

JOB PRINTING

The Reflector is prepared to do all work of this line

NEATLY, QUICKLY, and IN BEST STYLE.

Plenty of new material and the best quality of Stationery.

THE BIRD WITH BROKEN WING.

One day a convict in Joliet prison picked up a scrap of paper from the color on which were these lines: I walked through the wood-lane meadows. Where the sweet thyme was singing. And I found on a bed of mosses, a bird with a broken wing.

I healed its wound, and each morning I sang its old sweet strain: A bird with a broken wing. I found a young life broken by sin's sequestered art. And, touched with the Christ-like pity, I took it to my heart.

He lived with a noble purpose, And struggled not in vain; But the life that sin had stricken Never soared so high again.

He lived with a noble purpose, And struggled not in vain; But the life that sin had stricken Never soared so high again.

The Poverty of the Pulpit.

It is not often that the secular editors (if so we may call them) get an opportunity to "talk back" to the preachers. The editor must take his medicine "like a little man."

The poverty of the pulpit is open confession when such subjects as the "New Woman" or "The Whisk" are announced for the purpose of drawing the crowd.

There is an old little town on Johnson Island, in the Mississippi River, just north of Memphis. It is a negro town and is owned by a negro planter.

There is an old little town on Johnson Island, in the Mississippi River, just north of Memphis. It is a negro town and is owned by a negro planter.

There is an old little town on Johnson Island, in the Mississippi River, just north of Memphis. It is a negro town and is owned by a negro planter.

There is an old little town on Johnson Island, in the Mississippi River, just north of Memphis. It is a negro town and is owned by a negro planter.

There is an old little town on Johnson Island, in the Mississippi River, just north of Memphis. It is a negro town and is owned by a negro planter.

There is an old little town on Johnson Island, in the Mississippi River, just north of Memphis. It is a negro town and is owned by a negro planter.

There is an old little town on Johnson Island, in the Mississippi River, just north of Memphis. It is a negro town and is owned by a negro planter.

There is an old little town on Johnson Island, in the Mississippi River, just north of Memphis. It is a negro town and is owned by a negro planter.

There is an old little town on Johnson Island, in the Mississippi River, just north of Memphis. It is a negro town and is owned by a negro planter.

There is an old little town on Johnson Island, in the Mississippi River, just north of Memphis. It is a negro town and is owned by a negro planter.

There is an old little town on Johnson Island, in the Mississippi River, just north of Memphis. It is a negro town and is owned by a negro planter.

There is an old little town on Johnson Island, in the Mississippi River, just north of Memphis. It is a negro town and is owned by a negro planter.

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1895.

TERMS: $1.00 per year, in Advance.

Weather Crop Bulletin.

The reports of correspondents of the Weekly Weather Crop Bulletin, issued by the North Carolina State Weather Service, for the week ending Saturday, September 15, 1895, indicate generally a very favorable week for work and for ripening of crops.

EASTERN DISTRICT.

The past week was a most favorable one. Excepting Monday and Tuesday, which were rather cool, the temperature has been above normal. The week was dry, excepting local rains on 1st and 4th in some of the southern counties of the district.

Tennessee's Anti-Negro Town.

There is an old little town on Johnson Island, in the Mississippi River, just north of Memphis. It is a negro town and is owned by a negro planter.

A Little Boy Kills Himself.

William Miller Huff, the five-year-old son of John G. Huff, a prominent citizen of Hartwood, York county, met with a sad death last Saturday while in the room alone.

Don'ts and Do's For the Baby.

Do keep your baby clean. Do give him pure air at all times. Do let him have a few spoonfuls of water several times a day.

Don'ts and Do's For the Baby.

Do not let anyone jostle and shake and tickle him. Do not keep him so warm that he cannot sleep. Babies, as a rule are bundled up too much.

Don'ts and Do's For the Baby.

Do not neglect him, and then, when he cries, for some needed attention say that he is a "cross, bad-tempered little rascal." A healthy baby seldom cries when he wants his properly filled, and a sickly one certainly has a perfect right to make life a burden to those who allowed it to become so.

LONG LIVES HAVE THEY

Com. hearken to my ditty. 'Tis a mild and simple strain About a man who lived long. Who went to war with Spain, Oh, he was a doughty patriot.

Blasts from the Ram's Horn.

Love never loses by being tested. Truth loves to be looked in the face.

Eternity is the infinite expansion of time. The world cannot frown away a soul's smile.

The wrong side is never the sales' side. Monopoly keeps prices up and wages down.

Mothers have taught the world how to pray. Nicodemus should come to Christ by day.

Death is the open door to large opportunities. To grow in grace we must walk as well as pray.

Before we can pray right we must first do right. Pat truth in a picture, and you help God to speak.

Jesus never tried to make a disciple by argument. Sin cannot be hidden, because God never shuts his eyes.

No man can speak for God except he to whom God has spoken. Our hardest battles are those we fight with ourselves.

When Christ enters the heart, it must be by the front door. We can make any kind of hard work easy by doing it for God.

The world owes no man a living who is not willing to work for it. No young man takes his first drink alone if you don't kill your besetting sin it will kill you.

By ways leading to hell are very close together in a great city. Gotten Away from It.

Somebody once wrote a prophecy of a time in the distant future when, by the united efforts of lawyers and lawmakers, the statutes of the country will be written in such simple language and made so easy and a promise of application that the code of law will be given to school children as a text book to instruct them at once in the correct use of language and in the requirements of the law.

A new law went into effect last week in the State of New York making it a misdemeanor punishable with imprisonment to marry a girl under eighteen without the consent of her parents.

According to the common law, and (so far as we know) according to the law of every State in the Union no person, male or female, under the age of twenty-one can make an ordinary business contract.

Mr. C. W. Hoover, of Barringer township, reports that he killed a few days ago, 38 snakes at one lick. He thought that there was only one—a copper head—when he began business, but when he struck the blow 37 little fellows showed up.

The Abuse of Witnesses.

Public attention in Virginia was very distinctly called in the trial of the Massey suit at Norfolk to the abuse of witnesses permitted by the Court. It derived peculiar emphasis in that case from the general interest growing out of the prominence of the parties to the suit.

Appendicitis.

The pendulum is swinging back to the true center again in the matter of the treatment of this disease. It is now the medical profession to cut and slash every one who had the semblance of a symptom of this disease.

Some Curious People. A Florida negro is growing fat on snake storks.

A Baptist preacher in Georgia refuses to baptize converts except in running water.

Michigan has a man who is so fat that he can't fall down hard enough to hurt himself. He is known as the human spheroid.

A Mississippi woman who chews tobacco and drinks whiskey thinks that women have all the rights they need.

A South Carolina widow became her own mother-in-law recently. That is to say, she is now the wife of her husband's father.

"Mortgage the farm, if necessary to send the boy to college" says the Religious Herald. "Mortgage the farm for nothing on earth" says the Biblical Recorder.

When a man is drowning a fine often saves him. Similarly, when a merchant's trade is at very low ebb a line in a widely read paper is often the first means towards business revival.

Statistics from the Treasury Department show a decline in the number of immigrants coming to the United States from foreign shores. The new laws debarring paupers and criminals is one of the causes bringing about this result.

An Unfortunate Little Girl. Dear Mr. Editor—I have written a novel in 3 volumes, and if you will take great care of it and not let it get dirty, you may read it. As it is a psychological (sic) novel, and I have taken great pains with it I think you ought to pay me something large for it—perhaps 5 pounds. I want a new frock, and the money would be nice. I have tried before to write, but the world is dreadfully unkind to me, and indeed I have sometimes suspected that there is a conspiracy against me. But I thought, Mr. Editor, that you would be fair. My life has been of no use up to now, and I am 16, so, dear Mr. Editor, please write soon to your little friend.—Good Words.

