Today's Game

Welcome to Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium for the 1994 home finale' of Pirate football. East Carolina (5-4) returns home following last Saturday's 38-21 loss to No. 3 Auburn.

On the slate today are the 6-3 Golden Knights of Central Florida. UCF is coming off an open date on Nov. 5. Prior to their open date, the no. 16 (NCAA Div. I-AA poll) Golden Knights defeated Liberty 49-24.

Today's game will be a battle of two outstanding quarterbacks.

ECU's Marcus Crandell currently ranks 12th in the nation in total offense, having completed 178 of 319 passes for 2,127 yards and 16 touchdowns. With 2,380 career yards, the sophomore quarterback has moved into fourth place on the ECU career passing yardage list. His 197 career completions is already fifth on the career list.

UCF's Darin Hinshaw is 149 of 268 for the season with 23 touchdowns and has had an extraordinary career for the Golden Knights. He already holds the state of Florida record for career touchdown passes with 79 and is working toward the record for passing yardage with 8,504 during his career.

Hinshaw is just as effective on the ground, leading the team with six rushing touchdowns, although his net rushing total for the season is minus one yard.

The difference for the two in today's contest could be their intended targets.

Crandell's top receiver this season Mitchell Galloway suffered a season-ending knee injury against Auburn, leaving the ECU wide receiver corps depleted. Galloway led the Pirates with 36 receptions for 566 yards and four touchdowns. ECU will look for freshman Jason Nichols, the team's second-leading receiver to step up along with junior Allen Williams and freshman Larry Shannon.

Hinshaw will be looking for senior wide receiver David Rhodes, who holds the state of Florida's career record for touchdown receptions with 27. Rhodes is 14 receptions and 232 yards shy of the reception and yardage records held by former Florida State standout, Ron Sellers.

What A Win Would Mean

A win today for the Pirates would secure the Pirates first winning season since 1991 and the second in 11 years. It would also guarantee head coach Steve Logan his first above .500 season as a head coach.

A victory would also give the ECU momentum as it travels to Memphis next weekend for a Liberty Bowl Alliance showdown with the Tigers. Memphis (6-3) travels to Tennessee today in hopes of securing a Liberty Bowl berth with a win over the Vols. A Memphis loss would keep the Pirates' bowl hopes alive and set the stage for next week's game where the winner heads to the Dec. 31 bowl game. (See complete Liberty Bowl Alliance standings-page 46.)

In order to better serve the coastal region of eastern North Carolina, a location was opened in Washington, N.C. in 1973. After many years of close quarters on Market Street, a new, modern facility was built in 1992 at 630 E. 10th Street.

Morgan Printers, Inc. is now the largest independent commercial printer in Pitt County and one of the largest in eastern North Carolina.

As Morgan Printers, Inc. has expanded in facilities and space, it has not forgotten about the "technological revolution." It has modern equipment for printing 4-color process work with all bindery equipment necessary to produce booklets and catalogs with short delivery times and competitive pricing. In 1993, Morgan Printers, Inc. moved into the digital publishing market with a complete network of Macintosh computer systems and digital imagesetting.

Feeling Good!
With Healthcare In The East.

As we move into a new era of healthcare across America, eastern North Carolina is feeling good with the resources of the University Medical Center close to home. Serving a 29 county region of over 1.8 million people, the University Medical Center is a 711 bed level-one trauma center and teaching hospital where miracles are taking place everyday.

Just last year, we delivered over 3,250 babies and performed nearly 1,000 open heart surgeries. We're making a difference in life with specialized centers of care for cancer, heart disease, rehabilitation and pediatrics. We're one of the few medical centers with a mobile neonatal unit so premature babies are carefully transported to our advanced neonatal unit. When time is of the essence, East Care takes to the skies for emergency air services.

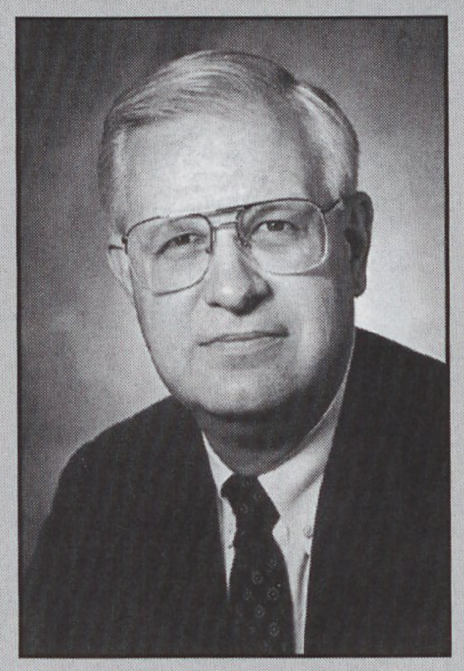

The University Medical Center is a highly sophisticated medical facility leading the way for quality healthcare in eastern North Carolina as well as across the state. It's the reason we're feeling good with healthcare in the East!

ECU Chancellor

For Chancellor Richard R. Eakin, the terms "academics" and "athletics" are not mutually exclusive, but mutually reinforcing. He knows from personal experience.

As a Geneva College undergraduate, he majored in mathematics and physics while a member of the basketball team. He also served as President of the Student Senate and Class Valedictorian and was graduated in 1960 with the honor summa cum laude.

Today Dick Eakin is in his eighth year as ECU's chief executive officer and his leadership mark is evident throughout ECU, including athletics.

He has a vision of greatness for ECU and leads in the belief that the university can build upon and add to its elements of distinction and strong tradition for excellence in teaching, research, regional services, and athletics.

With enthusiasm and remarkable stamina, Dr. Eakin pursues this vision around the clock and on-the-road as ECU's highly visible top ambassador.

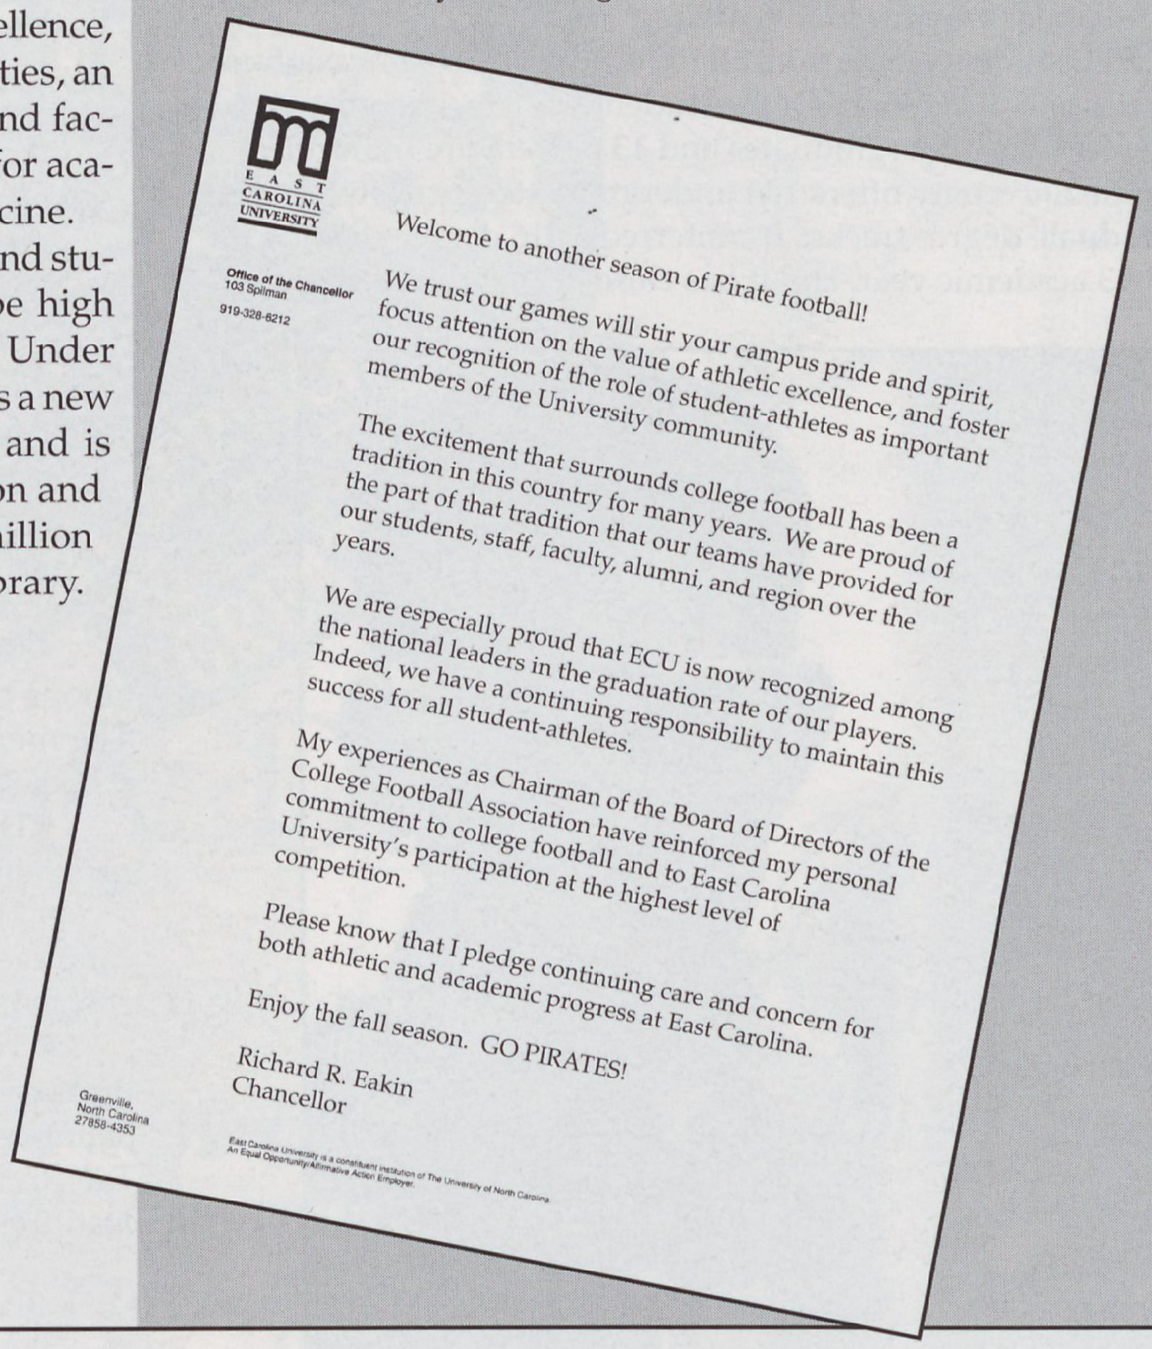

Strategic planning has been the linchpin of the Chancellor's administration. From it have evolved new degree programs, new and stronger centers for excellence, campus beautification and modernization of facilities, an emphasis on computer technology for students and faculty, and an energetic, focused fund-raising plan for academics, athletics, and medicine.

Improved campus life and student services continue to be high on the Chancellor's agenda. Under his direction, the campus has a new state-of-the-art dining hall and is building a student recreation and wellness center, and a $30 million addition to the campus library.

ECU's reputation as one of the leading family practice, primary care medical schools in the country is being enhanced with new centers for the treatment of cancer, diabetes, heart disease, and alcohol and drug abuse.

Before his ECU appointment in 1987, Dr. Eakin served for 23 years as a member of the mathematics faculty at Bowling Green State University, where he was also a vice president.

A native of New Castle, Pennsylvania, Dr. Eakin was awarded a master's degree as well as a doctorate in mathematics with a minor in economics from Washington State University. He and his wife, the former Jo Ann McGeehan, have two adult children, Matthew of Charlotte and Maridy of Raleigh.

Welcome to another season of Pirate football!

We trust our games will stir your campus pride and spirit, focus attention on the value of athletic excellence, and foster our recognition of the role of student-athletes as important members of the University community.

The excitement that surrounds college football has been a tradition in this country for many years. We are proud of the part of that tradition that our teams have provided for our students, staff, faculty, alumni, and region over the years.

We are especially proud that ECU is now recognized among the national leaders in the graduation rate of our players. Indeed, we have a continuing responsibility to maintain this success for all student-athletes.

My experiences as Chairman of the Board of Directors of the College Football Association have reinforced my personal commitment to college football and to East Carolina University's participation at the highest level of competition.

Please know that I pledge continuing care and concern for both athletic and academic progress at East Carolina.

Enjoy the fall season. GO PIRATES!

