Soviet Power Growing Last Warning For NATO By Kissinger

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer
BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Outgoing U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger delivered a last warning to North Atlantic Treaty Organization — NATO — foreign ministers today — that growing Soviet economic power means growing military power, sources said.

Kissinger also brought a message from President-elect Carter saying that America's commitment to NATO "shall be sustained and strengthened."

The two-day session is Kissinger's last NATO meeting as a member of President Ford's administration.

According to one source who attended the closed-door session, Kissinger told the ministers that the broad outlines of American foreign policy will be the same under the Carter administration as they were under Ford.

Officials said Kissinger told the ministers:
—NATO is the most important instrument of Western cooperation and should be used for more than just military purposes.

—Maintenance of the military balance between East and West should remain its top aim.

—He opposed the Soviet proposal to ban the first use of nuclear weapons, claiming that it would reduce the uncertainty which he said is an important part of deterring a Soviet attack.
Kissinger also noted that a balance of nonnuclear weapons has never prevented war.

—The West has no reason for pessimism if its technological and organizational abilities are used to the full.

—Every occasion should be seized to make peace more secure.

—Communism is only acquiring followers in countries where the Communists are not in power.
It is giving rise to a kind of nationalism which has long been out of date in Western countries.

—The Communists have made little contribution to the poor countries of the world — 90 per cent of the aid they get comes from the West.

In his message Carter said,
"Our NATO alliance lies at the heart of the partnership between North America and Western Europe. NATO is the essential instrument for enhancing our collective security. The American commitment to maintaining the NATO alliance shall be sustained and strengthened under my administration."

The defense ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) agreed at the windup of their winter meeting Wednesday that the alliance needs to modernize its defenses against a Soviet air attack on Western Europe. But West Germany forced them to postpone a decision on an American plan to buy a fleet of 27 Boeing 707 jets equipped to detect approaching planes and missiles and direct attacks to repel them.

The West Germans said they could not commit themselves until Chancellor Helmut Schmidt forms a new government and new parliamentary committees are organized. Some less affluent members of the alliance also had qualms about the cost of the project.

No special problems were facing the two-day meeting of the foreign ministers. They were anticipating a farewell address from Kissinger and the pledge of continuing U.S. support and cooperation he brought from President-elect Carter.

Kissinger flies to London on Friday for more discussion with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Crosland on the deadlock at the Geneva conference on the future of Rhodesia. Ivor Richard, the British chairman of the Geneva talks, will join the discussion.

There was no indication that Kissinger had any suggestions for breaking the deadlock. It is due to the Rhodesian whites' insistence that they retain control of the government during the transition to black-majority rule and the blacks' insistence that they take control of the interim government.

Senate Leaders Chosen

RALEIGH (AP) Veteran
Sens. John Henley, D-Cumberland, and Kenneth Royall, D-Durham, will be the Senate leaders in the 1977 North Carolina General Assembly.

Henley, preparing to serve his 10th legislative term, was unanimously nominated Wednesday for an unprecedented second term as Senate majority leader and Senate president pro tem.

Royall, a five-term lawmaker, won nomination as assistant majority leader at a caucus of Senate Democrats in preparation for the legislative session which convenes Jan. 12.

Royall, who is mentioned as chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee in the 1977 session, defeated Sen. Lawrence Davis, D-Forsyth, 27-14 in the only contested race.

The nominations will be ratified at the opening session of the Senate.

In other action, the Senators voted to restore to the lieutenant governor the power to appoint Senate committees and to decide which committees will handle bills.

These powers were taken away last year so that a study could be made of the Senate Rules Committee. Following public hearings, the committee voted last August to restore the powers.

Gov.-elect Jimmy Green, who will preside over the Senate,
had words of appreciation for the action. He said he would immediately take steps to appoint the Senate committees.

Green told the Senators he had made no commitments to any of them. He said if a senator knows which committees he will be on "He is two jumps ahead of your presiding officer."

Sylvia Fink was renominated as principal clerk, Leroy Clark as reading clerk and Vinson Bridges as sergeant-at-arms.

Plan Closing UCP Center

The Greenville United Cerebral Palsy Center, located at Hooker Memorial Christian Church, is one of five UCP centers throughout the state that will be closed next week due to lack of funds.

The announcement was made

Grant Hearing Dec. 14

The second of two public meetings to discuss the potential of applying for HUD Community Development Block Grant Funds will be held at 7 p.m.
Tuesday, Dec. 14 in the auditorium of the Willis Building at the corner of First and Reade Streets.

The meeting is on behalf of the low-income handicapped, disabled elderly, and disabled citizens of Greenville and Pitt County.

Persons in the categories noted above are especially invited to attend the meeting in order to suggest activities that concern them; in particular the subject of housing needs and possible solutions will be discussed.

The meeting is sponsored by the N.C. Department of Human Resources, Div. of Vocational Rehabilitation Services, and the N.C. Dept. of Natural and Economic Resources, Div. of Community Assistance.

by UCP of North Carolina, with headquarters in Raleigh. The only center that will remain open is one in Raleigh which will serve as a demonstration center, according to UCP executive director Eric W. Ritzen.

Mrs. Edith Williams, director of the local center, says she understands next Wednesday is to be the last day of operation.

Twelve local children with cerebral palsy, a congenital injury of the brain or spinal cord impairing motor and other brain functions, are served by the Greenville Center at present.
The children's needs are so great that there must be four staff members to teach the 12, Mrs. Williams said.

"I don't know what will happen to our children," she said. "Some will stay in their homes and others may be worked into other programs, though it may be difficult. The fact that our children are so severely handicapped makes it hard for them to function in a regular classroom situation, yet most of them are not retarded mentally, so they do not fit well into mental retardation programs."

UCP Board Chairman William
M. Law said he hopes the shut-down will be temporary.
The centers will be closed at least four months while the agency tries to raise more money.

Centers other than Greenville's to be closed include those in Charlotte, Morganton, Kannapolis, and Wilmington. Between 70 and 90 children will be affected.

Carter Weighing Aid In Home Construction Area

By JAMES GERSTENZANG
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect Carter met today with housing advisers to discuss ways to add zip to the economy by spurring the construction industry.

The advisers have drawn up a series of options that the incoming administration could use to stimulate the lagging construction business.

Carter also was meeting in separate sessions with advisers on the economy, labor, transportation, health, education and welfare, energy, agriculture and government reorganization.
In addition, he also planned more interviews with potential Cabinet appointees.

One of the housing options would have Carter ask Congress to appropriate up to $5 billion to subsidize interest rates on home mortgages, according to a source familiar with the thinking of the president-elect's aides.

Legislation already on the books in the form of the Emergency Housing Act of 1975 authorizes $10 billion to subsidize mortgage interest rates for certain buyers.

However, the Ford administration took advantage of the law only to the extent of obtaining the appropriation of $5 billion, meaning there is another $5 billion available for spending. By asking Congress to appropriate this money, Carter could avoid the delay inherent in asking the lawmakers to approve an entirely new housing program.

A knowledgeable source said more money for the mortgage subsidy program would have a "dramatic" impact on the housing industry.

He also said it would be a "fantastically effective tool" to stimulate the over-all economy by boosting employment in the building trades and in related industries that produce things like refrigerators, light switches, curtain rods and nails for new homes.

Carter would have to decide whether single-family or multi-family buildings should benefit from this program.

Other options expected to be presented to Carter include ways to cut red tape in federal housing programs so that money now clogged in the federal pipeline can be flushed out into the marketplace where it can be put to use.

Carter's meetings with his housing aides and later with potential cabinet appointees and advisers were in Blair House, the presidential guest house across the street from the White House. Carter will visit the Pentagon on Friday before returning to Georgia. He flew to Washington on Wednesday afternoon from Atlanta.

Among those scheduled to meet with Carter are Clark Clifford, secretary of defense during the Johnson administration; Rep. Barbara Jordan, D-Tex., mentioned as a possible attorney general; and Charles L. Schultze, Johnson's budget director, who has been mentioned as a possible secretary of defense or Treasury.

Carter says his cabinet, which he hopes to announce by Christmas, will be made up of people who have "management capability" and "social consciousness."

Carter told reporters Wednesday that he wanted strong, independent cabinet officers capable of running their own departments.

"I'm a strong enough person not to let a cabinet officer override me on basic policy issues," he said. "I think I'm a good manager."

He said the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower was the last chief executive to appoint cabinet members and then delegate real authority to them, and that he would like to do the same thing.

Recreation Bd. Told Park Enlarged By New $50,000 Land Purchase

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

The Greenville Jaycee Park, adjacent to Eastern Elementary School, has been enlarged by the recent purchase of an additional 6.8 acres of land at a cost of $50,000.

Recreation Director Boyd Lee, reporting on the purchase, said the additional land would give space for the proposed joint recreation-library building, for parking spaces to serve the building and already existing facilities at Jaycee Park, and would provide the access road required by the Planning and Zoning Board.

One innovative item in development plans calls for the use of a type of pavement that grass can grow through. Lee said this would help alleviate the drabness usually associated with parking lots.

In a comment on the status of the joint recreation-library building, Lee said "hopefully construction on that building will get underway in the spring."

Summarizing programs carried out with the use of federal Community Development funds, Lee reported that a total of $367,000 had been allocated to recreation. All except $28,500 of that amount has been spent, and this remainder has been obligated and will be spent soon.

Programs made possible by the federal funds are: Purchase of West Greenville Recreation Center, including 9.2 acres of land, $120,000; the Jaycee Park expansion, $50,000; matching funds for purchase of the 343 acre ECU Foundation land, $40,000; landscaping, $25,000
(of which $12,500 is yet to be spent); architectural drawings for the recreation-library building, $20,000; paving areas of Evans Park, $25,000; improvements at Moyewood Park (soon to be started), $10,000; renovation of South Greenville Recreation Center (now underway), $65,000; and relighting South Greenville activity field, $12,000.

"These figures certainly show how much the Community Development Funds have done for us," Lee stated.

In the single new business item on which action was taken, commission members approved a policy for turning off lights in the tennis courts. Beginning Monday, Dec. 13 and continuing through the end of February, lights on all tennis courts in the city will be turned off at 7:30 p.m. unless players make a specific reservation for use of a court at Elm Street after the 7:30 lights out time.

Commenting on the effectiveness of using two Park Rangers, Lee said he was "delighted and encouraged" that for the past two months there had been practically no vandalism. "The money saved on cut-down in vandalism has more than paid for the salaries of the two rangers," Lee noted.

Reporting on the operation of the Senior Citizens Center, Lee made reference to a misconception about the hot meal service for older people. "Most people think this is for low income people only," Lee remarked. "Actually, any person over 60 is welcome to come by for a free hot meal, regardless of their income. The objective is to serve 400 nutritious meals weekly, preferably to many different people."

FULLER BRUSH?

I've been wondering and can't seem to find out—is there a Fuller Brush salesman here? M.R.

Hotline checked with both the Police Department, which must approve anyone who solicits door-to-door sales, and the Chamber of Commerce, which keeps a registry of business places and persons in town. Neither has a Fuller Brush salesman listed.

If any of our readers have helpful information on this subject, we'd be glad to pass it along.

RUBBER BANDS

Where can I find some wide rubber band for my Inertia nutcracker? I have looked in a great number of stores and have been unable to find any.
Mrs. F. B.

By the time Hotline called you back you said you had found what you need at Taff Office Supply.
We think it might be helpful to other inertia nutcracker owners during pecan season to know that suitable replacements might be found at office supply stores.

Snow Brought An Added Aura

By SUSAN QUINN
Reflector Staff Writer

The Pitt County area received its first snowfall of the season Wednesday following two days of warmer rainy weather.

The high temperature
Wednesday was recorded at 51 degrees and the low temperature was 27 degrees, according to the Greenville Utilities Department. Thursday at 8 a.m. the temperature was recorded at 23 degrees and the precipitation was measured at .27 inches.

Despite the low temperatures and sleet and snowfall there were no particularly icy roads reported to the Department of Transportation.

The snow didn't bother the spirits of the Christmas shoppers, according to some merchants.

"The business was fine during the afternoon. People are like kids, they like to get out in the snow. However, the temperature in the twenties did affect our traffic last night," J.C. Coltraine, of Brody's said.

"It didn't affect our business much," Charles Painter, assistant of Nichols Discount City said.

"We had a decrease in business about 3 p.m. when it was coming down hard, but it picked back up later in the afternoon," Painter added.

Betty Forrest, principal of South Greenville School said that the snow added to the Christmas spirit at the school.

"The students were very excited. They were so excited that they could hardly think of

Season's Cards Offer Wide Selection

NEW YORK (AP) — "Deck the halls with tennis balls" seems to be the popular theme for Santa Claus on this year's Christmas greeting cards, according to the National Association of Greeting Card Publishers.

While the jolly chap from the North Pole is expected to make house calls as usual on Christmas Eve, it may take some doing to get him off the tennis court and into the sleigh, according to Harry J. Cooper, executive director of the association, who adds, "It's obvious that Santa's heavily involved in the sport that's bounced across the nation."

Santa's current interest in tennis is among the findings of an informal survey of the group, whose members are quick to spot trends on the American scene, Cooper says.

Among other trends he reports are: a distinct return to the traditional; closer ties with family and friends, and a less cynical lifestyle than in recent years.

A marked difference in attitudes is reflected in this year's cards as compared with 1971, the survey shows. Five years ago, the motion picture "Easy Rider" praised the nomadic life of motorcycle drifters. At that time, one card publisher portrayed a supercharged Santa astride a hopped-up motorbike.

Another Santa of that era wore a gas mask as a protest against pollution. Still another advised his followers to "deck your pad with neon glad."

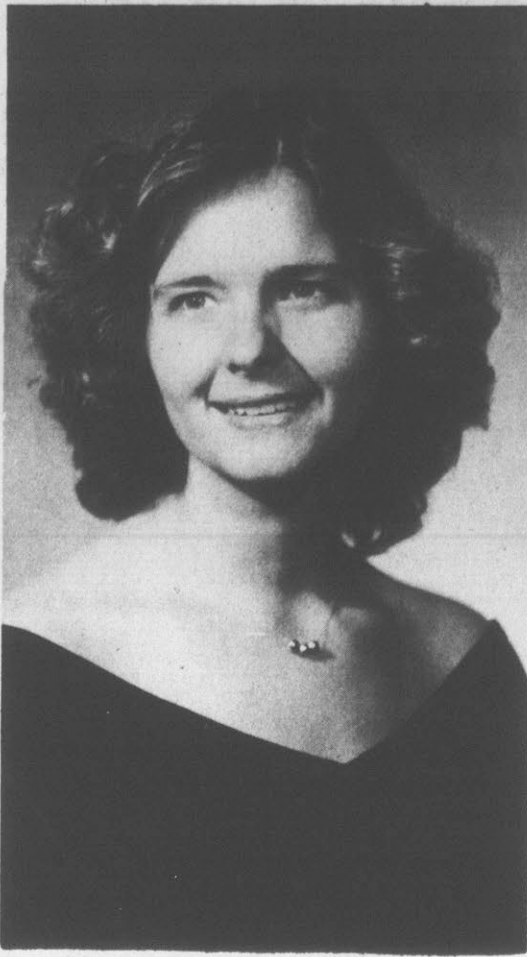

"The tenor of the times has changed," notes Cooper. "During the Vietnam war, cynicism was widespread and protests were rampant. This year's cards seem to be a harbinger of a more peaceful era, a desire to reunite family and friends and to celebrate the joy of living with taste, discretion and understatement."

Religious themes, the Nativity and the tableaux of the Three Wise Men continue in popularity, according to Cooper. He points out, however, that there are literally thousands of designs and sentiments to choose from this year.

Notable is the prominence of black and Hispanic greetings, and he predicts that a black Mother and Child will gain immediate favor among a vast segment of the population. In a similar vein, Spanish language cards are expected to be popular in the Puerto Rican, Cuban, Mexican and Dominican communities throughout the nation.

