The Academic Procession

For the benefit of our visitors the following information, digested from "An Academic Costume Code and Ceremony Guide" prepared by the American Council on Education, may prove helpful in identifying the costumes you will see in the Commencement Procession.

In the procession, first come the speakers, trustees, administrative officers, candidates for honorary degrees and other members of the platform party, then the faculty; and finally the candidates for degrees arranged in the order in which the degrees are to be conferred.

The history of academic dress reaches far back into the earliest days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required that all "Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors" of the University of Coimbra wear gowns. In England, in the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges prescribed the wearing of a long gown. When American colleges and universities desired to adopt some suitable system of academic apparel, a conference held at Columbia University in 1895, made up of representatives from various institutions drew up a "By-law, Regulation, or Statute" for the establishment of a suitable code of academic dress for colleges and universities in the United States. This code, with modifications made in 1959 by The Committee on Academic Costumes and Ceremonies of The American Council on Education, is still in force; the costumes and colors, trimmings, and patterns you will see are all traditional, and interpret both the degree and field of learning. The bachelor's gown, designed to be worn closed, has pointed sleeves, the master's gown, which may be worn open or closed, has an oblong sleeve open at the wrist which hangs down in the traditional manner. The rear part of its oblong shape is square cut and the front part has the arc cut away. The doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves. It may be worn open or closed.

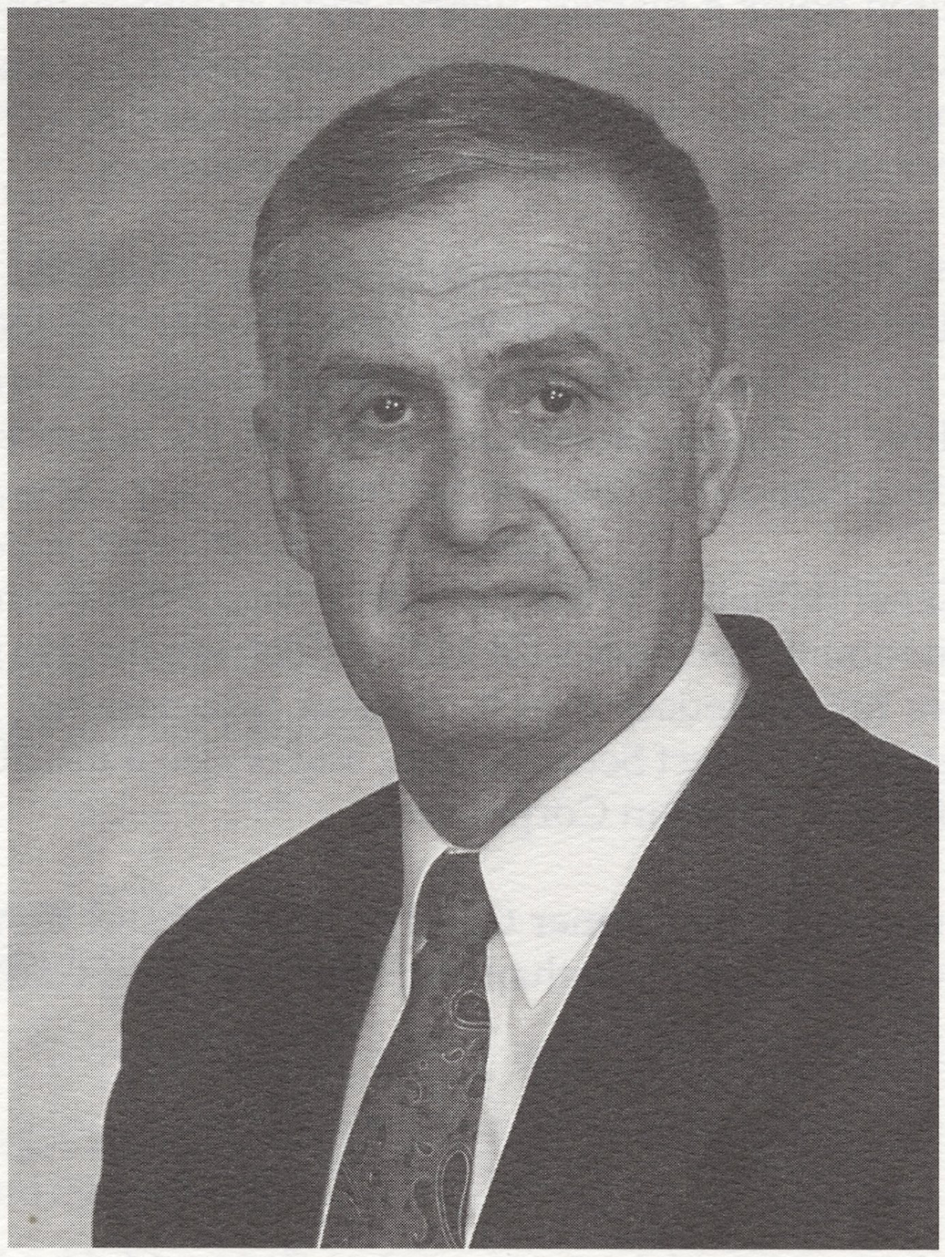

Black is the recommended color for all academic gowns. Bachelor's and master's gowns are untrimmed. Doctor's gowns are faced with black velvet, with three bars across the sleeves; or the color of the velvet may be that which is distinctive to the degree, agreeing with that of the edging of the hood. The colors you will see in the hoods and gowns of our faculty represent the various fields in which the degrees were taken:

