East Carolina University, the focal point of development in eastern North Carolina, has rapidly but orderly grown from a normal school to a multipurpose university during its 66 years of service to the region and the state.

Chartered by the General Assembly in 1907 as East Carolina Trainers Training School, the University has grown from an enrollment of 123 in 1909 to more than 10,000 in 1973, making East Carolina the third largest institution of higher learning in North Carolina.

Students from 97 of North Carolina's 100 counties, 40 states and 15 foreign countries attend East Carolina.

The campus encompasses approximately 600 acres adjacent to downtown Greenville. Most of the classroom buildings, research facilities and residence halls are less than 10 years old. Construction of buildings valued at several million dollars, including an art complex and a new student union is currently underway. The total physical plant is valued at more than $55,000,000.

* * *

In 1920, East Carolina was authorized to offer four-year teacher education degrees and to grant a bachelor of arts degree. A year later, the school name was changed to East Carolina Teachers College by the General Assembly.

During the period from 1934 to 1960, the school continued to grow, though not as spectacularly in terms of enrollment. A curriculum leading to a bachelor of science degree was authorized in 1941 as the college expanded to meet occupational needs other than teaching. By 1951, undergraduate majors were offered in 17 areas and graduate programs in 10 areas. It was in that year that the General Assembly changed the school name to East Carolina College.

* * *

A major turning point for East Carolina, both academically and athletically, came in 1960 when Dr. Leo W. Jenkins was inaugurated as the school's sixth president. Under his guiding hand, East Carolina College became East Carolina University in 1967 and enrollment more than doubled in a 10-year period.

Dr. Jenkins, whose title was changed to chancellor in 1972, has also been instrumental in the development of East Carolina's School of Medicine.

Today, East Carolina, a national leader in teacher preparation, has expanded its academic programs to offer undergraduate majors in 26 areas and graduate programs in 22 areas. Aside from the College of Arts of Sciences, the Graduate School and the School of Medicine, there are seven professional schools: Allied Health Professions, Art, Business, Education, Home Economics, Music and Nursing.

With the reorganization of the state's university system in 1972, East Carolina became a constituent part of the University of North Carolina system.

CLARENCE STASAVICH
DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

"Coach Stas," a nationally prominent figure in collegiate circles, is responsible for the rapid rise of East Carolina University's athletic program.

He first came to Greenville in 1962, after a highly successful 16-year coaching career at small college power Lenoir Rhyne. A year later, Coach Stasavich assumed the dual role of athletic director and head football coach.

His East Carolina football teams were an immediate success. In 1963, his Pirate club operating in the famous Stasavich "Single Wing" rolled up a 9-1 record, the first of three straight 9-1 seasons. In all three years, ECU participated in post-season bowl classics, winning all three — Eastern Bowl in 1963, Tangerine Bowl in 1964 and the Tangerine Bowl in 1965.

When Stasavich relinquished his coaching duties following the 1969 season, he had piled up a 50-27-1 record, tying Jack Boone as the winningest coach in Pirate football history.

His reign as athletic director has been equally as successful. While at the helm of the Pirates' athletic ship, Stasavich has developed the modern all-purpose athletic complex which includes Ficklen Stadium, Minges Coliseum, Scales Field House, Harrington Field and the University Track.

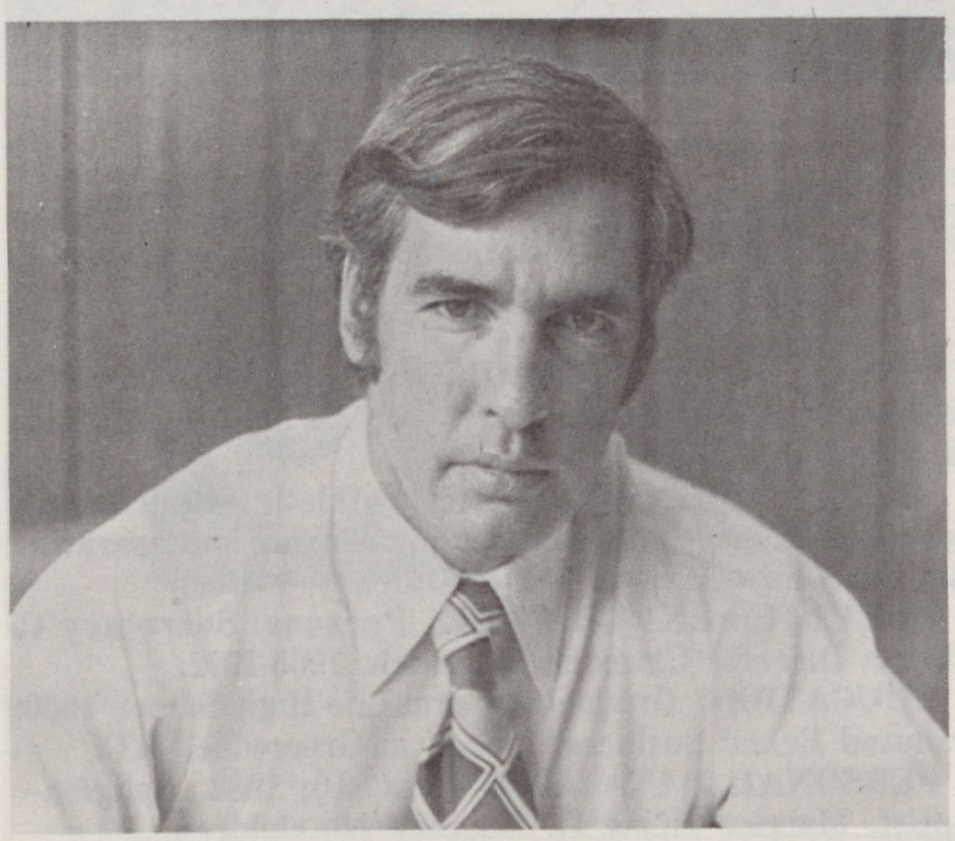

Coach Stasavich also engineered East Carolina's entrance into the Southern Conference and was instrumental in having the school classified in the major college football ranks for the first time.

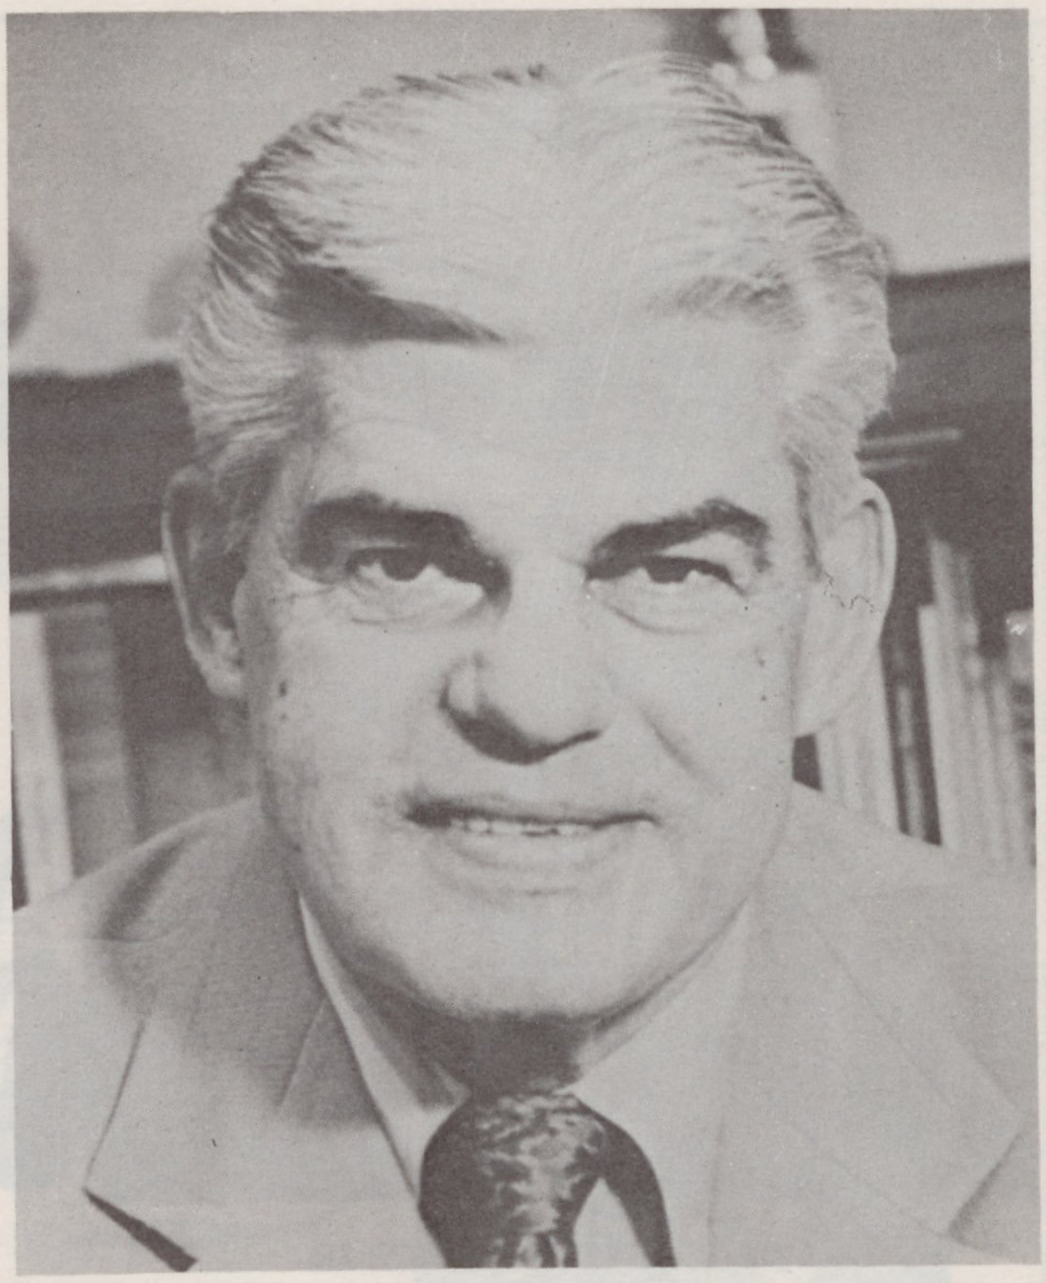

On top of all listed duties, he is also solely responsible for scheduling which has risen from the ranks to include North Carolina and North Carolina State. Virginia, South Carolina, Bowling Green, Southern Illinois and Dayton are scheduled for future seasons.

* * *

Coach Stasavich's past accomplishments are as important as his future plans. During his career at Lenoir Rhyne, he became a virtual legend and won acceptance in the Helms Hall of Fame and North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame. Twice during his career, once at Lenoir Rhyne and once at ECU, he was named National College Coach of the Year.

A native of Georgetown, Ill., Stasavich is married to the former Helen Warlick of Hickory. They have three grown children: Rebecca, Mary and Walter.

BILL CAIN
ASSISTANT ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Bill Cain, beginning his third year as assistant athletic director, is the trouble shooter in the athletic department.

His primary duties include scheduling for all minor sports in addition to assisting Clarence Stasavich with the administrative duties of the athletic department.

Cain also watches over East Carolina athletic facilities, handles the athletic department's fleet of state vehicles and coaches the golf team.

He came to East Carolina as a football player and eventually co-captained the 1958 squad. Following graduation in 1959, Cain spent seven years in the high school coaching ranks before returning to ECU as a freshman football coach in 1968. During his high school coaching career, he managed to earn his M.A. in 1961.

In 1970, Cain became business manager of athletics and retained the position until 1972 when he was named assistant athletic director.

He is married to the former Frances Johnson of Roanoke Rapids. They have two sons: Lance 13 and Tracy 10.