A most wonderful occurrence has taken place in New York—a Congressman from that city has resigned! He was elected last November, and as the time draws near for him to go to Washington he has decided that he can do more good at home and has resigned. It is needless to add that so useful and unselfish a man is an Editor.—Pittsburg Record.

Justice of the Peace. Notwithstanding the warrant reads a fine of $100, the officer arrested Moore and took him before the magistrate who issued it. He was given a hearing and sentenced to the chain gang for 30 days.—Statesville Landmark.

STATE NEWS.

Record of Matters of General Interest. Large catches of mullets are reported on the coast. A tax valuation of New Hanover county last year was $32,916 in the 1894 returns over the returns of 1894.

The Tabernacle Sunday School of Raleigh is said to be the largest in the State. It has 1,086 members and a good orchestra, including a piano and organ.

A little child of W. George Warwick, of Wayne county, fell into a boiling pot of water last week and was scalded so severely that it died soon after.—Clinton Democrat.

Mr. Frank Kennedy caught seven hundred mullets of Ocran View yesterday. It is said there was school after school passing, going south. The fishermen say this means cold weather.—Wilmington Star.

Richard Wilson, the 7-year-old son of T. J. Wilson, Jr., tobacco manufacturer of Winston, was run over and killed by a street-car Wednesday. The little fellow was returning from dinner to school and in attempting to cross the track, when the car was close to him, fell and the car passed over his body, nearly severing it in two. Both arms were cut off.

An Innocent Abroad. The Philadelphia American in reply to the charge of Editor Thorne in his magazine, Today, that the negroes are lazy says: Has it never occurred to Mr. Thorne that there are white people in the south who might well lead an ear to heaven's call for workers? Has he never reflected that it is the whites of the south who are lazy, and not the negroes alone?

It is not infrequently that the attorney, in default of having impeached the witness by evidence, proceeds to impeach him on his own account by attacks on his character, honesty and general character, which attacks, often served, they are intended, to create the impression with the jury that they are founded on something more than the audacity of the man who utters them.

We are glad to bear testimony to the industry and thrift of our southern negroes, but The American is very blind indeed if it cannot see that the whites of the south have been hard at work with their sleeves rolled up ever since the war.

In the field, the factory, the counting room and in every useful occupation the confederate veterans and their sons are putting in about as many hours of solid work every day as any other set of men on the face of the earth.

The editor of The American should read the census reports, and see the magnificent results of southern progress in the past quarter of a century.

Or, better still, let him come down to our exposition and see what we are doing.—Atlanta Journal.

Some Curious People. A Florida negro is growing fat on snake storks.

A Baptist preacher in Georgia refuses to baptize converts except in running water.

Michigan has a man who is so fat that he can't fall down hard enough to hurt himself. He is known as the human spheroid.

A Mississippi woman who chews tobacco and drinks whiskey thinks that women have all the rights they need.

A South Carolina widow became her own mother-in-law recently. That is to say, she is now the wife of her husband's father.

"Mortgage the farm, if necessary to send the boy to college" says the Religious Herald. "Mortgage the farm for nothing on earth" says the Biblical Recorder.

When a man is drowning a fine often saves him. Similarly, when a merchant's trade is at very low ebb a line in a widely read paper is often the first means towards business revival.

Statistics from the Treasury Department show a decline in the number of immigrants coming to the United States from foreign shores. The new laws debarring paupers and criminals is one of the causes bringing about this result.

An Unfortunate Little Girl. Dear Mr. Editor—I have written a novel in 3 volumes, and if you will take great care of it and not let it get dirty, you may read it. As it is a psychological (sic) novel, and I have taken great pains with it I think you ought to pay me something large for it—perhaps 5 pounds. I want a new frock, and the money would be nice. I have tried before to write, but the world is dreadfully unkind to me, and indeed I have sometimes suspected that there is a conspiracy against me. But I thought, Mr. Editor, that you would be fair. My life has been of no use up to now, and I am 16, so, dear Mr. Editor, please write soon to your little friend.—Good Words.

A most wonderful occurrence has taken place in New York—a Congressman from that city has resigned! He was elected last November, and as the time draws near for him to go to Washington he has decided that he can do more good at home and has resigned. It is needless to add that so useful and unselfish a man is an Editor.—Pittsburg Record.

Justice of the Peace. Notwithstanding the warrant reads a fine of $100, the officer arrested Moore and took him before the magistrate who issued it. He was given a hearing and sentenced to the chain gang for 30 days.—Statesville Landmark.

WILL SHE?

When the coming woman gets here Will she offer up her seat? Will she offer her umbrella, When there's rain or snow or sleet? Will she help to in the wagon? Will she lend her fishing hook? Will she stop to lend the water? Will she wash the muddy brook? Will she seize a nail and rescue When the boltly chaise is hot? Will she push the wisest mover Every eve and make no fuss? Will she run the locomotive, Shovel coal and handle brakes? Will she level mound and forest? Carry bottles for the smoker? Will she march to bloody battle, Snap her fingers at the heart? Well, I guess not—she will merely Hide behind her husband's skirts, —Joe Coon in New York Sun.

A Shoplifter's Ruse. A well dressed woman recently entered a Paris jeweler's shop and asked to see some valuable gold pins, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. While she was examining them a man began playing a barrel organ before the door. The music seemed to annoy the lady, and stopping to the door she threw a piece of money to the man and told him to go away, which he did at once.

On returning to the counter she said that none of the pins suited her, but that as some compensation for the trouble she had given she would buy a brooch. She accordingly chose one, paid 10 francs for it and was leaving the shop when the jeweler missed a diamond pin of great value from among those she had been examining.

He accordingly stopped his customer, who seemed highly indignant and insisted on the jeweler's wife searching her, which was done, but no pin was found. The jeweler sent his sister to watch the woman, who was seen to enter another jeweler's shop and was pretending to make a purchase when the organ grinder made his appearance.

As soon as he began playing she again threw him some money and ordered him to move on, but the person who was watching her perceived that with the money she had given the man a piece of jewelry.

This was at once made known to the police, who arrested both and found on the man several articles of stolen jewelry.

Light Penitency of England. The chief thing about the great republic is, after all, that it is very big, but one little itaglio, found at Delhi or Olympia, is of more interest, in one way, and infinitely more fascinating. The opprobrium of gigantic newness lies upon the American continent, and there are numbers of Americans who would exchange all New York, and Chicago into the bargain, for one ancient monastery or one battlemented fortress of the past.

Our transatlantic people, but they cannot show a single antiquity, unless they have imported it from the old world. It is not surprising, then, that as soon as they have "made their pile," or are on the way to making it, the first thing Americans think of is a visit to Europe, and most of all, to the old land. It has been said that the strongest wish of every American is to be an Englishman. But, if they only knew it, they are Englishmen.—London Standard.

Paid the Penalty of Stupidity. The late Lord Exeter's father was a Tory of the most bigoted and intolerant type, and he worked irreparable harm to his family by his fatuous opposition to the Great Northern railway.

It was intended to carry the main line through Stamford, but Lord Exeter's senseless pertinacity in obstinately rejecting all proposals caused the directors to change their plans. The line was therefore taken through Peterboro, to the great advantage of that city, which reaped all the benefits that Lord Exeter had declined for Stamford.

The end of the matter was that in a few years Lord Exeter was obliged to construct at his own expense a branch line from Stamford to Essendon on the Great Northern, but this has not proved a lucrative speculation, nor has Stamford or the Burghley estate derived much benefit from it.

