

THE REFLECTOR

Greenville, N. C.

D. J. WEICHAFF, Editor and Proprietor

Entered at the postoffice at Greenville, N. C., as second-class matter.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 4th, 1895.

The Pittsboro Record has reached its eighteenth year. There are few as able writers as editor H. A. London.

Look out for a meeting of the Arrington Committee. Phillips is in Raleigh. Campbell is expected daily, and Bryan is said to be weakening and may get there.

Quay wins his fight at Harrisburg, and it may result in two conventions in one report from said city. Another is that the anti Quay forces are on top. We are of the opinion that Quay will win.

It is said that Fitzhugh Lee never found out that he was opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver until after he had been appointed Collector of Internal Revenue in his district.

Suppose you could have before you all that the REFLECTOR has said during its career in the interest of Greenville and the advancement of the town. There is no telling how large a volume it would make.

In the pacing race at Fleetwood Park, Thursday Robert J. came out first, John R. Gentry, second, Mascot, third and Joe Patchen, fourth. Time of Robert J. 2:04. These same horses meet again the 12th of September at Louisville.

When a copy of the REFLECTOR goes abroad it says something for Greenville and tells what the town is doing. By patronizing the paper to help to advance your town and increase your own business.

The "Old Liberty Bell" is again coming into prominent notice. An effort is being made to take it to Atlanta and an injunction has been asked for by the citizens of Philadelphia to prevent the local authorities from removing it from Independence Hall.

The two afternoon papers of Raleigh, the Press and Visitor have consolidated and now appear as the Press-Visitor. Mr. Greek O. Andrews is editor and manager, and Mr. T. J. Peuce city editor. It is the newest afternoon paper in the State.

In keeping with increasing patronage and enterprise the Durham Sun begins its fourteenth volume by enlarging from a five to a six column paper. As its name implies the Sun is a bright journal and we trust it may continue to prosper.

Gen. Ransom has been appointed Minister to Mexico. There was never any doubt as to the fact that President Cleveland would give him the place again, but some of his friends were fearful as to results. The appointment was made last Saturday and Gen. Ransom is in Washington making preparations to leave for Mexico at some early date.

Some indignation is being expressed by President Cleveland and those nearest to him at the newspaper reports that he is snubbing his political friends by not allowing them to see him when they have traveled a long way from their homes to have interviews with him. It is astonishing what reports some papers can get up.

Some of the Chinese papers are endeavoring to show that there is some cause for mobs congregating and persecuting, and even killing the missionaries. The principal reason given is that there are foreigners there professing to be missionaries who are acting very badly towards the Chinese—even kidnapping their children and selling them as slaves.

Hon Octavius Coke, Secretary of State, died at his home in Raleigh Friday afternoon, at 4 o'clock. He had been very sick for several weeks with typhoid fever and his death was not entirely unexpected. He had long been prominent in North Carolina politics and was a man of considerable ability. As an orator he had few equals, and in every campaign Democracy received the full benefit of his services. The whole State sustains an irreparable loss in his death.

Probably nothing is attracting more serious attention in Raleigh at present than the handsome and robust physiognomy of Walter R. Henry sitting in the window of the Caucasian office waiting for the proof of that wonderful seven column production of his which is to give his reasons for leaving the Democratic party and flopping over to the Populists, and which is to be printed in the above paper this week. We are certain it is a sight worthy to be seen. Think of it! Walter R. Henry a picture adorning the window of Marion Butler's paper.

Albemarle Presbytery meets at Greenville September 3d. Dr. Eugene Daniel, of the First Presbyterian church, and others from Raleigh will attend. The Greenville REFLECTOR, with commendable enterprise will issue daily during the session. —Raleigh News & Observer.

Which causes us to ask, what is the matter with the News & Observer? Is Joe Daniels so wrapped up over the prospects of having to ride a mule to Mexico, or stay home, as to forget that the REFLECTOR has been appearing daily for nearly nine months?

Ex-Senator Jarvis spoke to an immense crowd at Morganton on last Tuesday. One of our exchanges has the following to say in reference to his speech: "The speaker was in good form, calm, earnest, indignant upon occasion, and eloquent at the close. The attention of his audience was marked, his argument lucid, exhaustive and full of common sense. His illustrations, though homely, were effective, and his speech had a good effect upon party prospects. This is the universal opinion."

