

TO DECIDE FATE OF RECIPROCITY

THE SITUATION AT A GLANCE.

The Hottest Campaign Canada Has Witnessed in a Long Time.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 20.—The hottest political campaign Canada has witnessed since the days of Sir John Macdonald and the National Policy was brought to a whirlwind finish today with rallies and speechmaking in virtually every city, town and hamlet from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Tomorrow the electors throughout the country will express their political preferences and on their verdict depends the fate of the Liberal government, which, under the leadership of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, has been in office for fifteen years, and also the fate of the proposed reciprocity pact with the United States, from which Sir Wilfrid stands sponsor.

If Sir Wilfrid returns to power, the reciprocity bill will be passed soon after the re-assembling of parliament next month, and at an agreed date both Canada and the United States will put the necessary tariff changes into effect.

If the opposition wins a majority, Robert L. Borden, its leader, will become premier, reciprocity will be dropped and Canada will remain a high tariff country desirous of continuing the present tariff relations with the United States.

The polls will open at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and close at 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Unless the voting at large is unusually close it is expected that the outcome will be known by 10 p. m. (Atlantic time).

The campaign is the last in which Premier Laurier will participate, according to his declaration made at the beginning of the struggle. If he wins the contest, he will hold office continuously for a longer period than Sir John Macdonald.

The campaign has been hotly contested in all the provinces, and although conditions in certain sections of the Dominion are regarded as highly favorable to the Liberal party the result cannot be accurately forecasted. Upon the whole, disinterested observers seem inclined to the opinion that the government will carry the country by a reduced majority.

The claims of the two sides on the eve of the election are about as follows: The opposition declare they will gain seats from the government in the Maritime provinces—Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island—in Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia, while Saskatchewan and Alberta will remain with the government as at present. The Liberals, on the contrary, maintain that they will increase their present large majority in the French-Canadian sections of Quebec and the Maritime provinces, and will make gains in Ontario and throughout the West.

Practically the reciprocity agreement with the United States has been the sole issue of the campaign. The Liberal press and Liberal speakers have argued its material advantages, while the opposition has denied its material advantages and the compact as limited to the commercial unity and national independence of Canada, as a movement towards Continentalism, and as a far step towards separation from the mother country.

The Conservative campaigners have confined themselves largely to the sentimental side of the reciprocity question. The British flag, the maintenance of British connection unweakened, and protests against closer relations with the United States have formed the basis of Conservative speeches. The Liberals, on the other hand, have sought to keep the fiscal aspect of reciprocity to the front and have accounted as absurd the contention of the Conservatives that reciprocity will lead Canada away from England and to the United States.

It is conceded that if the Conservatives have succeeded in convincing a majority of the electors that reciprocity tends toward annexation the government will be defeated. It likewise seems certain that if the government speakers have satisfied the voters that annexation is impossible, the government will be returned by a substantial majority and the reciprocity agreement ratified.

The French-Canadian province of Quebec is regarded as the pivotal province in the election. Here Henri Dourasse, the opposition nationalist leader, has vigorously denounced Premier Laurier as too imperialistic. Through his paper, Le Devoir, of Montreal, and in speeches, he has declared that Laurier betrayed Canadian independence to Great Britain by enacting a law for the creation of a navy, which eventually will lead to the conscription of the young men of Canada.

In addition to Bourassa the conspicuous opponents of the government's return are Clifford Sifton, former member of the Laurier cabinet; Robert Rogers, minister of public works in the Manitoba government and head of the conservative organization in the Prairie West; Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia, and Premier Hazen, of New Brunswick.

Liberal governments are in power in Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, Quebec, Saskatchewan and Alberta. They have given the government and reciprocity all possible aid in the campaign.

Conducts a Good Sale.

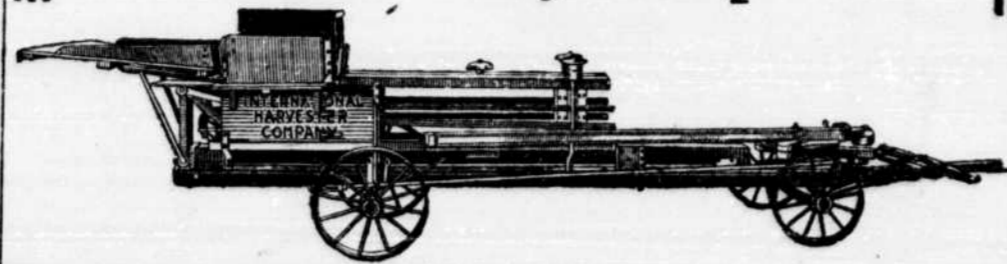

Although a comparative stranger in Greenville, Mr. J. J. Gentry has been conducting his sales in such a way at the Gum warehouse as to cause favorable comment by those who have witnessed his sales. Mr. Gentry is comparatively a young man, strong physically, and his manner of conducting his sales shows that he knows his business from start to finish. He is a hard worker, and never leaves a pile of tobacco as long as there is a prospect of getting a bid on it. A farmer who was on his sale a few days ago, was heard to remark: "That fellow Gentry is going to win his way in Greenville."

How To Get More Out Of Your Hay Crop

WHETHER you feed or sell your hay, it should be baled. Baled hay takes up much less room and nets a better price than loose hay. It is always ready for any market at top price, while loose hay must be sold near home, at whatever you can get.

I H C HAY PRESS

have many points of strength, simplicity, and convenience found in no other presses. They are equipped with a compound lever and a toggle joint plunger, which gives them great compressing power. A 500 pound pull on the sweep of a 16x18 I H C press gives 76,800 pounds pressure in the bale chamber.

The bed reach is only 4 inches high and very narrow. The bale chamber is very low—easy to reach over to tie the bale.

If you examine an I H C hay press you will appreciate its value as a money saver and money maker.

Quality  Counts

The Witty Irishman.

An Irishman wanted an empty bottle in which to mix a solution, and went to a druggist to buy one. Selecting one that answered his purpose, he asked how much it was.

"Well," said the clerk, "if you want the empty bottle it'll be one cent, but if you have anything put in it we don't charge anything for it."

"Sure, that's fair enough," observed the Irishman; "put in a cork."—Exchange.

Child's Nose Cut in Two.

Late Tuesday afternoon a little son of Mr. D. L. Smith, one of the rural mail carriers out from Grimesland, was playing in the yard with a tin bucket. The little fellow fell over on the bucket, striking his nose across the chime, and cut his nose in two. He was taken to a physician in Ayden for the wound to be sewed up.

Tell the average man a joke and he will say, "That reminds me." Then he'll get busy and you will have to listen, and it serves you right.

Three Things for Men.

There are more than three, of course, but C. T. Munford wants to impress the fact that his big store is especially strong on three things for men and boys.

When it comes to clothes, he has the Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes, that stand at the head of the class. They are of the right quality and shades for fall and winter, and they are made right. The man or boy in one of these suits will look right.

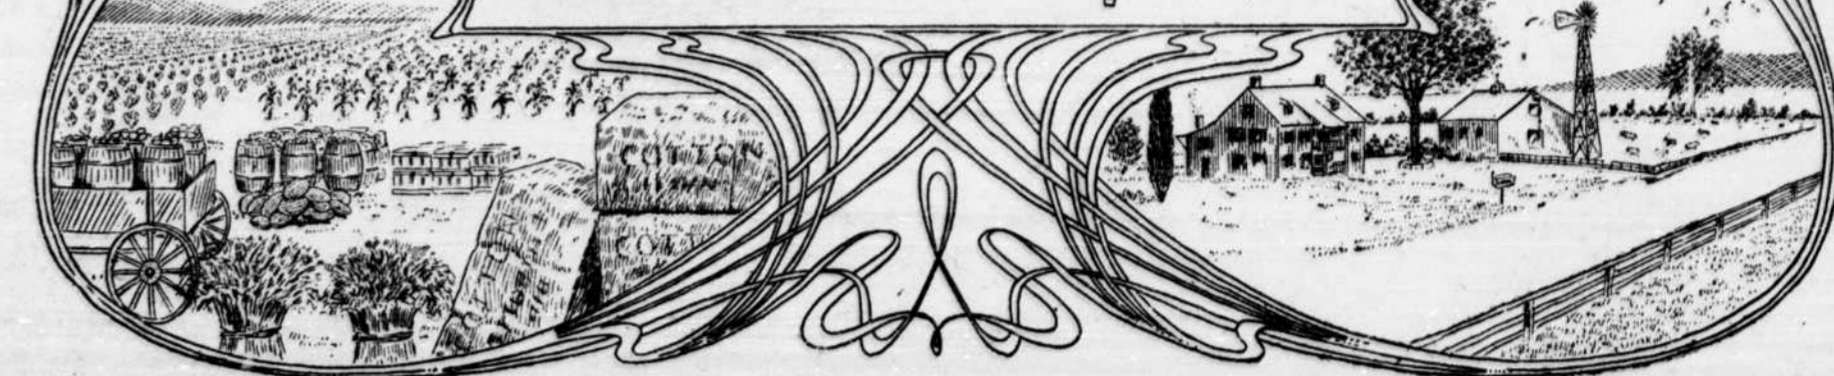

Then he has the 5-ply linen collars and cuffs, the very best made, and they can be had nowhere else.

Lion Brand shirts are known everywhere and are not surpassed by any. The man or boy does the right thing for himself in going to Munford's for these articles.

Rattlesnake Killed.

On Sunday morning a colored man who lives on the farm of Sheriff S. I. Dudley, about five miles from town, found a large rattlesnake in his yard and killed it. The snake had nine rattles.

HOW EASY IT IS TO FOLLOW ERROR

A MISPRINT IN S. S. SERVICE.

And Preachers, Through Force of Habit, Offer Strange Prayers.

HANRAHAN, N. C., Sept. 27.—How few of us, even those who read, ever stop one moment to think on what we have read.

In the Methodist literature each month has an opening service laid down. The opening service for August among other things had a verse, a couplet of this verse read something like this:

"If I can cool one ache or pain,
Then I shall not live in vain."

Evidently the author of these lines wrote, or intended to say, soothe one ache or pain, but a typographical error made him say cool instead of soothe. During the past month I attended several Sunday schools that used this opening service, and each and every one read it just as printed, "If I can cool one ache or pain." Without a wonder the Methodist Sunday school of your city read this for the whole month of August without once thinking that a pain is not something to be cooled.