Of the more than 40 greeting card publishers who responded to the survey of their association, only one thought that Santa was being "phased out." "Never," declared the vast majority.

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

There was little doubt in my mind that when I ran the column saying the raising of boys speeded up a mother's aging cycle faster than girls, I'd get response.

Oh boy, did I get response. Here are two letters that render the debate a stand-off.

"After giving birth to three boys, I finally got a girl on my fourth try. At first, she did all the sweet little things I longed to see. She played coy, put her hands to her face when she laughed, and batted her eyes like Miss Congeniality.

"Then she turned 14 months and she struck like Hurricane Stacy. When she discovered she could no longer sail down the bannister and make my hair stand on end, she turned to streaking. I'd dress her ever so sweetly and go to the breakfast dishes. Before one glass was washed, she'd strip, unlock the door, and start cruising the neighborhood. One day, the dry cleaner made a delivery and said, 'My goodness, I hardly recognized Stacy with her clothes on.'

"As she got older, she opened her brother's head with a bottle opener for 'taking her dolls' and called the school principal Baretta.

"I am pregnant again. I sleep with a football under my pillow each night."

The other challenge came from a woman who said, "You don't know what you're talking about. With boys you always know where you stand. You yell upstairs, 'What's all that thumping about?' and you get an honest reply. 'Joey threw the cat down the clothes chute. It was cool.'

"When my daughter is upstairs playing Barbie, I yell, 'What are you girls doing?' She answers sweetly, 'Nothing.'

"I have to find out for myself that they're making cookies out of my new bath powder and a $12.50 jar of moisturizer.

"Her pediatrician advised me to 'not notice' when she insisted on wearing her favorite outfit for four months. How do you ignore a long dress with a ripped ruffle, holes in the elbow and a Burger King crown? How would you handle it if you were in the supermarket and the loudspeaker announced, 'ATTENTION SHOPPERS. We have a small child in Produce wearing a long pink dress with a gauze apron, glittery shoes, and a Burger King crown?' Our third child was born recently. Another girl. I told the orderly to pass maternity and go straight to geriatrics. I rest my case — which is the only rest I've had in six years."

Dear Abby

Forgive Dad And Welcome New Wife

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Eight years ago our father married "D," the woman who broke up our family. My sisters and I now refuse to visit Dad at his home if D is there, and Dad refuses to visit us unless we make his wife welcome. Abby, we can't be that two-faced. We despise D, and Dad knows it.

Dad is 59 and D is 35. He carried on for three years with this homewrecker, then broke our mother's heart when he divorced her and married D. Now he can't understand why we want nothing to do with D. We love our Dad and want to be friendly with him, but our feelings for his wife are too deep to change. So what's the answer?

WANTED: ONE FATHER

DEAR WANTED: I could be wrong, but consider this: It's possible that this woman whom you and your sisters "despise" has given your father more happiness, fulfillment and companionship than he knew in all the years he was married to your mother. It's also possible that your mother may have (perhaps unwittingly) contributed to the collapse of her marriage.

If you love your Dad and want to be friendly with him, don't judge him or his wife. Bury your hostilities, and enjoy whatever time is left.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 13-year-old boy who loves to read. I prefer reading to sports or watching television.

My father calls me a "sissy" and my mother calls me a "hermit." This really hurts my feelings, but I can't very well talk back to my parents so I just listen and don't say anything.

I have learned a lot through reading, and have brought home a straight A report card ever since fourth grade. Neither one of my parents graduated from high school, which wasn't their fault. They were both from poor families and had to help support themselves at an early age.

How can I get them to understand that I am neither a sissy nor a hermit, but just a person who loves to read?

HURT IN VICTORIA

DEAR HURT: Your parents aren't intentionally trying to hurt you; they just want you to have a well-rounded personality. Moderation is essential to the enjoyment of everything. That's probably what they're trying to say, but they're saying it poorly indeed.

DEAR ABBY: Isn't it inconsiderate to pin down a speaker with a long discourse while a long line of people are waiting to thank him briefly for a wonderful meeting or speech?

I've frequently been held up by someone like that when I must leave the meeting quickly to catch a train or bus, and have left feeling frustrated. Please comment.

RUTH H.

DEAR RUTH: Having been on both ends of the line I loudly attest to the validity of your complaint.

CONFIDENTIAL TO B.B. IN SEATTLE: It's been said that a good scare is worth more to a man than good advice. And that goes double for a woman.

Woman Offers Shelter To 3,000

By PIERO VALSECCHI PALAZZOLO MILANESE, Italy (AP) — You can spot it on the outskirts of this northern Italian village near Milan, following the track of the smell and the barking. It is one of Europe's largest private shelters for abandoned dogs — and a miracle of love for animals.

Virginia Craia, an 80-year-old widow, lives there with her only friends — 3,000 dogs and 60 cats — and two other elderly women who help her care for the animals, most of them mongrels.

Mrs. Craia gave up a comfortable life about 40 years ago to fully devote herself to the dogs. She has no regrets about her choice, although it has been a battle against economic problems, opposition of health authorities and the incomprehension of villagers.

"I started with a few dozen dogs saved from the gas chamber of the municipal kennel," Mrs. Craia explained. "I rescued dozens of other abandoned dogs and many others were rescued and brought here by friends of dogs."

The shelter area gradually widened and the "guests" now number about 3,000. It has become a burdening business which can be continued only through the financial help of friends and dog lovers and through some contribution by the Animal Welfare Association.

She needs the help of four persons, hired for cleaning the dogs' shelter and preparing food — stale bread, remnants of chickens and fish. Another man tours the nearby towns in a truck to pick up the stale bread.

The daily expense for salaries, food and, occasionally, a veterinarian was estimated by Mrs. Craia at 500,000 lire ($600).

"I am often short of cash. But I have always succeeded in getting food to my friends."

Sometimes I have not eaten myself to spare some money for them," she says.

As she walks into the courtyard of the shelter she is surrounded by dozens of dogs, many of them scanty-haired, who lick her feet and hands. Dozens of others are locked in special, covered pens and howl as she passes nearby.

She calls them by name — Paolino, Lupone, Lucignolo.

Her "mania" for dogs, as many call her enterprise, has cost her good relations with many relatives, including her daughter.

Appointees Should Be Careful

One problem with announcing high appointments before a new president takes office is that they all start talking.

President-Elect Jimmy Carter had the problem recently when Thomas Lance, the newly named head of the budget office, said a tax cut is "virtually certain."

It was obviously something that shouldn't have been said at this stage, and it caused Carter to have to back off.

"It's too early to decide," Carter said. "I wouldn't say it (tax cut) was virtually certain, although it is one of the possibilities."

With a president in waiting it is a delicate time for the nation and prospective appointees should be careful what they say.

At Issue: Getting The Best To Serve

Councilman Clarence Gray proposed a ward or precinct system of electing members of the city school board last week.

He and Ed Stallings, member of the school board, were asked by Mayor Percy Cox to bring back recommendations for a ward system of electing school board members.

Obviously it is going to be difficult to devise a system of electing a board which is fair and at the same time will get the best people available in our city to serve.

All possible approaches to this matter should be studied.

Departing Gill Is Honored

By BILL NOBLITT

RALEIGH — Edwin Gill would have been right at home as an American 200 years ago. He is a revolutionary.

Retiring after 47 years of public service to North Carolina, Gill finds his final days as State Treasurer filled with honors and awards.

Most recent, the North Carolina Bankers Association came up with $120,514.17 to establish the Edwin Gill Professorship in Business Management at North Carolina State University.

On receipt of that gift, Chancellor Joab Thomas struck just the right chord: what they really ought to do would be to endow an Edwin Gill College of finance, business, politics, football, culture, and the performing arts.

foundings of the N.C. Art Museum, first in the nation to use tax funds for art.

He has been instrumental in many major purchases for the Art Museum, and active in recent design of a new museum; a consistent voice for culture, arts, and history in education; a lover of books, music, and art—a painter of pictures and a writer.

Even now, he is writing a novel: an Evening at Monticello at which Jefferson, Monroe, Madison, and LaFayette, in 1824, talk about the state of the nation and the world. Who else but a revolutionary could record that conversation; no doubt the book will read as though Edwin Gill participated in the talk... as well he could have.

As the state's bankers presented their gift in honor of Gill, a series of speakers appeared, their names known across the state, and each speaking on a different area of Gill's life: University of North Carolina President William Friday reminded listeners that Gill urges a broad education for all because a textile worker may one day be mayor; a bricklayer may become a county commissioner.

In The Arts

Mary Semans recounted his involvement in arts, insistence on architectural splendor in buildings such as the State Legislative Building, Art Museum, and restored Capitol; praised his leadership as a "one man planner in attracting the business world to the art," and noted his insistence on mastery over celebrity in choosing art.

Former Gov. Dan K. Moore spoke of government and politics, calling him a "great and good man... truly a builder of North Carolina by service, leadership, and vision... leaving an imprint that will endure for generations to come."

Archie K. Davis talked about Gill's integrity in finance and demand for fiscal care. The state's bonded indebtedness now is 17 per cent of the budget against 74 per cent in the 50s. The state treasury weathered the recession with no lasting trouble.

"His going leaves a lonely place against the sky," Davis said. "He is an original... moving with equal grace in the business and the cultural world."

A revolutionary, Gill often has been described as too conservative and a traditionalist for insisting on the place of history in education; he was labeled too liberal for espousing the right of 18-year-olds to vote.

How did Gill respond to all that praise? First by turning it back on the bankers, giving them credit for opening up their businesses to the people and for taking a leadership role in improving the state and the communities where they live.

Then by throwing out another revolutionary observation: "Must everything be justified by the money we can get out of it? Or wouldn't it be enough to be able to say we did something good; something of value for mankind."

After it was all over he wondered privately: "I honestly don't know what I have done to deserve this... I have just worked and tried to do the best I could."

THE STAR BREAKS LOOSE FOR A BIG GAIN!

Carter Options Shrink

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jimmy Carter is a man who believes in keeping his options open, but it's getting more difficult every day.

There's a prime example in the current will-he-or-won't-he discussion of a quick tax cut to pep up the economy early in the new administration. Carter isn't saying whether he thinks there should be such a tax cut, although that move now appears likely.

Unless there is an unexpected economic spurt during the next month, the President-elect almost certainly will propose some government action to stimulate the economy.

That means a tax cut to spur consumer spending, or an increase in government spending on programs that would quickly create jobs. Carter may well opt for a combination. He said he hasn't decided and won't until after the first of the year.

As a candidate, Carter dealt often in possibilities and options, leaving himself room to maneuver. That technique gave rise to charges raised first by Democratic rivals and later by President Ford and the GOP that he wavered on issues and tried to placate all sides.

But for a president-in-waiting, the options close quickly.

A campaigner's words are one thing; those of a president-elect are another, and Carter himself fueled the tax cut speculation shortly after the election.

Furthermore, Carter now has advisers and fledgling appointees speaking for the incoming administration, and sometimes saying more than he is ready to have said.

So when Thomas B. "Bert" Lance, designated director of the Office of Management and Budget, said on Sunday that a quick tax cut is "almost a certainty," Carter was quick to amend the record.

"It's too early to decide," he said. "I wouldn't say it was virtually certain, although it is one of the possibilities."

Lance quickly conformed. He said a tax cut is a leading option. Meanwhile, members of the economic team at Carter's transition headquarters in Washington said a tax cut almost surely would be part of any package proposed to stimu-

By JAMES J. KILPATRICK Constitution-Meddling

John Connally, the silver-haired sage from Texas, wants to make three or four substantive changes in the Constitution. Senator Birch Bayh wants to undermine it altogether. Other dignitaries continue to talk of amendments dealing with prayer, busing and abortion. I have a few modest propositions of my own. Let me kick them around.

In his speech the other day to the Republican governors, Connally returned to one of his favorite themes — the need, as he perceives it, to guarantee a continuing infusion of new blood into our political system. He proposed to limit future presidents to a single six-year term, to limit senators to a single eight-year term, and to limit members of the House to two four-year terms. He also proposed the compulsory retirement of federal judges at 70.

Connally's purpose — and it has some merit — is to prevent the hardening of political arteries. His proposal stems from the same root principle laid down by George Mason in the Virginia Declaration of Rights in 1776. Mason's thought was that members of the executive and legislative branches might be restrained from oppression "by feeling and participating the Bur-

Other Editors Say To Sir Walter

(Greensboro Daily News)

Sir Walter Raleigh finally made it to Raleigh last week, almost certainly in a form of which he would have approved — an 11-foot bronze statue unveiled with appropriate pomp and circumstance in the Bicentennial Plaza downtown. With his hat cocked back and his arms vigorously poised to move ahead, Sir Walter looks for all the world as if he were about to stride off into that "new England beyond the sunset" which ultimately brought him more grief than fortune.

It is perhaps fitting that this memorial to the founder of the Lost Colony should have been made possible by the discovery of a lost fund. The idea for the statue, first broached in 1892, lay dormant until then-Secretary of Art, Culture and History Sam Ragan found $10,228 set aside for the project in the state treasury in 1972. A 21-member Sir Walter Raleigh Committee was then appointed by Governor Holshouser to commission an artist and establish an annual Sir Walter Raleigh day to be celebrated in the public schools.

It was in 1584 that Sir Walter dispatched the first expedition to that land where explorers reported they "smelt so sweet and so strong a smell, as if we had been in the midst of some delicate garden abounding with all kind of odoriferous flowers." But the sweetness of this "goodliest soil under the cope of heaven" quickly turned to bitterness. The first Raleigh colony to establish itself on Roanoke Island in 1585 encountered hostile Indians and poor harvests and returned after about 10 months of misery. Raleigh's second colony, consisting of about 120 settlers, arrived in 1587 and met with somewhat more success. However, in the three-year absence of Governor White, who had returned to England to plead for more supplies and money, the colony disappeared.

Speculation about the colony's fate has since run wild. Later explorers heard of bearded white men living among the Indians. It is said their descendants still live today. But Lefler and Newsome, in their history of North Carolina, suggest the more pedestrian theory that "the group, finally despairing of relief, sailed for England in a boat which had been left with them by White in 1587, and were lost in the Atlantic."

Whatever the colony's fate, its existence has served as a basis for a flourishing trade of books, articles and at least one symphonic drama. As for Sir Walter, though he later lost his head, it is perhaps a tribute to his legendary genius that for all the expeditions he financed to the Lost Colony, he never once went along for the ride.

thens of the People." Such public servants "should at fixed periods be reduced to a private station, return into that body from which they were originally taken, and the vacancies be supplied by frequent, certain, and regular elections."

The principle is sound, but I doubt the wisdom of writing it into the supreme law of the land. There is something to be said, after all, for the value of experience. If Connally's proposal as to judges had been written into the Constitution of 1787, half of the hundred justices of the Supreme Court would have been affected. Holmes served to 91, Taney to 87, Brandeis to 82, Hughes to 79, the first Harlan to 78, Taft and Stone to 73. The country would have been denied the golden years of Black, Frankfurter, Douglas and the second Harlan. To be sure, the country might have been spared the senility of a Cushing or a Field, but the value of a hard and fast line at age 70 can't be easily demonstrated.

The same objection applies to Connally's proposed limitations on House and Senate terms. His plan would assure a complete turnover in Congress every 12 years. A good thing? I doubt it. We ought to keep a few old warhorses in the stable; and the people ought to be able to rid themselves of an incompetent representative in two years, not four.

Senator Bayh's pet project might technically be described as amendment; it is in fact closer to revolution. He urges the direct national election of presidents, and he promises to renew his proposal when the 95th Congress convenes. As chairman of the amendments subcommittee of Senate Judiciary, he will be in a position to push it.

