Unemployment And Wholesale Prices Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment jumped to its highest level in 11 months in November, rising from 7.9 to 8.1 per cent, while wholesale prices posted their third big consecutive monthly increase, the government said today.

The double-dose of economic news from the Labor Department provided fresh evidence of a sluggish economy and strong inflationary pressures.

The rise in unemployment heightened the likelihood that President-elect Jimmy Carter will push for tax cuts and other measures to boost the economy early in the new administration.

Carter has said he will consider recommending a tax cut or increased government spending aimed at creating jobs to get the economy moving if the slowdown continues much longer. In the three weeks since he said that, there has been little evidence that the slowdown is over.

The Labor Department said 200,000 more Americans joined the jobless rolls in November, raising the total to 7.8 million. The unemployment rate, at 8.1 per cent, was the highest level this year and the peak since last December when it stood at 8.3 per cent.

Since last spring the economy has been growing barely fast enough to provide jobs for new entrants in the labor force, and the unemployment rate gradually has increased from last May when it reached a post-recession low of 7.3 per cent.

The continued softness in the economy along with rising prices could complicate things for Carter as he tries to devise ways of stimulating the growth without further kindling inflation.

Higher prices for natural gas, other fuels and energy products led a six-tenths of a per cent increase in the Wholesale Price Index last month. The November rise equaled October's increase and followed a rise of nine-tenths of a per cent in September.

Farm prices dropped for the second consecutive month, down five-tenths of a per cent, but it wasn't enough to offset an eight-tenths of a per cent rise in industrial prices.

Industrial prices, which play a much larger role in determining the over-all rate of inflation than do farm and food prices, have been accelerating since June.

Over the past year, wholesale prices have risen 4.2 per cent. However, rising wholesale prices have not yet been fully reflected at the retail level.

Price increases for basic steel and aluminum products taking effect this month were not included in the November figures. They will be reflected in the December report, published next month.

Not all the news in the job report was bad. The Labor Department said employment rose last month as the labor force expanded sharply following several months of stability.

Total employment increased by more than 350,000 in November to a new high of 88.1 million.

'Positive' Steps By Carter Seeking Moscow Accords Staggered Terms

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Jimmy Carter said today he plans to send an informal message to Moscow expressing his determination to seek permanent peace and strategic arms limitation accords with the Soviet Union.

Carter said he would do so through unofficial channels in response to Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev's assurance that there will be no pressure from Moscow to test the new administration.

By saying it in an interview on the NBC-TV "Today" show, Carter in effect did it. He said his message would be a reciprocal expression of dedication to peaceful relations with the Russians.

Carter also said that after his

Jan. 20 inauguration, he plans to press aggressively for progress in the stalled strategic arms limitation negotiations.

Carter, in sports shirt and sweater, avoided confirming but did not deny the selection of Cyrus R. Vance, once Lyndon B. Johnson's roving troubleshooter, to be his secretary of state.

On other issues, the president-elect:

—Said he is disappointed at the 6 to 7 per cent price increase posted by the steel industry, but declared he has no intention of imposing wage-price controls during his term unless there is a national emergency.

—Reserved his options on continued production of the costly, controversial B1 bomber, which is being started by decision of the outgoing Ford administration. Carter said the limited production start announced Thursday will not affect his decision on the future of the disputed plane.

—Said he expects to name most of his Cabinet officers within the next three weeks. "I think that by Christmas I would have the Cabinet fairly well identified," he said. He said most of the people he chooses will be relatively unknown nationally.

Vance, whose appointment was expected at a midafternoon news conference, is an exception. Carter also is expected to appoint Atlanta banker Thomas Bertram Lance to be his budget director.

"I think that by Christmas I could have the Cabinet fairly well identified," Carter said.

The City Council has adopted a resolution of intent to rescind the ordinance passed at the August meeting providing for four-year staggered terms for Council members.

Mayor Percy Cox observed at Thursday night's meeting that after the ordinance was adopted on Aug. 5 to create a staggered term arrangement, the Council gave further consideration to the matter and decided that the original system was the best.

Cox said that he still had some reservations about rescinding the ordinance but the general feeling was that the staggered terms were not the best method.

Council member Mrs. Mildred McGrath noted that there has been no pressure on the board to rescind the ordinance and other members said that they had heard very little in the way of opposition to the arrangement.

Councilman John Howard said that his "whole intent" in advocating the staggered terms was to insure continuity and that was his "only intent."

In order to rescind the ordinance, according to City Manager Jim Caldwell, the Council will have to go through the same process that was involved in adoption. Under that procedure, a public hearing will be held on Jan. 6 to consider the adoption of an ordinance rescinding the new measure.

Cox said that by having the public hearing, the Council will be able to find out how the public feels on the matter.

Council members agreed to wait until the January meeting to take action on a resolution concerning the election of School Board members.

Councilman Clarence Gray said last night that he still felt the best method for electing the board members would involve selection by wards and precincts. He acknowledged that the question of election by ward has been studied for some time but he contended some type of plan could be worked out.

Gray said that he was not concerned just with black representation on the School Board but with fair representation for everyone. He asserted that there are ways the lines could be drawn to provide for election by wards.

Glenn Cox, superintendent of City Schools, said that the School Board has not had the opportunity to react, officially, to the resolution and he suggested that the members should have some input.

He said that the matter of election was not questioned but he personally had some thoughts on the wording of the resolution.

Ed Stallings, a member of the School Board, told the Council that he would like to see some provision for wards with every section represented by an elected School Board member.

Mayor Cox asked Stallings and Gray to study the matter further and come back to the January meeting with a ward layout. He added, "I don't think any member of the Council has closed his mind to anything that will work."

Caldwell suggested that the resolution be considered no later than the January meeting in order for the measure to be in the hands of local representatives for the next session of the General Assembly.

Council members also reconsidered their earlier action calling for the construction of gas selection by wards and precincts. He acknowledged that the question of election by ward has been studied for some time but he contended some type of plan could be worked out.

A HOTLINE APPEAL

RECORDER SOUGHT

Mrs. Helen Barr, 96, has for some time had on loan from the Library of Congress a specially designed recorder and tape player for use by the blind. Recently during an illness, her recorder disappeared either from Pitt Memorial Hospital or from Greenville Villa Nursing Center. Her daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Coleman, had tried in vain to buy another to replace the lost one because it must be returned to the Library of Congress. She has placed ads in the paper and on the radio, but has turned up nothing so far. She asked Hotline to appeal for the return of the recorder, in hopes that someone, realizing that it cannot be replaced, would return it. Inscribed on the back of it is "Library of Congress, Division of the Blind and Physically Handicapped."

Anyone having any information about the machine is asked to call Mrs. Coleman at 752-3768 or leave a message with Hotline, either 752-6166 or 752-1336, or leave it at Nurses' Station 1 at Greenville Villa Nursing Center.

HOTLINE FEEDBACK

THANK YOU

The Matthew Darden family, whose home burned last Thursday, has been given many, many useful items before and since the Hotline appeal ran Tuesday. Mrs. Kenneth Dews who has been collecting gifts for the family said about the only big needs left are clothes for Mrs. Darden, size 20, and some chests of drawers or wardrobes, since the house into which the family is moving has no closets.

ANOTHER POSSIBILITY

Mrs. Steinmeyer of Steinmeyer-Ramsaur Company at 621 Clark Street here called Hotline to say she believes her company might be able to help the person who needs shower door tracking. We appreciate her concern.

Train Struck Truck

ROSE HILL, N.C. (AP) — A Seaboard Coast Line freight train collided with a truck near here today, injuring the truck driver and derailing about 20 train cars, authorities said.

A spokesman for the Duplin County Sheriff's Department said the derailment spilled about 500 gallons of what was believed to be diesel fuel from the train. Fire units were on the scene to prevent the spill from catching fire and state environmental officials were called to the area to work out a plan of mopping up the spill, the spokesman said.

The spill occurred near a stream but none of the fuel had leaked into the stream by late morning, the spokesman said.

The injured truck driver, who was not identified, suffered "severe" head injuries and was rushed to a hospital following the 9:40 a.m. collision, the sheriff's department spokesman said. The victim's name was not released.

The spokesman said the truck apparently pulled in front of the train at a crossing on a rural paved road about two miles south of Rose Hill.

Robber Wasn't Heeded

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — The patrons at Harry's 420 Club just weren't in the mood to be robbed.

It was 7 a.m. Thursday, and the bartender and three customers were engrossed in the "CBS Morning News" when a man entered the bar with a pistol and announced, "Don't anybody move."

The bartender, who identified herself only as a woman "over 39 and holding on," said one of the customers told the armed man, "Nobody is getting robbed while I'm watching the news."

"You think I'm bluffing?" asked the would-be robber.

"Yes, I think you are bluffing," came the reply.

The bartender said the armed man then cocked the pistol twice but still was unable to get the attention he wanted.

"You aren't taking this seriously," the man complained. He then ran out the door, "saying he was going to get his other two friends and come back," the bartender said.

A few minutes later, police arrested Ernest Burton, 32, of Cedar Rapids and charged him with attempted robbery.

$715,000 Raised By One Group In Stadium Drive

Dr. Ray Minges, chairman of the East Carolina University Stadium Expansion campaign in Pitt County said this morning that the special division has completed its work and in the process, has raised $715,000 toward the $2.5 million project.

Minges said "the overall reception of those contacted by this group," which he termed the Mafia Special Division, has been, "truly amazing."

The special division, Minges pointed out, was composed of "hit men" W. M. "Booger"

Scales, John F. "Big Jack" Minges, S. Reynolds "Solemn Seth" Mays and Tommy "Quiet Tommy" Taft.

"I took the Pitt County area chairmanship with doubts as to the drive being successful," Minges said. "The generosity of the donors and the overall enthusiasm shown throughout this area toward doing their 'fair share' leaves no doubt that the Pitt County goal of $1 million will be reached by the deadline of December 31," Minges noted.

Yet to be heard from, Minges said, are divisions which are still making contacts throughout the county, including: The Advanced Gifts Division headed by Curtis Hendrix; The Industrial Division, headed by Pete Thompson; the Realtor, Motel and Restaurant Division headed by Mark Tipton; the Township Division with Minges at the head; the Campus Division headed by Dr. Clinton Prewett; and the General Commercial Business Division, headed by Tommy Snowden and Jack Edwards.

Contracts Awarded On Production Of Bomber

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect Jimmy Carter is faced with a difficult decision over production of the controversial B1 bomber, potentially the costliest bomber in the nation's history.

The Ford Administration Thursday awarded contracts to start production of the B1, putting Carter in the position of having to cancel a project that is already underway if he decides against it.

The Air Force awarded Rockwell International Corp., General Electric Co. and the Boeing Co. three-year contracts totaling $704.9 million to build the first three B1s and prepare to build additional bombers. The total cost of the proposed fleet of 244 planes would be $22.9 billion.

Carter, who takes office Jan. 20, said during the campaign he saw no need to build the bombers now, without ruling out a possible change in his stand.

On Thursday, his press secretary Jody Powell said Carter will make a thorough review before making a decision. Powell quoted the president-elect as saying that the Ford Administration's approval of the contract was "completely consistent" with its previous policy.

Congress this year limited spending for the B1 production to $87 million a month through Feb. 1. By its action Thursday, the Pentagon approved a plan that would extend the limited funding until June 1, purportedly to give Carter more time to make his ultimate decision on the fate of the bomber. The government had previously invested $2.6 billion in development and testing of the B1.

