A Snake in Church.
At one of our colored places of worship a few Sundays since considerable commotion was excited when attention was drawn to the door, where a good sized snake was making its entrance, regardless of all surroundings. Before the reptile was dispatched some were inclined to a remembrance of the Garden of Eden and were of the opinion that the devil was paying the congregation a visit. It was in truth a peculiar occurrence, and but for the valor of a few, there would have been more service at that church that day, and likely for many days to come.—Winston Republican.

Nature's Way Is Best.
The function strengthening and these building plan of treating chronic, lingering and obstinate cases of disease as pursued by Dr. Pierce's following after Nature's plan of restoring health.
He uses natural remedies, that is extracts from native medicinal roots, prepared by processes wrought out by the expenditure of much time and money, without the use of alcohol, and by skillful combination in just the right proportions.
Used as ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Black Cherry-bark, Queen's root, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot and Stone root, specially exert their influence in cases of lung, bronchitis and throat troubles, and this "Discovery" is, therefore, a safe and reliable remedy for bronchitis, laryngitis, chronic cough, catarrh and kindred ailments.
The above native roots also have the strongest possible endorsement from the leading medical writers of all the several schools of practice, for the cure not only of the diseases named above but also for Indigestion, torpid liver, or biliousness, obstinate constipation, kidney and bladder troubles and catarrh, no matter where located.
You don't have to take Dr. Pierce's pills, as you can get the same for your "Discovery" is backed up by the writings of the most eminent men in the medical profession. A request by postal card or letter, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a little book of extracts from eminent medical authorities endorsing the ingredients of his medicines, will bring a little book free that is worthy of your attention if you are in need of a good, safe, reliable remedy of known composition for the cure of almost any old chronic, or lingering malady.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic.
The most valuable book for both men and women is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A splendid 1000-page volume, with engravings and colored plates. A DAY IN WINTERVILLE.
Editor E. E. Hilliard, of the Scotland Neck Commonwealth, who delivered the literary address at the recent commencement of Winterville High School, speaks of that town as follows in his paper:
Fifteen years ago when the Scotland Neck railroad was extended to Greenville and then on to Kinston the only thing in the town which is now the prosperous and lovely town of Winterville six miles below Greenville was a wood rack of Mr. A. G. Cox. In the pine forest Mr. Cox commenced to cut wood and supply the railroad and other interests, and this was the beginning of the work which has in a few years developed into important manufacturing industries and built a prosperous town.
Mr. Cox soon conceived the idea of laying off a town, and being a man of deep and abiding moral convictions, which are shown daily in his consecrated Christian life, he coupled a condition with every deed to real estate that on it there should be no intoxicating liquors manufactured or sold for ninety-nine years.

Winterville is the home of the famous Cox cotton planter, guano sower and many other articles manufactured in that thriving town which but a few years ago was a vast pine forest. Among the many useful things manufactured under Mr. Cox's supervision are cotton planters, guano distributors, carts, back-bands, fine buggies and other things. It is a general opinion, felt and freely expressed, that no man in North Carolina has done more for his community than A. G. Cox has done for Pitt county and the town of Winterville.
The town presents many advantages in pretty homes, well arranged streets, good employment for all who want to work, good water and a healthful atmosphere, and good church facilities; but perhaps the most attractive advantage of all is the educational interest that centers around Winterville High School.

From the very beginning there had been good school interests there but about seven years ago Prof. G. E. Lineberry, a young man of sterling worth, scholarship and ability, commenced the work of laying the foundation for a good institution of learning. The Winterville High School, like many other great and good institutions, had a modest beginning, but it has already developed into one of the finest and most efficient and useful institutions of the kind in all the country. There are four good and commodious buildings, one recitation and study building and auditing, two dormitories for boys and one for girls. The school has the capacity of caring for from eighty to one hundred boarding

Convulsion, Fits, then Epilepsy.
Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine has been so successful in curing these brain-wrecking diseases that there is every reason to believe that even the most hopeless cases can be benefited, if not fully restored. We will be pleased to refer any one thus afflicted to many who now enjoy the blessing of health, after years of hopeless suffering.
"I have a son that had brain fever when two years old, followed by fits of the most terrible kind, and was pronounced incurable. I spent hundreds of dollars for him, without relief, until about fifteen years he became so bad that we sent him to Long's hospital for the insane, at Locompott, Ind. He was there nearly three years, but he continued to grow worse, so we brought him home July 20th, in an awful condition. He had lost his mind almost entirely. He barely knew one of the family, could not even find his bed was a bed, and he had not from 4 to 10 fits a day. We were urged to try Dr. Miles' Nervine, and before the first bottle was used, we could see a change for the better. We have given it to him ever since, and he has had but two very light spells since last August, 1902, and he has not well other than work and go anywhere. If any one wishes to ask any questions concerning this, they are at liberty to do so."
R. H. BUNNELL, Lincoln, Ind.
Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

