Pitt County Candidate

Commissioner D. D. Garrett Seeks Re-Election

Pitt County Commissioner D.D. Garrett is a candidate for re-election to Seat A of the Pitt County Board of Commissioners. Elected in 1988, Mr. Garrett has operated the D.D. Garrett Agency in Greenville since 1946. Aside from his successful business career in accounting and real estate, Garrett has dedicated most of his life toward civic affairs; especially in the Afro-American community. No single person in Pitt County is more well known for being involved with issues related to the advance of Pitt County's black community. In addition to being the first black man elected as a commissioner in Pitt County, Mr. Garrett's influence has been instrumental in advances in voter registration, employment in county and city offices and the desegregation of public facilities and area businesses that were once reserved for whites only. Mr. Garrett has led or taken part in every major movement in Pitt County that has impacted opportunities or quality of life issues in the community.

Commissioner Garrett believes that serving as an elected official is much more than a means of personal accomplishment. He often says that it is important that elected officials are serious about the responsibility related to public service. When asked about his own candidacy for re-election, Garrett says that he has confidence that voters will consider his long record of public service as well as his recent four years as a strong yet calm voice as a Pitt County commissioner.

Commissioner Garrett's dedication to the community is reflected in his support and membership to many civic and religious organizations. He is a member of York Memorial AME Zion Church, the Executive Committee of the First

Congressional District, the Black Leadership Caucus, the Pitt County Board of Realtors, the Pitt County Infant Mortality Task Force, the Greenville Industrial Epps Alumni Association, the Mid-East Commission, the North Carolina Association of Realtors, the North Carolina Central University Alumni Association, the Pitt County NAACP (president emeritus), the West Greenville Neighborhood Clean-Up and Drug Prevention Task Force, the Pitt-Greenville Chamber of Commerce, the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, the Pitt Aging Services Community, the Pitt County Democratic Party, the North Carolina Executive Committee of the NAACP, the American Legion Post No. 160, the Martin County Community Action Committee and the Mount Herman Masonic Lodge. Mr. Garrett is also the coordinator of social and political action of the North Carolina Conference of the AME Zion Church. He is a veteran of World War II, having served in the U.S. Navy.

Although Mr. Garrett is a distinguished senior citizen, he maintains a busy schedule that would exhaust many persons half his age. And while leading this active and well-traveled life, Commissioner Garrett is a very down-to-earth person and a family man who this week is celebrating 50 years of marriage to his beloved wife, Clotea. He has two sons and five grandchildren.

The re-election of Commissioner Garrett to the commissioner's Seat A is very timely and extremely important. A person does not need to be a political genius to realize that re-electing D.D. Garrett to the Pitt County Board of Commissioners makes a great deal of good common sense. Your vote and support will be appreciated.

Leland Towns Worked His Way To The Courtroom

BY ANDY BRACK
Enterprise Staff Writer

Ten years ago Leland Quintin Towns was sweeping floors. Today, he's a lawyer in a North Carolina courtroom.

Once a janitor at Williamston High School, now a licensed attorney and recently sworn-in assistant appellate defender in Raleigh, Towns climbed the ladder of success virtually by himself.

Towns, a 1976 graduate of Williamston High School, received his undergraduate diploma from North Carolina Central University in May 1980, graduating summa cum laude and among the top in his class with a bachelor's degree in public administration.

He then accepted a scholarship to Boston's Northeastern University School of Law, graduating in May 1983.

According to former WHS Principal Ed Farnell, Towns dropped out of school in 1973 at age 16 to work in a Williamston peanut plant to help support his family.

Bear Grass High School Principal Dennis "Dink" Mills, then athletic director of WHS and concerned about Towns, brought the matter to Farnell's attention. "Dink Mills had taught Leland and knew he was a good kid and wanted to help him," Farnell said.

Help came to Towns in the form of two jobs. First he was given a three-day-a-week job to help move WHS to its then new facility, and clean up the old gym.

More help came in July 1974 when Farnell hired Towns as a janitor at the school. But two days before school started, Towns approached Farnell and told the principal he wanted to return to school but needed to keep his job.

Farnell and Towns worked out a schedule for the student-janitor. Throughout the 1974-75 and 1975-76 academic years plus the summers of 1975 and 1976, Towns worked as a janitor from 6:30 a.m. to 8:30 a.m., attended school from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., and then continued janitorial work until 9:30 p.m.

