20th Ranked Pirates Look for Sixth Straight Win; Meet Nationally-Ranked Pitt in Ficklen for First Time

By Carolyn Justice-Hinson
ECU Assistant Sports Information Director

Anywhere you may have found a Pirate fan during the past two weeks, you couldn't help but hear about the latest East Carolina success.

Two weeks ago, ECU "finally" got their big break as it defeated nationally-ranked Syracuse 23-20 in the Carrier Dome.

ECU knows a lot about nationally-ranked, big name teams. The Pirates, now 5-1, have played their share of them during the past few years but for the first time ever, ECU was the victorious, dominant team.

News of the win spread fast. In eastern North Carolina, ECU fans packed the Kinston Regional Airport awaiting the return of the ECU team. There was plenty of purple and gold, signs and cheering to greet the Pirate team that had made every ECU fan's dream come true.

In the win, the Pirates started off shaky as an early ECU turnover resulted in a Syracuse field goal. ECU gave up one more field goal in the first quarter before taking its first lead of the game during the second period.

Executing an 80-yard drive, ECU's Jeff Blake hit Clayton Driver with a six-yard touchdown pass with 11:15 to go in the half to give ECU the 7-6 lead.

Another ECU turnover gave Syracuse the ball in Pirate territory and the Orangemen took advantage of the field position and regained a 13-7 lead with 6:01 remaining in the half.

After an Anthony Brenner field goal that pulled ECU within three points (13-10) of the Orangemen, Syracuse scored a touchdown in just three plays, right before the end of the half, giving them a 20-10 lead.

But the touchdown would be the last for the Orangemen who were held scoreless in the second half by a determined ECU defense.

When the second half began, ECU started to whittle away at the Orangemen lead.

In the third quarter, Brenner hit 40-yard and 51-yard field goals, cutting the Syracuse lead 20-16.

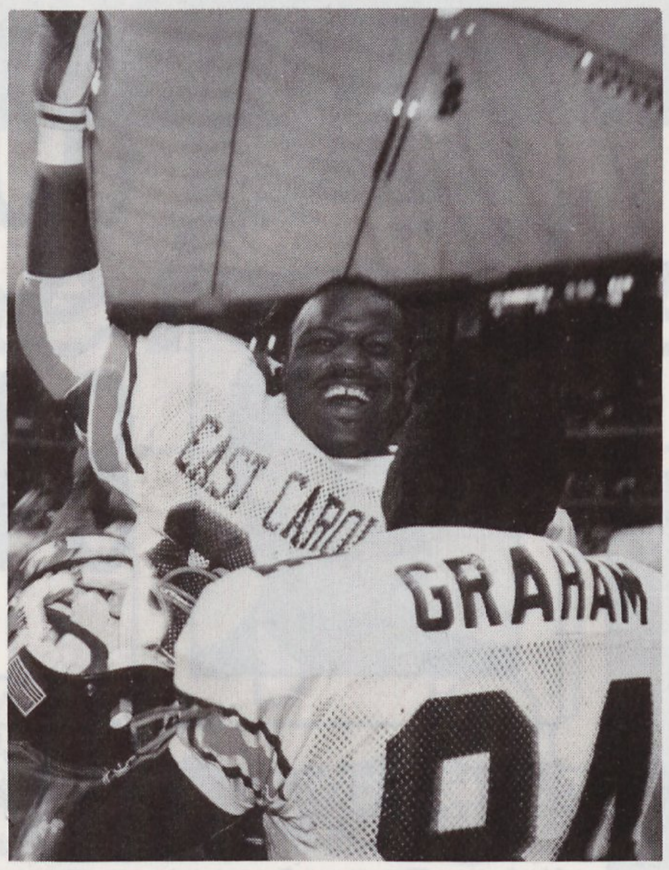

ECU's winning touchdown was then set up after an Orangemen 27-yard field goal attempt failed at the beginning of the fourth period.

Starting at their own 20 yard line, the Pirates, behind Blake, moved in for the kill. Blake completed four passes, moving into Syracuse territory. With 12:45 remaining in the game, Blake found an opening on a first and ten at the Syracuse 43 yard line and ran the ball in for his first rushing touchdown of the season.

With the score, ECU went ahead 23-20.

Syracuse had two opportunities to come back but another failed field goal attempt and a broken up pass on a fourth down situation kept the Orangemen scoreless in the second half and the Pirates coming home with a victory.

Eastern North Carolina wasn't the only place to take note of the win. The Pirates made headlines all over the nation. ABC Sports cut in on their afternoon game to show highlights of the Pirates' winning score and for the next week, headlines in national newspapers told the Pirate victory.

Pirate players celebrate 23-20 victory over Syracuse.

With so many people taking note of the win, the most important was the Associated Press National football poll, who put the Pirates in the Top-25 for the first time since 1983.

After its win over Syracuse, the 5-1 Pirates were ranked 23rd in the Associated Press poll. Last week, ECU was idle after its second open date of the year, but continued to move up the poll, breaking into the top-20, after Syracuse defeated today's opponent Pittsburgh, who was ranked 20th before the loss.

The 23rd ranked Panthers, now 5-2, come into Greenville looking to break a two-game losing streak. On Oct. 12, Pitt carried a perfect 5-0 record to Notre Dame, only to lose 42-7 to the Irish. Instead of rebounding with a win over Syracuse last weekend, the Panthers dropped their second straight game 31-27.

Today's contest should prove to be as close as the teams' last meeting in 1989.

In the 1989 game, ECU fell 47-42 to the Panthers, despite the efforts of the Pirates' Walter Wilson, who had seven catches for 172 yards and four touchdowns.

ECU led 21-14 at halftime and had a chance to win at the end of the game, but a Pirate drive late in the fourth quarter stalled at the Panther 22-yard line as the clock ran out.

The Pirates haven't forgotten that game with Pitt and look forward to facing the Panthers for the first time ever in Ficklen Stadium. Both previous games have been played in Pitt Stadium.

The 20th ranked Pirates have all the right weapons for today's shootout with the Panthers, beginning with Blake.

The senior quarterback is proving himself as one of the nation's best, ranking fifth in the nation in passing efficiency and seventh in total offense, averaging 283 yards per game.

Already the single-season ECU passing yardage leader with 1,602 yards this year, Blake has thrown 153 consecutive passes without an interception and needs just three touchdown passes to break the school record of 32 held by Travis Hunter.

Following Blake's performance against Syracuse, in which he set an ECU single game record for the most attempts, completions and total offensive yards, his jersey was selected for a display at the College Football Hall of Fame in Kings Island, Ohio. The jersey was a part of the "This Week in College Football."

Pirate place kicker Anthony Brenner proved again against Syracuse that he is also a threat to the ECU opposition.

Brenner's career-long 51-yard field goal against the Orangemen was the longest of his nine good attempts this year. Brenner, who has also hit all 25 point-after attempts this season, is tied for seventh in field goals per game in the nation and is currently 14th in scoring.

Syracuse fans learned a lot about the Pirates following an afternoon in the Carrier Dome, but one they'll be talking about for a while is wide receiver, return man, Dion Johnson.

Johnson had 234 all-purpose yards against the Orangemen, averaging 15.6 yards per carry, and he is also ranked in the NCAA statistics, ranking ninth in all-purpose yardage and 19th in receiving yards per game.

Pittsburgh will also have several names to remember including its return man, Steve Israel.

The defensive back, return specialist has been Pitt's most exciting player this year, averaging 26.7 yards in kickoff returns (5th in the nation) and 7.6 in punt returns.

As a defensive back, Israel has five interceptions, including an 81-yard interception return for a touchdown against Southern Mississippi.

Pirates beware — Israel has also had a 35-yard fumble recover return, a 73-yard punt return, and a 73-yard kick off return this season.

The Panthers' Alex Van Pelt is also a name to watch as the Pitt quarterback brings a 60 percent completion rate into today's game. Van Pelt has completed 128 passes this year for 1530 yards and 11 touchdowns. He averages 12 yards per completion and over 200 yards of passing per game.

On the receiving end, Pitt — like ECU — has several players to turn to. Dave Moore leads the Panthers with 33 receptions this season, while Eric Seaman has 354 yards receiving and four touchdowns. Chris Bouyer ties Seaman for touchdowns, also catching four TD passes and averaging 43.6 yards per game.

So if you're looking for some of the most exciting college football action in the nation, you've come to the right place today. Nationally-ranked ECU, taking on nationally-ranked Pitt, let the battle begin.

Hundreds of Pirate fans greeted ECU at the Kinston Regional Jetport following its victory.

ECU Head Coach

Bill Lewis

Bill Lewis is a football coach — plain and simple. He'll tell you that at every opportunity. He takes pleasure in talking about the game he loves. He doesn't try to come off as a story teller, a joke teller or magician.

"I think football is the greatest of all sports," says Lewis. "I absolutely love the game, the competition of it and all of the intangibles that are involved in the game."

When the 50-year-old coaching veteran was named East Carolina University's 16th head football coach on Dec. 3, 1988, he has put all of his energies into making the Pirate program one of the tops in the nation.

"I am a very positive person," said Lewis at his first press conference. "I want to point myself and the program in that direction. We will not take a back seat to anyone in the country with the way we are going to approach this football team and this football program."

After two seasons, the Pirates are making major steps in the right direction.

In his first season, ECU finished 5-5-1, marking the first non-losing season for the Pirates since 1983. Last season, the Pirates finished 5-6, but were within 11 points of having their first eight-game winning season since 1983.

Lewis is a master planner. His organizational skills rival that of CEO's of major corporations. Every minute of every practice is accounted for. Every possible situation is repeated many times during practices. An ECU opponent knows that every time, the Pirates will be prepared.

The Sporting News knows all about Lewis and the East Carolina football program. Before last season, the newspaper had the Pirate program rated among the Top 20 of the 1990s.

Knowledgeable football people know about Lewis and what he has done with the East Carolina football program.

"In Bill Lewis, East Carolina has a coach that is capable of taking that program and making it one of the top programs in the country," said Dallas Cowboys coach Jimmy Johnson. "Bill Lewis, in addition to being a close friend of mine, has a great football mind, and has the energy and enthusiasm necessary to make ECU a great football program."

Lewis came to East Carolina from the University of Georgia, where he was a defensive backfield coach for nine seasons during which, he was also the defensive coordinator for the last eight.

"At the University of Georgia, I learned the importance of the consistency of success," said Lewis. "I was fortunate to be a part of that program for nine years. During those nine years, we went to nine consecutive bowl games."

Not only did Georgia go to nine bowl games during Lewis' stint at the school, but the Bulldogs also won three Southeastern Conference titles and a national championship in 1980. He coached 23 All-SEC selections and seven All-Americas, including Terry Hoage of the Philadelphia Eagles, John Little and Jeff Sanchez, all defensive backs.

Vince Dooley, head coach of the Bulldogs while Lewis was an assistant there, has high marks for the Pirate mentor.

"Bill Lewis has all the qualities to be a successful head coach," said Dooley. "He knows the game of football, he's extremely well organized and is a tireless worker. He is an excellent communicator."

Before arriving at Georgia, Lewis was the head coach at the University of Wyoming. In three years at the Laramie school, Lewis led the Cowboys to a 13-21-1 record and had offensive tackle Dennis Baker and linebacker Ken Fantetti make All-America status.

A 28-year coaching veteran, Lewis has also been an assistant coach at Arkansas (1973-76), Georgia Tech (1971-73), Wake Forest (1969-71), Pittsburgh (1966-68) and East Stroudsburg State (1963-65), his alma mater.

Lewis graduated from East Stroudsburg in 1963, earning a B.S. degree in Health and Physical Education. While attending school there, he was a Little All-America selection at quarterback and a team captain of the football and baseball teams, while lettering four years.

He left college to play in the Detroit Tigers minor league organization for two years as a pitcher before returning to his alma mater to work on his graduate degree and work as a part-time football coach. While in baseball, Lewis reached the AA level and played with much of what became the Tigers' 1968 World Series championship team.

A native of Bristol, Pa., Lewis participated in football, baseball, gymnastics and basketball at Delhaas Junior-Senior High School.

An avid jogger, Lewis takes regular four-mile runs. He usually runs with the linemen during preseason testing. He has been clocked at 6:49 in the mile run.

Lewis and his wife, Sandy, are the parents of three children, Mark (24), a third-year law student at University of Georgia School of Law, Gregg (21), a senior at the U.S. Air Force Academy and Geoff (19), a sophomore at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill. Mark's wife, Wendy, is a graduate of the University of Georgia, and is currently working in a law firm in Athens, Ga.

ECU Director of Athletics

Dave Hart, Jr.

Dave Hart, Jr., who has gained national recognition for his innovative ideas in the field of marketing, promotions and fundraising, enters his fourth year as East Carolina University's director of athletics.

Hart was appointed athletics director on December 21, 1987 by ECU Chancellor Dr. Richard Eakin.

"Dave has an exceptional understanding of all aspects of athletic administration, has a strong commitment to excellence and integrity throughout the men's and women's programs, and possesses, in my judgment, the leadership qualities necessary to develop our athletic program and move it to new levels of achievement," said Eakin.

Since that appointment, Hart has become one of the most respected athletic administrators in college athletics. Just one month into his new position, Hart was appointed to the NCAA's prestigious Committee on Integrity and Image in College Athletics, which is chaired by Georgia Tech director of athletics Homer Rice. He also chairs the Marketing Committee and serves on the Financial Committee for the Colonial Athletic Association, and serves on the Division 1-A Institutional Control Committee.

