Today's Game

Close Finishes Become Characteristic of ECU-USM Series; Pirates Ready to Break the USM Curse

By Carolyn Justice-Hinson
ECU Assistant Sports Information Director

If there's one team on the East Carolina 1990 schedule that the Pirates want a win from more than any other, it's got to be Southern Mississippi.

The Golden Eagles (3-2) have been a thorn in the Pirates' (2-3) side for the past six years. The Pirates defeated USM in 1983, 10-6 and since then have come ever s-o-o-o close more than once. Let's review the facts.

In 1984, ECU traveled to Hattiesburg, Miss., in the final game of the season and lost 27-31 against the Golden Eagles.

1985 was not as close as USM shut out the Pirates 27-0 but in 1986 USM was really starting to get on ECU's nerves. ECU, playing at home in Ficklen Stadium, put together a great comeback in the fourth quarter and took the go ahead 21-20 with only eight seconds remaining on the clock. That's when one of the most controversial calls of college football that season came.

Southern Miss' quarterback Andrew Anderson hit Lyneal Alston with a 73-yard pass completion, but as time ran out the ball was whistled dead at the ECU 20 when Alston made an illegal forward lateral.

In the confusion, USM's Rex Banks totted on the field with no time left on the clock, and promptly kicked the winning field goal, leaving the fans in shock with the 21-23 loss.

In the following weeks and after replaying the play over and over did officials say that Alston was down and that the game should have been over.

The following season, East Carolina traveled back to Hattiesburg for the final game of the season with a 5-5 record. ECU had not had a winning season since 1983 and a win against the Golden Eagles could have been the turning point for the ECU program. But once again, same old story, ECU came so close but fell 34-38.

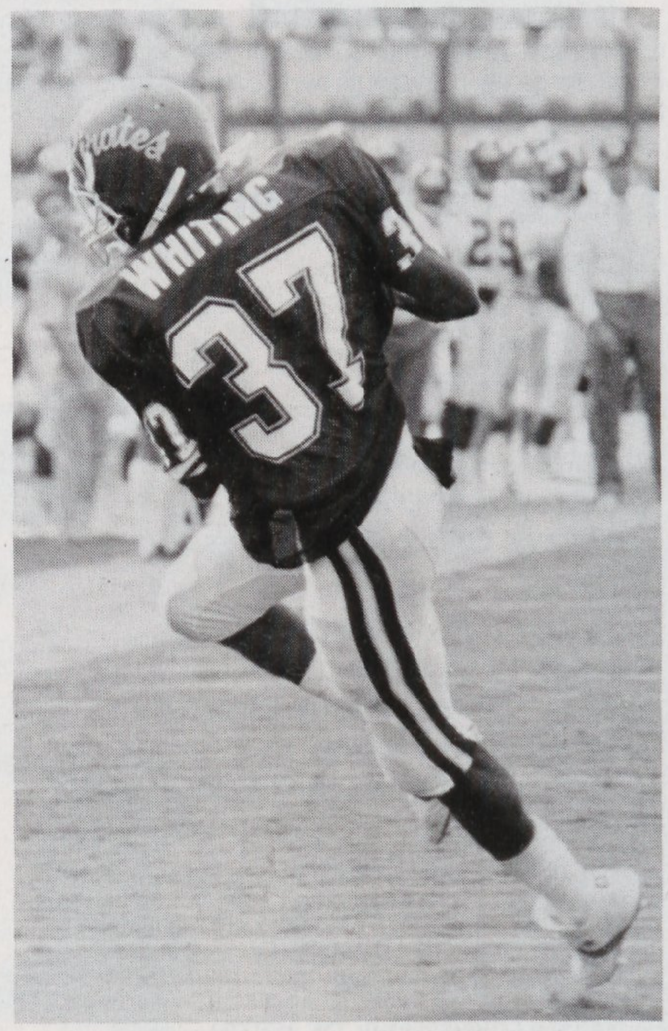
The story continues in 1988 as USM returned to Greenville. The past two meetings were on the minds of the Pirates, especially the controversial game in Greenville.

ECU once again staged a comeback in the fourth quarter, scoring 11 points in under six minutes left to take the 42-38 lead on a 20-yard TD pass from Charlie Libretto to Al Whiting with 1:38 remaining in the game.

Pirate fans held their breath though, with visions of the "last time" in their mind and that's when ECU's worst nightmare came true.

Southern Miss' Ailrick Young hit tight end Preston Hansford with a five yard touchdown pass with just 12 seconds left to give Southern Mississippi the 45-42 win.

The meeting last season was not as close as some, but still the Pirates came so close to a winning season and yet, it was again USM that prevented that from happening. ECU carried its 5-4-1 record to USM and the Golden Eagles gave them a 41-27 loss, instead of its winning season.



Al Whiting had the catch of his life against USM in 1988, a 20-yard touchdown catch that put ECU ahead 42-38 with only 1:38 remaining in the game. (Photo—Linda Burns)

Head coach Bill Lewis says that last season's game with the Golden Eagles was one of few games that the Pirates did not come into the game prepared to play.

But with the history of the series, you can bet that ECU will be prepared today.

The Pirates are coming off a 19-15 loss to Georgia. It was a game that ECU led through three quarters and that Georgia exploded in the fourth quarter for 16 points and the win.

USM knows what that's all about, only weeks before the ECU/UGA game, USM traveled to play "between the hedges" and lost 18-17 to the 'Dawgs.

Injuries for the Pirates have been a problem and things only seem to get worse. After losing senior cornerback Darren Bynum in their game with Florida State, ECU has now lost senior defensive tackle Ernie Logan along with safety Derrick Fields.

Robb Imperato kicked two field goals and four PAT's in ECU's 45-42 loss to Southern Mississippi in 1988.

Still shining bright on the defense though is Robert Jones, George Koonce and Donald Porch.

Jones, who continues his All-America campaign with 57 tackles this season, including 37 solo tackles, recorded 10 solo tackles last week against Georgia.

Koonce, a senior defensive end, has come on strong for the Pirates in their last two outings. In ECU's win against SW Louisiana, Koonce recorded 11 tackles, three for losses and one quarterback sack.

Against Georgia, Koonce had 10 tackles, one for a loss, one sack for a loss of 15 yards, one fumble recovery and one pass breakup.

Porch continues to lead ECU in interceptions. Porch has four of ECU's five interceptions this season with one against Georgia and Louisiana Tech and two against USL.

On offense for the Pirates, Luke Fisher has become the play maker for ECU. After recording ECU's longest pass reception ever (91 yards) against Florida State, Fisher caught a 69-yard pass from Jeff Blake against the 'Dawgs, putting ECU ahead 9-3 in the contest. Fisher also scored ECU's final TD of the game, with a 14-yard reception with 2:01 remaining, pulling ECU closer in the 19-15 loss.

Southern Mississippi is led by senior quarterback Brett Favre. Last season, Favre passed for 2588 yards with 206 completions in 381 attempts and 14 touchdowns. So far this year, Favre, who missed the first game of the season after an automobile accident, has thrown for 412 yards and two touchdowns.

The Golden Eagles have had three extra close games this season, with three games being decided by three points or less — a 27-24 win at Alabama, the 17-18 loss at Georgia and a 13-10 loss at Mississippi State.

In ECU's last two outings, its opponent has had an obvious advantage with possession time. Against SWL, ECU had possession 22:05 compared to the Cajuns' 37:55 and against Georgia, the Pirates held the ball for only 23:03 minutes while Georgia dominated with a possession time of 36:57.

Pirates beware. The USM time of possession is nearly 10 minutes more than its opponents.

For Pirate fans, let's hope that today's game takes a turn for the better in the ECU/USM series and that history doesn't repeat itself.

Today's Corporate Sponsor

Pizza Hut®

East Carolina University Department of Athletics thanks today's corporate sponsor, Pizza Hut of eastern North Carolina, for its support of Pirate Athletics.

The eastern N.C. group is one of the most established Pizza Hut franchises in the United States. Started in 1970, the group has grown to 26 restaurants in nearly 20 different cities employing over 1,000 employees. Their long-standing philosophy has been to support local organizations such as ECU, the eastern N.C. Boy Scouts, Red Cross blood drives, Family Night With The Kinston Indians, along with other efforts to be an important part of the cities where they are located.

Nationwide, Pizza Hut is the third largest restaurant chain in America with over 7,000 restaurants here and abroad. In fact, there are over 200 Pizza Hut restaurants in Australia ... which shows you how Pizza Hut pizza is a world favorite!

George Koonce has had 21 tackles in ECU's last two outings, including two sacks and four tackles for losses. (Photo—Linda Burns)

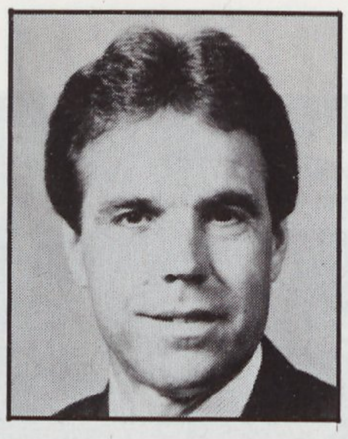
Head Coach

Bill Lewis



Give Bill Lewis an hour of your time, and you'll be convinced that the East Carolina University football program can become as successful as any in the nation.

And, if the 1989 season was any indication, Lewis has the Pirates on their way to that level. ECU finished the year with a 5-5-1 record, marking the first non-losing season for the Pirates since 1983.

The Sporting News also knows about Lewis and the East Carolina program. In a recent edition of TSN, the newspaper has the Pirate program rated among the Top 20 of the 1990s.

When the 48-year-old coaching veteran was named the Pirates' 16th head coach on Dec. 3, 1988, Lewis immediately became ECU's most zealous supporter.

"I am a very positive person," said Lewis at his first press conference. "I want to point myself and the program in that direction. We will not take a back seat to anyone in this country with the way we are going to approach this football team and this football program."

Lewis has already built a firm base from which to build a program since coming to ECU from the University of Georgia, where he was a defensive backfield coach for nine seasons during which, he was also the defensive coordinator for eight.

In his first recruiting class at ECU, he signed 25 to grant-in-aids, including 12 prospects from the state of North Carolina. That was done with a new coaching staff who had just three months to get started.

"I believe you must begin to form the base of your recruiting in your home state," said Lewis. "We will go from the mountains to the coast line."

This year's recruiting crop has brought 24 newcomers to East Carolina. It was also a banner year as recruits picked ECU over such schools as South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Pittsburgh and Clemson.

ECU director of athletics Dave Hart, Jr. knows that Lewis will get the Pirate program to the next level.

"We welcome a person of Bill Lewis' abilities and character at East Carolina to lead our program into its next plateau," said Hart. "We look forward to what the future holds for the ECU program under Bill Lewis' leadership.

"He is perceived as an exceptional recruiter by all his peers and as a sound fundamentalist and teacher. He is a good motivator and demanding of his staff and his players," added Hart.

Lewis' stint at Georgia included nine bowl trips, three Southeastern Conference championships and a national championship in 1980. He has coached 23 All-SEC selections and has coached seven All-Americas, including Terry Hoage of the Philadelphia Eagles, John Little and

Before arriving at Georgia, Lewis was the head coach at the University of Wyoming. In three years at the Laramie school, Lewis led the Cowboys to a 13-21-1 record and had offensive tackle Dennis Baker and linebacker Ken Fantetti make All-America status.

