Dear Mrs. Barner:

Ah look I have read your 'baby' and she seems to remind me more of old times than the sight of the old home on New Bevel Avenue itself. She is so much like you!

Yes, I frequently see your old home, on my way to the Soldiers Home, and never fail to think of the many pleasant visits made there, with my friend Dick Dodge.

I am daily reminded of my boyhood and early manhood, in my perambulations about town. Scenes of my youth