A worse change in our fundamental law could not be imagined. To adopt Bayh's plan is to destroy the principle of federalism altogether. Nothing viable would remain. In one stroke, the delicate structure of checks and balances, of delegated and reserved powers, would be effectively obliterated. We would be subject to the reign of King

THE INSIDE REPORT

Pressures On Tito Mount

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

BELGRADE — A potentially dangerous conflict between political repression in non-aligned Yugoslavia and widening pressures for reform is building here and in other centers of intellectual discontent which, because of new factors abroad, Tito is having unique difficulty containing.

Whether these pressures will ease Yugoslavia's Communist dictatorship in the long run is anyone's guess. In the immediate future, however — between now and next summer's Belgrade conference which will examine the results of the first two years of the 1975 Helsinki agreements — it is virtually certain that strong-arm repression by the Tito regime will be more muted than usual.

The Helsinki follow-up conference is supposed to study how signatories of the Helsinki "final act" have lived up to the agreements — particularly the human rights commitments entered into by the Soviet Union, the U.S.,

Canada and all European countries (except Albania). Also thorny are these problems: Tito's desire to have some association with the Common Market, and contradictions with the growing power of Italian Communism.

Consequently, the Communist rulers of Yugoslavia want to minimize public confrontations growing out of acts of political repression which invariably — or at least often — become celebrated causes abroad.

As a police state, this country does not match the Soviet Union or its European clients. But by Western standards, it lacks even the most fundamental civil rights. For example, consider this unpublicized case of search and seizure without warrant, followed by the use in court of the seized material to send a district judge to jail.

The case, unpublicized in the controlled press but made known to us by dissident intellectuals, occurred last September in the Slovenian capital of Ljubljana. It centered on publication of a political treatise in a magazine called Catholic Messenger, published across the border in Italian Trieste and banned from Yugoslavia.

The author is a widely acclaimed Slovenian poet named Kocbek. Because Kocbek has a following in the West, the government has ignored him. The case would have become an embarrassment at next summer's Belgrade conference.

Instead, the police moved not against Kocbek but against his friend, the judge. A search of the judge's house produced his personal diary, which in turn exposed the judge as favoring more autonomy for Slovenia. Into jail he went.

Political repression here is not what it used to be in the infamous days of the deposed police chief, Rancovic. But glaring examples such as this are not rare. The most publicized is the case of Sergei Popovic, a well-known Belgrade lawyer who has made a courageous and dangerous career of defending victims of political repression.

With no help from the Belgrade bar, Popovic was convicted earlier this year and stripped of his passport and his right to practice law for his defense of a client in a "hostile propaganda" case. In his summation, Popovic called on the court to disprove the truth of his client's "hostile propaganda." The Catch-22 verdict: by repeating his client's words

Strength For Today

CHECKING UP ON THE CONSCIENCE

A clock is of no value unless we keep it set to the correct time. Likewise the human conscience has to be checked with considerable regularity in order to assure that it is ticking in accordance with the moral standards of Almighty God.

There are certain aids to this process of correction. Regular attendance at church helps us set the timepiece of our conscience. A thoughtful reading of the Bible ought to reveal whether our lives are deviating from God's plans for us.

We should never forget that conscience stands in continual need of correction. We can never be sure we are right about anything until we take pains to find out what are God's standards of right and wrong. Just as we are often surprised to find that our clocks and watches are out of time, so we will be equally surprised when we take the trouble to compare our conscience with God's eternal standards of right and wrong.

Many Supporters Of Tax Cut

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Carter seems to be in a minority when he insists that an income tax cut isn't a certainty but instead only one of the options available to him.

The operators of the increasingly popular numerical, or econometric, models, the independent economists and those with the big banks, legislators, and apparently even Carter's own people, are making that assumption.

Support for a tax cut seems to come from elements of all economic types and strata, from businessmen and labor, although the AFL-CIO has officially withheld support until it can review precise proposals.

The big banks here, which remain, however. The AFL-CIO reminds people that its commitment is more to "tax justice." Whether that includes a tax cut remains to be seen.

Some economists are concerned also about the consequences, arguing that the most recent reduction during the Ford administration was simply used to pay bills or build bank accounts rather than to buy goods.

It is argued also that a cut, even if concentrated in the middle and low tax brackets, won't help the worst off — retirees on Social Security for example — who pay little or no federal income taxes.

Talk persists, nevertheless, because Carter has committed himself to a goal of lower unemployment, more economic growth, lower interest rates, and tax reform.

Almost all commentators seem to believe that lower taxes are essential to achieve these goals, especially that which calls for a reduction of 1.5 percentage points in the jobs rate, now 8.1 per cent, by one year from now.

Few major economists feel that the jobless goal can be met without spurring the economy to much greater activity than is now anticipated, and the way to do that, they seem to feel, is by tax ease.

Many economists go further: They insist the entire economic program of the new Administration hinges on a cut — that it is the key ingredient, the catalyst, the yeast that will make possible a larger slice for everyone.

Evans Novak...

in his summation, Popovic himself was convicted of spreading false propaganda.

The 39-year-old lawyer filed a fresh case with the Constitutional Court on Nov. 24, asking for a finding that Yugoslavia's law on freedom of the press is unconstitutional. It permits banning of any publication "that tends to excite the public." That law has been used to ban one or more issues of some 33 Western newspapers, including the Paris Herald Tribune, for offending articles, without explanation or appeal (the articles are then translated and sent around to top party and government officials).

Significantly, Popovic is not in jail. The government does not want harmful publicity about such denials of fundamental rights on the eve of the Belgrade conference.

It is still undecided, for example, whether to allow two Belgrade professors to teach next year at the International Graduate University Center at Dubrovnik. They were among the eight professors fired from Belgrade faculty posts in January 1975 for having written for Praxis, a Zagreb theoretical journal (now banned) that advocated "humanistic Communism," a concept, however defined, unacceptable to the government (but publicly defended by leading Italian Communists).

The Dubrovnik center threatens to move outside Yugoslavia if the two professors are not allowed to lecture there next year.

These and other cases pose far more difficult choices for Tito's regime than ever before. With old-style repression temporarily in abeyance for tactical reasons ("The margin is pretty wide today," we were told), Tito risks a dangerous buildup of new demands and political tensions for the future, tensions not unlike those now cutting a wide arc through Moscow's preserve of Eastern Europe.

Kilpatrick....

Numbers. The prospect appalls.

Instead of radical surgery on the presidential process, some mild therapy might be considered. It would be prudent, it seems to me, to amend the Constitution so as to eliminate the risk of the faithless elector—the elector who repudiates his general election commitment and votes for a different candidate in the decisive electoral college. We ought also to revise the existing contingent plan by which a presidential election may be "thrown into the House" if no candidate wins a clear majority of electoral votes. These would not be drastic changes, but they would be useful changes.

As for other amendments, we doubtless will see a hundred proposed—to forbid racial-balance busing, to prohibit abortions, to authorize prayer in schools, to compel a balanced federal budget, to repeal the income tax. The list is endless. Most of the propositions ought to be rejected out of hand. The Constitution is not perfect; it is not unchangeable; it is not beyond improvement—but it has worked wonderfully well for a long time. Like every other precious package, it ought to be handled with care.

late the economy. Carter said two days after the election that advisers had told him a tax cut might be necessary. "This would be a very strong possibility if there is no recovery in the rate of growth of our economic product," he said.

He also said any tax cut would be aimed at the lower end of the wage scale, designed to stimulate purchasing power for the average family.

When a president-elect says something is a strong possibility, it sounds like policy. Carter's spokesmen quickly said that he hadn't made up his mind on the subject.

And Carter himself handled it far more cautiously in later pronouncements.

Genuine leather men's Jackets.

Compare anywhere! 79<sup>99</sup>

Nothing can compare with the smooth, butter-soft feeling of genuine leather. All men look prouder when they know that they are wearing the "real thing" . . . and not just the imitation. Genuine leather also provides just the right touch of fashion elegance. We offer these jackets in two wanted stylings in the new waist length for men on the move. Select from button or zip front closures. You will notice such fine detailings as stitched pocket flaps, back shoulder yokes . . . even side buckle adjustment tabs on most of them. They are available in the wanted colors, rust and antique brown. Sizes 38 to 46.

The illustrations shown are similar to those in stock.

Cultists Sentenced In Death Of Child

YUKIMA, Wash. (AP) — A mother convicted of helping four other cult members beat her 3-year-old son to death in an attempted exorcism defied a judge's authority as he sentenced her to 20 years in prison.

"My judgment is before God," Debra Weibacher, 20, said Wednesday as she and the others were sentenced for manslaughter and assault in the death of her son, David.

"I can't believe the rottenness of this country and the court," she said after sentencing by Superior Court Judge Howard Heltinger.

Edward Leon Cunningham, 51, the self-proclaimed "minister of God" and cult leader, told the courtroom: "God hasn't found me guilty. That's why I have no emotions. I'm not guilty before God. He will judge me."

"The court finds its guidance in God also," the judge replied.

Cunningham testified earlier that he saw the devil in David and ordered him thrashed with bare hands and sticks over a four-month period until the boy collapsed and died in July.

The boy's body was put on a cot in a back bedroom, and household members took turns guarding the door 24 hours a day to ward off the devil. They said they expected the boy to be resurrected.

A policeman searching the house found his body on Sept. 19.

Mrs. Weibacher, Cunningham and Cunningham's daughter, Carolyn, 27, were each given two consecutive 10-year prison sentences for first-degree manslaughter and second-degree assault.

Thelma Cunningham, 45, Cunningham's wife, and Lorraine Edwards, 19, a former schoolmate of Mrs. Weibacher's, were sentenced to 15 years each for second-degree manslaughter and second-degree assault.

The judge said he would recommend that Cunningham serve his full 20 years without leniency or parole.

Elect Five To C-of-C Board

Five new members of the Greenville Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors were recently elected according to President Don Collier. The new board members are as follows: Fred Baumann, Mrs. Jeannette Cox, Art Galya, Ray Rogers, and Tom Taft. These members' terms will expire December 31, 1979.

According to Collier, the new By-Laws of the Chamber provide for four ex-officio board members. They are as follows: Greenville Mayor, Percy Cox; Chairman of the Pitt County Board of Commissioners, Charles Gaskins; Dr. Leo Jenkins, Chancellor of East Carolina University; and the immediate past president of the Greenville Area Chamber of Commerce, Don Collier.

The board of directors will have a total of 22 members.

Those who will serve for one year terms ending December 31, 1977 are: William Blount, Tommy Edwards, Carl Knott, Lawton Nisbet, and Harold Thomas.

Those serving for two year terms ending December 31, 1978 are: Charles Burnette, Don McGlohon, Jerry Powell, John Shannonhouse, and David Womack.

1977 President, Lawton Nisbet, will appoint three directors to serve one year terms this week.

Ex-Teacher Is Honored

BETHEL — Citizens of the Town of Bethel sponsored an Appreciation Dinner Sunday afternoon for R. B. Johnson, a retired teacher and an active participant in community affairs.

Mrs. Willie Mae Carney presented Johnson a plaque which commended him for his outstanding community service during 1976. Ms. Ella Little directed the dinner and the program.

Johnson, a native of Roanoke, Va., is a graduate of A & T State University where he earned B.S. and M.S. degrees in agriculture. He presently serves as the minority representative for Pitt County on the Mid-East Commission Executive Board of Directors, a member of the board of directors of the Pitt County Boys Club and is chairman of the board of directors of Operation Sunshine. He is also a member of the board of deacons of Sycamore Hill Baptist Church, a member of the Pitt County PTA Council Executive Board and is a past member of the N.C. Future Farmers of America board of trustees. He taught agriculture for 24 years.

He is married to the former Juanita Fulton of Farmville and has one daughter.

Three Injured As 5 Vehicles In Accident

An early morning wreck near Belvoir injured three persons and damaged five vehicles.

According to North Carolina Highway Patrolman M. B. Johnson, a car driven by Alton Ray Bradley, of Rt. 4, Greenville allegedly pulled out into traffic from the Belvoir trailer park and was struck by a car driven by Zandra Kim Sledge, of Eastbrook Apartments, Greenville.

The force of the impact caused the Bradley vehicle to collide with three cars headed east toward Greenville. The cars were driven by Dallas Ray Little, of the Belvoir trailer park, Jeannie Elizabeth Morris, of Rt. 6, Greenville, and Willie Marlin Hardee, of Rt. 6, Greenville.

According to the patrolman, three persons were injured, one a passenger. They were listed as Alton Ray Bradley, Dallas Ray Little, and a passenger in the Little car, Cleveland Johnson.

Patrolman Johnson said Bradley was charged with failure to yield the right of way. The accident occurred about four miles west of Greenville on highway 33.

Members of the Belvoir fire department responded to the call because of spilled gas.

J.W.H. Roberts Joins Local Law Offices

J. W. H. Roberts, who retired Monday as Chief District Court Judge of the Third Judicial District after eight years on the bench in that position is now associated with the Mark W. Owens law firm's Greenville office in the general practice of law.

A Wayne County native, Roberts received his education at George Washington University and was licensed to practice law in 1927. He came to Greenville in 1936 after being associated with the Home Owners Loan Corp. and the U. S. Department of Justice in Washington D. C.

Roberts served as judge of the old Greenville Municipal Records Court for 11 years.

One Vote Cost Him Two Losses

AVON PARK, Fla. (AP) — Thomas Tataris says his single-vote defeat in a city election cost him both a council seat and his best friend.

Kelley Phillips won the election by a vote of 628 to 627. The canvassed returns Wednesday confirmed the single-vote outcome of Tuesday's election.

"I wouldn't have minded losing by 100 votes," Tataris said. "But a friend who promised he'd vote for me and nobody else didn't go to the polls because he said one vote wouldn't matter. He's no longer my best friend."

A NEW GOVERNMENT BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Moslem banker Salim el-Hoss began trying to put together a new Lebanese government today and said it "will not take much time".

A Caterpillar Is In Yard Is Illegal

SEATTLE (AP) — Harboring a caterpillar can get you six months in jail and a $300 fine here, but violators needn't worry about the law creeping up on them.

Robert Barr, director of neighborhood service centers, says that because of the stiff penalties, the city issues no citations under the 1912 law, which makes it a misdemeanor to have a caterpillar in your backyard.

The city council has decided to vote next Monday on whether to repeal the statute altogether.

Some city officials contend that caterpillars actually do little harm to trees or plants and are less destructive than insecticides used to kill them.

Councilwoman Jeanette Williams favors keeping the law but lessening the penalty to a fine similar to that for a parking ticket.

Community Tree Again Adorned

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — The big star is back atop the community Christmas tree, and so are $250 worth of lights missing for a year. An unidentified man left the ornaments with the Rev. James M. Giffillan of Mary Star of the Sea Catholic Church, saying only: "Where do I leave this? It belongs to the Christmas tree."

Father Giffillan said Wednesday he never thought to get an explanation from the man, who apparently had seen a newspaper story saying the ornaments had been lost or stolen.

The 65-and-over age group accounts for about 15 per cent of the national vote.

OSAKIS, Minn. (AP) — Police here have asked the public's help in locating a stolen car. The car was described as a blue, 1976 Dodge Monaco. Also, the front doors had black and gold shields and the words: "Osakis Police Department."

Defends Vet School Site

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — The University of North Carolina Board of Governors decided to locate a school of veterinary medicine at North Carolina State University of "educational considerations, a and not racial considerations, a UNC official testified Wednesday.

Location of the school at the Raleigh campus would neither impede nor advance efforts to desegregate the state's system of higher education, Dr. John Sanders testified.

The hearing before Judge Eugene A. Gordon concerned the group's request for an injunction preventing the board from locating the school in Greensboro.

The board was concerned about "where the best school could be placed," Sanders said, adding that its enrollment would be overwhelmingly white regardless of its location.

If that were true, responded the plaintiffs' attorney, David James, placing the school in Greensboro would cause an infusion of white students to a predominantly black campus and "enhance the dual system" of education.

