Williams Arena at Minges Coliseum
Greenville, North Carolina

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

For the benefit of our visitors the following information, digested from "An Academic Costume Code and Ceremony Guide" prepared by the American Council on Education, may prove helpful in identifying the costumes you will see in the Commencement Procession.

In the procession, first come the speakers, trustees, administrative officers, candidates for honorary degrees and other members of the platform party, then the faculty; and finally the candidates for degrees arranged in the order in which the degrees are to be conferred.

The history of academic dress reaches far back into the earliest days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required that all "Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors" of the University of Coimbra wear gowns. In England, in the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges prescribed the wearing of a long gown. When American colleges and universities desired to adopt some suitable system of academic apparel, a conference held at Columbia University in 1895, made up of representatives from various institutions drew up a "By-law, Regulation, or Statute" for the establishment of a suitable code of academic dress for colleges and universities in the United States. This code, with modifications made in 1959 by The Committee on Academic Costumes and Ceremonies of The American Council on Education, is still in force; the costumes and colors, trimmings, and patterns you will see are all traditional, and interpret both the degree and field of learning. The bachelor's gown, designed to be worn closed, has pointed sleeves, the master's gown, which may be worn open or closed, has an oblong sleeve open at the wrist which hangs down in the traditional manner. The rear part of its oblong shape is square cut and the front part has the arc cut away. The doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves. It may be worn open or closed.

Black is the recommended color for all academic gowns. Bachelor's and master's gowns are untrimmed. Doctor's gowns are faced with black velvet, with three bars across the sleeves; or the color of the velvet may be that which is distinctive to the degree, agreeing with that of the edging of the hood. The colors you will see in the hoods and gowns of our faculty represent the various fields in which the degrees were taken:

Apricot .....	Nursing	Olive-Green .....	Pharmacy
Brown .....	Fine Arts	Orange .....	Engineering
Citron .....	Social Work	Pink .....	Music
Crimson .....	Journalism	Purple .....	Law
Dark Blue .....	Philosophy	Sage Green ....	Physical Education
Golden Yellow .....	Science	Salmon Pink .....	Public Health
Green .....	Medicine	Scarlet .....	Theology
Lemon-Yellow .....	Library Science	Yellow-Brown .....	Commerce, Business, Accountancy
Light Blue .....	Education	White ...	Arts, Letters, Humanities
Lilac .....	Dentistry
Maroon .....	Home Economics

The hoods, differing in length for the three degrees, bachelor's, master's, and doctor's, are lined with the official colors of the university or college conferring the degree, usually with one color forming a chevron pattern over the other. Hoods are edged and bound with velvet of the color appropriate for the degree. You will see in our procession many edged with the dark blue, for doctor of philosophy.

Mortar boards are the approved headgear. The tassel, worn on the left side of the cap, may be of gold if the holder has a doctor's degree.

The Commencement Program is printed prior to administering final examinations. Therefore, the inclusion of names of degree candidates in this program is not certification that degree requirements have been satisfactorily completed.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Chancellor William V. "Bill" Muse

Dr. William V. Muse became the 10th chief executive of East Carolina University on August 1, 2001. East Carolina, a constituent institution of the University of North Carolina, is a doctoral/research university with 19,000 students and a budget of $400 million. The university was established in 1907 in Greenville, North Carolina, as East Carolina Teachers Training School. Today it is home to 13 professional schools, including medicine, business and education, and internationally known scholars.

Muse, a nationally known and highly regarded education leader, came to ECU after serving nine years as president of Auburn University in Alabama. He also was president of the University of Akron, the third-largest university in Ohio, for eight years.

Since his arrival in Greenville, he has spent a considerable amount of time meeting with both on-campus and off-campus groups. At the university, he is conducting a series of half-day visits with major academic and administrative units.

