Homecoming 1989: Pirates Play Host To Surprising Virginia Tech

By Dean Buchan
Associate Sports Information Director

Welcome to East Carolina University and Ficklen Stadium for Homecoming 1989.

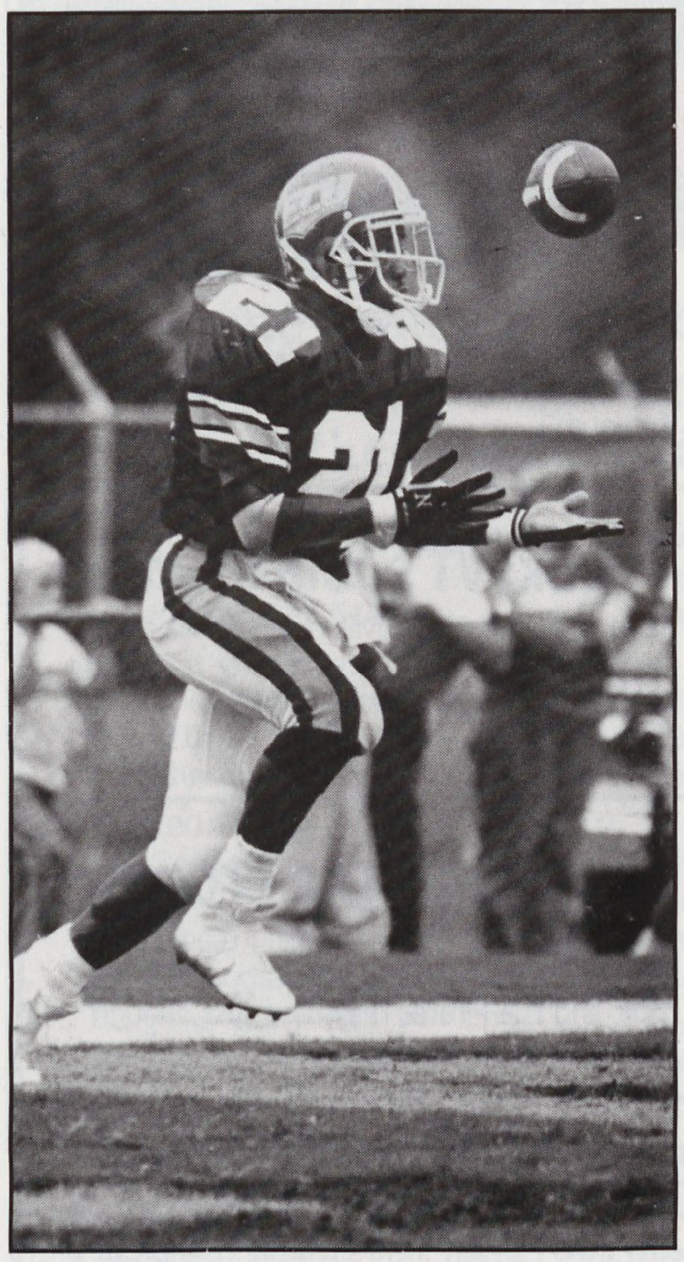

Today the 3-1-1 Pirates host the 3-2-1 Hokies of Virginia Tech.

Both teams are coming off disappointing losses to nationally ranked teams. Two weeks ago in Columbia, S.C., ECU suffered its first defeat of the season, 47-14, to the hands of a red-hot South Carolina team. The Pirates had an open date last Saturday.

Virginia Tech dropped a 41-7 decision to Florida State in Blacksburg Saturday. Aside from the loss to the Seminoles, the Hokies have been one of the big surprises in college football this year.

The experts said prior to the 1989 season that Tech would win just three or four games. Two weeks into the season, the Hokies tied South Carolina, 17-17, in front of nearly 72,000 Gamecock fans in Columbia. Two weeks ago in Morgantown, WV, Tech pulled the 12-10 upset over Major Harris and West Virginia. In that game, Tech limited Harris, the Heisman Trophy candidate, and his teammates to just 185 yards of total offense.

that was certainly a plus for our program," Tech coach Frank Beamer said. "We came back down to earth in a hurry, however, against Florida State.

"We are going to have to bounce right back today and minimize our mistakes against a very good East Carolina team."

East Carolina finished September unbeaten (3-0-1) with wins over Bowling Green, Illinois State, and Cincinnati, and a tie against Louisiana Tech. After one quarter against South Carolina, the Pirates held a 14-3 lead and were smelling upset.

Gamecock quarterback Todd Ellis, who has haunted Pirate teams for four years now, rallied his troops in the second quarter. In the second half, it was all South Carolina.

"After the loss to South Carolina, we decided to get back to the basics and start over," ECU head coach Bill Lewis said. "We practiced four days last week as if it were spring practice. We learned how to block and how to tackle all over again.

"For us to be a successful football team, we are going to have to improve fundamentally. Against Virginia Tech, we have to eliminate our mistakes to have an opportunity to win."

East Carolina has done well in past homecoming games, winning 26 of the 34 games since 1955. However, as in years past, the Pirates have not picked an easy foe to play in the annual event.

Last year's Homecoming opponent was West Virginia, which finished the regular season 11-0 and played Notre Dame in the Fiesta Bowl. The Mountaineers spoiled ECU's Homecoming, 30-10. In 1985, East Carolina lost, 27-15, to the Miami Hurricanes and Heisman Trophy winner Vinnie Testaverde.

Tech has experienced success this season despite being plagued with injuries to a pair of key figures on offense. Running back Jon Jeffries, out since the South Carolina game, and southpaw quarterback Will Furrer, out since the Temple game, are both lost for the season with knee injuries.

Furrer and Jeffries were instrumental in the Hokies' 27-16 win over the Pirates last year in Blacksburg. Furrer completed 13 of 18 passes for 158 yards, and Jeffries ran for 101 yards and two touchdowns.

For ECU, the loss to Tech one year ago dropped the Pirates to 1-1 and began a string of eight consecutive losses.

When the two teams met in 1987, also in Blacksburg, the Pirates came out on top 32-23. The win marked ECU's first win outside the state of North Carolina since 1983, and it was also the Pirates' only win over Tech. The Hokies won the first meeting, 37-2, way back in 1956 when the two teams played in Bluefield, WV.

With injuries to Furrer and Jeffries, Tech has received solid performances from their back-ups, and the Hokies rely on a tough, hard-nosed defense. Tech's veteran defensive unit is allowing just 90 yards rushing per game.

Meanwhile, running backs Tony Kennedy (226 yards) and Vaughn Hebron (210 yards) have filled in nicely for Jeffries. Young, who played against East Carolina while attending N.C. State in 1986, is 36 of 75 passing for 330 yards.

East Carolina senior Travis Hunter has started all five games behind center this year, but the Pirates have looked to sophomore Jeff Blake for an offensive spark off the bench in the last two games. Sophomore fullback Michael Rhett is ECU's leading scorer and David Daniels also plays a great deal at that spot. Seniors Willie Lewis and Denell Harper, and impressive true freshman Cedric Van Buren, all carry the ball at tailback.

The Pirate defensive unit is banged and bruised. Junior George Koonce, who missed three games with a knee injury before starting against South Carolina, is doubtful today with a groin injury. On special teams, ECU's Junior Robinson is among the nation's leading kick returners.

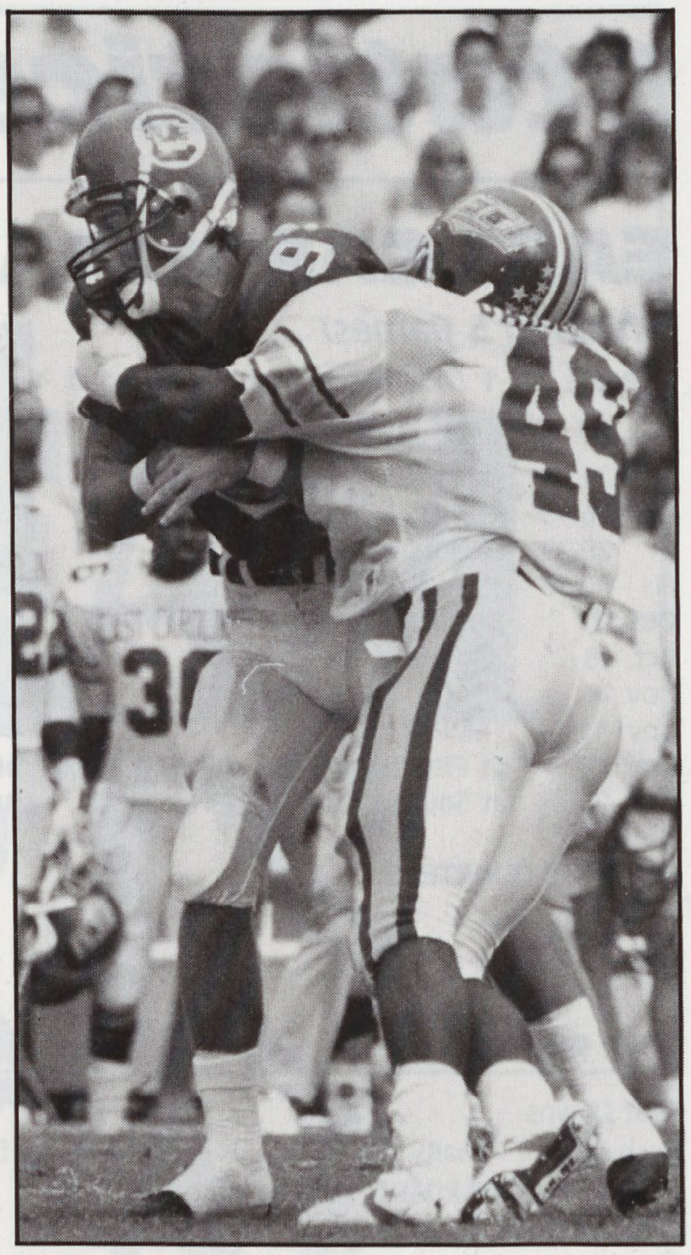

The East Carolina-Virginia Tech series appears to be developing into quite a rivalry. Both teams are major independents and share the same recruiting territory. With the two teams scheduled to face each other for at least the next three seasons, including a re-match here at Ficklen Stadium on Sept. 15 next year, this rivalry could grow to become an intense one.

Today is only the fourth meeting between the two teams and the first time that the Hokies have ever played in Ficklen Stadium.

NEXT WEEK:

East Carolina will travel to Syracuse to play the Orangemen in the 50,000-seat Carrier Dome. No Pirate team has ever played a game in an indoor facility such as the Carrier Dome, which many people consider the loudest in all of college football.

Tech will return home to Blacksburg to host the Green Wave of Tulane.

level.

"We welcome a person of Bill Lewis' abilities and character at East Carolina to lead our program into its next plateau," said Hart. "We look forward to what the future holds for the ECU program under Bill Lewis' leadership.

"He is perceived as an exceptional recruiter by all his peers and as a sound fundamentalist and teacher. He is a good motivator and demanding of his staff and his players," added Hart.

Head Coach Bill Lewis

Leading ECU football to its next plateau

Give Bill Lewis an hour of your time, and you'll be convinced that the East Carolina University football program can become as successful as any in the nation.

When the 48-year-old coaching veteran was named the Pirates' 16th head coach on Dec. 3, 1988, Lewis immediately became ECU's most zealous supporter.

"I am a very positive person," said Lewis at his first press conference. "I want to point myself and the program in that direction. We will not take a back seat to anyone in this country with the way we are going to approach this football team and this football program."

Lewis has already built a firm base from which to build a program since coming to ECU from the University of Georgia, where he was a defensive backfield coach for nine seasons during which, he was also the defensive co-ordinator for eight.

The Pirates had a successful recruiting season, signing 25 to grant-in-aids, including 12 prospects from the state of North Carolina. That was done with a new coaching staff who had just three months to get started.

"I believe you must begin to form the base of your recruiting in your home state," said Lewis. "We will go from the mountains to the coast line."

ECU director of athletics Dave Hart, Jr. knows that Lewis will get the Pirate program to the next level.

Lewis' stint at Georgia included nine bowl trips, three Southeastern Conference championships and a national championship in 1980. He has coached 23 All-SEC selections and has coached seven All-Americas, including Terry Hoage of the Philadelphia Eagles, John Little and Jeff Sanchez, all defensive backs.

Before arriving at Georgia, Lewis was the head coach at the University of Wyoming. In three years at the Laramie school, Lewis led the Cowboys to a 13-21-1 record and had offensive tackle Dennis Baker and linebacker Ken Fantetti make All-America status.

A 27-year coaching veteran, Lewis has also been an assistant coach at Arkansas (1973-76), Georgia Tech (1971-73), Wake Forest (1969-71), Pittsburgh (1966-68) and East Stroudsburg State (1963-65), his alma mater.

Lewis graduated from East Stroudsburg in 1963, earning a B.S. degree in Health and Physical Education. While attending school there, he was a Little All-America selection at quarterback and a team captain of the football and baseball teams, while lettering four years.

He left college to play in the Detroit Tigers minor league organization for two years as a pitcher before returning to his alma mater to work on his graduate degree and work as a part-time football coach.

A native of Bristol, Pa., Lewis participated in football, baseball, gymnastics and basketball at Delhaas Junior-Senior High School.

Lewis and his wife, Sandy, are the parents of three children, Mark (22), Gregg (19) and Geoff (17). Mark is a first-year law student at the University of Georgia. His wife, Wendy, is also a student at UGA. Gregg is a third class cadet at the Air Force Academy and Geoff is a high school senior.

Lewis: "I love and respect the coaching profession ... I enjoy working with young people."

Bill Lewis On...

The Game of Football...

"I respect the game of football. I think it is the greatest of all sports. I absolutely love the game, the competition of it and all of the intangibles that are involved in the game. I enjoy the strategies, although I sometimes think they are overplayed. It's a game that can teach all of us so many things that carry over into our daily lives — like commitment, sacrifice, learning to be persistent as you pursue victory."

Student-Athletes...

"One of the things that attracted me to this program was the commitment of Dr. [Richard] Eakin (ECU Chancellor) and Dave Hart (ECU athletic director) to excellence in academics and athletics. Both of those gentlemen and myself share the philosophy that you can have excellence in both of those areas on a college campus. It is because of that I believe in the student-athlete."

The Football Program at ECU...

"One of the things that attracted me to this position was the belief that the timing was perfect for someone to come into this program. I don't think there has been a time in ECU's recent history in which there was a more positive time for a coaching staff to come in here. We think that the future is very bright. Where do we want this program to go? We want this program, with time and hard work, to be recognized as one of the best in college football."

