Truth in Preference to Fiction

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., Friday, Nov. 17, 1906.

Now Tammany jumps up and charges fraud against Hearst's side.

Salisbury is trying to rival Charlotte in shooting scraps among negroes.

About the time the country gets through with Thanksgiving it will have Congress on hand.

If Russia was as much at peace with herself as with other nations she would be in better shape.

The Ohio preacher who is to spend a week in an insane asylum to pay an election bid is a good subject to be kept there.

The Durham Herald's paragraphs on the suspension of the Ruler Post gives news for much reading to be seen in the lines.

Say what you please about Tom Johnson, but his plan to lessen the large number of suicides occurring in this State is a good one.

As Prince Louis has told it right out where our weakest spot is, the other nations will know where to strike in case they get mad with us.

The Charlotte Ministerial Association and the Mecklenburg Fair Association are doing some resolving pro and con. The subject of the query is skirts at the fair.

The Washington Gazette-Messenger has put in a type setting machine and new press and is taking the afternoon press dispatches. The paper is very much improved.

Congratulations to Goldsboro. That town held another election Tuesday on the question of prohibition and open saloons, and a large majority voted for the town to continue dry.

The Jews of America are with commendable zeal raising a fund to relieve their greatly persecuted brethren in Russia. It is proposed to raise a million dollars for this purpose.

Yellow fever has appeared in Havana, and the claim is made that it was carried there by means of boxes shipped from New Orleans containing electrical apparatus for use in a theatre, many mosquitos being liberated when the boxes were opened.

The Charlotte Observer thinks the increase in our naval equipment should be vigorously pushed, in order to police the seas at either end of the Panama canal. If that is the only reason for pushing to secure a larger navy, there is time enough yet, as our present ships will likely be worn out with old age by the time the canal is completed.

Georgia has burned some more cotton, but this time it was accidental. At Athens 1,500 bales were destroyed in a big warehouse fire.

It is said that a money panic is threatening New York. Wonder if it grew out of the fact that payment of election bets are held back until the contest between Hearst and McClellan is determined.

An idea of how rapidly cotton was marketed when the price recently reached eleven cents can be had from the record of enormous receipts. On Tuesday the receipts reached nearly ninety-three thousand bales.

Prince Louis thinks New York would be as easy to break up as an egg shell in case of a war between the other nations and this country. New York's defencelessness impressed him more than anything else in this country and he says war would be disastrous to that city.

President Harvie Jordan, of the Cotton Growers' Association is now advising farmers to hold the usual portion of the crop for fifteen cents. This advice is based on the recent report of Secretary Wilson, of the Agricultural department, which indicates that the crop will not exceed ten million bales.

More distinctively each year Thanksgiving Day is growing to be "Orphans Day" in North Carolina. A grateful, liberal people, greatly blessed of God, make, at this season, special offerings which materially aid in maintaining the Orphan's Homes of the State. These institutions merit our most generous, hearty support. They are performing an important, a necessary service for the homeless orphan children of North Carolina. They are a means of blessing to many boys and girls and their influence is being multiplied through these children. Who can calculate the beneficent results from the work of a well-conducted Orphan's Home? We have in North Carolina and in other States many useful, Christian citizens, who, without the benefits of such an institution, would probably be burdened upon and menaces to the community. An orphanage has been one of the means employed by God in rescuing their lives from ruin, in forming their characters, in saving and equipping them for service to Him and the world.

The increased interest in this cause and the enlarged support to it will help to improve these institutions and to extend their usefulness.

God's approval of this work and His blessings upon it are clearly seen.

As He has prospered us and as He prompts us, let us, a responsive, thankful people, cheerfully and generously give aid to our Orphan's Homes.

Surely a gift for these little ones, prompted by gratitude, will be accepted by the Father of the fatherless.

Hearst has got his nerve with him. He says if the courts do not decide the contest by January first he will take the oath as mayor of New York and demand possession of the office.

McClellan will do the same thing, and if the contest is not settled in the meantime the new year will be showing some lively developments.

Dates for Election of Officers for The Cotton Association.