Senator Jarvis closed with an eloquent appeal to the descendants of the men who surrounded Ferguson on King's Mountain to grapple with fire this latest attempt to plant the flag of English monarchy supremacy over our land."

RIP VAN WINKLE HAS WAZED UP.

North Carolina to the Front with Pitt County in the Lead.

GREENVILLE, N. C., Aug. 30, '95 Editor Daily Reflector:

In the market quotation of yesterday North Carolina 6 per cent. bonds sold for $1.30, the highest point paid for any State bonds in the United States.

Pitt county has sold tobacco on the Greenville market during the month of August, 1895, amounting to more than $2 per capita for her entire population—white and colored, men, women and children—and not one-twentieth of the crop is marketed. The people of old Pitt do not realize what a great county they live in. Give the information in your columns, and they will be spurred on to greater energy and development of our many natural resources yet unthought of.

Now, Mr. Editor, will not the business men of the community exert themselves to show strangers, tourists, interests, or small strangers, that in and reap the golden harvest that is now ripe and ready to be plucked? There are men in this county with sufficient means to carry on enterprises commensurate with the natural advantages we possess. They are coming, and coming soon. Will not the business men of Greenville wake up to the situation? Y.

OAKLEY ITEMS.

OAKLEY, N. C., Sept. 2, '95. Miss Mary Highsmith is quite sick.

Capt. J. E. Hines made a business trip to Pictolus Saturday.

Mr. J. E. Roberson, of Everetts was here Sunday.

Mr. J. H. Taylor's school closed Friday.

Mr. W. W. Thomas and wife were here Sunday, the guests of Mr. W. H. Williams and family.

Mr. H. L. Williams and sisters, Misses Mollie and Alma, were here Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. John Rodgers of Williamson, was here Saturday night and preached a most excellent sermon.

Schools Open.

The several schools of the town opened Monday for the fall session and had a splendid beginning.

Prof. W. H. Ragsdale had 36 boys to greet him at the Male Academy, and the outlook is that a most prosperous session is before him.

The Tobacco Department

Conducted by O. L. Joyner, Proprietor Eastern Tobacco Warehouse.

Rev. Samuel Moore, of Bethel township, lost a tobacco barn and contents by fire on Thursday.

You don't see many idle people about the streets. It is not hard to get work in these tobacco handling times.

Mr. T. R. Hodges, of Beaufort county, had some fine tobacco on the Eastern floor to-day. It brought the highest price of any here.

We would like to see the tobacco market that can show up three better auctioneers than Lipscomb, Bailey and Aiken. They make music.

One hundred and twenty thousand pounds of tobacco were brought to Greenville one day last week. As a tobacco market Greenville is unsurpassed.—Washington Gazette.

Then you said something.

Mr. J. S. Jenkins returned Monday night from an extended trip to the various markets in this State and Virginia. He is now on the breaks and wants stacks of the weed.

A dog supposed to be mad—as it was having a fit and foaming at the mouth—was killed under the store building near the tobacco warehouses Wednesday evening. Mr. Ola Forbes shot the dog.

Mr. J. S. Harris, of Falkland, was on the market Friday with tobacco and was well pleased with prices. He says he will never carry tobacco anywhere else when he can get such prices in Greenville.

The Secretary of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade handed us this morning the report of the sales of leaf tobacco on this market for the month ending Aug. 31st, 1895. The total sales in pounds amounted to 462,770 and sales did not commence until about Aug. 15.

Like some of our friends on some of the eastern markets, while we do not boast of selling more tobacco than all the other markets together, we claim that our tobacco thus far has averaged more money per pound than any market in the State of North Carolina or Virginia, and if any one doubts it, we can prove it.

There was sold in Greenville market Friday, 100,000 lbs leaf tobacco and 25,000 pounds carried over for Saturday sales. Ten years ago there was not a warehouse in Greenville and little tobacco was made in that section. The small crop made was sold principally in Henderson. Now the whole country is dotted with tobacco fields, the weed being finest grown in State, and it is selling at good prices. Greenville has four large warehouses, a number of prize houses and expects to handle 5,000,000 pounds of leaf this season. The improvement wrought by the changed method of farming is wonderful.—Salisbury Herald.

