Homecoming

East Carolina will be trying to complete its fifth perfect home season in seven years tonight against Marshall. Starting with the 1972 season up to this game, the Pirates are 31-2 in Ficklen Stadium.

Part of the reason why the Pirates have been so successful at home in recent years is the contribution made by a large group of seniors who are completing their careers with this game. The complete list is on the centerspread of this program, but a few need to be mentioned here for some unusual accomplishments.

Eddie Hicks, the starting right halfback in Pat Dye's wishbone attack, will probably set two new school career records tonight. "Fast Eddie" owns a career average carry of 6.4 yards, better than the existing mark of 5.7 yards held by Tom Michel. He set the old mark in the 1961-63 seasons and you saw him installed in the Hall of Fame here last week.

The other mark "The Hoss" will trample will be the total offense average play. Bill Cline averaged 6.2 yards per play (rushing and passing) during the 1962-64 seasons to set the current standard.

Terry Gallaher, heads into the finale as the team's leading receiver for the fourth straight season. An ideal wishborn split end, Terry can block well from his wide spot. He now has 1434 career yards and 13 touchdowns, both school records.

Defensively, six seniors have helped make the Pirates the No. 3 defense in America this fall. All-Everything end Zack Valentine, dependable nose guard Oliver Felton, steady tackles D.T. Joyner and Vance Tingler, hard-hitting linebacker Tommy Summer and cat-quick free safety Gerald Hall form a six-pack of explosive defenders to be sure.

The Pirates are ranked second in the NCAA in pass defense this week and third in total defense. Hall ranks 11th in the NCAA in punt returns and carries almost a 12.0 career average in the catagory.

It's been a great year for Pirate football, particularly at home, so let's enjoy it — one more time.

C. W. GEIGER

a gleam from the other team

Number 42, Claude Wayne Geiger, is Marshall University's first 1,000-yard rusher in history in initial season with 1,039 yards last season in eleven games. The 23 year old 6'-2, 184 lbs. senior tailback is a native of East Bank, West Virginia. C. W. started all eleven games last season, but suffered a shoulder separation in the final game. He has posted such school records as most rushes in a single game with 35 carries and most rushes in a season with 247 carries. Geiger is one of only two Marshall backs to gain 100 or more yards in four consecutive games. C. W. finished 21st in the nation among collegiate runners with an average of 22.4 carries and 94.5 yards per game last season.

Geiger transferred to Marshall from Michigan State where he played football as a Freshman.

HEAD COACH

He's undoubtedly the most popular collegiate football coach in North Carolina today.

Name's Dye. Pat Dye.

He's the head coach at East Carolina University and in four short years the 38-year-old native of Blythe, Georgia has guided the Pirates to an impressive 32-12 overall record including a Southern Conference Championship in 1976.

Dye has led his Pirates to seasons of 7-4, 8-3, 9-2 and 8-3 and is only the second coach in East Carolina history to coach a team to four consecutive winning years.

Pat was born November 6, 1939 in Blythe, Ga. and attended Richmond Academy where he was named the Lineman of the Year in 1956. He also captained the team that year which won the state championship.

He then went to the University of Georgia where he co-captained the Bulldogs and was named All-America during his senior season. He also received the Most Valuable Lineman in the Southeastern Conference Award and was named academic All-America for two seasons.

Dye also participated in the Blue-Gray Classic, the Senior Bowl and the Coaches All-America game.

After graduating from Georgia, Pat played two years as an outside corner linebacker with the Edmonton Eskimoes in the Canadian Football League. Coach Dye served for two and one-half years in the Army and was discharged as a First Lieutenant.

He then served as an assistant coach at Alabama for nine years from 1965 until 1973. Dye was in charge of linebackers and recruiting while under Paul "Bear" Bryant.

Pat and his wife Sue have four children; Pat Jr., Missy, Brett, and Wanda.

MEN—WOMEN

Some of the best college students are veterans.

Let's face it. Not everyone wants to step right into college after high school.

Maybe you'd rather wait a few years. To travel, to learn a skill, to find out what you can do, to mature.

For you, today's Army can be a meaningful step in educational development.

We offer challenge. Physical and mental. We offer hundreds of skill training courses to try out for. We offer a choice of location. Stateside or abroad. And we offer one of the best benefit packages anywhere.