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

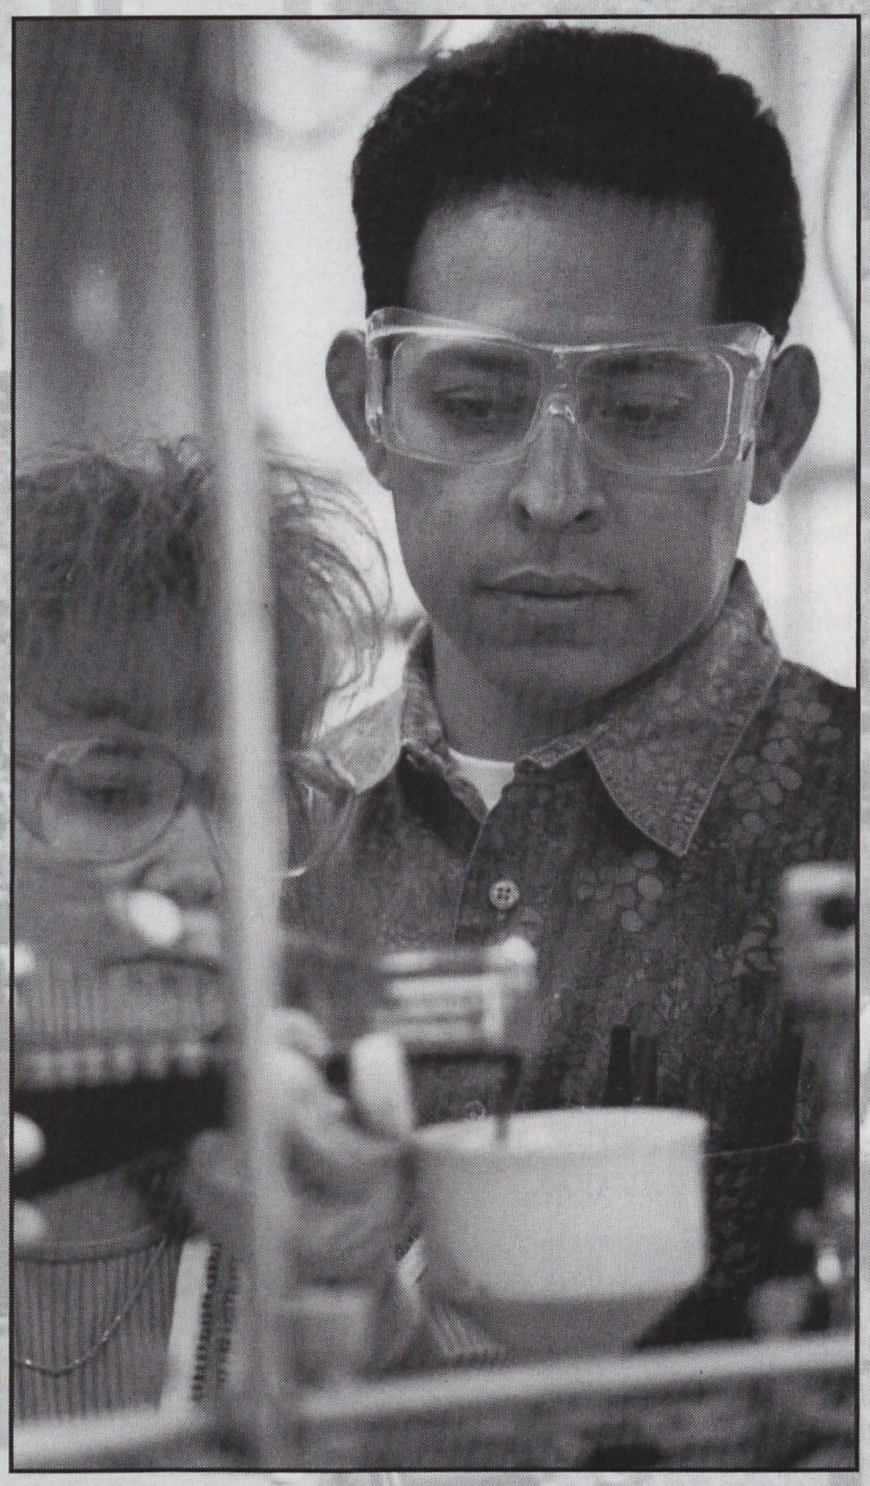

East Carolina University, a diverse, comprehensive university, is known for the quality and breadth of its academic programs and for its pursuit of excellence in a variety of activities.

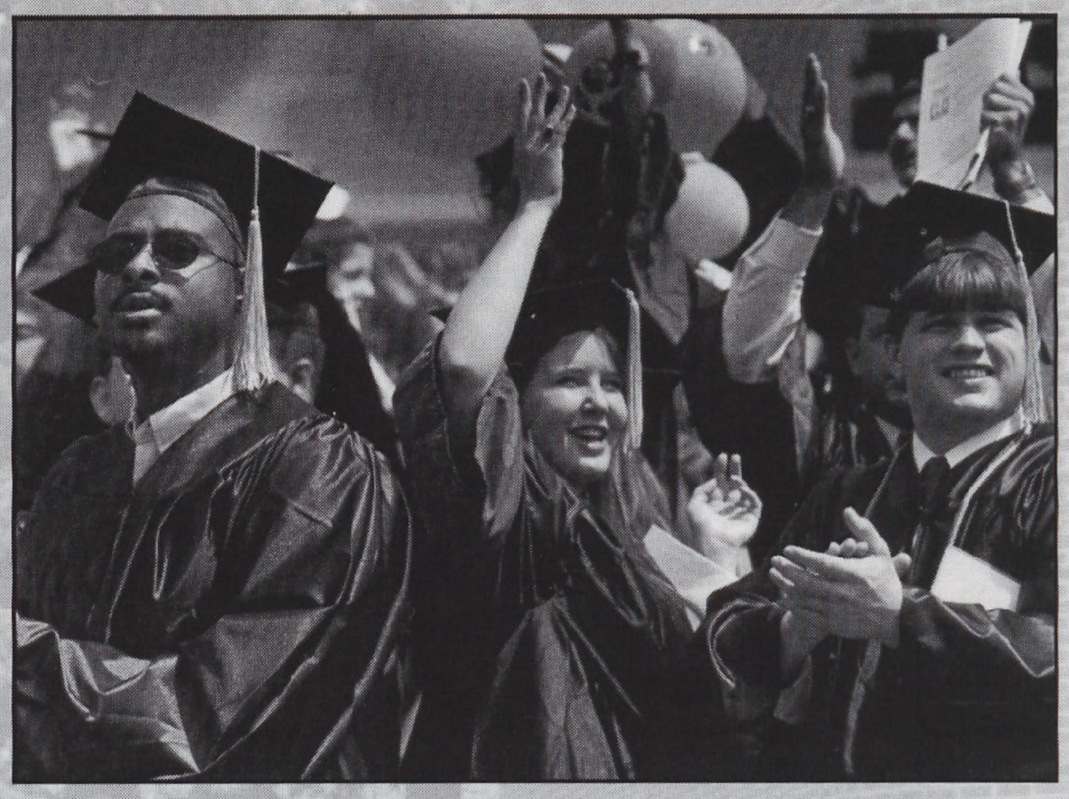

With an enrollment of nearly 18,000 students, ECU is the third-largest institution of the 16-campus University of North Carolina system. It has a work force of more than 3,500, a faculty numbering more than 1,100 and a budget of almost $290 million.

The campus today is alive not only with the activities of its students and faculty but also with the whir and clatter of construction crews. More than 20 percent of the campus is under construction or renovation or will be in the next few months. Among the prominent projects are the Student Recreation Center, which will be completed in the fall of 1995, and the additions and renovations to Joyner Library, which will be under way for four years.

ECU students come from all 100 of North Carolina's counties, 45 states and 38 nations. Of the students, 57 percent are women, 83 percent are undergraduates and 13 percent are minorities.

The university offers 106 undergraduate degree tracks and 92 graduate degree tracks. It conferred 3,416 degrees during the 1992-93 academic year, and it has close to 70,000 living alumni.

Here is a selection of other distinctions of ECU:

• It has the largest teacher-education program in North Carolina and the 15th largest in the nation.

• It has one of the largest art schools in the Southeast and the only art program in North Carolina accredited by the National Association of Schools of Art and Design. The Wellington B. Gray Gallery is one of the largest contemporary art galleries in North Carolina.

• The School of Medicine has ranked No. 1 nationally in the percentage of graduates entering primary care fields.

• The School of Social Work is the only one in North Carolina with both undergraduate and graduate programs accredited by the National Council on Social Work Education.

• In the School of Human Environmental Sciences, the hospitality management program is one of only two such programs in North Carolina. The child life program is the first one in North Carolina.

• The music education program in the School of Music is among the largest and strongest in the Southeastern United States. The music therapy program is the only one in a state-supported school in North Carolina.

• The school of Business has the second-oldest accredited MBA program in the state.

• The university has state-of-the-art student computing labs campus-wide and some of the finest discipline-specific student computing labs in the nation.

• The Department of English publishes seven scholarly and literary journals: Children's Folklore Review, The Concord Saunterer, Minnesota Review, North Carolina Literary Review, Tar River Poetry, The Thoreau Society Bulletin and Victorians Institute Journal.

ECU Head Coach

The practice fields are the classroom. Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium is the final exam. Steve Logan is the teacher.

It's the way the third-year East Carolina head coach prefers it.

"When I sat down and asked myself what I enjoyed most about coaching," said Logan, "it was the teaching that I enjoyed most and if teaching is what I enjoy then I would be teaching on Saturday as well."

If you spent time watching Logan on the sidelines, you'll get a feel how the 41-year-old coach uses Saturdays as another teaching tool.

He'll take one of his young quarterbacks on the sidelines and discuss different plans, options and ideas. It's a two-way conversation and the best way for a student-athlete to know what he's doing right and what's he doing wrong.

"He doesn't pressure you, he doesn't yell at you, but he makes sure you understand what you did wrong," said Jeff Blake, former Pirate and current Cincinnati Bengals quarterback. "He makes sure you know everything about the game. He taught me how to keep my composure, how to be a leader."

The teaching and leadership roles continue also off the playing and practice fields. The Lawton, Okla. native, feels that if student-athletes are going to be the best they are going to be, it requires self-discipline, hard work and dedication.

Members of the football squad are told three things by Logan about playing football at East Carolina: 1) if you go to class and practice hard, you will play; 2) have fun playing the game of football, and; 3) play as hard as possible on every play and the wins and losses will take care of themselves.

"I like to see the responsibility for the little things fall upon the players rather than for me telling them to do it," said Logan.

"We never talk to our student-athletes about winning and losing - never," continues Logan. "We talk to them about showing up, playing every play as hard as they can play it and play to the last play of the game. We don't care who it is we're playing. We give a ton of respect to whoever that may be, home or on the road."

Logan developed much of his philosophy through the influence of several head coaches. He worked on the staff of current Ohio State coach John Cooper at Tulsa, with former Dallas Cowboys coach Jimmy Johnson at Oklahoma State, with Bill McCartney at Colorado and with Bill Lewis at ECU.

When Lewis resigned to take the head coaching position at Georgia Tech, ECU Director of Athletics Dave Hart, Jr., did not have far to look for the school's 17th head football coach.

"It became obvious to me through conversations with Steve that he was the best man for the job," said Hart.

Logan is mostly credited with the development of the Pirate offensive attack during the 1990-91 seasons when he was ECU's offensive coordinator. In 1991, ECU finished the season with an 11-1 record and reached a Top Ten national ranking.

During the 1990-91 seasons, Logan coached quarterback Jeff Blake. The Sanford, Fla. native broke or tied 32 school records before leaving ECU, including most passing yards in a game, season and career. He was named the 1991 ECAC Player of the Year.

Logan continues to monitor the offensive side of the football closely. He still coaches the quarterbacks but also makes his way around the practice field to observe his coaches in action.

In 1992, it was Michael Anderson's turn to rewrite ECU record books. The Decatur, Ga. native, broke or tied 12 school records, including all of the school's sophomore records.

The Logans — Steve with wife, Laura, and sons, Vincent (standing) and Nathanael (sitting).

This season, as was in 1993, Logan has another young signal-caller with outstanding potential - Marcus Crandell. The Robersonville, N.C. sophomore, suffered a broken leg in the second game of last season and had to sit out the remainder of the year. Meanwhile, Logan had to use redshirt freshman Chris Hester for three starts and true freshman Perez Mattison for six starts last season.

Logan came to ECU in 1989 after serving as quarterback coach at Mississippi State for two seasons. During his first season at ECU, he coached the running backs.

As a student at Tulsa, Logan did not play football and had plans to get a doctorate degree and become a college professor.

"I realized I wasn't going to the NFL," said Logan. "But, I had to teach in the public schools before going to graduate school. There (Union High School) they wanted me to coach football. I got addicted."

During the next five years, Logan became a high school assistant coach while he completed all but six hours of credits towards his masters degree.

He began in the collegiate coaching ranks in 1980 as a tight ends coach at Oklahoma State.

"I loved working with the kids and having an impact on their decisions in and outside of football," said Logan. "That, and the intrigue of competitive strategy, really hooked me."

Logan, an avid tennis player, and his wife, Laura, are the proud parents of two sons - Vincent (12) and Nathanael (10).

Shared Visions

THE CAMPAIGN FOR EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

As every fan knows, winning often comes down to timing. The right move at the right time often spells the difference between victory and defeat. For the athletics program at East Carolina University, the clock is ticking fast.

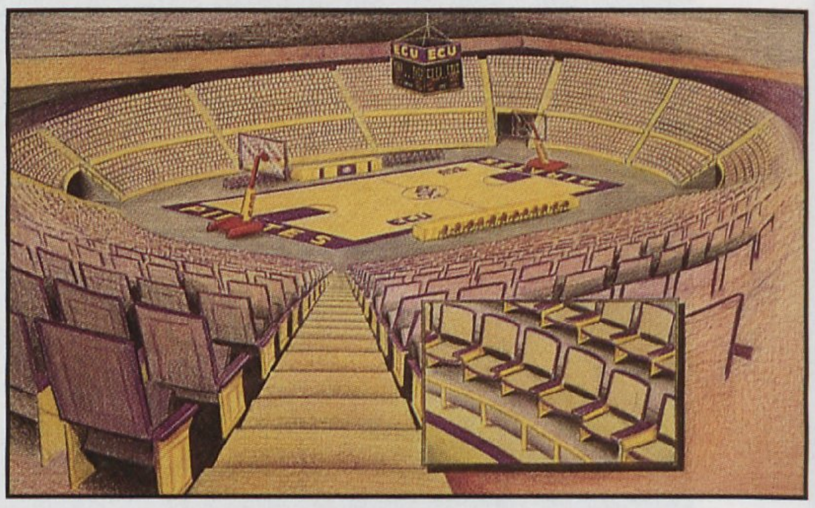

The University's athletics program significantly contributes to the public image of ECU. The benefits of ECU's recent national visibility extend to every department and program of the University, and to all students and alumni. Gifts that strengthen the athletics program help build ECU's national reputation.

The athletics program at ECU is at a crossroads! The program has operated under limited financial resources. These limitations are further apparent when comparing the University's athletics budget to other Division I-A institutions.

On the national scene, the ECU athletics budget is at the bottom echelon of NCAA Division I-A institutions. In the State, the athletics budget at ECU is approximately seventy percent of that of the next lowest budget of the other I-A institutions.

To improve the financial health of ECU's athletics program, we must increase revenues realized from the sale of season and individual game tickets. Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium must be expanded and further upgraded to accommodate more spectators - and make us even more competitive with other dominant teams.

