

East Carolina Teachers College News

Published Twice A Month By East Carolina Teachers College

Entered as second class matter at Greenville, N. C.

Vol. II, No. 4.

Greenville, North Carolina.

December 8, 1924

THANKSGIVING CELEBRATION

Thanksgiving Day was a red-letter day for the college girls. As only the one day's holiday is given and no one goes away, everything possible is done to make it a happy day. The celebration begins at breakfast, for there is always some happy surprise awaiting the girls at breakfast.

At eight o'clock in the morning a beautiful Thanksgiving service in the chapel was held by the Y. W. C. A.

The program opened with a violin solo by Jeanette Wedmore. The choir sang as processional "Come, Ye Thankful People". Christine Vick, president of the Y. W. C. A., had charge of the service. Instead of having a special talk or sermon, Thanksgiving responsive readings were used, thus making all feel they had a part in the service.

During the silent prayer Misses Gorrell and Wedmore played softly a violin duet, with Miss Mead at the piano. Miss Thelma Brown read Kiplings' "Recessional", Miss Rachel Lee sang a solo, "We thank Thee for the Harvest". The hymns sung were "Rejoice, Ye Pure In Heart," and "God of Our Fathers."

At nine o'clock the annual match game of basketball between the Junior normal or "C" and Senior normal or "D" classes brought out the entire school lined up as rooters. The "D's" made a big show in their blue caps with streamers and the "C's" wore their colors, lavender and white. The "D's" won with a score of 33 to 28.

The dinner was the big event of the day. The two basketball teams had seats of honor at decorated tables in the center of the dining hall. At intervals toasts were given or some interesting features gave an excuse to the girls for lingering over the turkey and cranberry sauce and other good things.

"Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow", was sung as the blessing.

Miss Ruth Dean read a poem of Thanksgiving. The losing team toasted the winning team, and the victorious toasted the conquered. The toasts were given by Miss Ethel Prescott and Alice Jones of the "C" class and Mildred Barnes of the "D" Class.

The toasts to the cooks, from Owen Meredith was given by Miss Thelma Brown. Miss Mattie Mae Lyon recited a clever little skit.

In the afternoon many of the girls went to the movies, but they were free to entertain themselves as they pleased.

THE HOLIDAYS

The fall term ends Thursday, Dec. 18, and the winter term begins on New Year's Day, this giving two weeks for the Christmas vacation. It will seem strange to the girls to have a whole week to get ready for Christmas and to return before the week between Christmas Day and New Year's is over, but they are finding many compensations. There is no excuse for dividing attention between work and holiday. Examinations need not suffer from too much Christmas in the bones.

VISIT OF MUSIC SUPERVISOR

Prof. W. P. Twaddell, supervisor of public school music in the Durham schools, who was in Greenville with the Trinity Musical Club, made an excellent talk at assembly hour and met with some of the classes in public, school music. He spoke on the importance of the musical training of pupils in the public schools, and its needs and functions. Public school music should put into the lives of the children musical experiences, should train them in the use of their singing and speaking voices, and should teach them how to interpret musical notation so they can read it as readily as they read English notation, he said.

He spoke of the wave of interest in public school music spreading over the state, taking the great work being done in Winston-Salem as an example. He gave as the chief lack the trained teacher.

STUDENTS' RECITAL

On Monday evening December 8, at 7:30 was held the annual fall term music recital.

The program was as follows:

Gurlitt—Rondo (Two Pianos).

Laura Sloan, Mary Gray Moore
Schumann—Knight Rupert.

Gladys Brown

Tschaikowsky—Song of the Reaper.

Elizabeth Thomas

Dennee—Sleep Little Baby of Mine (Quartette).

Katherine Grantham, Edith Furr

Rachael Lee, Mary Gray Moore
Czerney—Study.

Moszkowski—Scherzo.

Mary Gray Moore

Mendelssohn—Joy of Morning.

Mozart—Minuet in E.

Laura Sloan

Drdla—Souvenir.

Pearl Wright

Papini—Romance.

Saint-Saens—The Swan.

Jennette Wedmore—Violin

Clough-Leigher—The Fate of the Rose.

