Paladin Scouting Report

East Carolina faces a team that is very much like itself...started out slowly, but has since picked up a full head of steam. For a look at the Paladins, see pages 4-6.

Mourning And Fond Memories

Coach Stas had many people think of him in many ways, but the notation "enemy" wasn't ever used. Leaders from throughout the University, the State and the football universe speak on his passing. Notes and a biographical look appear on page 99-100.

HOME OF THE PALADINS

A KEY SYMBOL that traditionally explains the elegance maintained throughout the Furman University campus, located just north of Greenville, S. C., is the front entrance (right). A leisurely recreational pursuit such as canoeing in the campus lake in front of the Bell Tower is also a common sight at Furman.

PALADIN SCOUTING REPORT

No Reason For Change

One can bet that East Carolina University head football coach Pat Dye has not changed his feelings of a year ago about the Furman Paladins.

"They gave us more problems down there last year than any team we faced," Dye said, recalling the Pirates' 15-12 comback victory. "They should be a real test for us, after beating Appalachian and playing VMI as close as they did."

Outstanding Passer

David Whitehurst, a 6-2, 195-pound product of Decatur, Ga., directs the Paladin offense. An ankle injury slowed him most of last season, but he has bounced back to lead the team to a 4-3 record.

Whitehurst has 11 touchdowns rushing and passing this season. One more will tie the school record. He has 961 yards total offense, and of this, he has hit on 57 of 110 pass attempts and has been intercepted only five times this season.

Outstanding Receiver

The leading receiver is Tommy Southard, a wide receiver who has 15 catches for two touchdowns and a 15.3 yards-per-catch average. Southard was a freshman last season, and recorded some time as a defensive back on the Paladin junior varsity squad.

Outstanding Rusher

Rushing at one position for the Paladins this year has been Larry Robinson. A 5-10, 180-pound junior from Hogansville, Ga., Robinson has 552 yards on 114 caries, good for a 4.8 yards-per-carry average.

Outstanding Kicker

Andy Goss, a tailback like Robinson, is also the team's placekicker. The 5-11, 185-pound junior from Silver Spring, Md., has hit on his last 25 consecutive extra-point tries, dating back to last season.

Overall Offense

The 407 yards total offense against William & Mary in last week's battle was the most the Paladins have rolled up this season. The Paladins have been extra fumble conscious this season, after letting the ball go 44 times and losing 31 of them in 1974. This season, the Paladins have lost only eight of 15.

An Interesting Challenge

Whitehurst has not been intercepted in the last two games, both won by the Paladins...and he has only been intercepted five times all season.

East Carolina's defensive secondary, led by Jim Bolding, has picked off 19 enemy aerials this season. Bolding's seven puts him nationally-ranked in that category, while teammates Reggie Pinkney (five) and Ernest Madison (three) aren't very far behind.

Defensive Counterparts

Mark Gordon, a 5-9, 190-pound junior from Nevada, Mo., could cause problems for the Pirate aerial attack. Gordon has picked off six tosses, all in the last four games.

Is There A Decisive Edge?

The Paladins have been outscored in the fourth quarter, 64-36. However, in the third quarter, the Paladins have a 45-3 edge.

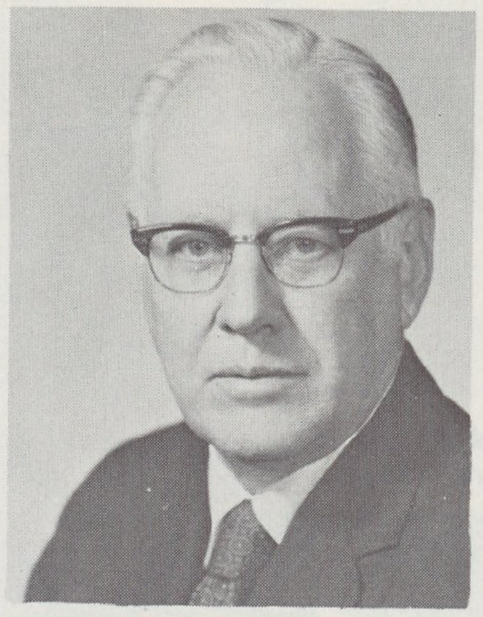

East Carolina, meanwhile, has outscored its opponents 61-34 in the fourth quarter. The Pirates have outscored their opponents in the third quarter as well, and this coming by a 42-24 margin.

Coach Baker On The Strengths

"We have experience at all defensive front and offensive line and backfield positions," said Baker. "The defensive front, led by all-conference candidate Larry Anderson at linebacker, is quick and aggressive and should provide many exciting moments."

Coach Baker On Team Weaknesses

"The most glaring weakness would probably be our secondary, where we have been the strongest for the last two years, finishing third in the nation last season," said Baker. "Depth would be a second problem, at quarterback and the receiving positions."

Dr. Gordon Blackwell
President

John West
Athletic Director

Coach Baker On Tonight's Game

"East Carolina University showed so much everything: class, offense, defense, you name it," said Baker on the over UNC-Pirate win. "For us to be coming up there to play and have a good effort will take a lot of work this week.

"The Pirates are very similar to our team in that both started slow and have developed. The difference is that they have played tougher competition, and have just beaten an ACC school.

What It Will Take For The Paladins

"We will have to play much sharper football," said Baker. "We will have to play better football than we did last year, because we lost. We have won our last three games, but we will have to be better this week than ever before."

OFFICE OF THE CHANCELLOR

Friends, Fans, Supporters, Alumni and Visitors,

Welcome to Greenville and East Carolina University. We are pleased and happy to have you with us today.

We are proud of our growing University and of the State and this great region that we serve. This is our motto at East Carolina University, "To Serve." Our goal is not only to do things well, but better.

Athletic competition, in developing individual character, complements the academic program. In its finest tradition, it is exhiliarating, exciting and rewarding to players and fans alike. It lifts our spirits and brings the realization that hard work and determination persevere.

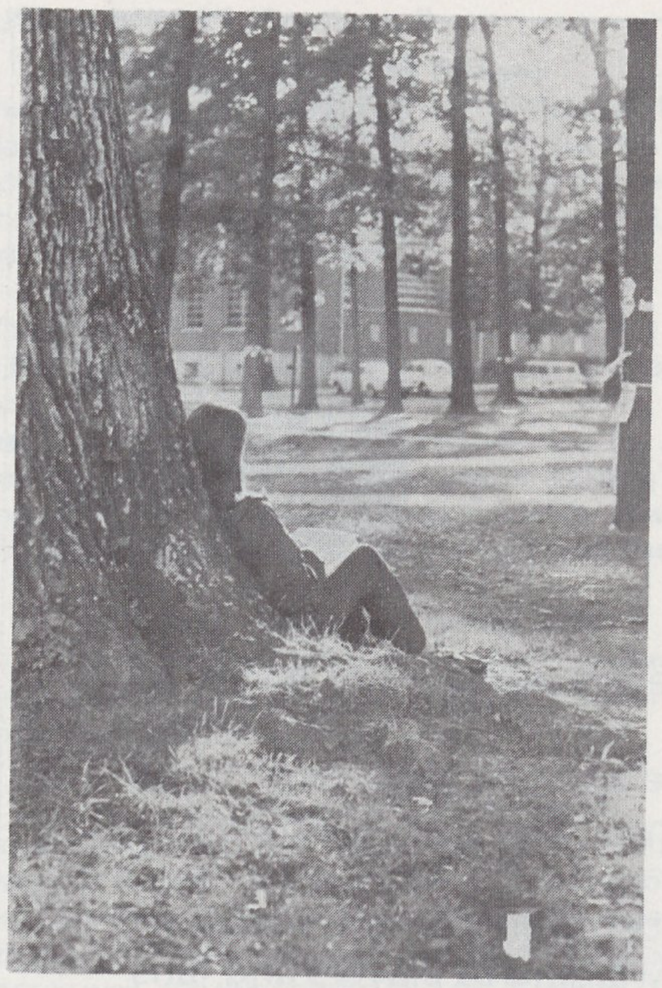

Thus we salute the teams and the institutions they represent on the playing field today.

Cordially,

Leo W. Jenkins

Leo W. Jenkins,
Chancellor

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

East Carolina University, the focal point of development in eastern North Carolina, has rapidly but orderly grown from a normal school to a multipurpose institution during its 67 years of service to the region and the state.

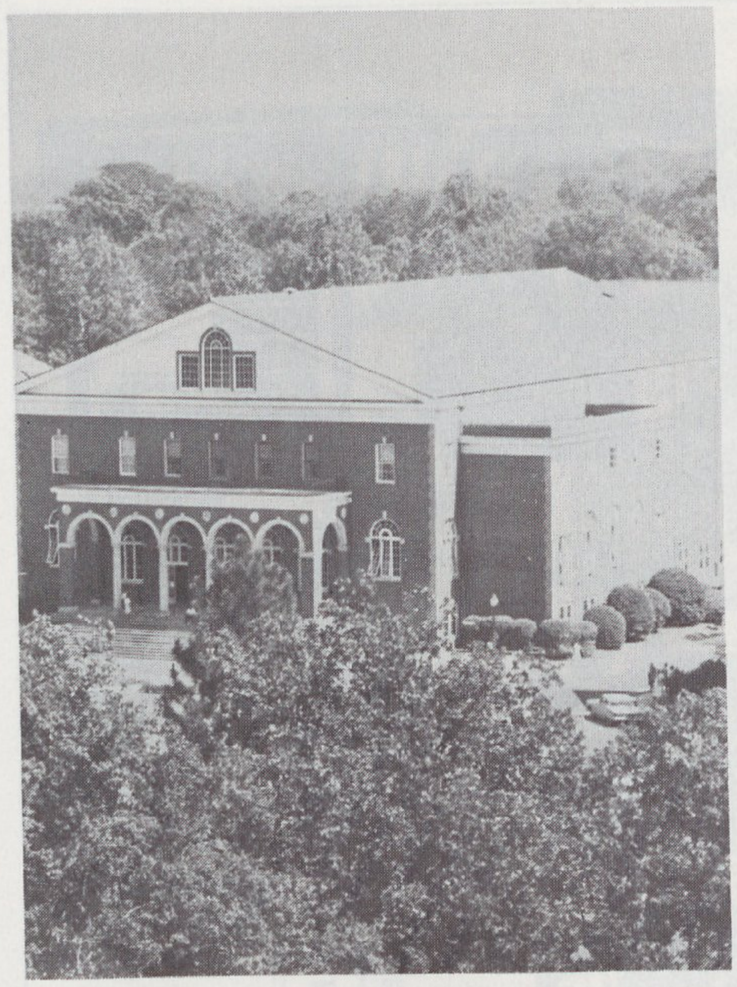

Chartered by the General Assembly in 1907 as East Carolina Teachers Training School, the University has grown from an enrollment of 123 in 1907 to more than 11,000 in 1975, making East Carolina the third largest institution of higher learning in North Carolina. Students from 97 of North Carolina's 100 counties, 40 states, and 15 foreign countries attend East Carolina.

The campus encompasses approximately 600 acres. Most of the classroom buildings, research facilities, and residence halls are lass than 10 years old. The total physical plant is valued at more than $55,000,000.

The athletic complex alone totals 79 acres. It consists of Minges Natatorium and Coliseum, Scales Fieldhouse, Ficklen Stadium, the Pirate Club Building, Harrington Field, the Sports Medicine Complex, the Mike Bunting Track and Field and the tennis courts.

East Carolina currently fields twelve varsity teams for men: football, basketball, baseball, cross-country, soccer, wrestling, indoor track, swimming, golf, tennis, rifle, and outdoor track.

East Carolina was classified as a Division I NCAA representative in 1964. The Pirates also entered the Southern Conference in 1964 and have been members for the past eleven years.

In 1920, East Carolina was authorized to offer four-year teacher education degrees and to grant a bachelor of arts degree. A year later, the school name was changed to East Carolina Teachers College.

During the period from 1934 to 1960, the school continued to grow, though not as spectacularly in terms of enrollment. A curriculum leading to a bachelor of arts degree was authorized in 1941 as the college expanded to meet more occupational needs. By 1951, undergraduate majors were offered in 17 areas and graduate programs in ten areas. In that year, the General Assembly changed the school name to East Carolina College.

A major turning point for East Carolina University, both academically and athletically, came in 1960 when Dr. Leo W. Jenkins was inaugurated as the school's sixth Chancellor. Under his leadership, East Carolina College became East Carolina University in 1967 and enrollment more than doubled in a ten year period.

Today, East Carolina, a national leader in teacher preparation, has expanded its academic programs to offer undergraduate majors in 26 areas and graduate programs in 22 areas. Aside from the College of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate School and the School of Medicine, there are seven professional schools: Allied Health Professions, Art, Business, Education, Home Economics, Music and Nursing.

EAST CAROLINA AND ATHLETICS

East Carolina fields athletic teams in all 12 varsity sports sanctioned by the Southern Conference.

In the fall, the Pirates field teams in football, cross country, and soccer. Winter finds teams in basketball, indoor track, swimming, wrestling and rifle. Spring athletic teams are baseball, outdoor track, golf and tennis. The swim team has won nine straight conference titles and the wrestling team four straight titles.

In addition to conference competition, East Carolina athletic teams compete against many schools from the Atlantic Coast Conference and other eastern schools.

The athletic teams are provided with excellent facilities. Ficklen Stadium serves as the home for the East Carolina University football team, conference champions in 1972 and 1973. The football training facilities and locker rooms are housed in Scales Field House behind Ficklen Stadium.