PAT DYE

HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

Year One of what Coach Pat Dye hopes will be the "Pat Dye Era" at East Carolina will feature bruising defense on the part of the "Wild Dogs," and what Coach Dye hopes will be "offense that can score some points."

To Patrick Fain Dye, football means one thing — WINNING. When he talks about winning football games he also talks about "cold blooded players," "dedicated athletes" and "preparation" for living the rest of a lifetime.

Dye should know quite a bit about all subject areas. As a player and as a coach, he has always been a winner even though he quickly points out that "I haven't won a game here yet and I'm actually a loser because Alabama lost to Notre Dame in the Sugar Bowl."

But virtually everyone knows of the mystical Alabama football program. And, almost everone knows Dye was a two-time All-America player at Georgia in 1959 and 1960 while blocking for teammate Fran Tarkenton. Dye also earned playing experience in Canada and in the military before turning to coaching in 1965.

For the last nine years, he has coached the linebackers and handled many recruiting chores for the legendary Paul "Bear" Bryant. He knows how to win and what it takes to win:

"I believe strongly in the kicking game," Dye admits. "Kicking cost us in the Sugar Bowl but I've seen its importance in all my years of coaching. Then, to win, you must keep the opposition from scoring which means you must have a strong defense. And thirdly, but in very close order, a team must be able to score some points and win."

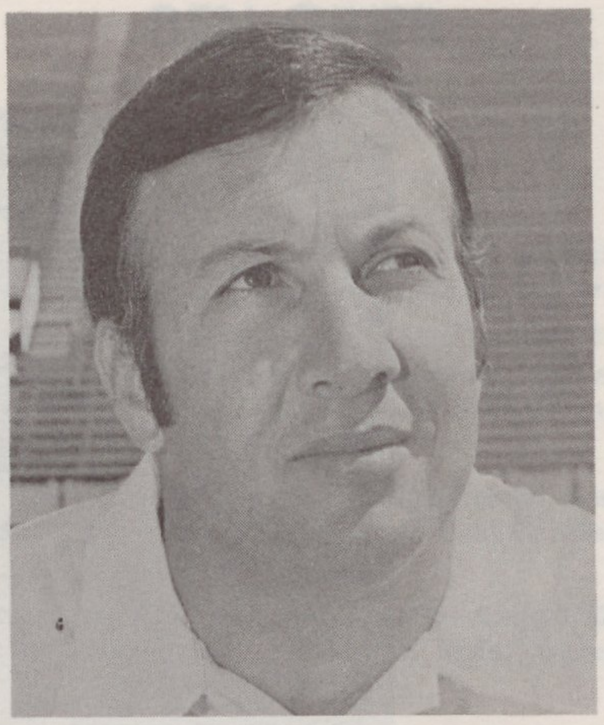

In Dye's appointment announcement, Chancellor Dr. Leo W. Jenkins said: "The Dye Has Been Cast." In accepting the head coaching position at East Carolina, Dye said: "I want to continue East Carolina's winning tradition and help the program grow and improve. A football team must have a heart," Dye said, "and I hope the heart of this football team will be in eastern North Carolina."

Thus, the "Pat Dye Era" is playing its first campaign. Dye himself admits that "I wanted to find out if I am capable of being a head football coach." For East Carolina players and fans, 1974 will be a year of great anticipation and expectations.

And, with the intensity and purpose of Pat Dye, he will try to reach every lofty goal.

Welcome to Year One.

A BIOGRAPHICAL LOOK AT PAT DYE . . .

YEARS AT EAST CAROLINA: First.

RESPONSIBILITIES: Head Football Coach.

PREVIOUS COACHING EXPERIENCE: Joined the University of Alabama staff on June 14, 1965. Main responsibilities: linebackers and recruiting.

PLAYING EXPERIENCE: Lettered three years in football and two years in track at Richmond Academy, Augusta, Ga. As a collegiate player, lettered three years in football (1958-60) at the University of Georgia. All-America and All-Southeastern Conference (1958-60). Served as alternate co-captain with Francis Tarkenton. Georgia won SEC championship in 1959 and defeated Missouri in Orange Bowl, 14-0.

EDUCATION: High School: Richmond Academy, Augusta, Ga. College: University of Georgia, 1960.

PERSONAL DATA: Age—34. Born—Nov. 6, 1939 in Blythe, Ga. Marital Status—Wife, Sue Ward. Children—two sons and two daughters.

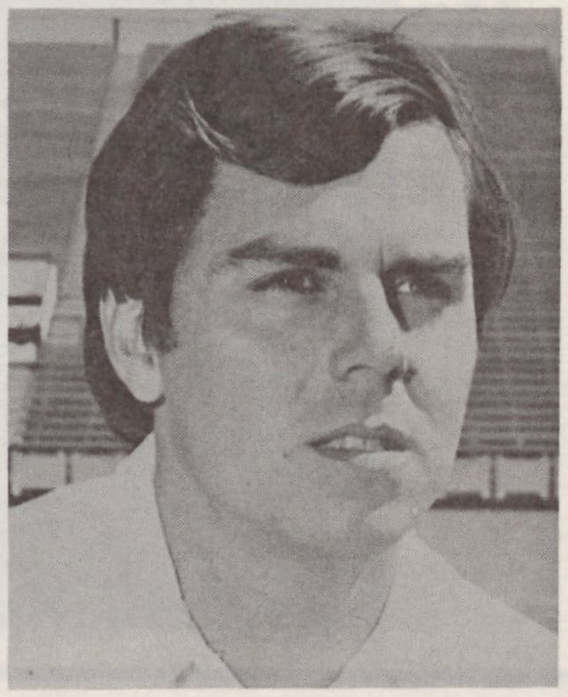

PAT DYE COMMENTS:

ON FIRST YEAR GOALS . . . "Our goals are not short term goals. Our main goal, which will be a continual, progressive type of thing, is to develop a growing program, one which improves each year and one that is competitive with teams on our schedule. We want our program to be the kind that parents will be proud for their sons to take part in, one that high school coaches want players to take part in and one that provides a growing experience for each athlete that comes here to leave as a bigger and better person."

ON REASON FOR COMING TO EAST CAROLINA . .

"My interest started four years ago when Mike McGee went to Duke University. A close friend and former roommate in college now living in Greenville called me in reference to the job. Of course, at the time, Sonny Randle was in line for the job. When the opening came this year, my friend called again and I contacted Coach Stasavich and he asked me for an interview. It was actually the first head coaching job I had interviewed for."

"There were several things that impressed me about the situation here. First, in meeting with Dr. Jenkins, I was convinced that he was behind the athletic program 100 per cent. Next, I was convinced that East Carolina had the academic background to recruit top athletes, to upgrade and build to the tradition which has already been started. Believe me, East Carolina has a fine winning tradition. We are in an area which produces good athletes, in an area where football means a great deal to the people and in an area which can provide what I like to call "the heart" of a football team."

SET TO STRIKE: Linebacker Danny Kepley (42) closes in for strike on North Carolina receiver Earl Bethea in 1973 game at Chapel Hill.

MEET THE PIRATES

WILD DOGS '74

The vaunted "Wild Dogs" have become a legend to East Carolina fans and around the Southern Conference. The "Wild Dogs," for those who are wondering, is the nickname attached to the Pirates heavyweight defensive unit which last season led the Southern Conference in rushing and scoring defense as well as total defense and produced no less than three all-conference players, a national defensive player of the week and four SC players of the week.

The "Wild Dogs" received their name in 1972 from now departed assistant coach Jon Matlock. After two years of development, the 1974 version promises to be the most experienced and by far, the most vicious.

Nine of 11 starters from last year return this year including All-America candidate Danny Kepley and his supporting linebacker corps of Billy Hibbs, Gary Niklason, and Butch Strawderman. Two veteran and talented defensive tackles, Ken Moore and Buddy Lowery, also return to anchor the line which will be even stronger with the move of all-conference defensive end Cary Godette to middle guard.

If the "Wild Dogs" had a weakness in 1973, it was pass defense where they finished sixth in the SC. That probably won't be a weakness in 1974 because two sophomores—Jim Bolding and Reggie Pinkney—return with a solid year of experience and a new defensive look.

So look for the "Wild Dogs" to "Fly Around" in 1974. It is, in effect, the last stand for the "Wild Dogs" because nine will be leaving. In 1975, it may have to be something different. But in 1974, the "Wild Dogs" will search and destroy.

PIRATES ON DEFENSE

GOALS AND LETTERMEN

The Pirates lose six lettermen but only two starters from the 1973 Southern Conference team that finished on top in total defense and rushing and second in scoring defense. The Southern Conference champions had 703 plays run against them on defense in 11 games. Eleven opponents totaled 2,917 yards, for a 265.2 yards-per-game average. In scoring defense, they yielded 21 touchdowns and 151 points for a 13.7 points-per-game average. The rushing defense was the strongest for the Pirates: they yielded 1,406 yards via the ground on 446 plays, for an average of 127.8 yards-per-game.

Returning lettermen that should challenge the 1973 marks include Danny Kepley, Cary Godette, Buddy Lowery, Ken Moore, Butch Strawderman, Gary Niklason, Billy Hibbs, Reggie Pinkney and Jim Bolding.

Defensively, the Pirate coaching staff feels that the "5-2" alignment gives the team the best chance of obtaianing its top objective, which is to stop the run.

Almost every team the Pirates will face this year runs some sort of Wishbone or Split-Back Veer offense and the seven-man front is the best way to stop this.

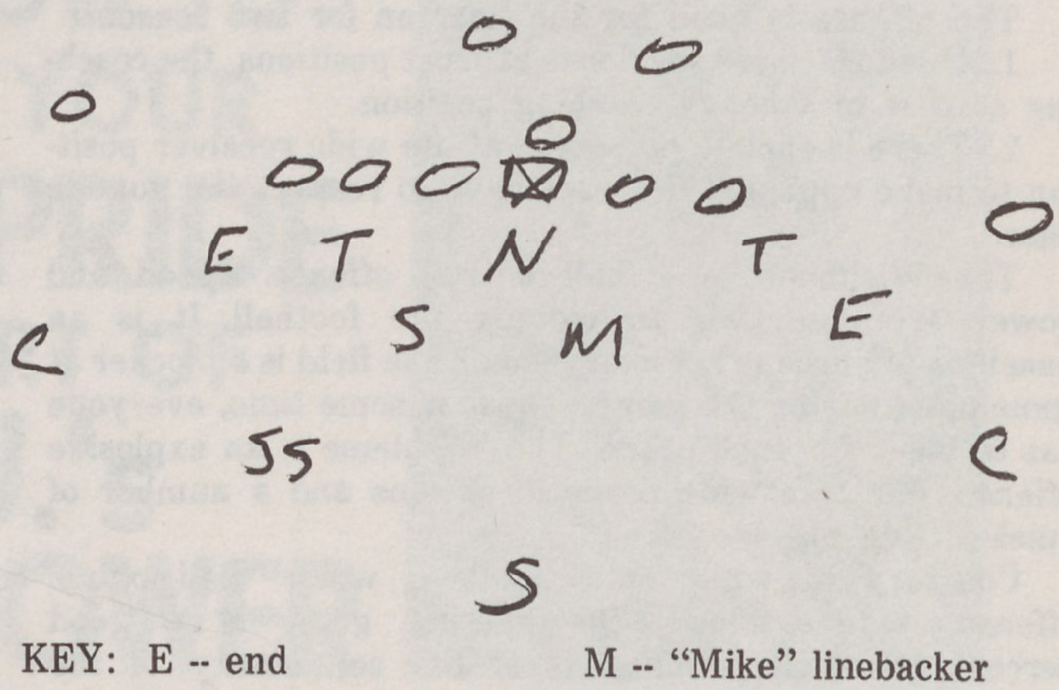

The Pirates are strong defensively, and the alignment should best serve to utilize their qualities to the fullest potential. The linebacking corps includes five seniors in All-America candidate Danny Kepley, Butch Strawderman, Gary Niklason, Billy Hibbs and Nelson Strother. All are strong, quick, and can help the team stop the run and participate in pass coverage.