Katherine Grantham—Soprano
Pirkhert—Theme for Left Hand Alone.

Isabella Cromartie

Grieg—Morning (Two Pianos).

Anitra's Dance.

Pearl Wright, Elizabeth Thomas

Y. W. C. A. DURING THE TERM

The Y. W. C. A. work for the fall term shows that the organization is fully alive. They have been at work constantly from the sending out of the handbook, the writing of letters of "big sisters" to "little sisters" assisting with the registration and placing of students, the reception and the membership drive, throughout the regular activities such as the Friday evening prayer meetings, the daily morning watch, the Sunday evening services, the Bible and Sunday School study groups, to the special part in the Thanksgiving celebration and the checking up of the business for the term.

The Bible Study classes, which are meeting each Tuesday evening at 6:30 to 7:15 are well attended and those enrolled are finding them of great interest. Two groups, led by Mr. Meadows and Mr. Henderson, are studying the Old Testament. Three groups, led by Mr. Deal and Misses Hooper and Tatum, are studying the New Testament.

The services held on every Friday evening immediately after dinner have been exceedingly interesting and helpful and well attended. Some student or member of the faculty or group of students has had charge of the service. Occasionally there has been a dramatization or story-telling.

The morning watch at 7:15 is kept every day, and the handful of faithful who get out fifteen minutes earlier, feel fully rewarded for their effort.

The Sunday evening services have all been good.

Prof. L. R. Meadows conducted the services on the evening of November 30. He brought out the thought that there must be an ulterior motive in each person's life other than personal gain. "No Matter What We Do If We Do Not Win Souls We Have Done Nothing". College associates play a great part in life after leaving college, therefore he warned the young women to choose their intimate friends most carefully. He urged the young women to use their time wisely. "National things can be regained but time which is God given cannot be replaced."

On Dec. 7, Rev. B. B. Slaughter, pastor of the Methodist Church in Farmville, will preach.

The Senior Normal class will present a Christmas program on the last Sunday evening before the holidays.

Groups meet at ten o'clock on Thursday evenings on the different halls in the dormitories for the purpose of studying the Sunday School lesson.

The Y. W. C. A. has had one missionary as their guest this fall, Miss Bessie Blakely, a returned missionary from Japan. She gave them interesting accounts of the work in Japan telling them many of the customs which make them need Christian workers. She teaches in the Golden Gate school at Kobe, the only Christian girls' school in that city of six hundred thousand inhabitants, and within a radius of one hundred miles. She said that the happiest girls she had ever known were in this school. She said "Twenty-five years in the home land is not worth two in the foreign land in spite of the hardships".

She gave a most vivid report of conditions in Japan during the earthquake. She brought with her many Japanese souvenirs very interesting to the girls.

CHURCH STATISTICS

Statistics as to church affiliation have been compiled by the Y. W. C. A. and are given below. There are only 48 girls in college who are not members of some church.

Methodists	206
Baptist	198
Presbyterian	55
Christian	47
Episcopal	16
Free Will Baptist	13
Methodist	8
Friends	3
Reformed	3
Universalist	1

PILGRIM PLAY AT MODEL SCHOOL

At the December meeting of the Model School Parent Teachers Association, Miss Lytle's fourth grade presented a Pilgrim Play, written by the grade after their study in History and Reading of the story of the Puritans and Pilgrims. The scenes in the play were the three stages shown by the three places; in England, in Holland and in America. All the children in the room took part in the play, both in the writing of it and in the presentation. It was a project bringing in practically all subjects in the grades. The Thanksgiving songs were used. Physical education was used in a Dutch dance. Of course, the Puritans looked with disapproval on the dancing.

SENIOR DINNER

The senior class had a seven course dinner at the Rotary Club prepared by the capable Rotary Club chef, at 7:30 P. M. on Saturday, Dec. 4th. The decorations, silver and crystal, were elegant in their simplicity; at each place was a menu placard of the class colors, purple and silver, in the form of a booklet. During the serving of the course, jests, toasts, and quips were exchanged given under the leadership of the toastmistress, Alya Taylor.

