William Kemmler, a New York murderer, was killed by electricity last week as a penalty for his crime, or he was electrocuted, as that euphonious title has been given New York's new fangled method of capital punishment. The law in that State to execute the death penalty by electricity went into effect the first of last year, and Kemmler's crime was the first after the passage of the new law. Such a bungling job was made of this first experiment at electrocution that it has brought the method into much disfavor, and it is suggested that the first work of the next legislature of that State will be to repeal the law.

It strikes as that New York was right much put to it in getting up this idea of capital punishment. If they are so anxious to kill the criminals by electricity, that class might at least be reduced to the same level and killed like they dispatch the citizen up there; that is, instead of going through all the trouble, wrangle and enormous expense of buying dynamo, making fine execution chairs, constructing all the electrical appliances and hiring big salaried operatives to finger the machine, just trot the criminal out on the streets of New York City and knock down one of the death-dealing electric wires on him, and the work is done instantly, without so much pomp, and without having to kill him twice to get one good job of it, as was the case in the electrocution of Kemmler. It does not look the slightest type of civilization to treat murderers so much better than the average citizen is treated.

The Democratic State Convention meets in Raleigh next Wednesday, 20th.

North Carolina met with quite a severe loss in her educational interests by the burning of Butcherford College which occurred on the night of the 8th. All of the buildings and libraries were completely destroyed with some twenty thousand dollars worth of notes and accounts. The fire was supposed to have caught from one of the society halls and there was no insurance. The Raleigh Chronicle makes an appeal for aid to rebuild the college at once.

An Example Worthy to be Followed.

We saw recently that the Mecklenburg county Alliance had resolved to take no part in the politics of that county, and will permit no candidate to use the Alliance as a means of securing a nomination for office in the county. This action on the part of the Mecklenburg county Alliance is very wise and proper, and deserves to be followed by other county Alliances in the State. Such action is best for the Alliance and best for the Democratic party. It would be a dangerous stroke of politics for the Alliance in any county to undertake to nominate only Alliance Democrats. It would jeopardize the success of the Democratic ticket and invite a defeat of the plans and purposes of the Alliance itself.

Take Pitt county, for instance. We suppose that the Alliance is composed of a little more than one-third of the Democratic voters. If it should happen that only Alliance men were nominated for the county offices, could it be expected that there would be that harmony and good feeling in the party as would insure success? We need to have the utmost harmony in Democratic ranks if victory is to perch upon our banner. There are five thousand voters in Pitt county, and the Democrats only have a margin of about one hundred and fifty votes. The relative strength of the two parties is nearly the same, but the Democratic ticket can always win if the right men are nominated. The REFLECTOR suggests that the best and most competent men be nominated regardless of the fact whether they belong to the Alliance or not, and in selecting good, reliable men neither the interests of the Alliance nor the Democratic party will suffer any harm.

Washington Letter.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 8th, 1890
Mr. Harrison will tomorrow leave for Boston where he hopes to make himself solid with the G. A. P., at its annual encampment. But perhaps a gentleman named Alger may have something to say about that. Several members of the Cabinet will go along to help their chief.

The Liver and Harbor bill, the previous agreement, displaced by Tarr's bill in the Senate to day. Speaker Reed will have many things to account for in the general day of reckoning, which comes to all men; but if he persists in his efforts to prevent an appropriation being made to erect a new Government printing office, and an accident occurs, and it is liable any time, in the present death trap resulting in the loss of many precious lives, that will be the most terrible of all. The old building now used has been pronounced dangerous to health and life by every competent architect who has examined it, and there have been a number of them, its floors settle as much as three inches when heavily loaded as they are almost constantly; its walls have cracks in them big enough to put base balls into, and the whole structure shakes and shivers at every revolution of the machinery, and yet more than 2,000 men and women engaged in working for this great and wealthy Government are compelled to take their lives in their hands by working daily in this building. The Senate passed an amendment to an appropriation bill providing for a new building; but by order of Speaker Reed the House refused to concur.

The Male School.

GREENVILLE, N. C., Aug. 8th '90
To the people of Greenville and adjacent country.

