EAST CAROLINA TEACHER'S TRAINING SCHOOL

SECOND SESSION BEGINS WITH TWO HUNDRED STUDENTS.

Twice as Many Present as Last Year
—Faculty Delighted With Prospect
For a Fine Year's Work.

The Reflector man went over to East Carolina Teachers Training school this morning to learn how the school is starting its second session. He found President Wright and the faculty just delighted with the prospects, and all were as busy as could be registering pupils and getting them properly assigned. Today was devoted to registering the old students, those who attended last year, and it was gratifying to see so many of them back ready to take up their work again. Tomorrow is the day for registering new students, a large number of whom are also present and more coming in by every train.

The regular school work will begin Thursday morning, at which time it is safe to say that 200 students will be present. The number of registrations of rooms for boarding students has already reached 175, to say nothing of the local students who will live in town instead of the dormitories. This record, compared with the opening a year ago when the number was 101, is enough to make everybody rejoice at the splendid growth of the school. President Wright says he looks forward to a year of fine work.

The faculty is composed as follows:

Prof. Robt. H. Wright, President.
Prof. C. W. Wilson, Pedagogy.
Prof. W. H. Ragsdale, School Management.
Prof. Leon R. Meadows, English.
Miss Mamie E. Jenkins, English.
Prof. Herbert E. Austin, Science.
Miss Maria D. Graham, Mathematics.
Miss Sallie Joyner Davis, History.
Miss Birdie McKinney, Latin.
Miss Nettie M. Allen, Primary Methods.
Mrs. Kate W. Lewis, Drawing.
Mrs. Jennie M. Ogden, Household Economics.
Mrs. Kate R. Beckwith, Lady Principal.

MR. DEAL RESIGNS AT KINSTON.

Not Known Yet if Resignation Affects Greenville Church.

Coming as a surprise to his congregation the announcement was made, during his sermon Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church by the pastor, Rev. Ralph C. Deal, that he would tender his resignation to the official board to take effect November 1st. After the church service a congregational meeting was held at which Mr. Deal formally made his resignation. Mr. Deal came to the Kinston church in June 1907, and during his stay here has endeared himself to the people, not only of his congregation, but of the entire city, and the announcement of his resignation will be learned with regret throughout the community.—Kinston Free Press.

—Mr. Deal is also pastor of the Presbyterian church in Greenville, preaching here the first and third Sundays in each month. The congregation here has no intimation as to whether his resignation in Kinston will affect his Greenville pastorate, but it is hoped that it will not. His next appointment here is next Sunday. He is very much admired by the people of Greenville and it is the wish of all that he can continue to serve the church here.

CRIPPEN CASE AGAIN.

He and The Girl Show Effects of the Prison Confinement.

By Cable to The Reflector.
London, Sept. 14.—The Crippen case was called again today. Both Dr. Crippen and the LeNeve girl show effects of confinement when they came into court. The usual big crowd was on hand, a majority of them being women. Sir Arthur Newton, counsel for Crippen, announced that he had also been retained to defend the LeNeve girl.

Dr. Chas. O'H. Laughinghouse, Physician.
Miss Mattie R. Beaman, Superintendent of Infirmary.
Miss Emma Jones, Stenographer.
Miss Ola Ross, Clerk.

A PATHETIC INCIDENT.

Little Tot Strenuously Objects to Compulsory Education.

Train number 21 yesterday had a coach filled with deaf and dumb children going to Morganton to enter the school for the fall term today. The children were all lively with one exception and seemed to be enjoying themselves as do other youngsters and were carrying on spirited conversations among themselves using the finger manual, and they attracted considerable attention at the station.

There was one little girl, however, who boarded the train here who elicited considerable sympathy from the bystanders. She is the little eight-year old daughter of Mrs. Annie Walker, of White Oak, and is a mute. She had never before been separated from her mother and was crying and fought as strongly as she could to keep from being put on the train.

The little tot can not speak, hear, or write, neither does she understand the sign language, but she clearly demonstrated that she was in no way in sympathy with the movement for compulsory education, in her case at any rate.—Greensboro Telegram.

FIGHTING FOR CHAIRMANSHIP.

New York City Will Send a Roosevelt Delegation.

By Wire to The Reflector.

New York, Sept. 14.—Lloyd Griscon, chairman of the county Republican committee will go to the state convention at Saratoga on the 27th, with a solid progressive delegation, and all for Colonel Roosevelt. This fact became final today with the complete returns from New York city primary election. The chairmanship tilt between Sherman and Roosevelt is not materially changed by results here. Sherman has 216 votes pledged so far, while the progressives have 305. Griscon's statement that Roosevelt is not a candidate is not taken seriously.

In discussing your enemies you are talking about somebody's friends.

NEGRO PREACHER FACES A SERIOUS CHARGE.

BROTHER OF THE GIRL SEEKS VENGEANCE.

Opens Fire on the Preacher Who Proves Ready to Return in Kind—
Both Bound Over to Court.

There was much excitement among colored people here, Monday afternoon over a shooting affair that was engaged in between Herman Cherry, a young colored man, and Rev. Martin Butler, the pastor of the colored Methodist church. The trouble grew out of charges against the preacher of wrong with a sister of Cherry. Relatives of the girl for two or three days have been on the track of the preacher, had warned him that he must leave town by a certain time, and some of the preacher's sympathizers had been guarding him at night through fear that he might be attacked.

It seems that Herman Cherry, the brother of the girl, did not live here but being advised of the trouble came to Greenville Monday. Late in the evening he was on Reade street, saw Butler, the preacher, sitting in the door at the home of Sherman Foreman. Cherry pulled out a gun and began trying to use it on the preacher, and the latter also drew a gun and began firing it. Some say that Cherry's gun would not fire and others say that it did. At any rate there were several shots fired but none of them struck anybody.

After the shooting Cherry came up town and surrendered to the sheriff and Butler was arrested a little later and both of them were taken before Justice of the peace H. Harding and placed under bond to appear at a preliminary trial this morning.

At the preliminary trial this morning Justice Harding bound both of them over to the next term of Pitt Superior court.

Is It 5000?