A while ago I heard a preacher get up and preach a powerful sermon, urging sinners to repent and be saved just now and made much effort to impress all who had not accepted Christ that now is the day to accept Him and to be saved. And then he called the congregation to prayer and made a most feeling prayer and wound it up by asking God for Christ's sake to at last save us all in heaven. When he had closed his service I asked him when a man was saved? He said when he confessed Christ and accepted Him as his Savior. Then I said why do three-fourths of your preachers always wind up your prayers by asking God to save us at last? He said "force of habit; we did not think." Just as many who are called on when the husband has been taken and a widow left, I have heard preachers of note pray that God would be a Father to the fatherless and a husband to the widow; God cannot be, and has never promised to be a husband to the widow. He can and has promised to be a Father to the fatherless and a friend to the widow, but not a husband.

So in my last, my bad copy and not the operator, made me say that "only dudes and other creeping things existed where once stood a town built up entirely of the aristocracy of that county." I meant to convey the idea that that town was entirely depopulated by all human beings, and that only doodles, little insects that live in the sand, and other creeping things now inhabited that once proud and beautiful town. And not that the offspring of those people were dudes and creeping things. The Rev. S. B. Pattisholl, of the M. E. church, south, closed a series of meetings at this place last Sunday night. He reorganized a church, reclaiming part of the old members that were scattered like sheep without a shepherd when the church went down. He also received four who had never been connected with any church. Quite an interest through his earnest preaching had been aroused among our people, but he had to close his meeting here Sunday night to begin a protracted meeting at Gum Swamp. May much good be accomplished.

U-KNOW.

[The way we got dudes out of doodles was you put "u" instead of "oo."—Opr].

The Colored School.

The Industrial graded school, for colored race, of which C. M. Epps is principal, will begin its ninth session Monday, October 2. The last session was a decided success and the principal, assisted by Amy D. Bowen, and Claudine Edmonds, will use every means to carry the work to greater success.

STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE

WILL AID PITT COUNTY FAIR.

With Liberal Donation To The Premium List.

President J. L. Wooten, of the Pitt County Fair Association, has received a letter from the State Agricultural Department, advising that the department will come to the aid of the county association in making a donation to the premium list of the county fair. This donation from the state promises to be a liberal one, and still further assures the success of the county fair to be held on the 2nd and 3rd of November. In addition to the donation by the State Department of Agriculture to the general exhibits at the county fair, they make a special donation for exhibits in the women's department.

At the meeting of the governing board of the county fair to be held on Friday, the premium list will be revised to include the donation of the State Department of Agriculture. In the meantime the people of the county should be getting something ready to exhibit at the fair. Do everything you can to help make this first fair a success, and to show what Pitt county can do in the way of a display of farm products, stock, poultry, pantry supplies, fruits, vegetables, and woman's work.

A GREAT MEETING.

To Be Held in Greenville Next Sunday Night.

Rev. R. L. Davis, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of the state, will visit Greenville next Sunday night and address the people of this community at a union service to be held in the Memorial Baptist church. Mr. Davis will tell why the jugs, the blind tigers and the near-beer saloons must go. Everybody—men, women and children—are invited to hear him.

The man who agrees with us is a mighty level-headed fellow.

TAFT LAYS CORNER STONE.

TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 27.—W. President Taft arrived this morning in Topeka, the first important stop on his day's schedule, he found city profusely dressed in patriotic attire and an enormous crowd on hand to do him honor. A party of distinguished representatives of the state, Kansas accompanied the president from Hutchinson, while another party of state and city officials and leading citizens of Topeka was in waiting at the station to greet him when he stepped from his special train. At the welcome formalities had been included the president was taken charge by the reception committee and escorted by a parade through gayly decorated streets of the downtown district. At the conclusion of the parade the president delivered a brief address at the laying of corner stone for the State Sold Memorial Hall to be erected in city. At the conclusion of the programme the presidential train for Atchison and Leavenworth.

BARACAS AT WINTERVILLE.

Gave An Interesting Programme Sunday Night.

The Baraca class of Winterville Baptist church had charge of the services Sunday night, September 17, in place of the regular preaching.

They had an excellent program arranged, consisting of the following: Song—"O Jesus With Thy Church Abide."

Unison recitation of the National Motto, Platform and Slogan of the Baracas.

Prayer—By J. D. Cox. Song—"Guard the Bible Well."

Scripture Reading—Phil. 4:1-13. Address—"What the Baraca Class Means to Young Men," by G. H. Cox.

Address—"Why Young People Should Read and Study the Bible,"—I. L. Bennett.

Song—"Church of Jesus." Address—"Young People and the Temperance Question."—R. C. Causey.

Address—"Young People and Public Amusements."—J. R. Carroll.

Song—"Ship Ahoy." Baraca Benediction.

Every part of the program was well rendered and the large crowd that filled the church went away saying they had greatly enjoyed the service.

The class is living up to its motto, "We do things." They have an enrollment of sixty members, a good set of officers, and are going rapidly forward, accomplishing great good in Baraca work.

Much of the success of the program is due to Miss Liles, teacher of the Philatheas, who very kindly assisted with the music.

AGAINST DOUBLE SALES.

Farmers Express Opposition To The Proposition.

We have received some letters from tobacco farmers expressing opposition to the petition of a number of merchants of Greenville to the Tobacco Board of Trade, asking that double tobacco sales be put on the market, which petition was published in The Daily Reflector a few days ago.

The farmers writing these letters in opposition to the petition give reasons why they do not think double sales are expedient, but as a discussion of the matter just now might have a tendency to produce friction between the merchants and the farmers, a thing that should by all means be avoided, we think it best not to publish the letters referred to. It is a matter that we believe the Tobacco Board of Trade will conscientiously handle in a manner which they think will best meet the interest of all concerned.

DELICIOUS JAMES GRAPES.

Mr. Springer Grows Them in Wake as in Pitt or Beaufort Counties.

Talking about grapes, there is nothing in the earth or in the waters underneath the earth so good as scuppernong grapes. It was from that the nectar of the gods was made. But when the gods made a scuppernong they made it only for those who had the pains to cultivate the vine or their near neighbors to whom they wished to give a taste of the most delicious thing that the Almighty ever made. It has but one drawback, (or is it a virtue) that it cannot be shipped safely and profitably. Therefore, for a long time the people have been trying to get a grape having the delicacy and sweetness of the scuppernong with properties that would make them keep for some time after being taken off the vines. The pioneer of this work is Mr. Henry Mish, of Beaufort county, who grew the Mish grape to perfection, and Mr. James, of Pitt county, also grew a grape that has come into great popularity. These grapes are very nearly as good as scuppernongs, but not quite.

Our friends in Pitt and Beaufort have a notion that they have a monopoly on growing these grapes, but yesterday Mr. H. E. Springer, who is the owner of Mahler's vineyard, east of Raleigh, sent the News and Observer a basket of James grapes grown in the Mahler vineyard that were just as good as Mr. Mish ever grew in Beaufort county, or Mr. James in Pitt county. The truth is that Wake county is ideally located, and if it is not on the site of the original Garden of Eden, it is just as good a place. South and east of Raleigh you can grow cantaloupes, sweet potatoes, water melons and scuppernong grapes in Wake county just as well as you can in Beaufort county, and north and west of Raleigh you can grow crops to perfection that are grown in such western counties as Catawba and Rowan. Therefore, we have the combination of soil and climate in Wake county that embraces all sorts in the state from the seashore to the foot of the mountains.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Pitt county is the home of the James grape, and the original vine is doing business at the same old stand. The News and Observer may think this celebrated grape comes as near to perfection up that way as here in its native home, but a test of the original will prove the difference.

Some Cotton Pickers.

The family of Mr. J. D. McCorkle, of Steel Creek, stands unchallenged as the champion cotton-picking family of the county, and, perhaps, of the state. The other day four members of the family picked 1,528 pounds of cotton, enough to make a heavy bale.

The above amount was picked in one day by four of Mr. McCorkle's sons, namely, Roy, Ben, Cecil and Harvey. The quantity picked by each one was as follows: Roy, 429; Ben, 394; Cecil, 368; and Harvey 337 pounds.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Let us hear from Pitt's champions.

NOTES FROM THE LABOR WORLD.

Forty-four states have adopted an age limit for the employment of children.

The average wage of school teachers in Kansas has more than doubled in the past ten years.

During the last two years the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen has gained 9,900 members.

Organized labor in Atlanta, Ga., has purchased a site and will soon begin the erection of a $30,000 temple.

The highest oriental wages are paid in the Philippines, where the ordinary laborer gets from twenty to fifty cents a day.

Fewer women over sixteen years of age are employed in the Southern cotton mills than in the mills of the New England states.

During the last year the Boot and Shoe Workers' International union has paid in sick, disability and death benefits a total of $89,279.23.

In the various metal industries of Belgium nearly half the men work from nine to ten hours a day, and the majority of the rest work from ten to eleven.

Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, South Carolina and Tennessee have laws requiring all employers to provide seats for their female employees.

In the United States the average productivity of the workman is $2,400 a year, while in England the average productivity of the workman is only $556 a year.

The American Brotherhood, an independent organization of blacksmiths in New York, has, by unanimous vote, decided to affiliate with the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Helpers.

The average wages paid to skilled women sewing machine operators in the United States varies from $1.50 to $2 a day. The same class of labor in France, Germany and Switzerland receives from 30 to 50 cents a day.

At a recent meeting of the United Hebrew Trades, in Manhattan, N. Y., it was decided to aid the tailors in the organizing campaign they are now carrying on to get all the trade in the country into the union, as a preliminary preparation for a general strike in 1912.

The action of the Cigarmakers' International union in the adopting a label to distinguish its products from those of ill-paid convict, Asiatic or child labor, was gradually followed by other labor organizations, until of living in the United States is far nowhere as seventy-nine union larger than in any other country.

TUBERCULOSIS.

For quite a while our state has been doing all it could to stamp out this dread disease. Among other things it has published and sent out free literature for the education of the people. Much has already been accomplished along this line, but, alas! how many have never been reached, how many have never been helped? Our state must have the co-operation of its people to ever accomplish the results desired. And no organization can do more than a band of united, determined women. Perhaps you are not interested, you say, "Oh, well, my people, or my family are well and strong; there is no need for me to do any thing." Think again, are you sure you can say that six months from now? And does not the health of your neighbors concern you?