Pentagon officials have said previously they expected Congress to go along with extending the temporary funding plan until June if Carter accepted that approach.

Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld, who announced the expected go-ahead after consulting with Ford, said the B1 was needed to counteract growing Soviet strength in strategic nuclear weapons.

Manning Saturday, Nov. 20, at 11 a.m. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Clifford M. Blackwelder of Greenville, and Mrs. Violet M. Blackwelder of Rt. 1, Greenville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Manning of Bethel. The Rev. Henry Hunning performed the double ring ceremony. A program of piano music was presented by Mrs. Emily Presley. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length cream colored dress and wore a single orchid corsage. The honor attendant was Linda Blackwelder of Williamston, sister of the bride. The father of the bridegroom was best man and the usher was Gary L. Blackwelder of Georgetown, S. C., brother of the bride. The couple are residing at Rt. 1, Winterville.

Shower Given Miss Moseley

Miss Deborah Ann Moseley, bride-elect of Jesse David Godley Jr., was honored at a floating bridal shower last week at the First Federal community room. A white wedding bell encircled with English ivy, yellow pom poms and smaller white bells flanked by yellow candles centered the refreshment table. English ivy, yellow pom poms and white bells were used to decorate the room. Mrs. William R. Moseley, mother of the honoree, served cake squares and Mrs. J. D. Godley Sr., mother of the bridegroom-elect, poured punch. Mrs. Willie T. Harris Jr., aunt of the bride-elect, displayed the gifts. The honoree was remembered by the hostesses, Mrs. James E. Buck and Miss Sheryl Buck, with a corsage of white miniature carnations.

Suit Tests City 'Right'

HIGH POINT, N.C. (AP)—An attorney for a young High Point couple has given notice of a federal court test to determine whether the city has the right to cut off electricity at their home without "due process" of law.

Tommy Garner, 21, claims the electricity was cut off at his household because of a "bad debt" owed at his father-in-law's house before he married Glenda Harb. Garner and his wife contend that electricity was cut off at their home Nov. 11 without being given notice. Dan Rominger of the city's collections department said a letter was written to the Garners before the cutoff. His duplicate copy of the letter is missing, he said, and disappeared after a conference he had with Mrs. Garner and her sister when they came to his office to discuss the cutoff.

Attorney James Tennant, representing the Garners, confirmed that he has "filed notice with the city manager and the city attorney, asking for $10,000 in punitive and actual damages." He is contending that the couple's constitutional rights were violated, and said that he would have to wait 30 days before filing action with the court.

The Garners allegedly owe the city $250.65, according to notices sent them by the city.

Rominger explained that the city offered to "work with them" if they would add $20 per month to their regular electrical bill until the entire amount was paid, he said. He added Mrs. Garner refused.

Pitt Referendum Committee Forms

A Pitt County Tobacco Referendum Committee has been formed in a meeting of representatives of growers, Farm Bureau, warehousemen, credit agencies and banks, news media and government agencies. W. A. Allen, Sr. of Farmville, tobacco grower, warehouseman and former director of Flue Cured Stabilization Cooperative was elected chairman.

The purpose of the committee is to get the facts about the referendum to all eligible voters and to encourage them to vote in the December 16 referendum.

Growers will vote on whether or not they want to continue the quota and price support programs for another three years. A yes vote would mean that tobacco farmers agree to supply control for flue-cured tobacco in return for price support. A no vote would mean that farmers would be free to plant and market as much tobacco as they wished—but without price guarantees. Quotas and price supports have been in effect every year since 1940.

Permission For Fund-Raiser

City Manager Jim Caldwell announced approval of a request by the D. H. Conley High School Literary Club for permission to conduct a talk-a-thon on Evans Mall to raise funds to pave the student parking lot.

Caldwell said the request called for the talk-a-thon to begin on Dec. 1 at 6 p.m. and end on Dec. 4 at 6 p.m.

The city manager noted that approval was also given to a request by the club for permission to conduct a bake sale on Evans Mall on Dec. 4.

The requests were submitted by M. D. Allen.

Happy To See New Road Begun

Citizens of our area, for which the Morehead area is a favorite vacation spot, will be happy to see that work will begin on a new highway at Emerald Isle.

Groundbreaking ceremonies are set for Saturday for the highway construction. The $1.2 million project calls for improvements on the Salter Path Road from Lamrock Drive to 25th Street in Emerald Isle.

As we understand it, the entire route of the Salter Path Road is to eventually be improved. The narrow paved road in the resort island is heavily used during the summer months and has often been the scene of tragic accidents.

The road improvement work has long been needed and we are happy that the first phase of the project is finally to get underway.

Execution May Resolve Those Doubts

If Gary Mark Gilmore is executed in Utah it will be the first execution in this country since June 2, 1967.

Gilmore has made it clear that he wants to have the death sentence carried out; that he wants to die. But, of course, the law must be fully satisfied through a series of appeals before the execution can be properly carried out.

Gilmore is taunting society to carry out the death penalty. And his execution—after a lapse of public executions of a decade—may determine if public opinion is strong enough to resume the death penalty for heinous crimes.

THIS AFTERNOON

Who Are Policy Makers?

By BILL NOBLITT

RALEIGH — There is a considerable amount of apprehension in a number of state agencies these days. In a month, it will be a new ballgame as a new administration takes charge.

Much of the worrying centers around the term "policy maker."

Governor-elect James B. Hunt, Jr., has put out the word he expects the resignations of policy makers by Inauguration Day, Jan. 8.

Some people are clearly policy makers: those at secretarial levels, other heads of agencies, close staff to the governor.

Members of the Hunt transition team have already compiled a list and work is moving ahead to fill certain jobs.

Gray Area

But there is a broad gray area; an area in which policy is either made, or sharply affected, but which falls outside the definition of top appointment. And that is complicated further by some jobs in which people have assumed policy making authorities without actual jurisdiction; and other jobs in which the individual is actually employed by a "policy board" or "commission."

Hunt says he is well aware of a lot of policy makers who are doing the act without having the authority, and is attempting to identify those slots. Many of the individuals who claim to be working for boards or commissions, simply carrying out dictated policy, in reality set policy themselves. After all, part-time boards which meet periodically can hardly compete with a full-time professional with a staff to come up with ways to direct the decisions the policy board makes.

Recent court decisions are also complicating the changeover from a Republican to Democratic administration. There is a trend toward protections of employees from firing for political reasons, and there has been some talk among lower-level Republican office holders of a challenge to Hunt's housecleaning.

But those who challenge challenge will likely find little protection in the court. Careful reading of the Supreme Court decisions reveals two categories of people who can be fired: those who make policy, and those who have been close, confidential participants with the policy maker. That latter category has been largely overlooked in discussions of court rulings.

Forced Out

Add another complication to the changeover: many lower-echelon state jobs are now held by Republican servants who gained the slot through regular job vacancies opening up, or by pressures brought on the previous employee by Holshouser appointees: pressures such as untimely transfers, creation of added workloads, diminution of authority, lateral transfers to unfamiliar areas of work, etc. Such tactics were used rather widely to force vacancies which could be filled in jobs far down the bureaucratic ladder.

The incoming governor faces another factor: top jobs must be filled fast this time, without the luxury of using appointments to help influence legislators who might be wavering on an important proposal.

Indications are that Hunt will fill the top cabinet jobs and close staff slots quickly, then work through those department heads in filling lower-level positions. That serves two purposes: it keeps him from having a personal hand in all job hassles, and it gives his cabinet people some input into job decisions affecting their departments.

North Carolina's system of electing some key department heads while others are appointed further complicates matters. The governor has direct control over Revenue, Corrections, Human Resources, Transportation, Commerce, Culture and History, Administration, and Military.

Elected officers run Education, Justice, Labor, Agriculture, Insurance, Treasurer, Auditor, and State departments.

BIG JIM THOMPSON

GOP Newcomer On Scene

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a roomful of conservative suits, Jim Thompson was a hard man to miss. He was the tall one in the blue turtleneck and the plaid shirt.

He was saying that this is the era of governors in national politics.

It's evident that he would like to make it the era of James R. Thompson in Republican politics. But it isn't time yet.

At 40, a month away from entering his first elective office as governor of Illinois, Thompson already has bigger things in mind. Unlike most of his colleagues in political ambition, he says so.

For the next two years, Thompson says, he'll be at home and at work on the job he was just elected to do. There are serious state problems to be faced, not the least of them a choice between more taxes or less spending. Besides, he has to run for re-election in 1978.

So far, that is standard language for a newly elected governor, or senator, or anyone else with a job at hand and a national future in mind.

But there's more to it with Thompson. He adds that people who start running for presidential nominations too early tend to become everybody's target, and usually lose.

Thompson said he is declining invitations to embark on the Republican speechmaking circuit and will, instead, spend most of his time at his capital in Springfield.

In 1978, Illinois will elect a governor for a four-year term, and if Thompson wins then, his base will be secure and his option open to bid for the Republican presidential nomination in 1980.

That would be a long leap for a newcomer who got where he is with the unintended help of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, whose chosen Democratic nominee turned out to be an ideal opponent for Thompson.

In a Democratic year, Thompson won by a 2 to 1 margin, and became an instant Republican star. Or at least a starlet.

So when it came Thompson's turn to speak at this week's conference of surviving Republican governors — there are only 11 others — his seniors listened.

He told them that governors are just coming to the fore as a political force, citing as evidence the arrival of the former governor of Georgia as the Democratic presidential elect.

"There has been the era of senators, and the election of Gov. Carter would seem to indicate that we're entering, at least one toe at a time, into the era of governors," he said.

During his two-day debut in a national GOP forum, Thompson also:

—Took an adroit jab at a potential rival, declaring that if John B. Connally wants to be chairman of the GOP, he should pledge now that he will not run for president in 1980. Connally, who obviously would like the chairmanship, snapped that he would make no such pledge.

—Uttered the only audible vote against a conservative proposal that the governors

40 Years Ago Today

December 3, 1936

King Edward VIII of England won his first show of strength today in his all-critical right with the British government to keep his throne and his American friend, Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Defiant, yet with his empire's fate at heart, the sovereign insisted stubbornly on his right to a private life.

Gray and shaking, Stanley Baldwin, his first minister, stood before the House of Commons in an emotional anti-climax to insist he had nothing to say to the British people regarding the constitutional position of the King.

The Greenville tobacco market will close its 1936 season on December 11, after having enjoyed one of the most successful seasons in several years.

Through sales yesterday 46,440, 903 pounds of tobacco had been sold on the local market, bringing a total of over $11 million for an official average of $23.92, thought to be the highest in the best.

The crop this year was lighter than in 1935, but this had been expected. The higher average struck on the market, however, resulted in farmers getting almost as much for their short crop as they received for the bumper 1935 crop.

Strength For Today

ROSES IN DECEMBER
"God gave us memory," said Sir James Barrie, "so that we might have roses in December."

But memory brings roses in December only when we have been at pains to cultivate roses at an earlier season of the year. December memories are anything but roses for some people. Men and women who have wrecked their homes with selfishness have a December memory, but not of roses. December comes upon them, but not the buds. Those who have nursed grudges for years when they might have cultivated love, come to a December that is bleak, cold, and windswept.