A 27-year coaching veteran, Lewis has also been an assistant coach at Arkansas (1973-76), Georgia Tech (1971-73), Wake Forest (1969-71), Pittsburgh (1966-68) and East Stroudsburg State (1963-65), his alma mater.

Lewis graduated from East Stroudsburg in 1963, earning a B.S. degree in Health and Physical Education. While attending school there, he was a Little All-America selection at quarterback and a team captain of the football and baseball teams, while lettering four years.

He left college to play in the Detroit Tigers minor league organization for two years as a pitcher before returning to his alma mater to work on his graduate degree and work as a part-time football coach. While in baseball, Lewis reached the AA level and played with much of what became the Tigers' 1968 World Series championship team.

A native of Bristol, Pa., Lewis participated in football, baseball, gymnastics and basketball at Delhaas Junior-Senior High School.

An avid jogger, Lewis takes regular four-mile runs. During pre-season testing last year with the defensive linemen, he was clocked at 6:49 in the mile.

Lewis and his wife, Sandy, are the parents of three children, Mark (23), a second-year law student at University of Georgia School of Law, Gregg (20), a junior at the U.S. Air Force Academy and Geoff (18), a freshman at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill. Mark's wife, Wendy, is a graduate of the University of Georgia.

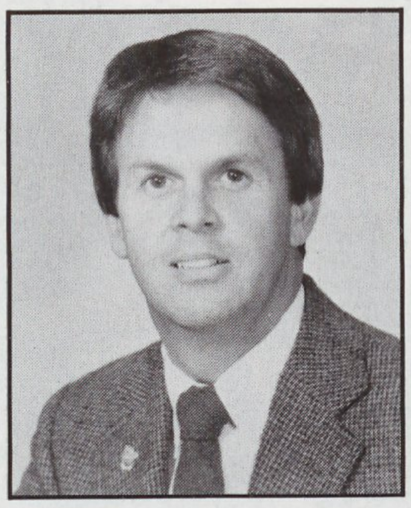
ECU Director of Athletics

Dave Hart, Jr.



Dave Hart, Jr., who has gained national recognition for his innovative ideas in the field of marketing, promotions and fund-raising, enters his third year as East Carolina University's director of athletics.

Hart was appointed athletic director on December 21, 1987 by ECU Chancellor Dr. Richard Eakin.

"Dave has an exceptional understanding of all aspects of athletic administration, has a strong commitment to excellence and integrity throughout the men's and women's programs, and possesses, in my judgment, the leadership qualities necessary to develop our athletic program and move it to new levels of achievement," Eakin said.

Since that appointment, Hart has become one of the most respected athletic administrators in college athletics. Just one month into his new position, Hart was appointed to the NCAA's prestigious Committee on Integrity and Image in College Athletics, which is chaired by Georgia Tech director of athletics Homer Rice. He also chairs the Colonial Athletic Association Marketing Committee and currently serves on the Division 1-A Institutional Control Committee.

Hart is a popular speaker at the national level and has authored articles for a number of national publications in the areas of marketing, promotions and fund-raising, and effective program management. He has made numerous speaking presentations at NCAA conventions and seminars, and during the past five National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) conventions, has served as an instructor at the Management Institute.

Since Hart has taken over as East Carolina's Athletic Director, Pirate athletic squads have been faring much better. In the spring, the Pirate baseball team won the Colonial Athletic Association tournament and participated in the NCAA tournament. The women's basketball team finished with a winning season while the golf team also won the CAA crown. The football team also had their first non-losing season since 1983.

He has also structured new programs at ECU that include Personal Development for student-athletes, NCAA rules seminars, anti-drug and alcohol programs featuring coaches and student-athletes, and a student-athlete code of conduct and manual.

Hart was named associate director of athletics for external relations and executive director of the Pirate Club in 1985. His duties included the raising of funds for athletic scholarships through the Pirate Club, as well as overseeing all external areas of the athletic department.

During his first two years in that position, the Pirate Club experienced record-setting growth as it surpassed the coveted $1 million mark in contributions for the first time ever. The 1987 campaign saw another record performance under his direction as the Club exceeded the $1.2 million level.

... Since that appointment, Hart has become one of the most respected athletic administrators in college athletics.

Hart first joined the ECU athletic department in 1983 as an assistant athletic director for marketing. It was the first time that ECU had ever employed a full-time staff member for marketing, and it immediately brought dividends.

ECU's marketing program gained national attention for the rapid growth in crowd participation through tailgating and other promotional efforts. Hart was also responsible for implementing the "Great Pirate Purple/Gold Pigskin Pig-Out Party," which is a weekend extravaganza surrounding the spring football game.

Additionally, attendance at home football games increased greatly as evidenced by the fact that nine of the top 12 crowds in Ficklen Stadium history have entered the turnstiles since the 1983 season. Promotional ventures such as the "Ain't It Great to Tailgate" idea have added to the atmosphere at Pirate home games.

Hart, just the fifth athletic director in ECU history, received his undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Alabama, earning a B.S. in English/Speech in 1971 and a master's degree in 1972. He attended Alabama on a basketball scholarship and was a graduate assistant coach for the Crimson Tide program in 1972. He won nine varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball and at Annapolis (MD) High School, where he was also an All-State basketball and football player.

He is married to the former Pam Humble of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and they have three children — Ricky (18), Jamie (16) and Kelly (13).

The Hart Family: Kelly, Dave, Pam, Ricky and Jamie.

East Carolina University

East Carolina University is a large and diverse, fully-comprehensive institution of higher learning, which has a proud history of more than 80 years of service to its state and region.

Founded in 1907 as a small normal school for the training of teachers, East Carolina University has grown and expanded in progressive stages. Designated a university in 1967, ECU has been a constituent of the 16-campus public University of North Carolina system since 1972.

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

ECU now includes professional schools of distinction in medicine, nursing, allied health sciences, business, education, industry and technology, home economics, social work, music and art. It has a College of Arts and Sciences with 20 academic departments, a research-oriented Graduate School, a Division of Continuing Education and offers at least 30 non-credit educational programs.

ECU has gained national and international attention for its graduate program in Maritime History and Underwater Research, its Regional Development Institute, the Center for Applied Technology and its wide-ranging work in an Institute of Coastal and Marine Resources.

With an on-campus enrollment of more than 16,000 students, ECU is the third largest institution of higher education in North Carolina. The university's student body is drawn from all across North Carolina and from most of the 50 states and the District of Columbia and includes students from 35 foreign countries. Off-campus extension programs and non-credit educational offerings attract an additional 2,500 students each year.

ECU offers undergraduate degrees in 105 bachelor's degree program tracks. The Graduate School has 89 master's degree program tracks and six PhD programs in sciences basic to medicine. The MD is offered through the School of Medicine. In 1989, the university conferred 2,104 baccalaureate degrees and 657 graduate degrees including the PhD and MD.

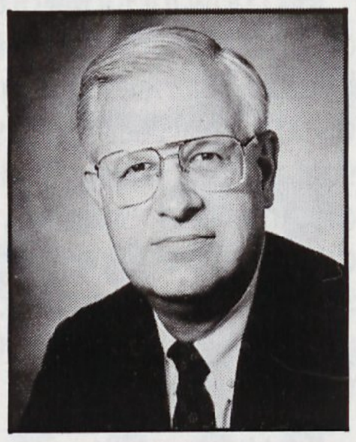
There are more than 61,900 living alumni of East Carolina University residing in all of the 50 states and 30 other countries around the world.

Among the 77 buildings on its 400 acres of Greenville campuses, ECU operates 15 residence halls with a total capacity of 5,467 students. In addition, there are nine fraternity and seven sorority houses.

ECU is a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) with Division 1A programs in ten men's sports and eight women's sports. In football, ECU is an independent and most other ECU sports programs are affiliated with the Colonial Athletic Association.

Chancellor

Dr. Richard Eakin



Dr. Richard R. Eakin, the chancellor of East Carolina University, heads an administration which is preparing the University for greater prominence.

Highly respected and warmly regarded by all who deal with him, Dr. Eakin is keenly and energetically interested in all of the University's academic and athletic programs. He spends a great deal of time with the people involved in ECU's wide-ranging intellectual and outreach activities.

He is firmly committed to maintaining ECU's reputation for academic excellence and to the developing of new and better ways for the University to be of service. He sees ECU as a wellspring to bring about a better way of life in the state and region.

Personable and thoughtful, Dr. Eakin enjoys excellent rapport with ECU's 16,000 students, its faculty and staff, trustees, alumni and the entire University community, which embraces most of Eastern North Carolina.

Strategic Plans for ECU

At Dr. Eakin's direction, the University has spent two years preparing strategic plans designed to enable ECU to meet the challenges facing higher education in the 21st century.

These plans call for upgrading and streamlining of ECU's academic programs, strengthening of the undergraduate curriculum, additional doctoral level programs, concentrated research activity and increased participation in community affairs and public service.

Dr. Eakin has pushed for campus beautification, a modernization of facilities, campus improvements and expansion including a top-priority $26 million library expansion project, and programs to improve the quality of campus life.

A Distinctive University

With the third largest university enrollment in the state, Dr. Eakin wants ECU to be recognized as ranking among the three best state universities in North Carolina.

Based upon its 83-year heritage of service and excellence, in providing educational opportunity in the region, and with more than 10 years of medical school-centered health care services, East Carolina already stands as an institution of distinction and pride. In many ways, Dr. Eakin believes, ECU can and will become even more truly distinctive.

The University's level of private financial support ranks high among the nation's public, comprehensive universities. Private support adds significantly to the margin of excellence in the University's quest for quality academic programs, research and service.

Around-the-Clock Chancellor

With intense enthusiasm and the stamina of a former basketball player, Dr. Eakin looks upon being chancellor of a large, vibrant university such as ECU with around-the-clock zest and interest.

The ninth chief executive officer in the school's history, Dr. Eakin came to East Carolina University on March 1, 1987, with a strong background in higher education administration and as a professor of mathematics. He began his career in 1964 at Bowling Green State University in Ohio and served there as a vice president for budget and planning before being selected as chancellor of ECU.

A native of New Castle, Pennsylvania, Dr. Eakin earned his bachelor's degree in mathematics and physics, summa cum laude, from Geneva College in 1960. At Geneva, he was president of the Student Senate and Class Valedictorian. He was awarded a Master's Degree from Washington State University in 1962 and the doctorate in mathematics with a minor in economics from Washington State in 1964.

He is married to the former Jo Ann McGeehan. They have two children, Matthew, a graduate student at North Carolina State University, and Maridy, a student at East Carolina University.