The Civic League has been working for a year or more to arouse some interest in the cleanliness and general sanitation of our town. We have always had from our mayor and other town officials the heartiest co-operation, but we did not have as many women as we wanted, because we wanted every woman in town.

The league will meet for re-organization Thursday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. L. C. Skinner. We ask every woman who is interested in the welfare of her town to come to this meeting. If your neighbor does not take this paper, won't you tell her of this meeting and bring her?

In addition to our local work, it is our aim to take up the study of tuberculosis; and at an early date we will have Dr. Rankin, of Raleigh, to address us. Won't you come and join us?

THE FARMERS WILL HOLD.

Dr. Alexander Expresses Belief That Farmers Will Hold for 15 Cents.

"Will the farmers of North Carolina hold their cotton for 15 cents?" Dr. H. Q. Alexander, president of the state division of the Farmers' union, was asked Saturday afternoon.

"That depends," Dr. Alexander responded. "Of course there are some who cannot hold. They have incurred obligations which have to be met and there is nothing for them to do but dispose of enough of their crop to get rid of pressing obligations. Of the remainder, however, I am confident that the great majority will hold their cotton for 15 cents. The organization is making a constant and I believe an effective campaign of education with the view to bettering the condition of the farmers, instructing them as to the production and marketing of their crops and otherwise looking after their best interests.

"I have received several inquiries, mostly from officials of county locals throughout the state, asking about the financing of the crop. My replies to all these is to have the county locals appoint influential committees to wait upon the local banks to see if funds cannot be secured at home for the financing of the crop, the securities being the warehouse receipts. I have added that if sufficient accommodations cannot be secured, then to communicate with me so that I can get in touch with others higher up."

Dr. Alexander is assured that the

INVESTIGATION MARKET CONDITION

The Cold Storage and Commission Men Reap A Harvest Off The Farmers—Methods of The Sugar Trust in Robbing The Government.

(By Clyde H. Tavenner).

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—“The farmers of Pennsylvania sold forty-eight million dollars worth of potatoes in New York last year, but they were not worth forty-eight million to the Pennsylvania farmers. That is what the New York consumers paid for them. The Pennsylvania farmers got three and three quarters millions.”

This statement was made by members of the Pennsylvania grange who visited New York City to investigate market conditions.

These grangers discovered that a cold storage chicken, weighing a pound and a half, sold for a dollar in Madison avenue. For that same kind of a chicken the farmers received twelve and a half cents a pound. The farmers bought apples for five cents each, and offered to sell the vendor from whom they bought them all he wanted for two dollars a barrel. Eggs which the farmers sold for twenty-two cents a dozen brought forty-five cents when sold to the New York consumer.

This vast difference between what the farmer gets and what the consumer pays represents the unearned profits that flow into the coffers of the railroads, the express companies, and the food trusts. The railroads get theirs in the form of excessive rates, which must be exacted in order to pay the dividends on watered stock. The express companies get theirs by reason of the fact that one supple Republican administration after another has refused to put them under a decent regulation, and the food trusts get theirs by maintaining unnecessary cold storage houses, through which they manipulate the supply, and create artificial “shortages.”

Nearly all the perishable food supplies which go to the cities are handled by the express companies or by the equally monopolistic refrigerator lines of the food trusts both being owned by the railroads. Thus the consumer pays a double haulage bill. As soon as these products reach the cities they are turned over to the food trusts, who put them in cold storage and keep them there until a “shortage” is created. Then up go prices.

“If all the eggs stored in New York City were placed on the market tomorrow,” said one of the Pennsylvania grangers, “the price of eggs would fall two-thirds.”

What is the remedy? Democratic members of congress believe that one remedy lies in the strengthening of the interstate commerce law, to enable the government to reach—and jail—some of the owners of the criminal food trusts and transportation monopolies.

It is sufficient that the farmers, for the first time in years, are “getting together” on the high price question.

They know that while their products command more than they did a few years ago, there still is a tremendous gap between what they get and what the consumer pays. They propose to find out where the trouble lies, and it is more than certain that their investigations will lead them to the headquarters of the unpunished trust magnates who control the railroads, the express companies, and the food monopolies.

No Way To Stop The Trust.

For years and years the sugar trust is known to have stolen from the government. By means of false weights and tricky springs to cheat the scales, and by bribery of government officials, this rapacious trust diverted into its own coffers millions of dollars that should have gone to the government in revenue. The trust was caught red handed in its thievery, yet no body was punished; no body went to jail.

The government finally put a stop to the revenue stealing. The doctored springs were taken away, and the corrupt customs collectors were discharged. This forced the trust to adopt new methods in order to maintain its inflated dividends, so recently it sent out a wail about a “short crop” and now sugar prices are almost as high as they were during the Civil war. The sugar trust is determined to get “it’s.”

Where The Money Goes.

What becomes of all the money the big trusts extort annually from the American people? Everybody knows they exact millions in tribute each year, and a stranger from Mars, were he to read the newspapers of this country, would wonder how the trusts could get strong boxes big enough to store away all the money they take from the people.

Recently an enterprising statistician figured it out that American heiresses—the majority of whom are the daughters of American trust magnates—permit their broken down titled foreign husbands to enjoy the income from one and three quarter millions of dollars.

This money, if spent by parents in America by whom it is earned, would educate approximately a million children each year. Or it would give employment to two hundred thousand American workmen at good wages.

The Day of Reckoning.

The “House of Governors” appointed a committee of three of its members to argue against the Sanborn intrastate rate decision when the case reaches the Supreme court. The committee was appointed because the governors feared the right of the states were in danger of being violated by the highest court of the land. Each member of the Supreme court, when he takes his oath, solemnly promises to project the rights of the states, as well as those of the nation. Why, then, should the governors be apprehensive? Why should they consider it necessary to tell the highest court what its duty is?

The very fact that governors recognized the necessity for such action indicates that it isn’t only “agitators” and “demagogues” who have become suspicious of the Supreme court, and of the whole judiciary system.

No Sales Friday.

Remember, farmers, that the Greenville tobacco market will take a holiday on Friday, 29, circus day, and there will be no sales on any of the warehouse floors that day.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1911.

Exchange says onion sets. So the hen.

Taft's platform is only about large enough for him to stand on.

The aviation route takes them off as quick as any other.

It looks like September is going to make it hot for us to the end.

Signing a petition a man should do that he is doing.

The predicted cool wave appears to be den with warmth and humidity.

The price is also climbing up, the price is trying to catch up with sugar.

Persons desire to take part in the concert they might let it be known.

Christmas, just three months ahead. Get ready to do your shopping early.

At the way the price is going there will be less sugar in the pie.

It is a dull day for Wilmington that does not chronicle a murder or a robbery.

We hope the prediction that lower sugar will come in two weeks is true.

The clock tower is the emptiest looking thing about the new court house.

Michigan needs a Solomon to tell who Kimmel is. His mother will not own him.

President Taft sees a plenty ahead to make him very uneasy about landing again.

Wonder if the president would like to have another extra session of congress.

Here's wishing Joe King, of the Durham Herald, good luck on his semi-annual fishing trip.

A $5 bill was lost in New York and when it was found twenty nine people laid claim to it.

The president and congress may feel that the laugh is on them since Canada turned down reciprocity.

And all the extra session of congress seems for nought since Canada rejects the reciprocity bill.

It is said of nearly every rascal that he belongs to a "prominent family."

It was lucky that the ice tea season was nearly over when sugar took such a leap.

If you see a loafer remind him that there is much cotton in the fields which needs picking.

The fellow who predicts a hard winter is already in evidence. Somebody please swat him.

About all the investigation in the Hawkins case showed is that the young woman is dead.

If the loafers cannot be induced to go and pick cotton, they might be sent to work the roads.

When one goes wrong it is customary to add "he was of a prominent family."

The recent advance in sugar puts a profit of $40,000,000 in the pockets of the trust.

The oil inspection law passed by the legislature has been declared unconstitutional.

The Durham Sun says jail the trust magnates. The jails may not be large enough to hold them all. Then what?

After what Canada has done Mr. Taft may feel like cancelling the remainder of his trip and going home to weep.

The flies should take notice that summer has ended. If they do not get out of the way soon, Jack Frost will come along and bite their toes.

If no hitch comes before the time of execution, Warren county will be entitled to the premium for promptness and order in dealing with a criminal.

The Greensboro News on Tuesday was a "booster" edition of thirty-two pages. It boosted Greensboro and the many industries of that city all right, too.

Good schools and good roads are requisites to a good county. Pitt has the schools, and the roads are coming.

Canada having voted against reciprocity with the United States, wonder what President Taft's smile is going to do now.

The editor has been touched by the expressions of sympathy from the brethren of the press and other friends in his recent bereavement.

As radium has declined in price to $80,000 a grain, now might be a good time to secure your winter's supply. We would not advise purchasing more than a pound.

Hendersonville continues in the lime light. Two more murders have occurred there since the Hawkins butchery.

The columns of The Reflector show that it is recognized as the best advertising medium in all this section.

Any excuse will do when the trusts want to squeeze the people, so the failure of reciprocity with Canada is used to push up the price of food stuffs.

All the things that were to come out of the Hawkins investigation at Hendersonville, did not come. The whole thing was a big farce except for the reporters.

Organized effort is being made to count for much in many towns in the state, but this is another rope that Greenville is slow to take hold of and pull for something.

Whether a wife has the right to scold her husband or not, as the Kansas judge says, they will scold if they take the notion to do so. And in most cases the husbands deserve what scolding they get.

We are prepared to say if Hendersonville people are tired and disgusted with the Hawkins murder investigation, bet those in other sections of the state are.

President Taft had an easy day, is the way a news head line expressed it. Most any one could have an easy day on his salary and all junketing expenses paid.

The San Francisco millionaire who is having a big wall erected at his suburban home to keep out mosquitoes, should not forget that mosquitoes can fly and may go over the wall unless he puts on a cover as well.

There are several things in the way of manufacturing enterprises that might be established in Greenville if the folks who have money would make up their minds to establish them. Surely the town needs them bad enough.

As much money as the farmers are now getting for tobacco, business ought to be better and The Reflector ought to be writing more subscription receipts.

There's always a "but"—if not a "but," then an "if."—Kinston Free Press.

And frequently both an "if" and a "but." And excuses sometimes come along without either.