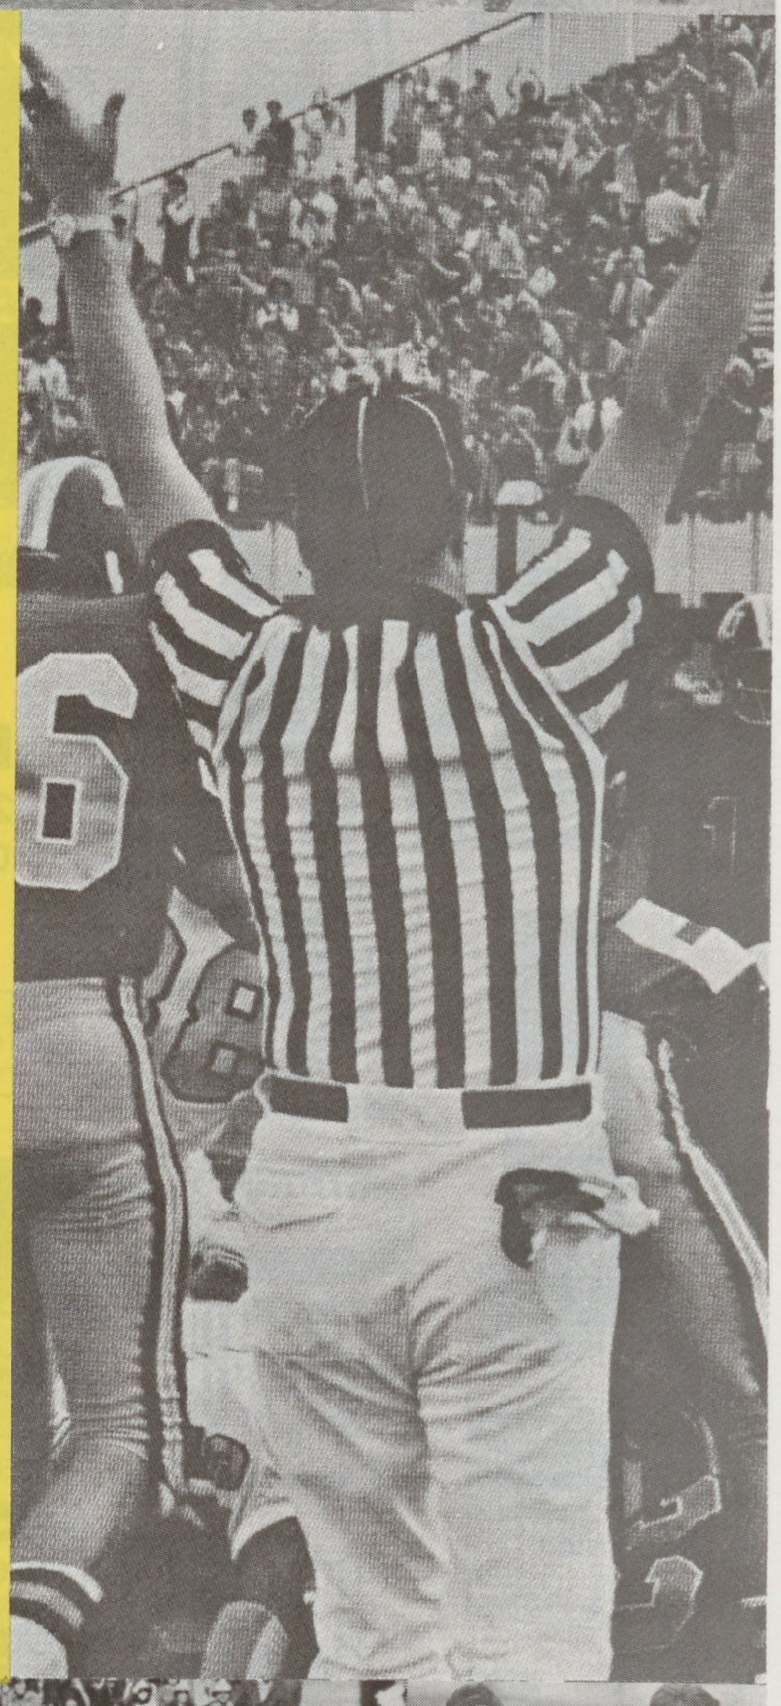

Bunting Track and Field serves as the home for the Pirates' outdoor track team.

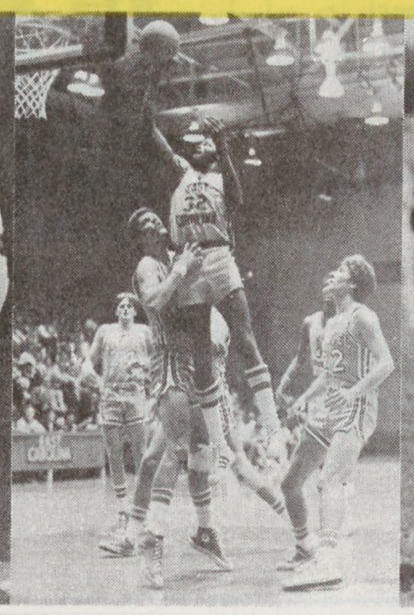

Minges Coliseum is the principle fixture of the Pirates' athletic complex. The home wrestling matches are held in Minges, and the 6,500 seat coliseum is the site of the home basketball games. Minges also houses the athletic offices.

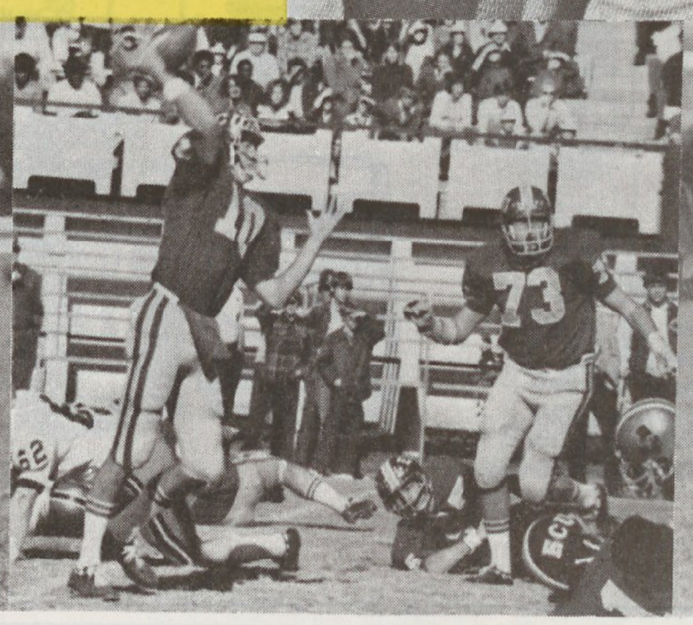

Minges Natatorium is also located in Minges Coliseum. It is one of the finest swim facilities in the Southeast. Among the items which make it so are the automatic timing devices, electronic scoreboard which measures the times to the .01 of a second, exclusive swimming dressing rooms, no windows or glare, and television and radio capabilities. in addition, the area has a seperate, unaffixed diving area which can be used as a warm-up area for swimmers.

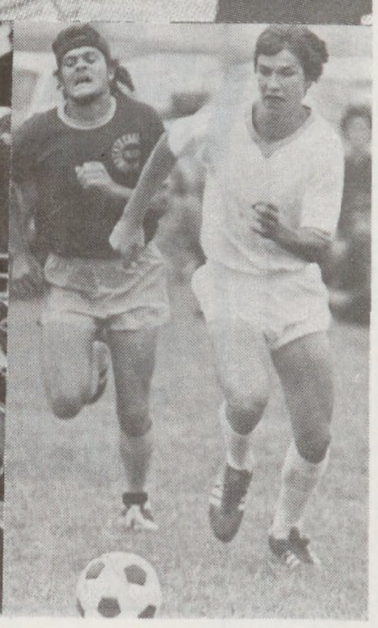

The baseball facility, Harrington Field, is also regarded as one of the finest facilities in the southeast. The field is symmetrically built and provides excellent lighting and background for both batters and fielders.

Win or lose, the East Carolina athletic teams enjoy some of the finest facilities in the conference for some of the finest teams in the conference.

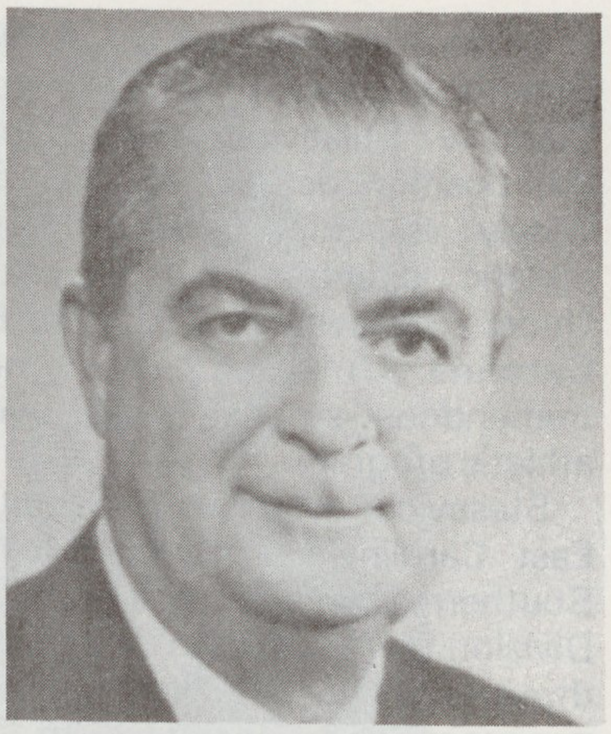

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY'S DYNAMIC LEADER

DR. LEO W. JENKINS

Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, now in his 15th year as Chancellor of East Carolina University, is widely known as one of the most distinguished administrators and educators in the nation. And more, he is also one of the most ardent supporters of the Pirate athletic program.

Dr. Jenkins came to East Carolina as dean of East Carolina Colege (1947) and eventually Vice-President (1957-60) before being named Chancellor of the University.

Prior to coming to East Carolina, Dr. Jenkins served two years as Assistant to the Commissioner for Higher Education in the New Jersey State Department of Education. Before that he was a professor of political science and history at Montclair Teachers College, Montclair, N.J.

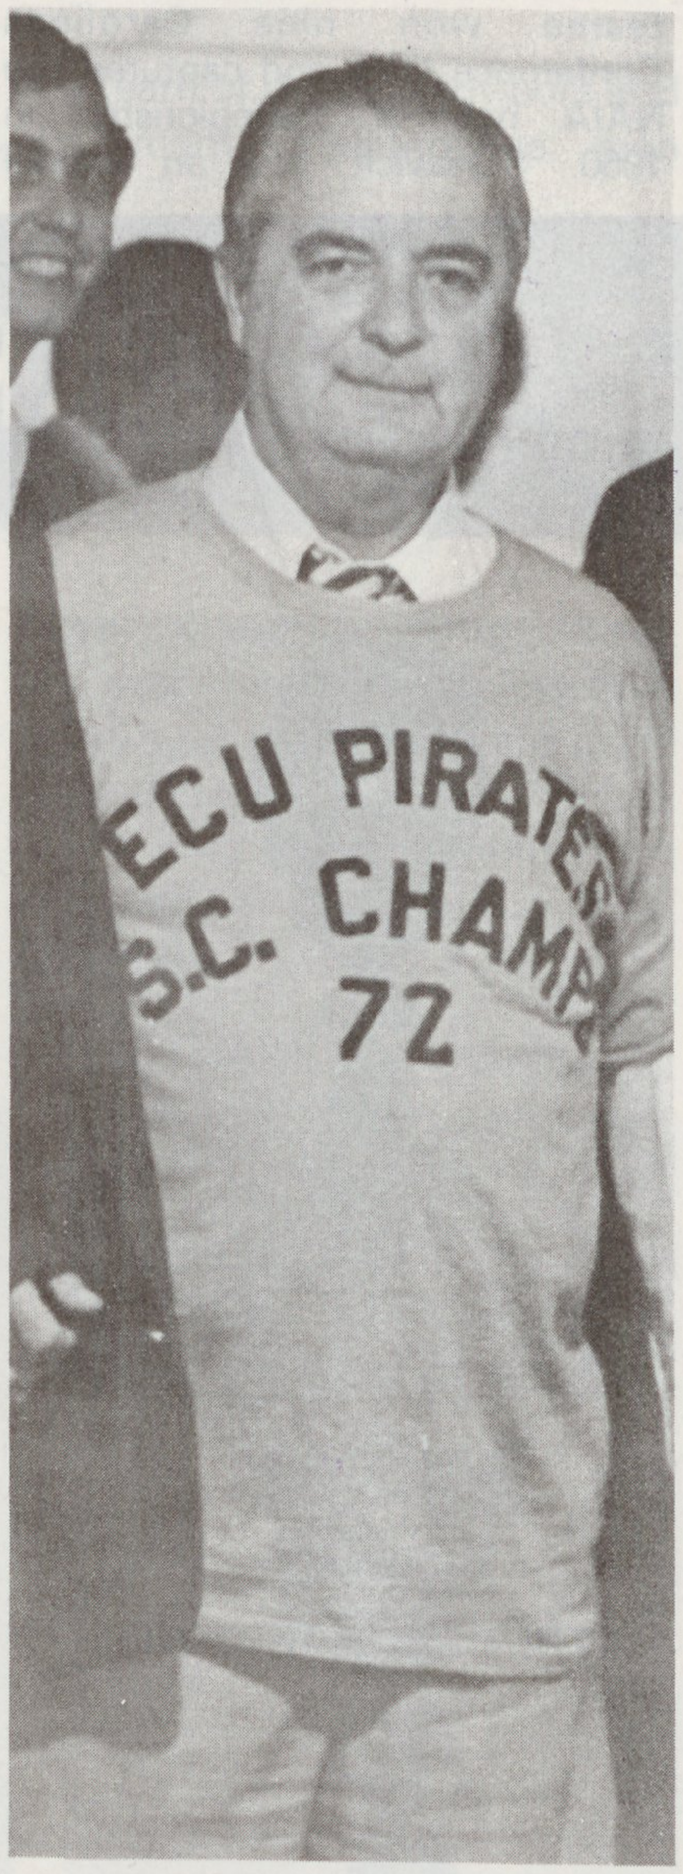

Dr. Jenkins was born in Succasunna, New Jersey, May 28, 1913, the son of Warren Malin and Cecelia McPeek Jenkins. He graduated from Jefferson High School for Boys in 1928 and then went on to receive his B.S. Degree from Rutgers in 1935, his M.A. from Columbia in 1939 and his Ed.D. from New York University in 1941. He has also attended Duke University and Harvard University Institute for College Presidents.

He was a major in the U.S. Marine Corps during World War II and was awarded the Bronze Star and two Presidential Citations in the Pacific.

