THE 1968 OUTLOOK

This is Coach Tom Quinn's third year in a reconstruction program for basketball at East Carolina and it appears that the biggest stride yet has been taken.

Quinn, who actually had no time to recruit before his first campaign, has depended heavily upon the junior college ranks to bolster the program, but this year figures to have a team which also will feature players who he recruited as freshmen.

One of them, Jim Gregory, is looked upon as a potential great. Although only a sophomore, he looms as a pre-season choice for a starting job and certainly will see plenty of action if he does not nail down one of the corner spots.

Gregory, the leading scorer on the freshman team, is a former all-state football player and basketball player from Elbert, W. Va. "He is a natural, who has a sixth sense about being where the ball is," Quinn says. "He could make us a very tough team with a hasty transition to varsity competition."

Gregory hits from outside the rim or more inside and has the quickness and size to be tough under the basket. "I feel he's one of the top young sophomores in the East," Quinn says.

The veteran nucleus includes three starters from last year plus Richard Keir, a co-captain who was the sixth man last season. Leading scorer in the returnees is Earl Thompson, one of Quinn's junior college transfers, who is one of the most exciting players ever with the Pirates.

Thompson, who has above average speed and elusive moves, can drive the basket well, but is most dangerous from 25 to 35 feet with a one-handed jumper. He set a school record of 41 points in a single game last year and had 13 straight free throws on the spree.

Jim Modlin, a junior and one of Quinn's recruits as a freshman, appears to have continued the improvement that marked his play at the end of last season. Big and strong, Modlin has added weight and lost none of his mobility, and his shooting touch is better than ever. He's big enough at 6-7, 220, to pick up the three-point play with frequency and pressure doesn't bother him, as was evidenced by his play in the conference tournament last year.

"Modlin had his best game of the year against West Virginia, despite the fact he was a sophomore and might have shown his inexperience in that pressure situation," Quinn said.

The other starter returning is Tom Miller, an outstanding freshman scorer, who was forced to assume the role of playmaker early last year when Capt. Jim Cox broke an arm in the first game. The added responsibility hurt Miller's shooting, but he is expected to regain his form this year.

Keir, who possesses an unorthodox style, was frequently a valuable contributor to the cause last year as a sixth man and infrequent starter. He was voted the most improved player on the squad by his teammates and is expected to be in the thick of things for a starting job.

Another veteran on the squad is Bob Lindfelt, a 6-5 reserve, who at times last year showed potential.

Three junior college transfers are expected to help considerably. They are Rich Collins, at 6-9, Aubrey Williams at 6-4, and Jim Kiernan, a 6-0 backcourt man.

"They can be a big help and fortunately they appear to be working right into the system," Quinn says. "We certainly anticipate getting off to a better start this year than we did last year, although our first game is with a very tough foe, W. Va.

"The Eastern Carolina Classic and the Conference tournament give us plenty of incentive."

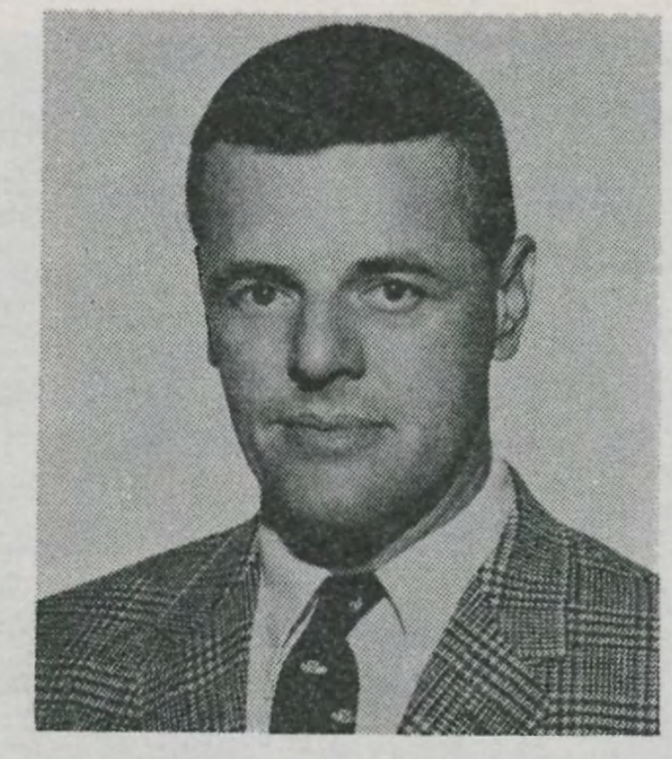
TOM QUINN
Head Basketball Coach



East Carolina University basketball coach Tom Quinn brought a history of winning with him when he assumed his duties less than three years ago, and he has set about building a program here that would bring the same kind of success he has enjoyed at two other collegiate positions.

Prior to taking up the challenge at East Carolina, Quinn had built one of the nation's small college powerhouses at High Point College and before that he had built Newberry College into an NAIA championship contender.

A native of Beckley, W. Va., Quinn was born, March 19, 1931 and attended Shady Spring High School in Beaver, West Virginia. After a prep career that covered football, basketball and track, he enlisted in the Air Force for three years. Two-thirds of his service time was spent on Okinawa where he was a cryptographic analyst.

Upon completion of his service career, he graduated from Marshall University in Huntington, West Virginia, with majors in English and Physical Education in 1954. From there, he went to the University of Florida where he received his Masters degree in 1955.

Quinn's first coaching experience was in basketball and track at Cocoa High School in Cocoa, Fla., and from there he moved to Newberry College in South Carolina. With three years of successful prep school coaching behind him, he quickly made his mark in college circles and over a four year period with the Terriers, his teams compiled a 64-26 record. During that time he guided the first national championship contender and coached the school's only All-America. The 1960 team went to the NAIA championships in Kansas City and advanced to the quarter-finals.

His efforts that season brought him Coach of the Year honors in South Carolina.

Leaving Newberry for High Point, Quinn continued his successes. His 1965 team was ranked fourth in the nation in both wire service polls and the team more than proved its right to the ranking by finishing second in the 32-team NAIA tournament.

Over one two-year stretch at High Point, Quinn's teams won 55 games while losing eight, each year representing the district in the national championships.

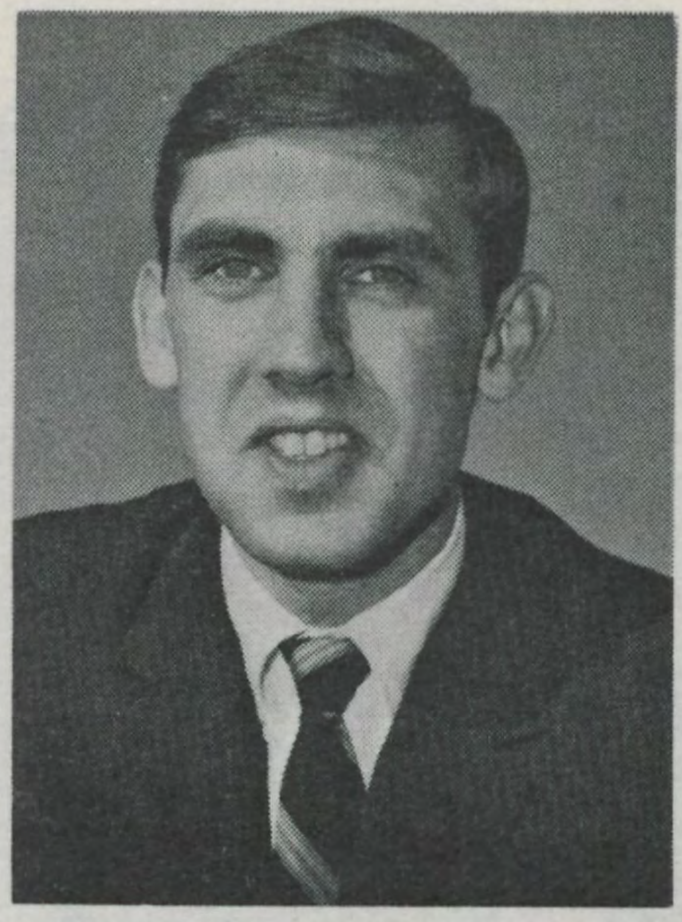
Besides national honors, the Panthers claimed three Carolinas conference championships during the regular season and his 1966 team, loaded with freshmen, won the conference championship tournament.

Quinn's teams at High Point posted a 97-22 record in four years.

His methods have been fruitful, attested to by the 177-80 record over 10 years.

Quinn's most avid rooter is his wife Doris, a native of Polkton, N.C. They have a daughter, Stephanie, age 3.

KIRT STEWART
Assit. Basketball Coach



Kirk Stewart begins his second session as assistant basketball coach along with his freshmen coaching duties for East Carolina.

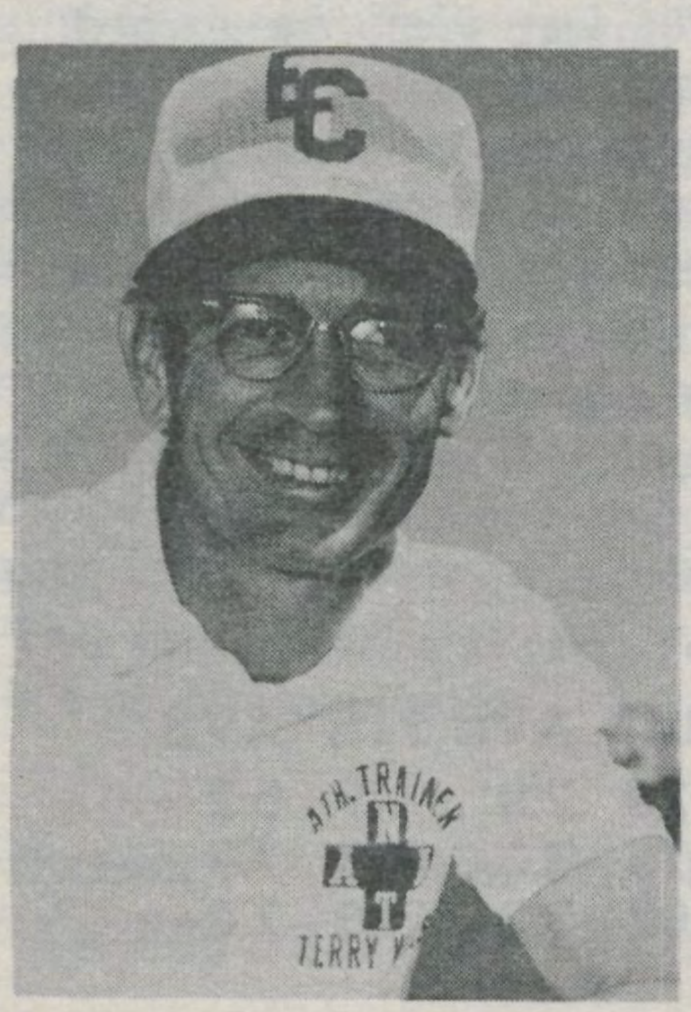
Stewart was named to the All-Metropolitan team his senior year in high school at Northwood High School in Silver Spring, Md., where he averaged 24.5, second in the state.

At High Point College, he played three years under Tom Quinn and his 51 points against Belmont Abbey still stands as a school record. After going to High Point in 1961, he was named to the All-Conference team once and to the All-Tournament team twice.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale D. Stewart of Ormond Beach, Fla., received his Master's degree here in August, 1967. On September 1, 1967, he assumed his duties as assistant basketball coach. Last year, his Baby Bucs posted a 10-6 record.