Curry tobacco is now one of the fine arts. You don't find a split stalk hanging top downwards a straddle of a stick any more. As the leaves ripen they are broken off one by one just as you "crap" the cabbage leaves for feeding the pigs. Not all the leaves on the same stalk are ripe at the same time. The leaves are tied in bunches of three or four with a cotton string (from balls of twine at 20 cts a pound) and eighteen or twenty bunches are hung on one stick about four feet long. Those who stand at the scaffold and do this work are called "stringers." A good stringer can string a thousand sticks a day. Those who break off the leaves are called "crappers," those who carry them in baskets or aprons to the scaffold (in a shady place when possible) are called "toters," and those who hand the leaves to the stringers are "handers."—Gastonia Gazette.

Mr. B. E. Parham says that every day in the week except Saturday, the warehouses should be as crowded as they were Friday with tobacco that he could continue to buy just as much as he did on that day, that his orders for tobacco are unlimited and that he would like to have that much to buy every day. If the reader will just recall that there are half dozen others with equally as heavy orders, and of this number the American Tobacco Company, whose demand for tobacco is limitless, and quite a number of other less extensive but equally as good buyers for their grades, it will be seen at a glance how much tobacco can be handled in Greenville and how near impossible it is to glut the market. The warehousemen and buyers too would prefer to have it divided up and not bring it all in on certain days. Yet Greenville is capable of taking care of all that comes in. Our buyers are in first-class condition and there is plenty of money here to pay for it all, and don't you forget it!

Last week two gentlemen from near Vanceboro came up to Greenville on their buggy bringing it full of tobacco. They drove in the Eastern warehouse, where sales was going on and had their tobacco put on the floor. After sale Mr. Spain, the cashier, handed them a check for even thirty nine dollars and ninety-five cents.

The breaks both, in quality and in price.

There were people here from far and near, and with one accord they declare the Greenville market to be the best they ever saw.

At a meeting of the Tobacco Board of Trade last Monday the following officers were elected: President, P. H. Gorman; Vice President, B. E. Parham; Secretary and Treasurer, Geo. Harris.

In order to prevent blocking of sales the Board enacted a new law making the sale hour 9:30 instead of 10 as heretofore, and forcing the auctioneers to sell not less than 200 piles of tobacco an hour, but as much faster as they please.

The law relating to drumming tobacco while in transit to market was taken up and discussed. Right here, for the benefit of farmers who may not know how strict that law is, we copy a part of it: "Any member of this Association who shall attempt by any means to influence any planter, or other persons, who may have tobacco in transit to the Greenville market to carry the same to his, or that, or any particular warehouse in said town during such conveyance of the same to this market, shall be fined not less than $25 nor more than $50 for each load, and the terms in transit and conveyance to market shall be understood to embrace the whole time from the commencement to pack such tobacco upon the wagons or vehicles until the same has been deposited in some of the Greenville warehouses and sold." This law while it has not been rigidly enforced, has been pretty closely observed. But this season so much ungraded tobacco has been brought to market and offered for sale in the streets that in a great many instances the law has been grossly violated by purchasing the tobacco while in the open streets. This was discussed at the meeting Monday, and buying tobacco in this condition in the streets was thought to be a very direct way to induce tobacco to some particular house, so by general consent of the Board it decided to enforce the law, and to the reporter of every violation of this law and the conviction of the parties concerned, the sum of fifteen dollars of the minimum fine collected should be paid. No gentleman who is willing to recognize the rights of others, will knowingly violate this law, and while buying ungraded tobacco in the streets in the past had become so general that almost everyone engaged in it, but in the future, knowing that we have nothing but gentlemen, no trouble from this source need be feared, though the employees of some of the houses may sometimes forget.

When something over 50,000 pounds of tobacco came in for Friday's breaks, it was looked upon to mean that the farmers were going to divide, and that there would not be as much in to-day as there was on Friday of last week, and cause another block sale. But contrary to this supposition, there were 120,000 pounds on the breaks again to-day, making such an immense sale that the warehouses could not get through.

By sunset Thursday evening wagons had commenced rolling in, and they kept coming all night and through the early morning. The wagons coming in after night gave the warehousemen better time to unload and arrange their floors, but there was more here than could be handled and sold in a day, starting at 10 o'clock.