Dr. Jenkins currently holds memberships on the Board of Directors of Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company and Wachovia Bank and Trust Company. He is Chairman of the North Carolina Council of Presidents of State Supported Universities and a member of the North Carolina Atomic Energy Advisory Commission.

A strong interest in intercollegiate athletics is indicated by Dr. Jenkins' affiliation with numerous athletic organizations, including the Triangle Chapter of the National Football Hall of Fame, of which he is director.

He is married to the former Lillian Jacobson of Lavallette, N.J., and they have six children: James, Jeffery, Suzanne, Patricia, Sallie, and Jack.

CLARENCE STASAVICH

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

In thirteen years as the Athletic Director at East Carolina University, Clarence Stasavich has achieved the position as one of the most widely respected and prominent athletic directors in the nation. Under Stasavich's direction, East Carolina University has made tremendous strides in its overall athletic program.

Stasavich was instrumental in East Carolina's entrance into the Southern Conference and NCAA Division I major college ranks. While directing' the Pirate athletic program, he assisted in the development of Ficklen Stadium, Minges Coliseum, Scales Field House, and the Bunting Track and field.

Stasavich came to East Carolina in 1962 from small college power Lenoir Rhyne where he coached for sixteen years. His Lenoir Rhyne teams won nine Carolinas Conference titles and captured the NAIA national championship in 1960. Stasavich had an overall coaching record of 120 wins, 37 losses, and seven ties while at Lenoir Rhyne.

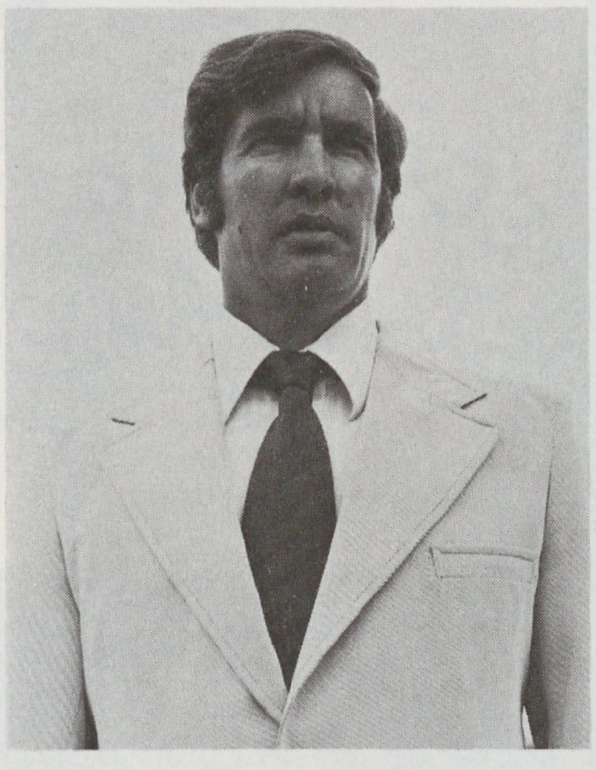

Beginning in 1963, three of his East Carolina teams posted 9-1 records in succession and participated in three consecutive post-season bowl games. The Pirates were victorious in all three winning the Eastern Bowl in 1963 and the Tangerine Bowl in 1964 and 1965.

The first year East Carolina was a member of the Southern Conference, 1964, the Pirates tied for the league title.

Stasavich's lifetime coaching record stands at 170 wins, 64 losses, and eight ties. He is a member of the Helms Hall of Fame and has been honored as National Coach-of-the-Year twice, in 1959 at Lenoir Rhyne and in 1964 at East Carolina. He has also been named district Coach-of-the-Year five times.

Stasavich was born February 9, 1913, in Georgetown, Illinois. He graduated from Georgetown Township High School in 1931 and earned an A.B. Degree in Science from Lenoir Rhyne College in 1935. He received his M.A. from the University of North Carolina in 1946.

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

BILL CAIN

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

There breathes no Department of Athletics activity without the intervention of Bill Cain.

In his eighth year at East Carolina, the Rockingham native has become known as the guy who, whether it be getting an office painted, a car repaired or a VIP entertained, gets things done.

It has always been that way for Cain. He played football at ECU in the late 1950's under AD Clarence Stasavich. He came to East Carolina as freshman football coach in 1968 after a seven-year stint as a successful high school coach. He has also been the business manager for athletics prior to taking his current position.

Cain handles all scheduling for minor sports in addition to assisting Stasavich with administrative duties of the athletic department, which include stadium and coliseum operations. In the spring, for the first time this year, he will be the Pirate tennis coach.

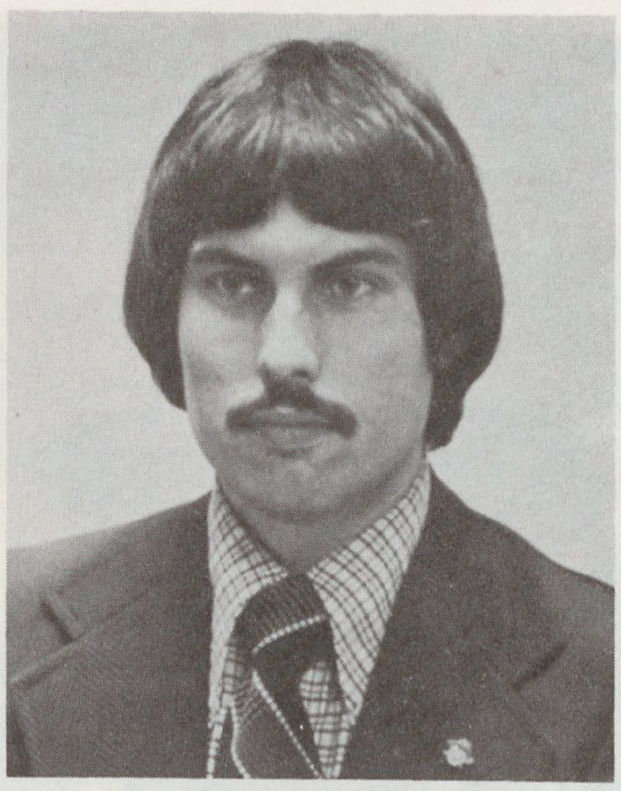

Cain is married to Francis Johnson of Roanoke Rapids, N.C. They have two sons, Lance (14) and Tracy (10).

In addition to Coach Stas and Bill Cain, there are some Rod Compton, Director of Sports Medicine, and his full- the team of medical advisors and the many maintenance men additional people in the Department of Athletics who contribute to the welfare of the program.

Clifton G. Moore, Vice-Chancellor for Business Affairs, serves as Faculty Athletic Chairman. It is he who has to approve the large expenditures and sign the paychecks.

Earline Leggett, Business Manager for the Department of Athletics, works primarily with ticket sales and Athletic Department expenditures.

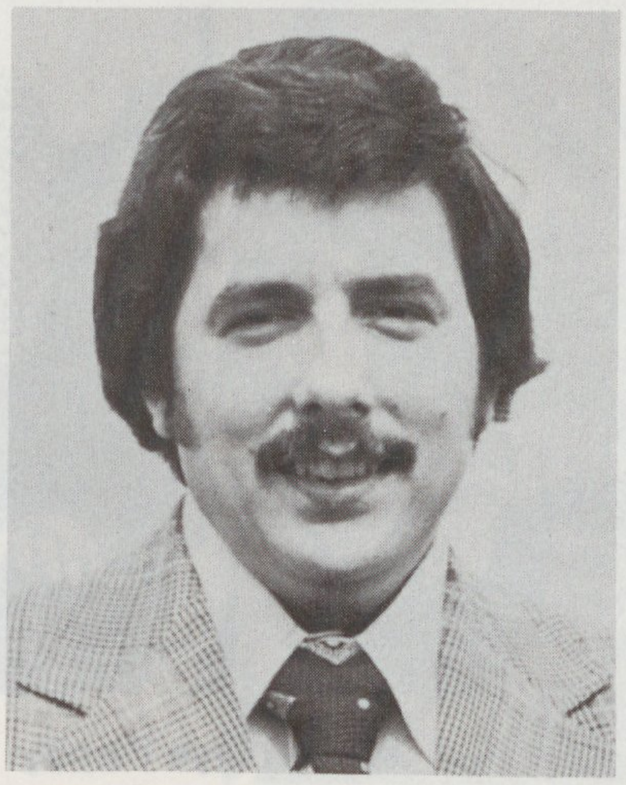

Ken Smith, Director of Sports Information and Promotions, is in charge of beating the Pirate drums throughout the state, which includes promoting ticket sales and handling the Pirate Sports Network.

time and newly hired assistant, Ronnie Barnes, have the task of keeping the Pirate athletes healthy, if not wealthy or wise.

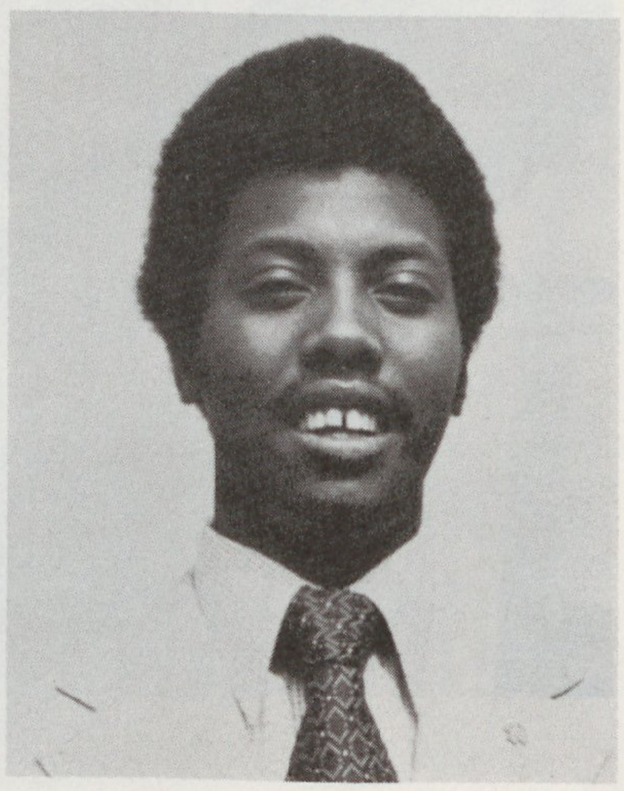

There are a number of other people who work around the Athletic Department, including from Campus who have prepared the facility you see here today and keep it looking good all year long.

In short, the teamwork stretches a long way at East Carolina.

RONNIE BARNES

PAT DYE

Head Coach

"The Most Solid Citizen . . ."

By Willie Patrick

Sports Information Assistant

He stood in the aisle between the practice fields, gazing at the activity that surrounded him. Dressed in a grey and white that seemed to have floated from the overhead 6:50 a.m. sky, he blended well with the surrounding people.

Without the purple-gold baseball cap, one may have dismissed him as just a curious onlooker, eager to see what the 1975 East Carolina University Pirates would put on the field with the season opener only three weeks away.

And that observation would be correct, even more so than the uninformed could hope to realize. Pat Dye was watching the first ECU practice session with the intense, ever-searching stare that comes with being the head football coach.

To the 125-or-so performers running through the technique drills, Aug. 18 had been marked as the first official day of practice. Their day began with a wake-up call at 6:20. Dye's day began much earlier.

"I woke up at about 2, 2:30, 4, 4:30," Dye explained. "But I didn't get out of bed until six." In essence, Aug. 18 didn't really ever start for Dye. It's just that the day before never really ended.

There has been a succession of long days for Dye since the 35-year-old native of Blythe, Ga., came to East Carolina. First, he had to put together a coaching staff. Then he and the staff had to start finding some football players to replace graduating seniors who had ruled the Southern Conference for two straight seasons.

Dye put together a staff and he and the staff found some football players or as he put it frequently, "solid citizens." They, along with the returnees from the previous squad, were solid enough for a 7-4 record but a third place conference finish. That 3-3 statistic is what bothers Dye the most, and in turn, it is the one the Pirates will be working the hardest on in 1975.

But 1974 is in the past, and the world, particularly of football, belongs to those who keep up with the time. This brings one's focus directly to Dye once more on that clear August morning, because he has vowed to keep up with the time, and in his own vocally quiet but silently forceful manner, he circled the inside of the practice area in the manner of a person well-schooled in the technique of "stall-walking," a technique familiar to horses but earlier learned as linebacker coach at the University of Alabama.

Dye was also in charge of recruiting during the nine-year stint with the Crimson Tide. After observing him in action speaking to players, prospects and the press, it is easy to see why the Tide have had such success in getting quality platers. He has a down-home style, and with a Southern drawl, one can't help but feel at ease when he speaks of "solid citizens, winners with speed and strength," and other notable aspects of an otherwise brutal game.

The game was played at Richmond Academy in Augusta, Ga., and later at the University of Georgia by Dye. A three-year letterman in both high school and college, Dye served as a Bulldog alternate co-captain with Fran Tarkenton. Georgia won the Southeastern Conference championship in 1959 and defeated Missouri 14-0 in the Orange Bowl. He later played pro ball two years with the Edmonton Eskimoes of the Canadian Football League.

As Dye walked, he remarked that one freshman running back reminded him of another back he had seen working out earlier, Carlester Crumpler. But as he walked and talked, his mind seemed to be light years ahead . . . he seemed to be seeing future professional players at work ?

Hardly would that be the case. If there were some Carl Summerells, Les Strayhorns or Danny Kepleys in the crowd, Dye didn't acknowledge them. He just seemed more interested in helping some young men develop into solid citizens, one could speculate, but one would never really know for sure.

A lot of things were racing through Pat Dye's mind before and during the first 1975 practice session, one can bet. As the sun became more visible and the session neared its finish, he remarked that "the morning is a good time for a learning session. Things can go pretty light for both the coaches and players, but you can still learn at the same time."

That's Pat Dye. He can be silent, but his mind is whirring with the speed (if not the sound) of 1,000 generators. He may be seemingly unnoticed but you can bet every player there knows where he is at all times, down to the exact step. He has a sense of where he is and where he is going, that being to heights he would like to be able to obtain on his own as a head coach he knows he will need something solid to aid him in his search.

All the solid elements of success at an unblended stage, were present for the first practice. Of course, you must include Pat Dye in that list, he being the most solid citizen of them all.

