SEE THAT? ... The great of the matter is never to be in a hurry. It is never anxious to learn anything that requires any trouble to obtain. This is why journalism is so paradoxical as ever everything else in the land of the pharaohs. Newspapers are run for the benefit of the owners, not of the public. The less news a journal contains the more it pleases the proprietor. He likes his paper to arrive at 8 o'clock in the morning and leave before 1 p. m. The papers, without exception, appear about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Any superfluous copy is immediately discarded. Advertisements receive prominent notice in the news columns. It is even on record that an Egyptian editor has announced to the public that he has sampled a special brand of "Seotch" the night before and found the "flavor excellent." That will insure him a case of 12 dozen on his arrival home that evening. Alexandria and Cairo between them contain some 50 papers, most of them Arabic or French. The latter predominate. There is one English daily published in Alexandria and one English weekly at Cairo. The former has stood the test of an existence of several years; the latter is a new institution. It is worked on the American plan. Its vigor, but a good local guide. The former is devoted mainly to shipping news, and the other is an old established Anglo-Egyptian.

Probabilities are that Schley, Watson and Sampson have formed junction. Monitors will be stationed off Havana and Schley and Sampson will go gunning for the Spanish fleet if it has not been already located. It is believed the navy department has a good idea of the whereabouts of the fleet but refuse to give out any information. The Government expects to hear of a naval battle before the end of the week.

By Telegram to Reflector.

Bonds were only resorted to in civil war near the close, only $25,000,000 being issued the first year. The Senate agreed for not exceeding $1,000,000 for an auxiliary fund for the coast defense, the force to be disbanded at close of war.

By Telegram to Reflector.

Will Return the Belt.
By Telegram to Reflector.
Key West, May 20.—The crew of the cruiser New York is raising contributions to purchase a new belt for the ship. The present one was presented by the seventh New York regiment, as the crew is so angry at the refusal of the event to enlist that they want to return the belt.

Engagement Expected.
By Telegram to Reflector.
Washington, May 21.—It is believed now a naval engagement is close at hand. It is said the New York is the only ship that returned to Key West. Sampson with the rest of his fleet is in good position to meet the Spaniards and has been reinforced heavily.

Early Invasion.
By Telegram to Reflector.
Washington, May 21.—It is believed on good authority that invasion of Cuba has not been abandoned as printed this morning. The President and Secretary Alger determined against the advice of Gen. Miles not to wait for the close of the rainy season.

Spanish Fleet at Santiago.
By Telegram to Reflector.
Washington, May 21.—The Navy Department is officially informed that the Spanish fleet arrived at Santiago, but nothing is given out of the later movements of that or the American fleet. It is thought Sampson and Schley will start tonight searching for the Spaniards but probably not until before Monday or Tuesday. Information is refused at the department of movement of ships.

WASHINGTON LETTER.
By Telegram to Reflector.
Washington, May 20, '98.

Under the executive policy that was this week not into operation that the administration can change its war plans even after that once every forty-eight hours, and the Naval Secretary Board can keep our fleets on a continuous war goose chase, with out being criticized. Under this policy Secretary Long is the only man who is allowed to give out a scrap of news concerning the movements of our warships, and nothing indicating their movements is to be allowed to be telegraphed from any place any of these vessels go to. The reason given for all this secrecy is that the Spanish have been regularly furnished with everything printed about the movements of our ships and that the knowledge thus acquired enabled the admiral of that Spanish fleet to avoid Admiral Sampson's fleet. This may be true, but had there been less criticism of recent movements of our warships it is probable that the new policy would be least criticized. The policy is better than the notice which caused it to be adopted.

It is learned unofficially—there are always leaks, you know—that the Oregon, the Marietta, and the Buffalo, the dynamic prize brought from Brazil, have joined Admiral Sampson's fleet; that the swiftest vessels in the fleet of Sampson and Schley are to be sent after the Spanish fleet, while the monitors and the slower ships are to maintain the Cuban blockades that the plans for the invasion of Cuba are to be again taken up and carried out within a short time; that another call for volunteers is probable in a few days, and that orders have been issued to cut all the cables from Cuba, except the two to the United States, which are now under government control.

Senator Jones, of Arkansas, about-stated the position of the Democratic party towards the war revenue bill, now before the Senate, in his speech this week on the bill. He opened by saying that he was in the Senate who was not ready to vote all the money and taxes necessary to carry on the war, but he would consider it a neglect of duty to vote for too much money. He criticized the estimates made of the amount that would be needed, and quoted the Secretaries of War and the Navy to show that he was right in calling them excessive, and said that even if they were not, there was no good reason why this session of Congress should provide for all of it. In reply to Senator Aldrich's questions, Senator Jones said: "I am willing to fix the amount that ought to be produced by the pending bill at $150,000,000, but I believe it would be better and wiser for us to levy even more taxes rather than to increase our interest bearing obligations. If I had to take my choice between an issue of bonds and an increase of taxation, I would prefer to increase taxation."