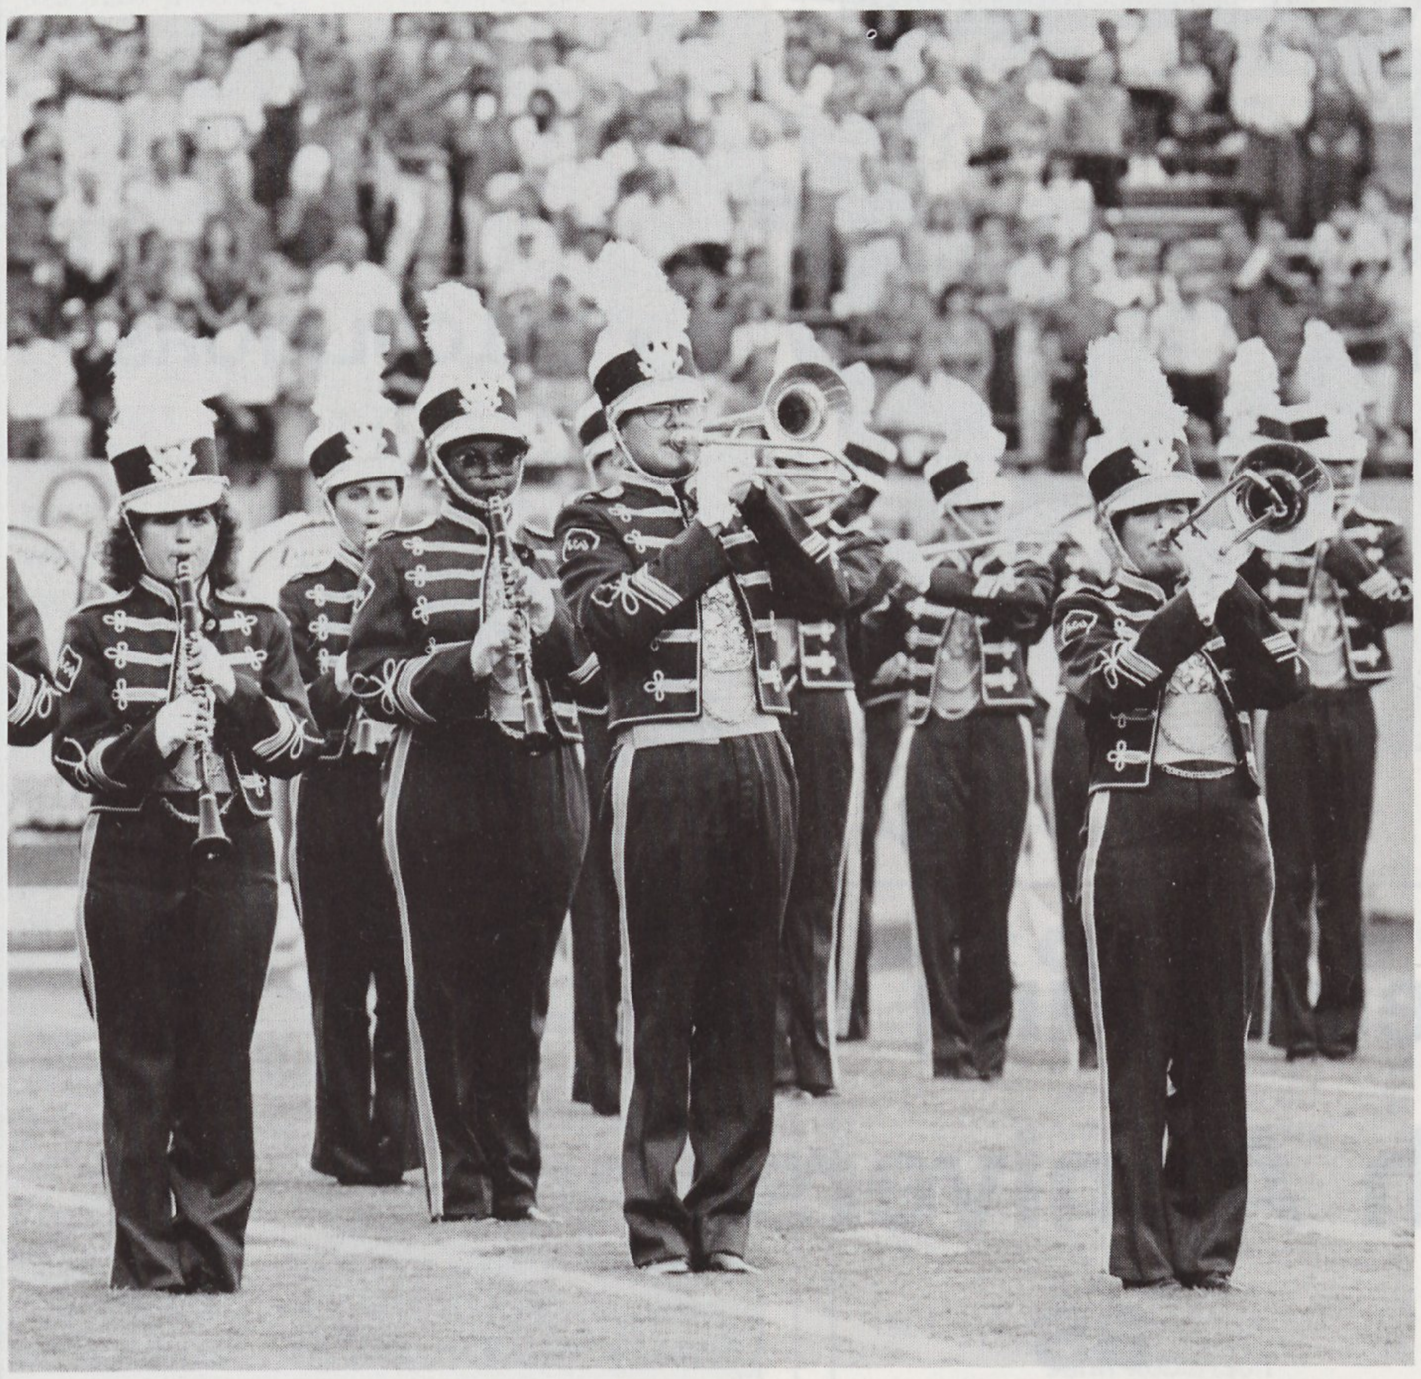
ECU Marching Pirates

The ECU Marching Pirates have a national reputation among college and high school band directors and students as one of the most innovative college bands in the country. The group draws students from New England to Southern Florida and as far west as Oklahoma. The group is known for its high energy performances and "solid, wall of sound" contrasting with a "delicate, musical blend."

This year the band is under the field leadership of Drum Major Nick Holland and Assistant Drum Major John Howard. The Co-Captains of the Golden Girls for the 1990 season are Teresa Hollowell and Wendy Thomas, while the Color Guard instructor is Ashley Thornton. Also taking the field with the Marching Pirates for her fourth straight year, is featured twirler, Tonya Hildreth.



A Special Thanks

East Carolina University expresses appreciation to the 93 individuals, organizations and corporations whose gifts made possible the purchase of new uniforms for the Marching Pirates. Very special thanks go to the following donors whose exemplary generosity was instrumental in making the band uniform project a success:

Here's to the Pirates of ECU!
We're going to raise our battle flag high,
We're going to sing it long,
Shout it loud;
And then they'll know
That we are Pirate Proud.
Because the battle's been fought,
And now it's won,
And everybody knows that we're Number One!
Because we're full of Pride,
We've got them bowing to our side,
Here's to ECU!

ECU Pirate Cheerleading

The East Carolina University Cheerleading and Mascot Programs are an exciting part of the university atmosphere and a guaranteed way to be involved with the athletics of the university and community. The demands and responsibilities are numerous and the rewards are endless.

The Cheerleading Program is divided into two groups. The Purple Squad serves as the Varsity Squad, and appears at home and away football games and at men's basketball games. The Gold Squad serves as the Junior Varsity Squad and as an alternate to the Purple Squad. The Gold Squad cheers at home football games and women's basketball games. The Purple and Gold Squads also cheer for all East Carolina Inter-Collegiate Athletic Programs, such as soccer, volleyball, swimming, diving, baseball and softball. Both squads also represent ECU at pep rallies, sporting events, and make promotional appearances.

The requirements for tryouts vary every year due to the growth and changing needs of the squad. The Purple and Gold Squads' requirements are cheers and chants, dance ability, gymnastics ability, partner stunts, crowd involvement and enthusiasm. Specific requirements are announced at the beginning of each tryout clinic.

An important part of the cheerleading squad is the Pirate Mascot, who, in addition to football and basketball games, entertains at other Pirate athletic contests throughout the year. The Pirate also makes guest appearances at civic, social and promotional functions. Wherever he goes, The Pirate is recognized as the trademark of East Carolina University. Tryouts for the cheerleading squads and the mascot occur in both spring and fall.

The advantages, rewards, and opportunities of the Cheerleading and Mascot Programs speak for themselves and make the efforts worthwhile.

Peggy Smith, a veteran instructor of cheerleading, is the director of cheerleading and mascots at East Carolina. Smith, also experienced in dance, drill teams, and color guard, begins her third year with the ECU Cheerleading and Mascot Programs.

Smith, who cheered on the collegiate level for the University of Southwestern Louisiana, earned her master's degree in 1985. Peggy is currently a full-time faculty member for the Health and Human Performance Department at ECU. She coaches both the Purple and Gold Squads in addition to the Pirate Mascot.

On Sept. 23, 1963, East Carolina dedicated the James Skinner Ficklen Memorial Stadium with an intense 20-10 win over Wake Forest. The stadium, built to seat 17,000 fans has since grown to seat 35,000.

In a dedication ceremony held at halftime of the game, then North Carolina governor, current U.S. Senator, Terry Sanford, said Ficklen Memorial Stadium is a "symbol of the drive and spirit of initiative that has come to represent all of the endeavors of East Carolina College."

Future ECU Athletic Hall of Famers Tom Michel and Bill Cline were a key in the ECU win. Also playing that night in Ficklen Stadium was Wake Forest's Brian Piccoio, who later played for the Chicago Bears and is remembered for his hard-fought battle with cancer. The following is a reprinted account of the ECU dedication victory from The Daily Reflector.

East Carolina College Pirates Defeat Wake Forest Deacons

By CHARLES VAUGHAN
Reflector Sports Editor

Scoring a 20-10 upset victory over the visiting Wake Forest Deacons Saturday night, the East Carolina College Pirates gave an estimated 17,000 spectators plenty to cheer about.

Behind the bulldozing running of fullback Tom Michel and tailbacks Buddy Bovender and Bill Cline, the Buccaneers came from behind twice to take the win. Michel was the big gun for the locals scoring all three Pirate touchdowns.

Kickoff returns by Bovender and Cline more than once upset the Wake Forest eleven as they extended their losing streak to 11 straight games.

The Pirates, bouncing back from a 10-7 defeat in Richmond last week, spotted the Deacons a three-point field goal in the opening moments of play.

The visitors received the opening kickoff and marched 40 yards to the East Carolina 15-yard line before their drive bogged down in the face of a strong Pirate defense.

Unable to pick up a first down, the Deacons decided to go for a quick score and attempt a field goal. With quarterback Ralph Brandewiede holding, fullback Brian Picolo booted the pigskin through the uprights and Wake Forest took an early 3-0 lead over the Bucs.

Early in the second period, tailback Bovender, took a Wake Forest punt on his own 46-yard line and raced back to the Deacon 39. Bovender then passed to Huneycutt a few plays later for a first down on the Wake Forest eight yard stripe. However, Huneycutt fumbled on the play and Wake Forest recovered to stifle the Pirate hopes.

On the first Wake Forest play from scrimmage, the Deacons suffered "fumblitis" and East Carolina's Rickey Jarrell recovered on the Deacon 12. Michel bulldozed his way over the Wake Forest goal line a few minutes later on a two-yard plunge to send the Bucs in front 6-3. The point after touchdown failed.

