Flanagan Addition Nears Completion

After nearly a year's construction, the addition to Flanagan should be ready for use in two weeks. The new addition boasts three stories—the ground floor for industrial arts, the second and third floors for science. Cost for the three stories and equipment is $375,000.

The Industrial Arts Department occupies the whole of the ground floor, and estimated 6,000 sq. ft. The department includes new wood-work shop, general shop, planning area, and two finishing rooms.

The second and third floors are used by the Science Department for chemistry labs, biology labs, botany labs, classrooms and offices. All Chemistry Departments will be located on the second floor, and the Biology Department on the third floor.

From the two rooms of the Industrial Arts Department and the two floors of Graham Science Department to the whole of Flanagan Building is a great deal of progress. Nevertheless, Dr. Bing of the Industrial Arts Department says that more expansion is a necessity. Mr. Duncan, EC business manager stated:

"The college is requesting more funds from the 1963 legislature for more classrooms. All classroom buildings are being used to their fullest extent. This new addition will provide some relief to the Science and Industrial Arts Department in taking care of the increased number of students."

The Homecoming Queen election will be held on October 10. Each college organization and dormitory is eligible to enter a candidate in the competition. A "C" average is a necessary requirement for Homecoming Queen. Candidates must file their names with the SGA by September 28 and must submit their pictures by October 3.

Notices

The EC Playhouse will hold Open House Tuesday, September 25, 7:00 p.m. in McGinnis Auditorium. A tour of the theatre will be conducted, slides and displays from past shows will be shown, and refreshments will be served. All students interested in theatre work are invited to attend.

The BUCCANEER staff requests all organizations to submit a black and white, 8x10, head and shoulders portrait of their sponsor for BUCCANEER Queen to the BUCCANEER office no later than Friday, October 12. Additional information may be obtained by request.

Greenville Presents Airport Case To CAB

By DAWN AUSTIN

An investigation by the Civil Aeronautics Board is now in progress to determine if an area airport in eastern North Carolina is justified. The cities of Goldsboro, Kinston, Rocky Mount, and Wilson, which at present have local airports, are opposed to the idea.

The present hearing is the third such investigation. The first hearing was organized under the Eastern Carolina Airport Authority Law. The failure of the city of Wilson and Nash County to participate meant the defeat of the first hearing.

Ex-Governor Aids Efforts

Ex-governor Luther Hodges was instrumental in organization of the second hearing, the Mid-Eastern Airport Authority. The second hearing also failed; however, the CAB stated that a request could be made for an investigation of the feasibility of area service for all of eastern North Carolina.

Pitt County and Greenville immediately petitioned for an investigation to determine the advisability of establishing a reasonable airport facility for the area. The petition was granted on August 21, 1962, when the CAB issued an order instituting an investigation.

Greenville now must present the case at the hearing and convince the CAB that the airport is feasible from an economic standpoint, and would eliminate the construction and maintenance of three airports. The airport would consolidate service at a central facility, generate greater traffic potential, and result in more frequency of scheduling. The area would have trunk-line flights with direct flights to major cities, rather than local feeder service into other trunk line facilities.

Students Benefit

Students of EC would benefit from the airport in that those living in other states would have better transportation from their homes to the school. This could possibly aid EC in its effort to be recognized on a national level.

The cost of the airport would be jointly shared by the local and federal governments. The Federal government would match the funds raised by the local government by 50%.

Proposed Site

The proposed site is Toddy, North Carolina, which is located an average of 18.9 miles from the cities of Greenville, Goldsboro, Kinston, Rocky Mount, Tarboro, and Wilson.

The committee here in Greenville is headed by Mr. J. Vance Perkins, Chairman; Mr. W. T. Kyzer, Secretary; and Mr. W. W. Speight, advisory counsel.

The Greenville Junior Chamber of Commerce, in its wholehearted endorsement of the proposed airport, has petitioned and received signatures of citizens within the entire area including Ayden, Bethel, Farmville, Greenville, and Washington.

Haller Pursues Language Work

Dominique Haller of Geneva, Switzerland, has begun work as a student assistant in the Department of Foreign Languages. During the 1962-1963 term, she will be engaged in laboratory work, particularly in pronunciation, and give other assistance in the department.

Arrangement for Miss Haller's year of work were made through the Institute of International Education, New York City. She is attending EC on a scholarship granted by the college here and will receive a certificate of American studies.

Miss Haller is a graduate of the High School of Geneva and is enrolled as a junior.

She will be a guest speaker before a number of organizations in the eastern part of the state.