Hart is a popular speaker at the national level and has authored articles for a number of national publications in the areas of marketing, promotions, fundraising, and effective program management. He has made numerous speaking presentations at NCAA conventions and seminars, and during the past six National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) conventions, has served as an instructor at the Management Institute.

Since becoming Director of Athletics, Hart has structured several programs of significance within the Department which include a comprehensive Student Development Program for all student-athletes, NCAA compliance workshops, anti-drug and alcohol programs, and a student-athlete code of conduct and manual. During Hart's term as Director of Athletics, ECU student-athletes have made significant progress academically. At the same time, ECU's percentage of special admissions for athletes has dropped to 2% during Hart's tenure which is the second lowest percentage in the country according to published data in the Chronicle of Higher Education.

Facility enhancement has also been very evident during Hart's tenure. Renovations to Minges Coliseum, Scales Field House (non-revenue sports), Harrington Field (baseball), the Ficklen Stadium Press Box and the football practice facility, compliment very nicely ECU's beautiful new Sports Medicine Complex which is one of the finest facilities of its kind in the entire nation.

Further expansion of Ficklen Stadium and Minges Coliseum, as well as construction of an indoor tennis facility, are among projects which loom in Hart's plans for further facility upgrades.

Pirate athletics continue to gain in exposure and credibility under Hart's tenure. Pirate football is ready to make its mark at the national level, opening the 1991 season on ESPN while the ECU baseball team just completed its third consecutive trip to the NCAA tournament, and the Pirate golf team captured their third CAA golf crown in the last four years.

Hart was named associate director of athletics for external relations and executive director of the Pirate Club in 1985. His duties included the raising of funds for athletic scholarships through the Pirate Club, as well as overseeing all external areas of the athletic department.

During his first two years in that position, the Pirate Club experienced record-setting growth as it surpassed the coveted $1 million mark in contributions for the first time ever. The 1987 campaign saw another record performance under his direction as the Club exceeded the $1.2 million level.

Hart first joined the ECU athletic department in 1983 as an assistant athletic director for marketing. It was the first time that ECU had ever employed a full-time staff member for marketing, and it immediately brought dividends.

ECU's marketing program gained national attention for the rapid growth in crowd participation through tailgating and other promotional efforts. Hart was also responsible for implementing the "Great Pirate Purple/Gold Pigskin Pig-Out Party," which is a weekend extravaganza surrounding the spring football game.

Additionally, attendance at home football games increased greatly as evidenced by the fact that nine of the top 12 crowds in Ficklen Stadium history have entered the turnstiles since the 1983 season. Promotional ventures such as the "Ain't It Great to Tailgate" idea have added to the atmosphere at Pirate home games.

Hart, just the fifth athletic director in ECU history, received his undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Alabama, earning a B.S. in English/Speech in 1971 and a master's degree in 1972. He attended Alabama on a basketball scholarship and was a graduate assistant coach for the Crimson Tide program in 1972. He won nine varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball and at Annapolis (MD) High School, where he was also an All-State basketball and football player.

He is married to the former Pam Humble of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and they have three children — Ricky (19), Jamie (17) and Kelly (14).

The Hart Family: (l-r) Jamie, Dave, Pam, Ricky and Kelly.

East Carolina University

East Carolina University is a diverse, comprehensive university known for academic quality and for the pursuit of excellence in those areas most compatible with its mission, history and opportunities.

Founded in 1907 as a normal school for the training of teachers, ECU has grown and developed in progressive stages as a liberal arts college, a regional university and since 1972, part of the 16-campus University of North Carolina system. ECU was designated a university by an act of the legislature in 1967.

With an on-campus enrollment of nearly 17,000 students, ECU is organized into academic and health sciences divisions. It has a College of Arts and Sciences with 22 academic departments and professional Schools of Medicine, Nursing, Allied Health Sciences, Business, Education, Industry and Technology, Human Environmental Sciences, Social Work, Music and Art. It has a research-oriented Graduate School which offers advanced degrees including the PhD and the doctorate of education, a Division of Continuing Education, the University College (night classes) and offers many non-credit educational programs both on and off campus.

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

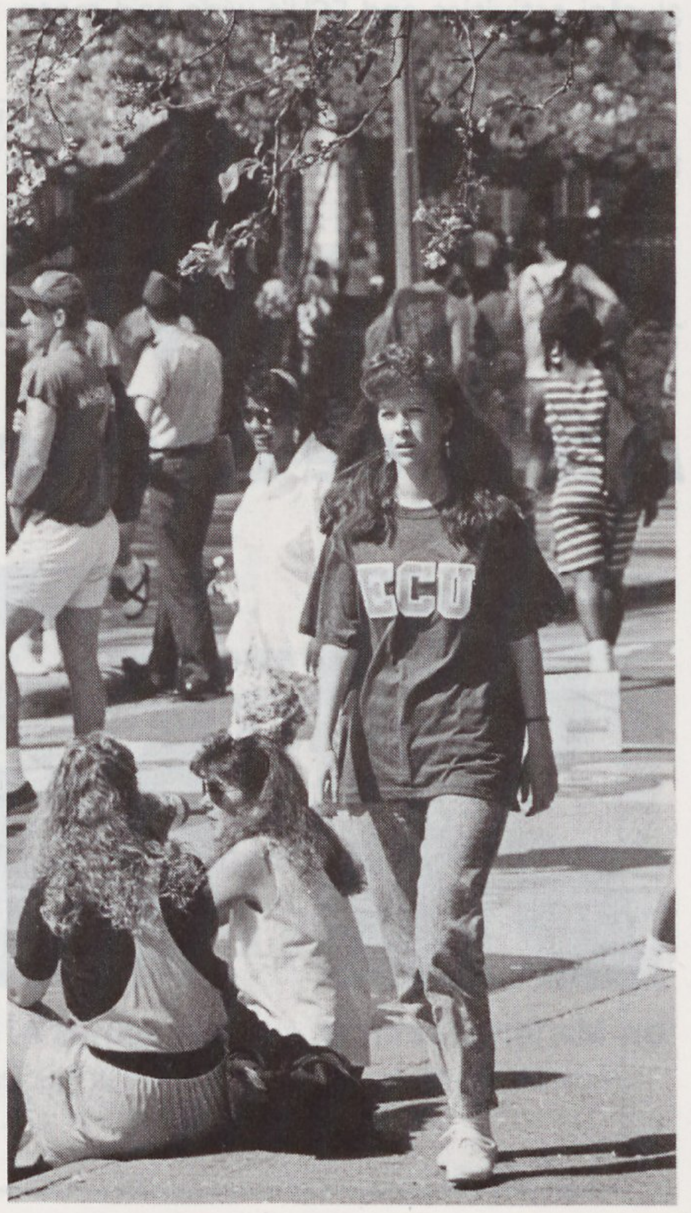

ECU's strategic goals include achieving distinction in undergraduate education, a commitment to excellence in teaching, respect for individual rights and human diversity, to expand doctoral programs, strengthen and stimulating of research, scholarship and creative activity, improve teacher education, to stimulate improvement in public schools, to recruit and support academically proficient and talented students and to advance the university effectively.

ECU has established a Center for International Studies. The University admitted the first doctoral students in educational leadership in the fall of 1990. It has gained international attention for its graduate program in Maritime History and Underwater Research.

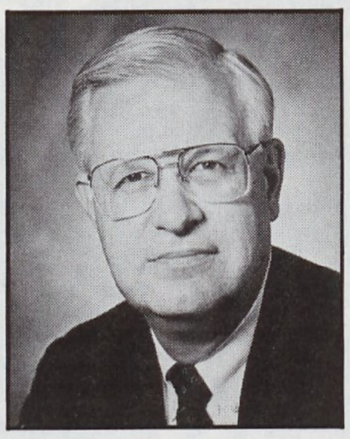

With two commencements each year, ECU confers degrees upon 3,500 students annually and has more than 65,000 living alumni around the world. Its on-campus enrollment makes ECU the third largest university in the state of North Carolina and off-campus extension programs and non-credit educational offerings attract an additional 3,000 students per year.

ECU is a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) with Division 1A programs in 10 men's and eight women's sports. In football, ECU is independently (non-conference) aligned, while most other programs are affiliated with the Colonial Athletic Association.

ECU Chancellor

Dr. Richard Eakin

Chancellor Richard R. Eakin has a vision of greatness for East Carolina University.

It is a vision of a relatively young university achieving ivy-mantled maturity and distinction in many fields and of attaining a clear ranking and image among the very best in academics, scholarship, research, athletics, outreach and service.

He sees ECU shining as a powerful beacon of light showing the way to a better quality of life for all of the people of the state and region.

With enthusiasm and remarkable stamina, Chancellor Eakin vigorously pursues this vision around the clock. During the nearly five years that he has headed this third largest university in North Carolina, he has been zealous and tireless in his quest. And ECU today bears the stamp of the Eakin administration—credentials of excellence, thoroughness, fresh pride, sound planning and substantial progress.

Chancellor Eakin takes keen personal interest in the well-being and opportunities of ECU's nearly 17,000 students, in the University's academic and athletic programs, in its alumni activities and ECU's wide and meaningful range of interactions with its publics.

At Dr. Eakin's direction, the University spent two years carefully charting strategic plans which are to serve as a blueprint for development into the 21st century. Now being implemented, the plans call for further upgrading of academic programs, strengthening of the undergraduate curricula, additional doctoral level programs, concentrated research activity and increased participation in community affairs and public service.

ECU is moving forward with campus beautification, modernization of facilities, campus improvements and expansion including a top-priority $26 million library expansion, along with programs to improve the quality of campus life.

Based upon its 84-year heritage of teaching, intellectual and cultural stimulation, service and a proud reputation for excellence, East Carolina already stands as an institution of distinction and pride in the region. During the past decade, its medical school-centered health care services and related programs have added a national reputation.

The University's level of private financial support ranks high among the nation's public, comprehensive universities and adds significantly to the margin of excellence found at ECU.

The ninth chief executive officer in the school's history, Dr. Eakin came to East Carolina University in March, 1987, with a strong background in higher education administration.

As a professor of mathematics, Eakin began his career in 1964 at Bowling Green State University in Ohio and served there as vice president before being selected to become chancellor of ECU in the 16-campus University of North Carolina.

A native of New Castle, Pennsylvania, Dr. Eakin earned a bachelor's degree in mathematics and physics, summa cum laude, from Geneva College in 1960. At Geneva, he was president of the Student Senate and Class Valedictorian. He was awarded a master's degree from Washington State University in 1962 and the doctorate in mathematics with a minor in economics from Washington State in 1964.

He and his wife, the former Jo Ann McGeehan, have two adult children, Matthew and Maridy.

ECU Marching Pirates

East Carolina's Marching Pirates have enjoyed an outstanding reputation throughout a large geographic area for decades. Their reputation is largely due to the emphasis placed on student leadership ... and the results of that student leadership which is viewed by approximately 200,000 individuals each fall. Student leaders are organized by the Marching Band Director who delegates responsibility as well as the authority to successfully accomplish these responsibilities.

Much of the preparation such as writing music and drill, choreography, and other visual enhancement of the music rests in the hands of student leaders such as Steve Purifoy (Graduate Teaching Assistant), Stacy Loggins (Drum Instructor), Ashley Thornton (Colorguard Instructor), and Wendy Thomas (Golden Girl Choreographer).

The band is under the field leadership of Drum Majors Donny Allen, Courtney Jones, and Jennifer Pack. Equally important are the section leaders who are responsible for polishing their section's performance. Returning this year are Tracy Randazzo (Flute), Chip Crotts and Rusty Smith (Trumpet), Abigail Pack (Mellophone), Marcus Perry (Tuba), and Wayne Viar (Percussion).

The Marching Pirates serve as a model for high school and college bands through their wide range of musical selections and eclectic marching style. This year's show promises again to feature the Marching Pirates' "solid wall of sound" in a high-energy performance.

ECU Pirate Tradition

Here's To The Pirates

by Mitch Doub, Joe Distefano, Tom Goolsby, Phil Marnell

Here's to the Pirates of ECU!
We're going to raise
our battle flag high,
We're going to sing it long,
Shout it loud;
And then they'll know
That we are Pirate Proud.
Because the battle's been fought,
And now it's won,
And everybody knows that we're Number One!
Because we're full of Pride,
We've got them bowing
to our side,
Here's to ECU!

Traditional

by Ron Jacobs

We're from East Carolina
the Purple and Gold;
The Pirates of the country
No others quite as bold.

— GO PIRATES —

Stand up for the Pirates
As we go to the Victory
So let's give 'em a hand
Come on folks, Let's stand!
and show 'em, we're from EC!

Alma Mater

of East Carolina University

Praise to your name so fair,
Dear old East Carolina.
Your joys we'll all share
And your friends we'll ever be.
We pledge our loyalty
And our heart's devotion.
To Thee, our Alma Mater
Love and Praise.

School Colors

Old Gold and Royal Purple were established as the official ECU colors in 1909.

Nickname

The Pirate, a symbol of East Carolina University and its athletic teams, was adopted from the legend and lore of coastal North Carolina and was a natural choice for a nickname when intercollegiate athletics began at the school more than 57 years ago.