Coaching...

"I love and respect the coaching profession. It's the only job I ever had. I believe in the profession. What I enjoy about coaching is working with young people. The greatest thrills that I have in coaching are not the victories, it's seeing the people you have coached leave and go into their chosen professions and come back and see that they have achieved success. And feel that, in some way, you have contributed to their success in life."

Chancellor Dr. Richard Eakin

The ninth chief executive officer in ECU history

Dr. Richard R. Eakin, Chancellor of East Carolina University since March 1, 1987, has a vision of greatness for the institution.

Foreseeing that ECU is destined to become a truly distinctive university, Eakin is firmly committed to academic excellence and finding new ways of service to the state and region.

He sees ECU as the catalyst for change that will bring about a better quality of life for the people whose lives it touches.

Dr. Eakin's goals include on-going strategic planning, campus beautification and development of its physical plant, libraries and student facilities, strengthening of the undergraduate curriculum, additional doctoral level programs, research and increasing participation in community affairs and public service.

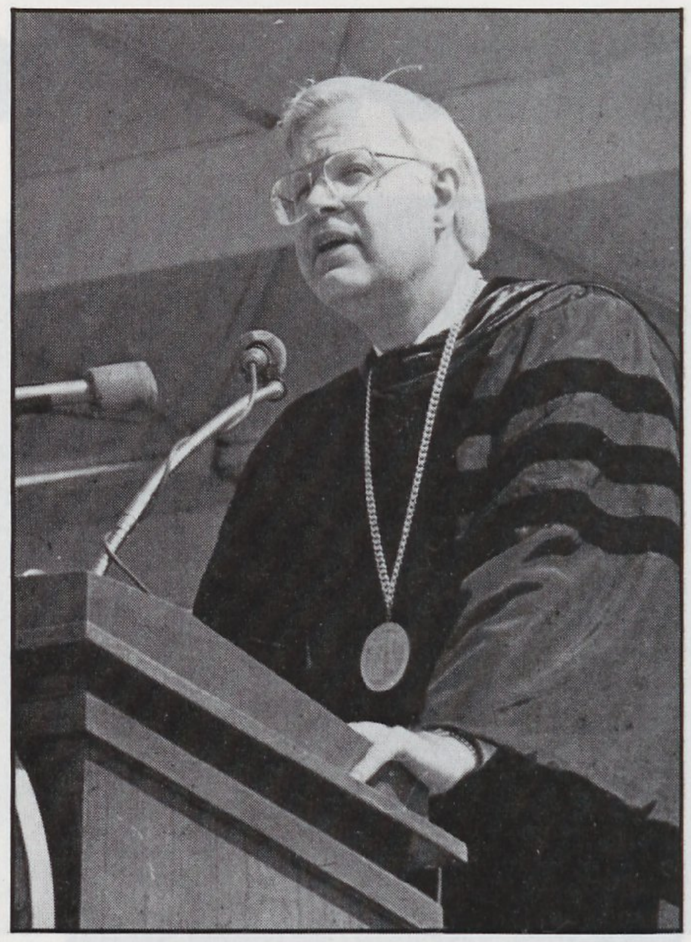

East Carolina has the third largest university enrollment in North Carolina. Eakin wants ECU to be regarded and ranked among the three best state universities in North Carolina.

Based upon its 82-year history of providing educational opportunity and excellence, East Carolina is already a university of distinction, Eakin believes. It is a product of its region, founded, nurtured and cherished by its supporters including more than 62,000 graduates.

The school's level of private financial support ranked second among the nation's public, comprehensive universities in 1987-88. With an ever-increasing private support providing the margin of excellence, Eakin foresees ECU emerging in the spotlight as a university known for quality of its teaching, research and service.

The ninth chief executive officer in the school's history, Dr. Eakin came to East Carolina University with a strong background in higher education administration and as a professor of mathematics. He began his career in 1964 at Bowling Green State University in Ohio and served as a vice president at Bowling Green before coming to ECU.

A native of New Castle, Pennsylvania, Dr. Eakin earned his bachelor's degree in mathematics and physics, summa cum laude from Geneva College in 1960. At Geneva he was class valedictorian and President of the Student Senate. He was awarded a master's degree from Washington State University in 1962 and the doctorate in mathematics with a minor in economics from Washington State University in 1964.

Eakin is committed to academic excellence and service to state and region.

He is married to the former Jo Ann McGeehan. They have two children, Matthew, a graduate student at North Carolina State University, and Maridy, a sophomore at East Carolina University.

Director of Athletics Dave Hart, Jr.

Committed to excellence, integrity within the program

Dave Hart, Jr., who has gained national recognition for his innovative ideas in the field of marketing, promotions and fundraising, is in his second year as East Carolina University's director of athletics.

Hart was appointed athletic director on December 21, 1987 by ECU Chancellor Dr. Richard Eakin. "Dave has served the University with distinction since April 1983," said Eakin. "He has successfully led private fundraising efforts to record levels with gift income in excess of $1 million and donor participation exceeding 4,300."

"Dave has an exceptional understanding of all aspects of athletic administration, has a strong commitment to excellence and integrity throughout the men's and women's programs, and possesses, in my judgment, the leadership qualities necessary to continue to develop our athletic program and move it to new levels of achievement."

Since that appointment, Hart has become one of the most effective athletic administrators in college athletics. Just one month into his new position, Hart was appointed to the NCAA's prestigious Committee on Integrity and Image in College Athletics, which is chaired by Georgia Tech director of athletics Homer Rice. He also chairs the Colonial Athletic Association Marketing Committee.

Hart has become a popular speaker at the national level and has authored articles for a number of national publications in the areas of marketing, promotions and fundraising. He has made numerous speaking presentations at NCAA conventions and seminars, and during the past four National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) conventions, has served as an instructor at the Management Institute.

Since Hart has taken over as East Carolina's Athletic Director, Pirate athletic squads have been faring better. In the spring, the Pirate baseball team won the Colonial Athletic Association tournament and participated in the NCAA tournament. The men's and women's basketball teams finished with winning seasons while the swim team also won the CAA crown.

He has also structured new programs at ECU that include Personal Development for student-athletes, NCAA rules seminars and taking the anti-drug and alcohol fight into the Greenville community with trading cards and lectures featuring coaches and student-athletes.

Hart was named associate director of athletics for external relations and executive director of the Pirate Club in 1985. His duties included the raising of funds for athletic scholarships through the Pirate Club, as well as overseeing all external areas of the athletic department.

During his first two years in that position, the Pirate Club experienced record-setting growth as it surpassed the coveted $1 million mark in contributions for the first time ever. The 1987 campaign saw another record performance under his direction as the Club exceeded the $1.2 million level.

Hart first joined the ECU athletic department in 1983 as an assistant athletic director for marketing. It was the first time that ECU had ever employed a full-time staff member for marketing, and it immediately brought dividends.

ECU's marketing program gained national attention for the rapid growth in crowd participation through tailgating and other promotional efforts. Hart was also responsible for implementing the "Great Pirate Purple/Gold Pigskin Pig-Out Party," which is a weekend extravaganza surrounding the spring football game.

Additionally, attendance at home football games increased greatly as evidenced by the fact that nine of the top 12 crowds in Ficklen Stadium history have entered the turnstiles since the 1983 season. Promotional ventures such as the "Ain't It Great to Tailgate" idea have added to the atmosphere at Pirate home games.

Hart, just the fifth athletic director in ECU history, received his undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Alabama, earning a B.S. in English/Speech in 1971 and a master's degree in 1972. He attended Alabama on a basketball scholarship and was a graduate assistant coach for the Crimson Tide program in 1972. He won nine varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball and at Annapolis (MD) High School, where he was also an All-State basketball and football player.

He is married to the former Pam Humble of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and they have three children — Ricky (17), Jamie (15) and Kelly (12).

The Hart Family: Kelly, Dave, Pam, Ricky and Jamie.

Sports Medicine/ Physical Education Building

ECU proudly unveils its new athletic facility

The first major step in East Carolina's continuing efforts to upgrade facilities, the Sports Medicine/Physical Education Building, became a reality in September.

The three-story, 82,095-square foot structure, the home of ECU's athletic department, provides the two areas with state-of-the-art technology.

"From a facilities standpoint, the new building takes us to another level," ECU director of athletics Dave Hart said. "The building is a very visible illustration of the direction our program is headed.

"It is a great source of pride for our athletic department, as well as our sports medicine and physical education departments."

The injury treatment and rehabilitation center of the sports medicine department includes the latest in technology, making it one of the top sports medicine programs in the country. Among the many features of the new building is a 5,000-square foot strength training center, a state-of-the-art human performance laboratory, biomechanics lab, classrooms and men's and women's locker rooms.

The entire coaching staffs for the football and men's and women's basketball teams are housed on the second floor, while the entire athletic administrative staff find their offices on the top level.

"The building is top-notch," ECU director of sports medicine Rod Compton said. "It puts us on the cutting edge of facilities and technology in the country.

"It's a visual demonstration of the close relationship here at ECU between athletics and academics."

The building is unique in structure. The shortest of six sides of the building is the front of the facility and faces 35,000-seat Ficklen Stadium.

The first floor connects with Minges Coliseum via a covered walkway. Features of the first floor include:

Sports Medicine Training Center — Sophisticated injury treatment, evaluation and rehabilitation equipment fills the room including touch-control whirlpools, a computerized isokinetic rehabilitation and evaluation machine, exam rooms including one dental chair, and a 7-foot deep whirlpool that allows an injured athlete to exercise without bearing weight.

The training area will also boast 19 taping stations and a radio communication center which allows sports medicine officials to monitor action on the football field and basketball court simultaneously.

Strength Training Center — Includes 5,000-square feet of shiny new chrome and steel, with mirror-lined walls.

Locker Rooms — Both men and women.

Equipment Storage — A spacious area with equipment for 135 football players and more.

Attractions of the second floor include:

All-Purpose Room — An area that overlooks Ficklen Stadium. Trophy cases, retired jerseys and mementos from Pirate athletes now in the pros line the room.

Football — Offices for the head coach, nine assistant coaches, graduate assistants, a recruiting coordinator and secretaries. Football also has two storage rooms, a file room, and access to two mini-auditoriums.

Basketball — More offices for each coach, and a meeting room for both the men's and women's staff.

Academic Counseling — Computers and tutors are available to keep the student-athlete ahead in his studies.

Classrooms

Sports Medicine Offices

The top floor includes:

Human Performance Laboratory — A sophisticated lab with the latest in human performance technology.

Biomechanics Lab

Athletic Administrative Staff — Offices saturates the third floor from the athletic director to the business manager to the sports information director.

The Sports Medicine/Physical Education Building is a unique structure, unlike any facility in the country.

"With the athletic department and portions of the physical education department under one roof," said Hart, "the building is a positive illustration of how athletics and academics go hand-in-hand here at East Carolina."

ECU "Big Wheels"

The road becomes a second home for those connected with collegiate athletics. Indeed, being on the road and traveling thousands of miles each year is a major part of the job.

Almost every facet of the job — recruiting, scouting competition, making public appearances, etc. — are activities that keep athletic personnel on the move.

The "wheels" that keep East Carolina's athletic program rolling are a group known as Courtesy Car Dealers, and they play a vital role in allowing the Pirate staff to meet their demands.

Far more than just a fringe benefit, these cars given by the East Carolina Courtesy Car Dealers are necessities for a growing and successful athletic program.

The entire East Carolina staff wishes to thank each dealer providing a car to this fleet of courtesy cars. We hope our fans will look to these fine people for their automotive needs at every opportunity.

Thanks Courtesy Car Dealers! You keep the wheels of East Carolina athletics rolling.

Thanks also goes to Adam's Auto Wash of Greenville. Adam's helps keep ECU's courtesy cars looking clean.

The Marching Pirates

Innovative band displaying new uniforms

The Marching Pirates take the field in 1989 in new uniforms purchased through the generous gifts of friends, alumni, and the university community of East Carolina University. These uniforms will replace the "temporary jackets" purchased in 1980.

The ECU Marching Pirates have a national reputation among college and high school band directors and students as one of the most innovative college bands in the country. The group draws students from New England to Southern Florida and as far west as Oklahoma. The group is known for its high energy performances and "solid, wall of sound" contrasting with a "delicate, musical blend."

This year the band is under the field leadership of Drum Major Scott Lane and Assistant Drum Major Nick Holland. Field Commander is Calvin Braxton. The first recording of the Marching Pirates may be purchased at the band section in the stadium or through the office of director: Dr. Thomas W. Goolsby; School of Music; East Carolina University; Greenville, NC 27858.

The ECU Marching Pirates are known throughout the nation as one of the most innovative college bands in the country.

A Special Thanks

East Carolina University expresses appreciation to the 93 individuals, organizations and corporations whose gifts made possible the purchase of new uniforms for the Marching Pirates. Very special thanks go to the following donors whose exemplary generosity was instrumental in making the band uniform project a success:

Here's To The Pirates

by Mitch Doub, Joe Distefano, Tom Goolsby, Phil Marnell

Here's to the Pirates of ECU!
We're going to raise our battle flag high,
We're going to sing it long,
Shout it loud;
And then they'll know
That we are Pirate Proud.
Because the battle's been fought,
And now it's won,
And everybody knows that we're Number One!
Because we're full of Pride,
We've got them bowing to our side,
Here's to ECU!

Traditional

by Ron Jacobs

We're from East Carolina
the Purple and Gold;
The Pirates of the country
No others quite as bold.

— GO PIRATES —

Stand up for the Pirates
As we go to the Victory
So let's give 'em a hand
Come on folks, Let's stand!
and show 'em, we're from EC!

Pirate Cheerleading

Helping lead the Spirit of the East

The East Carolina University Cheerleading and Mascot Programs are an exciting part of the university atmosphere and a guaranteed way to be involved with the athletics of the university and community. The demands and responsibilities are numerous and the rewards are endless.

The Cheerleading Program is divided into two groups. The Purple Squad serves as the Varsity Squad, and appears at home and away football games and at men's basketball games. The Gold Squad serves as the Junior Varsity Squad and as an alternate to the Purple Squad. The Gold Squad cheers at home football games and women's basketball games. The Purple and Gold Squads also cheer for all East Carolina Inter-Collegiate Athletic Programs, such as soccer, volleyball, swimming, diving, baseball and softball. Both squads also represent ECU at pep rallies, sporting events, and make promotional appearances.