And if you decide to start a college program on your own time while you're in, we'll pay up to 75% of your tuition for approved courses.

BAND

The East Carolina Marching Pirates are as much a part of the program as the football team itself. The Marching Pirates provide halftime entertainment at all home games as well as most of the away games. Mike Reaser replaces George Naff as the new director this year. Mark Ford and Lindsay Moore are the new drum majors.

This year the Marching Pirates will have more than 180 musicians along with feature twirlers.

One of the East Carolina majorettes, Lynn Williford, was named the DMA Majorette Queen of America in 1978.

Last August, Lynn won the National Drum Majorettes Contest held at UNC-Asheville. The contest was sponsored by the Asheville Jaycees and Drum Majorettes of America with more than 150 girls competing.

Lynn was the overall winner in seven categories which included twirling, fancy strutting, military strutting, bathing suit competition, evening dress competition, judges interviewing and another event outside baton twirling.

Lynn, a 20-year-old native of Wilmington, received a $1,000 scholarship and a six and a half foot trophy for first prize.

THE purple/gold RUSH IS ON, STAKE YOUR CLAIM NOW !

sports medicine DIVISION

"The Nation's Best." A term that is gaining more and more and more use in East Carolina athletic circles, but a term that well represents ECU's Sports Medicine Division.

With Director Rod Compton's guidance during the last eight years, Sports Medicine has grown from a one room one man operation to a well organized an efficient working and teaching facility. ECU's Sports Medicine Division is now organized to supply the athlete with the best in prevention, treatment, and rehabilitation of all injuries. Their efforts have enabled ECU athletes to maintain the lowest injury rate in the nation. This fact can be directly related to the knowledge, equipment, and facilities Compton and his staff have carefully compiled.

Compton and his assistants, Liz White and Jim Keating, work hand in hand with team physician Dr. James Bowman and the many other doctors and professionals that assist the program to train a student staff in the best possible methods of Sports Medicine.

Last year Keith Luxton, a graduate of the program, won the N.A.T.A. national post graduate scholarship and is now doing graduate studies at Michigan State.

"The best," a good reason why ECU Sports Medicine student's strive so hard to gain the "purple jacket," the symbol of a staff trainer.

PITT COUNTY'S HOME NEWSPAPER

Texasgulf agronomist Bob Edwards inspects a field of sweet clover growing where just three years ago draglines mined phosphate in Beaufort County. Texasgulf's innovative dredge-dragline method of mining significantly increases ore recovery and provides an improved technique for reclaiming land after mining. That's why we feel conservation is a vital part of our business.

ficklen stadium
INFORMATION

Ficklen Stadium: Named for James Skinner Ficklen, a native of Greenville, who was a prominent tobacco industrialist.

First Game: Played on September 21, 1963 against Wake Forest. Won by the Pirates, 20-10. At that time only the south stands, five sections and a press, were built.

1968: The north stands, five sections were added to bring the capacity to 20,000 seats!

New Lighting: In the spring of 1975, a new lighting system was added. The finest lighting system in the state, the system is made up of metallic and incandescent lighting which contains 384 fixtures of 1,500 watts each on six 162-foot towers.

1978: This year marks the completion of the new look at Ficklen. A total of 35,000 seats, additions to all four corners, will make up the new look totaling 24 sections. Also assisting in a more workable facility, is a new three level press box and a 20' x 40' computerized scoreboard.

Rest Rooms: Men's and women's rest rooms are located at each end and the center of both sides of the stadium.

First Aid: Service will be provided by the Greenville Rescue Squad with a unit at the west end of the stadium.

P.A. System: In case of emergency, to be determined by the Sports Information Office, announcements should be given to the guard on duty at the door to the press box.