However, Sanders said a program's beneficial effect on a campus "is only one of the considerations" in trying to decide where to locate the program.

Surviving are two sons, Dr. Oscar Brown of Ayden and Miles Gordon Brown of Sun Valley, Calif.; one daughter, Mrs. Doris B. Petty of Lighthouse Point, Fla.; and eight grandchildren.

The family will be at the home of Dr. Brown in Ayden and will receive friends at the funeral chapel from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday.

Two Resigning Farmville Posts

FARMVILLE — J. I. Morgan III has resigned as chairman of the Farmville Planning Board and George Moyer as vice-chairman of the Farmville Housing Authority.

Morgan said he resigned in order to accept an appointment to the Pitt County Revenue Bond Board. He said his term on the town planning body would have expired at the end of this month anyway, and he understands he cannot serve on two such appointive boards simultaneously.

Moyer's resignation creates vacancies in the two highest positions on the Housing Authority. The chairman, T. S. Ryon, stated at the town board meeting here Tuesday that he was resigning effective immediately because of his belief that he could not work with the Commissioners "due to the action taken by the Board recently and the wishes of the citizens ignored." He said he was referring to the Board's dismissal of the police chief Nov. 17 over the protests of numerous citizens and to the Board's failure to answer his challenge of the same date to find leaks that had allowed "the firing of the chief" to be public information before a closed meeting to make the request for resignation was even held.

Moyer and Morgan both said their resignations have nothing to do with the police controversy.

Urges Assembly To Avoid Issue

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The 1977 North Carolina General Assembly has been asked "not to get bogged down once again on liquor by the drink."

The Rev. Coy Privette, unsuccessful Republican gubernatorial candidate and official of the Christian Action League, says North Carolina voters have already stated their case on the issue.

"The people spoke firmly" on liquor by the drink when they voted down a statewide referendum by a 70-30 margin, Privette said.

"As always, the strongest sentiment for liquor by the drink is centered in Mecklenburg, but even in that delegation, opposition to liquor by the drink is the strongest ever," he said.

Maryland Holds Off Pirates, 80-69

Buc Wrestlers Sweep Three

BUIES CREEK — East Carolina's wrestling team flexed a little muscle yesterday, gaining three easy wins over Barber Scotia, North Carolina Central and Campbell. The match was a quadrangular one held at Campbell.

In the first match, the Bucs completely dominated Barber Scotia in every phase, getting all pins and forfeits to roll to a 60-0 victory.

In the second match, ECU received pins in the classes from 150 to heavyweight to shut out their second foe of the day, North Carolina Central, 59-0.

Campbell College ruined the Pirates' chances for a perfect day, but East Carolina completed its sweep of the day, downing the Camels, 38-8. East Carolina received pins from John Williams, Barry Purser, Mark Peters and Phil Mueller, all in the first periods. Mueller now stands as the lone unbeaten wrestler on the squad.

The wins were East Carolina's first dual match wins of the year. They had previously entered only two tournaments.

Coach John Welborn was pleased with the team's showing. "I thought we looked pretty good," he said. "We got some fine individual performances from our guys. This was a good match for us before the Athletics in Action exhibition on Friday."

The AIA match opens up the home wrestling season for East Carolina. The AIA are coached by Olympic gold medal winner John Peterson. The match is scheduled for Friday at 8 p.m. in Minges Coliseum.

UP FOR TWO — East Carolina's Jim Ramsey (14) goes up for a shot over the defense of University of Maryland's Steve Sheppard during first period action Wednesday night in College Park, Md. Maryland took the lead late in the first half to hold on for an 80-69 victory. (AP Wirephoto)

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor
COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Inexperience, in the guise of impatience, stalked the East Carolina Pirates during the final three minutes of the first half of play last night, and it enabled the Maryland Terrapins to rally and finally pull off an 80-69 victory.

The 17th-ranked Terrapins needed all they could muster to hold off the young Pirates, who were on the verge of pulling off their greatest victory ever on the cage floor.

With 7:50 to play in the first half, East Carolina pushed out to a 24-21 lead over the more experienced Terps. They got the ball back, but became a little too impatient to work the ball, playing for the sure shot. It cost them the ball on a poor shot, and Maryland took advantage by coming back not only to erase the three-point edge but to power into a nine-point lead in the final two minutes of the half.

East Carolina remained within striking distance the rest of the way, but could never get the key rally going.

"We killed ourselves," Coach Dave Patton said afterwards. "It was that stretch in the final three minutes of the half. The experience of Maryland, our inexperience, the home court advantage all told the tale. I'd like to see what would happen in Minges."

Indians, Apps On Losing End

By The Associated Press
William & Mary's Indians suffered their first loss of the young season Wednesday but they didn't go down without giving the undefeated Wake Forest Demon Deacons a battle.

It took an overtime period before Wake Forest could pull away from the Indians and keep its record unblemished. The Demon Deacons are now 5-0 and William & Mary is 3-1.

Skip Brown can be credited with the shooting power that gave Wake Forest the overtime go-ahead, scoring six of his game total 17 points.

The game was sent into overtime when William & Mary's Rocky Copley made good a jumper from the foul line with two seconds showing on the clock.

In other college basketball action involving Southern Conference teams, a two-man show by Kenny Carr and Charles "Hawkeye" Whitney propelled North Carolina State to a 70-49 rout over Appalachian State after a sluggish start.

Carr pumped in 24 points and Whitney 17, but the scoring factor wasn't a big point in the game as N.C. State's Glenn Sudphor scored four points and grabbed ten rebounds and Mel Hubbard, the Mountaineer's pivot man, scored four and went up for seven rebounds.

Seventh-ranked Maryland handily put down East Carolina 80-69 after Larry Boston came off the bench to score 15 points.

Virginia Military's Keydets upped their record to 3-1 after a lopsided game with the Radford College Highlanders who picked up their first loss.

A first half shooting percentage of 57 allowed the Keydets to break away from the Highlanders for a 74-52 victory.

The Pirates did play well on Maryland's end of the court, but had their troubles at the other end. Maryland shot 50 per cent, but was able to get the second shots by controlling the boards, 45-32. The strength of Lawrence Boston and Larry Gibson told here, as they got eight and nine rebounds respectively. East Carolina was paced by Larry Hunt, who got a game high 13. No other Pirate got more than five, however.

Freshman Herb Gray did have an excellent game however. He hit on seven of 11 shots and finished with 17 points, high for the game.

East Carolina took the initial lead, but Maryland came back to take a 4-2 edge. The Pirates retied it, but fell back to 8-4 on shots by Mike and Brad Davis.

The Bucs hung on, and regained the lead at 12-11, and again at

Conley Stomps Wilson Matment

HOLLYWOOD — D. H. Conley's wrestling team made short work of the Pike Titans of Wilson last night, romping to a 66-12 win.

Wilson won only two weight classes during the 13-match evening. Both of them came on pins. Conley's 11 wins included one forfeit and 10 falls.

The Vikings are now 3-0 on the season. They travel to Ayden-Grifton on Friday.

Marquette Has No Easy Time

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
 Coach Al McGuire of Marquette calls it a "White Knuckles" game. Butch Lee is less colorful with his language. "Just plain tough," says the Warriors' guard.

Whatever it is, the first road game of the college basketball season always is rough, no matter how good a team is. The nation's second-ranked team found that out Wednesday night.

Marquette, rated vastly superior to Florida, struggled throughout before subduing the Gators 64-61 with the help of Lee's 19 points and a strong defense.

"I thought they were going to crack four or five times, but they wouldn't," said McGuire. "After a while, I began to think that we would crack. When you play your away-from-home opener, it's usually white knuckles. We lost it the last two years."

"There was no way we thought the game was going to be this tough," said Lee. "We didn't study Florida enough. But to win our first game on the road is always good."

Florida Coach John Lotz found Marquette a "class team" despite McGuire's remark that "I don't think we're the second-best team in the country. They just put us there."

In other college basketball action, No. 8 Cincinnati defeated Bowling Green 67-63; No. 9 Arizona trounced Adams State 115-55; 11th-ranked Wake Forest stopped William & Mary 90-84 in overtime; No. 12 North Carolina trounced Athletics in Action 99-86; 14th-rated Louisville outscored Idaho State 89-68; No. 17 Maryland beat East Carolina 80-69, and No. 18 Southern Illinois blitzed Millikin 82-45.

The Marquette-Florida game was close throughout. Both teams played tough defense and controlled offense. The Warriors finally cemented the victory on Lee's two free throws with 11 seconds left.

An eight-point burst in the closing minutes helped Cincinnati salvage a tough victory over Bowling Green. The Bearcats' Brian Williams led all scorers with 23 points.

Herman Harris paced a balanced attack with 16 points as Arizona overwhelmed Adams State.

Rod Griffin scored 34 points and led a rally in overtime, helping Wake Forest beat William & Mary.

Tom LaGarde's 23 points paced North Carolina past Athletics in Action.

Wesley Cox and Larry Williams each scored 18 points, leading Louisville over Idaho State. Reserve Larry Boston scored 15 points, leading Maryland over East Carolina. Mike Glenn and Corky Abrams combined for 33 points as Southern Illinois trampled Millikin.

Boston Breathes Easier As Scott Comes To Terms Concluding Trade

By DICK JOYCE
AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Boston Red Sox officials are breathing easier today because slugging first baseman George Scott is happy. But it wasn't easy to satisfy him.

Early Wednesday night, Scott appeared steadfast in talking about his contract after being sent from the Milwaukee Brewers, along with outfielder Bernie Carbo, to Boston for first baseman Cecil Cooper Monday. And there was a possibility that the trade might be called off, Red Sox officials said.

But Red Sox assistant general manager John Claiborne, after an unfruitful visit with Scott's agent, Gary Walker, in Phoenix Wednesday, returned to the baseball meetings in Los Angeles and announced late Wednesday night that Scott had agreed to terms, despite his agent's advice to the contrary.

Walker had been trying to land a five-year contract with a considerable increase for Scott, who already had signed his 1977 contract with Milwaukee, worth a reported $138,000.

There was one major transaction and two minor deals Wednesday. The San Diego Padres obtained slugging outfielder George Hendrick from the Cleveland Indians for outfielder Johnny Grubb, catcher Fred Kendall and infielder Hector Torres.

The Chicago Cubs landed outfielders Greg Gross from the Houston Astros and Jim Dwyer from the New York Mets. The Cubs sent Julio Gonzalez, a minor league infielder, to Houston and sold outfielder-first baseman Peter LaCock to Kansas City. The Mets are to receive from Kansas City a player to be named later.

So far during the winter meetings, there have been 10 deals involving 26 players.

Meanwhile, Charles O. Finley, the irascible Oakland owner, is flailing away and Commissioner Bowie Kuhn is choosing only to duck as the meetings moved toward their climax amid dire predictions of possible doom.

The American and National leagues went into separate sessions today in an effort to solve their pressing problems, the most important of which are the escalating contracts paid to free agents.

On Wednesday, Finley charged that Kuhn "single-handedly destroyed the Oakland A's championship club and potentially has destroyed baseball in its entirety."

Kuhn's response, in a statement issued through a spokesman, said: "It is obvious that what he is trying to do is draw me into a name-calling contest. I think this is for the purpose of his litigation against me."

"There's no way Oakland, Minnesota and several other clubs can survive if there isn't something done," Finley predicted while revealing that six of his players who became free agents now have long-term contracts totaling $9.2 million with other clubs.

The six — Sal Bando, Bert Campaneris, Rolfe Fingers, Don Baylor, Joe Rudi and Gene Tenace — earned $366,400 from the A's last season, Finley said. Meanwhile, there is a movement to urge Finley to move his club to Washington D.C., or sell out to Washington interests. Under the proposal, the Washington franchise would go to the National League, giving each league 13 teams.

Sonny Hill's Role Is Still Up In The Air

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Sonny Hill's on-again, off-again role as CBS' pro basketball editor is on again ... or is it?

"I have not spoken to anyone who has told me what my job will be," says Hill. "Bob Wussler (president of CBS) told me everything was going to be all right, that I was back on the team. Maybe the word hasn't filtered down yet."

Hill, in his third year with the network, is in limbo as CBS gears up for its National Basketball Association coverage. The network starts regular Sunday games Jan. 2.

Hill is on the CBS team again, in theory anyway, but how much he'll contribute remains to be seen. He appeared often the past two seasons as the third man on national telecasts, conducting interviews, analyzing teams. "And now, here's Sonny Hill, our pro basketball editor. Tell us, Sonny, what about these Seattle Super-Sonics ..."

But as the new season approached and CBS decided to go with four regional games on Sundays instead of one national game, Hill was told, in essence, that he wouldn't be needed until the playoffs.

"We went to a regionalized concept and budget-wise we could not afford to use a third man on the air," explains Barry Frank, a network vice president. "Sonny wanted to be a color analyst, but I did not feel he had all the qualifications I was seeking as a color analyst."

Hill, a black who reports on a sport in which most of the players are also black, contacted the Rev. Jesse Jackson, the noted Chicago civil rights activist and director of Operation Push, a program designed to aid blacks in business. Jackson has been waging war with the networks in an effort to get more blacks in meaningful roles.

"None of the networks has a black sports editor," said Jackson. "None of the major newspapers has a black sports editor, for that matter. Sonny had begun to achieve a level of acceptance. He has done a marvelous job. If they can cut Sonny without any community response, then they can cut lesser folks."

Jackson's argument is that most of the athletes are black and most of the commentators are white. "Blacks should have the opportunity to interpret events in which they are so much involved," he said.

Jackson met with Wussler, the man who hired Hill three years ago. Wussler said it was all a mistake and put Hill back on the team. "My impression is that he will have an even broader role," said Jackson.

"Bob Wussler and I have agreed to expand Sonny's role somewhat," said Frank. Did Jackson pressure CBS into reinstating Hill? "I used nothing but moral pressure," said Jackson. "I would not try to impose a faulty talent on him."

So Hill is back, but how far back remains to be seen. Frank says Sonny will appear on the "Sports Spectacular" show sometimes, occasionally appear on one of the regional telecasts and will somehow keep an eye on the NBA situation despite a "very limited travel schedule." Frank, meanwhile, has been branded the villain of the piece in some segments of the black press for having made a decision he believes in the best interests of the network.

Browner Takes Outland Award

By MARC ROSENWASSER
Associated Press Writer

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame defensive end Ross Browner didn't have much to say about solo tackles or team records after learning that he had won the Outland Trophy as the nation's outstanding lineman.

Instead, the conversation turned to his father, whose death last summer traumatized him and gave new purpose to his life, on and off the football field.

It was typical of a football player whom Coach Dan Devine describes as "a person with a lot of depth." "There's a lot to this young man," Devine said during a telephone interview Wednesday. "He's intelligent, very loyal and team-conscious."

Browner also is an outstanding football player, who this year was nearly unstoppable after dedicating his performance to his father's memory.

"When I lost my father in July, I felt like my heart had just dropped out," he said Wednesday. "He was everything to me. I dedicated my season to him ... I know he's been watching."

What others watched this year was a player with the strength and speed to dominate his opponents.

At 6-foot-3 and 248 pounds, the junior from Warren, Ohio, has bench pressed as much as 350 pounds. But it is his speed that leaves people "even more impressed."

He has been clocked in the 40-yard dash at 4.65 seconds. And in Notre Dame's season-opening loss to No. 1 Pittsburgh, Browner hauled down Tony Dorsett from behind when it appeared that the Heisman Trophy winner was headed for a touchdown.

"I've never seen anyone go after the ball carrier like Ross did on that play," Notre Dame defensive line Coach Joe Yonto said after the game.

"He actually hurdled two players to get to Dorsett and never lost stride. It was a super effort, but that's what you expect from a person like Ross."