Lord Exeter also embarrassed himself by keeping a large and costly racing stud and by a too extravagant mode of living, so that the family estates were considerably impoverished when he died in 1867 and he had alienated the London property. His reception of the queen and Prince Albert at Burghley in 1844 cost a frightful sum, which he could ill afford. Some of the art treasures have been sold, but the stately house still contains Verrio's finest ceilings, the superb carvings by Grinling Gibbons and some noble works by Holbein and Carlo Dolce.—London Truth.

When the tomb of Henry VI of Sicily, who died in 1197, was opened at Palermo, 40 years ago, it was found that on the feet of the dead monarch were shoes whose uppers were of cloth embroidered with gold and pearls, while the soles were of cork.

No virtue fades out of mankind. Not overjoyful by inborn temperament, cautious by long experience, I yet never despair of human virtue.—Theodore Parker.

A. Quinn Doyle, when he said that he did not understand woman, probably never thought that the majority of mankind would arise and say "ditto!"

Right Position For a Chest Protector. A throat specialist says the best chest protector is worn on the sole of the foot.—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

How the Amazing Habit of Forgetfulness May Be Broken. A habit of forgetting is one of the greatest hindrances in all business and social relations, but our modern style of life and education is certainly injurious to the memory.

The memory is a matter of common experience that we remember the events of our early youth more forcibly than those of even a few months back. It is possible to begin to cultivate the memory as soon as a child can talk, when it should be made to describe everything it has seen during its morning walk, or to repeat some little story that has been told to it, or a short lesson that has been learned.

Every teacher before beginning a new lesson should make sure that the lesson of the day before has been retained and understood, for the more we overwork the little brain in the attempt to force knowledge upon it the less we impress upon it for future use. It is the experience of all those who have crammed for examinations that as soon as the examination is over the undigested knowledge passes away, and similarly through life. Unless an item of knowledge is assimilated it becomes as useless to the mental system as an undigested article of food to the bodily system, and in both cases they act as an irritant, interfering with the proper digestion of other matters.

In a well ordered mind facts remain and points are, as it were, pigeonholed in such a way that they can be brought out immediately when required. There are untidy brains, in which the objects or knowledge is confused and not ready at hand, so that it may turn up at unexpected moments, but not just when wanted, in the same manner as there are untidy drawers, wardrobes and rooms, and to cultivate a habit of mental order as well as one of physical order should be the earnest desire of every mother and teacher.—Home Notes.

Thomas Carlyle on Justice and Success. In this God's world, with its wild whirling eddies and mad foam oceans, where men and nations perish as if without laws and judgment for an unjust thing is sternly delayed, dost thou think that there is therefore no justice? It is what the fool hath said in his heart. It is what the wise in all times were wise because they denied and know forever not to be. I tell you again there is nothing else but justice. One strong thing I find here below—the just thing, the true thing. My friend, if thou hast all the artillery of Woolwich trundling at thy back in support of an unjust thing and infinite bonfires visibly waiting ahead of thee to blaze into cinders long for thy victory on behalf of it, I would advise thee to call halt, to ding down thy baton and say in God's name, "No!"

Thy "success?" Poor devil, what wilt this success amount to? If the thing is unjust, thou hast not succeeded. No, not though bonfires be blazed from north to south, and bells rang, and editors wrote leading articles, and the just thing lay trampled out of sight to all mortal eyes an abolished and annihilated thing. Success? In a few years thou wilt be dead and dark—all cold, eyes dead, deaf, no blaze of bonfires, dingdong of bells, visible or audible to thee again at all forever. What kind of success is that?—Thomas Carlyle, "Past and Present."

County School. When the tomb of Henry VI of Sicily, who died in 1197, was opened at Palermo, 40 years ago, it was found that on the feet of the dead monarch were shoes whose uppers were of cloth embroidered with gold and pearls, while the soles were of cork.

No virtue fades out of mankind. Not overjoyful by inborn temperament, cautious by long experience, I yet never despair of human virtue.—Theodore Parker.

A. Quinn Doyle, when he said that he did not understand woman, probably never thought that the majority of mankind would arise and say "ditto!"

Right Position For a Chest Protector. A throat specialist says the best chest protector is worn on the sole of the foot.—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

You Need The Reflector this year will give the news every week for $1 a year.

LOCAL DIRECTORY.

COUNTY OFFICERS. Superior Court Clerk, E. A. Moyer, Sheriff, R. W. King. Register of Deeds, W. M. King. Treasurer, J. L. Little. Coroner, Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse. Surveyor, Commissioners—C. Dawson, chm'n, Leonidas Fleming, T. E. Keel, Jesse L. Smith and S. M. Jones. Supt. Health, Dr. W. H. Bagwell. Supt. County Home, J. W. Smith. County Examiner of Teachers—Prof. W. H. Ragsdale.

TOWN OFFICERS.

Mayor, Ola Forbes. Clerk, C. C. Forbes. Treasurer, W. T. Godwin. Police—J. W. Perkins, chief, Fred. Cox, asst.; J. W. Murphy, night. Councilmen—W. H. Smith, W. L. Brown, W. T. Godwin, T. A. Wilks, Ousey Ruth, Julius Jenkins.

CHURCHES.

Baptist. Services every Sunday (except second onoring and night. Prayer meeting Thursday night. Rev. C. M. Billings, pastor. Sunday school at 9:30 A. M. G. D. Rountree, Supt. Catholic. No regular services. Episcopal. Services every fourth Sunday morning and night. Rev. A. Graves, Rector. Sunday school at 9:30 A. M. J. W. Brown, Supt. Methodist. Services every Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Rev. G. F. Smith, pastor. Sunday school at 9:30 A. M. A. B. Ellington, Supt. Presbyterian. Services every 1st and 3rd Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting Tuesday night. Rev. Archie McLain, pastor. Sunday school at 9:30 A. M. B. D. Evans, Supt.

LODGES.

Convant Lodge No. 17, I. O. O. F., meets every Tuesday night. D. D. Hackett, N. G. Greenville Lodge No. 281 A. F. & A. M. meets first and third Monday nights. Zeno Moore, W. M.

Professional Cards

D. R. D. L. JAMES, DENTIST, GREENVILLE, N. C.

DR. H. A. JOYNER, DENTIST,

Greenville, N. C. Office up stairs over S. E. Pender & Co. Hardware store.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

J. E. MOORE, L. I. MOORE, WILLIAMSON, GREENVILLE, MOORE & MOORE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, GREENVILLE, N. C. Office under Opera House, Third S.

There are now 358 patients in the insane asylum at Raleigh—the largest number since it was established. There are 154 males and 204 females. The great majority of them are country people of middle age. Wake has the largest number and Cumberland the next largest. Since December 1st last there have been 101 admissions.

Is it not strange that a man worth a million dollars should be so greedy for more that he would stoop to the grossest kind of fraud just to add a few dollars to his pile? Yet such is the case. John B. Manning, who is 65 years old, a millionaire and a Wall street speculator in bank stocks and bonds, has been charged with using chemicals to remove the endorsements on the backs of bonds held by him and selling them for new bonds. The old man had better been thinking about dying.

Will the town authorities and business men of Greenville continue to submit to the unfavorable criticism of strangers and all others who travel the street, Dickerson avenue, leading from the centre of town to the depot and to the greatest tobacco market that eastern North Carolina has? It is a great mistake that our leading thoroughfare should remain in the condition it is now in. Steps should be taken at once to improve the street. The winter will soon be upon us and every one knows how bad this street was last year, and how bad it will be again unless worked upon. It can be made a pleasure to drive over it and should not be longer neglected.