The requirements for tryouts vary every year due to the growth and changing needs of the squad. The Purple and Gold Squads' requirements are cheers and chants, dance ability, gymnastics ability, partner stunts, crowd involvement and enthusiasm. Specific requirements are announced at the beginning of each tryout clinic.

An important part of the cheerleading squad is the Pirate Mascot, who, in addition to football and basketball games, entertains at other Pirate athletic contests throughout the year. The Pirate also makes guest appearances at civic, social and promotional functions. Wherever he goes, The Pirate is recognized as the trademark of East Carolina University. Tryouts for the cheerleading squads and the mascot occur in both spring and fall.

The advantages, rewards, and opportunities of the Cheerleading and Mascot Programs speak for themselves and make the efforts worthwhile.

Peggy Smith, a veteran instructor of cheerleading, is the director of cheerleading and mascots at East Carolina. Smith, also experienced in dance, drill teams, and color guard, begins her second year with the ECU Cheerleading and Mascot Programs.

Smith, who cheered on the collegiate level for the University of Southwestern Louisiana, earned her master's degree in 1985. Peggy is currently a full-time faculty member for the Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Safety Department at ECU. She coaches both the Purple and Gold Squads in addition to the Mascot.

Noting The Pirates

• In the first five games, 41 Pirates have seen action in every game. That includes 22 offensive players, 16 defensive players and three special teams players. Of the 41 players, 16 of them have started every game at the same position.

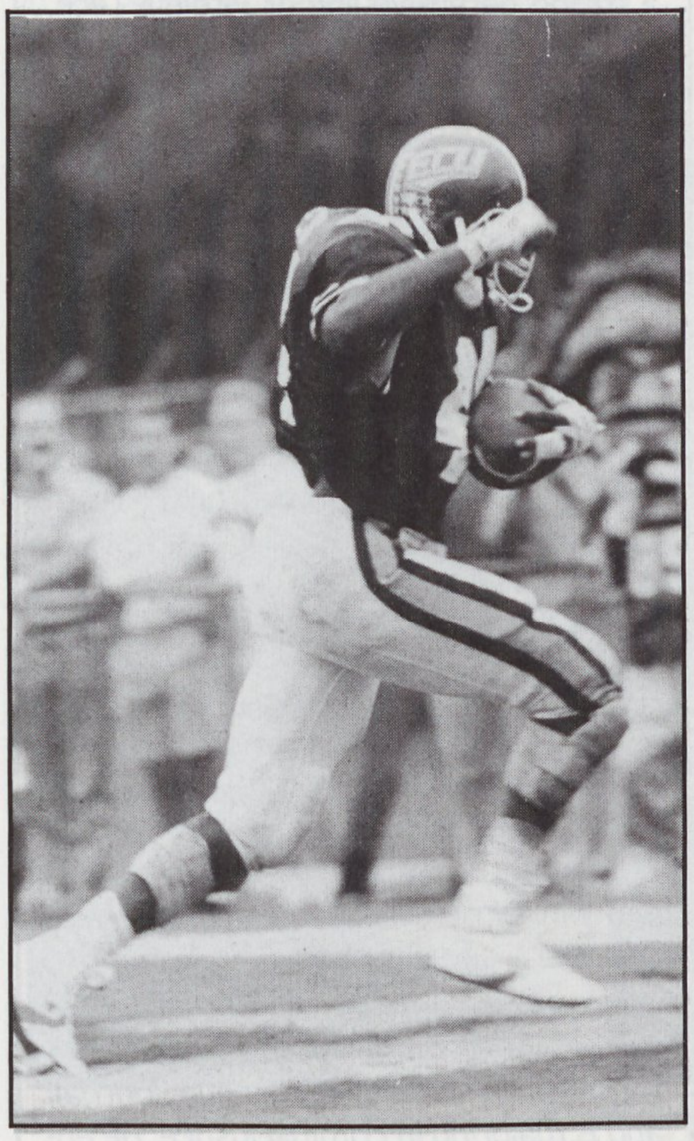

• Since 1960, the Pirates are 14-3 in games played after open dates. In the '80s, ECU is 4-1 in those games with the only loss coming to South Carolina in 1985. The two other losses occurred against Richmond in 1968 and 1969.

• In games played on Oct. 21, the Pirates are 4-2. The last time ECU played on that date was in 1978 at Foreman Field in Norfolk, Va. against Richmond. The Pirates came away with a 21-14 win. In 1972 at N.C. State, the Wolfpack defeated ECU, 38-16. In 1967, the Pirates won at Parsons, 27-26, and in 1961, they won at Newberry, 13-7. In 1949, ECU won at Newport News Apprentice, 26-21. Fifty years ago, the Pirates lost at William & Mary, 7-0.

• The Pirates are 86-41-1 in games played in Ficklen Stadium, a 67.5 winning percentage. The tie occurred in ECU's last home game — a 29-29 deadlock against Louisiana Tech.

• A near-capacity crowd is expected for the East Carolina-Virginia Tech game. The largest crowd ever to watch a game in Ficklen Stadium is 35,047, set on Oct. 25, 1985 against South Carolina. The next four crowds are:

2. 34,511 vs. Miami, Fla. (Oct. 5, 1985)
3. 33,857 vs. West Virginia (Sept. 13, 1986)
4. 33,786 vs. West Virginia (Oct. 8, 1988)
5. 33,767 vs. E. Tenn. State (Oct. 29, 1983)

• For the first time in almost six seasons, the Pirate defense allowed an opposing team to have two runningbacks with 100 yards rushing each. USC's Mike Dingle (117 yds.) and Albert Haynes (101 yds.) did that against the Pirate defense. John Williams (119 yds.) and Neal Anderson (119 yds.) of Florida did it against ECU on Oct. 22, 1983.

Updating ECU Record Books

• This season, ECU senior quarterback Travis Hunter has become the school's all-time leader in total offensive yardage, passing yardage and pass completions. For his career, Hunter has 205 completions, 2,992 passing yards and 3,986 total offensive yards.

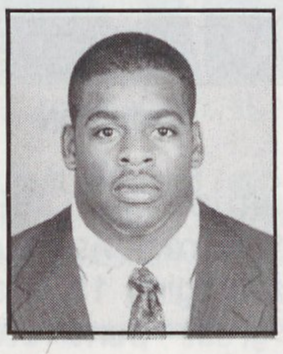

Walter Wilson

• Also, Walter Wilson is tied for sixth on the school pass reception list with 58 and fourth on the reception yardage list with 1,098 yards.

Injury Report

• Most everyone available for the South Carolina game is available for Virginia Tech. Only starting strong safety Derrick Fields is questionable with an elbow injury. Also, senior back-up defensive back Tim Wolter suffered a severe knee sprain in practice and is doubtful. Senior WR Walter Wilson suffered a shoulder sprain against Louisiana Tech and missed the South Carolina game. Junior LB George Koonce is doubtful with a groin strain.

George Koonce

Measuring The Opponents

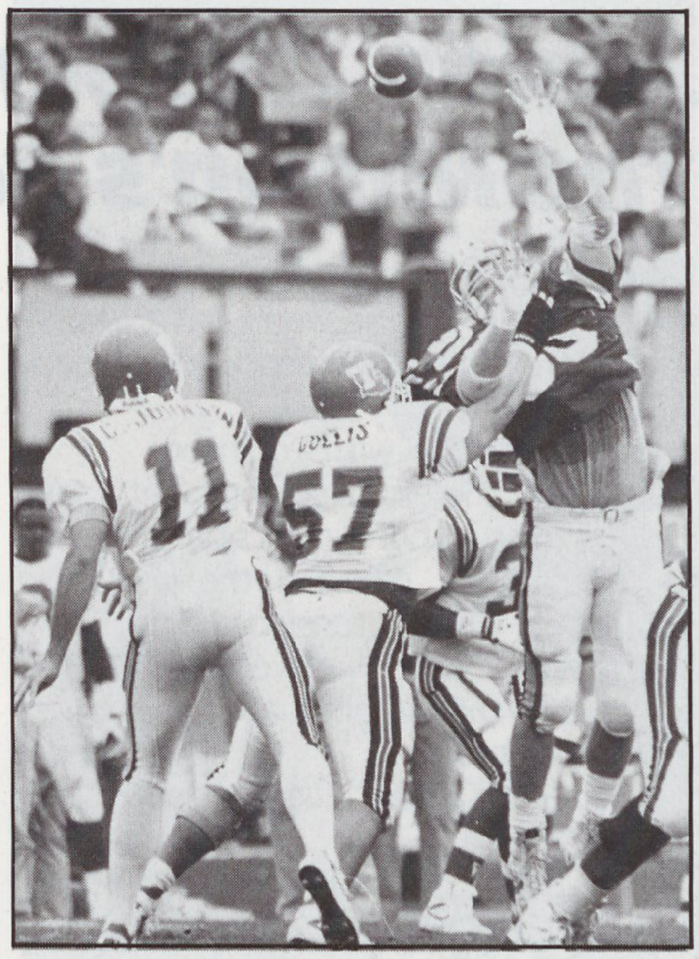

• East Carolina's opponents had a below average week, going 6-4. For the season, they are 31-31-5. Two of them — Miami (Fla.) and Pittsburgh — are undefeated. Here is a breakdown of how ECU's opponents fared last week:

Bowling Green (3-3) — def. Toledo, 27-23
Cincinnati (1-4-1) — lost to Memphis State, 17-34
Illinois State (2-4) — def. Southern Illinois, 21-17
Louisiana Tech (2-3-1) — def. Northern Illinois, 42-21
South Carolina (4-1-1) — OPEN
Virginia Tech (3-2-1) — lost to Florida State, 7-41
Syracuse (2-3) — lost to Penn State, 12-34
Miami, Fla. (6-0) — def. San Jose State, 48-16
Temple (0-7) — lost to Boston College, 14-35
Pittsburgh (5-0-1) — def. Navy, 31-14
Southern Miss (3-4) — def. Louisville, 16-10

• The game week contests include Bowling Green at Eastern Michigan, Cincinnati at West Virginia, Indiana State at Illinois State, Louisiana Tech at Arkansas State, Western Carolina at South Carolina, Virginia Tech at East Caroliina, Syracuse at Rutgers, Northern Illinois at Temple and SW Louisiana at Southern Miss.

Last Time Out

• On Oct. 7 at Columbia, S.C., the Pirates lost to South Carolina, 47-14. The Pirates got on the scoreboard first on a five-yard pass from Travis Hunter to Charles Freeman. USC's Collin Mackie answered with a 34-yard field goal. On ECU's next drive, Michael Rhett scored from the one-yard line and the Pirates led, 14-3. The Gamecocks then scored 44 unanswered points for the win. The Pirates had 303 yards of total offense, including 231 through the air. USC had 582 yards total offense, including 399 yards through the air.

Junior, The Senior, Is Among The Nation's Best Return Men

Junior Robinson is an East Carolina senior, which means that he won't have to play South Carolina and Gamecock quarterback Todd Ellis again. .

That is just fine with Robinson.

Robinson, the Pirate strong safety, says Ellis has been a thorn in his side for closer to seven years, not just the last four. Robinson, who attended High Point Andrews High School, played against Ellis, a Greensboro Page graduate, all through the prep ranks.

"Todd Ellis is a great quarterback and has been for as long as I can remember," said Robinson, who is currently fifth in the nation in kick-off returns at 29.5 per clip. "I remember playing against Todd. They were a great team."

THE CLASS OF '89

Senior Profiles

In their most recent meeting two weeks ago, Ellis passed for 299 yards and three touchdowns against the Pirate defense in South Carolina's 47-14 win at Williams-Brice Stadium.

"I think we learned a couple of lessons out there today," Robinson said following the loss to the Gamecocks. "We're going to have to regroup and improve fundamentally."

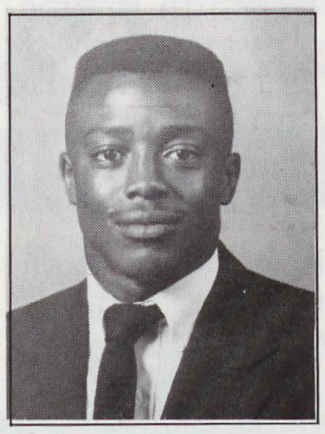

That's typical of Robinson. Despite the loss, and despite being a senior, Robinson looked on the bright side, and for ways to improve.

"I think you learn something every day you step on the football field," Robinson said. "That's why you practice every day."

Robinson has been giving a few lessons of his own to ECU opponents this season.

Defensively, Robinson leads the team with two interceptions, including one against his old nemesis Ellis two weeks ago.

"I thought for a minute that I was going in for a score," Robinson said of his interception. "I just timed the pattern, and the sideline looked clear," said Robinson, whose return was good for 27 yards.

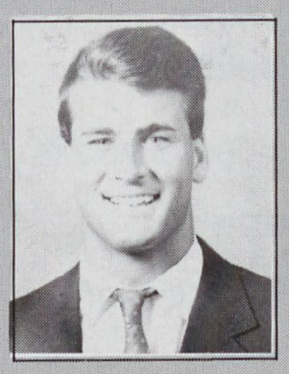

ROBINSON

Robinson has been an even bigger threat on special teams. As a kick returner, he is averaging 29.5 yards per kickoff return.

He has 16 punt returns for 188 yards including one 56-yarder. As a punt returner, Robinson is averaging 11.8 yards per punt return. A "great" punt returner, according to the coaches, is one that averages in double figure yardage on returns.

Robinson's two interceptions have been returned for 45 yards, an average of 22.5 yards per pick-off. Only Ricky Torain on the Pirate defense has more than one interception besides Robinson.

Joe Holmes

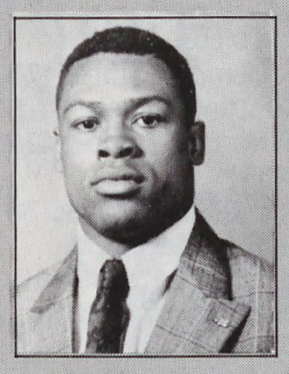

Joe, who has started all five games along the defensive line this season, has been doing some damage to opponent ball carriers this year with 33 tackles including five for losses.

Joe's father, Randell, who played football at ECU from 1956-58, tells another story about some damage Joe did at a very young age.

"When ... Joe was three and (Joe's sister) Vicki was one, he took her about three blocks from home," Randell wrote recently. "(They) got into a neighbor's car and backed it across the street into a light pole."

Joe's performance on the field this year, however, is nothing to be ashamed of.