Since the defeat of reciprocity in Canada wheat has jumped up two or three cents a bushel. This means that flour is going to follow sugar and coffee in going high. First thing you know people will have to stop eating anything that the trusts control.

Some folks get in a big hurry. They started the rumor that Judge W. J. Adams was going to resign, and notwithstanding he denied the rumor citizens of Lee county have selected a successor to recommend to the governor for appointment. That is going some.

With cotton at 15 cents per pound the cry of "Back to the farm!" is a good one, but with sugar and clothes at their present figures another good one is "On to the factory!"—Wilmington Dispatch.

But the trouble with this is that cotton is not 15 cents a pound, and sugar keeps soaring.

Early in the game there were frequent rumors that Gen. J. S. Carr, of Durham, was also going to enter the race for United States senator for this state, making five candidates for sure with a possibility of more. But General Carr has set the matter at rest so far as he is concerned, by making the announcement that he will not be a candidate.

With the flour trust making us knead the dough all the more, the sugar trust robbing us of the very sweets of life, the ice trust melting us, the coal trust freezing us, the beef trust making life tougher for us, and the oil trust refusing to pour oil on the troubled waters, a fellow can well wonder if he will have anything left for Christmas.

People have little regard for human life just so they feel they are getting their money's worth. A crowd attracted to a county fair in Ohio by aviation feats, were disappointed because the aviator feared to attempt a flight in a disabled machine. They taunted him with cries of coward until he made the attempt, ending in being roasted to death in mid air before their eyes. The crowd might be established in Greenville if

Almost any of them might be called a steal trust.

The football season will soon be on its death score.

The government goes after the trusts and the trusts go after the people.

No officer is reported to be trying to arrest that tramp comet for vagrancy.

Returns from the recent Maine election have got over on the dry again.

Cotton has got to ten cents and really looks worse. The farmer who holds is going to get a better price.

Taft crossed the Mississippi, and there was almost as much fuss over it as Washington crossing the Delaware.

We hope the advance in price of wheat will lead Pitt county farmers to plant more of it. This county can raise wheat all right.

There needs to be a stronger public sentiment against the selling of whiskey. Blind tigers should be made to fear to do business.

Speculating in money is not doing the community the good that would come to it if the money was invested in manufacturing enterprises.

Beattie is promising to give out a statement soon that will create a sensation. Better cut it out. He has already had a chance to tell it to the judge.

If everybody else who ought to be doing so, tried as hard as the newspaper men to make business for Greenville, you would soon see more business coming here.

The game warden of Craven county had some hunters arrested for shooting squirrels out of the season. That is the way to go after them if the law is to be observed.

With two circuses, a tent minstrel show and a carnival, all inside of a month and a moving picture show every night, Greenville ought not to complain of having nothing to see.

Kansas was so glad to see the president that warring Republicans forgot their differences for the time and all joined in a big reception. That was just one of the things looked for in planning the trip.

Only a few days ago there was a boost that the large holdings of the Louisiana sugar planters would put a check on the way the sugar trust was advancing prices. Now it turns out that those same planters have sold out their holdings to the trust.

They are going to probe into the assassination of Premier Stolypin. If more is not found than in the investigation of the Hawkins murder at Hendersonville, they had as well not start.

We are not prepared to believe the prediction of the Birmingham Age-Herald that in ten years there will not be a state in the union with state wide prohibition. On the contrary we think that in ten years the government will have stopped the inter-state shipment of liquor into a prohibition state.

France has suffered a great disaster in a fire and explosion that destroyed one of her best battleships and caused the death of more than three hundred of the crew. It recalls what happened to the United States in the destruction of the Maine in Havana harbor.

No, sir; the interest in good roads is not waning at all. The sentiment in favor of a bond issue for building roads in Greenville township is something that is growing every day, and the more people look at the proposition in its right light the more ready they are to become advocates of the proposition. Good roads must come.

A hearty welcome to the faculty and students of East Carolina Teachers Training school. May those who are returning, as well as those who are here for the first time, find this the best and happiest year of their school life. We are proud that there is such a school here to offer them, and we rejoice that they have come to help make the school a success.

Not long since it was told how the town of Hickory had raised a fund of $200,000 to secure manufacturing enterprises. Now it is stated that photographs have been taken of the best farming scenes in the county, Catawba, and that these will be shown on moving picture slides at a land and irrigation convention to be held in New York. No wonder Hickory and Catawba county are going forward.

This way of Greenville getting three or four months good trade during the cotton and tobacco marketing season, is poor dependence from a business standpoint. This town needs and should have manufacturing enterprises with pay rolls that will make business for twelve months in the year. Until the people wake up to this situation Greenville is not going to have the business that ought to be here.

Something that Greenville needs and needs badly, is a good hospital. Life is too valuable for people taken with sudden illness that requires an operation, to be subjected to the danger of being carried elsewhere and the delay in receiving proper attention. Lives that could be saved are too often sacrificed for this reason. It is not because our local physicians are not as good as any, but owing to the want of hospital facilities. Some years ago there was much interest around in securing a hospital here, but suddenly that interest for some reason was allowed to drop. It should be revived and not permitted to lag until a hospital is secured.

A Philadelphian who owns eight houses expressed a willingness to pay 25 cents a week toward the support of his 70-year-old mother, and a brother who owned two houses did not want to pay anything. A judge before whom they were examined assessed them $2 each per week for their mother's support, and made them give security to pay it. Those two sons ought to have been sent to the chain gang.

Up at Monroe, in Union county, they are agitating a proposition for issuing bonds for good roads in the township similar to the movement here for building roads in Greenville township. The same condition prevails there as here, that is, that the road taxes the people are already paying and getting no roads for it, is sufficient to provide the bond issue and have roads. People all over the state are awaking to the realization that this is the way to get roads.

The dealers are now robbing the cotton farmers and the government through its crop estimates are helping them do it. Because the present crop is opening faster than usual it is being picked and marketed faster, and the bears who want to buy it for as little as possible are pressing the price down, claiming that the receipts indicate the large crop estimate made by the government. As soon as the cotton has passed from the hands of the farmers to the dealers, then they will discover (?) that the crop is short and prices will push up. The decline in price now is costing the South millions of dollars which the speculators will make out of this crop.

The works to be produced this year include Bantock's "Omar Klayyam," the Beethoven Mass in D Major, and "The Nuns," the last named a new work by Max Roger, which will be sung for the first time in America.

Two Hundred Thousand Pounds. The tobacco market had another break that was all round two hundred thousand pounds today. You just cannot get ahead of the Greenville market anywhere. Tobacco is bringing high prices here, and the farmers bring it to this market knowing that they are going to be treated right. Watch The Reflector every day and see what the Gum and Star are doing for the farmers who sell at these houses, and you will not be surprised that Greenville is leading all other markets.

Law Benefits The Criminal. The law in this state was made for the benefit of criminals; at least this is the way it looks. A defendant in a murder case has 23 challenges, when he can stand a juror aside without any excuse whatever. This privilege was given him years and years ago when the court, if the prisoner was unable to employ an attorney, had no power to assign counsel. These challenges in the first instances were allowed him in lieu of counsel, but when the law was changed, as at present, making it really incumbent on the court to assign counsel for his defense, he was still left with 23 challenges. Along in the seventies another change was made and the defendant is now permitted to testify in his own behalf, still he is left with the under hold in the fight.—Greensboro Record.

These excellent sales should convince every man of intelligence that the Star is the best place to bring his tobacco. F. D. FOXHALL, Manager. Star Warehouse.

GOOD ROADS LAW FOR GREENVILLE TOWNSHIP

THE AMENDMENT A SURPRISE.

Friends of Good Roads Are Encouraged Over Growing Sentiment.

To the Citizens of Greenville Township:

The road law enacted by the legislature gave the citizens of Greenville township the right to vote on the issuance of bonds for the purpose of building and maintaining good roads in Greenville township, and this law required a new registration.

The first Monday in September a delegation of citizens appeared before the county commissioners, asking them to call an election agreeable to the above law. The commissioners asked for a certified copy of the law. It was necessary to write to Raleigh to get this, hence no action was taken by the commissioners. When this certified copy came it was found that the law as originally written had been amended. This was a great surprise to the friends of the measure for they had no idea in the world that the law had been changed.

The Mooring Amendment, as it is called, nullifies the original law in so far as it relates to a new registration. It is custom where bonds are an issuance in an election to require a new registration, and this action has, and does, prevail all over North Carolina.

The advocates of good roads in Greenville township feel greatly encouraged. A great many who opposed the movement in the beginning have changed their views and are ready to vote for bonds to build and maintain good roads. Let every one who favors good roads continue the good work of winning friends for the measure.

An election of this kind usually arouses some feeling and interferes with business. We do not want to go through with it but once. Due notice will be given when the election is called to vote on bonds for the purpose of building and maintaining good roads in Greenville township. Our work should be so effective and our victory so overwhelming that after the election it will be hard to find a man who would be willing to admit that he voted against good roads.

E. B. HIGGS,
President, Greenville Township Good Roads Association.

Practical Results of Good Roads.

The construction of good road in any section will mean:

1. That the market value of the real estate situated on or near the good road will be enhanced in value and in many instances properties which could not be sold even at a low figure have found a market when they were connected with the neighboring town or city by means of a good road.

2. That rural free delivery will be extended as good roads are constructed and is practically dependent upon good roads, for which the construction of good roads there will be an increase in population of the earning capacity of the adjacent farms, which will mean a greater amount of mail matter to be delivered.

3. That farmers will be able to take advantage of market fluctuations in buying and selling.

4. That the farmer, fruit grower, and others will be able to economize time and force in transportation between country and market.

5. That the wear and tear on their horses, harness and vehicles will be reduced.

6. That tourists, capitalists, investors and others visiting any section of the state will be much more favorably impressed with the financial possibilities of any manufacturing enterprise, or any commercial value of any farm or timberland by driving to them over good roads. If these same places have to be visited over poor roads, they will lose more than half their value in the sight of the prospective investor, as his thoughts have been so entirely taken up with the bad road over which he has been compelled to travel.—Fayetteville Index.

Salaries of Pastors.

There appears to be an increase in restlessness among pastors. No doubt there is in most cases a good reason for much of it. Salaries, in very many cases, are inadequate. The support of a pastor with one or two children will not do so where there are more, and the time comes when his children must be educated. This state of affairs explains very probably why the minister who said recently in our hearing that he had received of late a call and already had three applications for his place. The hard experiences of many of our pastors who are often forced to live on a salary too scant are not known. When the day comes that his children have to be sent off to school—that sad day is not known either. So we find the occasion, if it is not on the surface, for seeking out another field and a larger salary.—Presbyterian Standard.