The members of the class wore simple dinner dresses whose soft colors were brought out by the candle light. There are sixteen members of the class: Rebecca Colwell, Annie Blanche Herring, Mary Outland, Mrs. Frank Petteway, Pearl Wright, Millie Everette, Melene Congleton, Iva Phillips, Millie Roebuck, Marie Lowry, Ruth Dean, Amanda Tillman, Trixie Jenkins, Willie Mae Hedgepeth, Alya Taylor and Grace Strassburger.

SOPHOMORE ASSEMBLY

The Sophomore class had charge of the exercises on Friday Dec. 4th. The program was as follows:

Devotional, led by the class president, Ella Fleming, A Short Play "A Proposal in Grandma's Day"—Scene, old fashioned kitchen. Costumes, very old fashioned.

Characters

Charity, very prim maiden, Virginia Blount.

David, Bashful youth, Zilpah Frisbie.

Ma Allen, Charity's mother, Bennie Usery.

Pa Allen, Charity's father, Beulah Carr.

ENTERTAINMENT BY JANSEN

The Junior class stood sponsor for an entertainment by Karl Jansen, the Swedish humorist and entertainer, which was given on Saturday evening Dec. 6. The program consisted of impersonations, scenes from plays and readings.

The stretch of front campus along Fifth Street is long enough to satisfy the dreams of the most hopeful of the "Fifth Street Walkers" of the past. One of the main driveways is almost over the old ditch boundary line. The Library is opposite the Rotary Building, the Faculty House faces the pines, and the garden extends far down the Washington road.

The low marshy places are being filled in and the rough places leveled. The slope of lawn on the west campus seems to be a mere sample of what the whole will be when there is a stand of grass. Tidy fields are over the old "piggery" and reach almost to the mill run.

When the students government officers were listed, in the first issue the names of two House Presidents were omitted—Gladys Parsons and Elizabeth Thomas.

Miss Elizabeth Moore the teacher of 4th grade in the annex of the Model School resigned because of her health. She is spending the winter in Miami, Fla., for treatment and rest.

Miss Leone Reaves, teacher of Home Economics, who had leave of absence last year and who had an extension of leave for this year, has severed her connection with the college.

Mrs. W. C. Vincent of Greenville, and Miss Douglas Arthur, are substituting for the fall term in the Model School and annex.

Under the direction of Miss McKinney the two seniors who are majoring in Mathematics, Pearl Wright and Annie Blanche Herring, have been doing their practice teaching in the Greenville High School.

Miss Phoebe Featherstone, of Greenwood, S. C., who is teaching in Florence, S. C., spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her sister, Miss Lucia Featherstone, critic teacher in the Model School. They spent part of the time with friends in Washington.

Misses Coates and Brooks spent the holidays in Reidsville, where both used to teach.

Supt. Rose has recently been to Peabody College, Nashville, hunting teachers.

MISS ELLIOTT'S ADDRESS

Miss Harriet Elliott, professor of Political Science at North Carolina College for Women, made an excellent talk to the students when she was in Greenville as guest of the Woman's Club.

She spoke on the "Changing Attitude towards Women", and the responsibilities and opportunities that come to women because of these changes. She made clear that it is her mission to arouse women to become intelligent students of government so that they can become intelligent citizens, with an understanding of the problems of politics and government, and can express their wills intelligently at the polls. Women, she said can not escape being citizens; she impressed upon them the serious and solemn duty of voting. She avowed she is not interested in the untrained woman in politics, in the spectacular woman who is running for office, but that she is interested in the trained woman who knows what she is doing. She urges all women to make government a definite and positive part of their study.

She referred to the editorials and articles that have been in newspapers and magazines since the election that are sporting with the questions of woman's failure in politics. These are called forth by the fact that few of the two hundred women running for office were elected. This, she declares, is not a sign of the failure of women. Nobody knows what contribution women can make. Men have not been seriously studying women. Some men have been saying what they please, and have been writing articles about women and what women think, but they know nothing about either.