Denell Harper

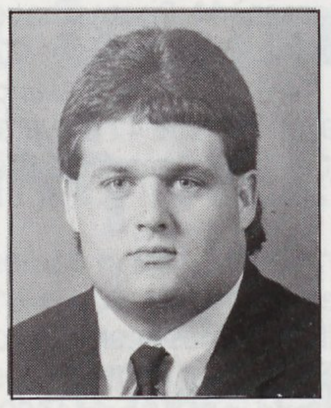

Denell, one of several players on the ECU roster from the Chesapeake, VA, area, is an impressive running back to watch. While he is one of the more talented players on the team, his performances often go unheralded.

For example, Denell ran four times for 43 yards in the season opener against Bowling Green including one touchdown. Impressive when you consider that A) that's an average of more than 10 yards per carry; B) he played only sparingly because of the large lead; C) until the game, he had not gone through any contact drills in practice because of early season injuries.

Harper is the third-leading rusher on the team and one of the top receivers out of the backfield.

Experience In The Trenches Paying Off For Southall

SOUTHALL

The offensive line has been one of the most consistent parts of the East Carolina football team this fall, and the senior-laden line is greatly responsible for ECU's success thus far.

Guard Stewart Southall is one of those senior linemen, and the Milledgeville, GA, native is seeing his experience in the trenches pay off. Fellow seniors Grant Lowe and Todd Drugac, a pair of highly rated tackles, team with Southall to form the nucleus. Sophomore Keith Arnold has been impressive at center, and Bill Maxwell and Chad Martin have split time at the guard spot opposite Southall.

"If we continue to work hard in practice it will pay off in the games to follow," says Southall. Southall has started in every game this year at the right offensive guard position.

"(The seniors) have played together for a long time and we know what the other player is capable of doing or not doing," Southall said. Through the first five games of the season, the Pirate offense has scored less than 21 points only once. They hope to achieve that mark today against a strong defensive line of Virginia Tech.

Southall was redshirted in 1985, then saw limited playing time during the 1986 season before becoming a starter in 1987. Southall started in eight games at right guard in 1988, though a chronic ankle injury caused Southall to miss three starts during the season. He had an outstanding spring this season which has led to a good start in the fall.

One of Southall's strengths is just that — his strength. He bench presses 410 pounds, the fourth-best mark on the team and second best among all ECU offensive and defensive linemen.

"Working hard in the weight room has helped me stay strong and healthy during my career at ECU," says Southall.

Head coach Bill Lewis has brought a new attitude to the Pirate football team this year, Southall says. "We feel like we can be strong throughout the entire season and win those close games that we lost last year," says Southall.

Notes on Southall: Southall was born on November 4, 1966 in Valdosta, GA. He is the son of Jimmy and Brenda Southall and is majoring in criminal justice. He enjoys skiing, fishing, and camping in his spare time.

ECU + IBM = CIM --- An Area Of Excellence

By George Threewits
ECU News Bureau

CIM is a term at the top of the vocabulary list for the School of Business and the School of Industry and Technology at East Carolina University. CIM stands for Computer-Integrated Manufacturing.

UNIVERSITY FEATURE
EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

Explained simply, CIM is a way of using computers to speed up and improve the flow of information in an organization and make complex industries easier to manage.

International Business Machines (IBM) Corporation has selected ECU for a three-year, $500,000 partnership project to study and demonstrate the use of CIM. It's a project that ECU officials are excited about because it has strengthened the level of technological research at ECU and has placed the campus among an elite group of colleges and universities chosen by IBM for partnership studies.

Under the partnership agreement IBM is providing the computer equipment and software to set up a full-blown Computer-Integrated Manufacturing education and demonstration system at ECU. The system, using an advanced mainframe computer and a network of microcomputers, will link business management and marketing classrooms in the School of Business to industrial design and application laboratories in the School of Industry and Technology.

ECU will use the system to study the applications of CIM and to teach and demonstrate the system to students and to representatives of area industries.

At the hub of the system is a new AS/400 mid range computer. The AS/400 connects with more than a dozen new microcomputers and two industrial microcomputers. One industrial microcomputer will be used on an industrial control system and the other will be used to control assembly lines in a manufacturing work cell, a laboratory that simulates the production area of a manufacturing plant.

Because of its teaching significance and its potential for helping businesses learn more about CIM, ECU has dubbed the three-year partnership "an area of excellence" for the university.

"It will enable us to bring into the classroom some real, live situations on how an industry is run," said Dr. Paul F. Petersen, a business management professor at ECU. "This is something that can't be taught from textbooks," he said.

He said the system will let students see the effects of management decisions while providing them with the skills to manage the decision making and technical aspects of the CIM system.

One of the main objectives for the system is to develop and demonstrate how CIM is used in industry. Petersen said the system at ECU will be five to eight years ahead of the computer capabilities of most small to medium size companies.

"We have to develop the methods and techniques for using the system in the classroom and laboratories because they don't exist anywhere else," said Petersen.

Petersen is co-directing the operation of the CIM system with David R. Hillis, a member of the manufacturing faculty in the School of Industry and Technology.

"One of the most interesting aspects of CIM," said Hillis, "is it can make a large business react and behave like a small one."

David Hillis, a professor in the Department of Manufacturing, uses an "elf" terminal to scan the bar codes in an ECU laboratory that simulates a manufacturing assembly line. A factory uses Computer-Integrated Manufacturing to keep up with the assembly, design changes, and internal components of each product produced. (News Bureau photo by Tony Rumple)

Take a boat manufacturer for example. Using CIM the manufacturer keeps track of everything related to building the boat. Pieces of information such as the sources and costs of materials, the employees working on the product, and the amount of time it takes to laminate, apply gel coat and trim the vessel are fed into the computer. Hillis said the manufacturer can know at a glance which boats are the money makers and which ones lose money.

The manufacturer can easily trace the sources for components used in the vessel from screws and bolts to fiber mats and resins. Later, if a dealer or consumer discovers a problem in the product, the manufacturer can easily trace the cause of the problem.

"The CIM concept is like a small group of individuals," said Hillis. "Everyone knows what everyone else is doing."

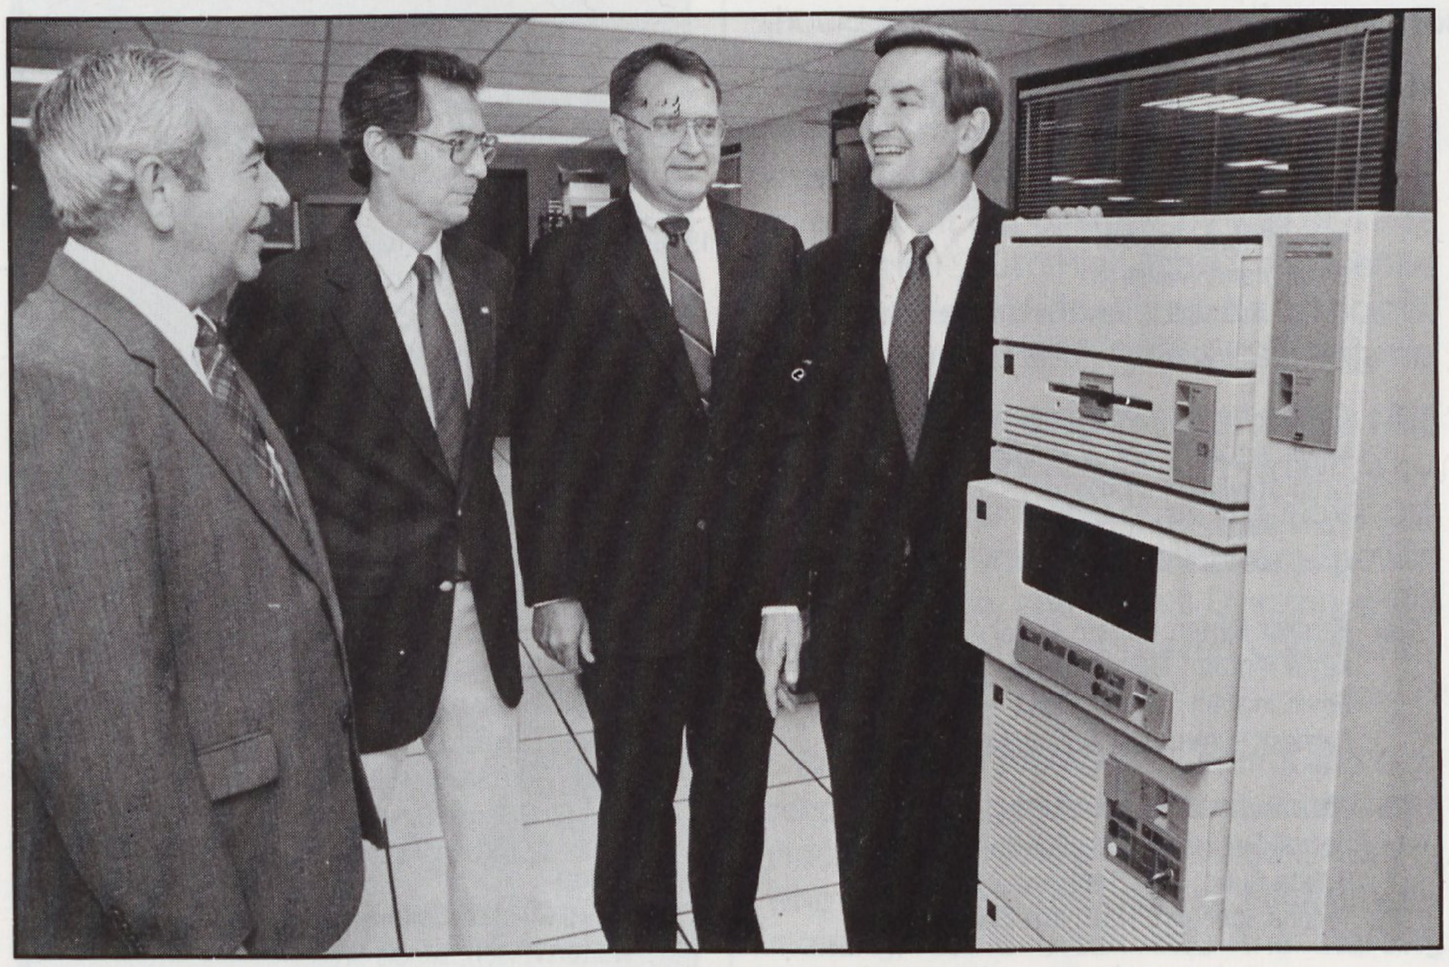

"It can make big business fun again," he said.

As part of its partnership agreement ECU plans to demonstrate the decision making and technical aspects of CIM to area industries. In addition, short courses and seminars on CIM will be offered through ECU.

One aspect of the partnership ECU officials consider impressive is that ECU is one of only 22 four-year universities in the nation to be picked by IBM to study Computer-Integrated Manufacturing. Some of the other campuses include Virginia Tech, the University of Kentucky, the University of South Carolina, Cincinnati University and Wichita State University.

Of course IBM expects research on the campuses to lead to the development of new techniques and methods for using the system. The company also hopes the partnership programs will help accelerate a move by U.S. factories into CIM.

ECU, meanwhile, is delighted to be included in the CIM study and hopes the partnership leads to a long and productive relationship with the IBM company.

CT&T Scholarship

A full $3,500 athletic scholarship is awarded at each home East Carolina football game by Carolina Telephone and Telegraph for outstanding achievements in academics and contribution by an ECU team member to the Pirate football program.

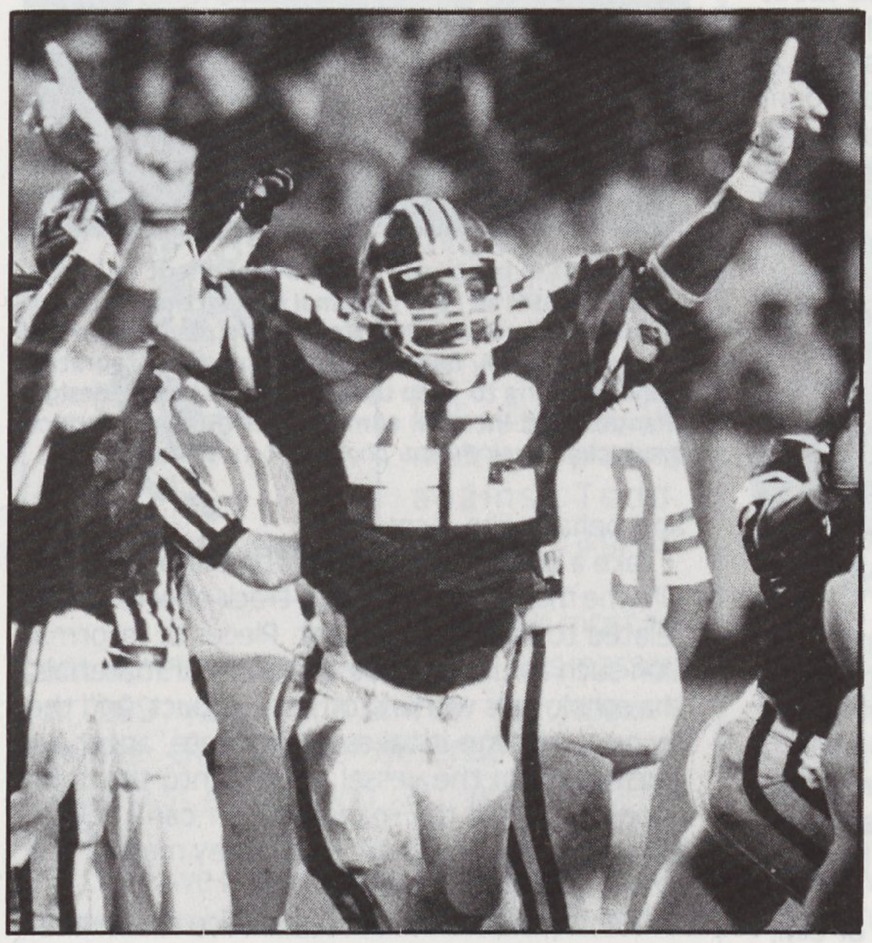

The award has been given since 1984, but this season marks the second time that CT&T and its president, Wayne Peterson, have contributed the full scholarship amount for each home game, and it is a donation that ECU officials greatly appreciate.

"As the Pirate Club strives to expand its funding base in order to fully fund athletic scholarships and meet future goals for growth, a gesture like this one by Wayne Peterson and CT&T stands out as an illustration of corporate commitment to excellence with regard to our program," said Charlie Carr, ECU's associate director of athletics and executive director of the Pirate Club.

