Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special three-judge federal court today struck down as unconstitutional a central provision of the new law designed to balance the federal budget within five years.

The three-judge panel unanimously overturned the section of the Gramm-Rudman law requiring that mandatory, across-the-board spending cuts be triggered when Congress fails to meet specified deficit-reduction targets.

A quick appeal was expected directly to the Supreme Court.

Even in advance of today's ruling, Sen. Warren Rudman, R-N.H., one of the law's original sponsors, had said a such a ruling was expected, put predicted that the law would eventually be upheld by the Supreme Court.

Today's ruling left standing the targets themselves as well as a back-up provision that lets Congress trigger each year's set of cuts with a single vote in each chamber.

The ruling came on a lawsuit filed by 12 members of Congress and a federal employees' union.

Duvalier Gives Up Control Over Haiti

By ART CANDELL
Associated Press Writer

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Embattled President-for-Life Jean-Claude Duvalier left Haiti for France today on a U.S. Air Force plane, relinquishing power over the impoverished Caribbean nation his family had ruled for 28 years.

"I have decided to pass the destiny of the nation into the hands of the military ... so a bloodbath can be avoided for my people," Duvalier said in a taped message broadcast on national television and radio at 7:20 a.m., almost four hours after he left the country.

National television and radio said a six-member military-civilian council headed by army chief of staff Gen. Henri Namphy had taken charge of the country, the poorest in the Western Hemisphere.

The council members were greeted by a 21-gun salute and shouts of joy when they appeared on the steps of the presidential palace. Thousands of people poured into the capital's downtown shouting, "He flew away," and "Down with the Macoutes, long live the army."

Duvalier had used the Tontons Macoutes, the national militia formally called the Volunteers for National Service, to put down any dissent among the 6 million people of Haiti, which shares the island of Hispaniola with the Dominican Republic. His government was widely accused of human rights violations.

Militia members today appeared scared and confused, shouting at each other to stick together and head for the barracks. Some were pelted with fruit and vegetables, but police and soldiers drove away the attackers.

In Washington, the State Department confirmed Duvalier was headed for temporary asylum in France and said the Air Force plane was provided at the 34-year-old Duvalier's request.

In Paris, the French Foreign Ministry announced it would temporarily accept Duvalier in order to

Deputy Named Officer Of Year

By CAROL TYER

Greenville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 7032's nominee for the national J. Edgar Hoover Award for outstanding performance in law enforcement cannot remember a time when she did not want to be a law enforcement officer.

Karen Kilpatrick, a Pitt County sheriff's deputy, has had and wants no other profession. The Winterville resident went directly into the police science curriculum at Pitt Community College after graduating from D.H. Conley High School in 1976, graduated in 1978 and became a jailer with the Pitt County Sheriff's Department at age 19.

"I watched a lot of cops and bad guys television shows as a child," she said, "and I always knew I'd be a police officer of some kind."

Thursday night Ms. Kilpatrick was honored at a dinner held by Post 7032 as Pitt County Law Enforcement Officer of the Year. And it was announced that she is being nominated for the Hoover Award. Along with a plaque noting the honor, she was presented a special edition Smith and Wesson 44 magnum handgun.

Early Philippines' Vote Shows Conflicting Tallies

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Unofficial returns trickling in from today's bitterly fought election between President Ferdinand E. Marcos and Corazon Aquino gave widely conflicting results. The government said 26 people were killed in election day violence, and there were numerous reports of fraud.

There was no overall tally from several agencies trying to count votes in an election marked by violence and reports of voter intimidation and ballot box theft.

Voters chose between Mrs. Aquino, 53, a political novice and widow of assassinated opposition leader Benigno S. Aquino Jr., and Marcos, 68, who has ruled the island nation for 20 years.

The vice presidential contest between Marcos' ally Arturo Tolentino and opposition candidate Salvador Laurel will give the country its first direct successor to the presidency in 13 years.

Marcos called the special election more than a year before his term was to end as a test of his popularity. The United States, which has two large military bases in the Philippines, has pressured Marcos to make military, economic and social reforms and to quell a growing communist rebel threat.

The 1983 assassination of Aquino triggered growing opposition to the Marcos government.

The official Philippine News Agency said that based on early returns six hours after the polls closed, Marcos "appeared to be headed for a clear victory." It gave him 202,664 votes to Mrs. Aquino's 160,502.

Response Filed

The defendants in a civil suit filed by a former University Nursing Center patient have filed responses denying the allegations of negligence as charged in the complaint. The defendants also made motions to dismiss the suit.

The suit, seeking over $10,000 in actual damages and $10,000 in punitive damages from the University Nursing Center, director Kyle W. Dilday and medical director Dr. Joseph M. Ward was filed last year by Josephine D. House, 75, of Route 1, Stokes.

The complaint charges that Mrs. House's right leg had to be amputated because of what the suit calls negligence on the part of the defendants.

In response to the complaint, the defendants have moved to have the suit dismissed, saying the suit was not filed within the period of time allowed by the original order of the clerk of court.

Dr. Ward's answer, which specifically denies all allegations charged in the complaint — either flatly or because of lack of sufficient knowledge or information — also said "the complaint fails to state a claim ... upon which relief can be granted and therefore should be dismissed."

BOY OF THE YEAR — Paul Emerson, a senior at D. H. Conley High School, was named Boy of the Year by the Pitt County Boys Club at its annual dinner Thursday night.

Conley Senior Is 'Boy Of Year'

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

D.H. Conley High School senior Paul Emerson was named the Boy of the Year for 1986 at the annual dinner of the Pitt County Boys Club Thursday.

In another ceremony at the dinner, the mortgage note of the Boys Club was burned.

Kirk Dominick, the 1985 Boy of the Year, presented the award to Emerson. The new honoree participates in several activities at the club. He is a charter member of the Coastal Keystone Club, a member of Junior Toastmasters and the Boys Club senior basketball team.

At Conley, Emerson plays varsity golf and belongs to the literary club. His hobbies are fishing, camping and going to the beach.

The son of Chet and Pat Emerson, he is a member of the University Church of Christ.

"I don't know what to say. I didn't expect this honor so I had nothing written," Emerson said following the announcement of his selection. "All I can say is thank you very much."

The note burning marked the final payment of a $500,000 mortgage note that financed the facility on Arlington Boulevard. The building was dedicated on Nov. 1, 1981.

Those involved in the note-burning ceremony were Austin Britt, Jack Minges, Etsil Mason and Bob Mallard, members of the leadership team of the club's development fund. One member of the group, W. M. (Booger) Scales, was not present.

Griff Garner, president of the board of directors, announced that

Raynor Honored

Daily Reflector staff writer Jerry Raynor was presented the Outstanding Communicator's Award Thursday at the annual banquet of the Pitt County Boys Club.

According to club Executive Director Chet Emerson, Raynor was chosen for the national award because "his efforts to tell our story ... had made a great difference in the support we've received."

"He was a board member during the beginning years, the struggling years, and his efforts to help us were exemplary," Emerson said.

This is the first time the award has been given in the 20-year history of the local club, Emerson said.

Charity Ball Theme Is Announced

Plans for the 1986 Charity Ball were shared with Greenville Service League members Monday. Mrs. Ray Cannon, overall chairman, said the theme is "Elegance Victorienne."

The ball will be held Feb. 15 at the Greenville Country Club. Dinner will be served starting at 8 p.m.

Committee chairpersons for the ball are: Mrs. Richard Gavigan, assistant; Mrs. Norwood Whitehurst, Mrs. Frank Layne and Mrs. Charles Carter, decorations; Mrs. Michael Ramsdell, supplies; Mrs. Donald McGlohan and Mrs. Kelly Barnhill, invitations; Mrs. James Carter, finance; Mrs. Spence Cosby and Mrs. Thomas Reese, programs; Mrs. Derek Dunn, publicity.

Mrs. Leon Moore and Mrs. Ray Minges, dinner; Mrs. Richard Gammon, secretary; Mrs. Jack Whichard, hostesses; Mrs. William Brewer, ushers and usherettes; Mrs. C.W. Harvey, workshops; Mary Wesley Harvey, bandstand; Mrs. Edward Seykora and Mrs. Wayne Kendrick, driveway and lounges; Mrs. Jasper Lewis and Mrs. Howard Dawkins Jr., Fieldcrest Room, and Mrs. Edward Smith, foyer.

Appreciation to league members and local businesses was expressed by Mrs. Cannon.

Mrs. George Clark, Bloodmobile chairman, reported four visits during January with 75 league members working 258½ hours collecting 908 units. Mrs. Gammon, finance chairman, reported collections of coat hangers. Mrs. Lawton Nisbet, Laughinghouse Hospital chairman, reported paying several medicine bills for patients and four hospital bills.

Mrs. Harvey, layettes, reported a call was answered and Mrs. Jon Tingelstad reported two calls and two returns of patient home care equipment. Mrs. J.W.H. Roberts, mental health chairman, reported on the need of an electric stove for patient use and training. Mrs. James Hudson, civil defense, said the Feb. 21 refresher CPR course had been cancelled.

Mrs. Al Ferguson, sustaining representative, said a luncheon for sustaining members will be held Feb. 26 starting at noon.

A GOLDEN REPLACEMENT

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP) — For centuries, alchemists tried to make gold from base metals. Now, modern scientists have found a way to replace the precious metal.

Scientists at Allied-Signal Inc. say they have developed a new nickel-based alloy that can take the place of gold in many electronics applications.

U.S. electronics manufacturers currently spend an estimated $400 million a year for gold. Previous efforts to replace gold with such substitutes as palladium and palladium alloys have failed because of problems with their cost, performance and availability.

The new alloy contains no precious metals, is cheaper to make, and is not subject to price fluctuations. The scientists say it possesses many of the same properties as gold for manufacturing purposes.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

'Lucky Connection' Catches Her Guy

DEAR ABBY: I'm so glad you told that man who had fallen in love with a young lady's voice over the telephone to go ahead and meet her. I would just like to say that you can never tell where a phone call will lead.

A good friend of mine from high school attended the U.S. Air Force Academy where I'd call him occasionally to see how things were going. As cadets do not have phones in their rooms, my calls were answered at the squadron desk by the cadet working there; one cadet in particular began to recognize my voice, and I liked his. We exchanged pictures and letters for four months, and when we finally met face to face, we felt as though we'd known each other for years.

We are now engaged and plan to be married after he completes pilot's training.

LUCKY CONNECTION

CONFIDENTIAL TO ANYONE WHO IS OLD ENOUGH TO READ THIS: "The average salesman doesn't read a book a year. This is why he is the average salesman." (Anonymous)

Abby, please tell parents who allow their underage children to drink, to do it in their own homes and not expect the cooperation of a bartender or waitress. Thanks. By printing this you may have saved my job and my sanity.

HAD IT IN FLORIDA

DEAR HAD IT: When you're asked to serve someone who appears to be underage, ask to see his/her identification. If an adult offers to accept the responsibility, say, "The responsibility is not transferable... it's mine." Period.

DEAR ABBY: Is it true that in Hollywood if an actress is good for a part but needs a few alterations (physically), they can fix just about anything? I read somewhere that if a woman is skinny or has bony parts, she can be filled in with silicone. Like in that song from "A Chorus Line," "T and A Is Where It's At." Well, I have plenty of "T" and "A," but the calves of my legs are very thin and my knees are bony. The rest of me is just fine, but my legs are so shapeless I hate to show them.

Plastic surgeons can perform miracles with a face-lift, so why should giving a woman shapely calves be so difficult? Where can I find a doctor who does this kind of work? I have the funds to handle it, so that's no problem.

Please don't give me any lectures about how I should be satisfied with what I've got. I've heard plenty of those. At 39, I'm old enough to know what I want.

NO NAME OR TOWN, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: Now that you've rejected my intuitive advice, here's my next choice. Consult with three of the top plastic surgeons in your area. (If you don't know who they are, contact your county association of plastic and reconstructive surgeons, and request referrals.) Discuss your desires with all three of these doctors, then make your decision.

DEAR ABBY: Can you stand one more letter from a waitress? (Don't worry, it's not about tipping.) If one more customer comes into the lounge where I work and asks me to serve an underage child an alcoholic beverage—or orders two drinks and gives one to the child, then says, "Don't worry, I'll take the responsibility"—I don't know what I'll do.

What I'd really like to do is slap them upside the head and maybe knock some sense into them! If they realized what the penalties are for serving minors, they'd never ask me to do it.