The down linemen include seniors Kenny Moore, Cary Godette and Buddy Lowery. Jim Bolding, an Honorable-Mention All-Southern Conference performer in 1973 as a freshman, returns at safety.

In short, the type of people listed for the Pirates' defense in 1974 are types a coaching staff looks for when running the "5-2".

A combination of strength, speed and agility is needed to run the "5-2". The defense is in a position to stop the theory involved behind the triple-option play that is a vital part of the Wishbone or Split-Back Veer. When the personnel involved on defense do their jobs correctly, the offensive theory of tying up inside people can be nullified.

KEY:
- E -- end
- T -- tackle
- N -- noseguard
- S -- "Sam" linebacker
- M -- "Mike" linebacker
- C -- cornerback
- S -- safety
- SS -- strong safety

The primary objective of the defense is to keep the opponent running game to an under three-yards-per-carry average. The secondary objective is to, with the excellent linebackers the Pirates are blessed with, help provide better pass coverage in the defensive secondary.

The outlook for this year is greatly dependent on our players remaining healthy. They must also continue to play together as one unit with the same great enthusiasm and desire.

PIRATES ON OFFENSE

GOALS AND LETTERMEN

Nine lettermen are gone from the offensive unit that led the Southern Conference in total and scoring offense in 1973. The 1973 Southern Conference champions ground out 811 plays for 4,245 yards in 11 games, an average of 385.9 yards per game. In scoring, the Pirates pushed across 47 touchdowns and a total of 352 points.

But while nine are lost, 18 return. They include Vic Wilfore, Benny Gibson, Mike Shea, Tim Hightower, Ken Strayhorn, Don Schink, Tom Daub, Jim Woody and Jonathan Deming. Top returning non-lettermen include Ricky Bennett, Jake Dove, Randy Parrish, Mike Weaver, Jesse Ingram and Ray Jones.

The coaching staff feels that the offense the club utilizes this season is the best it can be in with the personnel it has. This is due to the abundance of running backs and two good fullbacks in Don Schink and Tom Daub.

The offense is good for the linemen for two reasons:

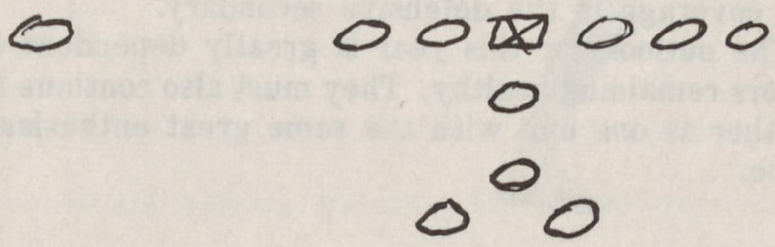

1. Due to lack of experience at most positions, the coaching staff is in a heavy teaching position.
2. There is enough personnel at the wide receiver position to make opponent defenses have to respect the outside pass.

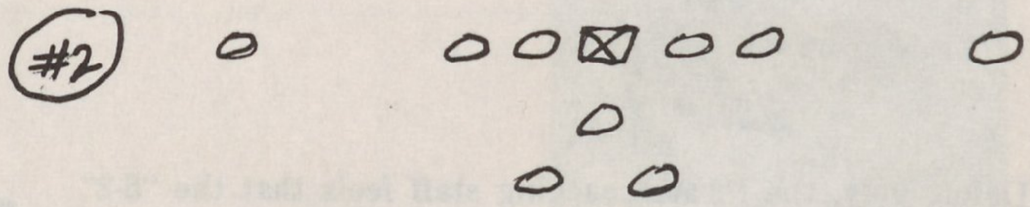

The Wishbone is a ball-controll offense. Speed and power are essentials to moving the football. It is an unselfish offense in that everyone on the field is a blocker at some point during the game. Thus, at some time, everyone has to block for each other. The Wishbone is an explosive offense, due to a wide range of options and a number of quick-hitting plays.

Contrary to what many believe when "ball-control offense" is mentioned, the passing game is a good percentage of the offense. It is the consistency of the passing game that is dependent on the consistency of the running game, sure, but that dependability is magnified when it is realized that without either, the other is useless.

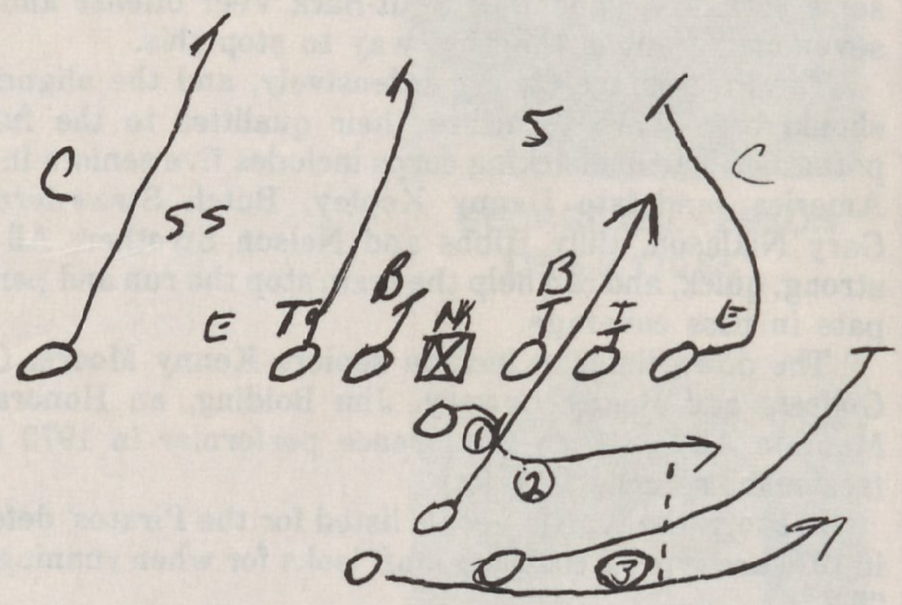

The Wishbone requires perfect execution from a standpoint of both the linemen and the backs. Due to this, a great deal of practice time will be spent on basic wishbone plays.

The Pirates will operate primarily from the following two formations:

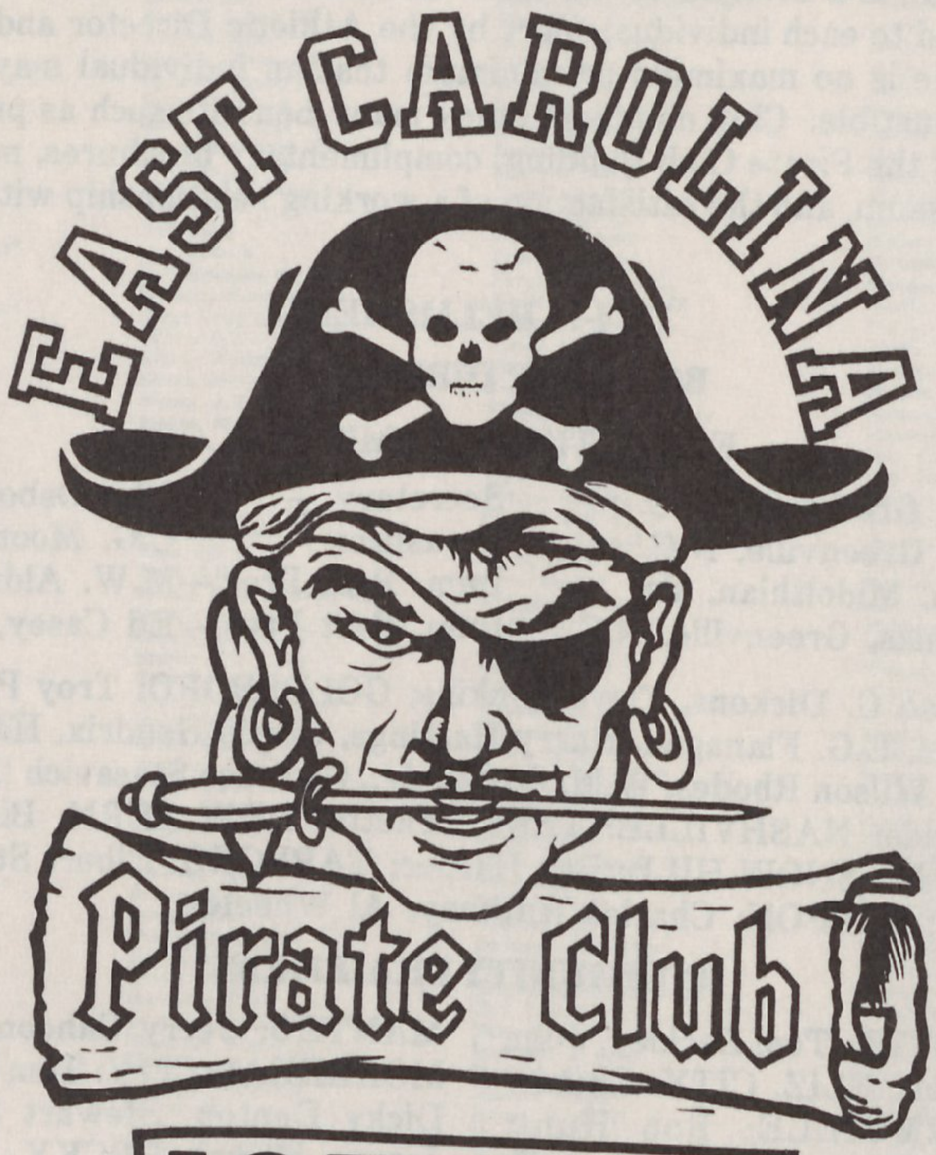

From either formation, the quarterback has three options, as diagrammed and numbered as follows:

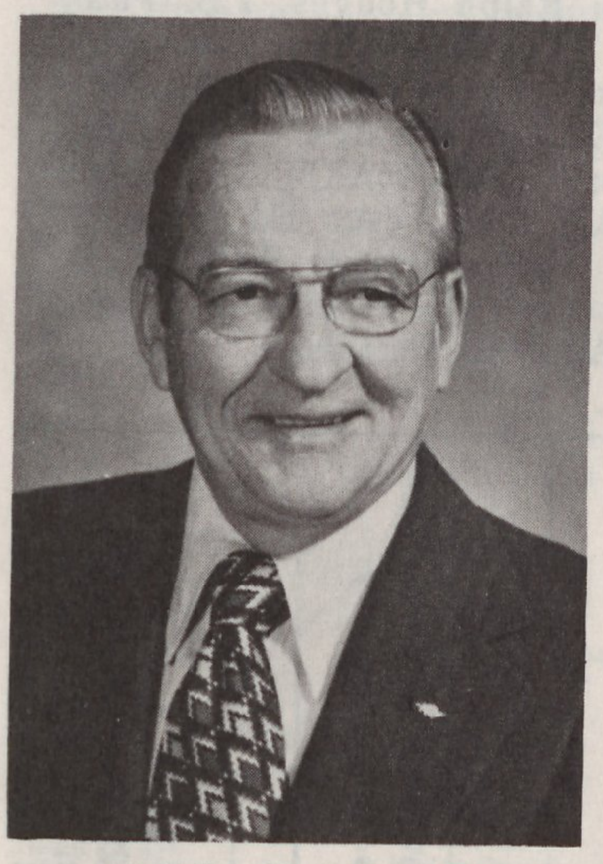

1. Quarterback gives to fullback, who runs inside tackle.
2. Quarterback runs, after fake to fullback.
3. Quarterback fakes to fullback, pitches to halfback.

