East Carolina will battle fellow major independent Temple this afternoon. For 20 seniors, today marks their last game ever in Ficklen Stadium.

The "Spirit of the East" is the phrase that ECU teams have adopted, and the Pirate cheerleaders are helping spread the word.

East Carolina played perhaps its best game of the 1988 season against Temple one year ago. A win today would guarantee that ECU will have a .500 record or better.

Pirates Try To End Two-Game Skid vs. Temple

Final game in Ficklen today for 20 seniors

When East Carolina and Temple meet this afternoon at Ficklen Stadium, there will be more at stake than just a much-needed victory for a pair of major independent football teams.

For the Pirates, 4-3-1, 20 seniors will play their final game today within the friendly confines of Ficklen Stadium. A win today would also secure ECU's first .500-or-better season since 1983 when the Pirates went 8-3.

For Temple, 0-9, a win today would snap a losing streak against one of the toughest schedules in the nation. The Owls and first year coach Jerry Berndt have played the likes of Syracuse, Penn State, Houston, Pittsburgh and Georgia this season.

SENIOR'S DAY

"Temple's record is very misleading," ECU Head Coach Bill Lewis said of the Owls. "They have a great deal of talent and will be very prepared for today's game.

"We are a little banged up after last week. Today will be a great opportunity for some of our players that will be asked to play more than what they are accustomed to."

The Pirates are coming off a 40-10 loss to Miami at Miami's Orange Bowl Stadium last Saturday. East Carolina trailed 14-10 and was driving with less than 10 minutes remaining in the first half, but a missed field goal and 10 quick points by the potent Hurricane offense gave Miami a 24-10 halftime lead.

The 'Canes shut out ECU in the second half while scoring a pair of touchdowns and recording one safety. Miami racked up 547 yards of offense in the win.

"The key to the game was the last two minutes of the first half when they scored 10 points," Lewis said. "Anytime you lose your starting tailback and wide receiver, when they were playing well, it hurts."

Starting tailback, senior Willie Lewis, left the game mid-way through the second quarter with a knee injury and will not play today. Wide receiver Walter Wilson caught five passes for 105 yards, including a 42-yard touchdown strike from quarterback Jeff Blake, before aggravating his tender shoulder. Wilson, who is expected to start today, needs 101 receiving yards to become ECU's all-time leader.

Lewis' injury, coupled with an injury to senior tailback Denell Harper three weeks ago, makes true freshman Cedric Van Buren the heir apparent to the starting tailback position. Sophomore David Daniels will serve as Van Buren's back-up as well as the back-up to starting fullback Michael Rhett.

Three ECU players—quarterback Jeff Blake, place-kicker Anthony Brenner, and safety Ernest Tynes—made their first starts Saturday. Blake, a sophomore quarterback, was 16 of 24 passing for 164 yards and one TD against the Hurricanes. Tynes started in place of Derrick Fields, and Anthony Brenner played his first collegiate game Saturday and promptly kicked a 22-yard field goal in the first half against the 'Canes.

Temple also saw a close game against a perennial power slip away late in the first half Saturday.

The Owls drove to the Georgia 30-yard line leading 7-3 with just minutes remaining in the first half. Temple threw an interception and missed a field goal, while the Bulldogs scored on a 73-yard pass play and kicked a 49-yard field goal to take a comfortable lead at intermission.

The Owls, playing their seventh road game of the season today, are led by tailback Ventres Stevenson, who has rushed for 841 yards and four touchdowns. Tight end Maurice Johnson is the favorite target of sophomore quarterback Anthony Richardson. Johnson has caught 25 passes for 245 yards. Wide receiver Rich Drayton has 23 receptions for 289 yards.

Defensively, Loranzo Square is Temple's top player and a post-season honors candidate. Square has an even 100 tackles including 67 solo tackles and four sacks. Square set a school record last year against East Carolina with 23 tackles including 12 solo tackles.

East Carolina won last year's meeting, 34-17, at Veteran Stadium in Philadelphia. The Pirates scored 21 first quarter points, including an interception return for a TD by Anthony Thompson on the first play from scrimmage. ECU racked up 468 yards of total offense.

overall series 5-2, including the 1986 game that Temple forfeited due to an ineligible player. The Owls, however, have won two of the three meetings here at Ficklen Stadium.

Three weeks ago ECU was 4-1-1 after a 14-10 Homecoming victory over Virginia Tech in front of the largest crowd (35,100) in Ficklen history. Two weeks ago the Pirates led Syracuse the entire game before losing in the last seven seconds on an Orangemen field goal at the Carrier Dome.

The Pirates would improve to 5-3-1 with a win today, securing at least a .500 season. ECU finishes up the season on the road over the next two weeks, at Pittsburgh Saturday and at Southern Mississippi in the season finale on Nov. 25.

"East Carolina has already beaten some people that we have struggled with," said Berndt, who is in his 11th year of coaching overall after stints at DePauw, Pennsylvania and Rice. "They have an outstanding quarterback and they play very sound defense."

The quarterback situation for the Pirates was still unclear through the middle of the week. Blake was replaced in the second half Saturday by Travis Hunter, ECU's all-time leading passer. Both could see action today against the Owls.

NEXT WEEK:

East Carolina will travel to Pittsburgh to take on the nationally-ranked and bowl-bound Panthers.

Temple will finish up its regular season schedule at home against Rutgers.

"We welcome a person of Bill Lewis' abilities and character at East Carolina to lead our program into its next plateau," said Hart. "We look forward to what the future holds for the ECU program under Bill Lewis' leadership.

"He is perceived as an exceptional recruiter by all his peers and as a sound fundamentalist and teacher. He is a good motivator and demanding of his staff and his players," added Hart.

Head Coach Bill Lewis

Leading ECU football to its next plateau

Give Bill Lewis an hour of your time, and you'll be convinced that the East Carolina University football program can become as successful as any in the nation.

When the 48-year-old coaching veteran was named the Pirates' 16th head coach on Dec. 3, 1988, Lewis immediately became ECU's most zealous supporter.

"I am a very positive person," said Lewis at his first press conference. "I want to point myself and the program in that direction. We will not take a back seat to anyone in this country with the way we are going to approach this football team and this football program."

Lewis has already built a firm base from which to build a program since coming to ECU from the University of Georgia, where he was a defensive backfield coach for nine seasons during which, he was also the defensive coordinator for eight.

The Pirates had a successful recruiting season, signing 25 to grant-in-aids, including 12 prospects from the state of North Carolina. That was done with a new coaching staff who had just three months to get started.

"I believe you must begin to form the base of your recruiting in your home state," said Lewis. "We will go from the mountains to the coast line."

ECU director of athletics Dave Hart, Jr. knows that Lewis will get the Pirate program to the next

Lewis' stint at Georgia included nine bowl trips, three Southeastern Conference championships and a national championship in 1980. He has coached 23 All-SEC selections and has coached seven All-Americas, including Terry Hoage of the Philadelphia Eagles, John Little and Jeff Sanchez, all defensive backs.

Before arriving at Georgia, Lewis was the head coach at the University of Wyoming. In three years at the Laramie school, Lewis led the Cowboys to a 13-21-1 record and had offensive tackle Dennis Baker and linebacker Ken Fantetti make All-America status.

A 27-year coaching veteran, Lewis has also been an assistant coach at Arkansas (1973-76), Georgia Tech (1971-73), Wake Forest (1969-71), Pittsburgh (1966-68) and East Stroudsburg State (1963-65), his alma mater.

Lewis graduated from East Stroudsburg in 1963, earning a B.S. degree in Health and Physical Education. While attending school there, he was a Little All-America selection at quarterback and a team captain of the football and baseball teams, while lettering four years.

He left college to play in the Detroit Tigers minor league organization for two years as a pitcher before returning to his alma mater to work on his graduate degree and work as a part-time football coach.

A native of Bristol, Pa., Lewis participated in football, baseball, gymnastics and basketball at Delhaas Junior-Senior High School.

Lewis and his wife, Sandy, are the parents of three children, Mark (22), Gregg (19) and Geoff (17). Mark is a first-year law student at the University of Georgia. His wife, Wendy, is also a student at UGA. Gregg is a third class cadet at the Air Force Academy and Geoff is a high school senior.

What They're Saying About Bill Lewis

"In Bill Lewis, East Carolina has a coach that is capable of taking that program and making it one of the top programs in the country. Bill Lewis, in addition to being a close friend of mine, has a great football mind, and has the energy and enthusiasm necessary to make ECU a great football program."

— Jimmy Johnson
Dallas Cowboys

"Bill Lewis has all the qualities to be a successful head coach. He knows the game of football, he's extremely well-organized and is a tireless worker. He is an excellent communicator."

Bill Lewis On...

The Game of Football...

"I respect the game of football. I think it is the greatest of all sports. I absolutely love the game, the competition of it and all of the intangibles that are involved in the game. I enjoy the strategies, although I sometimes think they are overplayed. It's a game that can teach all of us so many things that carry over into our daily lives — like commitment, sacrifice, learning to be persistent as you pursue victory."

Student-Athletes...

"One of the things that attracted me to this program was the commitment of Dr. [Richard] Eakin (ECU Chancellor) and Dave Hart (ECU athletic director) to excellence in academics and athletics. Both of those gentlemen and myself share the philosophy that you can have excellence in both of those areas on a college campus. It is because of that I believe in the student-athlete."

The Football Program at ECU...

"One of the things that attracted me to this position was the belief that the timing was perfect for someone to come into this program. I don't think there has been a time in ECU's recent history in which there was a more positive time for a coaching staff to come in here. We think that the future is very bright. Where do we want this program to go? We want this program, with time and hard work, to be recognized as one of the best in college football."

Coaching...

"I love and respect the coaching profession. It's the only job I ever had. I believe in the profession. What I enjoy about coaching is working with young people. The greatest thrills that I have in coaching are not the victories, it's seeing the people you have coached leave and go into their chosen professions and come back and see that they have achieved success. And feel that, in some way, you have contributed to their success in life."

Chancellor Dr. Richard Eakin

The ninth chief executive officer in ECU history

Dr. Richard R. Eakin, Chancellor of East Carolina University since March 1, 1987, has a vision of greatness for the institution.

Foreseeing that ECU is destined to become a truly distinctive university, Eakin is firmly committed to academic excellence and finding new ways of service to the state and region.

He sees ECU as the catalyst for change that will bring about a better quality of life for the people whose lives it touches.

Dr. Eakin's goals include on-going strategic planning, campus beautification and development of its physical plant, libraries and student facilities, strengthening of the undergraduate curriculum, additional doctoral level programs, research and increasing participation in community affairs and public service.

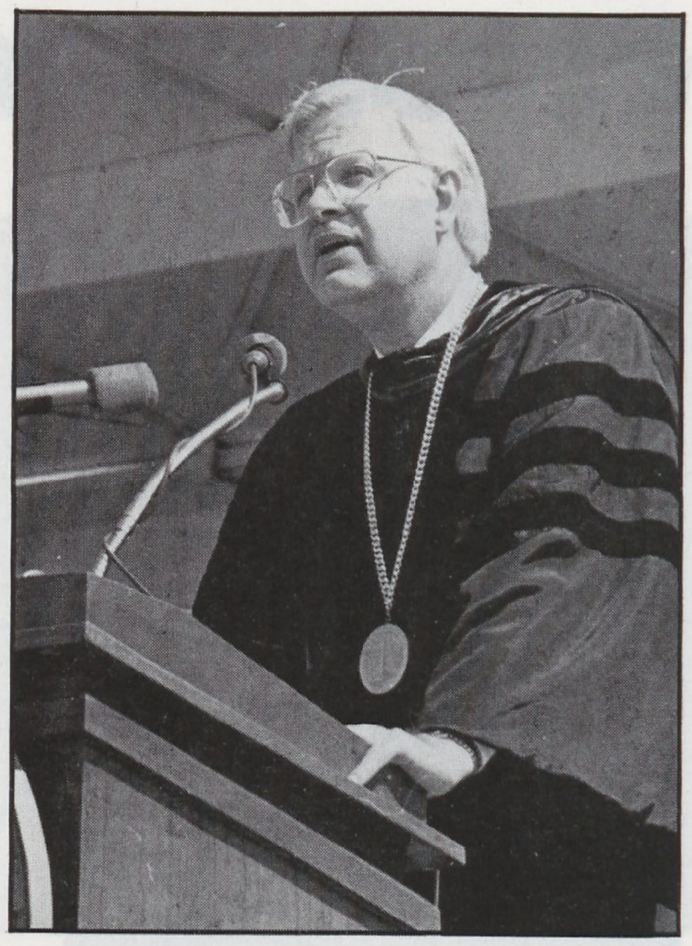

East Carolina has the third largest university enrollment in North Carolina. Eakin wants ECU to be regarded and ranked among the three best state universities in North Carolina.