Are they willing to serve my possible jail term, or pay up to $2,000 for my possible fine? Would they be willing to reimburse the restaurant-lounge for the money it would lose if its liquor license were suspended?

Footwear Fashions Will Rise To New Heights This Spring

NEW YORK (AP) — For spring '86, fashion history repeats itself. The glamorous 1940s are back with open-toed, thick-heeled, platformed movie star-quality shoes that range from funky to sophisticated, reports The Footwear Council.

Out of Africa, Egypt and India comes cross-cultural-inspired footwear that elevates the wearer in sensational style, says Andrea Rosen, executive director of the council.

The '80s version of platforms is the hottest look this season, with an extraordinary variety of material and color, she adds.

"Platforms are the fun accent for this spring's ready-to-wear — day or evening, fun or serious looks," says Rosen. "Fruit, flowers, funk — pure fun dressing a la Carmen Miranda is perfectly matched with eye-catching, lively multicolored wedges with flower appliques.

"Joan Crawford's signature dressing of the '40s makes a statement of pure elegance," she adds. "Suit and dress looks with nipped waists and peplums are great with ankle-strap, high-colored platforms or metallic wedges."

Modern and ancient culture bring exotic excitement to this summer's fashions, Rosen notes. Rustic fabrications, soft loose silhouettes, layering, wrapping and draping are the fashion bywords.

In shoes, there are platforms and wedges in shiny metallics — gold, pewter, bronze and silver, or in tropical brights, rain forest darks, wood with shiny nailheads, and gleaming patent.

Are women going to feel comfortable and safe wearing these platforms and wedges?

"Platform sandals are modest today compared to those worn in the third century B.C. Then, elevated shoes gave the wearer status and also kept him above mud and snow," Rosen explains.

"Today, platforms provide high style and actually benefit the individual's walk. Platforms are manufactured with lighter bottoms, the weight is evenly distributed to alleviate strain on the feet and back. The foot is able to move with greater flexibility, which makes for increased comfort and easy walking."

The updated, big-bottom styles with '86 innovative detailing are available in every price range, Rosen points out.

"So," she suggests, "fulfill your wildest fantasy, your every whim, from far-away exotic countries to the fabulous '40s, with shoes that can be matched with your favorite business, evening or play outfit."

SALMON TIMBALES
2 large eggs
¾ cup milk, scalded
2 slices (each ¾-inch thick) white bread, crusts cut off and finely diced (1 loosely packed cup, scant) 7¾-ounce can red salmon, undrained
Garnish: bread-and-butter pickles

In a medium bowl whisk eggs enough to blend yolks and whites; gradually and gently whisk in milk. Add bread and salmon; with a fork, flake salmon and crush any large bone. Ladle into 4 buttered 6-ounce custard cups. Place cups in an 8-inch square cake pan; fill pan with enough hot water to come halfway up cups. Bake in a pre-heated 350-degree oven until a knife inserted near center comes out clean — 25 to 30 minutes. Let stand about 5 minutes; loosen edges and turn out. Garnish with pickles. Makes 4 servings. Repeated by request.

FmHA Cuts List Of Letters Warning Of Foreclosures

By The Associated Press

Because of new guidelines from Washington, the Farmers Home Administration is expected to trim its list of foreclosure-warning letters from about 2,400 North Carolina farmers to about 800, an FmHA spokesman says.

Eddie Miller, with the state FmHA headquarters in Raleigh, said Thursday that the estimated 800 "mandatory response letters," warning of possible foreclosure on loans, will be sent soon.

He said a date to mail the letters has not been determined since the final list of names has not been received from Washington.

Miller said foreclosure-warning letters now will go only to those farmers who have the most serious delinquencies.

The rest of the approximately 2,400 delinquent Tar Heel borrowers will get a less severe letter telling them they are delinquent but not requiring a response, he said.

The more severe letters will advise farmers to respond within 30 days to a list of possible options designed to make their payments current or the FmHA will make their loans due immediately. If the loans are not paid, FmHA lawyers will begin foreclosure proceedings, Miller said.

"It's very important that they do respond," he said.

The letters requiring a response will be sent to farmers who have at least one loan in which no payment has been made for at least three years. Others in that category will include those who have sold "security" on their loans but kept the proceeds for themselves. In addition, ex-farmers who are still delinquent will receive the letters, Miller said.

"We want to work with every farmer that has any chance of succeeding, realizing there are some that are in so much debt that there is no way they can work out of their current financial problems," Miller said.

The options include rescheduling loans at lower rates, deferring payments for up to five years, selling off parts of assets to reduce their debt load, liquidations or paying off the loan in full, he said. The alternatives must be approved by FmHA officials, Miller said.

"If they are going to do the man some good, we want them to have them," he said. "But if even by (the options) he can still not (make) his payments and he still cannot survive, he wouldn't be eligible ..."

Farmers delinquent by at least $100 as of Dec. 31 will receive similar letters but not face foreclosure, Miller said. They will be encouraged to go to their county FmHA offices to discuss the options.

Leo Hawkins, a human development specialist with the state's Agricultural Extension Service, said recently that he fears some farmers may believe fellow growers would think them failures and may ignore the letters.

"We think a lot of farmers will hide this and mention it to nobody, and if they do, they'll get in trouble because if they don't respond, the choices are nil," he said.

Robert Caldwell, master of the state Grange, said the organization recently asked the North Carolina congressional delegation to urge federal officials to use compassion and "soften the approach" on delinquent farmers. He said influence by congressmen from North Carolina and other states may have led to the FmHA's paring of the list of foreclosure-warning letters.

Miller said the change was made "to give some of the borrowers ... some additional breathing room to try to work out their problems."

In addition, if mandatory letters are sent to all delinquent farmers, the workload for FmHA personnel would have made it hard to carry out other duties, he said.

Debris Found

ATLANTIC BEACH, N.C. (AP) — Debris found on Atlantic Beach just five miles from the boyhood home of Challenger pilot Michael J. Smith has been sent to NASA to determine if the two pieces are part of the space shuttle, which exploded Jan. 28.

Atlantic Beach resident Thomas B. Doe III found one piece 8 inches by 1 inch by 4 inches in size Thursday. Doe said he took the debris to the local police, who called NASA. Police reported that NASA officials said the debris could be part of the shuttle's main liquid fuel tank, Doe said.

"It was a honeycomb laminate that's used in aircraft frames, bonded with aluminum sheets on each side, very strong and lightweight," Doe said.

Atlantic Beach officers then searched the beaches four hours Wednesday and Thursday before finding a charred, partly melted piece of debris with numbers, Capt. R.K. Whitfield said. He said the Coast Guard reported finding other pieces of debris near Wrightsville Beach. Whitfield said both pieces have been sent to NASA officials at the Kennedy Space Center in Florida.

Insurance Policies Lost By Thousands

RALEIGH (AP) — Some 38 companies have dropped at least 11,997 commercial insurance policies in North Carolina since September, according to records compiled by the state Department of Insurance.

An additional 3,858 motor vehicle policies were dropped, but the records do not specify whether those policies covered commercial vehicles or private passenger vehicles.

Some coverage has been stopped in 75 of the state's 100 counties and in 124 cities, the records show.

Insurance Commissioner Jim Long said the records prove "there is a growing number of businesses which are unable, or having significant trouble in getting insurance policies placed or replaced.

"I strongly suspect that the numbers we've been able to develop so far are just the tip of the iceberg," he said Thursday.

Department officials said the records covered only policies handled by independent agents — those who sell insurance for more than one company — and did not account for all coverage that may have been stopped. They added that the records also did not reflect what canceled or dropped policies may have been picked up by other companies.

College Head Resigns

RALEIGH (AP) — John Thomas Rice, president of Saint Mary's College for the last decade, has submitted his resignation, effective June 30. Rice, 46, will assume the position of executive director of college development at Mary Baldwin College in Staunton, Va., in July. He submitted his resignation Thursday during the annual winter meeting of the college's board of trustees, said board Chairman Smedes York.

Camp Chaplain Is Facing Series Of Morals Charges

RALEIGH (AP) — A summer camp chaplain charged with disseminating obscene stories via a computer network used his master's of divinity degree "as a cover" for inducing minors to engage in homosexual acts, a prosecutor says.

Arthur James Manchester, who was arrested Wednesday on two counts of disseminating obscene stories about teenage boys through a computer network, was charged the next day with taking indecent liberties with a 15-year-old boy.

The 33-year-old man, who got his degree from Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary in Wake Forest, was lodged in Central Prison under $350,000 bond.

On Thursday, Wake County Superior Court Judge Stafford Bullock scheduled a probable cause hearing for Feb. 17 for Manchester.

The arrest came during a Wake County Sheriff's Department probe into a computer network called the Gay Teen Conference, which featured a variety of homosexual acts in words and pictures, Sheriff John Baker said.

"Allegedly, he was providing counseling to homosexuals and bisexuals of all sorts," Assistant District Attorney Evelyn Hill told Wake County Superior Court Judge Anthony M. Brannon at a hearing Wednesday.

Wake County District Attorney J. Randolph Riley said the Gay Teen Conference could be reached by computer operators who obtained a special password.

"The potential connections are virtually unknown," Riley said. "If what we suspect is found to be in fact the situation, the number is frighteningly large."

"It could be statewide and farther," said Detective Ken Hensley, an investigating officer for the sheriff's department. "We're still working on it."

Fifty years ago less than 10 percent of farms had electricity.

Citizen

The name of Harry Leslie is a familiar one to anyone who's been around Pitt County for awhile.

Leslie was selected "Citizen of the Year" by the Pitt-Greenville Chamber of Commerce last week, an honor he shares with the likes of Leo Jenkins, Janice Buck and Jack Minges. Good company.

Now you might guess a native son or daughter would be selected as the county's top citizen, and quite a few have over the years. But "naturalized" Pitt Countians — Leslie included — have also received the honor. In fact, more and more citizens who have adopted Pitt County as home are showing up in lists of its outstanding citizens.

That fact illustrates a solid strength in this community. People are a region's greatest resource, and an area that continually draws an abundance of so-called outsiders, then entices them to stay, is an asset.

The reverse is also true. Talented, educated, visionary "outsiders" that choose Pitt County as home bring their skill, knowledge and muse along with them. This symbiotic relationship is superlative.

Harry Leslie is a good example of this relationship. His involvement spans the realm of social institutions — First Presbyterian Church, Pitt County Memorial Hospital, United Way, Pitt Community College, East Carolina University and the Greenville Museum of Art. That's a good way to touch a lot of lives.

We applaud Pitt Countians, both native and naturalized, that are not just content to call the area home — like Leslie, they want to make a difference. And like Leslie, many of them have.

Shadows

"If Candlemas (February 2) be fair, there be two winters in the year", goes an old saying which is reputed to be the basis for the Groundhog Day tradition that if the groundhog sees his shadow (how could he miss on a fair day?) there will be six more weeks of winter.

Why woodchucks, a.k.a. groundhogs, got involved in the scenario is another story — but irrelevant. According to the saying alleged to be the roots of Groundhog Day tradition, nothing is said about groundhogs.

Watchers aver their groundhogs did not see their shadow; but, in an informal poll of people who crossed our path on Feb. 2, all said they saw their shadow.

Whom to trust? People or groundhogs?

The Associated Press — a reliable source — tells us spring begins on March 20, more than 6 weeks away. The National Weather Service in a long-range forecast calls for colder and wetter than normal weather for the East and Midwest through April. That combination could even bring snow.

Punxsutawney Phil and others of his ilk should retire.

Chauvinist Says The Order Changeth

WASHINGTON — A modest little flap developed recently at Catholic University. The student government association had invited Eleanor Smeal, president of the National Organization for Women, to appear on its lecture series. Then complaints rolled in that the gentlewoman surely would use her platform to advocate abortion on demand. On reflection, the association concluded that it would be improper to pay a $1,000 lecture fee for the propagation of what the church regards as heresy, so the invitation was withdrawn.

This decision set off a small commotion. John Gilmore, a third-year law student, said that "as soon-to-be attorneys, we have an obligation to protect the rights of those whose views we disagree with." Gilmore rounded up $1,500 from three law school organizations, and extended the invitation anew.

It is tempting to argue the proposition that Smeal has no "right" whatever to appear under auspices of the student government association. Sen. Jesse Helms, to make the point, has no "right" to speak at a convention of the National Organization for Women. No one has a "right" to have his letter published in a newspaper. It would be useful — and especially useful to third-year law students — to get straight on this business of "rights."

