TO THE COTTON FARMERS AND GINNERS OF NORTH CAROLINA.

In accordance with a resolution at the recent meeting of the State Farmers' Alliance authorizing the appointment of a committee to issue an address to the cotton farmer, ginner, and others interested in procuring better prices for cotton seed, this committee met Tuesday in the city of Raleigh and authorized the following letter:

HILLSBORO, N. C., Aug. 31, 1901. To the Cotton Farmers and Ginner of North Carolina. GENTLEMEN:—This letter is issued for the purpose of awakening in you an interest in and appreciation of the value of the cotton seed crop this coming season. As is well known, the cotton crop in the cotton growing States is short; in fact, it is short in most sections of the United States. We all know that a short crop means higher priced cotton, which in turn means higher priced hogs, cattle, etc., and for their products. As these products advance in price, substitutes, such as compound feed, oleomargarine, butterine, etc., largely take their places. These substitutes contain cotton seed oil, hence the demand for that will probably be greater than ever before, consequently higher prices. The cattle feeders of the West will have to substitute some other feed for corn, and as cotton seed meal has proven to be better than corn for this purpose, it is but natural that they will largely substitute cotton seed meal for corn in the coming feeding season. In consequence of these demands cotton seed meal and oil will both bring higher prices than heretofore. This being true cotton seed also should bring higher prices than it has been selling for.

Within the past few months a syndicate has been taking options on oil mills, and now it is reported, they own more than 50 per cent of the mills in the South, and its equivalent in out-put. The American Cotton Oil Company, it is claimed, owns forty per cent, and there are less than 10 per cent. out in out, according to this calculation, that are independent mills. From recent occurrences it is probable that these two oil companies, controlling over 90 per cent of the cotton seed oil products of the South, may combine or have an understanding as to the price to be paid for cotton seed. The situation is such that, in our opinion, the farmers should take some action to protect themselves and have some voice in naming the price their own products will sell for. This can best be done by co-operation in selling, which can be accomplished. The cotton seed crop of North Carolina will probably be at least 10,000,000 bushels. Of this crop 7,000,000 bushels will probably be sold. If by co-operation of the farmers the price can be advanced 10 cents on the bushel, it will give to the cotton farmers of the State $700,000 more for the crop than they otherwise would get, but concert of action will be necessary to obtain the desired results. It is to be hoped that the farmers in all the cotton growing States will take similar action. To that end this letter will be sent to every Southern State, that success may be assured.

We deem this of enough importance to suggest that the farmers meet in their respective counties at the court house on Saturday, September 21, and select delegates to attend a State meeting to be held in the city of Raleigh, Wednesday, September 25. If it is deemed advisable township meetings can be held earlier than September 21, each township or neighborhood can determine this for themselves. The short crop and the high prices resulting thereon have made this a golden opportunity for the cotton farmer, and it is for them to say whether they will take advantage of it or leave all the profits arising from these conditions to the cotton seed merchant. You may rest assured that we will not turn them down. In justice to your own interests you should attend these meetings, and share these profits with the mill men.

This letter is addressed to every cotton farmer and ginner in the State, from the least to the largest. Let them all co-operate. Let no reasonable excuse keep you away from the meetings.

T. B. PARKER, S. E. A.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER.

Special Correspondent of Reflector. RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 10. The sensation of the week was the serving of papers on the Corporation Commission for a writ of mandamus, to be heard before Judge Robinson here on September 23rd, to compel the Commission to seize and sell the tangible and intangible property of the railroads for taxation during the present year. The action is brought by Senator Ward of Washington county, who made some reputation in the last Legislature by his activity along the same lines, as "counsel for Sheriff Jackson" of that county, to "sell" the WESTERN N. C. RAILROAD.

The appearance of an advertisement in a State paper offering the Western N. C. Railroad for sale at auction on October 7th, under execution from Rowan Superior Court, was another sensation of the week. The sale is advertised by Messrs. Overman, Long and Avery, counsel for the widows of engineer James and fireman Howard, who were killed in a railroad accident and who obtained judgments some time ago aggregating $20,000 against the Western N. C. Road—hold a 99-year lease on the road. Counsel for the Southern say the latter will ignore the proceeding because the sale would not be valid, but the plaintiffs' counsel declare that they will be regular and that they will find a purchaser.

AWAY WITH ANARCHISTS! The shooting of President McKinley by a red-mouth anarchist of the same stripe as him who recently murdered the King of Italy was received with the greatest indignation here, and at the same time with the sincere sympathy of all classes and conditions of people.

for the President and his family—nowhere in all this country is the infamous outrage more genuinely deplored than in the South. It is high time this country took steps to suppress or deport every known anarchist in the United States, certainly the murderous organizers and agents, except "Anarchists," "Socialists," "Knights of the Golden Eagle," and the like, allowed to hold open meetings at Patterson, N. J. (where the health of the "brother" who shot President McKinley was "toasted" in open meeting an hour or two after the awful event) and Chicago and elsewhere, where, by effecting reach by the arm of the law, and without delay. Liberty! That is not "liberty." It is license, and worse—license to murder the chosen head of our country by foreign interlopers who have little conception and less appreciation of our form of government, and it would not be tolerated anywhere else on the face of the civilized globe.