Beyond the campus, Muse has launched a Hometown Tour, which has taken him to cities and towns throughout eastern North Carolina, and which will continue through the spring semester. So far on the tour, he has met with government, civic, business and education leaders in Manteo, Nags Head, Morehead City, Beaufort, Elizabeth City and Edenton. Trips are also planned to New Bern, Wilmington, Jacksonville, Kinston, Goldsboro, Wilson and Rocky Mount.

At Auburn, Muse led initiatives to enable more students to graduate within four years, to develop high-visibility interdisciplinary research programs, and to increase the university's endowment from $50 million to $250 million.

At Akron, he provided leadership for significant gains in the enhancement of academic programs, growth in minority enrollment, expansion of private fund raising, and increased recognition of the university.

A native of Mississippi, Muse received a BS degree in accounting from Northwestern State University in Natchitoches, Louisiana, in 1960. He earned an MBA in 1961 and a PhD in business administration in 1966, both from the University of Arkansas.

In 1964, Muse joined the faculty of the School of Industrial Management at Georgia Tech. In 1965, he moved to Ohio University where he served as chairman of the Department of Marketing and director of the Division of Research. In 1970, he was selected as the first dean of the College of Business at Appalachian State University and was responsible for organizing and developing the new college. Assuming this post at age 31, he was one of the youngest business school deans in the nation.

From 1973-79, Muse served as dean of the College of Business Administration at the University of Nebraska at Omaha. During the 1977-78 year, he was one of 50 individuals selected to go to Washington, DC, to serve as a Presidential Exchange Executive and worked with the U. S. Office of Education.

In July 1979, Muse moved to Texas A&M University as dean of the College of Business Administration. Under his leadership, this college grew to become the fifth largest business school in the nation in terms of full-time undergraduate enrollment. On February 1, 1983, he was appointed vice chancellor for academic programs of the Texas A&M University System.

He is the author of three books and numerous articles in the areas of higher education, management, and marketing.

He and his wife, Marlene, are the parents of three adult children.

COMMITMENT PROGRAM

The purpose of this program is to ensure that all employees are committed to the organization's goals and objectives. This program is designed to provide a framework for the organization's commitment to its employees and the community.

The program is based on the following principles:

- 1. Integrity: We will do what we say and say what we do.
- 2. Respect: We will treat each other with respect and dignity.
- 3. Accountability: We will be responsible for our actions and the actions of those we manage.
- 4. Transparency: We will be open and honest in our communications.
- 5. Collaboration: We will work together to achieve our common goals.

The program is designed to be a living document that evolves over time as the organization's needs and the external environment change. It is the responsibility of all employees to ensure that the program remains relevant and effective.

The program is supported by the following policies and procedures:

- 1. Code of Ethics: A set of guidelines that define the organization's values and standards of conduct.
- 2. Diversity and Inclusion: A commitment to creating a workplace that is inclusive and respectful of all individuals.
- 3. Environmental Stewardship: A commitment to protecting the environment and promoting sustainable practices.
- 4. Social Responsibility: A commitment to contributing to the well-being of the community.

The program is supported by the following resources:

- 1. Training and Development: Programs that provide employees with the skills and knowledge needed to succeed.
- 2. Recognition and Rewards: Programs that recognize and reward employees for their contributions.
- 3. Communication: Programs that ensure that all employees are informed and engaged.

The program is supported by the following initiatives:

- 1. Leadership Development: Programs that develop the skills and abilities of our leaders.
- 2. Innovation: Programs that encourage and support the development of new ideas and products.
- 3. Customer Focus: Programs that ensure that we are meeting the needs and expectations of our customers.

The program is supported by the following metrics:

- 1. Employee Engagement: A measure of how committed and motivated employees are.
- 2. Customer Satisfaction: A measure of how satisfied our customers are with our products and services.
- 3. Financial Performance: A measure of the organization's profitability and growth.