No Market Friday.

Circuses and tobacco sales are things that do not mix well, therefore tobacco sales on the Greenville market have been called off for next Friday, 29th. Haag's circus will be here that day, and everybody around the market wants a day off.

ASSAULT AND ROBBERY NEAR FARMVILLE

MAN SET UPON BY NEGROES.

Beaten Badly, and Robbed of Thirty-Five Dollars.

Saturday evening a young man, named Hamilton, of Wilson county, went to Farmville with the intention of visiting an uncle who lives near that town. It seems that in Farmville he connected with a blind tiger that made him linger longer than was good for him, and also put him in that condition that made him make too free display of money that he had with him. The lingering extended so late into the night that when the midnight train passed Farmville, Hamilton had not proceeded any further towards his uncle's than the track of the Norfolk Southern railroad.

It was pretty soon after this train passed that things happened to Hamilton that he will not forget soon. He was set upon by several negroes, badly beaten and robbed. The negroes evidently had seen the money and made up their minds to possess it. Hamilton says that he was robbed of $35. He also said there were several negroes in the crowd that beat him, and that their actions indicated that they must have thought they had beaten him to death.

A boy who saw the assault started towards Hamilton, but some pistol shots from the negroes frightened him away. He did, however, go up town and report the matter to the police, and an officer went out and found Hamilton in a badly wounded condition and took him to a doctor.

Two negroes, Claude Vines and Tom Vines, have been arrested, and the officers are on the track of others who are charged with being implicated.

Good Roads Benefit Everybody.

Had Lee county good roads a desirable class of people would come in, buy up all available land and help develop and build up the county. In some sections of Lee county one can travel for miles and hardly see a house. This land should be turned into good farms. This can be done by building good roads through it. The real estate owner should favor good roads because they would enhance the value of his property. The farmer should favor them because they will make it easier for him to cultivate his crop and market his produce. The merchant and business man should favor good roads because they will bring them more business. The professional man should favor good roads, because if the community is prosperous he will stand a better chance in the community. The laboring man should favor good roads because they mean more jobs and better wages. We don't know of a class of citizens that good roads would not benefit. The quickest and most effective way to get good roads is by bonds. When you have an opportunity, vote for bonds for good roads and help make your county second to none in the state—Sanford Express.

The Health Officer.

The September number of The Bulletin of the North Carolina Board of Health opens with an editorial on the importance of the alertness of the health officer. It takes as an instance, the prompt reporting of a health officer by a physician of three cases of typhoid fever in one family. Then the health officer set to work. He found the three cases of fever in a home equipped with public sewerage. While there were several nearby surface privies on neighboring lots there was no typhoid fever in the surrounding blocks. All the children had fallen sick about the same time, which indicated a common origin. The home was supplied with city water, the monthly analysis of which showed it to be pure. It at last developed that the children had bought ice cream from an itinerant vender who sold cream on the streets regularly. His place of business was investigated. It was found that he obtained his milk from an exceptionally sanitary dairy. The water used in washing the vessels was obtained from a well. A sample of water from this well was taken and sent to the state laboratory of hygiene for analysis. It was found grossly polluted. These authentic circumstances leave practically no doubt as to the origin of these three cases of typhoid fever, one of which terminated fatally. While for some, alas! there is nothing but tragedy connected with that well, there is for many a life-saving lesson to be drawn from its fatal depths. It will poison no more. It would have poisoned no telling how many had not a doctor recognized the sphere of his larger responsibilities, and, through the agency of a health officer, traced the poison to its source and sealed it.

The health officer fills an important position in every community. If he is alert and energetic, he is a blessing, if he is indifferent and neglectful, he is worse than of no use, for he stands in the way of a better man at the peril of the community.—Charlotte Chronicle.

CAPITOL TO LAST 500 YEARS.

Stone Structure Seldom Endure Over 700, Builder Says.

"One thing I learned during a recent visit to Europe was that the average life of a stone building is not more than 700 years," said John H. Bryan, a builder of Chicago, at the Raleigh. "Naturally, I was interested in construction work, and gave more attention to this part of Europe than I did to the examination of art galleries and the tombs of famous men. The buildings of Europe are no better in their construction than those in this country, I don't think I saw a building in Europe that is better than the capitol in Washington.

"In nearly all of the older cities of England I noticed that the town halls which had been constructed, in many cases, 500 years ago, were beginning to collapse. All of them had been patched up, and it was evident that they would not last a great many years longer. I do not think there is any doubt that the capitol building here will be standing 500 years from now if it is not destroyed, but it will not last longer, nor will the treasury building, which is the finest example of its style of architecture in the United States."—Charlotte News.

NO REASON FOR IT.

When Greenville Citizens Show The Way.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of serious kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that these ills can be cured. Read what a Greenville citizen says:

Mrs. Fannie Moore, 214 Pitt street, Greenville, N. C., says, "I feel very grateful for the relief I have received from Doan's Kidney Pills which I obtained from the John L. Wooten Drug Company. Backaches annoyed me and there was much lameness and weakness through my lions. My kidneys did not do their work as they should and the kidney secretions bothered me. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me relief from these symptoms of kidney complaint and improved my condition in every way."

CHANGE IN SCHEDULE.

Breaks Connection of Evening Trains At Kinston.

The local agent of the Norfolk Southern railroad requests the Free Press to call the attention of the public to the announced change in the schedule of the westbound evening passenger train, which has been leaving this city at 8:05. Effective Sunday, it will leave the Kinston station at 6:45 p. m.—Kinston Free Press.

This means that there will be no more connection between Atlantic Coast Line and Norfolk Southern evening trains at Kinston. Heretofore the Atlantic Coast Line train passing Greenville at 6:33 p. m., reached Kinston in time to connect with the Norfolk Southern westbound train. The railroads seem bent on making matters worse instead of better for the traveling public.

Mr. Alex. Dawson, of Institute, has been here this week attending the Union conference. He reports fine crops and cotton all open and pickers scarce.

Mr. Richard Wingate has purchased the farm of Mr. Levy A. Worthington near Bethany, for $10,000. This shows that Mr. Wingate can handle real estate as successfully as he can deal in houses. He has bought, developed and sold several farms in different parts of Pitt county in the last few years at a satisfactory price to both buyers and seller.

If it is hardware and mill supplies, building material, cook stoves, and ranges, see us. J. R. Smith and Bro. Mr. Peter E. Hines tells us he finds life insurance more profitable than farming.

There was a planter from Louisiana here a few days ago and sold one merchant two cars of choice sargrum, syrup and molasses, direct from his farm. So in a few days we will have a sweet town.

We don't understand much about the Blow-Bassett subterfuge or the initiative, referendum and recall, but we do know that the present system of public school books is a farce, nuisance, and non-sensible piece of foolishness, and works a hardship on the poor parents who are of limited means. Why not adopt a set study for ten years and let the teacher compose the committee to select them? Of course, they know better what the people need than people in Alaska do. I feel sure that all book dealers will agree with me, and especially the parents.

TO SAVE THE NATION'S RESOURCES FARMER AND FARM LIFE, TOPIC.

Pres. C. S. Barrett, of Farmers Union, Will be Heard.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 25.—The presence of President Taft, Secretary of Interior Fisher, ex-Secretary James R. Garfield and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, together with half a dozen governors, several United States senators and many of the foremost educators, agricultural experts and business men of the nation, at the National Conservation Congress which opened in this city today, lends added dignity to a convention the importance of which to the country at large can scarcely be overestimated.

This is the third conservation congress to be held. The first was held in Seattle in 1909 and was devoted chiefly to the conservation of the saving of the forests. In St. Paul last year the public land question was foremost. At the present congress the farmer and farm life forms the general topic, with especial reference to the question of soil fertility, the maintenance and improvement.

During the three days of the convention addresses and papers will be presented that will command the attention of the nation, not only because of their importance to the agricultural interests, but because of the prominence of the men who will present them.

Beginning with the opening discourse tonight by President Taft on the general subject of "Conservation," the thousands of interested auditors who will fill Convention hall tomorrow and Wednesday will listen to addresses by noted men who know how the natural resources of the country have been wasted and who are best qualified to speak on the subject of their conservation.

Secretary Fisher and former Secretary Garfield will speak on the same general subject assigned to the live stock industry, child life on the farm, and the farmer and the government.

President Taft. Senator Joseph L. Bristow, of Kansas, who was formerly assistant postmaster general, will tell of "The Farm and the Postal Service," and Senator Gilbert N. Hitchcock, of Nebraska, will speak on "Conservation Congress."

Charles S. Barrett, of Georgia, president of the Farmers' Education and Co-Operative Union of America, will be heard on the subject of "Cutting Out the Middle Man."

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the famous pure food expert, will talk on "The Health of the People." Other speakers on subjects of general interest and importance will include Governors Hadley, of Missouri; Stubbs, of Kansas; Blease, of South Carolina; Vessey, of South Dakota, and Kitchin, of North Carolina.

An imposing array of agricultural experts will deal with the practical side of farming and farm life. Former Governor W. D. Hoard, of Wisconsin, who is America's foremost authority on dairying, will talk on "Dairying and Soil Fertility." Other noted agricultural experts and their subjects are as follows: "The Live Stock Farm and Soil Fertility," Dr. Frederick B. Mumford, of the University of Missouri; "Wornout Soil," Prof. L. G. Hopkins, of the University of Illinois; "Methods of Cultivation," Prof. E. M. Ten Eyck, of Kansas State Agricultural College; "The Trend of the Conservation Movement," Dr. W. J. McGee, of the bureau of soils of the Department of Agriculture.

In addition to the problem of soil fertility the congress will discuss roads, the country school, the country club, the farmer and the railroads, the farmer and water transportation, the country club, the rural home, co-operation among farmers.

Twenty-five states are represented by delegates at the congress. Some of them are represented by their governors and the others by delegates appointed by them. Numerous organizations also have sent delegates, among them the American Live Stock Association, the Grain Dealers' National Association, the American Institute of Mining Engineers, the Pacific Northwest Association of Engineers, the Nebraska State Association of Commercial Clubs, the Cleveland Live Stock Association, and the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Water Way Association. The Dominion Government has given evidence of its interest in the congress by sending W. V. Atkinson, forester to the Canadian commission of conservation.