Pirates, fierce and colorful, were prominent in North Carolina's colonial period. The state's Outer Banks which jut far out into the Atlantic were ideal hideouts for these legendary gangsters of the high seas. Many had homes and families in small villages along the Carolina coast.

East Carolina University's interest in pirates and sea lore began in 1934. That year, the Tecoan, the yearbook for what was then East Carolina Teachers College, carried pirates as its theme. The pages were filled with paintings and sketches of patched eye figures, tall ships and buried treasure. The book referred to the tales of the infamous "Teachy the Pirate" often told by natives in the nearby historic town of Bath.

Retired Numbers

Three numbers have been retired in the history of East Carolina University's football program. Those are numbers 16, 18, and 29.

The jersey number 16 was last worn by Robert Faris, a kicker from Falls Church, Va. Faris was killed in an automobile accident while returning to campus for fall practice prior to his senior season in 1967.

The jersey number 18 was last worn by Norman Swindell, a blocking back from New Bern. The most valuable player on the 1965 team, Swindell drowned near his home during the Christmas holidays following the 1965 season.

The jersey number 29 was worn by James Speight, running back from Greenville. The MVP of the 1957 and 1959 squads, Speight still holds the school record for most points in a single game with 26, while third on the all-time rushing list with 2,700 career yards.

Pirate Spirit

Pirates™

Each year, the spirit of East Carolina University is conveyed through the Cheerleading, Mascot and Pure Gold Dancers' programs. Each program has a unique blend of ECU spirit and tradition which they share through ECU athletic events and other involvement with the university and the community. The demands and responsibilities are numerous and the rewards of representing ECU are endless.

The Cheerleading program is divided into two groups. The Purple Squad serves as the varsity squad and appears at home and away football games and at men's basketball games. The Gold Squad cheers at home football games and women's basketball games. The Purple and Gold Squads also cheer for all East Carolina Inter-Collegiate Athletic Programs, such as soccer, volleyball and swimming and diving. Both squads also represent ECU at pep rallies, sporting events and make promotional appearances.

An important part of the cheerleading squad is the Pirate Mascot, who, in addition to football and basketball games, entertains at other Pirate athletic contests throughout the year. The Pirate also makes guest appearances at civic, social and promotional functions. Wherever he goes, the Pirate is recognized as the trademark of East Carolina University.

The Pure Gold Dancers can be seen at a variety of events throughout the year. The Dancers perform at basketball games, football socials, pep rallies, community events and for the Pirate Chapters in North Carolina. The Dancers also volunteer their time hostessing athletic events such as Pirate Club socials and the annual Purple/Gold Pigskin Pig-Out Party.

Tryouts for the cheerleading squads, the mascot and Pure Gold Dancers occur in both spring and fall.

The advantages, rewards and opportunities of the programs speak for themselves and make the efforts worthwhile.

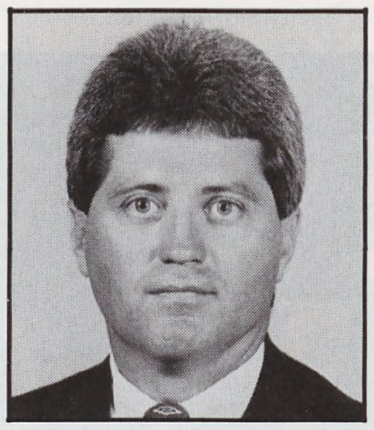

Shannon Smith, a graduate of Clemson University, begins his first season as ECU's cheerleading and mascot coach and Pure Gold Dancer coordinator.

Smith, from Lyman, SC, cheered for the Tigers for three years and served as head cheerleader his senior year. This past season, he directed the Clemson routine that earned the Tigers a chance to compete at the National Cheerleading Competition. While at the nationals, Smith was ranked 12th in the nation in partner stunts. He is also active in the University Cheerleaders Association where he has served as an instructor for high school and college cheerleading squads.

ECU Athletics Hall of Fame

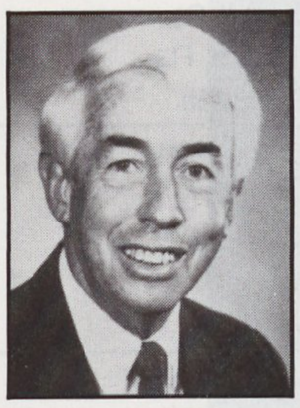

Four to be honored during next week's Hall of Fame Weekend

Charlie Adams, Debbie Freeman, Jerry Tolley, and Jerry Woodside will join a long list of distinguished honorees in East Carolina athletic history when honored as the 1991 inductees of the ECU Athletics Hall of Fame during next weekend's Hall of Fame festivities.

The ECU Athletics Hall of Fame was initiated as an organization to honor those individuals who have brought outstanding recognition to themselves and to the University. This year's four inductees bring a total of 54 members to the Hall of Fame which inducted its first members in 1974.

The 1991 inductees each have brought to ECU Athletics a unique story and made individual contributions to the development of the program. To them and the previous inductees of the Hall of Fame, we thank you for continuing the ECU tradition.

CHARLIE ADAMS

Hall-of-Fame inductee Charles H. Adams was more surprised than anyone when one day in the middle of August, he received the call from ECU's Lee Workman, telling him he would be honored in 1991.

"The East Carolina Hall-of-Fame induction is the nicest thing that could have ever happened to me in my life, just to put it in proper perspective," says Adams. "When I was a little boy, I dreamed of being in a Hall-of-Fame and now it has come true."

When Adams was a little boy, he had a childhood that few people possess and those who do not, can only admire.

"I had the happiest childhood that any kid could have ever wanted," said Adams joyfully.

Adams, a native of Cary, North Carolina, played sports when he was young. "When I lived in Cary there wasn't a whole lot to do in your spare time, so my friends and I would play sports. Those sports would keep us occupied because they lasted all year. We'd play football, basketball, and then baseball."

While Adams attended Cary High School, he managed to letter in each of those three sports by his graduation in 1954.

Adams then moved on to the next phase of his life by becoming a student of East Carolina University in the mid 1950's. He had to make a decision about the team he would play on while at East Carolina, and he chose basketball. While playing for the Pirates, his teams had a cumulative record of 41-29 with the assistance of his great outside shooting.

Adams remembers, "My dream as a child was to play college athletics, in particular college basketball."

Adams graduated from ECU in 1959 with his bachelor of science degree in Physical Education and Social Studies. Then after a three year period in the United States Army, he returned to East Carolina and completed the requirements for his master's degree in administration in education in 1962, with additional advanced work at North Carolina State University (1966-67).

"East Carolina was five of the happiest years of my life," reflects Adams. "It [his ECU experience] was one of the main reasons for where I am today. It opened a lot of doors for me. The thing that I will remember most about ECU is the people. I remember the friendships that I acquired and many of which I still associate with today as being coaches, deans of administration, or principals in North Carolina," said Adams.

Once Adams had achieved his goals of attending a college, playing college basketball, and graduating with his bachelor's and master's degrees, he knew he could do anything he wanted and it was time to move on in his life.

"I knew that I couldn't play basketball my entire life, and I wanted to be associated with sports all the time, so I did the next best thing to playing the sport — I taught and coached it."

After a year of coaching in Laurel, Delaware and four years as basketball coach in Cary, N.C., Adams had decided again that it was time to move up farther on the ladder of athletics. He next turned to Athletic Administration in Garner, N.C., where he was assistant principal, dean of men and athletic director for a year. Then again, Adams moved up another step to become assistant executive director and supervisor of officials for the North Carolina High School Athletic Association (NCHSAA), where he held that position for 25 years.

"When my predecessor retired in 1984, I saw an opportunity to move up and improve my life and make me even happier, so I took it," said Adams. And on July 1, 1984, he was promoted to Executive Director to the NCHSAA.

"I am very satisfied with what I am doing right now, and if I had the chance to do my life all over again, I would do it the exact same way."

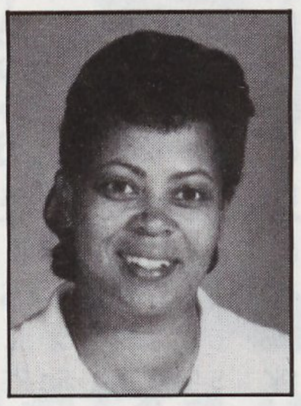

Adams has passed up quite a few opportunities to move into the business field and other fields of work, choosing to stay where he knew he would remain happy and content.

Adams is proud of his East Carolina Hall-of-Fame induction, but says it has yet to change his life.

"I barely have time to let it set in, so what I think I am going to do is just that, let it settle in and enjoy my life. I am just going to continue to live the same way. I am excited to get up from bed every morning and always enjoy going to work."

DEBBIE FREEMAN

By the time she was in the eighth grade at Jacksonville Junior High School, Debbie Freeman knew she wanted to go to college at East Carolina University. Kathy Postlewait, who was later named as an ECU Hall of Fame inductee, was a student teacher for Freeman, and impressed Freeman with the professionalism she exhibited.

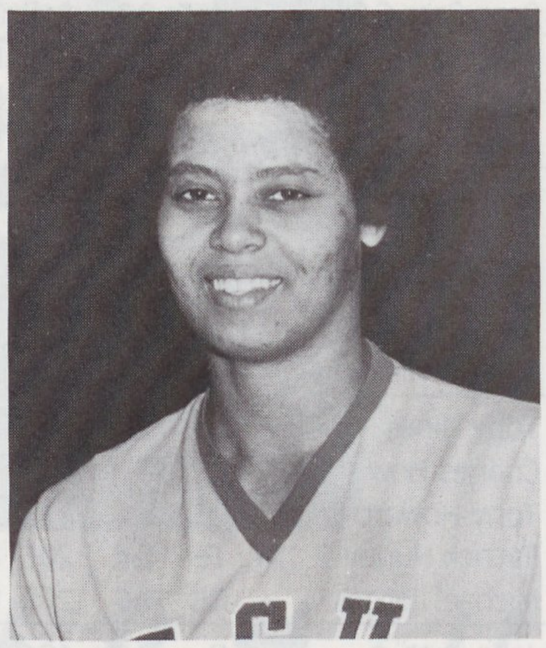

Freeman went to basketball camp at ECU between her sophomore and junior years, and applied to East Carolina upon graduation.

From there, Freeman went on to rewrite the ECU record books, winning eleven letters on the way. Not bad, considering her high school didn't get an athletic program until her senior year, and then only a track and field program.

By the time she was at East Carolina, Freeman says she was, "starved for competition," and was ready to try anything they threw at her.

Freeman never played organized volleyball before coming to East Carolina, but still managed to win a starting position all four years at ECU and earn All-State and team MVP honors her senior season.

She was the most valuable player on the 1976 and 1977 ECU women's basketball teams, and was also a three-time NCAIAW Division I All-State selection. While playing, she set records for most field goals in a game (16), most free throws in a game (13), most field goal attempts in a season (468); most rebounds in a season (237); best scoring average (22.8); and best rebounding average (13.2). Freeman still holds the records for field goals in a game, and single-game rebounds with 26. She is also third in all-time scoring with 1,570 points and third in all-time rebounds with 955.

Debbie Freeman

While accomplishing much in the volleyball and basketball arenas, Freeman had more experience in track and field than any other sport, it being the only organized sport offered by her high school.

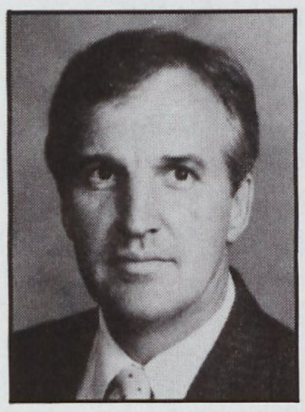

While at ECU, Freeman, a three-year letter winner in track and field, was the 1978 NCAIAW Field Events MVP as well as NCAIAW champion in discus and shot put.

Freeman is now in her sixth year as a teacher and a coach at Raleigh's Broughton High School. During her six years coaching, her teams have won five conference championships, one sectional championship, a regional championship, and was runner-up in the Class 4-A in 1990. Her teams have a record of 220-85.

Debbie Freeman was looking for good competition in her four years at ECU, and hasn't stopped yet.

JERRY TOLLEY

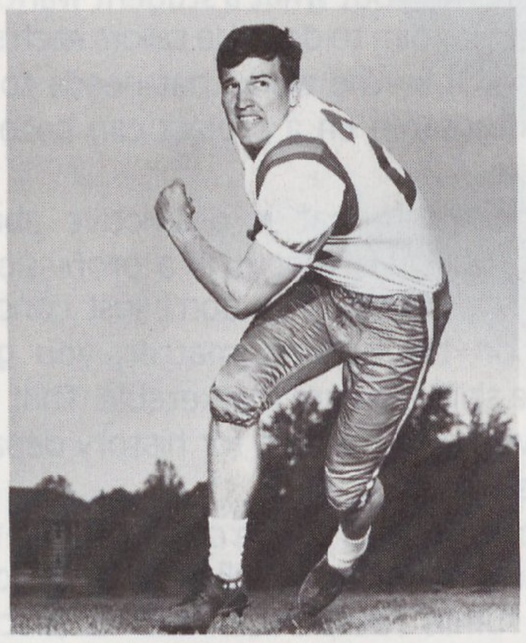

Jerry Tolley has been climbing the ladder of success his entire life, and he knows what it means to be successful. Success has come to Tolley in a variety of ways: playing football at ECU, coaching at Elon College, Assistant Vice President for Training of Roche Biomedical Laboratories, Mayor of the Town of Elon College and a 1991 inductee to ECU's Hall of Fame.