ASSISTANT COACHES

East Carolina University has probably one of the youngest though finest coaching staffs in the country.

Wright Anderson coaches the offensive backs. He is in charge of academics and summer jobs as well.

Watson Brown is the quarterback coach. He handles the film room duties, pro scouts and helps supervise dormitory life for the Pirates.

Henry Trevathan is in charge of wide receivers, recruiting, and offensive specialty teams. At 46, he is the exception to the Pirate "youth" movement, but his experience is a tempering force.

Richard Kupec returns to East Carolina after a three-year absence. He is the offensive line coach, and helps with rules, officials, academics and recruiting.

Ben Grieb is the only former ECU player on the coaching staff. The defensive line coach, he is in charge of academics and the computer scouting program.

Frank Orgel, a former Buffalo Bill of the old AFL, is the linebacker coach. He aids in organizing the off season workouts and the equipment and managers.

Lanny Norris, defensive back coach, takes care of the Pirate book room as well as supervise dormitory life during the year.

The newest member of the staff is Rick Bankston, who will coach defensive ends and supervise the Pirates in weightlifting. He is a former coach at the University of Tampa and Iowa State University.

Best Wishes to The Pirates . . .

Members of our Greenville Regional Agency know the hard work and preparation it takes to put together a winning team. We know of the hard work and training that goes on behind the scenes long before the game begins.

Jefferson Standard is good behind the scenes. Since 1907 we've been continually re-thinking the essence of life insurance, upgrading our policies and recruiting the best talent we can find.

When a Jefferson Standard agent calls on you, you can be confident he not only talks a good game . . . he has support behind the scenes that makes him one of the best life insurance men to be found in the field today.

"D U" A TOTAL PROGRAM

To almost all wildlife, water is necessary to their survival. Thus, "DUCKS UNLIMITED'S" WATER IMPOUNDMENTS represents a total environmental improvement program. Estimates are that over 300 wildlife species directly benefit from "D U" habitat improvement projects.

"Our objective is to provide necessary funds for conserving canadian wetlands and creating new area breeding habitat in nesting grounds of canada. DU gifts are TAX DEDUCTIBLE!

A $10.00 membership entitles you to receive a one-year subscription to the "DUMAGAZINE."

A $20.00 membership entitles you to also receive a special "Duckological" report directly from CANADA, reporting up-to-date habitat conditions.

SPONSORS are those members who contribute $200.00 a year to the programs of DUCKS UNLIMITED. A SPECIAL PIN is designed for the Sponsors.

1975 FOOTBALL MANAGERS

One of the secrets of success of any athletic team is the success of the team manager. His duties may include anything from handing out equipment, washing uniforms, etc., to piecing shoulder pads back together after a particularly vicious blow delivered to a team member by an opponent.

Doug Dickens is in charge of the situation for East Carolina University's football Pirates, and he comes to the position well prepared. Dickens' older brother Bill preceeded him as a Pirate manager by 10 years.

A junior health-physical education major, Dickens will have adequate help this season from Jack Andrews, a sophomore from Wilmington, N.C., and Don Johnson, a freshman from Rocky Mount, N.C.

Throughout the season, on a limited basis, the trio will be training high school student Mac Stokes.

Designed in cooperation with leading orthopedic surgeons for comfortably firm support—"no morning backache from sleeping on a too-soft mattress."

DID YOU KNOW . . .

. . . That Kenny Strayhorn stands number six on the all-time rushing list for East Carolina. . Strayhorn needs only 146 yards to move ahead of his brother Les (no. 5), only 261 yards to move ahead of Tom Michel (no. 4), 585 yards to move ahead of Dave Alexander (no. 3) and 985 yards to move ahead of Butch Colson (no. 2).

. . . That Kenny Strayhorn needs only 320 yards to become the number nine all-time total offensive player in ECU history. . Strayhorn has 1527 yards total offense, only 320 yards behind Neal Hughes (no. 9), only 365 yards behind Tom Michel (no. 8), 400 yards behind Billy Wightman (no. 7) and 869 yards behind John Casazza (no. 6).

. . . That Kenny Strayhorn stands number six on the all-time scoring list. . Strayhorn has 110 points, only 22 points behind Tom Michel (no. 5), 26 points behind Bill Cline (no. 4) and 54 points behind Butch Colson (no. 3).

. . . That Kenny Strayhorn needs only two kickoff returns to tie the school record of 31 held by Tommy Bullock (1967-69). .

. . . That Kenny Strayhorn needs only 123 yards in kickoff returns to tie the record of Tommy Bullock (1967-69). .

. . . That Jim Bolding broke the school record for most carrer punt returns in the last game of season in 1974 against VMI. . Bolding, a junior, has returned 37 punts in two years to break the record of 36 held by Bill Cline (1962-64).

. . . That Jim Bolding needs only 108 yards in punt returns to tie the school record of 382 yards set by Bobby Ellis (1974-66). .

. . . That Jim Bolding needs only five pass interceptions to tie the school record of 14, set by Todd Hicks (1965-67). .

. . . That if East Carolina University has another winning season this year it will mark the fourth straight winning season, and also, will mark the second longest winning season streak in Pirate history. . The longest winning stretch came from 1960-1965, six consecutive winning seasons. On two occassions the Pirates have put together three consecutive winning seasons.

. . . That East Carolina University has not lost a home football game in Ficklen Stadium since October 9, 1971, when the Richmond Spiders edged East Carolina 14-7. . The Pirates have won 17 straight in Ficklen.

. . . That the last time East Carolina played Western Carolina was in 1963. . And, did you know, that the 1963 game was also homecoming for East Carolina. . Such is also the case in 1975.

. . . That only one team in the Southern Conference since 1963 has a winning percentage above the .600 mark. . That's East Carolina's Pirates, with a record of 36-21-1, for a percentage of .631. Appalachian State is second at 6-5-1 (.545), while Richmond is third at 69-65-5 (.514). Those are the only three teams above the .500 level.

. . . That the East Carolina Pirates have led the Southern Conference in rushing offense six of the last 10 years. The Pirates led in 1965, 1966, 1967, 1968, 1973 and 1974. Their average of 274.1 yards per game last season was the highest average since 1953, when West Virginia averaged 281.8 yards per game.

. . . That the East Carolina Pirates have led the Southern Conference in total defense five of the last 10 years. The Pitates led in 1965, 1966, 1970, 1972 and 1973.

. . . That the 1965 East Carolina team led the Southern conference in five of six team categories . . . Clarence Stasavich's championship club won the total offense, total defense, rushing offense, rushing defense and passing offensive titles. Only the passing defense title eluded the Pirates. No other team in the conference since 1953 has ever won five of the six team titles.

. . . That East Carolina's Carlester Crumpler holds the second most recognized individual Southern Conference records. . Crumpler holds eight records, which is just three behind the 11 records of Gordon Slade of Davidson.

. . . That East Carolina University has had only one losing season in Southern Conference play since joining the league in 1964. . The Pirates were 1-3 in 1969; otherwise, they have always finished at .500 or better.

. . . That East Carolina Univeristy has had at least one player on the All-Southern Conference first team since being eligible for the title, starting in 1965. .

. . . That East Carolina University's all-time record in football stands at 175-164-10, for a winning percentage of .516. .

. . . That only two football jerseys have ever been retired at East Carolina University. . The jersey of Robert K. Faris, Jr. (no. 16) and Norman Swindell (no. 18) both rest in the ECU trophy case in Minges Coliseum. Faris was kicking specialist from 1964-1967. Swindell was a blocking back on the 1964 and 1965 Tangerine Bowl teams and winner of the Jacobs Blocking Trophy, presented by the Southern Conference.

. . . That Norman Swindell is the only East Carolina University player ever to win the Jacobs Blocking Trophy. .

. . . That Dave Alexander won the scoring title, total offense title and rushing title in the Southern Conference in 1965. . No other player has ever won three individual Conference titles in one year.

Nobody's second string on Southern.

As soon as you step on board a Southern jet, you'll see that there's no "First Class" and no "Tourist Class." So no flight attendant will send you to the rear of the plane and then pull that curtain in your face. Every one of our passengers enjoys the same delicious food, the same comfortable legroom and the same courteous attention from our flight attendants. Because on Southern, there's just one class of service. And it definitely isn't second.

1975 CHEERLEADERS

New Look For ECU Cheerleaders

The 1975-1976 cheerleading squad will be sporting a whole new look. The largest ever at East Carolina, the 16-member squad will support ten new faces in 1975.

Unlike previous years, the squad will have only one captain. He is junior Pat Kinlaw from St. Pauls, N.C. Kinlaw says the squad this year will have a whole new look, with different routines from years before and more of an emphasis on spirit and stunts.

The six returning members of the squad are three men and three women. Aside from Kinlaw, the two male cheerleaders returning are junior Larry Buchanon and sophomore Randy Alford. Alford and Buchanon are residents of Greenville.

The three returning members of the squad are Judy Barnes, Teresa Rivera and Kate Welch.

Miss Barnes, one of three seniors on the squad, is in her fourth year of cheerleading at East Carolina. A Medical Records major, she serves as the senior member of the squad in experience.

Miss Rivera is a native of Puerto Rico and a former Miss Teenage North Carolina. She enters her second year of cheerleading at ECU.

Miss Welch served as a cheerleader during the basketball season and this is her first full year as an East Carolina cheerleader.

The remaining five men and five women carry a variety of talent and experience.

The new faces among the male cheerleaders are Jody Fountain, Kenneth Lanier, Jesse Coppedge, Joe Borrell, and Doug Wood.

Fountain and Wood both bring experience to the squad in the gymnastic area. Fountain has been assistant coach of the ECU gymnastics team for three years and Wood has competed in several national cheerleading camps, winning several awards.

The new women will be Brenda Hathaway, Patty Russell, Edna Privett, Leigh Davis and Donna Baise.

Miss Hathaway was a cheerleader at Appalachian State University before transferring to East Carolina last fall. She is the third senior on the squad, along with Barnes and Fountain. In addition, Miss Hathaway has performed for the ECU gymnastics team.

Miss Davis was captain of the junior varsity cheerleaders last year. She is a sophomore and her presence adds experience to the squad.

With their new ideas and gymnastic backgrounds, this year's squad promises not only to be high spirited, but entertaining as well.

PIRATE SPORTS NETWORK

Lee Moore (L) and Jim Woods (R)

The Pirate Sports Network, official outlet for East Carolina University football, will be composed of the most stations ever and cover more population than ever before.

Twenty stations are expected to carry all, or a portion of, East Carolina's football games.

East Carolina football will be heard from southern Virginia to the north, the outer banks to the east, Raleigh to the west and Wilmington to the south. The population of this area is roughly one and one-half million people.

The team of Jim Woods and Lee Moore returns for a second year to present the broadcast of Pirate football. Woods will handle the play-by-play, while Moore will make the color comments.

Woods is sports director of WNCT-TV in Greenville, with a background of 25 years in broadcasting and sportscasting. This will be the seventh season for Woods and Pirate sports.

Moore is sports director of WCTI-TV in New Bern, with previous sportscasting experience in Hamilton, Ohio. Moore served at one time as play-by-play man for Miami of Ohio University football and basketball.

The Pirate Sports Network will originate through the facilities of WNCT-FM in Greenville. This 100,000 watt FM station rejoins the Network after a three-year absence, not only as an originator, but as a powerful signal broadcasting Pirate sports throughout eastern North Carolina.

Model 4300 Stereo 2 + Quadradial 4 Receiver

Here's the receiver you'll never have to replace because of obsolescence or changes in technology. It's the Marantz Model 4300 Stereo 2 + Quadradial 4 Receiver. It's a system of the future . . . with the Dolby Noise Reduction Circuit plus complete 4-channel non-obsolescence all part of the package. On tape and FM broadcasting, the versatile Dolby circuit reduces noise and hiss to an inaudible level without affecting the fidelity of the music. And it works for simultaneous recording and playback. It also offers precise decoding of any Dolby-encoded FM broadcast. It's designed to work with future applications as well. The future is what the 4300 is all about. A unique hidden pocket is included, which accommodates an SQ Logic Decoder or any advance in 4-channel Matrix design. So, whenever improvements become available, replace the inexpensive decoder — not the entire unit. You get over 200 Watts RMS Continuous Power with less than 0.15% THD or IM Distortion for any frequencies between 20Hz and 20kHz into 8 Ohms. This gives you 100 Watts RMS per channel in the bridged stereo mode and over 40 Watts RMS per channel in the Quadradial mode. With Vari-Matrix you'll never have to replace your stereo collection. This attraction enhances any stereo program to provide the full 4-channel effect of a live performance. The features, like the quality are all part of the Marantz Quadradial Touch. Now, isn't it time you experienced it for yourself?

THE BATTLE AFTER THE BATTLE . . .

A very important part of the East Carolina University rise in athletic prominence is the existence of the ECU Sports Medicine Division, headed by Rod Compton, director, and Dr, James Bowman, team physician.

Compton is in his sixth year as director of the program, while Bowman, in his fifth, heads a list of fine outside-the-campus professionals who lend valuable time to the program. A Sports Medicine curriculum has been added to the Department of Health and Physical Education recently and Bowman, three associate team doctors who work in the campus infirmary, a team dentist and 10 medical consultants in specialized fields all teach in the curriculum, in addition to Compton and his assistant, Ronnie Barnes.

Ten student trainers and approximately 15 curriculum students are under the supervision of Compton and Barnes, and their futures are in good hands. Compton is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and serves as editor of the NATA Journal. He is also a member of the American College of Sporst Medicine. Dr. Bowman, an orthopedic surgeon, is available for daily consultation.

Barnes is in his first year as a full-time trainer, though it is his sixth with the program. He is the first graduate of the Sports Medicine curriculum to become certified. His job is to assist Compton in all his duties, such as the supervision of student trainers, maintenance of records of student athletes, administration of the insurance program, care, prevention and rehabilitation of injuries and teaching in the curriculum.

The Sports Medicine curriculum students cover all varsity sports at ECU, as well as intramurals and physical education classes for immediate treatment. The Division operates from an ultra-modern office adjacent to Ficklen Stadium and another facility inside Scales Fieldhouse. The Sports Medicine is the only undergraduate athletic training curriculum approved by the NATA in eastern North Carolina, and one of only two in the state, Appalachian State having the only other one.