He was in on 97 tackles, including 28 for losses totaling 203 yards, both school records; recovered four fumbles; blocked a kick and knocked down seven passes.

SUCCEEDS BROTHER

SYOSSET, N.Y. (AP) — Todd Schaeffer had won The Woodcrest Club golf championship three straight years, beginning 1973. He couldn't defend the crown this year because he is a medical student at the University of Guadalajara in Mexico. However, the Schaeffer family has its fourth straight club championship trophy. Todd's younger brother, Tyler, won the four-round event here with a 310 total just before his 18th birthday.

In the fifth annual tournament of champions at Woodcrest, Tyler finished well down the list of more experienced players. His mind apparently was on a late flight to Florida where his St. John's University team was taking part in a sectional tournament. His parents and grandparents watched him compete in the battle against 19 club champions.

Williamston Girls Are In Year Of Rebuilding After Big Losses

By JIM KYLE
Reflector Sports Writer

With only one starter returning from last year's Northeastern Conference championship team, the Williamston girls' basketball team is in a typical "rebuilding year."

Center Paula Bennett, a 5-10 junior, is the only starter of the Tigerette squad from last year, which went 25-1. The Williamston team got to the first round of the state playoffs, before being beaten by Clyde A. Erwin from Asheville. Along the way, they picked up the conference championship, won the conference tournament and won the district tourney.

Bennett is "a good offensive rebounder, she keeps the ball alive," according to her coach, Susan Cox. "She has good quickness and moves well with the ball. She is probably the best big girl I've had in a long time."

Bennett will be counted on for much of the Tigerette scoring this year, Cox said. "She'll have to be consistent for us to be successful."

Joining Bennett in the starting lineup will be 5-9 sophomore forward Jo Anna Lilley. Although she is making a lot of mistakes now due to inexperience, Cox said she will be counted on to take the scoring load that Bennett can't handle and help out on the boards.

Musette Spruill plays guard and forward for the Tigerettes, whatever the situation demands. Cox would prefer to play her at guard because of her good aggressiveness and size, but she is a good shooter from the wing spot. If Spruill plays guard, Lisa Robertson will start in a forward spot. If not, Sharon Watts will play guard.

The point guard is Cindy Cullipher, the only senior on the Williamston team. She is the best passer on the team and "has done an exceptional job considering her experience," according to Cox.

One other Tigerette, freshman Jan Rogerson, has seen some action thus far this year at forward and has the best potential of the freshmen on the team, Cox said.

Plymouth should win the conference championship this year, according to Cox. They have the best one-on-one shooter in the conference in Miriam Davis, a 25-point scorer last year.

In addition, Washington could have a good ballclub after picking up some good transfers, Cox said.

Of her own team, Cox said, "I don't know what to expect. We played better in the first two games than I thought we would, but we still didn't play well."

"We're young and making a lot of mistakes, but we're scrappy."

"We're rebuilding, hoping for the best and hope to get better as the season goes along."

195: Timmy Hall (FC) won by forfeit.
Unlimited: John Dupree (FC) won by forfeit.

Tigers In First Win

WILLIAMSTON — Williamston High School won its first wrestling match of the year last night, with a 54-14 romp past 4-A Northeastern of Elizabeth City.

The Tigers won all but three of the 13 weight classes, and one of those three ended in a draw. The two Northeastern wins both came on pins.

Williamston, 1-2 on the year, took six of its wins on pins and one on a forfeit. Another came on a disqualification. The Tigers travel to Washington on Friday.

Summary:
98: Ben Jones (W) won by disqualification over Lionel Whitebe.
105: Elvis Smith (NE) pinned Tony Speller, 2:41.
112: Larry Gray (W) decided Stanley Watson, 7:5.
119: Jerry Gainer (W) drew with Eric Barcliff, 7:7.

195: Joe Jenkins (W) pinned James Lee, no time.
Unlimited: Grady Winstead (W) won by forfeit.

Firebirds Top A-G

LITTLEFIELD — Southern Nash High School rolled up a 47-17 victory over the Ayden-Grifton wrestling team last night.

The loss may have been a costly one for the Chargers, who had two wrestlers injured during the match. It was not known this morning how long they would be out of action.

Southern Nash won nine of the 13 events, including four pins and two injury defaults. Ayden-Grifton won two of its four matches on falls.

The Chargers are now 0-3, and host strong Conley on Friday.

Summary:
98: Greg Finch (SN) decided Harvey Bell, 13:6.
105: Linwood Crumel (SN) pinned Carroll Strickland, 1:24.
112: Randy Jones (AG) pinned Jimmy Smith, 9:20.
119: Larry Emig (SN) decided Guy Dixon, 12:5.
126: Darrell Emig (SN) pinned Willie Perkins, 5:48.
132: John Wells (SN) won by default over Mark Cannon.
138: Ricky Harris (AG) decided David Shelton, 7:2.
145: James Wilkins (SN) pinned Mike Nobles, 5:06.
155: Johnny Cannon (AG) pinned Clarence Barnes, 3:28.
167: William Hart (SN) won by default over Billy Dixon.

Texas A&I Quarterback Sparks Little All-America Selections

By The Associated Press
Four years ago, Texas A&I Coach Gil Steinkamp named freshman Richard Ritchie as his starting quarterback. The Javelines have not lost a game since.

Ritchie took control of A&I's offense in the final game of the 1973 season when the Javs were stumbling to a 2-8 record.

Saturday, Ritchie, named to The Associated Press' 1976 College Division All-American team, and his teammates pursue an unprecedented third consecutive national championship, against the University of Central Arkansas in the NIAA Division I title game, hoping to extend the nation's longest college football winning streak to 39.

A victory Saturday would leave the Aggies eight short of the national collegiate record of 47 straight set by Oklahoma from 1953-57.

Ritchie, a 5-foot-11, 175-pounder was considered too small by major-college recruiters. But, he has been a standout during the school's string of successes.

With Ritchie at the helm, A&I averaged 577.6 yards and 48 points per game this season.

"We have a lot of talent," said Ritchie, who also became the first player in Lone Star Conference history to make the

All-Academic team three consecutive years. "And we run an offense I like and understand."

Ritchie was joined on the All-America first team Wednesday by A&I linebacker Larry Grunevald. Tackle Larry McFarland and linebacker Johnny Barefield were second-team choices.

Two other schools, Alcorn State and Western Illinois, placed two players on the AP College Division All-America team. Alcorn State landed running back Augusta Lee and defensive tackle Larry Warren.

Tight end Scott Levenhagen and defensive back Greg Lee were the selections from Western Illinois.

Only two juniors, wide receiver Danny Fulton of Nebraska-Omaha and defensive end Jim Haslett of Indiana, Pa., were able to break the senior-dominated first team.

Deacons Take William & Mary

By The Associated Press
Lawrence Boston made a strong bid to regain his starting assignment Wednesday night, coming off the bench to pump in 15 points and lead the No. 17 Terps to 80-69 victory over East Carolina at College Park, Md.

After starting the first two games of the season, the 6-foot-8 junior forward was shelved for the third game against Long Island, drew a substitute role in the fourth contest and possibly vacated his sideline seat for keeps against the Pirates.

Coach Lefty Driesell's troops chalked up their fourth straight win, after an opening upset by Notre Dame, and handed the Southern Conference Pirates their second loss in four tries.

In all, it was Atlantic Coast Conference 3, Southern Conference 0 after Wednesday night's games, which saw Wake Forest prevail over William and Mary 90-84 in overtime and North Carolina State down Appalachian State 70-49.

North Carolina cut down the Athletics in Action 99-86 in an exhibition game at Chapel Hill, N.C.

Wake Forest found its No. 11 ranking in serious trouble against William and Mary. But the Demon Deacons, 5-0, finally quieted the Indians 90-84 in overtime, aided by veteran point guard Skip Brown, who scored six of his 17 points in the extra period.

Forward Rod Griffin led all scorers with 34 points and Jerry Schellenberg added 18.

North Carolina State, featuring the Kenny Carr-Hawkeye Whitney Show, stormed past Appalachian State's Mountaineers in convincing style at Raleigh, N.C.

Carr poured in 24 points and Whitney added 17, both with the help of six assists from freshman guard Clyde "The Glide" Austin.

For Carr and Whitney, it was like old times. The two were teammates at DeMatha High School in Hyattsville, Md.

Perhaps the Tar Heels were not taking their exhibition game seriously, but Coach Dean Smith was.

North Carolina led Athletics in Action by a scant 43-39 margin at the half after leading by as many as 15.

Smith, who used 15 players in the contest, drew two technical fouls.

Olympian Tom LaGarde's 23 points led the 12th-ranked Tar Heels, who broke the game open in the second half with 12 straight points. Fellow Olympians Walter Davis and Phil Ford added 17 and 12 points, respectively.

Saturday's pairings find Nevada-Reno at N.C. State, Richmond at Duke, Tennessee Tech at Clemson and North Carolina battling Virginia Tech at Roanoke.

Buffalo Falls To Philadelphia As It Looks To Post-McAdoo Days

By HANK LOWENKRON
AP Sports Writer
The Buffalo Braves may have been running a test pattern Wednesday night when Bob McAdoo sat on the bench watching his team lose to the Philadelphia 76ers.

The Braves announced earlier in the day they would try and resolve their contract differences with McAdoo, halting talks to send him to another club.

After Philadelphia opened a

61-45 lead in the first half, Buffalo Coach Tates Locke kept McAdoo, the National Basketball Association's scoring leader each of the past three seasons, on the bench for most of the second half.

McAdoo, who scored 42 points and pulled down 29 rebounds Tuesday night, finished with 15 points as guards Lloyd Free and Henry Bibby combined to score 38 points toward a 123-102 Philadelphia victory.

In other NBA action, Boston defeated Portland 104-95, the

New York Knicks topped the New York Nets 105-95, Seattle beat Washington 109-99, Detroit downed Chicago 107-101, Indiana topped Los Angeles 111-98, Atlanta outscored San Antonio 117-106 and Phoenix defeated Houston 116-95.

George McGinnis led Philadelphia's balanced offense with 22 points, while Free had 21. Julius Erving scored 18 for the 76ers and Bibby had 17.

Celtics 104, Trail Blazers 95
Sidney Wicks made things rough for the team he played for the past five seasons, grabbing 14 rebounds and scoring 19 points as Boston snapped Portland's five-game winning streak. Seventeen of his points came in the second half.

Jo Jo White paced Boston with 21 points, while Portland's Maurice Lucas led all scorers with 25.

Knicks 105, Nets 95
Rookie Lonnie Shelton had his best game as a pro with individual highs of 31 points and 21 rebounds for the Knicks, who were led by Earl Monroe's 37 points.

SuperSonics 109, Bullets 99
Leonard Gray came off the bench and scored 21 points as Seattle recorded its second victory in 13 road games. Pistons 107, Bulls 100

Al Eberhard, playing with a fractured right toe, made five baskets in the last period as Detroit extended its home unbeaten streak to seven, two short of the club record.

Pacers 111, Lakers 98
Indiana's Billy Knight scored a game-high 29 points and Dave Robisch came off the bench to score 19 and lend strong defensive help against Lakers' center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who had 22 points.

Research May Speed Cure For Huntington's Disease

By GEORGE A. THREEWITTS
ECU News Bureau

A research project by East Carolina University physical therapists may give additional clues to finding an effective treatment for a rare but devastating disease, best known as the killer of Woody Guthrie, America's celebrated folksinger.

The disease, a genetic disorder, labeled Huntington's Disease, affects an estimated 15,000 persons and does not appear until the victim reaches his or her mid-thirties. Then a portion of the brain begins to deteriorate and control of the body's physical movements decreases. At present, no treatment can halt the progress of Huntington's Disease, and even tranquilizers can produce relief in only a small percentage of patients.

Guthrie died in 1967, after 15 years of gradually losing his ability to walk, talk and read. Two of his children have since developed the disease and three others stand a 50-50 chance of having inherited it too.

The research at ECU, sponsored in part by a grant from the N.C. Physical Therapy Association was directed by Gloria T. Sanders, a physical therapist in the School of Allied Health and Social Professions.

Using a neurosurgical procedure, Sanders reproduced

the symptoms of Huntington's Disease in cats, which has been done successfully in only a couple of other recent instances. She then went a step further by devising a measuring technique, which she says has not been done before, to functionally measure the height and distance of the animals' footsteps.

The measuring device, using cameras and a glass calibrated runway, will enable scientists to determine if the symptoms of the disease have been achieved in test animals and will show when a treatment has produced positive results.

Sanders explained that the study of the disease has been very difficult because it affects only humans. Animals that display the symptoms of the disease have been unavailable and researchers have had to rely on human autopsy material rather than submit patients to new drugs or surgical procedures.

"The thing that we are excited about is that we think that we've got an animal model and a good way of measuring it. Now it's a matter of producing some of these models and trying all kinds of treatment to determine which is the most effective in removing the symptoms."

Sanders said her interest in this research was generated by her concern for people with cerebral palsy and Huntington's Disease.

"For hundreds of years nobody has been able to provide much more than exercise for these people. It's like polio. People used to spend hours and days exercising when all it took was the Salk Vaccine to prevent the disease," she said.

"If you are really going to help these people you have got to come up with a drug or surgical treatment."

The details of Sanders' research were presented at a poster display at the recent sixth annual meeting of the Society For Neuroscience, in Toronto, Canada.

"It (the presentation) generated stimulating, positive feedback from scientific people who have been doing research in this field for a long time," said Dr. Evelyn McNeill, an anatomist and physical therapist at ECU, who assisted Sanders in her study.

Also participating in the project were three ECU physical therapy students: Deborah Bragunier, Indian Head, Md.; Charlotte Metz, Elkin — N.C.; and Marsha Murphey, Manassas, Virginia.

Set No Prosecution In Congressional Sex Scandals

By MARGARET GENTRY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Capitol Hill sex scandal of 1976 is fading to an end. The Justice Department has closed its books on the case and will not prosecute anyone involved.

One was forced to resign from the House, another was convicted in a local court and defeated for re-election, three were re-elected and the voters promoted one to the Senate.

Townhouse Now Design Museum

NEW YORK (AP) — Andrew Carnegie's spacious Fifth Avenue townhouse — itself something of a pioneering structure in design — is now a design museum.

Government prosecutors investigated the allegations against former Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Ohio and Rep. John Young of Texas, but closed both cases after concluding the prosecutor lacked evidence strong enough to support criminal charges.

The scandal broke last May when Elizabeth Ray claimed publicly that Hays kept her on the government payroll as his mistress. She insisted that she did no government work, seldom showed up at the office and couldn't even type.

ment money — Miss Ray's $14,000 annual salary.

On Wednesday, Justice Department spokesman Robert Stevenson said Hays was notified through his attorney that no criminal charges will be brought against him.

her to have sex with him as a condition for keeping her staff job at premium pay.

Department investigators looked into this case, too, but concluded last August that there was no evidence to support criminal charges. Young was re-elected in November.

Congress carrying on with their paid employees.

The other scandals involved: —Rep. Allan Howe, D-Utah, who was defeated for re-election after he was convicted in a Utah court of soliciting sex from police agents posing as prostitutes.

—Rep. Joe Waggoner, D-Tex., re-elected after the disclosure that Washington police detained him last February on suspicion of soliciting a decoy policewoman. He was never charged.

—Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., re-elected after a Detroit

prostitute's allegation that he was one of several politicians who frequented her brothel.

—Rep. Donald Riegle, D-Mich., elected to the Senate following the disclosure that he once had an affair with an unpaid volunteer worker in his House office.

Dept. Of Agriculture Looks Into Worm Farming

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — At least one thoughtful Agriculture Department employee is doing a little spade work on worm farming in case it comes to the surface during the Carter administration.

A relative of the President-elect is in the worm game, and there's always the chance that the Carter administration could add luster to worms as it already has done for peanuts.