The highly favored Deacons then took the kickoff from the Pirates and marched 65 yards in nine plays to surge back ahead of the upset-minded Bucs. Quarterback Wally Bridwell lateraled to fullback Piccolo on an option play from the Pirate four-yard line for the score. Piccolo converted the PAT and the Deacs led 10-6.

The Southern Conference hopeful Pirates fought back with another tally of their own to take an impressive 12-10 halftime lead and throw a scare into the Deacons.

Bovender, Pirate sophomore, took the kickoff on his own 22-yard line and raced up the middle of the field to the Wake Forest 28-yard mark before being pulled to the turf.

Michel accounted for the TD a few minutes later with a three-yard scamper through the middle of the Wake Forest line. Tailback Cline attempted to throw a pass for the extra point, but the aerial fell incomplete.

The half ended one minute later with Wake Forest controlling the ball on their own 30-yard line.

It took the Pirates six minutes to produce an additional touchdown in the third period. After receiving the Wake kickoff, Michel, Cline, and Bovender carried the Bucs into the Deacons end zone in 13 plays.

Michel took the kickoff on the Buc 26-yard line and raced back to his own 46 before being tackled. Lugging the pigskin on the next two plays, Michel moved the ball to the Deacon 43.

Behind some nifty running on the part of Bovender and two completed passes thrown by Cline, the Bucs moved the ball to the Wake Forest six. Michel then scotted around right end for the score to boost the locals to an 18-10 advantage. Bovender threw to end Johnny Anderson in the end zone for the extra two points and the Pirates were on the winning end of a 20-10 score.

The visiting Deacons were unable to overcome the fired-up Pirates during the remainder of the contest as the East Carolina defensive eleven held their ground.

East Carolina moved the ball to the Wake 23-yard stripe in the fourth period but a field goal attempt fell short to stop the Pirate surge.

Michel, a 213-pound junior who could probably play on anybody's team, set the pace for the Pirates in the hard-fought contest. The husky fullback carried the ball 23 times and picked up a total of 125 yards rushing.

Michel attempted two passes and completed both for 19 yards. The longest run of the night from scrimmage was a 54-yard dash by Michel in third quarter. However, this drive by the Bucs was stopped on the Wake Forest one-foot line.

With a victory over a Big Four team and a loss to a Southern Conference opponent, the Pirates play host to the Wofford Terriers next week here in Ficklen Memorial Stadium.

Wake Forest somewhat bruised, will have little time to nurse its wounds as the Deacons entertain Virginia Tech next week in Winston-Salem.

Bill Lewis: Coach and Parent

By Carolyn Justice-Hinson, ECU Assistant SID

East Carolina head coach Bill Lewis has been described by many as a motivator and a teacher, but in his duties as head coach of the ECU football team, Lewis, the father of three sons, will always be the proudest of being called a parent.

Lewis says that raising his family has gone hand in hand with coaching football.

"I have mentioned to our players on many situations how this year's team and my kids (ages 18-23) are very similar," Lewis said. "I care about my players more than just on the field. I care about what they do off the field, and what they'll be doing after they leave ECU."

Lewis and wife, Sandy, are very proud of their three sons and the relationships they have developed throughout the years.

"There isn't a lot of time to be together as a family but I think you have to work and take time," said Sandy. "When the boys were young I would take them out to practice and spend a few minutes with Bill at work and that helped them to understand what his job was all about."

Lewis (Bill) says that being a football coach is no different than any other profession in that parents often have to devote extra time to their jobs. The key, he says, is bringing kids around the job, in his case, his team, so that they understand what the parent is doing when they're not at home.

"Our kids developed special relationships with our teams and they often look up to the players. So my job and the football team are as important to them as it is to me."

Lewis and his sons have developed a routine since Lewis became the head of ECU football.

On Thursdays, Lewis says he gets a call from each of his sons. Mark (23), who is in his second year at the Law School of the University of Georgia, calls to wish the Pirates luck on Saturday, as does Gregg (20), in his third year at the U.S. Air Force Academy and Geoff (18), a freshman at UNC-Chapel Hill.

Sandy says that at half time of each game, she usually calls Gregg, who is unable to listen to the games.

Sunday has also become a ritual for the Lewis' as each son follows up on the week's game with a call on Sunday night.

Sharing has always been a part of the Lewis family and both Lewis's agree that "family night" at the Lewis household was a special time for them all.

"Since there was not always a lot of time during the season to spend together, we made Thursday night family night," Sandy said. "We would have dinner together and then on Friday morning, we would have breakfast together and Bill would take the kids to school."

With Lewis' nine assistant coaches, having 17 kids, 15 of them between the ages of one and 10, Bill and Sandy reflect back with fond memories of their own children.

"We love small children and it brings back so many memories of when ours were that small," Bill said. "They are so cute and active. We have family night on Wednesday at the dining hall and encourage the families to be with our players. It's fun to watch our players watch the little ones. It really helps create a family atmosphere and to let the players know that we, the coaches, are real people off the field."

This real people, real life approach is very important to Lewis. He says in many ways what happens in a football game is often similar to life, and he has tried to convey this to his players.

"I try to take as many situations that will carry over with them [players] after football. I think there are a lot of lessons of life to learn on the football field."

One example of this was ECU's disappointing 23-24 loss to Virginia Tech this year.

"I told our players that if they thought that their life was not going to have disappointments like that, then they have a rude awakening," Lewis said. That will never stop happening throughout their lives and they have to learn to be prepared."

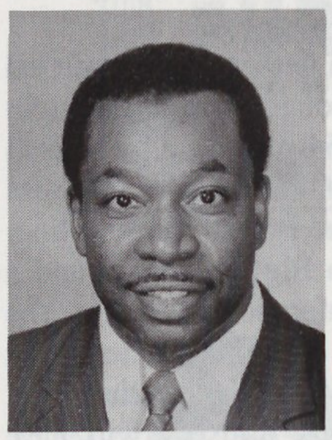
Bill and Sandy agree that as parents, the two most important things are love and discipline.

"When you're a parent, you are a friend but we never considered it important to be popular with our kids in our decisions," he says. "We made decisions that were important for them and our family."

Making the best decisions for the Pirates is also important to Lewis and with coaching and parenting going hand in hand, the Lewis's summed up their views on parenting by saying that, "if you do the best that you can and you believe with all your heart that it's the right thing, then it is a good way of parenting ... and coaching."

Like Father, Like Son

By Lisa Spiridopoulos, ECU SID Student Assistant



For most of the students at East Carolina University, Parent's Weekend occurs just once a year. But for one former Pirate football player and one current player, Parent's Weekend is every gameday Saturday during football season.

ECU Athletic Hall of Famer Carlester Crumpler Sr., and Pirate football player Carlester Crumpler Jr., are able to spend all of their Saturdays in a special way.

While Crumpler Jr. is on the field playing tight end, his father is up in the press box, commentating on the radio with the "Voice of the Pirates" Jeff Charles.

Crumpler Sr. is now the Director of Administrative Services, in charge of recruiting as well as his duties on gameday.

He was inducted into ECU's Athletic Hall of Fame in 1980 and was an Honorable Mention All-America for two seasons playing at ECU. He still owns seven records including the most yards rushed (2,889) and most career touchdowns (39).

Now Crumpler Jr., a red-shirt freshman, is playing for the Pirates and doesn't feel that he has to compete with the awards his father has won, although he does have high hopes for his career. "I'm very proud of the things my dad accomplished, but I don't feel like I'm competing with him. Of course I'd like to achieve the honors he's achieved but most of the time I really don't think about it," said Crumpler Jr.

Crumpler Sr. said he put no pressure on his son to follow in his footsteps and play at ECU. "I thought it would be good for him and for me — to see my first child go to ECU. Ultimately it was his decision, I really wanted to stay clear of the whole thing and let him do what was best for him. I think he's very happy," he said.

Crumpler Jr. has already started one game for the Pirates and has three catches, his longest being against Louisiana Tech for seven yards. At J.H. Rose H.S. in Greenville, he was a two-time All-Big East Conference selection as well as a first team All-State, and All-East selection by the Associated Press.

Crumpler Jr. likes the fact that his father is around, and the fact that he acts like a father and not a coach. "He really lets me be my own person. Once in a while I'll ask him something but usually not too much about football — I try to stay away from that."

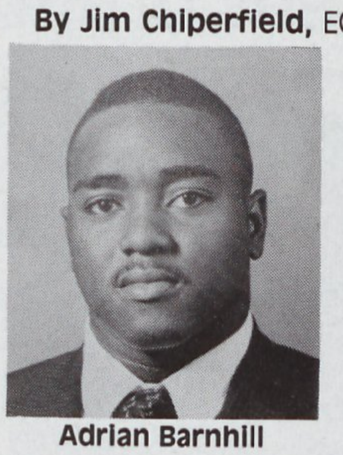
Crumpler Sr. agrees and feels his trying to coach his son would hinder him and not help him. "I try to encourage him, not coach him.

"When I'm commentating, it's kind of a strange feeling. I get a little tense and worried, wanting him to do so well, but yet I'm still worried about his health and safety," he added.

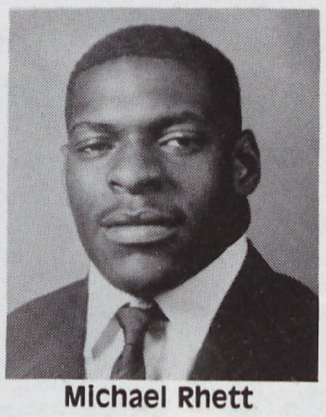
Just like any parent Crumpler Sr. is proud of his son, but not like any parent, he has the chance to see his son follow in his footsteps and hopes he accomplishes something like he did almost 20 years ago.

ECU Football/ROTC — It Takes Two

By Jim Chiperfield, ECU SID Student Assistant



Adrian Barnhill



Michael Rhett

Throughout history, the world has come to know many powerful duos. Bonnie and Clyde, Crockett and Tubbs, Batman and Robin ... well, Batman and Robin had a powerful car.

Here at East Carolina, we are not without exception.

Adrian Barnhill and Michael Rhett are one of ECU's dynamic, dedicated duos. They work together on and off the field.

Barnhill and Rhett are on top of their classes, football and the East Carolina Army ROTC program.

The ECU Army ROTC program stands for "Reserve Officer Training Corp." It is a national program that prepares students to become commissioned officers in the U.S. Army.

Barnhill, a linebacker, is a Greenville native who played for J.H. Rose High School, where he earned a total of eight letters, three of them in football. Last season, he was seventh for the Pirates in tackles with 62 total tackles and 37 solo.

Barnhill is a finance major with a military science minor. After spending over 25 hours a week on football, he also clocks in overtime for ROTC.

According to Capt. Steve Jones of the ECU Army ROTC program, ROTC is like football. "ROTC takes commitment and dedication," said Jones. "It strives to prepare the 'whole person' and we are looking for quality students like Adrian [Barnhill] and Michael [Rhett] in our program."

Barnhill, a junior, spent last summer in the ROTC "Camp Challenge" in Fort Knox before the season began. He finished seventh in his platoon of 30 and next summer will spend his summer camp at Fort Bragg.

Barnhill will be looking forward to a career with the U.S. Army after college and with his ROTC completion, he can be invited into active duty as a 2nd Lt. in the U.S. Army.

