye added that the defense looked good in its individual work, and that some of the young people got in some good licks.

One injury was noted as Joe Powell, a sophomore quarterback from Raleigh, suffered a separated shoulder. It is not known how long he will be out.

Duke To Be Vocal In ACC Race

By REESE HART
Associated Press Writer
DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Duke's Blue Devils, possessing tremendous backfield talent and speed, expect to have a big say in the Atlantic Coast Conference football race this season.

Mike McGee, in his sixth year as head coach, is excited about the prospects.

"We have more speed than at any time since I came here," he said. "Defensively, we are experienced but quick."

Although the Blue Devils had a 4-5-2 record last season, they finished second to champion Maryland in the ACC with three wins and two ties.

McGee said the opposition possessed the ball too long last season. "He added, "Our focus is to try to prevent long drives."

Thirty-three lettermen and 14 starters are back from the 1975 team. The list is headed by center Billy Bryan, 244-pounder, who won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy last season.

Other blue chip players include tailback Art Gore, fullback Tony Benjamin and All-ACC cornerback Bob Grupp, who had a punting average last year of 43.1, ranking him eighth in the nation.

Duke has an outstanding place kicker in Vince Fusco, who kicked four field goals in the spring game, including 45 and 46-yarders.

"We're much better than last season," said Benjamin. "There is a more enthusiastic atmosphere."

Sophomore Mike Dunn, with a year of experience behind him, is improved and will be at quarterback. Chuck Williamson, who grabbed 18 passes last year for 261 yards, will be at the slotback. Gore and Benjamin round out the backfield.

In addition to Bryan, the offensive line has Glenn Sandefur at tight end and Tom Hall at split end. Two non-starters last season, Frank DeStefano, 225, and George Page, 235, man the tackles. The guards are veteran Terry Ketchel and Greg Menico.

McGee said defensive tackle Steve Edwards, 238, will be a candidate for all-star honors. At the other tackle is senior Hank Rossell, 235. Jeff Green, a starter last season, will be at one end and sophomore Andy Schoenoff will be at the other.

"The linebacking corps is inexperienced, but we are confident they can do the job," McGee said. Sophomore Carl McGee, a starter last season, is the strong linebacker. Another sophomore, John McDonald, is the middle linebacker and Jim Reilly the weak linebacker.

Grupp will hold down one cornerback while sophomore Dan Brooks is expected to start at the other. Talented Rick Sommers, a sophomore, will be at free safety and veteran Kirk May at strong safety.

McGee said Tennessee will offer "a tremendous challenge" in Duke's opener Sept. 11 at Knoxville, Tenn.

The schedule:

Sept. 11, Tennessee at Knoxville, Tenn. 18, South Carolina at Columbia, S.C.; 25, Virginia at Charlottesville, Va.; Oct. 2, Pittsburgh; 9, Miami at Miami, Fla.; 16, Clemson at Clemson, S.C.; 23, Maryland; 30, Georgia Tech; Nov. 6, Wake Forest; 13, N.C. State at Raleigh; 20, North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

TRADITION
NEW YORK (UPI) — Since 1963 when the American Football League New York entry changed its name from Titan to Jets, the club has taken just two quarterbacks in the first round of the college draft. Both have been from Alabama — Joe Namath in 1965 and Richard Todd in 1976.

Kicks Going For The Title

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — The new kid on the block in the North American Soccer League has taken on all comers this season and disposed of them in orderly fashion.

"Now there's only one more opponent to look forward to," said Minnesota Kicks Coach Freddie Goodwin, looking ahead to Saturday's nationally televised Soccer Bowl contest against Toronto for the NASL title at the Seattle Kingdome.

The Kicks whipped San Jose 3-1 in the NASL semifinals Wednesday night before a throng of 49,572 wildly-cheering hometown fans.

"We're going to Seattle to win," said Goodwin, who normally shies away from such statements. "This team has a lot of character."

San Jose Coach Gabbo Gavric, who has been in the NASL since it began 10 years ago, was impressed with Minnesota's semifinal showing.

"They didn't give us a chance," said Gavric. "They played as well as a unit as any team I've ever seen in this league."

Minnesota heads into the championship game with victories in 10 of its last 11 games.

"We used our speed in the first half to wear down San Jose and in the second half we played at our normal pace," said Goodwin. "This team doesn't play as individuals, but as a unit of people playing together."

One of those people, midfielder Ace Ntsolegoe, is considered doubtful for the title game because of a pulled groin suffered in the San Jose game.

