An East Carolina economics professor last week offered strong support for Governor Bob Scott's proposal of a five-cent per pack tax on cigarettes.

In a speech before the Greenville Jaycees, Dr. L. H. Zincone Jr. said the impact of such a tax on the tobacco industry "will be negligible" and that the increase in other tax rates necessary to raise an equivalent amount of revenue would discourage new industry from moving into the state.

Yield

He said the proposed tax hike would yield an additional $50-$55 million in revenue every two years, or five per cent of the biennial budget. "This agrees," he said, "with Governor Scott's estimate of $50 million."

Mathematically supporting his claim of a negligible effect on the state's tobacco industry, Dr. Zincone said the rise in price of cigarettes would result in a reduction in consumption of 100 million packs per year. "If we multiply this by 15.6 cents, the average price per pack less the federal tax, we find the total revenue lost at the manufacturing level is $15.6 million."

Loss

The entire loss, he said, "will not come from the tobacco industry in North Carolina; only that fraction of the revenue which accrues to manufacturers in the state will affect our tobacco economy."

"Therefore, to estimate the total revenue which we shall lose, we must know the approximate percentage of the revenue generated in North Carolina."

Dr. Zincone said 57 per cent of all cigarettes are produced in North Carolina, 40 per cent of the total tobacco production is in North Carolina, and 2.6 per cent of the warehouses are in the state.

"In order to reflect the maximum impact of the tax on North Carolina," he said, "I chose to use 57 per cent as the weight for total revenue. Thus, 57 per cent of $15.6 million, or $8.9 million will be lost at the manufacturing level in North Carolina."

The loss, he said, would be divided among tobacco stockholders, farmers, warehousemen and any others involved in tobacco production.

Continuing his calculations, Dr.

Zincone said that total revenue to the manufacturers (less tax) is $4,032.9 million, of which 57 per cent of $2,298.8 million is generated in North Carolina.

Revenue

"Therefore," he concluded, "the percentages of total revenue lost to the North Carolina economy by levying a tobacco tax of five cents per pack is .39 per cent."

"In contrast to this, raising five per cent of the biennial budget through existing taxes would mean that all of our present tax rates would have to increase by five per cent. Clearly, this would discourage other types of industry from locating in North Carolina."

Troubles

Turning to more immediate national tobacco industry troubles, Dr. Zincone said, "Eventually, the tobacco industry will begin to decline and the longer we refuse to face facts and make no plans for this contingency, the more precipitate the transition will be."

The tobacco tax, he added, will help serve notice of the ultimate decline and will make the transition more gradual and the impact of a synthetic tobacco product or government ban on advertising less severe.

"In short," Dr. Zincone concluded, "I believe the tobacco tax will stimulate the necessary diversification of our economy and make North Carolina a state which looks to the future rather than one that is tied to the past."

UP Holds Second Convention

By SANDY HOLLAND

The University Party held its second annual convention last Tuesday night in Wright Auditorium. Approximately two hundred students, including 131 delegates attended the meeting.

Pleased with the turn out, Len Mancini, convention chairman, said that the students were showing "an effort to demolish a wall of apathy" surrounding many colleges.

Keynote

Dr. Leo Jenkins gave the keynote address on the subject of "The Importance of Politics on Campus". The speech was followed by the adoption of rules of procedure.

At this point the meeting was turned over to Cherry Stokes for the reading of the University Party Platform of 1969. All thirteen planks were accepted by the delegates and a fourteenth amendment was added to provide for a Department of African-American studies on campus.

Nominations

Next on the agenda were the nominations of SGA officers with Cherry Stokes presiding. The order of nominations began with secretary and was climaxed with the nomination of SGA president.

Each nominee was allowed a four minute speech and a seconding speech of the same length. The speeches were colored by enthusiastic cheers and demonstrations.

The presidential nominees were Chipper Linville and John Schofield. The first vote gave Linville a small edge on his opponent but not the necessary majority. A re-vote threw the nomination to Schofield by a margin of eight votes.

Others

Other nominations were Carolyn Breedlove for Secretary, Chris Smith for Historian, Gary Gasperini for Treasurer and Richard Waters for Vice President.

"To Serve"

Presidential nominee John Schofield expressed his desire for East Carolina to live up to its motto "To Serve".

"The value of your diploma from East Carolina will depend upon the reputation that you and your fellow students help the school to achieve... your student government now needs to become more concerned with the external world of the university," Schofield says.

One way he intends to encourage this idea is to expand Jenkin's self study program. He wants "the creation of two senior graduate courses in elementary education designed to teach students techniques for teaching the illiterate."

Emphasis On Change

By LYNN HARRIS

"Change" was emphasized by Steve Morrisette in his keynote address to the Student Party Nominating Convention Thursday evening. He pointed out that David Lloyd had said earlier that when most persons thought of the Student Government they thought of a group of "do nothings", but that the Student Party was out to change this attitude.

In his emphasis on the strength and ability of the Student Party, Morrisette noted how in the past year the University Party had promised such things as a liaison between students and administration, an increase in the scope of the External Affairs Committee, and a ratio of out-of-state and in-state student fees comparable to other universities. But none of these had been accomplished.