Stewart is married to the former Kay DeMik of Charlotte, a third grade school teacher.

TERRY WILLS
Trainer



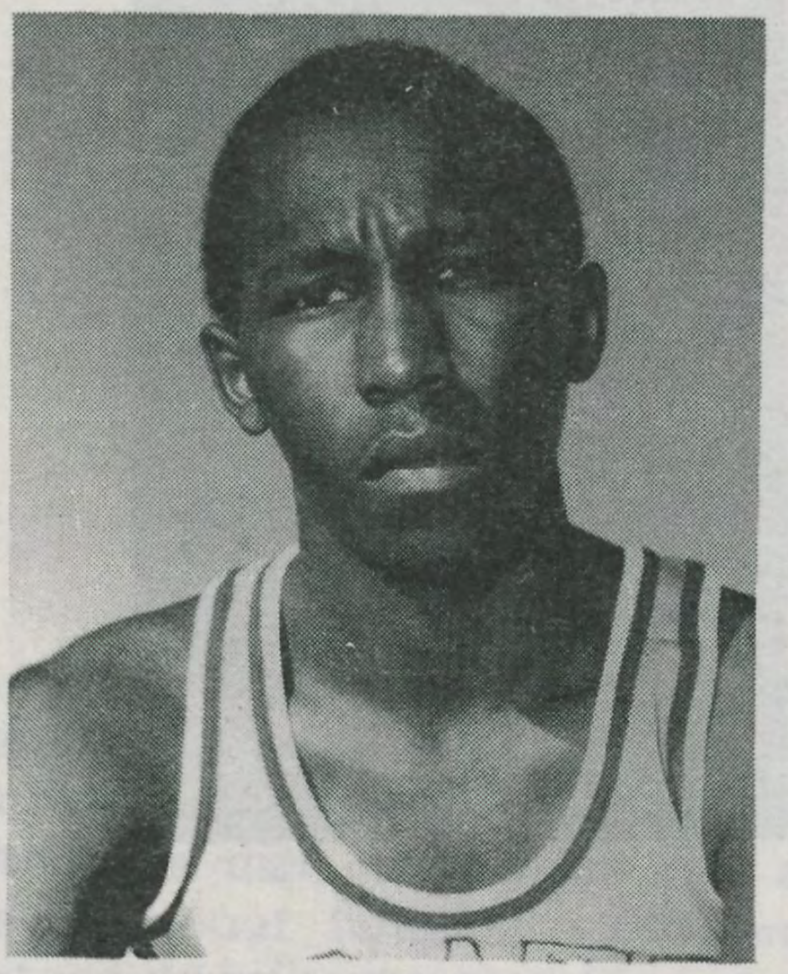
One of the most dedicated men in the athletic department at East Carolina University is Terry Wills, who became the school's full-time trainer in 1966. Wills earned his bachelor's degree at East Carolina in 1966 and besides serving as trainer was a varsity track man.

Currently working on his Masters Degree, Wills is writing a theses on the handling of athletic injuries and conducting research in the various means of effectively treating trauma.

He is married to the former Nancy Scott and they have a son Kyle 11.

EARL THOMPSON, CO-CAPTAIN

No. 22 [33], 6-2, 170, Backcourt, Senior, Greenville, N.C.



A transfer from Sue Bennett Junior College, he was the leading scorer for the Pirates last year with a 16.9 average. He also owns the school's single game scoring record of 41 points. An outstanding player at Eppes High in Greenville under Coach O.E. Meteye, he was the state's top scorer as a prep school senior with a 36.4 average. He gained a tremendous following last year with his accurate 30-footers and exciting passes off the fast break. Considered one of the best long range shooters in the conference, he could be one of the top guards in the area and a sure bet for post-season honors.

The son of Mrs. Effie B. Thompson, he is a physical education major.

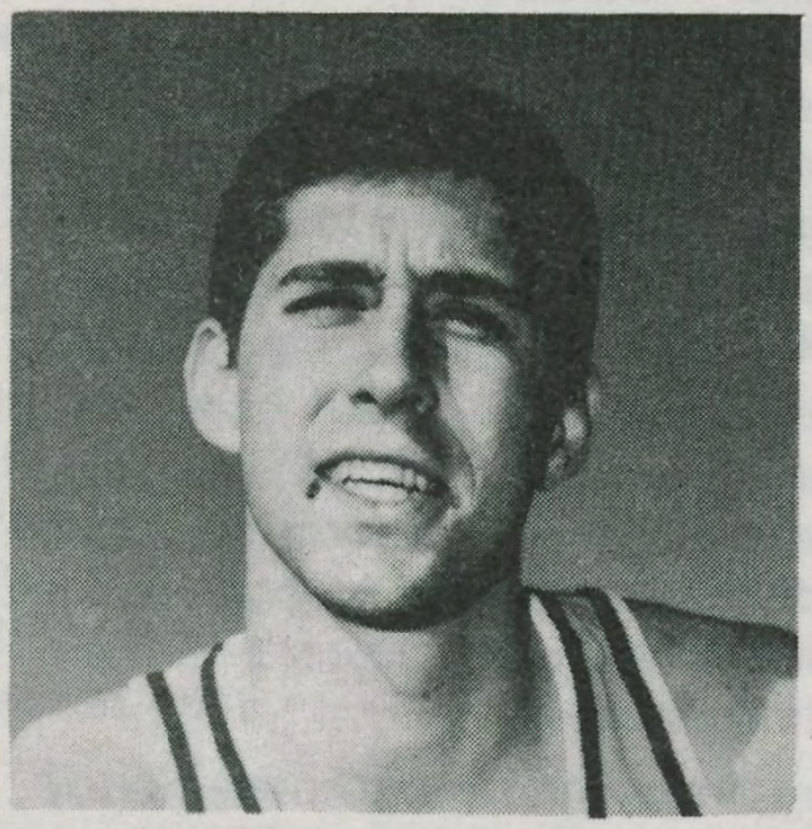
RICHARD KIER; CO-CAPTAIN

No. 34 [35], 6-5, 190, Corner, Senior, Durham, N.C.



Snaky moves and unorthodox releases around the basket make him an exciting and valuable player. As a sixth man and sometimes starter last year, he earned acclaim as the team's most improved in a vote of his teammates. He's the team's most seasoned player from point of service at ECU and a top contender for a starting role this year.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Kier, he is a math major.

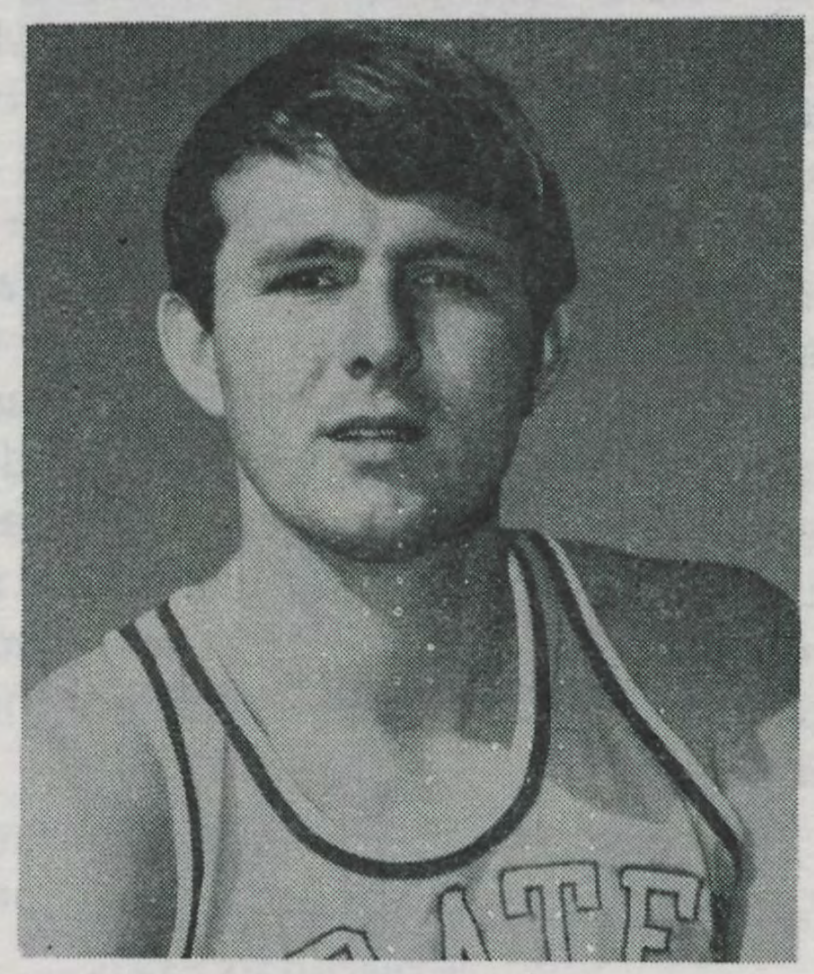
JIM MODLIN

No. 52 [25], 6-7, 220, Middle-Corner, Junior, Jamestown, N.C.



A big man with a soft shooting touch, he has the strength to get the three-point play in the hole. He earned himself a starting role as he entered his sophomore year but it wasn't until the last half of the season that he came on strong. Not bothered by pressure, he turned in one of his best performances in his first conference tournament game. He's put on weight since last year, but has not lost any of his mobility and is expected to play inside more often.

The son of Mrs. Ruby Modlin, he is a business major.

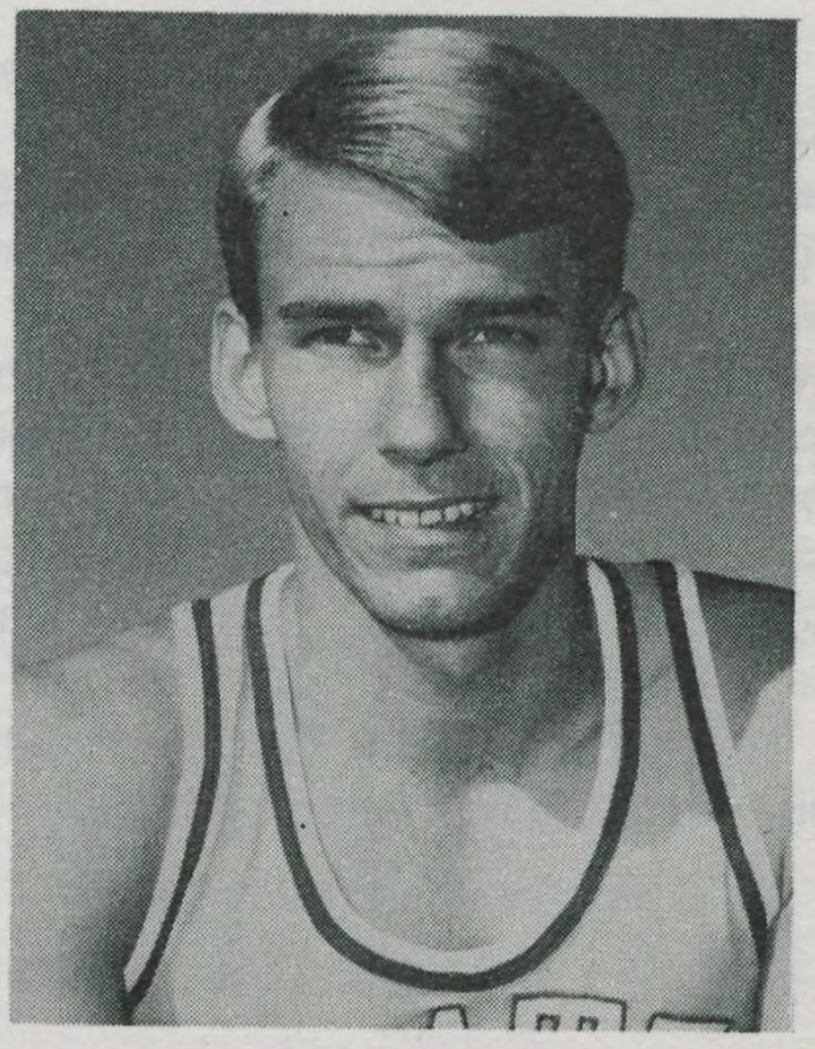
TOM MILLER

No. 10 [11], 5-11, 170, Backcourt, Junior, Oxon Hill, Md.