When asked what is his personal goal this year, Barnhill replied, "To be the best I can be."

Sound familiar?

The man that makes the duo complete is Rhett, who comes to East Carolina all the way from Hollywood. Hollywood, Fla., that is.

According to the Pirate strength index, Rhett, a fullback, is the third strongest player on the team. Now a junior for the Pirates, Rhett was highly recruited by other colleges in his high school career.

A construction management major with a minor in business, he joins Barnhill off the field for ROTC duty.

Last summer, Rhett was also at "Camp Challenge" but because of a shoulder injury and surgery, he received a medical release.

Next summer, Rhett, who has rushed for over 140 yards and one touchdown this season, will return to "Camp Challenge."

On the football field, Rhett has been awarded the "Big Team, Little Me" award for two straight years, along with the "Every Play, Every Day" award in the spring.

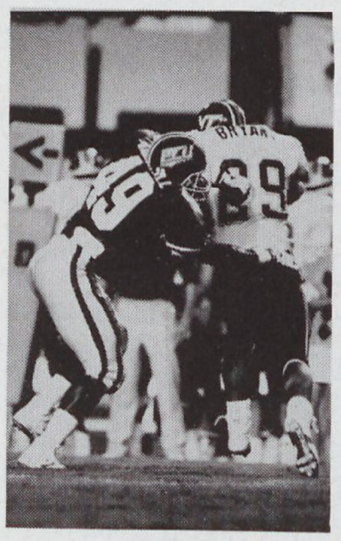
After completing his ROTC requirement and graduation from ECU, Rhett is considering the Army Reserve option of the ROTC program.

Jones says that Barnhill and Rhett, along with former ROTC/ECU football player Bojack Davenport, are very dedicated to both programs.

"Any time a student can take on dual responsibilities, and have dual commitments like ROTC and college football, we should be very proud."

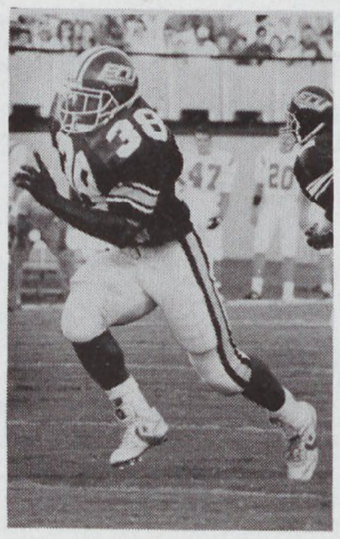
You can see that both of these Pirates do more than the average student/athlete is asked to do.

Maybe they aren't in pictures like other famous duos are, but they sure represent the ECU competitive spirit and dedication.



Adrian Barnhill

Michael Rhett



Crumpler Sr. was an ECU standout from 1971-73.

ECU School of Music: Teaching to the Beat of a Different Drum

By William A. Shires
ECU News Bureau

From behind the doors of practice rooms at the A.J. Fletcher Music Center on the East Carolina University campus come the myriad sounds of music.

These may be the beat of a snare drum, the wail of a trombone, the clear, sweet notes of piano and violin, of trumpet and tuba, clarinet, flute and French horn, the oboe and cello, mellophone and marimba. There are deep, mellow tones of an organ.

And also, there are sounds coaxed from exotic, unusual and unlikely instruments and materials — chimes, bells, blocks of sandpaper, saws and pipes. In one instance, a student hammers away at an old axle, an instrument he calls "automotive percussion."

Some of the sounds are familiar. Others seem to be bits and pieces of a larger musical puzzle. Students and members of the music faculty struggle to get the notes and timing in order.

Music Spoken Here

Music is the language spoke at Fletcher Music Center, home of the ECU School of Music.

The school has long been known for the quality of its programs, instruction and performers and for the excellence of its graduates who are musicians, music teachers, composers and critics.

Its graduates include singers, opera stars, individual artists and music educators. Its programs for the public include recitals by vocalists and individual performers, ensembles, choirs, marching and pep bands and other musical groups.

The secret is dedication, hard work — and practice. In one of the practice rooms, a poster on the wall behind pianist Bob Conda of Delanco, N.J., shows Uncle Sam with a caption: "I want you — to practice very day!"

It is a reminder that the school's more than 300 majors and 44 fulltime faculty members take seriously.

Marimba Lessons

One student is Tiffany Hassell of Columbia, N.C., who is a North Carolina Teaching Fellow enrolled in the teaching program in the ECU School of Education. Her music lessons are part of her schedule and she works with percussion instructor Mark Ford on a six-foot long concert marimba.

The marimba is a xylophone-type instrument with resonant tubes and is played with mallets. Hassell works through a series of exercises with Ford offering suggestions.

She practices for about half an hour and Ford asks that she play the piece she has been working on. The exercises have paid off—she launches into a delightful marimba melody and everyone has fun.

Professional Schools

The School of Music is among the oldest and most honored of the university's array of professional schools which include Allied Health Sciences, Art, Business, Education, Home Economics, Industry and Technology, Medicine, Nursing and Social Work.

The School of Music offers the bachelor's degree in music education, performance, church music, music with elective studies in business, theory/composition, music therapy, music theatre, piano pedagogy and voice pedagogy, master's degrees in accompanying, piano pedagogy, music education, performance, church music and composition, the BA in music and the Certificate of Advanced Study in music education.

Tiffany Hassell, a North Carolina Teaching Fellow from Columbia, N.C., works at the concert marimba in the ECU School of Music under the guidance of percussion instructor Mark Ford. Hassell will be a teacher who is well versed in music techniques and music education, and able to play the marimba as well. (ECU News Bureau Photos)

Ficklen Stadium

The James Skinner Ficklen Memorial Stadium was dedicated on September 21, 1963, with East Carolina defeating Wake Forest 20-10.

The dedication game was the culmination of a dream come true for then East Carolina College and all of eastern North Carolina. The original plan was announced on Oct. 7, 1961, by Dr. Leo Jenkins, Chancellor of the College, at a meeting of the Society of Buccaneers.

Within a year, $283,387 had been raised, although the goal had been only $200,000. With the funds in hand, Ficklen Stadium was built.

The original stadium consisted of the permanent stands on the south side, a small press box and the old lighting system which was removed after the 1974 season. Total cost was $300,000.

The north side permanent seating was constructed in 1968, increasing the stadium seating capacity to 20,000.

The stadium was named for the late James Skinner Ficklen, a Greenville resident, who distinguished himself as one of America's leading tobacconists. At the time of his death in 1955, Ficklen was President and Chairman of the Board of the E.B. Ficklen Tobacco Company of Greenville. He was a close friend of the College and established a financial aid foundation, the Ficklen Foundation, to aid students of the College.

The first major change in Ficklen Stadium was the lighting system, a change that occurred just before the 1975 season opened. The old inner stadium lights on six poles were removed and replaced with six towers outside the stadium. The system is a combination of metallic and incandescent lights. There are 288 fixtures of 1500 watts each on six 162-foot towers. Cost of the system was $450,000. Engineers say ECU has the best lighted stadium in the southeast.

A radical change greeted fans as the 1978 season opened. An expansion on all four corners boosted Ficklen's seating capacity from 20,000 to 35,000, the third-largest stadium in North Carolina. This expansion was made possible with 2½ million dollars through a drive in the spring of 1977.

In addition to more seats, an ultramodern press box with three levels and an elevator for access was built. The much needed press box is one of the finest in the country with space for 92 writers and an entire floor for electronic media. Also, a modern scoreboard with a lightbank message center was placed on the east end of Ficklen.

During the summer of 1983, a complete renovation took place on the playing surface. A new drainage system, a new base of gravel and sand, new treated topsoil and a new grass was installed. The new grass, Tifton 419 Hybrid Bermuda was sprigged at the rate of 600 bushels per acre.

The 1988 season saw a new season attendance record in Ficklen Stadium as the Pirates drew a school-record 156,329 fans for six home games.

ECU Pirate Sports Network

Following the Pirates

Pirate football may be heard throughout North and South Carolina as well as Virginia through the Pirate Sports Network, owned and operated fully by the East Carolina University athletic department.

All activities of the Pirate Sports Network are coordinated, produced and directed by Jeff Charles, Director of Electronic Media/ Promotions at East Carolina.

Handling color commentary on the Pirate Sports Network is Director of Administrative Services, Carlester Crumpler.

Engineer for the broadcasts is Macon Dail, sideline reporter is Tom Doyle, Chip Rutan handles the spotting and Steve Gowan is a producer-interview host. WCZI-FM (98.3) serves as the network's flagship station for the second straight year.

The 1990 season will mark the fourth year of a multi-year agreement with Capitol Radio Network to distribute the network via satellite. Capitol Radio Networks is a part of the Capitol Broadcasting Company of Raleigh, N.C., and the network provides news and sports programming for more than 150 radio stations throughout North Carolina and Virginia.

The network will have approximately 45 stations this year, the largest number in school history. In addition to the game broadcasts, a weekly coaches' show will be aired on Sundays between 6-7 p.m. The show can be heard on 100,000-watt WDLX-FM (93.3) as well as selected PSN affiliates. Also, a pre-game tailgate show and daily short segments on stations throughout the state of North Carolina.

Charles begins his third year as "Voice" of the Pirates. He came to ECU from Virginia Tech, where he served as "Voice of the Hokies" and Director of Radio/Television Affairs for five years.

Before going to Virginia Tech, the veteran sportscaster worked at WGVL Radio in Greenville, S.C., where he hosted sports shows and served as "Voice of the Furman Paladins."

The Piqua, Ohio, native previously had been sports director at WSB Radio in Atlanta, Ga., where he handled play-by-play duties for the Peach Bowl and did a nightly sports talk show on the 50,000-watt clear channel station.

The Georgia Associated Press named him the state's best play-by-play announcer and United Press International awarded him first place for the best sports coverage in the state.

Charles also worked for WITY Radio in Danville, Ill., WKAM Radio in Goshen, Ind. and WPTW, a cable television station in Piqua, Ohio. When he was at WITY, he handled play-by-play duties for the University of Illinois football and basketball teams.

He graduated from the Career Academy Broadcasting School of Columbus, Ohio, in 1971 and received a degree in speech communications from Goshen College in Indiana in 1975.

1990 PSN Staff: Jeff Charles, Tom Doyle, Carlester Crumpler and Steve Gowan.

The Humble Beginnings Of A $2.1 Billion Crop.

Tobacco provides American farmers with an income of over $2.1 billion a year. It's one of the United States' most valuable money crops.

As a major supplier of U.S. leaf to world markets, A.C. Monk is a vital link between the people who grow the tobacco and the people who buy it.

And we've always tried to work in the best overall interests of both.

But we're especially proud of our working relationship with U.S. growers.

The people who work the tobacco crops, from seedlings all the way to market.

They're the people who keep the tobacco industry going. And we never forget it. MONK

University of Southern Mississippi

In 1882, Capt. William Hardy saw potential in the settlement he named "Hattiesburg," after his wife Hattie. In 1910 men of equal vision saw potential in the cut-over timberland they offered as the site for a new college.