1975 MARCHING PIRATES

The School of Music at East Carolina University proudly presents the 1975 Marching Pirates. They are under the direction of third-year director George Naff. At each home game, the band will present halftime entertainment consisting of precision drills and special music arrangements guaranteed to keep you on the edge of your seat.

Variety in musical styles will be emphasized this Fall as the Marching Pirates present pop selections covering the whole spectrum from the "Golden Oldies" to the most current rock tunes. Fans will also be delighted to hear traditional marches and significant wind literature rescored specifically for the Pirates by George Naff.

WRESTLING

John Welborn

Four Straight Years

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS!!

East Carolina University has not lost a dual wrestling meet in three years, and head wrestling coach John Welborn doesn't think the Pirates should have much trouble again during the coming season.

"We will have a young team this year," said Welborn. "But we should have a good one."

Welborn has four senior starters returning from the 1974-75 squad that sent seven wrestlers to the national tournament in Princeton, N.J. Ron Whitcomb, Tom Marriott and Mike Radford all won Southern Conference championships last season. They will be aided by Paul Ketchum, a 126-pounder who filled in very well two years ago in the absence of Danny Monroe and Phil Mueller, who finished fourth and second in the NAIA finals two years running. Mueller sat out last season as a transfer at East Carolina.

Paul Thorpe and Paul Osman rate as two top sophomore performers who performed well for the Pirates as freshmen, Thorpe winning the conference championship. And to supplement these wrestlers, Welborn has picked up some promising freshmen who could step into starting jobs.

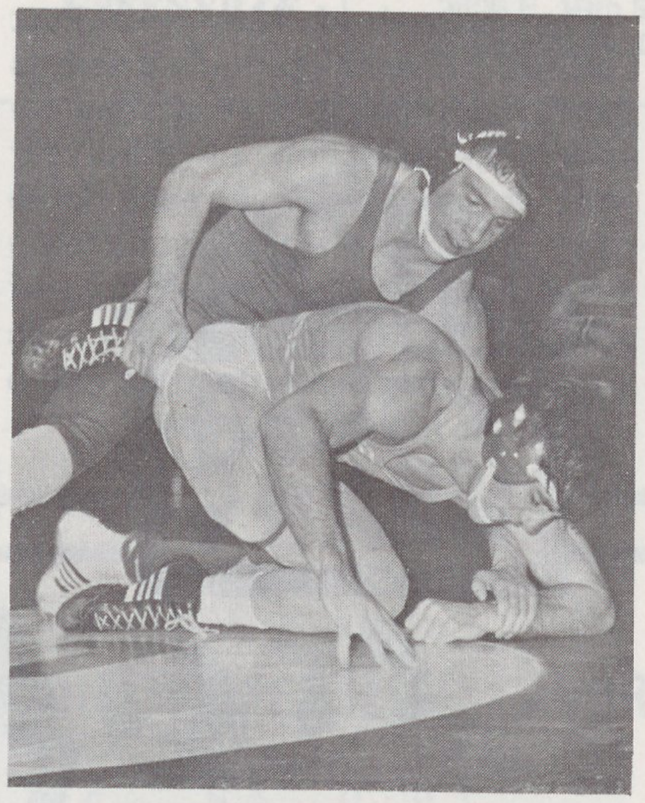

Still, maybe the season won't be that easy for the Pirates.

"State and Carolina were tough on us last year and will be improved," said Welborn. "So we will have to do some hard work to get ready for this fall."

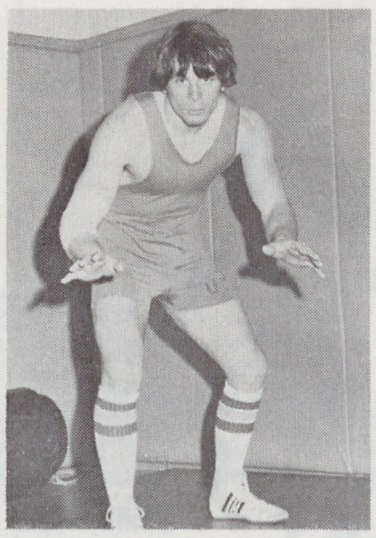

But Welborn maintained that the raw elements for a successful season were in the fold anyway.

"We will have mostly a young team," said Welborn. "But with some work, we could be as good as any team ever at East Carolina."

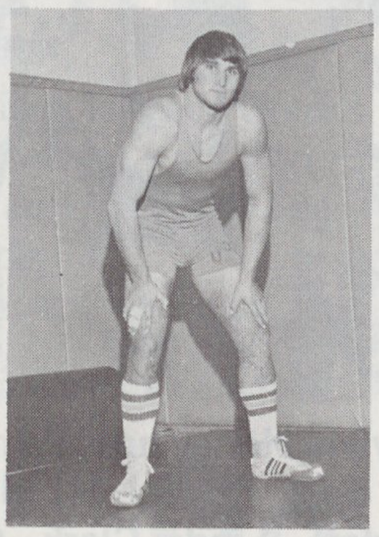

For a team that has won three straight conference titles, that will be a good challenge, winning the N.C. Collegiate, Maryland Federation, and a host of other tournaments in which the Pirates usually compete.

THE NEW GAME IN TOWN . . . .

BASKETBALL

Head Coach Dave Patton led the East Carolina University basketball team to a 19-9 record in his first season. The 1974-75 team went into the records book as the winningest team in ECU history, and traveled to Louisville, Ky., to play in the National Commissioner's Invitational Tournament. In only their second post-season tournament in history, the Pirates lost, 94-78.

The coming year promises to be another successful one for the Pirates, despite the loss of starters Robert Geter, Donnie Owens and Gregg Ashorn, plus reserve Tom Marsh. Geter and Ashorn were the top scorers on the team last year, but the Pirates won't necessarily be hurting for scoring punch.

Returning to head the Pirates in 1975-76 will be Larry Hunt, the Pirates' number one rebounder and number three scorer last year, and guard Buzzy Braman. But the excitement in the Greenville area this fall has concerned two players who have yet to wear the Pirate colors.

1974-75 PIRATES

Patton and his assistant, Butch Estes, have recruited two high school All-Americas in Louis Crosby and Tyrone Edwards. Crosby is a 6-4 guard from Shelby, N.C., the hometown of basketball great David Thompson and the Pirates' Larry Hunt, and Edwards is a 6-10 center from Pittsboro, N.C. A third recruit, Billy Dineen, gives the Pirates even more depth at the guard position, where Braman, Reggie Lee and Al Edwards return.

On the front line, the Pirates have one set starter in Hunt, but with Crosby, Edwards, Wade Henkel and Earl Garner vying for the two remaining starting slots, Patton has the task of deciding who the starters will be.

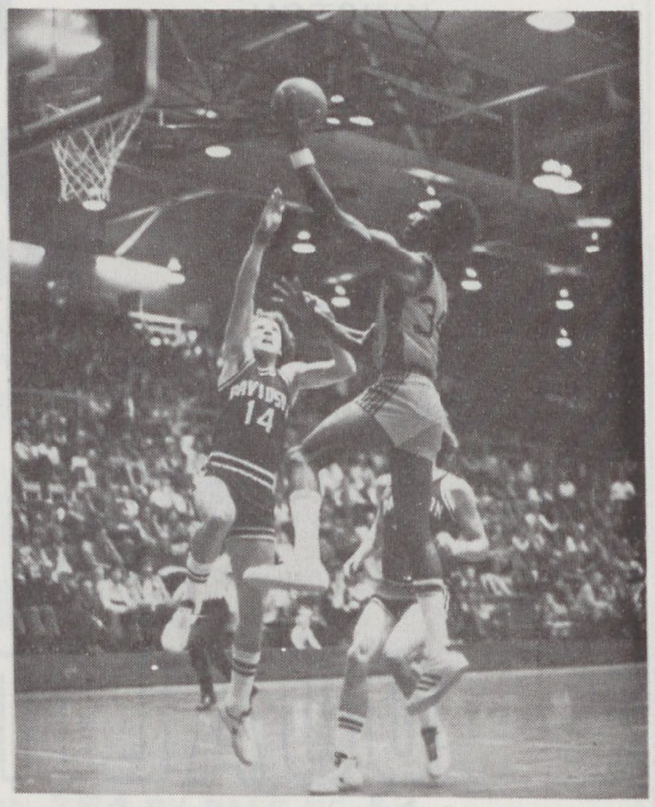

The Pirate schedule finds them taking on ACC powers Maryland and North Carolina State in their first two games and traveling to Winter Park, Fla., to play in the Tangerine Bowl Classic with Marshall, Rollins College and Stetson.

SWIMMING

"IS THE SOUTHERN CONFERENCE STILL IN THE LEAGUE?"

East Carolina's swimming team continued to dominate the Southern Conference last year, sweeping to its' ninth straight championship.

Coach Ray Scharf's scheduling philosophy of meeting the best teams in the country continued last year as the Pirate swimmers faced such powers as Maryland, North Carolina State, Army, Penn State, John Hopkins and North Carolina in compiling a 9-3 dual meet record. In addition, the Pirate squad placed fifth in the Eastern Regionals and sixth in the Penn State Relays. The only losses suffered by the Pirates in dual meet competition were to Maryland, N.C. State and North Carolina.

Last year, the Pirates set 15 new varsity swim records and sent four swimmers to the NCAA competition: John McCauley, Ross Bohlken, Billy Thorne and Bobby Vail. Tomas Palmgren was voted the most outstanding swimmer in the conference last year.

Of these swimmers, all but Vail return. Other returnees include Gary Pabst, the holder of three individual records; David Kirkman, who holds one individual record; Steve Ruedlinger and Alan Clancy; the holders of four freshman and individual plus relay records.

Palgren set four individual records and McCauley added two individual records to round out another banner year for East Carolina swimming.

With nearly all his swimmers returning, the only question mark on the Pirate team are the one-and-three meter diving events. Scharf has recruited Lund Sox from Greensboro, N.C. in an attempt to fill the gap left by graduation and injuries in 1974-1975.

Pirate swim strength in 1975-1976 should be as strong as last year and Scharf has recruited several top-notch freshmen to fill what losses he had by graduation.

One of the more notable freshmen on this year's team will be John Pero a 200-freestyle state finalist from Statesville, N.C. Two more freestyle competitors have been recruited by Scharf; John Tudor, of Greensboro, and Joseph Kushy, from Plainview, N.Y. David Moody, a backstroker, and Colin Rooney, a diver, finish the list of East Carolina swim recruits. These six recruits should add pressure to the already top-notch squad and provide East Carolina with yet another excellent swimming team.

"NICE GUYS FINISH FIRST!"

BASEBALL

No More Pirate Guessing: '76 Will Be A Banner Year

Prior to the start of the 1975 baseball season, East Carolina University head baseball coach George Williams said the Pirates would have trouble with finding experienced pitchers, but the hitting should hold up. To the wonderment of all (save the pitching staff), the pitching was the strongest part of the team.

Now, with the experienced Dean Reavis, Bob Feeney, Terry Durham, Joe Heavner and Mike Weaver, not to mention the still-learning Pete Conaty all coming back, the Pirate pitching staff should be a dandy. With the addition of Sonny Wooten and Charlie Stevens, the Pirates shouldn't be leaving as many people on base (221 in 29 games, or 7.62 per game) as in 1974 either.

It almost makes you wonder what Williams will say, since most baseball coaches like to play the poor-mouth game prior to the start of the season. Williams, however, doesn't mind going out on a limb.

"We should have an improved club," said Williams, considering the 17-12 mark and 9-5 conference record of the Pirates in 1975. "But you just never know what will happen until the first pitch is thrown.

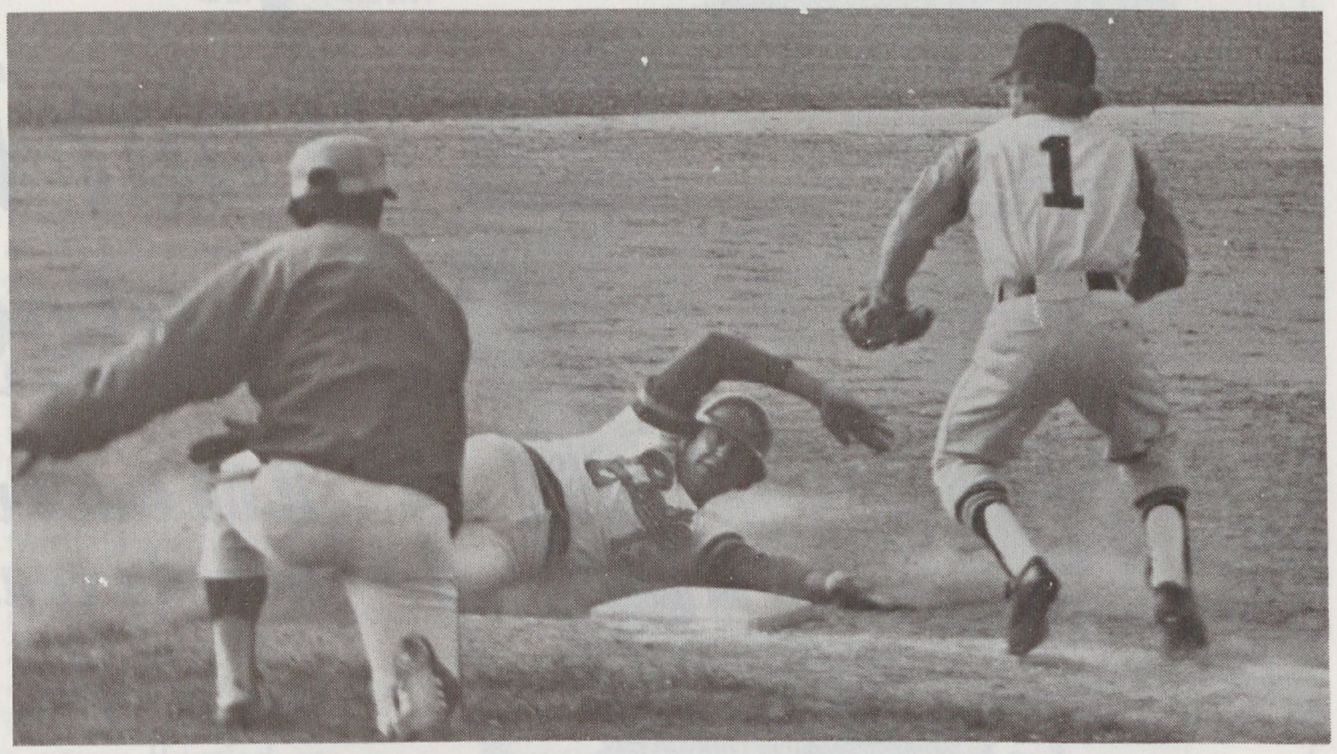

"Last year, we weren't worried about hitting, and it was the pitching that carried us, plus Ron Staggs, of course. This year, I am almost hesitant to say."