It seems to that us the silver convention called to meet in Raleigh on the 25th will be considerably mixed. The following two calls or cards appeared in the Caucasian of Sept 11th.

WHEREAS, A number of citizens have signified their desire to have a non-partisan Free Silver State Convention be composed of persons of all parties who believe that the unit of value which existed prior to 1873 should be promptly restored, and all who believe in the immediate, free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1, irrespective of the policy of any other nation; we hereby express our approval of such a convention, and call upon those who believe in the above step toward a proper financial system to meet in Raleigh on the 25th inst., for the purpose of consultation. W. H. Worth, J. J. Mott, Harry Skinner, J. M. Moody, A. C. Shuford, F. S. Lusk, W. F. Strowd.

A call having been made for a non-partisan State Free Silver Convention, inviting all persons of all political parties, who favor the free, independent and unlimited coinage of silver and gold into full, legal tender dollars at the ratio of 16 to 1, to meet in Raleigh September 25th and inasmuch as such a convention will be on the line of the work started by the Memphis Silver Convention, and will tend to get all true friends of silver together under one banner to fight the foreign gold trust and its American Tory allies; therefore, we hereby favor the holding of such a non-partisan silver convention, and call upon the "honest money free silver clubs of the State and all other persons who favor the objects of said clubs to attend Marion Butler, member of the National Committee of the Memphis Convention for N. C., R. F. Keith, Vice-President, Memphis Convention for North Carolina.

Later comes the report that, J. C. Logan Harris will take fifty negroes to the convention and attempt to organize a new party. He, it is said expects to introduce the following resolution.

"That a committee of 15 be appointed by this convention, which shall issue an address to the voters of the nation who are in favor of remonetization of silver at the ratio 16 to 1, urging them to meet at some convenient point for the purpose of effecting an organization, the sole mission of which shall be the remonetization of silver at 16 to 1, and that when this great object has been attained each individual who has contributed thereto shall be at liberty to return to the party organization with which he has acted, it not being intended to disrupt or impair any political organization further than to attain the object herein set forth."

This is too much mixed for us. Free silver, if it ever comes will come through the Democratic party.

The Tobacco Department

Conducted by O. L. Joyner, Proprietor Eastern Tobacco Warehouse.

Court and the tobacco breaks both will make this a lively week. The Planters Warehouse sold some tobacco at $1 a pound Thursday.

Monday five solid cars of tobacco and three cars of lumber, besides much other freight, were shipped from Greenville.

Farmers are beginning to learn to bring their tobacco in the over night. A very good idea. The Planters warehouse is still holding her own with big breaks and high prices.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday—any sales day—you will find the Eastern Warehouse in the lead. Prices always on top.

The purchases of one tobacco buyer on the Greenville market for last week amounted to just 100,000 pounds. This is the largest purchase yet made in one week by a single firm.

Friday sales for this week were no larger than some other days of the week. Every day has become a big day now and the farmers pick no special day to come.

No new bale of cotton has come to this market yet. There is plenty open on some farms to get a bale, but our farmers are looking after their tobacco first.

A gentleman from another town in which there is a tobacco market said to the editor of the REFLECTOR, "I wish we had you and your paper in our town."

Farmers were at the Eastern Warehouse [Friday] from Martin, Beaufort, Craven, Wilson and Greene counties, beside the multitude from Pitt. Good prices being given.

We do not believe any tobacco market anywhere can show a more clever and gentlemanly corps of buyers than are to be found on the Greenville market. And they are business men from the world over.

One of the tobacco buyers remarked that if the whole town stood up for the Greenville tobacco market and the progress of the town like the REFLECTOR does, you would see things here here sure enough.

Goldboro, Kinston and Nashville are the new tobacco markets that open in eastern North Carolina this year. In the opinion of all thinking tobaccoists, Greenville will be the eastern Carolina market what Danville is to the two bright tobacco producing States.

Mr. B. F. Patrick finished curing his tobacco crop, 65 bams, on Friday. His cure, Mr. Cozart, before leaving for his home in Person county, said Mr. Patrick's crop was the best all through he ever saw. Only one bam of the crop has been sold so far, and one bam was destroyed by fire while curing.

A planter said on the breaks Friday: "I was in Tarboro yesterday and they told me there that the Greenville market had broke all to pieces, but I see from prices here to-day it looks anything else but broke." Wonder if that is the way our neighbor town is trying to establish a market.

The war between the American Tobacco Company and the western plug manufacturers seems to be growing warmer daily. The American Company has been pushing one of its plug brands and put the price as low as eleven cents to jobbers and fifteen cents to retailers, while it is said that Sorg, the Ohio manufacturer, has contracted for thirty thousand bicycles which they will give away as premiums. While all this is going on we would drop the gentle hint to all the cigarette manufacturers that they had better begin to lay in a supply while the heavy seas are going on in the eastern markets. It will not be very long before the best cut selections will be made out of the eastern crop.

A gentleman who had not been to Greenville in half a dozen years expressed utter astonishment at the scene that lay out before him when he stepped off the train Thursday evening. The tobacco warehouses, prize houses and many other buildings that have gone up in these years were a wonder to him. That is the way all who come to Greenville are impressed. The town grows so fast that it surprises them all.

The tobacco market made a fine beginning Monday for another big week, there being the most tobacco here that has yet come in on a Monday. All the houses had good breaks, the floors of some of them being full. The cooler weather caused every body to move around more briskly, and the buyers having cleared off their heavy purchases of last week started off the sales with some lively bidding. The market is strong with a still higher range of prices.

The Greenville market Thursday had one of the best all through breaks that has yet taken place, every warehouse floor being taxed to its full capacity to handle all that was brought in. The sales started at the Eastern with a full floor at 9:30, and when they stopped for dinner that house a d only about two rows at the Greenville had been sold. After dinner the tremendous lot at the Greenville was finished, then the Star, which also had a full house, then the Planters with one of its usual fine breaks closing the sales. It was a sight worth looking upon, every house being full, and every one of them getting high prices, as here were the most clever, general set of gentlemen, polite and courteous to one another, that he had seen. He is not the only prominent tobaccoist that has been heard to make that remark and we feel proud to say that the compliment is a well merited one.

For sobriety, honesty and integrity we have a class of buyers

Mr. J. B. Cobb was heard to remark a few days ago, while in Greenville, that the tobacco buyer that can't be excelled in the State and we challenge the tobacco markets of the world that we have five of the youngest, brightest and handsomest tobacco buyers, that buy more tobacco, pay more money for it, follow a sale closer, stick to it longer, and complain of the worry and fatigue less than any five men that can be pitted against them anywhere. We have a good many more buyers but they are all men. The five above referred to are, J. W. Morgan, P. H. Gorman, B. E. Parham, George Fleming and J. W. Wiggins. The whole crowd will not average 120 pounds in weight and not one of them is thirty years old. But if they are not grown up men in avoirdupoise they have experienced and well developed business heads on their shoulders that rank them among the best business men of the country. Yes we are proud of our buyers, and it is a source of great pleasure to pay this very tribute to them. No man knows better how to appreciate the value of a good tobacco buyer and their services than the writer, and we repeat that last week was a time that tried tobacco men's souls, and through thick and thin they stood up like men, carrying no doubt a good deal of tobacco that on ordinary occasions they would have let go.

and join the so-called sound money crusade. I have stood by my convictions, and I do not think a defeat, if it must come in 1896, will change me. Those who heard me at Goldboro a year ago, will recall the fact that I stated then, we were, in my opinion, entering upon a contest between the great body of the people on the one hand, and the allied money power on the other which would be long and fierce. Concentrated power never voluntarily surrenders its grip upon popular rights. The Democratic party was ten years engaged in its heroic, patriotic efforts to reduce tariff taxation. I do not suppose that twenty per cent of the people were really interested in maintaining a high protective tariff, but that twenty per cent was concentrated and organized. Nor do I suppose that twenty per cent of the people are really interested in maintaining the single gold standard but that twenty per cent is concentrated and organized. After a long struggle the people became informed and organized on the tariff question and in 1892 the movement to reduce tariff taxation swept the country and now we hear it said in my section that the country has not been ruined as was predicted by those who fought the movement. So the movement to restore silver to its money functions as it existed prior to 1873 will go on whether it succeeds in 1896 or not till it finally triumphs, and then it will likewise be sure that the country has not been ruined by it as some now predict. Bi-metalism is the cause of the people. Yes, more, it is the cause of humanity and it must ultimately succeed. It may be after I am dead and gone but I want said of me that I fought on the side of humanity and the people.