In the area of athletic scholarship endowments, we are falling short of our potential. At a minimum, our scholarship endowment fund should be at the $2 million level by 1995. Our objective is to provide scholarship support for all sports comprising ECU's athletics program as allowed by the NCAA, so that we can attract the finest student-athletes to East Carolina University.

A special case of pride is the University's concern for the total development of student-athletes. At ECU, only academically qualified students are admitted into the athletics program. Throughout their college years, the academic, personal and career development interests of ECU student-athletes are carefully nurtured. A high-caliber, comprehensive student development program is essential to the Athletic Department. The cost associated

Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium

Just the name Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium reflects that the Shared Visions campaign is up and running and meeting its goals. In the spring of 1994, Ron and Mary Ellen Dowdy committed $1 million dollars to the campaign for the expansion of Ficklen Stadium.

While the first phase of the stadium expansion was completed in the Fall of 1993 when part of the stadium's original structure was replaced, still two phases remain to be constructed.

The second phase involves the construction of a two-story structure from end one to end zone above the south side of the stadium. The structure will house a modern press box facility on the first floor and an enclosed donor seating area on the second floor. Private contributions raised through the campaign will fund the bulk of this project cost.

The final phase of expansion to the ECU football facility will make the dreams of ECU fans become a reality as the stadium's seating capacity will be increased to nearly 50,000, with an upper deck added to the south side.

The increased seating will provide ECU with a modern stadium large enough to showcase the Pirates football team and meet increased fan interest, as will as help attract major Division I-A football teams to Greenville.

STRIVING FOR EXCELLENCE IN PIRATE ATHLETICS

"It's a crucial period of time in the growth of ECU's athletics program. I felt it was time for someone else to step up and make a significant gesture of financial support if ECU's football program is to stabilize at the highest level of competition. Mary Ellen and I were happy to be in a position to make such a gift."

- Ron Dowdy, ECU '66

with endowing this program is $1 million.

The expansion of Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium, a strong scholarship base, and a well-funded student-development program are all necessary for the ECU athletics program to move ahead. Falling behind and missing golden opportunities at this crucial stage would indeed be regrettable in the development of the ECU athletics program and its student-athletes.

And because our resources are meager at present and the athletics program is self-supporting, we turn toward private support and people like you to help move ECU athletics to the top of NCAA Division I-A competition.

Support for the Shared Visions Campaign does not stop at ECU's athletics program, it encompasses the entire University.

The Pirate Club joins the ECU Foundation and the Medical Foundation as the University's three non-profit foundations involved in ECU's first external fund-raising effort that began its public phase in 1993. Through the Shared Visions Campaign, the University seeks to raise $50 million for academics, the medical school and the Pirate athletics program.

The opportunity is at hand. The time is now. The decision for our University and our region must be Yes!

"I believe it's time each of us shared some of our wealth in helping East Carolina University move forward. An investment in our future, vocally and financially helps us all. Please come join me. Collectively we can accomplish much. It's called helping ourselves by sharing."

- Walter Williams, ECU '51

Williams Arena at Minges Coliseum

As the Pirate football team takes the field this fall, construction is taking place right before your very eyes with the renovation of Minges Coliseum. Scheduled to be completed in January, 1995, the ECU facility shows the University's commitment to excellence.

When completed, the modern arena will have increased its seating to 7,500 with chair-back seating and will include a new playing surface, air conditioning, new locker space, rest room facilities and modern concession stands.

Walter and Marie Williams of Greenville have shared the university's dreams and with their family contributed $1.4 million to the campaign in October of 1993. For the Williams' contribution, the basketball arena at Minges Coliseum will be formally dedicated in January, 1995 as the Walter L. Williams Arena, and yet another goal will have been reached.

EQUAL HOUSING OPPORTUNITY

ECU Athletics Director Dave Hart, Jr.

Within intercollegiate athletics circles, Dave Hart, Jr. has earned an outstanding reputation as one of the country's most respected athletics administrators. Hart has gained national recognition for his skills in the areas of athletics management, public relations, marketing and fundraising.

Since being appointed Director of Athletics at East Carolina University on December 21, 1987, Hart has led ECU Athletics to new levels of achievement. Under his leadership, ECU Athletics has gained the respect of its peers for the commitment to excellence and integrity exhibited throughout the athletics program.

While enhancing the image and reputation of ECU athletics, Hart has structured several programs of significance within the Department. The most notable might be ECU's comprehensive Student Development Program for all student-athletes. Two years ago the Department of Athletics received a half-million dollar gift, from Bob and Margaret Ward of Burlington, NC, towards the endowment of the Student Development Program. ECU has recently been selected as one of five advisory schools within the NCAA's Life Skills Pilot Program targeted for all 106 Division I-A programs. Forty-one of the 106 I-A programs have volunteered for the Pilot Program which will focus on the total development of student-athletes. Hart serves as Vice Chairman for the Missions and Values Committee of the I-A Athletics Director's Association which proposed the Life Skills Program, called CHAMPS, at the I-A level, in conjunction with the NCAA Foundation.

ECU also participated in the NCAA's Pilot Certification Program in 1991-92, as one of thirty-five Pilot schools. Athletics Certification has since been adopted for all of Division I. When the University completed its Southern Association of Colleges and Schools accreditation program in 1992, the Athletics Department received one of four commendations from the SACS review team for the manner in which the Department of Athletics is managed at ECU.

Women's athletics have made great strides during Hart's tenure as Athletics Director. Indoor Track and Soccer have been added as Lady Pirate sports while the budget for women's athletics has tripled. In addition, scholarship support for women's athletics at ECU has tripled in the last five years. In 1990 ECU initiated a "Ladies First" fund-raising concept with a goal of raising one million dollars to help endow additional scholarships for student-athletes participating on Lady Pirate teams.

Revenue growth has been one of Hart's continuing goals. Since 1989, ECU's athletics budget has more than doubled to a current level of $8.5 million. During that same period of time, the athletics endowment fund has grown from $300,000 to over $2 million while the Department's fund balance has gone from a meager $65,000 to nearly $2 million.

Facility enhancement is tangibly evident during Hart's tenure. He has planned, overseen and spearheaded tremendous growth in facilities within the athletics complex totaling nearly $30 million. Renovations to Scales Field House, Baseball's Harrington Field, and the Lady Pirate Softball Field, are among "facelift" projects which have been ongoing during Hart's tenure. He helped plan and coordinated the transition into the Ward Sports Medicine Building, a $6.5 million project, which is one of the finest facilities of its kind in the nation. This winter, Williams Arena will open in Minges Coliseum following an $11.4 million renovation. Targeted for 1996 is a $9 million expansion to newly named Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium to include a state of the art press box facility and club level seating. Also, targeted for 1996 is a new $1.5 million, two story multipurpose Pirate Club Building to house Ticket Office staff, Pirate Club functions and staff, and a 300 seat banquet hall with easy access to the Coliseum and Stadium.

Pirate athletics continue to gain in exposure and credibility under Hart's guidance. In the past three years, ECU football enjoyed six telecast appearances while finishing 11-1 and ranked #9 in the nation in 1991. The men's basketball program has also reached new levels of success and exposure, winning the CAA Championship in 1993 and making their first NCAA appearance since 1972. Pirate Baseball has made five trips to the NCAA Tournament since 1988 and the Pirate Golf team has captured the last five CAA golf crowns. Lady Pirate Softball and men's and women's Swimming have excelled during that same time frame with the Softball team posting a school record of 42 wins in 1992. Pirate Track and Cross Country athletes have set numerous school records during the last three years, illustrating the positive growth taking place throughout the program.

Hart has served on several committees during his tenure as Director of Athletics. He was appointed in January to the prestigious NCAA Council. He also serves on the NCAA's Special Events/Post Season Bowls Committee. He Chairs the Colonial Athletic Association's Marketing Committee and serves on the CAA Gender Equity Committee.

Hart was named associate director of athletics for external relations and executive director of the Pirate Club in 1985. During his first two years in that position, the Pirate Club experienced record-setting growth as it surpassed the coveted $1 million mark in contributions for the first time ever.

Hart first joined the ECU athletic department in 1983 as an assistant athletic director of marketing. His hiring immediately brought dividends as ECU's marketing program gained national attention for the rapid growth in crowd participation through tailgating and other promotional efforts. Hart was also responsible for implementing the "Great Pirate Purple/Gold Pigskin Pig-Out Party," which is a weekend extravaganza surrounding the spring football game.

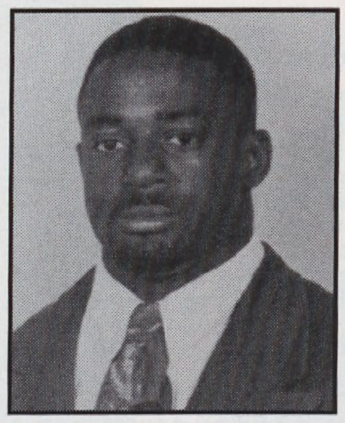

Additionally, attendance at home football games increased greatly as evidenced by the fact that 11 of the top 12 crowds in Ficklen Stadium history have entered the turnstiles since the 1983 season. Promotional ventures such as the "Ain't It Great to Tailgate" idea have added to the atmosphere at Pirate home games.

Hart is a popular speaker at the national level and has authored articles for a number of national publications. He has made numerous speaking presentations at conventions and seminars on program management, marketing, fundraising, and personnel transition. For the past seven years he has been an instructor at the National Association of College Directors of Athletics' Management Institute.

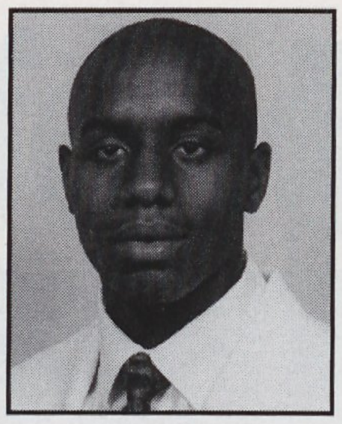

Hart, just the fifth athletics director in ECU history, received his undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Alabama, earning a B.S. in English/Speech in 1971 and a master's degree in 1972. He attended Alabama on a basketball scholarship and was a graduate assistant coach for the Crimson Tide program in 1972. He won nine varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball at Annapolis (MD) High School where he was also an All-State basketball and football player.

He is married to the former Pam Humble of Tuscaloosa, AL, and they have three children — Ricky (22), Jamie (20), and Kelly (17).

Teams, not individuals, win the game. The quarterback, the running back, the center, the defensive linemen, the safety... . It takes the efforts of every one of them to win the game.

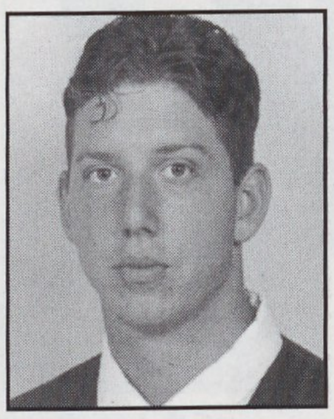

R.W. Moore's team is just as deep. Staff...product support representatives...service technicians...the parts department...the accounting staff. In the field or behind the desk, they're all essential members of our winning team.

While the rest of the country has been talking about health care reform Blue Cross and Blue Shield of North Carolina has been doing something about it.

We've been waging war against high health care and high health care coverage costs for years. And these efforts have been paying off for our subscribers.

In the last year we saved those subscribers more than 250 million dollars, thanks to agreements with more than 11,500 doctors participating in our CostWise℠ program and contracts with more than 140 hospitals for our Personal Care Plan and Preferred Care®, plus other cost containment measures such as preadmission certification, length of stay review, hospital billing audits and personal benefits management.

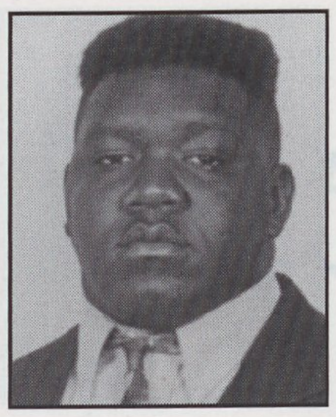

And this year when you look at the numbers, it just makes sense to sign up with Blue Cross and Blue Shield of North Carolina.

The Holiday Inn and Comfort Inn of Williamston Support the Pirates!

The Cowboys meet the Redskins every night.

There's a place in Greenville that's winning over new fans every day. A restaurant where you'll find the perfect match-up of low-key country music and the sound of peanut shells crunching on the floor. And a friendly staff that's fast on their feet and quick with a smile.

Of course, we're talking about Lone Star Steakhouse & Saloon. Now don't fill up on the peanuts; the good times and great food are just beginning.

Lone Star is the only restaurant where you can enjoy the true flavor of real mesquite. And while we're famous for our filets, ribeyes, and New York strips you just might want to try our chicken, seafood, or maybe tackle a rack or two of our mouth-watering baby-back ribs. Whatever you're in the mood for, we serve it up in Texas-sized portions with all the trimmings at lunch and dinner.

So give us a try we're not far from the stadium. Cowboy boots not required.

Here's To the Pirates
by Mitch Doub, Joe Distefano, Tom Goolsby, Phil Marnell

Here's to the Pirates of ECU!
We're going to raise our battle flag high,
We're going to sing it long,
Shout it loud;
And then they'll know
That we are Pirate Proud.
Because the battle's been fought,
And now it's won,
And everybody knows
that we're Number One!
Because we're full of Pride,
We've got them bowing to our side,
Here's to ECU!

Traditional
by Ron Jacobs

We're from East Carolina
the Purple and Gold;
The Pirates of the country
No others quite as bold
-Go PIRATES-
Stand up for the Pirates
As we go to the Victory
So let's give 'em a hand
Come on folks, Let's stand and show 'em we're from EC.

School Colors

Old Gold and Royal Purple were established as the official ECU colors in 1909.

Nickname

The Pirate, a symbol of East Carolina University and its athletic teams, was adopted from the legend and lore of coastal North Carolina and was a natural choice for the nickname when intercollegiate athletics began at the school more than 57 years ago.

Pirates, fierce and colorful, were prominent in North Carolina's colonial period. The state's Outer Banks which jut far out into the Atlantic were ideal hideouts for these legendary gangsters of the high seas. Many had homes and families in small villages along the Carolina coast.