Based upon its 82-year history of providing educational opportunity and excellence, East Carolina is already a university of distinction, Eakin believes. It is a product of its region, founded, nurtured and cherished by its supporters including more than 62,000 graduates.

The school's level of private financial support ranked second among the nation's public, comprehensive universities in 1987-88. With an ever-increasing private support providing the margin of excellence, Eakin foresees ECU emerging in the spotlight as a university known for quality of its teaching, research and service.

The ninth chief executive officer in the school's history, Dr. Eakin came to East Carolina University with a strong background in higher education administration and as a professor of mathematics. He began his career in 1964 at Bowling Green State University in Ohio and served as a vice president at Bowling Green before coming to ECU.

A native of New Castle, Pennsylvania, Dr. Eakin earned his bachelor's degree in mathematics and physics, summa cum laude from Geneva College in 1960. At Geneva he was class valedictorian and President of the Student Senate. He was awarded a master's degree from Washington State University in 1962 and the doctorate in mathematics with a minor in economics from Washington State University in 1964.

Eakin is committed to academic excellence and service to state and region.

He is married to the former Jo Ann McGeehan. They have two children, Matthew, a graduate student at North Carolina State University, and Maridy, a sophomore at East Carolina University.

Director of Athletics Dave Hart, Jr.

Committed to excellence, integrity within the program

Dave Hart, Jr., who has gained national recognition for his innovative ideas in the field of marketing, promotions and fund-raising, is in his second year as East Carolina University's director of athletics.

Hart was appointed athletic director on December 21, 1987 by ECU Chancellor Dr. Richard Eakin. "Dave has served the University with distinction since April 1983," said Eakin. "He has successfully led private fund-raising efforts to record levels with gift income in excess of $1 million and donor participation exceeding 4,300."

"Dave has an exceptional understanding of all aspects of athletic administration, has a strong commitment to excellence and integrity throughout the men's and women's programs, and possesses, in my judgment, the leadership qualities necessary to continue to develop our athletic program and move it to new levels of achievement."

Since that appointment, Hart has become one of the most effective athletic administrators in college athletics. Just one month into his new position, Hart was appointed to the NCAA's prestigious Committee on Integrity and Image in College Athletics, which is chaired by Georgia Tech director of athletics Homer Rice. He also chairs the Colonial Athletic Association Marketing Committee.

Hart has become a popular speaker at the national level and has authored articles for a number of national publications in the areas of marketing, promotions and fund-raising. He has made numerous speaking presentations at NCAA conventions and seminars, and during the past four National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) conventions, has served as an instructor at the Management Institute.

Since Hart has taken over as East Carolina's Athletic Director, Pirate athletic squads have been faring better. In the spring, the Pirate baseball team won the Colonial Athletic Association tournament and participated in the NCAA tournament. The men's and women's basketball teams finished with winning seasons while the swim team also won the CAA crown.

He has also structured new programs at ECU that include Personal Development for student-athletes, NCAA rules seminars and taking the anti-drug and alcohol fight into the Greenville community with trading cards and lectures featuring coaches and student-athletes.

Hart was named associate director of athletics for external relations and executive director of the Pirate Club in 1985. His duties included the raising of funds for athletic scholarships through the Pirate Club, as well as overseeing all external areas of the athletic department.

During his first two years in that position, the Pirate Club experienced record-setting growth as it surpassed the coveted $1 million mark in contributions for the first time ever. The 1987 campaign saw another record performance under his direction as the Club exceeded the $1.2 million level.

Hart first joined the ECU athletic department in 1983 as an assistant athletic director for marketing. It was the first time that ECU had ever employed a full-time staff member for marketing, and it immediately brought dividends.

ECU's marketing program gained national attention for the rapid growth in crowd participation through tailgating and other promotional efforts. Hart was also responsible for implementing the "Great Pirate Purple/Gold Pigskin Pig-Out Party," which is a weekend extravaganza surrounding the spring football game.

Additionally, attendance at home football games increased greatly as evidenced by the fact that nine of the top 12 crowds in Ficklen Stadium history have entered the turnstiles since the 1983 season. Promotional ventures such as the "Ain't It Great to Tailgate" idea have added to the atmosphere at Pirate home games.

Hart, just the fifth athletic director in ECU history, received his undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Alabama, earning a B.S. in English/Speech in 1971 and a master's degree in 1972. He attended Alabama on a basketball scholarship and was a graduate assistant coach for the Crimson Tide program in 1972. He won nine varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball and at Annapolis (MD) High School, where he was also an All-State basketball and football player.

He is married to the former Pam Humble of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and they have three children — Ricky (17), Jamie (15) and Kelly (12).

The Hart Family: Kelly, Dave, Pam, Ricky and Jamie.

Sports Medicine/ Physical Education Building

ECU proudly unveils its new athletic facility

The first major step in East Carolina's continuing efforts to upgrade facilities, the Sports Medicine/Physical Education Building, became a reality in September.

The three-story, 82,095-square foot structure, the home of ECU's athletic department, provides the two areas with state-of-the-art technology.

"From a facilities standpoint, the new building takes us to another level," ECU director of athletics Dave Hart said. "The building is a very visible illustration of the direction our program is headed.

"It is a great source of pride for our athletic department, as well as our sports medicine and physical education departments."

The injury treatment and rehabilitation center of the sports medicine department includes the latest in technology, making it one of the top sports medicine programs in the country. Among the many features of the new building is a 5,000-square foot strength training center, a state-of-the-art human performance laboratory, biomechanics lab, classrooms and men's and women's locker rooms.

The entire coaching staffs for the football and men's and women's basketball teams are housed on the second floor, while the entire athletic administrative staff find their offices on the top level.

"The building is top-notch," ECU director of sports medicine Rod Compton said. "It puts us on the cutting edge of facilities and technology in the country.

"It's a visual demonstration of the close relationship here at ECU between athletics and academics."

The building is unique in structure. The shortest of six sides of the building is the front of the facility and faces 35,000-seat Ficklen Stadium.

The first floor connects with Minges Coliseum via a covered walkway. Features of the first floor include:

Sports Medicine Training Center — Sophisticated injury treatment, evaluation and rehabilitation equipment fills the room including touch-control whirlpools, a computerized isokinetic rehabilitation and evaluation machine, exam rooms including one dental chair, and a 7-foot deep whirlpool that allows an injured athlete to exercise without bearing weight.

The training area will also boast 19 taping stations and a radio communication center which allows sports medicine officials to monitor action on the football field and basketball court simultaneously.

Strength Training Center — Includes 5,000-square feet of shiny new chrome and steel, with mirror-lined walls.

Locker Rooms — Both men and women.

Equipment Storage — A spacious area with equipment for 135 football players and more.

Attractions of the second floor include:

All-Purpose Room — An area that overlooks Ficklen Stadium. Trophy cases, retired jerseys and mementos from Pirate athletes now in the pros line the room.

Football — Offices for the head coach, nine assistant coaches, graduate assistants, a recruiting coordinator and secretaries. Football also has two storage rooms, a file room, and access to two mini-auditoriums.

Basketball — More offices for each coach, and a meeting room for both the men's and women's staff.

Academic Counseling — Computers and tutors are available to keep the student-athlete ahead in his studies.

Classrooms

Sports Medicine Offices

The top floor includes:

Human Performance Laboratory — A sophisticated lab with the latest in human performance technology.

Biomechanics Lab

Athletic Administrative Staff — Offices saturates the third floor from the athletic director to the business manager to the sports information director.

The Sports Medicine/Physical Education Building is a unique structure, unlike any facility in the country.

"With the athletic department and portions of the physical education department under one roof," said Hart, "the building is a positive illustration of how athletics and academics go hand-in-hand here at East Carolina."

ECU "Big Wheels"

The road becomes a second home for those connected with collegiate athletics. Indeed, being on the road and traveling thousands of miles each year is a major part of the job.

Almost every facet of the job — recruiting, scouting competition, making public appearances, etc. — are activities that keep athletic personnel on the move.

The "wheels" that keep East Carolina's athletic program rolling are a group known as Courtesy Car Dealers, and they play a vital role in allowing the Pirate staff to meet their demands.

Far more than just a fringe benefit, these cars given by the East Carolina Courtesy Car Dealers are necessities for a growing and successful athletic program.

The entire East Carolina staff wishes to thank each dealer providing a car to this fleet of courtesy cars. We hope our fans will look to these fine people for their automotive needs at every opportunity.

Thanks Courtesy Car Dealers! You keep the wheels of East Carolina athletics rolling.

Thanks also goes to Adam's Auto Wash of Greenville. Adam's helps keep ECU's courtesy cars looking clean.

The Marching Pirates

Innovative band displaying new uniforms

The Marching Pirates take the field in 1989 in new uniforms purchased through the generous gifts of friends, alumni, and the university community of East Carolina University. These uniforms will replace the "temporary jackets" purchased in 1980.

The ECU Marching Pirates have a national reputation among college and high school band directors and students as one of the most innovative college bands in the country. The group draws students from New England to Southern Florida and as far west as Oklahoma. The group is known for its high energy performances and "solid, wall of sound" contrasting with a "delicate, musical blend."

This year the band is under the field leadership of Drum Major Scott Lane and Assistant Drum Major Nick Holland. Field Commander is Calvin Braxton. The first recording of the Marching Pirates may be purchased at the band section in the stadium or through the office of director: Dr. Thomas W. Goolsby; School of Music; East Carolina University; Greenville, NC 27858.

A Special Thanks

East Carolina University expresses appreciation to the 93 individuals, organizations and corporations whose gifts made possible the purchase of new uniforms for the Marching Pirates. Very special thanks go to the following donors whose exemplary generosity was instrumental in making the band uniform project a success:

E.I. DuPont de Nemours & Company
Heilig-Meyers Furniture Company
Robert L. Jones

Here's To The Pirates

by Mitch Doub, Joe Distefano, Tom Goolsby, Phil Marnell

Here's to the Pirates of ECU!
We're going to raise our battle flag high,
We're going to sing it long,
Shout it loud;
And then they'll know
That we are Pirate Proud.
Because the battle's been fought,
And now it's won,
And everybody knows that we're Number One!
Because we're full of Pride,
We've got them bowing to our side,
Here's to ECU!

No others quite as bold.

Stand up for the Pirates
As we go to the Victory
So let's give 'em a hand
Come on folks, Let's stand!
and show 'em, we're from EC!

Pirate Cheerleading

Helping lead the Spirit of the East

The East Carolina University Cheerleading and Mascot Programs are an exciting part of the university atmosphere and a guaranteed way to be involved with the athletics of the university and community. The demands and responsibilities are numerous and the rewards are endless.

The Cheerleading Program is divided into two groups. The Purple Squad serves as the Varsity Squad, and appears at home and away football games and at men's basketball games. The Gold Squad serves as the Junior Varsity Squad and as an alternate to the Purple Squad. The Gold Squad cheers at home football games and women's basketball games. The Purple and Gold Squads also cheer for all East Carolina Inter-Collegiate Athletic Programs, such as soccer, volleyball, swimming, diving, baseball and softball. Both squads also represent ECU at pep rallies, sporting events, and make promotional appearances.

The requirements for tryouts vary every year due to the growth and changing needs of the squad. The Purple and Gold Squads' requirements are cheers and chants, dance ability, gymnastics ability, partner stunts, crowd involvement and enthusiasm. Specific requirements are announced at the beginning of each tryout clinic.