Let it go. The interesting thing is that the flap over the invitation to Smeal kicked up so little attention. Here she is, the fire-breathing, flame-throwing president of the country's largest organization of militant feminists, and not many people any longer give a particular damn. The steam leaks out. Women have gone back to wearing bras, not burning them.

If this were only my opinion, it might well be discounted in the marketplace of ideas. Some years ago, Washingtonian magazine identified the capital's 20 leading male chauvinist pigs. Joe Alsop ranked first; I ranked about No. 12. It was an honor I felt undeserved, but no matter. My observation is confirmed at every hand.

Dinesh D'Souza, writing in Policy Review, finds the women's movement "in decay and despair." Its leaders are "anxious and demoralized." She quotes Betty Friedan on the "profound paralysis" in feminism. Fifteen years ago Germaine Greer was whooping it up for free-and-easy sex in "The Female Eunuch." Now, in "Sex and Destiny," she delivers an "attack upon the ideology of sexual freedom." Susan Brownmiller, once a crusader in the field of sexual politics, now denounces the doctrine of "comparable worth" as "dumb" and "dopey."

Elizabeth Lilla, writing in Commentary, provides an absorbing account of an effort to revamp the curriculum of Kenyon College in Gambier, Ohio, so as to establish a new program of women's studies. This reform was not sought by activist students; it was sought by an activist administration, catering to what it perceived to be academic chic. After five years of conflict, involving the hiring of feminist faculty and the firing of student editors, it appears the movement has fizzled. The women's studies course is not being offered in this academic year for one compelling reason: Only seven (of 1,400) students signed up for it last year, down from 32 in 1983-84.

Evidence of the movement's decline comes from other quarters. Some months ago, sociologist Robert Sherwin announced results of a 21-year study of sexual behavior at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. He found that virginity is making a grand juries receive $30 a day.

James said he felt that was unfair to working people who might have to give up a day's wages, or to mothers who might have to hire a babysitter and drive to town to serve on a jury.

Franklin Freeman, state administrative officer of the courts, said he hadn't studied the question, but did some quick figuring to determine how much it would cost the state to move to minimum wage.

The state currently has $3.8 million budgeted for jury pay. If the minimum wage of $3.35 an hour was paid to jurors for seven hours a day, they'd earn $23.45 a day, roughly twice the current rate. Therefore, the most the change would cost would be an additional $3.8 million a year.

But it would probably cost less because not all jury pay would go up. Those receiving $30 a day are already above minimum wage. The state also pays the $12 for even part of a day. If a juror is excused after an hour, he still gets paid $12. Paid on an hourly basis, some jurors might end up with even less than $12.

The Legislative Ethics Study Committee was discussing a proposed rule that would have required legislators to always speak truthfully when engaged in the legislative process.

Sen. Marshall Rauch, D-Gaston, asked why the phrase "in the legislative process" was needed. Shouldn't legislators always be truthful?

Rep. Austin Allran, R-Catawba, had a quick facetious comeback. "That's so you can lie to your wife."

Everybody laughed, but one must wonder how Judy Allran will react when she reads about her husband's comment.

Sen. Tony Rand, D-Cumberland, is upset that Gov. Jim Martin has put an eastern office in New Bern. When a legislative committee debated the office, Rand took the opportunity to complain about the roads between the capital and Fayetteville. New Bern was linked to Raleigh by a good four-lane road, he said. On the other hand, when he goes home, the road is so bad, "I sometimes need an old Indian to lead me in."

Alice Beddingfield, director of the division of community assistance, gets this month's award for being most nervous before a legislative committee.

She was trying to explain why a federal program has sent more money to eastern counties than to those in the west. She told the committee that "prototypical eastern counties" were better suited to the program.

Sen. Charlie Hipps, D-Haywood, said he'd like to know how eastern counties differed from western counties like his.

"Well, they're flat," Ms. Beddingfield said.

Hipps shrugged and said, "OK." The audience roared in laughter, and Ms. Beddingfield looked like she wanted to crawl in a hole.

Answer Must Lie In Manila

MANILA — Washington's post-colonial meddling in the Philippine presidential election peaked early in January when General Accounting Office investigators, sent here by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, could find no evidence of first lady Imelda Marcos converting U.S. foreign aid money to her own use.

"We can't go back to Kennedy empty-handed," a GAO sleuth told a U.S. Embassy official, who related the story to us. The result: a new four-member GAO team was sent to Manila to take another look.

The same diplomat told us that the notorious Mrs. Marcos had not "ripped off" U.S. foreign aid "because there's not enough there for her to bother about it." But GAO persistence reflects blatant huckstering by influential members of Congress and senior Reagan administration officials in behalf of opposition candidate Corazon Aquino to end 20 years of authoritarian rule by President Ferdinand Marcos.

The official U.S. position is strict neutrality, a prudent policy in view of the real problems posed by an Aquino presidency and of the high probability that Marcos will be re-elected. Nevertheless, unofficial American government meddling in Manila is so pervasive that anti-Yankee feeling is growing.

That goes well beyond anti-American screeds pumped out by columnists and editorialists in pro-Marcos newspapers ("the crony press"). Even Filipinos who have little use for Marcos resent the tutorial American attitude. Old-time friends of the U.S. note that, in a country where the median age is now less than 18, both affection for the former colonial power and the ability to speak English are on the wane.

Sen. Kennedy's search for dirt on Mrs. Marcos just before the election today is topped by hearings on her "hidden wealth" by the House subcommittee on Asian affairs headed by Rep. Stephen Solarz of New York. He makes no secret of his personal preference for Mrs. Aquino ("I'm for the honest winner of the election, whoever she may be," he cracks).

Such congressional interveners are supported by U.S. Embassy officials here who freely express preference for Mrs. Aquino (in contrast to careful neutrality by Ambassador Stephen Bosworth). Support of her reflects views of two potent Foreign Service officers with long-standing Philippine connections and hostility to Marcos: Undersecretary of State Michael Armacost and Intelligence and Research Director Morton Abramowitz. So sympathetic American journalists report, incorrectly, that U.S. policy now makes a non-communist future for the Philippines dependent on Marcos' departure.

All this is part of a nearly century-old effort, massively unsuccessful, to superimpose American democracy on an Asian nation. It also evokes ghosts of recent U.S. foreign policy follies. American interventionists seek to avoid repetitions of Nicaragua and Iran by abandoning Marcos early, hoping that will avoid the disasters of belatedly ditching Anastasio Somoza and the shah of Iran.

Abandoning Marcos certainly looks good to American officials and politicians. It is hard to imagine a re-elected Marcos promoting non-political young officers to fight the communist-led insurgency or letting entrepreneurs into his closed circle of rich cronies to invigorate the economy. Even admirers concede he has stayed far too long.

But if Mrs. Aquino is more likely to attempt reforms, she is also on record for removing U.S. bases and reducing military expenditures to fight the insurgency. Indeed, under pointed questioning by us she would not pledge to continue U.S.-Philippine military arrangements. The explanation of some U.S. officials that she was merely appealing leftists in her coalition begs the question of their influence if she got power.

But victory for her is remote. Thus, the dreary scenario is set. A Marcos win will be challenged in Washington on grounds of Chicago-style ballot-counting. That will signal further reductions of U.S. military aid to combat the spreading insurgency.

There is a rumor rampant in Manila that Marcos will rig the balloting to elect as vice president not his own running mate but Mrs. Aquino's: Salvador Laurel, a traditional politician with a more moderate position than Mrs. Aquino on U.S. bases and other questions.

"Anything is possible," Marcos said, when we asked him about a split-ticket. "... Laurel is my fraternity brother."

Although obviously a longshot, a Marcos-Laurel victory would solve problems, Filipino fashion, with some promise for future reform, stability and protection of U.S. interests.

—Elisha Douglas—

Strength For Today

It has been the experience of the human race — people of all faiths — that when the world collapses around us our only real factor of support is the comfort of God.

Friends can, and usually do, say kind and helpful words. The support of loved ones is priceless. But what really counts is, first of all, the assurance of God that through Him triumph can emerge from ruin, and above all His assurance through the Bible that human life is His creation, that He presides over its every act, that He leads His children with loving hand and with continual assurance of triumph.

The word "comfort" comes from two Latin words which mean "with strength." The dictionary defines "comfort" as "a state of consolation, freedom from want or anxiety." When God comforts the sufferer, then he sees life in a new light and either begins to understand his calamities or has the strength to endure them.

Unemployment Drops To 6.7%

By MATT YANCEY
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's civilian unemployment rate fell to 6.7 percent in January as the improving economy created 565,000 non-farm jobs, the government said today.

The rolls of those officially listed as out of work fell below 8 million for the first time in Ronald Reagan's presidency, to 7,831,000 from 8,023,000 in December.

The 0.2 percentage point drop from December's 6.9 percent rate was paced by an influx of new service-related jobs that raised the number of working Americans to a record of nearly 109 million, the Labor Department said.

The civilian unemployment rate was the lowest since March 1980, when it was 6.3 percent. The total of unemployed Americans was last below 8 million in May 1980.

An alternate rate, combining the 116.8 million-member civilian labor force with the 1.7 million members of the Armed Services stationed in the United States, was at 6.6 percent last month, the department said.

Today's report appeared to buttress President Reagan's prediction that the average combined civilian-military unemployment rate for all of 1986 would be 6.7 percent, down from 7.2 percent in December.

That prediction, however, is based on the economy growing at an annual rate of 4 percent this year instead of the 2.4 percent rate the Commerce Department reported for the fourth quarter of 1985.

In a separate report, the department said the number of "discouraged" workers, those listed as out of work more than six months and not looking for employment, fell to 1.1 million, the lowest level in more than four years. Discouraged workers are not counted on the official unemployment rolls because they are not considered part of the labor force.

The commissioner of labor statistics, Janet L. Norwood, said total employment tapered off much less from December to January than would be normally expected because of cold weather and the end of the holiday buying season.

She said in testimony before the congressional Joint Economic Committee that the seasonally adjusted increase of 205,000 retail jobs over the month "probably resulted from the fact that fewer workers were hired during the holiday season and, therefore, fewer were laid off in January."

Without the adjustment process, designed to account for predictable, periodic fluctuations in employment patterns, retail employment actually fell from 18.3 million to 17.7 million last month.

Other service-related jobs increased by 115,000 in January while manufacturing employment climbed 8,000, its fourth straight monthly increase. At 19.5 million, manufacturing employment, however, was 135,000 under the level of a year ago.

The 6.7 percent civilian unemployment rate last month was 4 percentage points below the 10.7 percent peak registered at the depth of the recession in November 1982.

At that time, the rolls of the unemployed totaled more than 12 million. Since then, 9.8 million jobs have been created. In the last year alone, according to a business payroll survey not used in the unemployment rate calculation, some 3.1 million jobs have been created.

Last month, mild weather and strength in the housing industry kept construction employment from taking its normal mid-winter dip. Such jobs, seasonally adjusted, rose 155,000 to 4.9 million.

The civilian labor force grew by 557,000, out-pacing the growth of 400,000 new jobs as measured in a survey of 60,000 households from which the unemployment rate is derived.

Navy Expert To Help Plan Recovery of Rocket Boosters

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — NASA has brought in a Navy salvage expert to help plan the recovery of Challenger's two rocket boosters, thought to lie 20 miles apart in the Atlantic northeast of the doomed shuttle's launch pad.

The effort to pinpoint the location has been hampered by seas with four-foot waves that restricted use of camera-equipped robot submarines. One submersible was lowered into the water from a NASA recovery ship Thursday, then hauled back aboard because of the turbulent water.

The space agency, meanwhile, attempted to boost morale at the Kennedy Space Center by setting up a telephone "care line," where any of the 15,000 workers could talk out problems caused by the Jan. 28 liftoff explosion that killed all seven members of Challenger's crew.

NASA also scheduled employee pep talks today by center director Richard Smith and Rep. Bill Nelson, D-Fla., who flew on the previous mission.

Dale Uhler, deputy director of salvage for the Navy Sea Systems Command, has joined the effort to recover major shuttle wreckage. Representatives of the Navy's commercial search contractor also are on hand to help plan the search and recovery attempt.

A World War II Navy salvage ship, the USS Preserver, brought in the tip of the shuttle's huge fuel tank, but there was no word where in the large search area it had been picked up.