East Carolina University's interest in pirates and sea lore began in 1934. That year, the Tecoan, the yearbook for what was then East Carolina Teachers College, carried pirates as its theme. The pages were filled with paintings and sketches of patched eye figures, tall ships and buried treasure. The book referred to the tales of the infamous "Teachy the Pirate" often told by natives in the nearby historic town of Bath.

Retired Numbers 16 18 29 36

Four numbers have been retired in the history of East Carolina University's football program. Those are numbers 16, 18, 29 and 36.

The jersey number 16 was last worn by Robert Farris, a kicker from Falls Church, Va. Farris was killed in an automobile accident while returning to campus for fall practice prior to his senior season in 1967.

The jersey number 18 was last worn by Norman Swindell, a blocking back from New Bern. The most valuable player on the 1965 team, Swindell drowned near his home during the Christmas holidays following the 1965 season.

The jersey number 29 was worn by James Speight, running back from Greenville. The MVP of the 1957 and 1959 squads, Speight still holds the school record for the most points in a single game with 26, while sixth on the all-time rushing list with 2,276 career yards.

The jersey number 36 was worn by Roger Thrift, a quarterback from New Bern. He earned letters during the 1949 and 1950 seasons. His jersey was retired by the Student Government Association.

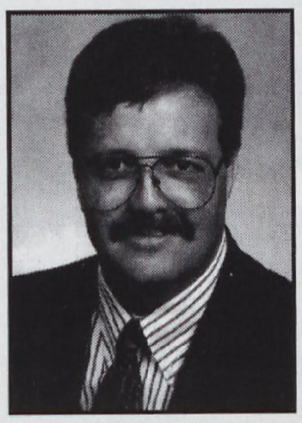

Speight and Thrift are members of the ECU Athletics Hall of Fame.

ECU Marching Pirates

As a dominant spirit organization at ECU, the Marching Pirates perform at every pep rally and home game, as well as performing at the ECU vs. Duke game in Durham, N.C. In addition, the band presents exhibitions at high school band contests throughout North Carolina and Virginia.

The Marching Pirates not only provide entertainment at athletic events, but this high visibility organization also plays an active role in recruiting for the university and its outstanding School of Music. This diverse group of students represents a wide variety of disciplines from each school within the university. The band also serves as a type of laboratory course by providing teaching opportunities for instrumental music education majors.

Given this unique position in the university environment, the Marching Pirates are dedicated to the highest standards of excellence, entertainment, and education. The 1994 ECU Marching Pirates are over two-hundred members strong! In addition to the popular Pirate pre-game, the band will perform two halftime shows this fall. The first show features exciting arrangements of George Gershwin's Strike Up the Band, Little Richard's Good Golly Miss Molly, and Jerry Goldsmith's title theme from the 1978 movie The Wind and the Lion. The second show highlights the fiery rhythms of Latin American with Brazil, Hot-Hot-Hot, and Malaguena.

Another highlight of the season will be the introduction of the ECU Marching Pirate Alumni Band at the Homecoming game. If you would like information about this event, please call the band office at (919) 328-6982.

ECU Sports Medicine

The East Carolina University Sports Medicine Division and Curriculum, reputed to be one of the finest programs in the Southeast, affords every Pirate athlete the best available care and treatment of injuries.

The East Carolina sports medicine program offers the best possible prevention, evaluation, immediate treatment, and rehabilitation of injuries.

Acting Head Trainer Mike Hanley, Assistants Jim Bazluki and Sue Graner, Graduate Assistant Mike Myers and Team Physician Dr. John Siegel oversee the sports medicine program for football. All serve on the staff of the ECU Sports Medicine Conference and as faculty for the Sports Medicine Curriculum within the School of Health and Human Performance.

They are assisted by more than a dozen community-based professionals who lend valuable time in the athletic health care and instructing the 30 to 35 undergraduate students enrolled in ECU's sports medicine educational program for athletic trainers. Dr. Edwin Bartlett and Dr. Tally Lassiter, Jr. are the orthopaedic consultants for football.

The Sports Medicine Center is in the Ward Sports Medicine Building. The Division, which has been in operation since 1971, is now able to better serve the student-athletes and educate sports medicine student athletic trainers using the latest, state-of-the-art facilities and equipment.

The Sports Medicine Staff are in attendance at every athletic event that involves East Carolina University athletes. Radio communication from practice field to the center is a must and a sports medicine vehicle provide instant transportation for injured athletes to the Center. Prevention, evaluation, treatment, and rehabilitation are the main objectives of the Sports Medicine Division and when an injury does occur, the staff provides on-the-spot treatment to make certain the injury does not become more serious.

Dedication, sincere sensitivity, and individual attention are the basic motivators which distinguish East Carolina University's "Sports Paramedics" from any others. People helping people in a first-class setting. That's East Carolina Sports Medicine!

Inside Story

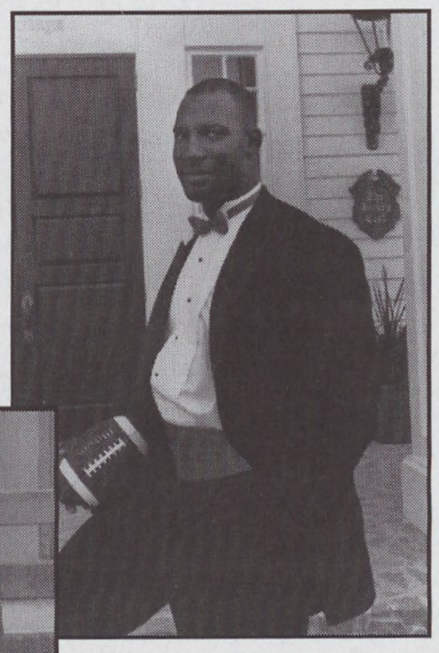

Class of 1994

By Nicole Inman and Leslie Murry
ECU Sports Information

Nothing but the real world compares to the tough competitiveness of East Carolina University football. Today, eleven Pirates will be honored in their final game at Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium. Through years of hard work and a few funny moments, these men have left a lasting impression on Pirate fans everywhere.

Senior Willie Brookins, a 6-2, 240 pound defensive end, may walk tall now, but according to his mother, learning to walk was quite a laughing matter.

"When he first learned to walk, he would take a step and laugh, then another step and another laugh," said his mother Mary Ann Gordon.

Willie Brookins

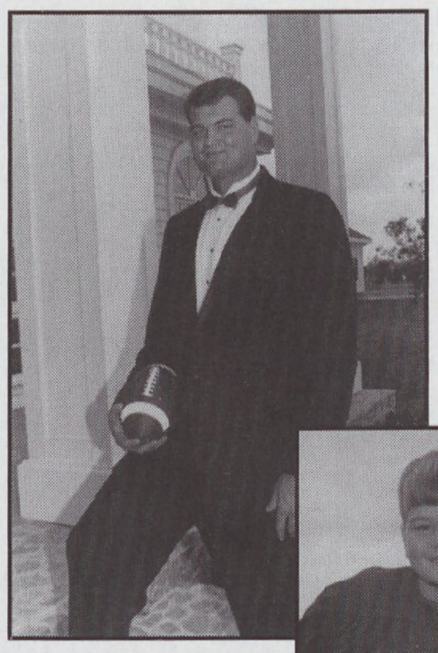

Although Willie is shy, he loved to answer the phone as a young child. When he was six, his mother bought him a Mickey Mouse phone. Whenever it rang, Willie answered and said, "Is this Mickey Mouse?", because he thought no one was supposed to use that phone but Mickey.

The 6-7, 301 pound offensive tackle, Ken Carroll, is lovingly referred to as the "Gentle Giant" by his family.

Parents Eileen and Tom Carroll said, "For a big guy he is a very sensitive and caring person."

Surely Marcus Crandell didn't call him "Gentle" after he was inadvertently sacked by Ken during the Syracuse game early this season.

Ken apparently misunderstood the reverse play that was called.

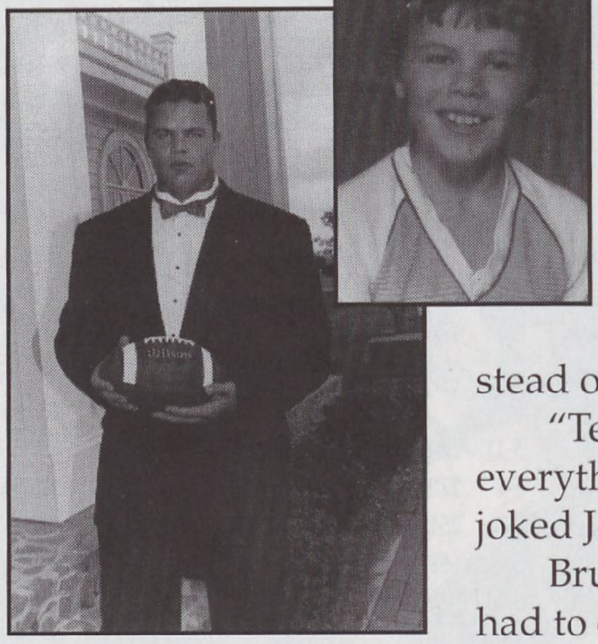

Ken Carroll

Leonard Graham, a 6-1, 223 pound linebacker, has more than just football on his mind. His mother Catherine describes her son as "Very intelligent". Leonard's goal is to be the first in his family to receive a college degree. He admires his mother for the encouragement and support she has given him through the years.

John Krawczyk, a 6-3, 265 pound defensive tackle learned how to knock down "walls" at the young age of two.

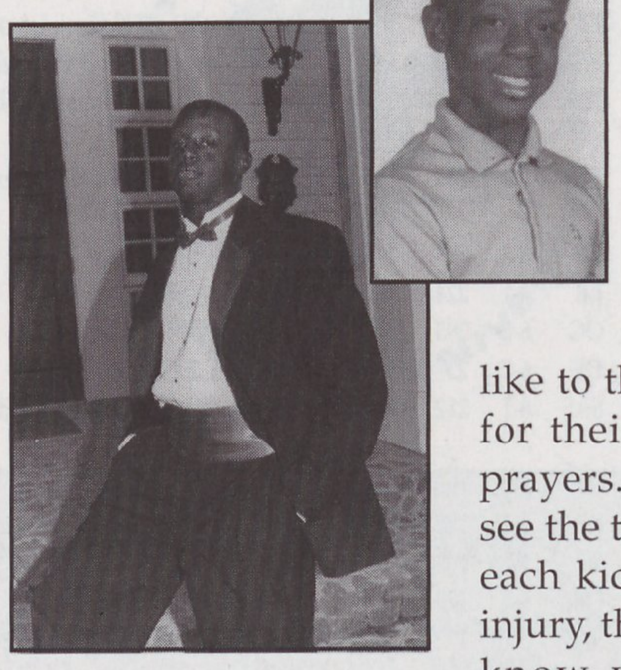

According to father Mitchell Krawczyk, John and his brother Matt were playing chicken and at the last minute, Matt moved out the way. Because John had his head down, he collided with the door instead of his brother.

John Krawczyk

"Ten stitches later, everything was okay," joked John's dad.

Bruce Pearson has had to overcome many hardships in his life. Declared legally deaf as a child, he overcame the odds and played collegiate football. However, he suffered a season-ending neck injury while playing the University of South Carolina. Adversity propels Bruce forward and encourages him to never give up.

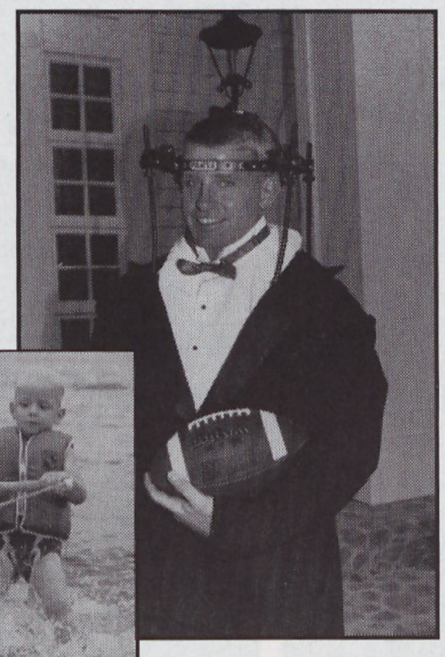

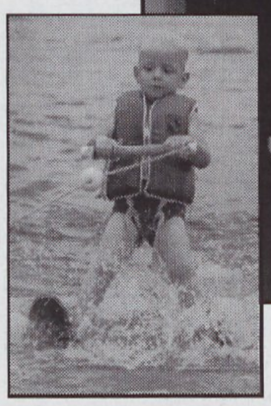

Leonard Graham

His parents would like to thank ECU fans for their support and prayers. "If they could see the tears in his eyes each kick-off since the injury, then they would know what football means to him."

Thank You to the Parents of the Class of '94 and Sharpe's Formal Wear of Greenville for this special "now and then" look of our Pirate seniors.

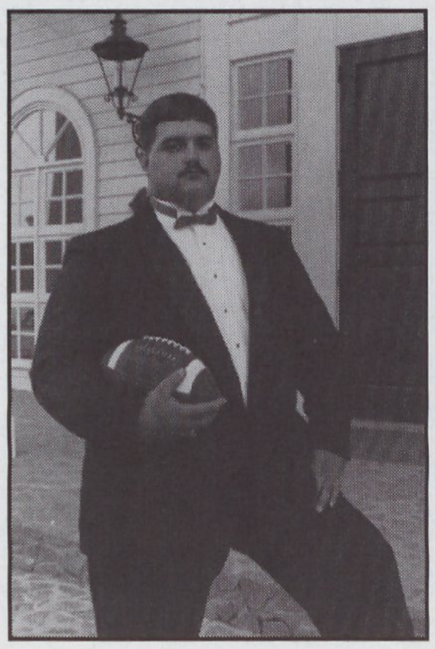

Football also means the world to senior Chad Hannon. Although he has not suited up in a Pirate uniform since 1992, this former offensive lineman has stayed involved with Pirate football as a student coach.