Farnell said, "Leland gave up everything to go to school," including his car. He recalled Towns received his high school diploma in August 1976, after receiving mostly A's and "very few B's."

"As far as I know, Leland has

BY DR. LENORA FULANI

On Tuesday night, March 31, the New York Police Department, acting on instructions from Bronx Borough President Fernando Ferrer, twice assaulted me and several of my supporters. The first attack occurred outside the presidential debate at Lehman College, the second outside a restaurant where Gov. Bill Clinton was scheduled to appear at a post-debate party.

Though I had a ticket to attend the debate, which I presented at the entrance gate, I was refused entry by New York City police on the direct instructions of Mr. Ferrer. When I protested to police that the exclusion was arbitrary and undemocratic, the order was given to eject me. I was surrounded by police, manhandled and forcibly thrown against the fence in full view of witnesses.

After I was prevented from entering Lehman College, I began a march of 150 supporters to the restaurant to protest Clinton's appearance at a Bronx Democratic organization reception hosted by a local city councilman. The protest ultimately forced Clinton to cancel his appearance.

But after the peaceful march, which had a police escort, and after having been led by the police to a protest spot directly in front of the restaurant, the site commander who led the attack at Lehman suddenly brought 200 police in full riot gear out onto the street, and over the protests of my attorney, ordered the police to rush the demonstrators and physically force us to the other side of the street.

Simultaneously, several officers moved to arrest a supporter of mine on trumped-up charges of assaulting a police officer.

The viciousness with which the police attacked me and my supporters made a very clear statement about how Mr. Ferrer and the Democratic Party feel about democracy. If I've done nothing else during the course of this primary campaign, I have exposed the extent to which the election process is under the very tight control of the Democratic Party and the various institutions in which it operates—from the police to the courts to the Board of Elections.

When I challenged the nominating petitions of Sen. Paul Tsongas, putting forth that he had less than the required number of signatures and that he had committed fraud to get them, the Democratic Party mobilized its election commissioners, its judges, and its majority control over the State Assembly and pulled out all the stops to make sure that Tsongas was on the ballot. When I challenged various debate sponsors to include all four of the Democratic Party candidates in the New York race—two of whom, Larry Agran and Sen. Eugene McCarthy, I had gotten on the ballot—the Democratic Party and the media closed ranks to ensure that only the "Terrible Two" would debate. When I walked to the gate of a public event, held at a public college, and presented a ticket to sit in the audience and watch a debate between Clinton and Brown, I was assaulted by police who were "just following orders" from Fernando Ferrer. And when I and others attempted to exercise our constitutional right to hold a peaceful protest outside, the police attempted to provoke a riot.

There is a very clear pattern here. It's a pattern of the Democratic Party going to whatever extremes—be they legislative, legalistic or life-threatening—in order to maintain its control of the political process and keep silenced any genuine voices of dissent, particularly voices that emanate from the black and Latino community. It is a measure of the extent to which the Democratic Party feels threatened by growing voter dissatisfaction and voter outrage at the narrowness of choices offered to the American people.

Gov. Bill Clinton and Gov. Jerry Brown are themselves responsible for a climate in which Ferrer can call

Violations Disqualify Groc. From Fed. WIC Program

RALEIGH—Stancill's Grocery, Route 4, Greenville, owned by Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Stancill, has been barred from accepting food stamps after having been disqualified from the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program for violations. WIC provides supplemental foods and nutrition education to low-income pregnant, postpartum and breastfeeding women, and infants and children.

The disqualification and withdrawal period for both WIC and food stamps will be until Sept. 6, 1994, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service.

Gerald D. Holt of the Food and Nutrition Service's Raleigh office said that before being authorized to accept food stamps, store owners must agree to abide by USDA program regulations which include the WIC program. An owner who is disqualified for violation of WIC program rules also may be withdrawn from the food stamp program.

Bro. Howard Pearce Named Deputy Grand Master Of 10th Masonic Dist.

On Jan. 24, Brother Howard Pearce was named by Grand Master William C. Parker, Jr. to replace the late Lonnie B. Anderson as District Deputy Grand Master of the Tenth Masonic District. The Tenth District consists of 14 Lodges in Pitt and Martin counties with a total membership of approximately 1,000. Upon acceptance of this great task, Brother Pearce selected as a theme, "A New Beginning Together in Unity." Brother Pearce stated, "My main goal and objective is to get the public conception of Masonry as something that is good and positive for the community. We, as Masons, must move to the forefront and take a more active role in our churches, social and civic activities. We must dispel the myth that Masons operate as secret societies and the only public display is at funerals."