EX-GOV. JARVIS' LETTER.

He Will Attend the Silver Convention in Raleigh, September 25th.

WEIGHTY WORDS OF WISDOM.

To the Editor of the News & Observer.

GREENVILLE, N. C., Sept. 9. I have read with interest and approval your editorial of a recent date on the "Buzz of the Blue Bottle," and I desire to heartily commend it to some of your brethren of the press. This seems to be a day in which wild rumor is running riot and hitherto political integrity counts for naught. It is only necessary for some fellow to start some story and for another fellow to put it in a newspaper and here it goes upon its rounds of gossip and defraction; and not one of these political gossipers seem to feel under the slightest obligation to ascertain what the truth of the matter is. Only a few days ago a friend sent me a clipping from some paper which purports to be a letter written from Morganton to the Caucasian in which the correspondent said that somebody else said that it was reported that I said "in the late Democratic silver conference in Washington that if I was forced to the alternative of voting for a gold bug candidate or a Populist, I would vote the Populist ticket." But for my very high regard for the man who sent me the clipping I would not think of paying any attention to such an idle, baseless rumor. Of course I say, as you well know, working out a plan of organization for the silver Democrats to work under what the outcome of that conference will be I do not know, but certainly I never thought of action as is outlined in this clipping in the event of the failure of the purpose of the Washington conference. In fact, I have never understood that the Populists are the peculiar friends and champions of silver. It is true in all their platforms, both State and National, they have, I think, inserted a demand for the free and unlimited coinage of silver, but they have made much more prominent their demands of one kind or another for a system of fiat money. I am aware of the fact that some of the more thoughtful of the leaders are in favor of dropping the sub-treasury and other fiat money demands and make the fight along the silver line; but up to this time no action of that kind has been taken by any authorized convention of which I have heard. In the early days of the party, if I remember aright, the burden of their demands and speeches was for the sub-treasury plan or something better, but all locking to a system of fiat money; so it seems to me that one is justified in saying that the Populist party, as a party, is more of a fiat money party, than a bi-metallic party. When it becomes a bi-metallic party, pure and simple, if it ever does, it will, in my humble opinion, become a much more interesting and powerful factor in the great bi-metallic fight which now confronts us. If the Southern and Western Democrats who are now making their fight for bi-metalism shall be compelled to fight the Populists who profess to be for silver, and the enemies of silver in and out of their own party and in this unequal contest shall be overpowered and driven from the field, then there is, as I assert, no political organization in existence able to wage a successful warfare against the organized money power of this country. The man who believes that the Populist party can do it, weighed down as it is with so many impracticable questions and led, in some States, by so many political cranks, is a very credulous man.

I do not belong to that hopeful class of persons who believe that the silver movement is sure to sweep the country in 1896, and hence I am not in the movement for personal gain. If I had been looking to self interest I would have done like many other Southern Democrats have done, abandoned what I taught and believed to be the interest of the people

My New Fall and Winter Goods are all in and I invite you to call and see them. Beautiful taste displayed in artistic finish and texture.

WEEKLY GREETING.

My New Fall and Winter Goods are all in and I invite you to call and see them. Beautiful taste displayed in artistic finish and texture.

MAMMOTH STOCK OF CLOTHING.

What I want

is to impress the minds of the general public that I advertise truthfully. I want your confidence. I want your trade. To get your trade I must offer you inducements that you cannot get elsewhere.

What you want

is to trade at the place where you get the best value for your money. I have given and do give you better value than any house in the city. I guarantee to fit and please you.

What everybody wants is to trade with a reliable, square, up-to-date concern that will appreciate your trade. All Fall Styles now ready. Come and see me and I will do you good.

—MY FALL AND WINTER STOCK OF—

DRY GOODS, NOTIONS, SHOES, BOOTS, HATS, CAPS AND GENTS FURNISHING GOODS ARE ALL IN AND OPEN FOR INSPECTION.

FRANK WILSON, The King Clothier.

EUGENE WILSON, ASHLEY WILSON, WILL JAMES. Salesmen, who will be glad to see you.

STOVES! STOVES!

I am now receiving my Fall Stock of Cooking and Heating Stoves.

My Cook Stoves are made by the Richmond Stove Co., and are as widely known as any Stove made. I have been handling them more than 9 years, and find that they are the Stove for the people. The Plow Boy, Seminole, Selmo, New Patron and New Lee. Price from $7.50 and up. I have the best $9.00, and $12.50 Stove ever sold on this market. With each Stove I give pipe and the fixtures to do the cooking for any family. I keep constantly on hand castings for the Stoves I sell. My Heating Pipe is made of the best Eastern Iron. My Heating Stoves are first class in every respect. The New Dixie, Comfort, Iron King, Pluto and Regal stand second to none. I buy Stoves Strictly for Cash and sell for Cash. I get off all the discounts possible and I give my customers the advantage of it in low prices. I have in stock, Doors, Sash, Glass, Putty, Oil, Lead, Axes, Nails, Belting, Rope, Saws, Tools, Iron Drive Pumps and Pipes and everything kept in a first class Hardware Store. I sell the Rumsey which is the heaviest Pump made. All are invited to look at my stock. My motto: "Buy for Cash sell for Cash."

D. D. HASKETT, GREENVILLE, N. C.

Wilson Military Academy.

In consequence of the removal of the Lafayette Military Academy from Fayetteville to Wilson, the name of this popular institution of learning will hereafter be known as Wilson Military Academy. The FALL TERM BEGINS WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1895. With greater facilities, better accommodations and equipments, and, if possible, brighter prospects, the school enters upon its third year with every indication of a much larger patronage and more general usefulness. The most thorough instruction is given in literary and commercial branches; and moral culture and physical training receive due attention. The Third Annual Announcement, containing full particulars, will be mailed to any address upon application. Address: Maj. J. W. YEREX, Supt., Wilson, N. C.

The Agricultural and Mechanical College for the Colored Race, at Greensboro, N. C.

The Fall Term will begin Wednesday, October 2nd, 1895. Examination for admission will be made Wednesday and Thursday, October 2nd and 3rd. Examination of county students will be made in each county by the county examiner on the first Saturday in September next. Instruction is given in Agriculture, Horticulture, Dairy Management, the Mechanic Arts, the English Language, and various branches of Mathematical, Physical, Natural and Economic Science, with special reference to their applications in the industries of life. A full list of names of students will be admitted for whom, in addition to the regular course of study, instruction will be given in Music, Sewing, Cooking and Laundry work. This School is endorsed by the United States, and the State of North Carolina. It is not sectarian, and is not controlled or influenced by any particular denomination. COUNTY STUDENTS. Tuition, Free. BOARD, per week $1.25. Tuition, use of room, bedding, &c. per session 10.00. Tuition on piano, two lessons a week, per month 2.00. For use of piano per session 1.00. For additional terms see catalogue, which can be had by addressing, The President of The Agricultural and Mechanical College for the Colored Race, Greensboro, N. C.