NATURE IS KIND.
Sensations of Those Who Fall From Any Great Height.
"Persons who fall from any great height have little or no recollection of their sensations during the actual falling period," remarked the ambulance surgeon as he finished putting the arm of an accident victim in splints. "Sometimes they know what started their fall, but the number and sensation of falling is always a blank to them. It seems almost as if nature was kind enough to dull their senses, so that they would have no horrible sensations."
"Yesterday I was called to a man who had fallen thirty feet from a roof. He was seemingly conscious when we picked him up, but he could not remember the process of his fall. He remembered that he stepped on a nail, which started his tumble, but he did not remember that he grabbed at an eaves trough and that he tried to jab his jack-knife into the shingles. But a fellow workman saw him do those things. When my mother fell downstairs there was every indication that she tried to grasp the banister, that she did save herself for an instant the fourth stair from the bottom and that when she finally reached the floor she turned a complete somersault. But she remembered only that she stepped on her dress and pitched down."
"Another man who fell from a roof had the presence of mind to push against a projection so that he landed on a roof twenty feet below. But he had no recollection of that fact. He merely remembered that the scaffolding broke. Oftentimes a fall is accompanied by a somersault in the air, a hurtling against some projection which breaks the fall and a grabbing at things; but although the victim may be conscious when he is picked up, he has no remembrance of these things. His path downward seems to be an utter blank to him. I really believe it is nature's method of preventing a falling person from becoming hopelessly crazed."—New York Press.

One thing has been developed in the strenuous debate in the Senate on the railroad rate bill and that is that Vice-President Fairbanks is a most incompetent presiding officer.
Thomas A. Edison, the great inventor, is on a prospecting tour in this state. He is searching for a mineral called cobalt which is said to have been found in several North Carolina counties.
Mr. Carnegie says he would work for a dollar a day, if it was necessary. How many dollars he makes every day out of work of other men and through the virtual monopoly, the tariff on steel, is the question that interests the American people.
The Republican frauds and scandals are being somewhat lost sight of in the political excitement at Washington, but another batch of 21 indictments against men accused of timber stealing and a further postponement of the trial of some of those indicted for postoffice frauds, not to mention the consular scandals, reminds us that the past six years have produced more frauds, scandals and grafting than ever before.

Attorney-General Ellis, of Ohio, has been invited to Washington by the President to confer about the prosecution of the Standard Oil trust. If more information is really wanted on this subject, the attorney-general of West Virginia might give some evidence, especially of the connection of Senator Elkins with the octopus and its donation to the Republican campaign fund of that State when Elkins was electing a legislature in his interest.

Piebald Savages.
Piebald savages are among the people and things of which A. E. Pratt writes in "Two Years Among New Guinea Cannibals." He says: "For the most part their bodies were brown, but they were marked with pinkish patches unevenly distributed. This marking might be due to a disease, contracted from a too constant fish diet, but if it were a disease I could not discover that it gave any discomfort. A skin of this theory must be set this fact, that I observed one man in whom the light markings predominated. In fact, he was quite fresh colored, like a European, and had flat hair. These piebald people were not a class apart from the rest of the Hula village, but shared their life in every respect."

Truth in Preference to Fiction

GREENVILLE NORTH CAROLINA FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1906

Offices must come high in Alabama. It cost Hobson some over $6,000 just to get the nomination for Congress.

WATCH THE ENEMY.

For quite a while the liquor question has been a very quiet one in Greenville, and one seldom hears argument about it. The people have seemed satisfied with the way the dispensary here is managed and regarded it as such a great improvement over the open saloon as to have no thought of ever returning to the latter.

While the majority of the people are satisfied with the improved conditions, there are some who are constantly watching an opportunity to get saloons back and who would take any advantage to get the town again under control of the whiskey influence.

But this kind of do not come out in the open, and it is usually by some secret move or blind that they endeavor to carry their point. It has been intimated that right now there is a movement to capture enough of the nominations for aldermen in the primaries Friday night to get in control, then have the dispensary conducted in such a manner as to make it difficult and easy to vote out if another election is called on it and reopen barrooms.

