

A.—Exposure of strata typical of the Black Creek formation overlain by white sands of Pleistocene age, Cape Fear River, Sand Bluff Landing, $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles below Elizabethtown, N. C.

B.—Near view of laminated sands and clays typical of the Black Creek formation, Cape Fear River, Big Sugar Loaf Landing, $7\frac{1}{2}$ miles below Elizabethtown, N. C.