A few days ago a gentleman said that he had heard that Greenville's population was 5000. He gave no authority for the rumor, and was inquiring as to its correctness.

COUNTY MATTERS.

What the Commissioners did at Last Meeting.

Valuation of W. I. King land in Greenville township was reduced from $600 to $400.

Noah Cox, colored was released from poll tax and from road duty.

Alvania Averett and Amos Evans added to the pauper list to receive each $1.50 per month.

Mrs Florence Horne, in Farmville township was released from maintaining bridge near Joyner's Cross Roads.

Several petitions for road improvements were presented.

Claim of J. W. Tripp for damage which was submitted to arbitration was reported adjusted upon payment of $100.

The register of deeds presented tax lists for the year which were examined and found entirely satisfactory, and were ordered turned over to the sheriff for collection.

PURCHASED ADDITIONAL GROUND

Ample Room For The New Court House and Jail.

The board of county commissioners have purchased from Mr. W. L. Smith the corner lot, known as the Blow lot, adjoining the county property. Having previously purchased the former Masonic temple lot, the county now owns half of the block on Third street and running through from Evans to Washington, making a full acre. It is a splendid piece of property, affording ample room for both the new court house and jail with a large lawn surrounding them. The court house will have two fronts, one on Evans street and the other on Third, and the jail will be near the northwest corner of the lot on Washington street.

Mr. Everett in New Quarters.

Mr. S. J. Everett now has his law office in the second story of the Shelburn building, on Third street. He has a suite of two rooms and is fitting them up very attractively. It is remembered that Mr. Everett was burned out just after opening his office last February, and since then has had to occupy temporary quarters in the office of Dr. Laughinghouse. He stands high in the legal profession and is building a good practice here.

Our Greenville, Yours if You Come

PROTECT TRAINING SCHOOL.

Grounds Should Not Be Used for General Purposes—Visitors Welcome.

I find it necessary for the protection of East Carolina Teachers' Training School and the preservation of the grounds, to close the driveways and walkways on the school grounds for general public use, except for business with the school. We are always pleased to have our friends visit the school, and we do not wish this notice to make any one feel that we are not pleased to have them visit us. We have found, however, that driving on the grounds by the general public, or using our walks for general purposes, has an undesirable effect. We are going to provide a turn way at the east end of Fifth street so our friends may drive out by the school.

Many people are using the school grounds as a means of going south from Fifth street. This we cannot allow. Many others are using other parts of the ground that must be reserved for the student body alone.

I hope our friends will thoroughly understand us; that it is only for the best interest of the school that we are putting this notice in the paper. I hope that they will not feel that we do not wish them to visit the school, for we do. We will be pleased to see any friend at any time.

ROBT. H. WRIGHT, President.

SOME ARE COMPLAINING.

Suggest That Jail Be Located Near Centre of Block.

Some of the property owners on Washington and Second streets are complaining at the decision of the Board of County Commissioners and the building committee to locate the new jail near the northwest corner of the county's lot, next to Washington street. The ground of their complaint is that the jail being located so near to them will depreciate the value of their property for residence purposes. They suggest that the jail be placed in the rear of the court house near the centre of the block, and not out near the street.

Remarkable.

A negro by name of Cox, who lives near Ayden, now 57 years old, gave birth to a baby at three weeks ago. She has been married a number of years, and has several children, but there are several years between this one and the next oldest.

Short Crop.

The tobacco crop is known to be short in Pitt county, and perhaps twenty per cent has already been marketed. Prices so far have been good, but farmers see no reason why they should not be better.

SELL AT THE WAREHOUSES.

That is the Place to Get The Best Price for Tobacco.

Mr. L. L. Straus, who says he is a buyer on the various warehouse floors of North and South Carolina and Virginia, has written a lengthy article to the Charleston News and Courier protesting against the practice of buying tobacco privately in the country. He concludes this article as follows:

"Let all the country buying stop; let the planter, after his hard labor of raising a crop, put that on the market, open to all bidders where there will be plenty of competition for there will be an influx of buyers when it is shown that the planters are marketing their crops for the highest bidders on the warehouse floors, and they will soon realize that in the past they have lost thousands of dollars by selling in the country their good tobacco, and only giving the buyers a chance on their common grades. The planters often abuse the buyers, especially the so-called trusts, for not giving more for these undesirable types, whereas, they are not given a chance to buy their better grades except through other channels. Sell all your crops on the warehouse floors at open sale, and you will in future not have cause to complain of the price your tobacco yields per acre, but the price will be inducement for larger plantings, more attention to its cultivation to raise good tobaccos. Put on your thinking cap, digest what I have suggested and try it for one season not to sell at the pack houses and you will, as stated get 33 1-3 to 50 per cent. more for your crops. If you do not stop this country buying and selling at home, and not giving the other buyers who are at these various markets for the purpose of buying these grades an opportunity to buy, the buyers will each year grow less and less, and eventually no tobacco of consequence will be raised in South Carolina, and all because the planters will not embrace the opportunity for realizing good prices on their crops. It is better to grade these better curings. I realize in some cases it is difficult to get good graders. To those that cannot grade their tobaccos, I would suggest that, in packing their leaves for market, that they throw out all burnt leaves into a scrap pile. Often a curing of 1,000 pounds will not contain 25 pounds of these burnt leaves, but by not throwing out these leaves you damage the looks of the pile dollars per hundred. It would be well to throw aside your green leaves, put them in a bulk in your pack house and let them remain until you have sold all your well cured tobacco, then offer your greenish pile, and you will find great improvement in same.

Market all your crop at the warehouse, give all buyers an equal showing let it go to the highest bidder. If the sale is not to your satisfaction you have the privilege to turn the ticket and get an advance if possible and if this policy is adopted by the planters and raisers of tobacco you will see very active sales at all of the principal tobacco markets in South Carolina and you will at least realize the thousands of dollars you have thrown away since you have started raising tobacco in this state."

RESOLUTIONS BY SUPTS.

North Carolina Leaders in Public Education Met at Chapel Hill.

At Chapel Hill last week the superintendents of public schools for the various counties of the State met in regular annual session. Nearly every county was represented. Dr. F. P. Venable, president of the University, welcomed the body of educators and spoke briefly of the responsibility and importance of each county superintendent of schools.