Prince Hall Masonry is one of the oldest Masonic orders in the United States today. It was founded by Prince Hall, a black soldier serving in Europe. He was initiated in an Army Field Lodge in 1775. After his return to the U.S., he settled in Boston, Mass. and applied to the Grand Lodge in England for a charter to start a lodge. This charter was granted on Sept. 27, 1784 but was not received until May 2, 1787. The name of this Lodge was African Lodge No. 370. This Lodge is known as the Mother Lodge of all Prince Hall Lodges and is still very active today. The Prince Hall Grand Lodge for N.C. was organized in New Bern in 1866 as King Solomon No. 23 and is now known as King Solomon No. 1.

From its inception, Prince Hall Masons have been a leader in their charitable contributions, especially in the black community. During the 1991 Masonic year, N.C. Prince Hall Masons donated more than $50,000 to charities such as the Central Children's Home, the NAACP, United Negro College Fund, and the Congressional Black Caucus. We also sponsor $1,000 scholarships to be awarded to any deserving student in each of our 26 districts.

Past Grand Master William Clement of Durham instituted what he called "the road map for the survival of the black man—the 4 B's program." The 4 B's stands for books, bucks, ballots and brotherhood. Every Lodge in North Carolina is supposed to work on projects throughout the year in their respective communities on these topics.

The lodge's greatest accomplishment to date is the joint purchase of L. Richardson Hospital by Prince Hall Masons and the Order of the Eastern Star. This building will serve as headquarters for both organizations. It will also serve as a treatment facility for sick brothers and sisters who desire these services. This project costs more than $2

RADIO BLACK AMERICA GOES ON THE AIR

Nearly 75% of people surveyed in a time/CNN poll believe Americans haven't been told the truth about the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

But what do Black Americans think about this subject or any other?

On March 18th at 1 p.m. EST, over 50 Black-oriented radio stations will become what I loosely call Radio Black America.

In fact, it will be the first weekly opinion survey of Black Americans, called the Buy Freedom 900 Opinion Poll. Both local and national poll results will be announced on a weekly basis.

Callers can vote on issues of current interest via a touch-tone phone 24 hours a day 7 days a week by calling 1-900-967-5558. A flat charge of 99 cents is placed on the caller's monthly phone bill for the service. The callers will also get a toll-free 800 number they can call for information on getting a free magazine and catalog.

Between March 18 and 25, callers can respond to the question on everyone's mind: "Do you think Mike Tyson should go to jail?"

The implications of this and other matters of current interest, the Rodney King trial and the absence of any discussion of Black concerns in the 1992 presidential primaries, to name two issues, can be addressed immediately by listening and responding to the Black-oriented radio stations in this network.

For example, WPUL-AM in Daytona Beach, WYLD-AM in New Orleans and WUFO-AM in Buffalo, New York are among the stations nationwide that will ask the Black community to make its voice known

Showcase Of India Culture

Explore an exclusive taste and culture of India at the India Bazaar on Saturday, April 25, from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the American Legion Hall on Saint Andrews Drive. The bazaar will feature fine Indian foods, folk dances, music, costumes, jewelry, spices, handicrafts, children's games, and much more. Admission is free and a dinner plate of seven delicious Indian food items can be purchased for $5. This project has been organized by members of the community from India and is supported by Quixote Travels, Inc., the Comfort Inn, and Basic Transportation. For more information call 355-2113.

on current issues and will provide the weekly results to their markets and to the nation.

In addition to being the first polling of this magnitude among Blacks, there is another innovative aspect: The "networking" of media to educate people on current and historic events by stimulating public debate on pertinent questions and later announce the results of the national and local responses to the issues.

The bottom line of this new media alliance: A better informed public and a stronger community.

NCAE Endorses Dennis A. Wicker For Lt. Governor

RALEIGH—The North Carolina Association of Educators, the state's largest public education organization, has endorsed House Majority Leader Dennis A. Wicker (D. Lee) for Lieutenant Governor in the Democratic primary. N.C.A.E. President Rose Marie Lowry praised Wicker for his solid record of supporting education. "Dennis will take the lead in renewing the state's commitment to a strong public school system."