LOCATION — Hattiesburg in an ideal location for one of Mississippi's three major universities. The city lies halfway between the state capital in Jackson and the beautiful sand beaches of the Gulf Coast. The main coast-to-capital highway forms the eastern boundary of the campus. Hattiesburg is large enough to offer many advantages and conveniences but small enough to avoid some of the distractions students find in larger cities.

It is, however, within easy driving distance to the capital, the coast, Mobile and New Orleans.

CAMPUSES — The five original buildings, once nestled among pine stumps, now form the anchor for more than 115 buildings located on almost a thousand acres. A focal point is the only American Rose Society accredited rose garden in the nation located on a college campus. The rose garden draws many visitors from early spring until late fall, especially on graduation and wedding days. The most recently completed building is a $7.5 million Chain Technology Center housing a number of academic programs, including computer science, which claims one in every 10 students as a major. The University is now building a 10 million dollar Polymer Science structure which will increase its research program greatly. The University also takes education to the working people of the state with campuses on the coast at Long Beach, Keesler AFB and Jackson County, and through the Universities Center in Jackson.

ENROLLMENT — Numbers have continued to inch upward at USM even though college enrollment across the nation is dropping. The main and branch campuses served over 13,000 students academically last year. The "atypical" student has become "typical" at Southern as older students enter or return to college to enhance employment opportunity. Southern began as a teacher's college and continues to provide its share of future educators. The emphasis has shifted, however, to general career preparedness with degrees being offered in more than 70 fields.

CURRICULUM — A continual effort is made to adapt the curriculum to meet the needs of the student body and of society. An extensive continuing education program offers college credit through conferences and workshops, correspondence courses and independent study. Academic leaders call on "real world" advisers to ensure the production of graduates geared to meet the needs of society in satisfying career positions. Program accreditation is used to measure academic success, and USM offers a wide range of accredited programs. The most recent accreditation came in undergraduate accounting with the USM program one of the first in the nation to receive such recognition and the accreditation of the Engineering Technology and the Construction and Architectural Engineering Technology programs.

RESEARCH — Hundreds of thousands of dollars in research funds come to the campus each year to support research by faculty and students in a wide spectrum of subjects. USM's location, near the Gulf, amid industry, and in the middle of Mississippi's population center, gives access to a variety of human and natural resources. The objective of campus research is to make a better life for Mississippians.

‡Contributions of Radio, Television and Newspaper Advertising

The East Carolina University Athletic Department would like to extend its appreciation to Carolina Telephone and Telegraph for its support of the incentive program to encourage continued academic excellence by ECU's student/athletes.

All ECU student/athletes receiving academic honors (honor roll, Dean's list or Chancellor's list) during the year will receive a t-shirt with the custom designed logo "Academics, Athletics, Partners in Excellence."

CT&T is also the sponsor of the CT&T scholarship awarded at each home football game for outstanding achievement in academics and contribution by an ECU team member to the Pirate football program.

The incentive program was initiated by the ECU Student/Athlete Advisory Council, an advisory organization for the office of Student Development and the Department of Athletics.

The Council is comprised of two members from each inter-collegiate athletic squad and junior Keith Arnold and redshirt-freshman Derrick Pasley are representatives from the 1990 football squad.

ECU Sports Medicine

The East Carolina University sports medicine division and curriculum, reputed to be one of the finest in the Southeast, affords every Pirate athlete the best available care and treatment of injuries.

Headed by ECU's sports medicine director Rod Compton, who is a Certified Athletic Trainer and a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA), and the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine, the East Carolina sports medicine program offers the best possible prevention, immediate treatment, and rehabilitation of injuries.

Compton, who earned degrees from Ohio University and Bowling Green State and served as Editor-in-Chief of the NATA Journal for six-and-one-half years, is also the director of the ECU Sports Medicine Conference, which is held annually in April on the East Carolina campus.

Compton (entering his 21st season) is assisted by team physician Dr. James McCallum, and NATA Certified Athletic Trainers Karen Baker and Mike Hanley. All serve on the staff of the Sports Medicine Conference and as faculty for the Sports Medicine Curriculum within the Department of Health and Human Performance.

They are assisted by more than a dozen fine community-based professionals who lend valuable time to the program and 30 to 35 undergraduate students majoring in East Carolina University's sports medicine curriculum.

The Sports Medicine Division has been in operation since 1971. The new Sports Medicine Center, located in the Sports Medicine Building, is equipped with all new state-of-the-art equipment, and will be better able to provide services to student athletic trainers and student-athletes.

The "Sports Paramedics," as Compton refers to his staff, are in attendance at every athletic event that involves East Carolina University athletes. Radio communication from practice field to the center is a must and a sports medicine vehicle provides instant transportation for injured athletes to the center. Prevention, evaluation, treatment, and rehabilitation are the main objectives of the Sports Medicine Division and when an injury does occur, Compton and his staff provide on-the-spot treatment to make certain the injury does not become more serious.

The Sports Medicine Curriculum, a part of the Department of Health and Human Performance at East Carolina, is the only undergraduate athletic training program approved by the NATA in eastern North Carolina and one of only two in the state.

Dedication, sincere sensitivity, and individual attention are the basic motivators which distinguish East Carolina University's "Sports Paramedics" from any others. People helping people in a first-class setting. That's East Carolina Sports Medicine!

ECU Athletic Hall of Fame

The East Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame was initiated in 1974 as an organization to honor those individuals who have, by direct participation in East Carolina University intercollegiate athletics, brought outstanding recognition to themselves and to the University.

The first honorees were inducted during Homecoming festivities at halftime of the East Carolina-The Citadel football game in 1974. Ten members were selected for the first year. Five years passed between Lawrence "Cotton" Clayton and the induction of the 1989 class. This year, ECU honors Ronnie Barnes, Dr. Ray Minges and Rosie Thompson as its inductees.

To be selected, a committee of nine persons must vote with two-thirds of those giving their approval. Those five shall be the official selection committee. To be eligible for selection, a person must not have been connected with the University in the capacity to which the nominee is being elected for a minimum of ten academic years.

Willard "Butch" Colson
Football (1967-69)

Colson was named Southern Conference Player of the Year in 1967, rushing for 1,135 yards and scoring 15 touchdowns. He holds the school record for most carries in one game (41) and is fourth in career rushing yardage (2,512) and sixth in total yardage (3,025). His 92 points scored in 1967 is the fourth-most in school history.

Dr. Leo Jenkins
Chancellor (1960-78)
Chancellor Emeritus

It was under Jenkins' leadership and largely at his personal direction that the former small, regional, liberal arts college developed into a large, multi-faceted comprehensive university with the third largest student enrollment in North Carolina. Jenkins directed the building of Ficklen Stadium, Minges Coliseum, Scales Field House and Harrington Field along with other facilities in the athletic complex.

Kathy Postlewait
Volleyball
Field Hockey

Today, Postlewait is one of the top players on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour, and has career earnings of more than one million dollars. She won the 1983 San Jose Classic, the 1987 Mazda Classic, the 1988 McDonald's Championship and the 1989 Sara Lee Classic.

1984

Lawrence "Cotton" Clayton
Basketball, Baseball (1959-61)

During his two years of athletic participation, Clayton was named All-America in both baseball and basketball as well as All-North State Conference and all-district. Perhaps baseball was his top sport. He led the 1961 Pirate team to the NAIA national championship as the team's leading hitter playing outfield and third base. Following graduation, he played in the Baltimore Orioles organization for seven years.

1983

Howard Porter
Head Basketball Coach (1947-59)

ECU Pirate Basketball

'Men of Steele' Take on Challenging Schedule

With five starters returning from that squad, Steele should see even more development.

Among the starters returning are seniors Tim Brown, Stanley Love and Jeffrey Whitaker and sophomores Paul Childress and Ike Copeland.

Also a strong bench of sophomore Steve Richardson, senior Darrell Overton and juniors Robin House, Casey Mote and Jeff Perlich should see more action.

Last season, the Pirates finished 13-18 overall, but had big victories over UNC Wilmington, breaking a 10-game losing streak to the Seahawks, NCAA-bound Richmond and American. Many times last season, ECU used a starting lineup of four first-year players.

Two of those rookie performers, Steve Richardson and Ike Copeland, were named to the Colonial Athletic Association All-Freshman squad. Richardson, a 6-3 guard from Terre Haute, Ind., averaged 8.5 points, 1.5 rebounds and one assist per game. He broke all of ECU's three-point field goal records, including hitting eight against Navy.

Copeland, a 6-8 center from Rocky Mount, N.C., averaged 8.9 points and 6.3 rebounds per game. He finished the season tied for the team lead in rebounding with Tim Brown. He led the Pirates in rebounding 13 times and was also ECU's best field goal shooter, hitting 49.8 percent.

Brown was another one of those first-year players. However, he came to ECU with two years of basketball experience from Louisburg Junior College. The 6-7 forward from Raleigh averaged 9.7 points and 6.3 rebounds per game. He also led the team with 36 steals. In one game against James Madison, Brown scored 13 points and had 14 rebounds—a team high last season.

Stanley Love returns for his senior season at ECU. The 6-5 forward from Decatur, Ala., averaged 5.5 points and 3.9 rebounds per game last season. However, he is known for his defensive ability and his three-pointer with no time left in regulation against Richmond at Minges Coliseum that sent the game into overtime, where ECU won it, 81-78.

Jeffrey Whitaker, a 6-2 guard from Battleboro, N.C., started 14 games at point guard last season and adds a shooting touch to that position. He averaged 5.1 points, 2.1 rebounds and 3.9 assists per game last season.

Darrell Overton, a 6-6 center/forward from Edenton, N.C., started just two games but was a big contributor underneath the basket. He averaged 3.8 points and 3.9 rebounds last season and led the Pirates in blocked shots with 21.

Paul Childress, a 5-10 sophomore from Misenheimer, N.C., also returns to battle with Whitaker at the point guard spot. Childress started 18 games there last year and averaged two points, 1.6 rebounds and 3.5 assists per game.

Robin House, a 6-1 guard from Greenville, Casey Mote, a 6-7 center from Demorest, Ga. and Jeff Perlich, a 6-2 guard from Churubusco, Ind., return to give ECU more depth.

Steele and Co. had a fine recruiting year, bringing in four new players for the 1990-91 season.

Kevin Armstrong, a 6-5 forward from Gastonia, N.C.'s Hunter Huss High School, averaged 15.6 points and 12.1 rebounds per game last season in helping lead his school to a second-place finish in Western North Carolina AAAA.

Joe Brightwell, a 6-7½ center/forward from Bronx, N.Y., comes to ECU with big numbers. Last season at Springfield (Mass.) Technical Community College, he averaged 28 points and 16.6 rebounds per game. He also shot 69.2 percent from the floor.

Anton Gill, a 6-6 forward from Raleigh, averaged 26.5 points and 12.6 rebounds per game for Millbrook High School. He was a first-team All-AAAA East pick as a senior and was named the Wake County AAAA Player of the Year.

Lester Lyons, a 6-2 guard from Windsor's Bertie Senior High, averaged 26.3 points and four rebounds per game last season. He led the Colonial Conference in scoring and was a first-team All-AAA East pick.

The Pirates, again, face a challenging schedule, which includes James Madison, an NIT team from last year, and Richmond, an NCAA team from last season.

Steve Richardson provides the 'Men of Steele' with a constant three-point threat.