The program is supported by the following stakeholders:

- 1. Employees: The individuals who are responsible for implementing the program.
- 2. Customers: The individuals and organizations who are the focus of our products and services.
- 3. Suppliers: The individuals and organizations who provide the resources needed to produce our products and services.
- 4. Community: The individuals and organizations who are affected by our operations.

The program is supported by the following communication channels:

- 1. Intranet: A website that provides information and resources to all employees.
- 2. Email: A communication channel that is used to send messages and documents to all employees.
- 3. Social Media: A collection of online platforms that are used to share information and engage with our customers and community.

The program is supported by the following reporting mechanisms:

- 1. Regular Meetings: Meetings that provide an opportunity for employees to share their thoughts and concerns.
- 2. Surveys: Questionnaires that are used to gather feedback from employees and customers.
- 3. Audits: Reviews that are conducted to ensure that the program is being implemented effectively.

The program is supported by the following resources:

- 1. Budget: A plan that outlines the organization's financial goals and the resources needed to achieve them.
- 2. Staff: The individuals who are responsible for implementing the program.
- 3. Technology: The tools and systems that are used to support the program.

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY MACE, LOGO, AND SEAL

The mace, a medieval weapon, has become through the centuries an insignia of university authority. In this instance it represents the continuity of the institutional governing body.

Some forty-three inches long and weighing approximately fourteen pounds, the East Carolina University mace is constructed of sterling silver. It features a unique purple fluorite crystal cluster contained within a gold-plated cage. The shaft of the mace has a hammered texture and is divided in the center by a pierced band. The pierced design is repeated at the mace boss (symbolic head) and terminus. The terminus is a representation of the historical weapon head which has diminished in size as the mace has changed from a weapon to a symbol. The same representation of symbolic use has increased the size and importance of the boss or mace head. The mace bears the inscription East Carolina University 1907.

This handsome mace was designed and executed by the late John Satterfield of the Design Department of the East Carolina University School of Art, who commented on the design concept: "In designing the East Carolina University mace I have attempted to maintain the visual integrity of a traditional mace and at the same time create a contemporary symbol which is unique to this institution."

The East Carolina University logo uses historic arches to unite the University's heritage and its future over the words East Carolina University. The logo, which will be used on all University publications and stationery, was adopted in 1989 after a year-long study by the Image Task Force to develop an integrated and consistent visual identity system for the University.

Old Austin, East Carolina's first auditorium, classroom, and office building, introduced arched doorways to the first entering class in 1909. The motif dominates Wright Auditorium and continues in the striking entrance to the General Classroom Building. The concept can also be seen throughout the campus in doorway and window treatments.

The logo is not a picture of a particular arch. Rather it is stylized to capture the University's contemporary and historic elements in order to suggest a timeless quality and the distinctive character of East Carolina University.

Arches have been used in architecture for centuries to symbolize buildings of prominence, stature, and dignity. Arches also suggest doorways or entryways. For East Carolina University, the arch suggests not only the academic stature and strength of the University but also the doorway to education that East Carolina has been and will continue to be for future generations of students.

The official East Carolina University seal is a six-cornered shield encased in a circular border containing the name, location, and founding date of the University. It appears on the diploma. The shield represents the "shield of trust," as was used in the Crusades.

The motto servire, meaning to serve, is emblazoned on the scroll. The blazing torch and the open Book of Knowledge symbolize education and the service rendered to the students by the University. The ink pot and quill, symbols of scribes, represent the creative arts and the contributions of the students to the world of business. The pirate is the school mascot.

The central motif of the design—a shield within the shield with Polaris, the guiding star, behind the two half globes that make up the world—expresses the idea that East Carolina University has the mission to educate graduates who will serve to the four corners of the world.

THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

*Oh! say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.
Oh! say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?*

— Francis Scott Key

ALMA MATER

*Praise to your name so fair,
dear old East Carolina
Your joys we'll all share,
and your friends we'll ever be.
We pledge our loyalty
and our heart's devotion
To thee, our alma mater, love and praise.*