In 12 years of service in the North Carolina General Assembly, Rep. Wicker has emerged a leader in legislative efforts to improve our state's elementary and secondary education. He believes strongly that the state must fulfill its promise of a level educational playing field for all students. "The idea that a child's educational opportunities can be determined by whether he or she happens to be born in a 'rich' or 'poor' county," Wicker declared, "is an affront to our democratic ideals."

Throughout his campaign, Rep. Wicker has emphasized that the state must reduce class size, attract and retain quality teachers, and provide for early childhood development.

Cornerstone Church Holds Health Fair

Cornerstone Missionary Baptist Church is holding a Health Fair on Saturday, May 2 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the church grounds. The theme for the event is "Wellness: A Family Affair." Various resources will be offered including health screenings, workshops, and materials. There will also be refreshments, door prizes, and activities for the children. For more information call 752-7501.

City Of Greenville Gets Cited For Planning

The City of Greenville Greenway Comprehensive Plan has been selected for the 1992 Small Community Outstanding Planning Award (Honorable Mention) by the North Carolina Chapter of the American Planning Association. The Planning Department will receive this award at the North Carolina Planning Conference in Chapel Hill on April 4, 1992.

In selecting this project, the Awards Committee noted that a number of innovative ideas were incorporated into the document such as a Land Acquisition Evaluation Criteria form and a step by step outline of each department's responsibilities concerning greenways.

The document competed against plans and planning programs from other small urban areas from across North Carolina.

Senator R. L. 'Bob' Martin Files For Re-Election In Sixth Senate District

Senator R. L. "Bob" Martin, D-Pitt, has filed as a candidate for re-election to the North Carolina General Assembly. Martin, who represents the Sixth Senatorial District, is concluding his fourth term in the Senate.

"I am profoundly honored by the opportunity to represent the district. Although our district has the diversity, potential, and means to become the leader in North Carolina's industrial and economic growth, it remains the backbone of the state's agricultural economy," Martin said.

The Sixth District encompasses parts of Edgecombe, Martin, Wilson, Washington and Pitt counties.

Seniority is a valuable asset in the Senate, and Martin's extensive experience includes serving as chairman or vice-chairman of several committees. During the last session, Martin was appointed chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Natural and Economic Resources. The Subcommittee, one of the seven in the Senate responsible for developing the state's base budget, handles appropriations for five departments of state government, including Agriculture, Commerce (now Economic and Community Development), Labor, Environment, Health and Natural Resources, and Transportation. In his role as chairman of this subcommittee, Martin played a key role in successfully financing the statewide Agricultural Cost Share Program. He was also instrumental in securing money for the regional detoxification centers in eastern North Carolina.

Martin also introduced and successfully managed a bill that created a $2 million trust fund for low income housing, which was matched, on a basis of 24-to-1, by the Community Self Help Center. In addition, Martin managed to obtain more money for the deaf school in Wilson County and helped to increase the level of funding for vocational rehabilitation programs.

Besides serving as chairman of the subcommittee on appropriations, Martin gained an appointment as Vice Chairman of Banks and Thrift Institutions and served as a member of the committees on Agriculture, Appropriations, Base Budget, Environment and Natural Resources, Marine Resources and Wildlife, Public Utilities, State Government and Ways and Means.

Lt. Governor Jim Gardner appointed Martin to the Local Government Advocacy Council and the Joint Legislative Committee on Municipal Incorporation.

Martin's long track record as an elected official includes three terms as mayor of Bethel and seven terms on the Pitt County Board of Commissioners. He served six years as Chairmen of the Board of Commissioners and is a past president of the N.C. Association of County Commissioners. In 1981, the association named him Outstanding County Commissioner of the Year.

"I understand the needs of our people," Martin said recently. "I understand the problems facing agriculture and the business community of the district. My interest is in good government. And my commitment to good government, along with my experience and seniority, will continue to help me to represent the Sixth Senatorial District well."

Martin is a retired railroad supervisor. In 1965, he was named Bethel's Man of the Year. He is a member of the Bethel Baptist Church

SENATOR R.L. 'BOB' MARTIN and a 32nd Degree Mason and a past district deputy Grand Mason and a Shriner. Martin is married to the former Sue Cooper of Nash County, and the couple has two daughters, Lynda and Bobbe Sue, and five grandchildren.