An important part of the cheerleading squad is the Pirate Mascot, who, in addition to football and basketball games, entertains at other Pirate athletic contests throughout the year. The Pirate also makes guest appearances at civic, social and promotional functions. Wherever he goes, The Pirate is recognized as the trademark of East Carolina University. Tryouts for the cheerleading squads and the mascot occur in both spring and fall.

The advantages, rewards, and opportunities of the Cheerleading and Mascot Programs speak for themselves and make the efforts worthwhile.

Peggy Smith, a veteran instructor of cheerleading, is the director of cheerleading and mascots at East Carolina. Smith, also experienced in dance, drill teams, and color guard, begins her second year with the ECU Cheerleading and Mascot Programs.

Smith, who cheered on the collegiate level for the University of Southwestern Louisiana, earned her master's degree in 1985. Peggy is currently a full-time faculty member for the Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Safety Department at ECU. She coaches both the Purple and Gold Squads in addition to the Mascot.

Noting The Pirates

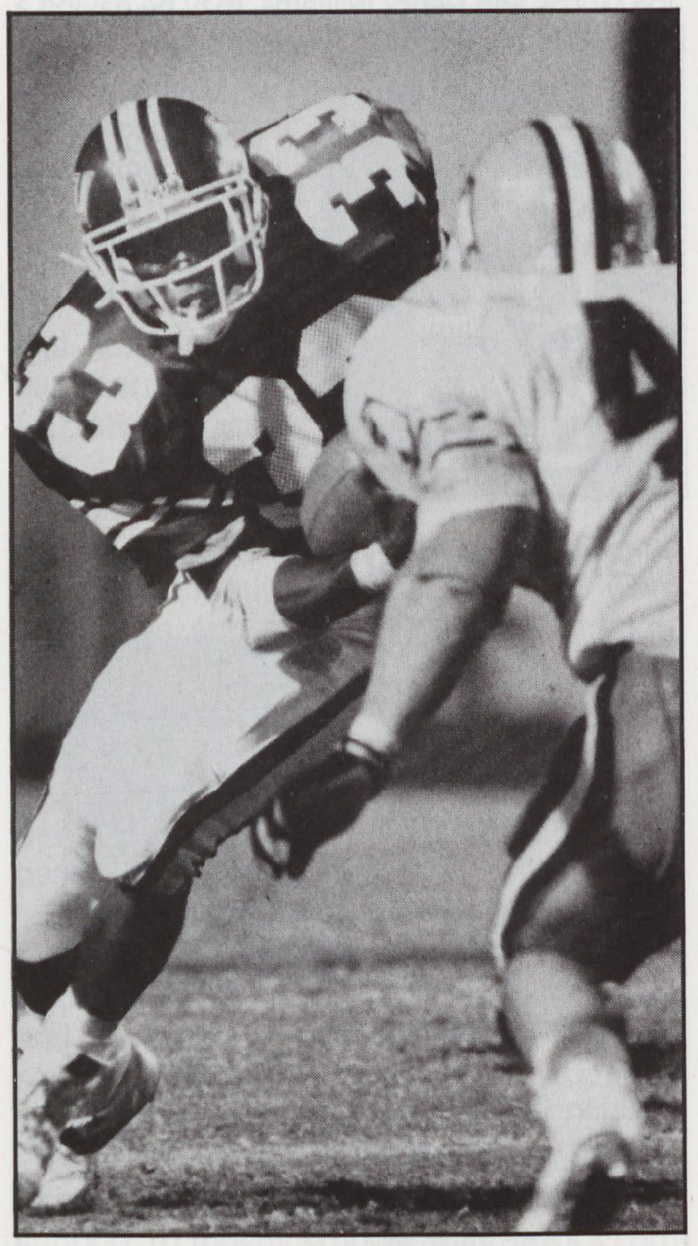

Four Pirates hail from the state of Pennsylvania ... They include back-up freshman tailback Erik Booker (Newensengton), walk-on fullback Mike Brewer (Greensburg), starting noseguard Greg Gardill (Johnstown) and back-up tailback Ernest Pendleton (Devon) ... Of the 24 positions on the field, 13 have been started by the same player ... First-time starters (vs. Miami) included quarterback Jeff Blake, strong safety Ernest Tynes and kicker Anthony Brenner ... The average depth of Robb Imperato's 38 kickoffs has been the five yard line ... The Pirates have a season record three safeties this season.

Willie Lewis

Injuries

ECU has definitely suffered its share of injuries during the 1989 season. Against Miami, the Pirates lost the services of starting tailback Willie Lewis with a severe sprain of the left knee. He will be out for the remainder of the season. His backup, Denell Harper, has also been out with a rib cartilage sprain.

ECU Basketball: Pirates vs. Yugoslavia Team Tuesday

East Carolina's basketball team will play an exhibition game Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Minges Coliseum against the touring Yugoslavian Red Star team.

The Pirates, 15-14 last season, have seven returning letterwinners to join seven newcomers. "The work habits of the kids have been good," third year ECU coach Mike Steele said. "We will be a team that will be very competitive. The new players fit in real well with the returnees."

Following this afternoon's football game, the Pirates will hold an intra-squad scrimmage in Minges Coliseum. ECU opens the season Nov. 25 at home against Appalachian State.

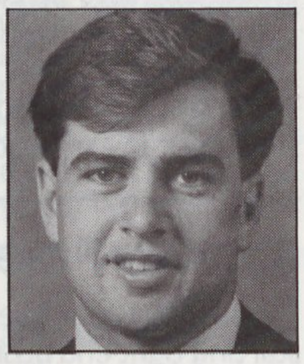

He is doubtful for Temple. Walter Wilson, who had been suffering from a left shoulder sprain, reinjured it against Miami, but should play against Temple. Also out for the Temple game are inside linebacker George Koonce (broken wrist), back-up tailback Erik Booker (knee sprain) and back-up offensive tackle Tod Creech (knee sprain).

Pirate Football History

ECU's loss at Miami (Fla.) puts the all-time Pirate football record at 252-242-12 (.510) ... The Pirates are 4-4 in games played on Nov. 11 ... ECU is also 29-22-2 in final home games ... ECU is 11-14 in November games during the 1980's ... Jimmie Jones' safety of Jeff Blake in the Miami game was the first against ECU since Oct. 11, 1980 when Richmond blocked a Pirate punt out of the end zone ... A win against Temple would guarantee the Pirates of their first non-losing season since 1983.

Updating ECU Record Books

Travis Hunter is the ECU career leader in pass completions (232), passing yardage (3,310) and total offensive yards (4,961). Walter Wilson is second in career reception yardage (1,340) and tied for third in career catches (72) with Terry Gallaher. John Jett is second in career punting average (39.8) and Junior Robinson is eighth in career kickoff returns (23.05).

John Jett

Hunter is also 10th in single season passing yardage with 860 yards. Wilson is 11th in single season pass receiving with 24 grabs.

Charting the Opponents

ECU opponents went 6-3 this past week for an overall mark of 46-44-5. Two teams—Miami (Fla.) and Pittsburgh—have just one loss. Temple has yet to win this season. This week's games include: Bowling Green at Western Michigan, Morehead State at Cincinnati, Arkansas State at Illinois State, Louisiana Tech at Auburn, South Carolina at North Carolina, Virginia Tech at Virginia, Syracuse at Navy, Miami (Fla.) at Pittsburgh and Temple at EAST CAROLINA.

The Coaches

Bill Lewis (East Stroudsburg State, '63) has a school record of 4-3-1 in his first overall season at the helm of the Pirates. In his fourth season as head coach, Lewis has an overall mark of 17-24-2, including three seasons at Wyoming, where he was 13-21-1. Before coming to Greenville, he had served as an assistant at Georgia for nine seasons, the last eight as defensive coordinator. Lewis has also served as an assistant at Arkansas, Georgia Tech, Wake Forest, Pittsburgh and East Stroudsburg State. After graduating college, Lewis played in the Detroit Tigers baseball organization for two years, reaching the AA level. Lewis has never coached against Temple as head coach but is 2-0 as an assistant (1981 and 1983 at Georgia).

Jerry Berndt (Bowling Green, '62) is in his first season at Temple with a 0-9 mark. In his 11th season as a college head coach, he has an overall mark of 44-63-3. He has served as head coach at DePauw for two seasons (9-9-1), Pennsylvania for five years (29-18-2), Rice for three years (6-27-0) and at Temple.

CHAMPIONS!

East Carolina captured Colonial Athletic Association championships this year in:

- BASEBALL
- MEN'S SWIMMING

Congratulations to coaches Gary Overton (baseball) and Rick Kobe (swimming) and their fine teams.

Thompson Has Personal Recipe For Being All-Star Candidate

By Tom Doyle
ECU SID Student Assistant

How to become an All-American: (1) Combine size with speed and power. (2) Add intensity, desire and a will to win. (3) Mix in a little team leadership and an ability to make the big plays.

Basically, copy ECU senior defensive end Anthony Thompson.

Thompson, the 6-2, 218-lb. senior from Wilson, N.C., has turned into a force for the Pirates and by season's end, could very well take home All-America honors for ECU. Until then, Thompson has other things on his mind.

THE CLASS OF '89

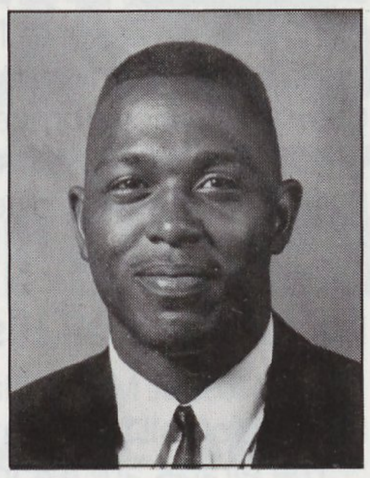

Senior Profiles

"I want us to finish 7-3-1. We can do it, it's just going to take more hard work and concentration during practice," Thompson said.

The product of Wilson Fike High School, Thompson began making believers out of people in terms of his linebacking ability last year. He finished as an All-South Independent pick at linebacker and led the Pirates in tackles with 80. In 1989, Thompson has picked up where he left off, and is third on the team in tackles with 61. He leads the team in quarterback sacks with six, tackles for a loss with nine, and has one of the Pirates' three safeties this year, calling that his highlight of '89.

"That safety against Cincinnati would be the biggest play this year so far, but the biggest play of my career has to be the interception against Temple last year. That felt great," Thompson said.

It should have. That was the play that got the Pirates back on track late in the season and led ECU to wins in their last two games after four consecutive losses to four Top 20 teams.

THOMPSON

It was the first play of the game from scrimmage. The Pirates had kicked off to Temple. Thompson read the play perfectly and picked off the Matt Baker pass and waltzed 16 yards into the end zone at Veteran Stadium in Philadelphia. Ironically, the week before that game ECU played Miami, much the same scenario as this year.

For Thompson, his ECU career has really been his last two seasons. A Prop 48 player, he missed his freshman year and was bounced around his sophomore year, playing running back, linebacker and tight end. Finally last year he found his niche and has stayed there. Does he have any regrets?

"No, not really," he said. "I like being on the defensive side of the ball."

With the Pirates hurting at running back, would Thompson consider moving back to the spot he was recruited to out of Fike?

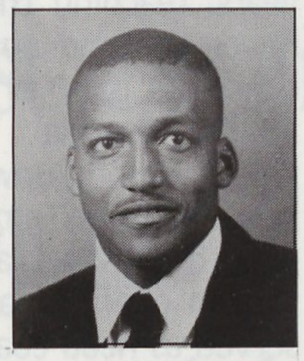

"If that's what it came down to, yes, I'd play there. I'll play wherever the coaches want me to," he said.

In the meantime, he couldn't be happier as a student-athlete at East Carolina.

"I'll get my degree (in therapeutic recreation), I'm a certified international Special Olympics coach, and I can go home for some home cookin' whenever my mom calls," Thompson said.