Although lacking any form of consistency as a sophomore playmaker, it is hoped the added improvement in fundamentals will bring about more favorable results this season. Although he was one of the top scorers on the freshman team, he found it more difficult to hit with regularity as a varsity starter. Saddled with the role of offensive quarterback when Capt. Jim Cox was injured in the opening game of the season, he isn't expected to feel the pressure as much with a year's experience under his belt, and likely will assume more of the scoring role this year.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Miller, he is a psychology major.

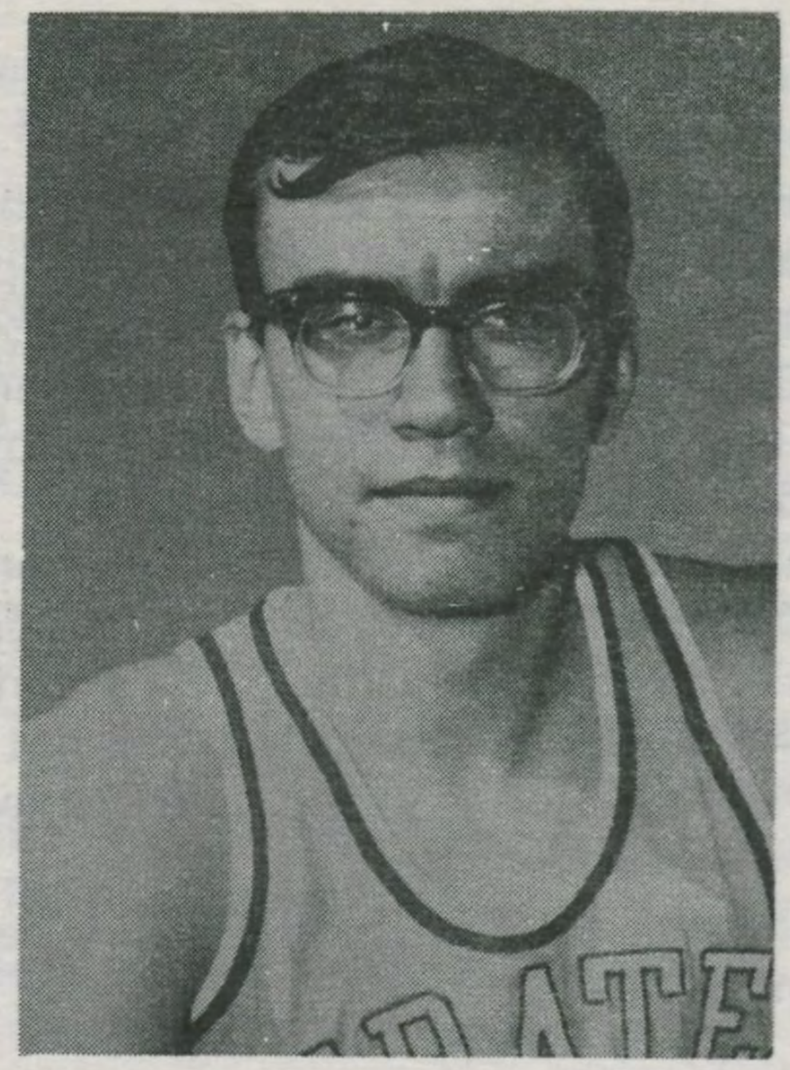
JIM GREGORY

No. 42 [31], 6-7, 210, Corner-Post, Sophomore, Elbert, West Va.



Never has the 'looks are deceiving' tag ever applied so well as to Jim Gregory. He is a natural basketball player who has the sixth sense for being where the ball comes off and is considered by Coach Quinn as a potential great. "He could make us a very tough team with a hasty transistion to varsity competition," Quinn says. He is very quick for his size and can hit from the outside or move inside with flashing pivot moves. He's considered by Quinn to be one of the top young sophomores in the East. He averaged 25.2 points per game as a freshman and 15.3 rebounds.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gregory, Jr., he is a physical education major.

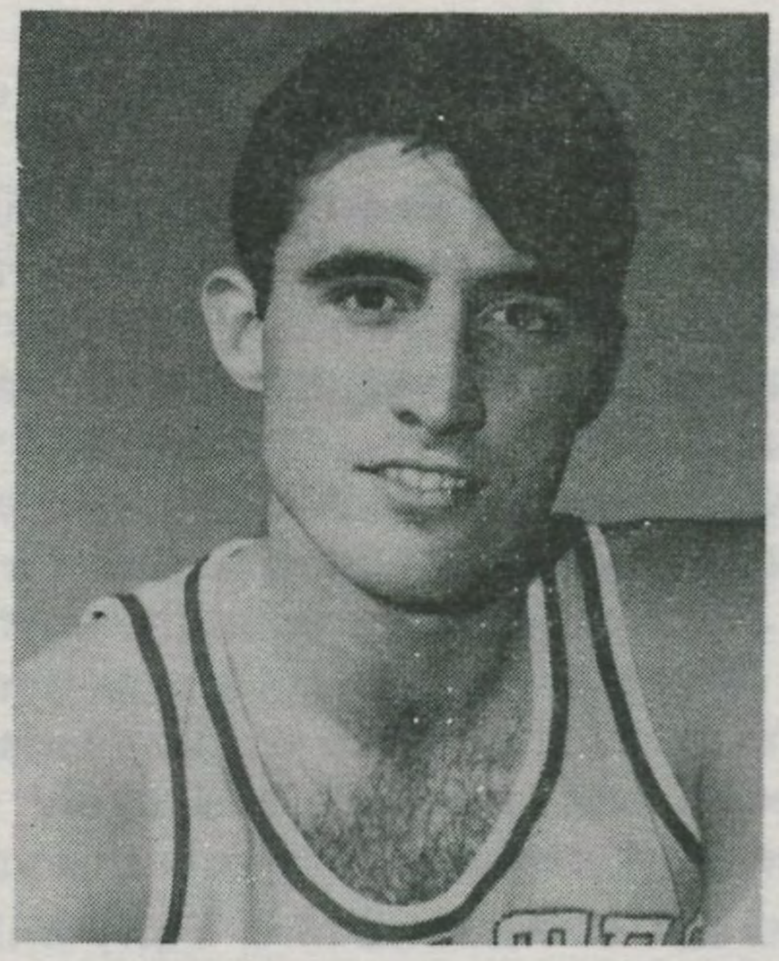
BOB HAUBENREISER

No. 40 [41], 6-4, 205, Corner, Sophomore, Charlotte, N.C.



As a member of last year's freshman team, Haubenreiser was one of the team's hardest workers. Although not blessed with an abundance of natural talent, he is well-grounded fundamentally and makes few costly errors. He is working hard to improve his shot range and rebounding and will be used this year as a reserve forward. He was a member of outstanding high school teams under Coach Jim Hartman at Myers Park in Charlotte.

He is the son of Mrs. E. K. Haubenreiser and is a business major.

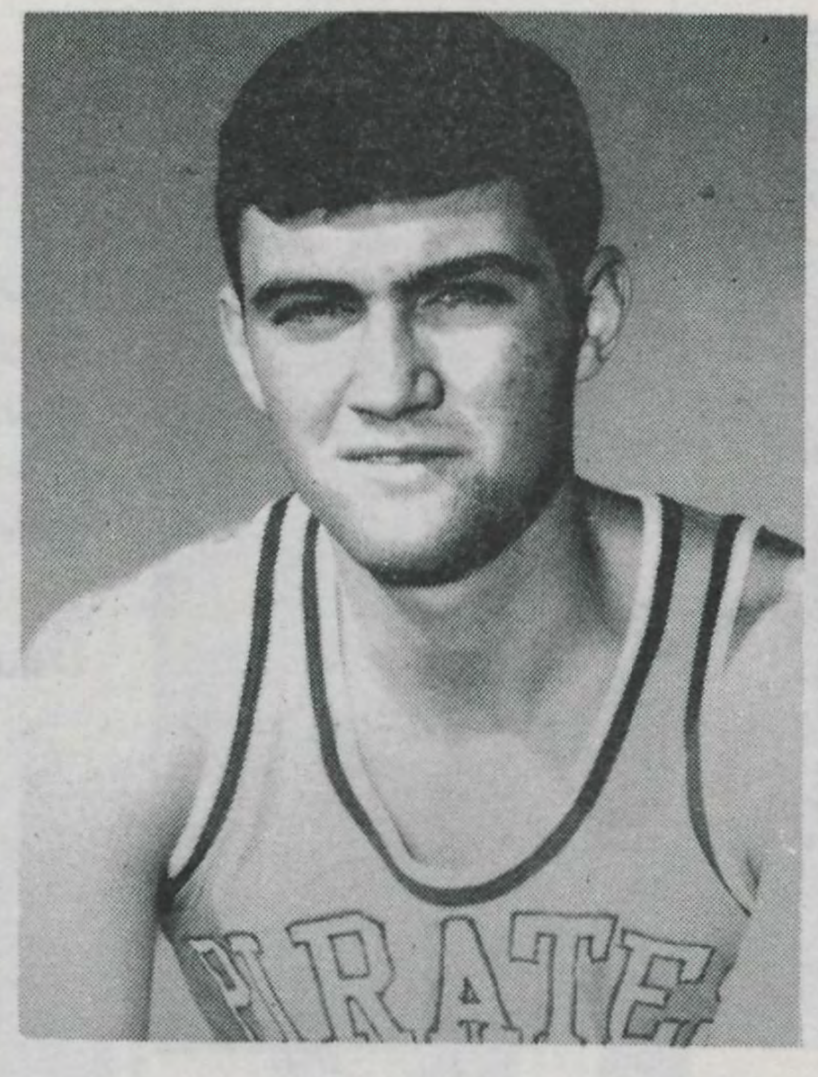
MICHAEL DUNN

No. 30 [23], 6-4, 205, Corner, Sophomore, Chevy Chase, Md.



Could become an outstanding corner player, but first needs to overcome poor shot selection which marked his freshman play. Somewhat short as a collegiate cornerman, he has excellent leg thrust and timing on offensive rebounds. Many of his points as a freshman were follow-ups of his own long jumpers. With a knack for always being around the ball, he is expected to see considerable action.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dunn, he is a business major.