About the only thing Williams could consider worth talking about is the return of such performers as Howard McCullough, Steve Bryant, Ken Gentry, Geoff Beaston, Joe Roenker, Glenn Card and Addison Bass in the field, plus the aformentioned pitching staff. Add Charlie Stevens, the Most Valuable Player of the 1975 North Carolina Collegiate Summer League (.389) and Sonny Wooten (7 home runs), and the Pirates should present a formidable lineup.

At presstime, Williams was happy with the recruits, which include Greenville rose outfielder Macon Moye. But he was looking, as well, for a pair of pitchers to break into action.

"We have a 32-game schedule," said Williams. "So we need to get some bullpen strength and possibly another starter.

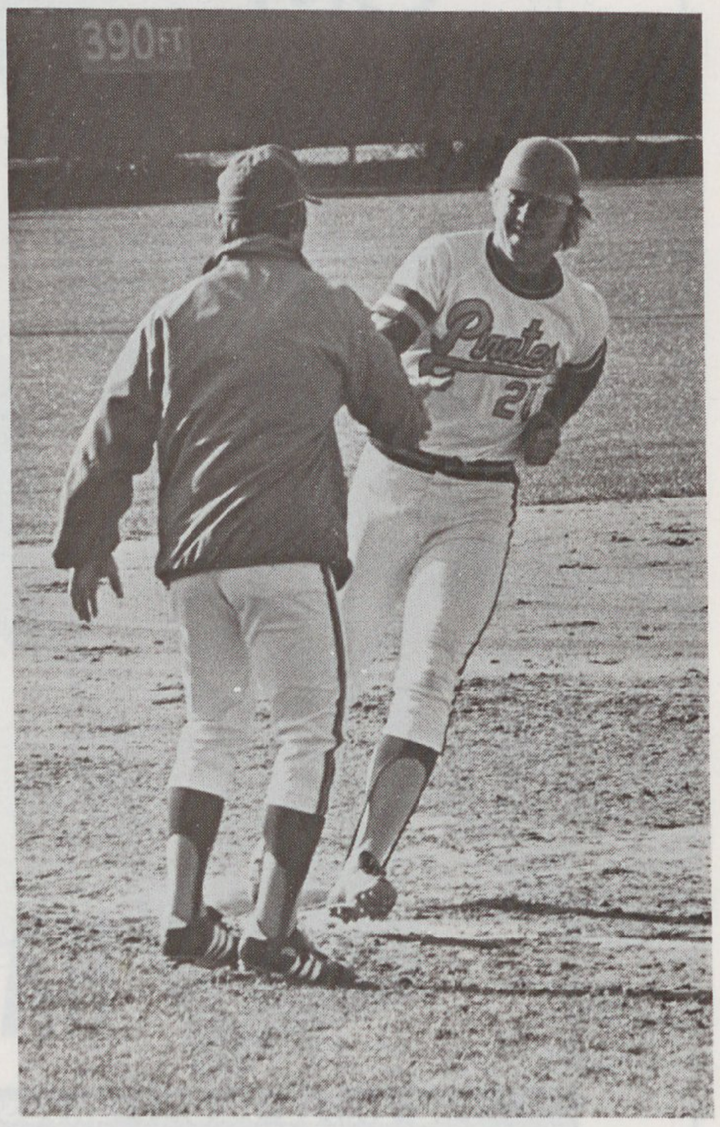

With the start of the 1976 season, it could be the start of something big.

Glenn Card slides safely into third.

Pirates Prepared To "Stop That Indian!"

Bill Carson is the head coach of three East Carolina University athletic teams, and they have a problem all the same.

The problem presented to Carson isn't one of numbers, but it is coming up with a way to improve on last year's fifth-place cross country finish in the Southern Conference. Also, the Pirates are looking for a way to upend William and Mary as conference powerhouse in both indoor and outdoor track. The coming year will be one of promise for the Pirates, though, and it is entirely possible that the problems may find a solution.

Carson claims that his stable of sprinters are the best in the program, the essential "backbone." The Pirate 440 team should be in the top five in the nation, completely dominate the sprint events in the conference and elsewhere. Carson even said he would be able to compete with every team in the south except Tennessee. Why such optimism?

Two words that made history last year answer the question: Carter Suggs.

Suggs won five gold medals at the conference track meet last spring, something unheard of before. His help will come from fellow speedsters Larry Austin, Robert Franklin and Maurice Huntley.

Marvin Rankin, ranked number one in the nation in low hurdles in high school will join the Pirates in that event. Returning in the high hurdles is Sam Phillips, a national qualifier of a year ago.

Carson listed several outstanding prospects that will join the Pirates. But with the new NCAA legislation governing the size of travelling squads, joining and helping may be two different things.

"I am not going to be able to use but 22 people per meet," said Carson. "With about 27, we would stand a better chance of dominating most sprint events, three and four places deep.

"That could hurt us in the Southern Conference sprint, hurdle and jumping events, but I will just have to be a bit more selective about who I take on trips, and we will just have to make the best of things."

The Pirates are loaded with talent, names that aren't familiar now but will be in the future. The main goal now is finding a way to whip those Indians . . .

NEW COACH HEADS ECU TENNIS TEAM

Bill Cain takes over the East Carolina tennis team this year hoping to improve on last year's seventh-place Southern Conference finish.

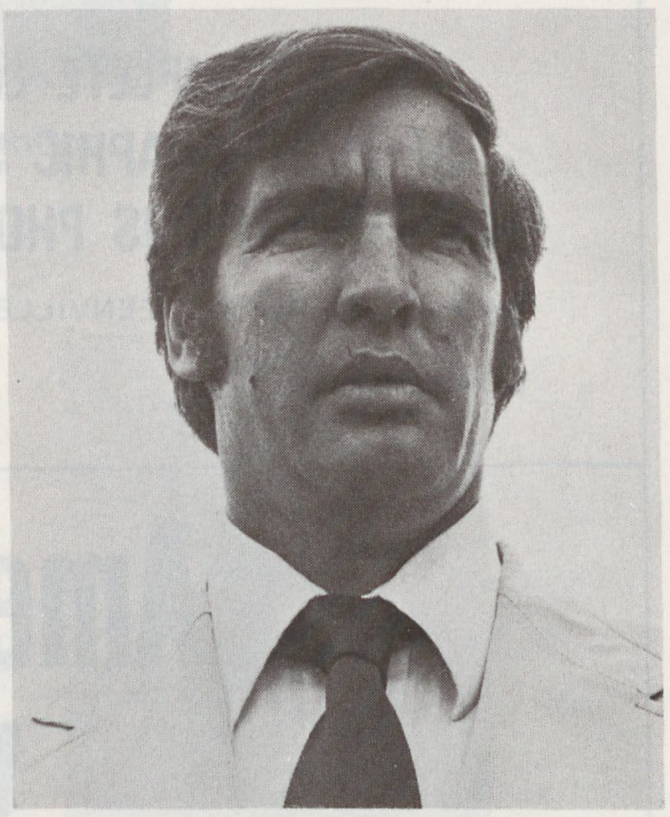

This year's squad will have seven lettermen returning from a team that finished 7-9 last year, and won its first conference match in three years. The top two singles players from last year return. They are number one seed Tom Durfee and number-two seed Howard Rambeau.

Cain feels the seven will form the nucleus for a Pirate squad that will face such tennis powers as Atlantic Christian, North Carolina State, North Carolina Wesleyan and Appalachian State, last year's conference champion.

As a goal for this year, Cain has set sights on a winning season and an improved showing in the conference tournament. With lettermen returning and the addition of a fall conditioning program, the 1976 Pirate tennis squad is expected to develop better morale and attitude, as well as being a better conditioned squad over previous years.

The Pirates top two doubles teams from last year return. The number one team of Durfee and Don Nelthropp failed to win a set last year, but with a year's playing experience together they are expected to improve.

Both members of the Pirates' number two doubles team, Doug Getsinger and Keith Marion, return also. Getsinger and Marion finished with a 3-6 record last year.

Bill Cain

The two additional lettermen will be Keith Gray, last year's number three singles player, and Randy Bailey, who finished 6-12 in singles competition.

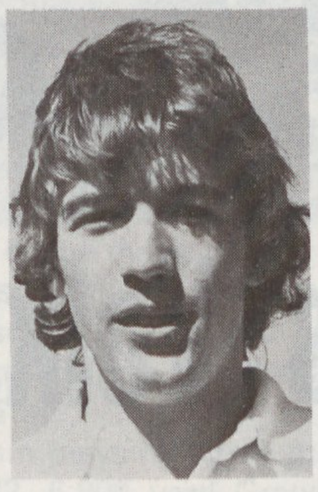

As the new coach, Cain will have some old faces to work with, which has to be a promising factor in the Pirates' tennis fortunes.

ONE MORE TOURNAMENT TO WIN

Coach Mac McLendon's golfers enter 1975-76 with a young team and four returning lettermen from last year's second-place Southern Conference team. Gone, however, are the two top players from last year, All-Conference selections Tommy Boone and Jim Gantz.

Only one senior returns to this year's squad. He is Rob Weldon. Weldon will be joined by junior Steve Ridge and sophomores Mike Buckmaster and Keith Hiller.

McLendon has recruited three high school golfers to aid the returnees. The recruits are Frank Acker, of Fayetteville, N.C., David Davis, of Goldsboro, N.C., and Michael Heafner, of Cary, N.C. Acker was the state high school champion and Heafner is the brother of North Carolina State's Vance Heafner.

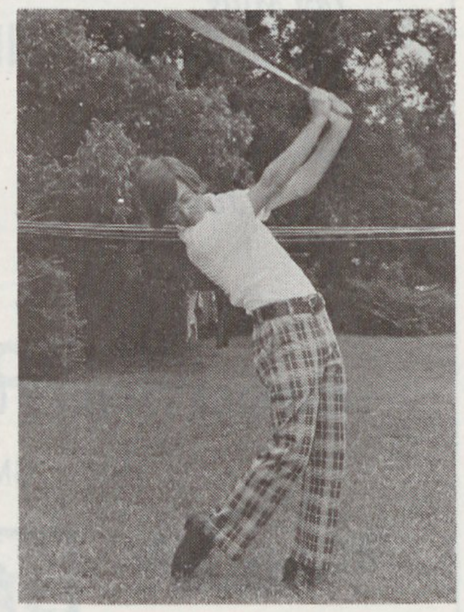

Last year's team placed second in the conference for the second year in a row. It also won the Seaside Invitational and Wilson Invitational tournaments. In the conference championships, ECU placed behind Furman and one point ahead of Appalachian State. McLendon hopes to improve on that finish this year.

"Our primary goal this year is to win the conference", said McLendon, "but we're also interested in seeing the players improve their own game. Striving for this goal, if they improve their play it will improve our play as a team."

McLendon hopes Acker, Davis and Heafner will be able to help the team immediately, but he thinks they will need some college competition to develop the thinking part of the game. If this can be done, McLendon expects big things from his three recruits.

Last year the Pirates competed against several of the major golfing programs in the East in tournament competition and the schedule for 1975-76 includes Wake Forest, North Carolina and North Carolina State.

The team plays its home matches on the par 72, 6,800 yard Greenville Golf and Country Club layout.

PIRATE CLUB

The Pirate Club is the athletic booster organization for East Carolina University. Its purpose is to raise funds, through contributions from the alumni, friends, faculty, and staff to support the entire athletic program which includes 19 intercollegiate sports. The Pirate Club is a division of the ECU Education Foundation, Inc. Accurate records are kept and audited annually. Funds are budgeted to each individual sport by the Athletic Director and Athletic Council. Basic membership is $100.00 annually. However, there is no maximum or minimum that an individual may give in support of the program. Pirate Club contributions are tax deductible. Club members may enjoy many benefits such as priority in season ticket purchases, special parking at home games, use of the Pirate Club Building, complimentary brochures, newsletters, choice seats in Ficklen stadium, cushion seats in Minges Coliseum, and the satisfaction of a working relationship with a growing major college athletic program.

COMMISSIONER'S CUP

Only two schools in the Southern Conference have won the Commissioner's Cup, symbolic of the top athletic program in the league. East Carolina University and William and Mary are the two who have won the Cup.

East Carolina has won the Cup the last two seasons, tied William and Mary for it in 1969-70, while finishing second three other times. The Cup originated in 1969-70.

The Cup is presented each year to the school that compiles the most points as awarded by finish of each team in each sport.

PAT DYE SHOW TO BE FEATURED ON TWO TV STATIONS: WNCT AND WRAL

IN GREENVILLE AT 7:00 P.M.
WNCT-TV

IN RALEIGH AT 12:15 A.M.
WRAL-TV

Each Sunday evening, Pirate fans can review the Saturday game with head coach Pat Dye and host Jim Woods on the Pat Dye Show. Again this season most all of eastern North Carolina will be able to watch the Pat Dye show, as WNCT-TV in Greenville and WRAL-TV in Raleigh will serve as outlets for the program.

Highlight film, player interview, coaches interviews, conference talk and standings, and more will be featured each week on the half hour show.

The Pat Dye Show will be aired in Greenville at 7:00 p.m. Sunday; in Raleigh, WRAL will air the show at 12:15 a.m. Tuesday.

1974-75 Squad - Best record in ECU History.

SOCCER

'74 WAS THE BEST, BUT '75 COULD BE EVEN BETTER

East Carolina University's 1974 soccer team posted a 7-4 record, the best ever in the history of the school. The Pirates finished with a ranking of number nine and stand to do as well or better in 1975.