The primary purpose of the offensive unit is, naturally, to score points. However, the secondary objective consists of controlling the ball, maintaining field position and not giving up the ball unless in opponent territory. The realization of this objective can only come through consistency, a consistency that will feature a balanced running and passing attack while best utilizing the abilities of the people involved.

PIRATE CLUB

The Pirate Club is the athletic booster organization for East Carolina University. Its purpose is to raise funds, through contributions from the alumni, friends, faculty, and staff to support the entire athletic program which includes 11 intercollegiate sports. The Pirate Club is a division of the ECU Education Foundation, Inc. Accurate records are kept and audited annually. Funds are budgeted to each individual sport by the Athletic Director and Athletic Council. Basic membership is $100 annually. However, there is no maximum or minimum that an individual may give in support of the program. Pirate Club contributions are tax deductible. Club members enjoy many benefits such as priority in season ticket purchases, special parking at home games, use of the Pirate Club Building, complimentary brochures, newsletters, choice seats in Ficklen stadium, cushion seats in Minges Coliseum, and the satisfaction of a working relationship with a growing major college athletic program.

BUCCANEER SCOUTING REPORT

BY JOHN CATHEY
ETSU SPORTS INFORMATION DIRECTOR

The challenge of rebuilding the most potent offense in the Ohio Valley Conference and finding capable interior linemen both offensively and defensively is the task facing Coach Roy Frazier and his staff.

A solid nucleus of returning veterans should provide the Buccaneers with the best defensive unit in the past three seasons and overall experience should be the best in several years.

Gone is quarterback Alan Chadwick, who led the OVC in passing and total offense for the past two seasons, and also missing is running back Greg Stubbs, who gained more yards than any other Buccaneer.

* * *

Frazier frankly admits that the Buccaneers will have to depend on some people who were recruited this year to fill the gaps. He also feels that it was a good season in recruiting and that a lot of success will depend on how well the newcomers come through.

* * *

Ron Newberry, who will not exactly be a newcomer but a new man at a position, can fill spots in both guard and center positions, after being shifted to center last spring. Redshirt Frank Smith had an impressive spring and could be a pleasant surprise in the interior line. Newcomer Fred Vance has good potential although he missed some of the spring work. Steve Lewis and John Waters are other candidates for the offensive line.

In the offensive backfield, the running game should be more than adequate but depth at quarterback would be a real problem.

The loss of Chadwick, who was the second leading passer and the fourth top total offensive performer in the nation in College Division II last fall, is certainly a blow.

Lee Trawick is the only quarterback in camp with experience and at the moment he has the No. 1 job. He played sparingly last season but started several games two years ago. He is a good runner and can run the offense with authority. A lefthander, he is an adequate passer.

Eddie Rich, another red-shirt, has been impressive as a quarterback but was equally impressive as a running back. He will likely see a lot of action at both spots.

The running back situation should be in good hands with Bob Hardy, Pete Harshaw and Nat Cherry returning. Hardy is a veteran who enjoyed a good spring, Harshaw provides exceptional speed and Cherry is a hard-nosed runner.

* * *

Leading the receiver corps is senior Ron Hillman, who is the most prolific pass catcher in Buccaneer history. Hillman has been one of the top two receivers in the OVC for the past two seasons and holds school marks in that department. He was moved from tight end to flanker this spring and has adapted very well.

* * *

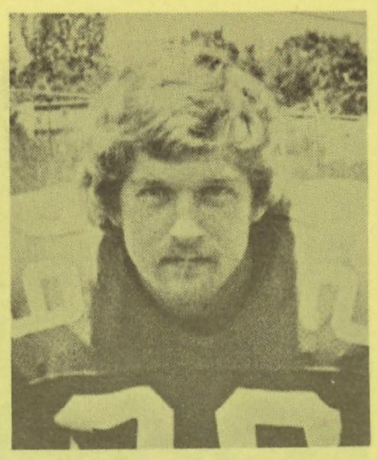

In the defensive line, transfer Herman Sanders had an eye-popping time opening the season. He will be a definite asset to the defense and a man to watch. Kenny Brown, another veteran, can go both ways at tackle and has made the adjustment well since spring practice. Benny Denton, a senior, is another person who will see a lot of action in the Buc defense.

* * *

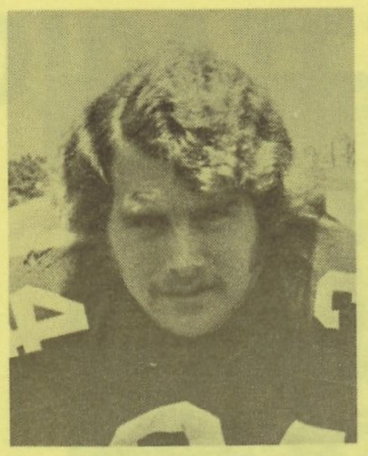

East Tennessee State University has never lost a football game to East Carolina. The last time the two clubs met, the Bucs washed past the Pirates in 10-0 in Ficklen Stadium, site of tonight's game. For the overall series, ETSU leads 4-0-1.

COACHING REPORT
SEPTEMBER 21, 1974

Dear Pirate Fan,

Recapping last week's game, all I can say is that it was a beautiful night in Greenville. It was a cool night, actually, and we figured a hot night would be more to our advantage playing Bowling Green. But it was a cool night, the student body was behind our team and they were just fantastic, the electricity was in the air and I think our kids came to play. As a matter of fact, I know they did.

We played against a good Bowling Green football team. It was a terrific win for us. It was a win we had to have. The players gained confidence in themselves, the coaching staff gained confidence in themselves, and it was great winning a game we felt like we had to win.

* * *

As far as some specifics go, I think Coach Nehlen had a good game plan for us both offensively and defensively, but as far as what we ran, I think the unbalanced line caught them off guard. And we ran from the unbalanced line most of the night.

I would like to say that I think our coaching staff did an excellent job of preparing the team for the game, because the practice field is where the game is won and lost. We had a good knowledge of what we wanted to do, and the matter was that we just went out and executed.

Actually, preparation started last winter and spring when, after we came here, we started recruiting and learning and kept going right up till last Saturday.

Coach Grieb, who was responsible for the scouting report on Bowling Green, did a tremendous job and should be commended for that. He lived in the dorm with the players last week, took their pulse, so to speak, and the results of his work showed up on the field at gametime.

I am tremendously happy for the players for having won their opening game. Bowling Green is the first team that East Carolina has ever beaten from the Mid-America Conference, and for that reason this is history. I think we can go from here and go on to have a good football season.

I was especially happy for our seniors, who have won two Southern Conference championships. They are a fine bunch of young men who deserve all the credit in the world. They have provided us with leadership that we will expect to get throughout the year and I am certain we will get it.

* * *

As far as the game itself is concerned, I'll start again with our kicking game. Our kicking, I thought, was adequate, though not great. Gil Job, who did our punting, did a good job. We had no problem getting the ball out, and I think he averaged about 35 yards per kick, which isn't bad. I thought our coverage on all the kicks was just super. This is a must, because you can get beat quicker in a kicking game than any other phase of football.

I was particularly happy with this point and I was particularly happy with Coach Trevathan and the job he did in getting the specialty teams ready to play.

* * *

Defensively, Bowling Green moved the football on us at times, but this was to be expected. I knew they had a good offensive line, good running backs, receivers and a good quarterback. I knew they would move the football, but our defense came up with the good plays when we had to have them.

We played a lot of young people on defense. I think this will help us later in the season when we dive into the conference schedule later on in the year. Defensively, we forced three turnovers as far as fumbles are concerned, and had three interceptions for six turnovers in the game. When you come up with that many, you know you have to be making things happen. This was a big factor in holding Bowling Green to six points. The touchdown they got was actually a gift, since we fumbled on about our 13 and they took it from there.

We still can make improvement on defense, though. We need to get our young people ready to play more though, because Saturday night I felt like our old people had to play too much. So when we play those tough games later, I want to have more help, and it will come from the young people.

* * *

Offensively, I know our backs ran well, and I expected them to. I have said before that we have about seven different backs that can win, and against Bowling Green 10 backs ran with the football, including the quarterback. Our backfield situation is excellent and I think they played about the way I expected them to play.

Our offense line had to do some good things because we moved the ball so well on the ground. I would like to say that Randy Parrish did an excellent job stepping in for Tim Hightower, who missed the game at center. This came with very little work at all, and we couldn't have won without him.

The big thing in the ball game, offensively, was that Mike Weaver came out and ran the Wishbone like it was supposed to be run. He executed the options, read the veer, and did the things necessary to make the offense work. He is an excellent runner, picked up close to 100 yards rushing, and has that natural ability that you just can't coach, but you have to have. I just think that he will give the fans in Eastern North Carolina a lot of exciting football in the next three years. We didn't throw the ball well offensively, some passes were dropped, overthrown, covered, etc., and of course we just didn't hit some. Our passing has got to improve if we are to have a well-rounded football team.

* * *

I would like to say, generally, that in preparing for Bowling Green, like it will be all year, our scout teams did a tremendous job. These kids are walk-ons, most of them, who come out and do just a tremendous job because they like to play. We couldn't operate without them. There is no way to say how much they contributed in how we beat Bowling Green, but just the same I would like to thank them for their help.

* * *

The thing that stands out in my mind is the fact that we had all the penalties in the game and it gets frightening to think of all the teams we will have to play in the future. Penalties are a sign of undiscipline, and we have a disciplined team, except maybe in that area. We have got to eliminate the penalties for the future . . . 12 for 134 yards, which is just terrible! This, in a close game, will beat you, and we will have to improve on this for the future.

We have to work on eliminating penalties and bring on our young people in practice and keep on working.

We played 21 freshmen and 62 people overall against Bowling Green, and I think that was just great, as it helps morale, gets the young kids ready to play, and gives the old guys a rest. We played a lot of those kids when the game was still a contest, too.

* * *

As far as East Tennessee is concerned, I don't know a great deal about them. Jack White has scouted them twice, and I know it is a big game for us because it is the next one. We will play them one at a time and hope we can win them one at a time. I hope we can get ready to play and continue what we already have started.

Sincerely,

Pat Dye,
Head Football Coach

COMING UP . . .

Tonight's game with East Tennessee State University will be featured by the traditional "Parent's Night" designation as the University and Student Government Association would like to honor the people that make college possible.

Next week, prior to the Pirates' contest with Southern Illinois, the North Carolina Motor Speedway in Rockingham aong with WITN-TV sportsman Dick Jones will provide a special guest that will sign autographs for the fans. In coordination, special tickets to the American 500 held in Octover will be given away.

Also, for halftime enjoyment, WGNL Radio has coerced "Chicken Man" into appearing at Ficklen Stadium to award prizes and fight any unknown evil that may lurk in the far reaches of the area.

The Pirates go on the road for three weeks following the SIU game, then return home to take on the University of Dayton, and then, for Homecoming '74, The Citadel.

PIRATES UP-TO-DATE

THE FIRST ONE

Head football coach Pat Dye, though he never was to the knowledge of football historians a kicker, certainly knows how to split the uprights, so to speak.

After watching his Pirates methodically dismantle Bowling Green State University 24-6 last Saturday, he spoke as true as a Jim Woody field goal.

"We played real well the first half," said Dye. "And we played well again the second half, so we won."

Dye said also that "Bowling Green had a lot of class" for coming back after being down 17-0 at the half. The Falcons put together a fourth-quarter touchdown drive to put the score at 24-6, but for all practical purposes, the game was not in doubt at all.

"Winning this game meant a lot to a lot of people," said Dye. "I am happy for the coaching staff and the players because they all gained a measure of confidence in what they are accomplishing."