The meeting then proceeded with the programme, which was a most interesting one. Some of the topics discussed were: Health and Sanitation, Instruction in Agriculture, Public High Schools, Uniform Examination for Teachers, Teacher Training, Elementary Schools, and work of the County Superintendent.

The session at which health and sanitation were discussed was exceedingly interesting. Dr. W. S. Rankin, secretary of the North Carolina board of health, discussed health and sanitation. Dr. Jno. A. Ferrell, representing the hookworm commission of the North Carolina board of health spoke briefly of investigations which show the widespread prevalence of hookworm disease in North Carolina. He explained that in theory the eradication of the disease was easy, but in practice a great problem, the solution of which depended upon educational work. Many questions were asked and requests made that cases be described as they usually are before and after treatment. Prof. Highsmith, of Wake Forest College, cited two or three interesting cases he had seen. Then Superintendent Thompson, of Onslow county, spoke of the wonderful improvements which had resulted among hookworm victims in his county since hundreds of people had been cured of the disease. He named and described several cases which had come under his observation. Concluding his remarks, he introduced the following resolutions:

"Whereas, we, the members of the Association of County Superintendents of Schools of North Carolina, are convinced of the widespread prevalence of hookworm disease in the State, and that the disease occasions inestimable loss to the State in lives, citizenship and material wealth; and, whereas, the disease is both preventable and curable,

"Be it resolved, that the association hereby pledges its co-operation in all well organized movements for the eradication of the disease; and further realizing that such a movement has already been inaugurated we recommend that the State take such steps as may be found necessary to aid in accomplishing the desired end."

Instead of referring the resolution to the committee on rules, the rules were suspended and the resolution voted on and adopted without a dissenting vote.

The meeting adjourned Friday after a most successful and pleasant meeting.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

To Nominate Candidates for the Legislature and County Offices.

By direction of the Republican executive committee of Pitt county, notice is hereby given that the Republican voters of the several precincts of Pitt county are directed to assemble at their respective precincts at 3 p. m., Saturday, September 24, 1910, for the purpose of selecting delegates and alternates to the county convention, which by direction of the executive committee is hereby called to meet in the town hall in Greenville, N. C., on Saturday, October 1st, at 12 m.

Regardless of past party affiliations, all voters of Pitt county who believe in local self government in its broadest conception, and who are opposed to issuing county or township bonds to build public roads, and in favor of lower taxes and a more economical State and county government, are invited to join with us to select candidates for county offices to be voted for at the next election.

Come one and all, and hear the issues discussed and the different provisions of the Republican platform explained by speakers of National reputation who have been invited and who are expected to be present.
R. C. FLANAGAN, Chairman,
FERNANDO WARD, Secretary,
Republican Executive Committee.

Mr. Cox Withdraws.

We learn this afternoon that Mr. J. Marshall Cox, who was one of the candidates for sheriff in the county primary and received the second highest vote, his being 433 below Mr. S. I. Dudley who led the vote, has withdrawn and will not ask for another primary. The action of Mr. Cox lets the nomination go to Mr. Dudley.

SATURDAY'S PRIMARY.

Good Ticket Nominated for Legislature and County Offices.

A voting primary was held in Pitt county Saturday to nominate candidates for the legislature and county offices, also justices of the peace of the several townships and township executive committees. Something like 3,000 votes were cast in the primary, which was quite a large vote and showed the interest of people all over the county.

The ticket nominated is as follows:
For the Senate—R. R. Cotten.
For Representatives—G. M. Mooring, and J. T. Thorne
For Superior Court Clerk—D. C. Moore.

For Sheriff—S. I. Dudley.
For Treasurer—W. B. Wilson.
For Register of Deeds—W. M. Moore
For Coroner—C. O'H. Laughinghouse.
For Surveyor—W. C. Dresbach.
For County Commissioners—J. P. Quinerly, D. J. Holland, J. J. May, B. M. Lewis and W. E. Proctor.
In this issue will found a tabulated statement of the official returns by townships.

PRIMARY SCRAPS.

One Man Shot, Another Has a Broken Arm.

There seems to have been several little harmless scraps at the primaries Saturday. But at two places the scraps were a little serious.

In Belvoir, William Teel and W. B. Pollard were the participants. It did not result serious until Mr. Pollard met R. H. Coggins, who had a pistol in his hand. It seems that a struggle for the possession of the pistol took place, with the result that the pistol was discharged and the ball taking effect in Mr. Pollard's shoulder, making a painful and perhaps a serious wound.

At Black Jack there was also a scrap or two. That between Louis and Kas Anry and Snow Mills resulted in a severe cut on Mill's arm and Louis Anry getting an arm broken. No other damage.

At Bethel Lee James and Duke Whitfield had a dispute that ended in James striking Whitfield a blow on the head that drew some blood.

Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: "That I did not break down, while enduring a most severe strain, for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. WHAT MAKES GIRLS POPULAR?

Beauty, Grace, Intelligence and Radiance.

What can a young girl—who is neither a great beauty nor a great heiress, nor one to whom the gods stood sponsor at birth—do to make herself popular? Let us sit down and take our chins in our hands and think about it.

I should suggest that a young girl must have, at least in some small degree, four qualities. There are children of fortune who have them all, and in abundance; but as from a small pelette of primary colors a great picture may be painted, just so, out of a few elementary attributes, quite wonderful results are possible. The four qualities of personality that I would suggest are:

Beauty, grace, intelligence, radiance. Beauty may be that of face, or it may be merely an effect of beauty through style, charm, or even one of the other three qualities following.
Grace includes not alone symmetry of movement, but all accomplishments in activity, such as dancing, skating, swimming, riding, and also any special gifts, such as talent for music or acting. In other words, the girl who has the "gift of grace" is the girl who does things well.

By intelligence is meant the sympathetic, adaptable quality of mind, rather than that of the brilliant order. But the one great attribute that crowns them all—granting, of course, some gift of the other three—but without which beauty, grace cleverness are all as apples of Sodom—is the sense of enjoyment, the gift of happiness; I don't think I can better define it than by the word radiance. And best of all, radiance is a quality that can be cultivated—The Delineator.