Head coach Curtis Frye guided the Pirates to such lofty marks in his initial season, and he doesn't see why the Pirates shouldn't duplicate the 1974 feats. Then again, there could be one reason.

"We will have to come up with a replacement for Brad Smith and one for Bucky Mozer," said Frye. "But we will have some good players coming back as well."

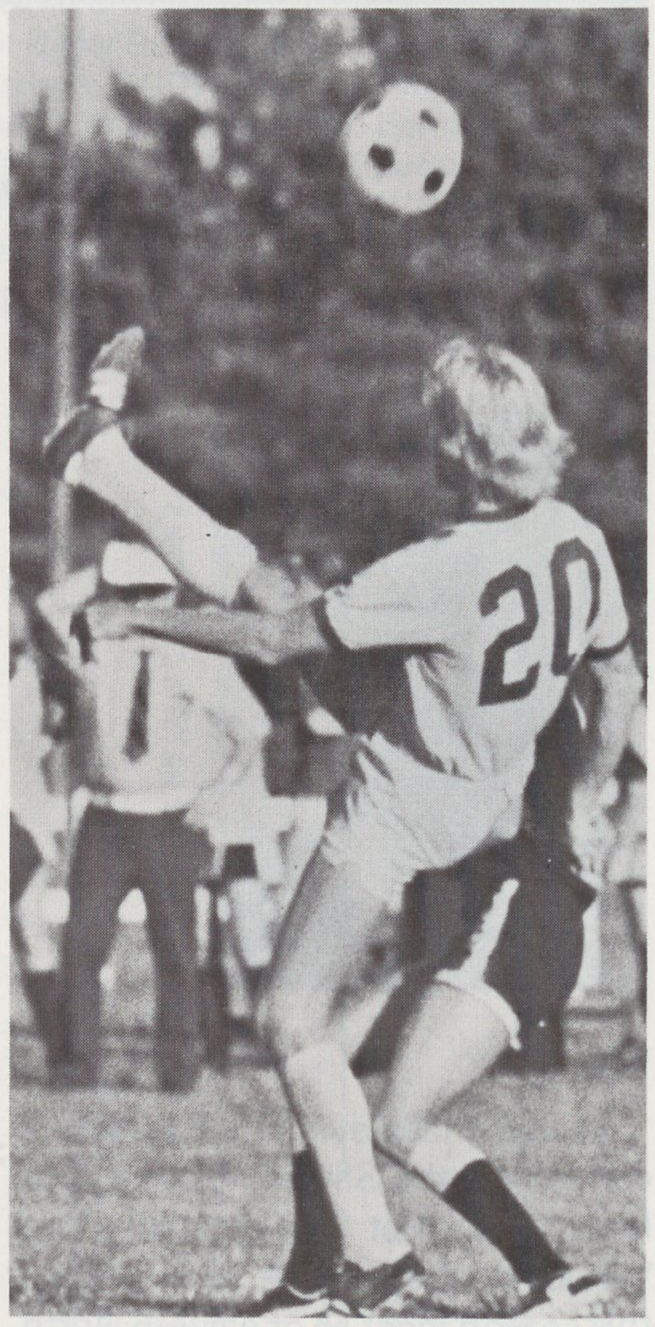

Tom Tozer and Pete Angus, a midfielder and a front lineman, are two of the reasons for Frye's optimism. Both are bonafide all-star candidates. Angus is a 6-3 lineman who could be the team's leading scorer.

Also returning for 1975 action are Charlie Hardy, the Most Outstanding Freshman of a year ago; Scott Bayless, another center-fullback Frye is expecting big things from; Danny O'Shea, a forward last year who will be converted to a fullback this year; fullbacks Lloyd McCllendon and Tommy Long, plus Mike Fetciko, a lineman.

The Pirates line up against some strong opposition this year, and Frye figures UNC-Wilmington to be the toughest. But then again, the Pirates should be pretty tough, too.

Mike Feticko (L) and Tommy Long (R) control play.

Pete Angus displays his form.

PIRATES TO IMPROVE IN SECOND YEAR OF COMPETITION

East Carolina University fielded a rifle team last year, the first time in the history of the school. The Southern Conference is the only NCAA conference to sanction rifle as a varsity sport, giving Commissioner's Cup points for excellence in that sport as well as football or basketball. Thus the Pirates figured to aid themselves in the cup race, given for overall athletic excellence, and they didn't do a bad job at all.

The team finished 1-4 in conference competition, good for seventh place in the conference. With three of the team's top four shooters back for competition this season, plus the addition of a pair of experienced shooters from Fork Union Military Academy, Helmick's squad should be competitive in only its second season.

Ray Anderson, Don Lewis and Jimmy Whitely return from last year's club. Rusty Wrenn and Greg Baldwin should add experience to the team coming from Fork Union and Helmick also has plans for a newcomer, David Farr.

Ficklen Stadium

East Carolina University, Greenville N. C. 27834 Telephone 919/758-6470

Ficklen Stadium, the home of the East Carolina University football team, is named for James Skinner Ficklen, a native of Greenville, who was a prominent tobacco industrialist.

The present structure, which has a capacity of 20,000, is the first stage of a plan for the construction of a 40,000 capacity stadium to be completed by 1980.

The first game played at Ficklen Stadium was on September 21, 1963 when the Pirates defeated Wake Forest, 20-10.

Since that time the Pirates have won 39 and lost 18 games in Ficklen, a winning percentage of .688.

Entering the 1975 season, the Pirates have won 17 straight home games, a school record.

Ficklen Stadium boasts the finest lighting in the state, recently completed in the spring of 1975. The lighting system is made up of a combination of metallic and incandescent lighting which contains 384 fixtures of 1,500 watts each on six 162-foot towers.

Rest Rooms - Men's and women's rest rooms are located beneath the stands, beneath sections 3 and 4 on the south side and 9 and 10 on the north side.

Concessions - Concession stands are located on both the north and south sides of Ficklen Stadium, beneath sections 1 and 6 on the south side and sections 7 and 12 on the north side.

Souvenirs - The Student Supply Store operates a booth on the east end of the Stadium, next to the scoreboard.

First Aid - Service is provided by the Greenville Rescue Squad. A rescue squad unit is located on the west end of the stadium, opposite the scoreboard. Attendants are on duty throughout the game.

Public Telephones - Public telephones are located on the south side of the stadium beneath section 3.

Seating - Seating on the south side is for the general public. Ushers will be available on south side reserved seats to assist the public. The north side of the stands are reserved for students and student guests.

Concession Prices:

Soft Drinks: small	.30
large	.60
Hot Dogs	.50
Popcorn	.25
Peanuts	.25
Coffee	.25
Candy – Gum	.25
Cigarettes	.50
Sandwiches	.50

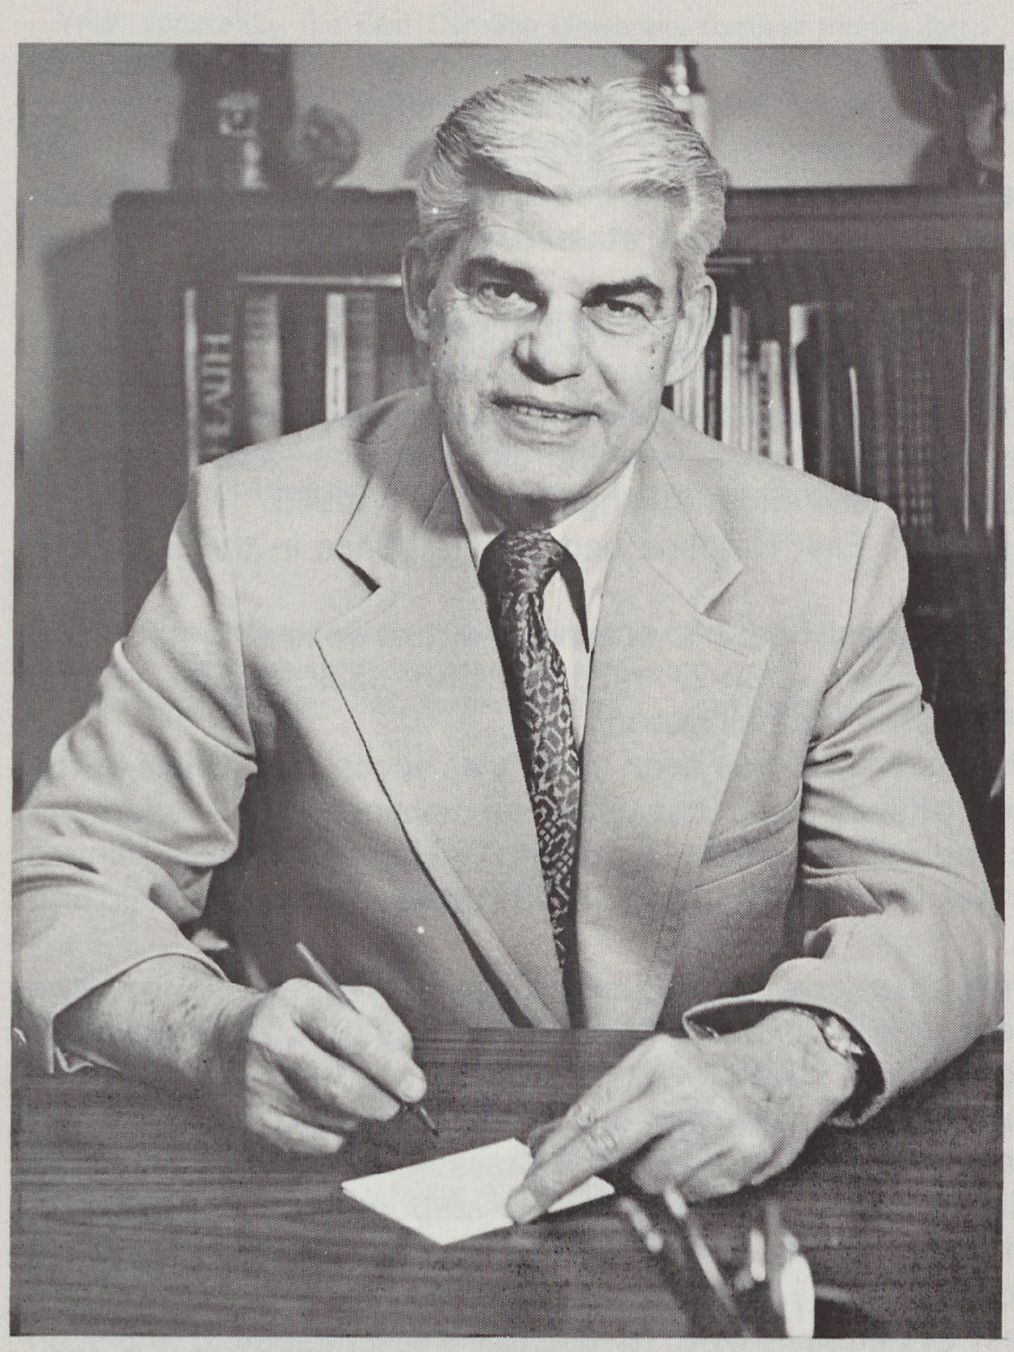

In addition to the concession stands, concessions will be sold in the stands by vendors at the same price as is listed. In the event there is a difference in the price charged in the stands to those listed here, contact Bill Cain, the Assistant Director of Athletics at 758-6305.

Entrances and Exits - Entrances into Ficklen Stadium for the public is through Gates 1, 3, and 5. Gates 6, 7 and 8 are student entrances. Gate 2 is the working press gate.

Parking - Parking and access to Ficklen Stadium are via Charles St. and Berkeley Rd. Via Charles St., parking is next to Ficklen Stadium. Via Berkeley Rd., parking is in the lot on the North or student side of the stadium. No parking is allowed on Berkeley Rd.

Public Address System - Only in cases of extreme emergencies is the public address system to be used for announcements. In case of emergency, to be determined by the Sports Information Department, announcements should be given to the guard on duty at the door of the press box.

MOURNING FOR A FALLEN LEADER:

CLARENCE STASAVICH

(1913-1975)

Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, Chancellor:

"In recent years, when many colleges have felt the pinch of red ink on their athletic budgets, Stas operated the East Carolina program in the black.

"He came here and took our program to a level that is not only recognized as one of the better ones in this state, but also potentially one of the best athletic situations in the south. He was a tremendous friend, a great coach, a valuable teacher, and a very sincere person. We have lost a great part of the University with his passing."

Clifton G. Moore, Faculty Athletic Chairman:

"We did not always agree, but whatever his feelings were, you knew they were from the heart. The likes of Stas do not come our way often. ECU, its alumni, freinds and especially student athletes, both past and present, have lot a dear friend."

Bill Cain, Acting Athletic Director:

"The great thing about him was that he didn't stand over you and dictate how to do a job. He gave you the job and he expected results. If you did it right, he didn't give you much praise, but if you did it wrong, he would let you know.

"The void left by his passing is one that will never be filled in our lifetime. His record as a coach, as an asministrator, and as a warm, wonderful human being will be remembered for a long, long, time. I just wish he had been able to see the UNC game, something he worked so hard for us to be a part of."

Pat Dye, ECU Head Football Coach:

"Being associated with athletics as long as I have, you meet many people you think a great deal of. And you meet a few who are just the type who stand out. He was such a man — he was a great individual, as strong as I have ever been around."

Sonny Randle, U-Va Head Football Coach:

"We had our differences, but he never changed. He was a great football coach and a mighty fine gentleman."

Dick Herbert, former Raleigh News & Observer Sports Editor:

"He was always fully aware of the limitations under which his programs had to be conducted. I think the fact that East Carolina played Carolina Saturday is a reflection on what he did."

Joe Tiede, current Raleigh News & Observer Sports Editor:

"Stas will be remembered for his great winning record and for being the last major college coach to run the single wing offense. He'll also be remembered by those who knew him for the war greetings and wide smile he always bestowed on visitors."

"North Carolina will miss the coal miner's son from Illinois who became a unique part of the this state's sports tradition."