Originated

In his opinion the University Party had accomplished printing the Student "Course Guide," the idea of which had been originated by the Student Party.

The "greatest accomplishment" of the University Party in the past year was its "famous CU beautification project" which he called a "farce" that ended up as a "whittled up telephone pole on the wall of the CU."

Accomplishment

After pointing out the lack accomplishments by the University Party while in control of the SGA this past year, Morrisette went on to site the "golden opportunity" which was now open for the Student Party. It was his opinion that the students are looking for a change which the Student Party can offer.

Morrisette concluded by saying that the students are "looking to us for leadership, so let's not disappoint them."

System Approved

A system to allow the EAST CAROLINIAN to have more control over its financial management was approved by the Publications Board Thursday.

The recommendation will be sent to the SGA Legislature for final approval.

Subscription

Instead of entirely financing the EAST CAROLINIAN, the SGA will pay a flat subscription rate of $1 per student per quarter if the system passes.

Advertising revenue will be retained by the paper for its operating expenses rather than being rechanneled into the general SGA fund.

Overseers

A special board of financial overseers will be responsible for business operations of the student newspaper.

A special account in the Student Fund Accounting office will be opened for the EAST CAROLINIAN if the proposal passes the SGA Legislature.

OWENS NOMINATED—Steve Owens has a gleam of satisfaction in his eyes after receiving the Student Party nomination for SGA president.

SP Picks Candidate For SGA President

Student Party (SP) delegates selected Steve Owens as their candidate for SGA president at the SP Convention, Thursday evening.

"Let's set in motion the wheels of change for student government," Owens told the delegates, "a change desperately needed."

Candidates

Other candidates selected were Bob Whitley for vice president, Steve Sharpe for treasurer, Peggy Sledg for secretary, and Sip Beamon for historian.

Amid signs of "All the Way to SGA" and "Time for a C change," the 61 delegates adopted a platform calling for a reading day before final examinations, the pass-fail system for general college courses, and a short-order grill for men dormitory students.

"If we initiate this platform," Speaker of SGA Legislature Bill Richardson said, "we will have a different university than it is now."

Confidence

Richardson expressed confidence in the SP's winning the March election on the basis of the determination and devotion of party members.

"Government is in the spirit," the Speaker said.

Platform

Additional planks in the SP platform include the seating of students on all standing faculty and administrative committees, better telephone service in the dormitories, and uniform procedures in all departments for dropping a course.

The inclusion of a coed vice president, a committee to investigate the use of SGA funds, and longer library hours are also listed.

The SP platform cites a need for teachers to be in their offices from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. during drop-add and pre-registration days and calls for an investigation of the quality of popular entertainment.

Nominees

Presidential nominee Owens is a junior business major from Greenville. He has served as a varsity cheerleader and the EC pirate.

Owens is a Kappa Alpha brother and a member of Phi Beta Lambda business fraternity.

Bob Whitley, former freshman class president, is a junior political science major from Kinston. He has served on the SGA Executive Council and as treasurer of the Student Party.

Nominee for treasurer Steve Sharpe, an active SGA Legislator for two years, is co-chairman of the SGA Rules Committee and student chairman of the Red Tape Committee.

Sharpe is also chairman of the Student Party and former vice chairman.

Additional committee memberships include Public Relations, Family Life, SGA Budget Checking, Popular Entertainment, and SGA Rules committees.

As a freshman Sharpe served on the Internal Affairs committee and was student co-ordinator of "Choice '68," the campus presidential election.

Campaign On Personalities

The tension rises as both major political parties on this campus plan their campaigns for the elections on March 25.

Both parties have adopted their platforms; both parties have selected their candidates for the executive offices. The preparation for the elections, however, has only begun.

The spring campaign promises to hold many things for both political parties. One will be attempting to maintain its superiority in the executive department. The other will be striving just as hard to rebuild a winning spirit after defeats last spring and this summer.

There are issues to be faced by both parties, as they drive to sweep their candidates into office. Predictions are that the fight along the lines of the issues will be bitter and significant. This is good, for political fights should center on issues.

On the other hand, however, there is a prediction that is arising with increasing frequency . . . a prediction that the upcoming campaign will be largely based on personalities.

If such a situation should indeed arise, the elections will result in an extremely dangerous state of affairs for the student body, for only in an atmosphere of impartial debate and consideration can the electorate make the sound choices that are so essential to the continuation of a strong, democratic student government.

Personalities and mud-slinging does not provide a voter with a real choice between parties and candidates. It merely leaves him with the choice of whether or not to vote, and often leaves such a distaste for the "whole mess" that his reaction is to forget the entire matter.

Votes are indeed essential to any candidate for SGA office . . . but if engaging in such personal attacks as are predicted is the only means of attaining those votes the objective which transcends the election is defeated before the vote is cast.

Distinguished Professorship

The establishment of East Carolina University's first distinguished professorship provides a favorable omen for the further development of an outstanding academic program here.