R.W. Moore Scholarship

The "King of the Gridiron" scholarship is presented each home football game to the outstanding East Carolina University football player for that particular game as voted on by the media in attendance.

Mr. R.W. Moore of Raleigh, president of R.W. Moore Equipment Company, initiated the scholarship in 1977. This season marks the 13th consecutive year for the presentations.

The scholarship carries a $1,000 value and is presented in the name of the winning player to the ECU Educational Foundation (Pirate Club). The money is then contributed to the general athletic scholarship fund.

When East Carolina head coach Mike Steele looks down his bench for a substitute during the waning moments of a close ball game, he'll have plenty of faces to pick from. What he won't have is someone the calibre of Theodore "Blue" Edwards.

That, pretty much, sums up the 1989-90 outlook for the Pirates. And, it's not as tough as you might think even with the loss of the Colonial Athletic Association Player of the Year in 1988-89.

Pirate Basketball '89-90

Replacing "Blue" will be ECU's biggest challenge

Steele returns seven lettermen from last year's 15-14 squad including starters Gus Hill, Reed Lose and Stanley Love. Also, the coaching staff inked seven newcomers to national letters-of-intent. With those numbers, there will definitely be more quality in the quantity.

Hill, a 6-3 senior guard, was the CAA Rookie of the Year in 1987-88 after scoring 19.3 points and 5.5 rebounds per game. Last season, with the emergence of Edwards, Hill slowed to 10.7 points per game. Hill will have to be more productive this season for the Pirates to make an impact in the league.

Lose, a 6-4 senior guard, is one of the scrappiest players in the league. He'll add leadership and hustle to the squad that will have five freshmen, five sophomores, two juniors and two seniors. Last season, Lose averaged 7.7 points and 3.4 rebounds per game.

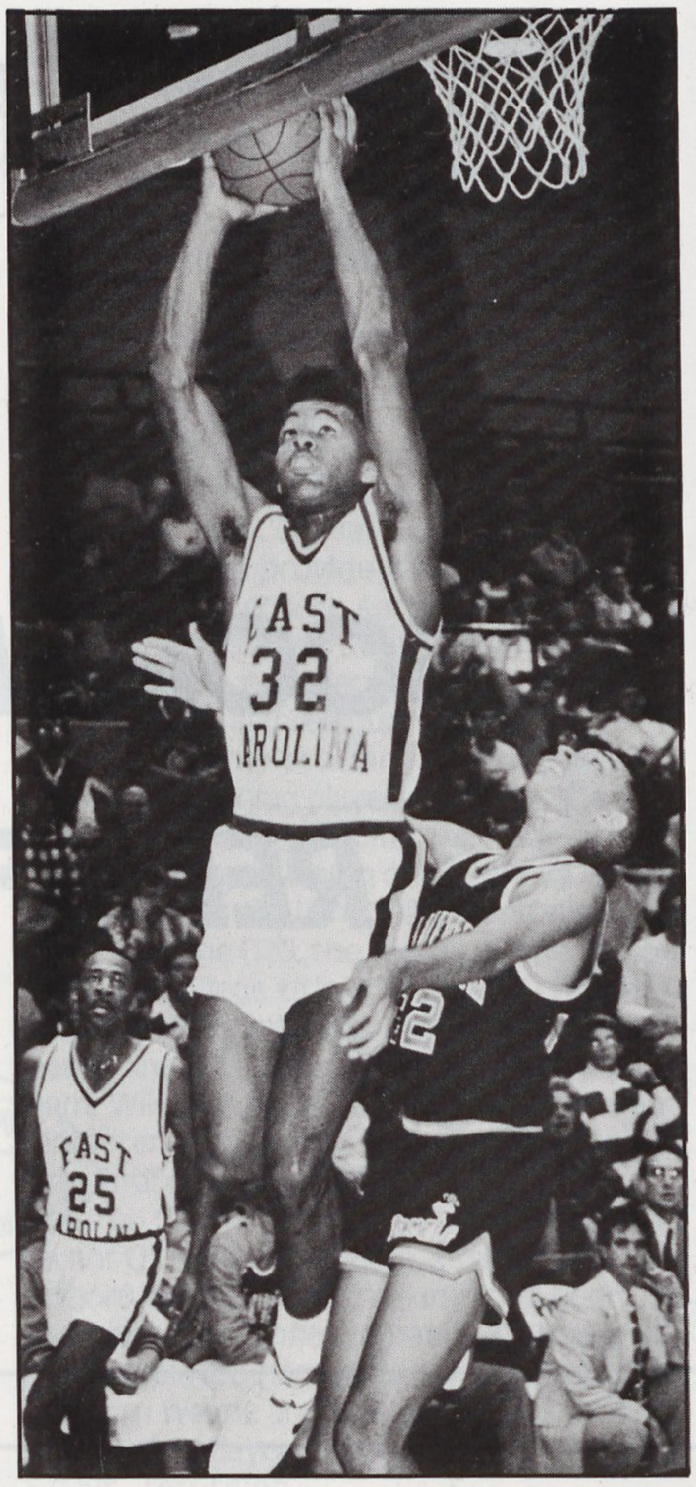

Love, a 6-5 junior center, started to develop a shooting touch late in the season. If he can carry that over to 1989-90, he'll be a force to contend with among CAA centers. Last year, he averaged 5.2 points and 3.7 rebounds per game and had 15 points in ECU's CAA tournament opening round win against American.

Sophomores Brooks Bryant, Robin House, Casey Mote and Jeff Perlich should continue to improve and make an impact this season. Bryant, a 6-9 center, and Mote, a 6-7 center, should give the Pirates additional inside height. House, a 6-1 guard, and Perlich, a 6-2 guard, are good shooters who should see more playing time this season.

Of the seven newcomers inked by ECU, six hail from the state of North Carolina. Only Steve Richardson, a 6-3 freshman guard, comes from out-of-state, by way of Terre Haute (Ind.) South High School. As a senior last year, Richardson averaged 19.5 points, seven rebounds and four assists per game.

Three junior college talents should help the Pirates out right away. Tim Brown, a 6-7 forward/center from Louisburg Junior College, Taro Knight, a 6-3 guard from Chowan Junior College, and Darrell Overton, a 6-6 forward/center from Craven Community College signed with ECU.

Brown, who averaged 17 points and nine rebounds per game last season, should provide immediate help in the middle. Knight, who will have three years of eligibility remaining, could break into the starting lineup at point guard. Overton is a force on the boards, averaging 14 points and 12 rebounds per game last season.

Stanley Love and six other returnees will be looked to more often this season.

Also, three North Carolina prepsters signed with ECU. Paul Childress, a 5-10 guard from Albemarle High School, averaged 18 points, four rebounds and five assists per game last season. He'll make a solid contribution in his first season.

Ike Copeland, a 6-8 center from Rocky Mount Senior High School, will add height and depth in the middle. Last season, he averaged 14.5 points and 11.0 rebounds per game.

D.J. Morgan, a 6-6 forward from Athens Drive High School, could see plenty of action this season. Last year, he averaged 15 points and 14 rebounds per game.

The Pirate basketball schedule gets tougher with road visits to Duke, New Mexico, TCU, and a visit to Hawaii for the Chaminade Invitational. ECU will also host Mississippi State. There is also the regular CAA schedule, which includes Richmond, George Mason, American, James Madison, UNC-Wilmington, Navy and William and Mary.

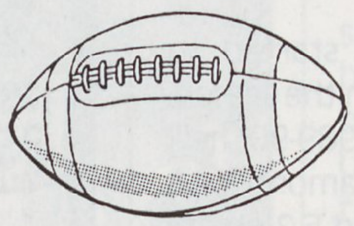

ECU's home games will start at 7 p.m. this season.

After leading the Lady Pirates to a 15-3 record and a third-place finish in the Colonial Athletic Association, third-year head coach Pat Pierson must now face the task of replacing four key seniors as ECU heads into the 1989-90 season.

"We're expecting to be in a learning process," said Pierson, who enters her 11th year of coaching on the collegiate level with a 189-122 record. "We have some strong players returning, despite our loss at graduation."

The Lady Pirates graduated Gretta Savage, 1988-89 Lady Pirate Co-MVP and Pitt County Player of the Year; Chris O'Connor, who earned the team's best free throw percentage last season; Pam Williams, ECU Best Defensive Award recipient; and Rose Miller, who received the ECU Most Improved and Coaches Award for 1988-89.

One of the bright points this season will be the return of 1988-89 Lady Pirate Co-MVP, Sarah Gray. The 6-0 junior forward returned to ECU last season after missing all of 1987-88 following knee surgery. Upon returning, she led ECU in scoring and rebounding throughout the season, averaging 14.4 points and 9.0 rebounds per game, respectively.

"Last season Sarah had an excellent season for someone who was out for a year," Pierson said. "This year, we're working with her to be more aggressive on both ends of the court, especially in rebounding. She will carry a lot of the responsibility for us, especially in scoring."

ECU will look for the leadership from lone senior, Irish Hamilton. The a 5-4 guard led ECU in assists last season with 138. "Irish is stepping into her senior leadership role well prepared," Pierson said. "She has been working hard and we see no problem with her handling this role."

To lessen the loss of height and hustle, Pierson will look to 6-1 junior forward Kim Dupree and 5-9 sophomore forward Tonya Hargrove to fill the demand.

"Kim will be back in full force this season," Pierson said. "She sat out part of last season after transferring. She can make a major contribution to this year's team with her size and scoring ability. Depending on how hard she works in the off-season and preseason, will depend on how good a season she has and what role she will fill for us."

Hargrove comes off an excellent freshman year where she was a spark off the bench. "Tonya will provide us with a lot of athletic ability. Making the All-Rookie team gave her a lot of incentive. She runs the floor well and she is as good as she wants to be," Pierson said.

In the height department, Pierson will also look to 6-2 junior forward Sandra Grace, who played in 25 games last season. "Sandra is working into her role for the Lady Pirates. When she saw playing time last year, she made things happen. She is a natural rebounder. We'll need her and depend on her with Gretta's (Savage) loss."

Along with Grace, sophomore Kathy Addison will also contribute in the height department. Addison, a 5-11 forward, will be seeing time on the inside and the perimeter. Sophomore guard Toina Coley will also be depended on for help on the perimeter. Coley, a 5-7 guard, gained valuable experience last season, playing in 27 of the Lady Pirates' 28 games.

One of East Carolina's strengths this season will be depth in the backcourt. Sophomores Laura Crowder and Mechelle Jones, former teammates at Colonial Heights (VA) High School, will help provide this depth.

"Laura and Mechelle each have the ability to see a lot of playing time. With their hustle and last year's experience, they give us the ability to play a three-guard offense."

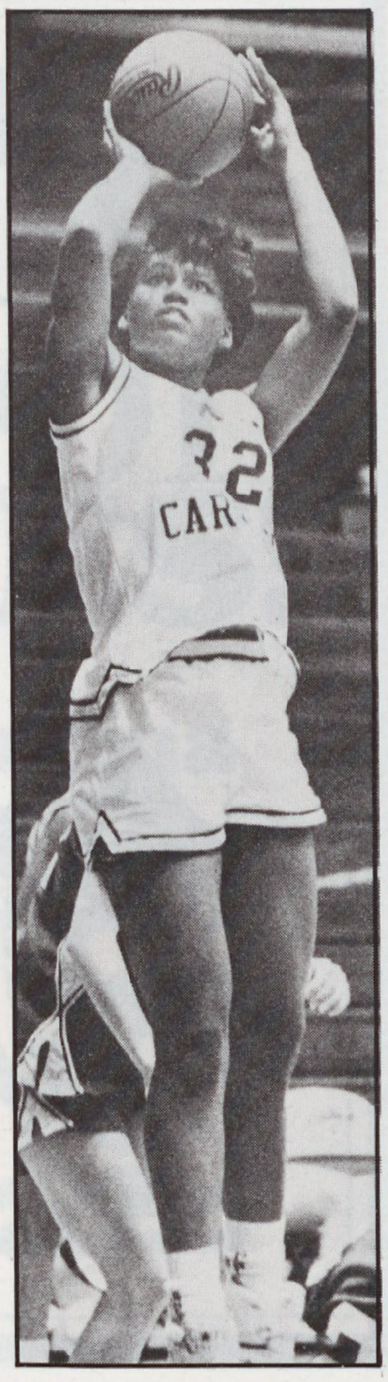

Pierson and her coaching staff are pleased with their returning players as well as the four recruits that will be joining this year's team.

Juniors Michelle Marsh and Keeneya Wilson transferred to ECU from Roane State Community College (TN), the winner of the Region VII Junior College title. Marsh, a 6-0 forward, averaged 14 points and eight rebounds last season and was selected to the All-Region VII team. Wilson is a 5-8 guard and an excellent perimeter shooter who will be an asset to the Lady Pirates in all aspects of the court.

Also on the recruit list are Toni Thurman and Gaynor O'Donnell. Thurman, a freshman from Hallboro, NC, has all the makings of a good college player. O'Donnell, a native of Liverpool, England, played her high school basketball at Southern Wayne and was selected as the Mid-Eastern 4-A Player of the Year.

"Our returning players and our recruits are all young and need time to gel," Pierson said. "We have good talent on the perimeter, but our inside must be more aggressive. Once we come together, we have the nucleus for a winning team."

The schedule is highlighted by two tournaments—the Lady Pirate Classic and Furman Christmas Classic—and ECU will host nationally ranked North Carolina State. The CAA race will be as interesting as ever with several teams contending — it could be anyone's ball game.

Sandra Grace will be looked on to score more often in '89-90. (Photo by Elbert Kennard)

East Carolina University

A rising star in the higher education heavens

The school that was to become East Carolina University opened its doors to students for the first time in 1909. It was a newly-founded state normal school to train teachers.

Eighty years is a relatively short time among the hallowed institutions of higher learning to develop a heritage of academic richness and tradition, for ivy to cover the stone and old brick walls and walkways of the campus. East Carolina is still a relatively young institution insofar as the Yales, William and Marys and the University of Virginias are concerned, but the ivy is growing at ECU.

Its heritage is that of a small normal school, then a teachers college, still known with affection and nostalgia as E-C-T-C, East Carolina Teachers College, and later as a liberal arts college, ECC. It took 22 years after the close of World War II for the college to reach the stage of development and organization, size and diversity, to become a university.