Eva CLAYTON for Congress

"The Best for the First"

WHY EVA CLAYTON SHOULD BE YOUR REPRESENTATIVE

Democrat
1st Congressional District

SHE WORKS FOR THE PEOPLE.

Of those who have expressed interest in representing the First District, only Eva Clayton has worked successfully at the community level for progress in North Carolina.

HER LEADERSHIP IS A PROVEN COMMODITY.

Throughout the past 25 years, Eva Clayton has been recognized repeatedly by her peers for leadership at local, state, and national levels. Most recently, she was named North Carolina County Commissioner of the Year for 1990, and in December 1991 was presented the Intergovernmental Relations Award for Outstanding contributions by the North Carolina Regional Council and the North Carolina Joint Forum.

HER POLITICAL INDEPENDENCE AND INTEGRITY ARE STEADFAST.

Eva Clayton, an active Democrat, is an independent candidate not controlled by political bosses. Nor is she heavily influenced by ties to any one area of the District. She is the only candidate who has united people throughout the First District—all races, ages, and income backgrounds—toward the common goal of a better life for themselves and their families.

- lower interest rates.
- no mortgage insurance requirements.

It's easier to qualify. This special program makes it easier for you to get a loan because it lets you devote a larger portion of your monthly income to payments than most other plans allow. Even if you have an unusual credit history or job situation, you still may qualify.

The program is available to families with a total family income of $26,000 a year or less who want to finance $60,000 or less to purchase a home, or $50,000 or less to improve an existing home. Your property will need to be an owner-occupied single-family home, townhouse, or condominium.

For more information about this special financing, just drop by a Wachovia office listed below and ask about our Neighborhood Revitalization Loan Program.

At Wachovia, we're making loans to help our communities grow.

Eastern NC Celebrates Donor Awareness Throughout April

Every year people across the state join in celebrating the gift of life and the lifesaving miracles of organ and tissue donation and transplantation. National Organ and Tissue Donor Awareness Week, proclaimed in North Carolina by Governor James Martin, begins on April 19 and concludes on April 28, 1992. However, Carolina Organ Procurement Agency (COPA) utilizes the entire month for special activities.

Donation is an ongoing need every day of the year. Right now there are about 670 North Carolinians waiting for organ donations. Many more need tissue donations that can help healing and restore physical function. The problem is that the need is always greater than the supply. During National Organ and Tissue Donor Awareness Week, our goal is to reach as many North Carolinians as possible with the message that donation saves lives, and that everyone can be a donor.

Organ donation and the resulting transplants not only benefit society, but also the donor family. Families need to discuss organ donation and consider giving others a second chance at life. COPA offices in Greenville, Durham, and Wilmington are joining with transplant programs, medical and service organizations, civic groups and individuals across the state to promote public awareness of organ and tissue donation.

Most people support donation when they understand the need; COPA wants to make the facts available so everyone can make an educated decision. For example, many people are surprised to learn there is no cost for donation, that donation does not interfere with funeral arrangements, and that all major religions approve of donation. People may also think of transplantation as an experimental medicine, but the most common transplants are now considered normal medical practice. A kidney transplant patient today has a better than 90% chance of success and the vast majority of people on the organ waiting list are kidney patients.

The chief frustration of OPOs across the country is knowing that so much good could be done if more people were willing to support donation. The most recent figures show that over 25,000 Americans are now waiting for kidney, heart, lung, liver, pancreas and heart/lung transplants. An estimated 300,000 Americans with corneal blindness could benefit from cornea transplants. Thousands more wait for tissue donations that include bone, veins, ligaments, tendons, skin and heart valves.

COPA has found that North Carolinians are incredibly generous when they understand the need. COPA asks North Carolinians to volunteer their support for donation by getting the facts and signing donor cards. The most effective thing a person can do to show their support for donation is to discuss donation

Put your appliances to work...

You can stay warm in winter and cool in summer, take hot showers, and still save on your utility bill every month. All you have to do is sign up for the Switch and Save Load Management Program.

It's a painless way to save. We only use the switch three or four days a month during peak hours. And since control periods average just minutes at a time, you won't even notice the difference.

The amount of savings depends on the appliances you designate as part of the program. The switches are installed at no cost to you. If for any reason you aren't happy with the program, there is no obligation to continue.

To join over 8000 satisfied customers already participating, just give us a call at 291-7135, Ext. 488 or 489. We'll do the rest.