"BACK TO THE FARM"

VL.—Farming—The Young Man's Opportunity.

By C. V. GREGORY.

(Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.)

TO the young man on the threshold of life the question of "What shall I do with myself?" comes demanding an answer. During the past fifty years the call of the city to the ambitious young man has been insistent. Today the country is calling for men with ambition and energy and faith in its possibilities. To such men it offers unequalled opportunities.

The opportunities of the farm are not limited in size or extent. The young man with capital who is looking for a business opening finds it on the farm. The farm offers him the opportunity to exercise his executive ability by managing broad acres and herds that number in the thousands. If his taste runs to quality rather than quantity it offers him chances in the pure bred stock business for the broadest use of his money and talents. There is no occupation more fascinating than the molding of living animals to make them conform to an ideal of perfection. There is opportunity for long continued study of blood lines; there are months and years of anxious waiting to see the results of the union of certain families; there are moments of disappointment when an animal fails to develop as well as expected. But greatest of all is the joy of success when the breeder's efforts are crowned with an animal a little nearer perfection than has been produced before.

The man who can see such an animal march out of a crowded show ring with the purple ribbon without a feeling that at least in a measure he has achieved success has ambitions that are indeed hard to satisfy. The pure bred business has some pitfalls, but to the man who enters it with good judgment and an ambition to succeed it offers financial returns that can be exceeded in few other occupations.

To the young man starting without capital the farm offers unequalled opportunities. The young man with a few friends and a reputation for industry and honesty finds it easy to rent a farm and borrow enough capital to equip it. There is a risk to run, of course. But what is a risk to a young man with strength and ambition? Well considered risks are essential to success in almost any line, and to the young farmer they are an incentive to greater effort. Now that prices of farm products have reached a peak and are paying off the debt is a matter of but a few years. Buying the farm itself is by no means impossible, even in the most fertile sections of the corn belt.

Hundreds of farmers are looking for managers for farms that vary in size and equipment to suit the fancy of any one. This line offers some of the greatest opportunities to the young man without capital. The salaries at first may seem small as compared with some of those offered in the city. Usually they include board and incidentals, however. There is a better chance to lay up money on the farm at $50 a month than in the city at twice that amount. For the man who can "make good" the first year's salary is hardly an indication of what is to follow. Most landowners are willing to advance the salary as fast as the manager shows his ability. Better yet, they are willing to intrust more of the responsibility to his hands and to give him more capital, so that he can achieve greater results. In most cases after a man has shown what he is worth it is easy for him to get a share of the net profits in addition to his salary. In many cases it is easy to get in on a partnership basis. In either case the manager is as independent as if he owned the farm, and the chances for financial success are nearly as great.

The great advantage of a position of this kind or, in fact, of any kind of farm work is that there are so many chances to invest money as fast as it is made. The man on the farm has a dozen places to invest every dollar. This in itself is a big incentive to saving, and saving means prosperity for both the individual and the nation. The investment which offers the greatest returns is farm land. Even in those localities where land is now worth considerably more than $100 an acre the price limit is yet far from being reached. There is little chance to lose money on land provided it is wisely invested. It is the lack of knowledge of what constitutes a good farm that makes land an unsafe investment for the city man. There may be some honest land agents, but unfortunately they have no trademark to distinguish them from the other variety. To buy land without seeing it is a painless way of parting with hard earned money. As for the promised profits, they usually find their way to the pockets of the land agent, leaving the investor a sadder and wiser man.

Between 1900 and 1906 the average increase in the value of the farm land in the United States was 38 per cent. Between 1900 and 1910 much of the land in the western part of the Mississippi valley doubled in value. With a system of farming that keeps up the fertility prices will go higher rather than lower.

The man who owns a farm has continual opportunities to put his money into better fences, better stock and better buildings. He has opportunities to invest in more land at home or farther west.

From a financial standpoint farming offers opportunities to young men that are duplicated in few other callings. Farming as a profession is new, and its ranks are still far from full. The young farmer is not entering an overcrowded calling where he must combine with his fellows and boost prices unnaturally in order to make a bare living. In agriculture there are room and opportunity for all. The country is throbbing with the vitality of a new awakened life. The password is ambition, and the reward is success.

It is not the call of money alone that is turning the ambitious young man to the farm. A calling that can offer no reward but a financial one is scarcely worthy of the name. The chief call of the city has been the call of the dollar combined with the call of the crowd. Better roads and a denser population have enabled the country to offer a social life which is superior to that of the city. Higher prices and scientific methods have enabled it to duplicate the financial rewards of the city. In addition, it offers to the young man the opportunity to live the broadest, fullest life of which he is capable. It offers him a business he can call his own and an independence which he could gain in the city only after a lifetime of toil. The greatest need of most rural communities just now is leaders—men who can demonstrate on their own farms the possibilities of scientific agriculture; men who understand the possibilities and the need of a broader community life.

The stories of some of the young men who heeded the call of the country and gave themselves to the development of their community read like romances. A dozen years or so ago a little Massachusetts community was on the downhill road. The nearby cities had sapped it of its strength and vigor. Injudicious cropping had taken away much of the fertility of the soil, and the people had lost all ambition and were content to let things drift from bad to worse. About this time a young man, a son of one of the farmers, graduated from an agricultural college. He received a tempting offer from the department of agriculture to take up work at Washington. A brother in Iowa wrote him a glowing invitation to come to the fertile lands of the middle west. He rejected both offers and went home.

The most optimistic resident would have laughed at the idea of there being any opportunity there. But the young man went to work. He did not lecture to the neighbors or advise them. He merely set out to show them what the impoverished land was capable of. He made the old farm pay, and its dilapidation changed to an air of prosperity. His neighbors gradually began to follow his methods and to catch some of his spirit. The community started to go forward instead of backward. As soon as he could spare the time from his farm the young farmer set about reorganizing the village school. He gave one corner of his farm for a school garden. He invited the preacher out to his farm and got him out of the atmosphere of dead theology into the spirit of living progress. The preacher caught the spirit, and the church came to be an aid in the forward movement. Gradually the whole community became modernized. The people grasped the opportunities to which they were blind until some one opened their eyes.