ECU has, semester after semester, enrolled the third largest number of students of any college or university in the state of North Carolina, with an estimated enrollment of 1989-90 of 16,000 students.

It became East Carolina University by an act of the General Assembly of North Carolina in 1967 and four years later was made a constituent institution of the 16-campus University of North Carolina system.

Today East Carolina University is a vibrant, pulsing comprehensive university that already possesses tradition and is on the way to becoming a truly distinctive institution of higher learning.

ECU offers strong undergraduate degree programs in more than 100 tracks of study and graduate programs leading to master's degrees in nearly 90 fields in the liberal arts and sciences and in nine of its 10 professional schools — Allied Health Sciences, Art, Business, Education, Home Economics, Music, Nursing, Social Work and Industry and Technology. It offers research-grounded PhD programs in basic medical sciences and ECU's School of Medicine, the state's newest, has graduated more than 450 doctors of medicine (MDs) in just 10 years.

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

ECU has built a tradition of striving for excellence — and attaining it in many areas — of determination, of fierce pride and loyalty and of a mission of service related to its role of providing quality educational opportunity. It is a tradition that already sets East Carolina University apart.

To those who love East Carolina University it is and always has been a truly distinctive university.

It is a rising star in the higher education heavens.

ECU has, semester after semester, enrolled the third largest number of students of any college or university in the state of North Carolina, with an estimated enrollment of 1989-90 of 16,000 students.

Private support plays an important part in making the ECU ivy grow. In 1987-88, the level of private financial support of ECU's academics, medical education and research and athletics ranked second in the nation among more than 150 public comprehensive universities, totaling $5.9 million.

This private support provides dollars for a margin of excellence in ECU's programs of teaching, research and public service. Together with substantial state appropriations making up an annual operating budget of $170 million, funds enrich the instructional offerings and provide facilities, laboratories and scholarships.

Some of the buildings on the busy main campus in Greenville and all of those on the medical sciences campus in west Greenville are large, new and modern. The university has top priority plans for a $27 million expansion of its library facilities, the heart of an academic community. Adjacent to Ficklen Stadium and Minges Coliseum on the athletic complex is a new three-story Sports Medicine and Physical Education building which will house ECU's growing athletic department.

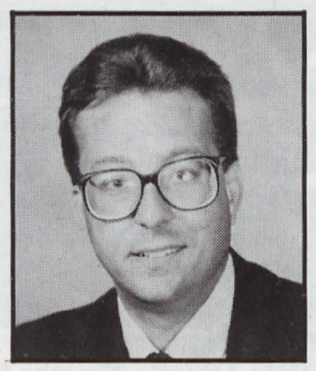

Even here, as all over the sprawling campus, if one looks closely, the ivy is growing at East Carolina University.

The Humble Beginnings Of A $2.1 Billion Crop.

Tobacco provides American farmers with an income of over $2.1 billion a year. It's one of the United States' most valuable money crops.

As a major supplier of U.S. leaf to world markets, A.C. Monk is a vital link between the people who grow the tobacco and the people who buy it.

And we've always tried to work in the best overall interests of both.

But we're especially proud of our working relationship with U.S. growers.

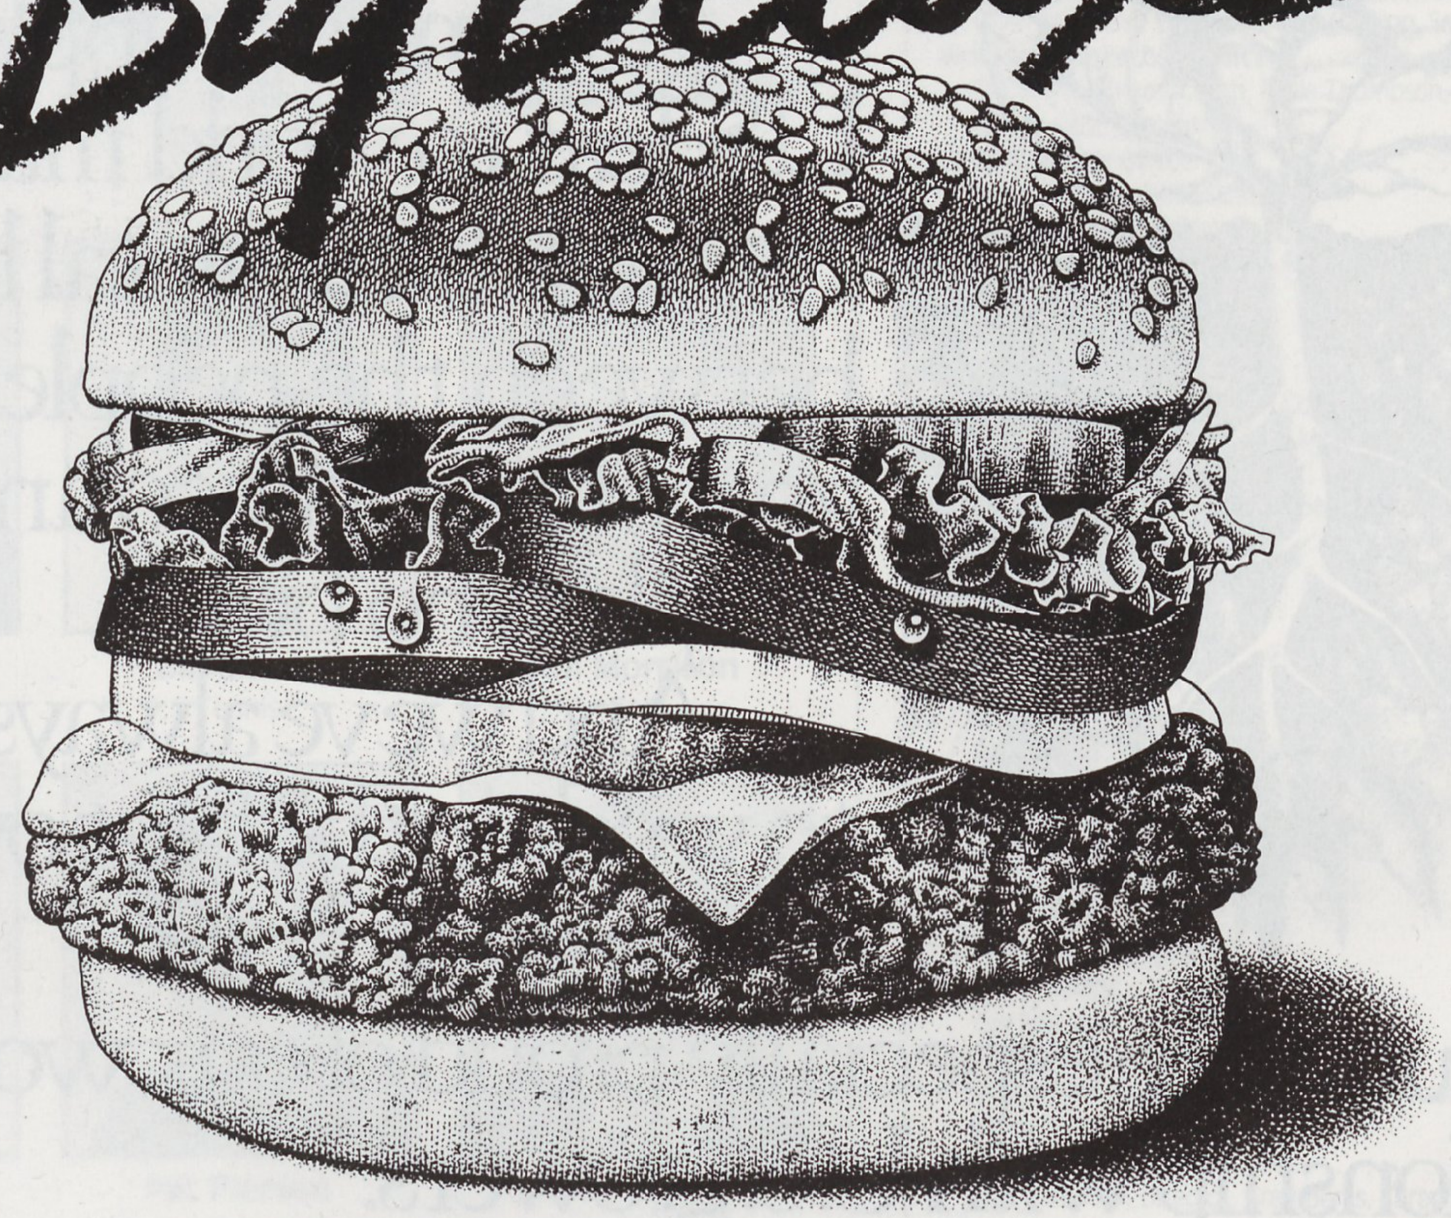

The people who work the tobacco crops, from seedlings all the way to market.

They're the people who keep the tobacco industry going. And we never forget it. MONK

Seven Cities Later, Journeyman Pavlik Finds Home With Hokies

By Mark Owens
VT Assistant Sports Information Director

If Skip Pavlik doesn't land a job in the NFL next season, look for him to open up his own travel agency.

The Hokies' 6-foot-3, 287-pound senior offensive guard has moved more times than San Antonio Spurs head coach Larry Brown. He had lived in seven different cities (San Diego twice) by the time he reached fifth grade.

"My father was in the Navy, which requires a lot of moving," said Pavlik.

He finally settled in Virginia Beach where he went to First Colonial High School and starred as a tight end. His efforts had scouts drooling, but none more than Tech. There was just one small problem confronting the Hokies.

TODAY'S OPPONENT

PROFILE

"I was born just six miles from the UCLA campus and I really love being around the beach," Pavlik said. "My mom went there and after my recruiting trip, I was in total awe of the place. When the Bruins offered me the scholarship, I had to say yes."

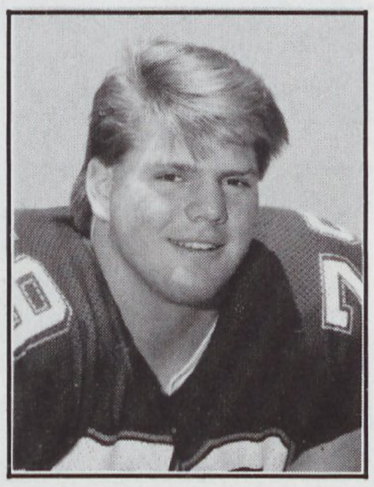

So 44 driving hours and nearly 3,000 miles later, Pavlik was in Westwood. But appropriately the expedition didn't end there. Instead, Pavlik's journey would continue west to Santa Monica Community College. Along the way he picked up a Rose Bowl ring and Freedom Bowl victory with a Bruin team that featured quarterback Troy Aikman and running back Gaston Green. Aikman, now with the Dallas Cowboys, and Pavlik are still close friends.

"Troy and I would go out and do things together like going to the beach or catching a Rams or Raiders game," Pavlik said. "Whenever I go out there we usually get together. But from my very first day as a Bruin, I will never forget Derrick Tennel (Cleveland Browns) because he was the one that really took me under his wings and showed me the ropes."

After a redshirt season, the Bruin coaches decided to move Pavlik from TE to center. But Pavlik's inexperience and further decline on the depth chart prompted the move to Santa Monica.

"I went to Santa Monica because they (UCLA) wanted to move me to the interior line," he said. "There was already someone in front of me that was experienced at the position. So I decided on Santa Monica because I could step right in and play without having to sit out a year."

Pavlik spent about as much time moving to different positions as he did skipping from city to city. At Santa Monica, he played on the defensive line because of his speed, agility and athleticism. In one game against Glendale Junior College, he recorded two sacks, two fumble recoveries and two batted passes.

Skip Pavlik

"I guess you could call me Mr. Versatility," Pavlik said. "I've played every position on the offensive and defensive line at one time or another throughout my career."

When the Tech staff learned that Pavlik was at a community college, it started the recruiting process all over again. This time the Hokies were joined in the chase by Nevada-Las Vegas and New Mexico. But the Hokies came out on top by miraculously luring Pavlik away from his favorite city (Los Angeles) and the beach.

"I really love L.A. and being around the beach," he said. "I think Blacksburg is the farthest I've been away from the ocean my entire life. Coach (Billy) Hite was one of the main reasons I came back home. He recruited me hard out of high school and when he found out I wanted to transfer, he said he wouldn't let me go again."

When he arrived in Blacksburg last season, Pavlik — you guessed it — moved back to the offensive line. Despite limited experience in that area, Pavlik gave Tech solid play at the split tackle position last season and will be counted on for more of the same this season at split guard.

"Skip has good foot speed and outstanding athletic ability, which is why he has caught on so fast," offensive line coach Steve Marshall said. "He will be our leader and the cog of the line this season."

But Pavlik attributes his success to the experience of playing on the defensive front at Santa Monica.

"The year I played on the defensive line helped me tremendously on offense," Pavlik said. "I know most of the moves that a defensive player uses because I've used them all before."

The Tech coaches like big, strong offensive linemen, which is precisely why they have given Pavlik the green light at the dinner table. "They want us to get as big as we can without losing any speed," he said. "Pavlik has gained 40 pounds since coming to Tech by eating four meals and drinking two weight-gain milkshakes a day, but at the same time he has increased his strength and maintained his speed. With Eugene Chung, Tech's 6-5, 285-pound split tackle, as a rommate, the two probably own stock in Kroger.

"Skip has good foot speed and outstanding athletic ability, which is why he has caught on so fast ... He will be our leader and the cog of the line this season."

—Steve Marshall, Offensive Line Coach

Pavlik has aspirations after his football days to live in San Diego — again — and sell commercial real estate, but for now all he's interested in is winning football games. He thinks the offensive line will play a key role in Tech's success this season.

"Everybody thinks the offensive line is our weak link," Pavlik said. "We will be young, but the starters have experience and we have backups that are hard workers and are good players. The line will come through."

If Bob Costas decides to give up his radio show "Coast to Coast," Pavlik would be an admirable replacement. When someone asked him if he regretted all of the moving, Pavlik said, "Sometimes I do, but I don't regret what I've done. After all, there aren't many people that have seen what I have and had the chance to play at three different colleges."

We're Proud To Support 1989 Pirate Football!

The East Carolina Sports Hall of Fame was initiated in 1974 as an organization to honor those individuals who have, by direct participation in East Carolina University intercollegiate athletics, brought outstanding recognition to themselves and to the University.

The first honorees were inducted during Homecoming festivities at halftime of the East Carolina-The Citadel football game in 1974. Ten members were selected for the first year. No more than four members may be selected for any one year in the future.