Such endowments will bring professors who have been outstanding achievers in their field of academic study into the ECU fold, and will allow their accumulated knowledge to be utilized in improving the curriculum of this institution.

It once again points out that the emphasis of this university is on academics, and will most assuredly be used to quell the arguments of those who claim otherwise.

This program is real progress for this university, for each department which can claim such a distinguished professorship will have made a giant step toward upgrading itself academically.

The ultimate goal is to have such a position for every department. It will be some time before that goal is achieved in full, but the first step has been taken.

Foreign Language

To the editor:

In response to the letters by Mr. Hughes and Mr. Hord concerning the value of the required foreign language courses, I would like to present my opinion. I, too, took the required language sequence last year. During the time I was struggling through the classes and examinations I also wondered about any benefits, much less practicality. I would receive. I realized that in a few months I would probably retain only a precious little of the language, or as Mr. Hughes refers to it as "some foreign rot". Yet I really believe that this is not the actual purpose in requiring a language.

Surely you gentlemen must agree that it is important to learn not only to communicate, but to get along with other people. I think it is most important for us to realize that America is not the center of the universe. There are other peoples with wonderfully exciting cultures and languages of their own. Only if we are exposed to these cultures can they enrich our lives, and language is one of the best means of providing a basis for understanding.

Perhaps there is room for improvement in the language department, but I'm sure this is true of all the departments, and also of this institution. In reference to Mr. Hughes "sitting in class hoping for a 'D' or some other passable grade", maybe if he did more than just sit in class and hope he would improve his grade.

Mr. Hord's proposal for a limited "pass-fail" system may also prove useful in this situation. Student who feel they would lose quality points in foreign language courses could elect to receive only the "pass-fail" grade instead of the usual college-scale. Also, in the final course in literature and civilization, the students could specialize in a study pertaining to their own particular field.

To abolish the foreign-language requirement completely is a severe injustice. I think the attitudes of Mr. Hord and Mr. Hughes typify those of far too many students at East Carolina. Our purpose in being here is to begin becoming an educated person. I feel the majority of East Carolina students are all too concerned in getting that diploma. A diploma only signifies four years of satisfactorily completed scholastic work. It tells nothing of how well a person has learned to get along with others, how much prejudice has been combatted, and how much initiative a person has to continue learning.

External Affairs

Dear Mr. Morissette

In your vile denunciation of the University Party, you stated that the scope of the Office of External Affairs had not been increased.

I do not know where you have been this past year, but it's quite evident that you have not even bothered to read the EAST CAROLINIAN.

The budget for the Office of External Affairs has been increased by 100%, from $2,500 in 1967 to over $5,000 in 1968. We have been able to send delegations to places where we have never been offered access to before. Last Wednesday East Carolina sent four delegates to Mid West Model United Nations in St. Louis, Missouri. This is the first time we have participated in this one. Another first is the sending of a faculty advisor, Dr. Hans Indorf, to this meeting.

On Thursday of this week the Office of External Affairs will be sending five students and one faculty advisor to the Intercollegiate Conference on Urban Affairs, to be held in New York City. On March 15, we will send a delegation to the Deep South Model UN, located in Miami, Fla., where we will represent the United States in the General Assembly. Also, we will have delegates in the Social and Economic Council the Legal Committee, and the Humanitarian Council.

On March 20, East Carolina has been invited to send ten delegates to "Challenge '69—The Urban Crisis," which will be held at Wake Forest University. In April, a delegation of six will again represent the United States at the National Model United Nations. This is an honor that has traditionally been given to schools which emphasize studies in international relations (e.g., Georgetown Univ., American Univ., Harvard). This speaks highly of East Carolina, but it should be known that this year will be only the second year that East Carolina has attended this conference. I might add that this is an honor unknown in the annals of National Model United Nations.

In addition, the office of External Affairs has sent delegates to all Regional Foreign Policy Conferences, and to national symposiums on foreign relations.

In 1967-68, the Office of External

Affairs sent delegations to only four conventions. This year, East Carolina will participate in eight student conferences. If you are saying that the scope of the Office of External Affairs has not increased, I suggest you sit down and review your statement in light of some facts.

If the Student Party, of which you are a member, must lower itself to speaking untruths, and trying to hoodwink the student body, then I suggest they re-evaluate their definition of a political party.

Sincerely,

John Schofield
Secretary, External Affairs

One Question

To Whom It May Concern:

To those "enthusiastic" fans of ECU, may I ask one question: What is the purpose for you attending a basketball game if there is a contest between the "fans" to see who can be first to leave the gym?

At all games I have attend, before the game has ended numbers of spectators leaving block the view of those who came for one purpose—to see the Pirates. Leaving the game before the finish is not only rude to the basketball players. Why do you bother to attend the game if you are not interested enough to stay to see the finish?

Kay Winstead

Explanations

To Miss Chloe Crawford:

I would like to offer some possible explanations for the "Ghost of New Dorn". First, the apparition may have been real. This seems highly unlikely, though. I doubt your ghost would have any "unfinished business" that would hold him here for over one hundred years.

