SPRING COMMENCEMENT

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

Saturday, May the Twelfth
Two Thousand One

Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium
Greenville, North Carolina

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

For the benefit of our visitors the following information, digested from "An Academic Costume Code and Ceremony Guide" prepared by the American Council on Education, may prove helpful in identifying the costumes you will see in the Commencement Procession.

In the procession, first come the speakers, trustees, administrative officers, candidates for honorary degrees and other members of the platform party, then the faculty; and finally the candidates for degrees arranged in the order in which the degrees are to be conferred.

The history of academic dress reaches far back into the earliest days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required that all "Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors" of the University of Coimbra wear gowns. In England, in the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges prescribed the wearing of a long gown. When American colleges and universities desired to adopt some suitable system of academic apparel, a conference held at Columbia University in 1895, made up of representatives from various institutions drew up a "By-law, Regulation, or Statute" for the establishment of a suitable code of academic dress for colleges and universities in the United States. This code, with modifications made in 1959 by The Committee on Academic Costumes and Ceremonies of The American Council on Education, is still in force; the costumes and colors, trimmings, and patterns you will see are all traditional, and interpret both the degree and field of learning. The bachelor's gown, designed to be worn closed, has pointed sleeves, the master's gown, which may be worn open or closed, has an oblong sleeve open at the wrist which hangs down in the traditional manner. The rear part of its oblong shape is square cut and the front part has the arc cut away. The doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves. It may be worn open or closed.

Black is the recommended color for all academic gowns. Bachelor's and master's gowns are untrimmed. Doctor's gowns are faced with black velvet, with three bars across the sleeves; or the color of the velvet may be that which is distinctive to the degree, agreeing with that of the edging of the hood. The colors you will see in the hoods and gowns of our faculty represent the various fields in which the degrees were taken:

