The ancient Guild Hall
is on the corner. The villages all have hanging baskets of flowers on the lamp posts, like this.

All the little villages around here are almost the same as they were in Elizabethan times.

There's a parish church like this one every little village around here.

The flowers in front
are roses. This is at Leavenham, I think.

a village square. All these were taken on a deserted Sunday &
in the rain - hence
no people but us about.