Ricky Torain

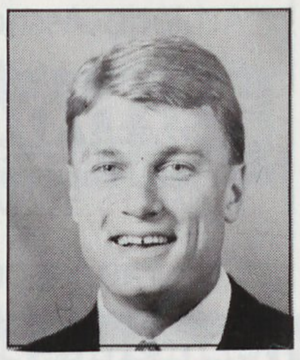

Ricky, a senior cornerback, is having his finest season yet. The Rougemont, N.C., native has run step-for-step with some of the top receivers in college football. Against Syracuse, Torain went up against All-American Rob Moore. Against Miami, he faced All-America candidate Dale Dawkins. He's also seen the likes of Virginia Tech's Myron Richardson and South Carolina's Robert Brooks.

Torain, the former standout at Hillsborough Orange High School, also has some bloodlines in the NFL. His uncle, Jack Cameron, played for the Chicago Bears after a college career at Winston-Salem State.

Tim Wolter

A pair of knee injuries, including one earlier this season, have kept Tim off the field more often than not this year. Wolter came to ECU as a punter and defensive back. As a true freshman, he booted a 60-yarder at Auburn and hit 53-yarders at LSU and N.C. State.

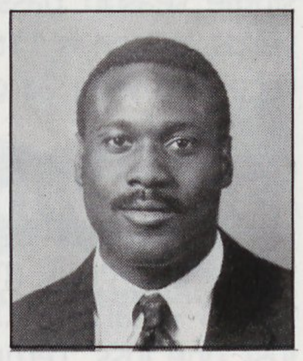

At East Wake High School in Tim's hometown of Wendell, he was a standout athlete. He captained the football and basketball teams, and was an honorable mention All-America defensive back, according to USA Today. He also had a school record 73 yard punt at East Wake as a junior.

Charles Freeman

Charles has not been able to wrestle away the starting tight end position from sophomore Luke Fisher, yet the Clearwater, Fla., native is a possible candidate for the 1990 NFL draft.

One scout said of Freeman: "If nothing else, he's got the body to be in the NFL."

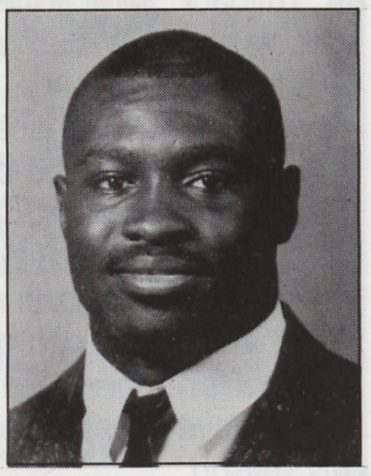

Freeman, who played his first year at ECU last season after transferring from Copiah-Lincoln Junior College, is playing his first true season at tight end on the college level. Freeman bounced back and forth between both defense and offense last year.

Lewis Is ECU's Big, Little Man

By Carolyn Justice-Hinson
ECU SID Student Assistant

You won't find a "bigger" little man in college football than East Carolina senior tailback, Willie Lewis.

LEWIS

At 5'7½" and 179 lbs., Lewis, pound for pound, is ECU's strongest player according to Pirate strength and conditioning coach Jay Omer.

"For any size player, Willis is very strong," Omer says. "But for his body size, he is exceptionally strong."

Lewis' highest bench press is 415 lbs. and his heaviest squat is 625 lbs. since coming to ECU.

But strength has not always been Lewis' strong point.

"In high school, I was fast but not very strong," says Lewis. "When I came to ECU I knew I had to do something to compensate for my lack of size, so I dedicated myself to weight and speed training."

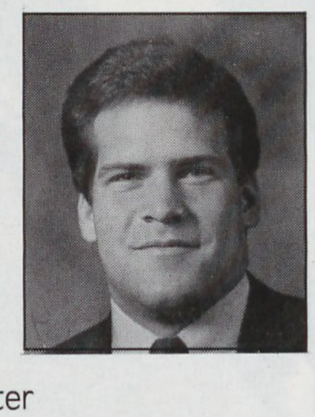

Lewis' dedication has paid off during his career for the Pirates and it could possibly pay off in the future.

Small professional backs, such as Jamie and Joe Morris and Henry Williams, may be paving a future slot in the NFL for Willie Lewis.

"To make it into the pros will depend on my senior season," Lewis says. "It's still up in the air because I need more yards. I don't think I have reached my full potential."

Lewis' excellent physical condition should help speed the recovery on the knee he injured Saturday at Miami.

Academic Computing Comes Of Age In Megabytes

By George A. Threewitts
ECU News Bureau

There was a time not long ago—in 1981 to be exact—when computer support for East Carolina University's academic community amounted to one part-time mainframe, a few terminals and a half-dozen or so noisy machines that punched computer data cards.

In 1989 things have changed—dramatically. They are still changing. A computer boom has arrived and nearly every member of the faculty and student body has been affected.

UNIVERSITY FEATURE

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

Today the faculty and students have a full-time mainframe and more than 500 terminals and personal computers to support their word processing and research work. In addition, computer software and equipment classes are offered and there are other innovative developments waiting to be unveiled by an organization within the ECU Office of Computing and Information Systems (CIS) which barely existed eight years ago.

The organization is Academic Computing. It is one of the units within ECU Computing and Information Systems directed by Blake Price and managed by Ernest Marshburn. A support service provided by this unit is Academic Computing Educational Services (ACES).

Eight staff members are employed in Academic Computing to provide service and support to mostly student and faculty computer users on campus. In 1981, there was only one staff position for academic computing.

At the heart of Academic Computing is a shiny new mainframe computer, a dark blue IBM 4381. It's not much larger than a couple of file cabinets but its power to do the work that computers do is mindboggling. For example, its memory can work with 16 million bytes of data at a time and separate tape storage units can hold up to 10 gigabytes (1,000 million bytes) of information.

All of the academic terminals and many of the personal computers owned by the university are connected to this machine. This puts faculty and students in easy touch with a $3 million investment and a statistical analysis, research and educational tool that existed only in places like the Research Triangle Park a few years ago.

ECU enjoys some advantages too in the fact that much of its computer equipment is relatively new. Many larger schools invested heavily in computer technology a decade ago and are now finding that their systems take up a lot of space, are prone to breakdowns and don't perform as effectively as the more modern, smaller mainframes and storage hardware.

ECU's academic mainframe takes up about a fourth of the space in the special area of Austin Building that houses the university's four mainframe computers. Two of the other mainframes are used for administrative computing and the fourth computer is used for administrative "software testing."

During peak times of the year, in September, October and November and in January and February, the academic mainframe receives the special codes and passwords from about 700 users a day. As many as 22,000 users tap into the machine's brain power each month.

There are more than two dozen computer labs on campus and they are located in academic buildings as well as in residence halls. These labs contain a total of more than 500 computer work stations open to members of the university community.

Faculty and students use the computer facilities for research activities, writing and classroom assignments. A variety of programs including most of the popular wordprocessing, and data and statistical programs are available for use on IBM, Zenith, Sperry, AT&T, Apple IIe and Apple McIntosh machines. Free classes teaching the fundamentals of the various computers and the "ins and outs" of the programs are taught throughout the year.

Academic Computing is working on several projects for the future. One is to place computer graphics centers in the School of Art, Industry and Technology and Home Economics. Some other projects being developed involve expanding the University's capability for computer-aided instruction and building a computer sound center for the School of Music.

Academic Computing also plans to enhance its mainframe and personal computer base and provide broader access to these facilities. The goal, says Ernest Marshburn, manager of Academic Computing, is to put a computer on the desk of every member of the faculty and to see that computers are readily available for use by ECU students.

"It will be the equivalent of placing a multi-million dollar writing, research and communications tool at their fingertips," he said.

CT&T Scholarship

A full $3,500 athletic scholarship is awarded at each home East Carolina football game by Carolina Telephone and Telegraph for outstanding achievements in academics and contribution by an ECU team member to the Pirate football program.

The award has been given since 1984, but this season marks the second time that CT&T and its president, Wayne Peterson, have contributed the full scholarship amount for each home game, and it is a donation that ECU officials greatly appreciate.

"As the Pirate Club strives to expand its funding base in order to fully fund athletic scholarships and meet future goals for growth, a gesture like this one by Wayne Peterson and CT&T stands out as an illustration of corporate commitment to excellence with regard to our program," said Charlie Carr, ECU's associate director of athletics and executive director of the Pirate Club.

R.W. Moore Scholarship

The "King of the Gridiron" scholarship is presented each home football game to the outstanding East Carolina University football player for that particular game as voted on by the media in attendance.

Mr. R.W. Moore of Raleigh, president of R.W. Moore Equipment Company, initiated the scholarship in 1977. This season marks the 13th consecutive year for the presentations.

The scholarship carries a $1,000 value and is presented in the name of the winning player to the ECU Educational Foundation (Pirate Club). The money is then contributed to the general athletic scholarship fund.

East Carolina University extends its appreciation to Mr. Moore for this outstanding service to the University and the athletic department.

Pirate Basketball '89-90

Replacing "Blue" will be ECU's biggest challenge

When East Carolina head coach Mike Steele looks down his bench for a substitute during the waning moments of a close ball game, he'll have plenty of faces to pick from. What he won't have is someone the calibre of Theodore "Blue" Edwards.

That, pretty much, sums up the 1989-90 outlook for the Pirates. And, it's not as tough as you might think even with the loss of the Colonial Athletic Association Player of the Year in 1988-89.

Steele returns seven lettermen from last year's 15-14 squad including starters Gus Hill, Reed Lose and Stanley Love. Also, the coaching staff inked seven newcomers to national letters-of-intent. With those numbers, there will definitely be more quality in the quantity.

Hill, a 6-3 senior guard, was the CAA Rookie of the Year in 1987-88 after scoring 19.3 points and 5.5 rebounds per game. Last season, with the emergence of Edwards, Hill slowed to 10.7 points per game. Hill will have to be more productive this season for the Pirates to make an impact in the league.

Lose, a 6-4 senior guard, is one of the scrappiest players in the league. He'll add leadership and hustle to the squad that will have five freshmen, five sophomores, two juniors and two seniors. Last season, Lose averaged 7.7 points and 3.4 rebounds per game.

Love, a 6-5 junior center, started to develop a shooting touch late in the season. If he can carry that over to 1989-90, he'll be a force to contend with among CAA centers. Last year, he averaged 5.2 points and 3.7 rebounds per game and had 15 points in ECU's CAA tournament opening round win against American.

Sophomores Brooks Bryant, Robin House, Casey Mote and Jeff Perlich should continue to improve and make an impact this season. Bryant, a 6-9 center, and Mote, a 6-7 center, should give the Pirates additional inside height. House, a 6-1 guard, and Perlich, a 6-2 guard, are good shooters who should see more playing time this season.

Of the seven newcomers inked by ECU, six hail from the state of North Carolina. Only Steve Richardson, a 6-3 freshman guard, comes from out-of-state, by way of Terre Haute (Ind.) South High School. As a senior last year, Richardson averaged 19.5 points, seven rebounds and four assists per game.

Three junior college talents should help the Pirates out right away. Tim Brown, a 6-7 forward/center from Louisburg Junior College, Taro Knight, a 6-3 guard from Chowan Junior College, and Darrell Overton, a 6-6 forward/center from Craven Community College signed with ECU.

Brown, who averaged 17 points and nine rebounds per game last season, should provide immediate help in the middle. Knight, who will have three years of eligibility remaining, could break into the starting lineup at point guard. Overton is a force on the boards, averaging 14 points and 12 rebounds per game last season.

Stanley Love and six other returnees will be looked to more often this season.

Also, three North Carolina prepsters signed with ECU. Paul Childress, a 5-10 guard from Albemarle High School, averaged 18 points, four rebounds and five assists per game last season. He'll make a solid contribution in his first season.

Ike Copeland, a 6-8 center from Rocky Mount Senior High School, will add height and depth in the middle. Last season, he averaged 14.5 points and 11.0 rebounds per game.

D.J. Morgan, a 6-6 forward from Athens Drive High School, could see plenty of action this season. Last year, he averaged 15 points and 14 rebounds per game.