To be selected, a committee of five persons must vote with 80 percent of those giving their approval. Those five shall be the official selection committee. To be eligible for selection, a person must not have been connected with the University in the capacity to which the nominee is being elected for a minimum of five academic years.

Ficklen Stadium

The Home of the Pirates

The James Skinner Ficklen Memorial Stadium was dedicated on September 21, 1963, with East Carolina defeating Wake Forest 20-10.

The dedication game was the culmination of a dream come true for then East Carolina College and all of eastern North Carolina. The original plan was announced on Oct. 7, 1961, by Dr. Leo Jenkins, Chancellor of the College, at a meeting of the Society of Buccaneers.

Within a year, $283,387 had been raised, although the goal had been only $200,000. With the funds in hand, Ficklen Stadium was built.

The original stadium consisted of the permanent stands on the south side, a small press box and the old lighting system which was removed after the 1974 season. Total cost was $300,000.

The north side permanent seating was constructed in 1968, increasing the stadium seating capacity to 20,000.

The stadium was named for the late James Skinner Ficklen, a Greenville resident, who distinguished himself as one of America's leading tobacconists. At the time of his death in 1955, Ficklen was President and Chairman of the Board of the E.B. Ficklen Tobacco Company of Greenville. He was a close friend of the College and established a financial aid foundation, the Ficklen Foundation, to aid students of the College.

The first major change in Ficklen Stadium was the lighting systems, a change that occurred just before the 1975 season opened. The old inner stadium lights on six poles were removed and replaced with six towers outside the stadium. The system is a combination of metallic and incandescent lights. There are 288 fixtures of 1500 watts each on six 162-foot towers. Cost of the system was $450,000. Engineers say ECU has the best lighted stadium in the southeast.

A radical change greeted fans as the 1978 season opened. An expansion on all four corners boosted Ficklen's seating capacity from 20,000 to 35,000, the third-largest stadium in North Carolina. This expansion was made possible with 2½ million dollars through a drive in the spring of 1977.

In addition to more seats, an ultramodern press box with three levels and an elevator for access was built. The much needed press box is one of the finest in the country with space for 92 writers and an entire floor for electronic media. Also, a modern scoreboard with a lightbank message center was placed on the east end of Ficklen.

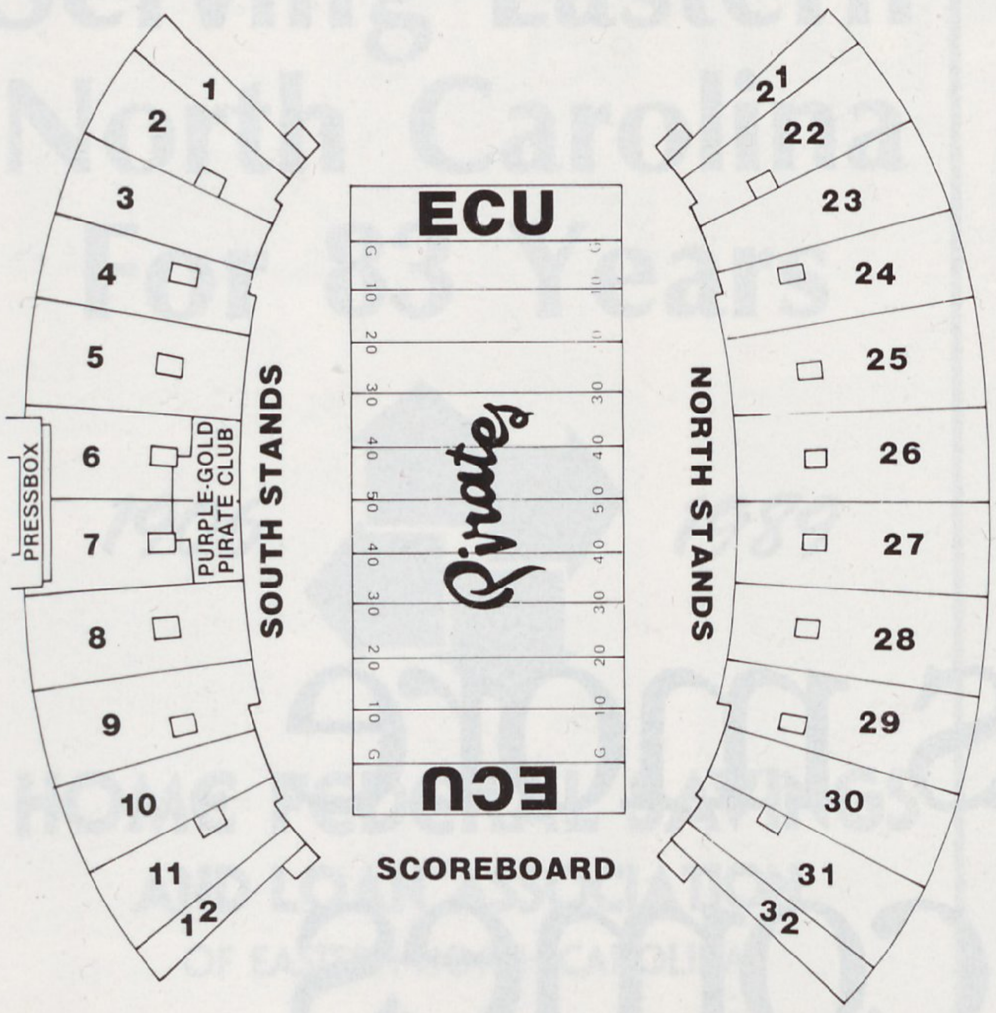

During the summer of 1982, a complete renovation took place on the playing surface. A new drainage system, a new base of gravel and sand, new treated topsoil and a new grass was installed. The new grass, Tifton 419 Hybrid Bermuda was sprigged at the rate of 600 bushels per acre.

The 1988 season saw the season attendance record fall in Ficklen Stadium as the Pirates drew a school-record 156,329 fans for six home games.

Sports Medicine

Providing care, treatment for Pirates

The East Carolina University sports medicine division and curriculum, reputed to be one of the finest in the Southeast, affords every Pirate athlete the best available care and treatment of injuries.

Headed by ECU's sports medicine director Rod Compton, who is a Certified Athletic Trainer and a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA), and the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine, the East Carolina sports medicine program offers the best possible prevention, immediate treatment, and rehabilitation of injuries.

Compton, who earned degrees from Ohio University and Bowling Green State and served as Editor-in-Chief of the NATA Journal for six-and-one-half years, is also the director of the ECU Sports Medicine Conference, which is held annually in April on the East Carolina campus.

Compton (entering his 20th season) is assisted by team physician Dr. James McCallum, Greg Beres, Certified Athletic Trainer, and Karen Baker, Certified Athletic Trainer, as designated by the NATA. All serve on the staff of the Sports Medicine Conference and as faculty for the Sports Medicine Curriculum within the Department of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Safety.

They are assisted by more than a dozen fine community-based professionals who lend valuable time to the program and 30 to 35 undergraduate students majoring in East Carolina University's sports medicine program.

The Sports Medicine Center is in the new Sports Medicine/ Physical Education Building. The Center, which has been in operation since 1971, will now be able to better serve all student-athletes and further assist sports medicine majors in the curriculum.

The "Sports Paramedics," as Compton refers to his staff, are in attendance at every athletic event that involves East Carolina University athletes. Radio communication from practice field to the center is a must and a sports medicine vehicle provides instant transportation for injured athletes to the center. Prevention, evaluation, treatment, and rehabilitation are the main objectives of the Sports Medicine Division and when an injury does occur, Compton and his staff provide on-the-spot treatment to make certain the injury does not become more serious.

The Sports Medicine Curriculum, a part of the Health and Physical Education Department at East Carolina, is the only undergraduate athletic training program approved by the NATA in eastern North Carolina and one of only two in the state.

Dedication, sincere sensitivity, and individual attention are the basic motivators which distinguish East Carolina University's "Sports Paramedics" from any others. People helping people in a first-class setting. That's East Carolina Sports Medicine!

Pirates Set To Begin Defense Of CAA Swim Title

By Rusty Smith
ECU SID Student Assistant

The defending Colonial Athletic Association men's swimming and diving champions will enter the 1990's as the team to beat, and the Pirates have the potential to be one of the finest teams in ECU history.

This year's challenge will be to win the CAA for the second year in a row, and there appears to be enough talent to do it.

The strength of the 1989-90 Pirates will be their depth — 29 swimmers on the team make it one of the largest in history.

The team will be led by co-captains Andy Jeter and Raymond Kennedy, a duo greatly responsible for last year's success. The key this season will be hard work and a positive attitude. The team will need to work much harder to avoid complacency after the success of last year.

The freestyle events will be very strong for the Pirates, with the senior Jeter and junior J.D. Lewis in the distance events. Lewis comes into this season as the top distance swimmer in the CAA, and was named the Pirates' Most Outstanding Swimmer last year. Sophomore Marc Cook and junior John Lambrakis will play big roles in the freestyle.

Junior John Farrell, Jeter, and Lewis lead the 200- and 500-yard freestyle events. Junior college All-American Steve Benkusky will add depth in this event. The 50- and 100-yard freestyle, which have not been as successful as other events in ECU's past, should be stronger this year. Sophomore Billy Haughton and Farrell will lead the way. Benkusky and freshmen Brad Herndon and John Carawan will contribute.

The 200-yard individual medley event will be led by Kennedy, a CAA finalist last season, junior Tom Holsten, junior Ted Christensen, and sophomore John Springer. Junior college All-American Danny Martinez should also contribute. The 400-IM will be led by Holsten, the varsity and freshman record holder. Christensen, the second-place finisher in the CAA last year, will also lead this event. Lambrakis and junior Sean Callender, a CAA semi-finalist last year, will make this a strong event for the Pirates.

Holsten, the varsity record holder and CAA champion, returns to lead the Pirate swim team in the 200-yard butterfly. Christensen, a CAA finalist last year, and Martinez will see action in this event. The 100-yard butterfly will be led by Martinez, who finished third at the junior college national championships last year. Sophomore Nick Weis and senior Andy Lewis will add depth.

The backstroke could be a strength also. The Pirates return the top three finishers at the CAA last year in this event. Farrell, the two-time CAA champion and varsity record holder will lead a talented group of backstroke swimmers, including juniors George Walters and Mark O'Brien. O'Brien, the freshman and varsity record holder in the 100-back, will lead that event.

The breaststroke will be led by Kennedy, the former CAA record holder. Springer and junior Steve Hopkinson will also be factors in the breaststroke.

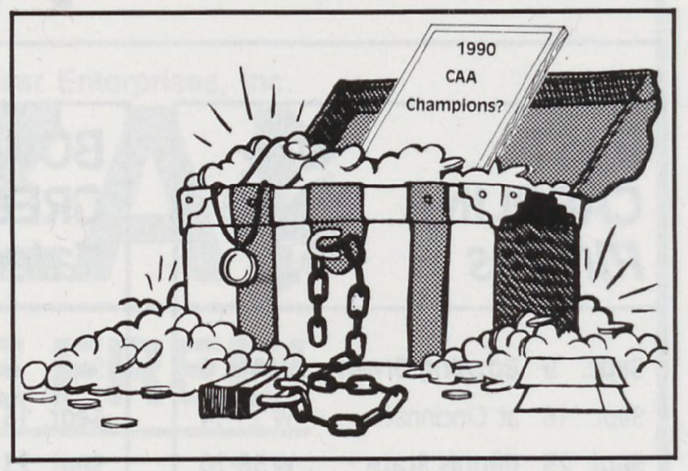

The 1989-90 Lady Pirate swim team looks to have an exciting season and improve on their fourth-place finish in the CAA last year. In fact, a men's-women's clean sweep is not a far-fetched thought.

This year's team is the largest ever in terms of numbers and will be led by All-America candidate and tri-captain, Meredith Bridgers, a junior from Charlotte, NC. The other two captains are seniors Robin Wicks and Leslie Wilson. The women's team has its sights set on a CAA championship and this may be the year to do it.

Sophomore Page Holt leads the team in the 100- and 200-yard freestyle events. Holt holds the freshman record in both events, and freshmen Tia Pardue and Julie Wilhelm join Holt in both events. Freshman Whitney Simms will also see action.

Junior Carolyn Green and sophomore Chantal Morris will lead the middle and distance freestyle events. Morris holds the varsity record in the 1,000-yard freestyle, with freshmen Shawn Morrow and Nicole Duke adding depth.

The backstroke and butterfly events should be a strength this year. Freshmen Carole Sharpless and Linda Smith come into their first year having better personal times than the varsity records in the 100- and 200-yard breaststroke. Freshman Suzanne O'Brien will also see action in the backstroke events.

The Lady Pirates return the top swimmer in the butterfly event from a year ago in sophomore Jennifer Muench, who holds the varsity, freshman, and CAA records in the 200-yard butterfly. She will team with senior Robin Wicks, O'Brien, and Linda Smith to make this event very strong.

Bridgers leads the team in the breaststroke events. She holds the varsity, freshman, and CAA records in the 100- and 200-yard breaststroke, and the two-time CAA champion became the first Division I NCAA woman qualifier in ECU history last year. Muench, Simms, and freshman Karen Baldridge will add depth.

Last year's strongest event, the individual medley, will be led by Muench, the CAA champion, varsity, freshman, and CAA record holder. Muench will team with senior Leslie Wilson, Nicole Duke, and Baldridge to strengthen this event.

The Colonial Athletic Association swim meet will be held Feb. 8-10 at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington this year. The men will be challenged again by Navy and the Lady Pirates by Navy, William & Mary, and James Madison.

The regular season begins one week from Monday (Oct. 29) when ECU travels to Old Dominion. The first home meet is Nov. 3 against James Madison.

Bridgers: All-American Aspirations

By Rusty Smith, ECU SID Student Assistant

Meredith Bridgers, a junior from Charlotte, has her sights set on becoming the first female, Division I, All-American in East Carolina history this winter.

Bridgers, who became the first female swimmer in school history last year to qualify for the NCAA Championships, also wants to make the top-16 in the nation in the 200-yard breaststroke. In the process, Bridgers hopes her Lady Pirate team captures the Colonial Athletic Association title.

The 200-breast is Bridgers' strong event after qualifying for the NCAA's last November. In the 1988-89 CAA Championships in Wilmington, Bridgers became a two-time CAA champion in the event. She holds the varsity, freshman, and CAA records in the 200.