Nice scheme, and it will not be so hard to work if those who are satisfied with present conditions are indifferent to the situation. It is the duty of every man in every ward to attend his primary Friday night and do his duty. Watch for the enemy to society and put down any movement that would attempt to again fasten the saloon evil upon the community.

It goes mighty hard with some people to loosen their purse strings. And in the majority of instances the more they have the worse they hate it.

An agent has invited President Roosevelt to take a balloon trip with him from New York to Philadelphia. Perhaps the President does not want to be disposed of so easily.

Thirty-six members of the United States Senate have a combined wealth of $34,000,000. Men of that wealth are not likely to take much interest in legislation that has for its aim the welfare of the common people.

The Southern railway may crush the Raleigh News and Observer, but we doubt it. The Press is a right powerful thing to run counter to. The people are reading these days and the Press has weight with them.

The Democrats of Halifax county are talking of nominating and electing Editor E. C. Hilliard, of the Scotland Neck Commonwealth, as one of the representatives in the Legislature for that county. They might search for years and not find a better man for representative than Mr. Hilliard. He is above reproach in every walk of life and always stands on the side of right.

While all the family of a man living near Dover were away from home, a thief entered the house and stole a valise containing more than $100 in money. Every few days we read of occurrences almost like that. It is very hard to have sympathy for people who lose money through such gross carelessness, when there are plenty of good banks it could be put in and kept safe. If the banks charged people for taking care of their money, there might be some excuse for hiding it around the house. The banks not only take care of your money for nothing and let you draw it out just when you please, but they will also pay you interest on it if you let it remain on deposit as long as six months. Don't take the risk of keeping money hid somewhere about the house.

The judge and solicitor of the district have started an investigation at Wadesboro to find the parties who lynched the white man there a few nights ago. That is just a matter of time and money, and is like shutting the stable door after the horse has gone.

EDITORIAL NOTFS.

(By an Occasional Contributor.) It is reported that the Chinese Emperor is dead again.

For a man of his weight, Senator Burton seems to be sitting on the lid with remarkable confidence.

Senator Tillman ought to get some pointers from Mr. Beveridge on methods of getting legislation "passed while you wait."

The question now arises whether President Cassatt is hurrying home because he knows the Pennsylvania railroad is rotten or because he thinks it isn't.

Col. William Jennings Bryan is going to attend a session of the Russian Duma. The Mikado must have presented him with one of those bomb-proof vests, too.

Senator Aldrich says Congress will adjourn by June 15. Considering that there are seven bills which it is absolutely necessary to pass, the senator must be counting on an epidemic of vocal paralysis among his colleagues.

If the Russians really want to make sure of quieting Father Gapon, they ought to get a few suggestions from Gen. Wood. Nobody ever heard of a resurrection in the Philippines.

Commissioner Sargeant says that there are 50,000 unregistered Chinese in the country. But he intimates that this is merely because he was not made Commissioner of Immigration sooner.

The North Carolina Flag.

"Of the people of Charlotte, young and old, not one in ten would recognize a North Carolina flag if they should see it floating over any store in the city," remarked a prominent citizen to an Observer reporter yesterday. "Last week, there were flags and flags, hundreds of them, everywhere. Not one flag of the Old North State did I see anywhere, I am heartily in favor of a North Carolina flag being placed in the general assembly room of our several graded schools, so that our children might know the emblem of their native State. I would rejoice to see a North Carolina flag floating over the Carnegie Library and other public buildings, so that everyone might come to know what it looks like."—Charlotte Observer.

WE'LL GO A-SINGIN' STILL. New times, or old times—we'll go a-singin' still. An' climb where Hoop stings, brightest, on the rainbow's bow. So many throats are broken to wound our waivered feet. An' the world has so much sorrow, a simple song seems sweet!

New times or old times—however life appears. We'll try to see the world a-glimmerin' through the year. An' takin' still a hopeful heart where Life's Journey ends. We'll get so close to heaven that we'll recognize our friend! —F. L. Stanton in Atlantic Constitution.

The Ox Whip Used As C. G. Aldrich and W. S. Moore, merchants of this city, were riding through Coldbrook River Village Sunday in Mr. Aldrich's automobile, Calvin Humphrey, a constable and a well known resident, signaled them to stop. The machine did not slacken its speed, and as it whizzed past Humphrey wielded a long ox whip, the lash striking the men in the face.