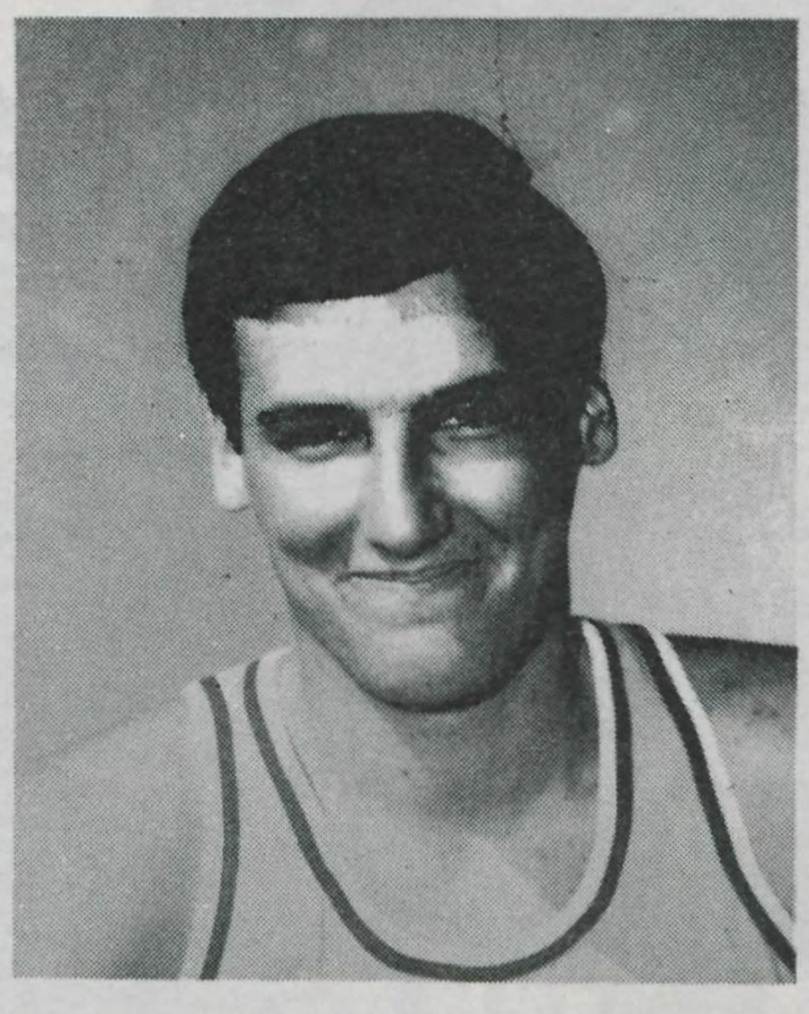
BOB LINDFELT

No. 44 [43], 6-5, 200, Corner, Senior, Camp Lejeune, N.C.



"Lindfelt has grown with the program," according to Coach Quinn. With hard work in track and on the weights, he has developed physically to meet the demands of the schedule. Although not blessed with natural shooting skill, he's a good spot player who can fill the lane on the break and get crucial rebounds. Can apply pressure downcourt to the opposing forward and as a senior provides experience and improved depth to the team.

The son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. H. E. Lindfelt, he is a political science major.

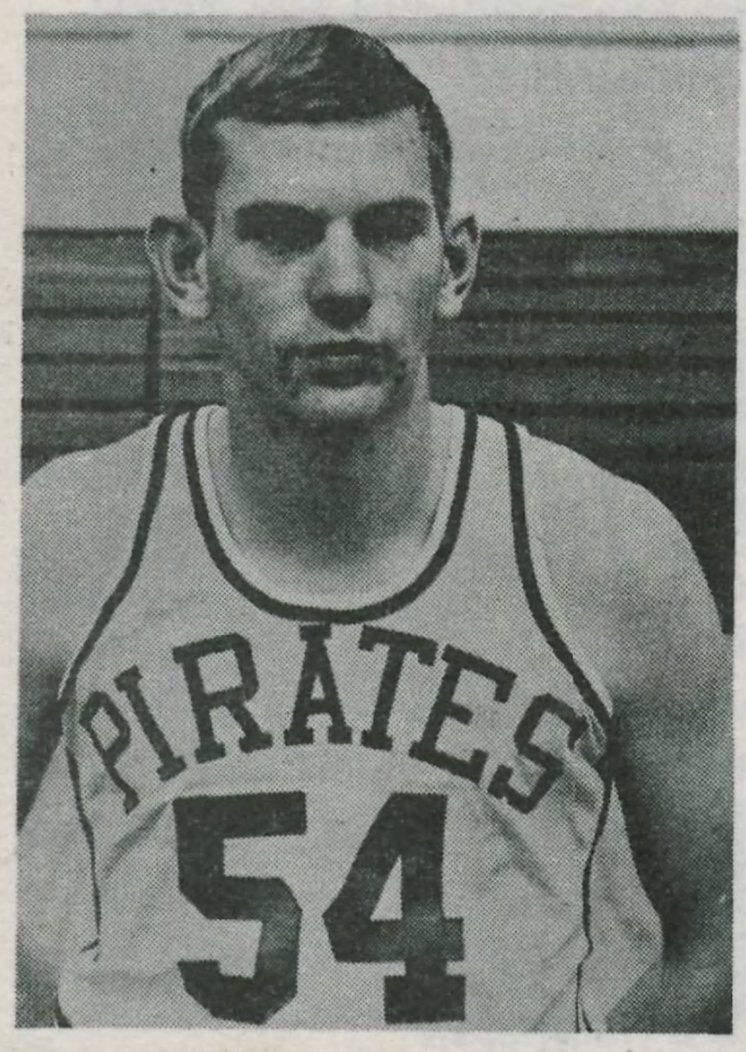
DOYLE DAUGHTRY

No. 54 [ ], 6-4, 190, Corner, Sophomore, Newton Grove, N.C.



Although not a regular on last year's freshman team, he proved steady in spot situations. A hard worker, he shows improvement and should see action as a reserve.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie F. Daughtry, he is a math major.

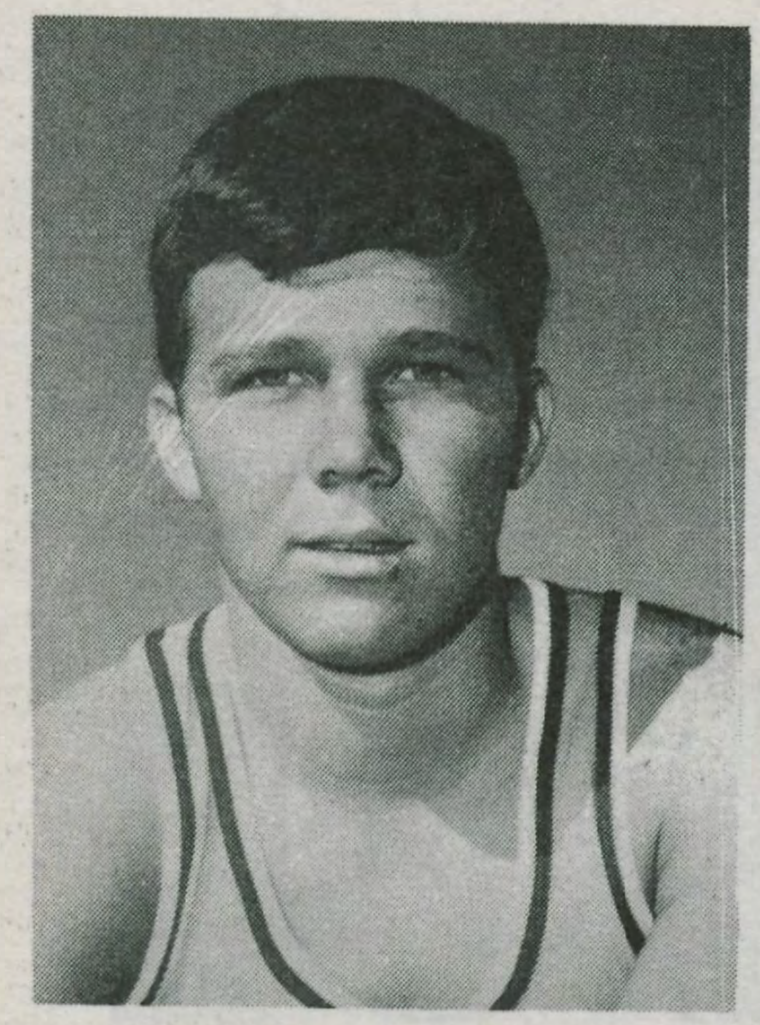
BOB MCKILLOP

No. 12 [51], 6-1, 175, Backcourt, Sophomore, North Merrick, N.Y.



A much better player than he was a year ago, his shooting has improved, his passes are sharper and his overall speed and quickness have picked up. A 'take charge' type he gets the most from his talents. "He's a better than average passer who 'sees without looking,' and is developing as a floor leader," says Coach Quinn.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. McKillop he is a history major.

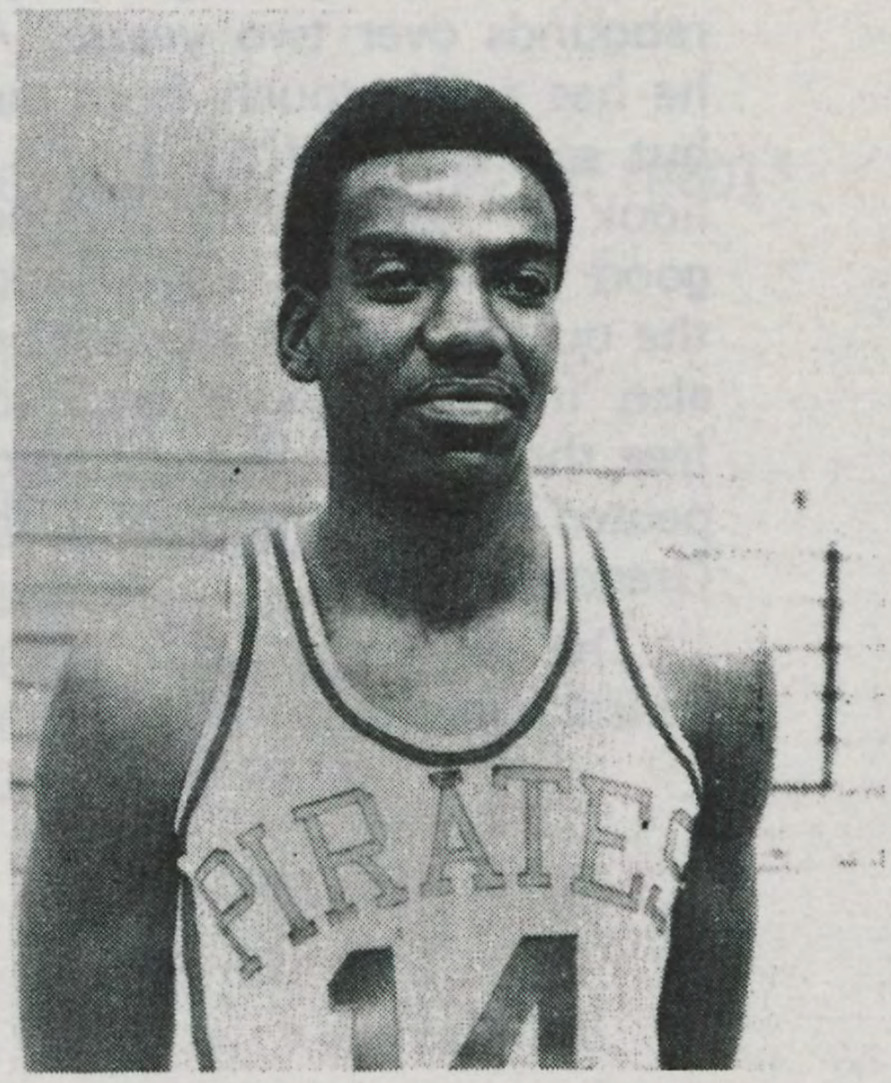
AUBREY WILLIAMS

No. 14 [13], 6-4, 190, Swing Man, Junior, Hazard, Ky.