Bridgers began swimming competitively at the age of nine. At 11, she received her first "A" time for that age group. "Swimming has always seemed to come to me naturally," Bridgers said.

She swam at the Mecklenburg Aquatic Club in Charlotte and enjoyed a fine freshman season at ECU. "Last summer (coach) George Cook taught me some new breaststroke techniques that helped me very much."

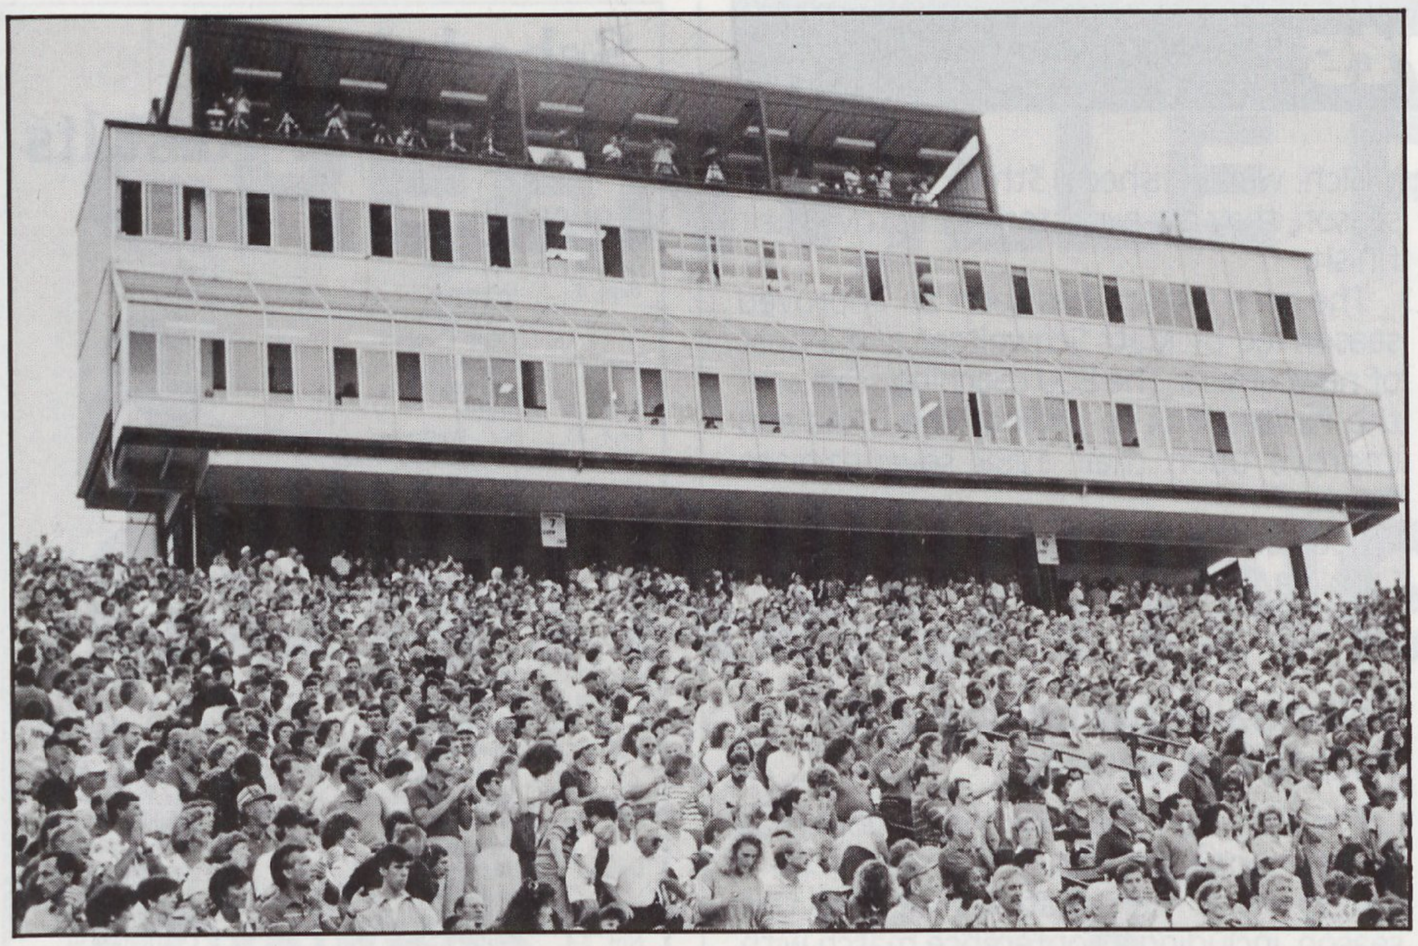

She competed at the University of Southern California over the summer and placed 15th in the nation in the 200-back.

In the distant future, Bridgers wants to compete on the United States' Pan-American team during the summer of 1991. "If I can be in the top eight, then there is a good shot of making the team. That will probably finish the competitive phase of my swimming career," Bridgers said matter-of-factly.

"I must work harder and keep my times down throughout the season to get ready for the NCAA's. Coach Kobe has me working out in practice with the guys and it has helped me become more competitive," says Bridgers.

Watching The Pirates From Up Top

As many as 300 people fill Ficklen's pressbox on Saturday

By Carolyn Justice-Hinson

ECU SID Student Assistant

It's another football Saturday at East Carolina as a variety of people make their way under the south stands at Ficklen Stadium to the pressbox elevator.

As usual there are already several people in line for the press box. You'll find a variety of people on the elevator to the three-level press box and although the name "press" box brings visions of newspaper, radio and television reporters, much more goes on within high above Ficklen Stadium.

Stopping on A-level of the press box, you'll find members of the Pirate Club and Chancellor Dr. Richard Eakin with his guests on their open-air level.

Venture up to B-level and there you'll find the busiest level of the press box.

B-level has space for 92 media representatives and they are treated to southern hospitality, ECU-style.

From this level, one has a bird's eye view of Ficklen Stadium. The majority of reporters are from the print media, and most have deadlines to keep. That means a sometimes hectic pace on B-level — not the place to kick back, relax and enjoy the game. B-level is a working area.

Statistics are available to the media on B-level. Copes of the play-by-play, statistics and other information, are constantly published. During any given Saturday, as many as 4,000 copies are made, compiled and distributed in a "game booklet" which summarizes the game for the media and coaches.

The official statistics crew is found on B-level, consisting of nearly ten members. Tasks of the crew range from keeping the game drive chart, to typing of the game's play-by-play.

The Daily Reflector's Sports Editor, Woody Peele, is a fixture in the Ficklen Stadium press box after more than 20 years of covering the Pirates.

Peele has seen the press box change from a small one-level pressbox that housed the media, coaches, public service announcer and radios in a space about half the length of the current press box, to the modern three-level press box of today.

"The old press box was like working in a closet. When we had a large crowd, the coaches and photographers sat on the roof," Peele said. "Now, the press box is one of the nicest facilities I've seen. It's equivalent to practically any press facility I've been in."

Despite the loyalty of some local media to ECU football, the press box is one place in Ficklen where cheering is off limits. Some media members graduated from ECU, and they have to bite their tongues many times to prevent from cheering.

Moving up to C-level, you'll find an even wider variety of officials. Dr. Jimmy Grimsley is the official game clock keeper and he and his faithful staff make sure that everything is run properly.

Next door is one of the noisier booths of the press box — the ECU coaches' booth which houses five or six assistant coaches during a game. Phones in their booths allow them to communicate with coaches and players on the sidelines, who are wearing headphones. On the other end of C-level, you will find the equivalent in the opponent's coaches' booth.

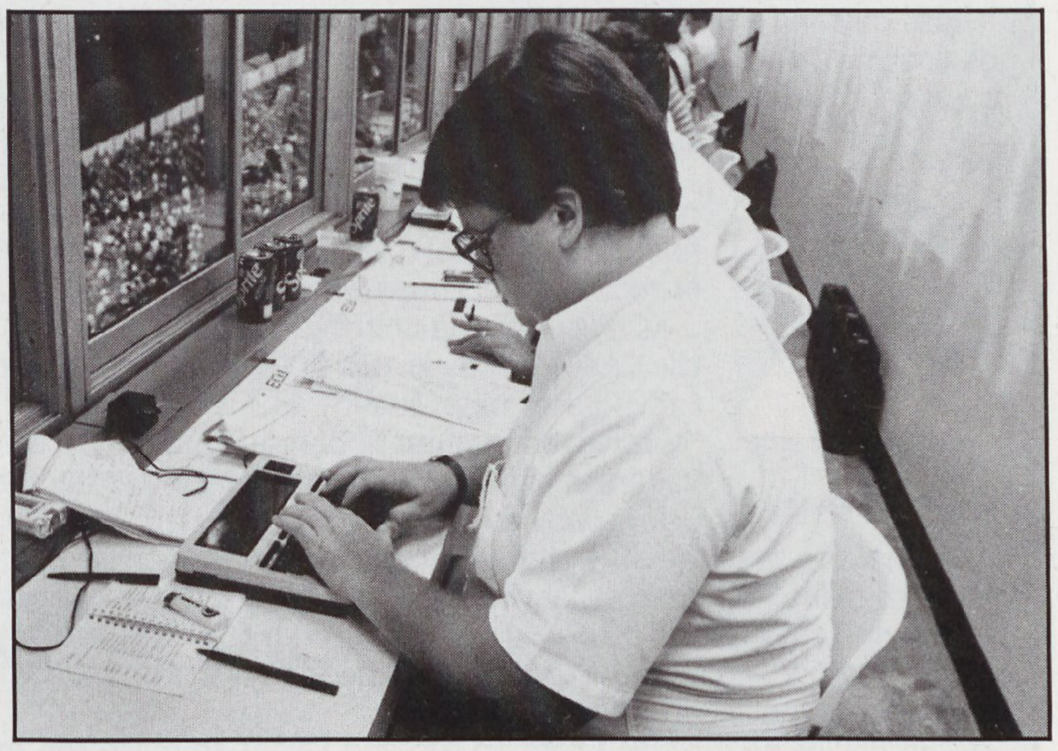

In the middle of the action is ECU Athletic Director Dave Hart, whose booth hosts several guests for the game.

The radio booths are also on C-level, as the visiting radio booth provides opponent's radio crews to broadcast with all the comforts of home. The same is true of the Pirate Sports Network, which also makes its home on C-level. You'll find the "Voice of the Pirates," Jeff Charles, and Carlester Crumpler, along with their staff which makes each game broadcast possible.

Open-air D-level is the home of media filming crews, official photographers and the team filming crews.

D-level offers a beautiful postcard view of Greenville in the fall of the year.

Soccer Season Ending With 4 of 5 Matches Away

The East Carolina soccer team will finish their season with four of their remaining five matches on the road. Two of the matches will be played in tournament competition, as the Pirates travel to Deland, FL, to compete in the Florida Invitational Cup this weekend.

T.J. Aspden

In the two-day tourney, ECU will square off against two Florida schools — Central Florida and the host-school, Stetson.

The Pirates are led by the Aspden brothers: T.J. and Todd. T.J., a senior, leads the Pirates in scoring with 11 points (4 goals and 3 assists). Todd, a freshman, has played most of the season in the goal for ECU and head coach Bob Lust has termed him the team's most consistent player.

The Pirates will return to Greenville for their final home match of the season against Averett College, on Tuesday.

CAA Cross Country Title At Stake on November 4

East Carolina's cross country teams finish out the 1989 season Nov. 4 in Williamsburg, VA, as William and Mary hosts the annual Colonial Athletic Association championships.

The Lady Pirates finished fifth in the CAA last season. Led by seniors Kim Griffiths and Terri Lynch and sophomore Ann Marie Welch, who finished 13th at the CAA last season, they are expected to improve their finish.

The men's team has seen an improved season led by Matt Schweitzer and a host of newcomers. The ECU coaching staff says the Pirates look to peak at the CAAs and improve upon their 1988 seventh-place finish.

ECU competed on Thursday at the North Carolina Cross Country Championships in Wilmington.

Volleyball Hosting Campbell Tuesday in Minges

The East Carolina Lady Pirate volleyball team is hoping to finish the season on a strong note. Ten matches remain this season, including a conference match with UNC-Wilmington, prior to the Colonial Athletic Association Tournament in November.

The Lady Pirates' next home match is Tuesday against Campbell, a team they have beaten earlier in the year. ECU, 11-6 as of Oct. 16, has a record that has already shown much improvement over last year's 7-19 finish. The Lady Pirates are in Williamsburg, Va. today (Oct. 21) to compete in Colonial Athletic Association matches with James Madison, George Mason, American and William and Mary.

Senior Jemma Holley has led the Lady Pirates this year. Holley was the CAA Player of the Week (Oct. 9) and was named to the all-tournament team in the Jacksonville (Fla.) Tournament of Champions, where the Lady Pirates finished third.

Lynch Has Watched Cross Country Program Grow

By Carolyn Justice-Hinson, ECU Sports Information Student Assistant

East Carolina's women's cross country team is an up-and-coming program due to the dedication of athletes like senior Terri Lynch.

Lynch, from Pembroke, GA, has watched ECU progress since cross country resumed competition in 1986 as a member of the Colonial Athletic Association.

Terri Lynch

"When we started the program, we were struggling," Lynch said. "We only had about four runners on the women's team, which was not enough to compete. Now both the men and women's teams have 10 or more runners. Now we not only have depth but also have quality."

As a part of the improvement, the women's team finished fifth in the CAA last season as well as winning several meets. This season the Lady Pirates have already won three meets.

Lynch and teammate Denise Wehrenberg were the first to take top honors at a meet when they opened the 1989 season at the Methodist Relays with a first-place finish.

"It's hard to describe what that win meant to me," Lynch said of her first collegiate win. "Besides being such a personal victory, it meant so much keeping the title in ECU's hands after Ann Marie (Whelch) and Kim (Griffiths) won the title last season."

Lynch has indeed made all of her senior performances count for the Lady Pirates as she continues to develop her talent.

"God has given me this talent to run and I want to make the most of it by doing my absolute best for me and my team."

Full-fledged help for part-time farmers

Got limited time to get your work done? Then don't settle for a tractor that has limited capability. Or limited features that make even simple tasks awkward. Or limited convenience that makes every hour seem like two. Or worst of all, limited reliability that threatens even your limited time.

In short, part-time farmers need full fledged help that they can count on full time. And that means John Deere. All John Deere tractors between 30 and 55 horsepower are built to handle your wide range of tasks simply, conveniently and economically. When every hour counts, count on John Deere.