Secondly, if the ghost had a red beard it may have been a new KA brother from Oxford. This Dixie-loving student has been known to haunt young ladies before. But, I don't think he's your ghost either so I offer a third possibility.

The most reasonable explanation is the girl who saw the ghost has taken too many study pills, eaten too few meals, and gotten too little sleep. Tell her to go to bed and the South will not rise again.

Respectfully,

Edward B. Ellis, Jr.

A Letter To The Editor That Can Apply To Any University

Editors note: The following letter to the Editor is from the Statesman of Stony Brook, N.Y. However I feel that it can apply to any university if some of the names were changed around.

To the Editor:

In the Feb. 7, 1969 issue of The Statesman, Robert Callender of Black Students United stated: "Most of all we are people, we want to be treated like people who possess valuable means of making worthy contributions to the making of a society for themselves." On that same day, Mr. Callender and the other members of Black Students United presented a series of demands to the president of this University. It is heartening to see that interested and concerned students still exist on this campus. It is nice to see that President Toll has once again taken the traditional action of referring these demands "to the appropriate University committees for consideration." It is saddening that the members of Black Students United feel that to be "people," they have to create a separate bureaucratic control within the existing structure of this University. We can no longer live in a "separate but equal" society (although I will most earnestly admit that racial prejudice is still quite rampant in our society); but isn't your recent set of proposals advocating just that?

Some of your proposals (or should I say demands?) deserve real merit as Dr. Toll suggests; however, others seem to completely disregard the feelings, desires, and probably most important, the necessities of other students and members of the University Community. Let's examine these demands and see their merits and faults.

In regard to a Black Institute, I agree that it is time "that the black experience should become part of the mainstream of (the) American educational system." However, don't white students have the right, in fact, don't they need to have the right to be taught, the background of the Afro-American so that they as well as the Black can eliminate "the Social, Economic, and Political problems in Black, (and may I add, white) America."

The basic question concerning the Special Opportunities Program admissions, orientation, and requirements can be narrowed down to: Don't white students deserve the same things as black students? Mr. Callender and members of Black Students United, is this the way "to promote better understanding between both peoples?"

Films Cover Unusual Material

Not only are there a fair number of films available this week, but there are also several films with unusual subject matter. This week we get a look at the world of ballet, the inside story of the mafia, and avant-grade musical.

Tonight, Tuesday the 25th, the International Films Committee will present two ballet films. First on the program will be a performance of Act II of "Swan Lake" by the original Ballet Russe. To lend realism to the story, the film was shot outdoors, against real woodland settings. The second film is entitled "Plisetskoya Dances," and is an English-narrated film on the famous prima ballerina of the Bolshoi Ballet. It catalogues pictorially the various roles that Plisetskoya has made famous. This is a good chance for those who know nothing about ballet to come and find out what it's all about. The program begins at 8:00 P.M. in Wright.

The Friday night free flick will be a film version of the Broadway musical, "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off." The film stars Tony Tanner and Millicent Martin ("Alfie"). The story is of a man from birth to old age and relates his hardships, success, and mistakes. Many memorable times come from this show, including "Gonna Build a Mountain" and "What Kind of Fool Am I?." The film is unusual in that it counts on audience participation to provide characters and settings. The showing are at 7 and 9 P.M. in Wright.

"The Fixer," starring Alan Bates, ends tonight at the Plaza Cinema. "The Brotherhood," starring Kirk Douglas and Alex Cord, begins a four day run tomorrow, the 26th. The tries to give a real inside look at the strong family ties and loyalties that govern the Mafia. Through various circumstances, two brothers in the organization are pitted against each other, and the picture centers on their fight to the death. "Ikidoo", starring Jackie Gleason, Carol Channing, Groucho Marx, and John Phillip Law, will play Sunday the 2nd through Tuesday, the 4th. This zany comedy concerns Gleason's return as an old gang leader and his assignment to search out a link and kill him.

I would like to extend my most sincere congratulations and best wishes to the University Party. The past has been an era of accomplishment. The University Party has helped ECU take many steps forward, not only those which can be seen physically, but UP has done much to curb the apathy so obviously prevalent on ECU's campus. So to the future it's... UP, UP, UP and away!

To Edward B. Ellis, Jr., concerning your letter about my ghost. You gave no credentials other than your name, thus I have no alternative than to believe that you have no right to make educated comments on the subject of the supernatural. ## Cliburn Appears Thurs.

The winner of the famed Tchaikowsky Music Festival in Moscow, Van Cliburn, will appear in concert at 8:15 p.m., Thursday, March 14, the final attraction of the 1968-69 Artists Series.

Cliburn, a native of Shreveport, La., learned to read music long before he learned to read words.

He first played in public at the age of four at Shreveport's Dodd College. At twelve he was the winner of a state-wide young pianist's competition, playing Tchaikowsky's B-flat Minor Concerto with the Houston Symphony.

Carnegie Hall

The same year he made his Carnegie Hall debut as winner of the National Music Festival Award.