Tolley, a 1965 ECU graduate, earned three letters playing for the Pirate football team. During that period he played under head coach Clarence Stasavich, won back to back bowl games and was given the E.E. Rawl Award for the senior athlete who best exemplified academic excellence and outstanding character.

Tolley's name is still engraved in Pirate record books, including the sixth longest kickoff return (92 yards against Western Carolina in 1963), and being the team statistical leader in 1962 for pass receiving, kick off and punt returns.

"ECU was a wonderful place to play, and when I was there we really started to move up," Tolley said. "I'm still a big Pirate fan. There isn't a day that goes by that I don't pick up a paper or listen to the radio to hear how they're doing."

Jerry Tolley

Tolley's career in college football continued from 1977-1981 at Elon College where he served as the head coach.

His team won the National Championship in 1980 and 1981 and was the runner-up in 1978. He racked up a 49-11-2 record and has the best winning percentage (80.6) of all football coaches in the history of collegiate football in North Carolina.

"Being national champs at Elon, I got so caught up in it that I never had time to enjoy it. Now, it's fun to reflect on it.

"As a coach, I held a very relaxed practice. A lot of principles I used were based on Clarence [Stasavich's] philosophy. He was such a great, well-respected coach nationally that I wanted to follow in his footsteps," he said.

The principles he used earned him National Coach of the Year in 1980 and now he ranks in the top 10 Winningest Retired Football Coaches in the history of intercollegiate football nationwide (all divisions, five or more seasons).

Tolley's involvement with football also led him to writing. He has authored several coaching books including The American Football Coaches Guide to Championship Football Drill which is sold in over 25 countries.

"Coaching was a great experience for me, but now I don't miss it. I was just lucky enough that I happened to win two national titles," Tolley said.

Tolley is now a very involved individual with his two sons Jay and Justin, work and community. His wife Joan is also an ECU graduate and an elementary teacher for over 20 years. In 1989, she received the Outstanding Educators Award from ECU.

For the past five years, Tolley has been working for Roche Biomedical Laboratories, and is now the Assistant Vice President for Training.

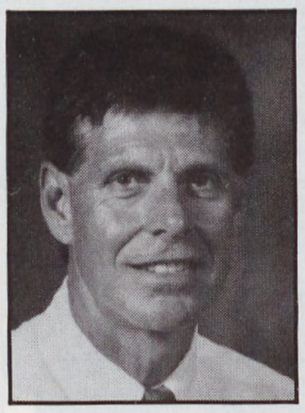

Tolley also served as the Mayor of the Town of Elon College. He was on the Board of Aldermen and then decided to run for mayor. He said, "It's a lot of fun serving as mayor. I try to do as much as I can."

Along with his duties as mayor he is on the board for the Thomas E. Powell Foundation and the Alamance County Foundation, which are policy making boards.

Tolley will continue to climb up the ladder of success and this year's induction to ECU's Athletic Hall of Fame was another step along the way.

JERRY WOODSIDE

"There were and still are a lot of special people at East Carolina," says ECU Hall of Fame Inductee Jerry Woodside. "The positive and constructive way they handled things helped me succeed."

The former East Carolina basketball player was recruited by Earl Smith and played basketball under Wendell Carr. While playing under Carr, Woodside was the scoring average leader in 1965 and 1966 and was a three-time leader in field goal percentage.

Woodside attended East Carolina from 1962 to 1966. In this four year span, Woodside accumulated many school records. He holds the career record for the most free throws made (299), is second in career field-goal percentage (.540), seventh in career field goals made (445) and ninth in career rebounds (542). In addition, he is seventh on the all-time scoring list with 1,189 points.

Woodside decided that he wanted to share his knowledge of basketball with kids and in 1966 he graduated from ECU with a B.S. in Health and Physical Education. He then attended N.C. A & T where he left with an M.S. in Administration.

"I started coaching when I was fifteen. I was helping with a Little League team and one of the coaches had a heart attack. He asked me to coach the kids. I think there were only three games left in the season but it touched me."

Woodside recently returned to Greenville as J.H. Rose High School's head basketball coach. Previously, Woodside coached at Cummings High School in Burlington. There he was voted the Mid-State Coach of the Year six times and was an Outstanding Young Educator Finalist. He also led his teams to eleven Conference Championships in the past twelve years, five District Championships and was District Runner-Up twice.

"I stress academics," Woodside says. "You have to work hard and pass the work."

"Doing well academically opens up options for the kids and one of these options is athletics. To survive in today's society you have to have a lot of options."

Woodside is a true believer in hard work and has been successful in the options he chose. Because of his success, ECU is proud to honor him.

A Precise, Painstaking Hobby Pays Off

Historian Relaxes With Research On Ship Model Details

By Fran Casey, ECU News Bureau

Fascination for things nautical and naval began for John A. Tilley when he was only five years old. He treasured a plastic model of a famous vessel of 1492, the Santa Maria, and his father, a World War II sailor, told him exciting stories of the sea.

The lad, a land-lubber growing up in Columbus, Ohio, longed to learn more about shipboard life of early sailors and about the ships they sailed. In a few years, young John Tilley was reading and researching and writing book reports about ships, models of which he put together painstakingly from kits.

And then in graduate school at the Ohio State University, while writing his dissertation on navies of the American Revolution, Tilley worked on a model of the U.S. frigate Hancock as a way to relieve stress.

The Hancock was a project that he could take his time doing, and he did it so well that he proudly displays that model in his office in the Department of History at East Carolina University.

Using Scholarly Evidence

This stress-relieving hobby grew into serious proportions. After working with kit models, Tilley began researching sets of plans from which to build his models.

As a good historian should, he paid careful attention to detail. He thought:

"Here is this historical project I am going to try to reproduce as accurately as I possibly can, using all of the scholarly evidence I can find in a reasonable amount of time at my disposal.

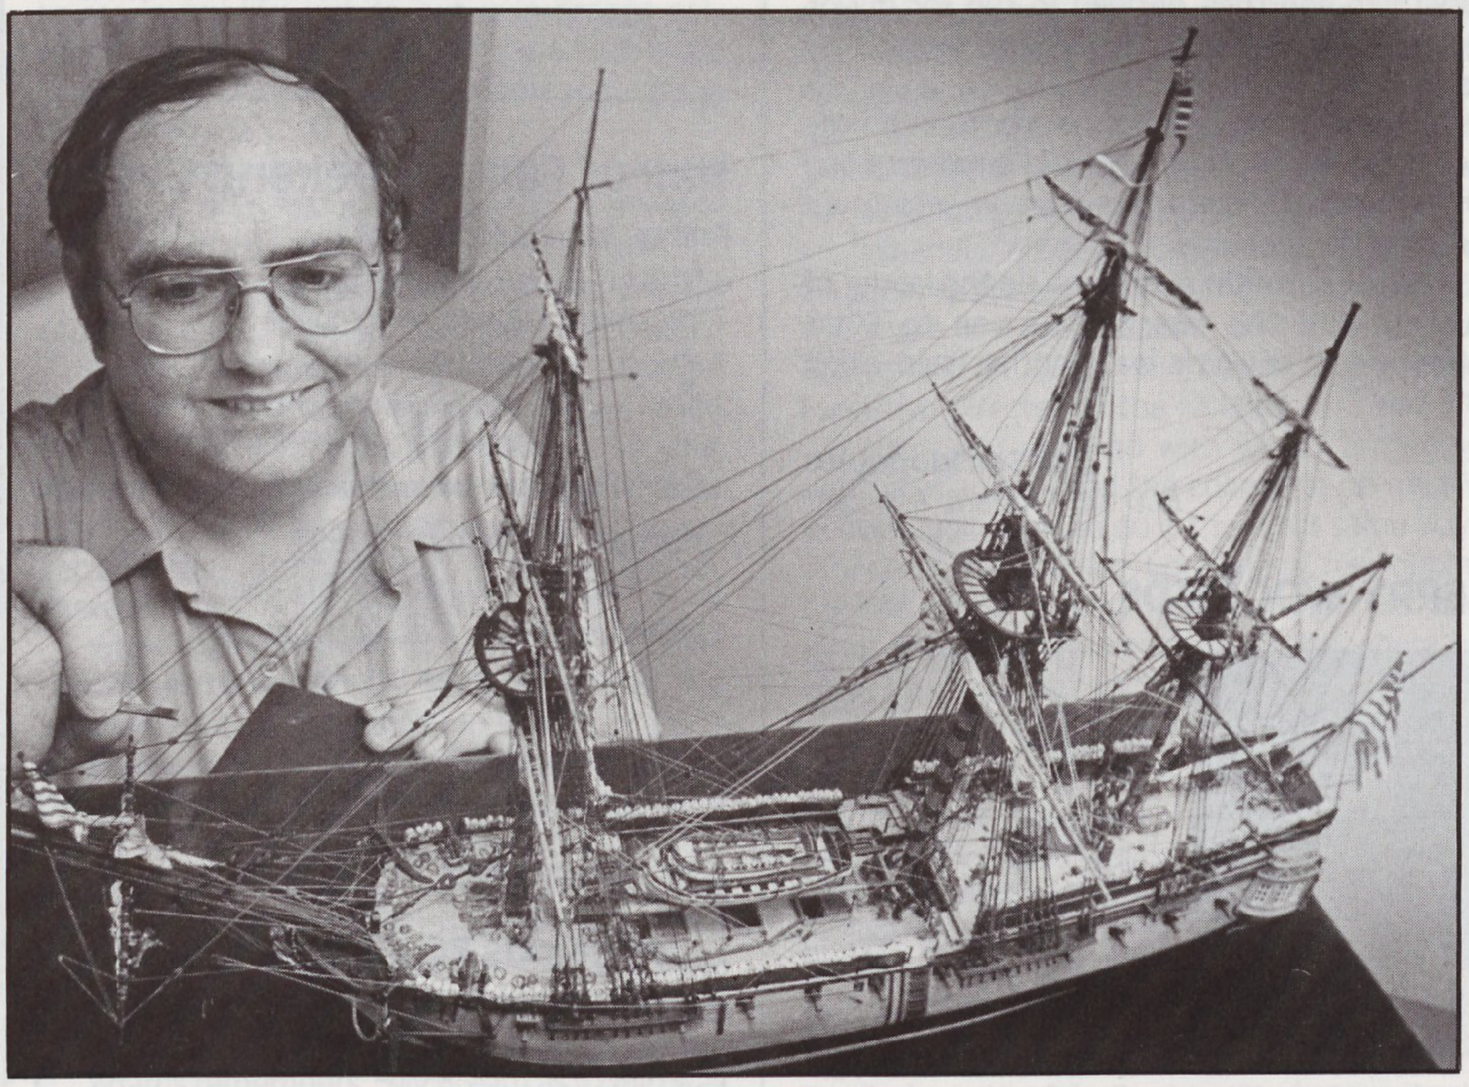

"The research becomes very precise," he said.

"A ship modeler has to know more about that ship than anybody else except the people who built it. You find yourself being forced into finding all kinds of bits of trivia."

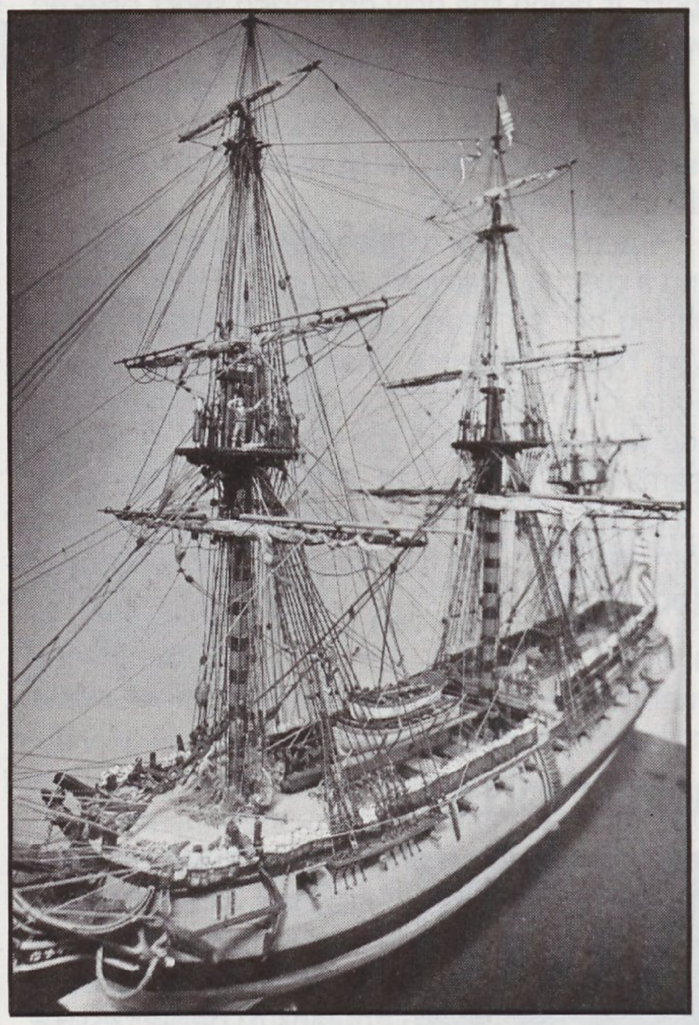

For his ship model research, Tilley built an extensive collection of naval history works. This became the underpinning for a career as a maritime historian.