At a public meeting held in June last the undersigned having been appointed a committee to correspond with teachers and to secure a suitable person to open a male school of high grade in the town of Greenville beg leave to advise the public that, after much correspondence and investigation, we have secured the services of Prof. Walter F. Matthews. Prof. Matthews comes to us highly recommended as a scholar teacher and a christian gentleman and we take pleasure in commending him to the confidence, esteem and patronage of the public.

He assumes control of the school on his own responsibility and he is therefore dependent upon the patronage of the public for his support and for the efficiency of the school. We therefore hope the people will give to this school such generous support and united good will as will make it a school of which the people may look for a proper place for the education of their sons. It will be seen by his published rates that he has made his charges for tuition very low and we think the Board will appreciate this effort on his part to meet them in a liberal spirit.

THE ELECTRICAL EXECUTION—NAVAL ATTRACTIONS—PNEUMATIC TUBES FOR MAILS
(Regular Correspondent.)

New York, Aug. 11, 1890.

The execution by electricity of murderer Kemmler at Auburn last Wednesday has been the chief topic of discussion all the week.

Notwithstanding the fact that the law forbids the publication of the details of such executions, the newspapers issued on that day devoted the principal part of their space to the subject and flooded the streets with "Extras" all day long.

One paper issued so many of these extras that it had to number them, the last of which I noticed being styled "Kemmler Extra No. 7." It goes without saying that the details of this "secret execution" were as fully set forth as if it had taken place on the steps of the City Hall. In their comments the newspapers almost unanimously declared that the execution was brutal and that the new method should be immediately abolished. As all the experts agree that the condemned man felt no pain and as everything was quiet and orderly, I am unable to see where the brutality came in.

The execution was certainly not as smooth as it might have been, but who or what was at fault no one seems to know. The experts blame each other and the newspapers blame the method. When doctors disagree who shall decide?
THE WHITE SQUADRON.

Our people are taking considerable interest in naval matters lately inspired principally by the sight of the new war ships, Boston, Atlanta and Chicago, which comprise the White Squadron. The naval beauties, which have been anchored off 23rd street for a week past, are great cards of attraction and are visited daily by large numbers of people.

The appointment of Col. M. L. McCorkle, of Catawba, to fill out Judge Shipp's unexpired term, meets with general approbation. His brethren of the bar esteem Col. McCorkle as well grounded in the law and the general public knows him as a successful practitioner and a blameless gentleman. One of the foremost of the Superior Court Judges says the appointment is the best the Governor has made, and while lawyers unanimously commend it, laymen generally applaud it. Judge McCorkle is holding his first court this week at Daunbury, Stokes county.—Statesville Landmark.

It will take ten years or more, say the experts in Washington, to compile all the data gathered for the census of this year. Among the petty and contemptible party jobs to which this Administration has lent itself the census of 1890 will be recorded in history as about the most worthless of the lot, and at the same time the most profitable to its participants.—Phil. Record.

The spectacle of a woman in the United States Senate is among the possibilities, not to say probabilities, of the near future. The Senate has voted to admit Wyoming territory to the sisterhood of States, with the woman suffrage attachment of that interesting aspirant for membership in the Union.—Durham Globe.

The man who goes honestly through this world will get many a bump as he goes along, but after all, his condition will be infinitely better than that of the man who goes through without antagonizing anything, and just goes as the majority may carry him.—Greensboro Workman.

Powderly has the right idea of the force bill. "There is more intimidation," he says, "in four lines of that law than in all the 'Southern outrages' that have taken place since the war." It is a measure of tyranny that every honest workman must resent.—Phil. Times.

An average of 100 deaths a day from cholera is reported at Mecca. Chicago's estimated population is 1,098,576, which makes it the second largest city in the United States.

I SAY IT! I MEAN IT! I CAN PROVE IT!

—THAT—
PRATT'S REVOLVING HEAD COTTON GIN
IS THE BEST GIN IN THE SOUTH.

