

Chapter	Page
XII. JULY-SEPTEMBER 1943: THE CONVERSION TO ARMY STATUS	219
The First Wac	220
The Conversion	221
First Companies in the WAC	224
Why Some Went Home	224
Why the Majority Stayed	228
The End of the WAAC	229
XIII. ATTEMPTS TO REVIVE RECRUITING	231
The Search for a Recruiting Theme	231
The Manpower Theme	232
The All-States Plan	235
The Recruiters	236
Sources of Assistance	237
The Air-WAC Plan	238
The Quota	239
The Campaign	239
Opposition of the War Manpower Commission	242
Public Apathy	244
The Success of the All-States Campaign	245
Revival of Plans to Draft Women	246
The Austin-Wadsworth Bill	247
Army Manpower Crisis	249
Sudden WAC Popularity	249
The Job-and-Station Promise	250
Women-in-War Campaign	254
Campaign Conclusions	255
XIV. INTEGRATION INTO THE ARMY	256
Abolition of Separate Grades	256
The Office of the Director WAC	259
General Impression of Director's Status	262
First WAC Regulations	263
Rights and Benefits of the WAC	265
Army Advisers Depart	266
Field Needs After Integration	266
Close of 1943	268
XV. REMOVAL OF DIRECTOR'S OFFICE TO G-1 DIVISION.	269
G-3 Recommendation	269
Handicaps on ASF Level	270
Move to General Staff Authorized	272
The Meek Report	272
Corrective Action by the Chief of Staff	274