Wins Gold Medals

Tilley's model of the famous HMS Bounty won gold medals at the 1980 Mariners' Museum model shipbuilding contest in Newport News, Va., where he was offered a post as assistant curator of collections.

ECU history professor John A. Tilley describes the detail of his model of the U.S. frigate Hancock displayed in his office.

A close-up photo of the frigate Hancock model. Note the seamen in the rigging.

His work centered on artifact exhibits in the Great Hall of Steam and Ship Model Gallery. In 1983 he was appointed to the history faculty at ECU to teach museum studies in the department's public history program.

Professional Training Program

His goal is to reassure history students that the museum profession is a marketable industry.

"People in the United States go to museums more than sporting events or amusement parks. There are thousands of museums with many more opening their doors every year," he said.

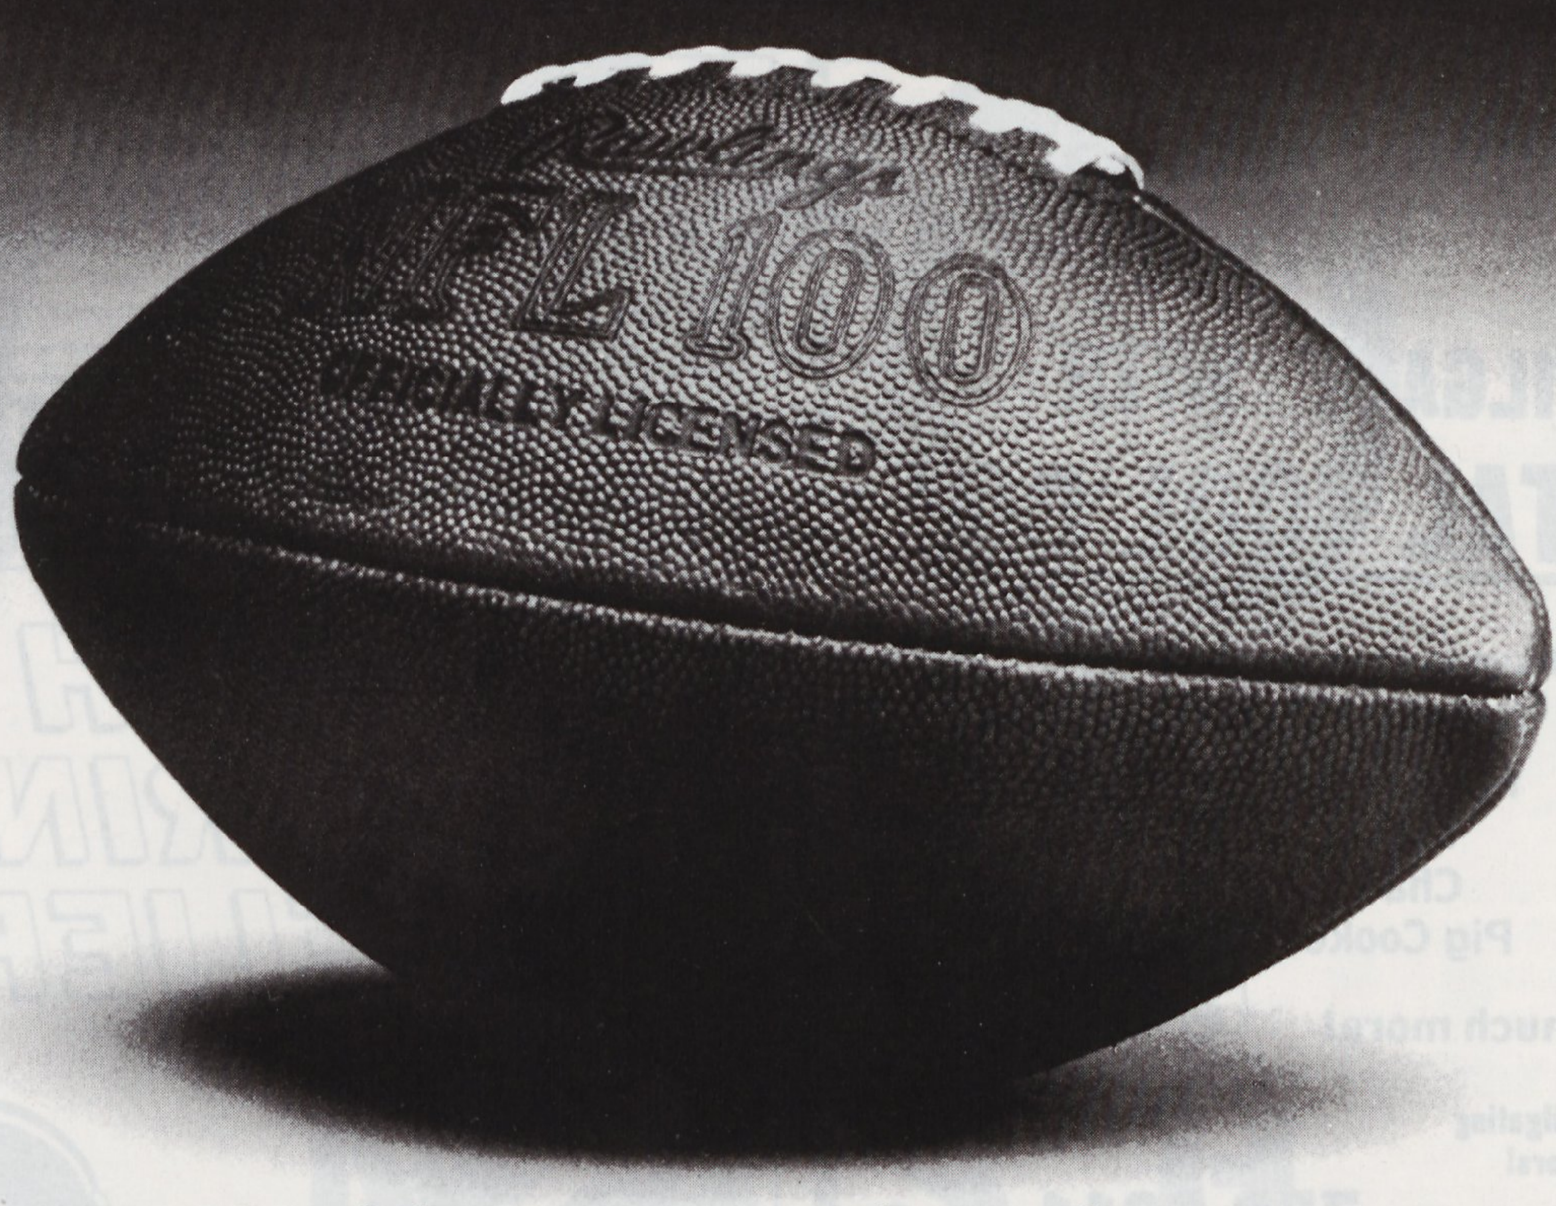

"If students have the ability going into the program and if they are determined, they will get a job in a museum."

Tilley finds out what a student wants to do and tells him to do it. He tailors each student's skill to the work that needs to be done. Research on a project can become intense.

"The thing that is distinctive about public history is that it is a professional training program. You don't just concentrate on the subject matter, you give people skills that are marketable. That is a relatively new concept for history departments," he says.

From the registration of artifacts to the organization of staff, Tilley feels the program fulfills "desperate need" in placing people in jobs.

Ficklen Stadium

The James Skinner Ficklen Memorial Stadium was dedicated on September 21, 1963, with East Carolina defeating Wake Forest 20-10.

The dedication game was the culmination of a dream come true for then East Carolina College and all of eastern North Carolina. The original plan was announced on Oct. 7, 1961, by Dr. Leo Jenkins, Chancellor of the College, at a meeting of the Society of Buccaneers.

Within a year, $283,387 had been raised, although the goal had been only $200,000. With the funds in hand, Ficklen Stadium was built.

The original stadium consisted of the permanent stands on the south side, a small press box and the old lighting system which was removed after the 1974 season. Total cost was $300,000.

The north side permanent seating was constructed in 1968, increasing the stadium seating capacity to 20,000.

The stadium was named for the late James Skinner Ficklen, a Greenville resident, who distinguished himself as one of America's leading tobacconists. At the time of his death in 1955, Ficklen was President and Chairman of the Board of the E.B. Ficklen Tobacco Company of Greenville. He was a close friend of the College and established a financial aid foundation, the Ficklen Foundation, to aid students of the College.

The first major change in Ficklen Stadium was the lighting system, a change that occurred just before the 1975 season opened. The old inner stadium lights on six poles were removed and replaced with six towers outside the stadium. The system is a combination of metallic and incandescent lights. There are 288 fixtures of 1500 watts each on six 162-foot towers. Cost of the system was $450,000. Engineers say ECU has the best lighted stadium in the southeast.

A radical change greeted fans as the 1978 season opened. An expansion on all four corners boosted Ficklen's seating capacity from 20,000 to 35,000, the third-largest stadium in North Carolina. This expansion was made possible with 2½ million dollars through a drive in the spring of 1977.

In addition to more seats, an ultramodern press box with three levels and an elevator for access was built. The much needed press box is one of the finest in the country with space for 92 writers and an entire floor for electronic media. Also, a modern scoreboard with a lightbank message center was placed on the east end of Ficklen.

During the summer of 1983, a complete renovation took place on the playing surface. A new drainage system, a new base of gravel and sand, new treated topsoil and a new grass was installed. The new grass, Tifton 419 Hybrid Bermuda was sprigged at the rate of 600 bushels per acre.

The 1988 season saw a new season attendance record in Ficklen Stadium as the Pirates drew a school-record 156,329 fans for six home games.

ECU Pirate Sports Network

Pirate football may be heard throughout North Carolina and portions of South Carolina and Virginia on the Pirate Sports Network.

This year's network includes the strongest lineup of stations ever with over 40 stations in three states.

All activities of the Pirate Sports Network are coordinated, produced and directed by Jeff Charles, Director of Electronic Media. The network, under Charles' direction, has more than doubled in its number of stations and advertising revenue.

For the fourth year, ECU Hall of Famer Carlester Crumpler will handle color commentary. Tom Doyle is the PSN's sideline reporter, Steve Gowan updates scores and interviews guests and Macon Dail is the engineer.

WCZI FM 98.3 is the network's flagship station. Key new additions to the network this year include WTIK AM 1310 in Durham and WPEX AM 1490 in Hampton, Va.

The 1991 season marks the fifth year of an agreement with Capitol Radio Network in Raleigh to distribute the network via satellite.

Anheuser-Busch returns for its 15th consecutive year as the primary network sponsor.

Also under the direction of the Pirate Sports Network is the Bill Lewis Radio Talk Show which is heard Sunday nights 6-7 p.m.

Charles begins his fourth year as "Voice" of the Pirates and his 12th year as a college play-by-play announcer. He came to ECU from Virginia Tech where he served as "Voice of the Hokies" for five years.

Before going to Virginia Tech, the veteran sportscaster worked at WGVL in Greenville, South Carolina where he served as the "Voice of the Furman Paladins."

The Piqua, Ohio, native has a major market broadcast background. At WSB Radio in Atlanta, he handled play-by-play duties for the Peach Bowl and hosted a nightly sports talk show on the 50,000 watt clear channel station.

The Georgia Associated Press named him the state's best play-by-play announcer and United Press International awarded him first place for the best sports coverage in the state.

Charles has also broadcast Big Ten Play-by-Play for the University of Illinois.

A Goshen College of Indiana alumnus, he is an avid physical fitness enthusiast, running an average of 15 miles per week and bench presses 285 pounds.

Charles and his wife, Debby, have two children, Heather, a freshman at ECU, and Britt, a junior at Rose High School.

1991 PSN Staff: Jeff Charles, Steve Gowan, Carlester Crumpler and Tom Doyle.

The Humble Beginnings Of A $2.1 Billion Crop.

Tobacco provides American farmers with an income of over $2.1 billion a year. It's one of the United States' most valuable money crops.

As a major supplier of U.S. leaf to world markets, A.C. Monk is a vital link between the people who grow the tobacco and the people who buy it.

And we've always tried to work in the best overall interests of both.

But we're especially proud of our working relationship with U.S. growers.

The people who work the tobacco crops, from seedlings all the way to market.

They're the people who keep the tobacco industry going. And we never forget it. MONK

Jeff Blake:

At the Helm of the Pirate Success

By Chris Stansbury
ECU SID Student Assistant

East Carolina University quarterback Jeff Blake is having a stellar year for the Pirates.

He has broken a single-season record of 1,602 yards in the 1991 season in only six games. The previous record was held by Travis Hunter who set it in 11 games.

Blake is en route to break a multitude of records at East Carolina, including the single-season marks for passing yardage (1,602), most completions (248), total offensive yards (4,138), and touchdown passes in a single game (4) and for the season (15).

Blake, whose godfather is Chicago White Sox outfielder Tim Raines, finds it hard to overlook his statistics.

"It's not too difficult to see how I have done individually," says Blake. "It seems that someone in the media is showing or telling me something that I have just done. I don't want to be considered a cocky quarterback or arrogant, I play to win."