But what Sir James meant is that when life is lived with courage and love, days that might be bleak and barren turn out to be days of roses and delight. We shall gather in December what we tended in June. And in the green spring and the sunny days of summer we must plan and cultivate in such a way that we shall know the joy of roses in December.

Watchers In Georgetown

WASHINGTON—You have probably all been following Jimmy Carter's transition efforts with interest. One of the headlines that keeps cropping up is "Georgetown Awaits Carter People."

There is a myth in Washington that "Georgetown" controls the country and what is said at Georgetown parties affects the lives of every man, woman and child in the United States.

The first place the Carter transition people go when they arrive in Washington is Georgetown. They stand around holding a glass of white wine in their hands hoping to find out what is happening in the nation's capital. The truth of the matter is that Georgetown over the years has lost its influence and most of the power brokers in this town have moved up to Wesley Heights and Cleveland Park.

The reason for this is quite simple. The houses in Georgetown are all bunched together, and the walls are so thin that whatever is said in one house can be heard in another. There are no secrets in Georgetown but the press people—always the last ones to get the word—still keep covering Georgetown as they did in the Sixties, when the Kennedy folk used to hang out their laundry on each other's clotheslines.

It's true that there are some opinion makers who still live in Georgetown. Kay Graham, publisher of The Washington Post, has her home there. Joe Kraft still lives in Georgetown as does Rowland Evans, but his partner, Robert Novak, lives in Maryland. Jack Anderson is in Bethesda and Scotty Reston lives in Kalorama. Ben Bradlee, editor of The Washington Post, moved out of Georgetown long ago, and Woodward and Bernstein live next to "Deep Throat," wherever that is.

So what you get in Georgetown are really leftovers from the "Camelot" years.

I was at a cocktail party in

ART BUCHWALD

Georgetown last week and the conversation went something like this.

"I hear there is talk at the agency that the Cuban exiles might land at the Bay of Pigs."

"Bobby Baker is in real trouble and may be indicted by the Grand Jury."

"Billie Sol Estes is going broke in Texas."

"Arthur Schlesinger is writing a book exposing John Foster Dulles."

"The White House is thinking of sending Vice President Johnson to Berlin."

"The CIA is tapping Dean Rusk's telephone"

"Khrushchev is fighting with the Politburo and may be out any day."

"Robert McNamara is going to Vietnam to find out what the story is over there."

"Jackie Kennedy is thinking of redoing the White House."

The Carter people kept writing everything down in large black looseleaf notebooks which eventually would be turned over to the President-elect.

I tried to point out to one of them that if they wanted fresher news on Washington they should go to a cocktail party in Cleveland Park.

But the poor fellow said he didn't know where Cleveland Park was.

Besides, he said, Carter was very interested in what they were saying about him in Georgetown.

The only place in Georgetown where you can still get up-to-date news about what is going on is Doc Dalinsky's Drugstore on O Street. The

To the editor:

For years, many Americans have felt that there exists a double standard of justice—one for the wealthy and one for the poor. The recent occurrence in the Patty Hearst case only strengthens this argument.

Miss Hearst is a convicted bank robber who awaits further prosecution. Yet, she is granted the luxury of residing with her parents when her physicians are even uncertain of her mental and physical conditions.

It is difficult to comprehend American jurisprudence. There appears that some cases are ones destined for martyrdom; other cases seem to defy logic. Patty Hearst's case looks like a combination of both suppositions.

When I view Patty Hearst free to leisure with her parents, I feel perplexed because the Wilmington Ten are jailed. When I see Patty Hearst telephoning her probation officer twice weekly, I hurt because the "Scottsboro Boys" were railroaded. When I hear that Patty Hearst is a heroine, I anguish because Jackie Robinson and Mary McLeod Bethune are to be emulated for they daily had to fight resentment, malice and racism to succeed.

America must awaken! People are no longer illiterate and unthinking individuals. Some people in this nation recognize that apparently a double standard of justice exists.

The Black Panthers, the NAACP, the American Civil Liberties Union, CORE—these auxiliaries are helpless to battle the disgrace in justice and fairness which breeds the U.S. But I believe that "a change gonna come" in the hearts of us all. Martin Luther King's dream has yet to come true:

"I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character."

Penalty Guides Drawn

By MARGARET GENTRY

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Criminal justice experts often complain when one judge consistently hands out light sentences, while another judge in the next courtroom always gives stiff penalties for essentially the same offense.

These critics say such disparity in sentencing is grossly unfair and may be a major reason the criminal justice system isn't very effective in curbing crime.

Now, the Denver criminal courts have become the first in the nation to test a new method of ending that disparity.

The Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, describing the project today, said judges in several other states are watching the Denver experiment with an eye toward applying it to their own communities.

On Nov. 15, Denver criminal court judges began testing carefully-devised guidelines to determine which offenders are released on probation, which ones are sentenced to work projects and which ones are ordered to jail, and for how long.

The guidelines are designed to take the guesswork out of sentencing, to state clearly what factors the judge will consider and what weight will be given to those factors.

Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi has proposed a similar system for the federal courts. Justice Department officials studying the issue have not yet proposed legislation incorporating Levi's proposal.

The LEAA, part of the Justice Department, dealt with the issue by awarding $348,000 to the Criminal Justice Research Center Inc. of Albany, N.Y., to draft experimental guidelines for nonfederal courts.

The project directors were Professors Leslie Wilkins and Jack M. Kress of the State University of New York at Albany and Dean Don Gottfredson of Rutgers University in Newark. About a dozen judges worked with the researchers during the two-year project.

The work yielded a set of formulas for measuring the seriousness of a crime against the offender's previous criminal record, his schooling and employment record and other factors that theoretically reflect social stability or the lack of it.

The formula was developed specifically for Denver. It involves awarding points according to the seriousness of the crime and the offender's lack of stability.

For example, an individual convicted of a particularly serious manslaughter would get 12 points for the offense. If he were a poorly-educated drifter with a long string of previous convictions, he would get 13 points on the stability scale. These points would mean a prison sentence of eight to 10 years. Ten years is the maximum in Colorado.

Another person, convicted of the same type of crime, might get a four-year sentence if he had no previous convictions and lived a stable life resulting in credits on the stability scale.

"The guideline sentences are in no way intended to be binding, mandatory sentences," the researchers said in a written report. "The judge as human decision-maker will still retain the discretion to override any suggested guideline."

Society 'Gilds' The Dark Ages

By MAURA HENNESSY

STORRS, Conn. (AP) — Dust off that coat of arms, beckon your favorite wench and pop open a bottle of mead. The 10-year-old Society for Creative Anachronism is reviving those dark ages of the past—the Middle Ages.

The revival doesn't embrace all aspects of the Middle Ages, said one member, Jeffrey A. DeLuca of Willimantic. There's no religious persecution, no famine and "we try not to spread the plague."

"Chivalry with indoor plumbing" is the way another member described the Middle Ages Revived version.

The society, begun in California, lists about 3,000 members in 35 chapters. They belong to guilds, DeLuca said, for wizards, cooks, exotic dancers and archers. "We have a Wench Guild in Boston and there is a Virgins Guild, too," DeLuca said.

The society stages annually a Pentathlon of Arts, the next one early next year, probably in Philadelphia.

Members value chivalry and expect others in the society to behave like gentlemen and gentlemen, DeLuca said. Royalty and "revolting barbarians" alike are called "gentles," he said.

Medieval clothing is required at society events, said Susan R. Tallmadge, 21, of Hartford. She said gentles don't refer to them as "costumes" because they aren't pretending to be medieval people—they are.

John L. Leland, a knight of the society who also is a Ph.D. candidate in medieval studies at Yale, said each gentle picks a pre-1650 identity, with name, skill and appropriate clothing.

The identities may not be lifted directly from history or fiction. But a fan of Ivan the Terrible could choose to be called Ivan the Temperamental.

Not many gentles choose to be serfs. "You have more fun as a lord," said Leland — Count Sir Jehan de la Marche.

And a female member is assumed to be a lady unless stated otherwise. Said Leland: "My lady sometimes chooses to be a wench for private purposes."

The society is not invulnerable to modern movements such as women's liberation. To keep its tax-exempt status, it must allow women to joust with male contenders for the throne. "could a woman become king?" "Unequivocally maybe," said Leland.

The SCA holds jousting tournaments — so far without horses — and crafts fairs and revels, or medieval merry-making.

After most events, gentles gather for feasts, which include fermented milk, fermented honey — mead — and trenchers, or round, flat pieces of bread used like plates before they're eaten, too.

And the society engages in warfare among its various kingdoms. The East Kingdom fights an annual war with the Middle Kingdom over the Barony-Marche of the Debatable Lands, or Pittsburgh, DeLuca said.

The loser gets Pittsburgh.

Moving Into City Council...

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. elect Jim Hunt plans to return the working offices of the governor to the 135-year-old Capitol despite space limitations that will leave some of his staff in the nearby Administration Building.

Hunt planned to announce the decision at a news conference today. He will be the first governor in eight years to locate in the historic structure. Former Gov. Bob Scott maintained a ceremonial office in the Capitol but did most of his work in quarters shared by his staff in the Administration Building.

Those offices were redecorated by Gov. Jim Holshouser two years ago into permanent facilities while the Capitol was undergoing a major renovation. Gary Pearce, Hunt's press secretary, said the governor-elect walked through the Capitol one day last week. He added, "By the time he got through, he wanted to do it... That's where the history is, the heritage is."

chambers to destroy animals at the Animal Shelter. It was decided that rather than use the chambers, the drug, Sodium Pentobarbital, would be administered.

Caldwell said that after the action was taken by the Council to pursue the gas chamber method of elimination, the city began to receive reaction to the procedure and learned that other cities were abandoning the gas chamber method.

Representatives of the National Humane Society were contacted in Washington, D.C., it was noted, and the recommendation from the NHS was to use the drug by injection or by pill.

Caldwell pointed out that the drug can be administered by a trained technician and a veterinarian is not required. The cost of using the drug would be cheaper than the gas chamber and there would be some savings on labor, he added.

Describes DOT Role

James T. Shaw, Assistant Secretary for Safety of the N.C. Department of Transportation, spoke to the Pitt County Safety Council during its December meeting Thursday at the Greenville Golf and Country Club.

Shaw depicted the structural operations of the Governor's Highway Safety Program office through the use of organizational charts. He described the state and national procedural criteria necessary for gaining services through this office. Reference was also made to the vastness of North Carolina's Department of Transportation (DOT) which employs over 16,000 persons.

Particular problems facing the DOT mentioned by Shaw were the $1.5 billion price for removing obstacles along the roadways and ways to reduce the number of fatalities on rural roads where 46 per cent of the state's fatal auto accidents occur.

Members of the Safety Council made cash contributions during the meeting which will be forwarded to the Salvation Army as a gift.

The next meeting of the Safety Council will be held at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, January 13, 1977 at the Greenville Golf and Country Club. Visitors are invited.

Councilman William Hadden said that he felt the concern over using the d.u.; was that the person administering it might not be properly trained. The question involved whether the city would train and keep properly trained personnel on hand.

It was pointed out that a person can be trained in a few minutes to properly administer the drug.

A spokesman for the local Humane Society said that their main gripe centered around the administration of the drug and whether it was done properly. The spokesman suggested a committee to oversee the training of the Animal Control personnel.

The personnel, according to the motion adopted, will be trained by a veterinarian or at a school for such training. The city manager added that local veterinarians are normally called on for assistance.