The Agriculture Department official who has contemplated such an event refused to be baited into publicly identifying himself. But he said in an interview that worm farming has been ignored by his department as a possible way for small farmers to earn extra money.

Other sources confirmed that the department has ample information for any farmer who wants to go into commercial production of catfish, but has practically nothing to offer to the entrepreneur who wants to raise the worms used to catch them.

Hugh A. Carter, of Plains, Ga., the President-elect's cousin, is a commercial worm farmer and has recommended the enterprise to others, including backyard enthusiasts.

A brochure from the Carter worm farm has been making the rounds at Agriculture Department headquarters. It suggests that there are "billions of fishworms needed yearly and not half enough people are raising them."

The advertisement says that as few as 1,000 of "Carter's pubescent hybrid red wigglers" can be ordered for $6.95 and that those represent "our very best worms, ready for fishing or for starting new worm beds."

Although few Agriculture Department officials appeared to take the worm potential seriously, one feared it could open a real can of worms. The official suggested facetiously that it could lead to a new layer of federal bureaucracy, such as a sprawling new worm division headed by a $36,000-a-year director. Also, if farmers went overboard on worm farming and surpluses resulted, they might ask for government price supports, direct subsidies and all-out worm exports to help needy foreign fishermen.

Any sneers about these far-fetched possibilities might be softened by some real Agriculture Department programs authorized by Congress. For example, the department by law soon must determine whether to announce 1976 price supports on tongue nuts, an industrial oil-producing tree crop, which has not been grown in the United States since 1972.

Building Activity Forecasts Being Computerized

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Labor Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Four

federal agencies are designing a computerized system that will forecast building activity throughout the country and let workers know where the jobs are. Their aim is to help the troubled construction industry, where unemployment is nearly twice the national average.

The system, which is expected to begin operating in late 1977, initially will focus on energy-related projects, such as power plants and oil refineries. Eventually, every phase of construction activity will be included, ranging from residential homebuilding to office buildings, schools, hospitals and highways.

"It marks the first time that long-range forecasting will be tried in any industry down to the regional level," said John Mumford, a special assistant to Labor Secretary W.J. Usery Jr., whose department is developing the project.

The computer will forecast the dollar volume of all new construction activity across the nation and provide three estimates of manpower needs by each craft.

One will be a short-term forecast of up to two years, one a mid-term forecast of up to 10 years, and one, for energy-related projects only, a long-term forecast of up to 25 years.

Joining with the Labor Department in developing the system is the Federal Energy Administration, the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Energy Research and Development Administration.

"It's not a system that will make for more employment in terms of beefing up the construction industry," says Norman Seltzer, chief of ERDA's Manpower Assessment Office. "Hopefully, it will provide a basis for better planning by eliminating bottlenecks, provide a basis for better forecasting so we know where the job opportunities are and ease wage inflation by making sure there is no shortage of skilled labor."

Unemployment in the construction industry remains above 14 per cent, compared with the national jobless rate of 8.1 per cent. While no shortage of construction labor exists nationally, some manpower shortages have shown up in some areas such as in the Northwest, where construction activity was not severely affected by the recession.

"Employment in the construction industry fluctuates considerably from region to region over time," Seltzer said. "Intermittent activity in one region causes swings within a single year from intensive labor shortages to extensive unemployment. In one geographic area there could well be acute shortages of the very trades that are surplus in an adjoining area."

Seltzer says that by knowing in advance the availability of certain craftsmen in one area at a particular time, planners can schedule projects to use the available manpower more efficiently.

Included in the computer model will be 29 skilled occupations in the construction trades — from carpenters, boilermakers and electricians to steamfitters and welders.

Swine Flu Shots Now Available To Children

Swine flu shots are now available for healthy children ages three through 18 at the Pitt County Health Department. A limited amount of the vaccine will be available both at the main building on Sixth Street here and at the satellite clinics. Main clinic hours are from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday. Satellite clinic hours are in Ayden Thursday from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m., in Farmville Tuesday from 9 a. m. till 2 p. m., in Bethel

Wednesdays from 9 a. m. till 2 p. m., and in Grimesland Fridays only from 9 a. m. till 12:30 p. m. The vaccine will be given on a first-come-first-served basis, Personal Health Division Director Tillie Cullipher said. Each child ages three to 18 will need two shots given four weeks apart. In addition, a new recommendation has been made regarding swine flu vaccinations for persons ages 18 through 24. They should receive a second injection four weeks after their first shots. The second injection is needed in younger persons, ages three to 24, to ensure that the natural defenses of the body are sufficiently activated against swine flu. The natural defenses of persons over 25 years of age will respond and give adequate protection if only one shot is received. Swine flu vaccinations are also available at the clinics listed above for those 25 and older.

Two Days For Arts Festival

On Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 11 and 12, the second annual Christmas Arts Festival is being held at the Roxy Music Arts and Crafts Center, 629 Albemarle Avenue. A community celebration, the event will begin at 10 a. m. and continue until 6 p. m. Saturday, and from 12:30 p. m. to 6 p. m. on Sunday. Admission is fifty cents. A variety of activities are scheduled, including both crafts and music. Valerie Hohing of Western Carolina University will be on hand with a contingent of crafts people from the mountains of North Carolina. Other performers scheduled to be on hand include dancers from the East Carolina University Drama Department; an exhibition by a glassblower; and music by Rick Cornfield and also the Seldom Heard, a Kingston group. Members of the Greenville Green Grass Cloggers will also perform. Color slides will be shown by Joe Dudask and Mary Anne Riddle; and a sculptor will demonstrate some of his work. Coordinator Bill Shepherd is asking that any local crafts persons interested in taking part in this Christmas Arts Festival to contact him at 758-9911 for details.

Traveler's advisories were issued for all of Montana and northwest Wyoming. A winter storm warning was in effect for western North Dakota and winter storm watches were posted for eastern North Dakota and for South Dakota.

Additional snow accumulations of up to four inches are forecast through North Dakota today. Gusty wind was expected to produce near blizzard conditions in many parts of the state. Travelers' advisories were also in effect for western Minnesota. And a winter storm watch was posted for Minnesota and central and northern Wisconsin as the storm moved eastward.

Travelers' advisories were also in effect in the Pacific Northwest due to locally heavy snow and blowing snow over the Cascade Mountains.

Precipitation in other parts of the nation included snow flurries along the Great Lakes in upper and lower Michigan and from northeastern Ohio through New York. In the West, rain showers fell in the Pacific Northwest and northern California.

Temperatures across the nation at 2 a. m. EST today ranged from 12 below zero at International Falls, Minn., to 62 at Key West, Fla.

Rain was expected today in the Pacific Northwest with clear or partly cloudy skies in remaining sections of the nation.

Unseasonably warm temperatures were forecast from west Texas through Oklahoma and Kansas and unseasonably cold weather was expected from the Gulf Coast through the Atlantic Coast states and the upper Ohio Valley.

Proposed Bill Said A Legal Nightmare

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A spokesman for the North Carolina Supreme Court says a proposed legislative bill dealing with sexual assaults is a "legal and linguistic nightmare."

Franklin E. Freeman Jr., assistant director of the Administrative Office of the Courts, made the statement Wednesday in an unusual appearance before a legislative study commission. He said he had been sent by Chief Justice Susie Sharp to speak on behalf of the court.

Freeman told the commission one of the main provisions in the draft proposal, limiting cross-examination of a rape victim about her sexual past, was a "sound idea." But, he added, "The bill itself is an unworkable, legal and linguistic nightmare and should be tabled without further ado." In an interview, Freeman acknowledged that his appearance before the Legislative Commission on Sexual Assaults was "very unusual." But he said he was careful under the court's instructions not to voice an opinion on the constitutionality of the proposal.

The proposed bill by the commission is in the draft stage, but the group expects to present a measure to the legislature in January.

Freeman said, "The court believes this litany I've just run through (a lengthy list of separate assault offenses) exemplifies the mind-boggling possibilities a magistrate would face in writing a warrant, a district attorney would face in prosecuting, the possibilities for a judge when he's charging the jury and the possibilities a jury would face."

He added, "The court feels that the end result would be to prolong assault cases far beyond the present time for trial and the result would be further crowded court dockets."

D. H. Conley Highlights

By LINDA COX
D.H. Conley has added to its curriculum a full time Driver Education course. This course is being taught during the day instead of after school as it had previously been done. A continuation of the after school and summer program is planned and will begin in 1977.

Public school Driver Education is available to any person between the ages of 14 and 18. At Conley there are 144 students enrolled in the program. Ideas for the future improvement of Driver Education at Conley includes an "off-street" driving area or driving range, driving simulators, an emergency procedures driving course, advanced driver education and defensive driving course. Any suggestions or questions about the program should be forwarded to Aubrey Bradshaw, Driver Education Coordinator at D.H. Conley.

Music Program Set Saturday

A musical program will be held at St. James Free Will Baptist Church Saturday night at 7:30. The contributions will be used to provide Christmas cheer for needy families. An appreciation service will be held for the Rev. Charlie R. Parker Jr., pastor of St. James Church, Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Matthew Best, choir and congregation of Simpson Chapel, will render the service at 3 p. m. The Rev. John H. Lucas, choir and congregation will be present at 4 p. m. and the Rev. Charlie L. Parker, choir and congregation will conclude the services beginning at five o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

Investigated 2 Accidents

An estimated $825 property damage resulted from two wrecks investigated here yesterday by Greenville Police. Officers reported heaviest damage resulted from a 5:40 p. m. mishap on Bonners Lane, 30 feet West of the Albemarle Avenue intersection involving cars driven by Franklin Lane Bradley of 515 McKinley Ave. and Jessie Taft Morris of 702B Sherry St.

Damage was estimated at $75 to the Bradley car and $450 to the Morris auto. A 1:30 p. m. collision at the intersection of Greenville Boulevard and Memorial Drive involved a car driven by Erma Cutler Allgood of Route 2, Creswell and a truck driven by Horace Neal Binns of Conyers.

Investigators, who said no damage resulted to the truck, estimated damage to the Allgood vehicle at $300. No charges were reported in either mishap.

JCs Collecting Toys For Tots

WINTERVILLE — The Winterville Jaycees are sponsoring a "Toys for Tots" drive. The Jaycees are receiving donations of toys and games that are in good condition to be given to needy families at Christmas. The Jaycees are requesting that the toys be suitable for children between the ages of 1 and 14 and be delivered to Ray's Barber Shop on Railroad Street during the day from now until December 19. It will not be necessary to wrap the toys.

No Eye For Gov't Post

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Saying he still has much work to do as president of the University of North Carolina system, Dr. William C. Friday has asked that his name be removed from any list of possible cabinet appointees in President-elect Jimmy Carter's administration.

In an interview at his home Wednesday night, Friday said he relayed the request to Joseph D. Duffey, an assistant to Carter aide Hamilton Jordan. Friday said Duffey called him Monday and "I expressed to him at the time that I wanted my name withdrawn from any fulltime consideration. "I indicated to him I would do work like I did this summer," he said, referring to his chairmanship of Carter's task force on education.

"This is the kind of work university people do in and out of government," said Friday. Friday, who has a national reputation among educators, was an adviser to Presidents Johnson and Nixon on education and campus unrest in the 1960s and early 1970s.

Duffey described Friday as "highly regarded" by persons in the Carter camp, adding that Friday could have been named to any of a number of cabinet posts.

The post most often mentioned for him since Carter's nomination, however, was secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

TOYOTA

ONE OF THE FINEST CARS IN THE WORLD

INTRODUCING "The Answer"

Corolla 2 Door Sedan Model 1401

THE ANSWER—With the lowest price and highest gas mileage of any new car sold in America, the 1977 Toyota Corolla two-door sedan is the answer to everything the consumer has been looking for in a small car. Powered by a 1.2-liter, four-cylinder engine, the car has a price of $2,788. It achieved 49 miles per gallon on the highway and 36 m.p.g. in the city in EPA economy tests. In California and high-altitude areas, the mileage varies because there the car is powered by a larger 1.6-liter, four-cylinder engine to meet stricter emission standards. The two-door sedan features a four-speed manual transmission, new grille design, power front disc brakes, high-back bucket seats, styled-steel wheels and power-boosted flow-through ventilation.

100,000 Miles Or 3 Years New Car Warranty

USED CAR WARRANTY 12 MONTHS OR 12,000 MILES

This guarantee applies to cars selling for $1000.00 and up. On a 50-50 basis. All work must be done in our shop. This warranty does not apply to any sport cars, high performance or air cooled engines or 4 speed transmissions (except economy cars). Most good used cars (even if they look like new) are only guaranteed for a month. Or for a thousand miles. No more. And some are not guaranteed at all. But at Tarheel when we say a used car is in excellent condition, we're willing to stand behind it. We're willing to do something a little extra for it. So we guarantee its motor, its rear end and its transmission for twelve months or twelve thousand miles. If you're in the market for a better used car, come out to Tarheel and look at ours. We'll show you some as good as new. Guaranteed. Asterisk denotes warranted car.

Suspect's Gun Fired One Of Possibly Fatal Shots

By DAVID TOMLIN
Associated Press Writer
OXFORD, N.C. (AP) — One of four bullets, any one of which could have killed a Virginia state trooper last month, was fired from a gun purchased by Reuben "Sonny" Conley, a ballistics expert testified Wednesday.

The testimony came in a probable cause hearing in Granville District Court here. Judge Claude W. Allen Jr. found sufficient evidence against Conley to send his murder case to the Granville County Grand Jury.

Conley, 33, of Atlanta, is charged in the death of trooper Garland W. Fisher Jr., shot to death early Nov. 15 at a makeshift roadblock on Interstate 85 about ten miles north of Durham.

Conley had allegedly forced Fisher to drive him in the trooper's car toward Atlanta after Fisher had stopped Conley to investigate a traffic violation in Dinwiddie County, Va. Dr. Wilton M. Reavis, assistant state medical examiner testified Wednesday that any of four of the 14 gunshot wounds in Fisher's body might have been fatal. Two were in the trooper's right side and two more were in the right side of his neck.

SBI ballistics expert Douglas M. Branch Jr. then testified that analysis of a bullet found in Fisher's neck showed it had been fired from a .38 caliber revolver Conley bought in Atlanta and which was found with other weapons in Fisher's unmarked patrol car after the shooting.

Branch also said powder burns were found on Fisher's jacket and shirt, indicating the trooper had been shot from no more than two inches away.

Another witness, SBI agent Roger D. Allen, testified Conley had told him during questioning two days after the incident that "it was possible" he had shot Fisher.

"He described approaching the roadblock. He said as they approached it, Fisher said 'Here we go.' Then he said they crashed and there was gunfire. He said it sounded like the world lit up," Branch recalled. "I asked him if he shot Fisher. He said it was possible."

Branch said Conley also told him that he felt somebody was pursuing him in the hours before Fisher stopped him driving north in southbound lanes of Interstate 85.

Conley at one point said he believed someone was on the roof of his car and fired three shots through the roof as he sped down the highway. Conley's car is still in Virginia and Branch said he was told there were bullet holes in the roof.

Conley told Branch he planned to have Fisher drive him to Atlanta where someone he trusted in the Atlanta Police Department would be asked to investigate whoever was after him, Branch testified.

Earlier in the hearing, trooper Robert Williams of the N.C. Highway Patrol told the court he set up the roadblock with the help of a truck driver and his tractor-trailer rig. And Williams said he fired the first shot when Fisher's car arrived.

As Fisher slowed and started to drive around the truck on the paved shoulder, Williams said he stepped from behind the trailer and fired his .12 gauge shotgun into the windshield in a successful effort to stop the car.

"At this time I heard about five or six shots come from inside the vehicle in rapid succession," Williams said. "I then fired into the side of the vehicle through the side window," he said. "At that time it was my opinion I was being shot at."

More shooting followed, some of the bullets flattening tires on one side of the car. Some shots were pumped into the front door on the passenger's side, where a trooper on top of the trailer rig said he saw a suspect crouching.