Aiken Joins EC As Athletic Promoter

Earl Lee Aiken, new director of athletics promotion and sports publicity, began his duties here on August 1.

Aiken is widely known in the sports news field for his eleven-year record at Lenoir Rhyne College. He has also served as a newspaper correspondent in Washington, D. C.

Aiken received the A. B. degree in pre-law at Lenoir Rhyne College in 1939. He was also graduated in 1944 from Cecil's Business College in Asheville.

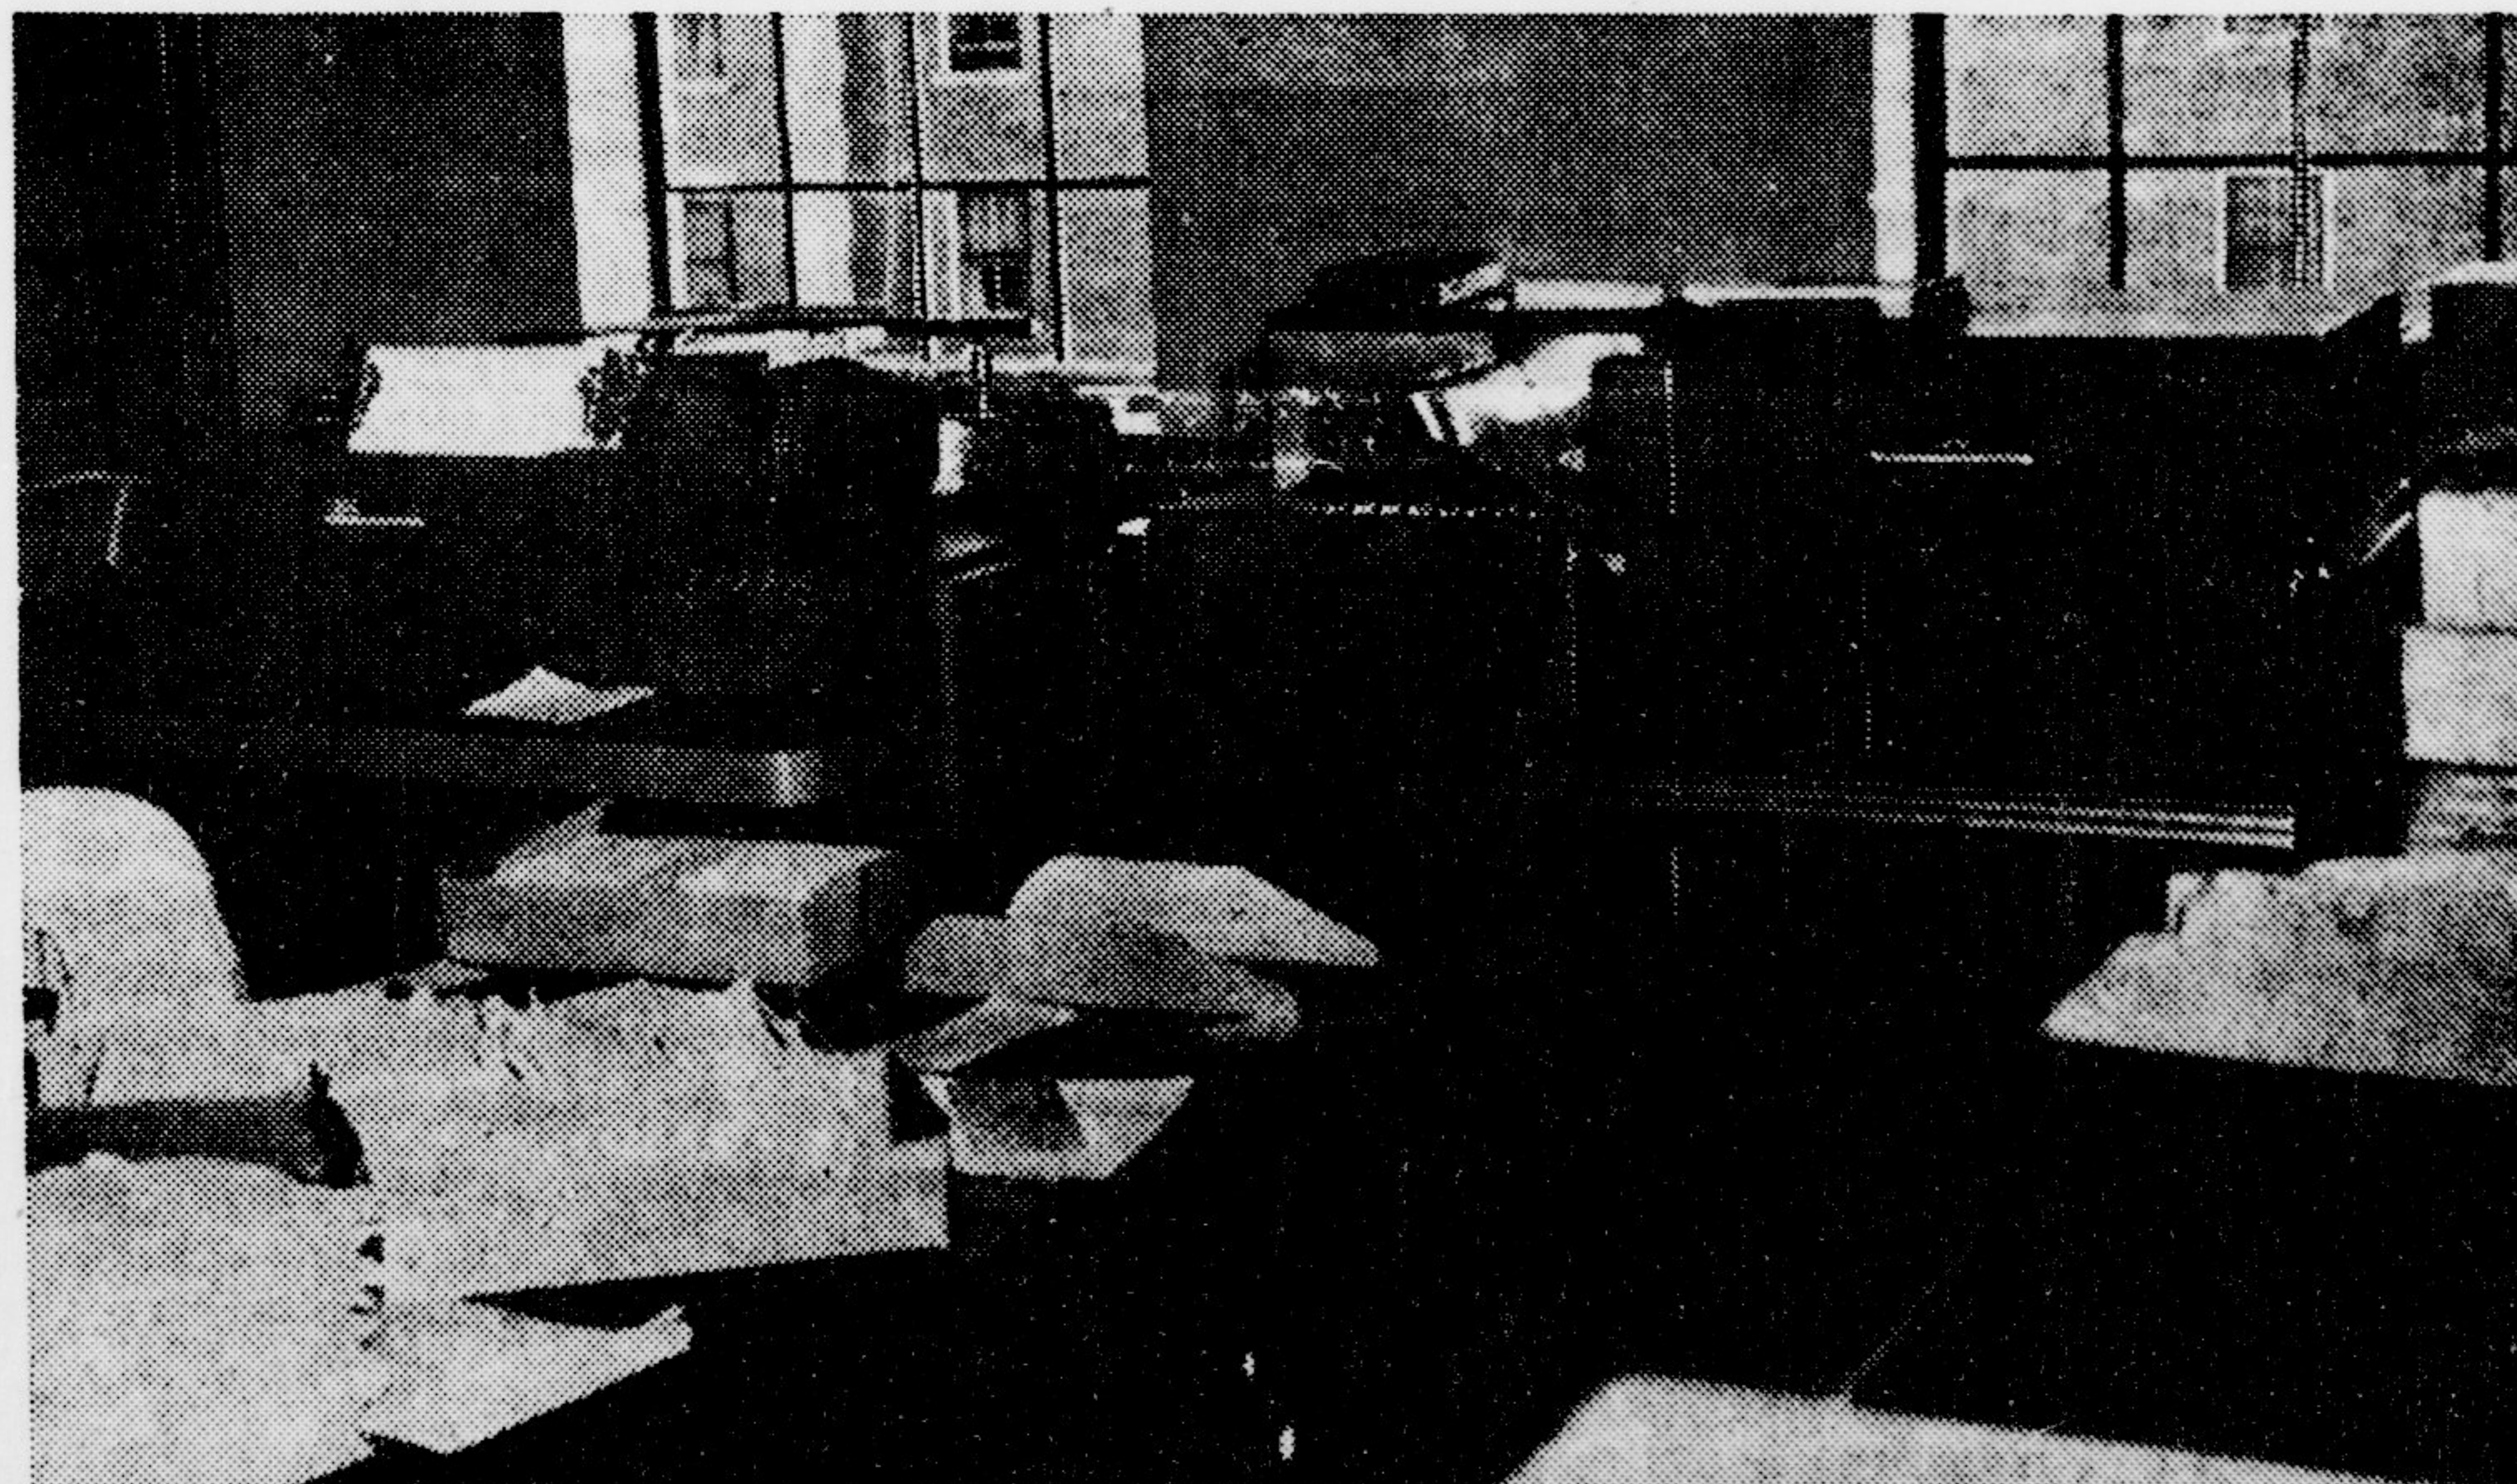

Oct. 2 Marks 'Red Letter' Day For Freshmen

October 2 is a "red-letter" day for all ECC Freshmen. On this day freshman elections will be held. Officers to be elected include president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, male senator, and female senator.

Woody Shepherd, Elections Committee Chairman, has announced that all freshmen desiring to run for office must submit their names and addresses to the SGA office before September 26.

Elections will be held in the individual dormitories under the direction of the respective dormitory vice presidents with the exception of the freshman women's dormitories where the President of the Women's Judiciary will be in charge. Day students may cast their ballots at Wright Auditorium.

IBM Machine In Action

THE MECHANICAL MONSTERS . . . which have taken over much of the registration work for the administration are at last revealed to the college students. All those who have the urge to destroy them because of "slight" registration difficulties should remember that not even a machine is perfect.

Awareness

There is, to put it mildly, a shocking contrast between the social and political awareness of the seemingly average student of many foreign countries and the complete indifference of most American students. This is, however, improving—or so it seems.