For days, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has said sonar indicated the right booster rocket was in 1,100 feet of water 35 miles offshore and the search effort has been concentrated in that area. The right booster, which apparently allowed flame to spurt toward the fuel tank, is the chief suspect in the disaster.

On Thursday, sources said sonar indicated that the second booster was about 15 miles from the launch pad. Public affairs officers, under instructions that any statement must be cleared with agency investigators, acknowledged privately there had been such indications. But they would not confirm it officially.

Spokesmen have cautioned that the soundings can't be validated until robot submarines photograph the wreckage.

The finding of the fuel tank tip was a different matter. News photographs showed sailors on the Preserver, out of Little Creek, Va., lifting the tip of the fuel tank's cone from one deck to another.

On liftoff, the 154-foot tank contained more than 500,000 gallons of supercold liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen. It exploded 73 seconds into the flight.

NASA has refused to discuss whether any of the remains turned in to the Patrick Air Force Base hospital were those of the astronauts.

Wilson Democrat Runs For Senate

Wilson resident Jeanne Fenner has filed for the Democratic nomination to the N.C. District 6 Senate seat. She has previously served for Districts 7 and 8 in the N.C. House of Representatives.

"I want to help our state respond to the needs of our farm families so that the family farm can be as much a part of our future as it has been of our past," she said in a news release. Economic development for Edgecombe, Martin and Pitt counties was another one of her goals, said Mrs. Fenner.

District 6 includes Arthur, Belvoir, Bethel, Falkland, Farmville and Fountain townships, and portions of Edgecombe, Martin and Wilson counties.

Civic membership includes past president of the N.C. Association for Retarded Citizens and past chairman of the Caswell Center Human Rights. She has been a member of the N.C. Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Substance Abuse Commission and Wilson County Youthful Offenders Project Committee, and Wilson Civitan Club.

During her legislative career, Mrs. Fenner has served on the Base and Expansion Budget, Agricultural, Education, Economic and Natural Resources, Human Resources, Health, Mental Health, State Government, Judiciary II and Ethic committees, and the Committee for the Commissions and Schools for the Blind and Deaf.

She has been appointed to the Mental Health Study Commission, Commission on Children with Special Needs, Day Care Study Commission, Consumer and Advocacy Advisory Committee for the Blind, N.C. Council for Hearing Impaired, and Study Commission on the Teaching of Computer Literacy.

In 1981, she was named "Legislator of the Year," by the N.C. Mental Health Centers Association; "Outstanding Contribution Award," in 1982 by the Developmental Day Care Directors Association; "Legislator of the Year," in 1983 by the American Association on Mental Deficiency, Southeastern Region; and "Excellence in Service," in 1984 by the Wilson Technical Institute Foundation Board.

The candidate is a member of the First Presbyterian Church. She is married to William Eaton Fenner and they have five children. She attended public schools in Maryland and the District of Columbia and Atlantic Christian College.

Election Procedure Challenged

RALEIGH (AP) — A group of Nash County blacks has filed suit against the all-white Nash County Board of Commissioners, saying its at-large elections and staggered terms violate the federal Voting Rights Act by diluting black voting strength.

The suit was filed Thursday in U.S. District Court in Raleigh by attorneys G.K. Butterfield of Wilson and Leslie J. Winner of Charlotte on behalf of eight plaintiffs who said they represented the sentiments of Nash County's 8,000 black voters.

The defendants include the state of North Carolina, the five-member Nash County Board of Commissioners, the chairman of the county board of elections and the county election supervisor.

The plaintiffs are asking the court to issue a permanent injunction stopping at-large elections and staggered terms and to order the county commissioners to develop an election plan that is fair to blacks.

"A third of the county is black and they've never had a black county commissioner, which is a fairly strong statement," Ms. Winner said in a telephone interview. "I don't believe any black person has ever been elected to any other Nash County office, and in the past, black candidates have gotten almost no support from white voters."

In Nash County and in other counties holding at-large elections, each commissioner is elected by the entire voting population of the county instead of just the voters in the commissioner's own ward or district. Blacks across the state have challenged the system, saying it effectively prevents minority candidates from getting into offices.

Haiti ...

low a "transition" to democracy. It did no country had agreed to permanently accept Duvalier.

Duvalier's flight came one week after the White House erroneously reported he had fled the country, prompting him to declare he was strong, as firm as a monkey's tail.

His authoritarian government had been the target of mounting protests since last November, including riots last week in which as many as 50 people were killed in Port-au-Prince, the capital.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States says it stands ready to help the estimated 6,100 Americans living in Haiti if conditions deteriorate under the military-civilian government that took power today from departed strongman Jean-Claude Duvalier.

The State Department, welcoming the change in Port-au-Prince, said "it was obvious the only way the Duvalier government could remain in power was through repression and force."

In a statement, the department said it flew Duvalier and 23 others, most of them family members, to France in order "to contribute to a less-violent transition."

"Our main concern was to avoid further bloodshed to assure to the extent possible a smooth transition" to a new Haitian government, the statement said.

Of the 6,100 Americans, the department said, about 300 work for the U.S. Embassy, the Peace Corps and other U.S. organizations. The remaining 5,800, mostly of Haitian origin, live there on their own.

"We're watching the situation carefully," State Department spokesman Gregory Lagana said. "If the situation does worsen, then we'll have to take a look at it and see what needs to be done."

No American forces have been sent to Haiti to protect Americans there, Lagana said.

Department spokesman Peter Martinez said that in recent days, the department had told American Ambassador Clay McManaway to be prepared to evacuate "non-essential U.S. personnel and dependents."

But the spokesman said it was a precautionary move and that, at present, no evacuation of Americans was planned.

Duvalier said in his taped message that his decision to leave "permits a peaceful and rapid solution to the current crisis."

U.S. Embassy spokesman Jeffrey Kite said Duvalier contacted the French Embassy Thursday afternoon to seek temporary asylum, then met with U.S. Ambassador Clayton R. McManaway to ask for transportation.

Duvalier drove his BMW sedan to Francois Duvalier International Airport before dawn today with his wife, Michele, at his side.

Other vehicles arrived carrying security forces, luggage and other family members. They left on a C-141 military transport.

Lite said 23 people accompanied Duvalier out of the country, including his mother, his two children, two children from his wife's previous marriage and three security guards.

"We have been in touch with some of the members of the new government. We are hoping to be able to work with them," said Lite. "We hope it is an orderly transition conducted without bloodshed and violence."

Duvalier, nicknamed "Baby Doc," took power at age 19 in 1971 after the death of his father, Francois "Papa Doc" Duvalier. The elder Duvalier was elected in 1957 and eventually named himself "president for life."

Namphy, head of the new governing council, called on national television for "calm and serenity." He said the military had no political ambitions, "not now or ever."

The television identified other council members as Col. William Rigala, Col. Max Vales and two civilians, Gerard Gourgue, chairman of the Haitian Human Rights Commission, and Minister of Public Works Alix Cineas.

Port-au-Prince said Duvalier eventually would go to Morocco. However, government sources in both African countries ruled out giving him refuge.

Haitians celebrating Duvalier's departure climbed on buses and pulled down posters left from a referendum last July 22, in which the government claimed 99 percent of the voters approved Duvalier's regime. Foreign observers and journalists, however, reported widespread fraud.

In the Delmas suburb in northeast Port-au-Prince, mobs were reported attacking the automobile agency of Duvalier's father-in-law, Ernest Bennett. The U.S. Embassy said Bennett did not leave with Duvalier, but his whereabouts were not known.

Lite said the estimated 6,000 Americans currently in Haiti were being advised to stay indoors, even though the mood on the streets "seems to be somewhat festive."

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

A SABBATH DAY'S JOURNEY!

THIS EXPRESSION IS USED BUT ONCE IN THE ENTIRE BIBLE (ACTS 1:12). BY MOSAIC LAW, THE ANCIENT ISRAELITES WERE FORBIDDEN TO LEAVE THEIR DWELLING PLACE ON THE SABBATH (EX.16:29). HOWEVER, ON SABBATH, THEIR DAY OF REST, THEY HAD TO GO TO WORSHIP AT THE TABERNACLE, WHICH WAS ALWAYS IN THE CENTER OF THE CAMP! AND IT WAS ALSO MOSAIC LAW, THAT NO TENT COULD BE ANY CLOSER TO THE TABERNACLE THAN 2,000 CUBITS! (JOSH.3:4) ONE CUBIT MEASURES APPROXIMATELY EIGHTEEN INCHES — THUS, 2,000 CUBITS IS 1,000 OF OUR YARDS — A NICE DISTANCE FOR A PLEASANT STROLL FOR ANYONE WHO DIDN'T WANT TO BE COOPED UP THE ENTIRE DAY!

BY THE TIME THE JEWS HAD SETTLED IN CITIES, THIS TRADITIONAL LAW OF STAYING AT HOME ON SABBATH HAD BECOME ENLARGED TO INCLUDE THE ENTIRE CITY IN WHICH THEY RESIDED! BUT THEY COULD NOT VENTURE BEYOND THE CITY'S WALLS FOR ANY REASON WHATSOEVER!

Area Church News

Program Set

The YPCL of the Cherry Lane Free Will Baptist Church will sponsor a Black History Month program at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. The program will feature six preachers doing their version of "God's Trombones."

Musical Program

The New Covenant Holy Church of Grifton will hold a musical program at 6:30 p.m. Sunday. The service will honor Ollie Harris, pastor and founder of the church and Bible institute. The United Holy Church of Deliverance, the New Bern District Choir, the Voices of Calvary and the Miracle Voices, Kinston, will be at the program. Money raised from the event will go to the church's school building fund.

REV. REICHARDT TAYLOR

Angelic Voices of Deliverance will be in charge of the 11 a.m. Sunday service. Dinner will be served after the service.

Selvia Chapel

The C.G. Spiritual Choir of Selvia Chapel Free Will Baptist Church, 1701 S. Greene St., Greenville, will sponsor a music program at 5 p.m. Sunday at the church. The Faithfulaires of La Grange will be featured.

Mills Chapel

The Rev. J.L. Swinson and the Mills Chapel choir will conduct the 11 a.m. Sunday service at Mills Chapel Free Will Baptist Church, Black Jack.

(Please turn to page 12)

Clark To Speak

Evangelist Sharon Clark will speak at the Tabernacle For All People at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Guest Speaker

The Rev. Clifton Gardner will be the guest speaker at 11 a.m. Sunday at Cedar Grove Missionary Baptist Church. Music will be provided by the Cedar Grove Senior Choir. The senior ushers will serve.

Dedication

The New Deliverance Mission will be dedicated at 11 a.m. Sunday. The mission is located on Old Tar Road, Winterville. Founder and pastor is Eldress Mattie Ann Smith. Following the initial service, a revival will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday-Friday. Regular services will be conducted at 11 a.m. the second and fourth Sundays of each month.

Outreach Services

Outreach services will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Friendship Holiness Church in Falkland. Elder Joseph Spencer and the congregation of Holy Mission Church of God in Christ, Pinetops, will render the service.

Meeting Under Way

The Eastern Albemarle Missions Conference of the Presbyterian Church is under way, with congregations from Greenville, Washington and Williamston participating. The Rev. Reichardt Taylor, who served as a missionary to Brazil from 1946 to 1982, will preach during a Sunday 9 a.m. worship service at the First Presbyterian Church, corner of 14th and Elm streets, Greenville. His sermon title will be "Jesus the Missionary." The Rev. Gordon Ruff will preach on "What In The World Is God Doing?" during the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday at First Presbyterian, Greenville. He and Mrs. Ruff served as missionaries in India from 1947 to 1975 and in Nepal from 1975 until their retirement.

A covered dish luncheon will follow the 11 a.m. service, with the Ruffs showing slides of their work in India and Nepal.

A missionary welcome dinner will be held Friday and on Saturday a program on the Presbyterian Outreach Foundation and the Presbyterian Medical Benevolences will be held at the First Presbyterian Church in Washington.

An "eye-opener mission breakfast" will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday at the Greenville church, with men of the church serving. Missionaries from Brazil, Zaire, Nepal, India and Bangladesh will attend. For reservations call 758-1901.