In other business during a two-hour meeting, the Council approved the nominations of Doug Hill and Warren Outerbridge for membership on the Human Relations Council, succeeding Tom Reese and Carl Darden who resigned. Their terms expire in September of 1979 and September of 1978, respectively.

James Ebron Jr. and Francis Mebane were approved as new members on the Sheppard Memorial Library Board, succeeding Mrs. L. S. Graham and Mrs. Beatrice Maye.

The Council adopted an order closing a portion of Pennsylvania Avenue abutting the Sadie Saulter School and also a portion of Pollard Street abutting the J.C. Pollard property on the north side and the Fred Webb Inc. property on the south. Public hearings were held on both street closings.

The Council also approved a request by LANCO Realty Inc., agent for Sam J. Vincent and B. J. Lawhead, for rezoning of 19,322 square feet located at the southeast corner of Sylan Drive and Memorial Drive from R-6 (residential) to Downtown Commercial Fringe.

Mobile home renewal permits were approved for one year for the structure located behind the Pitt County Health Department and used as an office, and for the mobile home located at 152 W. Gum Road and used as a personal residence.

Application for an off-premise beer and wine privilege license for Fast Fare No. 204 located at 506 Memorial Drive was approved, as was an application by The Library, located at 519 Cotanche Street, for an on-premise beer privilege license.

A resolution was adopted requesting the NC Department of Transportation to proceed with four-lane highway improvements to US 64 and US 264.

Council members also endorsed a resolution authorizing the mayor and city clerk to execute an agreement with Seaboard Coast Line Railroad for the installation of a natural gas main on railroad property.

A third resolution approved last night authorized the submission of a LEAA application to the NC Division of Law and Order for a communications grant for the Police Department.

The Council awarded the bid for a pick-up truck for the Animal Control Division of the Inspection Department to Hastings Ford for $4,291.11. Bill Haddock submitted the only other bid, in the amount of $4,046.27, but the firm's bid bond check was not certified as required in the request for bids.

A bid submitted by North Carolina Equipment in the amount of $53,490 for a vacuum street sweeper for the Public Works Department was approved as the only bidder meeting the specifications required by the city. A. E. Finley and Associates offered a bid of $38,817 and Western Carolina Equipment submitted a figure of $40,955, according to Caldwell, but neither met the required specifications for the equipment.

The city manager noted that a bid of $31,700 by Carolina Equipment Co. was disqualified because the company failed to sign the proposal.

A spokesman for Western Carolina Equipment suggested that the specifications be made more flexible in order to receive more competitive bidding.

The bid for a 1,000 gallon per minute custom pumper for the Fire Department was awarded to Mack Trucks for $76,762.80.

Ward LaFrance offered a bid of $76,434 while American LaFrance submitted a bid of $76,442. Caldwell said that all three bids were in order and were unprecedented in being so close for such a large amount of money.

He added that service and parts availability was looked at very carefully in considering the bids and it was decided that since only $328 separated the low and high bids, the contract should be awarded on the service and parts availability. Mack Trucks has a facility only 38 miles away while service from the other two firms would be less convenient.

Budget amendments relating to the purchase of the pumper and sweeper were adopted, as was an amendment appropriating $1,200 to the Eastern Carolina Sheltered Workshop Nutrition Program.

A request by Richard Allen Harrington for release and refund of 1976 taxes in the amount of $37.67 was approved. Harrington, it was explained, lives outside the city limits and paid the taxes in error.

A public hearing was scheduled for January on an application by Mrs. Carrie Brewington for four Taxicab Certificates of Convenience and Necessity. Caldwell told the Council that Karl Faser, who has served as chairman of the Planning and Zoning Commission for the past several months, has advised the city that he will not be able to continue as chairman for health reasons but will remain on the board. Mrs. Ruth Trevathan, vice chairman, will assume the chairmanship.

Four Children

KINSTON, N. C. (AP) — Four children aged 8 months to 4 years died Thursday night in a fire which destroyed their one-story frame home in an older section of the city.

Fire Chief Leslie Greene identified them as Sue Carol McKnight, 8 months; Albert, 18 months; Rosalyn, 2½; and Angela, 4, children of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton McKnight.

Greene said the parents were not at home at the time the fire was reported at about 8:15 p.m. It apparently started around a wood heater, the fire chief said.

He said three of the children died in a front room, where the fire started, and the fourth was found in a bed in an adjoining room.

'On Target' In Picking Panel

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — Walla Walla High School officials apparently were right on target when they picked 12 students to participate in a panel discussion on absenteeism.

The panel was part of a school project on dropout problems and student absences for a Sears Foundation study.

But only five of the students showed up for the seminar, at which motives for class-cutting were to be discussed.

A quick check showed that most of the other seven were absent from school.

"It looked like we picked the right kids," said Albert Roberts, an assistant principal who was cochairman of the study.

reason for this is that while many of the power brokers have moved out of Georgetown, they still come to Dalinsky for their prescriptions. I suggested to one of Carter's transition men that if he really wanted the straight poop on Washington he should go to Dalinsky's coffee klatch on Sunday morning.

But the Carter man shook his head. "I was told to stay with the cocktail circuit in Georgetown. They say that's where it's all happening."

A man came by at that moment and said, "Did you hear Lynda Bird Johnson is getting married."

The Carter man wrote it down in his big black book.

Choir Planning Offer Cantata

The Christmas cantata "Hodie" by Ralph Vaughan Williams will take place for the first time in Eastern North Carolina at 5 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 5, in the sanctuary of Jarvis Memorial United Methodist Church.

The cantata will be presented by the Jarvis Memorial Chancel Choir and will feature soloists Ed Glenn, Stuart Aronson, Joyce Ford, Kit Griffin, Steven Walence, Millie Tripp, Cathy Wilson and organist Mickey Terry.

The community is invited to attend the special program. A nursery will be provided for pre-school children.

"Hodie" is the music of goodwill from the heart and mind of a great English visionary.

The words of the cantata combine passages from scripture with secular poetry and was composed in 1954. The range of style is wide and amounts to a Christmas anthology, including such famous poets as Coverdale, Milton and Hardy. Thus, the music is quite varied in style and mood; combining ancient with modern; simple with sophisticated; sweet with astringent.

The richness of melody in "Hodie" combines a child-like joy in Christmas with a deep spiritual wisdom. The predominant mood of "Hodie" is one of joyful exuberance, but it is not of the surface alone. The final chorus, to Milton's words, is a universal vision of peace and Vaughan Williams has chosen words which associate music with this ideal; "such music before was never made. Yea, truth and justice then will return to man."

The afternoon program will also feature three Christmas carols which will be sung by the children's choirs of Jarvis Methodist Church. Their selections to be sung are the popular arrangements of Avery's "Little Baby Boy," Marsch's "Little Drummer Boy" and a traditional American folk carol "Mary Had a Baby."

Glenn is director of the Community Chorus here and a member of the East Carolina University School of Music

Mission Board To Meet Here

The Foreign Mission Board of the National Baptist Convention of America will hold its December meeting at Sycamore Hill Baptist Church here.

The Rev. B. B. Felder, pastor of Sycamore Hill, is a member of the Board.

The session will begin with a worship service Tuesday night, Dec. 7 and continue with full day sessions Wednesday and Thursday.

The Tuesday night sermon will be preached by Dr. James Carl Same of Jacksonville, Fla., president of the Convention. Dr. E. D. Dixon of Greenville, S. C. will preach Wednesday night and Dr. Robert H. Wilson, executive-secretary of the Board, who is from Dallas, Tex., will preach Thursday night.

The day sessions will be filled with Bible messages, reports, and guided discussions.

Stations presently supported by the Foreign Mission Board are Jamaica, Haiti, Panama, Virgin Island, Liberia, West Africa, and Cameroon, West Africa. Building projects are underway in Liberia and are being planned for the Cameroon and Panama. A medical mission is to be sent to the Cameroon early in 1977. Contributions may be sent to Rev. Felder or to Secretary Wilson, P.O. Drawer 1680, Dallas, Tex. 75221.

'Joy Night' At Griffton Church

New Covenant Temple Holiness Church of Griffton will have a "Joy Night" service Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

The speaker will be Evangelist Shirley Atkinson of Greenville. Accompanying her will be The Joyful Singers of Ayden. The public is invited, says the pastor, the Rev. Ollie Harris.

Anniversary services honoring Sister Adams will be held at Moyewood Recreation Center Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Musical groups including the Methodist Gospel Singers, Jubilee Gospel Singers, Gospel Pearl and Christian Bells will perform. The public is invited.

Says Bible Offers Answers On 'UFO'

"People are interested in the UFO phenomena and are looking for answers. The government is silent; scientists are baffled, but Pascagoula, Miss. and has talked with Stephen R. Putnam, UFO Research, Boston, Mass. and other experts. He has done extensive Biblical and other research on the UFO issue. This will be his topic at the Sunday service here.

The service at the new church, located next to Red Oak Subdivision on Highway 264, will be held at 10:30 a.m. This will be pastor, Dr. Barry Bagwell's second anniversary. Dr. Riddick also will speak at a 6:30 p.m. service.

Simultaneous with Riddick's 10:30 service will be a magic demonstration for second graders through junior high school age persons. It will be given by Evangelist Charles Harris of Chattanooga, Tenn.

REV. BILL RIDDICK

Evangelist Will Preach Monday

Evangelist Johnnie Washington of Brooklyn, N. Y. will preach at Tabernacle of Victory Church near here Monday at 7:30 p.m.

With Rev. Thomas will be members of a choir of his church.

The Tabernacle of Victory is located in the former Faith Assembly of God Church one and one-half miles north of Burroughs-Wellcome. The pastor, the Rev. Paul A. Thomas, invites the public.

REV. CHARLES HARRIS

Will Present A Sunday Concert

The Rofelt Pasha Shrine Temple No. 175 of Prince Hall A. E. A. O. N. M. S. will present The Ebony Chimes of East Carolina University in concert Sunday at 3:30 p.m.

The program will be held at Sadie Sautler School, corner of Fourteenth and Fleming Streets here. Admission is free. The public is invited.

Offer Musical Program Sunday

AYDEN—A musical program will be rendered at Zion Chapel F.W.B. Church Sunday at 7 p.m.

The groups will include the Swan Silver Tone Gospel Singers of Pittsburgh, Pa., the Gospel Singers of Goldsboro, and other quartets.

The program is being sponsored by the Senior Choir of the church and the public is invited.

Bishop Stephen Jones is church pastor.

Benefit Dinner On Saturday

An old fashioned barbecue dinner will be held Saturday, December 4 beginning at 12 noon at the Medley Chapel C.M.E. Church parsonage on Main Street in Bethel.

The dinner is being sponsored by the Minnie L. Chance Family for the benefit of the church's building fund. Dinners will be $2 per plate. Plates may be delivered by calling 825-6926.

Would You Know Him?

What was he really like? We know him as the General of the Army! We revere him as our first President! We honor him as Father of his Country! But let's look on him as just an outstanding man.

And what would he think of us, now that the country he founded is celebrating its two hundredth birthday?

The changes, when you pit them against the vast span of history have been monumental. Would he, could he, join today's club? Or would he merely scowl in disapproval, and turn away?

It would be interesting to find out, fascinating to have known George Washington. And, had we lived when he did, there would have been one place where we surely would have met him.