Evidences of the improvement could be seen in the recent demonstrations against the House Un-American Activities Committee and the even more recent Ban-the-Bomb marches in New York. The issues involved in these incidents are less important than the fact that there were enough interested students to stage noteworthy demonstrations. Generally speaking, the American college student is becoming more aware of the world in which he finds himself.

If, however, we stop talking about the student of America and start talking, more specifically, about the student of North Carolina, we would be hard-pressed to offer evidence to show that we too, are becoming more aware of the state of the world. Here at EC it is difficult to live through a day without seeing the evidence of this indifference.

It is a regretful situation, but the average student here seems to be clinging to the college-man image of the fifties—fun-loving, socialable, academically mediocre, drunk. It is best left to sociologists to tell us why this situation exists, but you might want to give some thought to the fact that, in spite of your shiney Weejuns and even shinier fraternity pins, you're ten years behind the rest of the world.

About Those Bulletins . . .

It is interesting to note that after last weeks' paper in which we expressed a desire to de-emphasize the bulletin board section of the EAST CAROLINIAN, we received three times as many bulletins for this edition. We are, at present, considering armed rebellion.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"FIRST, LET ME SAY THAT I APPRECIATE THE FACT THAT MOST OF YOU CAN MANAGE TO MAKE THIS 8 O'CLOCK CLASS."

THE BRAMBLEBUSH

By JIM WILLIS

As the long days of summer slowly fade into the shorter days of autumn, we find that another summer has silently as the Arabs folded her tent and stolen away. And here we are again, IBM and all, ready to face the many challenges that lie ahead of us in the year to come. We have many things to look forward to; and as always, there are things to be dreaded. Of the former, there is Homecoming and the morning after, Thanksgiving, Christmas, the snow, the White Ball, and the thrill that school will soon be out. Of the latter, we speak of the many dreaded exams, books to be read, themes to be written, grouchy instructors, and eight o'clock classes. But in the end, it will be a rewarding year for most of us when we realize that it's the things we dread most that will make sophomores of freshmen, juniors of sophomores, seniors of juniors, and graduates of seniors.

Speaking of the IBM, we hate to knock the efficiency of the old man but we know of a student who had three five hour courses scheduled for eight o'clock Monday through Friday. Not that such a schedule would not be efficient if one could do it, but for most people the whole idea seems just a bit ridiculous. Incidentally, in attempting to drop two of the eight o'clock classes, one instructor meekly asked the student, "Do you feel that it is absolutely necessary for you to drop this course?"

If you missed seeing or hearing ECC's opening game with Richmond, you missed one of the most exciting games for EC in a long time. Though the Pirates were nipped by the Panthers for the lack of an extra point, their performance was great. Incidentally, it's comforting to know also that the Pirates have the support of Dick Herbert, one of North Carolina's most respected sportswriters.

Our editor has referred to us as being "biting." Though that's just one way of stating our purpose, we feel the need to bring out the fact that we have no personal, political, or social axes to grind. Our purpose is, as the name of this column indicates, to bramble. We intend to do exactly that, pointing out what we think are both the good and bad facets of East Carolina College. We feel no responsibility to the administration, the SGA, or to anyone except the student body. We welcome all comments via a letter to the East Carolinian.

College Union

By ROSS ANN MORRIS

"Make It Easy On Yourself" is a popular and familiar tune with all students, but the title serves a double purpose on the East Carolina campus. The second purpose is connected with the ever popular College Union. This year, for the first time in East Carolina's history, students are being permitted to carry their refreshments into the lounge part of the Union. This is made possible by the presence of approximately fifteen trash receptacles inside the CU and around the terrace. The cooperation of all students in keeping the CU clean is a necessity if we want to continue with this new privilege. So "make it easy on yourself" by taking pride in your CU.

Along with something new there should always be something old and familiar. The CU provides us with this in its many and varied activities. For the 'card sharks', there is the beginners' bridge party taught by Mrs. Scarlett Miller on Tuesdays and Thursdays, as well as the duplicate bridge session on Wednesday nights at 7:00 p.m. on the third floor of Wright Auditorium.

If you prefer a more robust type of entertainment, why not join the College Union bowling league which is organized by Mr. Henry Kevaitkowski? The team bowls every Monday at 4:15 p.m. at Hillcrest Lanes.

Last, but not least, is the ambitious College Union Committee Group which consists of volunteers only. The group meets the first Thursday of every month at 4:00 p.m., and everyone is invited to attend.

As a closing note, we quote the Director of the College Union Activities, Miss Mendenhall, who says, "Look around you, please, and take pride in your College Union.