Complimentary to Misses Taylor, of Leaksville.

On Friday afternoon, September 22, Miss Vernessa Smith delightfully entertained a number of her friends at Progressive Rook, in honor of her visitors, Misses Martha and Annie Taylor, of Leaksville, N. C.

As the guests arrived they were met by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Miss Mary Smith, and were served with tea and sandwiches. Score cards were given and at the close there were several to cut for the prize. Miss Martha Taylor being the lucky winner was presented a beautiful picture. As she received one of the visitor's prizes, she presented the picture to the next highest score, which was Miss Mattie Moye King. The visitor's prizes were dainty little handkerchiefs, the needle work of the hostess.

Ices were served at the close of the afternoon.

Revival at Christian Church Begins October 2nd.

Mr. H. C. Boblitt, minister-evangelist of Rocky Mount, N. The revival will begin October 2. A very cordial welcome will be given those who attend.

Died.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Keel died Saturday afternoon at their home on Eighth street. The interment took place at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Cherry Hill cemetery, the funeral service being conducted by Rev. J. H. Shore. The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. L. Carper, C. S. Carr, T. M. Hooker, H. A. White, R. L. Smith, C. W. Harvey, J. L. Starkey and Z. P. VanDyke.

Pretty Home Marriage.

On Wednesday morning, September 20, 1911, at eleven o'clock, friends witnessed at the residence of Mrs. Pattie Vaughan, a beautiful home wedding, when Mr. James H. Randolph, of House, N. C., was united in marriage to Miss Pattie Vaughan, the charming daughter of Mrs. Pattie Vaughan.

The house had been decorated for the occasion with ferns and potted plants, and promptly to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Mabel Vaughan, sister of the bride, came the little boys, Francis M. Vaughan, Jr., and Leon T. Vaughan, Jr., nephews of the bride, bearing the ribbons to form an aisle to a beautiful arch under which the bride and groom were to stand, then came the bride gowned in blue cloth, with hat, gloves and shoes to match, carrying a large bouquet of white asters, leaning on the arm of her sister, Miss Emma Vaughan, of Whitakers, who was handsomely gowned in white voile over messaline with bead trimming, carrying pink asters. The bride and maid of honor were met at the altar by the groom and best man, Mr. Leonard Randolph, of House. The words that made them man and wife were spoken by Elder A. J. Moore. After the ceremony the bridal party left in automobiles for Hobgood to take the south bound train for Port Tampa, Fla., and other points South.

The handsome and useful display of presents betokened the esteem in which the young couple were held. Among the out of town guests were Mrs. F. M. Vaughan and children, of Norfolk; Misses Ruth Moore, Emma Vaughan and Elder A. J. Moore, of Whitakers; W. L. Vaughan, L. L. Stancill, Charlie Stancill and Miss Carrie Simmons, of Washington; Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Register and Miss Sewell, of Tillery; Messrs. L. A. Randolph, F. E. Randolph, and Mr. Shelton, of House; Miss Roland Jenkins, of Greenville; Mr. and Mrs. Leon T. Vaughan and children, of Nashville.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

A GREYNA GREEN AFFAIR

Greene County Couple Marry in Kinston.
Preferring matrimony to a school session's interruption, Mr. G. M. Holden and Miss Virginia Wood Dail, of Snow Hill, surprised their friends this morning by stopping over in Kinston and being married, the ceremony being performed in the parlors of Hotel Tull by Rev. F. S. Love, pastor of the Methodist church of this city.
Miss Dail left home this morning on her way to the East Carolina Teachers Training school at Greenville. Mr. Holden arranged to come along with her, and, upon arriving in Kinston, the couple secured a license and were married in the hotel parlors, several of their Snow Hill friends being present and witnesses.
The groom is a young traveling man of Snow Hill, and handles goods for a Baltimore house. He is well known in this city, where he has many friends. The bride is the daughter of Mr. W. H. Dail, of Snow Hill, and is one of Snow Hill's most popular daughters. Mr. and Mrs. Holden spent the day in Kinston and returned to Snow Hill this evening for congratulations of their friends and relatives.—Kinston Free Press, 25th.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. Charles Laughinghouse and Messrs. W. H. and George Dail, of Greenville, and is well known here.

DISPENSE WITH MOURNING

Southern Physician Urges That Black Clothes Be Abandoned.
"A Southern physician of recognized skill and eminence urges that all outward symbols of mourning should be abandoned," says Munsey's Magazine editorially. "For many years he has expressed his views. He has won over a large number of people who see no reason why the heart should advertise its sorrow by the conspicuous insignia of gloom.
"There are, or have been, peoples wiser in their generation. The Romans of the days of the republic wore blue as a sign of mourning. It is the proper thing in Asia Minor now. The Turk mourns in violet, and the Persian in pale brown. Until a French queen set the present fashion in the latter half of the fifteenth century, white was the color of grief in Europe, as it is now in China."

Farmers Ought to be Flushed.
The large quantity of tobacco coming to this market and the high prices at which it is selling, indicates that the farmers will be flushed with money by circus day. This is to remind them that it might be well to call by and get a receipt from the newspaper man before they feed the elephant.

Burglar Proof Safe.
The Greenville Banking & Trust Company has just put in a large new safe that is guaranteed to be proof against burglars. It is what is known as the cannon ball safe, being almost round, and the compartments for keeping money are in a large ball that revolves on the inside of the safe. The weight of the safe is about 13,000 pounds. There are less than a dozen safes like it in North Carolina.

Yes, Bury Him.
Bury the croaker out in the woods in a beautiful spot in the ground, where the woodpecker pecks and the bumblebee hums and the straddle-bug straddles around. He is no good to the city push, too unpractical, stingy and dead; but he wants the whole earth, and all of its crust, and the stars that shine overhead. Then hustle him off to the bumblebees' roost and bury him deep in the ground; he's of no use here, get him out of the way and make room for the man that is sound.—Exchange.

Don't Suffer!

"I had been troubled, a little, for nearly 7 years," writes Mrs. L. Fincher, in a letter from Peavy, Ala., "but I was not taken down, until March, when I went to bed and had to have a doctor. He did all he could for me, but I got no better. I hurt all over, and I could not rest. At last, I tried Cardui, and soon I began to improve. Now I am in very good health, and able to do all my housework."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

You may wonder why Cardui is so successful, after other remedies have failed. The answer is that Cardui is successful, because it is composed of scientific ingredients, that act curatively on the womanly system. It is a medicine for women, and for women only. It builds, strengthens, and restores weak and ailing women, to health and happiness.

If you suffer like Mrs. Fincher did, take Cardui. It will surely do for you, what it did for her. At all druggists.

FACTS ABOUT NORTH CAROLINA

AND HER GREAT STATE FAIR.

Statistics of The State That Are Interesting.

We have received from the North Carolina Agricultural Society a striking little booklet that is a bright gem in its class. It is tiny, but full of facts and figures about North Carolina and her great state fair that will be held for the fifty-first time at Raleigh on October 17, 18, 19, 20, 1911. There are only eight small pages and a neat, very tasty cover, all of a size to fit in the ordinary envelope. Cuts show a birdseye view of the fair grounds while the fair is going on and Lincoln Beachy flying in his Curtiss aeroplane over Niagara Falls.

There is an appreciation of North Carolina that carries a point in every paragraph, a fact in every sentence, clothed in a style as attractive as the story tells, and all in one small page.

The marvelous progress of the state is told in a comparative table of crop figures for 1905 and 1910, and a similar alignment of statistics of the manufacturing industries. In addition there are comparative values of farm land and buildings, implements and machinery, labor and fertilizers.

In a brief review of the work of the state fair the booklet calls attention to the fact that it is chartered without capital stock, its real property being held in trust to secure a bonded debt, any profits made going into a surplus which is spent in improvements and increasing premiums. The construction of the reinforced concrete agricultural building at a cost of $7,000, the new building for women and other betterments last year are touched upon, as well as the modern poultry building to be ready for the coming fair. Figures show 83 solid carloads of exhibits last year against 42 in 1909; 3,501 separate entries against 1,201, and $8,191.54 net premiums paid against $6,598.97. As evidence that the fair is recognized as one of the greatest gathering points for purebred stock in the South, mention is made that the Percheron Society of America is this year offering its special prizes at the Raleigh fair, which is one of only four Southern fairs to be so honored. It is stated that by resolution of the executive committee all questionable shows and doubtful games have been forbidden the grounds.

On the amusement side there is borne the news that the fair has contracted with Glenn H. Curtiss Co. for aeroplane flights each day of the fair on a guarantee-to-fly basis, the aviator to be Lincoln Beachy or Hugh Robinson. Beachy is the birdman who flew under the bridge at Niagara, while Robinson did likewise at Cairo, Ill., under a railroad bridge over the Ohio. These two were the only flyers to finish in the cross-country race from New York to Philadelphia, and both were stars at the Chicago aviation meet, where Beachy made a new record for altitude—11,578 feet.

Another attraction mentioned is California Frank's Wild West show with its fifteen carloads and 200 people. Then there is The Great Calvert, star high-wire specialist.

Special mention is made of the miraculous painting, "In the Shadow of the Cross," to be exhibited for the first time in the South. It has figured at the great world expositions and been a topic of discussion among clergymen and scientists.

But aside from all this little book is valuable for the information it contains, and is well worth preserving. Write for a copy to the State Fair, Jos. E. Pogue, Secretary, Raleigh, N. C.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS

In The State Campaign Against Hookworm Disease.

The state and county dispensaries for the free treatment of hookworm diseases are attracting wide-spread attention. Fifteen eastern counties have made necessary provision to have them. In four of these counties, Robeson, Sampson, Columbus and Halifax, the work was completed about three weeks ago and an average of 3,000 victims of the disease were treated in each county. The counties of Wayne, Onslow, Cumberland and Northampton now have the dispensaries in operation. About one hundred people are being treated daily at each of the dispensaries. Pender, New Hanover, Brunswick, Craven, Pitt, Warren and Hertford counties have made provision for the dispensaries and will be entered as soon as possible. Bladen and perhaps two or three other counties will take action the next first Monday. The dispensaries remain in a county usually six weeks. The good results of their work are so apparent that after the dispensaries move to new fields the local doctors are kept busy continuing the treatment.

A New Physician Enlists In The Work.