We call attention to the highly gratifying showing made by President Geo. S. Powell, of the Appalachian National Park Association, read in the meeting of the association in Asheville yesterday and published in the Asheville correspondence of The Observer this morning. It shows a really amazing amount of work done toward the accomplishment of the purposes of the park association. Such hard work has been done still deserves encouragement. The association is now in need of funds to prosecute its work and its call for financial help should meet with a liberal response from all who are interested in having the beautiful high mountain section of North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia set off into a national forest reserve.—Charlotte Observer.

Sheriff Wallace, of Mecklenburg, who has a pretty good share of hanging to do, does not mind the job. He looks upon it as a simple duty and he does it as such. It is the true idea. Every witness, every solicitor, every juror has a duty to perform and should feel the responsibility as much as the sheriff. The whole matter is one of duty, not to be modified by whim, by hope or timidity. When a man so conducts himself that the laws of the land say that he is entitled to live and his removal is essential to the life, liberty and happiness of others there should be no shrinking from the duty of execution.—Concord Standard.

EASTERN REFLECTOR.

GREENVILLE, N. C.

D. J. WHICHARD, Ed. & Owner

Entered at the Post Office at Greenville, N. C., as Second-Class Mail Matter.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1901.

The Charlotte Observer learns that it is pronounced "Telogosch" or "Shoogoch". Either of these is as bad as the original, Czolgosz. You will just have to call it what you please and throw a brick at it.

A man out in Wyoming who was said to have expressed sympathy for the assassin Czolgosz, was tarred and feathered and ridden out of town on a rail, with the injunction that if he returned he would be lynched.

The Kinston Free Press is raising its voice against dogs that bark at night and disturb the repose of the neighborhood and wants the city fathers to tax them to death. Why not include crowing roosters in the same list with barking dogs?

United States Senator Wellington, of Maryland, who because of a personal dislike for President McKinley made disparaging remarks about his attempted assassination, has been expelled from the Union League of Maryland of which he was a member.

Several anarchists, Emma Goldman among them, have been arrested on suspicion of being implicated in a plot to assassinate the President. The man Czolgosz who did the shooting has implicated no one yet, but the matter will be referred to the bottom. The sooner this country rids its borders of an anarchist the better.

What will be the outcome of the injunction started against the officials of the town to prevent the sale of the bonds for improvements, of course cannot be told yet. It will stop the matter where it is until the injunction is settled. This may be at the hearing before Judge Bryan on the 30th, or it may take a long litigation through the courts. If the town shall lose the contemplated improvements it will be a set back to her progress that is to be regretted. Greenville needs water works, electric lights and sewerage and cannot get them any too soon.

A Sad Death.

Mr. J. P. Manning, who was accidentally hurt while in bathing in Grindle creek on Aug. 7th, 1901, from which he became paralyzed, died Sept. 15th in the hospital at Tarboro. Everything that was possible was done for him by the physicians of this section. He was taken to John Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore where it was found no relief could be given him, when he was brought back home and placed in the hospital at Tarboro. His father attended him faithfully until the end.

Few young men raised in Pitt county started out in life with brighter prospects than the subject of this sketch. He was raised in Bethel township where he lived until the age of twenty-one when with his older brother, W. J. Manning, he purchased the Edgar Buck farm, three miles from Greenville, and resided there until he met the terrible accident which cost him his life. The death of this young man, who was cut down just as he was entering the prime of life has cast a gloom over his friends and the community.

He was 24 years old and a son of J. L. G. Manning, Esq., of Bethel township. The father, a sister and three brothers survive him, and they have the sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends in the untimely death of their loved one. He will be missed by friends and associates as few young men of his age are missed.

THE END.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY DEAD.

Passed Away at 2:15 This Morning.

From the nature of the news from Buffalo Friday and at night, every one expected to hear the worst from President McKinley this morning, as all hope seemed given up, and their fears were realized, for the end came at 2:15 o'clock.

When the President was pronounced in extremis last night a company of the 14th Infantry arrived at the Milburn house and drove the crowds back. The Government telegraph office tents were guarded. A regiment of the national guards under arms reported to the Chief of Police and regulars were placed in charge of the exposition grounds, virtually making the entire city under martial law.

Members of the Cabinet and other high officials were seen after taking a farewell look at the President who had for sometime been unconscious. Senator Hanna was completely broken in spirit and kissed the President's forehead before being led from the room.