WHY IS IT THE BEST COTTON GIN IN THE SOUTH?—Because it is built upon improved principles, having Revolving Heads in the ends of the Cotton Box, which revolve with the roll of seed cotton, thus preventing that friction which occurs at the end of the cotton box in all other gins. Hence the PRATT GIN does not break nor choke, carries a harder roll of seed cotton on the saws than other gins, and, in consequence of this, cleans the seed better, and of course, yields more lint cotton. This is common sense, and if you don't believe what we say, write to any of the gentlemen whose names and postoffice appear below, all of whom are using the Pratt Gin and will have no other.

The rain Sunday evening interfered with the church services and none were held. NOTICE—Miss Bettie Warren will open her school for girls and small boys September 1st 1890.

Little Miss Bettie Tyson gave a number of her friends an enjoyable party Friday evening. Some good seasoned timber at the Baptist Church will be sold at a bargain. Apply to J. H. Tucker.

The shrill shriek of the freight train engine here reminds us of the yell of Duke's Comanche Indian at Durham. Four reliable parties can get table board with a good family for $2.50 per week, by leaving their names at REFLECTOR office.

We will give the REFLECTOR for 6 months to the farmer who shows the first bale of new cotton this season in front of our office. 35 per lb for Lorillard Sweet Scotel Snuff. 5000 lb sold in Pitt Co., which is a guarantee of its superiority, at the Old Brick Store.

There is right much water in the old Tar as a result of the late rains, but not enough to overflow and damage crops, we are glad to say. Not much longer to talk county candidates. The convention meets on the 28th. If there are any new candidates trot them out.

Mr. Asa Garriss told us Saturday that one of the bands on his plantation last week killed a large moccasin snake in which there were 60 young snakes. Cleanliness in some parts of the town is very much neglected. We saw as much as half a bushel of melon rinds dumped down in one pile on the street the other day.

WANTED—A wide-awake, stirring man to take agency for a first-class OLD LINE LIFE INSURANCE Company. BIG MONEY for the right man. Address "H," care of REFLECTOR. The windows for the main audience room of the Baptist Memorial Church arrived Monday and will be put in as early as possible. The painting of the room progresses.

We are better prepared than ever before to furnish you with good Cook Stoves. "The Richmond Stove Co's Stoves have been tried in the balances and found all right" You will find them at D. D. Haskett & Co. The Greenville Guard held their annual election of officers last week. Capt. R. Williams, Jr., and 2nd Lieut. R. W. King were both re-elected. Sgt. S. T. Hooker was elected as 1st Lieutenant.

Uncle John Cherry says Ocracoke is just fine. They are preparing to have a grand time down there next week and a large crowd is expected. Another party will go down from here Saturday night. WANTED—Two salesmen for clothing trade must have some experience steady employment with liberal salary. Address "Clothing" care REFLECTOR Office. Littleton High School offers to take one young man from Pitt county, or boy over 14 years of age, and give him free tuition for the scholastic year beginning Aug. 25th. The student sent under this offer must be selected by the County Superintendent of Public Instruction.

A complaint has come to us about the unwholesome odors that arise from a ditch passing through certain back lots in Forbesown. This matter is beyond the jurisdiction of the police, and passes through whose premises the ditch passes should have the cause of offense removed at once. It is conducive to health to attend to matters of this kind.

Rev. E. C. Glenn returned home Monday evening from Panacea Springs. Miss Lizzie Salisbury, of Hassells, has been visiting Miss Rosalind Rountree.

Mr. H. A. Sutton and Master Hugh Sheppard are visiting relatives in Lenoir county. Mr. G. A. Holderness is in town this week. The REFLECTOR was glad to have him call.

Miss Annie Sheppard returned home Sunday from a visit to relatives near Farmville. Mr. A. B. Ellington returned last week from Petersburg, and is at his post in the foundry.

Mr. E. A. Baldrée, the young mite, of this section, left last week to visit Washington and Ocracoke. Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Wells, of Wilson, spent part of last week with the family of ex-Sheriff King.

Prof. John Duckett is in Greene and Lenoir counties this week in the interest of Greenville Institute. Bob Moyer returned home Thursday evening from Nag's Head and reports a tremendous time down there.