There'll be Lots of Blow

For a time about Clothes from all sources. There are all sorts of Clothes. Mind that you get the best--price no object. If you can be convinced of that I'm sure of your patronage. The Fall Hats are here--all the new blocks. There are many new things in Fall Furnishings to show you. Think of what you'd like to pay for GOOD things and come see me.

Visitors to the City.

There are sights worth seeing at my store, and you are welcome to see all I can show, and to all the information I can give, without being urged to buy. It is a chance to see the new things that Men and Boys wear; a chance to get the right fit. And when settled quietly at home, you'll discover there's something you need, then how easy it will be to order.

J. A. ANDREWS,

Wholesale and Retail GROCER, Greenville, N. C.

Stoves. Stoves.

We are laying in a full line of COOK STOVES also Sheet Iron Heating Stoves. Best quality, low prices. Call and examine. We also are agents for the celebrated and have on hand a few second-hand Bicycles for sale very cheap. You may need a Mowing Machine, we have them in stock.

Rambler and Columbia Bicycles

S. E. PENDER & CO

Opposite Wooten's Drugstore.

J. L. SUGG,

Life and Fire Insurance A get!

GREENVILLE, N. C. OFFICE AT THE COURT HOUSE. All kinds of Risks placed in strictly

FIRST-CLASS COMPANIES

At lowest current rates. AM AGENT FOR FIRST-CLASS FIRE PROOF SAFE.

Scotland Neck Male School

The only High Grade Boarding School in Eastern Carolina for Boys and Young Men. Excellent Literary Societies--Complete Business Course. Good barracks, healthy location, course of instruction thorough. Only the better class of patronage solicited. Session begins AUGUST 28. Our catalogue will show what education means for a boy here. Send for one. PRINE & WILSON, Principals, Scotland Neck, N. C.

THE REFLECTOR

Local Reflections.

Chinquapias are ripe. Almost time for equinoctial storms. Scuppernongs seem plentiful and the luscious James grapes is ripening.

Attention is called to the notices to creditors by B. W. Tucker, administrator of James Galloway, and R. D. Well, executor of James Wall.

My store will be closed on Thursday, 19th and on Saturday, 28th, on account of holidays. S. M. SCHULTZ

AUTUMN ANATOMY.

People Going and Coming These Early Fall Days.

Tap Starke is sick. B. B. Shaw, of Washington, is here. J. L. Harris returned to Scotland Neck Saturday.

W. J. Tucker left Thursday for school at Holly Springs. W. L. Chandler left Monday for his home at Pesh, Va.

W. W. Washington returned Friday to the State Farm near Wilson where he is an overseer. High Sheppard came home Monday evening from Littleton.

BETHLE, N. C., Sept. 17th, 1895.

Rev. W. A. Forbes returned from Roper City Friday morning. Mrs. W. A. James who has been visiting relatives here left for her home in Asheville yesterday morning.

W. J. Little and sister, Capt. J. E. Hines and wife and B. A. Peck attended the yearly meeting at Cooneto Sunday.

W. J. Little and sister, Capt. J. E. Hines and wife and B. A. Peck attended the yearly meeting at Cooneto Sunday.

A WONDERFUL MAN.

Goshorn, the Famous Mind Reader, Performs Marvelous Feats. Goshorn, the mind reader, in his public test here Tuesday and entertainment at night, fully proved all that he claimed for himself.

At night in the Opera House ex Senator Jarvis selected a committee of seven gentlemen, neither of whom knew before their names were called that they had been selected, and these went upon the stage to make the tests for Goshorn.

At night in the Opera House ex Senator Jarvis selected a committee of seven gentlemen, neither of whom knew before their names were called that they had been selected, and these went upon the stage to make the tests for Goshorn.

A Second Child Dead.

We are again called on to chronicle the death of a child of Mr. Thomas McGee, of Mt. Olive, little Mabel, his youngest daughter, having passed away on Saturday, 7th inst.

Little William, aged about one year and eight months, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Brown, died Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, after a severe illness of several weeks.

Little William, aged about one year and eight months, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Brown, died Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, after a severe illness of several weeks.

Superior Court.

The September term of Pitt Superior Court opened at ten o'clock Monday with Judge Jas. D. McIver presiding and Solicitor C. M. Bearnard prosecuting for the State.

The charge of Judge McIver was not a long one, but gave a clear synopsis of the duties of the jurors and the law to which it was necessary to call their attention.

The charge of Judge McIver was not a long one, but gave a clear synopsis of the duties of the jurors and the law to which it was necessary to call their attention.

GREAT SLAUGHTER.

PRICES CUT AND SLASHED.

CLOTHING, Dry Goods & Shoes.

move rapidly if low prices will do it. Everything the very best--not a poor article in the store. Right up in quality. Right up in style.

WE INVITE!

Your attention to our large and well selected stock of GENERAL MERCHANDISE in which can be found during all seasons many useful articles suitable for personal use, household purposes, &c.

BEST SELECTED STOCK

ever brought to this town. We are sure that you will be well pleased with the goods and prices that we will offer you, and ask you to keep a lookout for the many attractions which we offer for your inspection.

FURNITURE

and when you need goods in this line never buy until you come to see us we expect to have any thing you may wish.

J. B. CHERRY & CO.

BRING IT ON!

The Planters Tobacco Warehouse

1,500,000 Pounds of TOBACCO, and we are going to have it if hard work and satisfactory prices will get it.

FORBES & MOYE

can and will give satisfaction in every respect.

The High Prices we are getting every day for the farmers who sell with us will convince you that we are yours for highest averages,

FALL OPENING.

To fit everybody, little feet and big feet, white feet and black feet. Dress Goods. Do you want a Dress Trimmings? We have the latest and newest styles.

HIGGS BROS.

Opposite J. C. Cobb & Son. Leaders of Low Prices, Greenville, N. C.

STOP! Do you want real genuine

Bargains in everything then come to us.

GENTLEMEN! Clothing of the highest art both to fit and suit you.

SHOES and BOOTS to fit both your feet and pocketbook.

RICKS, TAFT & CO.

Next door to Rawls the Jeweler. GREENVILLE, N. C.

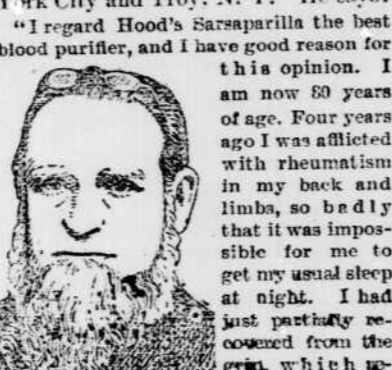

Cheap And Good Goods

I attended the auction sales in New York and Baltimore in July where jobbers were purchasing to sell to the southern trade and I am now prepared to offer many inducements to my customers and the trade generally.

J. R. DAVENPORT,

FACTOLUS, N. C.

Rev. Dr. Parker

Is the beloved pastor of the Universalist church at Fargo, N. D., and has also been a pastor in Providence, R. I., New York City and Troy, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the Only True Blood Purifier

Hood's Pills

are tasteless, mild, effective. All druggists, etc.

THE PENN MUTUAL LIFE

INS. CO. OF PHILADELPHIA, ORGANIZED 1847.

