

NORTH CAROLINA.
Auditor's Department.

Raleigh May 26th 1892.

Dear Sir: Our interview was interrupted last night and I write for information on one point, though I am quite sure I fully understood you. I simply want to make my promise doubly sure. As I remember, you told me that Major J. W. Wilson, of the Rail Road Commission, is, and will be, your right-hand man, and that any arrangements he may make now or during the Campaign will be of as full force as though the transactions or agreements had been originally made with you. Please let me know by return mail if I understand you aright and may govern myself accordingly. There is not one hour to be lost by you in replying to this as it is absolutely necessary that I should know at once that I have understood you aright in order to act promptly in a matter pending which is of great importance to me.

To Hon. Elias Carr, Old Sparta, N.C. Yours truly, G. W. Sandolen