An article in the Atlantic Monthly, written by a woman sent over the country to find out whether or not women are talking about politics, had the startling statement that not a woman mentioned politics unless the writer introduced the subject. Miss Elliott explains this by the fact that people do not talk about what they do not experience, and women have not yet experienced politics. As women become more vitally interested in government and in political problems, they will express themselves more freely, she believes.

No one can foretell what contribution women may make within the next fifty years. There is no reason why a woman should not aspire to anything she wishes. We have found that men are not born with a knowledge of politics, as Jefferson said; it does not strike like lightning. The moment has passed when people question woman's ability to learn politics. The new psychology is helping people to cast aside these preconceived notions about men and women even though some, even women themselves, are still laboring under the delusion that there is something that makes politics peculiarly men's province. It is only a question of time when all these ideas will change. More and more women will run for office and more and more will be elected, more will be in the legislatures. She warned the young women never to vote for a woman just because she is a woman, but to vote for the man or woman who is the best individual for the office.

If women become intelligent students of government and politics, know what they want and why they want it, if they become intelligent citizens expressing their wills at the polls, they can do whatever they please, and not until then.

Miss Tatum last week took her class in Interior Decoration to the furniture stores in Greenville to study furniture and furnishings. Later she took her class in Home Management to the Electric Shop to study labor saving devices and lighting fixtures.

The date for the second December issue of the News falls during the Christmas holidays, so there will be only one this month.

TO THE ALUMNAE

Every one who has not paid her 1924 dues, please do so before Xmas. If you have not paid dues in several years $1.00 will put you in good standing. Let's get 100 per cent paid up dues before the New Year. Mrs. A. S. Bynum, President.

At the call meeting on Nov. 14 at Greenville during N. C. E. A. we discussed the Wilson Memorial Fund. The few that were here voted in favor of a memorial in the form of something on the campus instead of a portrait, something like a fountain, as a landscape feature to beautify the campus. Whatever is done must fit into the plans that have been made for beautifying the campus. Mrs. A. S. Bynum, President, Farmville, N. C.

About fifty of the Alumnae have responded to the call for voluntary subscriptions for the News. This just about pays for one number. If subscriptions will come in at the rate of fifty a month, we shall feel the plan is successful. If the Alumnae will prove they are willing to pay one half the expense of the News, the students and others can perhaps pay the other half.

Fifty cents from each one will insure the continuation of its publication, getting it so firmly established that next year it will no longer be considered an experiment but a necessity.

At the meeting of the Alumnae Association during the N. C. E. A. a number of important matters were considered. There were 39 present, and from a wide territory. The discussion as to what to have as the Wilson Memorial was the item of greatest interest. Their decision is given in a note from the President. The 39 failed to register, so the News editor does not know which among these here for the N. C. E. A. attended this meeting.

Among those who were at the N. C. E. A. were as follows: Mary Newby White, Blanche Alligood (Mrs. Chawick,) Emma Roberson, Lucy Fleming, Minnie Gardner, Helen Elliott, Lelah Parker, Mrs. R. E. Davenport, Ernestine Forbes, Julia Elliott, Lucy Gray King, Annie Howard Felton, Gay Albritton, Mrs. Elizabeth Evans Savage, Gayle Cheek, Mrs. Albert Mercer, Elizabeth Boney, Sallie Waters, Mildred Fry, Barbara Conner, Bettie Long, Christine Johnson, Blanche Satterthwaite, Bertie Maness, Julia Rowe, Mrs. Doris Tripp Butt, Mrs. Ruth Loy Winbourne, Irene Downer, Bertha Hart, Mrs. J. E. Winslow, Annie Ruth Joyner, Myrtle Morse and Mrs. C. E. Fletcher.

Susie Morgan (Mrs. Roderick Stamey) is living in Avon Park, Fla.

Ida Etheridge is Mrs. Joe O'Neal of Selma.

If any one knows whom Agnes Absher, '15 married, please send in her name and address. What is the married name of Lucy Barrow, '19?

The address of Myrtle Brendle, Mrs. C. R. Little, last year was 91 Holland St., Asheville, but a letter sent to that address was returned—Who can correct it?

Mrs. Thomas Hall (Lucile Bullock) of Rocky Mount wants the names of all Edgecombe County girls. All Edgecombe girls send them to her, with the correct street, number if in Rocky Mount so she can send them to us.