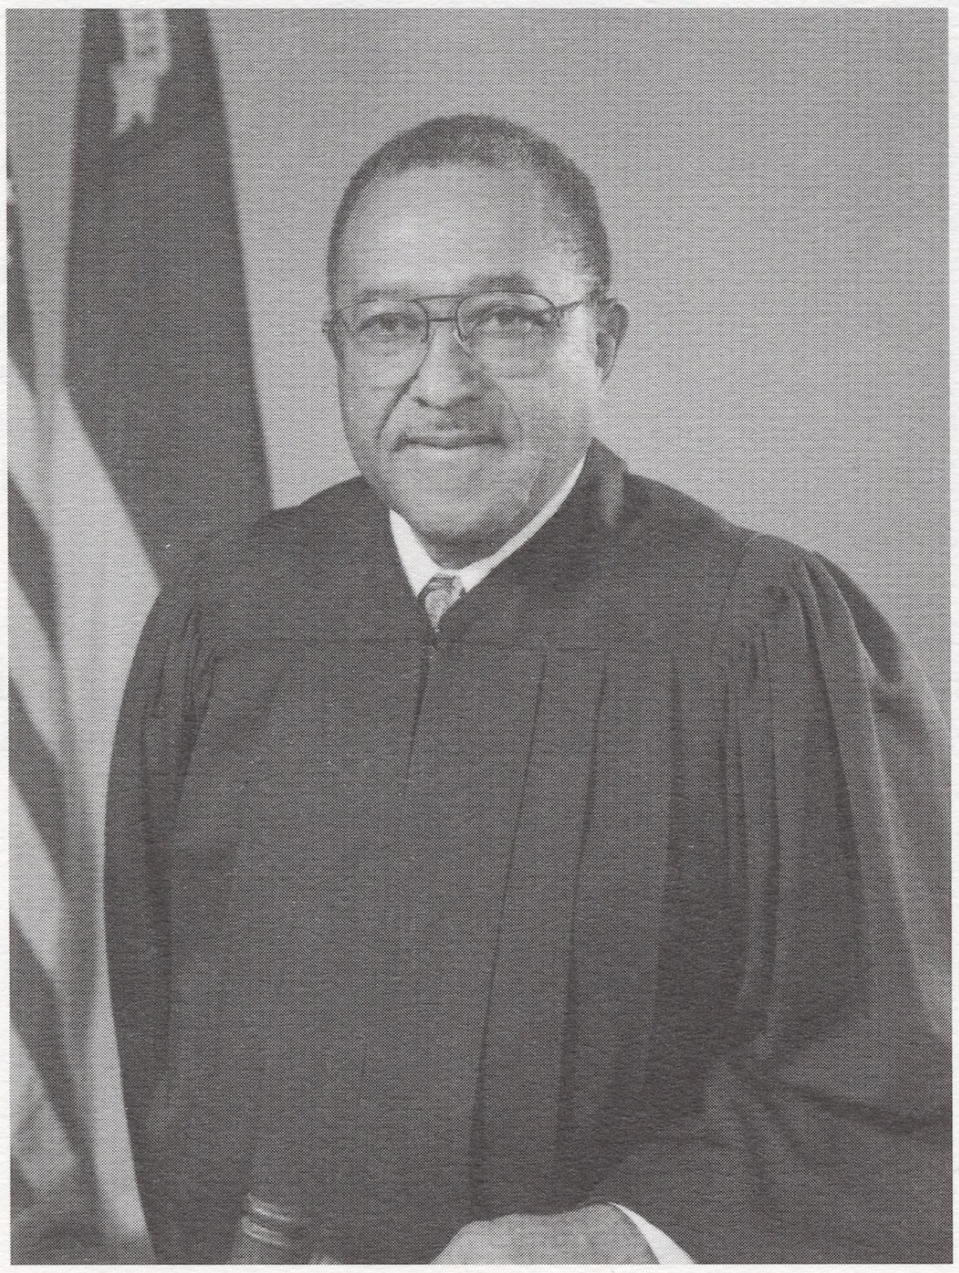

Apricot ..... Nursing
Brown ..... Fine Arts
Citron ..... Social Work
Crimson ..... Journalism
Dark Blue ..... Philosophy
Golden Yellow ..... Science
Green ..... Medicine
Lemon-Yellow ..... Library Science
Light Blue ..... Education
Lilac ..... Dentistry
Maroon ..... Home Economics
Olive-Green ..... Pharmacy
Orange ..... Engineering
Pink ..... Music
Purple ..... Law
Sage Green .... Physical Education
Salmon Pink ..... Public Health
Scarlet ..... Theology
Yellow-Brown ..... Commerce, Business, Accountancy
White ... Arts, Letters, Humanities

The hoods, differing in length for the three degrees, bachelor's, master's, and doctor's, are lined with the official colors of the university or college conferring the degree, usually with one color forming a chevron pattern over the other. Hoods are edged and bound with velvet of the color appropriate for the degree. You will see in our procession many edged with the dark blue, for doctor of philosophy.

Mortar boards are the approved headgear. The tassel, worn on the left side of the cap, may be of gold if the holder has a doctor's degree.

The Commencement Program is printed prior to administering final examinations. Therefore, the inclusion of names of degree candidates in this program is not certification that degree requirements have been satisfactorily completed.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Molly Corbett Broad

When Molly Corbett Broad assumed the presidency of the University of North Carolina in July 1997, she brought with her a deep-rooted love of learning and a remarkable record of achievement in University administration. Broad grew up in Wilke-Barre, Pennsylvania, the daughter of two public school teachers. Both sets of her grandparents were immigrants to the United States who earned their livelihoods from the anthracite coal mines of northeast Pennsylvania, and like others of their circumstance, placed great value on education. An accomplished student, Broad earned a General Motors Scholarship to Syracuse University, where she graduated Phi Beta Kappa in 1962 with a baccalaureate degree in economics from the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs. She holds a master's degree in the field from Ohio State University and has completed all course work toward a doctorate from Syracuse.

Early in her career, Broad worked as a budget analyst and research associate at Ohio State University. In 1971 she joined the staff of Syracuse University, where she served until 1985 in a variety of positions including director of institutional research and vice president for government and corporate relations. During the years she held the post of vice president, corporate and foundation giving to the university tripled, while state and federal rose dramatically. In 1976 she took a leave of absence to serve as deputy director of the New York State Commission on the Future of Postsecondary Education, a blue-ribbon panel charged with evaluating the organizational structure and financing of the state's university systems.

In 1985 Broad was named executive director and chief executive officer of the Arizona Board of Regents. She served as the top administrator for Arizona's three-campus university system, accomplishing major reforms in minority student recruitment and retention, strategic planning and campus managerial flexibility. In 1992 Broad joined the California State University system as senior vice chancellor for administration and finance and was soon promoted to executive vice chancellor and chief operating officer of the 23-campus University—the nation's largest senior system of higher education. In that post she was credited with developing new methods for budgeting and capital planning, gaining political support for greater campus managerial autonomy and flexibility, developing a systemwide strategic plan for information technology, and facilitating major improvements in teacher education and cooperative efforts to bolster the quality of California's public schools.