Later in life other laurels came his way: a Julliard School Scholarship, the G.D. Dealey Award in Dallas, Texas, the Kosciuszko Foundation Chopin Award, a grant from the Olga Samaroff Foundation and, upon graduation from Julliard with highest honors, he received the Carl M. Reeder Memorial Award and the Frank Damosch Scholarship.

Workshop On Campus

An outstanding pianist-in-residence at the College-Conservatory of Music at the University of Cincinnati will conduct a piano workshop on campus next month.

Raymond Dudley, a graduate of Toronto's Royal Conservatory of Music, will conduct the one-day program, March 21, at the School of Music Recital Hall.

Designed

The workshop, designed for piano teachers and students, is sponsored by the School of Music and the campus Division of Continuing Education.

Included in the workshop session will be a discussion of style and interpretation and demonstration and discussion of piano techniques. Chopin etudes and Debussy preludes will be used, as well as other examples from the general piano literature.

Conclude

Dudley will conclude the workshop with an 8:15 p.m. recital.

A native of Canada, Dudley won the "Unanimous Medal" in competition with leading young pianists from 33 countries at the international competition in Geneva, Switzerland.

Outstanding

In 1953 he received the Harriet Cohen Commonwealth Medal as the outstanding young musician of the British Commonwealth.

Workshop fees are $8 for teachers and $2 for students. A luncheon with Dudley is optional at $2 per person. Registration deadline for the workshop and luncheon is Monday, March 17.

ROTC Cadets Help Boy Scouts

As a part of the local Boy Scout assistance project, the Air Force ROTC cadets helped the Pitt County District Scouts in their Scoutorama held in the ECU Memorial Gym on February 8.

The all day event was handled by the local Boy Scout committee headed by Cadet Lt. Freeman Phillips. Each Boy Scout troop and Cub Scout pack in the district had their own display booth to design as they saw fit.

Most of these consisted of projects that the scouts have been working on for the past year. Among the subjects of the displays were Taxidermy, Woodcrafting, Firearm Safety, and First Aid. An admission charge of $1.00 was made that would go for the betterment of Scouting in the district.

With the help of these ECU cadets, Scouting in the area will prosper and continue to grow, giving additional credit to the University and offering much to the Greenville and Pitt County youth.

Dorm Applications

Women students who plan to live in the no-curfew dormitory will make their $85 room deposit on March 19, assuming final approval is given by this time.

Papers Require Books

By RHONDA CRUTCHFIELD

Books, books, books, and more books. That's the situation at Joyner Library as winter quarter draws to a close.

Books are packed into already bulging bookcases. Books are stacked on the floor so there is hardly room to walk. Books are even piled onto the circulation desk, completely obscuring whoever is behind them. And still more come.

Reason

The reason for this is simple. Winter Quarter is the quarter for term papers.

For freshmen in English 2, this is their first college experience with writing term papers, and all quarter they have been diligently checking out books. Now they are all turning them back in again.

This situation has been made worse because during the last week 10 student assistants have quit work, according to Circulation Librarian Peter Ku.

Shortage

Although they have been replaced, there is now a shortage of trained student assistants. Those assistants who would normally work on the returned books have had to fill in at the desk for the students who have quit.

Full-time library assistants have been busy working up the Dean's List and have had little time to spare for work at the desk.

Budget

Ku said that the library operated within a budget and therefore could hire only a certain number of student assistants. With the increased student population and with professors assigning more library work, Ku said the library needed more students to help alleviate the problem that now exists.

Martin Conducts Studies Seminar

Sylvan C. Martin, program liaison officer of the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences at Research Triangle Park, will conduct the next marine resources and environmental studies seminar at East Carolina University.

Pollution

Martin will speak here tomorrow on "Thermal Pollution Problems and Their Relation to North Carolina."

The speaker, who holds BS and MS degrees in civil engineering and bacteriology, is a recognized expert in management of marine and other environmental resources.

Operations

He is a former chief of field operations for the Public Health Service's water pollution control program, and is a member of the Delaware River Basin water resources study coordinating committee. He is presently serving on a number of water resource committees and commissions.

Martin will speak at 7 p.m. tomorrow in Room 209 of Planagan. The seminar series is sponsored by the Department of Biology.

Wash, wet, soak, hunt, squirt wash, soak, wet, cry a little.

Contact lenses were designed to be a convenience. And they are up to a point. They're convenient enough to wear, once you get used to them, but, until recently, you had to use two or more different lens solutions to properly prepare and maintain contacts. You needed two or three different bottles, lens cases, and you went through more than enough daily rituals to make even the most steadfast individuals consider dropping out.

But now caring for your contacts can be as convenient as wearing them. Now there's LENSINE, from the makers of MURINE. LENSINE is the one lens solution designed for complete contact lens care... preparing, cleansing, and soaking.

Just a drop or two of LENSINE before you insert your lens prepares it for your eye. LENSINE makes your contacts, which are made of modern plastics, compatible with your eye. How? LENSINE is an "isotonic" solution. That means it's made to blend with the eye's natural fluids. So a simple drop or two coats the lens, forming a sort of comfort zone around it.