The Pirate basketball schedule gets tougher with road visits to Duke, New Mexico, TCU, and a visit to Hawaii for the Chaminade Invitational. ECU will also host Mississippi State. There is also the regular CAA schedule, which includes Richmond, George Mason, American, James Madison, UNC-Wilmington, Navy and William and Mary.

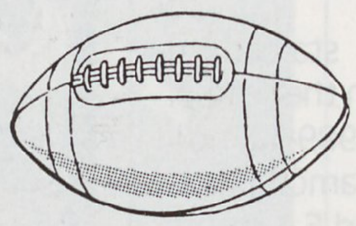

ECU's home games will start at 7 p.m. this season.

Lady Pirate Basketball

Task at hand: Replacing four key veterans

Sarah Gray (30) was ECU's leading scorer and rebounder last season. (Photo by Washington Daily News)

After leading the Lady Pirates to a 15-3 record and a third-place finish in the Colonial Athletic Association, third-year head coach Pat Pierson must now face the task of replacing four key seniors as ECU heads into the 1989-90 season.

"We're expecting to be in a learning process," said Pierson, who enters her 11th year of coaching on the collegiate level with a 189-122 record. "We have some strong players returning, despite our loss at graduation."

The Lady Pirates graduated Gretta Savage, 1988-89 Lady Pirate Co-MVP and Pitt County Player of the Year; Chris O'Connor, who earned the team's best free throw percentage last season; Pam Williams, ECU Best Defensive Award recipient; and Rose Miller, who received the ECU Most Improved and Coaches Award for 1988-89.

One of the bright points this season will be the return of 1988-89 Lady Pirate Co-MVP, Sarah Gray. The 6-0 junior forward returned to ECU last season after missing all of 1987-88 following knee surgery. Upon returning, she led ECU in scoring and rebounding throughout the season, averaging 14.4 points and 9.0 rebounds per game, respectively.

"Last season Sarah had an excellent season for someone who was out for a year," Pierson said. "This year, we're working with her to be more aggressive on both ends of the court, especially in rebounding. She will carry a lot of the responsibility for us, especially in scoring."

ECU will look for the leadership from lone senior, Irish Hamilton. The a 5-4 guard led ECU in assists last season with 138. "Irish is stepping into her senior leadership role well prepared," Pierson said. "She has been working hard and we see no problem with her handling this role."

To lessen the loss of height and hustle, Pierson will look to 6-1 junior forward Kim Dupree and 5-9 sophomore forward Tonya Hargrove to fill the demand.

"Kim will be back in full force this season," Pierson said. "She sat out part of last season after transferring. She can make a major contribution to this year's team with her size and scoring ability. Depending on how hard she works in the off-season and preseason, will depend on how good a season she has and what role she will fill for us."

Hargrove comes off an excellent freshman year where she was a spark off the bench. "Tonya will provide us with a lot of athletic ability. Making the All-Rookie team gave her a lot of incentive. She runs the floor well and she is as good as she wants to be," Pierson said.

In the height department, Pierson will also look to 6-2 junior forward Sandra Grace, who played in 25 games last season. "Sandra is working into her role for the Lady Pirates. When she saw playing time last year, she made things happen. She is a natural rebounder. We'll need her and depend on her with Gretta's (Savage) loss."

Along with Grace, sophomore Kathy Addison will also contribute in the height department. Addison, a 5-11 forward, will be seeing time on the inside and the perimeter. Sophomore guard Toina Coley will also be depended on for help on the perimeter. Coley, a 5-7 guard, gained valuable experience last season, playing in 27 of the Lady Pirates' 28 games.

One of East Carolina's strengths this season will be depth in the backcourt. Sophomores Laura Crowder and Mechelle Jones, former teammates at Colonial Heights (VA) High School, will help provide this depth.

"Laura and Mechelle each have the ability to see a lot of playing time. With their hustle and last year's experience, they give us the ability to play a three-guard offense."

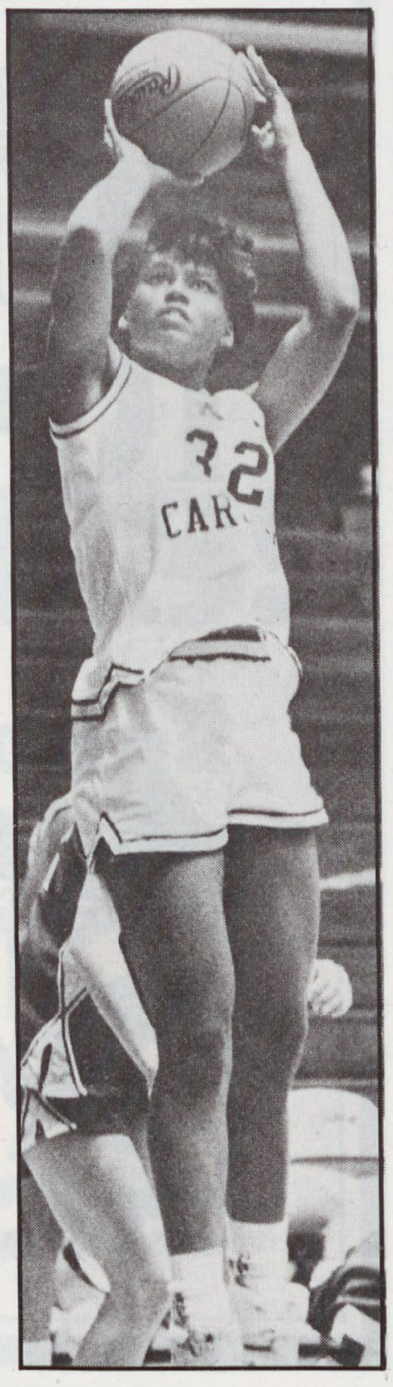

Pierson and her coaching staff are pleased with their returning players as well as the four recruits that will be joining this year's team.

Juniors Michelle Marsh and Keeneya Wilson transferred to ECU from Roane State Community College (TN), the winner of the Region VII Junior College title. Marsh, a 6-0 forward, averaged 14 points and eight rebounds last season and was selected to the All-Region VII team. Wilson is a 5-8 guard and an excellent perimeter shooter who will be an asset to the Lady Pirates in all aspects of the court.

Also on the recruit list are Toni Thurman and Gaynor O'Donnell. Thurman, a freshman from Hallboro, NC, has all the makings of a good college player. O'Donnell, a native of Liverpool, England, played her high school basketball at Southern Wayne and was selected as the Mid-Eastern 4-A Player of the Year.

"Our returning players and our recruits are all young and need time to gel," Pierson said. "We have good talent on the perimeter, but our inside must be more aggressive. Once we come together, we have the nucleus for a winning team."

The schedule is highlighted by two tournaments—the Lady Pirate Classic and Furman Christmas Classic—and ECU will host nationally ranked North Carolina State. The CAA race will be as interesting as ever with several teams contending — it could be anyone's ball game.

Sandra Grace will be looked on to score more often in '89-90. (Photo by Elbert Kennard)

East Carolina University

A rising star in the higher education heavens

The school that was to become East Carolina University opened its doors to students for the first time in 1909. It was a newly-founded state normal school to train teachers.

Eighty years is a relatively short time among the hallowed institutions of higher learning to develop a heritage of academic richness and tradition, for ivy to cover the stone and old brick walls and walkways of the campus. East Carolina is still a relatively young institution insofar as the Yales, William and Marys and the University of Virginias are concerned, but the ivy is growing at ECU.

Its heritage is that of a small normal school, then a teachers college, still known with affection and nostalgia as E-C-T-C, East Carolina Teachers College, and later as a liberal arts college, ECC. It took 22 years after the close of World War II for the college to reach the stage of development and organization, size and diversity, to become a university.

ECU has, semester after semester, enrolled the third largest number of students of any college or university in the state of North Carolina, with an estimated enrollment of 1989-90 of 16,000 students.

It became East Carolina University by an act of the General Assembly of North Carolina in 1967 and four years later was made a constituent institution of the 16-campus University of North Carolina system.

Today East Carolina University is a vibrant, pulsing comprehensive university that already possesses tradition and is on the way to becoming a truly distinctive institution of higher learning.

ECU offers strong undergraduate degree programs in more than 100 tracks of study and graduate programs leading to master's degrees in nearly 90 fields in the liberal arts and sciences and in nine of its 10 professional schools — Allied Health Sciences, Art, Business, Education, Home Economics, Music, Nursing, Social Work and Industry and Technology. It offers research-grounded PhD programs in basic medical sciences and ECU's School of Medicine, the state's newest, has graduated more than 450 doctors of medicine (MDs) in just 10 years.

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

ECU has built a tradition of striving for excellence — and attaining it in many areas — of determination, of fierce pride and loyalty and of a mission of service related to its role of providing quality educational opportunity. It is a tradition that already sets East Carolina University apart.

To those who love East Carolina University it is and always has been a truly distinctive university.

It is a rising star in the higher education heavens.

ECU has, semester after semester, enrolled the third largest number of students of any college or university in the state of North Carolina, with an estimated enrollment of 1989-90 of 16,000 students.

Private support plays an important part in making the ECU ivy grow. In 1987-88, the level of private financial support of ECU's academics, medical education and research and athletics ranked second in the nation among more than 150 public comprehensive universities, totaling $5.9 million.

This private support provides dollars for a margin of excellence in ECU's programs of teaching, research and public service. Together with substantial state appropriations making up an annual operating budget of $170 million, funds enrich the instructional offerings and provide facilities, laboratories and scholarships.

Some of the buildings on the busy main campus in Greenville and all of those on the medical sciences campus in west Greenville are large, new and modern. The university has top priority plans for a $27 million expansion of its library facilities, the heart of an academic community. Adjacent to Ficklen Stadium and Minges Coliseum on the athletic complex is a new three-story Sports Medicine and Physical Education building which will house ECU's growing athletic department.

Even here, as all over the sprawling campus, if one looks closely, the ivy is growing at East Carolina University.

The 1989 season will mark the third year of a multi-year agreement with Capitol Radio Networks to distribute the network via satellite. Capitol Radio Networks is a part of the Capitol Broadcasting Company of Raleigh, N.C., and the network provides news and sports programming for more than 150 radio stations throughout North Carolina and Virginia.

The network will have approximately 40 stations this year, the largest number in school history. In addition to the game broadcasts, a weekly coaches' show will be aired on Fridays between 7-8 p.m. The show can be heard on 50,000-watt WPTF-AM (680) as well as selected PSN affiliates. The Pirate Report features daily interviews with players and coaches and can be heard throughout the state.

Charles begins his second year as "Voice of the Pirates." He came to ECU from Virginia Tech, where he served as "Voice of the Hokies" and Director of Radio/Television Affairs for five years.

Before going to Virginia Tech, the veteran sportscaster worked at WGVL Radio in Greenville, S.C., where he hosted sports shows and served as "Voice of the Furman Paladins."

The Piqua, Ohio, native previously had been sports director at WSB Radio in Atlanta, Ga., where he handled play-by-play duties for the Peach Bowl and did a nightly sports talk show on the 50,000-watt clear channel station.

The Georgia Associated Press named him the state's best play-by-play announcer and United Press International awarded him first place for the best sports coverage in the state.

Charles also worked for WITY Radio in Danville, Ill., WKAM Radio in Goshen, Ind. and WPTW, a cable television station in Piqua, Ohio. When he was at WITY, he handled play-by-play duties for the University of Illinois football and basketball teams.

He graduated from the Career Academy Broadcasting School of Columbus, Ohio, in 1971 and received a degree in speech communications from Goshen College in Indiana in 1975.

Charles and his wife, Debby, have two children, Heather (16) and Britt (14).

Anheuser-Busch returns for its 13th consecutive year as the primary network sponsor.

The Humble Beginnings Of A $2.1 Billion Crop.

Tobacco provides American farmers with an income of over $2.1 billion a year. It's one of the United States' most valuable money crops.

As a major supplier of U.S. leaf to world markets, A.C. Monk is a vital link between the people who grow the tobacco and the people who buy it.

And we've always tried to work in the best overall interests of both.

But we're especially proud of our working relationship with U.S. growers.

The people who work the tobacco crops, from seedlings all the way to market.