The first sale opened promptly on time at the Planters with 600 piles showing the aggregate on to 40,000 pounds. Auctioneer Lipscomb put in his jollyest chin music and wound up the lot in two and a quarter hours, all of it going at good prices.

"On to the Eastern" was the song among the buyers as they went over for the second sale, and the "Old Reliable" was ready for them with the biggest lot that has yet been tackled. On any one floor, there were 650 piles generally estimated to average 75 pounds, so it is safe to say that the Eastern had not less than 45,000 pounds. We never saw a fuller house or larger piles on the floor. After the sales and run for half an hour they stopped for dinner, and it took two and a half hours to finish after dinner.

The third sale came off at the Greenville which had about 20,000 pounds. The sale was still in progress at this house when the REFLECTOR went to press, with the outlook that it would consume the rest of the day. The Greenville holds up its end of Wilson Military Academy.

In consequence of the removal of the LaFayette Military Academy from Fayetteville to Wilson, the name of this popular institution is changed to Wilson Military Academy. The FALL TERM BEGINS on WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1895. With greater facilities, better accommodations and equipments, and, if possible, brighter prospects, the school enters upon its third year with every indication of a much larger patronage and more general usefulness. The most thorough instruction is given in literary and commercial branches; and moral culture and physical training receive due attention. The Third Annual Announcement, containing full particulars, will be mailed to any address upon application. Address

Maj. J. W. YEREX, Supt., Wilson, N. C.

The Agricultural and Mechanical College for the Colored Race, at Greensboro, N. C.

THE REFLECTOR

Local Reflections.

Mr. William Tyson died Friday evening at his home about four miles from town.

Preparations are going on for two more stores to be opened here at an early day.

Harvey Jones, one of our printers, hurt his arm about the press Tuesday evening, and is wearing it in a sling.

A stock of goods without advertising is like a gun without ammunition—there's nothing to make it "go off."

Mr. J. L. Fountain, of Falkland, has some of the finest cotton in the county. It is so high that he had it topped.

A good ad tell the people something that they do not know but wanted to know without being aware of the fact.

There were 26,000 Knights Templar in the parade at Boston and it took the procession nearly six hours to pass a given point.

Friday Mr. Allen Warren received a telegram from Wilson announcing the death of a relative, Mrs. Sallie Warren. She was 83 years old.

It is estimated that 16,000 deaths from cholera have occurred in Japan this summer. At that rate no war with China is needed to take the Japs off.

President J. S. Carr, of the State Fair Association, has invited Mr. Allen Warren to deliver an address on grape culture at the next fair. Mr. Warren has accepted.

The Southern Railway has effected an entrance into Norfolk over the Norfolk and Carolina Railroad, but will use its own engines, cars and barges and must begin operations by Jan. 1st.

We hear that a day or two ago a merchant offered a farmer 8 cents for his cotton crop this year to be delivered any time before January first. It looks now like the price will reach 8 cents this fall.

Despite the rain early Friday night there was quite a nice gathering of little folks at Miss Glenn Forbes' party. They indulged in many merry games and say they "had the sweetest time in town."

Friday morning the editor found a tremendous watermelon in his front porch. It was left there by Mr. S. M. Jones, of Bethel, who drove by with a load of tobacco for the breaks. It was the largest melon we have encountered this season, weighing even 45 pounds.

SEPTEMBER SAYINGS.

Briefs That Inform You What is Going on.

September. Ninth month. New Goods arriving daily at Lang's. Five Sundays and five Mondays his month. A decided change in the weather came with September. Two weeks to the opening of the Exposition at Atlanta.

WANTED—Fifty or Seventy five hogs at once. Apply to J. C. COBB & SON.

You need not be afraid of the oyster now—if you can catch one. The Sunday schools of the town are having an increased attendance.

At the meeting of the physicians of the county Monday, Dr. F. W. Brown was elected Superintendent of Health.

Don't fail to see Lang's new goods now coming in. When people see your name in the paper continually, they get to think they know you and it is but a short step from acquaintance to patronage.

An advertisement—like a cigar should be so good that the first whiff or impression will cause a man to finish it.

I will have the very newest and best styles of Millinery this season. Am now north making selections. Mrs. M. D. HIGGS.

Mr. J. M. Moore was appointed by the Commissioners Monday as county student from Pitt to the A & M College, Raleigh, N. C.

