

CL TENRYU CLASS

Note the island structure around the stacks and the circular gun platforms at the base of the mainmast. These two features distinguish this class from the KUMA and NATORI Classes. The small bridge is well forward.

CL KATORI CLASS

[16]

These lightly armed vessels are essentially training ships, and their hulls show considerably more beam than the average light cruiser. The catapult amidships and the unusually heavy mainmast structure are characteristic of this class.