India Elliott is now Mrs. Smith, of Vanceboro.

Zelota Cobb is taking training in the Carolina General Hospital, Wilson.

Estelle O'Berry Moore who was president of the class of 1918, is Mrs. Julian Butler, of St. Paul.

Lillian Shoulars is Mrs. N. H. Finch, of Spring Hope.

Bess Tillett is teaching at Belcross.

Mary Lee Gallup, Mrs. Clifton Edwards, is not teaching this year. She is keeping house.

Elizabeth Evans, Mrs. Savage, is living in a bungalow in front of the campus and is keeping house and teaching.

Mary S. Johnson, '19, is Mrs. Boyden Siske of Belhaven.

Catherine Lister likes Leakville so well she persuaded her father and mother to make it their home.

Eva Outlaw is Mrs. Albert Nichols, of Simms.

All three summer graduates of '19, are married. Millie Harrell is Mrs. James Speight, of Windsor; Feroi Little, Mrs. Roy Worthington, of Winterville, and Glennie Woodard, Mrs. S. T. McCotter, Vandemere.

Myrtle Moore is living in Crescent City, Fla.

Alma Odom is Mrs. R. E. Phillips, of near New Bern.

Kathleen Vaughan and Nell Rappendick are in Wilson.

Maybelle Beacham is in Siler City.

Mrs. Paul Giles, Mattie Connelly, is living in Wilson.

Josie Dorsette is Mrs. Ernest Harris and is living in Raleigh.

Annie Jessup is in Weeksville.

Audry Parker's address is Washington. Etta Rowland is in Richmond.

Ruby Holland is Mrs. F. W. Tyndall of Snow Hill.

Lola Arnold is Mrs. Edmond Love of Charlotte.

Arline Barber is Mrs. Austin Elliott of University Station.

Lillian Gray is Mrs. B. Rivers of Raleigh.

Several changes are reported in the class of 1923.

Mildred Lyon is in Windsor, Willie Matthews in Nashville, Rosalie McEachin, in Marston, Ruth Reed, in Kenansville and Reita Thompson in Siler City.

Ida Walters writes "I am still teaching in Burlington. This year I have second grade and like it even better than third, if that is possible. We are eagerly waiting to get into our new building."

Rena Harrison, Mrs. William Wallace Smith, of Moyock, Currituck County, writes: "I have been teaching here for the last four school years and am now well on the fifth year. This year, I have the opportunity of working with two very fine girls of the 1924 class, Marie Harris and Lucile Credle.

I was the only alumnae of the college in this county when I first came here and of course you know there are several here now. We hope to organize a county chapter of the Alumnae Association before long. We had the pleasure of seeing Miss Whiteside a short while ago".

Pattie Jenkins is again teaching at Roper. Bruce and Geneva Exum are teaching in Wilson County in St. Mary's School near Lucama.

Bertie Maness is teaching at Harrisville. Bertie says that she has received more than fifty cent's worth of pleasure and good from the two copies of the "News" that she has read.

Mary Newby White is doing critic teaching in the fourth grade at Winterville.

Clara Davis (Mrs. Wright) of Washington, N. C., has responded to the call for news. She writes that she stays quite busy with her home duties, helping her boy who is in the second grade, and doing the book work at the store for her husband. Her letter says, "I wish I did have something real interesting to write you for the News Letter. Of course I am interested in my every day affairs, but I fear it would make dull reading matter for others, eh? I do hope the Association will have a big year. Here's wishing you every success in all you undertake". Clara wants suggestions to enliven interest in their Chapter, also to raise money.

Julia Gatling, Mrs. R. H. Pope, Tillery, N. C., writes as follows, "I enjoy every word of the News Letter and devour it with the same enthusiasm that a girl does letters from her beau. I am always so glad to get it.

I look back upon my school days at dear old E. C. T. C. a little with regret. I'd like to be in school there again for I truly love every inch of the old campus and all the teachers. It is true that new teachers have gone there since my graduation in '23 but that makes no difference.