The young man who can go into a community and by his indomitable courage and strong faith bring about a change like this has succeeded in the truest sense of the word. It is success of this kind, coupled with the success of a happy life and a comfortable competence, that the country offers to the young man today.

FRIDAY SEPTEMBER 16, 1910.

A fashion journal has declared against the hobble skirt.

You cannot always count on a primary in advance.

With some of the candidates it certainly was a close primary.

One man calls Roosevelt a king and another says he is a liar. Just a difference of opinion.

The Wilmington Dispatch intimates that fair weather has come because base ball has gone.

When tobacco money and cotton money both get to circulating, there ought to be something doing.

Some of them are yet carrying the effects of the whiskey they tanked up on Saturday.

There seems to be about as much spite as any thing else in those charges against the Charlotte medical college.

They brought the pressure to bear so heavy on Senator Lorimore that he resigned his membership in the club.

Now that the primary is out of the way, let every body get busy to make Greenville and Pitt county go forward.

Governor Patterson, no doubt foreseeing his finish in defeat, has withdrawn from the race for governor of Tennessee.

It took well into Sunday morning to get through counting the ballots in the Greenville precinct of Saturday's primary, but a crowd stayed by to the finish.

The withdrawal of Mr. J. Marshall Cox removes the necessity of holding a second primary to nominate a candidate for sheriff.

The stub of a lead pencil has been enrolled in the list of deadly weapons. A man in New York struck another on the neck with a pencil stub clinched in his hand and killed him.

John D. is going to be forced to use some of his own oil. A lake in his park at Cleveland bred so many mosquitoes that the authorities ordered him to pour oil on it.

If things don't seem to be going your way, don't get down in the mouth about it. Keep hammering at your job and bring something better out of it. Persistent effort is the slogan.

It is really sad that one can hardly pick up a newspaper these days without reading accounts of suicides. The mania of self destruction has increased to an extent that is appalling.

The Reflector is for the ticket that was nominated in the primary. That should be the decision of every Democrat in the county, regardless of who he voted for in the primary.

A five-acre lot near Charlotte has been leased for the purpose of locating an aeroplane factory. If Wilmington don't look out Charlotte will get ahead of her in turning out an airship.

The National Farmers Union, in session at Charlotte, passed a resolution endorsing Gifford Pinchot and expressed thanks for his efforts in the conservation of our national resources.

Colonel Roosevelt refusing to attend a banquet in Chicago if Senator Lorimer were present, and the latter a member of the club giving the banquet, shows the small caliber of the ex-president. His bump of self-conceit is great.

A Georgia press dispatch says that an ante-bellum negro of Americus is going to prepare a feast of barbecued rattlesnake for a bunch of lawyers. After such eating they ought to be able to make speeches with fangs in them.

It is good to look again out at East Carolina Teachers Training school and see the large number of students gathered at this splendid institution. The school has started the second session with an attendance much larger than the first year. Many of the first year students are back again and a host of new ones have come.

The Reflector joins with the faculty in bidding each and every one of them a hearty welcome to the school and to Greenville.

The Charlotte News has run up against the novelty of a libel suit. The Cincinnati Amusement Co., a concern running shows in Charlotte, brought the suit because The News pointed out wherein the amusement company was not properly observing the Sabbath with its shows. There ought not be any danger of The News getting hurt in a suit of that kind.

For a man who sticks to his job, even if there is nothing in it, The Reflector would point out Chairman F. C. Harding, of the Democratic county executive committee. He put in a lot of hard work in the interest of all the candidates in arranging for the primary, and he was on the spot until everything was over Saturday night. He looks well after the affairs of the party.

Editor J. A. Parham, of the Fayetteville Index, has the true grit, and we glory in his manhood to express his opinions. In the sixth district fight for the congressional nomination, The Index has been pronounced in its opposition to the renomination of Congressman Godwin. Because of this a subscriber in Robeson county wrote a letter ordering his paper stopped, and some others threatened to do likewise if The Index did not change. In reply to this Editor Parham wrote a long article giving his reasons for opposing Godwin, which were well-founded, and his closing paragraph was as follows:

"I am fully conscious of the fact that I shall probably lose considerable money by my opposition to Godwin's renomination, but if I could not publish a paper without crushing my conscience and remaining silent in a matter of this kind I would go back to work as a hired servant."

Sometimes we get really amused at the efforts of big concerns throughout the country to get free advertising from the newspapers. They think that all that is necessary is to get some expert to prepare a few pages of nice typewritten copy or make a printed slip of it and send it to the newspapers, and in it goes "for the information of your readers." But the things don't catch many of the papers. Thursday's mail brought two such "offers" to The Reflector. One was actually from a big university in a rich State, that has gone into the encyclopedia publishing business as a side line. Fifteen well prepared "copy" pages came along with a letter to "The Literary Editor, The Reflector, Greenville, N. C., U. S. A." with the hint that the university "will be obliged if you will mention the matter, in such form as you may find convenient, in your columns." Here's the mention, all right, and in the "form" that we find most convenient. The other "offer" was from a big Western harvesting machine concern that sent several columns of printed "copy" slips descriptive of demonstrations of their machinery, that they "will appreciate being given to your readers." These are just samples of what come every few days.

Across country highway building between two important points is demanding attention in North Carolina and we are expecting to see something come out of it. Not long since

A few more states to follow the example of Maine will give the Republicans a real case of the "jimmies."

We are not troubling over how many the census report will give Greenville. The folks are here, whether they were counted or not.

Wasn't that good news from the Maine election? It was enough to make both Taft and Roosevelt think that a cold wave had struck them.

The Charlotte Observer tells of a big movement up that way to get fertilizer out of the air. Why not? There are already some folks who live on air, apparently.

It was all right for Patterson to say his withdrawal from the race for governor of Tennessee was in the interest of party harmony, when he already saw his finish.

The Greensboro News thinks "they might at least tell Mr. Meares who it is that he is to run against," meaning for congress in the sixth district. Don't fret about that, he will find out soon enough to make him wish he never had.

That the State of Maine, which has for years and years been Republican, went Democratic in Monday's election is something to take note of. It shows the turning of the tide and increases the prospects of the next congress being Democratic.