In church.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day to do some Christmas shopping, or at least making out a Christmas list.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You understand better now where you are headed monetarily and can enjoy more prosperity in the future. Make needed repairs to property. Evening is best spent at home.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Be more charming with others and gain more influence within your circle of friends. Be more social to relieve tensions. Think along more constructive lines.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Attend to those confidential reports early and reach right decisions. Avoid one who could influence you in the wrong direction.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Plan to see as many good friends as you can and get fine results. Study what it is you want out of life and trend your efforts in such directions. Avoid tendency to overspend.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Get into that public work that will help you to have more prestige within your community. Look to an influential person for the backing you need for your talents. Avoid extravagance.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Finding new interests through which to express your finest talents is wise now. Seek those persons who can be a fine influence for you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Put intuitive faculties to work so that you know exactly how to keep promises you have made to others more intelligently. A loved one could be of help to you. Show more affection for this person.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Discuss with partners how to make future operations more successful. Make sure to handle work necessary in connection with contracts with others, also. Relax tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Find better ways and means of doing important work ahead of you. Listen to suggestions of co-workers which could prove helpful to you. Be happy with a loved one in the evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A fine day to enjoy some recreation. Save time for interesting reading.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have problems at home that require intelligent handling today. Later you can do some entertaining.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Get out early and gather the information you need so that you can make your life more successful in the future. Early evening is best for visiting with good friends, relatives.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will have it very easy during youth and should be taught to put talents to work regardless of affluent position in life so that this becomes a productive life if financial misfortune should strike later.

Outrage Can Be Result Tonight

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Methinks cries of outrage will come from senior enlisted men and officers in the National Guard and Reserves if they see tonight's NBC News Special, "The Sometimes Soldiers."

regular military troops in time of national emergency.

And it gives the impression that many Guard and Reserve units — save those in aviation — spend much time killing time on weekends, waste tax dollars and generally aren't ready to go into combat quickly.

A kibitzer, a naval aviation reservist who sat behind me at an advance screening, was moved to say the show is unfair, that "it doesn't show the positive side of what we do."

He said members of his Navy unit work their fanails off when they train on weekends and while on active duty.

Well, his gang may be ready for anything. But other units? And are most of them so combat-ready that if the President says "go" they can move out in terms of hours and days, not weeks and months, and constitute an effective fighting force or part of one?

This is what "Sometimes Soldiers" tries to examine. And the issue is crucial, now that there's no draft swelling the ranks of the regulars and heavy reliance is placed on the Guard and Reserves.

In the absence of the draft, a fresh look at weekend warrior-ing is particularly worthwhile, even if it reshapes old ground — inefficiency, political influence, lack of training and duplication of functions. And all this comes out in tonight's show.

It may prod fresh thinking about America's military reserves, both among the citizenry and on Capitol Hill. Which is all to the good. The subject should be examined and re-examined.

However, I do wish producer-writer Bob Rogers or reporter Ford Rowan had gone more into whether the units shown are in the Pentagon's view, ready for call-up and combat and can do the job.

Much time was spent hearing lower-ranking enlisted reservists griping that they had nothing to do, that it's all a waste of time.

The point is made. But I recall having similar gripes 13 years ago while a drafted guest of the Regular Army, helping defend Ft. Benning, Ga., against all enemies Northern and domestic.

Business In N.C. Rose

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Business activity in North Carolina rose a little over 1 per cent in October as measured by the Wachovia bank's business index.

The index is a monthly compilation of statistics reflecting employment, production and spending.

On a base of 100, set in 1967, the October preliminary figure was 135.0 compared with September's revised level of 133.5. Checkbook spending, as measured by bank debits, was 10.4 per cent above September's level.

Nonfarm employment edged downward 0.2 per cent in October. The seasonally adjusted employment rate declined 0.4 per cent from 7.2 in September to 6.8 in October. The national unemployment rate for October was 7.9 per cent compared with 7.8 per cent in September.

October saw a decline in employment in non-durable goods industries, with textiles down 0.9 per cent and apparel down 0.8 per cent, according to the index. Tobacco employment, however, increased 3.7 per cent.

The index indicated that car and truck sales declined during October, but this year to date, car sales have been up 35 per cent and truck sales have been up 48.3 per cent from 1975 levels.

rather than West, to be long in spades. Thus, declarer should cash the ace of spades next and, when the split is revealed, it's a simple task to finesse East for the ten and claim the remaining tricks.

We are sure that the astute reader will also have observed that declarer could have virtually guaranteed his contract by simply leading a low trump off the board after the finesse of the jack had "won."

Opening lead: Five of ♠

The second tip in this year's Bols competition, sponsored by the Dutch liqueur firm of Lucas Bols, is from Swedish internationalist Per Olov Sundelin. His advice: When you can't expect to defeat a contract by winning a trick, duck it! If this hand from a recent rubber bridge game in New York can be introduced as evidence, we're sure our old friend Lee Hazen will drink to that.

Hazen held the East cards and heard his opponents waltz into four spades via a Stayman sequence. With 29 points in high cards in the North-South hands, you would think that the contract was impregnable. In fact, the wasted values in clubs and duplication in the heart suit, combined with the bad trump break, offered a chance to defeat the contract which Hazen was quick to seize.

He won the opening club lead with his ace and, in an effort to conceal his partner's club length, he returned the two West took the king and continued the eight, won by declarer's queen. South now led a low spade to the jack, and Hazen smoothly followed with the five.

Impressed by the success (!) of the trump finesse, declarer saw an opportunity to score an overtrick by pinning the ten of trumps. He returned to his hand with a high heart and led the queen of spades. When West failed to follow suit, declarer was stranded with two unavoidable trump losers and had to go down one.

Note that, had East defended routinely, declarer is unlikely to have gone wrong. The normal defense is for East to return the seven of clubs at trick two, which would have marked West with five clubs. Now when the finesse of the jack of spades loses to the king, declarer should assume that it's more likely for East,

N.C. Marine Resource Awareness Is Stressed

Coastal waters have both psychological and economic value to eastern North Carolinians. Creating an awareness of this fact was the topic of a recent workshop by East Carolina University's Institute for Coastal and Marine Resources (ICMR). Government employees, school administrators, students, and businessmen participated in the program held at ECU's Pamlico Estuarine Laboratory owned by Texasgulf, Inc. overlooking Pamlico River's Indian Isle.

Laboratory Supervisor Dan Kornegay spoke on water-monitoring and other marine research activities of the Lab. Jim List, Assistant Director of Education for the N. C. Marine Resources Center in Dare County, described some highly effective methods of creating an awareness of coastal and oceanic resources.

Workers said the river at Lucy's home is heated to 50 degrees by water returned to the river after being used to cool steel furnace machinery.

Charles A. Anderson, furnace superintendent, said this part of the river never freezes over, so she can stay there all year. "Besides," he added, "where else could she get all the corn, apples and bread she wants? With our men and passing train crews feeding her, Lucy's found a good home."

Intimidation Night Set For Keydets

Stroke Claims Life Of Colorful Pittsburgh Manager Murtaugh

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Danny Murtaugh, who pledged to make his fourth baseball retirement his last so he could devote more time to the grandchildren he loved, is dead at age 59.

Murtaugh, who left the Pittsburgh Pirates just two months ago, slipped into a coma and died Thursday night after suffering a stroke two days earlier.

"In my younger years, I don't think I spent enough time with my children," said the sentimental Irishman when he quit in October.

"I'm going to make it up with my grandchildren."

Murtaugh was stricken at his home in nearby Woodlyn Tuesday and taken to Crozer Chester Medical Center. The stroke was considered serious and his condition steadily deteriorated.

He had a 10-year history of heart trouble and his death followed what he said was a season of very bad health.

His friends in baseball mourned the fact that he would not get the chance to fulfill his retirement dreams: scout ball-players in the warm and easy sun, smell the roses, and play with his grandchildren.

"He was a baseball man," said Cincinnati Reds Manager

Sparky Anderson. "He liked it so much he came back to it when he shouldn't have."

Murtaugh was lured out of retirement three times by his close friend and mentor, Pirates General Manager Joe L. Brown, who gave Murtaugh his first managing job.

Born in Chester on Oct. 8, 1917, Murtaugh began playing pro baseball at 19 and broke into the majors with the Philadelphia Phillies four years later.

The Boston Braves traded him to the Pirates in 1947 and the following year he had his best season, leading the league in putouts for a second baseman, assists and double plays while batting .290.

Brown hired Murtaugh to manage the New Orleans farm club in 1952 and he guided them to fifth place his first season while playing part-time.

He had been third base coach for the Pirates less than two years when Bobby Bragan was fired and Murtaugh was promoted to manager.

Pittsburgh finished in second-place the next season after eight years at the bottom, or near bottom, of the National League.

Just two years later, in 1960, he led the Pirates to a World Series triumph over the New York Yankees. His heart condition forced him to retire in 1964 but he stayed on as a part-time scout.

It was to be the first of four retirements for Murtaugh as Pirates manager.

He returned in 1967 after Harry Walker was fired, retired at the end of that season, and came back again in 1970 when Larry Shepard was dismissed.

He led the Pirates to a second World Series victory in 1971, over the Baltimore Orioles. He tried to retire again at the close of that season.

"I want to take some time to smell the roses," he said, but he did not spend long in the garden. Brown called again in 1973 after firing Bill Virdon.

Murtaugh is survived by his wife, Kate, a daughter and two sons. His son Tim manages the Pirates' top farm club.

Going into Virginia Military Institute's field house has been likened to a visit to the House of Horrors, and the Keydets have a winning way there.

Well, Saturday night, the Keydets visit Minges Coliseum, and East Carolina Coach Dave Patton wants to make things just a touch on the Keydets.

So Saturday has been dubbed "Intimidation Night" in Minges. Fans are being urged to come a little early for the 7:30 p.m. tipoff to help razz the visitors before the game gets underway.

The Pirates and Keydets will both be playing their third games of the season, and their initial Southern Conference contests. East Carolina carries a 2-0 record into the game, while VMI comes in with a 1-1 record.

The Pirates downed UNC-Asheville in the opener, then rallied from ten down to take a 70-62 win over Western Carolina. VMI beat Madison in the opener of the Virginia Tipoff Tournament in Charlottesville, then fell to host Virginia, 55-50, in the finals last Saturday night. They have not played since then.

Patton is proud of the way his young team has played thus far. "We've still got some problem areas, but with the hustle and attitude that we've been showing, there is no reason we can't correct them."

"We didn't play well in the first half of the Western Carolina game, but we sure did in the second half," Patton said. He pointed out that the Pirates held a 1.1 Offensive Efficiency Rating during the second half, and a rating of 0.9 is considered very good. A defensive rating of 0.8 is also considered very good, and the Pirates held their opponent to just .63 for the half. This is based on the points scored per possession.

"We also outrebounded them, 36-12, during the half," Patton pointed out.

"Our defense was outstanding. Twice in a row at one point we forced them into jump balls on five-second counts."

VMI will be the toughest opponent the Pirates have faced to date. They return four of the five starters from the team that went to the final eight in the NCAA tournament last season. Back are Ron Carter and Will Bynum, both on the All-Regional team last year, along with guard John Krovic, who seems to have a personal vendetta against the Pirates. Dave Montgomery also returns at center, where he is a strong rebounder. "No one team outrebounded VMI last year," Patton said.

The fifth spot is taken over by point guard Kelly Lombard.

"I hope that our fans will come out and help us intimidate them," Patton said. "We have some special plans that we'll talk about at the game."