A transfer and former teammate of Earl Thompson at Sue Bennett Junior College in London, Ky., he fills the lane on the fast break as well as anyone on the team. He's quick enough to defense the opposing big guard or smaller cornerman down court. Figured as a key addition to the team, he plays big enough to go inside both offensively and defensively if necessary. Probably will play inside since backcourt depth is considerably improved over last year. Not a picture player, he always seems near the ball and gets the job done. A two-year letterman at Sue Bennett, he averaged 24 points a game and 13 rebounds.

He is the son of Mrs. Essie Williams and is a political science major.

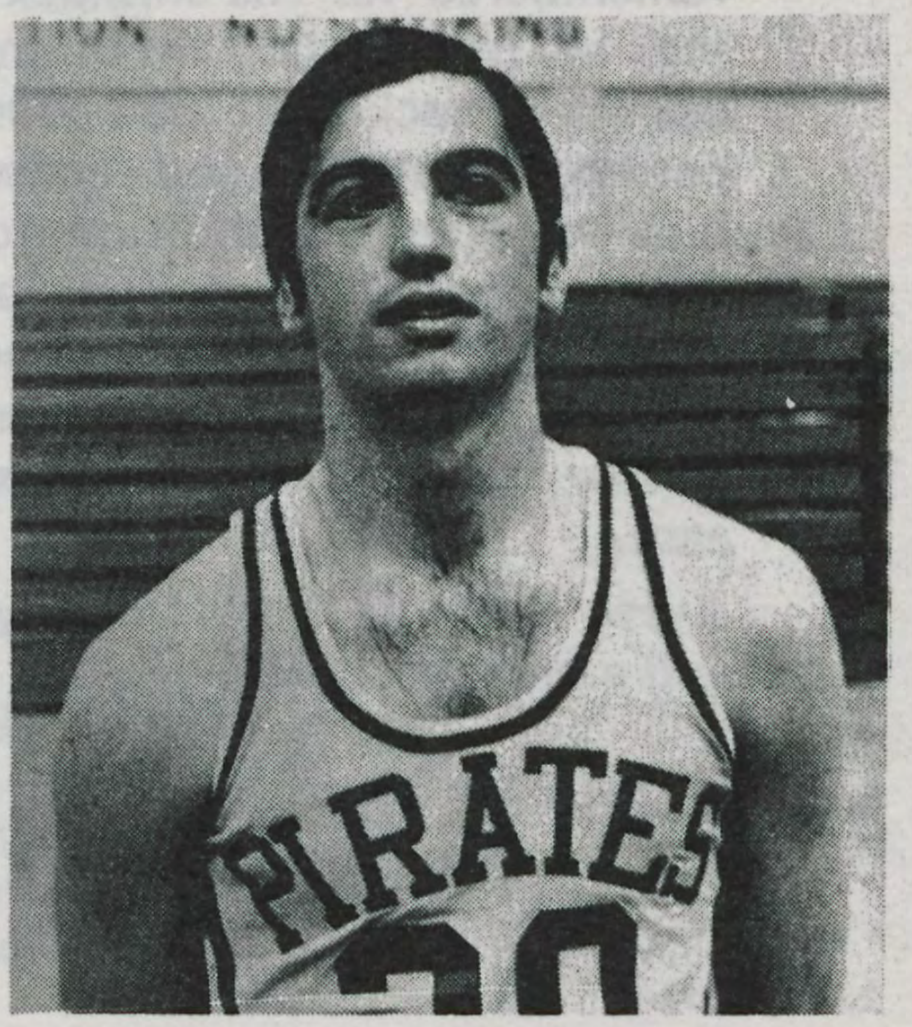


JIM KIERNAN

No. 20 [21], 6-1, 175, Backcourt, Junior, Brooklyn, N.Y.

A transfer from Sullivan County Community College, South Fallsburg, N.Y., he played high school ball at Rice High School. A long-armed playmaker, he could help alleviate weaknesses in court leadership that have plagued the Pirates since Coach Quinn took over. Though not a great scorer, Kiernan is a heads-up floorman who "makes things happen." He makes the clutch basket or pulls defenses to him on penetrating moves from which he dumps off to teammates for easy board shots. With attention to defense, he could help right away.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kiernan, he is a business major.

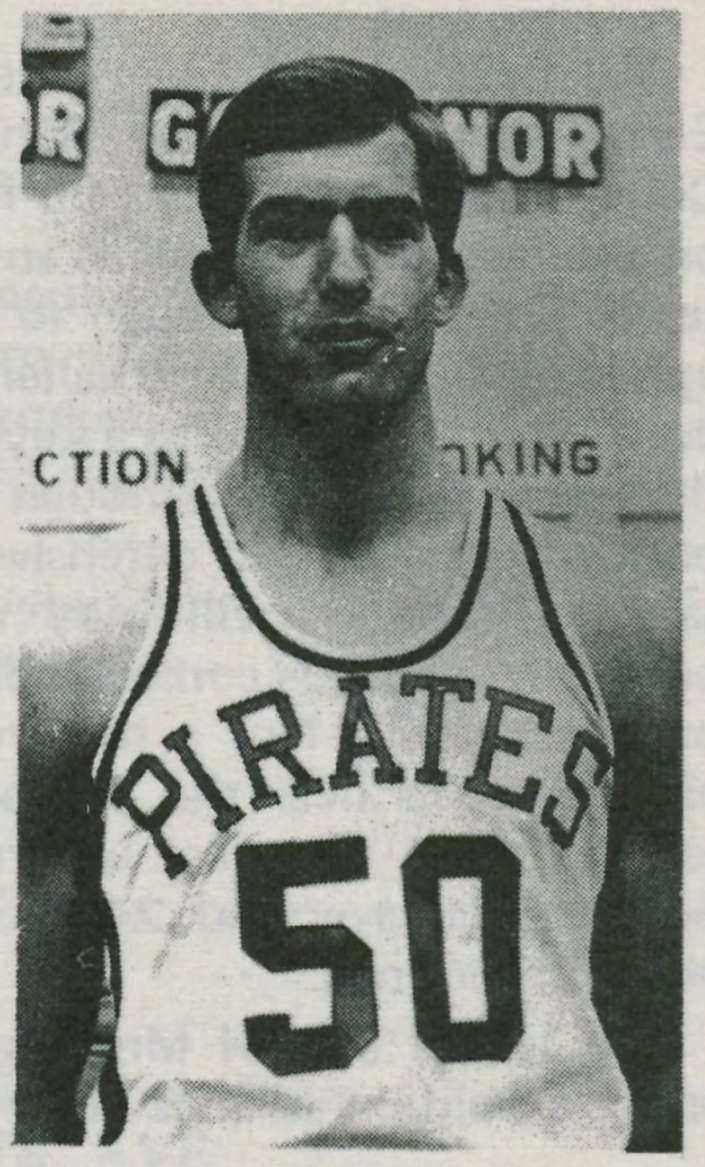


RICH COLLINS

No. 50 [53] , 6-9, 205, Middle, Junior, Milwaukee, Wisc.

A transfer from the College of Eastern Utah, where he averaged 12 points and 12 rebounds over two years. A lefthander, he has a fair touch from medium range, but scores best from inside with a short hook or turn-around jumper. He has good straightaway speed and can launch the outlet pass for the fast break. Plusses also include deadly accuracy from the free throw line. A hard worker, he is expected to share the pivot with Modlin and Gregory.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Collins, he is a business major.



RICHIE WILLIAMS

No . 24 [45] , 6-2, 180, Swing Man, Junior, Muncie, Indiana

Returning to East Carolina after a four year tour of duty in the navy, he is a former starter with the Pirates and well remembered for his ambidextrous shooting, his outstanding inside moves against opposing backcourt defenders. His experience, maturity and leadership makes him a welcomed addition to the scene. With a hasty adjustment back to the college hardwood he could help. He has kept in contact with the game while in service and the readjustment should come easy.

He is the son of Howard W. Williams and a business major.

JIM WOODS

EAST CAROLINA RADIO NETWORK

Returning for his second season this year is "The Voice of the Pirates" Jim Woods. Woods joined the staff of WNCT radio and TV last winter as Sports Director, and was the radio voice of the Bucs for their home games.

Jim comes to Greenville from Elizabeth City, where he served as station manager at WGAI for seven years. During the past 10 years, he has been an award winning play-by-play man. Twice he has received the Associated Press Award for the most outstanding "Tarheel Sportscaster," in 1957 and 1966.

He is married to the former Barbara Sullivan of Greenville and they have three sons, Jim, Gary, and Danny.

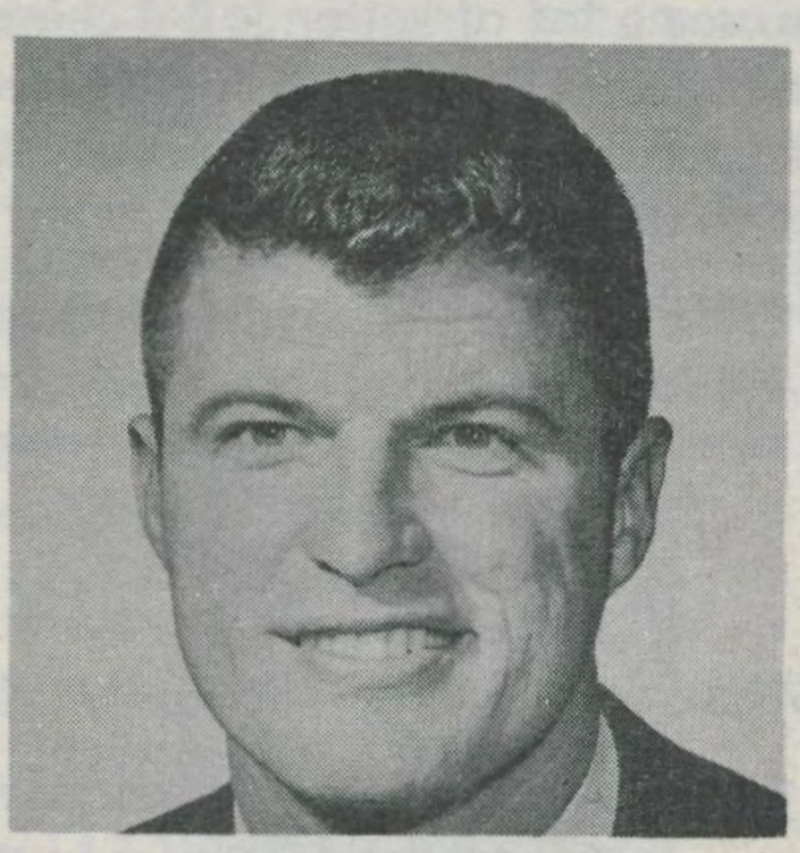
The network will be expanded this year, with practically every game this season carried live.

