

It is possible to go round the world and touch on British territory all the way—via, from England to Halifax, across Canada to Vancouver, across the Pacific to Hongkong, thence to Singapore, Ipanema, Manilla, Cape Town, St. Helena and England, or from Penang to Ceylon, Bombay, Aden, Form, Malta, Gibraltar and home.

The dressmakers of the reign of Louis XV announced that, among other costly goods, they had for sale and for sale a belly, scratched and faded, rat color, fading down, dry, monkey, glaucous widow, but three, dead alive, with Spanish, mortal rim, combed to burn and chimney sweep.

Consumption

AND THE CURE

To the Editor—I have a brother who is suffering from Consumption. By his study of your issue of the 15th inst. I have learned that you have a medicine for the cure of this disease. I have written you for a bottle of your medicine, and will send you the money for it as soon as I receive it. I have written you for a bottle of your medicine, and will send you the money for it as soon as I receive it.

JUST FOR FUN.

High life—that of the ruler. When the law finds him out the man who keeps a fence has to get a pair on.

Hoax—That fellow to whom you were just talking referred to as being very dense. Hoax—He ought to be, his name is Page.

"You're not so warm," said young Stuyvesant, as he extinguished the light and the gas was quite put out upon being thus turned down.

Wreny Willie—"Lady, kin you help a staving man to get a Me? Mrs. Hally—Certainly, my good man. Just wait a moment and I'll call Tomsey in."

"Ah!" exclaimed the anxious husband when the doctor brought him the news. He had not expected a loss, and there was a note of disappointment in his voice.

Prevent Hotel Brawl

The days of the professional hotel brawler numbered, if a plan which has recently been adopted by the National Hotel Keepers' Association proves as successful as expected. The stranger who presents himself at a hotel counter and asks to have his clothes or hat changed will in future find himself accompanied by a letter of credit issued by the Hotel-Keepers' Association.

The applicant for a letter of credit fills out a card giving a description of himself, his age, height, weight, color of hair and other particulars. He fills in his full name and address, and a dollar is paid. The Hotel-Keepers' Association makes inquiries of the firm in the name of the applicant, and if the information is satisfactory to its members, the letter of credit is issued.

How the King

During the visit of George IV to the Emerald Isle there were, Moore tells us, many good things said. "One of the 'poetry,' delighted with his majesty's affability, said to the collector, 'as the King passed through the park, and the majesty, 'Oh, bless him, never paid the tax! And how's that?' 'Oh, kings never do.' 'We let 'em go free,' was the answer. 'Then there's the duty money for 'em,' says Pat. 'It shall never be said that the king came here and found nobody to pay the tax for 'em.' Moore, on his visit to Abbeystead, told this story to Sir Walter, when they were comparing notes as to the two royal visits. 'Now, Sir Moore,' replied South, 'there you have just the advantage of us. There was no want of courteous hosts. The gentlemen would have done anything in the world for his majesty but pay the tax!'

Dr. Johnson had the greatest contempt for any book which was not philosophically or poetically good. One, when he was visiting Samuel Foote, in a room adjoining the bookseller's shop, he was sitting at a table and looking down one by one on the floor Foote, who was in a sitting all the time. "Why, what are you about there? You'll spoil all my books!" "No, no," said Johnson, "I have done nothing but look out a pack of cards, which I play in top-dresses just as they deserve, but I see no books."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Hobson—Hobson is beginning to look pretty. I always supposed that he had a "age" income. Hobson—No he hasn't, but somebody gave him a camera for Christmas, and he has to look at the pictures.

WHY

Why isn't bigamy not a two-fold blessing?

Why is it that a sister partner has so much to say?

Why does a lady always believe a man when he's lying?

Why does a man who is really good usually look so odd?

Why is the hired girl of foreign birth, and a domestic?

Why do we use the term "playwright" instead of "playwrighter"?

Why does nearly all the milk of human kindness taste of the can?

Why is it that a woman can never tire of anything straight but blazes?

Why does the average man always want to open a door marked "private"?

Why is it that your shooting never breaks unless you are in a hurry?

Why isn't the wedding ceremony a success unless there is a hitch in it somewhere?

Why is it that about two-thirds of a doctor's bill is for guessing at your complaint?—Chicago News.

H. C. HOOKER & CO.

How it Paid Him.