"I like being here at ECU," says Blake, who has started the last 17 games at the helm of the Pirates. "Since my first start 'til now, I have matured a lot and am on the same line with my receivers."

East Carolina head coach Bill Lewis refers to Blake as his "Field General" and Blake welcomes the opportunity to lead the Pirates.

"I don't mind the team looking to me for a big play when it is 3rd and 15, because we can't always expect to look to Dion [Johnson], Hunter [Gallimore], or David [Daniels] to make all the big plays."

That's exactly what happened in East Carolina's 23-20 upset victory over #15 Syracuse in New York two weeks ago. Blake decided to put the ball away and run when he felt the pressure of the defense. Run, and run he did, for 43 yards and a touchdown early in the fourth quarter to put the Pirates ahead to stay. For the third time this season, Blake threw for over 300 yards against Syracuse, and led the Pirates to a 5-1 start.

Blake says he is not the same as other quarterbacks who scold their offensive line for making a mistake, he is quite the contrary.

"My job when I get on the field is to make sure everybody is calm, not too excited and that we play the best game we can play."

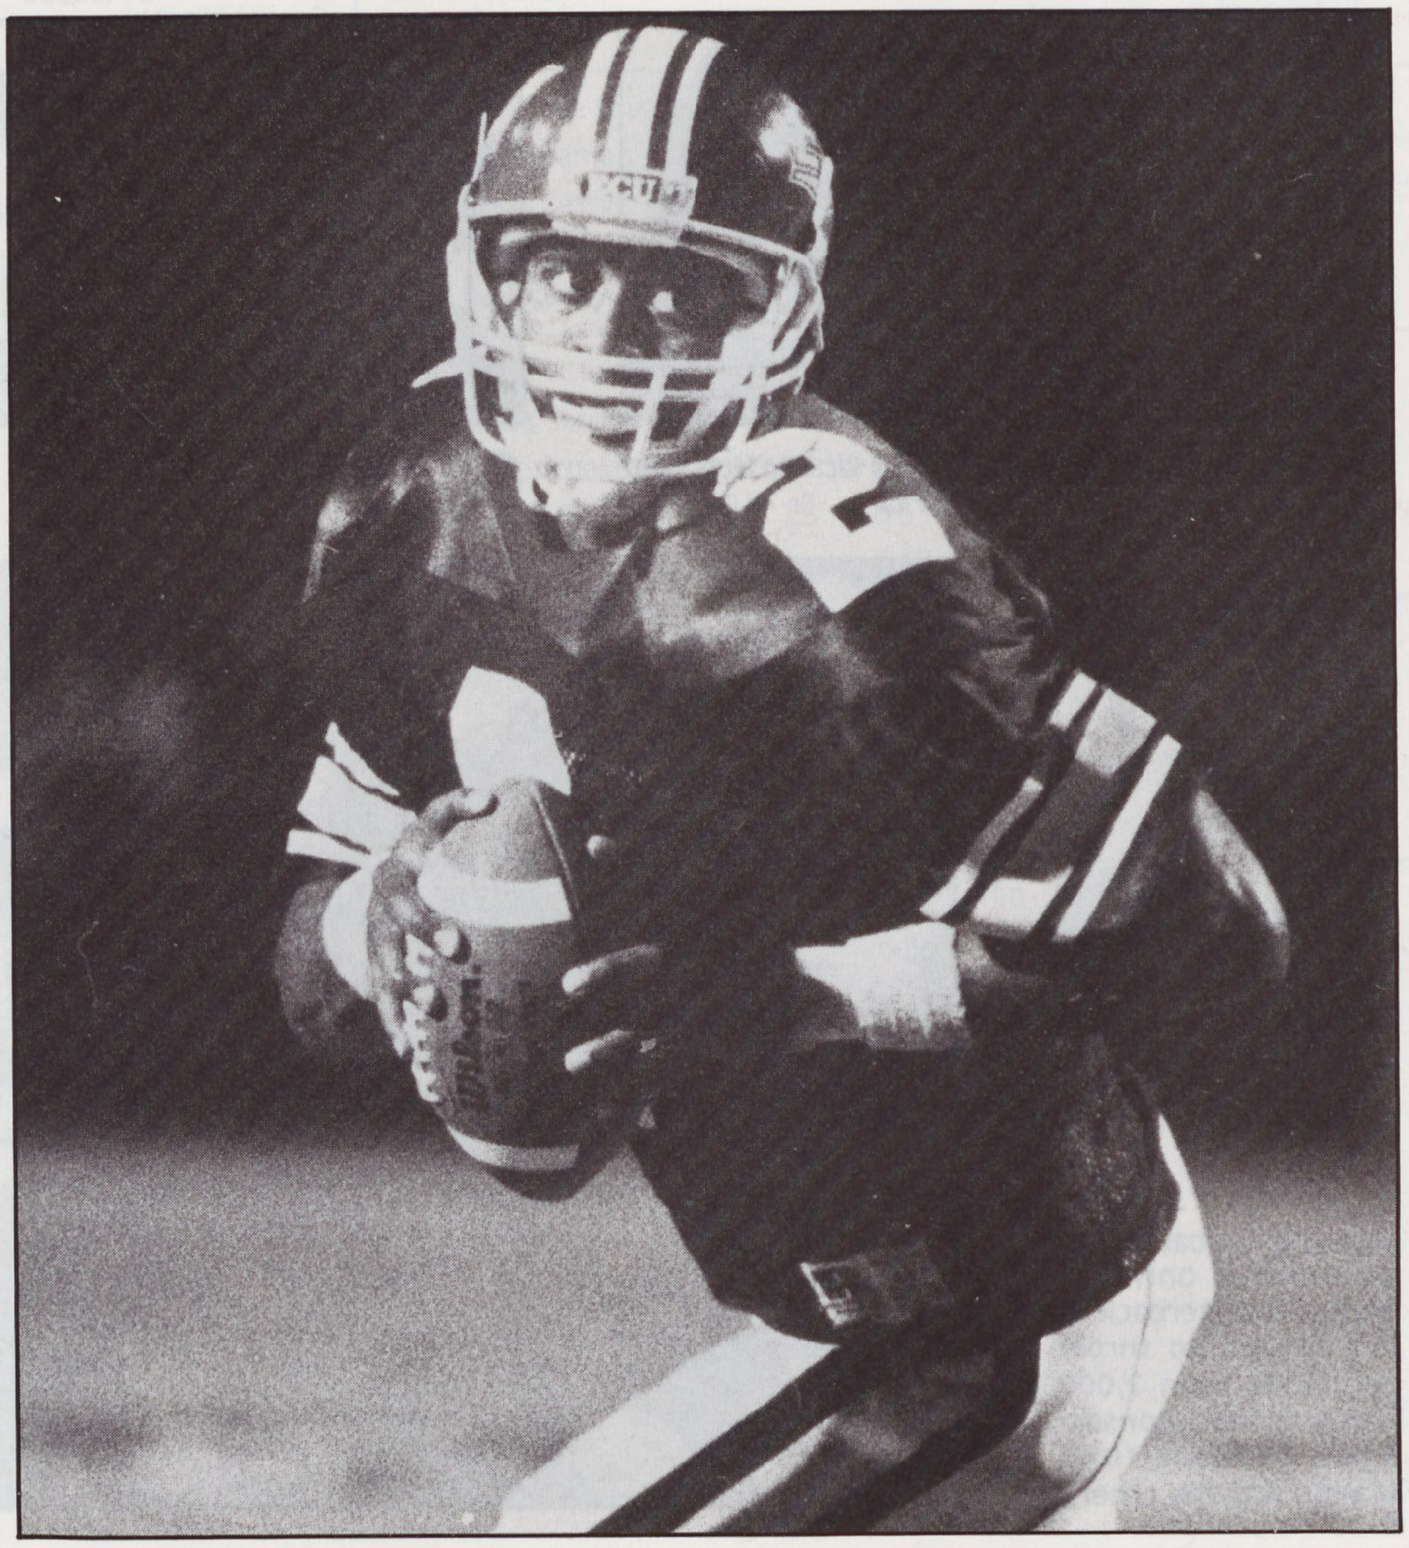

Blake is often seen providing his offensive linemen with support by patting them on the back or talking to them when they jump off the line too early or are called for holding. "Taking out [my] anger on my teammates will not make me or anyone else play any better."

The Pirates offensive line has been very strong this season and Blake's performance is a reflection of this. He is fifth in the country in passing efficiency and seventh in total offensive (1,702 yards). In addition, Blake has only been sacked once all season.

"Coach Lewis says that when the quarterback is sacked, it is his own fault and not the offensive line," says Blake. "I take a three, five, or seven step drop and look for an open man. If I can't find him, I have to find a way to gain as many yards as I can by running."

At the completion of this season, Blake's senior year, he hopes to get the opportunity to further football playing in the National Football League. If that does not happen, he will have his construction management to fall back upon.

The Pirate quarterback will be sure to leave his name in the history books at East Carolina University by blowing away over ten single-season and career records. This is a personal victory for Blake, but like the rest of his teammates, Blake's ultimate goal for this year is to end the season with a bowl victory.

THE PLACE FOR HEART AND SOUL

ECU Sports Medicine

The East Carolina University sports medicine division and curriculum, reputed to be one of the finest in the Southeast, affords every Pirate athlete the best available care and treatment of injuries.

Headed by ECU's sports medicine director Rod Compton, who is a Certified Athletic Trainer and a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA), and the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine, the East Carolina sports medicine program offers the best possible prevention, evaluation, immediate treatment, and rehabilitation of injuries.

Compton, who earned degrees from Ohio University and Bowling Green State and served as Editor-in-Chief of the NATA Journal for six-and-one-half years, is also the director of the ECU Sports Medicine Conference, which is held annually in April on the East Carolina campus.

Compton (entering his 22nd season) is assisted by team physician Dr. James McCallum and NATA Certified Athletic Trainers, Karen Baker and Mike Hanley. All serve on the staff of the Sports Medicine Conference and as faculty for the Sports Medicine Curriculum within the Department of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Safety.

They are assisted by more than a dozen fine community-based professionals who lend valuable time to the program and 30 to 35 undergraduate students enrolled in East Carolina University's sports medicine program.

The Sports Medicine Center is in the new Sports Medicine Building. The Division, which has been in operation since 1971, will now be able to better serve all student-athletes and further assist sports medicine student athletic trainers in the curriculum.

The "Sports Paramedics," as Compton refers to his staff, are in attendance at every athletic event that involves East Carolina University athletes. Radio communication from practice field to the center is a must and a sports medicine vehicle provides instant transportation for injured athletes to the center. Prevention, evaluation, treatment, and rehabilitation are the main objectives of the Sports Medicine Division and when an injury does occur, Compton and his staff provide on-the-spot treatment to make certain the injury does not become more serious.

The Sports Medicine Curriculum, a part of the Health and Physical Education Department at East Carolina, is the only undergraduate athletic training program approved by the NATA in eastern North Carolina and one of only two in the state.

Dedication, sincere sensitivity, and individual attention are the basic motivators which distinguish East Carolina University's "Sports Paramedics" from any others. People helping people in a first-class setting. That's East Carolina Sports Medicine!

ECU Athletic Hall of Fame

The East Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame was initiated in 1974 as an organization to honor those individuals who have, by direct participation in East Carolina University intercollegiate athletics, brought outstanding recognition to themselves and to the University.

The first honorees were inducted during Homecoming festivities at halftime of the East Carolina-The Citadel football game in 1974. Ten members were selected for the first year. Five years passed between Lawrence "Cotton" Clayton and the induction of the 1989 class—Willard "Butch" Colson, Dr. Leo Jenkins and Kathy Postlewait. Last year, Ronnie Barnes, Ray Minges and Rosie Thompson were inducted into the Hall of Fame. This year's Hall of Fame inductions will be the weekend of Nov. 2 as the Pirates host Tulane.

To be selected, a committee of nine persons must vote with two-thirds of those giving their approval. Those five shall be the official selection committee. To be eligible for selection, a person must not have been connected with the University in the capacity to which the nominee is being elected for a minimum of ten academic years.

Ronnie Barnes

Sports Medicine (1971-76)

Barnes went through East Carolina's Sports Medicine program, becoming an assistant trainer and instructor after graduation in 1975. He moved on to Michigan State University, where he earned his master's degree and became head trainer and an assistant professor. In 1980, he was named head trainer of the New York Giants of the NFL. He was named the National Professional Trainer of the Year by the National Athletic Trainer's Association of America in 1983. He has also been selected to Michigan State's Athletic Hall of Fame.

Dr. Ray Minges

Pirate Club

Minges served as president of the Century Club, now the Pirate Club, from 1964-70 and was a charter lifetime member within the organization. He later served a second term on the Pirate Club's Executive Committee from 1982-84 and remained active in the Pirate Club until his death in 1987. Also a surgeon, he traveled with the Pirate football team as team doctor during the 1960s.

Rosie Thompson

Basketball (1976-80)

Assistant Basketball Coach (1987-)

During her playing career at East Carolina, Thompson became the school's all-time leading scorer (2,352 points) and rebounder (1,183 rebounds). She also holds school records for scoring in a season (723) and rebounds in a season (358). She is the only Lady Pirate ever to have her jersey (10) retired. She also has the school's high marks for free throw shooting and was named as the NCAIAW Player of the Year in 1978.