The auto suddenly stopped and the men ran to Humphrey and asked him what he meant by plying the lash on them. Humphrey, after a few words, again struck the auto. Humphrey said Monday: "People with autos come up here and think they've struck a pack of fools. If they can make a man's horse run away they do it and then sit in the machine and laugh. These fellows yesterday ran up against an other kind of fool"—Winston (Conn.) Dispatch.

Deaths in the County. Mr. Augustus Forbes, a well-to-do farmer, died Tuesday at his home about four miles from town.

Mrs. Isabella Moore died Tuesday at her home in Carolina township. She was about 87 years old and leaves six daughters and five sons, all of whom are grown. Mrs. B. H. Hearse, of Greenville, is one of the daughters, and others of the children recently lived here.—Mr. Zeno Moore and Misses Lizzie, Ellen and Jackie Moore.

Courier Pigeon.

Mr. J. L. Perkins, of Stokes, phoned us this morning that one of the men living on his place, killed a pigeon last night in the joint of his house. Sometime in the early part of the night he happened to look overhead and discovered a pigeon. On killing it he discovered it was a carrier pigeon. The bird had aluminum bands on each leg with "H. E. 1904—No. 101 engraved on the bands.

Liquid Corn.

An Essener was prospecting in the North Georgia mountains, when he came on a native apparently extracting the steep side of a steep hill tilting corn.

The prospector stopped for a chat and the mountaineer, nothing loath for a rest in the shade from his fatiguing toil, was agreeable. "Say, friend, how in the world do you get the corn down off the hillside after it is ready for harvest?" asked the stranger.

"Lujuz," was the laconic and probably truthful reply.

Interesting discussion followed the reading, before the State Medical Society yesterday, of Dr. Murphy's interesting paper on the colloidal treatment of the insane, and on better point was made or more in controvertible proposition laid down than that no person should be charged for his or her care in any of the hospitals for the insane in the State. It is the law that certain classes shall be charged and it is enforced with all strictness, but it is all wrong. The person who has paid taxes all his life and whose estate is still paying them for the support of these institutions, is as much entitled to their protection without charge as is the unfortunate who has nothing to pay taxes on. They should stand on the same level.—Charlotte Observer.

A Good Reason. Two Irishmen were digging a sewer. One of them was a big, strong man, about six feet four inches in height, and the other one was a little, puny man about four feet six inches. The foreman came along to see how the work was progressing and noticed that one of them was doing more work than the other. "Look here," he cried out, "how is it that little Dennis Dugan, who is only half your size, is doing nearly twice as much work as you, Patrick? Glancing down to his partner, Patrick replied: "And why should'n't he? Ain't he nearer to 112?"

A "Casser" Wanted.

J. W. B. Battle is doing such a thinking that this paper cannot put into words his thoughts. He purchased a car load of farm supplies, and Thursday, had his teams totaled off half of it.

This morning the teams returned, but when they went to find the car, it was not to be found.

Mr. Battle ascertained later that by mistake the car had been taken to Norfolk supposing it to be empty. We rejoice that we were not near when this intelligence was communicated to our friend.—Tarboro Southerner.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, Our kind and loving Heavenly father, in His dispositions in respect to human life, has taken by death from among us, and unto Himself our dearly beloved sister, Mrs. Lulu Clev...

Resolved 1st. That though we cannot understand this disposition of Providence, yet we bow in submission to His divine will, knowing and believing that He doeth all things well.

Resolved 2nd. That in the death of our dear sister, the societies lose a member loved by all, one who was ever faithful, earnest and true to every interest of the societies and church, one whose life and walk exhibited all those sweet Christian graces which always mark the path that is close to our Master. She was always willing, patient, loving and forbearing. She never failed in duty. Sweet in disposition, gentle in manner, affectionate and true to friends as only one like her could do.

We shall miss her from our meetings, but will ever cherish the fondest recollections of her true life and her faithfulness and devotion to every interest we represent. Though gone thou art not forgotten.

Resolved 3rd. That we hereby express our deep, heartfelt sympathy to her grief-stricken family, whom she loved so tenderly, and who has been our much loved neighbor and friend at all times, and to all relatives who are sorrowing because she has gone from us. To all these we would be this week, thought, we are with her, as we who take care, and happy in that glorious home of the faithful Christian. May her Savior comfort and sustain us in this hour of bereavement.

Resolved 4th. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of both societies as a permanent testimony of our love for our dear deceased sister. That a copy be sent to the family and a copy to the Reflector with a request to publish the same.