Then a man was pulled from the front seat floorboard. Williams identified Conley, seated quietly in the courtroom in brown jacket and blue jeans, as the man he saw taken from the car.

Fisher's bullet-riddled body was slumped behind the steering wheel.

Magician In Two Shows

Two shows of magic for children are being presented by Terry Prichard at the Children's Room of Sheppard Memorial Library, and at East Branch.

The first show will take place today at 4 p.m. at Sheppard, with the second show scheduled for 4 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 10 at East Branch.

Prichard, a magician, is a native of Burlington and is a business major at East Carolina University.

Children of all ages are invited to attend, and there is no admission charge.

Joe R. Stines, Children's Librarian, has also announced that during December a program of free films will be shown for children. The schedule for the films is: Sheppard Library, (Children's Room), Saturdays at 2 p.m. and Thursdays at 4 p.m.; East Branch, Fridays at 4 p.m.; and Carver Branch, Tuesdays at 3:30 p.m.

Conference On Dec. 11

The North Carolina State Chapter of the National Association of Black Social Workers, Inc. will sponsor its Second Annual Conference December 11 at the North Carolina A&T State University Student Union Building in Greensboro.

The theme of the conference is "Human Resources Present and Future: Black Needs in North Carolina".

The conference will focus on the following four issues: Health Services; Education, Training, and Employment; Family and Child Services; and Development and Administration of Services.

Guest speakers for the conference will include the following: Howard Lee, former Mayor of Chapel Hill; Dr. Toye Lewis of the School of Social Work, UNC-Chapel Hill; Ms. Madge Davis, Supervisor of Social Services, North Central Region-Division of Services for the Blind, Winston-Salem; and Dr. John B. Turner, Kenan Professor, School of Social Work, ECU.

Open Mansion To The Public

The State Executive Mansion in Raleigh will be open to the public on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 11 and 12, Governor and Mrs. James Holshouser have announced.

The Mansion will be decorated for the Christmas season with early American ornaments and trimmings. Students from the N.C. Schools for the Deaf have made nearly 1,000 ornaments to decorate two of the Mansion's Christmas trees.

Visiting hours for the public on the two days are from 2 to 5 p.m.

Shepherd Eyes Secretary Of Agriculture Post

By PHYLLIS MENSING
Associated Press Writer
BUFFALO, S.D. (AP) — His spelling and grammar could stand improvement, but a South Dakota shepherd figures that shouldn't disqualify him from being U.S. agriculture secretary.

Lawrence Brown, 51, is conducting his campaign as editor of a weekly newspaper, the Nation's Center News.

His qualifications for agriculture secretary? "A lifetime of exposure to the industry and a wife who has cooked thousands of meals for branding, shearing and harvest crews. Also, my family is qualified to handle chores on horseback, with modern machinery or at the industries' conference tables.

"Therefore, I think I am better qualified than some Harvard professor with a bunch of beautiful theories he would like to try out on the nation's farmers."

After the general election, Brown replied on the front page of his newspaper to a group of western South Dakotans urging President-elect Jimmy Carter to name Brown agriculture secretary.

"While you guys obviously are pulling my leg, I am going to take you seriously and would consider you fickle indeed if you don't follow this through to the point of getting a reply from Carter forces." So far, there's been none.

Tourism Helped British Income

LONDON (UPI) — Britain earned $2.448 billion in foreign currency from a record nine million overseas visitors last year, the British Tourist Authority said in its annual report in October.

It said travel from the United States declined in 1975. It was increased from other areas, particularly Western Europe and the Middle East, which had provided the tourist trade with new strength, BTA concluded.

Brown's sons have run his 1,700-acre ranch in Harding County since he began writing a column called "Shepherd's Diary" two years ago. It wasn't long before Brown decided to start his own paper, investing $35,000 for the plant and equipment. He works with a staff of about 10 and circulation has risen to about 1,600.

He writes all his copy in long-hand, paying little mind to spelling and grammar. "I don't know spelling or grammar," he said. "Pronouns and nouns never interested me. And typing breaks my train of thought."

One reader wrote to criticize his use of the word "drug" instead of "dragged" in a front-page letter to Carter.

"If Carter is as close to farmers as he claims, he will understand the term," Brown wrote back. "Many generations of farmers have drug things around and are not apt to change because a grammar critic is shocked at the language."

Although his support for Carter may have cost him some subscriptions in the conservative rangeland, Brown has no regrets.

He figures anything he can do to establish communication with the new administration — "whether it's as secretary of agriculture, editor of Nation's Center News or Harding County shepherd" — can't hurt.

A one-and-a-half story structure, it features wood studs, rafters and joists with a large fireplace and balcony overlooking the first floor living lounge. Plan HA962M by Rudolph A. Matern provides 1,190 square feet of living space on the first level and 425 square feet on the second floor. Those wishing further information may write the architect—enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope—at 89 East Jericho Turnpike, Mineola, N.Y. 11501.

A Specialist In Bridge-Building

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — David Ciolek, a budding bridge-builder, is the first to admit that "a covered bridge isn't the sort of thing the average person runs out to buy." But Ciolek will build a copy of an 18th or 19th Century covered bridge just about anywhere for a customer. The asking price for the one bridge he's built so far is $1,600. Ciolek's bridge, now resting across a stream on his father's farm, is authentic down to the wooden pegs and mortar that hold it together.

CB Requires Special Permit In Canada

By DANIEL BEEGAN
Associated Press Writer
AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — Americans don't need a passport or a visa to cross the Canadian border, but they do need a special permit to operate their Citizens Band radios there.

The same holds true for Canadians who want to use their radios in the U.S.

That is the word from the Canadian Department of Telecommunications and the U.S. Federal Communications Commission (FCC).

The good news for CBers on both sides of the border is that the permits from both nations are free, issued on request to those with valid licenses from their own nation.

The bad news from the FCC is that the same degree of cooperation does not exist with the United States' other neighbor — Mexico.

"Mexico is strictly out of bounds. They want nothing to do with CB, and sets are likely to be confiscated," said John Small of the FCC in a telephone interview from Washington.

Al Daly, radio inspector at the Canadian Telecommunications Department's Moncton, New Brunswick, office, said that U.S. CBers may get their Canadian permits by writing to any of the five regional offices maintained by his department.

The offices are in Moncton, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver.

Daly and several Americans who have traveled to Canada recently with their radios said that no check is made at the border to see if CBers have valid Canadian permits.

But, Daly warned that operation without a permit could subject an American to a stiff fine.

Daly said American would find few differences in CB rules and operating procedures north of the border.

One difference, he said, is the name. CB in Canada is officially known as the General Radio Service.

Until July, there was another big difference. Channel 11 has been used regularly in Canada for conversation, said Daly, but in the U.S., it had been restricted by FCC rules for use as a calling channel. When contact was made, the conversation was supposed to move to another channel. The rule was changed by the FCC this summer.

In both countries, Channel 9 is restricted to emergency communications.

A Canadian traveling with his radio to the U.S. may get his permit by writing to the FCC, Gettysburg, PA, USA, 17326, Small said.

Daly said CB radio isn't as organized in Canada as it is in the United States, and "we haven't got the same numbers."

For this reason, visiting CBers used to hearing a lot of conversation on Channel 19, the unofficial truckers channel in the U.S., may find this is not the case in Canada, he said.

Daly said that the Canadian government has authorized expansion from 23 to 40 channels for the first of next year, about the same time it takes effect in the United States.

TURKEY GOBBLED

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI) — An average American consumes nine pounds of turkey a year, with half of that in processed products other than the whole birds traditional for holidays, according to Kansas State University.

Arrival Of Ship Signals Yule Season

By MURRAY J. BROWN
UPI Travel Editor

American visitors may have difficulty since it doesn't snow or freeze, but islanders know when winter begins in semi-tropical Bermuda. They watch for the Christmas tree ship.

About two weeks before Christmas, a freighter from Nova Scotia slips into Hamilton harbor with a cargo of evergreen trees. To Bermudians, its arrival signals the beginning of winter, even though the actual date of the winter solstice may be Dec. 21.

If, perchance, you miss the Christmas tree ship, Peter W. Smith of the Bermuda News Bureau says there are other ways of recognizing winter's arrival:

1. The citrus fruits ripen and fresh oranges, grapefruits and lemons grace dinner tables. The native-grown loquat also is a popular mid-winter fruit. Bananas grow year around, so they don't help in identifying any of the seasons.

2. The incense of burning

Bermuda cedar fills the morning and evening air. Most homes on the island do not have central heating so a fire of the aromatic cedar logs is welcome during cool nights. Average temperatures during the winter months range from 57 to 70 degrees (F).

3. The plankton stops blooming, making the ocean waters clearer than in the summer. As the water temperature drops from the summer high of 84 (F) to the winter low of 60, the plankton level also drops. Some Bermudians take advantage of the increased visibility to dive for sunken treasures in the hulls of ships wrecked on treacherous reefs around the island, which is located in the Atlantic Ocean about 600 miles off the North Carolina coast. More than 150 wrecks already have been located and hundreds more are believed waiting to be discovered.

4. There are no cricket matches. Soccer or rugby football are the winter sports.

5. Visitors are invited to have tea with the Lord Mayor of Hamilton, Bermuda's capital city. The Bermuda government sponsors various winter activities under a program called "Rendezvous Time." One is the weekly tea with the mayor, followed by an exhibition of local crafts at city hall. Others include military parades and ceremonies, guided tours of the Botanical Gardens and historic

St. George's, Bermuda's oldest settlement which has preserved or restored many of its past glories. (The Lord Mayor poured eggnog for us and other tourists during a Christmas Day visit last year.)

6. There are more golfers and tennis players on the links and courts than swimmers on the island's 80 beaches. But most of the luxury resort hotels have pools with heated water, and sun tan lotion is still a must for those who would bask in the sun.

7. Greengrocers advertise cassava root. Cassava pie is a traditional Christmas dish in Bermuda. If masked and costumed Gombey dancers are visible, it must be Boxing Day (Dec. 26) when Christmas gifts are exchanged or New Year's Day. Gombey may show up for other special occasions, but their traditional days of glory are in the winter months.

Smith said Bermuda's flowers know when winter comes, too. Gone are some of the summer favorites — crimson poinciana and pink oleander. Gone are the white fields of Easter lilies grown for export in the spring. Rare in winter is the purple bougainvillea that in the autumn tumbles from hedges and over walls. Winter flowers include poinsettias, hibiscus, nasturtium and morning glory (considered a weed in Bermuda).

Bermuda had long been a popular destination for Americans, including honeymooners. It offers a wide range of accommodations, from guest houses and cottage colonies to posh resort hotels (rates are lower during the winter months), and various land and water sports, including excellent deep-sea fishing.

Americans need only proof of citizenship and a return ticket. Several U.S. airlines fly from major East Coast cities to Kindley Field Airport. Flying time from New York is about two hours. There is a $3 departure tax. English is the official language and the Bermuda dollar is on a par with the U.S. dollar.

Visitors are not permitted to rent cars and international driving permits are not recognized. There are motor bikes and bicycles for rent, but remember traffic keeps to the left. Public transportation is provided by a network of buses. There is also good and inexpensive ferry services.

Incidentally, some hotels do not accept credit cards although many shops and restaurants do, so check beforehand.

Some Affected By Yule Blues

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Watch out for the Christmas blues.

A psychiatrist says that while Christmas brings joy to many, it stirs feelings of sadness in others — especially single people living alone.

"There is an increase in what we call neurotic depression as distinct from another kind of depression which is called psychotic depression," said Dr. John P. Callan, 37, director of the psychiatric crisis clinic at Hartford's St. Francis Hospital.

Callan said neurotic depression, unlike the psychotic kind, tends to last a short time. "Very often it will resolve shortly after the holiday season without any particular treatment," he said.

Why do some people feel blue at Christmas?

"Christmas tends to be a family time and if people are not with their family, they can very often feel unloved, neglected and depressed," Callan said. "My impression is that around the holiday season the persons at the highest risk are the single people who live alone, people who really don't have that much contact with others, perhaps away from their families, away from loved ones."

He said another factor which may contribute to depression is the economic pressure on people "to buy gifts, expensive gifts ... as a result of that, they may not be able to pay for it. Other people may have to work harder, work longer hours and do overtime, which of course leads to depression.

Callan suggested that single people can avoid the Christmas blues by getting involved with other families and participating in community activities that offer contact with other individuals.

Plan Queen's Silver Jubilee

LONDON (UPI) — The English county of Kent plans a six-week "International Festival of Creative Arts" next year for Queen Elizabeth's silver jubilee, which it claims will be "the biggest and most ambitious ever staged in Britain."

"More than 500 events will be presented in towns and villages throughout the county" during the six-week "colorful kaleidoscope of drama and the arts" beginning May 1, a statement said.

There's Nothing Wrong With A Checking Account That A Key Account Can't Cure!

First Federal is proud to announce an entirely new concept in personal money management, the Key Account.

The Key Account is better than a checking account, better than a savings account — because it combines the best features of both. It lets you control every extra dollar of your cash to keep it hard at work earning 5% daily interest. And that includes the money you use to pay your bills and for day-to-day expenses.

Unlike a conventional savings account, your First Federal Key Account keeps your money readily available. Instantly. Around the clock.

Here's how the Key Account works. Instant telephone access to your Key Account and checking account is one of the primary benefits.

When you open your Key Account at First Federal, you retain your checking account at the bank. But instead of putting all or most of your salary into checking, and drawing it down slowly as you pay bills and handle other expenses throughout the month, put your paycheck into your Key Account instead.

Then, whenever you have a few bills to pay or need cash for daily use, just telephone a special First Federal number. Tell us how much to transfer to your checking account to cover those bills or expenses. We'll transfer the money to the bank for you — and that includes any bank in the Pitt County area. (We also record the phone call, for your further protection.)

An important part of the Key Account concept in cash control is that you can make these transfers to your checking account, or from your checking account back to your Key Account, just as often as you need to. Daily, if you like. Twice a week. Whenever you need only a few dollars or a sizeable amount for bill-paying from your checking account. There's never a charge for any transfer.

And you can phone us any time of day or night, any day of the week. If you call before 11:00 a.m., your transfer will be handled by your bank the same day. If you call later, it will be handled the next business day.

The main objective is to keep as much of your cash as possible working continually for you, earning 5% daily interest, in your profitable Key Account.

You receive a monthly statement of your Key Account that lists all deposits, withdrawals, transfers, interest earned and your present balance.

Your statement is issued automatically. You don't have to waste time coming in to have your account updated.

You get a personal Prestige Key Account Card that identifies you as a Key Account holder.

The First Federal Prestige Machine — operated by your Prestige Key Account Card — provides pushbutton cash control services at your convenience, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

Use the Prestige Machine to deposit or withdraw funds from your Key account, to cash a check, or to make transfers between your Key Account and checking account — without charge, or to make a payment on your home loan.

You automatically get a receipt for each transaction. Out-of-town Prestige Emergency Cash and free travelers checks are extra benefits of your First Federal Key Account.

First Federal will issue you free travelers checks before you go on a trip. If you need more cash along the way, you can get it from your Key Account — without charge — through any of over 3,000 savings and loan locations across the nation.

Only First Federal offers the Key Account in this trade area an entirely new concept in cash control. Stop by your nearest First Federal office and open yours. Now, before the rush begins.

Arrest 2 On Drug Count

Pitt County deputies arrested a young Greenville couple Tuesday night and charged them with a marijuana possession count.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson reported that the deputies arrested Gary Stiles Joyner, 23, and his wife, Michiel Anderson Joyner, 20, at their 102 N. Jarvis Street residence and charged them with possession of marijuana for the purpose of sale.

Sheriff Tyson said that officers confiscated about two pounds of marijuana, contained in 17 plastic bags, in the 11 p.m. raid. Value of the marijuana was $560, he added.