The Charlotte News has just installed a new press, one of the finest in the South, that turns out papers at the rate of 25,000 an hour. Maybe such signs of prosperity encouraged that amusement company to jump on The News with a libel suit.

'Tis sad to reflect that many a winsome lassie who reigned as a queen beside the salt sea waves is now selling ribbons.—Asheville Citizen.

And by the same token many of the fellows who were giving the sails and leading the Germans are now back measuring calico or weighing flour.

As the amusement season approaches, the time of year when people look for operas and theatres, Greenville feels the loss of her opera house all the more keenly. We are not prepared to say if there would be much profit on the investment in a building of that kind, but if some movement could be started to secure an opera house it would certainly fill one of the needs of the town.

Recently Mayor Wooten had one of the Greek merchants before him for violating the law against selling goods on Sunday, and the offender had a fine and costs to pay. In this connection it is not out of place to say that those who purchase goods on Sunday are in a large measure responsible for the violations of the law. The merchant in question runs a cafe in connection with his store, and as cafes are open Sunday it is noticeable that they have become great loafing places. The crowds around impertune the proprietor to sell them cigarettes, fruits, candies etc., and besides the opportunity of doing such business the proprietor naturally wants to accommodate his customers, hence violations of the law occur. Of course there would be no sales unless there were voluntary purchasers, and under such circumstances it would be no more than just for the purchaser to be made equally guilty with the seller before the law. It is the purchaser who really causes the law to be violated.

ABOUT TO LOSE OUT.

Hot as that hair pulling controversy between Editors Whichard and Cowan has waxed, it has not yet reached the point where one has accused the other of violating the puff and rat section of the coffee code.—Charlotte News.

Now don't you get too busy mingling in this little affair "twixt Cowan and "we uns." We both know how to keep our heads on straight, even if they are red. And even if Cowan does wear a hobble skirt, he is not guilty of using either puffs or rats in his top knot.—Greenville Reflector.

Tough! Isn't there any way in the world of convincing him that we haven't got red hair. If there was such a thing as color photography down this way, we would send him our picture, even if he did use it for scaring rats away from his editorial paste box.—Wilmington Dispatch.

As we have done and seen Cowan, face to face, the picture he wants to send would not be any more convincing. Since he has denied it so emphatically we will admit that his hair is just near-red. But who would have thought he would be thick headed enough not to see the honor of being classed in such company. About to lose your opportunity, boy.

There is a Reason for It.

In the eyes of the world the average farmer is a much more important man than he was a decade ago. There is a reason for it. Farmers have awakened to a keener sense of the dignity and importance of the work in which they are engaged and as a result they are more independent and prosperous. Scientific discovery has done more for the farmers than for any other large class, not only showing them how to make their land more productive, but how to make their lives easier, pleasanter, and full of intellectual and varied interests. It has also along with industrial developments multiplied the markets for agricultural products. Farmers can now have about them comforts and pleasures of which the largest ante-bellum farmers never dreamed. Of course many farmers are slow to utilize their opportunities. Some will never make as much progress as they should. But the important thing is that great opportunities are within the reach of industrious and intelligent farmers. All professions and occupations have in their ranks hosts of failures, but landowning farmers who fall will soon be able to offer as little excuse as anybody.—Sanford Express.

The Picked Immigrant.

Again referring to the supplanting of the negro in Louisiana, Mr. Walter Parker, of New Orleans, has sent out a circular letter detailing plans that have been made to bring one thousand thrifty peasant families from France to settle and cultivate 50,000 acres of land in southwest Louisiana which was recently purchased for that purpose. He says that Gustave Camion, a French citizen, about a year ago came to Louisiana and signed up a preliminary contract for the purchase of the land, returned to France, organized two 5,000,000 franc corporations, lectured throughout the provinces on the healthfulness and productivity of Louisiana, secured the pledges of support needed, and has now returned to New Orleans, where he has completed the purchase of the land and made arrangements for the immediate beginning of development work. In February, 1911 the first 100 families will land at New Orleans from Marsalies, and others will follow as fast as the land can be opened up for settlement. This colonization scheme seems to be pretty much of the same sort that has been operated with so much success in bringing Italians, Germans and Englishmen to the lands about Wilmington. This plan is the solution of the immigration problem. The "picked" immigrant is the man this country wants.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Making Pork at 4 Cents a Pound.

Then, if when the cotton seed meal and corn has been fed that long the weather is not suitable for killing, or if for any reason the hogs are not slaughtered, stop the feeding of cotton seed meal, even if corn alone must be fed. Hogs grown on cowpeas, soy beans and peanuts, with a little corn, from August 1 to December 1, and then finished with corn and cotton seed meal and slaughtered at Christmas time, may be made for from 3 to 4 cents a pound live weight, or a profit of 100 per cent at the very least.

Farmers without cowpeas, soy beans or peanuts and must feed corn in a dry lot should at once begin the planning of some means to supplement the all-corn ration. While sorghum is also deficient in protein, like the corn and potatoes are of the same class, anything succulent given with the corn will very much increase its feeding value. We, therefore, advise the man who must fatten his hogs in a dry lot on corn to in some way provide some succulent feed for them, and to sell, if necessary a few bushels of corn and buy a few hundred pounds of tankage to add the necessary protein and variety to the ration. One part of tankage to 8 parts of corn will almost certainly pay much better than corn alone.—Raleigh (N. C.) Progressive Farmer and Gazette.

Progress on Tropical Civilization.

In a recent work entitled "Mosquito or Man," Sir Robert Boyce, in the preface, says: "Finally, if results are looked for, it can be said without exaggeration that the tropical world is today being steadily and surely conquered. The narration of the numerous campaigns against the mosquito which I have recorded is signal proof of this. The campaigns show that failures, but landowning farmers who of the tropics—the greatest enemies that mankind has ever had to contend with, namely, Malaria, Yellow Fever, and Sleeping Sickness—are now fully in hand and giving way, and with their conquest disappears the awful and grueling depression which seems to have gripped our forefathers. Now the situation is full of hope. The mosquito is no longer a nightmare; it can be got rid of. The tropical world is unfolding once again to the pioneers of commerce, who now do not dread the unseen hand of death as did of old the Spanish Conquistadores of Columbus and Cortez. The British public has and must always have a permanent interest in this practical conquest, which is destined to add a vast slice of the globe, of undreamt-of productivity, to the domains and activities.