Bruce Pearson

"Even though I was injured, I didn't not want to miss the experience of college football, I did not want to be alienated from it. My position as a student coach has been very rewarding and a great start for what I want to do with my life-coach," said Hannon, who shares athletics with his fiancee', Inez Diessner, an ECU student athletic trainer.

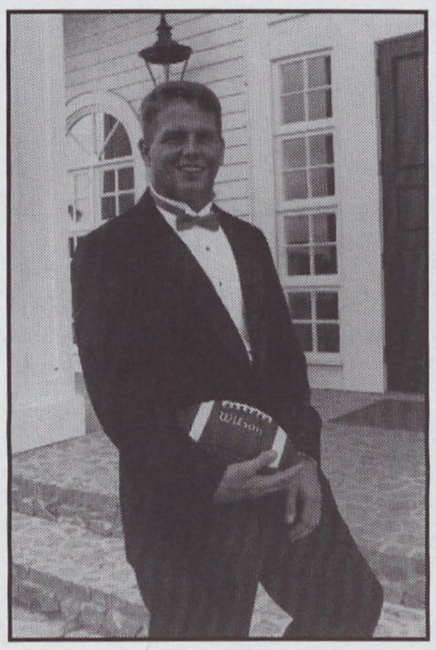

Chad Hannon

Being 5-6, 180 pounds doesn't make Wardell "Junior" Smith small on the field. However, at the ripe age of five, Junior used his wee stature to his advantage. He practiced his now famous weaving technique at the local rink by skating through people's legs.

Proud Pirate parents Wardell, Sr. and Martha Smith described Junior as "humble. Junior will always be honest no matter what the consequences."

Offensive guard Terry Tilghman describes himself as busy, considering that he is a student-athlete and family man.

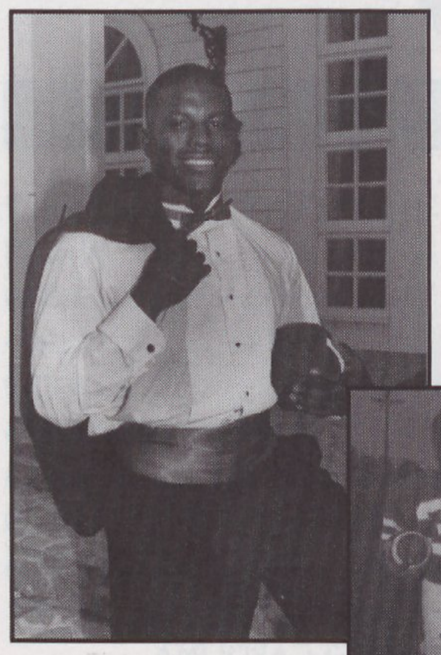

Terry Tilghman

Unlike other athletes who consider the big play their proudest moment, Terry responds with "My proudest moment was seeing the birth of my daughter Jordan."

Tenacious wouldn't describe Derrick Leaphart's freshman experience as he hid from defensive lineman Ernie Logan after delivering a cheap shot during practice.

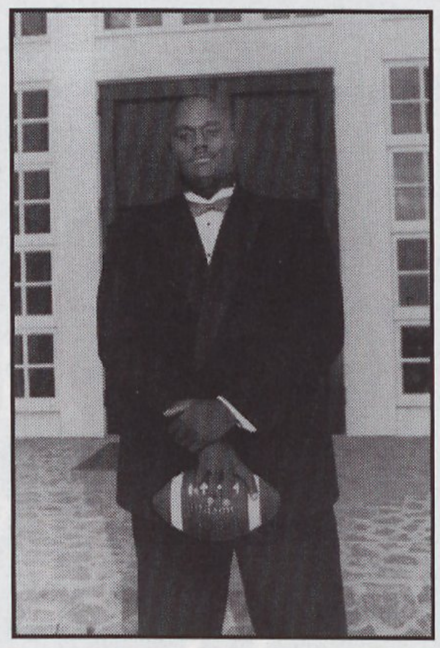

Fellow Senior Terry Tilghman said, "Ernie snuck up to Derrick in practice a few days later, tapped him on the shoulder and said 'Boo!' Derrick fell to the ground paralyzed with fear."

Running onto the field before a game always brings a smile to offensive guard Dealton Cotton's face.

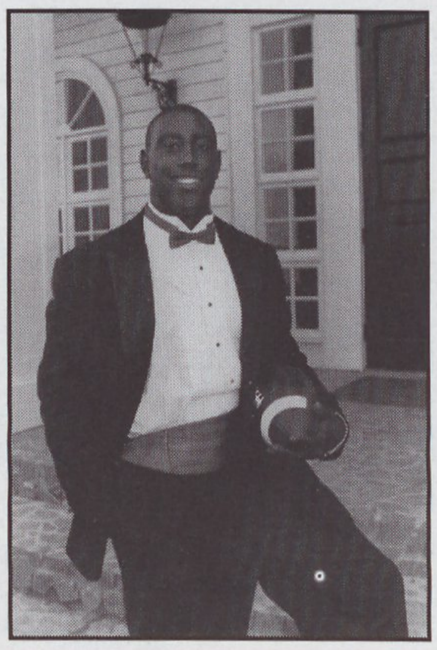

Junior Smith

Derrick Leaphart

"As I was running onto the field for my first football game when I was seven, I fell down in the middle of the field," he laughed. "Man, I was scared."

Even today, Dealton is careful when he runs onto the field. It takes courage, which he expressed when he dedicated his senior season to his mom, who recently passed away.

Damon Wilson

Damon "Happy" Wilson, as he calls himself, explained that he is apprehensive toward the media spotlight because, in some cases, one person is credited for an entire team's effort.

When these Pirates joined the football program, it was Big Team, Little Me. Now it's just Big TEAM.

Damon Wilson was eager to compliment East Carolina fans. "They have been very supportive. Keep it up. Good things are to come."

Pirate fans wish the class of '94 the best in their futures and for them we repeat Wilson's sentiment - Keep it up. Good things are to come!

The James Skinner Ficklen Memorial Stadium was dedicated on September 21, 1963, with East Carolina defeating Wake Forest 20-10.

In April, 1994, Ron and Mary Ellen Dowdy, of Orlando, Fla., announced a $1 million gift to the ECU Educational Foundation. The gift will go toward the planned expansion of ECU's football stadium, which will be renamed Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium.

Ron Dowdy, who is a member of the school's Board of Trustees, currently oversees commercial leases, residential apartments and several other enterprises, as part of Dowdy Properties in Orlando.

Dowdy, a 1966 graduate of ECU, has been involved with many civic organizations, including the Executive Committee of the Florida Citrus Sports Association, the Board of Directors for the Florida Citrus Bowl, the Board of Directors at Humana Hospital Lucerne in Orlando and the Senior Citizen Advisory Committee in Orange County.

The original plan for the stadium was announced on Oct. 7, 1961, by Dr. Leo Jenkins, Chancellor of the College, at a meeting of the Society of Buccaneers.

Within a year, $283,387 had been raised, although the goal had been only $200,000. With the funds in hand, Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium was built.

The original stadium consisted of the permanent stands on the south side, a small press box and the old lighting system which was removed after the 1974 season. Total cost was $300,000.

The north side permanent seating was constructed in 1968, increasing the stadium seating capacity to 20,000.

The stadium was named for the late James Skinner Ficklen, a Greenville resident, who distinguished himself as one of America's leading tobacconists. At the time of his death in 1955, Ficklen was President and Chairman of the Board of the E.B. Ficklen Tobacco Company of Greenville, He was a close friend of the College and established a financial aid foundation, the Ficklen Foundation, to aid students of the College.

The first major change in Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium was the lighting systems, a change that occurred just before the 1975 season opened. The old inner stadium lights on six poles were removed and replaced with six towers outside the stadium. The system is a combination of metallic and incandescent lights. There are 288 fixtures of 1500 watts each on six 162-foot towers. Cost of the system was $450,000.

A radical change greeted fans as the 1978 season opened. An expansion on all four corners boosted Dowdy-Ficklen's seating capacity from 20,000 to 35,000, the third largest stadium in North Carolina. This expansion was made possible with $2^1/_2$ million dollars through a drive in the spring of 1977.

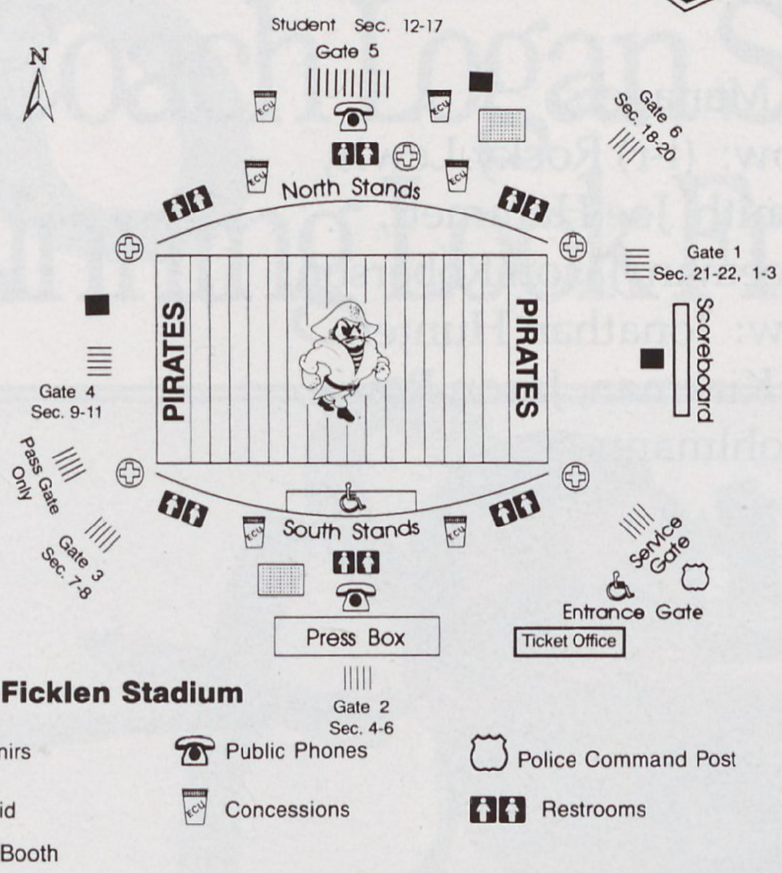

In addition to more seats, the current press box with three levels and an elevator for access was built. The press box has space for 92 writers and an entire floor for electronic media. Also, a modern scoreboard with a lightbank message center was placed on the east end of Dowdy-Ficklen.

During the summer of 1983, a complete renovation took place on the playing surface. A new drainage system, a new base of gravel and sand, new treated topsoil and a new grass was installed. The new grass, Tifton 419 Hybrid Bermuda was sprigged at the rate of 600 bushels per acre.

The 1992 season saw the season attendance record fall in Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium as the Pirates drew a school-record 164,068 fans for five home games.

Future plans call for expansion of Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium, with an upper deck. That would add an estimated 15,000 seats, giving the stadium a capacity of 50,000. Also, plans call for a renovation of the press box, enlarging it to include a club seating level.

Pirate Profile

Pirate Divers Exemplify the Role of Student-Athletes

By Nicole Inman
ECU Sports Information

Coach Jon Rose has taken East Carolina Diving to higher levels of competition every year. During his 14 year-tenure, Rose has coached such ECU greats as Matt Lawrence and Sherry Campbell. His most recent talent can be found in senior Scott Kupec and sophomore Beth Hanna.

Kupec, a native of Charlotte, N.C., has proven himself to be a tremendous athlete and an excellent student.

As an athlete, Kupec has earned three letters and is currently one of the team captains. During the 1993-94 season, he was named a Colonial Athletic Association Scholar Athlete, Most Outstanding Diver, Sprint Carolina Student Athlete Academic Athletic Award recipient, and a member of the Texasgulf All-Academic team.

"It is a prestigious honor," says Kupec. "I was chosen because of my high GPA."

Kupec also serves as a member of the Student Athlete Advisory Council. He explained that the council is a group chosen from each sport to discuss athletic issues and concerns. Each member represents his/her own individual team as well as Pirate athletics in general.

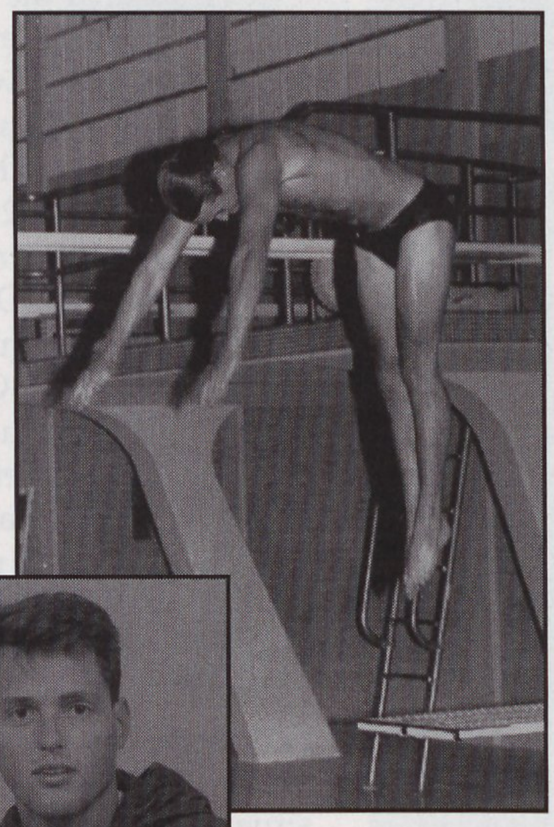

"One of the things we're trying to change now is the lettering system. We've met with people like Athletics Director Dave Hart and a new system will be implemented this year," Kupec said.

In competition, Kupec has also succeeded and he is number three on the Pirate Top-10 for one meter diving (6 Dives). "He has improved every year. He has either added a new dive or a more difficult position," said Jon Rose. "He'll be right up there with East Carolina's top divers."

Being a collegiate athlete has not restricted Kupec as a student. Kupec has made the Dean's List each of his last three years. In the spring of 1994, his GPA was 3.31.