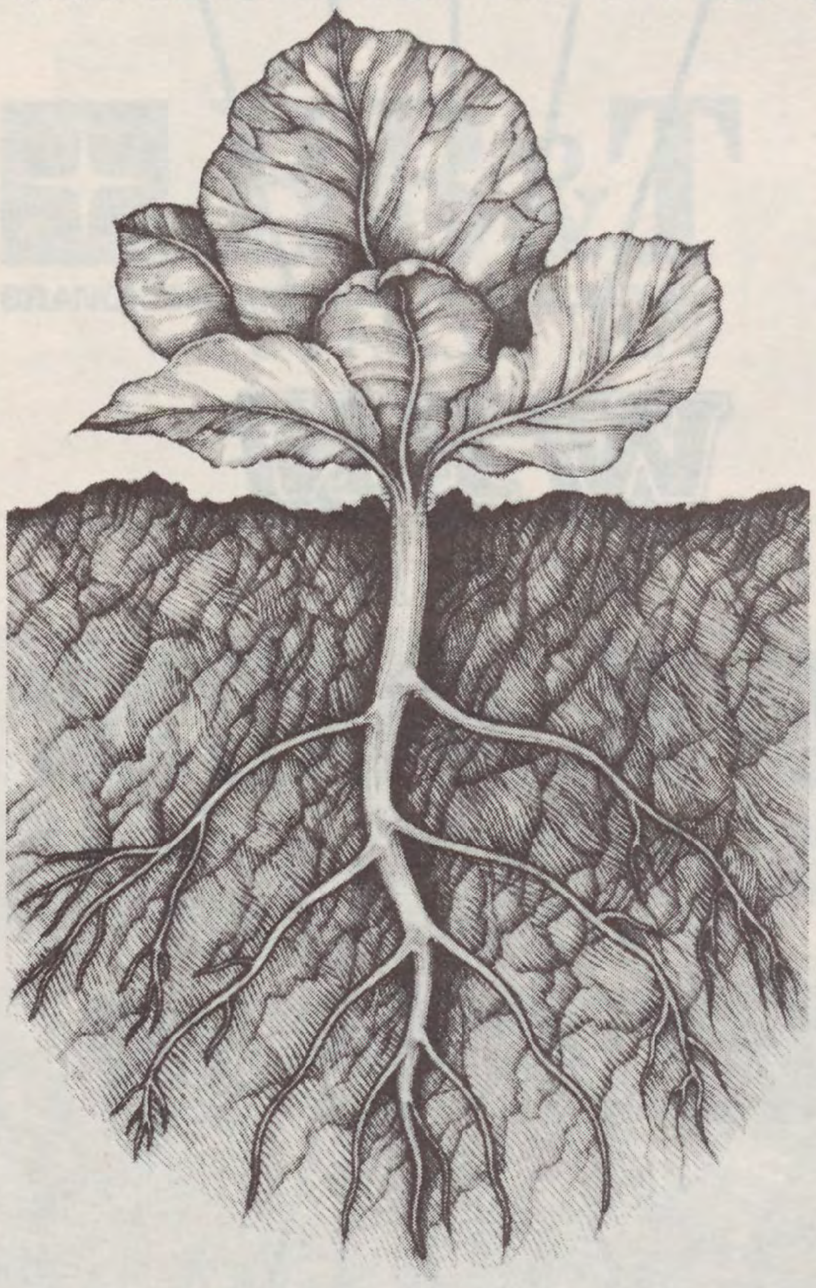
The Humble Beginnings Of A $2.1 Billion Crop.

Tobacco provides American farmers with an income of over $2.1 billion a year. It's one of the United States' most valuable money crops.



As a major supplier of U.S. leaf to world markets, A.C. Monk is a vital link between the people who grow the tobacco and the people who buy it.

And we've always tried to work in the best overall interests of both.

But we're especially proud of our working relationship with U.S. growers.

The people who work the tobacco crops, from seedlings all the way to market.

They're the people who keep the tobacco industry going. And we never forget it. MONK east carolina university

Founded in 1907 as East Carolina Teachers Training School, ECU has grown from an enrollment of 123 in 1909 to more than 13,000 in August, 1977. During its more than six decades of service, the University has become the focal point of development in Eastern North Carolina.

ECU leads the South in the preparation of teachers. In 1920 the school was authorized to offer four year teacher education degrees and to grant the bachelor of arts degrees. A year later by an act of the General Assembly, the school name was changed to East Carolina Teachers College.

A major turning point for ECU came in 1960 when Dr. Leo Jenkins was inaugurated as the school's sixth president. East Carolina College became East Carolina University in 1967 and enrollment more than doubled in a 10 year period.