They're the people who keep the tobacco industry going. And we never forget it. MONK

Loranzo Square: Temple's Mean Man In The Middle

TODAY'S OPPONENT

PROFILE

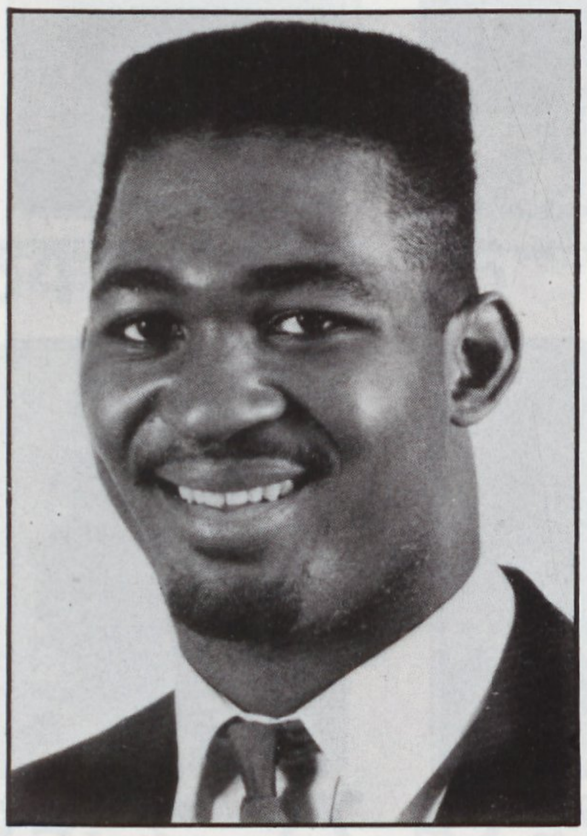

By John DiSangro
Temple University
Sports Information

Mild-mannered and reticent off the field, Temple University linebacker Loranzo Square carries himself with a quiet confidence afforded to him through hard work and an ability to master the position.

A native of Trenton, N.J., Square entered Temple in 1985 with the opportunity to become one of the top linebackers in the country. Square is one of a new breed of linebackers. Lacking in size, he's a ferocious hitter who has managed to play in every game during his career. His quickness and agility gives him the ability to recognize and react to various offensive schemes as they formulate.

The 6-2, 230-pound senior from Trenton Central High School was recruited heavily by Grambling, Minnesota, Pitt and Nebraska in addition to Temple. In high school, he showed his versatility by playing fullback on offense and linebacker on defense. He earned all-state and all-county honors. Temple's close proximity to Trenton and the opportunity to play a top-notch schedule lured him to the North Philadelphia campus.

"I wanted my parents to see me play and the only opportunity they would have to see me play at Grambling would have been when they came to New York," said Square.

Loranzo Square

Entering Temple, Square pushed hard for the starting job at inside linebacker, but was a liability because of his weight. An intense weightlifting regimen helped increase his weight to 230 pounds while still maintaining his mobility. He played his freshman year on the special teams.

In his sophomore season in 1987, Square started five times and played in all 11 games. His 136 tackles led the team in 1988 and earned him honorable mention all-American honors by the Associated Press. He set new Temple records for tackles in one game (23) and solo tackles (12), coincidentally against East Carolina.

Even a switch to a new defense, the 50, which has caused him to become more of a position linebacker, hasn't slowed Square. This year, he has played every down as if it were his last. He leads the team in practically every defensive category. His 68 solo stops and 100 total tackles are team highs. His four quarterback sacks and one interception are tied for the team lead. He's second in tackles for losses with four.

Defensive coordinator Ron Chismar is impressed with the man called Mr. Square by many. "He's got a tremendous work ethic," says Chismar. "He wants to be a good football player. He works hard at the game, he's very serious about being good and these are all the things I think are necessary for him to be the kind of player we want him to be and he wants to be.

"Loranzo is one of the premier linebackers in the East..."

—TU Head Coach Jerry Berndt

"He's got good tools—speed, toughness and strength—plus he has a nose for the football."

Square's willingness to play hurt in spring practice won him praise from his teammates as well as immediate respect from head coach Jerry Berndt and his new football staff. He was voted defensive captain for the '89 season.

"Loranzo is one of the premier linebackers in the East," said Berndt. "We consider him a strong candidate for post-season honors."

We're Proud To Support 1989 Pirate Football!

The East Carolina Sports Hall of Fame was initiated in 1974 as an organization to honor those individuals who have, by direct participation in East Carolina University intercollegiate athletics, brought outstanding recognition to themselves and to the University.

The first honorees were inducted during Homecoming festivities at halftime of the East Carolina-The Citadel football game in 1974. Ten members were selected for the first year. No more than four members may be selected for any one year in the future.

To be selected, a committee of five persons must vote with 80 percent of those giving their approval. Those five shall be the official selection committee. To be eligible for selection, a person must not have been connected with the University in the capacity to which the nominee is being elected for a minimum of five academic years.

Ficklen Stadium

The Home of the Pirates

The James Skinner Ficklen Memorial Stadium was dedicated on September 21, 1963, with East Carolina defeating Wake Forest 20-10.

The dedication game was the culmination of a dream come true for then East Carolina College and all of eastern North Carolina. The original plan was announced on Oct. 7, 1961, by Dr. Leo Jenkins, Chancellor of the College, at a meeting of the Society of Buccaneers.

Within a year, $283,387 had been raised, although the goal had been only $200,000. With the funds in hand, Ficklen Stadium was built.

The original stadium consisted of the permanent stands on the south side, a small press box and the old lighting system which was removed after the 1974 season. Total cost was $300,000.

The north side permanent seating was constructed in 1968, increasing the stadium seating capacity to 20,000.

The stadium was named for the late James Skinner Ficklen, a Greenville resident, who distinguished himself as one of America's leading tobacconists. At the time of his death in 1955, Ficklen was President and Chairman of the Board of the E.B. Ficklen Tobacco Company of Greenville. He was a close friend of the College and established a financial aid foundation, the Ficklen Foundation, to aid students of the College.

The first major change in Ficklen Stadium was the lighting systems, a change that occurred just before the 1975 season opened. The old inner stadium lights on six poles were removed and replaced with six towers outside the stadium. The system is a combination of metallic and incandescent lights. There are 288 fixtures of 1500 watts each on six 162-foot towers. Cost of the system was $450,000. Engineers say ECU has the best lighted stadium in the southeast.

A radical change greeted fans as the 1978 season opened. An expansion on all four corners boosted Ficklen's seating capacity from 20,000 to 35,000, the third-largest stadium in North Carolina. This expansion was made possible with 2½ million dollars through a drive in the spring of 1977.

In addition to more seats, an ultramodern press box with three levels and an elevator for access was built. The much needed press box is one of the finest in the country with space for 92 writers and an entire floor for electronic media. Also, a modern scoreboard with a lightbank message center was placed on the east end of Ficklen.

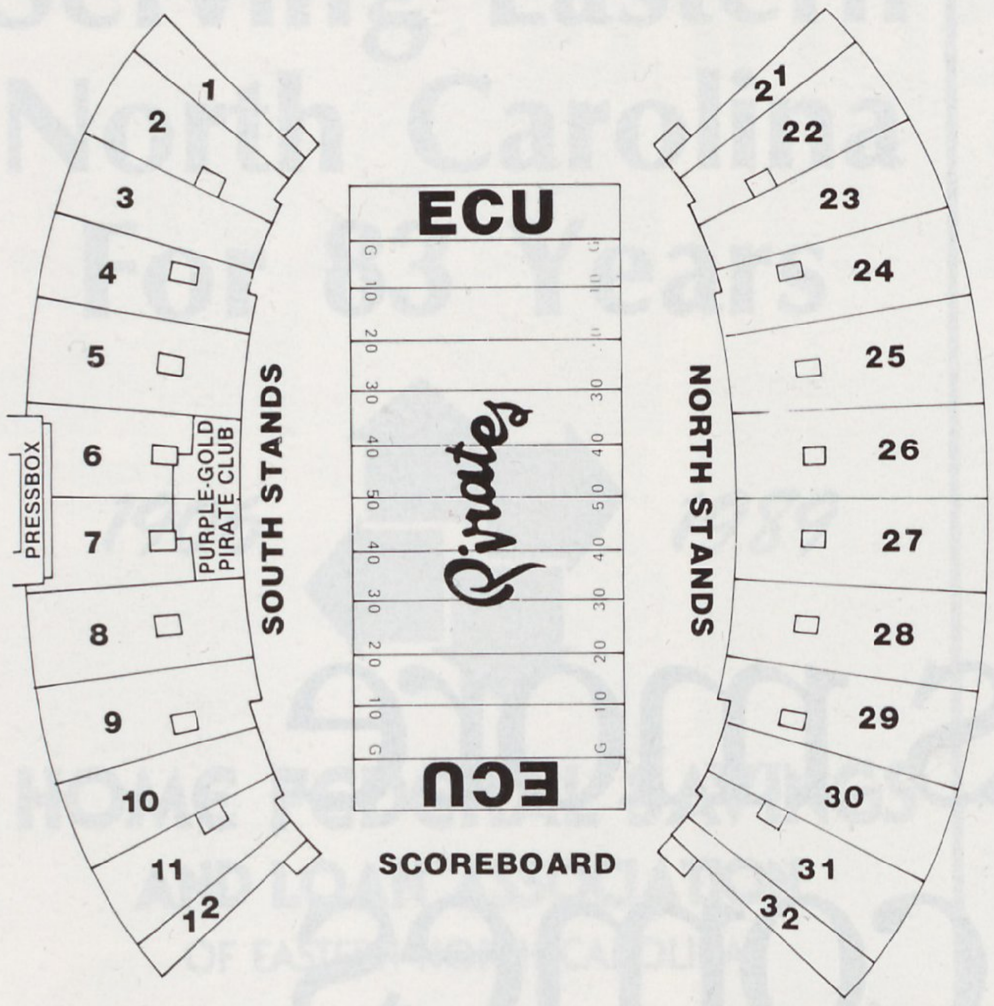

During the summer of 1982, a complete renovation took place on the playing surface. A new drainage system, a new base of gravel and sand, new treated topsoil and a new grass was installed. The new grass, Tifton 419 Hybrid Bermuda was sprigged at the rate of 600 bushels per acre.

The 1988 season saw the season attendance record fall in Ficklen Stadium as the Pirates drew a school-record 156,329 fans for six home games.

Sports Medicine

Providing care, treatment for Pirates

The East Carolina University sports medicine division and curriculum, reputed to be one of the finest in the Southeast, affords every Pirate athlete the best available care and treatment of injuries.

Headed by ECU's sports medicine director Rod Compton, who is a Certified Athletic Trainer and a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA), and the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine, the East Carolina sports medicine program offers the best possible prevention, immediate treatment, and rehabilitation of injuries.

Compton, who earned degrees from Ohio University and Bowling Green State and served as Editor-in-Chief of the NATA Journal for six-and-one-half years, is also the director of the ECU Sports Medicine Conference, which is held annually in April on the East Carolina campus.

Compton (entering his 20th season) is assisted by team physician Dr. James McCallum, Greg Beres, Certified Athletic Trainer, and Karen Baker, Certified Athletic Trainer, as designated by the NATA. All serve on the staff of the Sports Medicine Conference and as faculty for the Sports Medicine Curriculum within the Department of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Safety.

They are assisted by more than a dozen fine community-based professionals who lend valuable time to the program and 30 to 35 undergraduate students majoring in East Carolina University's sports medicine program.

The Sports Medicine Center is in the new Sports Medicine/ Physical Education Building. The Center, which has been in operation since 1971, will now be able to better serve all student-athletes and further assist sports medicine majors in the curriculum.

The "Sports Paramedics," as Compton refers to his staff, are in attendance at every athletic event that involves East Carolina University athletes. Radio communication from practice field to the center is a must and a sports medicine vehicle provides instant transportation for injured athletes to the center. Prevention, evaluation, treatment, and rehabilitation are the main objectives of the Sports Medicine Division and when an injury does occur, Compton and his staff provide on-the-spot treatment to make certain the injury does not become more serious.