"If I can possibly play, I will," said Ntsolegoe, who scored one of Minnesota's goals before being injured.

The rest of the Kicks players are expected to be ready including fullback Ron Webster, who missed the semifinal game because of a hamstring pull.

"When we don't have it, we chase it, fight for it," said Goodwin. "Now we've gotten to the finals. There's only one more opponent to look forward to."

Super Bowl X½ Slated For Saturday Night

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer
Call it Super Bowl X½.

It doesn't mean anything, standings-wise or money-wise, but Saturday night's nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m., EDT) game between the Pittsburgh Steelers and Dallas Cowboys will no doubt be played with all the intensity of Super Bowl X, when the Steelers beat the Cowboys 21-17.

The intensity will be provided by pride — and some long memories.

The Steelers are determined to prove that last weekend's 17-0 loss to the New York Giants (their first loss in five exhibitions and their first shutout loss in 49 games) was a fluke.

And the Cowboys will be out to prove that their 1-3 pre-season record, including a 36-16 romp over Detroit, and their championship setback last Jan. 18 in Miami, were flukes, too.

After that Super Bowl loss, a few of the Cowboys were heard to mutter about how the Steelers had gotten away with some

Mobile In BR Finals

KINSTON, N.C. (AP) — Mobile, Ala., on the strength of Ben Martin's two-hit pitching, gained tonight's berth against North San Gabriel Valley, Calif., for the Babe Ruth World Series championship.

They meet at 6:30 p.m. and if the California team wins, it's all over. Should Mobile, one-time loser in the double elimination tournament for 16-18-year-old baseball players, take the first game, a second game will follow immediately.

North San Gabriel Valley is undefeated in the tournament thus far.

Mobile advanced to the finals on lefthander Martin's victory which eliminated Seattle, 6-1, in Thursday night's semifinal.

Mobile scored four runs in the fourth inning as John Watson drove in three runs with a bases-loaded double and the fourth came across on an error.

Dave Callow scored Seattle's run on a fielder's choice after two walks and a single had filled the bases.

Richards Gains Semifinal Berth

By The Associated Press
Jimmy Connors and Bjorn Borg, one-two in the rankings at the U.S. Pro Tennis championships, continued to win Thursday. It was difficult as one-two-three.

Both the top-seeded Connors and second-seeded Borg — winner of the event the last two years in a row — were extended to three sets before advancing to the quarter-finals of the $125,000 tourney at Brookline, Mass. Connors had rallied past unseeded Jiri Hrebec of Czechoslovakia 2-6, 6-2, 6-3, then Borg squelched 15th-ranked Ross Case of Australia 6-0, 5-7, 6-3.

"I've said it a thousand times and I'll say it again: everybody's good these days and if you beat somebody 2-1, you're lucky to win 2-1," Connors insisted. Connors' "luck" has been strong in recent weeks: he's won his last three tournaments.

Borg lost just seven points in breezing through an 18-minute first set.

Also entering the quarter-finals at the Longwood Cricket Club were fifth-ranked Adriano Panatta of Italy, who topped Australia's Mark Edmonson, 6-2, 6-3, and sixth-seeded Raul Ramirez of Mexico, who bested Patricio Cornejo 6-4 in the first set before the Chilean was forced to retire with a pulled leg muscle.

At the Tennis Weeks Open in South Orange, N.J., Dr. Renee Richards continued to struggle onward in the women's half of the tournament. The 42-year-old transsexual eye surgeon from Newport Beach, Calif., bested 29-year-old Kathy Harter of Seal Beach, Calif., 6-4, 7-6 in a mistake-filled match to reach the semifinals.

Ilie Nastase of Romania, top seeded in the men's portion of the event, scored a rain-delayed 7-6, 6-3 victory over fourth seed Vijay Amritraj in moving on to the semis.

Dr. Richards, who will face Lea Antonopolis of Glendora, Calif., on Saturday, discussed the continuous pressure she has faced since entering the event.

cheap shots on the field, that penalties which should have been called weren't.

"That was the general view," Dallas Coach Tom Landry said of the Cowboys' "cheap-shot" feelings as their rematch approached. "It was an unusual game." But Pittsburgh linebacker Andy Russell responded: "We're not a cheap-shot team. You don't win that way. You win with good techniques, and the best techniques aren't cheap shots."

In Saturday night's other National Football League exhibition it's Buffalo at Los Angeles, Miami at Houston, Washington at the New York Jets, Baltimore at Atlanta, Chicago at Tampa Bay, Denver at St. Louis, Detroit at Kansas City, the Giants at Green Bay, Philadelphia at Minnesota and Cincinnati at New Orleans. On Sunday it's Oakland at San Francisco (national television, CBS, 3:30 p.m., EDT) and San Diego at Seattle; and on Monday night, New England is at Cleveland.