Fountain Looks Clean; But For How Long?

By SAMMIE CLARKE

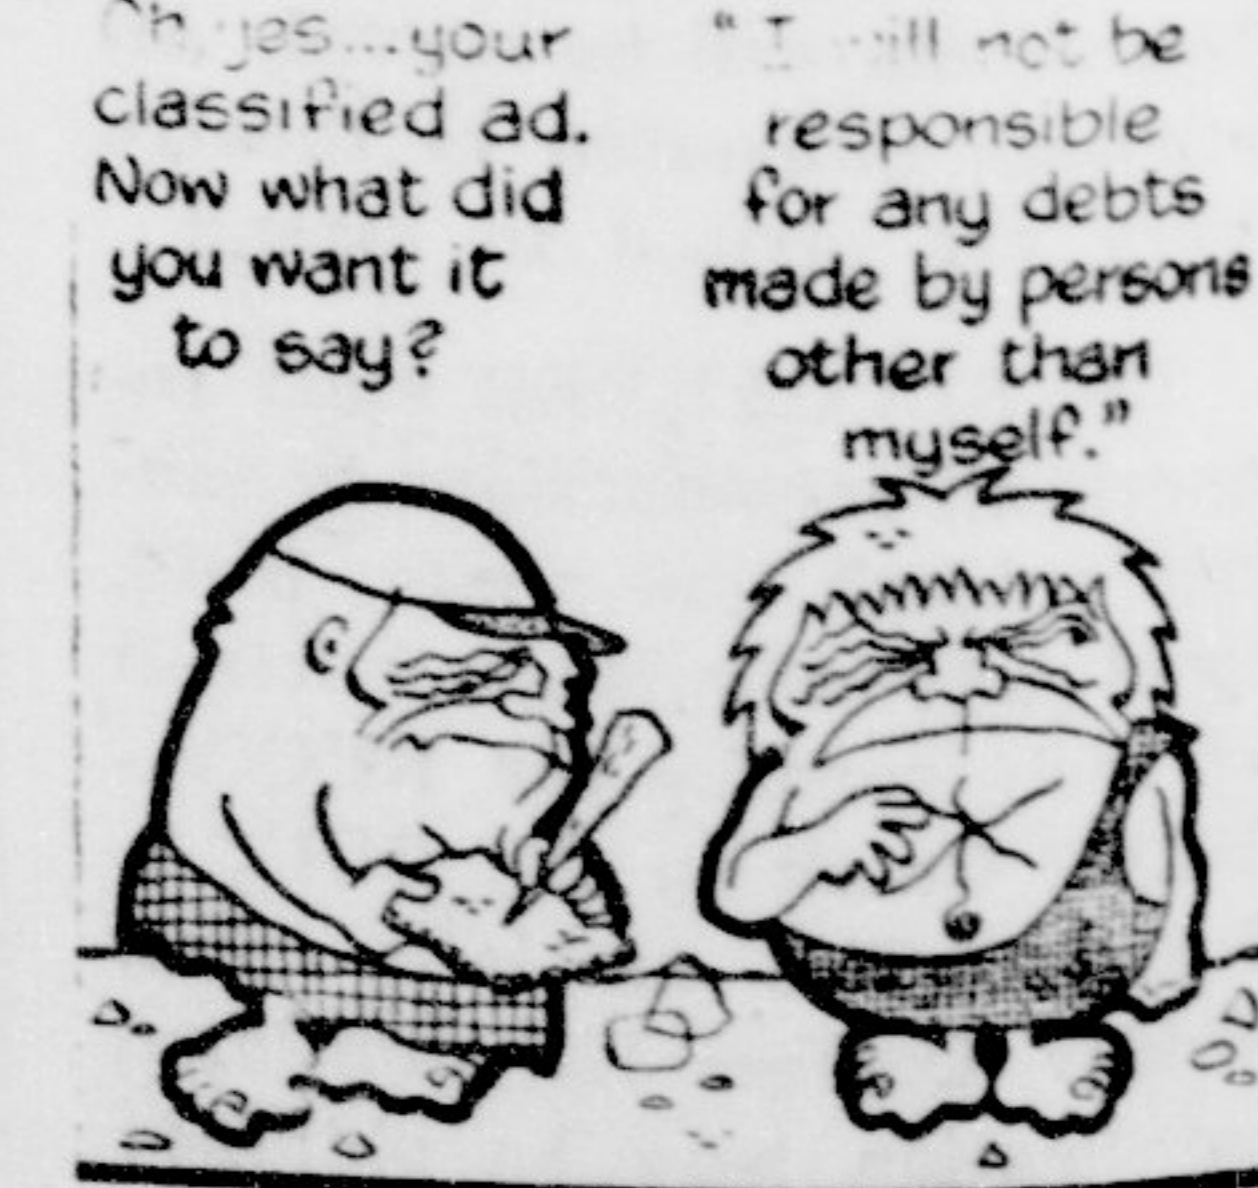

Have you noticed that the fountain in Wright Circle is back to normal again? For the last few weeks it has been off and filled with rusty water, sticks, cups and various other things.