Mrs. McKinley was under the care of Drs. Rixey and Washin who administered stimulants, and she bore up bravely through the trying ordeal of sorrowful parting at the bedside. After the end was announced she swooned and has been very weak since.

The exact cause of the President's death is not fully determined. An autopsy will be held this afternoon. The undertakers who were summoned to embalm the body were not permitted to do so under orders issued for the post-mortem examination.

The interment will be at a place selected by the McKinley family. The remains will be taken to Washington City and be in state and subsequently buried in Canton, Ohio, the Presidents home.

Roosevelt returned to Buffalo today. He may take the office of Justice. Secretary Hay is acting temporarily through courtesy until Roosevelt takes the oath as President.

Senator Hanna is quite ill today, being much affected by the death of the President.

His Last Words.

Buffalo, Sept. 14, 2:30 a. m.—At 2:15 this morning the President breathed his last. Words of consolation to his wife were the last that passed his lips and then came gently a good-bye to the American people whom he loved so well, and of whose manhood he was so fine a type.

At the actual moment of dying the President had long been to all intents and purposes beyond the world. For hours he had been unconscious. His living became purely automatic, functions gradually growing weaker and weaker until at last they ceased altogether.

The physicians had long since ceased plying any drugs or restoratives. It was but useless work, for from the moment that his final collapse developed in all its seriousness they knew in their hearts that he was beyond their aid. Yet, with all the energy and skill they worked on and on until the last. It was too clearly only a case of whether the dying moments should or should not be free from what only made them more painful without hope of any benefit.

What the South Should Do.
If the South would manufacture the bulk of its own cotton and produce its chief food supplies, both of which are entirely within the bounds of possibility, it would be the richest country in the world and enjoy a higher state of commercial and industrial independence than any other region of the earth. Nature has been very kind to the South. Its bounties here are manifold and greater than in the Eastern States of the North, where there is no great money crop like cotton, and where the production of food crops has not the possibilities that obtain here. On the energy and enterprise of its people in promoting industry and developing trade must the future wealth and greatness of the South depend. There is no fault to be found with what nature has done for us.—Nashville Banner.

THE BOND INJUNCTION.

The Notice and Complaint in the Case.

Below THE REFLECTOR gives copies of the notice and complaint in the bond injunction proceedings as served on Mayor W. H. Long, Pitt County—in Superior Court, S. T. Hooker and others.

The Town of Greenville.
This cause coming on to be heard at Chambers before His Honor O. H. Allen, Judge, and it appearing to the Court the plaintiff is entitled to relief.

It is considered, ordered and adjudged, that the defendant appear before His Honor H. R. Bryan, Judge of the Third Judicial District in the town of New Bern, on Monday, September 30th, 1901, and show cause why an injunction should not be granted in this cause as prayed for by the plaintiff.

It is further considered and adjudged by the Court that upon the execution of a bond in the sum of two hundred dollars payable to the defendant and to be approved by the Clerk and filed in the cause, and conditioned upon the payment to the defendant of all such costs and damages as they may sustain by the wrongful issuance of the restraining order, that the Mayor, the Board of Aldermen and all officials of the said town by whatever name called, and each of them, their agents and attorneys are hereby restrained and enjoined from issuing, selling, delivering, or in any way disposing of any of the bonds mentioned in the complaint filed in this action, or attempting to collect the tax levied to pay interest on said bonds until the further orders of the Court.

O. H. ALLEN,
Judge 5th Dist.

Pitt County—in Superior Court, S. T. Hooker and others vs. The Town of Greenville.

The plaintiff complaining of the defendant alleges,
1. That he is a citizen and taxpayer of the said town of Greenville.
2. That by an Act of the Legislature of 1901, the said Town was authorized, and empowered, through its properly constituted authority and upon certain conditions therein required, to issue interest bearing coupon bonds to the amount of $75,000.00, provided a majority of the qualified voters of said Town should so vote.

3. That he is informed and believes that at the election called to ascertain the wishes of the qualified voters of said Town that a majority of the qualified voters of said Town did not vote.
4. That he is informed and believes that the new Registration under which said Election was held was not in accordance with the Election Law of the State governing such Election, nor in accordance with the Act under which said Election was held.

5. That there is no provision made in said Act for the payment of the principal of said Bonds when they mature.
6. That the sale of the said Bonds are not properly guarded in said Act, no direction as to whom the money derived from the sale of said Bonds shall be paid and no person legally authorized to receive the same and in such uncertainty it would be dangerous to the interest of the tax payers of said Town to permit its sale.