Just received big lot of Fruit Jars and Rubbers. S. M. SCHULTZ.

Three cakes nice toilet soap and half dozen teaspoons for 25 cents looks almost like giving goods away, but that is what J. B. Cherry & Co. are doing.

Wait for my return from the north-west markets if you want the best styles in Millinery. Mrs. M. D. HIGGS.

Among the physicians who were granted licenses by the State Board of Examiners, last week, was Dr. E. A. Moye, of Greenville. He averaged 96 on all examinations.

STRAYED—My light, red cow, unmarked, broke out Mr. Ben Jess Wilson's pasture, two weeks ago. Any information that will lead to her recovery, will be appreciated. E. B. HIGGS.

Greenville opens wide her doors and extends a cordial welcome to the delegates and visitors to the Albemarle Presbytery. May the session be accompanied by such Divine presence as to prove a blessing to all who attend and a benediction to the community.

Big Tomato. Allen Warren & Son offered to the person growing the largest tomato free plants for next season. Mr. W. T. Lipscomb wins the prize, having grown one that weighed 1 pound and 15 ounces.

Promptly at 10 o'clock Friday Glen Forbes rang his bell for these at the Planters Warehouse, and started the ball to rolling on over 600 piles which aggregated over 40,000 pounds. It looks to us that if the Planters Warehouse accommodates her customers the proprietor will have to extend their house. They needed 50 feet more today as they had to carry over 10,000 pounds.

He's a Dandy. Out at the Planter's Warehouse today Mr. R. O. Jeffreys, of Tarboro, stepped up to relieve Auctioneer Lipscomb for a few minutes and gave him time to suck a lemon. Talk about "piano boxes," Mr. Jeffreys is one of them. He hung the corner of his mouth over his left ear, and rattled the bids faster than the buyers could wink. Mr. Frank Sugg wanted to catch a picture of that mouth.

DON'T BE DECEIVED—The Electric Belt is sold on a positive guarantee. Best people everywhere endorse them. It has cured thousands and it will cure you. Why neglect your health, when there is such relief at hand. Buy the genuine, the only Electric Belt that generates its own current. Ask your friends what it is doing for them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blount returned Saturday evening from Buffalo Lithia Springs. Mrs. Mary Alice More left Monday evening for Kinney Sanitarium at LaGrange.

Mr. J. S. Jenkins and family returned Monday evening from Bufileo Lithia Springs. Mr. Norwood, of Plymouth, who was visiting Dr. F. W. Brown, returned home Saturday.

Mr. J. H. Moore, of Burgaw, arrived Friday evening to visit his brother, Mr. J. H. Moore. Miss Pearsall, the music teacher of the College Institute, arrived Monday evening.

Mrs. M. M. Nelson returned Friday evening from a visit of several weeks to Philadelphia. Mr. W. B. Grimes, of Raleigh, came to Monday evening and went down to Grimesdale.

Mr. J. S. Smith and daughter Miss Appie came home Saturday evening from Littleton. Miss Willie Hargrove, who has been visiting Mrs. A. J. Johnson, left for Tarboro Monday.

Mr. H. C. Hooker returned Tuesday evening from New York where he had been buying new goods. Mr. M. D. Horton, of Farmville, to look the train here Monday morning for Baltimore.

Mr. E. Redding arrived Wednesday evening and is getting his stock ready for the opening Saturday. Mrs. Andrew Joyner and children returned Wednesday evening from a visiting relatives at Whitakers.

Miss Jennie James and Master Charlie James returned Monday evening from Wilmington and Wrightsville. Mr. C. C. Cobb, of Norfolk, spent a few days with relatives in this section and returned home Monday.

Mr. J. K. Westbrook of Goldsboro, arrived Thursday to take a position as book keeper with J. N. Gorman & Co. Mr. W. J. Corbett, of Durham, arrived Wednesday evening to take a position as book keeper at the Star Warehouse.

Mr. L. A. Cotter, a cadet of the Annapolis Military and Naval Post, left home Saturday to visit his relatives. He recently returned from a cruise abroad.

Mr. R. R. Fleming, of Pactolus, has gone north to purchase new goods. He took his daughter, Miss Blanche, to Yorkville, Va., where she goes to enter Prof. Goad's school.