Miss Havens Cherry returned last week from Boston, where she had been attending the Conservatory of Music. We see from the Salisbury Herald that Mr. A. C. Nobles, from near Greenville, has been visiting in that town.

Prof. W. J. Matthews, of Gates, who is to take charge of the Greenville male school, spent last Friday in town. Mr. W. F. Harding had to close the school he was teaching near Mr. W. G. Little's because of sickness among the pupils.

Mr. J. D. Cox, President of the county Alliance, left Monday for Asheville to attend the meeting of the State Alliance. Misses Mattie and Jessamine Higgs, who were visiting Mrs. J. D. Murphy, returned last Thursday to their home in Raleigh.

Mrs. General Bryan Grimes, accompanied by her daughter passed through one day last week enroute for Cleveland Springs. Mr. J. F. Joyner, accompanied by his little son, made a trip to Ocracoke last week to sell some tobacco. He got good prices all around.

Mrs. J. G. Nelson, who was visiting the family of her father, Rev. O. P. Humber, returned to her home in Williamston last Thursday. Rev. Henry Wingate, of Robersonville, was in town one day last week arranging to enter his daughter at Greenville Institute next session.

A week or two since Miss Lela Cherry carried the two little Thomas children to Charlotte and had them admitted in the Orphanage there. Prof. J. B. Brewer, President of C. B. F. Institute, Murfreesboro, was in town part of last week in the interest of that excellent school for young ladies.

Hon. E. A. Moyer, accompanied by Mrs. Moyer and their little daughter, left Saturday morning for Asheville. Mr. Moyer goes to attend the meeting of the State Farmers' Alliance. The Methodist church here has given the Pastor, Rev. B. B. John, a few week's vacation. He left last week for Chapel Hill, and will visit the Western portion of the State before returning.

Mr. John Hanby, of Wilmington, who has charge of the construction of depots for the W. & W. Railroad Co., was in town one day last week, on his way to Ayden and Grifton to arrange for building depots at those stations. Mr. C. L. Tyson was in to see us Saturday. He says his school at Briery Swamp was so large that the building there was not sufficient, and that the members of the church held a conference and permitted him to use the meeting house for the school.

Mr. M. R. Lang left last Wednesday to purchase new goods for his mammoth store. He will visit several of the Northern cities and buy a large stock. Mrs. Lang accompanied him as far as Atlantic City, at which place she will remain several weeks. Her health has not been good the last month or so, and her many friends hope she will return home entirely restored.

The REFLECTOR is gratified to learn of the success with which its former "Bad Boy," Mr. C. L. Whichard, is meeting in the pursuit of his studies at Smith's Business College, Lexington, Ky. His advance in telegraphy has been so rapid that he has been placed in charge of that department at a good salary during the absence of the Professor on a summer vacation. He has only been at the school one month, and being placed in such an important position speaks well for his ability and well for the foundation he laid while in the REFLECTOR office.

The other day Mr. E. P. Fleming killed a very large snake in his barn. It was what is known as a chicken eater and measured 5 1/2 feet in length. Mr. Fleming said he had for some time been missing eggs from the hens nests about the barn, and this snake had been eating them.

Saturday before the 4th Sunday in this month the County Teachers' Association will meet at Rountree's. There will be an address by Mr. J. B. Yellowley, a lecturer by Mr. J. D. Cox and an essay by Miss Maggie Smith, all on interesting subjects. There should be a large attendance of teachers.

Mr. J. B. Edgerton, an agent of the W. & W. Railroad Co., was in town last week looking after the rights and titles of the property at Ayden where the new town is to be started in which that company will be half owner. Mr. Edgerton told us that as soon as the papers were all in right shape an auction sale of lots will be advertised.

Bullock & Mitchell, owners and proprietors of the Banner warehouse Oxford, N. C., sold for Mr. S. P. Erwin, of Pitt, a few days ago, one curing of priming leaves for the snug little sum of $118.80 after deducting freight and warehouse charges. Two lots brought $20, one $26.50, one 40, one 50 and one 100, making an average of over thirty cents for all grades. This tobacco was cured by Mr. W. P. Brooks, of Granville and right well does he understand the art. If you want big prices and prompt return, ship your tobacco to Bullock and Mitchell, Oxford, N. C.