Greg Cornelius leads the scoring for the Pirates through two games with an 11.5 average. Jim Ramsey has an 11.0 mark, while Larry Hunt rounds out those in double figures with a 10.0 mark. Hunt is also the leading rebounder, pulling down 12.5 per game.

Following Saturday's contest, the Pirates go on the road for their first out-of-Minges game, at College Park, Md., where they face nationally-ranked Maryland next Wednesday.

Williamston — D. H. Conley High School opened its wrestling season with a 60-8 romp over Williamston last night.

The Vikings won 11 of the 13 weight classes, taking five of them by pins. Two more wins came on forfeits. Williamston took just two weights, both on decisions.

Conley travels to North Pitt tonight, while Williamston entertains Northeastern next Wednesday.

Summary: 98: Gary Harris (C) pinned Ben Edwards, 2:38. 105: Rick Farris (C) pinned Tony Speller, 5:51. 112: Alton Crandall (C) won by forfeit.

118: Willie Moore (C) decisioned Terry Gainer, 16:11. 126: Harvey Green (C) decisioned William Stude, 12:4. 132: Ronald Harris (C) pinned Hank Edwards, 1:28. 138: Roosevelt Mackey (W) decisioned Larry Powell, 7:4. 145: Curtis Dixon (C) decisioned Joel Hagan, 17:4. 155: Sam Short (W) decisioned Earl Paige, 17:5. 167: Charles Hanson (C) pinned David Gurganus, 3:01. 185: Paul Bridges (C) pinned Warren Lamb, 1:04. 195: Jesse Davis (C) pinned Joe Jenkins, 2:45. Pirates Sign Star Sprinter

East Carolina University track coach Bill Carson has announced the signing of another premier sprint star. Tony Burney, a Terry Sanford High School product from Fayetteville, will join the reigning Southern Conference track champions at East Carolina next fall.

"In signing Tony we are just following in the East Carolina tradition of signing the top sprint stars in North Carolina and the country each year," Carson said. "Tony will come into his own as one of the top sprinters in the south this year."

"His electronic timings are 9:4.8 in the 100 and 21.1 in the 220. Actually, he should be 9.3 and 20.9 with manual timing coming into his senior year."

Burney has been both a track and football star at Terry Sanford. The 5-11, 160-pounder was named to the Shrine Bowl football team for North Carolina. He gained 887 yards and scored 11 touchdowns this fall.

His track record shows a fifth place finish as a sophomore in the 880 relay in the state meet; third in the 100 and second in the 220 in the state meet as a junior, while the team was both regional and state champs.

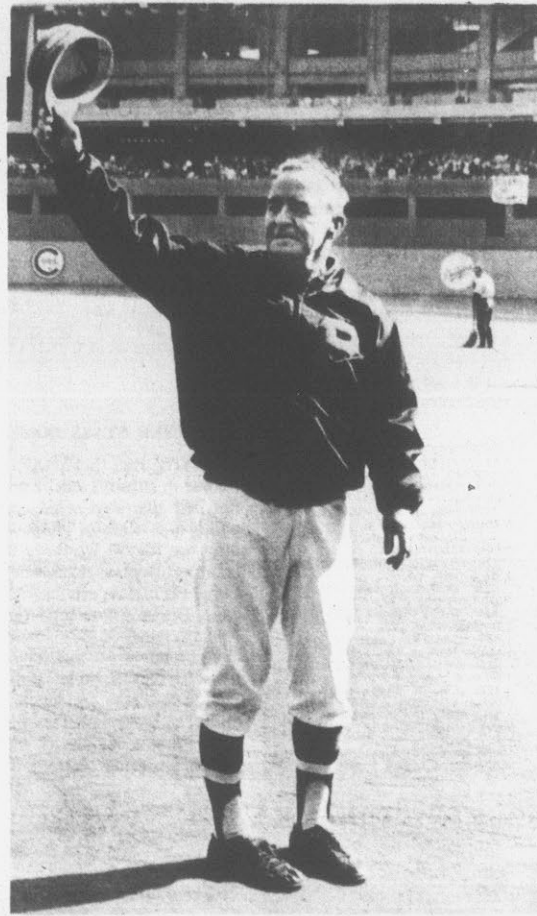

"You didn't hear as much about Tony last year due to Otis Melvin," added Carson. "Melvin is now a freshman here at East Carolina and he was first in both the 100 and 220 with Tony second, or third in both events in the state finals. These two together won the state title for Terry Sanford."

"While Tony is a great track star, the thing that really stands out is his tremendous personality and winning attitude. His being selected to play in the Shrine Bowl is just an example of his winning ways."

Burney is the first athlete signed in track at East Carolina University this year.

SOME FORGET PAST
NEW YORK (AP) — A California sports columnist was sounding out the possibilities of writing a column saying "This is the worst team ever seen in a World Series." He asked others their opinions about the 1976 Yankees compared with other losing Series clubs.

Several writers reminded the man of the 1950 Phillies. They scored only five runs when swept by the Yankees in four games. And the 1963 Yankees tallied only four runs in losing four straight Series games to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

THE LAST BOW — Pittsburgh Pirates manager Danny Murtaugh waves to the crowd who gave him a standing ovation at Three Rivers Stadium on October 3, 1976, the day he retired as manager of the National League team. The colorful manager died Thursday, two days after suffering a stroke. (AP Wirephoto)

Rampants Romp Past Kinston

Rose High School's wrestling team opened its 1976-77 season last night with a 56-12 romp past Kinston's Vikings.

The Rampants won 11 of the 13 weight classes, taking four of them by falls and two by forfeits. Three of the decisions came on lop-sided margins.

Kinston's two wins both came on pins.

Rose returns to action on Monday, playing host to Farmville Central.

Registration Is Scheduled

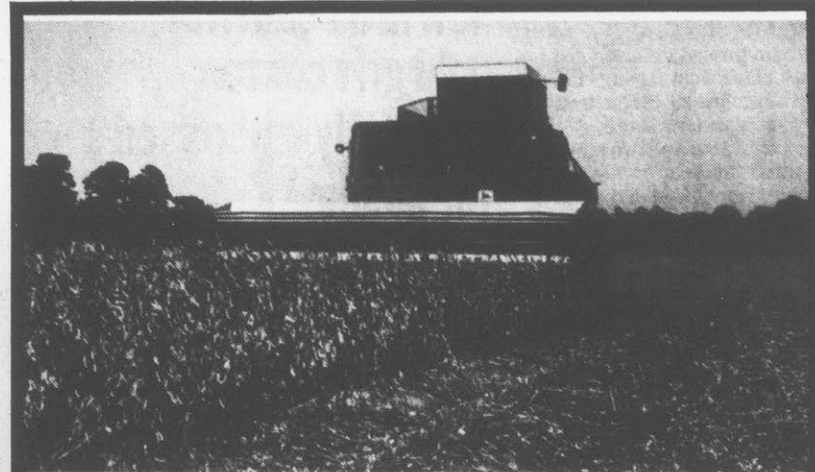

The Greenville Recreation and Parks Department has released its schedule for registration and practice for boys and girls basketball.

Senior Division (age 15) registration will be held from 4-5 p.m. on December 6.

On December 7, registration will be held for the Junior Division (ages 13 and 14). The Midget (ages 11 and 12) and Pee Wee (ages 9 and 10) Divisions will hold registration from 3:30 to 5 p.m. on December 8.

The division assignment will be determined by the participant's age on January 1, 1977. Persons should register on the above dates at the Elm Street and West Greenville gyms. All persons who normally would register at South Greenville must register at West Greenville due to the renovation being done now at the South Greenville Gym.

Rutgers Handed Upset Defeat

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
Tom Young had every right to plead, "No defense."

"Every time we'd come close," said the Rutgers basketball coach, "we somehow managed to give them a cheap bucket."

It was an open-and-shut case against the 17th-ranked Scarlet Knights Thursday night — they were guilty of playing poor basketball en route to a stunning 85-75 loss to unheralded Columbia.

That was the first loss for Rutgers after 30 regular-season victories, spanning two seasons. "Our lack of 'get' hurt us tonight ... particularly our lack of experience," noted Young, whose team reached the final four in last year's NCAA playoffs but lost two key starters in Phil Sellers and Mike Dabney.

The victory, particularly notable because it came at Rutgers' court, was especially rewarding to Columbia Coach Tom Penders, although he tried to play down its significance.

"We're trying to build and this is certainly a step in the right direction," said Penders. "I don't want to go overboard. I don't want the kids to think they've arrived, because we have a lot of work to do."

In other games involving college basketball's ranked teams, No. 5 Kentucky walloped Texas Christian 103-53, No. 11 Arizona trimmed Oregon State 81-73, and No. 16 Maryland defeated Long Island University 49-45. Juan Mitchell scored 26 points and Alton Byrd contributed eight assists as the inspired Lions upset Rutgers. Mitchell, a 6-foot-5 forward, and Byrd, a 5-7 guard, were playing only their second varsity games.

Mitchell scored 16 points in the first half, helping the Lions to a 12-point lead. Columbia took advantage of Rutgers' lack of frontcourt depth by dominating the boards after 6-9 James Bailey and 6-7 Abdel Anderson were forced to the bench with three fouls apiece during the first nine minutes of the game.

Rick Robey scored 21 points and dominated the inside game and Jack Givens added 20, leading Kentucky over TCU and providing Coach Joe Hall with enormous satisfaction.

Phil Taylor and Herman Harris combined for 45 points, leading Arizona past Oregon State.

Steve Sheppard's three-point play with 14 seconds remaining helped Maryland shrug off LIU's slowdown game and finally beat the Blackbirds. At one point in the second half, LIU went into a freeze for nearly 11 minutes and the tactic drew a sarcastic response from the crowd, which began singing Christmas songs. The pep band struck up "Mickey Mouse," igniting waves of laughter.

In other games, it was Mississippi State 96, Southern Mississippi 72; Duquesne 100, Wheeling 70; Kansas State 87, Cal Poly-Pomona 68; Temple 85, Hofstra 73; Oral Roberts 106, Tulsa 62 and Texas-El Paso 92, Wisconsin-Parkside 56.

Farmville Falls Short

FARMVILLE—Farmville Central's ninth grade basketball team lost its first game of the season yesterday, dropping a 66-64 decision to Savannah Junior High.

The Baby Jags staged a rally in the fourth quarter, outscoring Savannah 14-6 in the period, but it wasn't quite enough.

Farmville's Eugene Joyner led all scorers with 28 points. Dennis Pitt added 16 for the Baby Jaguars. The leading rebounder was Farmville's Tony Eason with 15.

Brian Ruff Again Player Of Year

By MARSHALL JOHNSON
AP Sports Writer

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — All-American linebacker Brian Ruff, called by coach Bobby Ross of The Citadel the "heart and soul" of the Bulldogs' defense, today was named Southern Conference football player of the year for the second successive season.

The 225-lb. senior from Mountainside, N.J. who also was the conference athlete of the year in 1975-76, became the first defensive performer and only the third player in history to win the football honor in back-to-back years.

Virginia Tech quarterback Bob Schweickert was player of the year in 1962 and 1963 and North Carolina tailback Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice was selected in 1948 and 1949.

Ruff, giving The Citadel the honor for the third year in a row, received 24 votes to 14 for junior tailback Jim Krus of William & Mary in balloting by the Southern Conference Media Association.