Kupec is also active in two University fraternities, Lambda Chi Alpha and Omicron Delta Kappa. Omicron Delta Kappa is a leadership fraternity composed of various students and faculty members.

"Members are picked because of their roles, like academics, athletics, community service, etc. We interact and discuss issues about the school and the community," Kupec said.

Coach Rose is proud of his only senior this year. "In the years that I have been the diving coach, I've not had that many guys who have committed to four years," he said. "Scott is one of those rare ones. We've gotten really close over the last three and a half years."

While Hanna was a senior at Williamsport High School in Williamsport, Md., she was a YMCA All-America on the three meter diving board and a Pennsylvania State YMCA champion on the one meter board. As a freshman at ECU, she joined Kupec as a CAA Scholar Athlete and Sprint Carolina Student Athlete Academic Athlete. She was voted the Most Improved Diver after finaling at the CAA Championships.

In addition, Hanna was a member of the Dean's List with a GPA of 3.53, in the spring of 1994.

Rose admires Hanna for her confidence and talent.

"She is a hard worker with a good attitude. Beth should break all of Sherry Campbell's records. I expect her to be my number one diver in all the diving events."

Although Hanna extremely competitive in diving, it doesn't interfere with her love of the sport. "Diving is fun for me," said Hanna. "I think it's great that all the team members get along as well they do. We always encourage each other."

Being active in collegiate sports can take its toll on the individual. Kupec and Hanna must take guard as both are majoring in tough areas - Kupec in Physical Education and Hanna in Physical Therapy.

"It's hard," says Hanna. "It's difficult to budget your time for practice, studying, and a social life, but I think it's worth it."

"You're not able to spend that much time with studying," Kupec agrees.

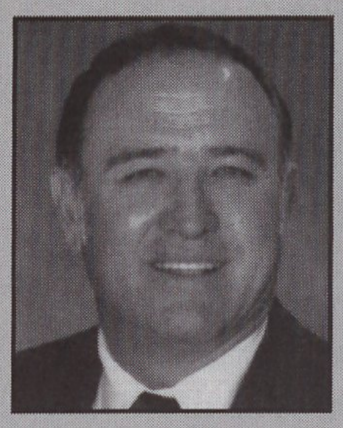

"Scott and Beth are just smart kids who don't mind working hard. They know how to stick with a commitment to a team," says Rose about his divers.

Although diving is not a high-profile sport, it doesn't seem to prevent Kupec and Hanna from demonstrating that East Carolina University is not just about athletics anymore.

Central Florida fielded its first team just 16 years ago, beginning play on the Division III level. In 1993, UCF posted its eighth consecutive winning season and announced its intention to move to NCAA Division I-A in 1996.

Gerod Davis: UCF's Model Role Player

When University of Central Florida running back Marquette Smith arrived at the Orlando-based campus last spring, incumbent tailback Gerod Davis must have thought he had a severe case of deja vu.

He'd already been through similar situation at UCF. But, as was the case just a year ago, when UCF's all-time leading rusher, Willie English, returned from a knee injury, Davis just looked, smiled, and has made the most of the situation.

Davis, a 5-8, 208-pound junior, did the bulk of the rushing in 1992, after English was lost for that season in the opening game against Gardner Webb.

That year, Davis made the most of his opportunities, finishing the season with 1,154 yards and 10 touchdowns, becoming the first Golden Knight player to rush for more than 1,000 yards as a freshman.

Last season, Davis figured to be a vital cog in the UCF running game, but when English returned at full strength, Davis was asked to switch to the fullback slot. Once again, Davis made the most of the situation.

He carried the ball 80 times for 407 yards a year ago, averaging 5.1 yards per rush, with three touchdowns. A valuable pass catcher, Davis also hauled in 30 receptions for 296 yards and two touchdowns.

This season, Davis has split time with Smith, who transferred to UCF after playing two seasons at Florida State University and where he was a part of the Seminoles' 1993 national championship team. Once again, Davis, a graduate of Orlando's Edgewater High School, has continued to make the most of the situation.

"We complement each other very well," Davis said of his relationship with Smith, who also played prep ball locally, at Lake Howell High School. "You can look at him as the "scat" back and me as a "scat" back as well as "power" back.

"Of course, every running back wants to have the show to himself," Davis added. "But, I was able to deal with the situation because of the experience I had when Willie (English) was here."

UCF running backs coach and recruiting coordinator, Alan Gooch, couldn't be happier with the situation or with Davis' attitude.

"Gerod is an unselfish player," Gooch said. "He's very concerned about how the team does.

"I know that he has his own personal goals," he added. "But Gerod has put those aside for the good of the team."

Gooch remembers recruiting Davis as a high school senior in 1991. Davis rushed for 1,853 yards that season, en route to all-state and Orange County "player of the year" laurels. Several major colleges sought Davis' services, but he stayed in his own backyard, choosing UCF.

"Gerod turned down a lot of I-A schools to come to UCF," Gooch said. "He knew the school was on the verge of a move to I-A (which will happen in 1996) and he was willing to make that choice.

Gene McDowell has taken a program that struggled at the Division II level and built it into one that is poised to move to Division I-A in 1996. In his ten seasons at UCF, the former Florida State Seminole has a 70-43 record.

Central Florida Golden Knights

"I'm a former Knight football player myself and I want to see the program grow, too," he added. "The fact that Gerod was willing to join us here meant a lot to me."

Davis' talents haven't been lost in the shuffle this season. The Golden Knights enter today's game with a record of 6-3-0 and are ranked 16th in the NCAA Division I-AA poll. Davis and Smith have combined to rush for nearly 1,300 yards this season (850 by Smith, 395 by Davis) and eight touchdowns.

The tandem, who are roommates when the Golden Knights travel for road games, have combined for 18 receptions as well as, for 121 yards and one touchdown. Davis, who is equally adept at running or catching the ball, has nine of those receptions for 57 yards, an average of 6.3 yards per catch.

"Gerod's versatility is his greatest asset," Gooch said. "And, he doesn't make mistakes, especially mental ones.

"I have a lot of respect for Gerod and his ability to lead by example," Gooch added.

Moreover, Davis and Smith have formed an impressive duo at tailback, combining to rush for 425 yards in successive games against Samford and Northeast Louisiana earlier this season. Davis' best rushing effort was a 19-carry, 79-yard outing against UCF's other NCAA Division I-A opponent this season, the Indians of NLU in Monroe (Oct. 15).

Their relationship, meanwhile, isn't the least bit adversarial.

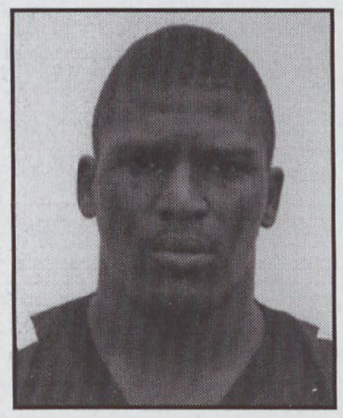

In fact, when Smith rushed for 165 yards on 27 carries and one touchdown at Illinois State earlier this year, the first person to greet him on the sidelines after his first-quarter TD run was Davis.

A week later, Davis scored on a 20-yard run at Samford. The first person to greet him as he made his way off the field? Naturally, it was Smith.

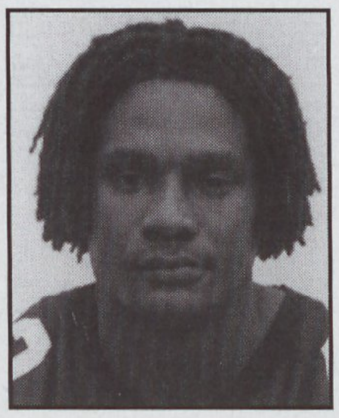

"The best thing about the relationship between Gerod and Marquette is that they challenge each other," Gooch said. "They are competitive enough to battle for playing time, yet they can cut up and get on each other at the same time."

All the while, Davis and Smith are quietly, yet collectively gearing their efforts toward the Golden Knights' run at the I-AA playoffs.

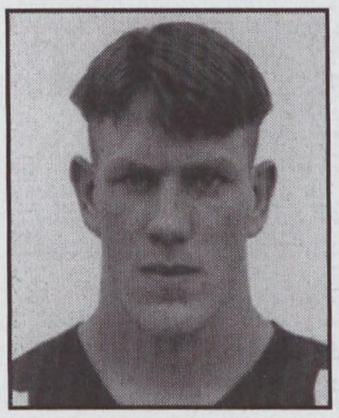

If they are successful, it's a good bet that Davis will look, smile and make the most of the situation.

Student Pirate Club - An excitement-oriented organization open to all students of ECU. A $25 dollar donation to athletic scholarships gains a student Crew level membership in the ECU Educational Foundation. Student Pirate Club members play an integral part in the color pageantry and excitement present at all ECU athletic events.

Graduate Pirate Club - If you want to join the Pirate Club and support Pirate athletics without making a significant financial contribution so soon after graduation, the Graduate Pirate Club is for you! Through the program, ECU graduates are allowed additional credit for athletic fees paid during college careers. What a great way to get started!

Pirates Supporting Pirates - One of the ECU Educational Foundation's newest features, Pirates Supporting Pirates informs Pirate Club members of businesses throughout the region that support ECU athletics. The program encourages member support of businesses who back the Pirates through loyalty and incentives such as Pirate Club discounts.

The East Carolina University Educational Foundation, better known as the Pirate Club, is the fund-raising arm of the East Carolina University athletics program. Money raised through the Pirate Club's annual fund drive is used to help fund Pirate student-athlete scholarship costs. The Educational Foundation's goal for 1994 is to turn over a record $1,050,000 in unrestricted scholarship funds to the University's Athletics Department. Future goals of the Pirate Club include full-funding of all student-athlete scholarship costs associated with ECU's 18 men and women's sports programs. In today's dollars, that translates to approximately $1.7 million in unrestricted scholarship support.

The "backbone" of the Pirate Club organization is its thirty-five community chapters located in North Carolina, Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia and Washington, D.C. Each chapter is lead by a local chapter president who implements the fund raising plans for the Educational Foundation and coordinates the annual spring social-where athletic and Pirate Club staff and coaches update each chapter on upcoming seasons and events.

A recent innovation started three years ago, is the Pirate Representative program. This program has put nearly 300 committed, well-informed volunteers in the field making solicitations to increase support of Pirate athletics. Pirate Reps provide a more personal contact in local communities and assist in keeping Pirate Club donor records updated.

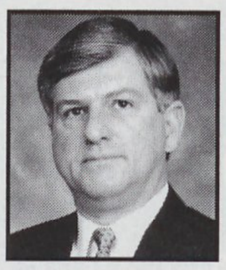

In addition to receiving a sense of pride and personal satisfaction from investing in the lives of ECU student-athletes, Pirate Club members receive certain other benefits including priority in purchasing season football and basketball tickets; priority in purchasing bowl and post-season game tickets, private and semi-private parking at home athletic contests; access to the Pat Draughon Donor Lounge and the Pirate Club Building during ECU athletic events; monthly updates on the Pirate athletics program through the "Purple Report"; and various recognition items.

To our many Pirate Club Members, we thank you for your continued support. To those of you who are not members and who share a dream for ECU athletics, we extend an invitation to you to join "the team behind the teams" today and help move the Pirate athletics program to even greater heights.

Winning The Big Ones!

You don't win the big ones alone. It takes a coordinated and concentrated team effort. And winning seasons are measured by more than touchdowns and field goals. They're the result of individuals working together to achieve a common goal — to be winners.

The Greenville-Joyner Agency points with pride to all the pirate teams of ECU whose achievements throughout the years have brought national recognition to ECU.

ECU Athletics and Academics

The Name of the Game is ... LIFE

At East Carolina University, athletic and academic excellence are inseparable goals for student-athletes. The University is committed to the academic success and graduation of students participating in its athletic programs. The Department of Athletics supports this commitment with extensive counseling services in order to maximize the success of every student-athlete.

"Our mission looks beyond fielding competitive teams and winning games," said ECU Director of Athletics Dave Hart, Jr. "Winning, while important to all of us, is only a part of that development. Graduating student-athletes who are responsible for themselves and to our society is our ultimate goal."

Under the direction of the ECU Student Development Staff, headed by Pam Overton, Pirate student-athletes have reached new heights in academic achievement during the past few years.

East Carolina has had seven student-athletes become recent GTE-CoSIDA Academic All-Americas, including baseball player Lee Kushner, a second-team All-America in 1993, softball player Laura Crowder, a second-team last year, and swimmer Marc Cook, who earned first-team honors in 1992. Stacey Boyette (softball) was given the honor twice, Pam Young (softball), Robin Graves (softball) and Steve Sides (baseball) have also attained the high honor.

Also, this year, the College Football Association recognized ECU for its football graduation rates with an honorable mention Academic Achievement Award.

The ECU Athletics Department is committed to its Student Development Program and the understanding that student-athletes become well-rounded in all aspects of life.

East Carolina University is proud to be one of 47 pilot schools participating in the NCAA's Life Skills Program and one of five serving as model programs. The NCAA and the Division IA Athletic Directors Association have developed a life skills program for student-athletes to help them bridge the gap from college to career and in the process make meaningful contributions to their communities. The mission of the CHAMPS (Challenging Athletes Minds for Personal Success) Program is to provide a personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the student-athlete, as a whole person—academically, athletically and emotionally—and on their changing needs and skills during college and in the years after graduation.

The CHAMPS Program is comprised of five key commitments that address critical areas of personal development: (1) The Commitment to Academic Excellence, (2) The Commitment to Athletics Excellence, (3) The Commitment to Personal Development, (4) The Commitment to Serve, and (5) The Commitment to Career Development.

Ultimately the CHAMPS Program is designed to help student-athletes realize higher academic achievement, a higher level of maturity, self-responsibility and greater overall success. As a participant in this program, ECU is dedicated to carrying out all the program's goals and commitments.

The Office of Student Development does this with a staff dedicated to the principle that the development of the student-athlete is the most important objective.

Overton is in her 11th year of overseeing the academic progress of all student-athletes at ECU. The staff is also involved in personal, social and career counseling as well as supervising the study center and tutorial program for all of ECU's student-athletes.