The Sports Medicine Curriculum, a part of the Health and Physical Education Department at East Carolina, is the only undergraduate athletic training program approved by the NATA in eastern North Carolina and one of only two in the state.

Dedication, sincere sensitivity, and individual attention are the basic motivators which distinguish East Carolina University's "Sports Paramedics" from any others. People helping people in a first-class setting. That's East Carolina Sports Medicine!

SENIOR'S DAY '89

For 20 Pirates, today will mark their last game at Ficklen

A Scrapbook:

When Pirates were just young Bucs

By Carolyn Justice-Hinson and Dean Buchan

Sure, football is a man's game. To play the game, you must have such qualities as discipline and self-sacrifice. And you must be willing to dish out the punishment and take it as well.

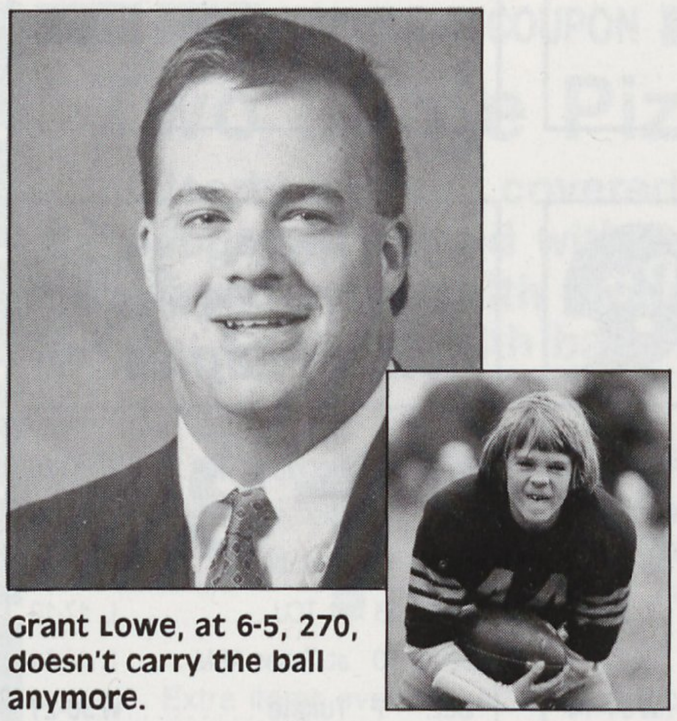

But to play the game well, you must regress to those autumn days of neighborhood games in the backyard. Most of all, you must possess that little-boy enthusiasm.

You see it every Saturday on college gridirons across the nation: burly football players jumping up and down and hugging one another. Just watching them brings out the little boy in all of us.

The 20 seniors on this year's East Carolina football team are both. They are men who have dedicated themselves to the Pirate football program, and they are boys who enjoy nothing better than playing in the dirt and high-fiving each other after touchdowns.

Today, those seniors will play their final game here in Ficklen Stadium.

This group of seniors is a special one. They are the first under coach Bill Lewis—the foundation for a growing program that will enjoy many victories in the years to come.

Grant Lowe, at 6-5, 270, doesn't carry the ball anymore.

This is also a diverse group. They come from up and down the atlantic coast, from New Jersey (Todd Drugac) to Florida (Travis Hunter, Charles Freeman, and Charlie Libretto). Some come from metropolitan areas and others from small rural areas. Walter Wilson grew up in Baltimore, and Tim Wolter just a stone's throw from tiny Lizard Lick, N.C.

Willie Lewis played high school ball at Valdosta, Ga., which was the No. 1 ranked prep team in the nation, while Jake Fine played for a Thomasville (N.C.) team that lost just one game his senior season, and Denell Harper comes from the football-rich area of Chesapeake, Va. Anthony Thompson played just down the road at Wilson Fike High and Brian Walsh attended high school across the street from Ficklen Stadium at Rose High School.

Through those tough, two-a-day practices in the heat of August, they have grown closer together. Grant Lowe, Stewart Southall, Carl Carney and Drugac have battled in the trenches as offensive linemen for four years. Brian McPhatter, Compton McCurry and Ricky Torain, all members of the ECU defense, have faced the likes of Heisman Trophy winners Bo Jackson and Vinny Testaverde.

"I made the mistake of telling him I would buy him a dirt bike if he made the honor roll."

— Olin McCurry

Some came to ECU after transferring from other schools. Mike Applewhite came to ECU from the University of North Carolina, while Joe Holmes and Freeman were junior college transfers. One senior is actually a Junior, at least in name: Junior Robinson.

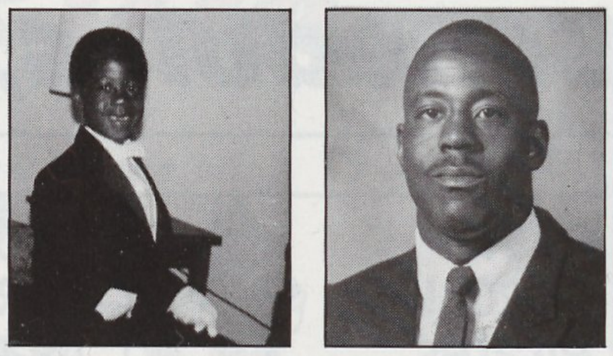

Growing up, this group was like most other little boys. They played Little League baseball, rode bicycles, and did all the other things that kids do. They didn't realize then, their paths would someday cross in Greenville at ECU.

And like most little boys, they often are curious and mischievous, which many times leads to a spanking or two.

Joe Holmes, for example, wanted to obtain his driver's license early—13 years early, in fact.

"When Joe was three and his sister Vicki was one, he took her three blocks from home and got into a neighbor's car," said Randall Holmes, Joe's father. "He backed it across the street and into a light pole, with Vicki at his side."

Compton McCurry was also anxious to get behind the wheel, and his father Olin gave him the perfect incentive at age 11.

Brian McPhatter, then and now. Brian was five years old in the photo at left.

"Comp was having trouble with his lessons in 5th grade," Olin said. "I made the mistake of telling him I would buy him a dirt bike if he made the honor roll." McCurry went on to make straight A's and was the proud, 11-year-old owner of a dirt bike.

Todd Drugac is a standout offensive lineman, but his parents Harold and Danise are glad he chose the gridiron over the baseball diamond. "In Todd's first year of Little League, he was pitching his first game," Danise Drugac said. "His throwing was fast, but also inaccurate. He walked the majority of the team by hitting them with pitches."

Stewart Southall once jumped off-sides on three consecutive plays in a youth league game, according to his mother, Brenda. "The coach yelled out onto the field, 'Southall! What's wrong with you!?' Everyone in the stands could hear." Today, Southall rarely jumps off-sides, perhaps learning an early lesson.

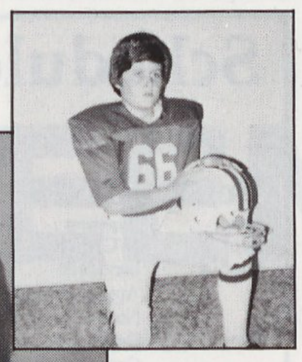

Grant Lowe has always been one to follow directions well. "One day when Grant was two and watching cartoons on TV, he began to scream that the TV was broken," Margie Lowe said. "I told him it was network trouble and the screen said to 'stand by'." That's what Lowe did. When Margie returned to the room, Lowe was standing at full attention next to the TV, standing by.

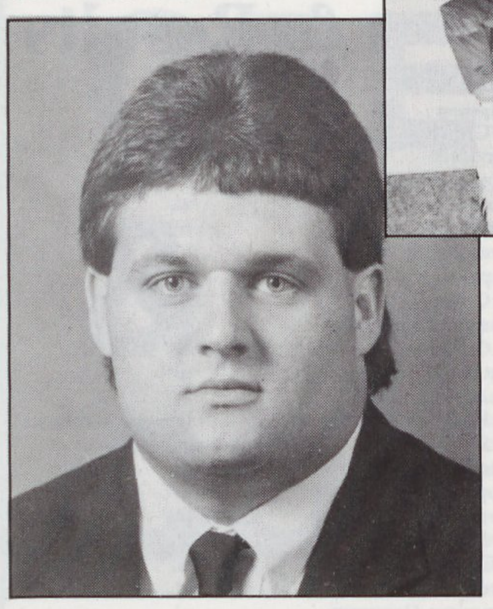

Brian McPhatter has demonstrated his talents at such places as the Orange Bowl Stadium, and in front of crowds of more than 70,000. Even at a young age, McPhatter enjoyed playing to the crowds.

"When Brian was a cub scout, he and two other boys had enough nerve to sing barbershop style in front of about 200 people," Elizabeth McPhatter said. "Oh, were they funny to watch."

While most everyone has embarrassed their parents at one time or another, some Pirate seniors have been red-faced a time or two while playing in college.

Carl Carney was in the spotlight when ECU played Miami in the Orange Bowl on national TV in 1986, though he would have preferred to stay out of the limelight this night. "My most embarrassing moment

No. 66 back then, Stewart Southall now dons No. 64.

came in that game. I jumped off sides twice on national TV."

Walter Wilson has made his share of spectacular receptions for ECU, but he'll never forget the TD pass he caught at South Carolina two seasons ago. "After making the catch, my momentum carried me out of the end zone, and I flipped over the fence."

Most of the memories the seniors have, however, are ones they will cherish for years to come.

"Beating N.C. State in Raleigh is something that I will never forget," Mike Applewhite said.

Jake Fine will long remember a pair of junior varsity games a couple of years ago. The senior place-kicker booted a 52-yard field goal against Lees-McRae and a 55-yarder against Chowan just before the end of the half.

Coach Lewis said upon taking the ECU head coaching position in December of 1988, that any success that the 1989 team enjoys this season, would result from the play of the senior class. And most of these seniors are having their finest seasons yet.

Charles Freeman, who transferred to ECU from Copiah-Lincoln (Miss.) Junior College last season, has been a standout tight end for the Pirates this year. He has caught 10 passes, including a big TD pass at South Carolina one month ago.

Anthony Thompson has developed into a legitimate All-America candidate at his defensive end position. The Wilson, N.C., senior has 61 tackles and leads the team with six quarterback sacks and nine tackles for loss.

Junior Robinson is one of the most dangerous return men in the nation. Prior to Saturday's game at Miami, Robinson was the only player in the nation to be among the top 25 in interceptions, kick-off and punt returns. His four interceptions this season are a team high.

Ricky Torain joins Robinson as a veteran leader of ECU's secondary. Torain has two interceptions this season, and nearly picked off a Craig Erickson pass Saturday against Miami in the Orange Bowl. Playing the cornerback position, Torain has played head to head with some of the nation's top receivers.

Travis Hunter will go down in the ECU record books as one of the top quarterbacks, if not top players, in Pirate football history. The Winter Garden, Fla., native has made an assault on the ECU passing and total offense marks this season and is considered one of the top option quarterbacks in the nation.

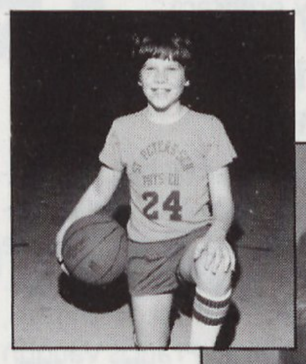

Willie Lewis will watch from the sidelines today after injuring a knee last week against Miami in the second quarter. Lewis, ECU's leading rusher with 395 yards and three TD's, had started all eight games this season prior to today, and is averaging five yards per rush.

Denell Harper, who shared the tailback duties most of the year with Lewis, could also be a bystander today. Harper, who also has an injured knee, is an elusive runner who has been a valuable part of the ECU offense for the last three seasons.