There were seven votes for William & Mary quarterback Tom Rozantz, six for third team All-American defensive end Cary Godette of East Carolina, two for quarterback Mike Weaver of East Carolina and one each for quarterback David Whitehurst of Furman and linebacker Harold Randolph of East Carolina.

The year before Ruff was honored for the first time, the award went to running back Andrew Johnson of The Citadel after he set a one-season conference rushing record of 1,373 yards. Johnson was out last year with an injury but played again this fall.

"When I was told, that was a real surprise, because only an hour earlier, I was talking about it with a teammate and there were so many good running backs this year. I really didn't think I'd make it," said Ruff, a starter since the third game of his freshman season.

"There's probably the best group of running backs in the conference since Barty Smith and Carlester Crumpler played my freshman year," said Ruff, who in four seasons was credited with 755 tackles, 13 fumble recoveries and 7 pass interceptions.

Ruff said "it's a real important honor to me to receive recognition from people you are playing against, and to know you've gotten their recognition and respect is important."

In each of the last three years, Ruff has been named conference defensive player of the week three times.

Of the dean's list student who also is a cadet corps company commander, Ross said "No one could mean more to a team than he means to ours."

While Ruff said being named an All-American "is just a tremendous honor, the Southern Conference player of the year is voted on by people who have seen me play and seen players I've played against all year.

It's proven that I have their respect, and that means a lot."

At the same time, Ruff said his choice as an All-American "shows that our school and conference can compete with other schools in the nation and that we can play with the big-time schools. To me, this is a great honor."

Colt, Cardinal Game Should Be A Classic

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

They say pro football games are won and lost at the line of scrimmage where defense and offense collide in an ultimate test of strength.

If that is true, then Saturday's National Football league battle between the Baltimore Colts and St. Louis Cardinals should be a classic.

The Colts' defensive unit, affectionately known as the Sack Pack, has decked opposing quarterbacks a league-leading 52 times. But St. Louis' offensive line protects passer Jim Hart tenaciously and has permitted him to be sacked only 15 times all season.

So, it is the old story of the immovable object and the irresistible force. The winner of their rush-line confrontation also probably will be the winner of the game.

In Saturday's other game, Los Angeles entertains Atlanta with the Rams needing a victory to clinch the National Football Conference West title.

Pat Haden has taken over the quarterback job for the Rams and tossed two touchdown passes and ran for another score in last week's 33-14 victory over New Orleans.

In that game, Lawrence McCutcheon rushed for 116 yards, going over the 1,000 mark for the third time. His 4-140 career yards in four seasons is the second highest total in Rams history, trailing only the 5,417 Dick Bass gained in 10 years.

In Sunday's action, Buffalo plays at Miami, Houston is at Cleveland, Kansas City visits Denver, Pittsburgh entertains Tampa Bay, Chicago plays at Seattle, Dallas visits Philadelphia, Detroit plays the New York Giants, Green Bay is at Minnesota, New England is home against New Orleans, San Francisco is at San Diego and Washington plays the Jets at New York.

In Monday night's game, Cincinnati plays at Oakland.

Baltimore has clinched an American Football Conference playoff berth but needs one more victory or a New England loss to wrap up the East Division title. But the Colts' situation is not nearly as serious as the one St. Louis is in. The Cardinals are tied with Washington in the NFC East, but the Redskins have the edge by virtue of having defeated the Cardinals twice this season. The survivor of that battle is almost certain to get the NFC wild card spot.

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Arthur J. Brown's ABC Freight finished his 2-year-old campaign in a blaze of glory, winning the $64,290 Westbury Trot by five lengths with veteran Clint Galbraith driving. However, Brown's homebred son of Noble Victory-A. C.'s Princess (his broodmare) will have to miss the 1977 Hambletonian.

Brown's secretary in charge of paper work failed to make ABC Freight eligible for the 3-year-old trotting classic.

Woody's Ramblin's

BY WOODY PEELE

There is no doubt now that there is a new spirit on the hardwood at East Carolina University. This year's Pirate basketball team is a lot different from that of last year.

There is much more spirit, more hustle, and more belief in itself. Whether or not this team posts a better record lies in the months ahead. But one thing is certain, there is a lot of excitement out there. There are a group of players who don't know what it means to quit.

They are in it for the race. They showed in their two opening games that they have a lot ahead of them and that they are not afraid of a challenge.

Winning their opening game despite some problems, and then coming back from 10 points down in the second for another victory leave fans with a desire to see a lot more of this team.

Tomorrow night, the Pirates will be hosting Virginia Military Institute, a team that went to the final eight last year in the NCAA tournament.

VMI's home court is known as "The Pit," and is supposed to be the hardest place to play in for a visitor.

Dave Patton doesn't like this. He wants Minges Coliseum to be the roughest court to visit. Because of this, Saturday night has been dubbed "Intimidation Night" at Minges. Fans are urged to come out by 7 p.m., pack the stands, and whoop and hollar all night long for the Pirates. A few other things are being planned to help psyche-out the Keydets.

So come on out, see the Pirates, and help them to win.

A couple of weeks ago, everyone was raving about the finish of the Duke-Carolina football game, but even that was topped.

In a game out in the midwest, the two teams posted four touchdowns and 280 yards of offense in just 89 seconds.

It all started when one team passed for a 50-yard touchdown. The following kickoff went through the end zone, and was brought out to the 20. On the first play, the other team raced 80 yards for a score.

The kickoff was returned to the 30, and two plays later, another pass resulted in a near-70-yard touchdown. Again, the kickoff went through the end zone, and from the 20—you guessed it—on first down, the team ran for an 80-yard score.

Net result: four touchdowns, and 280 yards of offense. Wow!

Chargers In Loss

Jamesville Bullets Inexperienced But Hope To Improve During Year

By JIM KYLE
Reflector Sports Writer
 It may take awhile, but Jamesville boys basketball coach William Johnson expects the Bullets to be playing some good basketball before the end of the season.
 Jamesville will be a young team with only three lettermen returning off of last year's squad. The Bullets were only 8-11 last year and finished fifth in the Beaufort-Hyde-Martin Conference.
 Johnson said, however, "For the first part of the year, it will take a little time for us to get together. But, before the season is out, we should be playing pretty good ball."

 Two of the returnees were starters last year—guards Eric Davis and Ricky Whitehurst. With those two, the Bullets have plenty of backcourt experience. Davis is a senior and Whitehurst a junior.
 The other letterman is reserve guard Cornell Williams, a senior who will probably be the sixth man in the Jamesville lineup.
 At center, Johnson expects 6-4 sophomore Tommy DiNardo to grab the starting spot. Billy Barber and Trent Ange, both 6-0, will be the starting forwards. Both of these players are also inexperienced. Barber is a junior and Ange is a freshman.
 Top substitutes for the Bullets, besides Williams, will be guards Glen Ellis and Alan Frazier and forwards Jeff Roberson and Randy Simmons.
 Johnson said most of his scoring will probably come from the two starting guards. "I've

Rally Necessary For Washington To Pull Off Victory Over Hawks

By The Associated Press
 Pay attention now: Dick Motta is giving a class in sports psychology.
 "The most dangerous thing is a 20-point lead," notes the coach of the Washington Bullets.
 Why?

"When you get that far ahead," says Motta, "you have a tendency to let up, and you usually drop down to about eight points. By the time you build a big lead, you have spent yourself."
 The lesson was dramatically put across Thursday night when Motta's Bullets had to pull out of a tailspin in the last quarter before posting a 102-90 National Basketball Association victory over the Atlanta Hawks.

Golden State Warriors outscored the San Antonio Spurs 124-116 and the Houston Rockets routed the Milwaukee Bucks 137-110.
 Forward Len Robinson scored a career-high 33 points in leading the Bullets' victory. Robinson, whose previous career high of 29 points was scored against the Hawks last season, had 21 at the half.
 John Drew, usually Atlanta's top scorer, got into foul trouble early and finished with only seven points. Joe Meriweather, with 19 points, was high for the Hawks. Phil Chenier had 24 points and Hayes 20 for Washington.

Warriors 124, Spurs 116
 Rick Barry scored 30 points, including four in the final minutes when he also had two assists, leading Golden State over San Antonio.
 Golden State led by 10 points late in the third period, but the Spurs cut the margin to 97-94 by the end of the quarter and stayed close the rest of the way.
Rockets 137, Bucks 110
 Rudy Tomjanovich scored 38 points, pacing Houston to a club-record seventh straight victory. Tomjanovich set a Summit scoring mark, breaking the old record of Seattle's Fred Brown, who had 37.
 The Rockets, who led by five points after the first quarter, improved their margin to 20 at the half and 29 after three periods. Houston's biggest lead was 137-106 in the last minute.

Bucs In Penn Event

The East Carolina University swim team will be participating in the Penn State Relays in University Park, Pa. this weekend.
 The Pirates have been participants in the meet every year since 1969 and, this year, Coach Ray Scharf hopes to improve on ECU's fifth-place finish of a year ago.

No Titles Are On The Line

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Former University of Arkansas Athletic Director John Barnhill was right about the possibility of an Arkansas-Texas matchup in December being a dud, but wrong about the year.
 In 1969, ABC asked Arkansas and Texas to move their game from mid-October to Dec. 6. At that time, Barnhill warned Arkansas Coach Frank Royer that the two teams might wind up playing for the championship of Travis County, Tex., and Washington County, Ark.
 As it turned out, the game was for the national championship and Texas won 15-14.
 The following year, ABC again had the game rescheduled for December and Texas

Southwest Conference Championship by Beating the Razorbacks 42-7

This year, however, it is for the championship of Travis and Washington counties. Arkansas is 5-4-1, Texas 4-5-1. The winner will finish fifth in the SZC, the loser sixth.

HERE'S "THE ANSWER."

You asked for a car to meet today's needs. You got it. "The Answer." A special Corolla from Toyota.
 A car built Toyota tough to meet the demands for high gas mileage and a low price. That's "The Answer." The lowest priced, highest gas mileage car in America. Based on a comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail prices, not including tax, license, transportation charges, and optional equipment.
$2,788 Lowest priced car in America. That's "The Answer." A new car that costs less than many used cars. And "The Answer" has something no one else has—unbeatable Toyota toughness at an unbeatable tough price.
Highest gas mileage car in America. That's "The Answer." Gas mileage no one else can match. In 1977 EPA tests "The Answer" got 49 mpg on the highway, 36 in the city. These ratings with a 1.2 liter engine are estimates.

The actual mileage you get will vary depending on your driving habits and your car's condition and equipment.
How did Toyota come up with "The Answer"? We started with the durable, proven Corolla and eliminated some of the luxury features. But we didn't touch the car's quality. You'll still find things like welded unitized-body construction, steel guard door reinforcements and McPherson Strut front suspension. This special car became "The Answer." A car that's inexpensive, not cheap. A car that carefully retains the toughness that's a part of the Toyota tradition. See your Toyota dealer today. He's the only one who can show you "The Answer."

Sub-Zero Cold Strikes In Area Of Great Lakes

By The Associated Press
Subzero temperatures were recorded across most of the Great Lakes early today as frigid Canadian air continued to move into the region.

New record lows for the date were set in several cities, including Cleveland, South Bend, Ind., and Lansing, Mich. Snow was reported across the eastern portions of the Dakotas, the Great Lakes and Maine. Arctic air plunged temperatures across New York State today, putting an icy glaze on new snow in most parts of the state. With high wind gusts, the National Weather Service said the chill factor was equivalent to 30 or 40 below.