Flea Market

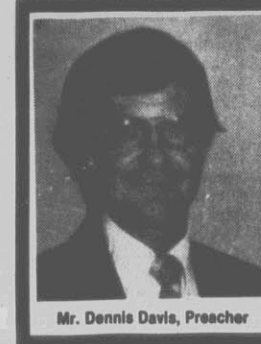

An indoor flea market will be sponsored by the House of Worship Feb. 15 starting at 7 a.m. in the old American Legion Building located on the corner of Chestnut and Skinner Streets.

Stock And Market Reports

By The Associated Press
HOGS: Trend is 25 to 50 cents lower at N.C. buying stations. Kingston, Spivey's Corner, Murfreesboro, Siler City and Robersonville, 44.50; Clinton, Fayetteville, Dunn, Pink Hill, Pine Level, Chadburn, Ayden, Laurinburg and Benson 44.75; Wilson 44.75; Rowland 44.50. Sows: (500 pounds up) Wilson 37.00; Fayetteville 35.00; Whiteville 34.00; Wallace 36.00; Spivey's Corner unreported; Rowland 36.00.

BROILERS: The North Carolina fob dock quoted price on broilers for this week's trading was 45.00 cents, based on full truck load lots of ice pack USDA Grade A sized 2 1/2 to 3 pounds birds. 85 percent of the loads offered have been confirmed with a preliminary weighted average of 44.39 cents fob dock or equivalent. The market is about steady and the live supply is fully adequate for a light to moderate demand. Average weights mostly desirable. Estimated slaughter of broilers and fryers in North Carolina Friday was 1,854,000, compared to 1,873,000 last Friday.

HENS: Market steady with a weak undertone. Supply fully adequate for a moderate demand. The undertone for next week's trading is weak. Prices paid per pound for hens over seven pounds at farm for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday was 18 cents.

GRAIN: No. 2 yellow shelled corn steady to 3 cents lower at mostly 2.64-2.77 in East and mostly 2.76-2.85 in the Piedmont; No. 1 yellow soybeans 3 to 4 cents lower at mostly 5.21-5.37 in East and mostly 5.11-5.18 in the Piedmont; wheat mostly 3.00-3.17; (new crop corn 2.01-2.34; new crop soybeans 4.84-5.09; new crop wheat 2.30-2.60).

NEW YORK (AP) — Sharply lower unemployment figures depressed the stock market in early trading today, one day after the Dow Jones industrial average reached its highest point in history.

Wall Street's best-known market indicator fell 8.95 points to 1,591.74 as of 10:30 a.m. EST, down from its record high of 1,600.69 set in Thursday's choppy session.

The New York Stock Exchange composite index, which measures all listed issues, fell 0.75 to 122.39. The American Exchange market value index fell 0.64 to 243.07.

Losers outran gainers by nearly 3-1 on the Big Board, where volume exceeded 18.3 billion shares in the first hour of trading.

The selloff came after the Labor Department said the civilian unemployment rate fell from 6.9 percent to 6.7 percent in January with the creation of 565,000 non-farm jobs.

Among the most notable losers, blue-chip leader IBM fell 1 1/4 to 152 1/2 in active trading. J.C. Penney was down 1 to 58 1/2, Teledyn fell 2 1/2 to 325, and Merck fell 1 1/2 to 140 1/4.

Thursday's record by the Dow Jones industrial average was the 24th time since late September that the indicator hit an unprecedented high, rising more than 300 points over four months.

Gainers outpaced losers by a 3-2 margin Thursday on the NYSE, where volume totaled 146.1 million shares, against 134.31 million the previous session.

 the club has purchased an additional three acres adjacent to the club, bringing the total club area to eight acres.

This year is the 20th anniversary of the club's establishment. To mark the occasion, the 12 past presidents were invited to attend as special guests, and to give a resume of club highlights during their tenure. Their comments covered the history of the club from its beginning at the old fairgrounds, then through the acquisition of a church on Skinner Street to the current facility.

Past presidents attending were: R.W. (Wally) Howard, who served 1966-1970; Dr. Henry Aldridge, 1971; Austin Britt, 1972-73; Etsil Mason, the only female president, 1974; Don Parrott, 1975; W. B. (Buff) Chalk, 1978-79; Cecil Mizelle, 1980; Jerry Fulford, 1981, and Ed Stanley, 1983-84. Three of the past presidents — Bobby Hall, 1976, Ted Gartman, 1977, and Carl Brown, 1983-84 — were unable to attend.

Six new members of the board of directors were named — Stan Sams,

Pirates Host 1st Place Spiders

East Carolina's men's basketball team goes from top to bottom this weekend, while the women's take to the road to play the cellar-dwellers in the Colonial Athletic Conference.

East Carolina's Pirates play host to league-leading Richmond on Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. in Minges Coliseum, then entertain last place William & Mary on Monday, also at 7:30 p.m.

Meanwhile, the Lady Pirates travel to Richmond on Saturday and visit William & Mary on Monday.

The contest with the Spiders gives the Pirates a chance to improve their record and pull off an upset. Richmond hasn't lost a league encounter this year, and holds the only win over defending champion and pre-season favorite Navy. The Spiders come into the game with an 8-0 CAA mark and a 17-3 overall record. They advanced into the Top Twenty of the Associated Press last week before being beaten twice — by Old Dominion and Virginia Tech.

In contrast, William & Mary is but 1-8 in conference play and 5-13 overall. They will play at UNC-Wilmington on Saturday night before coming into Minges.

It will be the second meeting for the Pirates and Spiders this year. Earlier, Richmond took a 60-52 win over the Pirates in Robins Center. Two nights later, the Pirates nipped William & Mary, 54-52, in Williamsburg.

But things have changed since then for both teams.

"We're playing pretty good basketball right now," Coach Charlie Harrison said. "We played well enough to win at Wake Forest and better than the score indicated against Navy," he added in reference to the two losses for his team earlier this week which snapped a three-game winning streak.

"We're going to have to play awfully well to beat Richmond, however," he continued. "We've have to play with a lot of emotion and we have to execute well. You're not going to completely stop Richmond. They are a veteran team with good strength inside. They've got good scorers at two and three (big guard and small forward) and a point guard who doesn't turn it over. He orchestrates their offense and defense, and they are still ranked in the top ten in the nation on defense.

"With them, you can't just stop one player. They have good chemistry and good role players."

The Spiders are led by 6-7 senior John Newman, second in the conference in scoring with a 22.1 average. He's also fifth in rebounding with a 7.1 average. Point guard Greg Beckwith, a 5-10 senior, leads the conference in steals with 2.9 per game.

Other starters include 6-5 senior

John Davis (6.5 ppg, 5.6 reb) at the other forward spot, 6-8 sophomore Steve Kratzer (9.3 ppg) at center; and Rodney Rice (10.5) a 6-3 junior, at the other guard position.

Rice did not play against ECU in their first meeting due to illness.

The top reserve for the Spiders is 6-5 sophomore Peter Woolfolk, the Rookie of the Year in the conference last season.

As to the Indians, Harrison isn't looking beyond Richmond as yet, but does say that the Tribe is playing much better basketball now.

Scott Covall, a 6-1 senior, who is the only veteran member of the Tribe back from last year's team, leads the conference in free throw shooting and is one of the national leaders in that category.

Covall averages 11.0 points from his guard position.

The other guard is 6-2 junior Scott Trimble, averaging 6.2 points a game, while Mark Boddy, a 6-10 junior with a 3.9 average, will be at center.

The forwards are expected to be Ken Lambiotte (9.4), and Mart Batzel (5.0), a 6-6 junior.

The Pirates come into the game with a 5-4 league record, 10-11 overall. They are currently in fourth place in the league standings and could improve that with a sweep.

East Carolina's Lady Pirates, still with a chance to finish in at least a tie for first place in the CAA, will be trying to avoid stumbling against the two bottom teams in the league.

Richmond brings in a 2-6 league record and a 5-15 overall mark. William & Mary is 1-7 and is also 5-15. William & Mary, of course, will play host to UNC-W on Saturday night.

The Lady Pirates had an easy time with the two when they visited Greenville earlier in the year. ECU downed Richmond, 67-33 and took an 89-54 decision over William & Mary.

"We may not accomplish the same scores this time around," Coach Emily Manwaring said. "But I don't care if we win by two or 20 as long as we play well and start dominating the teams we should be playing that way against."

Manwaring pointed out that James Madison, which holds the only win over ECU in CAA play this year, struggled to get past Richmond on the Lady Spider court in their second meeting. "They didn't play well and I don't want that to happen to us. If we learned anything from getting beat by Madison, it should begin to show up now."

East Carolina held Richmond to only 11 first half points, playing an outstanding defensive game and Manwaring thinks the team will have to play better than that this time around.

"With William & Mary, it's the same situation. We're on the road and we have to work hard to do the job. We can't afford a mental let-down."

There are two milestones that should occur in the Richmond game. Loraine Foster has scored 999 career points while Lisa Squirewell had collected 994. Both of them should move past 1,000 Saturday night.

That would give the Lady Pirates three 1,000 point scorers this year. Sylvia Bragg scored her 1,000th point in the opening game of the season. The men also had Curt Vanderhorst pass 1,000 earlier this year, and ironically, all four will have done it on the road.

Richmond's attack is led by Laurie Governor, their center, who is second in the league in scoring with a 16.1 average and the leading rebounder with 12.2. Peggy Fitzsimmons, one of the forwards, is hitting 15.9 points a game. ECU held Governor to 10 and Fitzsimmons to four in their first meeting.

The other forward is Beth Babbitt while the guards are Dana Pappas and Glenna Miller. Pappas was the CAA's Player of the Week last week, scoring 50 points in three games for the Lady Spiders.

William & Mary is led by forward Karen Jordan, fourth in scoring at 15.3 and third in rebounding at 8.7. She scored 17 points and pulled ten rebounds in the first game with ECU.

Other starters include Debbie Wade at the other forward, Beth Hairfield at center, and Debbie Taylor and Maurine Evans at the guards.

After this weekend's games, the Pirate teams are idle until next Saturday when they face UNC-Wilmington, the men at home and the women on the road.

Duke Runs By Cavs, 77-65

By The Associated Press
Virginia, which stunned top-ranked North Carolina a week ago, had a second victory in mind, but No. 4 Duke had other ideas.

Johnny Dawkins and David Henderson helped shatter the Cavaliers' scheme and guide the Blue Devils to a 77-65 victory Thursday night in an Atlantic Coast Conference basketball matchup.

Dawkins provided early sparks, while Henderson produced big baskets down the stretch and their teammates wrapped a defensive blanket around Virginia's Olden Polynice to assure the victory and boost Duke's league record to 8-2.

Also Thursday, No. 2 Georgia Tech defeated North Carolina-Charlotte 87-76 in a non-conference game. ACC teams are idle tonight. But Saturday, North Carolina hosts Wake Forest, Louisville is at North Carolina State and Clemson travels to Maryland.

In less than four minutes, Virginia had whittled the Blue Devils' lead from 18 points down to six, and with 8:05 left, Coach Mike Krzyzewski decided he had seen enough and called a timeout.

"I told them to be more aggressive," Krzyzewski said. "They could be patient and still look for their shots. And that's about all you have to say to David Henderson. He hit a couple of big baskets for us."

Starting with an 18-foot baseline jumper 31 seconds after the timeout, Henderson made Duke's last four field goals of the game, boosting Duke to its 21st triumph in 23 outings.

"It feels good to know that when the game's on the line, the team has confidence in me," said Henderson, who finished with 20 points and six rebounds. Twelve of those points came after intermission, when Dawkins was in foul trouble and Virginia keyed on Mark Alarie.

Coach Terry Holland said his Cavaliers, who downed North Carolina 86-73, weren't ready for the Blue Devils.

"We came back against them, but it's very hard to come very far back against a good team like Duke," Holland said. "But I think we learned some lessons tonight about preparation and playing hard that I hope will help us from here on out."

Dawkins scored 14 of his 20 points in the first half as the Blue Devils, took a 34-20 halftime lead.

Alarie's baseline jumper with 11:45 left pushed Duke's lead to 56-38 before Richard Morgan scored seven straight points, trimming the Blue Devils' advantage to 56-45 on a 3-point play with 10:29 to play.

Morgan's follow of an Andrew Kennedy missed free throw with 8:05 left cut Duke's lead to 58-52.

The Cavaliers, 14-6 and 4-4, got a game-high 23 points from Mel Kennedy. Andrew Kennedy added 12, and Morgan finished with 11. Polynice, Virginia's leading scorer with a 16.1 average, got only seven points before fouling out.