Today East Carolina has academic programs to offer 105 undergraduate degrees and 69 graduate degrees. Besides the College of Arts and Sciences and the Graduate School, there are eight professional schools: Allied Health Professions, Art, Business, Education, Home Economics, Music, Medicine, and Nursing.

The face of the University is always changing. Twenty years ago there were 17 buildings on a 98 acre campus with a total physical plant value of $5 million. Today there are more than 60 buildings on a campus encompassing approximately 600 acres adjacent to downtown Greenville. Most of the classroom buildings, research facilities, and residence halls are less than 13 years old. Currently, the physical plant is valued at more than $80,000,000.

With an operating budget of over $36 million annually, East Carolina is a national leader in teacher preparations.

Greenville itself is a town of 30,000 located in the rich coastal plains of Eastern North Carolina. Pitt County, of which Greenville is the county seat, leads the nation in the production of leaf tobacco.

Work load.

This is more than just another load of logs.

What you're looking at is a whole truckload of jobs for North Carolina

Jobs for the guys in the woods who run the chain saws. Truck drivers and road building crews. Workers at the sort yards and in the sawmills, plywood plants and pulp mill.

Jobs for forest managers and marketing specialists. Assistants and secretaries.

Jobs for planting crews. Workers at tree nurseries and seed orchards. And a whole bunch of highly trained specialists in biology, physiology, ecology and soils.

That's 4,200 jobs for people in North Carolina.

People who are working very hard to keep us all supplied with the wood products we need.

And to make sure all these people can keep working, Weyerhaeuser has been constantly changing. Adding new technologies in the mills. Updating the ways we work in the woods.

Our long-range plan is to grow trees in endless cycles. Year after year, forever.

And with that kind of planning you can count on our being around for a long time to come.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Gus Andrews, a 34 year-old native of Tarboro, assumed duties as Executive Director of the Pirates Club in 1976.

mike carroll
PIRATE CLUB ASSISTANT

Mike Carroll is the newest member of the Pirate Club staff. A graduate of N.C. State, Carroll will assist Andrews with the overall operations of the Pirate Club and the continued development of "The Purple Push".

The Pirate Club is a member of the East Carolina University Educational Foundation. It's sole purpose is to raise scholarship funds for student/athletes in all intercollegiate sports at East Carolina. These funds, which are tax deductible, are raised from the alumni, friends, faculty, and staff of East Carolina. It is the only organizationthat supports athletic scholarships at East Carolina.

The Pirate Club has no maximum amount that an individual may give in support of the program. In return, club members may enjoy the benefit of season ticket priority for football and basketball. The goal of the club is to get the best seats available according to an individual's priority at all home games.

All away game tickets that are available for ECU will be held in the Pirate Club for its members. The away game tickets will be available to all members according to their priority. As with season tickets, all seats will be the best available and all member's tickets will be processed before general public sales begin.

"The Purple Push" enabled the Pirate Club to raise a record of $437,000.00 during the past year.