ECU Lady Pirate Basketball

Lady Pirates Count on Experience in '90-'91

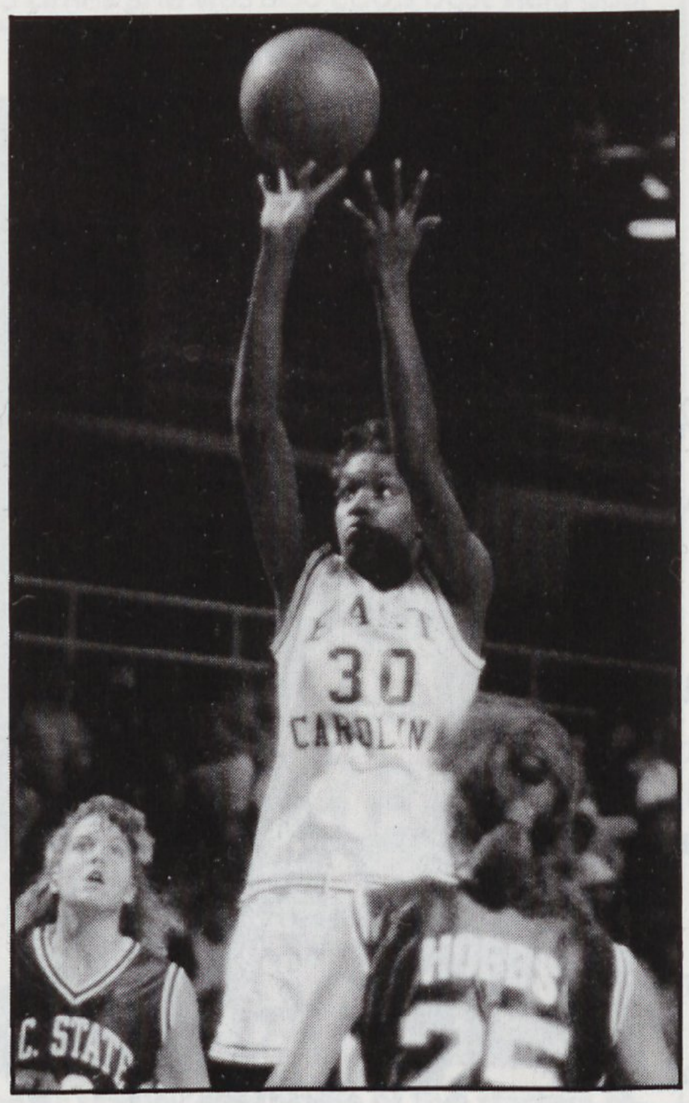
East Carolina head coach Pat Pierson feels pretty good about her 1990-91 Lady Pirates. ECU lost only one starter, returns two first team All-Conference players, and brings in two recruits 6-0 or taller.

Pierson, in her fourth season with the Lady Pirates, finished last season with an 18-10 record and tied for second place in the Colonial Athletic Association. Her teams have shown a steady improvement since coming to ECU in 1987-88. Her first season, ECU finished 8-20. Her second season, the Lady Pirates improved to 15-13 and a third place CAA finish. Last season's 18-10 record/second place CAA finish let ECU fans know that Lady Pirate basketball was once again headed to the top of the CAA.

"This season will be challenging, as always, but I feel we can have a really great season," Pierson said. "We are working in a very comfortable environment. Rosie (Thompson) and I have been working together going on four years and we know the players very well and they know us. Our system is beginning to work really well and show results."

One noticeable void to this season's team is the loss of Irish Hamilton, a four-year starting guard for the Lady Pirates. Hamilton made her presence known last season as she earned CAA All-Defense honors, worked her way to the top of career assists and steals and added a scoring boost of 9.1 points a game.

Two of the brightest spots to this season's team are the return of senior Sarah Gray and junior Tonya Hargrove. Both first-team All-CAA selections in 1989-90, Gray and Hargrove paced the Lady Pirates, as well as the CAA, in scoring and rebounding.



Two-time ECU MVP Sarah Gray looks to lead the Lady Pirates and the CAA this season.

Gray (6-0, Sr., Washington, NC) led ECU in scoring and rebounding for the second straight year. Averaging 17.1 points a game, Gray was the third leading scorer in the CAA. Pulling down 9.2 rebounds a game, she held down second place in the CAA. A two-time ECU MVP with a nagging knee injury, Gray looks to make her senior season her best yet.

"Sarah has big goals for herself this season," Pierson said. "She knows she has the motions down, so she is working on her mental toughness and concentration that will give her an extra edge."

Hargrove (5-9, Jr., Raleigh, NC) exploded on the court last season, leading the Pirates in the early season after a Gray injury. Hargrove earned CAA Player of the Week honors twice, and was selected as the MVP of the Lady Pirate Classic. Averaging 15.1 points a game, Hargrove was sixth in the conference in scoring while finishing fourth in field goal accuracy, shooting over 52 percent.

Hargrove, who plays more like she's six-feet tall according to Pierson, was in the top-ten of CAA rebounding, averaging 7.1 rebounds a game.

Sophomore Gaynor O'Donnell (5-6, So., Liverpool, England), who earned CAA All-Rookie honors last season, will return to the point guard position for ECU. O'Donnell started in every game last season and was quick to become a leader on the court. She averaged 5.9 assists a game, finishing the season with 160 assists.

Always looking to make things happen on the court, O'Donnell should come into the 1990-91 season very confident and more experienced according to Pierson. O'Donnell is playing with her England National team this summer for the second straight year. This, combined with off-season work on her outside shooting, should make her an even bigger threat at the perimeter.

Four seniors, plus Gray, give the Lady Pirates one of the most experienced teams in the league.

Forward Kim Dupree (6-1, Sr., Greenville, NC) was a key reserve for the Lady Pirates last season. A team player who looks to contribute in any way, Dupree will be looked to for experience this year.

Center Sandra Grace (6-2, Sr., High Point, NC) ended the '89-'90 season on a strong note, improving her offensive game. If Grace plays consistently this season, it will give the Lady Pirates a key advantage on their inside game.

Forward Michelle Marsh (6-0, Sr., Greenback, TN) may be seeing more time on the perimeter this year, as she is improving on her outside shot. With a step up on defensive intensity, Marsh will give ECU added strength on both ends of the court.

ECU suffered a loss in the semi-finals of the CAA tournament as starter, forward Kenneya Wilson (5-8, Sr., Kingston, TN) went down with a knee injury. After surgery, Wilson's rehabilitation is coming along but her status for the '90-'91 season is unknown. Last season, Wilson started in 27 games, averaging 7.2 points a game. A consistent defensive threat, Wilson's condition will be evaluated in pre-season.

Three juniors continue to boost ECU's level of experience this season. Challenging for starting roles are guards Mechelle Jones and Toina Coley.

Jones (5-5, Jr., Colonial Heights, VA) played in every game last season. A defense oriented player, Jones' quickness was a key spark on several occasions for the Lady Pirates.

Coley (5-7, Jr., Goldsboro, NC) showed much all-around improvement last season. Averaging four points a game and 3.5 rebounds, Coley also became one of the top defensive players in the conference, finishing the season with 49 steals.

Kathy Addison (5-11, Jr., Fayetteville, NC) and Toni Thurman (5-11, So., Hallsboro, NC) both saw playing time last season and will give ECU depth at the forward positions. Both have the ability to be an outside threat with improved perimeter shooting.

Height was the key in this season's recruiting class. The Lady Pirates bring in Janet Rodgerson (6-2, Fr., Bear Brass, NC) and Connie Small (6-0, Jr., Durham, NC). Small, who is a proven outside shooter, having earned two years experience at Peace College, will make an immediate impact for ECU while Rodgerson will be looking to make the transition into a Division I program.

The Lady Pirates' schedule for this season will be a challenge, especially in conference play. Every CAA team returns experience, with very few losses for their line-ups. Additions to the '90-'91 schedule are Northwestern State and Nicholls State, which ECU will visit in Louisiana during December. Southeast Conference member, Florida, will come to Greenville in January for only the third meeting with ECU and for the second straight year, ECU and North Carolina State continue in-state play, with the Lady Pirates traveling to Raleigh in late February.

ECU Courtesy Car Dealers

ECU "Big Wheels"

The road becomes a second home for those connected with collegiate athletics. Indeed, being on the road and traveling thousands of miles each year is a major part of the job.

Almost every facet of the job — recruiting, scouting competition, making public appearances, etc. — are activities that keep athletic personnel on the move.

The "wheels" that keep East Carolina's athletic program rolling are a group known as Courtesy Car Dealers, and they play a vital role in allowing the Pirate staff to meet their demands.

Far more than just a fringe benefit, these cars given by the East Carolina Courtesy Car Dealers are necessities for a growing and successful athletic program.

The entire East Carolina staff wishes to thank each dealer providing a car to this fleet of courtesy cars. We hope our fans will look to these fine people for their automotive needs at every opportunity.

Thanks Courtesy Car Dealers! You keep the wheels of East Carolina athletics rolling.

Thanks also goes to Adam's Auto Wash of Greenville. Adam's helps keep ECU's courtesy cars looking clean.

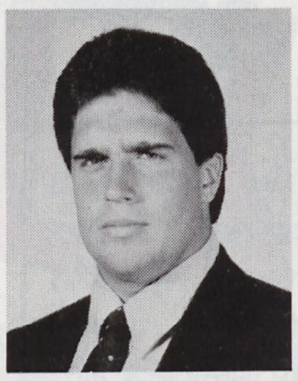
CT&T Scholarship



Keith Arnold

Today, East Carolina honors Keith Arnold as its CT&T scholarship winner for his outstanding achievements in academics and contribution to the Pirate football program.

The award, a full $3,500 athletic scholarship, is given in his name by Carolina Telephone and Telegraph and has been awarded to a player at each home game since 1984. This season marks the fourth season that CT&T and its president, Wayne Peterson, have contributed the full scholarship for each home game, and it is a donation that ECU officials greatly appreciate.

"As the Pirate Club strives to expand its funding base in order to fully fund athletic scholarships and meet future goals for growth, a gesture like this one by Wayne Peterson and CT&T stands out as an illustration of corporate commitment to excellence with regard to our program," said Charlie Carr, ECU's associate director of athletics and executive director of the Pirate Club.

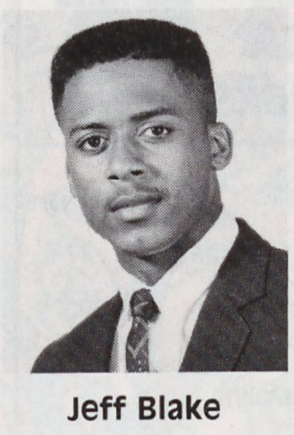
R.W. Moore Scholarship



Jeff Blake

The "King of the Gridiron" scholarship is presented each home football game to the outstanding East Carolina University football player for that particular game as voted on by the media in attendance. For the second time this season, junior quarterback Jeff Blake earned the "King of the Gridiron" award. Blake, playing with an injured ankle against Virginia Tech, completed 13 passes in 23 attempts for a total of 173 yards. Blake also rushed for one touchdown against the Hokies.

Mr. R.W. Moore of Raleigh, president of R.W. Moore Equipment Company, initiated the scholarship in 1977. This season marks the 14th consecutive year for the presentations.

The scholarship carries a $1,000 value and is presented in the name of the winning player to the ECU Educational Foundation (Pirate Club). The money is then contributed to the general athletic scholarship fund.