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY

Saturday, Nov. 30 at Mountaineer Fieldhouse [6,500], 8:00 P.M. Southern Conference.

Mountaineers. Old Gold and Blue. Independent. 13,000 students. Morgantown, W. Va. Athletic Director: Robert N. "Red" Brown. Publicity: Ben Earl Lusk.

Coach Bucky Waters. 1967-68 record 19-9.



Great responsibility will fall on inexperienced shoulders when this year's edition of the Mountaineers takes to the hardwood. Missing from last year's squad will be the top scorer Ron Williams, who was the No. 1 draft choice of the San Francisco Warriors and was the fourth leading scorer in Mountaineer history. Expecting to lead West Virginia's bid this year, will be Carey Bailey, a 6-5 jumping jack who averaged 13.9 points per game and 10.5 rebounds. Bob Hummell, a junior who averaged 13 points as a spot starter last season, and Greg Ludwig will add height to the West Virginia attack. Up from the freshmen team is Skip Kintz, who can provide immediate scoring help. He averaged 28.7 points per game last year. Larry Woods, 6-5, and Mike Truell, 6-7, both junior college transfers, are expected to help in the front court. Overall, Waters' Mountaineers will employ pride, hustle and conditioning to overcome their inexperience, the difficult schedule and the lack of a truly big man.

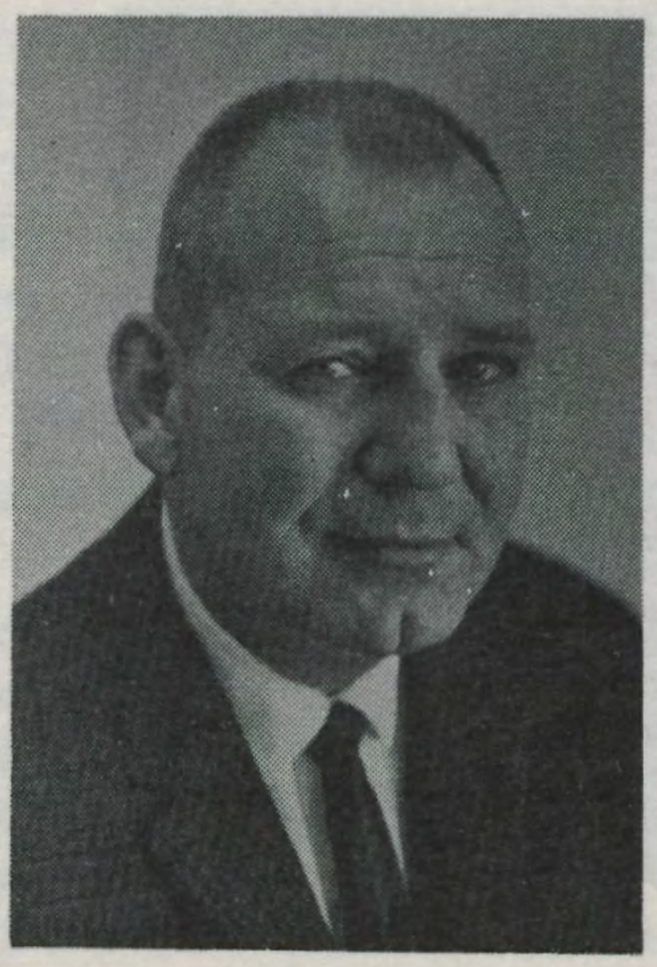
Series Record: ECU won 0, lost 4.

ATLANTIC CHRISTIAN COL.

Saturday, Dec. 7, at Minges Coliseum [6500] 8 P.M.

Bulldogs. Royal Blue and White. Carolinas Conference. 1530 students. Wilson, N.C. Athletic Director: Ira Norfolk. Publicity: Ira Norfolk.

Coach Ira Norfolk. 1967-68 record, 16-12.



The Atlantic Christian outlook for the 1967-68 season is very bright with the return of the leading scorer, guard Ed Carraway. Carraway, a 5-11 senior, was fifth in the Carolinas Conference scoring last season with a 21.2 average and was named to the All-Tournament team. The shifty senior already holds the school scoring record and is tied for the school record for the most field goals. A pair of 6-3 seniors, Robert Gilmore and Clyde Stallsmith, both who averaged around 16 points per game last season return in the front court. Also back is 6-4 senior, Robert Covington, who averaged 11.5 points per game for the Bulldogs last season. Also returning from last year is 6-5 jumping jack Larry Jones, who was ninth in conference rebounding last season and was named most valuable player in the Wilson-ACC Collegiate Invitational Tournament. The Bulldogs face another tough schedule this year. Included are North Carolina State and Georgia Southern, a small college powerhouse.

WILLIAM & MARY

Wednesday, Dec. 11 at Blow Gym [1555] 8 P.M., and Saturday, Jan. 11 at Minges Coliseum [6500], 8 P.M.

Indians. Green, Gold and Silver. Southern Conference. 3300 students. Williamsburg, Va. Athletic Director: H. Lester Hooker, Jr. Publicity: Barry G. Fratkin.

Coach Warren Mitchell. 1967-68 record, 6-18.

Predicted to finish high in the Southern Conference, The William and Mary basketball team fooled the experts last year by having a disappointing 6-18 season. Coach Warren Mitchell is hopeful that the team will fool the experts again this year, but in the opposite respect. The outlook cannot be but so bright for a team that lost its number two and three scorers, its most rugged rebounder and defender, and has no super-star stepping up from the freshmen team. Leading the Indians attack this season will be all-Southern Conference performer Bob Sherwood, who averaged 22.7 points per game last season as a sophomore, to lead the conference and become the highest scoring sophomore in William and Mary history. Sherwood averaged 10.5 rebounds per game, hit on 50 per cent of his field goals and did not foul out of a game. Handling the center duties will be 6-8 senior Dave Daugherty, who must improve from last season. Scott McLennan could be the biggest surprise in the Indian backcourt if he can get back on his game. Also back at guard, is Jack Downing, who has the most experience but has never been a big scorer. Up from the freshmen team are a pair of 6-5 forwards, Doug Brown and Tom Jancaitis, who could play center. Another sophomore expected to see a lot of action is 6-6 center Paul King. Don Gilliam and Joel Fisher, both transfer students, are expected to chip in with the guard duties.

OLD DOMINION COLLEGE

Saturday, Dec. 14 at Minges Coliseum [6500] 8 P.M.

Monarchs. Blue and White. Mason-Dixon Conference. 10,000 students. Norfolk, Va. Athletic Director: A. B. Metheny. Publicity: A. B. Metheney.

Coach William [Sonny] Allen. 1967-68 record, 19-7.

The 1968-69 season will offer a tremendous challenge for the up-and-coming basketball dreams of Old Dominion College. Eight major college teams and the number one College-Division Team, Long Island University, will highlight the schedule. The outlook is far from bleak as six lettermen, including four regulars, return from the high-scoring Monarch team that won 19 games and lost seven last season. Also, five outstanding freshmen prospects will add depth and size to the returning squad this season are Ron Drews a 6-5 sr. center; Ken Hopkins, a 6-3 senior forward Harry Lozon, a 6-3 junior forward; and guards Buttons Speaks, Dick St. Clair and Billy Turner. Gone from last year is Bob Pritchett, who had a 25.6 scoring average. However, Old Dominion will have its second leading scorer, Lozon, and its leading rebounder, Drews returning. Expected to carry a big load are sophomore Steve Cox, a 6-8 jumping jack, who will give Drews a rest now and then and forwards Billy Hayes and Skip Noble. Ken Gathy, 5-8, and Berry Roach, 6-4, will see plenty of action in the backcourt.

Series Record: ECU won 1 lost 1.

UNIV. OF SOUTH CAROLINA

Wednesday, Dec. 18 at Carolina Coliseum [12,121] at 8 P.M.

Gamecocks. Garnet and Black. Atlantic Coast Conference. 15,240 students. Columbia, S.C. Athletic Director: Paul Dietzel. Publicity: Tom Price.

Coach Frank McGuire. 1967-68 record, 15-7.

The basketball fighting Gamecocks move into the plush new Carolina Coliseum for the 1968-69 season with a cast that will feature four new faces in the starting lineup. Gone from last season are the "Four Horsemen", Gary Gregor, Frank Standard, Skip Harlicka and Jack Thompson. Only Bob Cremins returns from last year's starting lineup. Cremins, a 6-2 junior who can play either forward or guard, average 9.1 points per game while pulling down an average of 7.1 rebounds. However, he sparked the Gamecocks to their upset victory over the North Carolina Tar Heels last season bombing in 23 points and grabbing 15 rebounds. Physically he is a backcourt man but spent most of his time last season battling the giants for points and rebounds in the front court. There will be no seniors on this year's squad and three, possibly four, of the starters will be sophomores, up from last year's fine freshmen team, which compiled a 12-2 record. These include Tom Owens, 6-10, who averaged 24 points per game and 17.6 rebounds last season; John Ribock, 6-8 who averaged 16.7 points and 14.5 rebounds per game; and guards John Roche and Billy Walsh. Gene Spencer 6-8, and Charlie Vacca, 6-3 are the most experienced juniors returning from last year's squad. Coach Frank McGuire, whose 30-year record in high school, collegiate and professional coaching is 490 wins and 207 losses feels the Gamecocks will be a good, although inexperienced, basketball squad.

Series Record: New Series.

GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIV.

Saturday, Dec. 21 at Minges Coliseum [6500] at 8 P.M. and Monday, Feb. 10 at Fort Myer Gym [3500] at 8 P.M.

Colonials. Buff and Blue. Southern Conference. 13,500 students. Washington, D.C. Athletic Director: Robert K. Faris. Publicity: Jack Zane.

Coach Wayne Dobbs. 1967-68 record, 5-19.

Coach Wayne Dobbs suffered through a miserable 5-19 season last year but he has built what proves to be the tallest basketball team in George Washington University's history. Along with the height, the Colonials are expected to have much more talent and they will have a stronger bench than in many years. He will have experience to blend with a 17-2 freshman squad moving up. The 17 man roster includes six lettermen and five starters returning. Back will be Roger Strong, a 6-5 forward who led the Colonials with a 14.2 scoring average last season, Garland Pinkston, a 6-3 forward, who averaged 12.5 points per game last year, and Francis Mooney, Ken Barnett, Bob Dennsi and Steve Loveless, all lettermen. Along with the experience comes Mike Tallent, who averaged 29 points per game on the freshman squad last year. Other sophomores to watch include Harold Rhyne, Walt Szczerbiak, Hank Bunnell and Ralph Barnett.

Series Record: ECU won 4 lost 2.

FURMAN UNIVERSITY

Tuesday, Dec. 31 at Greenville Memorial Auditorium [6500] at 8 P.M.

Paladins. Purple and White. Southern Conference. 1,950 students. Greenville, S.C. Athletic Director: J. Lyles Alley. Publicity: Bobby Batson.

Coach Frank Selvy. 1967-68 record 13-14.