* * *

Mike Weaver started his first varsity game for the Pirates against BGSU and his performance turned a lot of heads. Some heads were turned to watch Weaver whizz through the Falcon defense, while many fans were heard mumbling something like "Man, we'll be set for a long time with quarterbacks like him." Dye, after the game, agreed wholeheartedly.

"Mike ran the Wishbone very well," said Dye, of the sophomore who picked up 85 yards in 12 carries. "He has the natural instinct that you just can't teach, and I think he will be able to give the fans some exciting football for the next three years."

* * *

As if a new offensive and defensive alignments weren't enough, the Pirates emerged in one formation that would have done credit to the Jim Thorpes of yesteryear's glory days of football. The Pirates lined up with all but a single lineman at one end of the line, while the center lined up in front of kicker Jim Woody. The ball was snapped however to Kenny Strayhorn, a back, who followed the line into the end zone. A penalty nullified the play however, and the Pirates had to settle for a field goal.

* * *

Another of the many question marks was at least temporarily answered Saturday in the Pirate victory.

Kenny Strayhorn, he of the painful knees, cruised for 78 yards in six carries. That's a cool 13-yards-per-carry, for those of you who do not want to do long division on your program.

* * *

The Pirates rolled up 337 yards rushing to 133 for the Pirates. The big difference in the total offense categories comes in that the Pirates completed no passes in eight attempts while BGSU connected on 10 of 27 for 103 yards.

* * *

No story about the Pirates would be complete without a mention of the "Wild Dog" defensive unit. Defensively, the unit was credited with 49 tackles, 39 assists, five passes broken up, three passes intercepted and three fumble recoveries.

Danny Kepley, Gary Niklason and Nick Bullock led the unit with five tackles each. Niklason also contributed four assists and along with Kepley, recovered a fumble.

Dye verified this after the game by saying that "Bowling Green's offense was very good, but our defense was great.

"We really made the stops when we needed to."

* * *

If there be any doubters as to the actual number of people who play football for the Pirates, since it may seem like the same ones are mentioned all the time, 21 freshman players saw action aganst Bowling Green, and a total of 62 people saw reason to get their jerseys dirty.

A STRONG SHOWING

The Southern Conference made a strong showing against outside competition last weekend, and then spiced the action with a major upset in league action.

East Carolina University's Pirates stunned Mid-American Conference opponent Bowling Green with a 24-6 win; The Indians of William and Mary came from behind to knock off Atlantic Coast Conference foe Wake Forest by a 17-6 count; Richmond rallied from two scores down for a 29-25 win over West Virginia; Appalachian State held on for an 18-7 victory over Middle Tennessee State; and The Citadel edged Presbyterian 6-0.

The real shock of the afternoon came in Lexington, Va., when the Virginia Military Keydets upset Furman. Furman has been tabbed by many to be the strongest contender for the Southern Conference title, if the Pirates of ECU are to be unseated from the top position. The Paladins are now in a very precarious spot.

Coach Pat Dye, in his debut with East Carolina, called it a good day in Greenville following his team's very sound victory over Bowling Green. That 24-6 count marked the first winning score ever for East Carolina over a Mid-American opponent.

The Pirates scored on their second possession, with Weaver, Kenny Strayhorn, and Don Schink accounting for all the yardage. Strayhorn had a 48-yard romp, following what Dye called an "unbelievable" option of the ball. Weaver was nearly parallel with the turf when he flipped it to Strayhorn.

Had it not been for penalties, coach Pat Dye felt his Pirates would have blown Bowling Green out completely. The final count came after the Falcons recovered a fumble at the ECU 16-yard line and proceeded to score.

In the only conference affair, the Keydets of VMI upset Furman 7-0. A combination of fumbles and missed passes contributed to the Paladins of Furman being victim of VMI's first opening win since 1970.

Furman fumbled five times, with one of those being turned into the only score of the day. VMI tackle Allan Pyke recovered a Furman pitchout at the Furman 23 in the second quarter. Split end Ronnie Moore ran 20-yards on the second play for the line score of the day.

VMI threatened three other times in the first half, driving to the 34, 44, and 24-yard lines before being stopped.

Furman got much deeper into Keydet territory on five different occasions, only to have something go wrong. At the 24-yard line, it was a fumble. At the 32-yard line, it was penalties and an incomplete pass; at the two-yard line, it was another fumble; at the 23-yard line, it was being one yard short of a first down; at the one-yard line it was incomplete passes; and finally at the VMI 16-yard line, it was a broken up pass play.

* * *

William and Mary trailed 6-3 at the half, but the Indians scored two times in the third quarter to put down Wake Forest of the ACC 17-6.

Bill Deery had an 18-yard run and Doug Gerhart a 13-yard run in the third quarter to put William and Mary on top. Those scores were coupled with a 21-yard field goal by Steve Dalton in the first period to give the Indians the big win over outside competition.

* * *

Richmond was down 13-0 to West Virginia after the first quarter, but the passing of Spider quarterback Harry Knight then came to life. Knight threw TD strikes of 31, 48, and 38-yards to give Richmond the stunning win. Knight completed 11 of 16 passes for 216 yards via the air.

The big passing show overcame the Mountaineers 384 yards rushing, and put Richmond over West Virginia for the second straight year in upset fashion.

* * *

Appalachian State put two scores up in the first 13 minutes to assure itself of an 18-7 victory over Middle Tennessee State. The Apps added a field goal and a safety to the final count. Quarterback Robbie Price ran for one TD and threw for the second for Appalachian.

* * *

The Citadel had plenty of mistakes, too much rain, and too many penalties, but more important, a win over Presbyterian. The Bulldogs managed a 6-0 victory with quarterback Gene Dotson in scoring in the third quarter.

The Citadel had to overcome 115 yards in penalties to get the win.

THE COLLEGE GAME . . .

There are many factors that make College Football interesting, unique and exciting. But whatever they are, from the thrill of the competition to the simple love of the game, one of the most important factors is the influence of the coaching staff, of whom the players have the most contact on the field.

Pictured, two of East Carolina's best give it their all. And below, other coaches speak candidly about what indeed makes their respective programs what they are.

WHAT MAKES MY PROGRAM INTERESTING, UNIQUE, EXCITING

"Our equipment manager is 92-year-old John Ladd whose responsibility is washing, drying and folding all football uniforms and towels. He's been married 70 years and at Norwich since age 65. He still works a seven-hour five-day week, but we push him a little during the fall when he has to go seven days and seven hours."

(Joe Sabol, Norwich)

"Freight trains go by our playing field, and we have to call time out because the players can't hear the quarterback calling signals. There are usually an extra five or six time outs each game. And, when showing our movies to other schools, it's rather distracting to see a train going back and forth as we go over and over a certain play."

(Jerry Clark, Cornell College)

"Rather than practice on Friday afternoon before a game, we've had picnics. Our trainer spent an entire day preparing a spaghetti dinner for 85. Another time the coaches grilled hot dogs and hamburgers while the players sat around playing their guitars and singing. It was a big factor in unifying our squad, and relieving nervous tension."

(Joe McDaniel, Marietta)

"We have only $200 for recruiting. We invite prospects but they must take care of all their expenses. This year we had 100 recruits at our annual prospect day and signed 12 of the 18 we were after. With this budget we still manage to win games."

(Tom Caldwell, Elizabeth City)

"We recruit numbers rather than pick just a handful of players, contacting as many as 2000 high school players by letter. About 450 visit our campus each year. We also open our spring practice to walk-ons and give them a real chance to make the team. Our current tight end, and a halfback who's rushed for 1512 yards in two years, were both walk-ons."

(Tubby Raymond, Delaware)

"We played 86 men in all of our home games last season."

(Wayne Phillips, Coe)

(Edsel Schweizer, Luther)

"Recruiting the blue-chip athlete is difficult because the Academy has a specialized type of education orientated around the sea. They must plan their future at age 17 or 18. But where else can a boy at 21 or 22 have as many job opportunities offered to him at graduation at salaries in excess of $18,000 per year?"

(Bill Mottola, Maine Maritime Academy)

"We have turned our program around by making a special effort to get close to our young men. To create this atmosphere, we made our office complex into a lounge area, film room, coaches offices, and a kitchen-barbershop area where co-eds provide haircuts. It can become hectic when the players are around, but I feel any inconvenience is worth it if they frequent our office."

(Bob Di Spirito, Slippery Rock)

"We play a schedule mainly composed of teams in a division above us, and proudly we've had only one losing season in the past decade. Being underdogs has enabled us to play a wide-open game and led to surprisingly new offensive concepts."

(George Paterno, Kings Point)

"We have no Sunday practice or meetings, no evening meetings and no required winter program. This makes our program interesting, winning makes it exciting."

(Dick MacPherson, Massachusetts)

"On our level, the coaching staff will not lose jobs because of more losses than wins . . . only if they're not working to capacity."

(Wilbur Gobrecht, Dickinson)

"Since 1966 we have established a record of 62-8-5. All this in a school of 600 enrollment."

(Ray Best, Doane)

HEAD COACH: CURTIS FRYE
TRAINER: JOE BURRUS

East Carolina University's 1974 soccer team will sport faces both old and new. The newest and most prominent of the faces will belong to Curtis Frye, the Pirates' new head coach. And the old faces should, as Frye termed, "provide East Carolina University with probably the best team in the history of the school."

"We have 16 returning lettermen and a number of promising freshmen and transfer students," said Frye. "We will be a defensive-minded club and will work hard on open field play."

Frye tabbed Brad Smith, a senior fullback who was an All-Southern Conference performer in 1973, as his top returnee. "He was a captain last year," said Frye. "So that should say something about his leadership ability."

Smith, who is an agressive player with exceptional speed, has had 14 years of soccer experience. His talents will be complemented by those of Bob Poser, the leading scorer in the school's history. Poser, a captain of the 1972 team, is a senior psychology major who is returning to the team after a two-year absence. He is a halfback.

ED RIGSBY ANCHORS CROSS COUNTRY TEAM

The 1974 cross country season for East Carolina University coach Bill Carson brings mixed reactions.

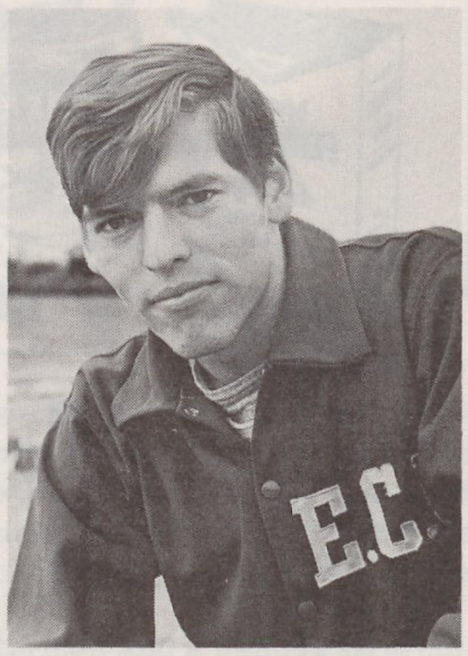

"We don't have the type runners that generally do well in cross country at East Carolina," said Carson. "But at the same time, we have the greatest runner in East Carolina history coming back, so we could be competitive."

The object of Carson's admiration is Ed Rigsby, a senior history major from nearby Farmville. He holds ECU records in the two and six-mile runs with marks of 9:10 and 31:00, respectively, for the cross country and indoor track teams. He will have a load of help coming from Scott Miller, who finished second in the Southern Conference meet last season in his position and Al Kalamaja, a Buffalo, N.Y., youngster who is a fine steeplechase runner as well as talented cross country performer. Even though this talent is at East Carolina, and the Pirates had a good recruiting year, Carson feels that due to the type of runners recruited and a minor coaching philosophy change, the Pirates will have to work hard again in 1974 to be successful.

"We recruited middle-distance runners primarily," said Carson. "This doesn't present a lot of depth in the six-mile runs, though the runners will be in shape for the indoor and outdoor track seasons."