Cleaning your contacts with LENSINE fights bacteria and foreign deposits that build up during the course of the day. And for overnight soaking, LENSINE provides a handy contact canister on the bottom of every bottle. Soaking your contacts in LENSINE between wearing periods assures you of proper lens hygiene.

Improper storage between wearings permits the growth of bacteria on your lenses. This is a sure cause of eye irritation and, in some cases, it can endanger your vision. Bacteria cannot grow in LENSINE. LENSINE is sterile, self-sanitizing, and antiseptic.

Let your contacts be the convenience they were designed to be. The name of the game is LENSINE. LENSINE, made by the Murine Company, Inc.

Tar Babies Defeat Baby Bucs By 108-75

The Baby Bucs went to Chapel Hill to tangle with the Carolina Tar Babies and came away wondering about the 40 point performance of Dennis Wuycik as the Tar Babies ripped the Baby Bucs by 108-75.

Wuycik connected on 16 of 21 attempts from the floor and eight out of eight from the free throw line. Wuycik also grabbed 10 rebounds off the boards for a fine-all-around evening.

The Baby Bucs started off well, but the Tar Babies caught fire, and at one stretch they dumped in 21 straight points as they moved out to a 45-38 halftime advantage.

In the second half, the Carolina

Frosh kept up their onslaught as they outscored the Baby Bucs by 26 points.

Center Ronnie LePors led the Baby Bucs with 21 points with Jim Fairley next with 18.

Scoring Summary:

ECU Frosh 38 37—75
UNC Frosh 45 63—108

ECU—(75)—LePors-21, Prince-11, Crouse 7, Fairley-18, Ruegg-8, Gutshall-8, Fyne-2, and Longworth.

UNC—(108)—Wuycik-40, Chamberlain-23, Corson-4, Previs-13, Huband-10, Chambers-10, Summerfield-4, Wright-2, Anders-2, Ramsey, Anderson, Dorrall, Hicks, and Williams.

The Baby Bucs finished their season last Saturday and wound up with a 9-7 mark. The Baby Bucs were led by Jim Fairley and Ron LePors who each scored 16 points per game. Julius Prince and Greg Crouse averaged 14.9 and 13.7 respectively for the Bucs to round out the double figure scorers.

Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics

... And Because We Want To Show You What This Internationally Famous Course Is Like We are Inviting You To Attend A ...

FREE MINI-LESSON

We want to show you how the Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics Course increases your reading speed.

And we think the best way to do this is to give you a free sample of our course.

When you come to the Mini-Lesson, we'll increase your reading speed right on the spot.

This isn't much of a claim for us. Our average graduates read 4.7 times faster than when they started.

The Mini-Lesson will show you that we go further than just increasing your reading speed.

We show you how to remember more of what you're read.

You'll see a documentary film showing a Wilmington High School student reading 49 pages of a difficult book while Art Linkletter reads a 60 second commercial.

The Mini-Lesson will show you that speed reading isn't limited to novels. We'll show you the techniques for speed-reading magazines, newspapers, text books and technical data.

Then, we'll devote time to questions and answers.

We can say with experience: the Mini-Lesson will be one hour of your time that will lead to saving you hours a day.

World Famous Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics

Course Begins at 7 P.M., Thursday, Mar. 20 at the BAPTIST STUDENT CENTER

Our Average Student Reads 4.7 Times Faster Than His Starting Speed With Equal or Better Comprehension

Our course has been taken by numerous prominent people. President Kennedy insisted his Chiefs of Staff take the course. Twenty-five U.S. Congressmen are Evelyn Wood graduates.

Here's what Senator Proxmire of Wisconsin has had to say about our course:

"I must say that this was one of the most useful educational experiences I've ever had. It certainly compares favorably with the experiences I've had at Yale and Harvard."

Here are quotes from students who have taken Reading Dynamics in North Carolina. "I cannot begin to tell you what a great help Reading Dynamics has been to me as a college freshman. I was such a poor reader before the course and now my speed and comprehension have both increased." "The results were amazing. I increased my reading speed from four to five times and my enjoyment of reading from ten to fifteen times." "This course has awakened a new interest in reading for pleasure and business. Reading now presents a challenge." "The Reading course aided me in taking my college boards. I found that I finished every test and had a few minutes to check over some of the answers." "The ability to vary my reading speed according to the type of reading; to be able to pick out ideas and thoughts from the text, not only teaches one to read rapidly, but to think, organize and utilize ideas gained from the reading material." "My business reading has heretofore been a burdensome chore, now it is a pleasure and I have time to enjoy reading for recreation." "Confidence in the realization that my reading speed and comprehension could be tremendously increased, and satisfaction in seeing it happen." "I think I have gotten more out of this course than any other course I have taken. I wish I had started sooner."

Money Back Guarantee

Reading Dynamics will refund the entire tuition to any student who fails to at least triple his effective reading level during the course as measured by our standardized tests.