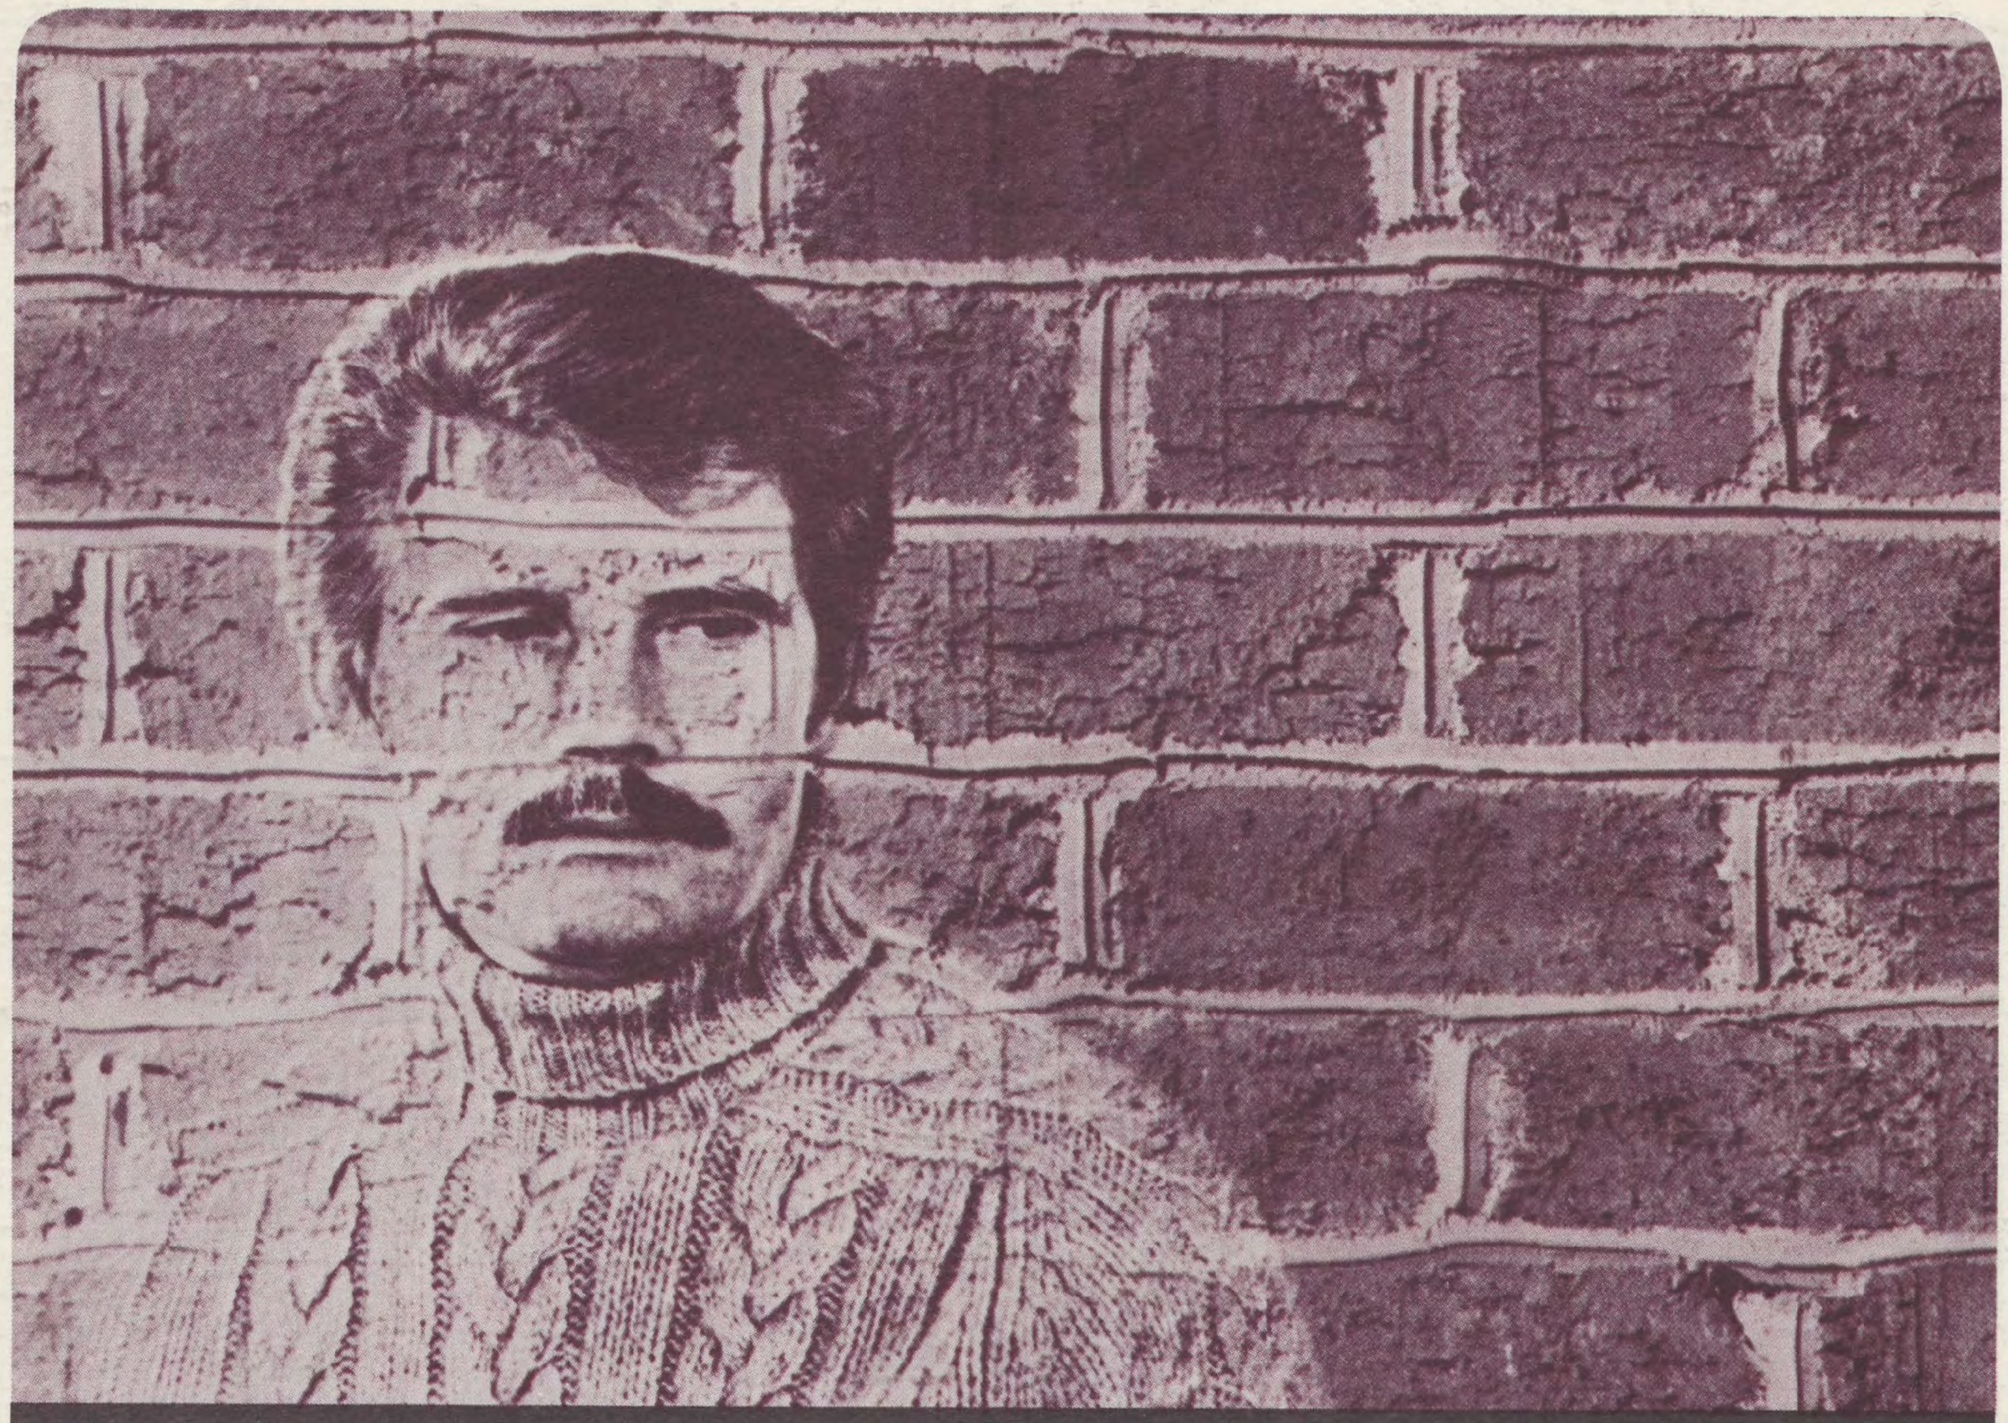
JOHN DEERE

On the move with East Carolina



Faces with character.

A brick wall is more than just a durable enclosure for a building. It's an expression of character. A touch of nostalgia. A thing of beauty. That is, if it's built with Sanford handcrafted brick. Whether you're a home buyer, architect or contractor, it's distinctive character and warmth will enhance the individual personality of your building's style.

There's a right Sanford handcrafted brick for every type and design of structure, from private home to multiple dwelling, motor inn, retail establishment or business office. And the price differential between our handcrafted brick and standard brick faces is minute.

For character worth looking at, look at Sanford's array of many colored, many textured handcrafted styles. You'll see there really is a difference in brick.