To aid the performers mentioned already will be Doug McKeel, last year's Pennsylvania state Class-A champion in the mile run, whom Carson terms has "great potential." Among the other talented newcomers are James Green, a half-miler, and Mike Cunningham, a miler from Charlotte, N.C. Scott Chance, James Willett and Charles Avery are three more newcomers Carson termed as "potentials" with a chance to help the program.

And as has been a vital part of the program in the past, Carson is hoping to find a couple of walk-ons that can contribute to the 1974 season.

BOONE, OWENS, RIDGE PROVIDE VETERAN BASE

Coach Bill Cain's golfers approach the 1975 season boasting a second place Southern Conference finish in 1974 and with many new faces. Four regulars including All-America Eddie Pinnix, Bebo Batts and Carl Bell have departed by graduation, but three solid players—Tommy Boone, Doug Owens and Steve Ridge return to provide a well-rounded base.

Boone is a senior and boasts several years of tournament experience. Owens will be a junior after an outstanding sophomore year while Ridge will be a sophomore after making every match for East Carolina as a freshman.

With a base of three experienced players, Cain has added Mike Buckmaster, ranked in the top five state-wide following his high school career. Buckmaster, a Swansboro, N.C. player, is expected to continue his almost flawless play. He averaged 73.8 strokes per 18 holes in 19 matches as a prep senior.

Supporting Buckmaster will be top flight golfers like Keith Hiller, who won several tournaments throughout the summer of 1974, John Shimer and Robert Aristead of Kinston, as well as Steve Spano. Another player expected to play front line golf will be Ernie Massie, III, an East Carolina student last year who finished second in the Carolinas Golf Association Championship during the summer in Orangeburg, S.C.

"This will be a different type of season for us," Cain explains. "Last year, we had four or five players who had been around and knew what to expect. We relied on them heavily. Now, this year, we have some experience but will have to expect a lot from our young players who I believe are the best group of golfers ever to come to East Carolina."

TENNIS ON THE UPSWING

Tennis Coach Wes Hankins, in his third year of building East Carolina net fortunes, faces the 1975 season with a host of new players and several returning veterans led by Howard Rambeau.

Rambeau, who played at many spots from No. 1 to No. 5 in singles last year, put together a good season of tough tennis and should be a key contributor in the new season.

Hankins hopes to build East Carolina tennis with young players like Randy Bailey and Jeff Sutten, from Kinston, N.C., who have signed grants. Bailey and Sutton, a crack doubles team, finished second in the state in doubles as high school seniors.

To test Hankins' young team, the Pirates will face such tennis powers as North Carolina State, Atlantic Christian, a perennial power as well as North Carolina Wesleyan and Southern Conference toughies Appalachian State, Davidson, Furman, William & Mary and V.M.I.

HOWARD RAMBEAU

Age: 21
Hometown: Smithfield, N.C.
Class: Senior
Major: English
Sport: Tennis
Position: Number 1-2 seed for 1974
1974 Record: 4-12
Season Highlight: Rambeau battled in the three top spots for the Pirates in 1974, winning individual matches against Pembroke State, UNC-Wilmington and Glassboro State.

SPORTS MEDICINE GAINS CURRICULUM

The Sports Medicine Division of the East Carolina University athletic program is entering its fourth year of operation. The first three years of operation have shown it to be a flawlessly run operation, with its members gaining invaluable experience in the field of providing expert medical care to student athletes.

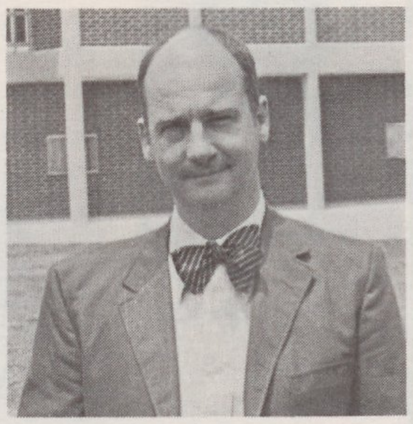

Rod Compton, Sports Medicine Director, is one of the prime reasons for the group's quick growth, which now includes a training curriculum that has been approved by the National Athletic Trainers Association. Compton is a graduate of Ohio University in health and physical education and a graduate of Bowling Green University with a masters in education. Since coming to ECU in 1970, Compton has been a driving force in organizing the curriculum, which was accepted nationally in June.

Dr. James Bowman, an orthopedic surgeon, is also in his fourth year as team physician in the Sports Medicine Division.

The goal and purpose of Sports Medicine is simple: to provide the most effective medical care possible for a student athlete and to bring the athlete back as fast, as effectively and as safely as possible.

Aside from Compton, Dr. Bowman and the student assistants, the Sports Medicine Division has associate team physicians on the university infirmary staff and consults with many of the doctors in Greenville's medical community.

PIRATES FACE BASEBALL TITLE DEFENSE

East Carolina University head baseball coach George Williams says that when it comes time to think about the Pirates in terms of 1975, the bright prospect of another successful season is "all in the cards."

He wasn't making specific reference to one of his highly-talented recruits for 1975, namely Glenn Card, a junior-college transfer from Louisburg JC. But it is a combination of Card and seven other recruits Williams landed that makes the coach of the defending Southern Conference champions smile.

"We have some fine young men coming to play ball," says Williams. "And we have some outstanding players returning from last year's club.

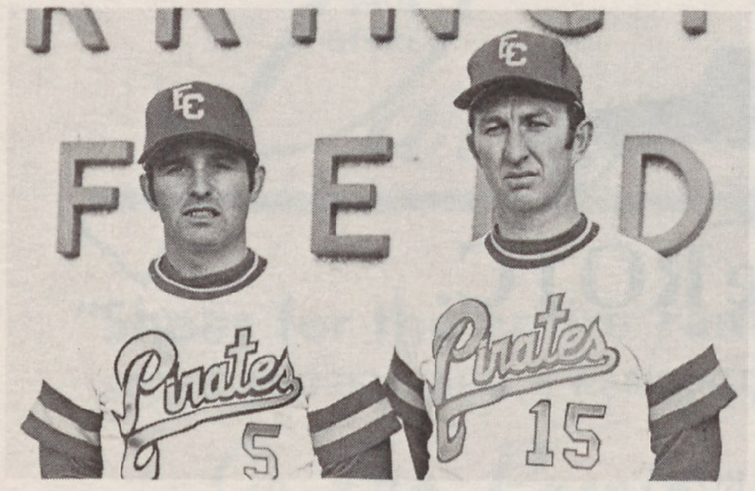

"So I just feel that if our young pitching can mature, the prospect of another championship is in the making."

Notably, Ron Staggs, Geoff Beaston and Wayne Bland are three prime reasons for Williams' optimistic outlook. Staggs, a power-hitting first-baseman, led the club in 1974 with a .326 average, including seven home runs. Beaston, who performed at second base and shortstop for the Pirates for the past two years, is only a junior who Williams says, "makes plays that are hard to believe."

Bland will be an integral part, once again, of what Williams hopes will be a top-flight pitching staff. The Wrightsville Beach, N.C., native was a third of the Pirates' "Big Three" that placed third nationally in ERA with a 1.88 mark. Joining Bland in contention for starting positions on the staff will be Joe Heavner, Terry Durham, Bob Feeney, all holdovers from last year, and Dean Reavis, another Louisburg JC transfer. The "sleeper" of the staff, Williams admits, could turn out to be Steve Herring, a senior with limited playing experience at East Carolina due to chronic control problems. Herring had the problems under control at the end of the summer.

"Experience-wise, we will be short," says Williams. "But we will be good defensively and should hit the ball well.

"I said before that another successful season was all in the cards. Now, in looking at our 34-game schedule, Coach Little (assistant Monte) and myself will start turning up the aces."

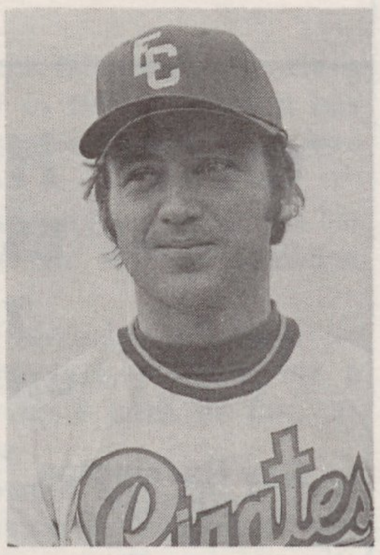

Assistant Coach Monte Little (L) and Head Coach George Williams.

PIRATE SWIM TEAM SWEEPS TO 8TH TITLE

CHARLIE KEMP

PAUL SCHIFFEL

Charlie Kemp and Paul Schiffel represent two outstanding reasons why East Carolina swept 18 of 18 championship events in the 1974 Southern Conference swim championships.

Kemp, a Charlotte, N.C. native won two first places in the 100 and 200-yard breastroke competition. He holds the varsity record in the 200 breastroke. As a freshman, he was voted "the most improved swimmer."

Schiffel, another Charlotte swimmer who will be a senior, swept first places in the 400-yard individual medley and the 200-yard backstroke events. He already holds two varsity and conference records in the 400 individual medley and 200 backstroke.

The incredible success story of East Carolina swimming reached an unprecedented high in 1973-74 when Coach Ray Scharf's swim team won it's eighth straight Southern Conference title by sweeping 18 of 18 championship events.

For head coach Scharf, a firm believer in swimming the best teams in the country to help improve his own problem, it represented another perfect 3-0 season and 7-4 overall mark. In his coaching career at ECU, Scharf has posted a 13-0 Southern Conference record and 51-38 overall record. In 1973-74, all four swimming losses were at the hands of nationally recognized powers—North Carolina State (6th nationally), North Carolina, Maryland and Army. The Pirates defeated South Florida, St. John's University, Richmond, Virginia, Catholic University, Appalachian State and Virginia Military Institute.

Pirate swim strength in 1973-74 was spread evenly from the freshmen ranks all the way through the veteran seniors. Diver Jack Morrow won the SC one and three-meter diving titles and was named an all-conference performer for the third consecutive year while at the other end of the ladder, Ross Bohlken and sophomore Charlie Kemp, both freshman, won two events apiece in the SC Championships.

The 1974-75 campaign promises to be more of the same winning tradition with solid performers like Mike Bretting, Ron Hughes, Ricky Prince, Paul Schiffel, Bobby Vail, Tom Falk, Larry Green, Kemp, Bohlken, David Kirkman, Ken Morin, Mark Puleo, Steve Ruedlinger and Ronnie Snell returning.

The Pirates face a grinding schedule which includes road meets at North Carolina State, North Carolina and Maryland. The Southern Conference Championships will be hosted by Appalachian State University in 1975.

"IT'S ALL BETWEEN YOUR EARS"

We are what we are and where we are because of our believing. We will be tomorrow what and where our believing takes us. No one rises beyond what he believes and beyond what he is taught. The idea is that you can succeed in anything that you BELIEVE you can do. Our quest is to reach for the seemingly "Impossible Dream" and make it come true. The law of believing is dynamically powerful. WHAT WE BELIEVE FOR OR EXPECT, WE GET. This applies in every realm: physical, mental, material, and spiritual, and it is directly related to our performance. A man who never accepts defeat can never be a loser.