Dr. T. E. Hughes, of Magnolia, has given up his private practice to accept an appointment as district director of the campaign against hookworm disease. He is a Virginian by birth, a graduate of Richmond College, a medical graduate of the University of Virginia. He took his hospital training at Johns Hopkins, and in the city hospital at Wilmington. During his short stay at Magnolia he won the hearts of the people. Six physicians, eight laboratory men and a clerk now constitute the state forces engaged in the North Carolina campaign. They are now pushing the dispensary work because in this way the most gratifying returns are obtainable.

Wiley's "Vindication."

President Taft's "vindication" of Dr. Wiley will be searched in vain for a single word of praise for the valiant work that official has done for the people. Nor does the president have a single word of censure for the notorious McCabe, whose methods are running the food bureau and everybody in it, Dr. Wiley included, astounded the members of the Moss investigating committee. After this committee was discovered nobody knew better than Mr. Taft himself that he would not dare to mete out to Dr. Wiley the "condign punishment" recommended by Attorney-General Wick-ersham.

The Wiley "vindication" served no other purpose than to afford the president a favorable opportunity to play politics on the eve of his departure into the hostile West. Dr. Wiley had already been vindicated, a thousand times over, in the minds of the people.

MEN'S PRAYER LEAGUE

Hour For Meeting Changed to 3:30 Each Sunday Afternoon.

The Men's Prayer League did not have a very large attendance Sunday afternoon, but those present heard an unusually good talk by Prof. W. H. Ragsdale on the subject of "Prayer and Forgiveness." The other appointed leaders for Sunday were prevented from being present.

The hour for meeting has been changed to 3:30 o'clock, and next Sunday's service will be held in the Baptist church. The subject for that day is "What the Lord Requires of Us," Text, Deut. 10:12-13. Leaders, Messrs. A. B. Ellington, H. B. Harris, and R. H. Wright.

Next Sunday ought to be made a rallying day for the league. Cooler weather is promised by then, and the men of the community cannot spend an hour more profitably than at these meetings.

GREEN MANURING NO. 2.

Necessity of Organic Matter in the Soil.

We have now attempted to explain the phenomenon called "souring of the soil" and to point out a practicable remedy, namely: roll the green manuring crop; disc it a number of times in the opposite direction to the rolling while yet green and sufficient in order to cut it into small bits; plow it under; disc it once or twice after plowing, depending on the amount of material on the land; with the disc set at a slight angle in order to pulverize and mix the cut-up vegetable matter with the whole soil stratum; and allow the land to settle a few weeks and receive one or more good rains.

We shall now take up in succession and discuss the value of a number of humus-forming materials, other than animal manures, and then point out methods of handling them in connection with different crops. In a previous chapter we gave the average chemical analysis of a large number of samples of green rye in which we found this material to contain 16 pounds of nitrogen, 5 pounds of phosphate, and 14 pounds of potash per ton. All of these constituents are taken from the soil by the roots, built into the tissues of the plant and given out again to a succeeding crop when the rye decays.

A crop of green rye weighing eight tons to the acre is easily grown on the average farm in North Carolina. This amount of green rye incorporated with the first ten inches of a ten acre field would furnish to the soil of this field, in a readily available form, 800 pounds of nitrogen, 400 pounds of phosphate and 1120 pounds of potash.

This is as much nitrogen as would be furnished by 20 tons, of an 8-2-2 fertilizer or 100 loads of fresh cow manure. The phosphate in this amount of green stuff is equal to that contained in 1 1/2 tons of an 8-2-2 fertilizer or in 200 tons, or loads, of fresh horse manure. The potash contained in this material is equal to that found in 28 tons of an 8-2-2 fertilizer or in 150 tons of fresh horse manure. Sufficient rye to seed the ten acres will cost around $10, whereas, it would cost $75 to haul and spread the 150 tons of stable manure.

In the above we have mentioned merely the plant food constituents rendered available by the rye and have not taken into account the vast amount of humus for holding moisture and improving the texture of the soil. Be sure to sow quantities of rye this fall for plowing under next spring before planting. Next week we expect to discuss the use of wheat straw and green corn as manure.

ABOUT THE WEEDS.

Is The Town Doing Its Duty to Tax Payers?

Editor Reflector: We notice that the mayor calls attention to the sidewalks of our town and asks that the owners of the property clean the same of weeds. This is right and should be done. At the same time while many have complied with this request all the summer and have kept their sidewalks clean, the town has never been near with their men, the whole summer to touch the streets, to clean or to cut down weeds and in some places, in middle of streets weeds stand nearly as high as your head, left there to breed sickness and give fever. This is where people live and pay taxes or rather folks do, whose streets are kept clean of weeds. If the town does not know of such, they can go west of the A. C. L. track, on Fourth street. This or all other ought to be kept clear of weeds. In fact, it seems that the town care little about doing for that end of the town what is just and right to those who live there. No water for fire protection; end of Fourth street is left in darkness, no lights; no sewerage; yet we are expected to pay taxes to the town. It is right and just.

A WEST ENDER.

Nearly 50,000 Pounds at the Gum.

Today we had another large sale at the Gum, and prices were never better. All of my patrons were highly pleased and were convinced that the Gum is the place to sell, if the highest price is wanted.

I want again to express my appreciation to those of my friends and acquaintances for their patronage, and to those who have known me only a short time, I want to extend to you the warmest welcome possible. We are making friends every day, and would like to number you among them. We have no hesitancy in saying that we know our business from start to finish, and will see that you are satisfied if you will bring me your next load.

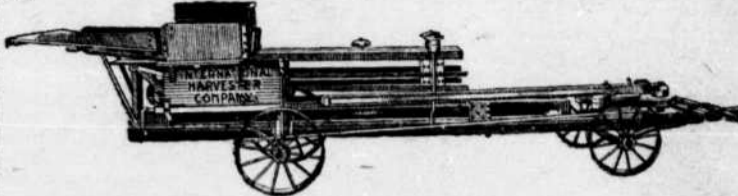

Now, to those who have never patronized me at the Gum, I want to urge you to come to see me and bring me a load. You can never tell what I can do for you, unless you try me.

J. J. GENTRY, Manager, Gum Warehouse.

Large Crowd of People.

Without doubt Guilford never has seen such a crowd of people as were here to see the Mighty Haag Railroad shows. Both in the afternoon and evening the tents were crowded with people, and in the afternoon hundreds could not secure tickets as the ticket wagon was closed long before two o'clock. Every train during the day brought people to see the show, and long before time for the parade to make its appearance on the streets they were crowded with people anxiously awaiting it, and not one was disappointed, as Mr. Haag has spent plenty of time and money on his parade, making it second to none. Never in the history of Guilford have there been as many pretty girls, funny clowns and good music in one parade. The Guilford Times is sure it voices the sentiment of the people when it says, give us more shows like Haag—Guilford Times. The Mighty Haag shows will be in Greenville Friday, Sept. 29.

How To Get More Out Of Your Hay Crop

WHETHER you feed or sell your hay, it should be baled. Baled hay takes up much less room and nets a better price than loose hay. It is always ready for any market at top price, while loose hay must be sold near home, at whatever you can get.

I H C HAY PRESS

have many points of strength, simplicity, and convenience found in no other presses. They are equipped with a compound lever and a toggle joint plunger, which gives them great compressing power. A 500 pound pull on the sweep of a 16x18 I H C press gives 76,800 pounds pressure in the bale chamber.

The bed reach is only 4 inches high and very narrow. The bale chamber is very low—easy to reach over to tie the bale.

If you examine an I H C hay press you will appreciate its value as a money saver and money maker.

ADJUST BAPTIST DIFFERENCES

Between The Two Great Divisions of the Baptist Church in America.

OLD POINT COMFORT, Va., Sept. 27.—To adjust certain differences that have arisen between the two great divisions of the Baptist church in America, a joint conference was begun here today by representatives of the Northern Baptist Convention and representatives of the Southern Baptist Convention. Difficulties growing out of recent New Mexican organizations form the principal matter in dispute. Some New Mexican congregations withdrew from the Northern Baptist Convention, and joined the Southern, with, it is claimed, the co-operation of some Southern leaders. The action, which it is hoped will be removed by the present conference.

A hypocrite is like a tack;—he can do the most mischief while pointing to high heaven. When a man is his own enemy he can't help from winning the fight.

Unique Window Display.

There is a display in one of the front windows of Hart & Hadley hardware store that attracts all passers. It is a mechanical figure of girl standing at table which she is polishing with liquid veneer. The girl holds a can of the veneer in her hand, gives it a shake, pours on some of the liquid on a cloth, wags the top of the table, and then her head in satisfaction over the result.

Gentry and Cannon.

It will interest you to come by the Gum warehouse and see the Mr. Gentry and Biggs Cannon sell tobacco. They cling to the top always and the are best pleased when they are plentifully patronized.

We desire to return our sincere thanks to the many friends who kindly offered their services during the recent sickness and death of our child.

MORNING TALKS AT TRAINING SCHOOL

By President Robt. H. Wright to the Students

THE STATES EDUCATIONAL PROBLEM

How to Provide Efficient Teachers For Her Public Schools—Money And Houses Do Not Make Schools—The Teacher Must Be Prepared.

The purpose of this school and the purpose of your stay here are one and the same. It may be of some service to some of you, to know why the state has established this school, why the tax-payers of North Carolina are called upon to contribute each year to its maintenance. It may help you to clarify your promise for me to give you an outline of the educational development in North Carolina.

WHY IS THIS SCHOOL? To answer this question it is necessary to give you a brief history of public education. I am not going to give you enough to hurt you, but just enough to state our problem.

For many years we have had set aside a part of the taxes levied each year for "Free School" purposes. These schools in the more progressive communities were sandwiched in between two terms of subscription school. But the free school was taught by the teacher employed for the subscription school. During the public school term almost all of the children of the community went to school, and during the subscription term only the children of those parents who helped pay the teacher's salary, attended the school. As a result some of the children in the neighborhood advanced more rapidly than others. It was not right to the child that he should be handicapped in life, simply because his father could not, or would not, provide for his education. It was not long before people saw that educated youths were worth more to the community than unlettered. It, therefore, soon became apparent to all that the state owes an elementary education to each boy and girl in its borders; also that it will pay to give them this education. Put this down as the first point this morning—North Carolina has realized that an elementary education should be offered to each boy and girl in the state, and that this education should be provided for by taxation.