A snow storm that began Monday in western New York finally stopped Thursday, after leaving up to four feet of snow. Buffalo received 29 inches of new snow during the storm, bringing the season's total of 49, more than half of a usual full winter's supply.

A man and a woman died while shoveling snow in Buffalo Thursday, raising the storm-related death toll to eight.

Most of the city's schools and colleges were closed Thursday, and stores and plants did less work than usual.

New York State's weather map resembled soccer scores more than a temperature report early today. It was Buffalo 6, Rochester 7, Syracuse and Albany 5, Watertown one below zero and Binghamton zero. New York City had 17.

The weather service said the mercury would move no higher than the teens in most areas of New York today, and fall rapidly to zero in southern New York and to 15 below in northern spots tonight. A warming trend is expected Saturday, with highs in the 20s.

Skies were mostly clear through the southern half of the nation as well as across much of the north and central Atlantic coast region and the Ohio valley. Elsewhere it was partly cloudy or cloudy.

Overnight temperatures ranged from 65 at Key West, Fla., to 11 below zero at Bradford, Pa.

Referendum On Dec. 16

The Secretary of Agriculture has proclaimed national marketing quotas for the 1977 crop of flue-cured tobacco. The national quota is 1,116 million pounds which is 12 per cent less than the 1976 quota. The national acreage allotment will be 601,941.45 acres with an acreage yield goal of 1,854 pounds.

The national acreage factor is 0.88. This will be applied to the 1976 base acreage to determine the 1977 base acreage for each farm. The quota for each individual farm will be determined by multiplying the allotment by the individual yield established for each farm.

A referendum will be held December 16 at polling places at each of the 22 ASCS community offices from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. for all flue-cured tobacco producers. The issue will be marketing quotas for the next three crop years. A two-third majority of those voting must approve quota for it to be in effect for 1977-79. If quotas are disapproved another referendum will be held the following year.

We Are Equipped For Complete Cooling System Maintenance

A REVOLUTIONARY NEW METHOD FOR AUTOMOTIVE COOLING SYSTEM MAINTENANCE

 According to a Department of Transportation study, Cooling System failure is the number one cause of mechanical breakdown on the highway (DOT HS-801102).
 What causes Cooling System breakdown? Generally the Cooling System is the most neglected part of your car. Rust, scale build-up and sludge directly affect Cooling System efficiency and if not flushed results in costly breakdown.
 WYNN'S X-TEND Power-Flush maintenance provides the most advanced method available for cleaning and maintaining your automobile's entire Cooling System.
 PRESSURIZED AIR AND WATER
 INCREASE FUEL ECONOMY, REDUCE OIL CONSUMPTION
 Because your Cooling System directly affects so many vital components in your automobile, a clean, well maintained system will provide power seats, power windows, many miles of carefree driving and help prevent the major cause of mechanical breakdown. Cooling System failure.

Seek An Understanding Education Bd. Compromise Near Of Mental Depression

The Pitt County Mental Health Association has begun a campaign to increase public awareness and understanding of mental depression. It plans programs and regular distribution of materials to explain the nature of the disorder and tell what can be done about it.

President Carl Blackwood said, "We seek to decrease the enormous number of depressed people who are not receiving treatment. Treatment available today is very effective in relieving the symptoms of depression and in helping to restore depressed persons to full and active lives. But most depressed people remain untreated, sinking deeper into despair and becoming progressively incapable of carrying out even the most routine tasks."

"Depression has been said to cause more human suffering than any other condition, not only because of the numbers of people involved, but because of the misery represented by the symptoms—sleeplessness, fatigue, loss of appetite, headache, profound sense of hopelessness and loss, guilt and worthlessness, anxiety, fear, and suicidal thoughts."

Blackwood said the causes of depression are not completely clear, but many experts now agree that it involves both physical and environmental factors. "Many say that depression appears to involve a chemical imbalance in the brain which is triggered into a bout of depression by a stress situation such as the death of a loved one, the loss of a job, or even something as minor as being slighted by a friend.

"What we want people to understand," Blackwood continued, "is that depression is a serious condition and that it is nothing to be ashamed of. It usually responds well to modern methods of treatment. There is no reason whatever for millions of people to remain in a clinically depressed state. We hope that they call a doctor or the local Mental Health Association and that their friends and families encourage them to do so."

Appointed To FCX Post

Robert F. (Bob) Bird, personnel director for the city for two years, has been hired as director of personnel of FCX Inc., the firm announced.

Bird will work out of the company's Raleigh office, according to FCX president Marvin McClam, who announced the new appointment.

Bird, a 1969 graduate of East Carolina University with a B.S. degree in business administration, served as city personnel director since November of 1974. Prior to that, he was area personnel director for Hanes Knitwear in Winston-Salem.

A native of Phillipsburg, N.J., he is a three-year Navy veteran. He is a past member of the University City Kiwanis Club and a past director of the Pirates Club.

He is married to Tracy C. Bird, a first grade reading teacher here.

FCX is a farmer-owned marketing and supply cooperative operating in North Carolina and South Carolina.

Elizabeth Ray Bars Reporters

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Elizabeth Ray, in town to audition for a role in the Union Plaza Hotel's new production, "Hanky Panky," refused to be photographed or to speak with reporters invited by hotel officials to see her.

Miss Ray, now appearing in a play in Chicago, sat in a Union Plaza showroom booth Thursday and refused to go on stage for her audition until reporters and photographers left. She said she didn't want to answer any questions.

Rep. Wayne Hays of Ohio resigned his House seat after Miss Ray said she was put on his staff payroll only to provide sexual favors.

RALEIGH (AP) — A compromise appeared in the office between Gov. elect Jim Hunt and a study commission that recommended changes in the structure of the state Board of Education, a member of the commission said Thursday.

Among changes the commission had recommended, were some that would reduce the governor's power. Hunt opposed any reduction in the governor's authority.

Thursday, the legislative study commission headed by state Sen. Ed Renfrow, D-Johnston, presented its recommendations to the Board of Education. Hunt had written Renfrow opposing reduction of gubernatorial power and suggesting changes of his own and that letter was released Thursday.

The commission has recommended rewriting state law on education and the board will begin reviewing the proposals and make its own suggestions to the legislature.

Hunt had campaigned heavily on education and said it would not serve the public interest to reduce the governor's power of appointment to the Board of Education.

Now, the 11 regular board members are appointed by the governor and serve eight-year terms. The study group suggested cutting the terms to four years, expanding the panel to 15 members and having the

Three Wake Jailers Quit

RALEIGH (AP) — Wake County Sheriff Robert J. Pleasants says three assistant jailers have resigned since his department began an intensive investigation into operations of the jail.

Pleasants made the announcement Thursday in saying the probe was being made into "improprieties" and "violation of jail rules and regulations."

Pleasants said assistant jailers T.D. Mills, W.S. Tucker and J.C. High had resigned between Nov. 20 and Nov. 24. He gave no specific reasons and declined further comment.

There were reports earlier this week of allegations that prisoners were permitted to gamble and women were brought to men's cells for sexual relations. The reports also involved allegations of bribery of some jail personnel.

Pleasants said the investigation resulted from a probe by the FBI into "improprieties" at the jail.

governor appoint four with the others being appointed by the legislature.

Hunt said the legislature would have influence in the governor's appointments through its power of confirmation.

Renfrow, who said he was not speaking for all members of the study commission, said he favored the governor retaining the governor's appointive power as long as the General Assembly could have at least two nominees for each position.

In his letter, Hunt agreed with the study group's recommendation that the superintendent of public instruction—who is now elected statewide—be appointed by the board.

Hunt also backed the recommendation that board members be selected from congressional districts with four others being at large and proposals for four-year terms with a two-term limit.

He also agreed that local school boards should have a part in choosing board nominees.

R.W. Williams To Lecture At Monday Meet

A lecture in commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the founding of Phi Beta Kappa will be delivered here Monday by Dr. Robert W. Williams, Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs of the University of North Carolina.

Dr. Williams, former provost of East Carolina University, is one of the founders of the Eastern Carolina Alumni Association of Phi Beta Kappa which is sponsoring the event.

His lecture title, "The Arts and Sciences Becoming to a Free Man" is a quotation from Thomas Jefferson, one of the original members of Phi Beta Kappa founded at the College of William and Mary in Virginia on Dec. 5, 1776.

The lecture is scheduled at 3 p.m. in the auditorium of the School of Nursing on the ECU campus. A reception will follow.

Banker Will Speak At Dinner Meet

Carl L. Dean of Salisbury, senior vice president and cashier of Security Bank and Trust Company, will speak to the Greenville chapter of Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship on Monday, Dec. 6, in the American Legion Building.

Dean will give his testimony to Christ, following a dinner at 6:45 p.m. The Rev. Gene Tyson of Grimesland, a Methodist minister, and his wife, Joanie, will conduct a singing program prior to Dean's talk.

The community is invited to hear Dean. He comes to Greenville under sponsorship of a group of businessmen.

Dean serves as senior accounting officer in the Salisbury bank. He did his undergraduate work at George Washington University in Washington, D.C. He also did work for the Congressional Ways and Means Committee until entering the field of banking in 1953.

He is married to the former Bettie Tinnin of Durham and they are the parents of two teenage daughters.

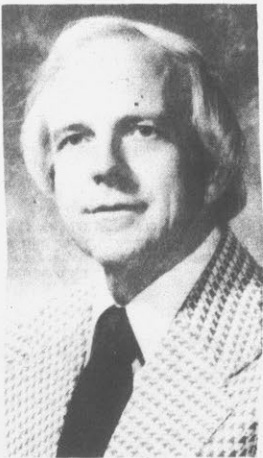

Dean is a member of the Salisbury Breakfast Optimist Club and is active in other civic and school organizations. He has been a co-ordinator of Lay Witness Missions for ten years. He is president of the Salisbury Chapter of the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship. He is also a member of Stallings Memorial Baptist Church where he teaches a 11th grade Sunday School class.

Commemorate Pearl Harbor

Veterans of Pearl Harbor and their families will meet in Greenville December 4-5 to commemorate the 35th Anniversary of the Pearl Harbor Attack.

Veterans from the following areas will attend the meeting: Greenville, New Bern, Winterville, Kinston, Goldsboro, Wilmington, Grifton, Ayden, Seven Springs, Robersonville, Williamston, Elm City, Snow Hill, Maury, LaGrange, Elizabeth City, Smithfield, Raleigh, Sanford, Vanceboro, Beulaville, and Fayetteville.

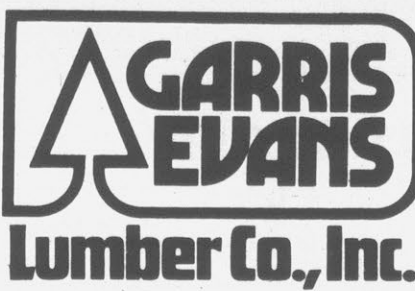

Registration for the event will be held in Room 16 of the Econo-Travel Motor Hotel. Jack and Mary Finan will conduct the registration.

ADVENT BREAKFAST

Saint James United Methodist Church will hold its Annual Advent Breakfast Sunday, Dec. 5 at 7:30 a.m. in the fellowship hall. Mrs. Jack Gross will be the guest speaker for the breakfast and will talk about "Equal Rights Amendment Not For Women Only". The public is invited.