The Paladins should be in the thick of the Southern Conference race this season with six lettermen returning from last year's squad which finished 6-6 in league competition. Furman's biggest problem will be finding someone to play the two corner spots. Candidates include Steve Cockrum, and Frank Hosea both 6-6 sophomores. The Paladins' strongest point will be the backcourt where All-Southern Conference guard Dick Esleeck, who averaged 20 points a game last year, returns along with Steve McCammon, who averaged 14 points per game and was named top defensive player last season. Joe Brunson, a 6-6 junior college transfer is the probable starting center. Selvy describes Brunson as being strong and agile and thinks he will do a good job both rebounding and defensively. Furman will be playing one of the toughest schedules in the Southern Conference this year. In addition to all the conference teams, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina, Clemson and Georgia Tech are scheduled. Other returnees expected to see a lot of action this season include Don James, a 6-2 forward, and Jim Dely, 6-5, who was the starting center last season. Sophomores expected to see action are Doug Paul, a 5-10 guard, Danny Owens, a 6-3 guard or forward and John Campbell, a 6-2 guard.

Series Record: ECU won 0 lost 4.

THE CITADEL

Saturday, Jan. 4 at Minges Coliseum [6500] at 8 P.M. and Tuesday, Feb. 18 at The Citadel Armory [5,000] 8 P.M.

Bulldogs. Blue and White. Southern Conference. 2,000 men. Charleston, S.C. Athletic Director: Edward L. Teague, Jr. Publicity: Bill Hallman.

Coach Dick Campbell. 1967-68 record, 11-14.

The Bulldogs hope to improve on last year's mediocre 11-14 record and with five lettermen returning from last year's squad and a host of sophomores the chances look good. Back from last season is Tee Hooper, a 6-3 senior forward, who was the Bulldog's leading scorer last season with a 15.8 average while Willie Taylor, a 6-1 junior guard from Kinston, is back after averaging 11.4 points per game last season. However, a tough schedule includes such powerhouses as North Carolina, which finished behind UCLA last season and was the Atlantic Coast Conference champion and North Carolina State. Also on the Bulldogs' schedule is the Southern Conference champion, Davidson. Other lettermen returning are Al Kroboth, a 6-3 senior who can play either forward or center; Greg Conner, a 6-3 senior forward; and Jerry Hirsch, a 6-2 junior who will see action at forward and guard. Sophomores expected to carry a big load this season include Hoke Hill, a 6-7 center; Ben Ledbetter, a 6-0 guard; and Robin May, a 6-5 guard.

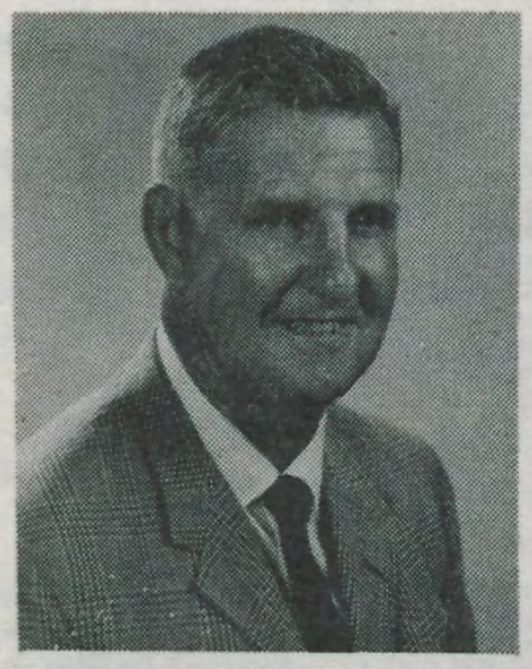
Series Record: ECU won 7 lost 6.

E. TENNESSEE STATE UNIV.

Wednesday, Jan. 8 at Minges Coliseum [6500] at 8 P.M., and Monday, Feb. 3 at Memorial Gym [4200] at 8 P.M.

Pirates. Blue and Gold. Ohio Valley Conference. 10,000 students. Johnson City, Tennessee. Athletic Director: John R. Bell. Publicity: Bill Captain.

Coach Madison Brooks. 1967-68 record, 19-8



With three of five starters lost from the Buccaneer's 1967-68 Ohio Valley Conference championship team, chances for a repeat this winter look rather slim. The only returning starters from last year are senior guard Mike Swift, 6-3, and junior forward Mike Kretzer, 6-5. Swift, East Tennessee's first all-American candidate since the great Tom Chilton should have his best year. He has led the team in scoring the past two seasons, last winter averaging 18 points per game. In addition Swift goes to the boards with regularity, last year averaging 6.1 rebounds, third best on the squad. Kretzer, who started the final 14 games of last season, finished with an 11.7 scoring average, including a 53-point outburst in the NCAA Mideast Regional tourney against Ohio State and Marquette, earning him an all-tourney spot. Other possible starters include Tim Fleming, Worley Ward, Larry Woods and John Rice in the front court, while George Walling, Gordon Gifford and Rice could possibly start in the back court. Mel Popovich, a forward, and Larry Holt, a guard, both redshirts last season, are likely to work themselves into the playing picture.

Series Record: ECU won 4 lost 4.

UNIVERSITY OF RICHMOND

Tuesday, Jan. 14 at Richmond Arena [4,200] at 8 P.M. and Thursday, Feb. 13 at Minges Coliseum [6500] at 8 P.M.

Spiders. Red and Blue. Southern Conference. 7,000 students. Richmond, Va. Athletic Director: Frank Jones. Publicity: Walt Drewry.

Coach Lewis Mills. 1967-68 record, 12-13.

The 1968-69 season will mark a year of rebuilding for the University of Richmond and Coach Lewis Mills. With only two senior lettermen returning, the Spiders will lack experience. However, five lettermen return from last year's squad which finished sixth in the Southern Conference with a record of eight wins against eight losses. Senior Wilton Ford, a 6-6 center, heads the list while senior guard, Bobby Ukrop, 6-0, will work along with junior lettermen Picot Frazier and Kenny Foster. Junior Frank Owen, 6-7, is the only returnee at Forward. The Spiders will be counting on a fine performance from sophomore Stan Ryfinski, who averaged 22.5 points and 9.4 rebounds per game on last year's freshman team which finished with a record of 13 wins against eight losses. Jim Hewitt, a 6-8 sophomore center, who led the freshmen team in rebounding last winter, will see action at center. Ed Surgan, another sophomore who stands 6-5, will give the team more depth at forward. With experience, the Spiders could be the team to watch in Southern Conference.

Series Record: ECU won 5 lost 8.

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY

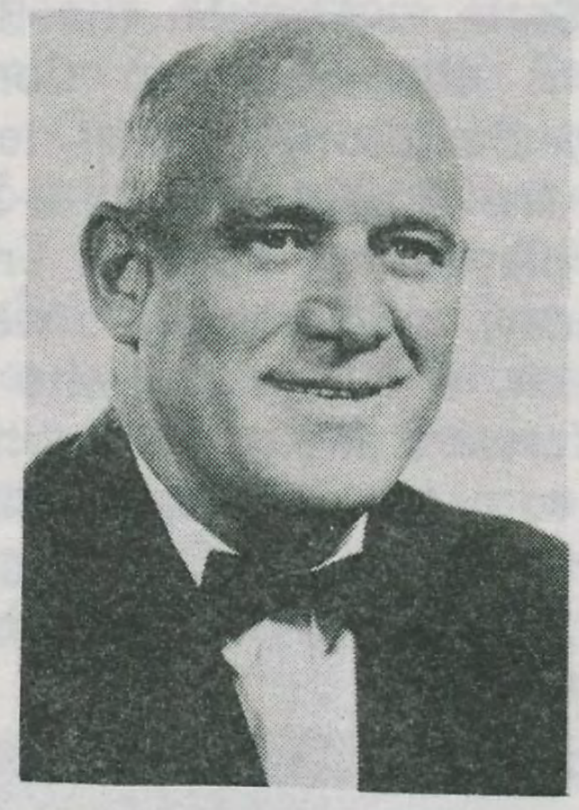
Saturday, Jan. 18 at Minges Coliseum [6500] at 8 P.M.

Thundering Herd. Green and White. Mid-America Conference. 9,000 students. Huntington, W. Va. Athletic Director: Edgar O. Barrett. Publicity: Gene Morehouse.

Coach Ellis Johnson. 1967-68 record, 17-8.

When Marshall University takes to the hardwood in Minges Coliseum it will mark the first time the two clubs have met in basketball. On that night, the Pirates might have their hands full trying to overcome the Thundering Herd which finished 17-8 last season and has eight lettermen returning from that squad. Leading the charge, will be Jim Davidson, a 6-3 forward, who averaged 16.7 points per game last year. Also returning is Danny D'Antoni, a 5-11 guard, who averaged 14.3 points per game last year. Other lettermen include Dallas Blankenship, Bob Didur, Richy Hall, Phil Kazee, John Mallett and Larry Osborne. Bernard Bradshaw, a 6-6 sophomore forward, who led the freshmen team in scoring with a 21.9 average, is expected to see considerable duty.

-Series Record: New Series.

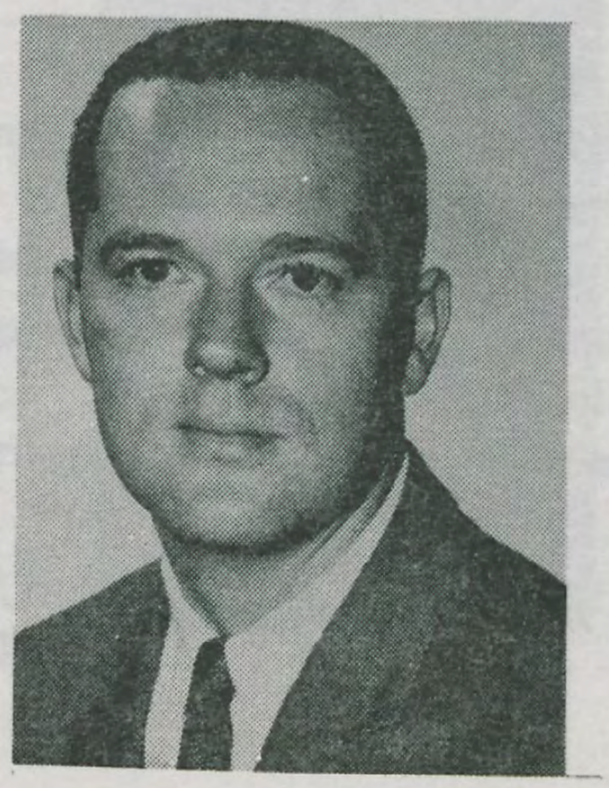


VIRGINIA MILITARY INST.

Monday, Jan. 22 at VMI Fieldhouse [3,000] at 8 P.M. and Saturday, Feb. 22 at Minges Coliseum [6500] at 8 P.M.

Keydets. Red, White and Yellow. Southern Conference. 1200 men. Lexington, Va. Athletic Director: C. L. "Duke" Ellington. Publicity: Dave Shuffleburger.

Coach Gary D. McPherson. 1967-68 record, 9-12.



Last season the Keydets recorded their first winning season in the Southern Conference and Coach Gary McPherson plans to work from there this season. Back this season will be Denny Clark, a 6-5 forward, who averaged 10.3 points per game; Mike Manis, a 6-4 forward, who averaged 13 points per game; John Mitchell, a 6-0 guard, who averaged 16 points per game; Peyton Brown, a 6-0 guard; Jim Gillespie, a 6-7 center; and Walt Ivkovich, a 6-6 center. However, missing from last season's starting lineup will be leading scorer John Kemper. The big key to the Keydets success this year lies with Gillespie and Ivkovich at center. One of them will have to replace Steve Powers, who led in rebounding last season. The bench, though slightly inexperienced, is strong. The schedule is tougher and in order to equal last year's fine mark the Keydets will have to mold in the new men and mature quickly.