1989

Willard "Butch" Colson

Football (1967-69)

Colson was named Southern Conference Player of the Year in 1967, rushing for 1,135 yards and scoring 15 touchdowns. ECU Pirate Basketball

Payne Era Begins in 1991-92

It's been a season of change for the East Carolina University men's basketball program.

On March 27, Eddie Payne was named to replace Mike Steele, who was fired two weeks earlier, to become the Pirates' new basketball coach.

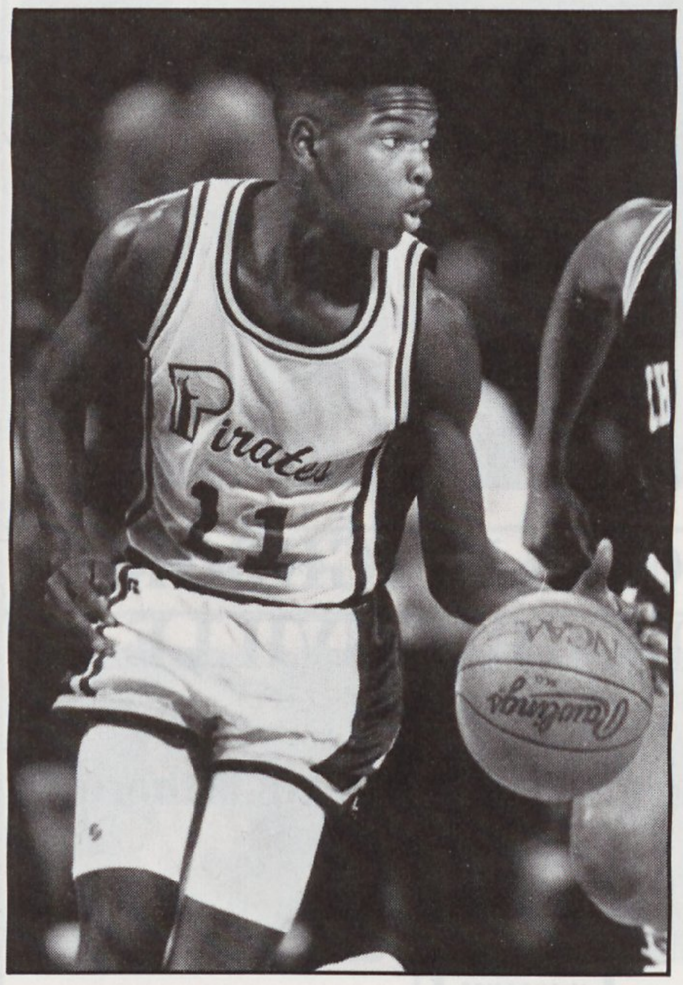

Payne has hired two new assistant coaches. Mike Hopkins comes to ECU from Western Carolina University, where he had been an assistant for two seasons. Joe Dooley begins his first season after being an assistant on the University of South Carolina staff for three seasons.

The Pirates return nine lettermen, including three starters. Plus, a group of four newcomers make the squad much deeper and stronger, especially in the backcourt.

"We're fortunate to have quality players returning on the perimeter," said Payne. "Not only do we have quality starters but we have depth on the perimeter. It affords us the opportunity to be flexible in our approach to the offensive and defensive schemes we can play."

The Pirates return last season's Colonial Athletic Association Rookie of the Year, Lester Lyons (Windsor, N.C.), and three other conference all-rookie choices in the last two years — Steve Richardson (Terre Haute, Ind.), Kevin Armstrong (Gastonia, N.C.) and Ike Copeland (Rocky Mount, N.C.).

Lyons had a banner freshman season, leading the Pirates in scoring (17.6 ppg), assists (3.1 apg), steals (2.5 spg), blocked shots (1.0 bpg) and free throw percentage (79.6%). He failed to reach double figures in scoring just one time — hitting the mark in his first 23 games.

1990 CAA Rookie of the Year Lester Lyons

Armstrong was a bit of a surprise last season. Originally scheduled to be redshirted, the 6-5 forward averaged 3.4 points and 1.9 rebounds per game. He played a key role last season, starting eight games. He shot 51.4 percent from the field.

Copeland had another strong season under the boards. The 6-8 center has led the Pirates in rebounds in his first two years, averaging 8.1 boards per game last season. He had seven double-doubles last season. He has proven to be a dependable performer, starting in all but two games in his ECU career.

A return to form by Richardson might be the biggest plus. The 6-3 junior holds virtually all of the school's three-point field goal records. However, he was suspended during last season for a violation of team rules. Richardson was given a clean slate by the new coaching staff.

Last season, in just 19 games, Richardson hit 54 three-pointers and has hit 44 percent of his trifectas during his career. He has scored over 30 points twice in his career, including 32 against James Madison last year.

The senior backcourt duo of Robin House (Greenville, N.C.) and Jeff Whitaker (Battleboro, N.C.) will add plenty of leadership on and off the playing court. Again in 1991-92, House should see ample playing time. He averaged 6.7 points and 1.6 rebounds in 28 games last season. He hit 25 three-pointers last season.

Whitaker missed most of last season to a broken foot. He played in five games last season, but was granted a medical hardship. Two years ago, he averaged 5.1 points, 2.1 rebounds and 2.6 assists per game. He gives ECU a true point guard who can score from the perimeter.

Juniors Paul Childress (Misenheimer, N.C.) and Antti Jokinen (Nurmijarui, Finland), senior Joe Brightwell (Bronx, N.Y.) and redshirt freshman Anton Gill (Raleigh, N.C.) give the Pirates solid depth. The three returnees played a good amount last season, making major contributions.

Childress played in every game, averaging 1.9 points and 2.8 assists. Jokinen and Brightwell each started at least one game. Gill was redshirted last year and should give the Pirates a solid player under the basket.

One of the problems for the Pirates will be depth underneath. "We will be thin inside and that is a major concern for us," said Payne.

Only one player (Copeland) is a returning starter. Armstrong is the only other player to see action in over 20 games last season.

The new foursome includes three junior college players and a transfer from a major college.

Curley Young (Chesapeake, Va.) sat out last season after leaving the University of Maryland. The 6-3 guard/forward has three years of eligibility remaining. He has the abilities to make an immediate impact. As a senior at Deep Creek High School, he was the Tidewater Player of the Year, named by the Virginian-Pilot/Ledger-Star.

D.J. Morgan (Raleigh, N.C.) also sat out this past season after coming from Craven Community College. He originally signed with ECU before the 1989-90 season, but attended the New Bern, N.C. school. The 6-6 forward has three years of eligibility remaining.

Ronnell Peterson (Ayden, N.C.) gives ECU another true point guard. The 6-3 guard was Louisburg Junior College's MVP last season, averaging 16 points and 7.4 assists per game. He was The Daily Reflector Area Player of the Year as a senior at Ayden-Grifton High School.

The first signee in the Payne era is 6-6 forward/center James Lewis (Batesburg, S.C.). He averaged 14 points and nine rebounds per game last season at Spartanburg Methodist College. He gives the Pirates much needed muscle underneath the basket.

The Pirates open the regular season on Nov. 25 against defending NCAA champion Duke at Cameron Indoor Stadium.

ECU Lady Pirate Basketball

Strong Senior Class and Recruiting Year to Boost Lady Pirates in 1991-'92

What more could a coach ask for when looking at the upcoming season? East Carolina head women's basketball coach Pat Pierson thinks she just about has it all.

1—The 1990-91 Colonial Athletic Association Player of the Year. 2—A senior class, five players strong. 3—The return of two top redshirt players and 4—A strong recruiting year which included three junior college players.

Pierson, beginning her fifth year at ECU (53-60 at ECU; 219-149, 13 year career) is looking to improve on a disappointing 12-17 record of the 1990-91 season.

After a year of ups and downs and injuries for the Lady Pirates, things started to turn around at the close of the season after ECU upset #1 seed James Madison in the CAA tournament and challenged Richmond in the championship game.

Pierson says the success at the end of the season will be on the minds of all the Lady Pirates as the season opens this year.

Advancing to the CAA championships last season will be a definite motivating factor for the returning Lady Pirates, especially senior Tonya Hargrove (5-9, forward, Raleigh, NC), the 1990-91 CAA Player of the Year.

Returning as the Lady Pirates' leading scorer and rebounder as well as the CAA's top scorer, Hargrove brings a 17.7 ppg scoring average and a 9.1 rpg rebounding average into the 1991-92 season.

"Tonya has the potential to make this season her best ever," Pierson said. "She is very focused and has worked hard in the off season. Last season she matured a lot by playing two sports (basketball and volleyball). She also continued to excel in school and this really makes her a positive role model for our student-athletes."

At 5-9, Hargrove's abilities can be deceiving. Time and time again last season, she went beyond 5-9 and played in the center role. "It's obviously going to be tougher on Tonya this season, with more people realizing what she's capable of."

Joining Hargrove in the senior class ranks is Mechelle Jones, Connie Small, Kenneya Wilson, and Kathy Addison.

Jones (5-5, G, Colonial Heights, Va.) stepped into a starters role in 13 games last season. Averaging 4.6 points a game, 2.6 assists and 1.8 steals, Jones was a strong contributor for the Lady Pirates on both offense and defense with quickness and play making ability.

Small (6-0, F, Durham, NC), who transferred last season from Peace College, came into the Lady Pirate program as another strong contributor. Small averaged 8.9 points a game and 4.9 rebounds.

Wilson (5-9, F, Kingston, TN) will be a welcome return after sitting out last season with a knee injury. As a junior, Wilson averaged 7.2 points a game and used her quickness to be one of the Lady Pirates' biggest defensive threats. Pierson looks forward to her senior leadership and smart play as well as being able to extend the Lady Pirates' defense with additional depth.

Addison (5-11, F, Fayetteville, NC) will also extend the ECU depth. A key role-player for the Lady Pirates, Pierson looks for Addison to step in at various positions during the season.

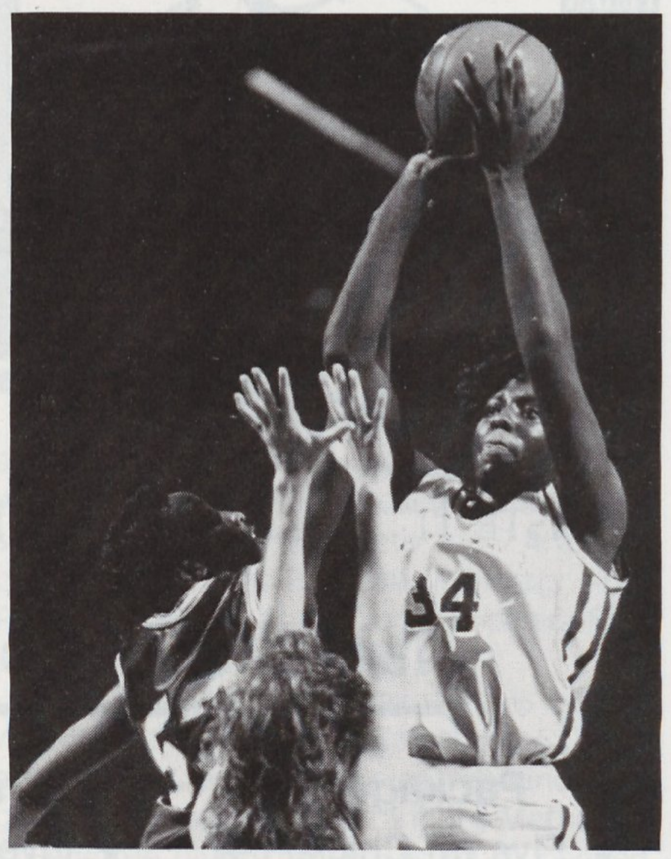

ECU also brings in a strong junior class for the 1991-92 season, headed by ECU point-guard Gaynor O'Donnell (5-6, G, Merseyside, England). O'Donnell, a starter for the past two seasons, topped the ECU list in assists for the past two seasons as well as leading the CAA last season with 173. Expected to break the ECU all-time assists record this season, needing just 80, O'Donnell has become an important shooter, averaging 7.9 points last season along with her 6.0 assists average.

Looking to improve their depth at the guard position, the Lady Pirates will return red-shirt junior Toina Coley (5-7, G, Goldsboro, NC), who also sat out last season with a knee injury. Coley's quickness will be a defensive boost and her shooting ability will be a welcome return. In her sophomore season, Coley played in all 28 ECU games and averaged 4.0 point a game and led ECU averaging 1.8 steals a game.

A trio of JUCO transfers from Louisburg Junior College join the Lady Pirates this season and are expected to make an immediate impact. Juniors Angel Henderson (5-9, G, Lyman, SC), Kim Samuels (5-11, F, Polkton, NC) and Rhonda Smith (6-1, C, Hamlet, NC) bring a combined 46.8 scoring average into the season.

Henderson, a JUCO-All-America selection last season, led the Lady Hurricanes with a 20.1 points a game average, Smith averaged 15.6 points and 8.3 rebounds and Samuels averaged 11.1 points a game and 6.5 rebounds.

"I expect an easy transition for our three JUCO players especially because of the similar playing style of our two programs," Pierson said. "Rhonda [Smith] will be used to help take pressure off of Tonya [Hargrove] in the center; Kim [Samuels] prides herself on defense and Angel [Henderson] is a very versatile athlete who will be a three-point shooting threat.