Georgia Tech coach Bobby Cremins was hoping to get a look at his bench in game competition, but his plan went awry when his No. 2 Yellow Jackets struggled to an 87-76 victory over UNCC.

"I really can't tell you how badly I feel that I couldn't play those guys," he said. "I thought this would be an opportunity to do that."

Instead, the Yellow Jackets found themselves in a struggle before handing the 49ers their 10th straight loss. UNCC shot 60 percent in the first half to take a 42-37 lead.

Tech opened the second half with a 9-0 run but couldn't shake the Sun Belt Conference team until Tom Hammonds, Mark Price and Bruce Dalrymple scored four points apiece in a 13-2 spurt. It gave the Jackets a 71-59 lead with 7:22 to play.

Cremins had praise for only one of his starters — Hammonds, the freshman who had a career-high 24 points.

"Hammonds has a lot of guts," Cremins said. "The kid's a winner. He's a fighter. Thank God for Tom Hammonds."

Dent: Bears Not Offering Enough

NEW YORK (AP) — Super Bowl MVP Richard Dent, who had threatened to sit out the game because of a contract dispute with the Chicago Bears, knows he'll get a big raise next season. And he wants more than the team is offering.

"I feel I'm the top defensive end in the NFL and I should be paid that way," Dent said Thursday.

Dent, who made $90,000 last season, said the Bears' current offer was for a three-year package worth "$1.3 (million) or $1.6 or $1.7 or something like that."

Whatever the exact figure, the National Football League All-Pro lineman said it wasn't enough.

"I think that offer is very low pay," he said. "You've got 27 other teams in the league. I'm sure they'd love to have me."

Dent was in New York to pick up a car, which he earned as MVP of the Bears' 46-10 mauling of the New England Patriots. Dent forced two fumbles and had 1½ sacks in the game.

Dent said the Bears faced a difficult task in replacing defensive coordinator Buddy Ryan, who is the new head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles. Ryan devised Chicago's destructive "46" defense, the system that helped the Bears to a 15-1 regular-season record.

"It's like (teammate) Dan Hampton said: 'Replacing Buddy Ryan is like replacing John Wayne in a movie,'" Dent said.

Jabbar Topples Twin Towers

Body Defense

By The Associated Press
Kareem Abdul-Jabbar started shaking and when he had finished, Houston's Twin Towers had come tumbling down.

Jabbar scored a season-high 46 points, leading the Los Angeles Lakers to a 117-95 rout of the Houston Rockets in a National Basketball Association game Thursday night.

The victory extended the Lakers' winning streak at The Summit in Houston to 14 games, dating back to Nov. 12, 1980. And Abdul-Jabbar's performance showed who's still boss in the land of the giants.

"Kareem always plays better against (Akeem) Olajuwon," Lakers forward James Worthy said. "It's because of all the comparisons. He's been around 17 years but he still has to show the kids he's the best."

In other NBA games, Philadelphia beat Cleveland 111-103, Detroit tipped Washington 111-109 in overtime, Atlanta downed Indiana 100-85, Milwaukee trounced Chicago 117-97, Denver beat San Antonio 100-95, Utah stopped New York 119-101, Phoenix tripped the Los Angeles Clippers 116-104, Sacramento defeated Seattle 115-106 and Dallas got past Portland 115-111.

Jabbar was perfect in the first quarter, scoring 20 points on 9-for-9 shooting from the field and 2-and-2 accuracy at the foul line. He did it against the so-called Twin Towers of Olajuwon, who finished with 18 points, and Ralph Sampson, who had 17.

The Lakers streaked to a 66-47 lead at halftime and cruised to victory. Houston managed to pull within 88-77 with 9:47 left in the game, but got no closer.

"He (Abdul-Jabbar) played real tough," Olajuwon said. "I tried to go around him and steal the ball, but he slipped around me and went to the basket. I know we can play better, that's why this is so disgusting."

Abdul-Jabbar, who scored 40 points against New York rookie Patrick Ewing earlier this week, made 21 of 30 shots from the field against Houston and was 4-for-4 from the foul line. His 46 points were nine shy of his personal NBA high, accomplished with Milwaukee, and two short of his Laker best.

After the game, Jabbar chose to speak about the Lakers' overall performance, rather than his own.

"This game was important to us because we haven't been playing well lately and we are trying to get our act together," Abdul-Jabbar said. "We've been trying to play without Magic (Johnson) and it's a benefit to get him back."

Johnson, playing for only the second time since missing six games with an injured right knee, scored 15 points. Worthy added 14.

Jazz 119, Knicks 101
Adrian Dantley got 20 of his 36 points in the third quarter to lead Utah over visiting New York.

Thurl Bailey had 24 points and Karl Malone 19 as the Jazz took the lead for good in the second quarter.

The Knicks missed rookie Patrick Ewing, who was bothered by sore knees. Ewing scored nine points in limited playing time during the first half, and he sat out the second half.

Ken Bannister and Trent Tucker scored 17 points apiece for New York.

76ers 111, Cavaliers 103
Charles Barkley scored 14 of his 23 points in the fourth quarter as Philadelphia sent Cleveland to its eighth straight loss.

Barkley scored the 76ers' first eight points in the final quarter, giving Philadelphia an 85-74 lead.

Julius Erving scored 21 points for the winners, Maurice Cheeks added 19 and Bobby Jones had 18.

Roy Hinson scored 24 points for the host Cavaliers and World B. Free had 21.

Pistons 111, Bullets 109
Bill Laimbeer made a foul shot with three seconds left in overtime and Detroit scored the final eight points in the extra session to beat Washington.

After Laimbeer made his free throw, Detroit's Earl Cureton knocked away an inbound pass and Washington never got off a final shot.

The Pistons sent the game into overtime on a three-point shot by Joe Dumars with 14 seconds remaining. Dumars and Kelly Tripucka had 19 points apiece for Detroit, while Jeff Malone had 33 for Washington and Cliff Robinson had 25.

Mavericks 115, Trail Blazers 111
Mark Aguirre scored 29 points while Sam Perkins and Derek Harper had 20 apiece, leading Dallas past host Portland.

The Mavericks led by as many as 12 points in the second half before Portland closed within 107-102 on a three-point shot by rookie guard Terry Porter.

But Blazers guard Jim Paxson was called for a technical foul when he argued that Porter had been fouled on the play, and Perkins then followed the foul shot with a three-point play for a 111-102 lead.

Kiki Vandeweghe led Portland with 22 points.

Suns 116, Clippers 104
Larry Nance tallied 29 points and Walter Davis 20, enabling Phoenix to roll to a big lead in downing the Los Angeles Clippers.

The Suns led by 20 points early in the third quarter before Marques Johnson scored eight points and Cedric Maxwell had six as Los Angeles pulled within 90-87 early in the fourth period.

Norm Nixon scored 24 points and Johnson 23 for the visiting Clippers.

Bucks 117, Bulls 97
Ricky Pierce scored 18 points, pacing a balanced attack that led Milwaukee past Chicago.

The Bucks had six players in double figures, including Sidney Moncrief, who had 17. Moncrief sat out the fourth quarter.

The visiting Bulls lost with only nine players. Michael Jordan and Orlando Woolridge are out with injuries, and Quintin Dailey entered a drug rehabilitation center on Wednesday.

Nuggets 100, Spurs 95
Alex English's 23 points helped Denver beat ailing San Antonio.

The losing Spurs had just eight healthy players available, and hurt themselves by making only 11 of 27 shots from the free-throw line.

Lafayette Lever scored 20 points and Danny Schayes 16 for the host Nuggets. Artis Gilmore had 23 and Mike Mitchell 20 for San Antonio.

Hawks 100, Pacers 85
Dominique Wilkins scored 32 points as Atlanta led almost the entire way in downing Indiana.

The visiting Pacers scored the first basket of the game, but Atlanta quickly took charge and streaked to a 51-31 lead with 1:25 left before halftime.

Randy Wittman scored 18 points and Kevin Willis 15 for the Hawks. Herb Williams got 25 for Indiana.

Kings 115, SuperSonics 106
Reggie Theus scored 23 points before leaving the game with five fouls midway through the third quarter as Sacramento halted Seattle.

Eddie Johnson's three-point basket 42 seconds into the fourth quarter gave the Kings a 95-83 lead and seemed to stop the Sonics. Johnson finished with 19 points.

Gerald Henderson and Danny Young scored 18 points each for visiting Seattle.

TEA-GCA

Tarboro Edgecombe Academy swept a pair of junior high school basketball games from Greenville Christian yesterday.

TEA won the girls' game in overtime, taking a 28-24 win. Mary Brake led TEA with nine points while Rhonda Harris had eight for Greenville Christian.

In the boys' game, TEA won, 35-18. Bennie Brake led TEA with 11 points, while Tony Dobbs had ten to pace Greenville.

GCA returns to action on Monday, hosting Wilson Christian Academy.

Farmville-Wellcome

Farmville Middle School split a pair of games at Wellcome Middle School yesterday.

Farmville won the girls game, 55-29, led by Vicky Best with 24 points and M. Brown with 15. Tina Murphy led Wellcome with six points.

Wellcome took the boys' game, 56-47. Reggie Daniels had 24 points and Calvin Grimes added 13 for Wellcome. Farmville was led by M. Foreman with 18 points.

Spud Will Dunk With The Tallest

By ED SHEARER

AP Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — If you think a 308-pound running back scoring a touchdown in the Super Bowl is unusual, just wait until Spud Webb shows up for the National Basketball Association's slam dunk competition in Dallas Saturday.

Dominique Wilkins of the Atlanta Hawks will be there trying to defend his title with a series of spectacular slams, but he won't come close to being the crowd's favorite.

Webb, a 5-foot-7 rookie with the Hawks, sewed up that role as soon as the list of eight competitors was announced for one of the sideshows the NBA holds in conjunction with its annual All-Star game, which will be staged in the same Reunion Arena Sunday afternoon.

Webb's size will be the main reason the crowd should be on his side. He's the shortest player in the league this year and one of the smallest in the history of the NBA.

Not many people Webb's size can touch the rim, which is 10 feet above the floor, but, thanks to a 42-inch vertical leap, this 5-7 person can dunk a basketball.

"I'm very excited about it," Webb said. "I just want to try to compete, try to go out and win. It's a competition type thing."

Webb has been in competition a long time, proving there is a spot for the little man in a sport dominated by men a foot or more taller. He played high school and junior college ball in his home state of Texas and then spent two seasons in the Atlantic Coast Conference at North Carolina State.

Webb decided to go for a pro career, and, after being cut by the Detroit Pistons, landed a spot on Atlanta's roster as a free agent. He's been averaging about six points and three assists per game.

"The six to 10 minutes I play each game is great," Webb said. "Some rookies don't even get to play and I get to play every night out. I've just been enjoying it. I'm glad to be a part of the team."

Webb has become a fan's delight throughout the NBA. He recently drew a loud ovation in Boston, where fans tend to show such favoritism only for their beloved Celtics.

"When you get an ovation in Boston, it's great," Webb said. "I've heard not many (visiting) players got an ovation there."

Webb knows his size is the reason he's become such a favorite around the league, but he's tired of talking about it.

"I don't ever think about size, but everybody talks about it," he said. "I hear it every day. I hear it all the time. I hear it too much. I just go out and do the things I do."

"It's going to be fun," Wilkins said of the upcoming slam dunk competition. "He'll (Webb) have a lot of people behind him. Nobody ever sees a guy that little in a contest like that."

The field will also include Roy Hinson of Cleveland, Jerome Kersey of Portland, Paul Pressey of Milwaukee, Terence Stansbury of Indiana, Terry Tyler of Sacramento and Wilkins' younger brother, Gerald of New York, who replaces the injured Orlando Woolridge of Chicago. Pressey and Stansbury are the closest players in the field to Webb in size, and both of them are 10 inches taller.

The five judges will score the contest similar to diving and gymnastics, with the difficulty factor playing a role, so that should help Webb.

Jim Valvano, who coached Webb at North Carolina State, already has his mind made up about the outcome.

Six Deadlocked For Golf Lead

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Woody Blackburn and five others others shot 6-under-par 66s to assume the lead after the opening round of the $450,000 Shearson Lehman-Andy Williams Open.

Larry Rinker, Mark Wiebe, Larry Mize, Danny Edwards and Robert Wrenn also recorded 66s, all on the North Course of Torrey Pines golf course. The tournament is played on the North and South Courses of Torrey Pines.

