OFFICE OF THE CHANCELLOR

To the 1978 Graduates:

Today you take a giant step toward the fulfillment of your personal ambitions and dreams. In one sense, your basic preparation is now behind you and an exciting new life is just beginning for you. This is why graduation is commencement. In one way or another you have been dependent upon others as you have worked toward becoming independent. Now you can be you.

You face a world of fierce competition and seemingly unsurmountable problems. But it has ever been so. You will find, as other generations before you, that the world is not unkind to those who are prepared and who are willing to work beyond the call of duty in resolving the problems that beset us. You represent the future strength and hope of our world, and you shall succeed even wherein others have failed.

Life can be an exciting adventure for those who dare to face it with courage born of faith in themselves and their abilities. You have the preparation and ability to begin your new life with enthusiasm and success. You have my best wishes for a rewarding and happy future.

Leo W. Jenkins