Carlester Crumpler, Nita Boyce, and Bobbi Welch also serve as academic counselors while Dana Monson is the office's academic development coordinator.

Among the Academic Development Services available for student-athletes are tutorial programs, study halls, academic skills development, orientation, and reading and math assessment.

Additional programs such as interview skills workshop, tutorial recruitment and training, leadership development seminars, a speaker's bureau and community service programs are an important part of the student development program.

The athletics department has set up several prestigious awards for ECU student-athletes. For the past five years, Texasgulf, Inc. has sponsored the ECU Outstanding Scholar-Athlete Award. The award is designed to be the most prestigious that is presented annually to a male and female athlete. Last year, Eric Adamski, a cross country runner, was the male recipient, and Cathrine Norstrand, a cross country/track performer, was the female recipient.

Student-athletes also can serve on the Student-Athlete Advisory Council, which serves as an advisory organization for the staff of the Office of Student Development and the Department of Athletics.

The council is comprised of two members from each intercollegiate athletic squad.

The primary goals of the council include (1) serving as a liaison between athletic teams and the Office of Student Development, (2) emphasizing academic opportunities and responsibilities, (3) encouraging student-athletes to apply what is learned in athletics to their course of study and career development, (4) implementing orientation programs for student-athletes, (5) encouraging development of leadership skills, (6) promoting positive relationships between student-athletes and student body and (7) implementing programs that will promote a positive image for intercollegiate athletics and the student-athlete.

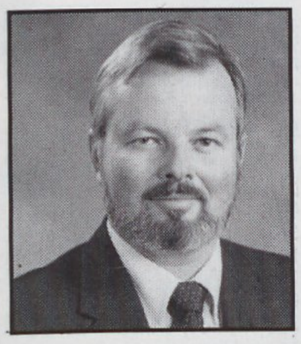

"College athletics is the natural place to give young people the important opportunity not only to grow in the areas of physical development and athletic ability," said Hart, "but just as much in the areas of academic, social and personal development."

Adds Hart, "We in the East Carolina program are in the 'people business', because after all, 'People are our most important product'."

The road becomes a second home for those connected with collegiate athletics. Indeed, being on the road and traveling thousands of miles each year is a major part of the job.

Almost every facet of the job — recruiting, scouting competition, making public appearances, etc. — are activities that keep athletic personnel on the move.

The "wheels" that keep East Carolina's athletic program rolling are a group known as Courtesy Car Dealers, and they play a vital role in allowing the Pirate staff to meet their demands.

Far more than just a fringe benefit, these cars given by the East Carolina Courtesy Car Dealers are necessities for a growing and successful athletic program.

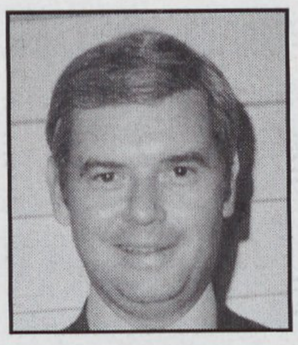

The entire East Carolina staff wishes to thank each dealer providing a car to this fleet of courtesy cars. We hope our fans will look to these fine people for their automotive needs at every opportunity.

Thanks Courtesy Car Dealers! You keep the wheels of East Carolina athletics rolling.

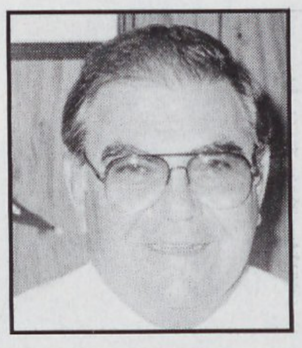

Thanks also goes to Adam's Car Wash of Greenville. Adam's helps keep ECU's courtesy cars looking clean.

ECU Athletics Hall Of Fame

The East Carolina Athletics Hall of Fame was initiated in 1974 as an organization to honor those individuals who have, by direct participation in East Carolina University intercollegiate athletics, brought outstanding recognition to themselves and to the University.

The first honorees were inducted during Homecoming festivities at halftime of the East Carolina-Citadel football game in 1974. Ten members were selected for the inaugural year. Since then, the list of Hall of Fame members, that has grown to over 60 members, includes a world class triathlete, a three-time Olympian, professional golfer and athletic trainer along with a host of members whose association with ECU makes every Pirate proud.

During the 1994 Hall of Fame Weekend, ECU will honor its newest inductees: Hal Baird, Mary Denkler Schoof, Bob Patterson and Joe Shanabrough.

The Hall of Fame is located on the second floor of the Ward Sports Medicine Building. Dedicated in 1990, it features plaques honoring the members and a Hall of Fame guide.

Holcomb, from Smyrna, Ga., is majoring in Industrial Technology.

The award, a $4,000 academic/athletic scholarship, is given in his name by Sprint/Carolina Telephone.

Since 1984, Sprint/Carolina Telephone has contributed a scholarship for each home game and it is a donation that ECU officials greatly appreciate.

Sprint/Carolina Telephone is also a sponsor of ECU's Academics/Athletics incentive program which encourages continued academic excellence by ECU's student-athletes.

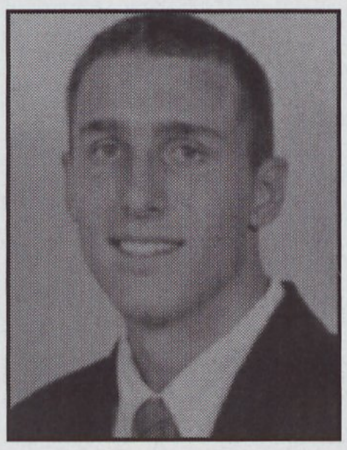

All ECU student-athletes receiving academic honors (honor roll, Dean's list or Chancellor's list) during the year will receive a t-shirt with the custom-designed logo "Academics, Athletics, Partners in Excellence."

Football Academic Leadership Team

"Winning with Teamwork" is the theme of the Football Academic Leadership Team (A.L.T.).

The team is comprised of members of the football squad who will serve as a liaison between the Office of Student Development and members of the football team for the purpose of promoting academic excellence and team leadership with academics.

The members of the A.L.T. for 1994 are: Lamont Burns, Dealton Cotton, B.J. Crane, David Crumbie, Mitchell Galloway, Jake Gilray, Dan Gonzalez, David Hart, Chad Holcomb, Pat Hurley, Derrick Leaphart, Mark Libiano, Emmanuel McDaniel, Jerry McPhail, Scott Richards, Junior Smith, Terry Tilghman and Lorenzo West.

Objectives and responsibilities of the Academic Leadership Team include: (1) creating a positive, winning work ethic in the classroom; (2) challenging fellow teammates to maximize their potential; (3) serving as role models and mentors for fellow teammates both on the field and in the classroom; (4) assisting the Student Development Office in communicating academic related issues to the squad; (5) assisting with the Faculty Guest Coach Program during the season; (6) mentor with freshmen; (7) providing support and/or recognition to team members on academic matters; (8) serving as ambassadors for the football program at official functions; and (9) actively participate in the "Athletes for Education" speakers bureau.

R. W. Moore Scholarship

The "King of the Gridiron" scholarship is presented at each home football game to the outstanding East Carolina football player for that particular game as voted on by the media in attendance.

Senior Junior Smith was named "King of the Gridiron" for the Cincinnati game after rushing 17 times for 114 yards and one touchdown. Smith also had 6 receptions.

Mr. R.W. Moore of Raleigh, president of R.W. Moore Equipment Company, initiated the scholarship in 1977. This season marks the 18th consecutive year for the presentations.

The scholarship carries a $1,000 value and is presented in the name of the deserving player to the ECU Educational Foundation (Pirate Club). The money is then contributed to the general athletic scholarship fund.

Regulators get it done for game-day.

By Paul Richardson
ECU Sports Information

What do Emilio Estevez, Keifer Sutherland, Charlie Sheen, Lou Diamond Phillips, Judd Crumpler, Mike Ciamillo and Lind Hartsell have in common? They all portray the "Young Guns" mentality and image. Actually the latter three make up the nucleus for a group known as "the regulators," who pattern their image from the Hollywood pack.

When those associated with ECU athletics hear the word "regulators" they immediately think of the event staff that keeps things flowing during athletic events at East Carolina.

For the past eight years, Assistant Athletic Director for Operations Jeff Davis has been relying on his staff to get the job done when it comes to game preparation. Davis' main focus is getting ECU's playing fields, arenas, and practice areas ready for battle.

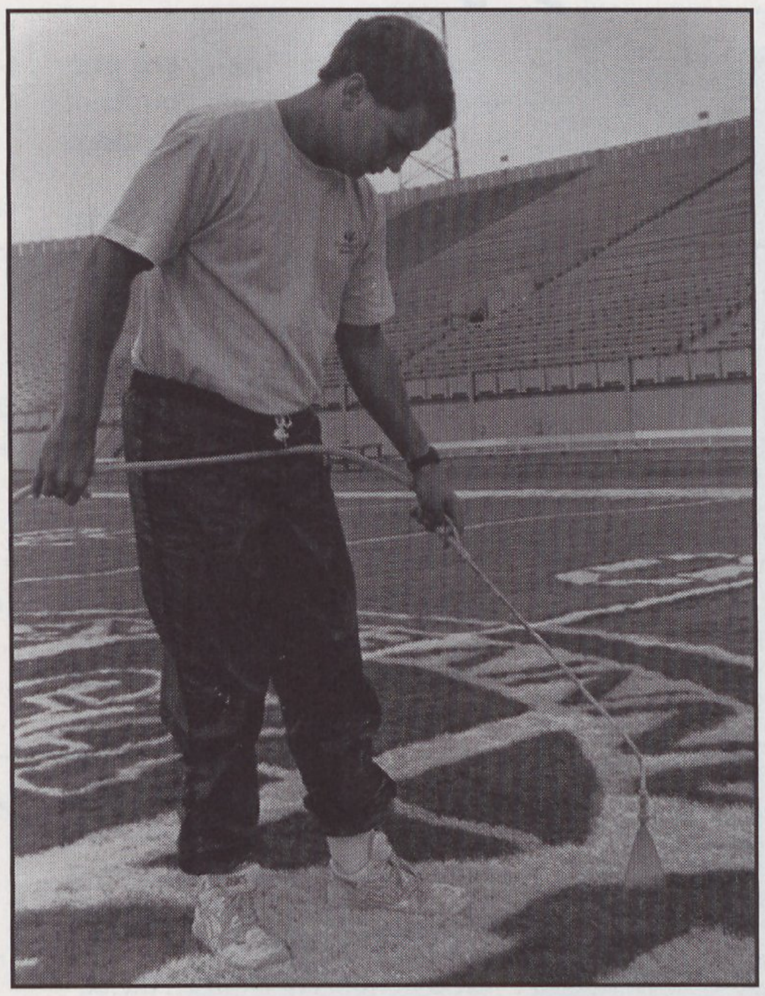

These eleven men (Crumpler, Ciamillo, Hartsell, John Clarke, Kelly Hurdle, Jason "Winger" Wing, T.J. Thompson, Jason Weeks, J.J. McLamb, Daryl Cherry and Randy Jensen) are the nucleus that holds the event staff at East Carolina University together. When fields need to be lined, dragged and prepared, the regulators are your men.

"The event staff is the backbone of the operational staff. The athletic department relies on them heavily to have things ready to go," said Davis.

With every organization the behind the scene crew often does not get the recognition it deserves. To these men, the love for athletics and the feeling of being a part of East Carolina University keeps them motivated.

"We put in on average 40 hours a week, especially during football and baseball season. In the Fall our focus is to prepare and line Dowdy-Ficklen stadium for football Saturdays," said Crumpler.

During the spring the regulators also have many duties. From the maintenance of Harrington Field, the setup and security of Williams Arena to the upkeep of the softball and football practice facilities, these warriors stay on the move.

Judd Crumpler paints the field at Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium, one of many responsibilities of the event staff.

Crumpler, being the true veteran of the squad, has seen many faces in the athletic department come and go.

"I have been a part of ECU athletics for 14 years. From the days of Pat Dye to present. I have seen five different head football coaches along with countless other staff changes, said Crumpler."

John Clark, Jason Wing and the ECU event staff put in numerous hours prior to game day, to insure the East Carolina facilities are looking their best.

All 11 members of Davis' staff realize how important their jobs are. The regulators feel very important in their quest to make events flow smoothly at ECU.

"I am a perfectionist. I want fans to come to sporting events and enjoy themselves. If every event is staged and prepared correctly then the fans will get the maximum enjoyment from the athletic activities," said Davis.

Along with the regulators, the grounds department and cleanup staff headed by Doug Caldwell and Lem Wallace play an integral role in the overall scheme of athletic events.

"We all function as a team, and work together to get the job done. Along with my staff, the cleanup staff and the university painters all contribute greatly in making the games enjoyable for ECU fans," said Davis.

Along with the preparation and breakdown of the various arenas and fields, the regulators patrol the sidelines and fields for would be troublemakers. Crumpler says dealing with the occasional vagrant gets his blood pumping.

"I have encountered streakers and students storming the field as well as those that want to keep footballs and basketballs as souvenirs," recalls Crumpler.