Active in an array of professional and civic organizations, Broad has written and spoken widely on strategic planning for higher education, emerging technologies, and K-16 partnerships. She currently serves as president of the International Council for Distance Education and serves on the boards of the University Corporation for Advanced Internet Development, the International Business Education Roundtable, the American Association of Universities, the American Council on Education, the National Association of University System Heads, the Maxwell School of Syracuse University, the Research Triangle Foundation, the Research Triangle Institute, the Economic Development Board of North Carolina, the Microelectronics Center of North Carolina, the North Carolina Biotechnology Center, the North Carolina Blumenthal Performing Arts Center, the National Humanities Center, and the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges. A member of the Business-Higher Education Forum, the State Higher Education Executive Officers, and the Governor's Education Cabinet, she also sits on advisory boards of the Mellon Foundation, the Ford Foundation, and the National Technology Task Force.

Broad has been married since 1962 to Robert W. Broad, a fellow Syracuse University graduate and the owner and president of a marketing firm that serves the hotel and restaurant industry. Active in regional and national professional organizations, Mr. Broad has held voluntary leadership positions with the United Way, the Boy Scouts of America, the International Fraternity Board of Delta Upsilon, and various youth programs. The Broads have two adult sons. Robert lives in Corvallis, Oregon, where he and his wife, Stephanie Luyties, work for the Hewlett-Packard Co. Matthew lives in Redondo Beach, California, and is a partner in his father's marketing firm.

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY MACE, LOGO, AND SEAL

The mace, a medieval weapon, has become through the centuries an insignia of university authority. In this instance it represents the continuity of the institutional governing body.

Some forty-three inches long and weighing approximately fourteen pounds, the East Carolina University mace is constructed of sterling silver. It features a unique purple fluorite crystal cluster contained within a gold-plated cage. The shaft of the mace has a hammered texture and is divided in the center by a pierced band. The pierced design is repeated at the mace boss (symbolic head) and terminus. The terminus is a representation of the historical weapon head which has diminished in size as the mace has changed from a weapon to a symbol. The same representation of symbolic use has increased the size and importance of the boss or mace head. The mace bears the inscription East Carolina University 1907.

This handsome mace was designed and executed by the late John Satterfield of the Design Department of the East Carolina University School of Art, who commented on the design concept: "In designing the East Carolina University mace I have attempted to maintain the visual integrity of a traditional mace and at the same time create a contemporary symbol which is unique to this institution."

The East Carolina University logo uses historic arches to unite the University's heritage and its future over the words East Carolina University. The logo, which will be used on all University publications and stationery, was adopted in 1989 after a year-long study by the Image Task Force to develop an integrated and consistent visual identity system for the University.

Old Austin, East Carolina's first auditorium, classroom, and office building, introduced arched doorways to the first entering class in 1909. The motif dominates Wright Auditorium and continues in the striking entrance to the General Classroom Building. The concept can also be seen throughout the campus in doorway and window treatments.

The logo is not a picture of a particular arch. Rather it is stylized to capture the University's contemporary and historic elements in order to suggest a timeless quality and the distinctive character of East Carolina University.

Arches have been used in architecture for centuries to symbolize buildings of prominence, stature, and dignity. Arches also suggest doorways or entryways. For East Carolina University, the arch suggests not only the academic stature and strength of the University but also the doorway to education that East Carolina has been and will continue to be for future generations of students.

The official East Carolina University seal is a six-cornered shield encased in a circular border containing the name, location, and founding date of the University. It appears on the diploma. The shield represents the "shield of trust," as was used in the Crusades.

The motto servire, meaning to serve, is emblazoned on the scroll. The blazing torch and the open Book of Knowledge symbolize education and the service rendered to the students by the University. The ink pot and quill, symbols of scribes, represent the creative arts and the contributions of the students to the world of business. The pirate is the school mascot.

The central motif of the design—a shield within the shield with Polaris, the guiding star, behind the two half globes that make up the world—expresses the idea that East Carolina University has the mission to educate graduates who will serve to the four corners of the world.

THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

Oh! say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.
Oh! say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

– Francis Scott Key

ALMA MATER

Praise to your name so fair,
dear old East Carolina
Your joys we'll all share,
and your friends we'll ever be.
We pledge our loyalty
and our heart's devotion
To thee, our alma mater, love and praise.