Advertising pays, as will be seen by the following: A Kansas paper recently gave notice that in case a stolen chicken was not returned to a certain place before its sale, it would sell for half the name of the thief. The place designated was a coop in a certain back yard. The next day after the notice came out, 27 chickens were found in said coop in the back yard.

The fact that the steamship lines plying to the Knoxville already have all the business they can handle, so that they have been compelled to raise their passenger rates, may temporarily tend to thin out the spring trade, but it will as surely operate to induce competition in the transportation business, and means will somehow be improvised to get all the good seekers to the Yalov who can pay their passage money. Thus the steamship business will be able to hold its own, but the larger problem will be to provision and gear the great population which is sure to be reached in that region. In addition to this question the Government will ultimately have to take part.

A large grain elevator containing 500,000 bushels of wheat was burned at St. Louis Tuesday night. The loss is estimated at about two million dollars.

Why should not the tables be turned and missionary work in undertaken with the Mormons themselves? We send missionaries to tangle sinners; men they can possibly be, and with some success. Here is a chance at our very doors, not only to save North Carolinians from running after false prophets, but of converting the false prophets themselves. The planing that will turn the Chinese from their ways ought to be as powerful enough to send the Mormons back to Utah, if they could not be made to see the error of their doctrine. At all events, where a Mormon preaches there too should be some opponent who explains the situation, and sets as his wife's private secretary Long enough to give the information that was desired.

The Reason Why.

"No, I never take the newspapers home. I've a family of grown-up daughters, you know."

"Papers too full of crime, eh?"

"No; too full of bargain sales."

Truth.

This is True.

A newspaper has 5,000 readers for each 1,000 subscribers. A merchant who puts out 1,000 hats will get possibly 300 or 500 people to read them—that is, if the boy who is trusted to distribute them does not put them under the sidewalk bridge. The hats will cost as much as an advertisement in the newspaper. All the women and girls and all the men and boys read the advertisement. Result: The merchant who uses the newspaper has 3,000 more readers to each 1,000 of the hats' readers. There is no estimating the amount of business that advertising brings a merchant, but that each dollar investment brings $29 to $109 worth of business there can be no doubt.—Goldboro Argus.

The Girl in Business

"You may need your employer socially," writes Ruth Ashmore in an article on "The Business Girl and Her Employer," in the February Ladies' Home Journal, "but during the hours that you are in the office you are employed by him, and you have no right to claim, and he has no right to ask, any social recognition. You can always be polite; you need not be hard-hearted, and there can be, without harm, an exchange of pleasant words. But during business hours there is no room for anything but business and doing nothing else. You self-respect should not allow you to be free in your manner with the different clerks who are your companions, and you should be wise enough not to have a confidant in the office.

"No matter who your employer is, you cannot afford to accept inebriates, drives, flowers or any special social recognition from him. I do not mean that all men are bad. Again, I thank God there are thousands of good men but masculine human nature is weak, and when things have gone wrong at home there is an impulse of satisfaction to the average man in getting a sweet sympathy, which he probably does not deserve. From a pretty, charming girl who believes in him, but you are hired to work, not to enter to the emotions of your employer, and when you are doing your work faithfully you are doing all that you are paid for."

Slides—Hello, Bimes! What are you going to do with the camera? Bimes—"Going to lure an arcton with it in my back yard. You didn't suppose I was going to take photographs with it, did you?"

About a month ago he caught a possum under his house among his chickens. Recently some "varmint" which Jack supposed to be a cat, was seen crawling up between the weather-boarding and ceiling of the house and making its headquarters between the weather-boarding and the roof. Jack concluded to lay a trap for the animal, and he set a rabbit gun, baiting it with beef. Friday night he caught a possum in the rabbit gun—Statesville Landmark.

Caught a Possum in His House.

Jack Sprouse, a well known colored man who lives on West Water street, doesn't have to go to the woods to hunt possums—they come to him! About a month ago he caught a possum under his house among his chickens. Recently some "varmint" which Jack supposed to be a cat, was seen crawling up between the weather-boarding and ceiling of the house and making its headquarters between the weather-boarding and the roof. Jack concluded to lay a trap for the animal, and he set a rabbit gun, baiting it with beef. Friday night he caught a possum in the rabbit gun—Statesville Landmark.

An Immense Hog. Probably the largest live hog to be found in North Carolina is owned by Mr. J. C. Hendrick of Silver Hill, Johnston county. Deputy Collector Thompson, who spent yesterday in Davidson, tells us that he saw this mammoth piece of hog flesh and that it measures ten feet around. From tip to tip it is eleven feet in length and weighs 900 pounds. This hog is now two years old and despite its weight he is able to get around with activity along the oceanic shores of Salisbury World.