In all, 18 players were within two strokes of the lead.

also started last in 1985 before working his way to victory.

Geoff Bodine, who will start seventh, is driving the same Chevrolet Labonte won in last season, having purchased it earlier this year from Labonte's car owner Billy Hagan.

Neil Bonnett, the only driver to have won the Busch Clash twice since the rich race began in 1979, drew the No. 2 starting position. Rusty Wallace will start third and Dale Earnhardt fourth.

Darrell Waltrip, the 1985 Winston Cup champion, will start fifth, right beside Winston Cup runner-up Bill Elliott, who won a motorsports record 11 superspeedway races in 1985.

"I'm glad I picked the pole position but I don't know how much of an advantage that will be Sunday," Gant said. "With just eight cars in the race and a chance to win as much as $85,000, I just can't see anybody holding back. And I think every car in the field has a good chance to win the race."

For Bonnett, it's the first Busch Clash in which he has not started on the back row.

"With just eight cars, there really isn't a terrible starting position," Bonnett said. "Of course, there are two starting spots better than the other six, and I'm glad I'm in one of them."

The Busch Clash offers at least $10,500 to the last place driver. The 20-lap event offers $5,000 to the leader of laps five, 10 and 15, and $1,250 to the leader of all the remaining laps, except for the final one.

"That last one is the big lap prize," said Earnhardt. "In a race like this, running third or fourth doesn't mean anything. Finishing first means everything."

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The starting lineup for the $180,000 Busch Clash, scheduled Sunday at the 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway with home town and car (determined in a blind drawing Thursday):

1. Harry Gant, Taylorsville, N.C.; Chevrolet
2. Neil Bonnett, Hueytown, Ala.; Chevrolet
3. Rusty Wallace, St. Louis, Mo.; Pontiac
4. Dale Earnhardt, Kannapolis, N.C.; Chevrolet
5. Darrell Waltrip, Franklin, Tenn.; Chevrolet
6. Bill Elliott, Dawsonville, Ga.; Ford
7. Geoff Bodine, Chemung, N.Y.; Chevrolet
8. Terry Labonte, Corpus Christi, Texas; Oldsmobile

Gant Draws Top Spot For Busch

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Harry Gant, who will start in the best spot in the Busch Clash, and Terry Labonte, who drew the worst starting position, agree that where they begin doesn't make much difference in the short eight-car event.

Harry Gant won the pole position for Sunday's 50-mile race in a drawing Thursday by the eight NASCAR pole winners from the 1985 Winston Cup.

The $180,000 race, which offers at least $50,000 for first place, is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. EST Sunday at Daytona International Speedway. Another $35,000 in lap prize money has also been posted.

Labonte drew the eighth starting position, but quickly noted that he

Stars Plan Fund-Raiser

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Grand Ole Opry stars such as Bill Anderson, Bill Monroe and Porter Wagoner will stay up late this weekend to raise money for the American Lung Association.

After the regular Opry show is broadcast Saturday night, a special roster of stars will shine in a five-hour fund-raiser in memory of Ernest Tubbs, a long-time Opry regular who died of emphysema Sept. 6, 1984, at age 70.

The event begins at midnight Saturday on a showboat on the Cumberland River. It will be broadcast on radio station WSM after the station's normal Opry show.

Among the other Opry performers scheduled to appear are Tubbs's son, Justin, and Little Jimmy Dickens, the Four Guys, Jack Greene, Jan Howard, Jim & Jesse, Ray Pillow, Willie Rainsford, Jeannie Seely, Billy

Walker and Charlie Walker. Ernest Tubbs, "the Texas Troubadour," was best known for his hit "I'm Walkin' the Floor Over You."

New Star

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Bette Midler says she's "overwhelmed" at joining 1,820 other entertainers honored with a sidewalk star in the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

"I hope you'll come and walk all over it," the Divine Miss M told the estimated 400 fans gathered on Hollywood Boulevard for the ceremony Thursday. "It really does have my name on it, but I really feel this star is the work of the fans. I am really overwhelmed and I am flabbergasted and I think this is probably the greatest thrill of my whole life."

Three-Hour NBC Thriller Explores U.S. Answer To Acts Of Terrorism

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — What did the president know, and when did he know it?

Those famous questions, posed by former Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr. about Richard Nixon in the Watergate hearings, also apply to the fictitious president in NBC's "Under Siege" Sunday night. The answers, and how they were portrayed in the TV movie, caused friction between NBC's broadcast standards department and the filmmakers, according to executive producer Don Ohlmeyer.

how a network news team would cover a breaking story about nuclear blackmail.

This time, he held firm — and prevailed. "I told them there was nothing sacred about the presidency. A decade ago, a president made a decision that was illegal and unconstitutional over a silly burglary."

In the confrontational scene, in which President Maxwell Monroe articulately gives his reasoning and FBI Director John Garry challenges it, both men raise valid and important points, highlighting the profound problems in tackling terrorism.

secretary of state calls for some sort of action, while the secretary of defense says "these are my guys who would get killed."

"From its inception, NBC was concerned about our portrayals of the government," added Ohlmeyer. "But I never wanted this to be the government and public are bad, and they're saved by a crusading reporter. I wanted to show good people on both sides who are affected by an outside agent."

The outside agent is Abu Ladeen (Thaao Penghlis) who is patterned after Abu Nidal, the alleged mastermind of December's terrorist killings in the Rome and Vienna airports. A story on Nidal was part of the Post's terrorism series.

"Under Siege" benefits from its strong realism, a hallmark of Ohlmeyer's work. In one scene, you'd swear that terrorists had blown a hole in the U.S. Capitol. Actually, it was the state house in Little Rock, Arkansas, which is modeled after the Capitol. The explosion, staged 30 feet in front of the building, blackened the dome.

The three-hour, $5 million thriller examines America's response when international terrorism occurs in the United States for the first time. The foreign-inspired acts include a truck bombing on a U.S. military base, booby-trapped planes and a missile attack on the Capitol.

The script was written by three Washington Post reporters, including Bob Woodward of Watergate fame, and was based on their investigative series on terrorism.

Peter Strauss plays the FBI director responsible for solving the crimes. Hal Holbrook is the president struggling for the appropriate response, while balancing the constraints of U.S. laws against lawless terrorism.

Without revealing too many details from this powerful, provocative film, let's just say that White House officials, in response to the terrorism, permit an illegal act, which the president defends later. Whether the president knew about it beforehand was kept deliberately fuzzy.

According to Ohlmeyer, NBC's concerns were that in the president's after-the-fact rationales for violating the Constitution "he was supporting an illegal act."

Ralph Daniels, NBC's head of broadcast standards, said questions were raised, but once "we saw the film, we found it acceptable."

Previously, Ohlmeyer lost several battles with NBC's standards people over his all-too-realistic 1983 movie, "Special Bulletin," which showed

"The whole point of the picture is that a free society, which is based on respect for life and law, has developed an Achilles heel in dealing with terrorists who play by no rules and respect no laws," said Ohlmeyer.

Ohlmeyer made certain that the president and the FBI director were shown in a favorable light. "We cast Hal Holbrook because he's one of the most beloved actors around. We didn't want the president to be perceived as devious. He's a good man, trying to do the best he can."

Strauss' FBI director, meanwhile, is so sympathetic you'd think he has an "S" under his suit. He has a beautiful wife (Victoria Tennant), and they gain additional viewer sympathy with the admission that they can't have children. He's also pure and honest and a good street cop to boot.

In an exciting, although improbable chase scene, Garry, gun in hand, runs down a terrorist, grenade in hand.

Other members of government don't come off as well, particularly the secretary of state (E.G. Marshall) and CIA director (Fritz Weaver), who favor retributions against Iran before its complicity is confirmed. The defense secretary (Paul Winfield) sides with Garry, and the president initially exercises caution.

"Not everybody in government is a Phi Beta Kappa," said Ohlmeyer. "But the positions they took are real. This is the kind of debate that could happen in government, where the Israeli Resolution Blocked By U.S.

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The United States vetoed a Security Council resolution that would have condemned Israel's interception of a Libyan civilian plane, but said that it deplored the Israeli action.

Ten of the 15 U.N. council members supported the resolution and four U.S. allies — Britain, France, Denmark and Australia — abstained in Thursday's vote that came after three days of often heated debate on a Syrian-Libyan complaint.

The Libyan executive jet intercepted by Israeli warplanes over the Mediterranean on Tuesday and held in Israel for five hours turned out to be carrying nine Syrian and Lebanese politicians and not, as Israel suspected, Palestinian guerrilla leaders.

U.S. Ambassador Vernon A. Walters told Security Council delegates before casting the veto that "although the United States opposes Israel's action in this case," it rejected the resolution because it failed to take into account that interception of a plane might be justified in some cases.

In October, U.S. warplanes intercepted an Egyptian airliner carrying the hijackers of the Italian cruise liner Achille Lauro.

The resolution, Walters said, "does not take into sufficient account the need to address practically and appropriately the overriding issue: terrorism."

While supporting the principle of safeguarding civil aviation, "we believe that there may arise exceptional circumstances in which an interception may be justified," Walters said.

"We believe a state should intercept a civilian aircraft only on the basis of the strongest and clearest evidence that terrorists are on board. We do not believe that Israel has demonstrated that its action met this rigorous and necessary standard and therefore we deplore that action," he said.

While admitting that the interception was an "intelligence error," Israeli officials offered no apology.

Israel's U.N. ambassador, Benjamin Netanyahu, said during the debate the plane had been used in the past as a "terrorist ferrying vehicle."

He also told delegates before the vote that "to pass this resolution is to encourage terrorism" for "the states that are pushing for this resolution are states that are sponsoring terrorism." He singled out Syria and Libya.

Zehdi Labib Terzi, U.N. observer of the Palestine Liberation

Organization, said in anticipating the negative vote that the U.S. delegation repeatedly "abused and misused" its veto power to protect Israel. Invited to address the council as an interested party, Terzi denounced both the U.S. and Israeli aerial interceptions as "air piracy."

The U.S. veto was the second in a week of an Arab-backed resolution directed against Israel. On Jan. 30, the United States blocked a resolution that would have deplored "provocative acts" by Israelis at Moslem shrines in Jerusalem.

If passed, the Thursday resolution would have condemned Israel "for its forcible interception and diversion of the Libyan civilian aircraft in international airspace, and its subsequent detention of the said aircraft."

Khadafy Threatens To Take Israeli Jets

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — Libyan leader Col. Moammar Khadafy said today he has ordered his air force to intercept Israeli civilian airliners over the Mediterranean and force them to land at a Libyan air base.

The Libyan leader told a news conference any Israeli planes forced down would be searched for "Israeli terrorists," mentioning such names as former Prime Minister Menachem Begin or former Defense Minister Ariel Sharon.

He said other passengers would be released.

Speaking to reporters in his private office in Azizia army barracks, Khadafy said the order was in retaliation for the seizure of a Libyan plane Tuesday by Israeli jets. The Israelis forced an executive jet on a flight from Libya to Damascus, Syria, to land in northern Israel.

The Israelis released the plane and its passengers when they found no Palestinian guerrillas on board and Israeli officials acknowledged interception had been a "mistake."

Court Upholds Woman's Seat In Kiwanis Club

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The men-only policy of Kiwanis International can be considered as offensive as a whites-only policy, a judge has ruled in upholding a woman's membership in a New Jersey chapter of the international service organization.

U.S. District Judge H. Lee Sarokin issued his ruling Thursday in a case brought by the Indianapolis, Ind.-based Kiwanis against its Ridgewood chapter, where Julie Fletcher, a 45-year-old businesswoman, has been a member for two years.

Kiwanis International had sought to stop the chapter from using the Kiwanis trademarks, saying the chapter had violated the organization's constitution by admitting a female.

In a 39-page ruling, Sarokin said, "To permit women to become members of Kiwanis harms no one; to prohibit women from becoming members harms us all."

"The Kiwanis name will not suffer by (women's) inclusion; indeed, it probably suffers more from their exclusion," he said. "The time has come, at least in New Jersey, for Kiwanis to permit women to do more than make pancakes.

"Kiwanis' trademark rights are subject to the right of women to be free of discrimination, as indeed they should be."

"A membership sign of 'Men Only' can be as offensive and repugnant as the sign 'Whites Only,'" he said.