1990-91 CAA Player of the Year Tonya Hargrove looks to lead ECU to the CAA Championships.

In the height department, Pierson will also be looking to junior Toni Thurman (5-11, F, Hallsboro, NC) and sophomore Janet Rodgerson (6-2, C, Bear Grass, NC) for additional depth this season. Thurman will be looking forward to a better junior season after dealing with injuries most of last season. Rodgerson continues to improve her inside skills after seeing playing time in 22 games last season.

Freshmen Tomekia Blackmon (5-11, F, Snow Hill, NC) and Angela James (5-7, G, Fayetteville, NC) join ECU as the players of the future. Both are expected to use their freshman seasons adjusting to college basketball. Pierson says both possess good skills and good work habits.

The Lady Pirates will see pre-season action on Nov. 9, scrimmaging UNC Greensboro and then taking on the Elektrasila-Soviet Club in an exhibition on Nov. 11.

The season officially opens Nov. 30 against Winthrop College. During the 1991-92 season, ECU will host non-conference opponents Georgia Southern, UNC Charlotte, Appalachian State, and NC State as well as travel to the University of Central Florida for a three-day tournament during the New Year's break.

ECU's conference schedule, as challenging as ever, becomes even more interesting this season with the addition of Old Dominion University, a traditionally strong-national power in women's hoops.

Throughout the season, the Lady Pirates have their sights set on Mar. 12-14 for the 1992 Colonial Athletic Association Championships. ECU looks to return to the championship round of the CAA's and make good on their threat of a year ago.

ECU Courtesy Car Dealers

ECU "Big Wheels"

The road becomes a second home for those connected with collegiate athletics. Indeed, being on the road and traveling thousands of miles each year is a major part of the job.

Almost every facet of the job — recruiting, scouting competition, making public appearances, etc. — are activities that keep athletic personnel on the move.

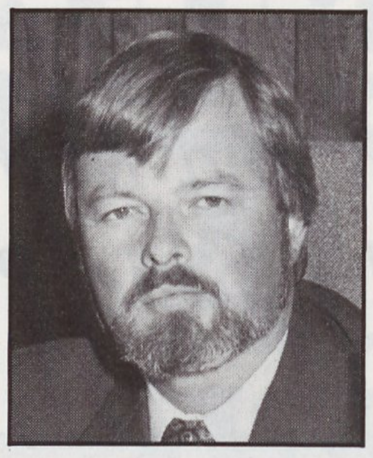

The "wheels" that keep East Carolina's athletic program rolling are a group known as Courtesy Car Dealers, and they play a vital role in allowing the Pirate staff to meet their demands.

Far more than just a fringe benefit, these cars given by the East Carolina Courtesy Car Dealers are necessities for a growing and successful athletic program.

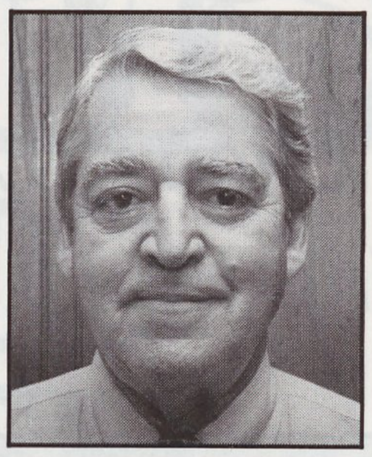

The entire East Carolina staff wishes to thank each dealer providing a car to this fleet of courtesy cars. We hope our fans will look to these fine people for their automotive needs at every opportunity.

Thanks Courtesy Car Dealers! You keep the wheels of East Carolina athletics rolling.

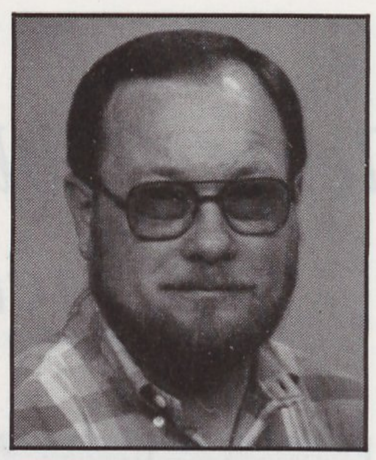

Thanks also goes to Adam's Auto Wash of Greenville. Adam's helps keep ECU's courtesy cars looking clean.

"I Wouldn't Be Without It!"

"Communications is vital to our football program, as it is to any business. With a United States Cellular transportable phone I no longer miss receiving or making those critical calls because I'm traveling. My car phone has proven to be one of the most convenient and important additions to our management and recruiting efforts in years.

That's why, if communications is important to you and your business success, I recommend you contact the folks at United States Cellular today. Their professional staff will show you how mobile communications can help your business like it has our football program. It could prove to be your most important business tool too."

ECU Pirate Seniors

David Daniels: Giving His Best to the Pirates

When David Daniels graduated from J.H. Rose High School, he was highly recruited by many major universities. He took his time in deciding which college to attend and in the end it was East Carolina.

"I chose ECU so I could stay close to my family," says the Pirate fullback. "It gave them a chance to see me play college football. A lot of the other guys on the team live so far away that their parents don't get the chance to see them play. By playing at ECU, all my relatives can come watch me."

Daniels came to ECU as a two-sport athlete. He played baseball under Gary Overton and football under Art Baker and now Bill Lewis. By his second year, Daniels decided to concentrate solely on football.

"In the spring, I had to concentrate on all three — football, baseball and academics. I found myself running out of time so I thought it over and decided to give up baseball."

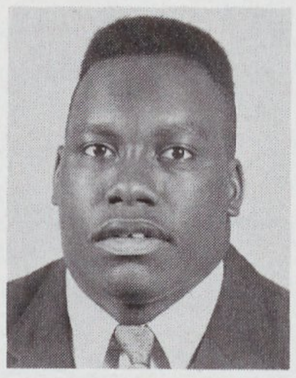

His dedication paid off in 1990 as Daniels played in all eleven games. As a result, he was one of the top thirty-five finalists for the Doak Walker National Running Back Award after leading the Pirates in rushing with 553 yards on 100 carries and five touchdowns.

"I had a lot more time to devote to football and I improved because of it. Now I devote my time to football instead of dividing my time."

As a senior, Daniels has 1,061 rushing yards in his four year career and once again he is a top candidate for the Doak Walker Award. "Personally, I don't set personal goals, I set team goals. One of my team goals is to help ECU get to a bowl game. I go out every game and give my best for the team."

—Gabriel Baker, ECU SID Student Asst.

Marc Washington: Committed To Teamwork

As a Sports Information student assistant, my job requires interviewing senior football players for features such as the one you are reading now. Sometimes it is just a job, but players such as defensive end Marc Washington make it all worthwhile.

Washington came to East Carolina after the 1987 season at Fork Union Military Academy and saw limited action at linebacker and noseguard in 1988 and 1989. Washington found his home in 1990 at defensive end, and has been a role model for younger players the last two seasons. Through six games in 1991, Washington has 15 tackles, including 4 for a loss of 26 yards, a forced fumble, and a fumble recovery.

Washington fills the role of a leader in this year's squad, claiming the "True Grit" award from the ECU coaching staff twice in spring drills the last two years.

"I like to be a leader," says Washington, "not because I'm a senior, but because I want to be a leader, and set a good example. I like the responsibility."

Washington thinks that ECU can go 10-1 this year, and get a post-season bid. He cites several reasons for this.

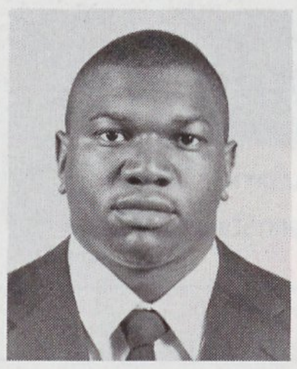

"We've been good in the past, but have never been able to cut the corner. Over the last couple of years, Coach [Bill] Lewis has been working with us, and got us believing in ourselves. Having the same coaching staff two years in a row also helped us become comfortable with the system.

"The seniors this year have been talking about bowl opportunities for a couple of years now. This is the year. We've always wanted a taste of success, and now that we have the chance, we want to have the cake and eat it too."

One thing I noticed about Marc during the interview is that it took prodding to get an "I" out of him. Football is a team sport, and he never seemed to want to talk about himself as an individual football player, just "we" as a team.

That commitment to teamwork is what makes Marc Washington such a leader for the 1991 Pirates.

Brian David

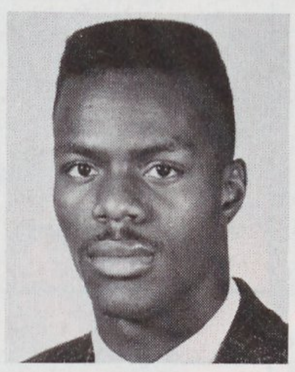

Senior
Linebacker
5-11, 239
Hamlet, N.C.

Q. How has your experience been playing football for ECU?

A. It has been a very rewarding experience for me. I had a bad knee injury and that kept me back from being a big player. I watched myself go downhill after my surgery, but now I've come a long way. A lot of it was really tough. For now I'll be happy as long as we keep on winning. I just want to put ECU on the map.

Q. What are your plans after you graduate in May?

A. My goal is to be a parole officer and work with juveniles. I see children struggling through life and I think they need a good role-model. I feel I can be a good service and really change things for them.

Chris Hall

Senior
Defensive Back
6-2, 184
Fort Dix, N.J.

Chris Hall is one of ECU's busiest defensive players. Through six games this season, he has been in on 434 defensive plays, the most on the squad. Against South Carolina, Hall had one of his most productive games of the season, seeing action in 93 plays, the highest of any Pirate this season. In that game, Hall had 10 tackles.

In his ECU career, Hall has recorded 210 career tackles and eight interceptions. Last year against South Carolina, Hall returned an interception for a touchdown, in addition to his career-high 20 tackles.

Pirate fans will long remember one of Hall's biggest pass break-ups ever as last week against Syracuse he stopped a hail-mary pass late in the fourth quarter to stall a potential game-winning Orangemen score.

Robert Jones

Senior
Linebacker
6-3, 234
Blackstone, Va.

Q. With so much attention given to you before the season started, what positive factors came out of it to help the team start out with a 5-1 record?

A. The attention given to me during the pre-season helped our team as far as being recognized throughout the country. Since we have started to win, more and more people have found that we have a good team and other teams look to us as being a respectable team that can win. Now that we are ranked in the college football polls, more people will watch us play and the school will become noticed.

Q. What are some of the reasons for the great start?

A. Our team believes that we can beat every team that we play. Coach Lewis believes in us and has motivated us to play our best each and every week. We have responded to the challenges put up by other teams and played well in each of our first six games.

R.W. Moore Scholarship

Jeff Blake

The "King of the Gridiron" scholarship is presented at each home football game to the outstanding East Carolina University football player for that particular game as voted on by the media in attendance.

Jeff Blake earned the "King of the Gridiron" award for the second time this year in ECU's victory over Akron. Blake tied the ECU record for touchdown passes with four against the Zips. It was also the second straight week that Blake tied the record performance.

Mr. R.W. Moore of Raleigh, president of R.W. Moore Equipment Company, initiated the scholarship in 1977. This season marks the 15th consecutive year for the presentations.

The scholarship carries a $1,000 value and is presented in the name of the deserving player to the ECU Educational Foundation (Pirate Club). The money is then contributed to the general athletic scholarship fund.

East Carolina University extends its appreciation to Mr. Moore for this outstanding service to the University and the athletic department.

ECU Pirate Fall Sports

Pirate Soccer on the Road Monday at Mt. Olive

ECU's soccer team travels to Mt. Olive on Monday after having the weekend off.

The Pirates had won three games this season before taking on Pembroke State and Old Dominion on Wednesday and Friday. After Monday's contest, the Pirates will have three regular season games left before the Colonial Athletic Association tournament on Nov. 7-10.

ECU has yet to win a conference game this season and have had no help from injuries to ECU players. Pirate leading scorer Justin Finck has been out for two weeks with a knee injury while Austin Batse and Andy Miller were both injured in ECU's win over Barton College on Oct. 16.

Pirate Volleyball at UNC-G Invitational Today

With over a month left before the Colonial Athletic Association Championships, ECU's volleyball team will play the rest of their matches on the road.

Today, ECU plays at the UNC Greensboro Invitational, in their third tournament of the year. The Lady Pirates are 2-5 in tournament play this season and had a 7-12 season record before hosting North Carolina A&T on Monday and traveling to UNC Wilmington on Wednesday.

Next week, ECU will travel to Campbell and back to UNC Greensboro for a single match.

Statistical leaders for ECU are junior Jenny Schultz, who leads ECU in kills this season with 219, and senior Rhonda Jackson leads in digs with 107.

Pirate Runners Host Lynchburg Today

ECU Cross Country hosted its only meet of the season today as Lynchburg College traveled to Greenville.

Last week, ECU competed at the North Carolina Cross Country Championships where the women's team finished sixth of 14 teams and the men finished 13th.

Ann Marie Welch was the top ECU finisher, taking sixth place in 19:12. Sean Connolly had the men's fast time in 28:16.

East Carolina travels to the Colonial Athletic Association Championships in Williamsburg, Va. next weekend.