HOW A NIGGER CAN LIE.

And His Name Was Washington. A very funny thing happened in the mayor's court this morning before Mayor Wooten.

There was a case against one Henry Davis, colored, for disorderly conduct and assault on one Washington Edwards, colored, the said Washington being a preacher of the Gospel. It appeared from the evidence that the said preacher was employing the wife of the defendant Davis, and that Davis had given notice through the factor of Saturday last forbidding working or employing his wife, &c., Davis fearing the negro preacher would not see the notice, took a copy of the paper to him Saturday evening and a row followed. The evidence showed that the preacher put his hand on his hip pocket, &c.

Col. Sugg appeared for Davis, and on cross-examination asked if he was a preacher, if he administered the sacrament, and many other questions, and if he carried a gun. The preacher said he did not carry a gun. Col. Sugg asked if he did not have one in his pocket? He said no. Col. Sugg asked if he was willing to be searched for one. He said yes, whereupon the policeman searched the foresaid preacher, and to his delight, he found a Colt's revolver, fully loaded. And his name was Washington.

Resolved 5th. That we hereby express our deep sympathy to her grief-stricken family, whom she loved so tenderly, and who has been our much loved neighbor and friend at all times, and to all relatives who are sorrowing because she has gone from us. To all these we would be this week, thought, we are with her, as we who take care, and happy in that glorious home of the faithful Christian. AYSUCUE-HOYLE.

Wedding at Wakefield of a Prominent and Popular Couple. Wakefield, May 31.—There was a pretty wedding here last evening at eight o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, when Rev. John Edward Ayscue, of Greenville, N. C., and Miss Annie Belle Hoyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Hoyle, were married.

The parlor was prettily decorated and the wedding music was rendered by Miss Lillian Gupton, who, before the ceremony, sang a lovely solo. The ceremony was most impressively performed by Rev. A. D. Hunter, pastor of the Wakefield Baptist church. There were many beautiful wedding gifts.

The groom is the son of Mr. Geo. Thomas Ayscue, of Franklin county, and is a promising young minister, pastor of the Memorial Baptist church at Greenville, where he is highly esteemed. The bride is a charming and attractive young woman, with a host of friends, a member of a prominent family of this county.—Raleigh News and Observer.

FIRST WOMAN GRADUATE.

Receiving Diploma from Female College. Col. L. A. Sugg showed us an invitation to the annual convocation of the student body of Wesleyan College, of Macon, Ga., May 27th, 1906, with the compliments of Mrs. Catherine E. Benson (nee Miss Catherine E. Benson) who was the first woman in the world to receive a graduating diploma or certificate from any college for girls. Col. Sugg met Mrs. Benson several years ago, and recalls that there was historical interest in some interesting incidents connected with the matter, he kept in touch with Mrs. Benson who is now a very aged lady of Macon. Mrs. Benson has a son a Lieutenant in the navy, and was awarded the duty to receive Admiral Cavers while a prisoner of war on his landing at Montauk, N. Y., from Sumner and the Southern courtesy extended to him by young Benson captivated the old veteran and he presented him with a very beautiful picture frame in which the diploma is now incased, and hangs in the chapel of Wesleyan Female College of Macon, the alma mater of Mrs. Benson. The diploma is dated July 26th, 1840.

Col. Sugg informs us that Lieutenant Benson and Lyman Cotton, son of R. R. Cotton, a Lieutenant commander in the navy, are friends.

Greenville Goes Forward.

A gentleman was here Saturday who said it had been twenty-five years since he had seen Greenville. He expressed surprise at seeing "the little cross roads village of those days now such a prosperous, progressive town."

WHO WANTS HIM?

Sheriff Has a Negro He Would Like to Locate. The negro who was shot by Sheriff Tucker while fleeing from the office Saturday afternoon, is evidently an escaped convict or fugitive from justice. He first gave his name as Ben Jenkins, but Sheriff called him to halt, but the negro gave no heed to this. At a distance of about a hundred yards the Sheriff arrested the negro, the ball went directly through the negro's hip.

County Convention.

The township primaries will be held on the 9th and the county convention on the 14th. This convention is not to make nominations, but only to select delegates to the state, congressional and judicial conventions. Another county convention will be held to nominate the county officers.

WARD PRIMARIES.

Nominate Candidates for Aldermen. The several wards of the town held primary meetings Friday night to nominate candidates for aldermen to be voted for in Monday's election. As a nomination there is the same as an election, the tickets being seldom heard of—the result of the primaries shows who will compose the board of aldermen for the next year.