7. That said Act authorizes the Board of Aldermen of said Town, if Graded Schools shall be established in said Town, to turn over $5,000.00 of the proceeds from the sale of said Graded Schools to be used in the erection of suitable buildings for said Schools, that no graded schools have been established in said Town, but the plaintiff is informed and believes that if a sale of said Bonds is permitted that said Board of Aldermen will turn over said $5,000.00 to an illegally constituted Graded School district in disregard of the spirit and meaning of said Act and thus unlawfully divert a part of said fund.

8. That the Act of the Legislature authorizing the issuing of said Bonds requires the Board of Aldermen each year, at the same time other taxes are levied to Levy a sufficient tax upon the taxable property and other taxable subjects to pay the interest of said Bonds, and the plaintiff is informed and believes that no such Levy has been made as is required by said Act, and that the Levy that was attempted to be made is void, and that he is informed and believes that the Board of Aldermen of said Town have agreed and contracted to sell, and are preparing to deliver said Bonds at a price far below their real value, and at a great loss to the tax payers of said Town, and that said sale was made in any way disposing of any of the bonds mentioned in the complaint filed in this action, or attempting to collect the tax levied to pay interest on said bonds until the further orders of the Court.

Wherefore plaintiff prays judgment,
1. That the Mayor, Board of Aldermen and officials of said Town be perpetually enjoined, and restrained from issuing, selling or in other wise disposing of said Bonds of any part thereof.
2. That the tax collector or other officer of said Town be enjoined and restrained from collecting any part of the special tax attempted part to be levied for the purpose of paying the interest on said Bonds.
3. For such other and further relief as plaintiff may be entitled, and for costs.
F. G. JAMES,
Att'y for plaintiff.
S. T. Hooker, plaintiff above named, being duly sworn deposes and says that the facts set forth in the foregoing complaint are true of his own knowledge, except those matters and things stated on behalf of and belief and those he believes true. S. T. HOOKER.
Sworn and subscribed to before me this Sept. 11, 1901.
D. C. MOORE,
Clerk Superior Court.

WE & THE WORK.

And that is the reason the old Greenville Warehouse is selling so much tobacco. We get the highest price for every pile sold on our floor. The farmers see this, and appreciating the hard work we do for them they bring us their tobacco. We treat all alike, get the best price every time. Bring your next load to the Greenville Warehouse and we will show you the truth of this. We have every accommodation for you and your team.

We are independent of Warehouse Trusts.

WASHINGTON LETTER.
From Our Regular Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 13.
The shooting of President McKinley at Buffalo has been the all-sorbing public topic at the National Capital since Friday last. Happening at a time of political clamor and so clearly traceable to the anarchistic infatuation of a shiftless, unknown creature, it allowed no space for partisan feeling. Instead the great underlying loyalty and honesty of the American heart came uppermost at once and from every quarter and every shade of true citizenship have come like measures of sorrow, affection and indignation as the incidents of the dastardly deed evoked them.

This assault upon the Chief Magistrate has brought forth consensus among people and publicists that stern and active legislation must be enacted to suppress and prevent anarchy of the destructive school in the United States. It is all well enough that men oppressed wrongfully in other lands should make America their asylum, but they must not also make it a slaughter house. We entreat in our White House no organs that need the swift and bloody medicine of deringer, dagger, or dynamite. Our atmosphere is that of liberty and law must not be made poisonous by the breaths of those whose tongues and hands are against God, and government, and the public good.

The new Congress convening in December promises to be one of the liveliest of recent times. The republican sentiment majority of thirty-nine will have to be kept well within the party corral, if the party program is to be carried forward with color and certainty. The Democrats will have to keep close watch on the majority and get busy at every possible opportunity. At this next session the lines on which they will go to the country in 1902 and ask for a majority in the next House of Representatives.

The Academy boys are divided now and have base ball and foot ball both.

They came here on the evening train and are making their home at Hotel Bertha. Mr. Ward recently came here to go in business. He and his bride are cordially welcomed to Greenville.

History of Pitt County.
Mr. Alex. L. Blow is gathering material for a history of Pitt County. He has been at work on this for some time and already has data prepared from the formation of the county up to the year 1875. There is no man better informed about the history and records of the county than Mr. Blow, and when his history is completed it will be a work of great value.

Elegant Store.
Standing on the corner of Evans and Fourth streets in general conversation with an observing gentleman, he said, "Isn't that an elegant store over there?" pointing towards Frank Wilson's. That store would be a credit to a city, both the design and finish of the building, and the selection and arrangement of the stock it contains.

During the Summer Season, can come upon the Republican ticket for the government a fair sign that the Republican leaders are only dragging brush over the road to raise a dust. Really there is no hope in Dodge. He has neither the wit of Cameron, nor the tireless talk of Mahone, and the people of Virginia will be slow to take him seriously. His race is stated from the start to be a rag-time out.

$25.00 REWARD—For the return of a small directory that was stolen from office sometime during the month of August, 1901. Will also pay an additional $25.00 for recovery of the thief.