For the purpose of re-electing Civil Sub-Division, Militia District and Township officers for the ensuing year, meetings are called to be held at each voting precinct at the central point of the above named sub-division throughout the cotton states on the first Saturday in December, 1906.

The officers shall consist of Civil Sub-Division, Militia District or Township, President, Secretary and Treasurer. Also, from two to five representatives shall be elected, or chosen, at this meeting for the purpose of attending the county or State meeting which will be called at the County Court House, or their regular place of meeting, on the second Saturday in December, 1906, which will be the 9th day, for the purpose of electing county, or parish officers for the ensuing year.

These county officers shall, also, consist of President, Secretary and Treasurer. At these county or parish meetings, which will be held on the 9th day of December, representatives or delegates to the State or Territorial Convention will be chosen for the purpose of meeting at their respective capitals on the first Wednesday in January, 1906. Each county or parish will elect one or three delegates to attend the annual state meetings called to meet at the State Capitals on the first Wednesday in January, 1906, which is the third day.

These State meetings will be held for the purpose of electing State officers for the ensuing year and members of the Executive Committee of the Southern Cotton Association as follows: For the State of Alabama three, Arkansas two, Florida one, Georgia three, Mississippi three, Missouri one, North Carolina two, South Carolina two, Tennessee one, Texas five, Virginia one, Kentucky one, Oklahoma one, Indian Territory one.

Orphanage Work.

Our Jury System.

Perhaps some day a North Carolina Legislature may awake to the wisdom of amending the jury system as not to require the unanimous agreement of twelve men to reach a verdict. Some provision ought to be made to prevent the stopping of a prolonged case where a member of the jury happens to be taken sick, and also to prevent mistrials when one juror holds out against all the others.—Greenville Reflector.

There is no doubt that there should be some changes made in our present system of trial by jury. Except in the qualification of jurors and the method of their selection the system is today just what it was several hundred years ago, when conditions were so different from what they are now. There have been changes for the better and to suit the altered conditions in all the other branches of the practice and administration of the law, but the people stick with surprising and incomprehensible tenacity to the old time rules of trial by jury. The trial by jury is theoretically the best that could be devised. It would be a great blow to the liberties and to the maintenance of the rights of the people to do away with this system. Still there are some features of the present mode of conducting these trials which should be done away with. One of these is the requirement of a unanimous verdict of the twelve men comprising that body and another is the rule which requires a mistrial when one of the jurors becomes incapacitated to serve by reason of sickness or some other cause occurring after the jury has been empaneled. Time and again of late years the effort has been made to amend the law regarding jurors in these respects, but such effort has always met with defeat. There should certainly be a law which would prevent one man from balking the action of the other eleven on the jury with him. We do not think that the majority rule should be adopted, especially in trials for serious criminal offenses; but we wish to see the day come when a case can be proceeded with, notwithstanding one of the jurors becomes incapacitated and when it does not take the consent of all twelve men on the jury to decide a civil suit or a criminal case of minor magnitude. We believe public sentiment is being led in that direction and that the time is not long distant when the people who now stand so jealously by the old rules will see that it is to their interest and to the good of the general public that these strict rules are relaxed. This would be no greater innovation than many other changes which have been made in the practice before courts inaugurated for the greater dispatch of business and for the benefit of litigants and of the general public.—Wilmington Messenger.

What B and L is doing for Mooresville. As illustrating the benefits of a building and loan association to a town, The Mooresville Enterprise says that during the existence of two years and a half of the association there, it has made loans to fifty four stockholders representing that many new homes and business houses, "many of which could never have been built had not the possessors borrowed through the building and loan." That paper, by way of explanation, says that "each stockholder pays weekly 25 cents on each share of stock and can carry a many shares as he likes. He can borrow to the amount of shares he carries and pay the principal with 6 per cent interest every week, and at the maturity of the stock, his home is paid for, and he has not paid one cent more than the lawful sum of 6 per cent on his loan." The building and loan association is essential to the prosperity of any town. Fully one-third of the houses in Charlotte have been built through this agency. It is both an aid to the home builder and an institution that creates money savers. The history of the building and loan at Mooresville is the history of the building and loan in every town where it exists.—Charlotte Chronicle.
