

Matt Cuddington

- What happened yesterday was a horrible act. No body could've ever dreamed an act of terrorism of that magnitude, to affect the USA, much less the way that the terrorism acts took place. What kind of sick person/people hijacks a plane & crashes it into ~~unpopulated area~~ extremely populated area such as the ~~WTC~~ World Trade Center & The Pentagon. These two sites have such an important bearing on the everyday function of the US. The World Trade Center is located in the center of the Financial Capital of the world. The Pentagon is the center of Military Intelligence. Who ever ~~coordinated~~ this attack knew what they were doing & when they were aiming. If you wanted to hurt US the ~~the~~ most (being an outsider, what would you hit first?) The World Trade Center ^{a center} - which has such a financial bearing on the whole country, & the Pentagon - military. I feel sorry for the families of the people who perished yesterday. They will forever be remembered on ~~one~~ the most tragic day in US history. Who ever did this (bin Laden) should pay the ultimate price. This guy said about a month or 3 weeks ago that he was going to attack the US soon. He said that it was going to be a big attack. We gave the fore warning that he was going to do something like this. Now look at what happened yesterday. The biggest terrorist attack of America in our history. I mean, they've already made connection that this was associated to him & his organization. I know that we should wait & find out all the facts b/c we're going pointing fingers, but it's kind of hard to wait when a situation like this happens. All I know is that when we strike back, it will be a mighty & fierce blow, - that will cripple who ever did this, (or at least it better). Anything else would be unacceptable. I'm not a sadist or anything, but when we are absolutely sure about who did this (bin Laden) would should capture him/them & have a public hanging where the WTC once stood. ~~Even this would not serve the justice~~