It seems that about two weeks before fall quarter began, the special underwater motor in the fountain stopped working. Because of its complexity, no one this side of the factory in Iowa where it was made could mend it. Consequently, that motor went to Iowa and back and still did not work. It then was taken to Rocky Mount, where some skillful soul finally repaired it.

Now it is running beautifully clean, clear water again and will continue to make Wright Circle a lovely spot on campus. That is, of course, until some wise student pours it full of soapsuds or papers or maybe puts a No-Parking sign in it!

Letters

The EAST CAROLINIAN welcomes letters from its readers. The briefer they are, the better is the prospect of publication. Letters should be kept to a maximum of 250 words. They should also be of general interest. All are subject to condensation and should conform to the standards of decency and good taste. We assume no responsibility for statements made. All letters to the EAST CAROLINIAN must be signed.

Fine Arts Program Expands To Include Student Productions

An expanded program in the arts, especially a new impetus in drama, music, and creative writing, received emphasis at a meeting of college officials and faculty members Thursday night at the home of President Leo W. Jenkins. New Courses In Drama

Discussing the outlook for the drama here, Edgar R. Loessin, director of the Playhouse, stressed the development of "a contributing theatre, one with excitement and originality." He outlined plans, accepted by administrative officers, of an expanded curriculum in drama, including new course offerings and increased emphasis on dramatic composition and such aspects of production as acting, direction, and technical production.

In addition to formal class work, an experimental theatre workshop—a key enterprise for developing student actors, playwrights, and directors—will be activated during the year.

Student Production Planned

Mr. Loessin also outlined plans for a series of student productions and of major productions for the year. Major productions during 1962-1963 will include at least two full-length plays and the annual musical and opera, presented by the Department of Music with the cooperation of the Playhouse. Opportunities for new types of dramatic and musical programs of interest to the public, President Jenkins said, will be made possible when an aluminum shell is purchased for use in the Ficklen Stadium, now under construction.

New Equipment For McGinnis

The McGinnis Auditorium, where most dramatic and musical productions take place, will be equipped with new lighting, rigging, and scenery.

Gene Strassler, Director Earl E. Beach, and Donald H. Hayes of the Music Department discussed the presentation of an opera, probably with a well-known composer as consultant and conductor, and of the annual musical, which has become one of the most popular and well-attended college entertainments throughout eastern North Carolina.

Native and foreign students and faculty are invited to attend the formulation meeting of the Cosmopolitan (International) Club on Thursday, September 27, 7:00 p.m., in Graham 101 c.

Alpha Delta Pi's informal fall rush will be held Wednesday, September 26, at 7:30 p.m.

Entertainment will be provided by Bruce Alexander and Richard Norman, "The Richard and Bruce Trio."

Training Open To Fifty Athletes By Peace Corps

The Peace Corps is looking for boxers, wrestlers and Judo experts.

It also wants swimmers, basketball players and track and field athletes.

In all, the Peace Corps is seeking about 50 athletes, both men and women who have participated in college sports, for projects in Morocco, Senegal and the Ivory Coast.

The athletes, who need not be college graduates, have been invited by newly independent African nations to coach and assist in the training of regional and national teams.

The African governments are keenly interested in sponsoring and fostering the tremendous interest in sports in their countries.

Government officials look upon this interest as a way of using the common bond of widespread sports interest to unify peoples accustomed to living in decentralized and tribal nations and to identify them strongly as participants in the single endeavor of building nations. Additionally, they feel that sports can be one of the most effective ways of working with the nation's youth.

Training for those selected will begin about mid-October in an American university. Applicants should therefore apply immediately and notify their references to respond to questions as soon as they are contacted.

Art Dept. Begins Rawl Exhibitions

The Department of Art initiated its 1962-1963 series of exhibitions this week with a traveling show entitled "Mexico: Two Perspectives." The works included are hung in the Hallway Gallery, Rawl Building, Third Floor, and will be open to the public throughout September.