Woody Peele, Greenville Daily Reflector Sports Editor:

"There was no mistaking Clarence Stasavich. His hair gradually whitened during his 13 years at East Carolina. Twice earlier heart attacks sidelined him for short periods. But he never lost his sense of humor. He had a ready smile, and no one, regardless of how they felt about him, could not come to respect him."

Jim Woods and Lee Moore, "Voices of the Pirates":

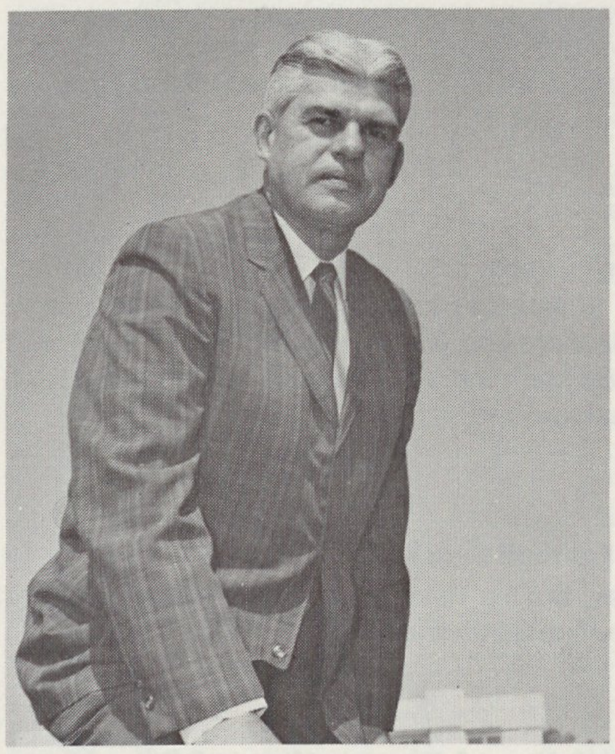

""You just felt fortunate that you could meet a man like Stas. You can't ever replace his presence, because it is too great a personal loss. Sometimes, you didn't agree with him, but you knew that whatever his decision it was in the best interests, he felt in his heart, of the University." (JW)

"Often in life you develop both working and personal relationships, and seldom do they mix. This wasn't the case with Stas: with him, there was no such thing as a professional relationship along. He always had the time to talk to the media and answer your requests. He had a masterful wit, and once you have been around him, you will never forget him."

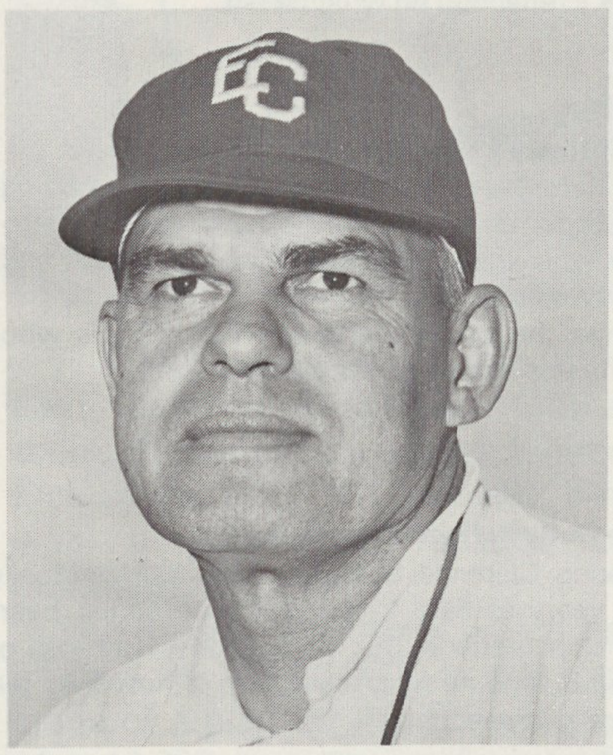

Dick Jones, Local Sports Personality:

"He was just a super individual, one you could do battle with and still have the greatest feeling of respect and admiration for. He was one of the few coaches who liked to be around the media. The athletic world has lost a great one. Personally, I am going to miss his "Got a minute for a smoke?" and the discussions that usually followed."

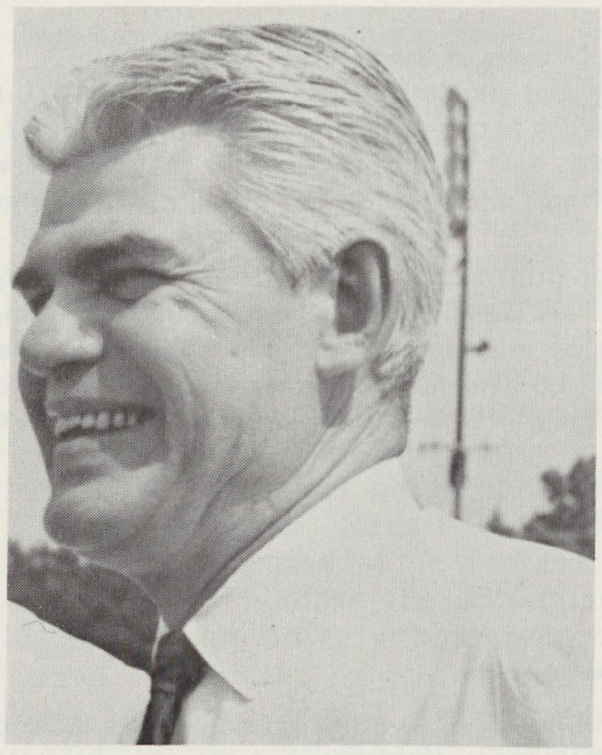

COACH "STAS" . . . A Biographical Look

. . . as an administrator

. . . as a coach

. . . and as a warm, human friend.

A nationally prominent figure in collegiate circles, "Coach Stas," is responsible for the rapid rise of East Carolina University's athletic program.

He first came to Greenville in 1962, after a highly successful 16-year coaching career at small college power Lenoir Rhyne. A year later, Coach Stasavich assumed the dual role of athletic director and head football coach.

His East Carolina football teams were an immediate success. In 1963, his Pirate club, operating in the famous Stasavich "Single Wing," rolled up a 9-1 record, the first of three straight 9-1 seasons. In all years, ECU participated in three post-season bowl classics, winning all three . . . Eastern Bowl in 1963, Tangerine Bowl in 1964 and the Tangerine Bowl in 1965.

The following season, East Carolina tied for first place in the Southern Conference.

When Stasavich relinquished his coaching duties following the 1969 season, he had compiled a 50-27 record, tying Jack Boone as the winningest coach in Pirate football history.

His reign as athletic director has been equally as successful. While at the helm of the Pirates' athletic ship, Stasavich has developed the modern all-purpose athletic complex which includes Ficklen Stadium, Minges Coliseum and Minges Natatorium, Scales Field House, Harrington Field and the Bunting Field.

Coach Stasavich also engineered East Carolina's entrance into the Southern Conference and was instrumental in having the school classified in the major college football ranks.

Stadium expansion, improvement of stadium lighting, and completion of work on Harrington Field were part of Coach Stasavich's plans.

On top of all listed duties, he is also solely responsible for scheduling which has risen from the ranks to include North Carolina, North Carolina State, Virginia, South Carolina and Wake Forest.

During his career at Lenoir-Rhyne, he became a virtual legend and won acceptance in the Helms Hall of Fame and North Carolina Hall of Fame. Twice during his career, once at Lenoir Rhyne, and once at ECU, he was named National College Coach of the Year.

The root of his success starts at Lenoir-Rhyne where he played four years of football, four years of basketball, two years of tennis and one year of baseball. He won All-Conference honors three years in both football and basketball and was named to the Charlotte Observer's prestigious "Flaming Five" in 1934 and 1935.

He began his coaching career in 1935 at Campbell College and eventually moved back to Lenoir-Rhyne as football line coach, assistant basketball coach and head tennis coach. His tennis teams won two conference championships.

Following Naval service during World War II, Coach Stasavich earned a masters degree at the University of North Carolina and returned to Lenoir-Rhyne as head football coach and athletic director.

His teams and records were spectacular. In 16 seasons, Stasavich won 120 games, compared to 37 losses and seven ties. Lenoir-Rhyne won nine Carolinas Conference championships, seven in succession from 1955 to 1961. The biggest year was 1960, when the Bears won the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) national championship.

Stasavich was the nation's leading advocate of the single wing offense. He authored numerous articles and has hosted and visited countless clinics. His career win total of 170-64-8 ranked him third among America's active coaches, trailing Alabama's "Bear" Bryant and Mississippi's John Vaught.

A native of Georgetown, Illinois, Stasavich is married to the former Helen Warlick of Hickory. They have three grown children: Rebecca, Mary and Walter.

PIRATES UP-TO-DATE

What Can One Say?

Well, apparently the East Carolina University football Pirates felt that a lot could be said after beating UNC-Chapel Hill Saturday, 38-17. It was the first win ever for the Pirates over the Tar Heels, and only the third time that East Carolina has whipped an ACC school.

But what can you say? Let the Pirates take it from there:

Bobby Myrick

As he was tabbed "a Benedict Arnold in shoulder pads," Myrick's was another of the many performances capable of starting a revolution.

"This is the only reason I came back for my fifth season," said the jubilant secondary member. "People always say 'You played well, but you lost.' Now people can say 'You kicked the hell out of 'em.' "

Ricky Bennett

Back from an early season knee injury, this offensive line member never had any trouble. At least that's his reaction:

"We could move the ball on them all day . . . that's why we won, I think."

Willie Hawkins

"I played a little better than usual today. I think all the people in the stands psyched me up something unreal." (10 carries for 56 yards and one touchdown, also three kickoff returns for 80 yards, an average of 26.7 per carry.)

Raymond Jones

"We played without making mistakes. Carolina was a good team, but we were better."

Mike Weaver

The quarterback who came in from the cold, Weaver enjoyed what must have been his finest day as a Piarte. Much to the disgust of the UNC faithful, Weaver directed the Pirate wishbone offense with a skill that has been heretofore unmatched. Why?

"I guess you might say the feeling was one of, well, like winning one for the Gipper, but this time the name is different."

Kenny Strayhorn

"It was very disappointing to lose to them my sophomore year. But today just adds to the feeling I've had to the four good years at East Carolina." (14 carries for 72 yards and two touchdowns).

Cary Godette

Two years ago, Godette felt maybe that the Pirates had choked. This feeling had undeniably spurred him on since.

"That first drive when they scored was the turning point of the game. They scored only because we had made a mistake, and the defense knew we could stop them after that."

Wayne Bolt

"I didn't think their defense was that good. You know, we really don't get all that psyched up under Coach Dye. But we do go out and play."

Pat Dye

"Unquestionably, it was the greatest win in East Carolina University football history, but there is one thing that shouldn't be forgotten: It was through the workings of Coach Stasavich, who got us on the football field today, that made this day possible.

"I had a premonition when I sent the managers out to buy some cigars for after the game. I knew we were going to win." And from the University administration:

Dr. Leo W. Jenkins

"The brightest hour in East Carolina University sports history was preceeded by the darkest.

"I am extremely happy for the coaches and players who made this day on the field, while I am sorrowful that the man who made it possible in the meeting rooms wasn't able to see it in person."

Clifton G. Moore

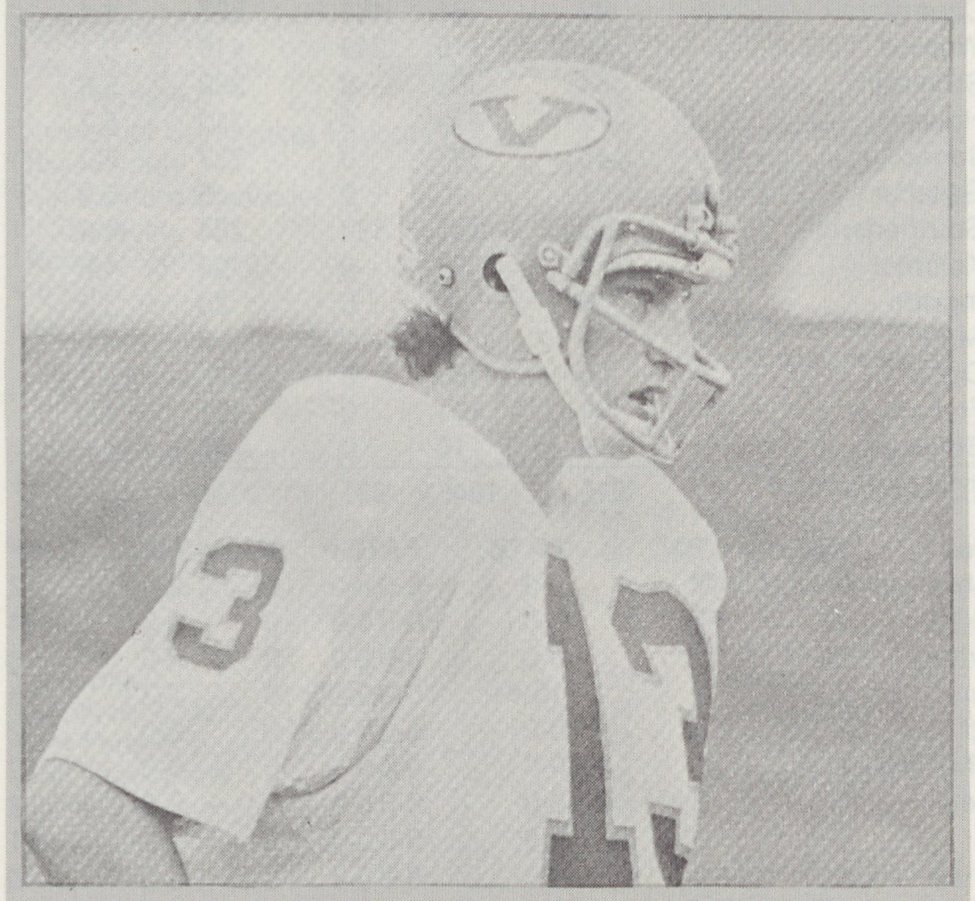

"An oustanding tribute to an outstanding group of sportsmen."

Bill Cain

"The repercussions from this football game will be felt for a long, long time. It was a proud day in Piarte sports history, one that the coaches, players and fans will always treasure. There is no way you can better promote the University and the football program than with a victory over an ACC school."