You will see from the above action of the Company that it is always pursuing the most liberal and just course towards its policy-holders. We do not make any flourish of trumpets when we show a spirit of liberality, because it is natural and expected that the Mutual Benefit will always be patriotic and do the right thing. In case war is not declared, the permits will not be granted, as it will not be necessary, and the Company desires to avoid that expense and trouble. In case war is declared, every one of our policy-holders will be protected.

"It has been decided by the Company that if war should be declared, free permits to enter the United States Military or Naval service will be granted on application to all persons now insured with us whose policy contracts require the same. This will include all old policies not containing the two years limitation, but permits on this nature will not be granted under policies not yet two years old, unless war shall actually be declared and the parties are about to enter the service. It has not yet been decided what action will be taken if war should be declared and parties then desire to insure with us and enter the United States service."

Capt. J. T. Williams Dead
Again Saturday we had a chronicle the fact that death has been within our midst. At five o'clock that morning Capt. J. T. Williams breathed his last. He had been sick for a long time and his death was not unexpected by his friends and yet such intelligence is always a shock to a community. He here his sufferings with a great deal of patience and endurance and met his end calmly. Capt. Williams was a little over fifty six years old and lived a large portion of his life in this county and in this town. He was a private at first in the civil war but rose to the position of Captain and bravely served his country to the end of that trying ordeal. During his last sickness which has continued for nearly the past six months he professed his faith in Christ and was united with the Methodist church on last Sunday. Therefore his many friends mourn not for him as one who dies without hope. A large circle of friends and relatives mourn his loss and The Reflector tenders sympathies to those bereaved ones. The burial took place Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Large Hall Stones
Mr. J. H. He put one of the stones by a scale of an egg to measure it. Fortunately for the crops only a few of the stones were so large.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS BANQUET.
Most Delightful in the History of the Town.

As the years roll by progress is naturally looked for on all sides, and that the celebration and banquet given Thursday evening by Tar River Lodge, No. 35, K. of P. should have been an expression of pain and sorrow. Mrs. Sugg had been in poor health for the last few years, but these months she had not the slightest thought that the end was so near. Only a week ago she left home to visit her kinman, Dr. E. H. Hornaday, in Greenville county. Mr. Sugg had a letter from her Tuesday and he expected to go after her this morning. He did go, but alas, how different was his mission from what had been anticipated. In the midst of the dinner, the country and home of the home, he began to find only her remains in the cold embrace of death.

From the days of King Solomon down to the present woman has, more or less, not regarded sacred society with highest favor, her thoughts in connection with them being filled with imaginary visions of "big game" and the unkind mysteries and that they were principally to afford places for the men to get off and have a good time to themselves. Thursday night the door was thrown open to the fair ones, each Knight having the privilege of taking his wife or sweetheart along with him. Of course these guests of honor saw no "game" or "big game," but through the medium of several excellent addresses they were given a better insight to the meaning of Pythianism, as also her kindred fraternal organizations Old Fellowship and Masonry, while the ladies themselves had representatives present to tell of the virtues of the daughters of Rebekah and The King's Daughters.

Besides the home people, there were also present J. K. Newton and A. A. Hayes, of Tarboro, and Dr. Josh Taylor, F. H. Hollis, H. C. Stogrow, Ed. Clark, Charles H. Hester, Joe Taylor and J. F. Berry, of Washington.
The exercises at Castle Hall were presided over by Dr. B. L. Carr, Chancellor Commander of the Lodge. The address of welcome was delivered by J. L. Fleming, and was responded to by H. C. Braway, of Washington, and A. A. Hayes, of Tarboro. F. C. Harding delivered an address on Pythianism. All these addresses were of remarkable character and brought forth the highest praise and applause to the young men delivering them.
The exercises at the hall were rendered even more delightful by a vocal duet by Mrs. J. B. Cherry and H. W. H. Hester and a solo by each.

The Pythians and their guests then repaired to Hotel Mason to partake of a banquet under the direction of mine host Charles Skinner, and he surpassed his already splendid reputation on the occasion. The dining room was a picture of beauty festooned in artificial colors, red white and blue, with "old glory" brought out prominently around the walls, and the menu was of the best. After partaking of the delicious spread before them to their full satisfaction, Dr. Charles Washington took charge of the assembly as treasurer and eloquently read the will for another feast of the intellect. He announced the following to wit: "The Ladies," H. W. Whedbee, "Daughters of Rebekah," Mrs. E. J. Cherry, "The King's Daughters," Mrs. J. B. Cherry, "The Old Woodmen Lodge," J. M. Hester, "Old Fellowship," Gov. T. J. Jarvis, "Sub Rosa," Miss Sallie Lipscomb, through H. W. Whedbee.

The responses were bright and eloquent, and at the close there were many expressions from those present of the pleasure the evening had brought them.

Mother's Friend

Mother's Friend is good for one purpose, viz: to relieve motherhood of danger and pain.