Messrs. George Hughes and R. O. Jeffreys, tobacco warehousemen of Tarboro were here Friday witnessing the big break. They were convinced that Greenville is a fine market.

Mr. Joe Brooks and nephew, of Memphis, Tenn., who were visiting Mrs. M. A. Jarvis left Monday. Mr. Brooks was born in Greenville in 1819 in the building now occupied by Mr. H. A. Blow, and says this visit was to gratify a desire he has had for several years to visit his old birth place once more.

The changes that have taken place in the town were a surprise to him though he recognized some of the old land marks.

Guest and Host. The following is a list of delegates to the Presbytery and by whom they will be entertained, so far as could be ascertained up to the hour of going to press:

MINISTERS. Mr. C. M. Payne, Washington, guest of W. B. Wilson. Rev. C. N. Wharton, Warrenton, guest of F. J. James. Rev. W. T. Walker, guest of J. L. Wooten.

Dr. F. H. Johnston, Elizabeth City, guest of Hotel Macon. Rev. L. McLauren, Wilson and Ernest Wood, Newbern, guests of C. A. White.

Dr. W. D. Morton, Henderson and Rev. J. D. Morton, Tarboro, guests of Mrs. W. M. King. Rev. C. G. Vardell, Newbern, guest of Mrs. Gay at College Hotel.

Dr. Eugene Daniel and Prof. Dan D. Cole, Raleigh, guests of Alfred Forbes. Rev. F. D. Thomas, Rocky Mount, guest of D. J. Winchaker at King House. Rev. J. E. Thacker, Oxford, guest of J. R. Moore.

Capt. O. Williams, Tarboro, guest of W. L. Brown. Mr. McDonald, LaGrange, guest of J. L. Wooten.

Our people may expect their guests on the train this evening. The full list could not be made up in time to print today, but it is probable that all those who are to entertain delegates will have guest this evening, as some will come whose names were not sent in advance to the committee.

THE ROUSS ROBBERY.

Mr. R. E. Cox Entirely Exonerated.

There was considerable excitement here on Tuesday over an item in the New York World that came Monday night, giving particulars of a wholesale robbery of C. B. Rouss, the great New York merchant, and using the name of a young man named Cox among others implicated in it, who the people here at once recognized as being Mr. R. E. Cox, of Greenville. The REFLECTOR at the time refrained from mentioning the affair at all, feeling satisfied that so excellent a young man as Bob Cox could not possibly have been a party to such a crime, and not wishing to cause suspicion to rest upon him even for a moment we waited for further developments which all his friends believed would exonerate him.

The developments have come, and his friends are gratified that Bob is not only fully exonerated from any complicity with the crime, but has also been highly commended for the assistance he rendered the detectives in working up the case for his employer. His father, Mr. W. H. Cox, Wednesday night received the following letter from the detective in charge of the case which fully explains itself:

NEW YORK CITY, Aug. 27, 1895. Mr. W. H. Cox.

DEAR SIR:—I write you this in justice to your son, who owing to my mistake in judgment, has been temporarily involved in trouble at Rouss', but who is now all right and again in the employ of the firm, however, in another capacity, that of detective, working in conjunction with Mr. Rouss, Jr. and myself. Your son not knowing the character of one Hyman with whom he roomed, brought himself by that act under my suspicion, and as I at that time had sole charge of the case against the "crooks" in the store and knowing and having evidence of Hyman's "crookedness" erroneously on the old theory "birds of a feather, etc.," reported your son, not having any evidence against him whatever except as stated above. Of course he was a total stranger to me and I did not know his true character or I would never draw him into the case.

After we found our mistake we made him the offer and Mr. Rouss requested him to assist us in the pursuit of the criminals, and owing to his efforts a sum of money was paid into the store today from stolen goods which would never have been recovered except for his energy and persistency in looking it up.

When he assumed the role of detective he of course left the store for outside work, and the ignorant carrier boys and knowing, but malicious clerks, associated his name with that of the "crooks" and by statements to reporters got his name into the papers as if he were in connection with them which pained him very much, but which we will rectify at once. I will say that it will not be long before all parties will be brought to justice.

Yours with respect, MARK BEAUREGARD With C. B. Rouss.