Why has the strong Northern blood which nature attempts constantly to pour into tropical lands failed to gain foothold? Why have the tropics not been civilized? Why has the most fertile section of the globe remained uncivilized? Does the Northerner forsake the tropic on account of heat or sickness?

Gorgas in the Canal Zone has demonstrated that the American can live in the tropics with as much safety and do as much work as he can in the United States. It was not heat, but death, that drove the French from this region twenty years ago—death from Malaria and yellow fever that buried 50,000 of their laborers before they forsook the tropics. The gate to tropical civilization has been locked for centuries by the mosquito and the fly that carries sleeping sickness. Evidence is accumulating that suggests, and goes a long way toward proving for some, that the fall of Greece was due principally to tropical diseases imported through their soldiers returning with prisoners, both infected with malaria and other tropical diseases. Much more could be said along this line, but for space limitation.—State Board of Health Bulletin.

There would be fewer suicides if less detailed accounts of them found their way into the widely read public prints. Their number has been so large recently that it has become a subject of comment.—The Uplift.

PROGRESSIVE JAPANESE PARTY.

Mrs. Quinerly Announces the Best-Forbes Wedding.

Friday evening, with Mrs. Mark Quinerly as hostess, the ladies of the town enjoyed one of the most pleasant occasions of the season.

Promptly at 9 o'clock the guests began to arrive. They were met at the steps, under an arch of Japanese lights, by the hostess and her receivers, Miss Glenn Forbes, Mesdames Bert Moye, Dick Williams, Fred Forbes, Jack Boyd and Charlie Forbes, all of whom were dressed in national colors, and they were met at the door by the attendants—Misses Helen Forbes, Vernessa Smith, Lillian Burch and Mattie Moye King, who were dressed in loosely flowing Japanese robes.

Between the games of progressive Japanese the attendants brought in tea, sandwiches, ice cream and punch, all of which were served in tastefully ornamented china of red and white. The progressors were awarded favors in the forms of miniature Japanese fans, lanterns, umbrellas, etc.

Cupid wishes to announce, In a modest way, Soon there'll be a wedding To end a game of play.

Yes, for six long years, And by persistently working, The result now appears: The Best-Forbes wedding will take place November 16, 1910.

Immediately after this announcement the guests arose, and with clinking glasses drank the following toast which was led by the hostess:

Here's to the bride that is to be, So lovely, fair and good; Here's to the sweet simplicity, Of Southern womanhood.

We pledge you from our hearts today, Prosperity and health, A world of pleasure away, Joy, happiness and wealth.

Hardly had the toast been drunk when from the parlor issued the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. However, the quietness of the moment was soon broken by the members of the company, who almost overwhelmed Miss Glenn Forbes, the bride-elect, with the heartiest congratulations. When these were finished the guests began to take their departure all declaring that the evening had been spent most pleasantly and that the occasion would not soon be forgotten.

Water on the Farm.

The Carolina Union Farmer is urging the farmers to equip their homes with water-works. Some of the Mecklenburg farmers have already done this, but The Union Farmer tells how, by a co-operative system, the work can be accomplished so cheaply that almost every farmer can afford it. In explaining its plan it says that a well-boring machine can be bought for four or five hundred dollars. Ten men in a local union could put in $50 each and buy a well-boring machine, and after you get the machine you can bore wells at an average cost of about seven cents a foot, and at that price you can afford to have more than one well on your place. With a two-inch tubular well 75 or a hundred feet deep you can get pure water and there will be no typhoid germs in it. Then you can erect a tank and with a $75 two-horsepower gasoline engine you can pump water into the tank, and thus have a supply of water ready at all times to turn in through pipes to your residence and barns. But it would, perhaps, be better to expend $125 for a five-horsepower engine so that you can have power enough to also run your wood-saw, feed-cutter, grindstone, churn, etc. These home conveniences can be had at comparatively small cost if farmers can get several members of their local union to cooperate with you. It is a good idea and one worth developing.—Charlotte Chronicle.

RECORDS IN NEW VAULT.

They Are Now Safe From All Danger of Fire.

The temporary vault which the board of county commissioners had built on a portion of the court house square has been completed, and the county records have all been moved to it. There is now absolutely no danger of any damage occurring to the records, either from fire or otherwise. This forethought on the part of the commissioners in providing a temporary place for the records while the new court house is being built, is commendable. It shows that Pitt county's board of commissioners is composed of men who have the best interest of the county at heart, and they look carefully after all matters needing their attention.

The handsome vote by which the entire board of commissioners was renominated in Saturday's primary, shows the confidence the people of the county have in these gentlemen. Their superiors could not be found.

RESOLUTION BY FARMERS.

The Farmers' Union Endorses the Torrens System.

Whereas, The North Carolina division of the Farmers' Union has endorsed the Torrens system of registering land titles, and

Whereas, The South Carolina Union has followed North Carolina, and endorsed the same measure; therefore, be it resolved that the Pitt county division of the Farmers' Union does freely, most heartily endorse the Torrens system, and request that our senator and members of the house of representatives give their support and influence to the passage of this measure in the legislature of 1911.

We recommend that our brother farmers familiarize themselves with this important subject, that they may learn of the advantages and benefits to be derived from the Torrens system, should it become a law in North Carolina.

By order of the Pitt county division of the Farmers' Union, in convention assembled.

This September 3, 1910.

R. L. LITTLE, Secretary.

No class of people in the country are more in need of good roads than the farmers, but there will be no good roads until they become determined to have them. They are largely in the majority of the country and when they are awakened to this need the government will heed their call.—Littleton News Reporter

CONTENTION IN MAINE.

Both Sides Claim Two Doubtful Districts.

By Wire to The Reflector. Augusta, Maine, Sept. 14.—Semi-official announcement was made in Democratic circles today that re-counts of the vote would be demanded in the first and possibly the fourth congressional districts. The latest returns give Hinds, Republican, over Rennell, Democrat, 324 votes. Both sides still claim the victory in the fourth district. Republicans claim Guernsey is elected by 200 plurality, while Democrats claim that Hanson has 114 majority.