Series Record: Unknown.

FAIRFIELD UNIVERSITY

Saturday, Feb. 18 at Minges Coliseum [6500] at 8 P.M.

Stags. Cardinal and White. Eastern College Athletic Conference. 1,600 men students. Fairfield, Conn. Athletic Director: George R. Bisacca. Publicity: Richard P. Ondek.

Coach James F. Lynam. 1967-68 record, 0-0 [first year].

The Fairfield University Stags, who compiled a 16-10 record last season against teams like, Houston, Dayton and St. Bonaventure will operate under a new head coach this season with Jim Lynam, a former assistant at St. Josephs at the reigns. Only two starters are back from last year's squad. However, the team's leading scorer, Frank Magaletta is back along with Wayne Gibbons, who alternated at starting guard. The Stags have lost such veteran stars as Bill Jones, Art Kenney, Sol Crenshaw and Larry Cirina via graduation indicating a rebuilding task for the 26-year old head mentor. The mediocre freshmen squad produced Mark Frazer, who averaged 25 points per game, Tom Purcell and Pete Yaros, among the top contenders for varsity spots. Other lettermen returning this year include senior James Dennis, Arthur Good, James Hessle, Samuel King, Kenneth Hojnowski and Richard Schonbeck. Even though this years slate is not quite as tough as last year's, the Stags will have to work hard and gain experience at the beginning of the season to keep up the winning tradition at Fairfield.

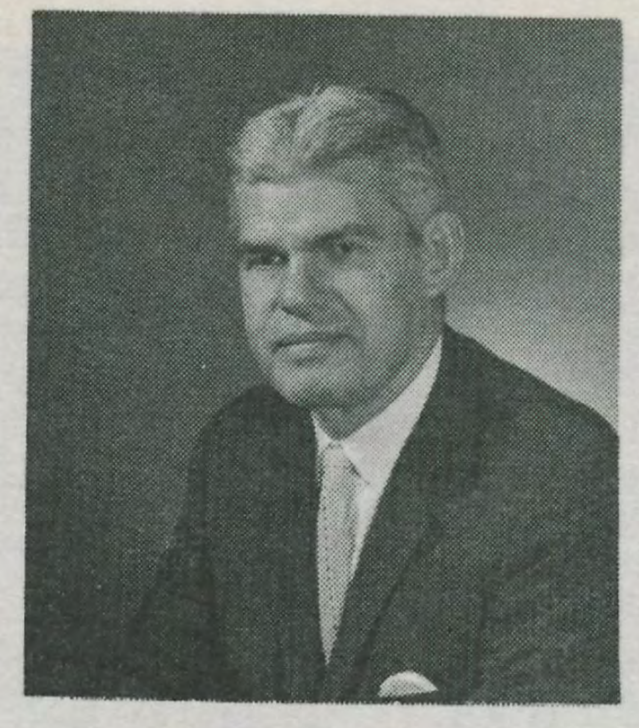
CLARENCE STASAVICH
ATHLETIC DIRECTOR



Clarence Stasavich is now in the midst of his seventh year as head of the East Carolina University athletic program. Stas came to Greenville to take over the post, along with the reins of head football coach, in July, 1962.

During his career which stretches over 22 years, he has become known as one of the nation's finest single-wing football coaches, and ranks in the top 10 in the nation among winners. He has only had one losing season at East Carolina, a 4-5-1 mark last year.

Born in the "Land of Lincoln" Stas is a native of Georgetown, Ill. He was honored by a group of citizens from there in 1966. The group presented him with a plaque just prior to the Pirates' meeting with Southern Illinois University.

Stasavich received his Batchelor's degree from Lenoir Rhyne College, Hickory, N.C., in 1935, and his Master's from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1947.

While attending Lenoir Rhyne, he was an outstanding athlete in all sports with his greatest skills displayed on the gridiron. In 1933 and 1934, he was named to the Charlotte Observer's "Flaming Five," which honored the top five athletes in North and South Carolina.

He took his first coaching job at Campbell College in 1935 then returned to his Alma Mater, Lenoir Rhyne, in 1938.

In 1942, he was called to active duty with the Navy where he served as a commanding officer of a LST in both theaters of war. Following his discharge, in 1946, he returned to coach the Lenoir Rhyne Bears, and remained there until joining the Pirate crew in 1962.

While at Lenoir Rhyne, his football team won nine conference championships, and took the NAIA National title in 1960.

Honors have been heaped upon Stasavich during his coaching tenure. Among these are American Football Association's College Coach of the Year 1964; NAIA Coach of the Year 1959; District Coach of the Year in 1960, 1961, 1963, 1964 and 1965. He was elected to the Helms Hall of Fame in 1960.

He has appeared as lecturer at many National Coaching Clinics and has authored many articles on the Single Wing attack.

At East Carolina, he teams have won three bowl games, two Eastern NCAA Small College championships and a share of the Southern Conference title.

He is an Elder and Sunday School teacher in the First Presbyterian Church in Greenville. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Cerebral Palsy Hospital, and of the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame. He is listed in Who's Who in the Southeast, and was 1966-67 chairman of the Christmas Seal campaign of the Tuberculois Association.

He is married to the former Helen Warlick of Hickory, and they have three children, Rebecca, Mary Helen, Walter.

Minges Coliseum, the home of East Carolina University's basketball team, is a show place in itself, but it is only part of an ever-expanding complex of facilities that is generally recognized as the finest overall in the Southern Conference.

The basketball arena seats 6,500. An addition to Ficklen Stadium, which is just adjacent to the Coliseum, has brought the football seating capacity to 20,000.

Also in the immediate area are one of the finest 440-yard tracks in the Southeast, with bleachers, and two baseball diamonds, one of which has a grandstand.

The coliseum also houses an eight-lane swimming pool which was used for the AAU short course championships last year and a wrestling room and gymnastic equipment. Elsewhere on campus there are tennis courts, and a soccer field and a fine five-mile cross country course. The golf team competes at Brook Valley Country Club, which has a demanding championship course.

The projection for Ficklen Stadium is a horseshoe arrangement that will eventually seat in excess of 40,000 people and the area between the stadium and Coliseum is being landscaped to provide a beautiful walkway between the two facilities.

In all, East Carolina competes on an intercollegiate level in 10 sports and four others, lacrosse and crew, gymnastics and karate are contested on a club basis.

Considered one of the most important additions recently to the growing facilities, is a field house that includes modern training room equipment and a laundry which is operated by the athletic department.

The competitive athletic program is directed by Clarence Stasavich, who also serves as head football coach. And the members of the athletic department coaching staff, number 15 in all, serve as instructors in the physical education department which is headed by Dr. N. M. Jorgensen.

SWIMMING PREVIEWS

Despite the loss of four All-Americans, the East Carolina University swimming team will be shooting for its fourth straight Southern Conference championship. Gone from last year's championship team are backstroker Mike Tomberlin, breaststroker Owen Paris along with divers Dick Tobin and Les Gerber.

The Pirate swimmers will be under coach Ray Scharf, his first season as head coach, although he assisted Coach Ray Martinez for the past two years. However, the road to the championship will not be an easy one. The Pirates will have the toughest schedule ever with such powerhouses as South Carolina, N.C. State, North Carolina, Florida, Florida State, Maryland and the University of South Florida. The East Carolina swimmers will also compete in the Eastern Seaboard Championships at Yale University this March.

Nevertheless three All-Americans remain at East Carolina. John Sultan will be defending his Southern Conference championships in the 400 yard individual medley, while All-America breaststrokers Steve Weissman and Larry Alman will battle it out for top honors at 100 and 200 yards. Also returning is co-captain Robert Moynihan, who holds the Southern Conference championship in the 200 yard freestyle. Moynihan will also see action in the 100 and 500 yard freestyle events. Sultan, the other co-captain, will attempt to fill in the gap left by Owen Paris, Sultan is called the best all-around swimmer on the team by his coach. The butterfly event will be one of the fastest events for the East Carolina swimmers. Leading the way will be high school All-America Doug Hartman and Bill Lafferty, while Ken Hungate and Greg Hanes will add strength. Jim Manchester and Steve Howard, both fine distance swimmers, will return and adding strength will be freshman Tom Kruzel, Gary Frederick and Kevin Tracy. Frederick is a versatile swimmer and can be tough in any event from the 50 to the 1650. The leading sprinters, Eric Orrell, Ed Mills, Jim Griffin and David Brunson should give the Pirates the depth they were lacking in the sprints last season. Bob Baird is the only returning diver and will have a tough job trying to replace Tobin and Gerber.

INDOOR TRACK

East Carolina University's Indoor Track outlook is very bright. The Pirates began workouts early in the fall.

With only nine lettermen returning the team is very young and inexperienced but will exhibit far more depth than ever bebefore. The Buc thincalds are expected to compete in six or seven meets and should finish high in the Southern Conference. If the yearlings on the freshmen dominated team live up to expectations the Pirates will have a good shot at the Southern Conference championship.

The lettermen returning are Jim Cargill in the hurdles; Paige Davis in the sprints; Don Jayroe in the distances; Lee Mauney in the sprints; Peter Moe, Dennis Moody in the field events with Ken Voss expected to carry a big load in the distance running. Other lettermen include Barry Beasley and Wayne Murshell in the sprints while John Murry is the top vaulter. Promising non-lettermen include Robert Alexander, Jerry Covington, Lanny Davis, Joe Day, Arthur Driscoll, Joe Furcron, Andy Hart, Tom Heisler, James Kidd, Jack Lawless, Bruce McKibbon, Greg McNerney, Bruce Rafferty, Ty Roork, Neill Ross, Steven Schappert, Jim Siemen, Mike Terry, David Thomas, Darrell Vodopith and Bryan Shul.

WRESTLING

John Welborn, second year East Carolina University wrestling coach, is hoping to improve on last year's not-so-bad 7-2-1 record and is expecting his team to finish high in the Southern Conference. Last season the Pirate grapplers finished with 3-1 record in the conference and finished third. Six lettermen are returning from that squad including Tim Ellenberger, who will be defending his Southern Conference Championship in the 130 lb. weight class. Other lettermen hoping to lead the East Carolina Wrestlers to their first Southern Conference championship are Tom Ellenberger, Stanley Bastion, Sam McDowell, Cliff Bernard and Wayne Lineberry.

FIRST CLASSIC HAS TOP FIELD

The latest addition to the expanding sports picture at East Carolina University is the Eastern Carolina Classic, which will be played in Minges Coliseum, Dec. 26-28.

The Tournament idea was conceived by Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, president of East Carolina, in early November of last year. In less than three weeks, local business firms had underwritten the venture to the tune of $50,000 and Coach Tom Quinn was in the process of lining up a field.

Although getting started at a relatively late date, Quinn lined up an outstanding field and the tournament is already being mentioned in the same light as the old Dixie Classic that became one of the nation's top events before it was disbanded.

In the field are the Air Force Academy, Baylor, Cornell, Delaware, William and Mary, Virginia and Virginia Tech. Host team East Carolina drew Cornell of the Ivy League in the opening round, while top-seeded VPI faces Delaware. Other opening round games pit William and Mary against Baylor and Virginia against Air Force.

The three-day tournament will feature two sessions of two games each day.