Bond for each person was set at $5,000, the sheriff said.

Joyner is a student at East Carolina University and his wife attends Lenoir Community College.

Publishers Want $15,000 Back

CHICAGO (AP) — Actress Sarah Churchill, daughter of the late Sir Winston Churchill, has been accused by a Chicago publishing firm of breach of contract by keeping a $15,000 advance for an autobiography that remains unwritten.

The suit, filed Tuesday in U.S. District Court on behalf of Henry Regnery Co., said Miss Churchill was to have written the book with author Charles Hamblett, who died two weeks after the contract was signed in March 1975.

Harvey Plotnick, president of Regnery, said Hamblett's death voided the contract and that a chapter Miss Churchill wrote herself and later submitted to the publishing house was "atrocious."

Plotnick added that Miss Churchill refused to return the advance money, saying she had already spent it.

ROUAULT EXHIBIT

MARC-EN-BAROEUL, France (UPI) — The Anne and Albert Proust foundation in this northern French city has organized the largest exhibition of Georges Rouault, the expressionist painter who died in 1958. Over 150 paintings by Rouault — who made human suffering the subject of his art — will be lent by private collections and French and foreign museums.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day when you are likely to be too demanding of others and may want to make too many changes. Try to be more patient. Be sure to give compliments to others when due.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Not a good day for recreational activities since you have much work to do. Show gentility toward others and gain their goodwill.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Arrange matters at home so that there is more harmony there. Not a good time to start a new project. Be logical.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Try not to criticize others so much and gain their goodwill. Much care must be exercised in motion to avoid possible accident.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You may want to change existing conditions, but this could lead to disaster now. Count your blessing instead.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't delay handling important career matters. Also, don't rely on a busy friend for assistance with some problem you have.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Plan time for right handling of personal matters and try not to involve others in them. Evening is fine for the social side of life.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) It is better to work alone today instead of getting into group activities which would not work out well now. Think constructively.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take care you don't jeopardize your reputation in any way in the outside world today. Be sure to keep your promises to others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be certain to study a new idea you have from every conceivable angle. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Make sure you first know the facts before discussing an important problem with mate. Study your responsibilities well.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Not a good day to have talks with associates on a mutual venture since they could be under tension of some sort.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Be more enthused about work awaiting your attention. Don't engage in activities that could endanger your health.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be able to solve problems easily and should have the education directed along troubleshooting lines. Give enough work to do to keep this mind active. Praise for noteworthy work for best results.

David Frost Recruits Experts For TV Show

NEW YORK (UPI) — The most ambitious TV series ever made in western Asia — The Crossroads of Civilization — is being produced by David Frost's David Paradine Films.

The eight-part series, covering 3,000 years in the history of the Near East and the Iranian plateau, will re-create the major events and battles of the past with a huge cast of men and horses and thousands of authentic costumes.

Authorities from America, Britain, Germany and Iran are advising and contributing to the production. Among the historical consultants are Professor Richard N. Frye, Aga Khan professor of Iranian studies, Harvard University, and David Stronach, director of the British Institute of Persian Studies.

"There are distinguished forerunners for series of this kind," Frost said, "but we felt that this particular story is so epic that no single expert could have encompassed it. For this reason we have sought the best brains in each field and used them all in re-creating our story."

"The result will encourage, I hope, a far better understanding of a part of the world and of our own heritage which has, perhaps, given us more than we realize."

Four film units are at work in Iran, Turkey and Greece as well as Britain and the United States. One is on location in southern Iran for the historical reconstruction; another is filming in the major museums of the world; another is providing documentary coverage of hundreds of historical sites; and another will be filming David Frost with key historians at locations which are landmarks in world history.

David Paradine Films is associated with the Bank Mellat of Iran. The series has a production budget of $2.5 million. The National Film Centre in Teheran is assisting with the technical facilities, and the Ministry of Culture and Arts is providing its extensive archaeological resources.

The eight programs cover the fall of the Assyrian and Babylonian empires and the emergence of Cyrus the Great and Darius; the development of early world religions, the conquests of Alexander the Great, the origins and spread of Islam, the evolution of architecture and the arts through the early Arab empires, the invasions of Genghis Khan and Tamerlane, the Persian renaissance and its flowering in the city of Isfahan. The series concludes with the increasing intervention of western powers seeking control of trade and ultimately of oil, and the final assertion of independence in recent years by the OPEC nations.

David Paradine Films is providing most of the production team and has total creative control of the series. The films will be processed and edited in London and will be offered to world television markets.

Had declarer held a doubleton in either black suit and one fewer diamond, he would have had a good play for his contract by trying to set up his longer black suit. Unfortunately, the two singletons meant that Brun would be short of entries to both establish and cash either of dummy's long suits.

Brun realized that the only way to get a tenth trick was to enlist the aid of the defenders. First, he had to decide which black suit was more likely to break 4-3. He reasoned that had either defender held a five-card spade suit, he might have gotten it into the auction. So he opted for spades as being more likely to break favorably than clubs.

Declarer drew the third trump, cashed the ace and king of spades and ruffed a spade. Now he entered dummy with the king of clubs and made East a present of a spade trick. Down to nothing but clubs, East had to lead a club to dummy's ace, giving declarer the entry to cash the long spade for his tenth trick.

A Well-Crafted Rodgers' Salute

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Tonight's marching orders: Drop everything at 9 p.m. EST, tune in CBS and watch a two-hour special called "America Salutes Richard Rodgers: The Sound of His Music."

The opus, cohosted by Gene Kelly and Henry "the Fonz" Winkler, is a long-overdue, well-crafted tribute to the 72-year-old composer of more than 1,000 songs and cocreator of 42 Broadway shows.

It has class in every department — musicianship, writing, direction, production, you name it. It sets a new standard of excellence.

Not only is it a display of great tunes such as "I Could Write a Book" and "Hello, Young Lovers," it's also an intelligent history course on the creative process involved in Rodgers' tunes and such hit Rodgers shows as "South Pacific" and "The Sound of Music."

The course is taught in breezy, anecdotal style by Winkler and Kelly, respectively cast as two Rodgers' collaborators who became just as famous as the tunesmith — Lorenz Hart and Oscar Hammerstein II. They appear on an empty theater stage, chat about the way various tunes came to life and the way each man worked with Rodgers. At one point, Hart neatly sums up their different styles this way:

"Me, I always wrote a smart-alecky lyric. Oscar, he wrote from the heart."

After each exchange, the guys step aside and let the music make the point. And the points arrive in various ways — Cloris Leachman doing a "Do I Hear a Waltz" number, a mustachioed Bing Crosby crooning "Easy to Remember" in an ancient film clip, and Lena Horne, Peggy Lee and Vic Damone brilliantly vocalizing on a brilliant assortment of tunes ranging from "Funny Valentine" to "I Wish I were in Love Again."

There also are lovely duets by Sammy Davis Jr. and Diana Carroll, a fine "10 Cents a Dance" production number by Sandy Duncan, even a playfully-edited medley sung by nonprofessionals, among them a motorcycle cop who has at "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning."

The troops who cooked up this show deserve special mention — director Dwight Hemion, who also coproduced the program with Gary Smith; writers Buz Kohan and Ted Strauss; and musical arrangers Ralph Burns and Billy Byers, whose work can be summed up in one word: tasty.

In the late 1930s, CBS board chairman William S. Paley tried to get Rodgers and Hart to do a weekly radio series of their music.

Pennsylvania Native Carried On Museum Project

By Dr. H.G. Jones, Curator North Carolina Collection
 Written for the AP
CHAPEL HILL (AP) — If the late Col. Fred A. Olds was the "father" of the North Carolina Museum of History, then certainly Mrs. Joye Esch Jordan was its "mother."

When early in the 20th Century the Hall of History was transferred from the State Museum to the North Carolina Historical Commission, the legendary Col. Olds came with it. In fact, he and the Hall of History were synonymous until his retirement in 1934.

For the following 10 years the exhibits branch of the Historical Commission (whose name was changed to State Department of Archives and History in 1943) did little more than survive. In 1945, however, the dust began to fly when Mrs. Jordan was appointed first administrator of Archives and History's newly created Museum Division.

The division consisted of the administrator, a part-time janitor, several thousand artifacts, and a small area of the Education Building.

Without professional training (courses in museology had not yet been developed), Mrs. Jordan set out to establish a modern museum. True, the Pennsylvania native had been a teacher, but that did little to prepare her for an entirely new career.

Joye Jordan (whose first name is often erroneously spelled "Joyce") read a lot and visited as many other museums as possible. Her real training, however, was on the job.

When the New York State

Historical Association offered a summer course in museum training at Cooperstown, she took vacation and paid her own way. That she made an impression is indicated by the fact that the association put her on the faculty for the next three summers.

Thus she passed on to others the lessons she had learned in administering a small state museum.

The growth of the Hall of History into the North Carolina Museum of History was slow. Gradually, though, the flat table cases gave way to room exhibits requiring months of research and preparation. Additional space was acquired in the Education Building, and the museum became a popular attraction in Raleigh.

In addition to acquiring, interpreting, and exhibiting artifacts depicting aspects of North Carolina history, Mrs. Jordan helped develop innovative means of teaching history. She, Dr. Christopher Crittenden and Dr. William H. Cartwright, for instance, organized the Junior Historian Association with clubs in high schools around the state.

Another teaching device originated with the gifts from the French "Merci (thank you) Train" following World War II.

Mrs. Jordan assisted in constructing exhibits in a renovated house trailer and sent the displays around the state, thus establishing the state's first mobile museum of history.

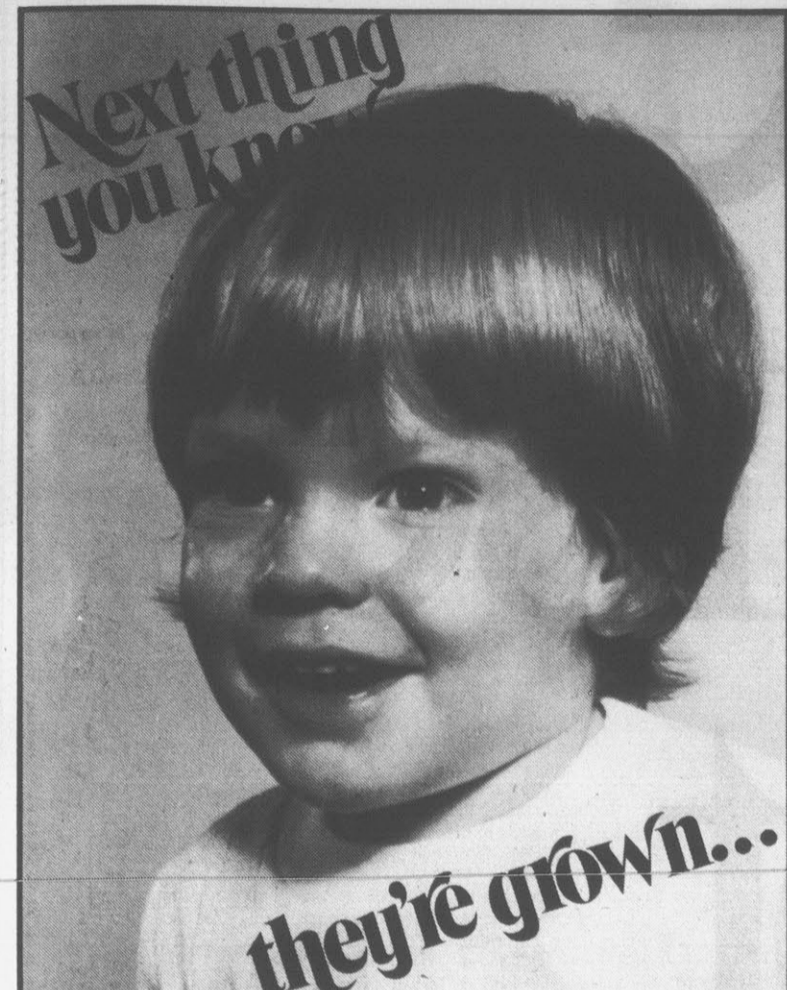

Finally, in 1968, Mrs. Jordan and her staff moved the entire Museum of History into the Archives and History State Library Building. No longer classified as small, the museum was fully accredited by the American Association of Museums and was recognized as one of the best in the South.

Mrs. Jordan participated in the establishment of the Southeastern Museums Conference and served as secretary-treasurer and member of the council. She was for four years a member of the council of the American Association of Museums, and she was the first secretary-treasurer of the North Carolina Museums Council which in 1971 gave her its highest award.

Last Friday night, the North Carolina Literary and Historical Association gave Mrs. Jordan its Christopher Crittenden Memorial Award in recognition of her nearly 30 years of service to North Carolina history and the museum profession.

The award, memorializing the director under whom Mrs. Jordan worked for more than two decades, is a fitting tribute to the "mother" of the North Carolina Museum of History.

Tradition Dates

Back To Luther

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The tradition of lighted Christmas trees dates back to religious reformer Martin Luther (1483-1546), but the delicate glass Christmas ornaments long associated with tree decorating have been "hanging around" for only about 100 years.

Luther started the Yule tree tradition, according to Hallmark researchers, to help ordinary people understand and appreciate Christmas joys.

Some three centuries later his fellow Germans in the Thuringian mountain area added glass-blown ornaments to the tree limbs.

Advise Early Decision-Making

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Children who are allowed to make decisions at an early age can develop into independent thinkers and decision makers.

Debby Johnson, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says parents can also instill trust in their children by allowing them to think for themselves.

Taste Promise Kept.

'Enriched Flavor'™ breakthrough brings unprecedented taste to low tar smoking.

For many years low tar cigarettes have promised taste.

But your own taste told you the truth: low tar meant low taste.

Until MERIT.

MERIT packs 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. Tobacco fortified with key flavor-rich ingredients of cigarette smoke proven to deliver taste way out of proportion to tar.

If you smoke, you'll be interested.

Tests Verify Taste

MERIT was taste-tested

9 mg. "tar," 0.7 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method

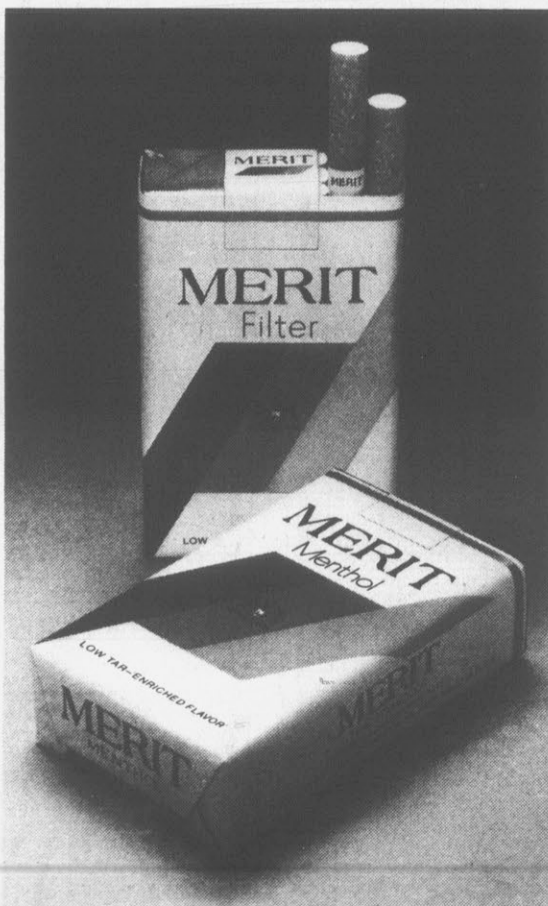

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

Thousands of smokers were involved. The majority report: Even if the cigarette tested had up to 60% more tar than MERIT, MERIT still delivered as much—or more—taste.

Repeat: delivered as much—or more—taste.

MERIT. Unprecedented flavor at one of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.