The Congressional Convention. About 50 persons, most of them delegates, left here Monday afternoon for Elizabeth City to attend the Congressional Convention there yesterday. They were taken over to the Junction on Mr. Boney's train and there took the regular train for Plymouth. It was hard to tell how the Pitt delegation stood when it left home or how they were going to vote after they got to the convention. But several of them promised to telegraph the REFLECTOR Tuesday evening what the convention had done or was doing, so if the reader to-day finds a telegram published elsewhere in the paper he will know some delegate was heard from, and vice versa.

They Both Promised. Last Friday evening Gov. Jarvis and Mr. E. A. Moyer happened to meet in the REFLECTOR office. Mr. Moyer was to leave next morning for Asheville to attend the meeting of the State Alliance, and Gov. Jarvis was to leave Monday for the Congressional Convention at Elizabeth City. They were talking over the two occasions. As they were bidding each other good-bye Mr. Moyer remarked: "Now, Governor, don't let them nominate me for Congress down there." "Well, Elbert," the Governor replied, "I'll make that promise on condition that you make me one. Don't let the State Alliance endorse me against Vance." They both promised and parted amid a hearty laugh.

Looking This Way. Not a week passes that the REFLECTOR does not receive requests from abroad for sample copies to be sent. Several such requests have come the past week, a single mail bringing four. These came from New Hampshire, Texas, Arkansas, California and points in North Carolina. It shows conclusively that people all over the country are becoming interested in Greenville and Pitt county, and naturally they turn to the county paper for such information as they desire. It shows further that our people should be holding out every inducement for persons abroad to come and locate among us. Help the REFLECTOR send it abroad that we have right here the best section of the world.

Down the Road. The editor with a few parties took a run on Mr. Boney's construction train, Capt. Adams at the engine, down to Ayden and Grifton one morning last week. It is a fine section of country down that way and some splendid farms and excellent timbered land were noticed as the engine flew rapidly along. A run of a few minutes brought us to Swift Creek and a mile further Ayden was reached. This is the site for the new town in which the railroad is taking much interest, and a pretty location it is. At Grifton a large force is at work pushing the railroad bridge forward as rapidly as possible. The bridge down there is much handsomer than the one at Greenville. It is expected to be completed in a week or two and track laying hurried on to Kinston. The return was so soon that we did not have opportunity to go up in town and see any of the clever people of Grifton. We regretted to hear while there that Dr. Johnson's stables were destroyed by fire the night before.

New Advertisements. An advertisement of Chowan Baptist Female Institute, Murfreesboro, will be found among our notices on the fourth page. This is one of the best educational institutions in the State and presents several facts for the consideration of parents and guardians. Fall term will open September 10th. The attention of tobacco growers is called to the advertisement of the Banner Warehouse Oxford, Bullock and Mitchell, proprietors. This warehouse makes a specialty of fine bright tobacco and claims to beat the world on high averages.

A letter to the editor they say if hard work of the kind for tobacco farmer and high prices for tobacco count for anything, they intend to sell some of the Pitt county crop. Farmers make a note of this, high prices for your tobacco is what you want. As is well-known, the Davis School has been moved from LaGrange, in the eastern part of the State, to Winston-Salem. The school is located a short distance from town. The grounds are very large, and are beautifully situated. Twelve acres are being prepared for a park. The next session will begin in September. The entire equipment of the school will be new. Among other conveniences there is a large bath house, with hot and cold baths free of charge to the cadets. See ad.

Tobacco Leaves. Another nice sample from a curing on Mr. E. A. Moyer's farm has been placed in the REFLECTOR show window. Every farmer who comes to town is invited to visit the REFLECTOR office and look at our tobacco display.

Mr. S. P. Erwin has made the best sale of tobacco from Pitt this year, receiving as high as $1 per pound for some. Mr. J. J. Laughinghouse told us Thursday that he had 20 acres in tobacco, and was then having his eighteenth barn cured.