R. B. RAINEY, State Agt.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Doctors Say;

Bilious and Intermittent Fevers which prevail in miasmatic districts are invariably accompanied by derangements of the Stomach Liver and Bowels.

Tutt's Liver Pills

Care all Liver Troubles.

Notice to Creditors

The Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County having issued to the undersigned on this day, letters of administration upon the estate of James Galloway deceased, Notice is hereby given to the creditors of said James Galloway to present their claims to the undersigned on or before September 18th, 1895, properly authenticated, and this notice will be paid in bar of their recovery.

Notice to Creditors

Having duly qualified before the Superior Court Clerk of Pitt County as Executor to the Last Will and Testament of James Wall, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the estate to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and all persons having claims against said estate must present the same for payment on or before the 17th day of September, 1895, or this notice will be paid in bar of recovery.

Notice to Creditors

Having duly qualified before the Superior Court Clerk of Pitt County as Executor to the Last Will and Testament of James Wall, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the estate to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and all persons having claims against said estate must present the same for payment on or before the 17th day of September, 1895, or this notice will be paid in bar of recovery.

Notice to Creditors

Having duly qualified before the Superior Court Clerk of Pitt County as Executor to the Last Will and Testament of James Wall, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the estate to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and all persons having claims against said estate must present the same for payment on or before the 17th day of September, 1895, or this notice will be paid in bar of recovery.

Notice to Creditors

Having duly qualified before the Superior Court Clerk of Pitt County as Executor to the Last Will and Testament of James Wall, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the estate to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and all persons having claims against said estate must present the same for payment on or before the 17th day of September, 1895, or this notice will be paid in bar of recovery.

Exhausted Soils

are made to produce larger and better crops by the use of Fertilizers rich in Potash.

Write for our "Farmers' Guide," a 142-page illustrated book. It is brim full of useful information for farmers. It will be sent free, and will make and save you money. Address,

GERMAN KALI WORKS, 93 Nassau Street, New York.

ESTABLISHED 1875

S.M. Schultz

PORK SIDES & SHOULDERS
BARRERS AND MERCHANTS BUY ing their year's supplies will find their interest to get our prices before others elsewhere. Our stock is complete in all its branches.

FLOUR, COFFEE, SUGAR
RICE, TEA, &c.
always at LOWEST MARKET PRICES.
TOBACCO SMUFF & CIGARS

We buy direct from Manufacturers, ensuring you to buy at one profit. A complete stock of

FURNITURE

always on hand and at prices to suit the times. Our goods are all bought and sold for CASH therefore, having no risk to run, we sell at a close margin.

S. M. SCHULTZ, Greenville, N. C.

Wanted

Farquhar and Harrington's
Variable Friction
Food Saw Mill

A. B. FARQUHAR CO., Ltd., YORK, PA.

WILMINGTON & WELDON R. R.
AND BRANCHES.

AND FLORENCE RAIL ROAD.
Condensed Schedule.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Dated	No.	Daily	No.	Daily	No.	Daily
July 31st 1895.
Leave Weldon	A. M.	11:55	P. M.	7:00
Ar. Rocky Mt		12:57		10:20

Le	To	Time	Le	To	Time
Le Tarboro		12:20
Le Rocky Mt		1:05			10:20
Le Wilson		2:03			11:03
Le Selma		2:58			11:58
Le Fayetteville		3:53			12:53
Ar. Florence		4:48			1:48

Le	To	Time	Le	To	Time
Le Wilson		5:15			6:00
Le Fayetteville		6:10			6:55
Le Selma		7:05			7:50
Le Rocky Mt		8:00			8:45
Ar. Weldon		8:55			9:40

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

Dated	No.	Daily	No.	Daily	No.	Daily
July 31st 1895.
Le Florence	A. M.	8:15	P. M.	7:35
Le Fayetteville		9:10		8:30
Le Selma		10:05		9:25
Ar. Wilson		11:00		10:20

Le	To	Time	Le	To	Time
Le Wilson		11:30			12:15
Ar. Rocky Mt		12:30			1:15

Train on Scotland Neck Branch. Leave Weldon 8:40 a. m., Halifax 4:00
p. m., arrives Scotland Neck at 4:55
p. m., Greenville 6:37 p. m., Kinston 7:55
p. m., returning, leaves Kinston 7:20
a. m., Greenville 8:22 a. m., arriving Halifax at 11:30 a. m., Weldon 11:20 a. m.
Daily except Sunday.

Trains on Washington Branch. Leave
Washington 7:00 a. m., arrives Farmville 8:40 p. m., Tarboro 9:50; returning leaves Tarboro 4:30 p. m., Farmville 6:10
p. m., arrives Washington 7:35 p. m.
Daily except Sunday. Connects with trains on Scotland Neck Branch.

Train leaves Tarboro, N. C., via Albemarle & Raleigh R. R. daily except Sunday, at 5:00 p. m., Sunday 2:00 p. m.; arrives Plymouth 5:20 p. m., 5:20 p. m., returning leaves Plymouth daily except Sunday, 5:30 a. m., Sunday 9:30 a. m., arrives Tarboro 10:25 a. m. and 11:45

Train on Midland N. C. Branch. Leave Goldboro daily except Sunday, 6:50
a. m., arriving Smithfield, 7:30 a. m. R. returning leaves Smithfield, 8:00 a. m., arrive at Goldboro, 9:30 a. m.

Trains on Nashville Branch. Leave
Rocky Mount at 4:30 p. m., arrive Nashville 5:45 p. m., Spring Hope 5:30
p. m., returning leaves Spring Hope 6:00 a. m., Nashville 8:35 a. m., arrive-at Rocky Mount 9:00 a. m., daily except Sundays.

Trains on Latta Branch. Leave Latta 6:50 p. m., arrive Dunbar 8:00 p. m., returning leave Dunbar 6:30 a. m., arrive Latta 8:00 a. m., Daily except Sunday.

Train on Clinton Branch. Leave Warsaw for Clinton daily, except Sunday at 10:00 a. m., returning leave Clinton at 10:00 a. m., arrive at Warsaw with main line trains.

JOHN F. DIVINE,
General Supt.,
T. M. EMERSON, Traffic Manager,
J. K. KENLY, Gen'l Manager,

J. F. KING, LIVERY, SALE AND FEED STABLES.

On Fifth Street near Five Points.

Passengers carried to any point at reasonable rates. Good Horses. Comfortable Vehicles.

Acts Like Magic.

If you have Catarrh, Rheumatism, or any other pain Glori Oil, which you can get at Dr. Wooten's will cure you.

YOU WANT THE BEST.

We Keep That Kind.

Bear this fact in mind when you start out for your

FALL AND WINTER GOODS.

Our stock this season is complete in every department and we can supply all your wants in

Gen'l Merchandise.

You simply have to come to us for anything wanted. Our goods and prices will please you.

In addition to selling the best goods at the lowest prices, we pay top of the market for cotton and all country produce.

Thanking you for a liberal patronage
in the past, we hope to have many calls from you this season.

J. O. PROCTER & BRO.
GRIME & LAND, N. C.

GROVES

TASTELESS CHILL TONIC

IS JUST AS GOOD FOR ADULTS.
WARRANTED. PRICE 50 cts.

Prepared and Bottled by J. L. WOOTEN, Druggist,
Greenville, S. C.

Color as a Shield.

More than 25 years ago Mr. Alfred Russell Wallace predicted that it would be found that brilliantly colored and conspicuous caterpillars
were not among the favorite food of
birds, although dull looking caterpillars are devoured by them with great avidity. Various observations
and experiments since then have tended to confirm Mr. Wallace's conclusion.