Found Cradled in the Woods. Atlanta, Ga., January 27.—Mrs. Lee Miller, who disappeared from her home here three days ago, was found yesterday in a tract of woods, twenty miles from the city. She was crazed.

Several weeks ago, when compulsory vaccination was being performed on all persons here, Mrs. Miller refused to submit, declaring that it would inoculate her and jeopardize the well-being of those whom she supported by dressmaking. She was arrested and fined $25, in default of which she spent several weeks in jail. Finally she was vaccinated under protest.

Physicians are doing everything possible for her. They fear that if she regains her health it will be at the expense of her mind, which they say is being seriously injured by the strain of her long confinement in the hospital.

Here is a new wrinkle in the discussion of the proposition to amend the Constitution so as to require the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people. The Scranton (Pa.) Tribune is quoted as saying: "Proponents of the amendment for the popular election of United States senators, the Philadelphia Record makes the suggestion that the Constitution be so amended as to choose its own way. This, if we mistake not, is a new idea, and it would have the advantage of clearing an open door to escape in case of radical plan of a popular election amendment should in operation result unacceptably."

Amendments to the Constitution are very ponderous things, and their details matters that are not lightly to be entered upon. But the Record's suggestion seems to us to be a good solution of a proposition that appears to be gaining in strength with its agitation.—Fayetteville Observer.

Your Husband's Mother. "Dear anything before you permit yourself to complain to your husband of his mother's faults," writes Mrs. Burton Kingdon on "The Duty of the Daughter-in-law" in the February Ladies' Home Journal. "Try to remember that she is a woman, and may do as you see fit, and may also, if ever do anything to rub a mother of a fraction of her child's love." The sturdy mother at your side may make you a mother-in-law some day, and as you now see so you ramp. Should you ever wish it necessary to break through your rule of silence never speak while under irritation.

"Few attentions will please her more than to seek her to lay any bit of news that you may have heard. Aside from the fact that the average old person feels lively interest in the affairs of friends and neighbors, it will value more than all, the implied wish for her sympathy in seeking her to share your bag of news. Treat her with special honor and deference in the presence of your servants, your children and your friends. Their conduct will be modeled after your example. In imagination, put yourself often in her shoes. It will help you to be fair and kind. If you have already had unpleasant experience of your mother-in-law's presence in your home, if her peculiarities get upon you, if she is intrusive, apt to interfere with your management of children or household, if she only repeat the same formula—'Make only report the same formula'—it may save the old egg-brook proverb, 'be good and you will be happy,' but to overcome evil with good is the divine prescription, and nothing can resist Carthage's methods. At least, the experiment will well worth the trial."

Italian Longevity. Supported by the newspaper Du Clichet, a woman has been reported, the result of which is to be divided into two parts. The first part is that she has lived for 120 years, and the second part is that she has lived for 120 years, and the second part is that she has lived for 120 years.

Congressman Harry Shinner has introduced a resolution in Congress providing for the commemoration of the landing of Sir Walter Raleigh's colony on Roanoke Island, North Carolina, 1584. The resolution authorizes appropriation of $1,200 with which to purchase a suitable monument or column to be erected at or near the spot of landing. A committee, to consist of three Senators and five Representatives, to be appointed by the presiding officers of the Senate and House, are to perfect all necessary plans to carry the joint resolution into effect.

The Latest Thing in Finess. An Eastern newspaper avers that the very latest thing is to have a purse made of the same material as the street dress. And not only that, but the purse must be mounted with a gold clasp, and have the initials of the owner in gold letters upon it. Another possibility which it is in fact, is to have walking shoes made in dyed leather to match the walking costume. This is a pretty fancy, at all events, and has probably come about from the tressonists and universal success of the tan shoe, which is so much softer and prettier than black.

No one need be surprised at the many scandals disgracing our old and new state administration. The Romanos are practiced cleanliness and enjoyed good health. Unfortunately, when a period of 1,000 years, which is the history of the world, is taken into account, the number of scandals is not so small as it appears. The conditions which we now seek to attain, are not so far from the conditions which we now seek to attain.

Antitoxin for Swine. Dr. Salmon chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, has submitted to Secretary Wilson a report upon the experiments made in the treatment of swine with antitoxin.
