

A.—Exposure of the Coharie formation resting unconformably upon the Patuxent formation; cut of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, $2\frac{3}{4}$ miles northeast of Four Oaks, near Corinth Church, Johnston County, N. C.

B.—Gravel layer in sand of the Coharie formation; cut of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, one mile northeast of Four Oaks, Johnston County, N. C.