I have been married almost two years and have a dear little ten months old daughter, Louise Rebecca Pope. She, "Daddy" and I are planning to spend Christmas in Ahoskie with my parents."

Mrs. Chas. M. Johnson, (Ruth Moore) of the class of '13, 123 Park Avenue, Raleigh, N. C., announces the birth of a son, Chas. Jr., on June 13th, thus confirming her faith in the luck of "13".

Among other interesting letters that we have received is one from Ellen Renfrow, Mrs. J. N. Newsom, 1709 Hillsboro St., Raleigh, N. C. Ellen is keeping house and caring for her two fine children, a little girl 19 months and a baby boy three months old. She says this gives her a plenty to do, but she will take the time to attend the monthly meetings of the Wake County Chapter and to read the News Letter. Her sister who is known to the school as "Sis" May Renfrow, is now Mrs. Forrest H. Shuford of Laundale, N. C. Mr. Shuford is principal of the school at Laundale. Ellen says that Mrs. Shuford and her year old boy are not in very good health. That's why she is sending information concerning her, and also the request to have the News Letter forwarded to her.

Mrs. Floyd Turnage, Marie Worsley, of Farmville, has a baby a few months old.

Mrs. William Bryan, Marie Winslow, is just beginning house keeping in her new bungalow in Farmville.

Bettie Spencer, Mrs. L. P. Thomas, also lives in Farmville. She is quite proud of her boy who is now about five months old.

Minnie Exum Sugg, of Greenville, has been with Swarthmore Chautauqua for the two past summers. This is the first winter that she has worked for them. After Christmas her work will be in the New England States.

Mrs. James W. Mason, Sallie R. Best, lives in Beaufort. She keeps house and finds it very interesting, as well as the care of James Wallace Jr., who is now sixteen months old. She writes, "I want you to know how much I enjoy the News Letter each and every month. I look forward to it as I do a letter from some dear friend. It is so often that I find in its columns news of some class mate and thru this I know somewhat of what they are doing. The College News is very interesting also, for I'm deeply interested in the College and its welfare and like to hear of it doing each big thing."

Bertha I. Westbrook's teaching address is Benson, N. C., R. F. D. No. 3. Her work is in the Oakdale School. She says that teaching is an interesting and enjoyable profession.

The Alumnae teaching in Pitt County are as follows: Greenville; Estelle Greene, Christine Johnson, Ernestine Forbes, Virginia Suther, Pattie Smith Lillian Cartwright, and Mrs. Elizabeth Evans Savage.

Farmville; Vivian Case, Gayle Cheek, Bethel; Mildred Frye, Beatrice James, Annie Lee Morgan, Margaret West, Lydia Purser, Helen C. Elliott; Winterville, Mary Newby White, Ruth Brown, Eva Whichard; Grifton, Catherine Reed, Mrs. J. G. Patrick, (Ruth Swinney,) Beatrice Link, Sadie Kelton; Fountain, Bettie Long, Barbara Conner, Mrs. A. C. Gay (Fannie Bishop), Elizabeth Boney, Sallie E. Waters, Mrs. Lillian G. Mercer (Lillian Gardner,) Falkland, Alethia Canady, Myrtle Syllivant, Dora McLawhon; Bethel, Route 2, Ida Holland, Lillian Martin, Lucy Gray King, Margaret Holland; Grimesland, Irene Downer, Bertha Hart; Stokes, Margaret Bullock.

Below is a directory of the first two classes. It will be seen that the majority are married, therefore their addresses are more or less permanent. Most of the Alumnae in these two classes have responded to the call for news sent out by the president. Those who have not responded, perhaps did not receive the letters, and they are perhaps not getting the News because of incorrect address. If any one knows anything about the doubtful ones in the lists below send in the address. In following issues we wish to publish the classes of '13 '14 and '15 making the directory for the first five years as complete as possible. If this is successful we may be able to work up other classes also.

CLASS OF 1911

Grace McGuire Bishop, Mrs. R. P. Dew, Wilson, N. C., conducts a private kindergarten with an enrollment of 32 pupils, and is also Supt. of the Beginners' Department at the Methodist Sunday School.

Margaret Sheppard Blow is teaching in Laurinburg, N. C.