Sen. Frank Ballance Named As Eva Claton Campaign Manager

Senator Frank W. Ballance of Warrenton was named as the Campaign Manager for Eva M. Clayton, Candidate for Congress in the First Congressional District. In response to his role in the campaign Ballance says, "I am excited and pleased to serve as Campaign Manager for Eva Clayton. I've known her for many years and she is a dedicated, compassionate public servant. The people of the First District will do well with such an experience leader in Congress," Ballance adds.

Senator Ballance serves in the North Carolina General Assembly representing North Carolina's Second Senatorial District. In addition, he served two terms in the House of Representatives representing the Seventh District.

Senator Ballance will coordinate the administrative details of the Clayton for Congress Campaign. "Frank has been a positive force in the political landscape of this area for many years," Clayton says of her recent appointee. "He will bring a wealth of knowledge about the problems of the people we serve, the challenges we face and the unique opportunities that lie ahead," Clayton states.

Senator Ballance is a resident of Warrenton. He has been a resident of Warrenton since 1965. Ballance is a native of Windsor, North Carolina. He received his law degree from North Carolina Central University School of Law in 1965. After a brief period as a Professor and Librarian at South Carolina State, Ballance returned to his home state to join the law firm of Clayton and Ballance. He is presently Senior Partner in the law firm of Frank W. Ballance, Jr. and Associates, P.A. with offices in Warrenton and Louisburg, N.C. Senator Ballance is married to Attorney Bernadine Smallwood Ballance. The couple has three children, Garey, 22; Angela, 21; and Valerie, 19.

NEW BUSINESS OPENS—Heavenly Disposables, which opened last week on Tenth Street, is operated by the company president Eileen Hawkins and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Branch. Pictured also are Ms. Eva Clayton and her campaign worker campaigning in Greenville.

Todo por la salud en México

Un grupo de estudiantes en Ciudad de México, va a clases usando caretas para protegerse de la contaminación ambiental, que en esa ciudad tiene grandes proporciones. De lunes a viernes han dejado de circular el 40 por ciento de los tres millones de automóviles que ruedan por la capital, como una medida del gobierno para mejorar la calidad del aire. Anteriormente los vehículos que no circulaban eran el 20 por ciento. (Telefoto AFP).

Vicepresidente de El Salvador pide a los inmigrantes que no regresen

WASHINGTON, (EFE).- El vicepresidente de El Salvador, José Francisco Merino, pidió "tranquilidad" a los salvadoreños exiliados en Estados Unidos y les recomendó que retrasen su regreso al país para no poner en peligro el proceso de reconciliación puesto en marcha tras el fin de la guerra civil.

En una conferencia de prensa ofrecida en Washington, Merino afirmó que el gobierno estadounidense ha acogido "favorablemente" la petición del presidente salvadoreño, Alfredo Cristiani, de que no expulse de su territorio a los emigrantes con permiso provisional de residencia.

El próximo mes de junio vencen los permisos temporales de cientos de miles de salvadoreños y otros centroamericanos.

Las autoridades norteamericanas, que están estudiando la posibilidad de prorrogar los permisos, aún no han tomado una decisión definitiva al respecto.

"Comprendemos que en Estados Unidos hay conciencia plena de que los países centroamericanos están iniciando procesos de estabilización económica y política y que el retorno masivo de centroamericanos sería un factor que echaría al traste estos primeros logros, ya que no hay condiciones para garantizar una vida productiva a contingentes de centroamericanos que retornen", dijo.

"Sin embargo —agregó—, es nuestro anhelo que la familia centroamericana pueda retornar teniendo condiciones más favorables para su futuro, una vez que la paz sea efectiva".

Se calcula que alrededor de un millón de salvadoreños residentes en Estados Unidos envían a su país 1.000 millones de dólares anuales en divisas, cifra considerada esencial para la economía nacional.

El vicepresidente de El Salvador, José Francisco Merino, (derecha) y Julio Moreno, un miembro del Parlamento salvadoreño, aparecen en una conferencia de prensa en Washington, donde ellos están gestionando un aumento en la ayuda económica de Estados Unidos a El Salvador. (Telefoto AFP).

Merino advirtió que las condiciones que forzaron la emigración masiva hacia Estados Unidos "todavía no se han desvanecido" y que, por lo tanto, "es necesario consolidar los procesos de paz y democracia para facilitar el retorno" de los emigrantes.