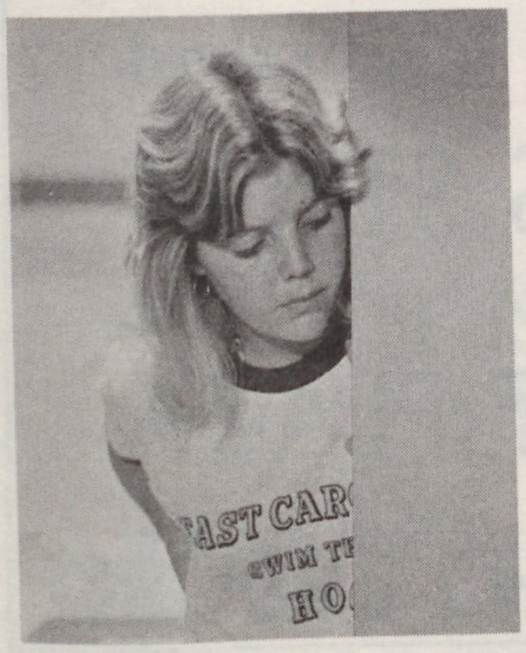

If we are to succeed we must have courage, desire and determination to overcome all obstacles. We demand a mental attitude that develops confidence and pride. You've got to have pride, because when two teams meet that are equal in ability, speed, and execution, it's the team that has pride that wins. It takes men of character to make a choice between winning and losing and each man has to believe in his ability; he must be mentally tough. "We don't have to beat the other team—they have to beat us!"

A coach leads by example and when he drives his swimmers hard, he drives himself harder. There is a genuine feeling of understanding and affection for my swimmers. I request 100% cooperation, loyalty and 120% effort. I strive to inspire confidence and to build character and integrity. You have to have a quality of intensity that leads people to believe that you've something that goes beyond swimming. We will always have conflicts—our ability to handle them will determine our level of success.

Our philosophy of a 120% effort does not come at the expense of academic excellence. A study hall for freshmen is held four nights weekly. We are continually striving for academic and athletic excellence; both can be obtained simultaneously and not at the expense of each other. To build character in all phases of our program, we strive to assist each individual who has personal or academic problems. To this end, we provide counciling and tutoring.

Our training program consists of a 2½ hour afternoon practice session with morning workouts planned around each student's class schedule. Workouts are planned to meet individual needs and are commensurate with individual and team goals. Total yardage varies with pre-season, season, and pre-championship training.

Ray Scharf

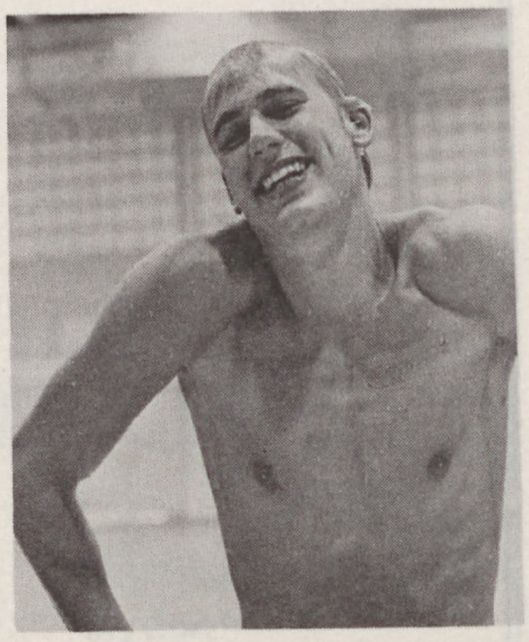

BARBARA SEACORD . . .

. . . when you are waiting for swim season, you have to be sad.

ROSS BOHLKEN

"Super Frosh" Ross Bohlken, a Greensboro, N.C. prepster, put together a solid rookie season in the college ranks climaxed by a double win in the Pirates' sweep to an eighth consecutive championship. Bohlken, a 6-6, 200-pounder, won the 100 and 200-yard freestyle events. He is expected to be one of the anchoring forces in the 1974-75 season. He will begin the season as the premiere freestyle sprinter in the Southern Conference.

MIKE BRETTING

Senior Mike Bretting came a long way to help East Carolina win three consecutive Southern Conference championships during his career here. A transfer from the University of California-Irvine, Bretting resides in Palos Verdes, California.

At East Carolina, Bretting resides as 1973-74 Southern Conference champion in the 200-yard and 100-yard butterfly events. He also has posted the second fastest butterfly time of all-time at ECU. In 1974-75, he will be one of the primary contributors in a bid for a ninth title.

LARRY GREEN

Larry Green's credentials already read like an East Carolina and Southern Conference distance freestyle record book. In 1973-74, the Penns Grove, N.J. swimmer won the 500 and 1650-yard freestyle events in the Southern Conference championships. He already holds the freshman, varsity and conference records in the events as well as placing third in the conference in the 400 individual medley two years ago. As a prep swimmer, he was named All-America and all-state.

TOM MARRIOTT

A stellar performer for Coach John Welborn's Southern Conference championship wrestling team. Marriott, a 142-pound class wrestler from Herkimer, N.Y., produced an outstanding 1973-74 season, winning the Southern Conference championship, the North Carolina Collegiate championship, the Thanksgiving Open championship and the Maryland Federation championship. Marriott, a junior, was one of seven East Carolina wrestlers to qualify for the NCAA National Championships in Ames, Iowa.

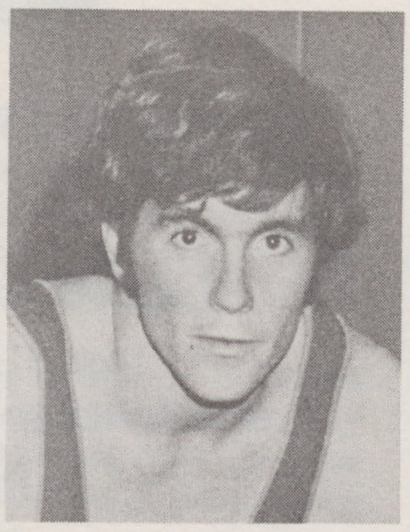

JIM BLAIR

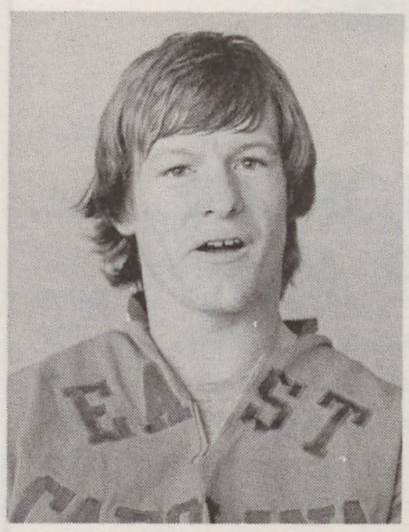

A former Southern Conference champion who won 118-pound championships in 1973-74 in the Colgate Open Championship, the Thanksgiving Open championship, the North Carolina Collegiate championship and the Georgia Tech championship. Blair, a Charlotte wrestler and physical education major, will be a senior this year.

MIKE RADFORD

A "Super Soph" wrestler in 1973-74, Mike won the Southern Conference championship in the 190-pound class and qualified for the NCAA Championships. He also posted a victory in the North Carolina Collegiate Championship and finished second in the Georgia Tech Open. He is a junior, majoring in physical education.

DANNY MONROE

A gritty performer in the 126-pound class. Sat out 1973-74 season with shoulder injury. As a sophomore, Danny earned victories in virtually every championship entered including the Colgate Open where he won the Outstanding Wrestler Award; in the Thanksgiving Open championship, the Maryland Federation championship; the North Carolina Collegiate championship; the Southern Conference championship; the Wilkes Open championship and the First Colonies championship.

Dave Patton Plans "CELTIC INFLUENCE" For 1973—74 Cage Season

The task confronting East Carolina University's first-year head basketball coach David Patton is not too removed from the one that faced another David of days gone by. The Pirates open their 1974-75 season with three consecutive road games at North Carolina State, Duke and Alabama.

"When I was offered the job, I told Coach Stasavich that I didn't start work until the fourth game," said Patton. "But, seriously, it is both an honor and a challenge to be playing top-ranked teams such as on the schedule.

"Think about it . . . nobody remembers how many people Goliath killed, but they remember who killed Goliath."

Patton will have a very talented crop of stone (er, basketball) throwers ready to play. Nine members of the 1973-74 team return, among them starters Robert Geter, Reggie Lee and Donnie Owens. Geter snagged 161 rebounds to lead the team last year, and is credited with being "a strong inside player with great leaping ability." Another returnee that will be expected to provide leadership ability for the Pirates is Owens, a senior guard from Etoile, Ky., who developed into what Patton termed "the best point guard in the conference" in 1973-74.

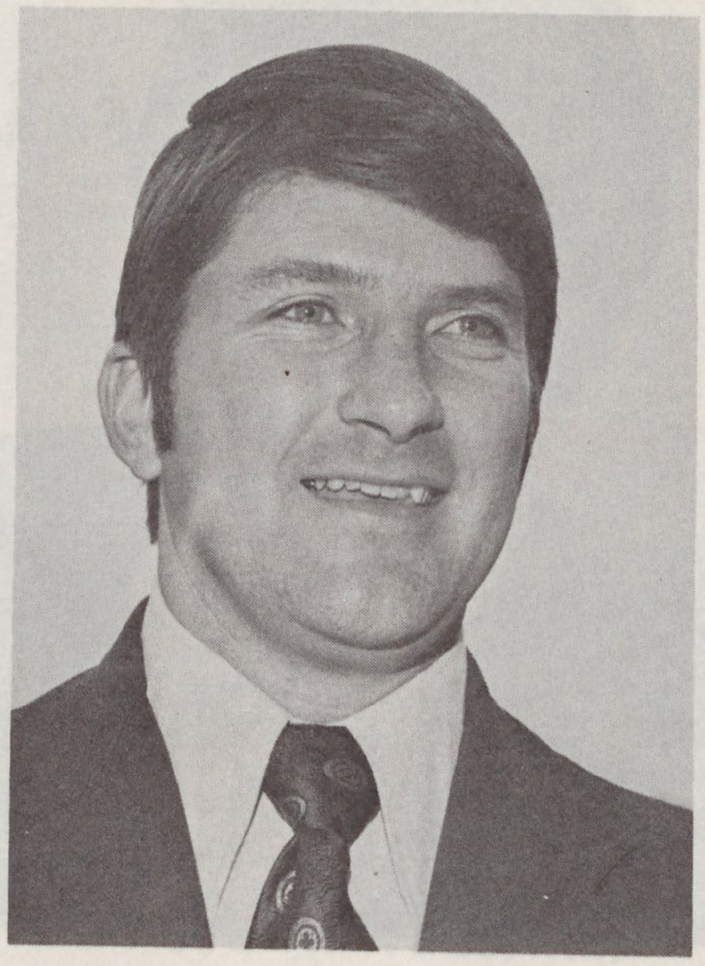

Lee, meanwhile, was a member of the Southern Conference's All-Freshman team, and averaged 11.6 per game. He is superb at making the driving lay-up in heavy traffic and will provide the Pirates with scoring punch from all over the court this season.

The Pirates open their home schedule against V.M.I., Dec. 10. It will be the first look the town of Greenville will have at what Patton calls "The Celtic Influence" in his ball club.

"We like, at least ideally and for visual effect at this time, to think that our style will be similar to what people saw in the Celtic-Milwaukee championship series of last year," said Patton. "We will put pressure all over the floor and we will want to spread the other team out and make them run."

Among the collective talents his team posses is a quantity of good shooters, individual quickness to use in the planned man-to-man and zone trap defenses and just plain "lots of people."

Among the other people Patton expects to have that will help the Pirates battle Furman and Davidson for the Southern Conference lead are Ken Edmonds ("fine floor leader and passer . . . expect him to provide the leadership he's capable of"), Al Edwards ("tremendous leaper . . . vertical jump close to David Thompson's . . . good rebounding and scoring help"), Buzzy Braman ("a good shooter and passer who loves to play . . . we expect him to perform well for us"), Greg Ashorn ("complete player . . . a Havlicek type who will do whatever is necessary to win), Tom Marsh ("if he continues shooting outside like he has before, he will be one of the best shooting forwards in the conference . . . a 'heady' player who is his own worst enemy") and Larry Hunt ("passionate desire to be an exceptional ballplayer . . . and I think he'll be one, possibly ECU's best big man ever).