ECU Pirates Rally To Down VMI Keydets By 16 Points

BATTLE OF THE BOARDS—East Carolina's Jim Modlin goes up for a rebound against VMI Saturday night. Defending on the play are the Keydet's Jan Essenberg (31) and Denny Clark (45), while an unidentified Keydet and the Pirate's Jim Gregory (blocked by Modlin) ready for a possible rebound. The Pirates finished the season with a 78-62 triumph over the Keydets for four wins in a row and a 15-10 mark going into the SC tournament in Charlotte.

Playing a sloppy, sluggish, and uninspired game for the most part, the Pirates finally rallied behind Jim Modlin and Earl Thompson who each scored 18 points to down the stubborn Keydets from Virginia Military Institute by 78-62. The game was closer than the final score indicates as the Pirates scored 11 points in the last minute of play while the Keydets went scoreless to stretch the final margin to 16 points.

The Bucs led for most of the first half until the Keydets ran off 12 straight points to take a five point lead, which dropped down to their three point halftime bulge.

It wasn't until the final two minutes that the game was finally decided, and East Carolina poured it on to finish their most successful season since the 1959-60 team won 15 games. The victory was their fourth in a row and sends them into the Southern Conference Tournament in Charlotte with good momentum, boasting a 15-10 record and second seeding in the tournament.

Bucs Take Initial Lead

Both teams started cold and it finally took a free throw by Tom Miller to make it 1-0 after one minute and fifteen seconds of play. Modlin scored from underneath before V.M.I. hit on a jumper by Johnny Mitchell to make it 3-2.

From there, both teams swapped buckets until it was 16-13 midway through the first half.

Danny Clark then scored on a three-point play to tie the game at 16-all, but East Carolina scored seven straight points to take a 23-16 edge, their biggest of the first half. Thompson hit from outside and then on a layup to put the Bucs up by four. Gregory dropping in a foul shot before Modlin tapped in a rebound for their seven point spread with 8:24 to go in the half.

The Keydets came back as Clark and Jan Essenberg hit to cut the lead down to three, before Modlin and Thompson connected to return the lead to seven at 27-20.

Keydets Rebound To Take Lead
Moments later, with the score 29-22, the Bucs hit a cold spell while the Keydets took full advantage of as they ripped off 12 straight points to take a 34-29 lead.

After Clark hit on a free throw, Essenberg scored from underneath, and then Peyton Brown dropped in another free throw to cut the Buc lead to three. Jim Sefick then hit on two straight to put the Keydets on top at 30-29. Essenberg and Mitchell then scored before the string was broken by Miller's jumper.

Bucs Play Catch-Up

At the half, the Keydets held a 36-33 lead, which Mitchell put up to five points on the opening shot of the second half. The Pirates rebounded to get buckets by Keir and Gregory to cut the lead down to one at 38-37.

After a free throw and a jumper by Brown put the Keydets on top by four, the Bucs rallied to tie the game at 42-all with 16:48 to go.

The two teams exchanged buckets for the next few minutes as the score mounted to 52-51 in favor of V.M.I. Miller then scored on a jumper and the Bucs were never behind again, although the Keydets tied the game up at 53-53, and again at 55-55.

Late Drive Seals Game

From there on in, the Bucs outscored the Keydets by 23-7 to take the win.

Thompson hit on two jumpers and Gregory scored on a jumper to make it 61-55 before the Keydets finally scored again. Modlin and Thompson each scored before the Keydets made their last grasp charge. However, after the Keydets scored two buckets to cut the lead down to five at 67-62 with 1:05 to go, they couldn't score again and that was it.

Keir got the first free throw on a one-and-one situation, but Gregory got the rebound and then scored and was fouled. After his free throw, it was 71-62. Modlin then hit on a free throw and then got a three-point play to make it 75-62 with seven seconds to go. Miller intercepted the ball and drove in for the layup, was fouled, and with one second left, he hit the free throw to make it 78-62.

Summary

The Bucs now go to Charlotte where they will face the William and Mary Indians in a first round game Thursday night. If the Bucs win, it will mark the first time that an East Carolina entry has gotten past the first round.

Mitchell led VMI in scoring with 19 points, while Essenberg and Clark 13 and 12 rebounds respectively, as the Keydets outrebounded the Bucs by 42-38.

Gregory led the Bucs off the boards with 11. Thompson got eight, Keir seven, and Modlin six rebounds apiece for the Bucs. Miller also chipped in with 10 assists.

Scoring Summary:

VMI	36	26-62
ECU	33	45-78
VMI — (62)—Clark-7, Sefick-14, Essenberg-11, Mitchell-19, Brown-11, Gillespie, and Ivkovich.
ECU — (78)—Collins, Thompson-18, Miller-14, Keir-12, Gregory-16, Modlin-18, Dunn, McKillop, and Williams.

Globetrotters Here

The famed Harlem Globetrotters are coming to Minges Coliseum on March 9th to put on their patented basketball entertainment program that's been witnessed by 60,000,000 fans in 87 countries during the past 42 seasons.

The razzle dazzle court wizards, who've played more than 9,600 games in their illustrious globe-circling career, will meet the Washington Generals in the feature of the program starting at 3 p.m.