I shall not always select a passage of Scripture because of what I wish to say, but I have done that this morning. If my hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter thus maimed, rather than have hands or two feet to be cast into fire. If thine eye offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter thus one-eyed, rather than have two eyes to be cast into fire. If thine hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter thus maimed, rather than have hands or two feet to be cast into fire. If thine eye offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter thus one-eyed, rather than have two eyes to be cast into fire.

Why is this school? Do you see the answer to this question? Our state realized that all the money that was spent to train teachers in other schools were doing all they could but they were not doing enough; so the state planted this school here to do this one thing: train young white men and women to teach in the public schools. This is the only state school in North Carolina with this purpose. Do not misunderstand me. I would not discredit the noble work done by our state colleges, and our denominational colleges. But let me reiterate what I have said, this is the only school established by our state for the sole purpose—training teachers for our public schools. Many people helped in this work, but there are two men who tower above others in this movement; Hon. Thos. J. Joyner and Supt. W. H. Ragsdale.

Do you see your problem more clearly fellow teachers? This school is here to help you prepare to meet the last great movement in our state's educational problem. Your individual problem is to make an efficient teacher. If thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee. Remove all obstacles and press on to the completion of your purpose and children yet unborn will come forth to bless you.

AN APPEAL To Pitt Counties To Work For The County Fair.

My attention has been called by the president of the Pitt County Fair Association, Mr. John L. Wooten, to the fact that premiums are offered by that association for almost everything grown on the farm, especially tobacco. I have seen the premium list of the county fair, and although it was incomplete at that time, it was a most creditable one and every citizen of the county ought to feel a pride and take an interest in this laudable undertaking. Every farmer in the county who is so fortunate as to have a good crop of tobacco ought, by all means, prepare an exhibit for the county fair, which will be held here early in November. Those who contemplate making an exhibit at the state fair can at the same time prepare an exhibit for their county fair.

The officers, board of governors and committees of the Pitt County Fair Association are entitled to the cooperation and support of every citizen in the county. These men and women are devoting their time and attention to this movement purely from patriotic motives. There is no financial reward attached to these officers, and these citizens are going about the work to make it a success for the honor and credit of Pitt county. The citizenship certainly cannot do less than co-operate by making exhibits of the best they have. When this is done it will be found that where Pitt county sits is the head of the table in the state's family of counties.

AUTOMOBILE BREAKS DOWN. Occupants Walked Several Miles to Call Help.

On Sunday Dr. C. O'H. Laughlin, with Messrs. Tom Dupree and Norman Warren, with his colored chauffeur, started out to Flat Swamp in his automobile to attend the association. About eight miles from town one of the rear axles to the automobile wrung in two and dropped the car to the ground. The chauffeur stopped so quickly that no one was hurt. The party had to walk several miles to reach a telephone and send in a call to town for help. A team had to be sent out to bring in the disabled car.

He schools. This is the only state school in North Carolina with this purpose. Do not misunderstand me. I would not discredit the noble work done by our state colleges, and our denominational colleges. But let me reiterate what I have said, this is the only school established by our state for the sole purpose—training teachers for our public schools. Many people helped in this work, but there are two men who tower above others in this movement; Hon. Thos. J. Joyner and Supt. W. H. Ragsdale.

Do you see your problem more clearly fellow teachers? This school is here to help you prepare to meet the last great movement in our state's educational problem. Your individual problem is to make an efficient teacher. If thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee. Remove all obstacles and press on to the completion of your purpose and children yet unborn will come forth to bless you.

THIS TIME ITS SNAKES THAT ARE SNAKES

ONE THAT FEEDS ON SQUIRRELS

An Old Man Who Takes On New Ways.

HANRAHAN, N. C., Oct. 2.—We quote the following as related to us by Mr. S. Dail, of Blount Hall: Said he, "while rambling in the low lands of Contentnea creek, Thursday afternoon, in search of hogs and trying to find a good hunting ground for squirrels, thinking to try my marksmanship as soon as the law is off, I came near a tall gum with a thick top, and nearly hidden by the foliage of the tree I saw a squirrel's nest. While thus standing and gazing at the nest, I heard a very strange noise inside the nest. I stood a while with hair on end and hat pushed nearly off my head, trying to find an open place to run, when to my consternation a few yards from my feet there fell the ground a snake. So tremendous in size was his snake-ship that I looked towards his head and beheld to my great surprise he had a long, grey beard. Thought I what on earth shall I do? Must I attempt to kill a monster of this kind? Then I kinder waited to get my courage to at least a standing point. So after a little further consideration and great effort on my part, I struck the monster a severe blow with a ten-foot pole that I carried with me, which blow killed his snake-ship so dead he scarcely wiggled. It was one of those blows that a 'scared' man gives when hemmed in with no chance to run. When I saw for sure that the monster was dead from head to tail, I cautiously approached his head to see if I could by any means discern what kind of a beard that was. By careful examination I found that it was the half of a squirrel's tail projecting from the snake's mouth. Then I ventured to measure the snake in length, species what is known as the chicken snake. But it seems that this one preferred squirrels for his diet.

A more wonderful story is told of a snake that was captured some time since by one of the Hanrahan boys. After killing the snake he found a glistening hard egg-shaped substance inside the snake, which when he had carefully cleaned he handed to his aged mother and on receiving it she found that youth and vigor was returning. So this was put up to the highest bidder. There is a widower who has a beautiful country home near Ayden. Some years had passed over his head and the frost of several winters had somewhat streaked his hair, but being a man of much wealth he bid higher than any of his neighbors could bid and secured the desirable man. So completely did he change his entire being that now he is as erect as a military cadet, his steps are as steady and quick as one of 20 years. Before he was content to ride behind a medium swift horse. Now he spins over the country in an automobile at a 40-mile gait. Once the mulla were swift enough to carry his messages, but now he often visits the central telephone office that his messages may be received more hastily, for they are all urgent, at this time, and if they are answered satisfactorily she will have the chance of a lovely country home or a mansion in the select portion of her choice of cities. And furthermore she can have a span of horses at her command or an automobile if she desires to more speed. Any age from 20 to 40, for with his will he can adjust his years to suit any within this limit. The quality is the one feature yet unborn will come forth to bless you.

"THE COOK'S BASKET"

Why Not Enforce The Vagrancy Law?

Editor Reflector:

We notice in your paper of October 2nd a most timely article entitled "The Cook's Basket," taken from the Charleston News and Courier. We agree with the writer that it is a disgusting thing to think of idle negroes loafing around the streets and dives, and stations, who, every one knows they are being fed from some white person's kitchen by the cooks. We are told there is a law against vagrancy; is it utterly impossible to enforce that law? If so, then why don't the law-makers repeal it? If it can be enforced (and we all know it should be), then why not enforce it? That would go far toward solving the labor problem and high prices when we would have more producers and fewer parasites.

We have heard that there is a Civic League in Greenville, composed of its good women, and suffer us to say we believe there are none better on God's earth. Would it be amiss to suggest to the ladies while they are planning and talking civics and home economics to include in their plans a discussion of "The Cook's Basket" or pan as the case may be?

In our opinion if one woman sets her head on doing a thing she usually does it. If several are united, it is bound to be done.

Ladies, does the problem of the "Cook's Basket" appeal to you?

INVESTIGATE PIECE SYSTEM.

The System Has Met With Bitter Opposition.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 4.—The house labor committee, of which representative W. B. Wilson, of Pennsylvania, is chairman, came to Boston today to begin an investigation of the workings of the Taylor piece system which the government has proposed to install in all of the United States navy yards and arsenals. The system has met with the bitter opposition of the labor unions and its installation at the Watertown arsenal recently resulted in a general strike of the machinists employed there.

He said, "It is not good for man to live alone."

I suppose I had better close and not tell on that preacher who rode the whole afternoon in the low lands of Contentnea looking his near con-alas! he could not find them. So he had to appoint another day and find water enough in the public road, but the preacher believes in sprinkling, but like Paul, he tries to be all things to all persons that perchance he may be instrumental in saving some. Hence he did not know the creek very well.

REVIVAL SERVICES AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

SUBJECT, "UNFARDONABLE SIN"

The Audience Very Large Tuesday Night.

Mr. H. C. Boblitt preached to an audience at the Christian church last night that almost filled the house. They listened very attentively while he discussed, in a most instructive and interesting way, "The Unfardonable Sin." He is quite proficient as a song leader, and there was evidently much improvement in the singing and tested by the audience by leaving it singing in sections.

Mrs. C. C. Ware sang most acceptably "Eternity," a beautiful solo, well adapted to the occasion. The sermon was well prepared and well delivered. He said that some people thought that the unfardonable sin was the single rejection of Jesus Christ when under the conviction of sin, but showed that one might reject Christ many times and yet be saved if they did not continue in their stubbornness and disobedience. Again he said that others thought that the unfardonable sin was suicide, but stated that the Bible did not so declare. Others think it is drunkenness, etc. But the Bible expressly says that the unfardonable sin is the sins against the Holy Spirit. Then the evangelist explained that there had been three dispensations in the world's history, the Patriarchal, the Jewish, and the Christian, and that in the Patriarchal and Jewish dispensations until the birth of Christ the world had messages of pardon from God only; that after the birth of Christ to Pentecost they had these messages from God and Christ; and that after Pentecost we have had these messages from God, Christ and the Holy Spirit, and that the Bible, which rules and guides us today, is distinctly the expression of the Holy Spirit. Hence to reject the Holy Spirit which is the last messenger bearing pardon, the last that shall ever be, is to sin against the Holy Spirit, and reject God's entire plan for the redemption of man. And to continually reject the offers of the Holy Spirit is the unfardonable sin, for in the nature of the case it is unfardonable. The speaker then vividly illustrated this truth by a word picture of the cold-blooded murderer, apprehended, convicted, sentenced to hang, led to the scaffold, and being handed a parol, as he is about to be executed, tears into pieces sullenly and scornfully, and goes on to his death.

In conclusion a stirring exhortation was given to bear the good tidings of the Holy Spirit, which has been the "power of God unto salvation" to so many.

The meeting last night was a very marked interest in the work being done in this evangelistic campaign, and on every hand were heard expressions of the evangelist's ability and consecration.

The meeting is to continue throughout this week, and most probably all of next week. There will be special music each evening. Every one are free for a real revival. We will welcome from the members of this comparatively small, but prosperous church.