Marriage Licenses. During last week Register of Deeds King issued marriage licenses to seven couples, one more than had been issued all together in the three weeks previous. The total number for August was thirteen, six for white couples and seven for colored.

White—W. C. Askew and Bettie Bulcher, Lawrence Lunier and Maggie Hyman, G. R. Williams, son and Emma E. Philpot, B. M. Whitehurst and Lena Tyson, Frank Carraway and Maggie Rodgers, W. H. Henson and Hannah Jones.

Colored—John Williams and Colored Whitfield, Henry Duff and Claudia Clark, Lemon Pittman and Germantha James, Thos Webb and Manda Clark, D. I. Whitehead and Emily Smith, Alonzo Walters and Nancy Edwards, Bill Moore and Hattie Daniel.

He Saw and Went Believing. A gentleman from another State who has been on a visit to Greenville, said to us before leaving, "I have been reading the REFLECTOR regularly, and admit that I was somewhat skeptical over your reports of the Greenville tobacco market, and thought that you must be overdrawn there. But since coming here, and seeing for myself I am ready to confess that you have not said one word too much. The market is all you claim for it—the best in the State."

If there is any one else possessing doubts about the Greenville market, let him follow the example of this gentleman, come and see for himself, and he will be convinced that there is no over-drawing in what the REFLECTOR says about it.

Shoots at an Officer.

This morning Chief of Police Perkins arrested B. L. Cooper and was taking him to the guard house. When he stopped to unlock the prison door Cooper drew a pistol and fired twice at the officer, but neither shot struck him. The officer knocked Cooper down and took the pistol. Cooper was drinking.

Cooper was tried before Mayor Forbes, this afternoon, for violation of town ordinance, and fined a penny and costs. He was then taken before a Magistrate under four State warrants, two for carrying concealed weapons, one for resisting officer and one for assault with intent to kill. In three of these cases he was bound over to court in the sum of $200 each, and in the case of assault with intent to kill the bond was placed at $300. Upon failure to give these bonds he was committed to jail. Court will commence the third Monday in September.

Wednesday evening Dr. W. H. Bagwell was summoned to the jail to dress a wound done on B. L. Cooper's arm. The doctor went and found a bullet lodged just above Cooper's left wrist. It develops that in attempting to shoot the policeman that morning Cooper shot a ball into his own arm.

St. Paul's Mission Band. On Friday evening, Aug. 23rd, the members of St. Paul's Mission Band with a number of invited guests assembled at the residence of the President, to take part in one of the most enjoyable social gatherings ever held in this community. An interesting program consisting of music, readings and recitations were rendered, and the history of the work of the band since its organization was read by the President, Miss Bessie Jarvis. A short address by Mr. W. S. Bernard setting forth the purpose of the band and the methods of work followed. In concluding he extended an invitation to all guests present and five responded and were enrolled as members of the band.

The remainder of the evening was spent in conversation and music. Later, refreshments were served, and when good nights were said hearty expressions of pleasure assured the committee of arrangements that increased interest in the work of the band had rewarded their efforts.

Change must be scarce, judging from the numbers of people going around with bills trying to get silver for them.

Millionaire or Billionaire?

We must participate, with permission of the Yankees, in their delirium that a lady worth forty million pounds a year will shortly visit New York. She may, naturally, while steamers are temptingly running 'twixt America and England in six days, find it seductive to take a look at London, where she would, indeed be a somebody and find all the shops kept open day and night on purpose to oblige her. The lady in question is a Chilian of the name of Soledad de Cousin. She is fortunately a woman of mature years—the chances of her eloping are, therefore, lessened, while the chances of the old boys are increased. She ranks as the richest woman in the world, and who is her male equal? She is a woman of excellent culture and business capacity—these diminish the chances of the fortune hunters; she must be won for his worth. The senator's tastes are simple, but accurate. She is great on the subject of mines and ranches, and does not delight in grand dinners. This is all that is known as yet of the manifold millionaire, and naturally, as such, most adorable of women—London Court Journal.

THE EXPERIMENT STATION

Some species of trees are more exempt than others from insect attack. In setting out new trees these species should be given the preference. Among such and well adapted to our climate may be named, Red Mulberry, Tulip tree, Sweet and Sour Gums, Sugar Maple and Red Maple—Gerald McCarly, Entomologist, Experiment Station.

The Experiment Station Bulletin.