Sarokin based his ruling on the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination, which prohibits a "place of public accommodation" from discriminating against people because of their sex.

American Civil Liberties Union lawyer Marcia J. Baer, representing the Ridgewood club and Ms. Fletcher, had contended that New Jersey law specifically bans discrimination against women in organizations open to the public and performing public services.

Sarokin said the case dealt with "a blatant and admitted sexist attitude, and the discriminatory membership policy arising from it."

He ruled that as one "moves along the spectrum from the purely private club or organization to the clearly public one, there comes a point where the state may declare that the individual's right not to be excluded on discriminatory grounds overrides the group's right to exclude and discriminate."

Ms. Fletcher, an art consultant, said after the ruling that she was "delighted."

Kiwanis spokesman David Williams said from headquarters in Indianapolis that his organization would appeal Sarokin's ruling.

"As a private organization, under the First Amendment, our own members have the right to choose whatever rules they want," he said. "It's not whether they're right or wrong, but that they have the right to be wrong."

He said Sarokin sprinkled "personal reactions rather than legal opinions throughout" his ruling.

Sarokin issued an injunction blocking Kiwanis International from removing the Kiwanis name from the chapter.

Williams said conventions of Kiwanis have upheld the males-only rule, with another vote expected at a convention in June in Houston.

"That's the way (the club) started," he said. "Nobody was surprised at the time."

"Nobody was surprised for 60 years," he said. Kiwanis, a community and charitable organization, has about 8,200 chapters worldwide, with membership of about 313,000.

Williams said the First Amendment right to freedom of association should include the right to determine who one will not associate with.

Congress Clears Funding For Agricultural Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent President Reagan an emergency $1.4 billion infusion for the Commodity Credit Corp., meaning the flow of subsidy and loan money to farmers could resume as early as next week.

Both the House and Senate passed the short-term appropriation on voice votes Thursday, providing just enough money to keep the CCC in business until Congress returns from a 10-day recess that begins this weekend.

An arm of the Agriculture Department, the CCC carries out price-and income-support programs. It makes loans to farmers who produce major commodities such as grains, and buys up surpluses in order to support prices. It also makes subsidy payments to eligible farmers.

Some $600 million in final 1985 subsidy checks to cotton and rice farmers has been held up since last week because there is no money to back them up. The agency had ceased all disbursements Wednesday.

Agriculture Department Undersecretary Daniel G. Amstutz, who oversees commodity programs, said if the president signs the bill quickly, farmers could resume cashing their checks next week.

The administration had asked for $5 billion, which could have covered CCC obligations through April. It is estimated it will take $8.8 billion to finance the agency through the end of the fiscal year Sept. 30.

Among the CCC's immediate needs are money for corn and sorghum subsidy payments to be made in April, expected to cost $1.5 billion; money to begin the new dairy herd buy-out program authorized in the new farm law; money for advance subsidy payments that will be due farmers when they sign up for new crop programs beginning March 3; and money for the new conservation reserve program to take erodible land out of production.

The House approved only enough money to last through Feb. 18 because of objections by Republican members to the way CCC money is handled.

GOP members say Democrats intentionally and habitually underfinance the programs to force the Republican administration to come to Congress with supplemental money requests.

Trump Coup Tommy was celebrating the rarest of events: he had finished 1985 with a profit of $7 from bridge. Readers of this column who are aware of Tommy's propensity for pitching thousands of points on simple hands, only to be transformed into a master when faced with an unfortunate trump position, will realize what an achievement that was.

Tommy had started 1986 in most promising fashion. After only 12 hands, during which he had butchered three, he and his partner had succeeded in becoming vulnerable. So when this hand came along next, Tommy spared nothing in the bidding and launched into a grand slam on a hand where he had every reason to suspect that at least one major trump honor was missing.

When dummy appeared, Tommy was galvanized into action. To succeed in his grand slam he decided he would need that seldom-seen play, a Devil's Coup.

He won the ace of diamonds and ruffed a diamond. After crossing to the king of spades to ruff another diamond, he cashed his three club tricks and the queen of spades, then ruffed dummy's last diamond. He cleared the ace of spades to bring the hand down to this position:

When Tommy led his ten of spades, West was gone. If he ruffed low, dummy would overruff and the ace and king of trumps would score the last two tricks. So he tried ruffing with the queen. Tommy overruffed with the table's King, then blithely finessed the nine of hearts to bring home his grand slam.

Guard Dies

LAGUNA HILLS, Calif. (AP) — A guard suffered a fatal heart attack after $13,000 worth of quarters — weighing 1½ tons — fell on him inside an armored car when the driver braked to avoid another vehicle, authorities said.

Hrand Arakilian, 34, who was killed in the accident, was not seated in the chair guards are supposed to use, said California Highway Patrol Officer Ken Daily. The driver of the Brink's Inc. truck was not at fault, Daily said.

February 19, 1986 at the law offices of Underwood & Leach: 201 Evans Street, Post Office Box 527, Greenville, North Carolina 27835, and at that time publicly opened. Prospective bidders may view the work site by obtaining directions at the store of P. Davenport & Son, Pactivious, North Carolina, at any time prior to the opening of bids. Representatives of the Drainage District will conduct a showing of the work to be done at the work site and be available to answer questions concerning the same on Friday, February 15, 1986, beginning at 9:00 o'clock A.M. at the store of J. P. Davenport & Son, Pactivious, North Carolina.

A brief description of the work to be done is as follows:

The work to be done will consist of the removal of live and dead vegetation and travelway repairs on the Grindle Creek main canal. The area to be cleared extends from the junction of Grindle Creek with the U.S. 264 bridge across the creek at Pactivious, a distance of approximately 4 miles to the junction of Grindle Creek with the State Road 1538. The work area is shown in heavy outline on a copy of the maintenance map of Grindle Creek Watershed which is attached to and made part of the detailed specifications, copy of which can be obtained by application to the law offices of Underwood & Leach: Post Office Box 527; Greenville, North Carolina 27835, at any time.

The successful bidder will be required to execute a contract with Pilt County Drainage District No. 2, and to furnish a performance bond in the penal sum of 25% of the original amount of the contract.

The work shall be commenced within 180 days after the award of the contract.

Prospective bidders are notified that they must have proper license under State laws governing their trades.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: K equals N
 The Cryptoquip is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words, and words using an apostrophe can give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, FEB. 8, 1986

YOUR DAILY Horoscope
 from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day to wind up whatever activities you have been engaged in and need to be completed during the day, but do so in such a way that you add to such a project a dash of originality.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get personal affairs well handled during the daytime and tonight be with talented persons from who you can learn much.
TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A good day to do something to show you are an A-1 citizen, and you can easily impress one who is prominent.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can easily come to a right agreement with a new contact during the daytime, but later seek inspiration elsewhere.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) You have prophetic insight and can plan the future intelligently. One in business will do you a favor.
LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Join with partners at some project you are engaged in that is profitable during the day and then tonight pursue personal interests.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A good day to find a more efficient method for handling routines and get more pleasures out of them also.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get into activities that have pleased you in the past and enjoy them and plan to do it more often in the future.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can now handle many tasks at home pleasantly and get good results. Don't neglect to get your marketing done.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) See those persons today who can assist you in any way and gain cooperation needed.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Do whatever will make your possessions more valuable and attractive now. Then discuss this with experts.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A good day to state your aims to those who can be of help to you and get right results.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have an opportunity to gain your personal wishes, so think and go after them early in the day.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she can be quite unusual and different from those around him or her so be sure to send to the right schools so that there can be great success during the lifetime, and even fame could be achieved. Make sure that the diet is right.

Sears-EEOC

CHICAGO (AP) — The federal government "presented no evidence" that Sears, Roebuck & Co. discriminated against women in personnel matters, a judge said in dismissing a lawsuit against the nation's largest general merchandise retailer.

"It is almost inconceivable ... that in a nationwide suit alleging ... intentional discrimination for at least eight years involving more than 900 stores, EEOC would be unable to produce even one witness who could credibly testify that Sears discriminated against (the woman)," U.S. District Judge John Nordberg wrote in his decision.

How They Voted

WASHINGTON — Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll-call votes during the week ending Jan. 31.

House
POLL CLOSING — By a vote of 204 for and 171 against, the House passed and sent to the Senate a bill requiring the 48 contiguous states to close their polls simultaneously in presidential election years.

Beginning in 1988, polls every fourth November are to close at 9 p.m. in the east, 8 p.m. local time in the central zone, and 7 p.m. local time in the Pacific and Mountain zones. During presidential election years only, daylight-saving time in the Pacific zone would be extended two weeks to include Election Day, thus making the simultaneous closings mathematically possible.

The purpose of uniform poll-closing is to minimize the perceived effect of network news projections on voter turnout in states where voting has not yet ended.

Sponsors say that with all polls closing at once in the 48 states, calls of winners and losers based on early voting patterns stand no chance of discouraging turnout in western areas of the country.

Supporter William Thomas, R-Calif., called the bill a constitutional and "very modest attempt to deal with this advancing technology" of network newsgathering, such as exit polling.

Opponent Bill Frenzel, R-Minn., said the bill invaded states' rights to address an overstated problem, and that it was "social tinkering with the most precious right of the American people ... the election franchise."

Members voting yes favored uniform nationwide poll-closing in November of presidential election years.

North Carolina representatives voting yes were Walter Jones, D-1; Stephen Neal, D-5; Charles Rose, D-7, and W.G. Hefner, D-8.

Those voting no were Tim Valentine, D-2; Charles Whitley, D-3; William Cobey, R-4; Howard Coble, R-6; Alex McMillan, R-9; James Broyles, R-10, and Bill Hendon, R-11.

THE MENTALLY ILL — The House passed, 290 for and 84 against, a bill creating a new categorical grant program under which states would be virtually required to set up agencies to advocate the rights of the mentally ill, at a cost of $33 million over three years.

The bill (HR 4055), which was sent to the Senate, also expands federal programs in behalf of victims of Alzheimer's disease and their families.

In much the same way that mentally retarded persons now enjoy protections set by federal statute, the mentally ill would see their legal clout strengthened by this bill. The advocacy groups could sue in behalf of recently-released as well as institutionalized patients, and they would be required to operate independently of existing mental health agencies.

Sponsor Stewart McKinney, R-Conn., said the bill "establishes a long-overdue advocacy system to prevent the abuse and neglect of the mentally ill."

Opponent William Dannemeyer, R-Calif., said "apparently in the eyes of the proponents of this legislation, an annual deficit of $200 billion is not high enough, a national debt of $1.8 trillion is not big enough to deter them."

Members voting yes wanted to set up a new federal program for the mentally ill.

North Carolina representatives voting yes were Jones, Valentine, Whitley, Neal, Rose, Hefner and Hendon.

 Those voting no were Cobey, Coble, McMillan and Broyles.

Senate
CONRAIL — By a vote of 53 for and 39 against, the Senate tabled (killed) an amendment clearing the way for the government to sell Conrail to a group led by the Morgan Stanley & Co. investment house.

Under the $1.4 billion Morgan Stanley offer, Conrail was to be continued as its own entity rather than as part of a merged railroad.

The apparent removal of Morgan Stanley from the picture greatly increased chances that Norfolk Southern Corp. will succeed in its bid to acquire the government-owned rail freight service for $1.2 billion. A bill approving the sale to the Norfolk Southern railroad (S 638) was headed for final passage.

John Danforth, R-Mo., who voted to table the amendment, said the Morgan Stanley group had no interest in running a successful railroad, that it only wanted "to bleed Conrail of cash," and that Conrail has to be merged to survive.

Arlen Specter, R-Pa., said selling Conrail to Morgan Stanley would bring more money to the U.S. Treasury and avoid "the very serious anti-trust problems" posed by the merger of Conrail and Norfolk Southern.

Most senators voting no wanted Conrail sold to the Morgan Stanley investment group.

North Carolina Sens. John East, R, and Jesse Helms, R, both voted yes.

Black Gold
 The current oil glut has some producers wondering what to do with their surplus crude. In the old days, they just left it in the ground. A Kentucky salt well that filled up with oil in 1818 was promptly abandoned as useless. In the 1840's, when oil was already in demand, businessmen still relied mostly on oil-producing salt wells. When oil baron James Townsend suggested drilling a well for the sole purpose of getting oil, a friend told him, "Nonsense! You're crazy."
DO YOU KNOW — What is the world's largest oil company?