"Mexico" is the first of a series of monthly shows which have been scheduled for the Hallway Gallery during the school year.

The current exhibition is made up of watercolors and works in mixed media; that is, watercolor combined with pastel and ink. The subject matter is Mexico.

"Mexico" is a two-man show by Leslie Powell and Adele Godchaux, both of whom have exhibited widely and are represented in numerous collections.

The Young Republicans Club will meet Wednesday, September 26, 4:00 p.m., in the Wright Social Room. R. L. Drake, of Washington, N. C., will talk on "Conservatism." All interested persons, regardless of political preferences, are invited to attend.

Smith, Strickland Co-Captain Pirates In 1962 Grid Season

Dave Smith and Bill Strickland have been elected by their teammates to serve as co-captains for East Carolina's 1962 "fighting" Pirates.

Strickland is a 5'-10" 190-pound fullback from Portsmouth, Virginia, where he played football at Craddock High School. Since coming to EC, Bill has held the fullback position. The Virginia native is a senior and served three years under Coach Jack Boone and his wing "T" system.

As a performer, Strickland has starred on offense and defense since his freshman year. Bill's best offensive game was probably as a sophomore against Elon's Christians in which he accounted for both Buc scores.

Bad shoulders have slowed this Pirate star down considerably this year and have caused him to miss a great deal of action in his four years with the Bucs.

Bill thinks highly of coach Stas-avich and claims, "He knows his business in the coaching line." When asked about the single-wing employed by Stas, Bill said, "The single-wing has advantages. It has power." He claimed that the "T" attack and single-wing were both good offenses. Bill claims that only "through hard work can a good team win, and that is one reason why I think the Bucs will have a successful campaign."

Dave Smith, a 21-year-old physical education major, began his football career in Durham, N. C. playing for Southern High School. In 1957 he moved to Whiteville where he compiled a noteworthy record in athletics his junior and senior years.

Dave's father, Mr. David Smith, Sr., played professional baseball with the Philadelphia Athletics. Dave also (in addition to football and basketball) played baseball quite well. His senior year he was chosen captain of the baseball team and received the most valuable player award. He was named to the All-Columbus County team, honorable mention to the Shrine Bowl and first alternate for the East-West All-Star game.

An avid stock car and hunting fan, Dave plans to coach following graduation. Presently, he is in the Physical Education Majors Club and serves as social chairman of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Coach Stasavich had this to say about the co-captain: "The squad made a splendid selection when they elected Dave their team leader. He is a man of good character, good leadership qualities and is a fine competitor. He plays his position very well which is an asset to a team captain."

SPORTS REVIEW

By RICHARD BOYD

Stas Debuts

Coach Clarence Stasavich will make his "at home" debut, and the Bucs will be anxious to show off their single-wing attack and flashy sophomores Saturday night at 8:00 p.m. against the Catawba Indians. Since the 27-26 defeat in Richmond two Saturdays ago, the Pirates have been correcting their mistakes of that contest. Stas was displeased by the performance of the defensive line during the Spider contest, and the team has been working on rushing the enemy backs.

EC has also been working on offensive patterns to run against Catawba's Indians. Passing has been emphasized with Billy Cline doing most of the throwing.

In Catawba's initial outing, Davidson College beat the Indians 21-0, but Davidson is supposedly stronger than in recent years. The Wildcats are a Southern Conference representative.

Swimming Team Tryouts

Anyone interested in trying out for the swimming team should see Coach Martinez at 3:00 p.m. any day this week in the swimming pool area. The Bucs are expecting another fine swimming team in 1962-63. EC plays some of the top swimming teams in the south such as Florida, Miami, UNC, and Georgia.

More Single-Wing

The EC football gridgers have the services of an authority on the single-wing in the person of coach Bob Gantt who starred at Carolina during the Charlie Justice era. Gantt was a wing-back of the famous Carl Snavely single-wing at UNC. A 1952 graduate of North Carolina, the present Pirate backfield mentor coached Albemarle High School last season.

For many fans who are interested, but still do not know, the new stadium will probably not be ready until the first game of next year. There is a slim chance that the stadium will be ready for the BUCS last game against Eastern Kentucky this year. The stadium was planned to be ready for the Buc's contest against Catawba. However, things have been going much slower than anticipated and the Pirates will play the 1962 schedule in College Stadium.

New Publicity Director

East Carolina's new sports publicity agent, Earl Aiken, should give the Pirates a big boost in the sports publicity world. Mr. Aiken came here from Lenoir Rhyne where he was a great help to that school's athletic program.