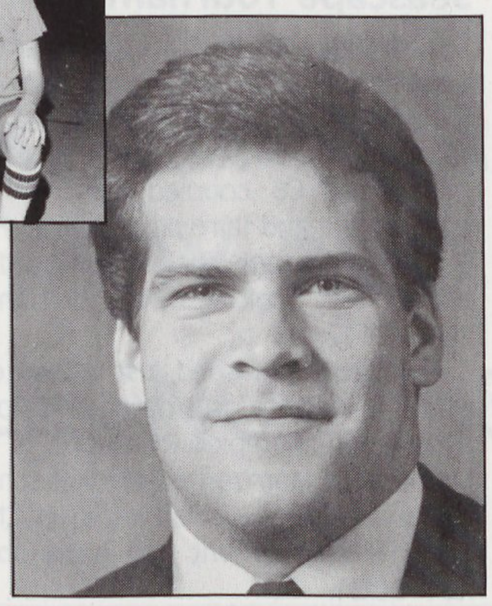

Also on the list of walking wounded ECU seniors is Tim Wolter, who has shown his versatility while playing for the Pirates. Wolter began his career as a punter, then decided to make the move to defensive back. He's still a back-up punter this season and has one interception.

If there's one thing in common that the ECU seniors share, it's a love for the game. In any situation, these players will put their heart and soul into playing and the rewards outweigh their sacrifices.

Charlie Libretto has always been a tough cookie. He proved that by starting behind center for ECU as a true freshman in front of the largest crowd ever to watch a game in the state at the time. He also proved that the year before as the signal caller at Middleburg High School.

Brian Walsh traded in the roundball for the pigskin eventually.

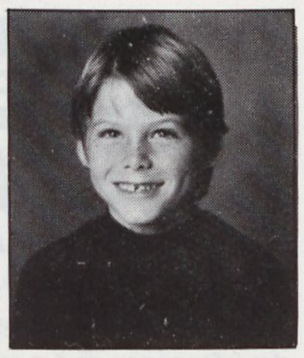

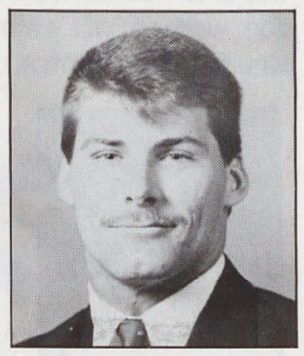

"In the second game of the season, Charlie broke his tibula," Paula Libretto said. "He tried so hard to finish the game anyway. I thought his heart was broken instead of his leg."

Some know earlier than others that they want to be a part of the East Carolina football program. They grow up as Pirate fans and dream of playing in Ficklen Stadium.

For seniors like Brian Walsh, their dreams were realized a few years ago, and today will be the last time they play within these confines.

"Brian loves to play the game," Laurel Walsh said. "He loves being a part of ECU football, and he has been a Pirate fan forever."

Pirate Swim Teams At Home Sunday Afternoon

East Carolina's men's swimming and diving team will face Colonial Athletic Association rival Navy Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m. in Minges Coliseum Pool, and the women will swim against Virginia Commonwealth in the nightcap of a swimming doubleheader.

Nicole Duke

The Pirates, 1-2 overall, will try to snap a two-meet losing streak against the Midshipmen tomorrow. ECU, the defending Colonial champions, and Navy, the 1988 champions, have developed quite a rivalry over the years.

The Lady Pirates, 0-3 overall, will swim against Virginia Commonwealth following the men's meet at 3:30 p.m. in non-conference action.

Individually for ECU, the Pirates have been balanced. Raymond Kennedy (breaststroke), Andy Jeter (freestyle) and Ted Christensen (IM) have all finished first at least once in the last two meets. Meredith Bridgers continues her winning ways. She is unbeaten in the breaststroke this year, and Nicole Duke has three first-place finishes in the freestyle.

Both teams swam at home yesterday against William and Mary.

Netters Do Well In Own Fall Invitational

Sammy Tounsi and veteran Jon McLamb each won three of four matches last weekend in the Pirate Fall Invitational at the Minges Coliseum and Riverbirch Courts in Greenville.

The Fall Invitational included every Colonial Athletic Association team aside from Navy. Tounsi defeated opponents from James Madison, William and Mary and American before falling in the quarterfinals. McLamb also advanced to the quarterfinals, and also teamed with Andre Moreau in doubles to win two of three matches.

No team cumulative scores were kept.

The Pirates are in action this weekend in Winston-Salem in the Rolex Invitational Tournament.

Volleyballers Began CAA Tournament Play Friday

For the first time in the school's history, the Lady Pirate volleyball team entered the Colonial Athletic Association Tournament Friday seeded higher than last.

The Lady Pirates have their first winning record since 1982 (16-12 going into a Nov. 7 match vs. VCU) and will be the number three seed in the conference tournament this weekend at James Madison University. ECU won a three-way tie between the Lady Pirates, UNC-Wilmington and George Mason. ECU faced James Madison Friday morning (Nov. 10) at 11 a.m. in the opening round.

Pacing the Lady Pirates in 1989 have been four seniors. Jemma Holley, from Teachey, N.C., has been the catalyst. Holley is one of the top hitters in the nation, being ranked 15th in hitting percentage as of Oct. 31 by the American Volleyball Coaches Association. Debbie Tate, from Arcadia, Fla., has also been a spark, being ranked 14th in the country in service aces per match by the AVCA. Michelle McIntosh, from Morehead City, N.C., and Kerry Weisbrod, from Palm Beach, Fla., were the other senior leaders; McIntosh once again leading the team in digs and Weisbrod being the setter for the Lady Pirates.

Pirate Booters End Season; Should Be Better In '90

East Carolina closed out its soccer season with a mark of 2-18-1 last week. But despite the school-record for losses in a single season, the team showed promise for next year, and only three seniors are on this year's roster.

The Pirates started off slowly, going 0-9-1 before gathering their first win, 5-0, against Atlantic Christian on Sept. 30. From that point on, the team's level of play improved.

The second half of the season was marked by close, hard-fought games. The Pirates played well in most of the games in the second half of the season and head coach Bob Lust feels a good base has been built for the future.

Two bright spots for the future are forward Eddie Shockley and goalkeeper Todd Aspden. Shockley, a freshman, was the team's second-leading scorer with eight points (3 goals, 2 assists). Aspden, also a freshman, recorded two shutouts and gathered in 151 saves with a save percentage of .726.

Seniors T.J. Aspden and Andy Britton had fine performances in their last year in Purple and Gold. Aspden led the team in scoring with five goals and three assists on the season. Britton, 1988's leading scorer, was third on the team in scoring this season.

Cross Country Regionals Are Today In South Carolina

Four East Carolina cross country runners are in Greenville, S.C., today, competing in the NCAA District III cross country championships.

Matt Schweitzer, Kyle Sullivan, Ann Marie Welch and Kim Griffiths are representing the Pirates in post-season competition after successful individual seasons in 1989.

East Carolina competed last week in the Colonial Athletic Association Championships in Williamsburg, Va., where both the men's and the women's teams came away with seventh-place finishes. In a field of tough CAA opponents, ECU finished out their regular season schedule which proved to be one of ECU's most successful ever.

The Lady Pirates were victorious in three meets this season while the Pirates took a host of newcomers and began molding them into ECU's future premier runners.

"It has been a very successful year for ECU cross country," said coach John Welborn. "Our runners have a lot to be proud of and, based on this year's team, ECU has a lot to look forward to in the future years for this cross country program."

Golfers Rally To Win Seascape Tournament

John Maginnes shot a 6-under par 66 on the tournament's final day, leading East Carolina to a come-from-behind victory two weeks ago in the 36-hole Seascape Intercollegiate Tournament at Nags Head.

Maginnes' 66, coupled with his first round 76, totalled 142 and third place overall. Francis Vaughn (74-71—145) took fifth place, and Simon Moye (76-71—147) took ninth place. Ryan Perna shot a 76-76—152.

The Pirates finished just ahead of first round leader Ball State and defending Colonial Athletic Association champion Richmond.

Coach Hal Morrison's team was scheduled to play this weekend at Kiawah Island in Charleston, S.C., but the tournament has been postponed until Nov. 20-21.

Full-fledged help for part-time farmers

Got limited time to get your work done? Then don't settle for a tractor that has limited capability. Or limited features that make even simple tasks awkward. Or limited convenience that makes every hour seem like two. Or worst of all, limited reliability that threatens even your limited time.

In short, part-time farmers need full fledged help that they can count on full time. And that means John Deere. All John Deere tractors between 30 and 55 horsepower are built to handle your wide range of tasks simply, conveniently and economically. When every hour counts, count on John Deere.

LEADERSHIP YOU CAN COUNT ON®

JOHN DEERE

The mid-mounted mower on this 30-PTO-hp 970 doesn't have to be removed to mount a loader.

This 35-PTO-hp 1070 has front-wheel drive and a synchronized shuttle-shift transmission.

A quick-starting fuel-efficient John Deere diesel pumps out mountains of torque in the 45-PTO-hp 2155.

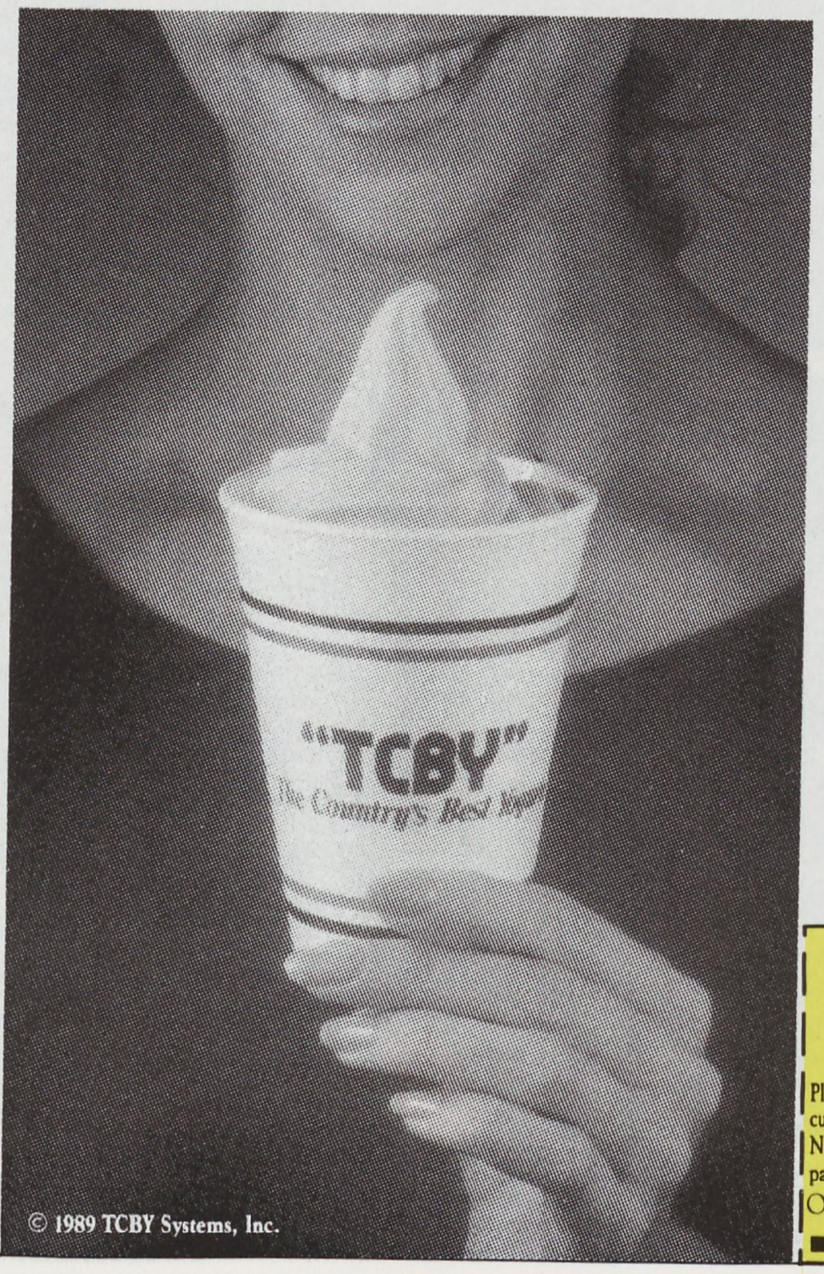

The 2355 is an extremely-smooth and versatile performer with 55 PTO horsepower on tap.