We heard Saturday that Mr. G. F. Evans has cured 20 barns this season up to that day. He is the veteran tobacco grower of the county, and makes a success of it every year. Saturday Mr. N. T. Daniel, of Granville, brought us some specimens of tobacco cured by him for Messrs. J. A. Tyson and L. H. Allen. The samples are good and show that he understands his business.

The bad weather last week caused some failures to be made at tobacco curing. Mr. C. D. Rountree tells us he had two barns ruined. Of course this tobacco is not entirely ruined, but owing to the bad cure it will have to sell as a low grade. A very beautiful sample of tobacco was brought us Saturday by Mr. J. W. Martin, a specimen of his own curing. Mr. Martin lives on Grindell Creek and says his tobacco patch is but a short distance from the creek, which proves that lands over there are adapted to the growth of fine tobacco. This is the best curing we have yet seen made entirely by a Pitt county man without the aid of an experienced curer.

The Male School. As the REFLECTOR suggested a few weeks ago the meetings of the citizens looking to the establishment of a male school of high grade here meant more than idle talk, and the announcement of the committee which is published in this paper shows that a good teacher has been secured and all things will be in readiness for the school to open the first Monday in September. We think the committee are indeed fortunate in engaging Prof. Matthews, if recommendations mean anything. He is a graduate of Wake Forest College in the full A. M. course, has taught two years, and comes to Greenville bearing as strong testimonials as any person could wish. From these we take pleasure in making a few extracts that the people of this section may know the high character and ability of the man who is to come among them as an instructor of their boys.

Dr. Chas. E. Taylor, President Wake Forest College, says: "Mr. W. J. Matthews, of Gates, N. C., after remaining with us several years, received his diploma with the degree of Master of Arts in 1887. It gives me pleasure to bear testimony to his excellent scholarship and to his uniformly correct deportment. I can cordially commend him to any who may need the services of a thorough and efficient teacher."

Dr. Wm. Royal, Professor of English in Wake Forest College, says: "Mr. W. J. Matthews, of the class of '87, pursued with me the courses in English, French, German, Moral Philosophy and its allied branches. He is one of the most indefatigable and successful students it has ever been my privilege to teach. From his clear and accurate thinking I am led to believe he possesses eminent fitness for teaching, and I cheerfully commend him to those who desire solid faithful work in the school room."

Dr. G. W. Maully, Professor of Latin, says: "Mr. W. J. Matthews graduated with the degree of Master of Arts at Wake Forest College in 1887. He made a record of an unusually diligent and successful student. His average in all the branches taught in the College was between 95 and 100, the latter being the maximum. He was awarded the Greek Medal in 1886. I regard him as well prepared for teaching. He is a gentleman of fine moral and Christian character, such as deserves to be entrusted with the care of teaching the young. I have confidence in his character and capacity."

W. L. Potent, Professor of Natural History, says: "I entertain great respect for the scholarship and the character of Mr. W. J. Matthews. He is a man of the square and solid type. As a student he was in all regards one of the most satisfactory. He is a thoroughly competent and reliable teacher."

W. B. Royal, Professor of Greek, and L. B. Mills, Professor of Mathematics, say: "Mr. W. J. Matthews graduated from this College with the degree of A. M. in 1887. He was an industrious, faithful and successful student and an honest, reliable Christian gentleman. We can commend him to those who desire the services of an educator."

Mr. Thos. N. Bessent, Trustee of the Jerusalem High School, says: "Prof. Matthews had charge of our Academy. He is a man in all regards worthy of the respect, confidence and patronage of the public. During the present school year I have had five children under his tuition and am well satisfied with his teaching. He has proven himself a thorough, efficient and impartial teacher."

Mr. J. N. Charles, Trustee of the Jerusalem High School, says: "Prof. W. J. Matthews assumed control of the Jerusalem High School early in the Fall of 1889, and has fully sustained himself as a thorough and competent teacher and a gentleman of high accomplishments."

It is nice to be remembered, and especially after friend Alex Hurlbrosner's manner. Last Thursday he called on into town, to run our eyes over a beautiful display of new cravats, ties and scarfs just received, and invited us to take our pick from the whole lot. It is needless to say we came out with a beauty, as there is no discount on our taste.