The standing offer is made to send the bulletins of the station to all in the state who really desire to receive them. They are specially prepared to be serviceable as far as possible to the practical farmer. Thousands of farmers have already taken advantage of this offer. Unless you really want to be benefited please do not apply for them as we have none to throw away. If you desire to receive them, write on postal card to Dr. H. R. Battle, Director, Raleigh, N. C.

North Carolina Weather During 1894.

The North Carolina Experiment Station has issued an attractively bound work entitled "North Carolina Weather during the year 1894." It contains lists of results of meteorological and other observations of the state weather service during that year. The volume embraces 256 pages and includes a carefully prepared index and table of contents. It describes the work of the state weather service and through its several agencies, how it benefits the people of the state. The agencies are the meteorological observing stations, the signal display stations, and crop reporting systems. The latter distributed weekly the weather crop bulletin for twenty-five issues, the signal stations display flags to note the coming of cold waves and frost warnings and changes in the weather, while the observing stations furnished observations for the purpose of ascertaining the general climate and weather. Another branch of the service which will prove of value is the flood warning system, by which people living on the low grounds of certain rivers are warned of the approach of floods. The number of places supplied with weather reports is 1,500. The crop correspondents report for the weekly weather crop bulletin numbered 350 from all of the 96 counties. The meteorological observing stations numbered 75 from all parts of the state.

Feeding Calves.

Two calves from grade Jersey heifers were left on their dams until six and three days old respectively. The first day from dams, the calves were fed fresh milk. The second day nothing in it. The second day 1/2 mother's milk and 1/2 separated milk was fed. This proportion of mixing was continued five days. Then one pound of fresh milk to four pounds of separated milk was fed. The third day of fresh milk was reduced to one pound each of separated milk twice daily with one ounce of ground oats stirred into each mess.

Acid Phosphate of Different Grades.

If you find any of the following questions you will greatly oblige a number of farmers in this section: One analyzes 12 per cent, the other 18 per cent. Compare them and more than 100 other. Say that the dealer makes $1.00 difference in price: which is the cheaper acid to the farmer?

Acid Phosphate of Different Grades.

Some claim that there is an excess of acid in most of the phosphates. This is not true when bought to compound with other ingredients. It is not true that 10 per cent acid is not so good as 12 per cent. Take a sample of fertilizer analyzing a large percentage of moisture. Does it contain the mechanical conditions? Suppose a fertilizer of 12 per cent acid and 10 per cent phosphoric acid is compared with a fertilizer of 18 per cent acid and 12 per cent phosphoric acid. The matter of greater weight of bulky materials in the 12 per cent article makes the latter somewhat better for the purpose. Do not be misled by the above prices for phosphoric acid. It is not so simple as it seems. The 12 per cent article is better than any article of lower grade. The terms in percentages are not to be taken as a guide, but if the meaning is kept well before one it is not so apt to be misunderstood. This ten per cent means 15 pounds of available phosphoric acid in every 100 pounds of the goods; 10 per cent article means 12 pounds less than the 12 per cent article.

Acid Phosphate of Different Grades.

A sample of fertilizer containing a large percentage of moisture in drying will not lose any of the other materials. The weight of the whole in bulk is less by the amount of drying, but the original weight of the material in the 100 pound as first weighed will still be there, although there may not be 100 pounds of the goods. But the analysis of the Fertilizer Control is generally made from samples taken after drying has taken place, and the de-

A Missing Vase.

It turns out that the Peachblow vase is not in the art collection of the late Mr. Walters, of Baltimore, in whose possession it had been supposed to be. This famous little jug, which was intrinsically worth about two cents and which was sold at auction at the Morgan sale for about eight years ago for $12,000, has disappeared from view as completely as if it had been buried in the earth. It looks very much as if the purchaser, whoever he was, was not proud of his judgment or of his investment.—Boston Herald.

A Large Estate.

Archduke Albrecht of Austria left $125,000,000 of property. His landed estates go to his nephew, Archduke Frederick. They comprise 516,000 acres in Hungary, Silesia, Bohemia, Bavaria and Galicia, an extent of territory larger than that of more than half of the German states. His personal estate amounts to $50,000,000, and goes to his daughter, Archduchess Maria Theresia, wife of Duke Philipp of Wurttemberg.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