Pattie Simmons Dowell is doing teacher training in the Newton Farm Life School at Newton, N. C. This work is in connection with the State Department of Education.

Esther Lum Ellington, Mrs. E. I. Fleming, Rocky Mount, N. C., is a frequent visitor in Greenville, her former home. Ernest Jr., will be 9 years old in February.

Mary Louise Fleming, Mrs. L. B. Fleming, Greenville, N. C., has two children; Robert Sugg, age 10 years, is in the fifth grade; Mary Bell is six years old. This is Mary Bell's first year in school.

Vada Elizabeth Highsmith is Mrs. R. L. McCullen of Clinton.

Sallie Fasion Pierce, Mrs. E. B. Gibson, lives in Washington City. Her husband is a naval officer. She has one boy.

Nellie Pender, Mrs. Andrew Moore, of Greenville, has a little girl, Sarah.

Jennie C. Williams, Mrs. E. W. Lewis of Jackson, is busy in church and community affairs. She has two children.

Ila Lydia Bullock has not been heard from in a long time. Her last address on file is Rocky Mount.

Mary Edna Woodburn is another from whom there has been no late news. Morven is the address we have.

Judith Boyd's home address, Middleburg, is all on record.

Lillian Carr is Mrs. Hunter Fleming of Kinston. She has three children.

Juanita Dixon is the wife of a Methodist minister, Daniel Lane. His church is in Elizabeth City. Their address is 403 East Road Street. She has a little baby just a few weeks old.

Ruth Ruffin, Mrs. E. Wyatt, is in or near Hobgood.

Mattie Ruffin died several years ago. She was married.

CLASS OF 1912

Florence Blow, Mrs. W. M. Scales, is living in Greenville. She has two children. Her little girl was a flower girl recently at the wedding of Elizabeth White.

Nannie Bowling, Mrs. F. R. Elmore, continues her work on the Greenville Reflector.

Edna Campell is critic teacher in the South Georgia Woman's College, at Valdosta, Georgia.

Hilda Critcher is Mrs. C. B. Rowlett of Greenville. She has two children.

Minnie Best Dail is at her old home in Snow Hill. She has a position in the post office and has become quite a business woman.

Marguerite Davis, Mrs. Carey Warren, of Greenville, lives in a bungalow just off the campus on Eighth Street. Carey Jr., is in the second grade at the Model School.

Sadie Exum, Mrs. Fleet Williams, of Wilmington, has two boys, one tiny one.

Estelle Greene is secretary for the Superintendent of Greenville Schools. She also teaches in Greenville High School, one class in mathematics.

Emma Harden, Mrs. G. W. Jefferson of Fountain, takes a leading part in the community. She has an attractive home and family of four children.

Ethel Hunter is Mrs. John Crewe of Weldon.

Mattie Moye King, Mrs. L. W. Gaylord of Greenville has a happy household of 5 children. She has recently been in a social whirl because of the reception in honor of her sister, Nancy, who was married recently. She entertained the bridal party the evening before the wedding. Her little girls were flower girls and her son a ribbon boy. She was an attendant.

Nora Mason is Mrs. Carl Schmidt of 223 Willow Place, Elizabeth, New Jersey. For some time she was at Loomis' Sanitarium, Liberty, N. Y., as a nurse.

Eula Proctor, Mrs. F. L. Greathouse, of Nashville, at commencement was the same merry Eula as of old.

Willie Ragsdale, Mrs. A. E. Hobgood, of Greenville, has two children.

Georgia Scott is doing Public Health Service at Marine Hospital 21, Stapleton, N. Y. In 1921 she graduated in a class of 400 at the Walter Reid Hospital, Washington, D. C. She became interested in this line of work when she did volunteer nursing during the war.

Pattie Uzzell, Mrs. T. E. Davis, lives on Hill Street in Wilson.

Sarah Waller is Mrs. G. N. Taylor of Roanoke Rapids.

Mamie Williams is in Warrenton. She is a business woman instead of a teacher.

Anna Whitehurst of the class of 1916, was recently married to Mr. Clarence Reid, of Elizabeth City.