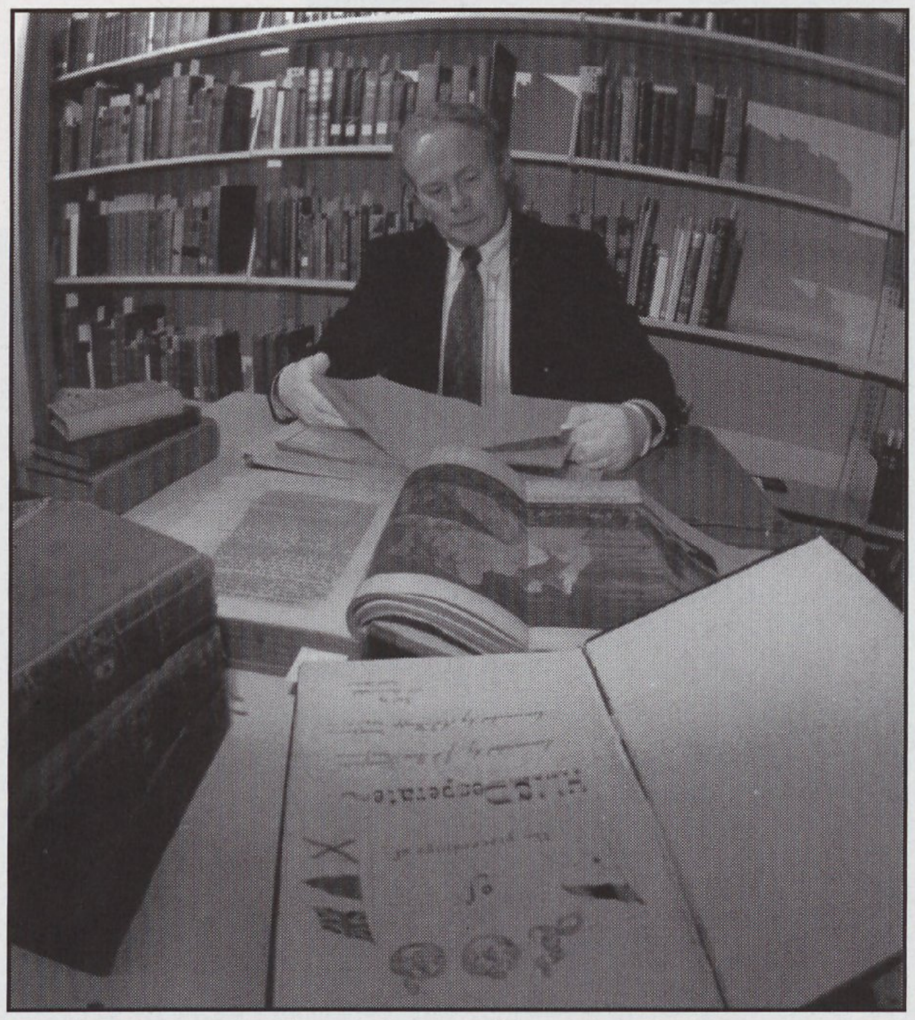

Even though the work is hard and the recognition is not glamorous, Davis says that he never has problems finding people to carry on the tradition of event staffers.

"Through work study and the financial aid office, I get enough people interested. Most of these students are putting themselves through school and love athletics. I also get students through referrals by my current and past staff members. All I ask is that they work hard and take pride in the job they are doing," said Davis.

Hard work, dedication and loyalty are three attributes that come with the title of being a "regulator" at ECU. For these 11 men the thrill of competition and knowing that they have had an integral part in making ECU athletics exciting and enjoyable to the public keep these "Young Guns" motivated.

ECU Builds Treasury of Nautical Books and Papers

Donald Lennon, ECU's coordinator of Special Collections, examines a 19th century ledger of shipwrecks that is part of Joyner Library's vast naval and maritime history collection.

By George Threewitts
ECU News Bureau

The pages of the tattered ledger book were the color of old bone, and on each page, the names of ships were hand written with notations on lives lost and the best guesses as to where they sank in storms, fires and collisions.

"We acquired it from a dealer," said Donald Lennon, the coordinator of Special Collections for ECU's J.Y. Joyner Library. "It contains a listing of ships that sank throughout the world between 1855 and 1858. It is quite rare and it compliments our collection of maritime and naval history documents," he said.

ECU's nautical collection, composed of books, letters, photographs and oral histories, is fast becoming one of the largest in the United States.

"Our holdings are extremely good," said Lennon. "We are already considered the largest repository of naval history outside the federal government. And we are getting stronger all the time," he said.

Many of the books belonged to the late Adm. Ernest Eller, who donated his personal library to ECU before his death. Eller directed the Naval Historical Center in Washington. His library is one of the largest in existence.

In addition, the U.S. Naval Academy's class of 1941 has designated ECU as the repository for the personal papers belonging to the members of the class. The letters, diaries and audio tape memoirs are personal and moving accounts of ship battles and naval actions of World War II.

The U.S. Navy Memorial Foundation in Washington is another endorser of the ECU repository and so are the Destroyer Escort Commanding Officers Association and the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary. The papers and oral memoirs of the sailors that served on the battleship USS NORTH CAROLINA, preserved as a state war memorial at Wilmington, N.C., are part of the collection too.

Examples of some of the things in the collection include the papers and diaries of William S. W. Ruschenberger, a Navy surgeon, who began his career in 1826. Dr. Ruschenberger went on the become the fleet surgeon to the East India squadron and eventually the senior medical officer of the Navy.

The papers of George Leland Dyer, a Navy attache´ to Madrid during the Spanish American War, is another example. Dyer commanded a blockade on Cuba and was the Governor General of Guam. His papers include thousands of pages of letters written to his wife while he was at sea.

From the 20th Century, the collection is unequaled, according to Lennon. Letters, diaries, and oral accounts of World War I and II, by Navy veterans, provide vivid views and stories. E. B. Potter, author of the book "Halsey," credits the material at ECU for helping him tell the story of the famous World War II commander William F. "Bull" Halsey.

The collection is also an important resource for students and faculty. Paul Fontenoy, a graduate student in Maritime History and Nautical Archaeology, uses the materials for a book he is writing about World War II battles in the Coral Sea. His first book, "Sloops of the Hudson River," was published this month.

Gathering material for the collection is both detective and public relations work for Lennon. He said his job often involves meetings with individuals and families. Graduates of the Naval Academy have been especially responsive in donating their materials. The academy does not maintain a repository for these documents.

On some occasions, Lennon will take his search for old papers to unusual places. He discovered one of the largest single collections of historically important naval papers in an old tobacco packhouse in North Carolina. The papers were those of an American naval officer and included a diary written by the officer's wife giving details of his escape from Spain, across the Pyrenees Mountains, at the outbreak of the 1898 Spanish-American War.

SAILORS' MEMOIRS OFFER GLIMPSE OF WORLD AT WAR

East Carolina University's collection of papers, diaries, photographs and oral memoirs about the country's naval and maritime past contains a vast array of information about World War II. Among the stories, neatly cataloged and packed away in cardboard boxes, are dozens of eyewitness accounts from sailors who witnessed war for the first time at Pearl Harbor.

In one account, James Harvey Brown, an engineering officer aboard the USS SHAW, recalls how he crouched beneath the stem of dry-docked ship as waves of Japanese airplanes attacked the base.

"The bombs landed about eighty to one hundred feet behind me toward the stern of the ship and completely bathed the ship in fire ... almost like a blacksmith's forge," Brown recalled in his memoirs.

"At approximately 9:40, or thirty minutes after the bombs had hit the SHAW, the magazine in the SHAW cooked off—exploded...I remember seeing great chunks and pieces of the ship falling out of the sky and burning—hatches, doors, watertight doors, and jagged pieces of metal—and landing all around out there."

Another officer, William W. Jones, was aboard the HELENA and was among the first to sound the alarm at the start of the attack. He said he and a signalman were on deck duty when they spotted the first attack plane with its "meatball" emblem beneath the wings. He said the signalman had seen similar planes bomb Shanghai, China.

"One thing I distinctly remember was seeing a torpedo plane go across our ship towards Battleship Row," Jones recalls. "The cockpit in the plane was open and the pilot was learning out first one side and then the other, sighting up. He couldn't have been over fifty feet in the air. My recollection is that I fired my forty-five automatic at him, but that might be colored by what I wished I had done," he said.

WIN with the PIRATES!

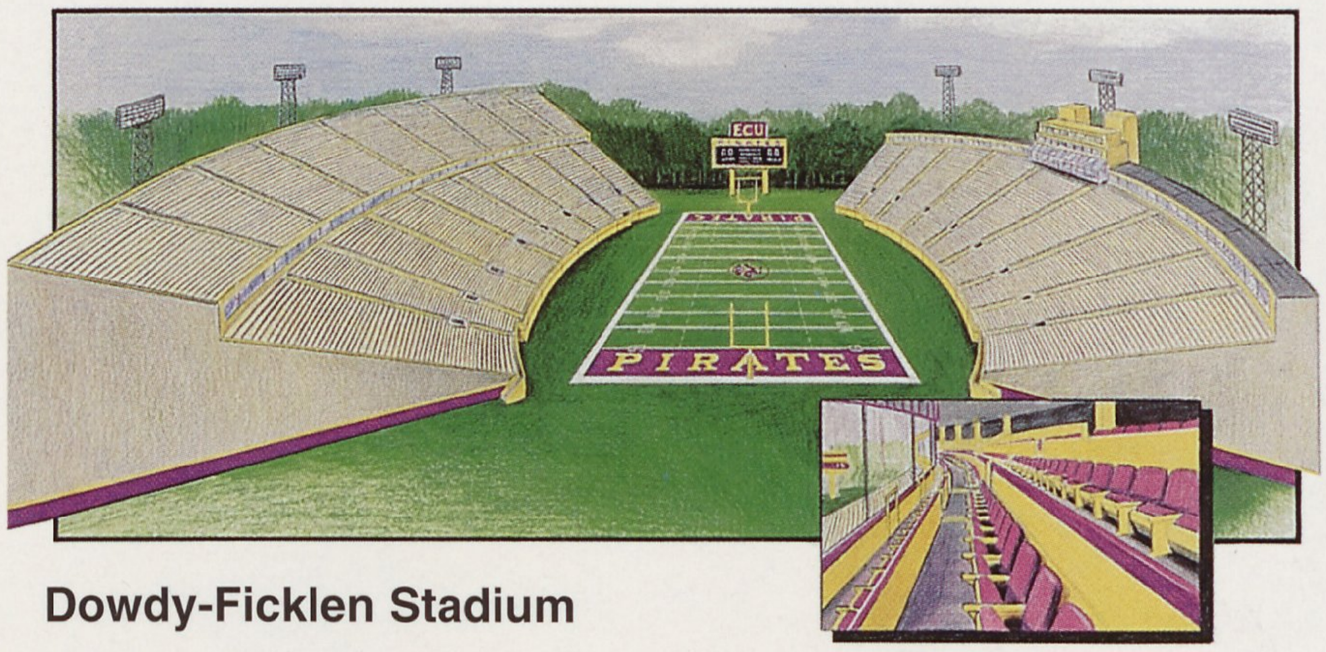

Over $1,000,000 ...

When establishing the Student Stores, the Board of Trustees wisely mandated that all earnings be used solely for student scholarships. Over the years, the ECU Student Stores has made significant contributions to the Resource Scholarship Fund, providing over $1,000,000 in the last six years alone.

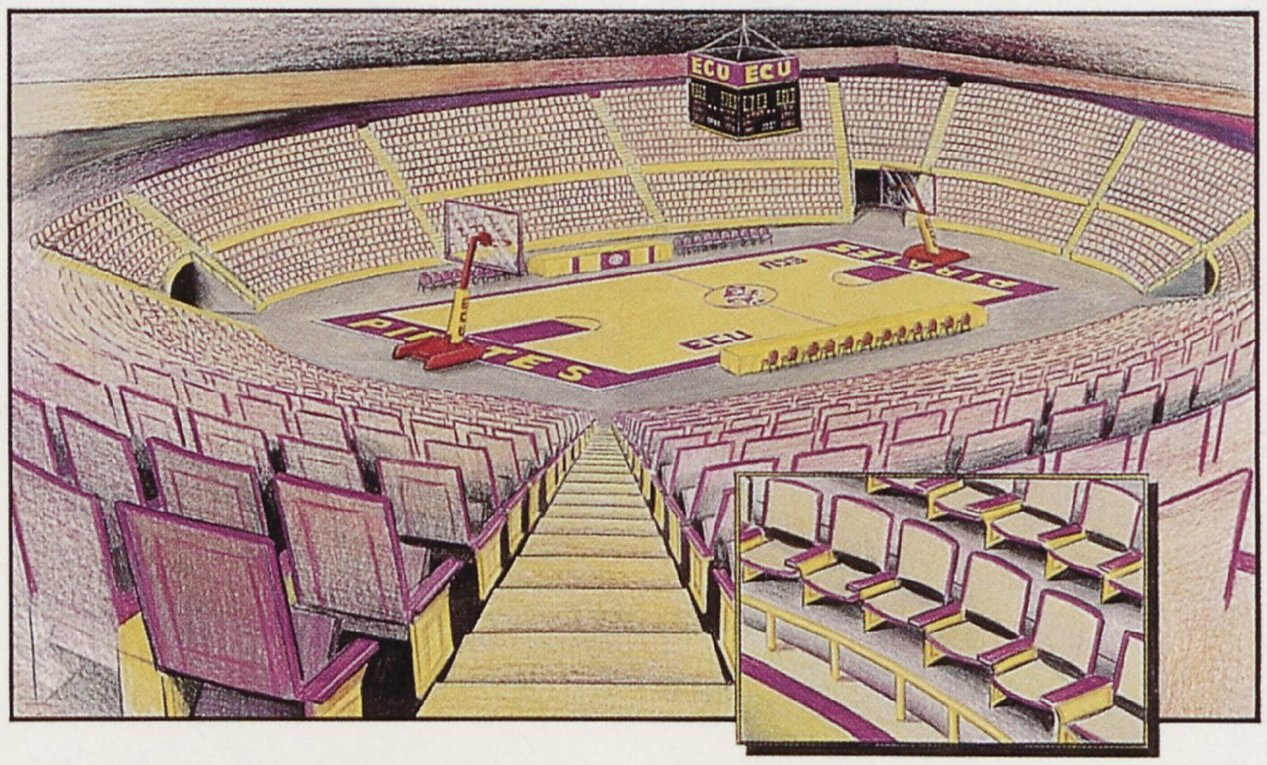

The Student Stores receives no state funding or student fees. We are a self-supporting service that pays all merchandise cost, operating expenses and capital expenses out of receipts, and returns any residual money to the ECU student body through the scholarship program.

Whether you are here today to support the Pirates or are visitors from another school, we are all here to support our respective teams, both on the field and in the classroom. In that spirit, the staff of the ECU Student Stores is proud to confirm its ongoing contribution to the academic mission of the University.

Thank you for making that possible.