The Rams, Dolphins and surprising 49ers are the only NFL teams with unblemished exhibition records, each at 4-0.

In Buffalo, the Rams are facing the only team which knocked them off (31-24) during the 1975 pre-season schedule. The Bills' 1-3 record would seem to be unimpressive, along with the fact that they've gone winless in a dozen games (nine in the regular season) on the West Coast in the past decade. But they're coming off a 37-0 walloping of Green Bay, two of the touchdowns on Gary Marangi-to-Bob Chandler passes. Last time out the Rams beat Oakland 23-14 with John Cappelletti running for one touchdown and catching one of James Harris' two scoring strikes.

Miami doesn't have safety Jake Scott in the defensive secondary anymore — but with the offense it's been displaying, so what? The Dolphins have run up a league-high 98 points. That's well over three touchdowns a game. Bob Griese's passes accounted for three of their touchdowns in a 28-21 victory over Tampa Bay last week.

Sports Briefs

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Iowa Oaks outfielder Nyls Nyman, who said he sometimes feels like a forgotten man in the Chicago White Sox organization, drove in one run, scored another and was named most valuable player of the American Association All-Star Game Thursday night as the All-Stars defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 3-1.

In the third inning, Nyman tripled home Oklahoma City's Tom Buskey and scored the go-ahead run on a sacrifice fly by Denver's Tony Scott.

Nyman was a regular outfielder for the White Sox last year but was shipped to the Oaks last June.

"I was up at the first of the year and played four games," Nyman said. "Then I was benched and sent down late in June. I'd like to stay in Chicago but I'd like a better shot."

SMITHFIELD, R.I. (AP) — The New England Patriots reached their roster limit Thursday by transferring defensive lineman Arthur Moore to the pre-season inactive list.

Moore missed the 1975 National Football League season with a knee injury, and was stricken with pneumonia and a viral infection this year. He has made only 10 practices this season and played in only one of the Patriots' four pre-season games.

Two hundred years after the U.S. achieved its independence, the British came to New England to seek revenge for the Boston Tea Party. This was not an armed incursion—it was a squad of British expatriates with come Colonial support (from Canada), who sought redress over the bridge table. A team of New England bridge stars held the British in the first third, repelled the invaders in the second third and then sat back to enjoy their victory in the last session. This deal contributed significantly to their win.

When the Britons held the North-South cards, they ended up in four hearts. The New Englanders were considerably more aggressive. West took advantage of the vulnerability to try to preempt his opponents out of what was rightfully theirs, but his tactic misfired when it drove the opponents to a slam that they might not have reached under their own steam. Trooper Quits Under A Cloud RAEFORD, N.C. (AP) — One of two North Carolina Highway Patrol troopers charged with rape, kidnaping and crime against nature resigned from the patrol after being relieved of his duties, a patrol spokesman said.

Trooper Jimmy D. Thigpen, 24, who is stationed in Hoke County, was cited in a warrant issued Wednesday night and served just before noon Thursday, Hoke County Sheriff David M. Barrington said. Also charged was Trooper Wiley Snow III, 23, who is stationed in Wake County.

Barrington said the officers were charged with committing the acts Aug. 19. He identified the alleged victim as Mrs. Bobbie Roxanne Magee, 19, of Raeford.

Total bond of $25,000 was posted for each trooper when they appeared Thursday at the office of Magistrate Helen Barrington. A preliminary hearing has been scheduled for Hoke County District Court on Sept. 17.

Sheriff Barrington said the troopers were charged based on an investigation by his officers, the State Bureau of Investigation and the Highway Patrol Internal Affairs Division. He declined to comment on evidence in the case on the advice of Dist. Atty. Edward W. Grannis Jr.

The Highway Patrol said Thigpen was relieved of his duties Aug. 19 shortly after the complaint against him was filed and that he had resigned from the patrol effective Thursday.

Maj. O.R. Roberts, head of administrative services for the patrol, said he expected to have a report today from Capt. H.B. McKee, Thigpen's troop commander, about the incident.

McKee said Thigpen, who is from Maxton originally, had been with the Patrol since 1974 and was first assigned to the governor's mansion in Raleigh. He was transferred to Raeford in 1975. Snow, who was originally from Fayetteville, has been with the patrol several years. The patrol said he has neither resigned nor been relieved of duty yet.