With all these people returning, Patton would seem to be set. But he also has a junior-college All-American coming in Earl Garner and a transfer student, Ken Kellstrom, to match with high school recruits Wade Henkel, Dean Hartley, Erwin Durden and Henry Louis.

Though, like anyone else he has no idea what the future will bring in exact terms, Patton believes the Pirates will be competitive. He doesn't hesitate to make a good case in behalf of his coaching philosophy, either.

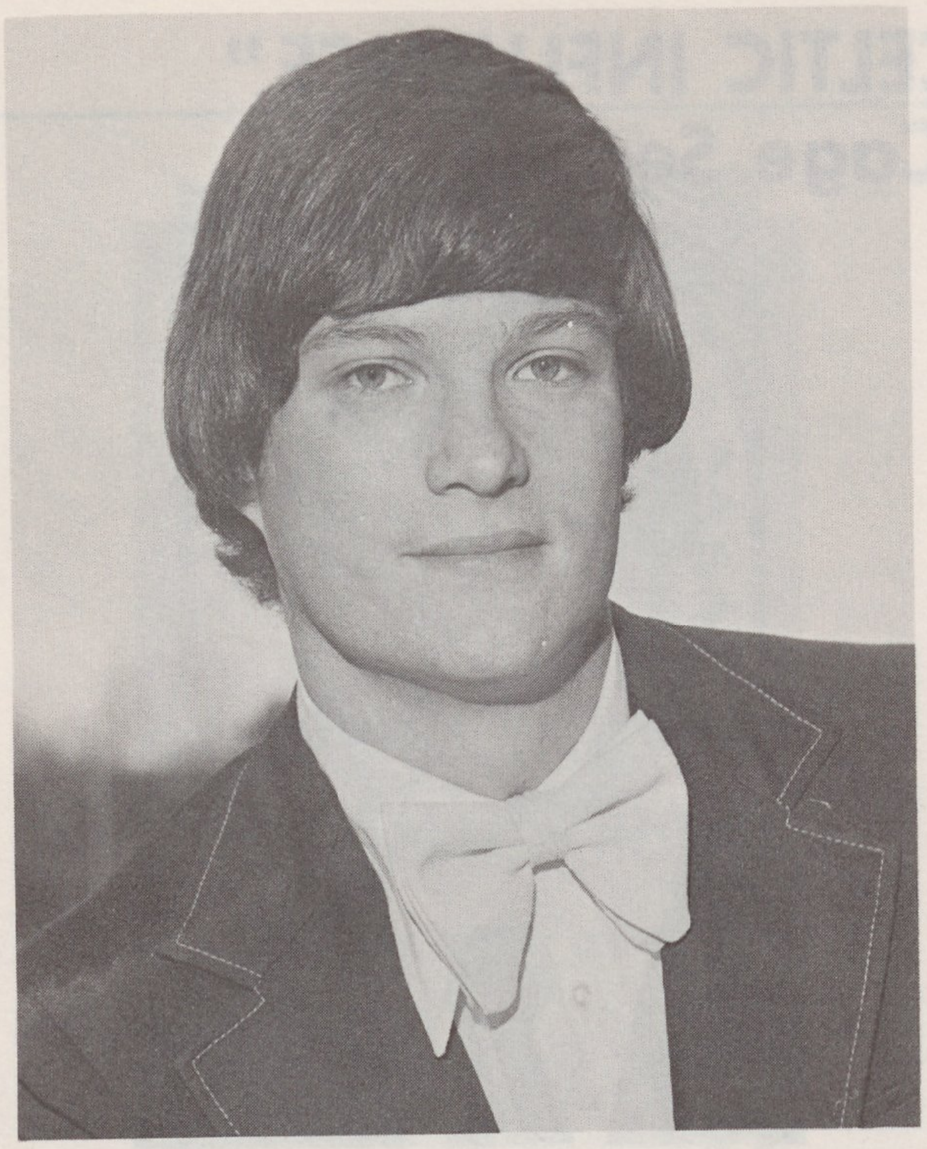

"Any team that will have a successful season has to get the breaks, regardless of the talent they have," said Patton. "Those 14 games on the road could keep us from having a great season . . . but things could go our way just as well.

"But basketball is a game that is supposed to be for fun . . . you run down the court and put a ball through the hoop. We, as coaches, have probably been the ones that have made it difficult, but we hope we can give the fan something he will come back for and our players something they will enjoy."

GEORGE ESTES HEADS CAGE RECRUITING PUSH

One of the most solid sources of support for first-year head basketball coach David Patton in the coming season will come from a man that, like Patton, is no stranger in Pirate cage circles: George "Butch" Estes.

Now entering his second season as a Pirate assistant, Estes said he enjoyed himself his first year. But more importantly, he is eagerly awaiting the coming campaign.

"We'll be improved," said Estes. "I look for us to be in the challenger's position in the upper division of the conference. And with one more good recruiting year, we can have East Carolina basketball where we and the fans want it."

Estes is a former High Point High School (now High Point Central) standout player. He went to North Carolina in 1969-71 as a recruit under head coach Dean Smith. Following his freshman year, he became an assistant coach with the Tar Heel freshman team.

Following graduation, Estes went to The Citadel as freshman coach, while working on his master's degree. During his two-year tenure there, his freshman teams won the most games in the school's history.

During the past season, aside from assisting with varsity coaching duties, Estes headed the basketball department's intensified recruiting program, which places emphasis on the entire eastern and midwestern sections of the United States. It has been due to his energetic recruiting and hard work that the Pirates had a very successful recruiting year. Now, Estes is looking forward to working once again at courtside with Patton.

"I am looking forward to working with Dave," said Estes. "He's young, enthusiastic, and I am lucky to be working with a coach with his (deleted?)

Estes, 25, has relinquished his role as one of the campus's most eligible bachelors since last season. He was married in June to the former Ann Johnson of Charlotte, N.C.

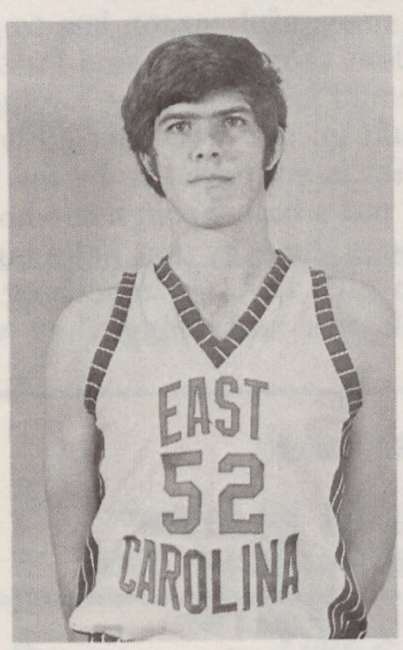

BILLY TAYLOR
Graduate Assistant

Billy Taylor, a former East Caroline University student and coach this past season at New Bern High School - MacDonald Junior High, will be along with Chuck Mohn in assisting Head Coach David Patton and assistant George Estes in coaching the 1974 Pirates.

Taylor, 23, a native of Greenville, played his high school basketball at Rose High and graduated from East Carolina University in 1969. He has coached in New Bern since graduation from ECU.

In addition to helping Patton and Estes, Taylor will commandeer the Pirate junior varsity club this season.

CHUCK MOHN
Graduate Assistant

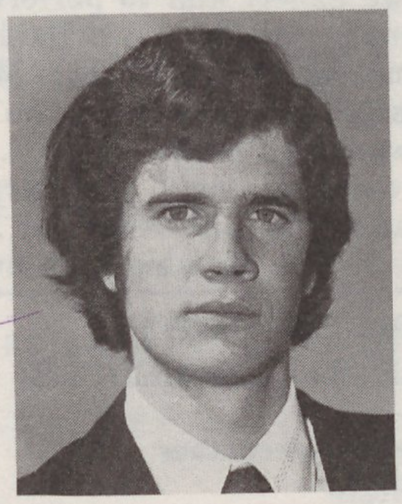

Chuck Mohn, a native of Fort Campbell, Ky., who lists his home in New Bern, is another addition to the Pirate coaching corps. The former Pirate basketballer was a high school standout at New Bern High School in football and baseball as well as basketball.

Mohn will serve as assistant junior varsity coach under Billy Taylor and will recruit locally.

Mohn played for the Pirates for the past two seasons after transferring from Duke University. An excellent shooter, Mohn was a forward. He hopes to go into college coaching full time after graduation from ECU with a Master's in physical education.

"VOICES OF THE PIRATES" — Lee Moore (L), Sports Director of WCTI-TV in New Bern, will serve as "color man" while Jim Woods, WNCT's Sports Director will handle the play by play.

PIRATE SPORTS NETWORK

The radio stations who make up the Pirate Sports Network make East Carolina's 1974-75 network one of the largest in the state in terms of both number of stations and population covered.

It is estimated that more than one and one-half million people will be able to hear East Carolina football and basketball on Pirate Sports Network outlets stretching from the Raleigh-Durham area all the way to the Atlantic Ocean (Wanchese and Wilmington).

Jim Woods, Sports Director for Greenville's WNCT-TV, returns after a two-year absence as the "Voice of the Pirates" while Lee Moore, the Sports Director of WCTI-TV in New Bern will serve as Woods color man.

Woods is a veteran sportscaster who served as the "Voice of the Pirates" for five years. He currently hosts eastern North Carolina's top ranked television sports show. A native of New Jersey, Woods has been in broadcasting for 24 years. He is experienced in play-by-play descriptions of basketball, baseball, boxing, stock car racing as well as football.

Moore, who came to eastern North Carolina three years ago, is a native of Hamilton, Ohio where he worked as a newspaper sports writer and also as a broadcaster of football and basketball games in Hamilton. He has worked as play-by-play commentator for Miami University (Ohio) football and basketball and at the time, worked with Joe Nuxhall, now a broadcaster for the Cincinnati Reds.

Following an Air Force service stint in Japan and work with the Far East Network, Moore obtained an A.B. Degree in Education from Morehead State University in Morehead, Ky. Since coming to WCTI-TV in New Bern, he has hosted the Sonny Randle Show and covered the Kemper and Greater Greensboro Open golf tournaments for the Mutual Radio Network.

"PAT DYE SHOW" BOASTS AIRING IN PRIME TIME

EAst Carolina's "Pat Dye Show" will be aired in prime time in 1974 at 10 p.m. Sunday evenings on WNCT-TV (Greenville) and later on WRAL-TV in Raleigh. Other outlets, further extending East Carolina's strong coverage area, will be announced later.

With the 10 p.m. prime time placement, the "Pat Dye Show" will be one of the few coaches' shows across the state aired in prime time so that viewers of all ages can see East Carolina football first hand.

The "Pat Dye Show" will be hosted by Jim Woods, WNCT-TV Sports Director. It will feature Coach Pat Dye as well as East Carolina assistant coaches and players, game footage, interesting and informative interviews with players and coaches as well as other personalities around the East Carolina program, an up-to-date rundown on the Southern Conference race and a discussion of upcoming opponents.

Coach Dye, assistant coaches and players will also be a regular feature on the WNCT-TV's "Carolina Today" morning program, beginning Sept. 11. The show airs from 6:30 a.m. Monday thru Friday.

Methods Have Changed !

During our 43 year history, methods and equipment have changed. But, there is one thing that has weathered the test of time – our way of doing business. We believe that a satisfied customer is one of our greatest assets. Whether his operation is large or small, we still think he is an important part of our future. As we begin our 44th year of serving contractors in Eastern and Central North Carolina, we will make a firm promise: not to change our method of doing business.