East Carolina University extends its appreciation to Mr. Moore for this outstanding service to the University and the athletic department.

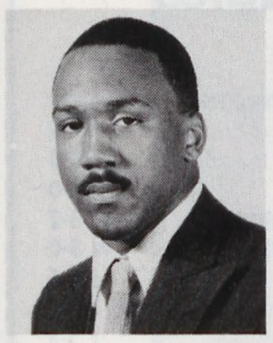
Pirates™

Donald Porch: "One-on-One"



Last season, the East Carolina football program felt the blow when Donald Porch came up injured just as he was becoming a major contribution to the Pirate defense. Porch, now a senior, has returned to display his athletic and academic abilities, provide team leadership and "play ball."

Donald Porch has gone from being the only one of three first-year players to make the travel squad as a freshman in 1987, to playing in six games without any starts in 1989 because of a knee injury, to leading the team in interceptions five games into the 1990 season.

Porch has experienced the ups and downs of college football but he feels much wiser and more mature because of the strength it took to overcome all of the challenges put before him throughout his college career.

"My injury and the fact that I room with Joe Bright, have made me realize that football isn't everything. When the doctors explained my injury and said that I might never play again, I saw that I had better get the books together," said Porch. "Joe [Bright] made me realize that you never know when your time is going to come so take advantage of every challenge and opportunity you get."

Porch admitted that many of his plans and goals had to be put on hold because of his injury but in hindsight he realizes this made him work harder.

"At the start of this season, I was on the third team; I had to re-prove myself to the defensive staff. They didn't know how my injury had affected me and my playing. I guess I proved to them that I'm back because I've seen some playing time."

Porch wants to be remembered as a "good player and a great person." One of his hopes for the 1990 squad is "to be the first team to go to the bowl game." Porch also said that he hoped this year's seniors had "given something to the team."

Porch elaborated, "Next year, I hope the guys who are juniors now will say, 'The seniors last year provided leadership and were good role models for the team — let's be even better this year'." Porch hopes that this tradition of senior leadership will "help move East Carolina football to a more respected level in athletics."

The "loneliness" and pressure of playing cornerback and being one on one with a wide receiver with everyone watching is often overwhelming but Porch handles it. "There is unbelievable pressure and sometimes I pray for zone coverage instead of one on one," laughed Porch. Lewis added to this pressure by saying about last week's opponent, Georgia: "Georgia is going to go deep; we will have to stop the long pass." Porch takes this added pressure and turns it into something positive. "I line up thinking: 'they're going to try me, this is the deep one' and then I put everything I've got into it as if this were the last play of my life."

Senior Donald Porch knows that this is not "the last play of his life;" soon East Carolina football will be behind him and he'll enter into a bright future in drafting but the memories made and the lessons learned on and off the football field will never be forgotten.

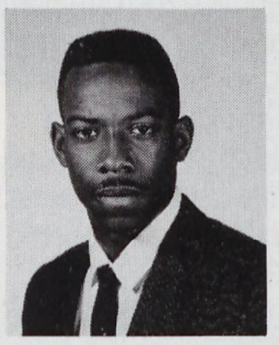
Al Whiting: Setting High Goals



Al Whiting is a 6-0, senior, wide-receiver playing in his last year of football for the Pirates. In his two years of lettering, Whiting has caught 32 passes for over 500 yards.

So far this year he has caught 11 passes for 114 yards, his longest being 20 yards against Southwestern Louisiana.

"I have a lot of extremely high goals for myself," Whiting said. "I'm very satisfied with my performance so far, but all of my goals have not been met."

In 1988, Whiting caught 17 passes for 288 yards including one touchdown. In ECU's game against Southern Mississippi, he had three catches for 64 yards and a touchdown.

Against South Carolina he had a career-high 65 yards on three catches.

"I really like playing against South Carolina. I don't know what it is but I tend to have better games when we play them," he said.

Whiting has been through a lot of changes at ECU, including a new coach and three different offensive philosophies.

"I've had a chance to learn more and develop my skills with all of the new coaches. I think it has helped, in that I have had a chance to adapt."

For this Education major, academics is his first concern although he has not ruled out the possibilities of turning pro. "Right now I'm concentrating on my academics and graduating, but I'd like to go to some try-outs," he said.

Whiting has five more games to be played at ECU and really plans to make the most of them.

"I'm going to work hard on being a very precise route runner and catch everything that comes my way. The main thing, not just for me, but for the team is to win, and I believe we'll be successful this year."

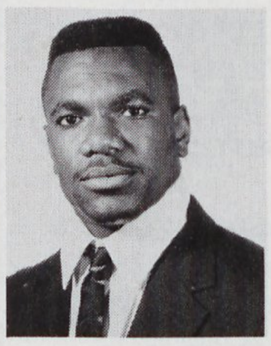
Ernie Tynes: One of the Guys



Ernie Tynes is said to be East Carolina's hardest hitting player pound-for-pound. That's a statement that most of us wouldn't want a personal demonstration of.

Tynes is a senior safety and according to the Pirate's defensive back coach, Mike Cassity, his position is not your every day safety.

"The position of 'Pirate' safety is a combination of a linebacker and a defensive back. You need a lot of strength and speed to be a 'Pirate.' Ernie is a tremendous hitter and a hard worker and does his job well."

Tynes comes from Miami, Fla., where he earned three letters in high school football. This is his second season with the Pirates and since an injury in the 1987 season, he has made a strong comeback.

Tynes is a sociology major with a minor in criminal justice. After this year, he looks forward to a career in the criminal justice system, where he wants to be a counselor,

Off the field, Tynes says he just likes being one of the guys by spending time with his friends and going to the movies. But most of all, Tynes is at home — hitting hard as 'one of the guys' on the gridiron.

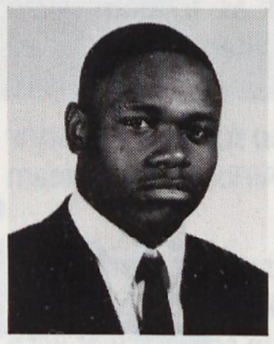
Ed Brogdon: Anchoring the Pirate Secondary



Fifth-year senior safety Ed Brogdon leads a Pirate secondary that has been filled with injuries throughout the first four weeks of this season.

With the loss of Darren Bynum for the remainder of the year and other assorted injuries in the Pirate secondary, Brogdon, an elementary education major, has had to pick up the slack.

"After going through summer camp with the starters and expecting them to be in the games all of the time, we now have different players at different positions, they now start instead of being second or third string," Brogdon says.

Coming into the 1990 season, Brogdon, from Turbeville, SC, had 87 total tackles in his career at East Carolina. His 39 tackles in 1987 are a career best.

The 1988 game at the University of South Carolina where the Pirates lost to the Gamecocks 17-0 was Brogdon's most memorable game as a Pirate.

"Our defense dominated the game, but we made a few errors in the second half that eventually lost the game for us. The defense played as well in that particular game than in any other game during my career at East Carolina."

The Pirates play Southern Mississippi today in what has become a heated rivalry. The last seven meetings have seen five of the games decided by a total of just 17 points.

Brogdon has played against the Golden Eagles on three previous occasions without a win against them. "We look forward to winning every week, but this one is a bit different since the other seniors and myself have never beaten Southern Mississippi."

The Pirates are looking to Brogdon for leadership in the defensive backfield this season. He is a steady performer and has taken more responsibility on the defensive side of the ball with the number of injuries to the Pirate defensive backfield.

Lady Pirates Finish Second in Winthrop Invitational; Travel to VCU This Week

Christine Belgado

The Lady Pirate volleyball team travels to Virginia on Tuesday to face VCU. Earlier this season, ECU defeated the Lady Rams in five games.

Last weekend, ECU participated in the Winthrop College Invitational and came away with a second place finish.

They defeated Queens College and Baptist College to advance to the championship, but in the finals they lost to East Tennessee State, whom they had lost to the previous day.

Head coach Martha McCaskill said, "I was very pleased that we made it into the finals. We played really hard and as a team, even though we didn't win it all there was a lot of team comraderie."

Senior Christine Belgado and sophomore Jenny Parsons were selected to the All-Tournament team for their outstanding play.

Belgado now stands second on the team in kills with 103, behind Rhonda Jackson who leads with 132. Belgado leads the team in service aces with 20.

Parsons and Shannon McKay have been anchoring the Lady Pirate offense and have a combined assist total of over 370.

Wendy Schultz, who has been out due to illness, is averaging over two kills a game and has over 60 blocks.

ECU has played only one CAA opponent and came away with a loss to UNC Wilmington. The team now stands at 6-7 overall.

Pirate Soccer at Home on Sunday & Wednesday; Host William & Mary; Richmond

The East Carolina soccer team will host Colonial Athletic Association opponents William & Mary and Richmond this week in final conference play before the CAA tournament in November.

Tomorrow, ECU will look for its first CAA victory of the season against William & Mary and on Wednesday, the University of Richmond comes to Greenville. So far this season, ECU is 0-5 in CAA play.

The Pirates, with four wins so far this season, are led by sophomore Tony Carr, a top scorer in the CAA, South Region and in NCAA scoring.

The Pirates have suffered five consecutive losses and one tie since their last win against Francis Marion College. On Thursday, ECU hosted St. Andrews College.

ECU's contest with Richmond will be the next to last home match for the Pirates as they take to the road Oct. 13-20 and then return home for their home finale against North Carolina Wesleyan.

Cross Country on the Road Today at Methodist Invitational

The East Carolina Cross Country teams are competing today at the Methodist College Invitational in Fayetteville.

The women's team is looking for its fourth win of the season, after defeating Lynchburg College last week in Virginia.

Junior Ann Marie Welch continues to lead ECU, still running undefeated after four meets. Last week against Lynchburg, Welch set a new course record on her way to her fourth win of the season.

The men's team is still running steady behind sophomore Kyle Sullivan. The Pirates' top finisher in four races this season, Sullivan is looking for the Pirates to gain momentum with only a month remaining until the Colonial Athletic Association championships in Williamsburg, Va.

Pirate Soccer's Tony Carr: Booting His Way Into The Record Books

When the East Carolina Soccer team takes to the field, sophomore Tony Carr will be the first thing the opposing team will have to contend with, and maybe the last they would want to face.

Carr, a 6-3, 190-pounder from Raleigh, N.C. began at ECU as a defender, using his power and size to keep his opponents out of the Pirate goal. Now his job is to try and force as many balls as possible into the opposite goal-mouth, and his statistics will make you believe that he enjoys his work.

The Colonial Athletic Association currently has Carr listed second on the list of conference scoring leaders with 19 points; only Leigh Cowishaw of the University of Richmond has more (28).

As of Sept. 23 Carr was ranked on the NCAA Regional level as the second leading goal scorer in the South, and was ranked third overall in South Regional scoring. Carr is also ranked ninth in the NCAA Men's Division I National scoring, with nine goals and one assist.

In ECU's season-opener Carr scored all four Pirate goals, tying the single-game scoring record set in 1978.

Tony Carr strives to tie the East Carolina single-season scoring record in the near future, needing one goal in the next nine games to tie, and two goals to stand alone.

With two years remaining in his career at ECU, Carr will likely retire as the all-time leading scorer in Pirate soccer history.