Apricot ..... Nursing
Brown ..... Fine Arts
Citron ..... Social Work
Crimson ..... Journalism
Dark Blue ..... Philosophy
Golden Yellow ..... Science
Green ..... Medicine
Lemon-Yellow ..... Library Science
Light Blue ..... Education
Lilac ..... Dentistry
Maroon ..... Home Economics
Olive-Green ..... Pharmacy
Orange ..... Engineering
Pink ..... Music
Purple ..... Law
Sage Green .... Physical Education
Salmon Pink ..... Public Health
Scarlet ..... Theology
Yellow-Brown ..... Commerce, Business, Accountancy
White ... Arts, Letters, Humanities

The hoods, differing in length for the three degrees, bachelor's, master's, and doctor's, are lined with the official colors of the university or college conferring the degree, usually with one color forming a chevron pattern over the other. Hoods are edged and bound with velvet of the color appropriate for the degree. You will see in our procession many edged with the dark blue, for doctor of philosophy.

Mortar boards are the approved headgear. The tassel, worn on the left side of the cap, may be of gold if the holder has a doctor's degree.

Commencement Speaker

General Henry H. "Hugh" Shelton

General Henry H. "Hugh" Shelton became the 14th Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in October 1997 and served two two-year terms, retiring at the end of September 2001. In this capacity he served as the chief military advisor to the President of the United States of America, the Secretary of Defense and the National Security Council. Throughout his tenure as chairman, U.S. forces were in heavy demand and participated in numerous joint operations around the globe. For his exemplary service to his country, Shelton was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor in September 2002.

A native of Tarboro, North Carolina, Shelton grew up in the Edgecombe County community of Speed. He received his undergraduate degree at North Carolina State University, where he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC). He spent the next 38 years in military service in a variety of command and staff positions in the continental United States, Hawaii, and Vietnam. He served two combat tours in Vietnam and held various command positions at Fort Lewis, Washington; Fort Bragg, North Carolina; and Fort Drum, New York.

A tireless worker on behalf of service members, their families and military retirees, he championed a number of landmark quality of life initiatives, including the largest military pay raise in 18 years. He made great strides in improving the readiness and retention of the current force while simultaneously crafting Joint Vision 2020 – the roadmap for the Future Joint Force. He further established Joint

General Shelton holds a masters degree from Auburn University and has attended Harvard University, the Air Command and Staff College, and the National War College. He has been decorated for distinguished service by numerous military and civilian organizations in the United States and overseas.

He has received four Defense Distinguished Service Medals, two Army Distinguished Service Medals, the Legion of Merit, the Bronze Star Medal for Valor and the Purple Heart. He has been decorated by fifteen foreign governments, including having been knighted by Queen Elizabeth of England. He has received various civilian honors, including National Father of the Year.

Currently, General Shelton is the vice-chairman of the Board of Advisors and president of International Operations for MIC Industries, Inc. He is a member of the Board of Directors for Anheuser Busch, Anteon International Corporation, and Pro2Service Professional Project Services, Inc., and is also a member of the Board of Advisors for Northrop Grumman Corporation.

The Thomas Jordan Jarvis Medal

The Thomas Jordan Jarvis Medal is the highest award given by the University. The medal is presented in recognition of extraordinary service to the University or to society as exemplified by the life and work of Governor Jarvis.

Thomas Jordan Jarvis, a native North Carolinian, served his region, the state, and the nation in a most extraordinary fashion. A graduate of Randolph-Macon College in 1860, he received the MA the following year. He began his professional career as a teacher in Pasquotank County. Soon after the start of the War Between the States, he began service in the 8th North Carolina Regiment (CSA) rising to the rank of captain. He began his career of public career in 1868 when he was elected to the General Assembly from Tyrell County. He rose to the position of Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives, and was later elected Lieutenant Governor and Governor of the State of North Carolina. He served his nation as Minister to Brazil, having been appointed by President Grover Cleveland. He was also appointed to fill an unexpired term in the United States Senate. Governor Jarvis was also a strong church leader, having served the Methodist Episcopal Church (South) as a member of the Board of Trustees of Trinity College and as a representative to the General Conference of the church.

An ardent education advocate, he used his strong political and personal skills for the establishment of the East Carolina Teachers Training School for the purpose of training teachers for the schools of eastern North Carolina.

The award is named in honor of Governor Jarvis, the recognized founding father of East Carolina University. It is most fitting that the University's highest award for service be named in honor of the person who worked tirelessly for the establishment of the university and helped oversee its inaugural days as the chairman of its trustees and whose entire life was committed to local, national and international service.

The National Anthem

Oh! say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.
Oh! say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

– Francis Scott Key

Alma Mater

Praise to your name so fair,
dear old East Carolina
Your joys we'll all share, and your friends we'll ever be.
We pledge our loyalty
and our heart's devotion
To thee, our alma mater, love and praise.