Half of the present board will continue in office and the other half will be composed of new men. The changes were in the first, second and fifth wards, the third and fourth renouncing the present incumbents. The nominations show that the officers of the town will continue in good hands.

The result of the primaries was as follows:

FIRST WARD. The meeting was called to order and presided over by F. C. Harding, Meek Hearse secretary. B. B. Bailey was nominated for alderman by acclamation.

F. C. Harding was elected executive committee chairman for the ward.

SECOND WARD. The meeting was called to order and presided over by J. S. Smith, Chairman. J. S. Smith was re-elected executive committee chairman for the ward.

THIRD WARD. A. H. Tait and W. A. Brown were nominated for aldermen by acclamation.

J. R. Wigg was re-elected executive committee chairman for the ward.

FOURTH WARD. The meeting was called to order and presided over by C. B. Rountree, J. L. Sugg, secretary.

W. W. King was re-elected executive committee chairman for the ward.

FIFTH WARD. The meeting was called to order and presided over by C. B. Rountree, J. L. Sugg, secretary.

Rev. B. W. Spilman, occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church here Saturday. He presented a number of good sermons both morning and night, and in the afternoon made an interesting address on Sunday school work. He outlined the course of international lessons series, and emphasized the need of a thorough knowledge of the course to be a successful Sunday school worker.

Forteen years ago this summer Mr. Spilman sought the church here, and he has many friends in the community. He was heard gladly on Sunday.

Rainfall.

Mr. C. V. York, observer of the government weather station here, gives us the following figures denoting the rainfall at this point for May 1906, 3.30 inches. Maximum in one month during the year ending June 1st, 7.47 inches, minimum .65 inches, average 4.25 inches, for the entire year 51.11 inches.

Our Thanks.

Friday evening Mr. W. H. White brought us some ripe peaches, the first we have seen this season. They were very nice. Today Mr. A. L. Potter brought us a bucket of very nice honey in the comb.

A DELIGHTFUL DAY ON THE BANKS OF THE TAR.

Reported for the Reflector. A picnic is always looked forward to with eager delight by the young people, and all the joy is not realized in the mere anticipation. Thursday the hearts of many of Greenville's boys and girls beat with thrilling rapture, for the time had arrived for the glorious realization of the pleasures of which they had thought and dreamed for many days and nights.

At half past eight o'clock, forenoon, classes No. 11 and No. 12 of the Methodist Sunday school and several invited guests met at Mr. Wiley Brown's residence, and went to the boat landing, their nimble feet keeping time to the rhythmic beat of their merry hearts.

At nine o'clock we boarded the Allegro for Mr. Brown's farm about three miles down the river. After a few minutes of pleasant conversation, we found ourselves at the beautiful picnic grounds.

The afternoon was spent in chatting, rowing, jumping the rope, taking Kodak pictures, and strolling on the soft green grass in the shade of the magnolia trees, whose graceful branches cast shades of delicate fragrance and growth.

At one o'clock dinner ensued. What a delicious feast! What a feast! No more pleasing to young folks than a big dinner on a big picnic ground to respond to the pleadings of their big appetites! There was fried chicken plentiful, pickles, boiled ham, deviled eggs, chocolate cake—good things galore! Oh, what a feast! A large box of delicious chocolate cake was left over—folks just can't do more than they can, not even in the evening life.

The afternoon was spent pretty much as the morning was. It is hard to find that some of the boys took dips in the sparkling waters of the classic Tar.

At five o'clock we met on the river bank, and with songs on our lips and melody in our hearts, we bid adieu to the shores of the "tar-and-rosin."

Would you believe that this picnic ended in a break-up of well-kind, but it was the boat that ran on the back-down capers, and the orthodox picknickers, who we had time to become uneasy, however, Mr. Pender and Mr. Harris met us with their boats and carried us safely to shore.

We passed Greenville, with hearts full of gratitude to our kind chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Brown, Mrs. G. S. Pritchard, and Mrs. Conger, and to Him who sent the beautiful weather, who was guard of the affairs of the happy day in His unerring wisdom and love.

Died.

The interment took place at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Cherry Hill cemetery, service being conducted by Rev. H. H. Moore. The pall bearers were Messrs. T. E. Hooker, D. S. Spain, N. W. Jackson, and W. J. Turnage.

Cop Condition.

The government report issued today on the condition of the cotton crop raised it at 81.75, increased average 6.2.