The game will be backed up by entertainment personalities the Globetrotters bring along for the pre-game and between-halves variety show, talented artists discovered in various parts of the world visited by the "Magicians of Basketball."

Sponsored by the ECU Athletic Department, tickets are $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50 and may be purchased at Minges Coliseum Ticket Office.

Shirley's Barber Shop and Sounds Unlimited.

George Gillett, Potter Palmer and John O'Neil, in their second year as owners of the razzle dazzle court wizards, proclaim the 43rd edition the finest team in years.

The Maiden 1967-68 campaign under the three young sportsmen—who purchased the celebrated club from the estate of the late founder-owner Abe Saperstein in June 1967—was a huge success in every way.

Inaugurating the year on Oct. 25, 1967 at Hinckley, Ill., the same site where Abe Saperstein began more than four decades ago, the court magicians displayed their entertaining antics on three continents.

By the end of summer 1968, the Globetrotters had played 319 games in the U.S., Canada, Mexico, Europe, Australia and New Zealand.

Aqua-Bucs Lose Meet

The University of North Carolina swimming team cruised by the Aqua-Bucs without too much trouble Saturday, taking a 77-35 victory at Chapel Hill.

The Aqua-Bucs still gave a good performance, as they set four new school records while coming close on several others. It was a simple case of too much firepower on the Tar Heel squad which boasts six University Division All-Americans. The talented Tar Heels took seven of the eleven events and both of the relays.

For East Carolina, freshman Jim Griffin took two firsts, the 200 and 100-yard freestyles, while Gary Frederick, also a freshman, and Bob Baird each took wins.

The four new school records were set in the 1,000-yard freestyle which Frederick won with a time of 10:48.4; the 200-yard freestyle with Jim Griffin finishing in 1:49.5; in the 100-yard freestyle with Griffin winning in :49.3; and the 400-yard freestyle relay team of John Sultan, Bob Moynihan, Eric Orrell, and Griffin which finished in 3:22.5.

Summary:

400-yd. medley relay: North Carolina, 3:47.2.
1,000-yd. freestyle: Frederick, (ECU); McElroy, (UNC); and Manchester, (ECU). 10:48.4.
200-yd. freestyle: Griffin, (ECU); Ball, (UNC); and Bethman, (UNC). 1:49.5.
50-yd. freestyle: Wigo, (UNC); Meehan, (UNC); and Weissman, (ECU). :22.0.
200-yd. individual medley: Williams, (UNC); Sultan, (ECU); and Briston (UNC). 2:06.9.
One-meter diving: Baird, (ECU); Humphreys, (UNC); and Emerson, (ECU). 233.00 points.
200-yd. butterfly: Bedall, (UNC); Wallace, (UNC); and Hartman, (ECU). 2:05.9.
100-yd. freestyle: Griffin, (ECU); Behrman, (UNC); and Bell, (UNC). :49.3.
200-yd. backstroke: Danneman (UNC); McMunigal, (UNC); and Sultan, (ECU). 2:06.5.
500-yd. freestyle: McElroy, (UNC); Frederick, (ECU); and Dunne, (UNC). 5:09.6.
200-yd. backstroke: Williams, (UNC); McCullough, (UNC); and Allman, (ECU). 2:22.4.
Three-meter Diving: Humphrey, (UNC); and Emerson, (ECU). 250.25 points.
400-yd. freestyle relay: North Carolina, 3:20.5.

Thinclads Place Fourth

The Pirate thinclads finished fourth in the Big Seven Track Meet at the University of North Carolina on Saturday. The Carolina Tar Heels won their fifth straight Big Seven title as they squeaked by North Carolina College by two points, 41-39.

The Tar Heels scored heavily in the field events to overcome N.C. College's fine scoring in the sprints and relays.

The team scoring: UNC 41, N.C. College 39, Duke 20, East Carolina 15, N.C. State 13, Wake Forest 4, and Davidson, which didn't score.

Ken Voss paced the Bucs, setting two new school records, one in the mile, and the other in the two mile event. He covered the mile in 4:16.4, and the two miles in 9:18.0. He finished second to Duke's Stenberg in the first event and to Graves of Duke in the two mile event.

Voss was the only runner to place in both distance events.

Other point getters for the Thinclads were Paige Davis, who finished third in the 600-yard run; James Kidd who finished third in the 1,000-yard run; and the mile and two mile relay teams.

The mile relay team, composed of Lannie Davis, Barry Beasley, Jim Cargill, and Paige Davis finished third behind N.C. College and the Tar Heels.

The two-mile relay team of Don Jayroe, James Kidd, Greg McNerney, and Joe Day finished second to N.C. College with a school record time of 8:05.5.

The Pirates lost some points when hurdler Jim Cargill who is one of the best hurdlers in the state was disqualified for two false starts.

The Pirates didn't score at all in the field events, and only North Carolina College outpointed them in the running events.

The thinclads get back into action this weekend when they compete in the Southern Conference meet which will be held at V.M.I. in Lexington, Virginia.