Fiesta Del Cinco De Dayo En Greenville

Gloria Estefan Y La New World Symphony

La salsa de Tito Puente, el Malambo de Alberto Ginastera se dieron mono mano el pasado 28 de Marzo en Miami cuando Gloria Estefan y la Orquesta Sinfonica del Nuevo Mundo ejecutaron un gran programa titulado "En Armonia".

Despues de mas de 7 años actuando en los escenarios de todo el mundo la famosa cantante se presento con una orquesta sinfonica para interpretar lo mejor del cancionero latinoamericano.

Entre las canciones interpretadas estuvo "El dia que me quieras, que fue el tema musical de su boda con

Emilio Estefan, Quiereme Mucho, Cuando Sali de Cuba, Lamento Borincano, Son de la Loma y Alma Llanera, ademas Gloria interpreto con su orquesta Miami Sound Machine nuevos arreglos incorporando la orquesta sinfonica a sus exitos de siempre como Oye Mi

Canto, y la famosa "Conga."

Fue una oportunidad de poder unir la musica clasica con los compositores cubanos y latinoamericanos, el Malambo de Ginastera, el Mambo de Tito Puente con la Suite de la Opera Carmen en cuyo final Gloria Estefan canto "Habenera".

NC P.A.C. To Dump The Compact Supports Candidates

The North Carolina Political Action Committee to Dump the Compact has decided to wholeheartedly support the candidacies of Marcus Williams for governor and Dennis Wicker for lieutenant governor of North Carolina. Marcus Williams has declared his opposition to North Carolina's membership in the Southeast Low-Level Radioactive Waste Compact and has vowed to make this position a major campaign issue. Dennis Wicker, as a state representative, has consistently supported legislation which would result in the withdrawal of North Carolina from the Compact, braving opposition to the powerful nuclear industry lobby. Both of these candidates deserve our support and the votes of the people of North Carolina who, according to public opinion polls, favor withdrawal from the Compact by a three to one majority.

Renfrow Sets The Record Straight On State Audits

BY ED RENFROW

Candidate for Lt. Governor

There is an old North Carolina adage that "sunlight is the best disinfectant."

This simple saying is especially meaningful to me after the release of two recent audits in my role as North Carolina's State Auditor.

In our audit of the Department of Transportation's Ferry Division, our auditors concluded that the division had become a political dumping ground, a hot bed of nepotism, and that tax money was being wasted.

We recommended cutting employees, eliminating nepotism, and making the Ferry Division a little more ship-shape because something is wrong in the Ferry Division.

In our audit of the state's public college professors, we frankly didn't find the kind of waste, fraud, and abuse that our auditors often uncover.

Our auditors recommended a simple tightening of reporting and monitoring procedures to make sure that the academic freedoms that professors must be afforded do not lead to abuses of the taxpayers or of these important institutions.

In short, we found more right than wrong in this audit which was generally good news for everyone involved.

And now that we let some sunlight in on these problems, the checks and balances in our system can go to work to protect the taxpayers.

After the auditors completed these audits, I had the same decisions to make that I have faced more than 2,300 times as State Auditor.

We could have sugar-coated the findings so as not to disturb sleeping bureaucrats or ruffle political feathers. Instead, we reported our findings to the media and the public—without fear and without favor.

The squeals of protest from those we audited were music to my ears because true reform in North Carolina can only come from an open and public debate about what is right and what is wrong with state government.

The protectors of the Ferry Division said the audit was "politically motivated". One professor said the suggestion that professors be more accountable for how they spend their time was "absolutely ridiculous". One of my opponents said I had "insulted" professors.

But this statement took the cake. "Punching a time clock simply isn't appropriate," said a professor.

I've got news for the professor and my opponents for Lt. Governor. The great colleges and universities of our state were built by people who punch time clocks. Their salaries are paid by people who punch time clocks. And the people of this state want to know how their hard-earned tax dollars are spent by the governor, by the Ferry Division, and, yes, even by the colleges and universities they support through their labors. Poorly run programs, wasteful spending, and arrogant attitudes about accountability will make it difficult for us to meet the challenges we will face in the next century.

I am a candidate for Lt. Governor because it's time for someone else to step into the important job of finding waste, fraud and abuse. I want to become Lt. Governor so I can bring fundamental reforms to state government that prevent waste and make everyone more accountable.