THOMAS DIXON'S NEW PLAY.

Many Virginia and North Carolina People Anxious to See It.

It seems likely that a considerable number of our citizens will go to Norfolk Wednesday, September 21, or Thursday, September 22, to see Thomas Dixon's new play, "The Sins of the Fathers," at the Norfolk Academy of Music.

Those who want to be sure of their seats are sending their mail orders, accompanied by remittance, to Manager Otto Wells, Academy of Music, Norfolk, Va.

It is five years since Tom Dixon then a resident of Tidewater Virginia, produced "The Clansman" in Norfolk. He drew his inspiration from Virginia scenes, and in "The Sins of the Fathers" he has again produced a story of the Old Dominion.

Mr. Dixon, never the man to shirk an issue, hits out against a monster evil that threatens the purity of the white race. The "Sins of the Fathers" are responsible for the existence of the mulatto, the octoroon, and the "near white" negro.

"The Sins of the Father" interweaves a fascinating love story with its deep emotional scenes, while the comic characters and situations are in Mr. Dixon's funniest vein.

A big advance sale for the play is under way at Norfolk and all of the three performances will be crowded to the doors.

APPRECIATED TESTIMONIAL.

Chairman Harding Commends The Reflector Co's. Plant and Force.

I desire to add my testimonial to the fact that The Reflector Company is now a modern, up-to-date and efficient printing establishment, and is equipped with a splendid force of working employes.

As chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee for Pitt county, I gave The Reflector Company a rush order on Monday night about eight o'clock for fifty thousand tickets to be used in the Democratic primaries to be held Saturday.

The Reflector Company was already crowded with orders for other work when my order went in, and without interfering with its large orders for other work and the regular work of getting out the daily and weekly papers, the company's force by splendid work, the most of which had to be done at night, promptly printed, cut, bundled and delivered the full fifty thousand tickets in good shape by four o'clock Thursday afternoon.

This was quick work and could only be done by hard, earnest application of the men running the machines and other departments with which The Reflector Company is now equipped.

Being present myself in the printing establishment a good portion of the time while this work was being done, I had an opportunity to personally observe the splendid spirit shown by the working force, and the ability of the work they are doing.

Another Cheap Water-Works System.

My tower, 25 feet high, cost $20; cistern, capacity 5x8 feet, cost $30; gasoline engine, 6-horsepower (second-hand) cost $125.

All pipes and connections are second-hand, costing six years ago $60. The whole plant was put up by my two boys, except the foundation of engine, which cost $14.

I hope this system of water-works will induce many others to do the same, and will help to keep many boys at home.—L. C. Gauthier, in Raleigh, N. C., Progressive Farmer and GAZETTER.

THE TRAINING SCHOOL.

Now Down to Regular Work of the Second Session.

Everything is now moving smoothly on the second session of East Carolina Teachers' Training School that opened last week. The preliminaries of registrations and class arrangements incident upon the first few days of a session have all been completed, and the students have entered eagerly and earnestly upon the work of the school year.

It is certainly an inspiration to see the school, especially when all gathered in one body for chapel exercise. It was our pleasure to see them this morning, and the two hundred young ladies and twenty young men there made a picture not soon forgotten. After the formal exercises conducted by President Wright and some explanation of classes, he introduced ex-Governor T. J. Jarvis, who addressed the school. In presenting Gov. Jarvis, President Wright truly said "He loves you and your interest better than any man in North Carolina." Governor Jarvis spoke on "Building a Good Foundation," and emphasizing the necessity of laying here in school a good foundation upon which to build their life work. He urged them to strict attention to every duty, using several forceful illustrations in his remarks. The students listened eagerly to the good words of advice from this noble man, and expressed their appreciation of all he said.

SOME FACTS ABOUT RALEIGH.

Her Chamber of Commerce Pushing the State Capital Forward.

A very attractive leaflet is issued by the Raleigh chamber of commerce and industry concerning the Capital City of North Carolina, containing much information of interest to the entire state. Raleigh, like Washington, is publicly owned; that is the streets and parks are the property of the state. This is because the state through a commission, selected the site and bought the land, laid out the streets and parks and sold building lots; in two or three cases the same family having held the property since the original sale; 118 years ago. Raleigh in this respect is the most unique of all the state capitals. The value of the state buildings and their contents is $2,500,000, exclusive of land, which is worth more than half million. The leaflet shows the capital is growing rapidly, the value of building and street improvements in progress totalling $1,115,000. The value of city property has in three years increased 25 per cent., and now amounts to $12,000,000. The $125,000 municipal building and auditorium the latter to seat 4500 persons, will be done January 1st. The street railway and power company is expending $250,000 in doubling the capacity of its plant. The Country Club, with hundreds of acres of land and very attractive buildings, is a notable feature. Raleigh is the educational centre of the state, having 23 schools, and a larger school population in proportion to the entire population than any other place in this country. It has two hospitals and, a third one, for the negroes, is being built. Here is the largest school for negro blind and deaf-mutes in the world, and the largest Baptist and Episcopalian schools for negroes. The Raleigh post office pays the 1233 R. F. D. carriers in the state $1,111,000, which is $487,000 more than four years ago. The money order division hauled $1,360,000 this year.

It takes well into the afternoon every day to finish the sales on the tobacco market. And double sales are on, too.

GRAND STAND COLLAPSES.

Hundreds of People Are Buried in The Wreck.

Madrid, Spain, Sept. 21.—During a bull fight at Mejorada today the grand stand collapsed, burying hundreds of occupants, and is feared scores more have been killed. MOB AFTER MURDERER.

Say He Will Never be Brought to Court House Alive.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Louisville, Miss., Sept. 21.—A band of men armed with Winchester rifles thronged the streets here today awaiting leaders to discover and storm the jail where a young man named Perminter, a member of a prominent family, is detained on the charge of attacking and brutally murdering Miss Janie Sharp, a pretty 18-year-old girl. Threats were made so freely that Perminter was hidden by the authorities. Friends of the girl say he will never be brought to the court house alive.