This idea was that the bright colors
of certain caterpillars are the result
of natural selection, the caterpillars
which originally possessed such colors having the power of escape from predators, such as the secretion of
poisonous juices, which rendered them
distasteful to birds. As the conspicuously marked caterpillars were thus tended to increase at the expense of
their less brilliantly colored relatives.

Experiments have shown that
birds actually do avoid the bright colored caterpillars as a rule. And this seems almost to have become a second nature, for a jackedaw, which
had had no experience in judging
the edible qualities of caterpillars,
was observed to regard the brilliant caterpillar of the figure of eight
with suspicion and aversion,
although it eagerly devoured dull,
plain caterpillars placed within its reach. When it was driven by hunger to attack the other, it finally refused to eat it, giving plain evidence
that there was something distasteful about the prey.

Thus, according to the theory, nature has provided a warning, expressed by color, which serves a double purpose, since it both protects the caterpillar possessing it
from attack and also saves the bird
which sees it from the disagreeable
consequence of seizing prey that is not suited to its taste.—Youth's Companion.

One of the smallest denominations
in this country reported to the enumerators of the eleventh census is
the Reformed Presbyterian (Cove-nanters). It has four societies, one church, three halls and 37 members.

Dogs and Matrimony.

Wonderful tales have been told of
the marvelous instinctive intelligence of dogs, but the idea of consulting a canine oracle when a man
is contemplating matrimony is a new one. A French writer, however, says that before committing
himself a man should not carefully
herself toward her parents and
friends, and above all, how she
treats ordinary domestic animals.

"Beware of a person whose children
and dogs dislike," he says. "Dogs
may be our inferiors, but their instincts rarely deceive them, and a pronounced antipathy on their part
may well be considered as a danger signal. No compassion should be felt for him who marries a girl
whose dogs snarl at and dislike, for
he has had fair warning of domestic storms."—New York Advertiser.

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

The German Evangelical Protestant church of North America has a membership of 23,156, divided into 32 societies and owning 53 churches, valued at $1,187,450.

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

CAMEO CARVING.

It Sounds Terrible, but Is in Reality a Simple Operation.

Gravers and scoopers and other mysterious little instruments have cropped into the modern maiden's den.
It sounds formidable—come carry, ing—but in reality it is simple.

First you provide yourself with a working table; it need not be large.
Then, at any art store, buy half a dozen gravers and scoopers of varying degrees of fineness. The next outlay is for a shell upon which you are to cut the cameo. Black, red and yellow "helmetts," as the shells are called, are required, and they cost from $3 to $5 each, but from a good shell several ovals or rounds can be cut.

After it has been cut the required size and shape, it is then fixed with hot cement upon a holder—a little block that can be held in the hand.
The upper surface of the shell is made sufficiently smooth to take the design, which is then traced upon it, as one traces on china. All the white part beyond the design is cut away, leaving the pattern on the dark ground to be, by degrees, cut into form. The thickness and equality of the white stratum cannot be known until the shell is cut. It varies a good deal, so that sometimes the figures will stand out in much higher relief than was at first anticipated.

Sometimes when a particular design is to be made several shells are cut before a suitable one is found.
The skill of the artist is shown in the arrangement of the design so as to make the best use of the shell.
For instance, the foliage must be arranged to come where the white is thinnest, and figures where the thickness of the white will give roundness to the limbs. It naturally follows that the one who understands the art of drawing and painting and all about lights and shadows will make the greatest success as a cameo engraver.

To take out any scratches made by the graver the cameo or shell must be polished by rubbing it with pun-ice stone and water, after which it must be washed in warm water, when a second polishing follows with pumice dust and oil with a small boxwood stick. Then it must be washed again. The third and last finish is given with fine rotten stone and sulphuric acid. A very high degree of polish is thus obtained, and before your cameo! Perhaps not at first the success you dreamed, but still fairly satisfactory, while with practice you go on to perfection and in time have a choice bit to offer a friend.

"What! A cameo, and you cut it?"

"Yes, Oh, that's nothing! I've done dozens of them," and so forth, and so on, while you in turn initiate your friend in the mysteries of cameo cutting and feel sufficiently rewarded for your labors in her exclamations of surprise at your great cleverness.—Indianapolis News.

Color as a Shield.

More than 25 years ago Mr. Alfred
Russell Wallace predicted that it
would be found that brilliantly colored and conspicuous caterpillars
were not among the favorite food of
birds, although dull looking cater-
pillars are devoured by them with
great avidity. Various observations
and experiments since then have
tended to confirm Mr. Wallace's conclusion.

This idea was that the bright colors
of certain caterpillars are the result
of natural selection, the caterpillars
which originally possessed such colors having the power of escape from
predators, such as the secretion of
poisonous juices, which rendered them
distasteful to birds. As the conspicuously marked caterpillars were thus
tended to increase at the expense of
their less brilliantly colored relatives.

Experiments have shown that
birds actually do avoid the bright
colored caterpillars as a rule. And
this seems almost to have become a
second nature, for a jackedaw, which
had had no experience in judging
the edible qualities of caterpillars,
was observed to regard the brilliant
caterpillar of the figure of eight
with suspicion and aversion,
although it eagerly devoured dull,
plain caterpillars placed within its
reach. When it was driven by hunger to attack the other, it finally refused to eat it, giving plain evidence
that there was something distaste-
ful about the prey.

Thus, according to the theory, nature has provided a warning, expressed by color, which serves a
double purpose, since it both protects the caterpillar possessing it
from attack and also saves the bird
which sees it from the disagreeable
consequence of seizing prey that is
not suited to its taste.—Youth's Companion.

One of the smallest denominations
in this country reported to the enumerators of the eleventh census is
the Reformed Presbyterian (Cove-nanters). It has four societies, one church, three halls and 37 members.

Dogs and Matrimony.

Wonderful tales have been told of
the marvelous instinctive intelligence of dogs, but the idea of consulting a canine oracle when a man
is contemplating matrimony is a new one. A French writer, however, says that before committing
himself a man should not carefully
herself toward her parents and
friends, and above all, how she
treats ordinary domestic animals.

"Beware of a person whose children
and dogs dislike," he says. "Dogs
may be our inferiors, but their instincts rarely deceive them, and a
pronounced antipathy on their part
may well be considered as a danger
signal. No compassion should be
felt for him who marries a girl
whose dogs snarl at and dislike, for
he has had fair warning of domestic
storms."—New York Advertiser.

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

When Foggy was asked what he
thought of Mahatma, a strategy
headed painter, he replied, "I don't
think better of him than I would
have thought of him if he would
have broken his hair instead of
upon his canyons."

BURGULAR TOOL MAKERS.

They Manufacture the Finest Implements
of Their Trade.

When Dutch Gus, one of the most expert and dangerous bank burglars, was captured a few years ago, the most complete set of burglars' tools ever made was found in his possession and it now lends added interest to the collection of burglars' implements on exhibition at police headquarters.

Dutch Gus said he made his tools himself and could rival any tool-maker in the country. In following up the suggestion given by him when he was put through the third degree, made famous by former Chief of Police Byrnes, the police learned that all the craftsmen of the higher class depend entirely upon themselves for tools they require in cracking safes.

The police were for many years at a loss to learn where burglars secured the tools so necessary to their trade. Although complete sets of tools were frequently captured when a noted safe worker was arrested, the next arrest would be followed by the discovery of an equally valuable set of tools. It was not long before Steve O'Brien, Phil Rolly, Jake Von Gerichten and Charles Heideberg discovered, quite by accident,
a small collar shop in Bleeker street, wherein an old German tool-maker ground out the finest implements of the burglars' stock in trade.