I've been a watchdog of the taxpayers' money since I became auditor. I am running for Lt. Governor because I am convinced that North Carolina needs a guard dog in the executive branch and to

Bill Dansey Is A Candidate For Mayor Who Wins The Respect Of Others

Dear Voters:

I am voting for Bill Dansey for Mayor and would like to ask that you do the same. I was Greenville's first black school board member, thanks to Bill Dansey, as he appointed me to the position.

Without Bill Dansey's hard work for the benefit of others, Greenville would not have:

- A city swimming pool
- The Foreman Recreation Facility
- MoyeWood Housing Former Westside Boxing Club
- WOOW Radio

(Jim Rouse, owner of Woow, can tell you how Bill helped him finance and establish his radio station.)

Philipi Day Care Center in Simpson

(Reverend Batchelor will tell you that without Bill's help this facility would not be in existence.)

We need a mayor who understands all of Greenville all of the time. As your former Mayor, I endorse Bill Dansey and I ask that you go to the polls on May 5th and vote for Bill Dansey, as well.

Thank you,

Ed Carter

MAYOR

I would like to take this opportunity to express a few of my concerns and plans for the city of Greenville.

CRIME: Citizens deserve to feel that their city is safe enough for them to enjoy simple activities such as taking walks or sitting on their porches.

Greenville Utilities should continue operating as is.

An advisory committee consisting of 12 volunteers to advise the Mayor.

Reinstate garbage collections at reasonable rates.

Appoint citizens of Greenville to perform any studies needed within our city government.

Control wasteful spending and maintain a balanced budget.

Appoint a public relations person to maintain constant contact with our existing businesses and to work towards promoting new industry, which will create jobs for the citizens and revenue for our city.

Thank you for your support,

By Kenyetta D. Sharpe, 11, of Belvoir Elementary School

My dream in 1992 is to have peace like in Martin Luther King's dream. Then everyone can join together in peace and happiness. When King said, "Let freedom ring," it means to let it ring peace in us. No one should fight against each other over anything anytime of the year. People should give and receive respect. Altogether people are not perfect, some think they are. We shall not forget the dream of the great Martin Luther King. He said, "Let freedom ring." It's not the face or the race that keeps us together, it's God's grace and blessings and also the dreams of men like Martin Luther King.

preside over the Senate. As Lt. Governor, I will work to stop the waste before it happens, so the next auditor will have less to do.

I didn't mind shaking up the system when I was a state senator. I haven't hesitated to shake up the system as State Auditor. And as North Carolina's next Lt. Governor, I'm going to keep working with the certain knowledge that sunlight will cure the fundamental problems in state government.

million and was financed entirely by the N.C. Masons and Eastern Stars.

Brother Pearce stated, "As one can readily see, our trestle board is full of work and I will be calling on all Prince Hall Masons, both active and inactive, to get involved in their local Lodges. We need this total involvement in order to do our part in the Tenth District to carry high the banner of Prince Hall Masonry in North Carolina."

in the cops to abuse community people. Clinton and Brown, by their refusal to insist upon open and inclusive debates, are responsible for an environment in which the Democratic Party can go to any and all extremes to exclude.

There are many in our communities who believe that this issue of democracy is a fundamental issue in America today. Earlier this week, in response to a request from me, a number of black ministers in the city—including the Rev. Calvin Butts, the Rev. Floyd Flake, the Rev. Al Sharpton, the Rev. Darryl George, the Rev. Saul Williams, the Rev. Glenn Missick, Father Robert Castle, the Rev. James Forbes, the Rev. Timothy Mitchell and the Rev. Barry Lee Wally—issued a statement calling for the inclusion of all four candidates in all the New York debates, underscoring the need for a democratic and inclusive atmosphere.

The candidates and the debate sponsors have not heeded their call. In fact, the police attack took place only eight hours after the ministers' statement was released to the public. What incredible disdain and disregard for moral decency and democracy. It is that Democratic Party and their utter disregard and disrespect for democracy that we are challenging.

manipulated and worked it on his own," the former principal said.

"And he didn't mind working." Farnell told a story concerning his former student who worked a 40-hour week and studied for tests and pop quizzes. Farnell remembered that all the time Towns was at WHS, he had a master key to the buildings and looked after the campus, often being the only one around the facility at night.

The retired school official said, "That demonstrates the confidence we had in him. I was never disappointed in Leland."
